American Airmen Get Hits In Raid On Japanese Base

CHUNGKING, China, Sept. 4 (AP)—United States airmen scored direct hits on Japanese headquarters at Nanchang, probably sank seven steamers and damaged others in the Singtze-Hankow channel and left a number of other craft in flames on Lake Poyang Wednesday in a devastating series of raids upon the enemy in Kiangsi and Hupeh provinces, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

In other action over Kwelin, in coastal Chekiang province, Chinese informants said "sky dragons" of the U.S. army air force shot down five Japanese planes yesterday in a spectacular air battle.

Meat Industry To Operate By License

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—A move designed to prevent the evasion of existing and forthcoming price regulations, the office of price administration shortly will place the entire meat industry, except for retailers, under unified licensing control.

Announcement of the licensing program last night followed the beginning of court action against approximately 115 meat packers and wholesalers to compel compliance with price regulations.

Alleging "up-grading" of "plain and simply overcharging," OPA began filing injunction suits in 18 cities throughout the country, and said additional actions would be filed in other cities as the investigation continued.

Effective Sept. 5, OPA will automatically license all packers, wholesalers and custom slaughterers, and make the license a prerequisite for selling any meat product subject to price regulation. Dressed hogs, beef, veal and lamb carcasses, and almost all wholesale and retail cuts except mutton, now are subject to such regulation.

The order provides for suspension of licenses in the event of violation of regulations.

Retailers were excluded from the order because they already are licensed under the general maximum price regulation.

OPA said it had received complaints from all parts of the country that price regulations were being ignored by packers and wholesalers and that inferior cuts were being sold at prices exceeding established ceilings.

Trophy Play 'All Square'

The annual links battle for possession of the Hall-Bennett trophy was all square at noon Friday, when Scotch foursomes had been completed; and the issue was to be decided during the afternoon as singles matches got under way at 2:30.

Four matches were being played during the morning as the country club's annual trophy was contested. The Big Spring team, led by Capt. Robert Satterwhite and D. A. Watkins, defeated the "foreigners," neither Bill Barker of Midland nor Carl Strom of Big Spring, captains of the invading and hometown teams, participated.

In the Scotch foursomes, Bill Roden and J. R. Farmer of the home forces bested Lieut. Ely and Dick Hamilton 2-1; and Lowell Matlock and Troy White hung up a 3-1 triumph for the hometowners over Don Starnes and A. G. Bernard, Jr. Private Cichon and Harry Bindorf helped balance the score for the foreigners by downing M. K. House and Charles Watson, 2-1, while Fred Turner and Bob Farmer added a point with a 4-3 victory over Robert Satterwhite and D. A. Watkins.

Each match counted a point, as will each single match played during the afternoon.

Yanks Tighten Their Hold On Islands

American Subs Sink Five Of Enemies Supply Ships

By JOHN H. WIGGINS WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 American fighting men steadily strengthened their grip on the Solomon islands today as the battle of the southwest Pacific brought destruction of five Japanese ships, eight airplanes and quantities of invasion supplies.

Indications that constant Allied battering was sapping enemy strength came in a communique from General MacArthur's Australian headquarters and from the navy department which told of lack of Japanese aircraft resistance in New Guinea and of only "periodic attacks" by small detachments of invaders in the Solomons.

U. S. submarines dealt a severe blow to Japanese supply lines by sinking five enemy ships including a light cruiser, and damaging three more. The newest findings reported by the navy yesterday boosted the total of Japanese ships sunk or damaged by American undersea craft to 39 since Dec. 7, 1941.

Absence of Japanese attempts at interception were noted by General MacArthur's medium and attack bombers in a foray against enemy installations at Balanaua, Japanese New Guinea base, where numerous fires were started.

In the upper Solomons, two enemy seaplanes were damaged by the Allied bombers at Faia, fuel dumps were destroyed at Buika and at Kieta Japanese installations were blasted with "unknown results."

In the New Guinea area, MacArthur's communique told of further Allied bombing and strafing of Japanese communication lines in the Kokoda section, 60 miles east of the Allied base at Port Moresby, and of guerrilla fighting about Milne Bay where Allied ground troops were mopping up the survivors of a trapped band of invaders.

In the southeastern Solomons, the marines bolstered positions won from the Japanese a month ago, the navy said, but small enemy detachments which succeeded in landing there were "being sought out and engaged."

American land-based aircraft, operating from the Guadalcanal base, inflicted several hits on ships engaged in landing operations, the navy added, but the extent of damage was unknown.

Gurney told the senate the United States should go into the younger brackets for soldiers with a view of giving them sufficient training and adequate physical upbuilding to equip them to meet the enemy, particularly Germany, whose youth "Hitler trains almost from the time they are babes in arms."

Red Cross Ship Barred By Japs

TOKYO, (From Japanese Broadcast) Sept. 4 (AP)—Dome said today the government refused to permit an American Red Cross ship to bring supplies to American war prisoners because "Japan could not permit free and uninhibited American collection of information in areas of war operation as such a voyage would render possible."

The news agency said the Tokyo government had advised the American Red Cross that Japan "is giving American war prisoners and internees fair treatment in accord with the principle of international law. Hence the government does not recognize any special need for additional comfort and relief."

Dentists Convene In City This Weekend

Advance reservations indicate an attendance of perhaps 100 for the 22nd annual convention of the West Texas Dental Society, to be held in Big Spring Sunday and Monday, Dr. Lee O. Rogers, secretary and member of the society's executive committee, made that estimate as he announced that local arrangements are in readiness.

Visiting dentists are due to arrive here Sunday afternoon, and at 7:30 p. m. will be honored with a chicken barbecue at the city park.

The convention proper gets under way Monday morning at the Settles hotel. Guests will be welcomed by Mayor Grover C. Dunham and Guy Gillespie of Abilene will respond. Technical papers will be discussed through the morning and afternoon hours, with these men appearing on the program: Dr. E. C. McRinnon, Fort Worth; Dr. E. D. Bridgford, Colorado City; Dr. Edward Taylor, director of dental health, Austin; and Dr. Horace E. Beachum, Dallas. The session will be concluded with election of officers, selection of next meeting place and hearing of reports.

Meanwhile, local plans are going forward for entertainment of another convention in Big Spring this month—that of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association, which will be held on Sept. 25-26. Judge Frank

HUGE ARMY HITS AT RED CITY Allied Action Checks Rommel's Advances

Loses Post—Col. Dache (above), commanding officer of the First Air Ground Support Command, has been relieved of his duties at Mitchell Field, N. Y., along with Maj. Lynn Farnon, public relations officer. Action followed a press release purporting to show ground markings laid out by saboteurs and discovered by fliers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Chairman Reynolds (D-N. C.) of the senate military affairs committee declared today he would ask the war department for a formal recommendation "as to the necessity" of drafting youths of 18 and 19 into the armed forces.

