

Huge Sugar Beet Forum Here On Tuesday

BY H. A. TUCK
BRAND NEWS EDITOR
 Possibility of increasing sugar beet production in the Southwest, and other areas of the country, will be explored in a Legislative Forum meeting in Hereford Tuesday.

Several hundred persons, perhaps as many as 1,200, are expected to attend a barbecue and hear talks by national legislators about the chances of getting the Sugar Act amended to allow more domestic sugar production.

Hereford will play host to Congressmen Walter Rogers, W. R. Poage, George Mahon, all of Texas, and Rep. Tom Morris of New Mexico, along with other Congressmen from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Guests arriving early are being invited to gather at the First National Bank, from where they will be taken to view sugar beet harvesting operations at the Lee Benefield farm.

At noon there will be a barbecue in the Bull Barn, prepared by the Hereford Rotary Club. Members of the Hereford Lions, Kiwanis, Optimist and Junior Chamber of Commerce clubs will meet jointly that day in the public interest.

The public is invited to attend the barbecue, for which tickets are on sale, and the open forum which will follow.

Expected are delegations from all area sugar beet growers associations in Texas, plus delegations from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

A special delegation of growers from North Dakota, Michigan and Minnesota also is expected to be on hand for the meeting.

At the start of the meeting, all beet associations and towns will be introduced in groups.

James W. Witherspoon, chairman of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association legislative committee, will state the purpose of the meeting briefly.

Lee Benefield of Hereford, president of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association, will introduce Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, who will comment on the work that has been done to change the Sugar Act and permit more sugar to be produced in this country.

Rogers, in turn, will introduce each of the other Congressmen, who will state their views on the efforts which have been made and their estimates of what remains to be done.

Loyan Walker, head of the agriculture department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will act as moderator for the question period that will follow the talks.

It was pointed out that all questions must be submitted in writing and that Walker will ask Congressmen present to answer the questions. This will continue until all questions have been answered or time runs out.

Zimmerman Takes Boys Ranch Post

H. C. "Hank" Williams was sworn in as Deaf Smith County Judge during a special meeting Thursday of the County Commission. He replaces Don D. Zimmerman, who submitted his resignation to work on behalf of Boys' Ranch. Williams was elected unanimously by the Commission to fill the post immediately after Zimmerman had submitted his resignation, which was accepted "with sincere regrets."

Zimmerman had submitted his resignation, which was accepted "with sincere regrets." The new County Judge was sworn in by Zimmerman about 11 a.m. in the presence of the Court and the County Clerk. He immediately assumed his duties, although Zimmerman remained to assist him through the remainder of the week.

Zimmerman took office just less than one year ago, having been sworn in on Nov. 14, 1960. He consented to run for office after Judge H. E. Henalee submitted his resignation in May, 1960, and then served temporarily until Zimmerman was elected.

Merchants Plan Annual Parade For Yule Season

Plans for the annual Christmas Parade to be held here on Dec. 2 were outlined at a meeting Thursday, of the Retail Trade Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The parade, complete with Santa Claus, will begin at 2:30 p.m. It will move south from Dameron Park to Second St., east to Sampson, then north to Third St.

Williams will now fill the office until the term expires Dec. 31, 1962. He also announced that he would be a candidate for election to the office next year and that he would serve the four-year elective term if approved by the voters.

Zimmerman, who asked to vote in favor of his successor, said that he had gotten an education while serving and that he appreciated the opportunity to serve the county and to work with the members of the Commissioners Court.

Santa Claus will leave the parade and go to the First National Bank parking lot, where candy will be distributed to all children. Some 4,000 bags of candy will be given away.

Letters have been sent to Hereford civic clubs asking for volunteers to help in the parade.

Dale Barkley, president of the Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce, reported on the condition of the Christmas lights which will be strung across downtown streets.

The Jaycees, he told the group, are replacing the nylon cord with a cable. The club intends to put the decorations up on Nov. 26.

Approval was given by the assembled businessmen for a bicycle promotion during the Christmas shopping season. The merchants hope to give away approximately 50 bicycles to area youngsters.

Rules of the contest and names of merchants donating the bicycles will be announced later.

"I would like to compliment the court," he said, "on its willingness to make precinct money available for the general good. I would also like to express my appreciation for the cooperation of everyone in the courthouse."

He singled out County Clerk B. F. Cain and the judge's secretary, Mrs. Lola Rose, for their particular help and assistance.

Zimmerman also cited the cooperation he had received from BEHIND BARS . . . AT LAST is a small red squirrel which gave Hereford Police patrolmen Jim Neal and Ace Austin (above) no end of trouble last week. The animal was picked up by Neal for observation because he bit a woman at her home. Neal put the squirrel in a box in the trunk of the car. He chewed through the cardboard, and also the stop light wires of the patrol car. When the trunk was opened at a garage, out went the squirrel. Austin finally caught it. The little animal, with a nasty disposition, was put in another box inside of the patrol car. He chewed his way out again. Austin ended up with one bite. Clay Angelo came to the rescue of the Police Department by furnishing a bird cage. (Staff Photo)

District Judge Sentences Two; Ends Probation

Two probated sentences were handed down and a Hereford man's probation was revoked here Wednesday as Judge Harry Schultz heard guilty pleas in District Court.

Receiving the four-year probated sentences were Fred M. Clark Jr., Plainview, and George William Petree, 37, 213 Ave. K.

Clark was arrested here for driving while intoxicated, second offense, on Oct. 12 by Hereford Police Patrolman Marshall Padgett. He was indicted by the grand jury.

Petree also received the probated sentence for driving while intoxicated. He was arrested here in August by Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell.

Judge Schultz ordered the three-year probated sentence of Lauriano Padilla, 43, 224 Ave. C, revoked. Padilla was arrested in October for violation of probation and driving while intoxicated.

