HEREFORD AND ITS RESOURCES

ITS SURROUNDING AGRICULTURAL COUNTRY UNSURPASSED

THE phenomenal growth of Hereford since its foundation in October, 1898, has caused many people who are unacquainted with the conditions of the town and surrounding country to soliloquize upon the ability of the fast increasing population to make a livelihood, and it is for the benefit of the unsophisticated newcomers as well as those who are contemplating a visit to our fair country that a few of its many resources and advantages are hereby enumerated.

In the first place, the town of Hereford is situated on a rise of ground prominent enough to give it an excellent drainage to the Tierra Blanca river, which, added to the exquisitely fine climate and dry atmosphere, makes it an ideal place of residence for the health seeker who would leave the hot, swampy and malarial regions of the south and east and the heavy, cold, damp, pulmonary-disease-dealing atmosphere of the north.

As a place of residence for the tiller of the soil the surrounding country affords an appreciated relief to the hardworking farmer who struggles (many times in vain) for a livelihood on land which was worn out long ago by his forefathers and whose crops at the best bring so little returns to the acre that by the time the hired man is paid off with the meat of the grain nothing is left to the self-sacrificing owner but the chaff. With such grain producing land as he finds here at from one dollar an acre to five dollars an acre he is more than willing to dispose of his twenty-five to one hundred dollars an acre land (when the opportunity presents itself) and migrate to this agriculturists Eden. Situated as it is in close proximity to the mountains on the west it affords him reasonable protection from the awful drouths so prevalent in most other portions of the United States, and absolute protection from the life and property destructing winds so common in the more unprotected districts of the western prairies.

Experiments have shown that this land, when properly cultivated, will yield enormous crops of wheat, corn and other grains and feedstuffs, all kinds of garden produce and fruit of all varieties known to the temperate zone, besides affording an excellent grazing pasture for stock.

Thus, it will readily be seen that on account of the rapidity with which the land surrounding Hereford is being settled upon, the fast increasing business interests of the town will receive the liberal support needed to maintain those interests. It is also a noticeable fact that the settlers are men with good, sound business qualities, as is evidenced by the inevitable check book which they carry and the properly signed leaves of which, with which they cancel their financial obligations.

The fact that Hereford is the shipping point for a vast area of country, has unexcelled educational facilities, an unlimited supply of the purest of water easily obtained, a citizenship of people who are ever alive to the best interests of the town, and last, but not least, a beautiful stream of water, abounding with game and fish, gives to her an impetus for advancement that few other towns in the Panhandle possess.

SEVEN LOCATED

On Deaf Smith County Ranches This Week.

Frank Morris, the hustling Gainesville real estate dealer, came in to Hereford again recently with a party of prospectors, and succeeded in locating seven of them on desirable ranch properties:

George R. Russell of Gainesville, four sections on block K4, patented land; consideration, $6,016.

Benjamin Miller of Sivel's Bend, four sections on block K5, patented land; consideration, $5,120.

W. A. Dougherty of Gainesville, one section of patented land, situated seven miles south of Hereford; consideration, $1,600.

W. T. Norman of Nevada, one section of patented land, situated ten miles north of Hereford; consideration, $1,600.

Thomas McBroom of Dexter, one section of patented land, sixteen miles northeast of Hereford; consideration, $1,600.

John Thomas of Dexter, one section of patented land, situated sixteen miles north of Hereford; consideration, $1,600.

These gentlemen will move here in the near future and make extensive improvements on their newly acquired property, and will be warmly welcomed. They are of the class of settlers which are desired in this country and with which our vacant lands are being inhabited.

These properties are considered very desirable as places of residence on account of their close proximity to Hereford and the excellent water supply which abounds in this section of the country.

Announcement.

We are glad to announce to the readers of the REPORTER the return of the editor, Mr. Vanderburgh, who has been away on a visit to his childhood home in New York. He reports that Mrs. Vanderburgh and the baby girl are both doing well, and will soon be able to come to Texas.

In retiring from the editorial chair, I wish to express my appreciation of the forbearance of the public for these few months, and will add by way of parenthesis that you will be able to appreciate more fully a good paper after having done without for some time.

What I have said through the columns of the paper has been done with but one thought and one motive, namely, the bettering of the community and country.

We now surrender the quill to

Mr. Vanderburgh, and bespeak for the paper a more successful career, as our opportunities are broadening as population so rapidly increases.

Yours very truly,

R. F. HOLLOWAY.

Notice to Subscribers.

Since my return I have received many complaints of subscribers not having received their paper during my absence. I sincerely regret that such has been the case, and request that all who have not received the REPORTER regularly will notify me by postal card or otherwise and I will credit them on the subscription book with the number of papers they have missed.

THE Philadelphia voters seem to have landed their ballots in close proximity to "honest John Wansmaker's" solar plexus.

EVEN Lemley admitted there was no ground for questioning the bravery of Admiral Schley, but he thought he ought to be censured for the good of the service.

ADMIRAL DEWEY promises the public not only the decision of the Court of Inquiry, but the reasons back of the decision. The Admiral possesses lots of common sense.

THE tariff protected trusts have given notice that there must be no "tariff tinkering nor reciprocity legislation," and the republican leaders are prompt to obey their masters.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Upon Current Events in the Busy Outside World.