Wants Army Decision On 18-19 Group

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Chairman Reynolds (D-N. C.) of the senate military affairs committee declared today he would ask the war department for a formal recommendation "as to the necessity" of drafting youths of 18 and 19 into the armed forces.

Reynolds told reporters he would be guided "by the decisions of our military leaders" in his consideration of a proposal, introduced yesterday by Senator Gurney (R-S. D.), to lower the minimum induction age from 20 to 18 and thus tap a reservoir of upwards of 2,000,000 men.

Gurney told the senate the United States should go into the younger brackets for soldiers with a view of giving them sufficient training and adequate physical upbuilding to equip them to meet the enemy, particularly Germany, whose youth "Hitler trains almost from the time they are babes in arms."

Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) argued that it was better to draft married men, for whose dependents he said congress "has provided generously" than to send "tender-age" youths into combat. He said married men had "a little more to fight for than boys still in school."

Pilot Safe After 20 Days In Jungle

AT AN ALLIED BASE IN AUSTRALIA, Sept. 4 (AP)—Lieut. Duncan Seffern of Manawa, Wis., pilot of a Marauder bomber which ran out of gasoline on a flight from Townsville, Australia, to Port Moresby, New Guinea, has reached this base after tramping through New Guinea jungles for 20 days.

His arrival left only two men missing of the five who were with him, one his navigator and the other Vern Haugland, Associated Press was correspondent who went to Australia from Los Angeles.

Seffern said today that Haugland was last seen as he listened to instructions on the use of his parachute and then jumped into space 12,000 feet above New Guinea.

One Out Of Every Six Needed— Woman's Part In War Program Mapped

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt explained the committee would consider questions of important policy concerning the manpower commission's program for training as well as recruiting women workers, and would work closely with the commission's management-labor policy committee.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, said recently that able-bodied men in industries would be drafted, and that they must be replaced by women and older men.

"Increased participation of women in our all-out war production effort is essential to its success," McNutt said. "War production alone employed about

Bombardments Hit New Peak In Intensity

Air Attacks Relieve Pressure On The Southern Flank

CAIRO, Sept. 4 (AP)—Combined action by the U.S. army air forces, the RAF and hard-hitting British mechanized units appeared today to have wrested the initiative momentarily from Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, relieving Axis pressure on the southern end of the El Alamein line.

Under a steady pounding from the air and on the land, a British communique announced, powerful enemy armored forces concentrated in the Elweinat-Hemelmat sector in apparent preparation for an attempt to turn the British left flank, withdrew slightly to the westward yesterday.

The bulletin said the aerial bombardment to which the enemy was subjected yesterday had exceeded that of the previous day—which smashed all records for the North African campaign.

Despite the scope of the air operations British headquarters reported that all the allied bombers had returned safely to their bases. Six axis planes were shot down during the day.

There was comparatively little enemy air activity over the battlefield, not a German dive-bomber appearing over the lines. Observers recalled that dispatches from the front have told of heavy German dive-bomber losses in the past few days.

Two Messerschmitts, a 109 and a 110, were destroyed by American fliers and United States air force headquarters said.

In the course of intensive operations United States battle groups attacked enemy motor transport in the battle area. Several hits and near misses were observed. Several vehicles were destroyed.

Medium bomber planes also attacked enemy airfields and hits were seen in the target area. Fires were started in the vicinity of aircraft parked on the airfields.

While the axis withdrawal in the Ruvelat-Hemelmat sector appeared to have relieved the situation temporarily, military observers warned against too much optimism, pointing out that the battle still is in its preliminary phases and that both sides are merely jockeying for position.

Rommel, they said, has not yet suffered crippling losses to his armored strength and there is no indication that he is trying to avoid a showdown.

Private Charged In Slaying Case

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 4 (AP)—Pvt. William Lubarski, 22, of Indiana Harbor, Ind., today was charged with murder in connection with the slaying of Warren F. Simmang, 19, of San Antonio.

The complaint was filed against Lubarski, stationed at the army's air force navigation school at near-by Hondo, before Justice of the Peace Pat Corrigan.

Investigating officers said the youth made a statement in connection with the case. Simmang's body was found Wednesday in an irrigation canal near Medina Lake. He had been beaten to death.

CZECHS EXECUTED

LONDON, Sept. 4 (AP)—The execution of 19 Czechs at Prague, two of them women, was reported today by Czech government circles in London.

Double Trouble—This tabby—name unknown—was born with a face marking which looks like a Hitler moustache. Someone noticed the moustache and kicked her before he thought. Now pussy is in the cat hospital with a broken jaw.

Nelson Appeals For New Scrap Drive

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Representatives of the nation's newspaper publishers accepted the assignment today to undertake a gigantic scrap salvage campaign, spurred by a statement from WPA Chairman Donald M. Nelson that "we're not doing a very good job of winning this war."

Nelson's appeal for the campaign, voiced at a meeting of 200 publishers and editors, was backed by the declaration of R. W. Wolcott, president of Lukens Steel company, that "there are only two weeks' supply of steel scrap in the country in the hands of steel mills."

"Unless a miracle happens, two furnaces are going down over the weekend in Chicago," Lukens, chairman of the American Industries, salvage committee, told the group. "San Francisco is in bad shape, Pittsburgh and Youngstown are in horrible shape."

Walter M. Dear, president of the American Newspaper Publishers association and publisher of the Jersey Journal at Jersey City, N. J., got a unanimous show of hands when he asked permission to name a committee to initiate a plan modeled after the "Nebraska plan." This was a three-week campaign conducted by the Omaha World-Herald, which netted 104 pounds of scrap for every man, woman and child in Nebraska.

Nelson told the newspapermen that many of the new war plants were chewing up material and producing armament at a greater rate than had been thought possible.

"We must get them the material," he asserted, "and one sure way is to bring out the scrap." Nelson said an all-out salvage effort included abandoned railroads, old bridges and old buildings.

"We are going to have to take bridges which may or may not be used," he added, "but we won't take bridges or tracks that are useful to the war effort."

Lieut. Gen. Brehon Somervell, chief of the army services of supply, reported that arms production schedules for September and October were so great as to exceed the capacity to provide materials, and that schedules in the months following would be much heavier.