No dates for jury trials have been set on the remaining five indictments handed down by the grand jury meeting here Wednesday.

Indictments were returned against: Guadalupe Hinojosa, Hereford, statutory rape;

Randall Follis and Charles Ray Houchens, Dimmitt, burglary;

Rich Whitson, Hereford, swindle with worthless check;

Pete Natal, Hereford, swindle with worthless check; and Thurmond Johnson, swindle with worthless check.

New Wheat Test Demonstration Set For Tuesday

A second wheat meeting is scheduled here Tuesday at the Hereford Community Center for 8 p.m., with Dr. Kenneth Porter of the Bushland Experiment Station as the guest speaker.

Dr. Porter will discuss and demonstrate the new sedimentation test used to determine premiums paid to wheat growers on the 1962 crop.

The meeting is an outgrowth of a discussion of the new government wheat program held here on Tuesday, Nov. 7. During the meeting, it was suggested to have the second meeting with Dr. Porter to demonstrate the new test.

The test, which replaces the protein test, indicates the baking qualities of the grain. It is hoped that the test and premiums will influence growers to raise a quality wheat.

All area wheat growers are urged to attend this meeting, said Lefty Thomas, county agricultural agent; and Faust Collier, ASC office manager;

Tour Of Camp Taken By Credit Union Employees

Staff members of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union were taken on a guided tour of the Labor Camp at 1 p.m. Saturday by members of the Camp Committee and Labor Camp representatives.

The purpose of the tour was to acquaint to the credit union staff with camp conditions and the people they will be working with, according to Mrs. Dyalitha (Continued on page 3)

Hereford Ends Season With 20-21 Loss To Littlefield

A recovered fumble and a "shotgun" offense gave Littlefield the edge it needed to defeat Hereford here Friday night 21-20.

The loss ended Hereford's football season for 1961. The Whitefaces surprised many with their first winning season since 1955 as they chalked up seven wins and three losses, two of them by one point. They also split in their four-game district play, the first time they have won a pair of conference games since 1956.

Littlefield, with a 7-2 record, is 2-1 in district play and winds up against Levelland next week. However, they will have to settle for second unless the Dumas Demon's steamroller offense falters against the weak Phillips Blackhawks. Dumas wiped up the field with Levelland Friday night, winning 52-0. In non-conference play, Phillips upset Lawton, Okla., 14-12.

Playing their final high school game for Hereford Friday night were: Joe Mack Hale, quarterback; Mack Cansler, halfback; Fred Martin, fullback; Dennis Hodges, halfback; Joe Shultz, center; Troy

Don Moore, guard; Marcus Jacobsen, guard; John Bob Drake, guard; Darrell Garrett, tackle; Butch Walterscheid, end; Ken Loerwald, end; and Mickey Stevens, end.

Extra points, or a lack of them, spelled defeat for the Herd as it scored one time after a touchdown and failed twice. The Whitecats managed to score extra points two of the three times they tried.

It was a clean, hard-hitting game all the way and kept partisans from both sides excited from start to finish.

Hereford took the opening kick and moved from its own 20 in a series of 11 plays, including two long passes. Cansler picked up nine yards in two tries and Hodges got seven in two tries. Then Hale hit Cansler up the middle for a 27 yard pass play. Cansler got one and Hodges three before Hale went back to the air. This time his loss was grabbed off by Walterscheid as he tumbled backwards. The play covered 31 yards and put Hereford on the Littlefield two.

Cansler lost one and Hodges two before Hale bootlegged over left tackle for five yards and the score with 7:01 left in the first period.

$500 Bond Set For DWI Charge

Bond of $500 was set Thursday by Justice of the Peace C. B. Miles as driving while intoxicated charges were filed against Frank M. Ashlock, 51, 503 Ave. F.

Ashlock was arrested here Wednesday in the 100 block of Grand by Hereford Police Patrolman Ace Austin. The arrest was made at 12:10 p.m.

Girls' Grid Game Set Monday Night

Kick-off for the annual grid classic between the "Stanton Stompers" and the "Fancy Fodders" will be at 7 p.m. in Whiteface Stadium Monday night.

Anything goes, and just about everything will, as the eighth and ninth grade Stanton Junior High girls don their football uniforms and try the many art of football. Complete with giggles, the girls will play strictly by boy's rules, with only a few minor exceptions. Substitution will be the order of the day as the winded girls scream for relief.

Coached by Wendell Maloney, Ray Hennigh, and Archie Souter, the girls have attended lengthy practices in preparation for the gridiron spectacle.

Proceeds from the game will go to the junior high school athletic fund, according to athletic director Alex Glass.

Approximately 500 fans attended the hilarious feminine football game last year.

Archie Souter tutors the ninth grade "Stanton Stompers." Assisting the coach is Mrs. Mary Duvall. Souter has had plenty of experience at the coaching helm while coaching the seventh grade boys, and has coached the girls for the past two years. Mrs. Duvall is the girls' physical education teacher at Stanton.

WHEN GIRLS DON uniforms and invade the manly game of football, there are bound to be some unusual tactics unveiled on the gridiron. This will be the case when the Stanton eighth and ninth grade girls stage their female football classic Monday at 7 p.m. Gridsters for the freshman "Stanton Stompers" are Patricia Maxwell (51), Ann Atchley (62), Priscilla Vines (61), Ann Braddy (35), and Becky Duncan (82). GRAND JURY CITES ABUSE

Outline Policy For Bad Checks

A Grand Jury recommendation issued during the fall session Tuesday stated that local law enforcement officers should not be used as collection agencies for bad checks and the public be better informed on the Texas Hot Check law.