"TO BE or not to be," remarks President Roosevelt anent tariff revision.

AND now the pallbearers have formed a trust. The cemeteries will come next.

LORD PAUNCEPOTE's collision with the New York customs officials is said to have given him a severe jolt.

WIRELESS telegraphy will not promote the lynching habit. It will at least do away with the convenient telegraph pole.

IF Hon. J. Hampton Hoge gets to be a judge, he may look back with gratitude to his defeat by the Virginia voters, Nov. 5, 1901.

MARK TWAIN as a political speaker and Dr. Parkhurst as a humorist are two shining examples of the adage that "the shoemaker should stick to his last."

ACCORDING to the Chicago Tribune there have been 2516 lynchings in the United States in five years. And yet the United States has the impudence to try and civilize the Philipinos "for their own good."

PRESIDENT HARPER of the Chicago University announces that Chicago will add "condensed knowledge" to its already large exports. He evidently thinks some brains should go along with spare-ribs and mess pork.

PORTO RICO requests a duty of five cents a pound on coffee. That would mean a tax of $40,000,000 on the people of the United States, but it is indirect taxation, the people wouldn't know it and it is in entire accordance with Republican ethics to tax all the people for the benefit of a few.

MR. ROOSEVELT displayed no hesitation about turning down the Delaware gas-man.

THE output of anthracite coal exceeds all previous years—so does the price, thanks to a tariff protected trust.

YOUR Uncle Samuel might do well to take a pointer from the French and collect a little indemnity from the Sublime Porte for Miss Ellen Stone.

THE next time you meet a man "dead broke and out of a job" just explain to him that the currency per capita averages $28.52. It may comfort him to know it.

IF the Secretary of Agriculture would devote his time to finding out how to prevent potato crop failures instead of talking economic nonsense on the Iowa political stump, it would be more to his credit.

THE Standard Oil Company is after more oil. Most trusts are satisfied with water.

WHY not send Gen. Miles' six ton bullet shields to Manila? They might serve to protect the quarter-masters from the school-marms.

THERE is something suggestive of the prize-ring handshake about the published farewells of Secretary Hay and Assistant Secretary Cridler.

ACCORDING to republican logicians, the Philippines are domestic when it comes to collecting internal revenue and foreign when it comes to collecting a tariff.

EDITOR KOHLSATT says, "The people will have reciprocity or a general tariff revision." Perhaps they will, but they will have to send a democratic majority to Congress to get either.

CARROLL D. WRIGHT, U. S. Labor Commissioner, advocates a labor trust, and says that it is the only method of coping with organized capital in its efforts to decrease wages.

MR. CARNEGIE advocates a general reduction of the tariff. If he can induce his former business associates to do the same, he will place the American people under incalculable obligations.

THE Adjutant General's office refused to award a medal for conspicuous bravery to Colonel Roosevelt and now that it would confer one on President Roosevelt, it finds the matter res adjudicata.

THE consistent protectionists will do well to keep Mr. McKinley's last public speech from the hands of the young. Its breadth will prove pernicious to the young mind which must be narrowed to conform with republican views.

the great men of his party again.

"party" will not be considered in making them.

MASO, who is running for Presi-

the race, it was hoped he might call his party by some other name.

THE arrival last Tuesday night of nearly fifty prospectors in Hereford, on one train, speaks more than could be put into volumes, and is a living example of conditions in the Panhandle, and more particularly of conditions in Hereford and immediate vicinity. It is not necessary to resort to hyperbolism to say that Hereford is the most popular site in the Panhandle just now.

IT is said that Miss Wu Chon
Ching, the adopted daughter of Wu Ting Fang, intends to cease binding her feet into "Golden Lilies" and that when she returns to China she sisters to do the same. Which shows that the Wus have not lived in Washington for nothing. But is it not pardonable to harbor a little curiosity as to what Americanism will be taken in exchange, stays or rainy-days?

buildings now under contract. These facts need no comment; they speak far more eloquently for our town and country than anything we could say. And the sensible man of business wants facts, not fancies.

THERE is talk of Aguinaldo's appealing to the courts, through habeas corpus proceedings, for his liberty. The sincerity of Filipino promises has been tested and found so faultless that it seems a shame that this leader should not be permitted to go, and to be furnished with weapons for himself and people in going. Respect for the writ of habeas corpus is so great among Americans that they have been known to suspend it to avoid doing it any irreverence.

BULGARIA is now prepared to say that it is not responsible for any failure to rescue Miss Stone from the hands of the brigands, since this government's representative, Mr. Dickinson, protested against the use of Bulgarian troops for that purpose. Dickinson's contention is that the participation of Bulgarian troops in the matter interfered with his plans to ransom the lady, and further jeopardized her life. The contention of Dickinson may be right, but the excuse of the Bulgarians will not go far with this country. It not only demands the release of Americans who have been so unfortunate as to fall into the hands of foreign robbers, but that foreign governments shall prevent American citizens from being deprived of their liberty by their robbers. The first question which will be asked by this country will not be, why did you not release or accomplish the release of this American citizen, but why did you permit this American citizen to be taken by your brigands?
