Annual Crops Tour Is Scheduled For Next Week

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

The annual Deaf Smith County Crops Tour will be held Tuesday from 1-5 p.m. with stops on this year's tour to highlight topics ranging from greenbug research in sorghum to irrigation well pumping efficiency.

THE TOUR, sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Crops Committee, will assemble at 1 p.m. at the Deaf Smith County Museum parking lot north of the courthouse.

Members of the tour without transportation will board a bus at the location at 1:15 p.m., and a caravan will be formed before proceeding to the first tour stop.

The schedule will include the initial stop at the Tony Urbanczyk farm at 1:20 p.m., where Carl Patrick will discuss chemical greenbug control on sorghum.

Patrick will join Dr. Carl Petr in a discussion of greenbug resistant grain sorghum varieties at the Clark Andrews farm at 1:35.

AT 2 P.M., the tour group is scheduled to arrive at the Charles Schlabs farm for a multi-faceted presentation on irrigation.

Leon New and Schlabs will discuss scheduling irrigation on corn by the use of moisture sensing devices.

Other topics to be discussed by the pair include the measuring and computing of pumping efficiency and fuel cost on an irrigation well and irrigation of sugar beets.

Refreshments will be provided for tour members by Western Ag Sales Inc. and WAC Seed Inc. at 2:45.

LEAF SPOT control in sugarbeets will be highlighted at the Carl Kleuskens farm at 3 p.m., with Paul Scott and Bob Ginn of the local Holly Sugar Corporation plant joining Dr. Robert Berry in the presentation.

Dr. Berry will also discuss identification of corn smut and control of the problem during a stop at the Elvin Wilson farm at 3:30.

Jim Valentine and Raymond Schlabs will discuss corn fertilization tests at Schlabs' farm at 4 p.m. and at 4:30, the tour will make its final stop at the Edward Allison farm to view a corn drying operation and hear a presentation by Dr. Petr and Allison.

The tour should be completed by 5 p.m., according to Juston McBride, county extension agent.

THE COUNTY crops committee is headed by Eldred Brown. Other committee members include Jerry Roberts, Clark Andrews, Pete Nash, Carl Straffuss, Hugh Clearman, Dick Gerles, Waldo Baxter and Leo Witkowski.

Others include Paul Scott, Layton Sawyer, Donald Douglas, Raymond Schlabs, Tony Urbanczyk and John Metcalf.

Hey--It's A Roller Rollover

Odd, but true, even a steamroller takes a tumble every now and then. Members of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department and curious onlookers try to figure out just what happened when this highway heavyweight overturned near the Western Wheel Inn on East Highway 80 Wednesday afternoon. A unit of the Hereford fire department was summoned to wash down fuel spilled when the roller overturned. The steamroller, owned by Messer Construction Inc., was traveling along the edge of the highway when the operator apparently lost control of the machine and "balled out" as it started to tip over. Wrecker crews had the lumbering machine upright and rolling along once more in short order and local firemen chalked up one more unusual entry in their "Now I've Seen Everything" logs. Frozen Water May Mean Life

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)- Viking 2's discovery of frozen water at the north pole of Mars raises the possibility that some form of life may be locked beneath the icy surface, scientists say.

Crofton B. Farmer, an atmospheric scientist at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, said the discovery announced Wednesday constitutes "another shred of evidence" that conditions on the red planet may once have been suitable for life.

New Cars Get Better Mileage

WASHINGTON (AP)- The Environmental Protection Agency says the new 1977 model cars are getting better mileage per gallon of gasoline and that 11 of 13 automakers already meet a 1978 mileage requirement.

The EPA said Wednesday that 1977 model cars will yield 6 per cent better gasoline mileage than 1976 cars and 34 per cent better mileage than 1974 models.

Rhodesia Plan Considered

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)- Prime Minister Ian Smith submits the British-American plan for black majority rule in Rhodesia to a crucial meeting today of the members of his party in Parliament.

There was no advance indication whether the ruling Rhodesians Front's 50-member caucus would reject the plan, as they have two previous British proposals for black power to which Smith agreed.

The prime minister scheduled a radio-television broadcast Friday to outline his white-minority regime's position on the plan, proposed by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in talks with Smith last weekend in South Africa.

Meany May Retire

WASHINGTON (AP)- Top officials close to AFL-CIO President George Meany say there is a serious possibility Meany will retire next year after more than 20 years as head of the giant labor federation.

Meany, who at 82 remains the dominant force in the American labor movement, has been slow to recover from a recent illness. Aides say that while his basic health is good, he has lost his usual vitality and has been forced to curb some activities.

Postmaster Honored For Forming Stamp Clubs

Hereford Postmaster Nolan Grady was honored recently at a Postmaster's conference in Oklahoma City with an award naming him the most outstanding promoter of stamp collecting clubs in schools in the Amarillo area.

The award was presented to Grady in Hereford Wednesday morning by C.T. Davis, Amarillo Sectional Center Manager, who had accepted the award for Grady in Oklahoma City.

Grady could not attend the conference due to last minute conflicts.

Grady is in charge of the organization of stamp collecting clubs in schools in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, and in southern Kansas. Since he began, 50 clubs have been organized in the three-state area.

Grady also was a guest speaker at the National Conference of Postmasters in Miami, Florida last fall, speaking on the promotion of stamp clubs.

The award was one of only 12 given in the Southern Region of the United States. The Region encompasses eleven states, and is one of five in the nation.

District Manager C.B. Bolan, of Oklahoma City, made the presentation of the award, and in a letter commended Grady.

Ford, Carter Begin TV Debate Tonight

By DONALD M. Rothberg
AP Political Writer

Two men, candidates for president, meet face-to-face tonight to debate their plans for America before an audience that may number 100 million people.

And as Jimmy Carter and President Ford prepared for the debate, a U.S. Steel Corp. lobbyist confirmed that the company was host to Ford, when he was in Congress, at two overnight stays at a company house near Disney World in Florida.

Ford and Carter have taken vastly differing routes in their efforts to attract voters. Ford stayed in Washington, campaigning only once out of town and then at his alma mater in his home state of Michigan. Carter criss-crossed the country to shake hands and make speeches.

And the candidates crammed for tonight's debate in different fashions.

But Republican Ford and Democrat Carter planned to spend the day of the debates in much the same way. For both, rest was planned along with flights to Philadelphia where the debate begins at 9:30 EDT.

Their vice presidential candidates carried on the campaign in the field. Ford running mate Bob Dole was in Nebraska seeking the farm vote and Carter running mate Walter Mondale was stumping Wisconsin.

In a statement issued early today, U.S. Steel lobbyist William Whyte said Ford's overnight stays at Disney World in 1972 and in 1973 were in addition to three golfing weekends for Ford paid for by U.S. Steel at the company lodge in New Jersey.

The White House had no comment on the report of U.S. Steel's role in the Florida's tays. But earlier this week, Ford spokesman said there was "no evidence of wrongdoing" in the New Jersey trips.

In his statement, Whyte said he had been friends with Ford for more than 20 years and that "to my direct knowledge, Congressman Ford shared the use of U.S. Steel overnight accommodations, as my personal guest, on five occasions over the last dozen or so years."

A company spokesman said he did not know whether U.S. Steel paid Ford's travel expenses but that the company did pay for Ford's lodging in all five instances.

There have been questions raised that

County Commissioners Award Bid On Building To Brownlow

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners met in called session Wednesday afternoon to approve a change in bids awarded for a $23,000 county barn in Austin Rose Jr.'s precinct two.

The commissioners were confronted with an unusual circumstance when Fred "Red" May of A.G. May Construction Company could not obtain a performance bond to accompany his bid for the project. He did present to Rose an irrevocable letter of credit from First National Bank of Hereford to cover the amount of the bid. It totaled $23,336.

EVEN THOUGH the court could have proceeded to grant the bid to the May firm, the commissioners agreed with Earl Holt, commissioner, when he said that the original bid specifications called for a performance bond and therefore the court ought to require it.

Based on this decision, Austin Rose moved and Holt seconded a recommendation that the bid be awarded to the only other bidder who was Emory Brownlow of Brownlow Brothers Construction Company. He was only $14 higher in his estimate at $23,350.

It took two attempts by the court to approve the action since an initial vote was taken without a quorum of the court. The commissioners were informed by Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval that a quorum consisted of either all four commissioners or two commissioner and the county judge.