"We haven't won this war yet and we'll be a long time winning it," Somervell said. "This time it's not a question of 'How long, but 'I'."

The job of the newspapers, said Vice Admiral S. M. Robinson, chief of the navy's bureau of procurement and material, is to "shock the people into a realization of our true state of affairs," and to prove that the salvage campaign "is not a hoodwinking gesture to build synthetic morale."

"If the people are not convinced, your headlines may tell them how we finally arrived, only to find that we had come with too little and too late," Robinson concluded.

Freight Load Rule Delayed A Month

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—The effective date of general order OOT No. 18, requiring maximum loading of cars carrying civilian freight, was postponed today by Director Joseph B. Eastman of the Office of Defense Transportation from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15.

Eastman said more time was needed for consideration of new suggestions for improvement and clarification of the order, which is designed to conserve railway transportation space.

Increase Shown In Tax Collections

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP)—State Treasurer Jesse James announced today that tax receipts from cigarettes, beer, liquor, prescriptions, wine and notes increased $2,848,810 during the 1941-42 fiscal year over the previous year.

From Sept. 1, 1941, to Aug. 31, 1942, the state collected $18,971,328 from this source compared to $15,622,518 during the previous state year.

Battle Nears Approaches To Stalingrad

25 German Divisions Hurlled Into Savage Combat

By HENRY C. CASSIDY MOSCOW, Sept. 4 (AP)—Field Marshal Fedor von Bock beat against Stalingrad with 25 divisions today in an effort to capitalize on wedges driven systematically into its defenses, but Red army men were reported to have counterattacked with a violence that regained some ground northwest of the city.

Germans striking from the southwest again succeeded in making a slight advance at enormous cost, the mid-day communique reported.

"Tass spoke of fighting upon the immediate approaches to the town" and said "the Hitlerite" tank columns decimated in previous engagements have been considerably replenished.

"The battles have no precedent in their violence," the military newspaper Red Star said. It reported pilots from Egypt had joined the enemy's air squadrons while ground troops from France were among the 25 axis divisions assigned from a 1,000,000-man army for the assault upon Stalingrad, commander-in-chief of the Volga basin and a gateway to the Caspian.

Red army men fighting within the Don bend around Klekaya, harassing the axis detachments moving eastward across the Cossack steppes, occupied another village and repulsed several counterattacks, the communique announced.

The Germans gained a strategic height in the battle for Novorossiisk, Soviet naval base on the Black sea coast, the 200 miles southwest of Stalingrad, by weight of superior numbers, it was announced.

Elsewhere in that sector, however, the Russians were reported to have withstood several attacks. A Stalingrad dispatch said German planes, flying from various points of the compass, were attacking the city regularly in waves of 150 or more.

Reinforcements were declared to have given the German command a superiority of two or three to one over the Russians on some sectors.

(While the Soviet information bureau made no further mention of the Red army offensive on the central front, a German dispatch broadcast from Berlin said strong Nazi squadrons continued their harassing and effective attacks on Soviet troops and tank concentrations in the Rubev area on the upper Volga northwest of Moscow.

In the central Caucasus the Germans were reported pressing a strong offensive for crossings in the Terek river basin both around Mozdok and at Frokhladenski. Soviet observers expressed belief the defense divisions were outnumbered in men as well as in machines and planes.

The Nazi purpose is two-fold: 1—to seize the Grozny oil fields to the east; 2—to advance upon Ordzhonikidze, 80 miles southwest of Grozny, the terminus of a military highway leading over the mountains to Tiflis.

New Trouble In Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Sept. 4 (AP)—The explosion of a time bomb outside a public barracks at Randalstown, northern Ireland, and a sharp gun battle between police and Irish republican guerrillas at the northern Ireland-Eire border increased tension today in this Ulster capital.

No casualties were reported from the gun battle and the attackers escaped. Authorities expressed belief that the guerrillas fled back into Eire after firing on police barracks at Bellefleur, county Down. Telephone lines in the vicinity had been cut prior to the attack.

During the night police pressed their roundup of suspected political agitators which by morning had resulted in 39 arrests.

Members of the outlawed Irish republican army were blamed for the Randalstown blast, which injured two police officers and apparently was in protest against the hanging of Thomas Williams, youthful IRA follower, last Tuesday for the slaying of a constable.

Downtown Stroller

In vogue at the courthouse these days is some plain and fancy tip hat worn by the gals without rubber heels. Seems they waded the river the other day and it takes an expert or contortionist to stand up if they don't wear rubber heeled shoes. And rubber heels aren't available are they?

Mrs. EULA LEE has quite a stake in this war with two sons in service. PFC THOMAS B. LEE is stationed in Honolulu where he writes the people and grand to the boys. He likes the country except for the heat which he hasn't gotten accustomed to yet. Mrs. LEE's other son, OLIVER W. LEE, is stationed with the army in Monterey, Calif., with a boat detachment which he says puts him in both the army and navy.

The ones we envied the most were the little boys sailing homemade boats in the water from the detention dams on Main street yesterday morning. Dern this making a living, we used to be champagne boat sailer back a few years ago and it still looks like fun.

VISITS AND VISITORS

Mrs. Clyde Angel has returned from Lubbock where she visited her brother, Sammy Tate, before he was inducted into the coast guard. She was accompanied here by another brother, Pfc. George Tate, who is stationed at the Lubbock air base. He will visit here for a few days.

H. W. Coran has been transferred from Phoenix, Ariz., by American Airlines, to Big Spring. Vernon Hurt left Thursday by American Airlines for New York. He plans to return next week.

Allene Brooks has moved to San Angelo where she will be employed with a motor transit company. She was formerly church secretary for the First Methodist church here.

Mrs. Neal Greenfield of Fort Worth will leave Saturday after a week's visit with Mrs. J. L. Pritchard.

The 1943 crop of fruits and vegetables will require a movement in trucks aggregating about 700,000-800 miles from growing areas to market.

Overruled By State, Fisher Draft Board Members Quit

Deferment Of Selectee Is Protested

ROTAN, Sept. 4. (AP)—After placing in a deferred classification all but seven of 42 men who were to have answered on Aug. 28 call for induction, the Fisher county draft board resigned yesterday and charged state selective service headquarters with arbitrarily reclassifying a registrant.

A signed statement issued by the board said that state headquarters had placed a registrant in class 2-A because he was a farm and ranch hand, declaring "the same conclusion could prevail in the cases of 98 per cent of the county's registrants."

County board members were W. W. Morton, Roby; George W. Riley, Rotan and A. B. Hilburn, Roby.

