

'Proposition Fever' Forcing More States To Cut

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Tax and spending restrictions approved in this week's elections will not put any more money in most people's pockets, but they will force state and local governments to start trimming budgets almost immediately.

"They're going to have a given pie and now they're going to have to develop priorities within that pie," said Don Pilcher of the National Conference of State Legislatures.

Winnie Austermann, another conference economist, agreed. "I have feeling that probably the most significant trends you're going to see are legislatures grappling with efficiency measures," one said.

Proposals cutting taxes, changing the way they are collected or limiting spending passed Tuesday in 12 states: Alabama, Arizona, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota and Texas.

Idaho's measure was the strongest. The constitutional amendment approved by voters limits property taxes to 1 percent of market value. It was virtually a copy of California's Proposition 13.

Estimates of the loss in revenue to cities, counties and school districts range from $50 million to $125 million, depending on who is doing the predicting. "It looks like Idaho is going to be hit very hard, very quickly," said Pilcher.

California used a $5-billion-plus state surplus to help blunt the impact of Proposition 13. Idaho, where per-capita property tax collections already are about a third below the national average, can't do that. "They are constitutionally prohibited from having a surplus so they don't have any extra money to bail out the local governments," Ms. Austermann explained.

No one is sure when cuts will come. The amendment itself talks about the tax year beginning Oct. 1. That wording was copied from California. But Idaho's tax year begins on Jan. 1 and the Legislature that meets next year will have to amend the measure to make it conform to Idaho practices. It could make the measure effective retroactively to Jan. 1, 1979, or delay it until Jan. 1, 1980.

Public officials already have been looking at budgets with an eye to cutting. Some legislators say they expect state contributions to school financing will have to increase to make up for lost local money, meaning a possible boost in state income or sales taxes.

Savings on individual property tax bills will vary from city to city. The Associated Taxpayers of Idaho estimated earlier this year that the average property tax rate was about 1.7 percent of market value. On a $35,000 home, cutting the rate from 1.7 percent to 1 percent would mean cutting the annual tax bill from $595 to $350.

A constitutional amendment approved in Alabama is designed not to lower tax bills, but to make sure they do not rise sharply. The proposal, which lowers assessment rates for almost all property, was designed to offset the impact of a court-ordered reappraisal. Gov. George C. Wallace said that without the amendment, the tax bill for the owner of a $32,000 home in Huntsville, Ala., would have risen from $142 to $245 a year because of the reappraisal. With the amendment, the bill will rise only $8.

Budget ceilings approved in Arizona, Hawaii, Michigan and Texas will mean new looks at old programs, but cuts depend on current levels of state spending.

In Arizona, for example, a newly approved constitutional amendment - Prop. 101 - prohibits the Legislature from appropriating tax revenues in

Mistrial Declared in Murder Proceedings

Happy Hereford Halftime

It was a happy scene at halftime of the Hereford-Coronado football game Thursday night in Lubbock, at least on the Whiteface side of the field. Hereford had pulled into a 3-3 tie just before halftime, and the Herd came back to post a 13-9 victory over the Mustangs. The Hereford High Band put on another great halftime show for the fans, and the Whitefaces moved their season record to 3-5-1. The Herd has a 1-1-1 won-lost-tied mark in District 4-4A action. The season ends here next Friday when Lubbock Monterey comes to town.

Judge Wesley Gulley declared a mistrial in the Richard Williams murder trial Thursday afternoon after two jurors became separated from the rest of the jury without the judge's permission—a violation of the state statute governing court proceedings.

The mistrial nullifies the guilty verdict which had been rendered by the jury at 11:50 a.m. Thursday.

The statute does not permit the division of a jury between the trial and punishment stages without the court's consent. A woman juror became ill as the panel was walking to lunch out of the county courthouse, collapsed, and was assisted by a male juror and a sheriff's deputy.

The male juror and the deputy took the woman to the Deaf Smith General Hospital emergency room where she was treated, and the three persons returned to the courthouse.

Defense attorney Travis Shelton and prosecutor Roland Saul asked Judge Gulley to declare a mistrial in front of the full jury.

"It was an emergency situation," Shelton told the court. "The bailiff and juror acted in good faith, but the law says

Sales Tax Increase Possibility Studied

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The possibility of doubling Texas' state sales tax to a national high of 8 percent was raised before a Senate committee Thursday.

Executive director Michael Moeller of the statewide Texans for Equitable Taxation said, however, Texans would not accept a sales tax higher than 6 percent.

The committee was instructed to report to the 1979 Legislature on Texas' tax system. Emphasis has been given to a proposed 5 percent refinery tax as a possible alternative to the $2 billion now being collected each year in property taxes.

The oil and gas industry presented a solid front against the refinery tax Thursday, with Executive Vice President William Abington of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association stating:

"Passage of a refinery tax would be a step backwards in the future development of Texas. That's our basic position."

The tax would be based on the market value of the crude oil at the refinery. Abington said two-thirds of the business taxes collected by state government comes from the oil and gas industry, which supplies "fully a third of all state funds disbursed for public education."

In fiscal 1978, he said, "for the first time, state tax collections from our industry passed the $1 billion mark."

Fred Dennstedt of Houston, vice president of Exxon Co., U.S.A., said the apparently hostile refinery tax could result in the shifting of refineries from Texas to other states.

Questioned by Sen. Peyton McKnight, D-Tyler, an independent oil man, Dennstedt agreed that because of the high cost of moving a plant "in the short range, nothing would change."

Over the years, however, "there would be real question marks about where an investment went," said Dennstedt.

William Smith of Fort Worth, president of Champlin Petroleum Co., said the 5 percent tax would have killed Champlin's $630 million joint venture petrochemical complex now under construction at Corpus Christi.

Moeller said just over 200 replies in a random survey of 1,000 members of his tax group showed 92.3 percent considered the state sales tax as the "fairest tax" when compared to the federal income tax, local property taxes and other taxes.

He said when the members were asked what would be the "fairest" way to raise money for public schools—in addition to property taxes—79 percent favored a sales tax increase but 13.9 percent favored new or increased taxes on natural resources.

His organization, he said, supports sales tax revenue and a refinery tax to "offset school tax increases."

A committee staffer noted that it would take an 8 percent sales tax—the highest in the nation is 7½ percent—to replace the $2 billion in property tax revenue.

"Most people would pay up to 2 percent over what it (the sales tax) is now," said Moeller.

Feds Claim Corn Surplus Large

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farmers are winding up a record corn harvest of 6.89 billion bushels that could mean the biggest surplus since 1964 by this time next year.

Further, although it may help dampen 1979 food price increases, the huge harvest will put further pressure on the Carter administration to curb output next year.

Corn is the main livestock feed grain used to produce meat, poultry and milk for American consumers.

The Agriculture Department said Thursday that based on Nov. 1 surveys the corn harvest will be 1 percent larger than the 6.82 billion bushels forecast a month ago and 8 percent more than the 1977 crop of 6.37 billion bushels, the previous high.

President Carter said earlier in the day in Kansas City that "it would be highly unlikely" the administration will cancel acreage set-aside plans in the near future to curb crop production.

A set-aside program for corn and other feed grains was to have been announced last month, ahead of the Nov. 15 deadline set by law, but has not been disclosed.

By Nov. 1, farmers had harvested about 75 percent of this year's corn acreage, well ahead of the pace a year ago, the report said.

Soybean production, also important as a source of high-protein meal for livestock feed and vegetable oil, was estimated at a record of 1.81 billion bushels, up 3 percent from the previous record of 1.76 billion bushels last year. The October forecast was about 1.79 billion bushels.

Food prices this year are expected to average 10 percent more than in 1977, the greatest food-price inflation since 1974, when prices rose 14.5 percent for the second straight year. They rose 6.3 percent in 1977.

Department economists have said that food prices will climb in 1979, probably by at least 6 percent but possibly by as much as 11 percent if farmers get bad weather.