COMMISSIONER Bruce Coleman and County Judge Sam Morgan were not present for the first vote. After Morgan was able to break away from county civil court proceedings, which going on at the same time of the meeting, he voted along with Commissioner Rose, Holt and James Voyles to deny May the bid and award it to Brownlow. Coleman was out of town on business.

Shuval also advised the commissioners court that it was within legal rights to return an $1,100 check May had submitted with his bid as a guarantee on the project. It amounted to five per cent of the bid.

May was unable to obtain a performance bond even though he might have had money in the bank to cover work bidded. Usually, bonding companies base approval of a bond based on past work and performances rather than on money on deposit, according to Brownlow. He assured the court that he could obtain one.

The court sympathized with May's predicament, but felt it was only fair to stick to the original specification.

ALEX SCHROETER, county auditor, told the commissioners that costs could run as high as $40,000 if bids had to be let again for the county building, which will be used for equipment storage and inside jobs by county workers. The county could have placed itself in jeopardy if May died or some other catastrophe occurred before the completion of the project.

The bids, opened on Aug. 23, were legally good for a 30-day period which ended Wednesday.

Performance bond costs were figured into the bid prices with Brownlow including one per cent of the total bid in his estimations and May figuring two per cent of the bid.

Need For Water Importation Voiced

LUBBOCK (AP)- A water importation system involving Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma is needed and arguments that it would cost too much make little sense in times of travel to Mars, the Texas Water Development Board TWDB was told Tuesday night.

Several High Plains citizens who addressed the fifth of 21 public forums being conducted by the TWDB to gather input for revision of the Texas Water Plan expressed that sentiment.

The TWDB is currently studying the possibility of importing surplus water from Arkansas in a joint effort by that state and Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

While such an effort may be years away, the problems are not insurmountable, according to the Rev. A.L. Davis of Lubbock.

"Certainly if we can put a man on the moon or an instrument on Mars, certainly we can put water in West Texas," Davis said.

"We're for water importation," Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers Association, told the board. "We're not concerned about the source of the water, but we're going to need it."

The High Plains area's concern for additional water resources was underlined by attendance at the meeting.

Upward Bound Program Will Begin Later At WT

The West Texas State University Upward Bound Program will start later than usual this year due to the lateness in funding and new changes in grant conditions.

Previously Upward Bound has begun its regularly scheduled academic year meetings around the middle of September.

"Customarily, we have met with the Upward Bound students in their respective communities on an average of three times a month during the regular school year, said Jimmy Diaz, Program Director. "The significant change this year is that we must hold our weekly meetings on Saturday mornings thus necessitating bringing the students to (WTSU) campus in order to satisfy new grant conditions. We are currently in the process of putting the staff together and making the necessary arrangements for student transportation to and from their respective communities," he added.

The program will be allotted seventy slots (students) from within a fifty mile radius of West Texas State University, which currently includes Friona, Tulia, Hereford, and Amarillo.

Upward Bound is a pre-college preparatory program designed to generate the skills and motivation necessary for success in education beyond high school; to aid those students from limited income backgrounds with potential for successful college work and for those who experienced inadequate secondary preparation.

Upward Bound staff members will be at Hereford High School next week with applications for recruiting local students of Junior or Senior standing. Applications and information concerning the program may be secured from the counselors at the high school.

Carter Man Says Playboy Article May Help Campaign

AUSTIN (AP)- Jimmy Carter's campaign cochairman for Texas said Wednesday he wasn't sure but thought that Carter's "adultery in my heart" statement might help the Democratic presidential candidate in this heavily Baptist state.

Bob Armstrong was asked about the Playboy interview at a joint news conference with the other Texas cochairman, state Democratic party chairman Calvin Guest.

"What you are really seeing, maybe uniquely for the first time, is a candidate who is willing to be absolutely candid, absolutely open. The fact that he agreed to do that interview showed strength," said Armstrong, the state land commissioner.

"I don't know whether we are ready to accept that kind of candor as a nation," Armstrong said. "We'll just have to see whether it makes a difference. It should have a positive effect because it is time for people to level with us."

Guest said Carter's remark to the Playboy interviewer that one committed adultery in his heart if he looked lustfully at a woman was "perfectly biblical."

"It is in the Bible, in Matthew, the Sermon on the Mount...I think we do have a man who is very honest and candid," Guest added.

The news conference was called so that Guest and Armstrong could issue a statement to the effect that the often divided Texas Democratic party was unified behind Carter.

Armstrong said the party was "genuinely united as it has not been in the past to such a degree."

Carter Visits Texas Friday

HOUSTON (AP) Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter visits Texas Friday and a co-chairman of his Texas campaign says the candidate's comments in a Playboy Magazine interview might actually help him in the state.

Carter will campaign in Houston and Dallas and his combined time in both cities is expected to be less than six hours.

He will speak at a noon rally in downtown Houston and then move on to Dallas for a late afternoon speech and a fund-raising reception before departing for the West Coast.

Calvin Guest and Bob Armstrong, co-chairman of the Carter Texas campaign, said Wednesday Carter will return to Texas and that his vice presidential running mate, Sen.

Walter Mondale, also will campaign in the state.

Armstrong, state land commissioner, was asked about Carter's "adultery in my heart" statement to Playboy.

"What you are really seeing, maybe uniquely for the first time, is a candidate who is willing to be absolutely candid, absolutely open," Armstrong said. "The fact that he agreed to do that interview showed strength."

"I don't know whether we are ready to accept that kind of candor as a nation. We'll just have to see whether it makes a difference. It should have a positive effect because it is time for people to level with us."

Guest, state Democratic Party chairman, said Carter's remark to the Playboy interviewer that one committed adultery in his heart if he looked lustfully at a woman was "perfectly biblical."

"It is in the Bible, in Matthew, the Sermon on the Mount...I think we do have a man who is very honest and candid," Guest said.

The Dallas Times Herald reported that Carter personally apologized to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson for comments he made about the late President Johnson in the Playboy interview.

In the interview Carter described Johnson, along with President Nixon, as "lying, cheating and distorting the truth."

Carter's Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter telephone Mrs. Johnson at her home after reading his quotes contained in the magazine.

Carter is to arrive in Houston at 11:40 a.m. Friday, speak at the downtown street rally at 12:20 p.m., spend a half hour in his hotel for private conferences and then fly to Dallas.

He is to arrive in Dallas at 3:10 p.m. and will go to the Fairmont Hotel where he is to address the Dallas Forty, an organization of young professional people, at 3:35 p.m. He will then address a fund-raising reception sponsored by the Democratic National Committee before departing for the West Coast.

Murders Could Be Linked

HOUSTON (AP) - Homicide Capt. L.D. Morrison said Wednesday Houston police are cooperating with Los Angeles police in an investigation of a possible link between a sex case there and the 1973 homosexual mass murders here.

Morrison said he did not know details of the Los Angeles case. Lt. B. Porter of homicide said John St. John of the Los Angeles police was escorted Tuesday by a division detective to the Texas Department of Corrections prison facilities in Huntsville, 75 miles north of Houston.

At Huntsville, a prison spokesman would say only that St. John interviewed more than one inmate at different prison units. He would not say whether the interviews involved Elmer Wayne Henley Jr. or David Owen Brooks, Houston youths convicted in the 1973 homosexual case.

Sugar Growers Say Tariffs Not Sweet

SANTA ROSA, Tex. (AP) - A spokesman for the Rio Grande Valley Sugar Grower's Association says a higher tariff on imported sugar is a "move in the right direction" but it's not that sweet of a deal.

President Gerald Ford tripled the duty on imported sugar recently, raising the tariff from about 62 cents per 100 pounds to nearly $1.88.

"That's a move in the right direction by it's still not what we need," said Jack Nelson, manager of the sugar grower's association. "It's too early to tell what kind of effect this will have on the sugar prices in the world market. The foreign producers might lower their prices which would reduce the effectiveness of the higher tariff."

Nelson said the Rio Grande Valley-with 36,000 acres in sugar cane-needs a price increase.

"Sugar sells in the stores for about 20 cents a pound," he said. "We get 10.15 cents per pound. We need to get around 20 cents per pound to give the grower a decent return on his investment."

Nelson said the foreign sugar growers have substantially lower labor costs which allows them to continually undersell American producers.

"We pay a laborer as much over here in an hour as they pay a man per day," said Nelson. "We can't compete with their slave labor."

Nelson also said the growers in this country produce only 55 per cent of the sugar consumed by Americans.

"The rest comes from foreign countries," he said. "We ought to have an import restraint on foreign sugar. We ought to let supply and demand dictate how much foreign sugar comes into this country."