The board voted to place the 42 men subject to the Aug. 28 call in class 2-A after receiving instructions from state headquarters to place the farm and ranch hand in question in 2-A for six months.

The board claimed the man had never appeared before the board to ask deferment.

"His employer," said the board's statement, "who seemingly wields a deal of influence in Austin, brought sufficient influence to bear in our capital to have the classification dictated after the district appeals board in Amarillo had sustained the Fisher county board before in its findings. If the state headquarters sees fit to arbitrarily classify men as they have this man, the Fisher county board should in duty to the citizenry, take immediate steps to obtain the release of a number of men who have been sent to the army."

No comment on the registration of the Fisher county draft board was forthcoming yesterday at Austin from Adjutant-General J. Watt Page, head of the state selective service system.

In a similar controversy, Ed McClannahan, secretary-member of the Bexar county draft board, offered his resignation Wednesday after James Andrews, 38-year-old editor of a San Antonio negro newspaper, was granted a six-month deferment in Washington on appeal from local and state rejection of a deferment application.

Andrews' deferment was sought by the newspaper's publisher, Valmo C. Bellinger, on the ground it would be hard to replace him, McClannahan said.

Mexico Tires Put Under Ban

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 4. (AP)—The National Automobile Association of Mexico warned filling station and tourist camps today it had been informed the United States had prohibited "the importation of Mexican tires and the export of North American tires, whether old, new or retreaded."

It said organizations dealing with tourists should tell them of the ruling in order that their exit into the United States would not be hampered. Previously the United States has allowed tourists to go out of the country with U. S.-made tires and to bring in tires retreaded in Mexico, but it has forbidden them to bring in new tires unless they have been driven at least 1,000 miles.

Mexico will permit tourists to buy new tires if their old ones become unusable in the country, and has not limited retreading work.

Golfers Line Up For Tests In Country Club Tournament

Sports

The Big Spring Daily Herald

Friday, September 4, 1942 Page Five

Trophy Play Marks Start Of Program

Clearing skies and the clash of top golfers of this section Friday put the 12th annual Country club golf tournament off to a good start.

Some of the best golfers in Big Spring were lined up behind Carl Strom, who himself went out with an attack of flu at the last minute, to fend off an attack by "Invaders" led by W. W. Barker, Midland, in the traditional scrap for the Hall & Bennett Trophy.

Barker had picked up a team composed of Lieut. Bill Eby, Frank Stacey, Red Spencer, Fred Turner and H. S. Forgeron, all of Midland, Mac Boring and Bob Farmer, Odessa, Barney Barnard, Lamesa, and Dick Hamblenton, Dallas.

To match these strikers Strom had Eddie Morgan, a former Big Spring man now of Brady, J. R. Farmer, Shirley Robbins, Charlie Watson, M. K. House, Eddie White, Dave Watt, Troy White, Fudge Matlock, Bob Satterwhite, Neil Hilliard, D. A. Watkins and Sam Hedderman. Bill Roden may be added to the list in lieu of Strom before the day is over. Scotch foursomes were coming up during the morning and match play in the afternoon.

Hamblenton, playing with the invaders, will have to be ranked along in the favorite class should he be able to remain for the tournament during the weekend. The 30-year old Dallas youth possesses one of the most powerful drives seen in this section. Twice in the Midland tourney he fired terrific smashes that carried across a dog fur No. 1 hole. Both times his putter was steady for an eagle. That kind of shooting could make him dangerous.

Red Roden, Glen Ross, has been touring the Country Club course again this week to get the feel of things, and as things now stack up, this youngster looks like the man to beat.

Qualifying will start today with most players posting their preliminary scores Saturday. Pairings will be made Saturday evening following the barbecue, free to all contestants and prepared by Sam Stamp. The traditional Calcutta Pool will round out the first day of activities. Match play follows Sunday and Monday with finals set for Monday afternoon.

Newsom Scores Shutout In Debut With Dodgers

Ace Pitchers Meet, One Has To Lose

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 4 (AP)—Pitchers Don Skinner and Harvey Griffin, who used to play football together at Pendleton, met in the finals of the state tournament—each with a no-hit game to his credit in the early rounds.

Skinner, hurling for the Butler team of Portland, repeated in the finals, and Griffin, pitching for Corvallis, almost did.

He yielded one run—a homer by Skinner that won the title 1-0.

Brooks Keep Their Lead At 4 1-2 Games

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Brooklyn Dodgers bought big Buck Newsom from the Washington Senators last Monday for a price now understood to have been $25,000, plus a minor league pitcher, they said they would be satisfied if the veteran won three games for them in the stretch drive for the National league pennant.

On that basis the Showboat's debut for the Dodgers yesterday at Cincinnati was worth $5,533.33 and Newsom, with his rare ability for a grand gesture, provided a performance to meet the value.

He shut out the Cincinnati Reds 2-0 on four scattered hits and struck out eight men in an almost airtight hurling duel with Johnny Vander Meer, who himself fanned eight and allowed only four safeties before being removed for a pinchhitter in the last of the eighth inning.

However, Vandy had one wild spot, and it cost him an unearned run and eventually defeat.

The victory, closing Brooklyn's last western swing, kept the Dodgers 4 1-2 games ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals, who crushed the New York Giants 7-0 behind the four-hit hurling of lefty Howard Pollet.

Philadelphia's night game at Pittsburgh was postponed.

In the American League the speeding Boston Red Sox gained half a game on the Erie New York Yankees by smothering the Detroit

Injury May Keep Big John Out Of Army's Lineup

DENVER, Sept. 4 (AP)—It's no military secret but it is definitely bad news for the western army football all-stars—"Jarring" John Kimbrough may not be able to start in Sunday's game with the Chicago Cardinals.

Whether he is able to play at all depends on how well a severe rib injury mends. Wiping him out of the lineup is like taking Whit Wyatt away from the Brooklyn

Ted Schroeder Faces Strong Competitor

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (AP)—Not at his best because of a sprained tendon in his racket wrist, Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., probably was in some slight danger of meeting defeat in his quarter-final match against Alejandro Russell of the Argentine in the national tennis championship today.

Ted, top seeded, has not been too impressive up to this point. He was carried to four strenuous sets by unseeded James Evert of Chicago in their match three days ago.

Russell is a more finished player than Evert. Some think he is a better man than little Pancho Segura of Ecuador, even though Pancho has stolen most of the thunder.