The board said the sorghum crop - another major feedgrain - is estimated to be 704 million bushels, down 11 percent from last year. Sorghum was estimated at 698.9 million bushels last month.

This year's record crop is due to generally good weather in the main corn areas which helped send average yields to a record of 101.2 bushels an acre, compared to 91 in 1977 and the previous high of 97 bushel an acre in 1972.

Cotton production was indicated at 11 million bales, down 24 percent from last year's crop of 14.4 million bales.

Carter Urges Immediate Treaty Acceptance

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter, trying to overcome a snag in the Mideast peace talks, says Egypt and Israel should put aside differences over how to link peace between them to future negotiations on a more-detailed settlement.

The issue is one of the few remaining obstacles to completion of a treaty.

Carter, in a Kansas City news conference Thursday, called on the two sides to end their haggling and accept the treaty preamble, which commits them to comprehensive negotiations following the treaty talks.

The president, who said the preamble language was "adequate," seemed to be coming down on the side of Egypt, although he said, "We're not trying to impose our will."

Conference sources said the negotiations were continuing but that no sessions were scheduled in advance for today.

Meanwhile, speaking separately on opposite sides of the world, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin said negotiations could take weeks longer, and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said "I shall not be astonished" if the talks break down completely.

Begin, speaking at a state dinner in Toronto Thursday night, said he remains confident agreement can be reached, although he said it may not come quickly.

Sadat wasn't that optimistic, telling reporters today in Al Qantara, Egypt, near the Suez Canal, "After the latest Israeli attitude, one can never say anything."

He added he would reserve further comment until "we see what develops in the very near future."

Carter said there was "never any doubt" that the Camp David agreement looked toward reaching "a comprehensive peace settlement that includes not just an isolated treaty between Israel and Egypt but a continuation of a solution for the West Bank and Gaza Strip and ultimately for the Golan Heights as well."

Israeli negotiators, in a meeting Wednesday with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance, proposed that the provision linking the two sets of negotiations be removed, or at least softened.

Egyptian negotiators, meanwhile, called on Vance after Carter's news conference. According to Egyptian sources, they told him they agreed with Carter that the language was acceptable, but that they prefer it to be strengthened.

Sadat is insisting on a strong link to negotiations over the West Bank and Gaza because it would show he is protecting the 1.1 million Palestinian Arabs who live in the Israeli-occupied territories.

Sadat also is sensitive to any impression that he has abandoned the other Arab countries in coming to terms with Israel.

For Israel, the matter represents a political issue within the Begin government as hardliners oppose a strong link to West Bank negotiations.

And Israel, while it has promised full autonomy for the Palestinians, wants to keep negotiations over the issue separate.

At his news conference, Carter indicated a growing frustration at the lack of an Egyptian-Israeli agreement.

"We have reached on more than one occasion so far agreement on the text between the negotiators," he said. "But when they referred the text back to the leaders in Egypt and Israel, sometimes the work that has been done is partially undone."

Police Report

Brian Dudley Hebert, 17, of Port Arthur and two 15-year-old male companions were arrested following a high-speed chase between Happy and Tula while headed in the direction of Lubbock and charged with auto theft.

The three youths allegedly stole a 1978 Lincoln Town Coupe Thursday morning from J.W. Robinson while the car was parked at a local grocery store.

Harold K. Finch, 300 Cherokee, reported today that someone jacked up his car while it was parked at the high school fieldhouse and removed all four tires.

Someone used a pellet or BB gun to shoot windows Wednesday night or early Thursday morning at Bowling's Bowl, 419 Ave. J, Lithographics at 621 N. Main and Stagner-Orsborn Buick-Pontiac, at 142 Miles.

2 Youths Arrested

For Fire

NEW YORK (AP) - Two 14-year-old boys were arrested early today and charged with murder, burglary and arson in connection with a South Bronx house fire that killed six people, including four children.

Police said the youths, whose names were not immediately released, were charged with second-degree murder, first-degree burglary and arson and will be treated as adults.

They were to be arraigned later in Bronx Criminal Court.

The fatal fire occurred Wednesday in a two-story frame house where 13 people were sleeping. Immediately after the fire, officials at the scene said they believed the cause to be accidental but would not rule out arson because of the number of deaths.

The smoky blaze spread quickly up the stairs, trapping most of the occupants. Two ran out the front and firefighters rescued five others, but six panicked and ran into a back room where they died of smoke inhalation, fire officials said. Firemen were at the scene within minutes of the first call at 4:30 a.m. and had the fire under control in five minutes. They said that if the victims had stayed at the front of the house, all could have been rescued.

Strikes Promised Against Iran Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Opposition leader Karim Sanjaby declared today that crippling strikes will continue against Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and ruled out any possibility of a deal with the shah or his military government to end Iran's political upheaval.

"We're not prepared to form a provisional government and we're not going to participate in any coalition until our demands are met," he told reporters at Tehran Airport after returning from two weeks of talks with exiled Moslem holy leader Ayatollah Khomeini in Paris.

Sanjaby declined to disclose what he discussed with Khomeini, but said the Moslem leader's militant stand against the shah and his 37 years of absolute rule in Iran "has not changed."

Sanjaby, head of the National Front opposition coalition, said he now plans to discuss new moves with other opposition leaders in Tehran and that "we will announce any changes in strategy later." He did not elaborate.

Sanjaby, who has proposed a national referendum to decide if Iran's monarchy should continue, stressed in a statement before leaving the French capital that the shah already "recognizes the revolutionary character" of the opposition drive.

Generator Sabotage Delays Construction

GRAND COULEE, Wash. (AP) - Some $500,000 in damage to three giant electrical generators has indefinitely delayed completion of the Grand Coulee Dam hydroelectric project, planned as the largest power plant of its type in the world.

The FBI has joined Okanogan County authorities in investigating the damage, which plant officials say could only have been done by someone who was familiar with the huge electric plant.

Robert Mueller, superintendent of the area housing the damaged generators, said the gouging of the coil bars in the generators could have been done with a small crowbar or chisel. "He has access," said Mueller. "It has to be an inside job."

Okanogan County Sheriff Jerry Beck said police have no suspects.

An FBI spokesman said the crime involved would likely be destruction of government property because one of the 700,000-kilowatt turbine generators had been completed and turned over to the federal government. The generator had been shut down for maintenance when the damage was done, officials said.

The other two damaged generators were still under construction.

Carter Tells FFA About His Problems

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - President Carter has found the old saying true: It is hard and lonely at the top.

Ridicule and scorn are the risk of failure, and continued criticism is the reward for progress. Hard work and tenacity are the keys.

Leadership would be easier if the nation were in crisis, or if he could satisfy himself with half-baked decisions.

For the first time since his political popularity was reborn in the Camp David summit, Carter spoke publicly at length Thursday about his thoughts on himself and the presidency.

For 27 minutes he delivered his soliloquy to a rapt audience of several thousand rural youths, delegates to the national convention of Future Farmers of America.

It was a sort of homecoming. As a boy, Carter was secretary of the FFA chapter in Plains, Ga., when the organization was but seven years old. Now he was congratulating the national group in its 50th year.

"The first thing I joined in my life was the Baptist Church," he recalled. "The second thing I joined in my life was the FFA."

FTC Files Against Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ford Motor Company manufactured up to 1.8 million cars from 1974 to 1978 with a costly engine defect, then kept the problem from consumers even after learning of it, the Federal Trade Commissions staff charges.

The allegation is in a document filed without public announcement this week in a case the FTC previously launched against Ford.

The staff charge that improper lubrication of the camshaft can cause premature wear to it and to the rocker arm assembly makes no allegation that the potential problem is a safety defect.

However, it said the estimated cost of repairs, if paid for by the car owner, would be $226.