Following the resolution, William Hunter, district attorney;

J. Edward Line, county attorney; and Lowell Sharp, Deaf Smith County sheriff, issued a joint statement of policy which will be followed in handling all future complaints. The policy statement reads: "The Penal Code of this State requires proof of an intent to defraud in connection with the prosecution of hot check cases and, generally, this intent to defraud can be established only by one of the three (3) methods hereafter to be required in the filing of hot check complaints: "The Grand Jury has gone into this problem of proof and has made a recommendation to the prosecutors and other law enforcement officers of Deaf Smith County, and in keeping (Continued on page 3)

381 Poll Taxes Sold Thus Far

Only 381 voters in Deaf Smith County had paid their poll taxes as of Friday. Deadline for paying poll taxes is Jan. 31, in order to be able to vote next year.

In order to vote in Texas, a person must have lived in the state for one year, and within the county for at least six months. Voters must be at least 21 years of age.

All residents must pay poll tax unless they are over 61 years of age. In Texas all voters over 61 are exempt from the poll tax, as well as voters 21 years of age, who are also exempt during their first year of voting eligibility.

Poll taxes are only $1.75. County tax office personnel urged county residents to pay taxes early to avoid the usual last minute rush.

Starting next Thursday, county postal mail carriers will leave livestock survey cards on their routes, as part of the state's annual inventory on livestock and poultry. The cards aren't left at every box. Postmaster Nolan Grady pointed out, so it is important to get them filled out for a true sam-with such recommendation the following policy will be followed:

"No complaint for the giving of a hot check will be accepted except upon a showing of one of the following:

"(1) That the maker of the check has been given 10 days notice by registered mail evidenced by a copy of the letter, registered mail receipt, and a return receipt requested form signed by the maker of the check, such return receipt requested being designated 'to addressee only', or,

"(2) That 10 days notice by registered mail has been sent to the maker of the check at an address appearing on the face of the check evidenced by a copy of the letter and registered mail receipt, or,

"(3) That the check was given on a Bank in which the maker had no account."

The policy is an outgrowth of the recent grand jury meeting and investigation of the procedures used in filing hot check cases here.

County officers are instructed by the recommendation to "inform the complainant of the various laws regarding hot checks, and be positive that said complainant has notified the maker of the check by registered mail."

In the recommendation, grand jury members stated that all civil means of collection be exhausted "before a complaint is filed and avoid the use of our County Offices being used as collecting agencies."

The grand jurors also recommended that the district attorney, county attorney, the sheriff's office and "all other processors of local law make an effort to better inform the public concerning the proper practice and procedure to be used by them in accepting checks and filing complaints in the event that such checks are not paid in due course."

In the Texas Penal Code, hot checking is described as a check, draft or order given by any person with intent to defraud and knowing that he or she does not have sufficient funds in the bank to pay that check, draft or order in full as well as all other checks outstanding.

It is also unlawful for an employer to give a check, draft or order for salary or wages knowing that sufficient funds are not available to pay the check and other outstanding checks.

Evidence of intent to defraud will be constituted by failure of the maker of the check to pay the holder within 10 days after he has been given notice. Notice may be given in person or by registered mail.

The penalty for the first conviction of a violation on checks, drafts or orders not exceeding $5 is a fine not exceeding $200.

For a first offense on checks of more than $5, but less than $50, a person may receive a jail term of not more than two years in the county jail, be fined up to $1,000 or both.

If a person is convicted of giving a worthless check of more than $50, he may be sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than two years or more than 10 years, and receive a fine not exceeding $10,000.

The law provides for increased penalties for each additional conviction.

The law also states that checks, drafts or orders which have been filed on cannot be withdrawn.

A person, who has filed a complaint, furnished information resulting in a complaint or testified before a grand jury concerning the violation and an indictment returned, cannot suggest to or request the district or county attorney to dismiss the case.

A person, making such a request or suggestion, according to the Penal Code, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, may be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp, from members of the Hereford Rural High School District board and from the Hereford City Commission. He also said that it had been a pleasure to work with all the attorneys and that he appreciated their respect for the courts and for each other.

Williams is a 50-year-old Deaf Smith County farmer who lives at 308 West Eighth, Hereford, Born and reared in Oklahoma City, he was with the Federal Reserve Bank in Oklahoma City for 14 years. From 1942-1946 he was in the U. S. Navy, serving most of the time in the Aleutians and the South Pacific. He was released with the rank of Chief Petty Officer and returned to Oklahoma.

He farmed at Clinton, Okla., for five years before coming to Hereford on Dec. 3, 1950.

Williams and his wife, Delight, have two children. Sheila, 19, is a sophomore pharmacy student at Southwest State, Weatherford, Okla. Charlotte, 14, is in the ninth grade at Stanton Junior High.

Williams is a Master Mason and a Shriner.

"Although I did not seek this office, I welcome the opportunity to serve the community and particularly if I might help some youngster through my juvenile court work," he said. Williams pointed out that he would work full-time at the post, but would continue to operate his farming operations in the county.

Zimmerman announced Friday night that he would be associated with Boys Ranch Foundation, which has its headquarters at 600 West 11th in Amarillo. This will become effective immediately, he said.

At least for the present, Zimmerman said he and his wife would continue to maintain their home in Hereford.

Zimmerman's duties will be in overseeing property which has been given to Boys Ranch, providing information to clubs and organizations which want to know more about the Ranch, and in assisting individuals wishing to include the Ranch in their estate planning.

"I hope to assist Cal Farley (founder of Boys Ranch, north of Hereford) in whatever might be of the most help to the Ranch," he summarized. He said that he had been interested in the work being done by the Ranch for many years and was grateful to be able to work more closely with it.

Zimmerman is a retired Army officer, past District Lions Club Governor and owner of Hereford Hardware. He said that D. C. Kinsey and Jeff Roberson would continue to manage the store here.