Lorance Says Write-In Could Win

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston attorney Tom Lorance, one of two announced write-in candidates for the Texas Supreme Court, says he believes a write-in candidate can win but two such candidates lessen the chances.

Lorance and State District Court Judge Sam Houston of Denton are write-in candidates challenging Donald B. Yarbrough of Houston, the Democratic nominee who has no Republican opposition in the November general election.

Yarbrough, an attorney, is a defendant in 16 civil lawsuits and is the subject of an investigation by a grievance committee of the State Bar Association.

Lorance told a meeting of the Houston Junior Bar Association Wednesday he initially did not think a write-in candidate could win but not "I think the people of this state are familiar with Don Yarbrough and a write-in might just win a plurality."

He said two such candidates lessen the chances "and if I thought Sam Houston were better qualified, I'd drop out in a minute."

He claimed that neither Yarbrough nor Houston has ever argued a case before the high state court while he has many times.

Lions Club Gives $1,300 To Funds

Lions Club president Clete Corlis presented checks on behalf of the club to two local funds at the club's regular meeting Wednesday.

Following the presentations, Lions Club members enjoyed a film about the 1975 SWC football season prior to adjourning.

On behalf of the Lions, Corlis presented a check in the amount of $300 to John Metcalf, who is heading a drive for an electric wheelchair for local youngster Joey Mazurek.

Metcalf informed the Lions that their donation pushed the drive past the halfway mark. A total of $1,400 is needed to buy the wheelchair.

Corlis also presented a check for $1,000 to local United Way Campaign Drive Chairman Speedy Nieman. The local drive goal is $102,000.

Leo Club president Greg Pagent reported that his organization elected board members recently, and that a slave day is planned by the club for October 14.

Leo Club members will be 'sold' to local businesses or individuals at a price of $10 apiece. "Most of the proceeds from the slave day will go to the wheelchair fund," Pagent said.

Lions Club Wrestling this Saturday night after a one-week layoff. Action at the Bull barn begins at 9 p.m.

Ford might have violated the code of ethics of the House of Representatives, adopted in 1968. It prohibits members from accepting a "gift of substantial value, directly or indirectly, from any person, organization or corporation having a direct interest in legislation before the Congress."

For weeks the two presidential nominees have prepared for tonight's debate, the first of three. Each has studied thick briefing books.

Ford has rehearsed with stand-ins who threw questions at him and critique his answers. Carter has crammed largely in solitude.

At the same time, both have tried to play down the amount of work they were doing in preparation for the confrontation.

"I've not lost any sleep," Carter replied when recently asked about his upcoming debate.

CORNER CATCHER
The only center pivot in the world that hits the corners.

In a typical quarter section where a regular center pivot is irrigating 132 acres, you can now do about 150 acres. But the new Valley Corner System isn't limited to squares. Irrigate both ends of a rectangle. Irrigate odd shaped pieces of land too. It's the answer to netting valuable productive land that's been wasted, back under center pivot irrigation.

For flood irrigators, it's also the answer to automatic water and labor saving center pivot, without wasting valuable acres. No monitoring, no labor problems, no night work. But you have all the advantages of precise irrigation and fertilizer application through the system, that produces higher yields than ever before. It's a simple concept, precise in operation and engineered with quality of all Valley-built Center Pivots.

Freddie Prinze, the high school dropout, seems to be making it very big these days. NBC has signed him to an exclusive contract, covering World Premiere movies, specials and series. In addition to his role on Chico and the Man, Prinze recently completed an album, "Looking Good," and starred as the leader of a gang of women planning a payroll heist in "Money to Burn," airing September 22...

Two veterans of the Police Story force, Desi Arnaz Jr. and Tony Musante, will star together on the show in a drama titled "Going the Distance." Being in the right place at the right time paid off for Pat Morita of the new Mr. T and Tina sit-com. The right place was the unemployment line, where a show biz friend standing nearby suggested that he try for the role of Arnold on Happy Days. He did and now a few years later he's got his own show.

Arthur Hill and Jan Sterling will play the parents of Charles Ingalls (Michael Landon) in a special two-hour presentation of Little House on the Prairie this year... Penny Marshall recently taped a segment of The Captain & Tennille, and it turned out to be the toughest assignment of her career. One of the sketches involved an attempt on her part to get the stone-faced Captain to laugh. Despite her best efforts, which included an Olympic cartwheel and pivoting on the Captain's lap, while singing "Put on a Happy Face," the Captain remained unmoved. So, she concluded the number by singing the finale while standing on her head on top of his electric organ.

Science fiction is getting a boost on television this year. Production is currently underway on a sci-fi film, "Fantastic Journey," which will be a pilot for a possible series. Starring as a group of people stranded on an island where the past, present and future coexist are Scott Thomas, Susan Howard, Jared Martin, Carl Franklin, Karen Somerville and Ike Eisenmann... Audra Lindley has been added to the regular cast of Doc. Lindley, who recently co-starred in Fay and was a Golden Globe nominee for her role in Bridget Loves Bernie, will join three other actors -- David Ogden Stiers, Lisa Mordente and Ray Vitte -- being added to the cast. Billy Jack will be busting heads this fall on the home screen. The unexpected box office hit has been acquired by NBC... Ballet buff Joanne Woodward will be the on-camera narrator for "Little Women," the ballet version of the Louisa May Alcott novel to be presented December 14... Mike Evans, who became prominent nationally as a result of his portrayal of Lionel on All in the Family, will be regular on The Practice this year. He'll play one of Dr. Bedford's (Danny Thomas) medical students, who also works part-time in the hospital coffee shop. It's been said that ballet demands more athletic prowess than any sport. Whether or not you agree, you should enjoy "Dance of the Athletes," a special focusing on the athleticism shared by sports figures and dancers. Edward Villella, principal dancer with the New York City Ballet will compare his work with that of Tom Seaver. Jerry Grote, Bob Griese, Virginia Wade, George McGinnis and Muriel Grossfeld, in the September 26th episode of the CBS Festival of Lively Arts for Young People... "Hot Ice and Cold Hearts" is the name of an upcoming episode of Quincy, the latest installment in the NBC Sunday Mystery Movie lineup. Stuart Whitman, Andrew Prine, Robert Alda and Fernando Lamas join series star Jack Klugman for the show. Mark Shera, a former S.W.A.T.er, makes his first appearance as Barnaby Jones' cousin on the September 30th premiere of the series. His character's name is J.R. Jones.

Farm Bureau President Says Current Crisis May Affect Future Beef Supply

WACO-Carol Chaloupka, the president of the Texas Farm Bureau reports beef producers are in a crisis situation now that may affect future beef supplies.

"There'll never be a better time for housewives to fill their freezers with bargain beef," the Dalhart grain and beef producer said.

"Many cattlemen will be forced out of business unless there is an upturn in cattle prices soon," said the farm leader.

"There's been a gradual decrease in cattle prices all summer, but the situation in the past three or four weeks has become disastrous," he said.

Chaloupka said there is a disappointing lag in the pass-through of lower prices at the retail level.

"However, beef is selling in the stores for about 13 per cent less than a year ago. This is a real bargain, and we want to let the housewives know about it so we can move some of the present glut of beef off the market," he said.

The president of the 190,000-member general farm organization said that efforts are being made by Farm Bureau to bring "more efficiency and fairness" into marketing of beef.

The president of the 190,000-member general farm organization said that efforts are being made by Farm Bureau to bring "more efficiency and fairness" into marketing of beef.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation has asked Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz for a step-up in ongoing investigations into factors affecting the farm price of beef," Chaloupka said.

"For example, we want to know whether or not labor unions are blocking the movement of boxed beef into markets and if so, what effect is the blockage having on beef prices," the farm leader said.

Boxed beef involves the breakdown of beef carcasses at the packing plant and packaging the meat cuts for shipment to retail outlets. It means a savings over shipping whole carcasses and reduces labor costs.

Labor contracts with meat cutter unions either prohibit or severely limit the movement of boxed beef into at least 12 major cities, including Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Houston.

Another issue relating to labor unions involves labor contracts with meat cutter unions which prohibit the sale of meat after 6 p. m. in some large cities.

The Farm Bureau is also asking the U.S. Department of Agriculture to find out what can be done about the lag in "passing through" lower cattle prices at the retail level.

Chaloupka said USDA statistics show that retail beef prices never come down as fast or as far as cattle prices.

He said that the farm value of beef dropped about 25 per cent in the past year while the retail value is down only 13 per cent.