The staff said the premature wear, which could lead to more serious engine problems, occurs in many of the 1.8 million Ford Motor Co. vehicles with four-cylinder 2.3-liter engines manufactured in the five model years. This is one of Ford's most popular engines, used in such cars as the Pinto, Mustang, Capri and Bobcat.

"Vehicles have been failing as early as the first 163 miles of service" because of the camshaft-rocker arm problem, said the document, filed by lawyers for the FTC's consumer protection bureau. "The defect substantially affects the durability, reliability or performance of affected vehicles," it said.

The document urges the five-member commission to authorize a federal suit to seek an immediate injunction forcing the company to notify owners of cars that may have the alleged defect.

George Trainor, spokesman for Ford's parts and service division, said in a telephone interview. "Our position is that the whole subject of what we refer to as the company's 'good will program' is now a matter of litigation with the FTC and it would be inappropriate for us to discuss any facet at the moment."

The FTC staff alleged that Ford knew of the problem at least by 1976. It does not say what, if anything, Ford did to correct the problem after it learned of it or how many engines were manufactured after the problem became known to the company.

After realizing the problem, the company did tell Ford dealers to repair affected cars at no charge, but many dealers still did not perform the work because they spent more in doing the repairs than they could recover from the manufacturer, the staff said.

Normally, a new-car warranty exceeds for 12,000 miles or 12 months, but the manufacturer told dealers to do repairs on cars with the problem up to 36,000 miles or 36 months, the staff said.

The staff said the dealers were not told to inform customers of the defect, only to repair the problem free of charge.

"The program is currently disclosed only to Ford dealers, who may have little incentive to pass such information to consumers," the staff said.

The staff said it plans to produce affidavits from customers showing they are unaware of the repair program even after going to Ford dealers for camshaft service.

Punishment Given Houston Cops Illegal, Justice Dept. Maintains

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - first time the issue had been raised.

Department of Justice attorneys, who want stiffer penalties imposed against three Houston policemen given probation sentences for pushing a Mexican-American into a bayou where he drowned, told a federal appeals court Wednesday the punishment was illegal.

They asked the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to order a Houston federal judge to impose a new sentence on the former officers who drew 10 year probation sentences for beating Jose Campos Torres Jr. and pushing him into Buffalo Bayou.

In a unique plea, the department challenged the sentences as illegal. It was the guilty of conspiring to deprive Torres of his constitutional right not be stripped of liberty without due process of law. The prosecution said this deprivation took place on May 6, 1977, when Torres was arrested, beaten up while handcuffed, then shoved into the bayou.

Maximum punishment on that count would be life in prison. Judge Sterling imposed a 10-year sentence on each man, then suspended sentence and instead ordered supervised probation for five years.

The second count said the officers, acting under color of law, struck Torres, depriving him of due process of law. On that, the sentence was one year in prison.

Huerta said the U.S. Criminal

Code requires a prison sentence on an offense punishable by life in prison. Therefore, he said, Judge Sterling had no authority to substitute probation for the 10-year sentences.

Michael A. Andrews, a defense lawyer, argued that the law should not be followed to the letter and that the "government is taking a very narrow view" of what Congress intended when it passed the law.

Another defense lawyer, Robert C. Bennett Jr. of Houston, said if Congress intended to ban probation in such offenses it would have said so.

The men have appealed their convictions to the 5th circuit but Bennett said that was done for strategic purpose only - a reaction to the government challenge of the sentence.

"You mean that if you prevail here, the appeal will be dismissed?" Ainsworth asked.

"That is likely," Bennett replied.

There was no indication when a ruling will be issued.

Rockwell Mirrored Americana

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) - Artist Norman Rockwell, whose freckled-faced boys, pigtailed girls, kindly doctors and small town scenes mirrored Americana on Saturday Evening Post covers and Boy Scout calendars in a career spanning six decades, is dead at age 84.

For years, the pale, lean-limbed, pipe-smoking illustrator worked seven days a week - with a half-day off for Christmas - to produce a canvas image of the nation he loved. But he once described himself as "a hack illustrator."

He should be remembered, his wife, Molly, said after his death late Wednesday at his Stockbridge home as "an artist and illustrator ... well-known artist and illustrator."

She said her husband's death was not unexpected, and that he "had been ill a long time." She said, "He didn't die of anything except being 84 years old."

A painting of the Rev. John Sargeant talking to an Indian chief in Sturbridge, Mass., stood unfinished on an easel in a red barn studio behind the white New England-style home. The painting was set in the year 1700 when the missionary Sargeant was trying to convert Indians to Christianity.

Mrs. Rockwell, a slight, white-haired woman with blue eyes, said the painting was about three-quarters completed and that her husband had planned to make changes but had not worked on it for a year. She said the painting would be turned over to the Rockwell museum here.

Mrs. Rockwell said funeral services would be at 2 p.m. Saturday in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in this western Massachusetts community. She said there would be no visitors' hours.

Border Slaying Probed

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) - A federal grand jury Thursday investigated the slaying last April of a border patrolman near the Mexican border, but an assistant U.S. attorney said the panel "is just looking into the case" at this time.

Jose Paz Gomez Jr., 31, was strangled with a board held across his throat while he and his partner, Frank Lugo, were looking for illegal aliens along the border.

Lugo said he and Gomez became separated, and that later he couldn't find Gomez. An FBI report concluded the border patrolman was not killed by aliens.

Gomez' body was found April 21 in an irrigation ditch near Quemado, a border town north of Eagle Pass. His .357 magnum service revolver was missing and was found nearby three days later. One shot had been fired.

The Abundant Life

SATISFIED MIND

BY BOB WEAR

IT IS UNFORTUNATE that there is so much dissatisfaction where there should be and can be justified satisfaction. A "satisfied mind" does not imply a lazy mind, or an indifferent mind, but it is the condition of mind produced by the realization that this day has been a time of doing our best.

This does not mean that we have accomplished everything we wanted to accomplish, and it does not mean that it has been a day free of mistakes. It is, however, a day we have used well; we have tried, we have done what we could to correct the mistakes we made, and we plan to do better tomorrow. We are not upset, or anxious, or bitter, or in a state of mental and emotional turmoil.

THERE MUST BE SOME incompleteness about each day of living, but this is just part of the reality of life. If we permit this incompleteness to cause dissatisfaction, we will never know the joy, the strength, and the peace of a "satisfied mind". There will be days when it is impossible to do everything we want to do, or should do; when we will not be able to complete what we begin; when we will experience big disappointments; but, if we have made an honest effort; we are very foolish to reject the reward of a "satisfied mind".

OUR SENSE OF VALUES is going to be the governing factor. The real satisfaction in which we will find the "satisfied mind", with all of its blessings, does not depend upon what we have, but upon what we are.

WE CAN THINK STRAIGHT, maintain our personal integrity, be very thankful for our blessings, be charitable in our association with others, continue to do our best; and be happy with a "satisfied mind".

that jurors cannot separate." Judge Gulley told the jury: "Nobody's blaming anybody for anything. It was just one of those unfortunate things."

A guilty verdict against Williams was reached by the jury after five hours of deliberation--two on Wednesday and three Thursday morning.

Dozens of character witnesses were scattered throughout the courthouse after lunch Thursday waiting to be called for the punishment stage of the trial. Both the prosecution and defense had called witnesses to testify in the afternoon proceedings.

excess of 7 percent of total personal income as determined by a three-member Economic Estimates Commission. Estimates of current spending range from 5 percent to 9 percent of personal income, but no one will know for sure until the commission issues its reports.

Sherman Hazeltine, president emeritus of the First National Bank of Arizona and chairman of the Prop. 101 Committee, said the spending limit "should create a new professional atmosphere for all those involved in preparing government budgets... And for the first time, there will be some real discipline in setting priorities."