Coaches report that there are 28 girls out for the freshman squad, while the eighth graders recruited a total of 48 graders.

Wendell Maloney and Ray Hennigh teach the eighth graders their football tactics. Assisting with the coaching duties for the eighth grade "Fancy Footers" is Mrs. Ray Todd.

Lack of experience plagues the numerous "Fancy Footers" as the younger gridiron players have not competed before.

Ninth grade "Stanton Stompers" boast a full season of experience, as most of these girls were on the line up in last year's tilt.

Eighth grade coaches Maloney, Hennigh, and Todd had not announced a starting line-up as of Saturday, but probable starters include: Jenny Hagar, Randa Hopson, Jo Ann Ferguson, Gayle Newell, Carolyn Boynton, Sandra Thomas, Mary Tijerina;

Elidia Cortez, Barbara Rhodes, Bertha Gonzales, Juliana Gomez, Janice Cole, Sandra Huckabee, Melody Skelton, Ann Mercer, Elizabeth Muniz, Judy Wilshire, Denise King, Kristy Robbs, Mary Lou Gibson, Penny Jones, Cynthia Livesay;

"Stanton Stomper" coaches Souter and Duvall were also undecided about the ninth grade starters Monday night. Included in the list of possibilities were: Patricia Maxwell, Marilyn Tice, Gall Witherspoon, Helen Davis; offense with Barker deep and the ends split wide. A dazzling mixture of plays threw the Hereford defense off balance and enabled Littlefield to move.

Key plays were three aerials from Barker. He hit Pete Estrada for 13 and Schovajasa for 17. Barker kept for the final yard, then circled right end for two more points as the Cats took a 15-6 lead with 7:55 left in the third quarter.

Hereford took the ball on its own 18 and struck quickly. Cansler picked up nine yards in two carries and Hale got the first down with three more.

Then Cansler slammed into a hole in the center of the Littlefield line, cut to his left and outran the Littlefield secondary for a 70-yard scoring play. However, Cansler's run for two points was smeared and Hereford still trailed, 12-15 with 5:48 left in the third stanza.

Hereford held Barker and Company for one pass completion, for five yards, in three tries and then took over after the punt.

From its own 20, the Herd moved back to paydirt again. Cansler, Arnold Powell, Hodges and Hale pounded it out in chunks of three to 12 yards at a time as the game moved into the fourth period.

Hale slammed into the middle for the final yard as Hereford went in front with 8:41 left. Hodges then took the ball on a fake place kick and circled right end for two points as Hereford led 20-15.

But, the Wildcats weren't to be denied. Tony Estrada returned the kick off from his own 3 to his own 30.

Schovajasa ripped off 16 but Barker was hit by Troy Don Moore for a loss of four. Halfback Roger Morris got seven and then Barker hit Fitzgerald for 11 yards and the first down.

Schovajasa got five, Morris added four and Tony Estrada blasted for two. Barker then hit William Thompson on a 23-yard pass play to the Hereford 5. Schovajasa got three and Tony Estrada bulled his way in for the last two yards. Estrada missed on the kick attempt, but Littlefield had its Hodges was short on the run for two points.

Both teams were held and forced to punt before Littlefield started to move late in the first quarter and early in the second. A 20-yard pass play from quarterback Boots Barker to end William Thompson put the Cats down close. But Hereford held and took over on its own 18.

However, a triple reverse ended in disaster as Hereford fumbled and Littlefield recovered on the Herd's 24.

Barker hit Tony Estrada for 14 yards to set up the score. Tony Estrada carried for three, Barker got four and halfback Gary Schovajasa circled right end for three yards and the score. Schovajasa then kicked and Littlefield led 7-6 with 7:54 left in the second quarter.

The half ended with the two teams battling up and down the middle of the field.

Littlefield moved 64 yards in ten plays for its next score. The Cats came out in the "shotgun"

Benson, manager.

Approval was given Oct. 31 by the credit union's board of directors to set up extension services on a limited basis. At present, only a savings service is being planned.

A meeting was held following the tour to plan the educational sessions to be held at the camp. Courses to be taught will deal with family savings and finances.

Ultimate aim of the recently outlined program is to teach the Latin-Americans how to manage their own finances and to save.

Eventual goal is to set up a separate credit union at the camp with the Latin-Americans taking over its operation in the future.

Programs planned for the evening training sessions include Spanish-language films with all lectures in English.

The staff, camp committee members and camp representatives were served lunch at Casa de Amigos following the tour of the Labor Camp. During the meal, the group discussed the problems of setting up a credit union.

Conducting the tour were Virgil Dodson, Ed Dziuk and Domingo Pesina.

Representing the Labor Camp were Ernest Tijerina, Juan Valdez, Joe Martinez, Ramiro Ramirez, Mike Castro, and Joe Solis.

Opening date of the office is to be announced soon, according to the Latin-Americans at the camp will probably begin before the office is opened.

offense with Barker deep and the ends split wide. A dazzling mixture of plays threw the Hereford defense off balance and enabled Littlefield to move.

Key plays were three aerials from Barker. He hit Pete Estrada for 13 and Schovajasa for 17. Barker kept for the final yard, then circled right end for two more points as the Cats took a 15-6 lead with 7:55 left in the third quarter.

Hereford took the ball on its own 18 and struck quickly. Cansler picked up nine yards in two carries and Hale got the first down with three more.

Then Cansler slammed into a hole in the center of the Littlefield line, cut to his left and outran the Littlefield secondary for a 70-yard scoring play. However, Cansler's run for two points was smeared and Hereford still trailed, 12-15 with 5:48 left in the third stanza.

Hereford held Barker and Company for one pass completion, for five yards, in three tries and then took over after the punt.