Their match held most of the day's interest. Neither Lieut. Gardner Mulloy nor George Richards, who were paired in the other men's quarter-final, was considered much of a threat to win the championship, and the two women's matches were not calculated to have the fans standing in line overnight.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, the favorite, figured to beat Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, rather handily, and the other tilt brought together two New York hopefuls, Helen Bernard and Mrs. Helen Pedersen Ribbany.

Frankie Parker still looked like the man to beat. He was a smooth machine as he ran down Seymour Greenberg, the national clay court champion, yesterday, 6-0, 6-0, 6-4.

He looked like he might give Pancho Segura a methodical trimming in their semi-final match tomorrow. Pancho was anything but impressive in his win over Billy Talbert of Cincinnati by 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Rebels Stage A Rebellion, Win A Pair

By The Associated Press

The last-placed Dallas Rebels proved last night they were still in the Texas league by walloping the amazed Houston Buffs all over Rebel field and taking both ends of a double bill, 8-4 and 3-2.

The twin loss knocked the Buffs out of a tie with San Antonio for fourth place and jeopardizes their chance of participating in the Shaugnessy playoffs.

In the only other game of the night the Cats nosed out San Antonio at Fort Worth 4-3 behind the seven-hit pitching of Claud Horton.

The Beaumont at Oklahoma City and Shreveport at Tulsa games were postponed.

Not only did Houston suffer a double reverse, but First Baseman Jake Snyter wrenched his arm so severely in a collision at first base with Rabbit Rippy that he may be out of the lineup for the rest of the season.

Today's schedule (all night games): Houston at Dallas. San Antonio at Fort Worth. Beaumont at Oklahoma City. Shreveport at Tulsa (doubleheader).

Regional Softball Tourney Underway

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4 (AP)—Five more teams in the southwest regional softball tournament here swing into action tonight for the second round. Two losses eliminate a team.

Play in the men's and women's divisions opened last night and will continue through Monday. In the first round, Mengels of Baton Rouge beat Moore Field of Mission, Tex., 1 to 0, and the Deep Rock Oilers of Tulsa, Okla., down Litloff Letts of New Orleans 3 to 0 in the men's division.

The Jack Lassies of New Orleans turned back Enid, Okla., 15 to 0 in the women's division.

Arkansas State champions, the Coast Guard of the Southern Yacht club, New Orleans, and Lindale Park of Houston, Tex., will clash in the men's games tonight. Arkansas playing the Yacht club, the winner meeting Lindale Park. The Regals Maid of New Orleans face the Metzger Maids of Dallas, Tex.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—While hollering is going on what's the matter with Hank Borowy for the "Rookie of the year" prize? ... SIGNAL CORPS
The Dodgers have called upon so many relief pitchers lately that Chuck Dressen and Frenchy Bordagaray have cooked up special signals for them. . . . When Chick indicates a fat man, Hugh Casey comes in; thin man motion means Max Macon; for Ed Head, Dressen scratches his throat; for Kirby Higbe he goes through the motions of eating a steak and for Whit Wyatt he pantomimes a man walking behind a plow.

If you see Mike Getta, coach of the football Dodgers, looking nervously over his shoulder these days, he's probably expecting a guy to turn up with divorce papers. After that Green Bay tussle, Mike wrote his wife that he never wanted to see another Hutson. . . . And he mailed the letter before he remembered that Mrs. Getta's family name is Hutson.

Bible Won't Place Steers Above Fourth

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP)—The University of Texas grid juggernaut that sat on the apex of the national football heap for several weeks in 1941 will be rolling again this fall with 18 returning lettermen backed by a flock of untold sophomores.

Dana X. Bible, husky, bald orange and white mentor, added up his 1942 prospects today and came out with the prediction that the Longhorns will have a "good running attack, plenty of speed, fair passing and lots of determination and enthusiasm."

But he refused to list his team higher than fourth in the South-western conference bracket. Texas A. & M., Rice Institute and T. C. U. in that order—that's the way Bible sees the leading conference teams stacking up for 1942 "based on men returning and the play last season."

Speed! Speed! Speed! chanted the man who piloted the Longhorns to crushing wins over eight schools last year, including an amazing 71 to 7 walloping of a strong Oregon team. "That's our answer this year to inexperience and to weaknesses in some positions."

"We won't have boys who can go all the way as Jack Crain and Pat Layden did last year," Bible commented, "and we won't have passers equal to Layden and Harkins. This year we must rely upon sophomores for our reserve strength—and in 1941 we had experienced boys for our second and third teams."

Graduation lopped 14 Longhorn stalwarts from the roster.

Plugging the backfield slots left by the departure of Crain, Layden, Vernon Martin and Noble Doss, Bible has a flock of lettermen keyed to every task except blocking. Jolted by the loss of senior Back Walter Heap, Bible pointed to perplexing weaknesses at both blocking back and guard.

Harold Collins, 190 pound guard from Breckenridge, probably will be shifted to the blocking assignment filled last year by Vernon Martin.

Ken Matthews, Ralph Park and Max Minor at wingback, Roy McKay, Lewis Mayne and Johnny Petrovich at fullback, and Jackie Field, Walton Roberts and Travis Raven at tailback provide ample material for the running-kicking-passing chores.

Zueli Conoly and Stanley Mauldin will nail down the tackle posts, Jack Freeman and Fritz Lopries the guard slots, Captains Joe Schwartzing and Wallace Scott will flank the line at ends with Aubrey Gill and Jack Sachs alternating at center. This line will average 195 pounds with plenty of junior and sophomore reserves.

The ducks can thank the war for this break.

The Isaac Walton league estimates well over 100,000,000 birds will lam it south the next few months. This would be 30,000,000 more than last season and three times as many as in 1935. Good weather and water conditions for breeding are responsible for the big flocks.

Though figures are unavailable, the league guesses that 500,000 hunters are using Uncle Sam's guns this season to blast at another kind of fowl. Of these probably 80,000 are duck hunters.

Then there are untold thousands who won't have time to leave their defense work.

The smarter ducks—the one that hunters swear went to high school—will log out a route along our coasts. There, wartime regulations prevent civilians from going out in any kind of boat with a streamer.

Ducks Due To Be Numerous This Year

CHICAGO, Sept. 4 (AP)—In northern woodlands the wild ducks are breaking up housekeeping with the healthiest prospect in years of reaching Miami or wherever they're planning to spend the winter.

This fall a greater number of birds will wing over a lesser number of hunters equipped with enough ammunition but not enough time, tires and gasoline.