Like Prop. 101, the Headlee amendment approved in Michigan links spending to personal income. It takes effect Dec. 22 and Budget Director Gerald Miller said it could mean some cuts in the budget that will be unveiled in January. "We are always looking for ways to reduce the budget without having an impact on services," Miller said. "There may not be any type of cutbacks in services, but we may be cutting back in some areas."

The state of Tennessee has had a spending lid since March, but, so far at least, no cutbacks have been needed. A study prepared by the Tennessee Department of Revenue showed, in fact, that state budgets in only two of the past eight years would have been occasions, including once when a juror's daughter became sick, another time when a juror's mother underwent emergency surgery in Amarillo, and several times when attorneys for both sides met with Judge Gulley behind closed doors to tackle legal points and defense motions.

Williams was on trial for the murder of Larry Glover, who died Oct. 12, 1977, following a beating at his Milo Center residence.

Schmidt Acknowledges 'Guilt Heritage' On Anniversary of Jewish Holocaust

COLOGNE, West Germany (AP) - Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, wearing a black skullcap, acknowledged a German "heritage of the guilty" on the 40th anniversary Thursday of the start of the Jewish Holocaust. As the chancellor spoke, police said anti-Semitic slogans were smeared on walls in two northern German towns.

"The Fuehrer lives!" said signs pasted by unknown persons on several houses in Flensburg. "Jews out." "The lie of the gas chambers," and "A dead Jew is a good Jew" read slogans sprayed on homes in Bredstedt, where traffic signs also were smeared with swastikas.

Schmidt promised to listen to Jewish views in the debate over expatriation of West Germany's statute of limitations for Nazi murders.

The deadline on initiating murder charges for war crimes expires Dec. 31, 1979, and that date is now the focus of a controversy over whether to lift the statute to permit trials to continue indefinitely.

"We politicians and lawmakers will listen to what our Jewish citizens, our friends in Israel and what our neighbors in Europe will say," Schmidt said in a speech at Cologne synagogue honoring victims of the November 9, 1938 program against German Jews.

"Each of us prays that his conscience will react correctly in this question," the chancellor said. The speech was nationally televised from the rebuilt synagogue burned by the Nazis 40 years ago.

"This difficult question demands a decision in which important moral principles come into conflict with each other," Schmidt said, referring to those who believe Germany already has paid the price for the Nazi past and that further trials are useless.

The ceremony marked the anniversary of the burning of synagogues, looting of Jewish shops and arrests of thousands of Jews in a Nazi storm trooper rampage known as "Kristallnacht," or crystal night, because of the glass from shop windows littering city streets.

Ninety-one Jews were killed in the attacks which foreshadowed the extermination of six million European Jews in Nazi death camps during World War II.

In Jerusalem, Israel commemorated the beginning of Nazi persecution by renewing its campaign to persuade West Germany to lift the statute of limitations. An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said Israel is holding "ongoing discussions" on diplomatic and parliamentary levels with the West German government to eliminate the deadline.

"It's not a question of revenge against this or that Nazi," said Yitzhak Arad, director of the Yad Vashem

Holocaust memorial in Jerusalem. "It's a question of justice."

Women's Fitness Attendant Added to Local YMCA Staff

Kathy Lippincott, a native of New York, has joined the staff of Hereford & Vicinity YMCA as Women's Health Club attendant. Miss Lippincott will be directing women's fitness programs at the "Y" as well as assisting with youth activities.

Arriving in Texas four years ago, Miss Lippincott was employed by the YMCA in Amarillo for 1 1/2 years. She was working there as an aquatic instructor and would be interested in leading a swimming program at the local "Y" when facilities are made available. Miss Lippincott is certified as a lifesaving instructor by YMCA.

The 21-year-old woman has also had experience coaching boys baseball teams in the Amarillo YMCA program.

Miss Lippincott will be on duty at the "Y" fitness center in Sugarland Mall to assist women with physical exercises, machine usage and workouts. She will be available from 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday and from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. Saturday. The fitness center is provided with whirlpool, sauna, steam room, and numerous exercising devices.

The YMCA youth program will also involve Miss Lippincott. Among the youth activities to be offered this fall by the "Y" are girls and boys basketball, bowling, floor hockey and gymnastics. Afterschool adventure programs are offered on a regular basis.

Miss Lippincott has tentative plans of staging Children's Art Show Saturday, Nov. 18, to coincide with the YMCA Open House. Also, she will be directing a Thanksgiving party on the morning of Friday, Nov. 24 and Saturday, Nov. 25. Beginning at 10 a.m. each day, the party will feature a full-length movie each day. The matinee features will be "The Lone Ranger and the Lost City of Gold" and "Godzilla versus the Bionic Monster."

"In order to give Mom a rest during the holidays," the YMCA will also host a Christmas camp featuring the following films: "Davy Crockett and the River Pirates," "The Littlest Angel," "Road to Bali," "Santa's Workshop" and "Doc Savage, the Man of Bronze."

The staff at the local "Y" includes Rick Wood, general director; Weldon Knabe, program director; and secretaries Yvonne Drerup and SueLee Dyke.

Citizens can join the YMCA, which is a non-profit organization, through the following membership plans:

Youth Membership - Entitles a youth to participate in all game room privileges and reduced price in all youth activities, $12 a year.

Ann Landers No Worries Here

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I never thought I'd be nutty enough to write to you but here I am. I guess sooner or later you get everybody.

It was the letter from the wife who drank coffee and walked the floor until two o'clock in the morning wondering why in the world her husband didn't call. She was worried sick that maybe he was in a ditch, a hospital, or a morgue.

My mother, bless her heart, went through that agony for 58 years. She was married to a man who was not a provider, a decent husband or father. His major interests were hunting, fishing, gambling, running around with "the boys" and yes "the girls."

I was married twice and I made up my mind from the start, if they don't come home, I don't give a continental care WHERE they are. They can go to China if they want to - and stay there. If they want another woman, that's all right with me, too, but they can park their shoes under her bed permanently. I don't want 'em back.

I'll never live to see the day when some miserable, inconsiderate man can drive me up the wall worrying about where he is.

If he doesn't want to come home, he doesn't deserve to have a home to come to. Don't print my name - my viewpoint is enough. Just sign me - Free and Happy

DEAR HAPPY: Your viewpoint is MORE than enough. I like your attitude. You sound like a lady who will never have ulcers. You may GIVE a few, but that's another subject.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has a small business that requires him to travel around the state a good deal. Charlie was a pilot during the Vietnam war and enjoys flying. He bought a small plane three years ago and now he makes almost all his business trips by air.

I fly with Charlie quite often and never gave it a second thought until last week when one of the engines konked out. We landed safely on the one engine, but it hit me for the first time that if we should both die in an accident, our son, age eight, would be pretty much alone in the world.

Is there a law that says an orphaned child must be raised by a relative? Neither of my parents is alive. Charlie's mother is too ill to take the responsibility of raising a youngster.

My sister has done a poor job with her own children and Charlie's brothers are childless. (They hate kids.) We didn't name godparents when our son was born. Is it too late to do so now? Is that the answer? Please advise. - El Paso Wings

DEAR WINGS: Godparents have no legal obligations. Decide with your husband who among your friends would be the most suitable choice to raise your son should something happen to you both. Then ask them if they would accept the responsibility. (It may be reciprocal - if they have children, you'd take theirs.) Be sure to make a will and state your wishes. In the absence of a will, the child would probably be placed in the home of relatives.

CONFIDENTIAL To Need the Larger Amount but Will Settle for Less: After considering all the facts, my advice is settle for less - temporarily. Remember - pigs get fat. Hogs get slaughtered.

Paul Gross and Sue Farris, District Agents for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said Carla West and Gary Jones will be among 37 youths to receive the GOLD STAR honor.

A boy and a girl from each of the 20 counties in District 1 are eligible to receive this highest county award each year. It recognizes outstanding achievement, leadership, and contribution to the county 4-H program.