According to USDA, the spread between cattle prices and consumer beef prices has widened 9 cents a pound since July, 1975, and is now at a near-record spread of 64 cents a pound.

ICA President Praises Senators On Tax Bill

In Washington last Thursday, Independent Cattlemen's Association's president, T.A. Cunningham and vice-president Roy Wheeler, joined Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Congressmen Jake Pickle and Omar Burleson in witnessing the rewarding results of many months of hard work spent in reforming the present estate taxation laws.

Both the Senate and the House agreed to the Conference Report on the Tax Reform Act that included revision of the present estate tax law which is causing the liquidation of many farms, ranches, and small businesses for no other reason than the payment of Federal Estate Tax.

This act will repeal the existing exemption of $60,000 and replace it with a $30,000 credit, which in 1977 is the equivalent of a $120,667 exemption. By the year 1981, a tax credit of $47,000 will phase in providing an exemption equivalent of $175,625. This act will also allow agricultural lands to be valued according to what the land will produce rather than at fair market value.

T.A. Cunningham, stated, "The people in agriculture and small business in Texas should pay special thanks to Senator Bentsen and Congressmen Jake Pickle and Omar Burleson, for these men were ever so instrumental in the passage of this much needed legislation. Senator Bentsen introduced this legislation in the Senate and guided it through the Senate Finance Committee to the floor while Congressmen Pickle and Burleson carried the stick in the House, beating off opposition as it arose."

The final legislation passed by Congress contained a carryover basis provision which was actively opposed by some agricultural organizations. The Congressional proponents of the estate tax legislation feared that if this section of the bill were deleted the entire estate tax reform would have been thrown out completely.

T.A. Cunningham reacted to the other agricultural organizations opposition stating, "It is better to have a bite of the apple than no apple at all."

Worldwide Wheat Estimate Dropped By Agriculture Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP)-Foreign-market analysts at the Agriculture Department have dropped their estimate of total worldwide wheat and coarse-grain production by 6.6 million tons to a still-record 1.051 billion tons.

Adverse August weather in Europe and the United States was the reason given for the lower estimate.

But, in a new circular on the world grain situation, the officials point out that the "several important adjustments in the estimates for individual countries or regions" are more meaningful for U.S. farmers and traders.

USDA still says U.S. consumers need not worry about the export markets this year as possible inflationary tinder because the crops, while hurt by drought pockets to the tune of 661 million bushels in July and August, and still record large ones.

The department's latest published figures on exports show that, as of Sept. 5, some 7.89 million metric tons, or 289.9 billion bushels of all types of wheat have been exported out of the forecasted 28.6 million tons. The wheat marketing year began July 1.

By the same date, 41.46 million tons or 1.63 billion bushels of corn had been shipped during the year ending this month, out of an anticipated 43.2 million tons.

About 12.8 million tons or 504.4 million bushels have been sold already for delivery in the year beginning Oct. 1.

The week before Labor Day saw a million tons of new wheat move out, the heaviest week in two months. At the same time, sales of the Soviet Union increased by 349,600 tons to bring its 1976-77 total to 2.2 million.

Sales of new-crop corn increased by nearly 900,000 tons, with more than 360,000 of them headed for Common Market countries hurt by drought and an additional 50,000 tons to the Soviet Union, boosting the total for it to 2.75 million tons in the coming season.

Analyzing what has happened in those two markets since its last appraisal Aug. 3, Foreign Agricultural Service experts said this week that western Europe now is expected to consume 2.3 million tons more grain than previously thought, which means an increase in imports.

The total-grain usage forecast went up to 159.8 million tons, a record by 3.3 million, they said, "mainly because of the need to replace expected short supplies of fodder crops with grain in the total supply of feed... but also in part because of the outlook for expanded livestock feeding and larger consumption of livestock end products."

Estimates of imports into western Europe were increased 2.7 million and into eastern Europe by 2.1 million from Aug. 3 forecasts to reflect that a further shriveling of crops.

Improved Russian grain prospects had reduced potential imports there by 2 million tons.

Last Chance Approaching For Producers To Use Emergency Livestock Loan

COLLEGE STATION--The last chance is approaching for livestock producers facing financial problems to take advantage of the Emergency Livestock Credit Act of 1974, a temporary Farmers Home Administration program.

Now two years old, the Act provides for emergency financial help to the producer whose business has a good chance of success if it can survive the current liquidity crisis.

"The revised Act now in effect has changed to make it more palatable to both the borrower and lender," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, project leader in farm management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some of the conditions are as follows:

A "line of credit" is permitted, whereas the original Act permitted only a single loan.

Anyone with a "substantial operation" in breeding, raising, fattening or marketing is eligible. (This includes one who devotes at least 25 per cent of his time to, derives at least 25 per cent of his income from, or has at least 25 per cent of his capital invested in livestock operations).

The Act terminates on Dec. 31, 1976.

The loan period can be up to seven years, with possible renewal for three years.

The guarantee by the Farmers Home Administration is increased from 80 per cent of the loss to 90 per cent of the loan principal and interest.

The line of credit has been increased from the previous $250,000 to $350,000 per loan.

Secondary financing of the guaranteed portion of loans may now be made by the Federal Financing Bank, thus increasing the marketability of the securities to the lender.

The total authorization under the Act was reduced from $2 billion to $1.5 billion.

Many cattlemen can use this type of financing due to present economic conditions, contends the economist. Therefore, the Emergency Livestock Credit Act should help them protect their operations from financial disaster in the coming months.

In a move designed to strengthen domestic sugar producers prices, a U.S. Government duty-agency task force involving the Agriculture, Treasury and State Departments recommended taking action against the importation of low-priced sugar. One of the recommendations was to treble tariffs on imported sugar. The current tariff was 62½ per hundred pounds of sugar, prior to a move by President Ford Tuesday, upping the tariff.

Another possibility might be to limit the amount of sugar entering the U.S. which is currently amounts to about 4.2 million tons up 25 per cent from last year. However, the Administration may reject this proposal since the quota for imports as agreed upon during the International Sugar Agreement signed last year is seven million short tons per year.

The position of the inter-departmental force is just the opposite of the one it held less than two years ago when world sugar prices were approaching 60 cents a pound and sugar supplies were as scarce as coffee is today. It was then that considerable pressure from the public was levelled against the sugar industry and a mass of law suits, most of them promulgated by the government, were filed against domestic sugar producers, processors and distributors. Now the Government is feeling pressure from the same group they were badgering to lower prices.

Sugar industry executives are suggesting that foreign sugar is being dumped on the U.S. market and more may be on the way owing to good European, Soviet and Southern Hemisphere production. The U.S. also has a good sugar beet and cane crop this year. As a result of this bountiful world harvest and declining sugar prices, U.S. can and beet growers may switch to other crops-leaving sugar refining plants idle and causing a loss of jobs. Some sugar is already being imported at prices which are lower than production costs in the cane producing state of Louisiana and Florida and approaching those of the sugar beet producing state of North Dakota and Minnesota.

Another development that should help support sugar prices which are presently at the lowest since the autumn of 1973 is a recently issued congressional report urging the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to reassess the use of Saccharin as an artificial food sweetener. The General Accounting Office (GAO) also suggested that FDA should consider greater safety margins for saccharin until questions concerning its safety are answered.

Carrot Hearings Are Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department has decided to hold a public hearing Election Day, Nov. 2, in Los Angeles - on proposed new labeling and size requirements for carrots sold in the continental United States.

A second hearing was scheduled for Nov. 10 in Dallas, Tex.

The proposed new rules specifically seek to make uniform the containers and package markings for consumer-size carrots and authorize research on the containers. That would reduce bag-inventory costs and make packing plants more efficient, a USDA spokesman said.

Slaughter Of Cows Must Continue To Aid Beef Prices

COLLEGE STATION--Cattlemen won't see high beef prices in 1977 unless a lot of cows, non-fed cattle and calves are slaughtered this year, says one authority in livestock marketing.

Dr. Ernest Davis, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that despite the high levels of cow and calf slaughter last year, cattle numbers are still high.

"We still have 53.8 million cows, 11.2 million replacement heifers and 96.7 million feeder

Round-Up Accepting Donations

Donations of cattle and cash are currently being accepted in the 17th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The project benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene, which serves handicapped children from throughout the southwest.

According to Charlie Morris of Abilene, chairman of this year's round-up, the center is currently faced with a $104,000 deficit.

"The generous people of the Southwest have never let us down, and I feel sure that the center will have a more optimistic picture following the round-up," Morris commended.