College Stars On Navy Grid Squad

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 4 (AP)—Three former college stars reported yesterday for workouts with the U. S. Navy preflight school football team here for Lt. Ray (Bear) Wolf welcomed them with: "I certainly am glad to see you on my side of the scrimmage line for once."

The stars opposed Wolf-coached teams when he was at the University of North Carolina. They are Alex Flasecki, Duke end; Harvey Blouin, South Carolina back; and John Sims, Tulane wingback.

WE SUPPOSE WHEN I GO TO THE HEREAFTER THE FIRST PERSON I'LL SEE WILL BE AN AP MAN"

Mohandas K. Gandhi

The first man Mohandas Gandhi asked to see when he was first jailed for revolt several years ago was an AP correspondent.

"The Associated Press," said Gandhi, giving it his farewell message, "has reported the political situation in India as no other news organization."

Months later, when the Indian leader was released amidst greatest secrecy, after midnight and at a lonely railroad station, the first person to greet him was an Associated Press reporter.

"I suppose," said Gandhi, "when I go to the Hereafter, the first person I'll see will be an AP man!"

Now, as Gandhi launches a new revolt, AP men are on top of the news again with fast and accurate reporting for 1400 Associated Press members.

Preston Grover, whose recent interview with Gandhi forecast the present crisis, scored with dramatic first-hand accounts of the effects of Gandhi's civil disobedience. Grover's automobile was stoned as he toured rioting Bombay.

Also in India to cover this great story are such veterans of the AP foreign service as Daniel De Luce and William McGaffin, assisted by other correspondents throughout the vast country.

Our Fighting Men Must Be Equipped

Joseph C. Grew, American ambassador from Tokyo, has made it plain that we are up against the fight of our lives with the Japanese—a crafty, skilful, well-equipped foe who can be stopped only by killing him. It is going to take everything we have to win, he warned. We might as well get rid of the idea, once and for all, that our Asiatic foe is a pushover in any department, or that anything but his total defeat is a possibility.

Right alongside Mr. Grew's grim warning was carried an analysis of the war news, in which a commentator asserted that it can be taken for granted now that the American fighting man is superior to the Japanese, that his leaders are smarter than their Japanese opposites, and that American arms are a match for anything the foe has to offer.

We have not the slightest doubt that the American fighting man is superior to the Jap, man for man—when the American has anything near an even chance. He is superior even when the odds are against him, as has been proved

Washington Daybook— BUS DRIVER'S DAY

By JOHN GROVER (For Jack Stinnett on Vacation)
WASHINGTON — You've been told that the nation's capital is practically popping at the seams with the influx of federal war workers, but it remained for reality to go the stories one better and illustrate in real life fashion just what the overcrowding and inconvenience is doing to people's nerves here.

This is a day in the life of Felix Finzel, a local bus driver. Felix is one of those hardest hit by the crowds here. They take out their bad temper at sardine-packed transportation on the bus jockey. But let him tell the story himself:

"The day started when I saw a man sneak on the bus through the automatic back doors when another passenger got off. I tried to make him pay up, but he pulled out a knife and threatened to cut my throat and got off.

"I made one round trip on my run. On my next out trip, the foot and throat broke. When a break-down happens, we are instructed to put the passengers on the next bus, have that driver take care of the crippled bus, and carry through. Well, it happened that the next bus was one that follows a slightly different route, so I had to double back and forth between both routes. Some folks were late getting home, and they made some cracks. I was getting pretty fed up.

"Later that evening I got caught in a blackout with a packed bus. We're supposed to stop and put the passengers off, but we happened to be in a tough neighborhood and I told them they could stay on the bus if they wanted to. They did, and then a man—who turned out to be a cop—knocked on the door and wanted to know the score.

"I made him identify himself and he ordered all the passengers out and into a drugstore. After the blackout we went on our way.

"Then I got a theater crowd at one stop. They are practically standing on each other's heads. They were crowded so far front I couldn't see out. I told 'em they'd have to move back so I could see. They didn't move, and just began popping off.

"I told them they'd have to move before we could go on, and that I could sit there all night. They said they could, too. So we sat there for 15 minutes blocking traffic.

"Well, I can't say I blame the passengers. They wanted to get home, and so did I. After some more arguing, I decided I was going to get home, anyway. I just decided the bus business could get along without me.

"So I took my change carrier and told the passengers another bus would be along, maybe, and left."

Payoff on the story is that the bus company announced that Finzel was "temporarily suspended." But they don't catch Felix again, not in wartime Washington.

"I am through," Finzel announced.

Her eyes searched his as if for assurance that he spoke only in a joking way. "But—you said..."

"I said 'at the moment,' and didn't you just now tell us that we enjoy our hardships only we don't realize it? I'm going to try to realize that I'm having a glorious time when I run the gamut of the Serpent God and his Priests."

Tyra was silent. At last she stammered out, "Sandy, don't do anything—until you've talked to me again, will you?"

"If you make it soon," Sandy promised.

What did she mean, he wondered? Was she going to tell him, at last, what she had withheld from the beginning?

Plans Endangered

It had been a day of revelations for Tyra. She had run a scale of emotions that kept her jumping like a jitterbug, inwardly. Only a little of her feelings had escaped in flames. She knew many have appeared without sense or reason to the others. But she just had not been capable of holding herself in control, every instant.

When she entered camp, late in the afternoon, she found her father pattering around with odd jobs, and knew that he had come in early to discover what she had learned.

Her first words were meant to reassure him. "It's all right, Dad. They are really archeologists. I've proven that beyond a doubt."

She did not say how relieved and glad she had been and how her spirits, soaring to gaiety when she established her proof, had baffled the others.

Mr. Fleming gave a grunt of satisfaction. "I'm glad you went, chick, for now my mind is at ease about those people. It doesn't matter if they find out what we're doing here. Where did you go? Up to the pyramids?"

Tyra seated herself on the ground by the fire where one of the Yaqus was stirring something in a pot. She hugged her bare knees and looked intently into the low flames. Then she described the trip through the big pyramid and the Chamber of the Serpent God with its fearsome atmosphere of hidden danger.

"They are looking for that lost key to the ancient Maya hieroglyphics, Dad," she went on. "They have information that it is concealed under that particular altar. Sandy actually began digging for it, then—we heard something and..."

"And what, Tyra?" Fleming prompted, when she halted.

"And we ran down a passageway—Dad, we found an Indian village behind the Mayan city!"

"Don't tell me a tall one like that, chick!"

But he had to believe it as the story unfolded from Tyra's lips. "You see, Dad, all the months we've been here those Indians have been spying on us to see that we didn't molest that altar."