The event is sponsored annually by Deaf Smith, North Plains, Rita Blanca and Swisher Electric Cooperatives.

Becky King, Dallam County

Judge will be the banquet speaker. The theme is "The Future Is Ours."

Special guests will be parents, adult leaders, Extension service officials, county commissioners and judges, representatives of the cooperatives and other friends of 4-H.

To qualify for the Gold Star Award, a 4-H'er must be at least 13 years old, have completed at least 3 years of club work, and be currently active in 4-H. The award is to stimulate winners toward higher achievements and to encourage other young people to participate in the county 4-H program.

Mothers to Stage Annual Bake Sale

The Hereford Aggie Mothers Club will conduct their one-time money raising event - a bake sale tomorrow at Sugarland Mall, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The Aggie Moms concentrate their efforts on this annual event as their success determines the size of the scholarship they will present next spring to an aspiring Texas A&M University student.

This year, for the first time, the Moms awarded two scholarships, one to Charles Berryman and the other to Lou Ann Kindsfather, both now freshman Aggies.

Home baked breads, cakes, pies and other pastries, along with home-canned goods will be available for those who want to treat their sweet tooth while they also share in helping a local student finance his or her college education.

Early each spring, a committee from the Aggie Moms Club interviews those high school seniors who have applied to and been accepted to enter TAM for the fall semester. Each year the committee finds the final selection a difficult job as each student is deserving.

Mrs. Walter Hardin, club president, appointed Mrs. Richard Clark and Mrs. Fred Alston to assist Mrs. Beryl Fish with the telephone committee work.

Mrs. Danny Martin, whose daughter Kim is a freshman at Texas A&M University, was welcomed as a new Aggie Mom by the other members attending: Mmes. Hilrey Aven, Thurman Atchley, Billy Brown of Adrian, J.J. Durham, Bud Eades, Eugene Hendon, Bob Hicks, Grady Skaggs of Adrian, William Lyles, Werner Koelzer, Hardin, Klett, Clark, and Alston.

Mrs. Grady Chosen As AA Sweetheart

Vida Grady was selected as Alpha Alpha Preceptor Chapter's Sweetheart for 1978-79 during a meeting Tuesday night at Hereford State Bank. She will represent the Beta Sigma Phi preceptor chapter during the annual Valentine Ball in February.

In other business, members made plans for the chapter's Christmas party, which will be a covered dish social Dec. 5.

Two guest speakers, Martha Loyal and Johnney Battey from Creative Wedding Service, presented a program on making candy.

Other guests present included Bill Patton, Lou Ann Stark and Mary Brinkman. Sharon Cramer served refreshments.

Also present were Mary Jean Gore, Margaret Godwin, Katy Kendall, Mary Anna Laing and Geneva Summers.

Over Coronado

Mercer, Bell Spark Herd To 13-9 Win

By BOB NIGH
Of The Brand Staff
 LUBBOCK - A 48-yard punt return by Robert Lee Graves set up a second Jackie Mercer field goal early in the final period, and a Joe Mitchem interception set up a nine-yard Paul Bell TD late in the game to propel the Hereford Whitefaces to their initial District 4-4A football victory here last night, a tense 13-9 win over the Coronado Mustangs.

A sparse crowd watched the two teams struggle offensively in the first half with the squads committing a total of four miscues, and lofting a combined nine punts as the defensive platoons dominated play.

The Whitefaces almost gave the game away early in the contest, losing the ball to the Mustangs on their first three possessions of the contest. Two fumbles and an interception set the Ponies up with good field position throughout the opening stanza, but the Herd defense withstood the challenge to allow the eventual losers but three points on the board.

 A 35-yard Richard Davis field goal gave Coronado a 3-0 bulge with 2:53 remaining in the initial quarter. The score was set up by an interception of a Jackie Mercer pass by CHS' Eric Santos, who returned the ball to the HHS four before Mercer jostled him out of bounds.

A holding call against the Ponies moved the ball back, and they eventually had to settle for the three-pointer.

Hereford evened the count with just two seconds remaining in the half as Mercer booted a 20-yarder of his own. Bell, who wound up as the game's leading rusher with 110 markers, set up the score on a 64-yard sprint around left end. Only a superb effort by Coronado's Steve Cox held the 1977 District 4-4A 100-yard dash champ out of the end zone dragging him down at the CHS 16.

Mercer aided the drive with a sling shot spiral to Graves at the Mustang one two plays later, but a bootleg lost three markers and Bell could recover but one of those as time was running out, setting up the Herd field goal.

The Whitefaces held a slim 86-63 advantage in total yards gained in the first half, mainly on the basis of the Bell sprint for 64. The Herd also held a dubious lead in turnovers with two fumbles lost and the one interception. Pick-offs by Barry Morgan and Edward Dominguez almost evened the ledger for the 'Faces, however.

The second 24 minutes of play began much as the first half had with the defense again dominating play. A Keith Adams interception for HHS was overturned by an interference call at the CHS 37 mid-way through the third stanza, but the Ponies ran out of gas four plays later as Adams made good his second snag at the Hereford 25, returning the ball to the Herd 33.

Santos turned back that HHS threat on the next play with his second interception of the night at the CHS 41. Two running plays netted the Ponies five yards, and Keith Finch sacked the CHS signal caller for a 10-yard loss, forcing a punt.

Graves turned the game around with his 48-yard return of the Russell Murrell kick, setting the 'Faces up at the Pony 22. Disdaining the pass, the Whitefaces stuck to the ground game, and had a fourth and two at the three when Mercer booted his second field goal, another 20-yarder with 11:19 left to play.

Mitchem insured the HHS win some 10 minutes later with a fourth Herd interception at the CHS 24. Mitchem returned the pigskin to the Mustang 17 where a dead ball personal foul by a Mustang moved it to the nine. Bell scored on the next play around right end to give the Whitefaces a 12-3 bulge, and a Randy Harris PAT boosted the lead to 10 points with just 36 ticks left on the clock.

The game still wasn't over, however, as the penalty bug hit the 'Faces at that point. After returning the kickoff to their 42, Coronado saw the ball moved to the HHS 13 with three consecutive penalties against the Herd, including a 31-yarder for pass interference.

Alan Harp connected with Murrell for the TD from there to make it 13-9, and a pass for two points from Harp to Troy Barron was long in the end zone.

The win upped Hereford's season mark to 3-5-1, while the Ponies saw their hopes for a loop crown severely dampened. CHS now stands 4-5 on the year, and must defeat Plainview two weeks from tonight to stay in the race.

But, the Bulldogs only have to defeat Lubbock High tonight in Bulldog land to secure their first trip ever to the state playoffs. The 'Dogs are 2-0 in the loop after defeating Monterey and Hereford, while Coronado stands 1-2 after a win over LHS and now consecutive losses to Monterey and the Herd.

The Whitefaces are still in the district chase mathematically, but would also have to see the powerful Bulldogs lose their next two games. A Herd win over Monterey next Friday would then place the 'Faces in a tie for the title with Lubbock, which would also be 2-1-1 if they defeat Plainview tonight.

Statistically last night, Hereford held a 162-138 edge in total yards with a 133-48 margin on the ground. CHS took aerial honors with 90 yards to the Herd's 29. The Mustangs also won the battle of first downs, 8-5 after taking a 3-2 edge in that department at the half.

Bell's 110 yards led-rushers in the contest, with Tony Garcia helping the HHS cause with 18 markers. Steve Ewing led CHS runners with 21 yards.

The Herd can now post their best record in five years with a victory over Monterey next week. A win over the Plainsmen would put the 'Faces at 4-5-1, a half-game better than the 4-6 records by HHS in 1974 and 1975, and the best mark since a 10-2 season in 1973.

Hard-Hitting Grid Action

Thursday night's district grid battle with Coronado at Lubbock was a defensive struggle most of the way before both teams scored in the closing seconds. Here is an action photo from the game which reflects the hard-hitting defensive struggle. The Whitefaces are in the white jerseys.