From its own 20, the Herd moved back to paydirt again. Cansler, Arnold Powell, Hodges and Hale pounded it out in chunks of three to 12 yards at a time as the game moved into the fourth period.

Hale slammed into the middle for the final yard as Hereford went in front with 8:41 left. Hodges then took the ball on a fake place kick and circled right end for two points as Hereford led 20-15.

But, the Wildcats weren't to be denied. Tony Estrada returned the kick off from his own 3 to his own 30.

Schovajasa ripped off 16 but Barker was hit by Troy Don Moore for a loss of four. Halfback Roger Morris got seven and then Barker hit Fitzgerald for 11 yards and the first down.

Schovajasa got five, Morris added four and Tony Estrada blasted for two. Barker then hit William Thompson on a 23-yard pass play to the Hereford 5. Schovajasa got three and Tony Estrada bulled his way in for the last two yards. Estrada missed on the kick attempt, but Littlefield had its one-point lead with 3:06 left in the game.

Hereford took to the air with little success and the Cats took over to run out the clock.

Hereford's all-state half-back candidate Mack Cansler was the outstanding ground-gainer as he picked up 170 yards on 23 carries for an average of 7.39 yards per try.

Guard-linebacker Eugene Green of Hereford indicated that he intends to be rugged next year. The sophomore broke into the line-up early this year and played his best game Friday night.

BY JIMMIE GILBERTINE
Frequently I am amazed when I find out someone's middle name, but it was almost most as much of a jolt this week when they swore Hank Williams in as the new county judge and it turned out that his proper title is "Henry C." I never did find out what the "C" stands for, but I am sure that it is no worse than the "M" I carry around. Mine stands for "Moriarity," which I always thought to be a good old Irish name until I read some of those Sherlock Holmes detective stories.

All in all, Judge Williams inherited a tough job but, as retiring Judge Don Zimmerman said, he has a fine group of fellow officials to work with, and Hank will be in the groove before he realizes it. Besides, it was nice to see him all diked out in his Sunday best.

Needless to say, we will miss Judge Zimmerman in the post. He has done an excellent job, although it occasionally upsets his ulcers. Don says that they hope to keep on living in Hereford. He may have to rent an apartment in Amarillo for a few months, but he will be on the road a lot — and the Zimmermans are both hoping to continue to call Hereford "home." I don't know what the official announcements will say, but my personal reaction is that Don is being groomed to replace Cal Farley in the Boy's Ranch set-up. Cal has built a home out on the ranch, and told me several months ago that he wants to spend more time with the boys.

Something comical generally develops out of the most serious situations, and the judge appointment was no exception. I hear that one prospect was carefully interviewed by a commissioner, and it developed that the prospect was a registered Republican. The commissioner said it made no difference at all, but I'll bet he was real happy when the prospect said he wouldn't consider the job anyway.

Earl Phillips, Hereford's old fire horse, is now pulling a big Panhandle load. He is chairman of a committee to raise money for a pumper to serve Boy's Ranch. They will get the equipment at cost (around $12,600) but it is still a tough goal. That's why the local boys are selling these individual fire extinguishers. Someone is donating a building, and they hope to raise the money through each of the 28 departments in the Panhandle.

Some kind soul left me a clipping about the Nation's Brotherhood of Bald-Headed Frenchmen. These boys met recently in Pithiviers, France, and decided that "bald men are the most honest in the world." They sneered at the wearer of a toupe, and reported that baldness increases on a direct ratio with civilization, especially among intellectuals. If you don't believe it, ask any bald man about it.

Insurance companies indicated this week that they will lose around $24 million as a result of the fires which destroyed 400 homes near Los Angeles early last.

Cotton in this county is still a long way from ready to strip, according to John McCleskey and Curtis Traweek, who got into a long-winded discussion of the subject the other day. Both allow that there are a lot of green bolls in this part of the country, and they are probably right.

Gaylord Newell suffered a bad burn on his right hand while lighting a gas heater. He says one of the worst chores is having to explain the deal to everyone he sees, chiefly because it emphasizes his stupidity. One place he is right, though, and it's when he said that brushing your teeth with your left hand is a bit difficult. I tried it — and I couldn't agree more thoroughly.

This Blue Law business has already hit the drug stores. At least, that is what they report in the new schedules which will leave only one store open each Sunday on alternate basis. Even then they will be limited on the sale of certain items, the way I understand the new Texas law. I am wondering what it will do to the first block on Main? How long the law will hold, and what will happen when it reaches the Supreme Court in a test case? I still say if no one ever bought any thing, very few merchants would remain open on Sundays or any other time. It sure is nice to get through this column without one word about pheasants. I had no idea that they were so highly controversial, or I would have never brought up the subject. It's nice to be in a law firm until all of the other partners leave town on a busy day. I saw John Aikin wolfing down a sandwich around 3 p.m. Wednesday, and such was his position. To make things worse, he figured when he got everyone else's odds and ends rounded up, he still had all of his own work to do. Personally, I always figured the girls in that office did most of the work, but it looks as if I was wrong again. Law offices must be quite different from newspapers.

A lot of people have been testifying in Amarillo in regard to the proposed News-Globe freight franchise, which would throw a competing network all over the Panhandle, touching every point where the News-Globe trucks in newspapers. Opinions vary sharply on this question, and I understand several from here are opposed. However, there is a definite need for service in the Panhandle, it seems to me that we should not turn up our noses at any offer. The bus company says they lost money on a run from here to Littlefield. I say if the News-Globe is willing to give service, even in the face of this testimony, why not let them go ahead and find out the hard way.

These are beautiful days, but now is the time to get your overcoat cleaned and ready for a long, hard winter. Thanksgiving time isn't far away, and we will have some more rain by then. I figure the last 18 days in November will be rough ones, especially on those bald-headed guys who seldom wear hats.