Mr. Fleming took a turn around the fire. "Spied on," he muttered. "I suppose they know where we go every day—what we do. And any minute they might..." He swung around to Tyra. "You say they warned that Sandy Morse fellow to leave the altar alone? What did they tell him they'd do with him?"

"They said the priests would destroy anyone who tampered with the urn. And I don't think they'd stop there. You should have seen the way they looked at us! As if

NEW YORK—Whether the sun shines or the rain pours Grace Moore is always doing something. It's a swinging tour of South America, a concert tour at home, the Metropolitan Opera, or the pictures. Miss Moore contrives to be America's busiest star of the concert world, and now she is going to be doubly busy.

She is going to organize a new theatrical company devoted solely to operetta. This is in concert with Mr. Russell Lewis and his associates, and the company, Miss Moore says, will operate at least six months of each season. She wants it understood that the company is not a stop-gap or an innovation for the immediate future. It, she hopes, is here to stay. Note: first production will be "La Belle Helene." The time? January. Miss Moore only recently recorded a presentation in six sides of French songs which is titled "A Grace Moore Program in French," and which is lovely.

Co-starring with Miss Moore in her company will be Wilbur Evans, touted here recently as one of the country's surprise singing stars, his current assignment being the lead in "The New Moon" at Carnegie Hall.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— REEL NAZI VICTIM

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Pretty Nancy Coleman is becoming our town's consistent victim of Nazi vengeance.

Just like an old-time serial queen who knew that each new movie meant a sequence of plotted terrors, Nancy can be fairly sure that any Nazi lying around loose in a movie is going to choke, beat, or chase her before the final reel.

Nancy is the Everett, Wash., girl who began a Broadway career as Gertrude Lawrence's daughter in "Susan and God," got star rating in "Miss Liberty Jones" and thence was taken unto Hollywood.

Except that she suffered nicely in "Kings Row," there was nothing to foreshadow a career of taking Nazi beatings. It just happened that in three of her last four starts she has been patsy to the Nazis. In "Dangerously We Live" her evil assailant was Raymond Massey. In "Desperate Journey"—a knock-down adventure with Errol Flynn—she was tossed around so generously she doesn't remember the chief slapper and choker. And here she is again, in "Edge of Darkness," playing the role of the Polish actress who is prisoner of the Nazis in Norway.

"This time it's Helmut Dantine," she says. "The German flier 'Mrs. Miniver' captured, remember? He's frightened—but he's really very nice. Off-stage, I mean."

Here is where Jack Rosenstein, the unsmiling, suggests hopefully that Miss Coleman must surely have nightmares about Nazis. Jack has figured in these dispatches before as a persistent, eternally hopeful publicist.

"I don't even dream—ever," says Miss Coleman, which temporarily sinks the unsmiling. Temporarily. We are shortly in a brief discussion of the eternal truth that Nazi-harried actresses can have nervous breakdowns without the preliminaries of nightmares or even dreams.

Miss Coleman confides that her movie Nazis hold no terrors for her—they're just a job of acting. She confides also that she is writing a play. It's a mystery play, and she's concerned because so far she hasn't written in a role for Nancy Coleman. She could always enhance the mystery, she agrees readily, if she writes in the role of a girl who periodically races across the stage pursued by a Nazi. She's concerned also because critics might read something into the fact that the play, with a theatre background, starts with the murder of a critic. "I don't mean it that way," she says. "Critics have always been very kind to me."

Another matter of concern, though slight, is the fact that none of the play is on paper yet. She has a collaborator in Frank McCoy, the make-up man. "We just write it every morning in the make-up chair," she says. "If it keeps on building we're going to put it on paper."

Chapter 25 GET AWAY

Sandy managed a grin. "I understand this is a warning, oh Hunac-Ceel." He spoke to the others in a lower tone. "Come on. It's over. Let's get out of here. But don't walk too fast. Don't act as if you are afraid. It might be the spark needed to set off something."

So, like a squad of soldiers, they marched across the clearing, their backs to the group around the hut. Sandy's flesh did not cease twitching, however, until they were on the path and had put some distance between them and the Indians. Even then he cut off the questions with a curt—"We'd better keep going for awhile."

They reached the base of the precipice and started climbing, for Sandy was certain they could reach the top, even if the trail itself ended at the cave entrance. However, the trail did not end there, rather another began just above the cave and went on to the brow of the plateau. While they climbed Sandy was conscious of eyes upon them, in the hidden village below. Maybe other eyes, too, in the bush the clearing, their backs to the group around the hut.

"We can talk now," Sandy said. "But we'll keep walking in case they have watchers stationed around up here, too."

"Did that feathered Indian threaten our lives, Sandy?" Helen asked.

Sandy sketched the interview giving, also, some of his own deductions.

"This tribe would be a gold mine for an ethnologist," Gil said.

"Well," Sandy said. There's no doubt but that Hunac-Ceel and his people have straightened out some of our difficulties. We know why we've felt watched. We know who hacked out the path on the pyramid, and all that. And I think we also know why the Forbidden Land has such an evil reputation."

"Somehow I thought that was solved by the bugs and the impassable gorges and the wild hogs and other natural barriers," Gil said. "Lord, chief, no Indian would go through what we have to reach this place."

What To Do?

"No Indian has our incentive," Sandy added. "The natural barriers contribute to the way the Indians feel about the Forbidden Land. But I have an idea that if one could sift the whole thing to the bottom you'd find that, long ago before Hunac-Ceel or any of these people now living were born, some Indians from outside penetrated to this plateau and met with disaster, enough of them escaping to tell the tale."

"We'll have to think up some way to circumvent the Serpent God and his Priests," Gil stated, after a moment.

Sandy chorled. "When we don't even know who or what the priests are, where or how they might strike, we're going to have a devil of a time circumventing them."

"We are fairly certain they'll strike in the altar room," Gil said. "And we're blamed sure they'll be something that lead bullets will stop."

"You can't tell," Sandy said. "Those Indians might drop a section of the roof or let us through trap door. But we'll figure out something. We have to."

At that Tyra glanced up at him quickly. "You're going back to that room and face whatever danger lurks there? Is this Rosetta-stone as valuable as all that?"

"My dear girl," Sandy said sarcastically. "That Maya key happens—at the moment—to be the most valuable thing in life, to me."

Her eyes searched his as if for assurance that he spoke only in a joking way. "But—you said..."

"I said 'at the moment,' and didn't you just now tell us that we enjoy our hardships only we don't realize it? I'm going to try to realize that I'm having a glorious time when I run the gamut of the Serpent God and his Priests."