Hereford won the loop game by a 13-9 count on the strength of two Jackie Mercer field goals and a touchdown run by Paul Bell. The Herd will host Monterey in the final game of the season next Friday.

Cougs, Texas In Showdown

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
 In 1976, Houston's dark-horse team was driven by a constant reminder stenciled on its players' T-shirts: "Think Cotton."

The Cougars thought cotton so much that they swept into the Cotton Bowl on their resolve.

Quarterback Danny Davis and middle linebacker David Hodge were the catalysts of that Southwest Conference championship team that so handily whipped Maryland on New Year's Day.

In 1977, Davis went down with an injury and Hodge went to Brazosport to get away from football a year. They came back this year and started up where they left off last year.

The Texas Longhorns, behind new Coach Fred Akers, jumped into the throne room on a bristling defense and the running of Heisman winner Earl Campbell.

Akers still has the game defense but Campbell is gone to the bank and the Houston Oilers of the National Football League in that order.

Now, the two teams collide Saturday in Austin for what amounts to the SWC title. It's the sixth-ranked Longhorns against the eighth-ranked Cougars in Memorial Stadium before an expected capacity crowd of 80,000 fans.

Texas was rated a four-point favorite over the Cougars largely because of the homefield edge.

Houston Coach Bill Yeoman says he doesn't believe in home-field advantages.

Akers does.

"Well, I'm glad he feels that way," said Akers. "I think you have to have more confidence when you play in your own surroundings. By no stretch of the imagination is your home the only place you can play football."

Two years ago Houston whipped Texas 30-0 in Austin.

Houston is 5-0 in league play and Texas is 4-0. All other SWC competitors have at least two losses. No team has ever won the league title with two defeats.

Texas has games left with Texas Christian, Baylor and Texas A&M after the Houston game. The Cougars must play Texas Tech and Rice.

In other SWC games Saturday, SMU was a 16-point favorite over Rice in Houston, Arkansas was an 8-point pick over Baylor at Waco, and Texas Tech had a 15-point nod over Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

The Houston-Texas game was not chosen for regional or national television coverage because the Cougars are on TV probation until the bowl games. Should the Cougars go to a bowl than the game could be televised.

OAKLAND (AP) - Linebacker Monte Johnson and safety Jack Tatum are listed as probable starters for the Oakland Raiders' Monday night game at Cincinnati, having healed on schedule from ankle injuries.

The two defense players were named Thursday as starters for the National Football League game as both continued to nurse ankle sprains. Johnson missed last Sunday's game at Kansas City and Tatum was forced out of it.

Still listed as questionable for Monday night play is defensive end Dave Browning, who also has an ankle sprain.

The Raiders are 6-4, tied with the Denver Broncos for the AFC West Division lead. Denver plays at Cleveland Sunday.

La Plata Knocks Off Dumas

La Plata's 9th grade Mavericks blasted visiting Dumas 35-14 Thursday, to up their season record to a perfect 8-0 in an impressive offense show.

Quarterback Allen Wartes sparked the offense, scoring on runs of one and 45 yards.

The Mavericks scored via the pass and run on a number of long gainers, and the outcome of the game was never in doubt as La Plata held a 27-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and the entire local squad saw action.

Wartes also connected with Don Delozier on touchdown passes of 50 and 40 yards.

Jeff Coupe added a Maverick tally with a 60 yard run.

Aubrey Richburg booted the PAT's for the Mavericks.

The La Plata coaching staff had praise for their team's effort.

"Our line did an excellent job of blocking, and we were glad that every kid got to play. Our backs did a good job of finding the hole and running hard."

stated a coaching staff member. Thursday night's victory sets up a showdown between undefeated La Plata and Canyon purple here next week.

Both teams sport 8-0 records. Thursday's game will be played at 5:30, and is tentatively scheduled for Whiteface Stadium.

CINCINNATI (AP) - Mike Brown, the Cincinnati Bengals' assistant general manager, said the Cincinnati Bengals' game Monday night with the Oakland Raiders will not be sold out and therefore will not be televised locally.

THE HOT DOG VENDOR

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He sold very good hot dogs.

He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried:

"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?"

There's a big depression.

The foreign situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

FAITH TEACHES US TO TRUST GOD INSTEAD OF MAN

Many of us have had the unpleasant experience of depending too heavily on someone for help, with the result that the person whom we had trusted failed us at the crucial moment. Although the vast majority of people will accept a responsibility with the best intentions, they often become the victims of faulty memory, an overcrowded schedule, illness, financial or other difficulties of their own, or any number of unforeseen circumstances that prevent them from giving us the help we had counted on. In Church, you will learn to place an ever-increasing reliance on God rather than man for every kind of help, including the guidance you need in order to find your own solutions to many problems. You can depend on that.

Trust not a man's words if you please, or you may come to very erroneous conclusions.
—George Borrow

Huskers Confident In Face of Top-Rated OU.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska I-back Richard Berns, who scored the only touchdown against Oklahoma during last year's meeting in Norman, will bring a bruised thigh and a haunted memory to this Saturday's annual Big Eight challenge.

Berns, who says "injuries don't mean anything in this game," says the eight-game winning streak No. 4 ranked Nebraska brings to the nationally televised contest has built up the Husker's confidence.

But he is haunted by the memory of the 1976 game that Oklahoma won 20-17 in the closing seconds with a flea-flicker pass.

"When a team like Oklahoma pulls something like that, it makes me madder than anything," Berns said. "I have all the respect in the world for Oklahoma, but you can't let them go on taunting you like that for four seasons."

This will be Bern's last chance to beat Oklahoma, and Husker mentor Tom Osborne will be looking for his first win in six outings against the No. 1 ranked Sooners.

The Colorado game is also a factor in the mind of Sooner Coach Barry Switzer.

"If we make the same mistakes against Nebraska that we made against Colorado, we'll find ourselves behind for the first time this season," he said.

Last Saturday OU fumbled eight times, losing five and throwing one pass interception.

At stake Saturday is a share of the Big Eight title, a probable trip to the Orange Bowl and possibly the national championship. It will be the 99th consecutive sellout of a Nebraska home game and the sixth consecutive time the battle has been on national television.

Oklahoma leads the series that began in 1912 and has been an annual meeting since 1928. Nebraska's last victory was the 35-31 "Game of the Century" thriller in Norman in 1971.

It will be the third time this year that Nebraska has faced a Wishbone offense. The season opener against Alabama turned into a 20-3 loss to the Crimson Tide, while last week Nebraska took the Kansas Jayhawks for a 63-21 ride.

Which part of the Wishbone the Huskers break off Saturday will depend a lot on how the defense handles OU's classy quarterback, Thomas Lott, who will make his third outing against Nebraska.

Lott, who has more career yards rushing than Husker I-back I.M. Hipp, is viewed as more of the key to the Sooner offense than explosive back Billy Sims. The Sooner halfback already holds sixth place in the Big Eight all-time season rushing category with three games left.

In another top game Saturday, second-ranked Penn State plays host to North Carolina State, which uses an option attack built around the running of Ted Brown, who has helped the Wolfpack to a 6-2 record. Brown set a school record by gaining 251 yards against the Nittany Lions a year ago.

"North Carolina State sends a lot of players along the line on those options," said sophomore defensive end Larry Kubin of Penn State, who has been credited with 33 tackles including 11 quarterback sacks. "You have the tight end, guards pulling, backs making the low blocks. They look tough."

Penn State has also looked tough, however, beating previously unbeaten Maryland 27-3 last week to raise its record to 9-0.

Two other games feature top 10 teams going against each other. No. 3 Alabama plays host to No. 10 Louisiana State and No. 6 Texas is host to No. 8 Houston in the probable Southwest Conference title game.