Lubbock Christian College has just launched a "community giving" project to get 2,000 bales of cotton to help meet the college's expanding needs.

A nationally known spiritual life speaker will be in Hereford for three days, starting Sunday. Mrs. Genevieve Parkhurst of Woodward, Okla., will speak at 10:35 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the First Methodist Church. There will be a covered dish luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday following her talk. She and her husband, the Rev. C. A. Parkhurst, a retired Methodist minister, will be guests of Mrs. Jane Dameron while they are in Hereford. Mrs. Parkhurst also will be available for consultation Monday.

Persons interested may contact F. W. Mattox, president, or Dale Simpson, director of development.

Jimmy Witherspoon said this week that a member of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association will be present for a House subcommittee hearing on the impact of imports and exports on American employment. The hearing will be held Nov. 27, 28, 29, 30 and Dec. 1, 4 and 5. An interesting note in the invitation was that all statements must be submitted 24 hours in advance of personal appearance . . . and that 50 copies of the statement must be provided.

We expect a large crowd here Tuesday for the Sugar Beet forum, complete with Congressmen and interested persons from Texas and surrounding states. A good turnout might encourage some of the Representatives to take a more active part in pushing for more domestic sugar production.

For a lot of laughs, and a few thrills, you should plan to attend the annual junior high girls' football game, set for 7 p.m. Monday on Whiteface Field. We have more fun at those games than nearly any sporting event. The girls play a pretty good brand of ball, although they kept fussing because the coaches wanted them to tackle in practice sessions. "But we'll get our suits dirty," they wailed.

County Commission, with Judge "Hank" Williams presiding, is to meet in regular session at 10 a.m. Monday. The school board's regular meeting is set for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

A lot of fourth, fifth and sixth graders in the county are learning about thrift as they do research for a national essay contest, sponsored locally by First National Bank, Hereford State Bank, Hi Plains Savings and Loan Association and Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union. Prizes for first, second and third will be given on local and national levels.

A surprisingly bright football season ended Friday for the Hereford Whitefaces. The 7-3 record isn't the school's best, but it is a whale of a lot better than anything in recent years. Actually, Hereford was only outplayed one time during the year and that was against the powerful Dumas Demons. The Herd lost 6-7 to Roswell after pushing them all over the field and then dropped a 20-21 decision to Littlefield, again after controlling the game pretty well.

Don't forget to get your name down for Project Christmas Card. For you newcomers, here is what it is: The Hereford Medical Auxiliary asks that you give the amount you would have spent on Christmas cards within the city. Your name will be printed in a full page Christmas greeting in the Christmas edition of The Hereford Brand. Proceeds will be used this year to purchase a delivery table and light for the obstetrical floor of the hospital. You may leave your donation at either of the banks or any of the supermarkets. Deadline is Dec. 16.

Rain, Snow Bring Moisture Needed For Wheat Crop

BY MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Last Thursday a black cloud and wind swept in from the north, bringing rain and snow with it. By Friday morning, the ground was carpeted with from two to three inches of snow. The moisture was needed badly for the wheat which was very dry. Almost one-half inch of rain had fallen earlier in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jones, who had been visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. D. Buse, for the past three weeks, returned to their home in Wellington Thursday.

The Walcott 4-H Boys met Tuesday at the Walcott school. The county agent, Lefty Thomas, met with them. Mrs. B. E. White was a visitor at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt attended a Fifth Sunday Singing at Bippus, Sunday, Oct. 30. The Thweatts went to San Jon, N. M., after the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Sorrells and baby of Amarillo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Sorrells Sunday.

Mr. Bruce Coleman and his mother, Mrs. Ruth Coleman, made a business trip to Amarillo recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford were in Austin the past week, visiting their daughter Susa and Mrs. Ford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. James Lewis of Carlsbad visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, from Wednesday through Thursday.

The Thweatts, Mrs. Lewis, and Carl Hayan made a business trip to Lubbock Thursday.

Mrs. Josie Busby of Friona was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Sorrells and family were hosts to a Mexican supper Sunday night in their home. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bill White and children, Shelton and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown and Tommy, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown and family, and Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown.

Following the supper, musical entertainment was furnished by the "String Band," while the youngsters enjoyed games.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown Jr. attended the funeral of Obe Roberson Sunday at Hereford.

Mrs. Truman Ivy was hostess to a home demonstration party in her home Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Floyd Bailey giving the demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Markman of Texhoma spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Buse. The Markmans had been to Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bumpass and son Dannie of Hereford were also guests in the Buse home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fruit are now grandparents. Their daughter, Royce Lee, had a baby boy born last week. Her husband also was in the hospital at the time the baby arrived with a dislocated shoulder.

Miss Paula Greene is home from the hospital. She is staying with the Thomas Collins family. Reports are that she is showing improvements each day, and she hopes to resume her teaching in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, and Bill attended a meeting held in Hereford Monday night on International Communism. A tape recording was heard on the subject, furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dodson. Dodson stated that there were 16 such tapes available for interested groups.

Just a reminder that Walcott P. T. O. will meet at the Walcott School Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. for a community dinner. A program will be presented by the school children.

Guests in the P. S. Stocks home for dinner Sunday were Mrs. Minnie Miles, mother of Mrs. Stocks, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tarpley of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weaver and three children of Walcott.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
We hear quite a bit said about price supports. Some think it is a good thing and others think we would be better off without it. I was at a meeting last night and listened to the discussions, questions and answers.

One young farmer said that without price supports, what he might drop back to $1.50 per bushel. Now $1.50 per bushel might sound bad to those young farmers but what makes them think the price would stop at $1.50.