Individuals wishing to donate livestock or cash to the project may contact their area chairman or the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene at 915 692-1633.

Arrangements will be made to pick up livestock.

A sale of livestock will be held Sept. 27 at 1 p.m. at the Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Auction in Abilene and a farm equipment auction will be held Nov. 6 at Lawn.

cattle on hand in this country," Davis says.

He feels that at least 10 million cows, 5.8 million non-fed cattle and 5 million calves need to be slaughtered in 1976 for Choice feeder cattle prices to reach the $50 per hundred-weight level in 1977.

"If cattlemen don't reduce the cow herd by keeping up a high level of slaughter, beef prices in 1977 will be no better than prices in 1976," Davis predicts.

The main goal of cattlemen should be to cut feeder cattle availability by putting more cows, calves and non-fed cattle on the market, says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Cattlemen need to be aware of the market situation and adjust their cattle supplies to meet market needs to keep prices up."

Davis says that even if the cattle supply is cut back by 1977, there will still be beef price fluctuations caused by fluctuation feedgrain prices.

"If feedgrain prices go up, there will probably be more non-fed cattle slaughtered and lower beef prices this fall. On the other hand, if feedgrain prices fall, there should be more movement of cattle to feedlots, delaying marketings and resulting in higher prices during the fall."

Another situation that will have strong influence on fall cattle prices is the winter pasture conditions. With good winter pastures, fall stocker cattle prices will be stronger.

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now.

But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time.

Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump...

other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

Fall officially arrives today. Gardener's chores will be two-fold. Namely, enjoying autumn beauty and performing the necessary tasks which come with making the garden ready for the long winter sleep. This time of the year is one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year. Harvest time, the splendor of the gorgeous autumn colors, thrills all.

To usher to fall, I took a stroll through the garden. There are always surprises, problems and rare pleasures. I was really delighted when I first saw the beautiful clump of Surprise lilies. I stopped to study the intricate stamens and the pretty fall color of the blossoms, which were an orange-red.

As I studied this delightful plant, there was soft music made by the grain pods, which hang in clusters of the Golden Rain tree. Was very pleased to find a velvety red rose in bloom on the Don Juan climber.

It seemed that the grass looked greener, trees were more stately and fall colors were showing on the tips of the leaves. The asparagus bed (which is new) was a mass of intricate greenery and the multicolored marigolds and zinnias furnished just the right background for the dainty white ageratum.

Nearby the red tomatoes were gleaming on the plant and the garnet red beets needed to be pulled and prepared for lunch, also added a bunch of tender green onions (grown from seed).

As I walked on the stepping stones, I was delighted to see that the red okra was bearing tender beautiful pods and that many of the gladoli were in bloom. Final duty was to groom the bright pink petunias and check on the new zinnias and bachelor buttons, which I planted for the flower show.

As I turned to leave the garden path, I stopped to read the garden plaque, which Art and I placed when we started our garden in 1964. The quote really describes the enchanting fall days and what a garden should mean: "There is beauty in the sunshine, and the soft blue heaven above. Oh! the world is full of beauty, when the heart is full of love for God and nature."

DO'S AND DON'TS: 1. Spray chrysanthemums for black fleas. They are attacking the tender stems and buds. Also, spray roses for Japanese beetles; they are doing a lot of damage to foliage. 2. Feed lawn and include treatments for grub worms and dandelions. Feed when lawn has been mowed and watered, for best results.

3. Remove all faded blossoms from both the flowering plants and the bearing vegetables. 4. Give attention and clean out flower beds and edges of grasses. Cut and destroy before it seeds.

5. Check trees again for borers and web worms treat if necessary. In riding grounds of weeds, watch carefully for elm sprouts, they are getting large enough now to see easily.

6. Select seed which have matured on both the flower and vegetable plants. The strongest and best plants should be selected to save seed. This is a precautionary move to be ready for a shortage in seed during another planting season. This has been forecast by horticulturists.

1. Don't prune roses extensively now. Remove dead or wayward canes. Keep all grounds free of weeds etc.

2. Do not let edges of lawns become unsightly. 3. Do not fail to take good care of the compost. Restack or stir well.

4. Do not add fallen leaves of walnut trees to compost or to mulch plants. They are poison to some plants.

5. Do not add grasses which have seeded or diseased leaves to compost. These should be removed from grounds and destroyed.

6. Do not let deformed or imperfect vegetables remain on plants. Remove and destroy.

7. Do not neglect placing proper labels on named plants. Check and reprint if needed. It is good to know the names of your plants, especially the common name and is extra good to know the botanical name.

Markers can be made from plastic bottles. Cut and print plainly, attach carefully and secure.

8. Do not neglect records. Keep names of new introductions and other plantings.

9. Destroy those which have not produced well.

10. Do not choose sprays recklessly. Stay with those which have performed well such as Sevin, Malathion (safe for vegetables) and diazon.

11. Do not fail to read carefully the directions and follow them.

MAKE NEW GARDEN FRIENDS

Select some of the small spring flowering bulbs. I recommend Muscari, both the purple and white, (common name is Grape Hyacinth); Species Iris (dwarf iris) make lovely potted plants.

Plant a number of bulbs in an attractive container and they will be a beautiful winter bouquet when in flower. Chionodoxa Lucillae, a charming blue flowering bulb. Single snowdrops, they sometimes bloom through the snow, also crocus will do the same. The crocus, except fall flowering, will bloom early. They are really a symbol of spring. Color range is nice.

Puschkinia Libanotica, a dainty flower suitable for rock garden, is white with clear-blue stripes. Scilla Siberica (Siberian squill), charming blue spring flowering bulb, is hardy and propagates prolifically. For a delightful splash of color, plant Anemone blanda; growth pattern is good for early spring color.

CONGRATULATIONS TO beauty spot winners. The winners for September are: Resident, the Charles Schlabs. This is a rural home. Landscaping is lovely. Grounds are well kept and rose garden beautiful. Maintenance rates 100 per cent.

I have made two trips to see this lovely place. Do take time to drive out the Frio road and view this well kept and beautiful home. On one of my trips I visited with Mr. Schlabs, a super farmer and mechanic, who loves beauty of nature.

Non-Resident was awarded to Summerfield Fertilizer Co., of Hereford. It is also located out of the city limits and is worth one's time to visit and study the extremely well-grown flowers, trees and lawn. Grounds are as beautiful as any I have seen at home or abroad.

It was interesting and informative to visit with Rocky Lee. He is an excellent gardener and horticulturist. He proudly showed me some interesting plants, including a tobacco plant.

Also gave me a delicious new variety of canteloupe.

There are many other strikingly beautiful spots in our area. While visiting Mrs. Bess Werner, I visited one of the homes of the Turrentine farm and I have not seen a lovelier trailer house. Front yard had a gorgeous planting of geraniums. I visited the grounds, but failed to meet the person who was responsible for the gardening. The lawn was lush and well maintained.

Beautiful petunias are throughout Hereford: John Gilliland has a striking planting of petunias. There are also lovely petunias at Melrose Wilson's home. John selected white, red and blue, and Melrose a striking pink. The white lacy blossoms of the ageratum added interest to the plantings.

Pyraantha is taking on fall colors; the berries are abundant. There are numerous plantings throughout the town, too many to select a special. They are all pretty. Am sure the birds will be grateful for the heavy crop.

Dahlias, zinnias, asters, (both the fall and annual varieties) geraniums and marigolds are all at their prime. Colors are elegant and well grown horticulture specimens. We might say marigolds could well be Hereford's flower for this year. There are so many excellent plantings. Their colors range in the rich fall hues. I have never grown larger French marigolds. Crepe myrtle blossoms still add beauty and interest to the landscape.

This has been my month to drive out into the country to see the fields. I have never seen anything more picturesque than the fields of corn, maize and alfalfa.

The various shades and blend of greens and the abundant yield is wonderful and inspiring. Attend Tour of Homes and Annual Flower Show. You will see good specimens of cut flowers, also flower arrangements and beautiful homes.

LAE Welcomes Two New Members

Aileen Montgomery and Lucille Hughes, both former residents, were welcomed as new members of La Afflatus Estudio Club Thursday in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. Miss Della Stanger and Madeline Bell were hostesses.

Miss Stagner, who is LAE president, called the assembly to order and introduced the secretary, Mrs. Ira Otta, who read the minutes and budget statement for approval. Roll call was answered with famous quotes and favorite Biblical scriptures.

Miss Stagner reported that local senior citizens will be welcomed to view a film at Deaf Smith County Library at 3 p.m. each fourth Thursday. It was also announced that volunteers had provided transportation for residents at King's Manor this month and that this project had been a success.