In other contests involving nationally ranked teams, No. 19 Washington is at No. 5 Southern Cal; No. 7 Michigan at Northwestern; No. 9 UCLA at Oregon State; No. 11 Georgia vs. Florida at Jacksonville, Fla.; No. 12 Purdue at Wisconsin; No. 13 Maryland at Virginia; Tennessee at No. 14 Notre Dame; North Carolina at No. 25 Clemson; No. 16 Arkansas at Baylor; Minnesota at No. 37 Michigan State; No. 18 Navy at Syracuse and West Virginia at No. 20 Pittsburgh.

Coach Gives Pointers

Coach Danny Haney was intent on giving some instructions to some of the Whiteface gridgers in this action photo on the sideline Thursday night at Lubbock. The defensive struggle was tied at 3-3 at halftime, and Hereford moyed to a 13-3 lead before Coronado scored in the closing seconds and cut the margin to 13-9. The Herd defense turned in another great performance to lead the team to its first district triumph of the season.

Against Evangelista

Holmes To Defend Title

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Larry Holmes, who for much of the week has had to share attention with the great Joe Louis, gets the spotlight all to himself tonight when he fights Alfredo Evangelista.

The scheduled 15-rounder for the unbeaten Holmes, considered by many boxing people the most talented heavyweight in the world today, will be the first defense of the World Boxing Council title he won from Ken Norton on a decision last June 9.

Louis, the feared Brown Bomber of another era, was honored at a testimonial dinner Thursday night attended by stars of sports, and show business.

Holmes is an overwhelming favorite to beat Evangelista, who went 15 rounds with Muhammad Ali in a losing title bid in 1977.

"I don't think it will go farther than eight or nine rounds," said the 29-year-old Holmes, who has a 28-0-0 record with 19 knockouts.

The smart money agrees with the champion. Evangelista is a 4-1 underdog if you like his chances. But there is no betting line on Holmes to win.

The show at Caesars Palace will be televised by ABC from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. EST.

Also featured on the card will be Norton, who meets Randy Stephens in a 10-rounder, and Alexis Arguello, who will defend the WBC junior lightweight title against Arturo Leon.

Norton will kick off the show in a fight he needs - and figures to win if he wants a rematch with Holmes. A Holmes-Norton rematch shapes up as boxing's most competitive big-money fight since it doesn't appear that Ali, who is recognized as champion by the World Boxing Association, will fight either of them. There is considerable doubt that the 36-year-old Ali will fight again.

"Well, I haven't a lot to say because I'm a supporting actor on this show," Norton said at a new conference. But he is a well-paid supporting actor, getting $250,000 which is $100,000 more than Evangelista is receiving. But Evangelista is where Norton wants to be.

Holmes, who calls his $300,000 purse for his fight with Norton "chump money" is getting $1.5 million.

Evangelista, the European champion, feels "that Larry Holmes will find I'm a different fighter than the one who fought Ali."

But he will also find a man who reminds many of a younger Ali. Holmes doesn't have the blazing foot speed that Ali once possessed, but he does have the hand speed and an excellent left jab. He also has Ali's size. He outweighs Evangelista 214 1-2 to 208 1-4 and has a four-inch reach advantage over him. And Holmes hits harder than the Ali who fought Evangelista.

Skins, Giants Play Quarterback Shuffle

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The Great Quarterback Derby resumes Sunday in Washington with two guys named Joe - Theismann of the Redskins and Pisarcik of the New York Giants - in the starring roles ... for the moment.

In the wings, though, are Billy Kilmer of the 'Skins and Jerry Golsteyn of the Giants, waiting for yet another hurried call from a coach looking for a way to turn things around.

Sunday's other games are Dallas vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Chicago at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at Los Angeles, Houston at New England, Miami at Buffalo, Denver at Cleveland, the New York Jets at Philadelphia, Atlanta at New Orleans, Tampa Bay at Detroit, Baltimore at Seattle, Kansas City at San Diego and St. Louis at San Francisco. On Monday night it's Oakland at Cincinnati.

Both the Redskins and Giants changed quarterbacks last week - and in each case the change solved nothing. On Monday night, Kilmer, who had guided Washington to a shaky victory over San Francisco the game before, played himself out of the lineup halfway through a game in Baltimore. Theismann, the starter in the 'Skins first eight games, fared no better and Washington fell 21-17 to the underdog Colts.

Golsteyn started for the Giants in St. Louis last Sunday and didn't make it through the first quarter, missing on five pass attempts. Pisarcik took over and completed 12 of 27 passes - but he also threw three interceptions and the Cards won 20-10.

The Redskins, 7-3, lead Dallas, 6-4, in the National Conference East. The Giants and Philadelphia are each 5-5. One of New York's victories came Oct. 22, a 17-6 surprise against the Redskins when Pisarcik combined with Jimmy Robinson on a 47-yard touchdown pass play and scored on a 3-yard run.

The loss to the Giants - when he completed only 15 of 38 passes for 169 yards and was intercepted three times - temporarily cost Theismann his starting job; one reason he's so anxious to do well this time.

"You bet the Giants' game is special to me and it's special to us as a team," he said. "Despite all that, I still can't press, but I sure will be ready. You just have to always be ready to play. That's the key. The easiest thing to do when things go bad is to throw in the towel. But you can't do that, and I didn't when I was replaced."

You just have to take everything in stride and do the best you can."

Green Bay is in danger of losing sole possession of first place in the NFC's Central Division they lead Minnesota by one game while the Cowboys are trying to close the one-game gap with front-running Washington in the East.

The Steelers are the winningest team in the NFL at 9-1 and Los Angeles is right behind at 8-2 - but both Pittsburgh and the Rams are coming off shaky victories. Pittsburgh held on to beat New Orleans 20-14 while LA nosed out Tampa Bay 26-23.

The only other 8-2 team, New England, is trying to maintain its one-game edge over Miami in the American Conference East. A victory by Denver would give the Broncos, 6-4, at least a temporary AFC West lead over Oakland.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Starting outside linebacker Glen Windom underwent knee surgery Thursday and will be lost to UCLA for the remainder of the college football season.

Windom, a 6-foot-2, 220-pound sophomore from Long Beach, Calif., tore ligaments in the right knee during Tuesday practice.

Oiler Defense Must Stop Ivory

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oiler defense, which dismantled the Cleveland Browns last week, has proven itself very adept this season at shutting down the star running backs of the National Football League.

Cleveland's Greg Pruitt gained 16 yards on 13 carries in last week's 14-10 Oiler victory.

Earlier this year O.J. Simpson netted seven yards on seven carries, Pittsburgh's Franco Harris got 56 yards on 16 carries Buffalo's Terry Miller rushed 17 times for 56 yards.

The Oilers' assignment Sunday will be against New England's leading rusher Horace Ivory.

"They bring out the competitiveness in you," Oiler defensive end Elvin Bethea said. "We don't go out to kill the great backs. We just try to control them."

Bethea said the Oiler defense doesn't fear the great runners.

"We respect them," he said. "We know them as people from spending time with them in the off-season. We know what they can do to us in a game too. Those are the name ball players who have helped make football what it is today."

Outside linebacker Ted Washington calls it "keeping them in a funnel."

"Robert Brazile and I figure the tunnel is the best place for the ball carrier to be," Washington said.

The Oiler linebackers see the tunnel as an imaginary line in front of the defensive line.

The Oiler defense has held 10 opponents to 495 yards rushing on 139 attempts for a 3.5 average per carry and 49.5 yards per game.

"I don't think we go into games thinking we've got to do our best against teams that have 1,000-yard backs," cornerback Greg Stenrick said. "I know we never go into games thinking we don't have to play our best because the other team doesn't have a 1,000-yard back."

While the Oiler defense has helped stop opposing runners, the offensive line has been doing a good job of opening the holes for Houston's improved running game.

Oiler Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips said he was impressed with young guards George Reihner and Morris Towns, who played with painful injuries last week against Cleveland.