When I was really wheat farming in the 20's and 30's the best price I can remember was $1.05 per bushel and in 1930 I only got 45 cents for two or three carloads of wheat. In 1931 I sold 11,000 bushels at an average of 28 cents per bushel for good wheat and some farmers with poor grades of wheat only got ten cents per bushel. We didn't have price supports.

The Government has been trying to cut production by cutting acreage. You farmer's have complied by cutting acres and been paid for doing that, but you have gone to extra expense fertilizing and doubling the yield. How can you cut production that way?

My brother and I expect to harvest five acres of wheat in '62, providing conditions are favorable. Price supports won't make much difference. If the price is too bad, we can feed it to hogs; they don't care if the wheat is $3 per bushel or only ten cents per bushel, but I would sure hate to sell top hogs at $5 per head and have to haul them to Amarillo to get that.

In 1923, which was the rainiest year I have ever seen, I brought 20 head of top hogs to Hereford and sold them to George Brumley for $5 per head. It took me three days to get to Hereford and two days to get back home. I used two wagons and six head of horses.

Now, what do you boys think you want to do, cut production and have price supports or cut your own throat?

Yours truly,
s/Ole T. Larson

Frerich-Diller Troth Pledged On Wednesday

Miss Theresa Oleta Frerich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frerich, and Robert M. Diller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Diller of Dimmitt, exchanged wedding vows on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 8, at 4:30 p.m. in St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Father Hubert, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, read the double ring ceremony before the main altar flanked by gold vases filled with white chrysanthemums and the side altars flanked by green vases filled with white and gold chrysanthemums.

Miss Delores Brorman, organist, played traditional wedding selections as the couple entered the church. "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" were played during the ceremony.

Mrs. Virginia Willis, sister of the bride, attended the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Margret Frerich and Miss Dorothy Frerich, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Carolyn Brockwell, sister of the groom.

James Hund attended his cousin as best man and groomsmen were Jimmy Brockwell and Edgar Frerich. Kenneth Diller and J. W. Stengel served as ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal wedding gown of white tulle with an overskirt of lace edged in seed pearls. The gown was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves tapering to a point at the wrists. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a head piece of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a borrowed rosary belonging to her maternal grandmother. She wore her Grandmother Frerich's wedding ring as something old. The bride's bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis with white satin streamers.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception in St. Anthony's School Auditorium. Parents of the couple and members of the bridal party formed the receiving line.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth, white candles in crystal star holders, and the three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with tiny gold chrysanthemums. Miss Sharon Beizer and Miss Helen Hoffman presided at the table, assisted by Mesdames Joe Brorman, Henry Brorman, J. W. Stengel, A. C. Stengel and G. W. Hund.

When the couple left on a trip to Corpus Christi, the bride was attired in a two piece green and gray suit, black leather accessories and a small black hat. Her corsage was gardenias, lifted from the bridal bouquet. After Nov. 14, Mr. and Mrs. Diller will be at home in Dimmitt.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Hereford High School and a graduate of Amarillo School of Hair Dressing. She has been (Continued on page 7)

Cultural HD Club Program On Safety

The Cultural Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Marvyn Southward for the program on safety presented by Mrs. Art Lewis and Mrs. Ira Scott.

"Thoughtfulness can prevent accidents," stated Mrs. Scott. "Did you ever stop to think about how many times thoughtfulness has prevented an accident? The way we think about safety influences our actions. The comments we make can influence the thinking and action of others. The way we think about safety often stems from home taught attitudes. We need to think through the comments we make, and the actions we take on safety matters. The attitudes we encourage will have a long effect on others in the home."

"It takes a lot of safe thinking and doing to make a safe home, because living involves some potential dangers that must stay. In order to function properly, a heater must be hot, water must be hot and the iron must be hot. Knives must be sharp and drawers must glide easily. Ladders must be steep, and cleaning supplies must be used, even the many of them are potentially dangerous. Such are hazards when used carelessly. It takes alert human beings to use the essentials of home living. We must understand the safe method to use these essential tools, then practice this method. Safety in the home is really up to you, the homemaker. Hazards are always present. It takes concentration and determination to recognize these hazards in our familiar surroundings."

"Proper storage space for everything makes house keeping easier and makes the home safer. A clutter may contain fire hazards. Cleaning chores are shortened when working equipment, necessities and toys can be put away when not in use. Carefully planned storage, followed by good usage of same, will cut down on falls from tripping. Neat, uncluttered stairways, steps and floors are safer for family members. Carpeting is a better floor covering if it does not have worn spots that catch heels, causing falls. Good lighting adds vision and reduces tripping."

Mrs. Scott concluded her talk with the statement, "Your thoughtfulness can mean a safer farm and a safer home, so think it over."

During the business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. J. G. Gandy, plans were made for the club's Thanksgiving supper on Nov. 21 at the Community Center. Visitors present were Mrs. R. A. Sumner and Mrs. Ted Royal. Members present were Mesdames Art Lewis, Louie Olson, M. W. Sumner, Ira Scott, J. T. Richardson, George S. Parker, W. E. Holcomb, P. M. Houser, J. G. Gandy, Earl DeHart and the hostess, Mrs. Marvyn Southward.

Dr. Edwards Guest Speaker

The La Plata Study Club met on Nov. 7 in the home of Mrs. J. M. Madison for the regular meeting.

Final plans were made for the Thanksgiving buffet dinner, Nov. 21, in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Husbands of the members will be guests for the dinner.

Love was the subject of the program given by Dr. Lena Edwards. She told of her experiences with love in many ways. She described family life and how members of a family depend on their love for one another.