Mrs. B.F. Markham stated that she attended the Deaf

Smith County Women's Forum luncheon Monday and 11 members of LAE were present. She gave a synopsis of the forum program, which concerned the local Big Brother-Big Sister organization.

"Collecting Tomorrow's Antiques Today" was the program topic discussed by Mrs. Sam Morgan, who displayed items that will increase in value as time passes. Included in her exhibit were Christmas plates, presidential plates, Toby jugs and moon-landing plates.

Also considered of worth were Hummel figurines, music boxes, figurines stamped in Japan during World War II, old bottles, mason fruit jars, early-day Coca-Cola bottles and several types of glass. Mrs. Morgan stressed that interested collectors seek advice from reputable antique dealers.

Other members in attendance were Mmes. Cecil Braly, A.H. Cook, Marlin Gilliland, Emmett

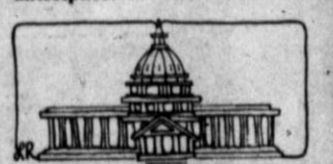

Hale, W.F. Johnson, Carroll Whiteside, Byron Terrell, A.B. Higgins, T.W. Roberson and George Suggs.

Ann Landers

Divorce Recommended

DEAR ANN Landers: You often advise people with marital problems, "See your clergyman," or, "See your lawyer." Well, I've seen both and am more confused than ever. I left my second husband (after only a few months) because our marriage was terrible, except for the sex, which was fantastic. I decided I needed more than that. My lawyer says I am foolish not to get a divorce because (a) under our state's community property laws I could become responsible for my husband's debts (he is self-employed and in a vulnerable business), (b) he is much older and I so there's a chance he could become disabled and I would have to take care of him for the rest of his life, (c) if I should die first he could possibly inherit a large share of my estate. This would be a lot of money if my parents should pre-decease me. (The money rightfully should go to my children.)

My clergyman says, "Don't divorce him. You would be a two-time loser and it would look very bad for our (Protestant) church."

What do YOU say, Ann? I'm going to take your advice. —Mid-West Teeter Totter

DEAR MID: Listen to your lawyer. One of the poorest reasons for remaining legally married is concern over how a divorce would look to others. And if you knew how many people are doing just that, your eyeballs would pop.

DEAR ANN Landers: I've been following the debate in your column about doctors who "bury their mistakes," protected by their colleagues, etc. I'm a laboratory technician and have worked in a hospital for 11 years. This is a small medical center but it is growing rapidly. The employees here are intelligent, conscientious people. The doctors are mainly interested in the welfare of the patients. However, I can tell you that a fair number of "mistakes" have been buried in this place.

Surgeons have cut arteries, perforated intestines and screwed up in assorted and unbelievable ways. The erring surgeons were never censured. What is worse is that the families of the patients never knew the truth. "Complications" can cover just about any mistake.

Recently we got rid of a doctor who had been alcoholic for at least 15 years. How many patients died because of his faulty judgement, no one will ever know. He was brilliant and kind, but when he was boozed up he did a lot of damage.

We had another doctor (recently deceased) who was 80 years old. He was senile—could never remember where he parked his car and repeatedly called his patients by the wrong name. He had a loyal following by devotees who adored him, but I wouldn't let him treat my dog.

I hope this letter doesn't frighten your readers too badly. In closing let me reassure them that there are always some people who DO give a damn and we will protect the best interests of the patients no matter what.—Penna Tech

DEAR TECH: I hope your letter will encourage hospital personnel in every city on the globe to speak out against incompetence, alcoholism, senility—any condition that threatens the welfare of the patient. It is the moral obligation of all who see such goings-on to get rid of the klunkers—whether they are physicians, nurses or lab technicians.

At Wit's End ...

By ERMA BOMBECK

If there's one aspect of television that intrigues people, it's the Green Room Mystique. Maybe it's because it's the one room that viewers have never seen. They want to know what goes on in that mysterious hole in the wall that contains the bodies of guests just before they walk out on the Carson, Dinah, Douglas, Merv, or Donahue sets. Do the sweeties drink? Is it a fun place? Are they nervous? Is it really green? With every book I've published, I do the green room circuit. (I also sell the book door-to-door with a line of vanilla.) This month, with the publication of my newest, "The Grass Is Always Greener Over the Septic Tank," I will visit more than 70 green rooms. (Setting a new Olympic record of 70 sit-ups.)

I am known as the Willy Loman of the green rooms. Rarely do I meet anyone I know or anyone who knows me. In fact, in one green room, I was the only person there not related to anyone on the show by a former marriage.

I take a seat near the door, and ever 15 seconds or so a director will poke his head in the door and inquire, "You okay?" He does this because I am the only person in the room rocking back and forth and humming while sitting in a fetal position.

Occasionally, a man will come in, scrutinize all the faces and come to rest on me. "You! You'd better come to makeup." To which I reply, "I've just returned."

During recent years, I've noted a camaraderie among guests of talk shows, mostly because they have become a rather tight-knit group that tours with some regularity. It is hard to break through. Once, for no reason at all -- except I was lonely -- I said, "Has anyone heard from Frank lately?"

I've never seen booze in a green room (externally, that is), or a magazine, or a picture on the wall, or much food, or children, a newspaper, a phone, a live plant, or a television set that works.

A green room has the personality of a bus station restroom, the capacity of a life raft, the comfort of a Brahma bull in a chute just before the gate opens ... and you are mumbling to yourself. "I turn right ... that's the hand I open mail with...and go up on step and kiss the host ..."

As to why they're called green rooms ... most of them aren't. They merely reflect the color of the people who occupy them.

Educator's Society Resumes Activities

"Positive Leadership for Purposeful Action" is the theme of the yearbooks distributed Monday to members of Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society in the REC Medallion Room.

Hostesses for the first meeting of the new year used a Mexican theme and the 35 members attending brought Mexican dishes for the supper. Committees convened to plan Delta Xi projects for the 1976-77 season and gifts were presented to members who have recorded perfect attendance for two years. These honorees included Mmes. C.R. Higgins, Audrey Powell, Tandy Legg, J.J. Durham and Eleanor Hudspeth.

New officers who were introduced include Mrs. Bob Hamman, president; Mrs. Cawthon Bryant, vice president; Mary Dziuk, recording secretary; Betty Wortham, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Powell, treasurer.

The next meeting, which will be an area assembly, is scheduled Oct. 2 at Lubbock.

Apples keep best in the refrigerator. Not only does refrigeration prevent decay, but it maintains quality, juiciness and crispness. Serve ice cold or at room temperature, suggests Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service The Texas A&M University System.

MRS. DAN WELTY ...with Podge Modge articles

Let's Cook Homemaker Brightens Up Household Articles

By SANDY INMAN Brand Staff Writer

ADD A personal touch to household articles. Mrs. Dan Welty of 115 S. Douglas expresses her bubbly personality of her Modge Podge creations.

Not really satisfied with using the basic aluminum mailbox, the young homemaker decided to brighten it up with scrapes of material. After cutting squares of material, she brushed Modge Podge glue on the mailbox and then applied the material. Next she glossed the box several times with spray varnish.

She noted that after spraying a coat of varnish on it must completely dry before apply the second and third coat.

Other hobby interests include making mixer macrame, raising houseplants, snow skiing and decorating her new home of three months. She and her husband are currently in the process of building a sectional couch in their livingroom.

JANET FRYE before her marriage in 1974, Mrs. Welty graduated from Hereford High School in 1970 and received her degree in social work in 1974 from West Texas State University.

She is currently employed as a receptionist secretary at First Baptist Church where she is a member. The attractive homemaker is also a member of the

Sophs To Serve Chili Friday

Chili and homemade cornbread will be served as the main course Friday for the annual Sophomore Class Supper, to be held at Hereford High School cafeteria starting at 5 p.m.

Advance tickets are now on sale from members of the sophomore class, who are hoping to raise more money than the junior or senior class suppers, to be held later this fall. The HHS class which raises the most funds will see their candidate crowned Annual Queen by the Round-Up Yearbook Staff.

Sophomore Queen candidate is Miss Denise Cotten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.G. Cotten, 117 Liveoak. A native of Hereford, she is a member of Leo Club, the Whiteface Marching Band, HHS Student Council and Key Club.

Tickets for the supper are priced at $2 per adult and $1.50 for children. The class supper profits are gleaned by the yearbook staff and help finance a yearly class project.