"I respect the effort both of them gave us," Phillips said. "They played hurt, but they played good. Injuries are part of this game. If you can overcome them, you can be a winner."

The Oilers go into the New England game with a 6-4 record and still entertaining playoff hopes. New England is currently riding atop the American Football Conference Eastern Division with an 8-2 record.

AGENTLE REMINDER OF LAST WINTER:

THIS WINTER, ADD A CARRIER HEAT PUMP TO YOUR FURNACE AND SAVE HEATING DOLLARS!

Carrier's Year-round One heat pump is an efficient, economical heating and cooling system all by itself. It can replace any old, worn-out forced-air furnace. But if your forced-air furnace (electric, gas, or oil) is in good shape, you can add a heat pump to it - and get really low heating costs! That's because your new combination furnace-heat pump system heats with either the furnace or heat pump. Depending on outside temperature, the system automatically chooses whichever heating method can save you the most money!

Add a Carrier Year-round One - get lower heating bills and high-efficiency air conditioning, too!

Let us tell you all about it. We'll be happy to give you an estimate and a free Heat-Saving Analysis of your home. Call us today!

Sadat Hailed By Peace Award

NEW YORK (AP) - The Episcopal Church, descended from the Protestant break with Rome in the 16th century, is becoming a major publishing outlet of the new Roman Catholic pope.
The church's publishing house, Seabury Press, says it has acquired exclusive publishing rights to three books written by Pope John Paul II while he still was Cardinal Karol Wojtyla of Krakow, Poland.
One of the books, "Sign of Contradiction," a Bible-based book of spiritual renewal in the modern world, is to be issued in February, with others, "Love and Responsibility" and "Peace and Joy," in preparation.
Seabury also has scheduled publication next spring of a major biography of the pope, being completed by the Rev. Mieczyslaw Milinsky, University of Karkow chaplain and life-long friend of the pope.

LONDON (AP) - The World Methodist Council has chosen Egyptian President Anwar Sadat for its World Peace Award, hailing him for his "courage, creativity and consistency" in the cause of peace, the council's chairman, the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Greet, has announced.

The Rev. Joe Hale, general secretary of the council, which involves about 45 million Methodists around the world, said the award generally was intended for some little-known Christian working in behalf of peace.
But this time, he said, the overwhelming consensus was for it to go to Sadat, a Moslem, not only because of his bold and dramatic efforts toward

Russian Phone Really 'Bugged'

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Russians' telephone at the White House is still bugged.
Among the dozen or so telephones mounted on a wall in the White House press room for news organizations which regularly cover the president is one for Tass, the Soviet news agency.
More than a year ago, a wagish radio reporter picked a dead cockroach from a loud-speaker in the press room - it had been caught on the speaker's fabric front for weeks - and placed it in the telephone mouthpiece.
His gag was widely reported at the time, but it apparently went unnoticed by his Soviet colleagues. With White House press secretary Jody Powell looking on, a recent check by reporters determined that the "bug" was still in place.

Beware of two Southern gentlemen bearing rooster pepper sausage.
That may sound like reasonable advice, given the name of the concoction. But two Southerners presented some to President Carter recently and the president proclaimed it the best sausage he ever tasted.
He may have been the butt of a bit of put-on.
It seems that his friends Griffin Bell, the attorney general, and Charles Kirbo, an Atlanta lawyer, called on Carter with something they called "rooster pepper sausage."
Carter had it for breakfast one morning with homemade biscuits and grits.
Prior to sampling the Beware of a Southern lady playing poker.

William Fitzgerald, a Michigan state senator, didn't take that advice and now he's sorry. The Southern lady in this case was Lillian Carter, the president's mother.
The president, speaking at a Democratic rally in Flint, Mich., disclosed his mother's poker-playing skills while urging voters to support Fitzgerald's gubernatorial campaign, which turned out to be unsuccessful.
Fitzgerald and Miss Lillian were members of the U.S. delegation at the funeral in Rome of Pope John Paul I. On the flight home, someone started a friendly poker game and Miss Lillian joined in. So did Fitzgerald.
"He shouldn't have done it," Carter said. "As a result, his campaign finances have been reduced by my own mother."

Poor Demo Turnout Cost Hill Election

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The one thing clear Thursday as postelection hangers cleared was that Republican Bill Clements got his supporters to the polls and Democrat John Hill didn't.
"Apparently the Republicans were just a little bit more determined," was the way Hill put it.
Clements and his headquarters staff gave much of their victory credit to a statewide organization of 25,000 volunteers, particularly those manning telephone banks.
The Clements volunteers made more than 2 million telephone calls to remind their voters to get out and vote.
The Republican governor also repeated one of his campaign arguments that Texas is not as Democratic as some candidates would have voters believe.
"Most of the voters out there are really independents," Clements argued. "They are not really Democratic. That's the reason they supported me."

There are about 45 percent at least.
Clements didn't need to add that many of those "independents" apparently supported Gov. Dolph Briscoe when he was narrowly defeated by Hill in the Democratic primary.
Take a sizable chunk of former Briscoe voters and add them to the new voters in the general election and it's easy to get Clements' winning margin.
About 1.8 million voted in the Democratic May 6 primary with Hill winning with 51.4 percent.
Latest returns on Tuesday's general election show more than 2.3 million voters for governor.
Another angle to make Hill supporters unhappy were the reports that two mostly unknown candidates, Raza Unida's Mario Compean and Sara Jean Johnston of the Socialist Workers, drew more than 19,000 votes - just about the difference between Hill and Clements.
Clements carried Harris, Dallas, Ector, Midland, Gregg, Smith, and Tarrant counties. Hill had Bexar, Travis, El Paso, Nueces, Jefferson, Orange, Cameron, Willacy, Hidalgo, Galveston, Bell, McLennan and Wichita Falls.
Hill's says much of the difference came when they did not get the vote they expected in Bexar, Midland, Ector, Tarrant and Wichita counties. Clements got a surprising 48 percent in Bexar.

Today In History
By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Nov. 10, the 314th day of 1978. There are 51 days left in the year.
In 1928, Hirohito was enthroned as emperor of Japan.
In 1942, in World War II, American troops captured the Algerian city of Oran.
In 1944, it was disclosed that a new German weapon - the V-2 rocket bomb - was being used against England.
In 1975, Angola gained independence from Portugal as civil war raged in the African country.
Ten years ago: A Soviet friendship rally in Prague, Czechoslovakia, ended in fist-fights and heckling.
Five years ago: U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger arrived in Peking and assured Chinese Communist leaders the United States was determined to normalize relations with China as rapidly as possible.
One year ago: Arab countries were urged by President Carter to follow Egypt's example and agree to an immediate Geneva peace conference with Israel.
Today's birthdays: Actor Richard Burton is 53 years old. The former head of the U.S. space agency, Thomas Paine, is 57.
Thought for today: What men value in the world is not rights but privileges - H.L. Mencken, American editor, 1880-1956.

Professional public opinion samplers are not eager to get involved in postelection comment.
"We were hung out on a limb a lot," said Lance Tarrance, whose firm successfully polled for both Clements and Sen. John Tower, winner of the Senate race.
The day before the election Tarrance said his surveys showed Clements with 45 percent of the vote and Hill with 44 percent.
"Frankly it was too close to call," Tarrance told the Austin American-Statesman.
Hill's polling was done by Henson, Hopkins and Shipley. The firm said on Nov. 4 that Hill would be elected governor of Texas by a margin of 58.5 percent or better.
The Texas Monthly poll, which was published by a number of newspapers, said that, on the basis of interviews made in late September and early October, Hill had 44.8 percent of the vote and Clements 33.7 percent, with 21.5 percent undecided.
The most successful pollster may have been Sen. Glenn Kothmann, a San Antonio Democrat who says the people of his district reflect the political leanings of the entire state.