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP)—Cutting aid to dependent children almost in half, the state department of public welfare announced that September checks will total $217,682 an average of $10.61.

The office of Capt. M. A. Gleason, personnel officer at the Army Air Force Advanced Flying School, had been contacted for a list of officers who have reported here for duty.

Several, it was reported, had contacted officers individually, inviting them and their wives to be guests at the affair. The chamber, with directors having directed that the event be arranged with officers as guests, was anxious to that none is overlooked.

Tickets for the get-acquainted affair will be sold to Big Spring people as long as they are available. The dinner will be followed later in the evening by a dance, according to committee plans.

Return Of Rented Typewriters Is Mandatory

The local board chairman of the Howard county War Price and Rationing Board called attention Friday to a new OPA ruling which requires that all persons who have rented typewriters manufactured since January 1, 1935, must turn these machines back to the dealers by September 15.

The order applies to new typewriters as well as used non-portable machines. If the machines aren't returned, then dealers are required to notify the state OPA office, specifying the name and address of any borrower who rented a machine, the date of the original delivery and the model, make and serial number of the machine.

Persons eligible to purchase typewriters under existing regulations are not affected by this order, and no dealer may advertise typewriters for sale or delivery except to such authorized persons.

The need of the army and navy for 500,000 machines has not been met and the situation is critical, the board pointed out, as there aren't enough typewriters to go around.

The new order places a three-month maximum rental limit on standard typewriters manufactured prior to January 1, 1935 and on all used portables. Dealers are required to refund a proportionate amount on the unexpired rental term to persons who turn machines in by September 15th.

Practically all stores, service shops and offices, as well as banks and public agencies, will suspend activities for the day. The post-office will operate a general delivery window only, for one hour, from 10 to 11 a. m.

Others Taken For Duty At Air Station

Five more men were accepted at the U.S. Army recruiting post here Friday with recommendation for assignment at the Army Air Force Advanced Flying School of Big Spring.

More than a score have been enlisted this week as specialists for on-the-job training here, Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, recruiter in charge, announced.

Included in the list Friday were Lloyd Davidson, Raymond F. Dunlap and Robert G. Shelton, Big Spring, and two brothers from Colorado City, Earl E. Newland and Melvin G. Newland.

Besides these Sgt. Turner reported the acceptance of Robert D. Pickard, Big Spring, and Joe M. Whitaker, Big Spring, for the army unassigned.

Men with mechanical training who might qualify as mechanics, machinists, welders, radio mechanics, service occupations such as refrigeration, electrical appliances, etc. may still apply for assignment at Big Spring. After interviews, Capt. H. W. Nolan, whose office are upstairs in the city hall building, grants letters of recommendation for on-the-job training to those he feels will qualify. The army can use a great number more of men who can fill this bill.

Ration Books Of Soldiers Must Be Turned In

Only a very small percentage of sugar ration books issued to men who have been called into the armed services have been turned into the local War Price and Ration Board, J. B. Pickle, chairman of the board, said Friday.

He reminded families that these books must be filed with the board and that use of the sugar ration cards by the families after the men had been sent into service is illegal.

Sugar ration books of deceased persons are also required to be turned into the board and cannot be used.

Of the large number of soldiers sent from here, less than 25 percent of the books have been turned in, the chairman stated.

New Tax Plans Under Study

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Urged by Secretary Morgenthau to take "bold action" toward providing non-inflationary war financing, the senate finance committee weighed today a treasury-sponsored "spending" tax plan and proposals for a flat-rate levy on retail sales and services.

With more than a majority expressing opposition to the $6,500,000,000 additional revenue program laid before the group by Morgenthau, some committee members said the effect of the treasury's new proposal had been to force a showdown between it and a sales tax.

Senator Byrd (D-W. Va.) said he believed Morgenthau had left no course open to the committee but to boost substantially the $6,271,000,000 yield in additional taxes provided by the house-approved revenue bill.

"From what the secretary says," Byrd told reporters, "there must be additional money raised beyond that provided in the house bill. As I see it, the sales tax is the only answer. Certainly, we can't impose such a ridiculously involved spending tax as he has suggested. It would be easily possible for a man to pay more tax than his income under such a levy."

To Launch Ships On Labor Day

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4 (AP)—Labor Day will be "launching day" at several shipyards in the eighth naval district, the navy announced Thursday, especially at the Higgins Industries, Inc., works here. A. J. Higgins, president, said his firm would launch five torpedo boats, eight tank lighters and nearly a score of Worskla landing boats. The navy said five boats would be launched at Brownsville, Texas; a mine sweeper at Chickasha, Ala., and a PC boat at Nashville, Tenn.

The Kasch contract was one of several announced on Texas projects. Wartime limitations prohibit further information.

Physician On A Pleasure Trip Due To Lose His Tires

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4 (AP)—Tire rationing officials in Salt Lake City have been notified to intercept a St. Louis physician, who is making a pleasure trip, and confiscate four new rationed tires on his automobile.

Disclosure of the action was made today by Matt Morse, member of the St. Louis rationing board, who said the doctor was given a permit last week for the tires, which were to be used solely in driving to attend his patients.

The name of the physician was withheld by the board.

Nurses Must Enter Service For Duty At Air School

Nurses in the Big Spring area who would like an assignment at the flying school here must be accepted first through regular army enlistment channels. There will be no jobs at the station hospital on a civilian basis.

This was the word Friday from Captain Habel Embury of the Gulf Coast Training Center, San Antonio, who was here to check on nursing needs at the new Big Spring station. She said some nurses had expressed interest in an assignment here, but they would have to serve as army nurses.

She suggested that those interested in an assignment for duty here contact Major R. L. Braswell, commander of the station hospital. All facilities are here for handling initial papers and physical examinations.

Navy Picks Up Three More Enlistments

Still plugging away to meet a whopper quota of 125 for September, the U.S. Navy recruiters for the Big Spring sub-station reported three more enlistments Friday.

Horace Glen Sutton, Odessa, signed for V-5 (aviation cadet) and will not count against the quota; Samuel Elbert Frances, Tarzan, signed for V-4 (fireman 3c); and Harvey Abbott Harris, Big Spring, signed for V-6 (apprentice seaman).

New construction regiment dates are Sept. 6-7 at Dallas, according to A. H. Walker, recruiter. Men with various skilled and mechanical experience may apply through the Big Spring office for ratings. Other construction interview dates at Dallas are Sept. 18-19-20 and Sept. 29-30 and Oct. 1.