On the pre-football menu are chili, cornbread, an assortment of relishes, homemade desserts, tea and coffee. A special thank you is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simon, who contributed enough beef to serve 1,500 people.

Current Beef Values Labeled Excellent

COLLEGE STATION—"Excellent" beef values are available in Texas grocery stores as the plentiful supply of heavy beef continues to show up in local markets, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist.

She cited chuck roasts and steaks and a variety of steaks for broiling as the "excellent values."

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Good" values at beef counters include ground beef, round steaks, boneless roasts and liver.

"Pork prices continue on the high side—with Boston butt roasts, quarter loins cut into chops and pork liver leading the list of fresh cuts.

"Smoked cuts being featured generally include semi-boneless hams, picnics and frankfurters," Mrs. Clyatt said.

At poultry counters, turkey supplies are more plentiful as the new crop starts to market—with all sizes of birds being offered at prices about the same as last week. Consumers should check for "specials" on turkey parts and turkey rolls, however, she added.

At fruit sections, pears are the fruit of the week—with outstanding quality and lower prices.

"Plums are in lighter supply, but prune supplies are adequate and prices are attractive. New-crop apples are coming to market, while peaches are showing a seasonal decrease in quantity. Bananas, grapes, nectarines, oranges, cantaloupes and watermelons are other fruit choices.

At vegetable counters, six or more varieties of squash are in plentiful supply with excellent quality, the specialist said.

"Potato offerings continue heavy and are one of the better values.

"Cabbage, carrots, dry onions and eggplant are some of the economical vegetables at most markets."

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Canned corn is in generous supply now.

To compare cost of different style packs, use the following figures, based on a one-half cup serving:

Cream style - #303 can (1 lb) = 4 servings
Whole kernel - #303 can (1 lb.) = 3 servings
Whole kernel - 12-ounce vacuum = 3 servings

Sophomore Supper

Posters promoting the Sophomore Class chili supper Friday night have been distributed throughout Hereford by members of the class advertising committee. Included on this task force are, from left, Rhonda Clark, Scott Formby, Lynn Mitts and Ryan Lawson. The buffet-style supper will begin at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the high school cafeteria.

Vested Suit Recommended

COLLEGE STATION--The vested suit makes a "fitting" ensemble for fashionable women this fall, Marlene Odle, clothing specialist, reports.

It features a fitted blazer and either tailored pants, styled leaner and tighter than last season, or a straight skirt, and matching v-necked vest buttoned down the front.

Miss Odle is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Fabrics are 'naturals'—wool or wool blends. Gray flannel or black and white pinstripe or raspberry, moss green and brown heathers top the color line for this suit.

"A silk or synthetic silk-look (polyester) tailored shirt or blouse complements this fall ensemble. Stripes, polka dots, florals and solid colors are popular in crepe de chine, satin jacquards and find denier knits. Colors are brilliant in red, beige, rust, paprika and orange," she said.

It's a good idea to have three strainers, one with coarse mesh, one with medium mesh and one with fine mesh.

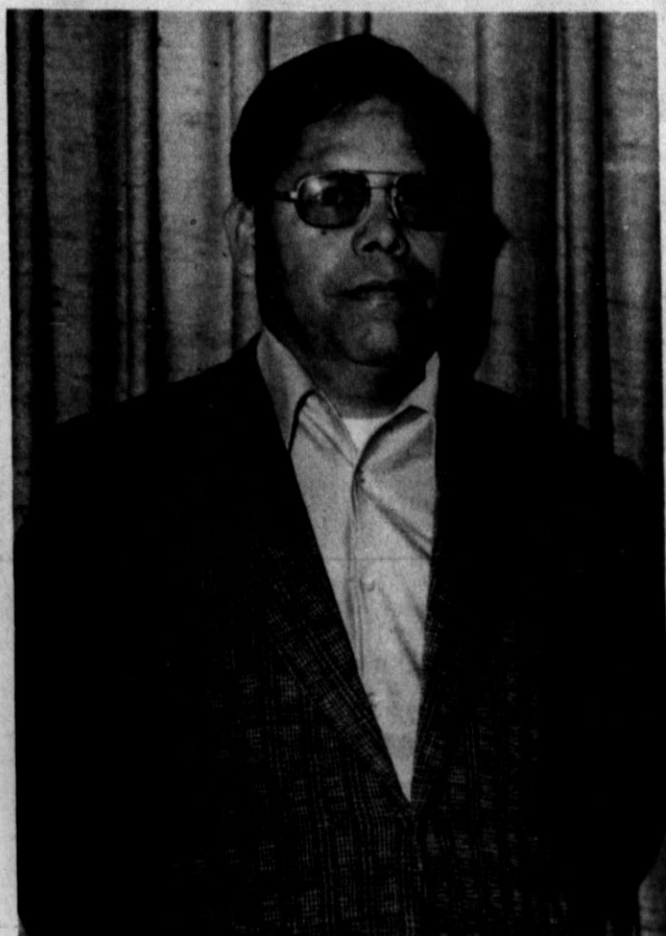

If you haven't yet acquired a rolling pin, you may be able to make do with a bottle.

Nine-inch round and square pans are useful for baking yeast rolls as well as for cakes.

Five ounces of whole shelled almonds make one cup.

Legumes are a good source of protein; however, they are low in one of the essential amino acids—the chemical building blocks of protein. Cereals have this amino acid in abundance. Therefore you can combine a legume with a grain (for example, red beans and rice) and have protein with the amino acids needed for good health.

Leftover roast turkey meat may be stored in the refrigerator for 4 or 5 days.

THE REV. SAMUEL M. CENICEROS invites public to Sept. 16-Oct. 1 revival

Pastor Relates Revival Plans

San Pablo United Methodist Church, 220 Kibbe, will be conducting a revival here, starting Sunday and concluding Oct. 1, according to the Rev. Samuel M. Ceniceros, pastor. Services will begin each night at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Ceniceros came to serve the local congregation in June from a church at LaMesa. He is originally from El Paso and graduated from high school there.

He received his bachelor's degree in theology from Southern Methodist University at Dallas.

Rev. Ceniceros and his wife Velia have three children, Alex, Adolfo and Olivia.

Adolescents vary greatly in the way they feel and act toward children. Some always have a pleasant word; others pay children little attention; others are embarrassed by the open stares of little children, Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Sweating Toilet Tank Problem Can Be Cured

COLLEGE STATION--Toilet tanks "work up a sweat" during warm weather can be annoying--and damaging to the floor--but any do-it-yourselfer can remedy this problem easily, taking about one hour and $2.

Mrs. Jane Berry, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, recommends installation of an insulating liner inside the toilet tank.

"A sweating toilet is caused by hot humid air striking the tank of cold water, causing moisture to condense on the outside of the porcelain tank."

"Water trickling down the sides of the tank creates an unsightly mess which can eventually ruin most bathroom flooring materials."

"Although the annoyance is usually either ignored or dealt with in nonpermanent fashion by using drip pans under the tank or an absorbent exterior tank cover, the sweating toilet tank can be forever banished from the bathroom--by spending a couple of dollars and about one hour of your time.

"Any way you look at it, the job will be far less expensive than replacing or repairing a bathroom floor," she said.

The fastest and least expensive way to permanently cure the sweating tank problem is to install an insulating liner in the toilet. The liner helps keep the cold water from chilling the sides and bottom of the tank.

Supplies For The Job
To do the job you'll need either foam rubber padding in one-half inch thickness or polystyrene foam in about five-sixteenth thickness, a flexible, water resistant glue, knife or scissors, crayon and newspapers.

Be sure to check compatibility of glue and the insulative material. Some glues will dissolve styrene while others will soften rubber.

A few plumbing supply houses carry kits containing insulative materials and glue which can be used for the job.

You can assemble the materials easily, however if you can't find a kit. Once materials are together, here's how to proceed.

First, turn off the water supply to the toilet. Each fixture usually has its own individual shut-off valve. If this is not the case, close off the water at the branch shut-off valve or at the main shut-off valve by turning the handle clockwise.

Remove the top of the tank and carefully place it where it will not be broken.

With a wax pencil or crayon, mark the water level on the inside of the toilet tank. Then, flush the toilet and use a sponge or towel to remove all water from the tank. The tank should be thoroughly dry before proceeding.

Making A Pattern

Use newspaper and a crayon to make pattern pieces for the bottom and sides of the tank. Pipes and holes in the bottom of the tank will be easier to deal with if you make the pattern in several smaller sections. Be sure to trim the pattern so that the insulative material will not interfere with the action of the flush ball and filler tube.

Sides of the toilet and tank will be much easier, but make sure the pattern comes up about an inch above the water line. If using rigid polystyrene foam, rounded corners on the tank will require that you cut several narrow strips of the foam and glue each one in place.

Installing Liner

Using scissors or a razor knife, cut pattern pieces from the insulating material and glue into place inside the toilet tank. Let the glue set well before refilling the tank with water. Once it's set, turn the water on to refill the tank. The rubber or foam insulation will "cushion" the encounter between the cold porcelain tank sides and bottom and warm air in the room.

Even if you don't want to take the time of lining the bottom of the tank, protection offered by lining only the sides will reduce the problem significantly.

Other Solutions

Alternatives to lining the sweating toilet tank yourself are to have a plumber install an unlined tempering tank in the attic, garage or basement so the water can warm up before it gets to the toilet.

Another possibility is to have the plumber install a valve which adds a small amount of warm water to the cold water entering the tank. Raising the temperature of the tank water warms up the tank and eliminates condensation.

But why wait for the plumber or spend good money on a tempering tank of mixing valve? You can do the job easily and inexpensively.

Wooden spoons are a must in the well-equipped kitchen. Their handles stay cool when used in saucepans on top of the range and they do not mar utensils.

Genealogy Assembly Is Tuesday

Representatives of Deaf Smith County Genealogical Society will attend an assembly of the High Plains Genealogy organization Tuesday on the West Texas State University campus at Canyon.

The meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. in the WTSU Cornett Library and all interested genealogists are welcome.

The local entourage will depart from Deaf Smith County Library at 6 and 6:30 p.m. that evening. They will participate in an informative program studying various archives and techniques for genealogical research.

Further information can be obtained from Sue Lambert.

The honoree and David Marnell will exchange vows this Saturday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Hostesses for the coffee were Mes. Bill Stengel, Leo Hoffman, Carl McCaslin, Charles Duval, Tony Hoffmann, Ed Schilling, James Pavlicek, Leo Witkowski, George Turrentine, W.E. Beene, Walter Kuper, Dwight McGee and Frank Knabe.

Ad Agencies Show Concern For Consumer

COLLEGE STATION--The Federal Trade Commission is not the only agency giving close attention to the advertising claims made for consumer products.

Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist, says that advertising agencies are concerned, too.

"Not only do they assist the FTC in evaluating advertising claims, they will investigate questions and complaints from the public regarding national advertising claims."

This specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says that consumers who have not been able to resolve their problems with national ads through local sponsors of the ad may appeal their case to National Advertising Review Board, NAD, 845 Third Avenue, New York, NY, 10022.

THDA Cites Golden Anniversary

Some of the original "tomato club" girls are gathering at College Station this week-- for a look back at "the good old days" --and a look forward into how their 50-year-old organization is taking its place in today's fast-paced, consumer-oriented family life styles.

More than 1,000 members of the Texas Home Demonstration Association are on the Texas A&M University campus for the THDA annual statewide meeting--and to celebrate the organization's 50th anniversary. Highlighting the conference will be a two-hour historical review of the organization-- which traces its initial beginnings to the 1912 "tomato clubs" in Texas, according to Mrs. Harold Preston of Llan, Tex., THDA vice-president.

Members who can remember those days-- and historically minded members--joined forces and information to produce the review, which will begin by recounting the days when Edna Trigg, a rural school teacher, was employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to show young girls how to grow, can and market tomatoes. She, with the help of college girls, worked two or three months each summer with the girls' tomato club, Mrs. Preston explained.

The Smith-Lever Act, creating the Cooperative Extension Service, was passed by Congress on May 8, 1914. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service was created by the passing of a joint resolution of both houses of the Texas legislature in 1915, accepting the provisions of the Smith-Lever Act.

Extension home economics, as it is known today, began in 1915, when rural mothers began to ask about organizing women's tomato clubs.

This was also the beginning of home demonstration clubs in Texas, Mrs. Preston said. The first home demonstration clubs were organized in 1915. As the clubs increased in number, an organization specialist, Maggie Barry, was employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to work with club women in 1918.

By 1924, the first county organization were formed.

Called home demonstration councils, each served as an advisory committee, a means of communication, and it gave women an opportunity to learn and practice leadership training.

During a Farmer's Short Course at Texas A&M College in 1926, wives also attending met and loosely organized the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

Their purpose was to help a deserving 4-H girl by giving her $200 financial assistance for a college education. That one scholarship has grown into six scholarships today totaling $2,100, according to Mrs. Preston.

The Texas Home Demonstration Association was affiliated with National Extension Homemakers Council in 1948. They later affiliated with Associated Country Women of the World.

From the beginning of the first home demonstration club, the rural women met on a regular basis, at which time the county Extension agent met with each group and presented a demonstration.

Today, club programs stem from a variety of sources including county Extension agent, THDA recommendations, resource people and club member serving as program leaders.

There are about 24,000 women in home demonstration club work in Texas at the present time. During 1975 these women taught 49,000 non-club members. Many home demonstration women are active in working with 5,900 women in study groups in addition to home demonstration clubs, she said.

Recalling home demonstration clubs' earlier days, women across Texas remember them as busy days-- full of hard work, fulfillment and fun, Mrs. Preston noted of the historical review.

She related some of the more colorful memories.

"A bride of 2 weeks, I joined Gillespie Club on July 8, 1925. I had never presided at a meeting and was elected President, a place I held 8 straight years. Under Mrs. Barry I learned the fundamentals of parliamentary rule, as all club women learned. I mastered foods, sewing, home improvement, budgeting (time and money), appreciation of the arts, and all the finer things of life. My home life reflected all my learnings."

Mrs. R.M. Almanrode, Knox County

"I think meeting with my club friends and neighbors has been the most enjoyable. I went to a club meeting in 1924 in a buggy and carried my baby girl. The agent met with us and showed us how to make mayonnaise. I attended a meeting at A&M in 1932 as a delegate, and I'm looking forward to seeing everyone in September.

Chloe E. Howard, Wise County

"Home Demonstration work has meant much to my home, friends, and community for 50 years. Things I remember: 1) box houses papered inside, household linens made out of the figured feed sacks; 2) introduction of pressure cooker for pantry...diet and health improvements; 3) clothing and home sewing encouraged; 4) art of freezing food; and 5) training for community leadership--establishing 4-H Club girls' scholarship. Mainly we learned how to help and love our neighbors."

Mrs. R.E. Fulton, Dallas County

"The most important thing I have learned is that a homemaker must keep up with the changes as time passes--and I know no better way than to be an active Home Demonstration Club member and learn to make do with what you have-- and enjoy it, and to also go by the 4-H motto: 'To make the best better'."

Mrs. W.T. Wells, Martin County

"I joined in September of 1924. My mother was a club member so when I married I joined. From Home Demonstration Club work a woman may derive a feeling of confidence based on fact, a sense of satisfaction that comes from accomplishments, an awareness of conditions in the world in which we live. There are many people sharing experiences and information with others; to meet other women in the county, district, and state; to hear talks by specialists in their fields; and the satisfaction of participation in worthwhile efforts for the benefit of the community and our country."

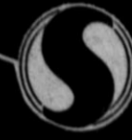

Mrs. Ruth Campbell, Coryell County

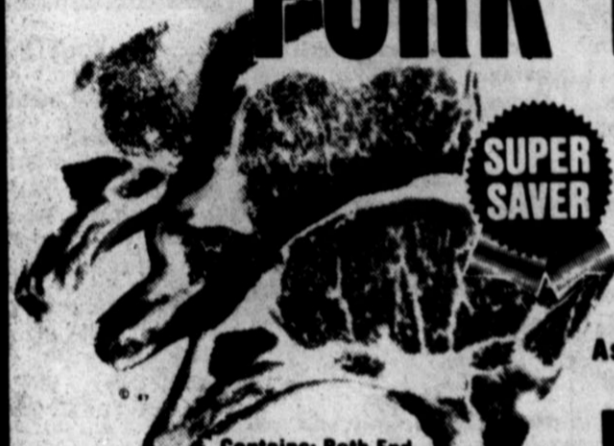

"There wasn't a Home Demonstration Club in Refugio County, so I organized the first club in the county. I learned to sew for my family; also canned-meat, fish and vegetables using sealer. Took my sealer and pressure cooker teaching and helped my neighbors. Learned to make mattresses, helped others to make theirs. I still have my needles. I enjoyed learning all the new things."

Pauline Fricks, Refugio County