Dr. Edwards spoke of the great love people have for their children. She explained the many concepts of love and family life in relation to cultural inheritance. "You can take a man out of his country but you can't take the country out of the man," she said. There is human dignity and pride in every man. She stated that people get a sense of satisfaction from working in an environment where they are accepted. Love of one's fellow man is the solution to war and the key to human happiness.

Dr. Edwards said that love is a very natural thing if we let ourselves love. It is not hard to, really love someone.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Wall-To-Wall Furniture Living Doesn't Deter Cook

Mary Lou Knox is a charming young woman who "bubbles" with energy and interest in the affairs of our community. She takes an active part in school activities with her children. She accompanies her husband and children to Sunday School and church regularly. She takes an active part in the discussion of the lesson for the day, which indicates to others that she has taken that time necessary to study the lesson during the week.

Mary Lou is originally an Oklahoman, a college graduate and had taught school before her marriage to Reuben, a native of Hereford. Mary Lou and Reuben are the parents of four children: Ralph, Rosemary, Rosalind and Ray.

She is a quick, efficient worker, always turning out excellent results. She sews too, making beautiful clothes for herself and the children. Mary Lou is a gracious hostess, transferring her own personal happiness to others through association. Their friends consider the couple as fine parents, particularly their patience with the little ones and the affectionate discipline of them all.

The children are being taught to work in the home with the assignment of regular daily chores. The girls are guided by Mary Lou in learning the basic principles of sewing and cooking that are learned best from a child's mother. Knots in the thread, the inability to thread the needle and the "messes" made in the kitchen are constant interruptions in a mother's day, but Mary Lou doesn't seem to mind. Eventually it becomes easy for the girls and the first thing you know, something is made that the girls view with much pride, and are soon telling their friends that their mother helped them to make it.

The boys take pride in helping their "dad" with the care of the yard. The boys learn about the necessary care of plants and landscaping in advance for the eventual beauty of the yard at all seasons of the year.

Children are often called "the great imitators," and it seems to be true in the Knox household.

The Knoxes are building a new home and are at present living in a small house with "wall to wall furniture" as Mary Lou good-naturedly refers to the situation. She is "making do" without a cook stove by using a portable electric oven and a borrowed electric skillet. The picture today is made through the courtesy of a friend, in lending her kitchen for this purpose.

Mary Lou offers these favorites as "lickin' good eatin'" at the Knox home.

Sauce for Meatballs
1 1/2 ounce can tomato juice dash of tabasco
dash of oregano
salt to taste
1 small onion, minced
Brown onion in 2 tablespoons of fat. Add tomato juice and seasonings. Simmer. Tomato Paste may be added if desired.

from the oven and spread with this topping; 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine combined with 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1/3 cup chopped walnuts. Bake 10 minutes longer and serve warm, with cream if desired.

Mary Lou's Butter Letter recipe is her favorite for gifts.

Butter Letter (Almond Roll)
1 pound oleo or butter
4 cups flour
1 cup ice water
1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend flour, salt and butter. Add ice water. Roll into a ball and chill for 24 hours. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into strips about 7 x 4 inches. Put almond paste 1/2 inch deep across the middle to about 1 inch from the edges. Fold ends of the pastry over, sealing seams with a little water. Put seam side down on cookie sheet (in the shape of the desired letter). Brush top of pastry with beaten egg white to insure a golden brown color. Bake in a 350 degree oven until golden brown, approximately 15 to 20 minutes.

Filling
2 cups almond paste
1 to 2 teaspoons lemon juice
3 eggs
2 cups sugar
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Mix well.

Almond Paste
Grind 1 cup blanched almonds and mix with 1/4 cup sugar. Add 1 egg and beat until mixture is smooth. Almond paste can be purchased ready-made, but is not usually available in our local stores.

National Security Program Subject For B&PW Club

Miss Della Stagner and Mrs. Eunice Petersen were hostesses to the members of the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday evening, Nov. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Sue James, president, presided at the business meeting which included announcements of coming events of interest in our community. Mrs. Eunice Petersen gave a report on the progress of the Hereford Area Foundation.

A decision was made to contribute financially to the work of Dr. Lena Edwards at the labor camp.

Delegates, who attended the district convention in Pampa, reported on the convention with detailed reports of the meetings and the workshops attended. One of the most interesting workshops was on safety, with the women presenting a hat show stressing safety in the home. The statement was made that often conventions are defined as "we came, we set, we et," but that was not true of this convention.

Courageous, Determined 1961 Football Team Earns Respect

Courage, sacrifice and determination aren't lost virtues in the younger generation. They have been demonstrated week after week by the Hereford High School football team.

Coach Jack Meredith and his staff stepped into a sticky situation last spring: the school's football program was beset with mental and physical problems. Losing had become a habit, conditioning was haphazard. The team had won just one conference game since the district was formed in 1956. All the other district teams considered Hereford as a relative "breather" in an otherwise tough conference schedule.

From the first, it was apparent that the team would be small, both in numbers and in size. This year's team included just 34 boys, on the varsity and 8 teams combined. This was less than half the material available when 71 showed up the year before.

Gone were the 200-pounders. In fact, most of the line wouldn't hit 180 and many couldn't get to 170 in full uniform.

But numbers and size alone don't make a football team. The coaches called for sacrifices, both in practice and in study. And the players responded with a devotion that has been apparent even to the most casual observer.

From the first few games, everyone realized that the team would make a good showing each time it took the field. The players knew that there was only a tiny handful of reserves to call upon and that they would have to play every minute of almost every game. But they were proud of their conditioning work and wore it as a badge of honor.

Their pride and spirit has been reflected throughout the school and the community. Hereford had a team which everyone liked. The players were modest and dedicated, they played the game hard, they worked to correct their mistakes. Most important, they enjoyed the game as they had never done before. Sportsmanship was stressed above all.

Hereford didn't win the district title; that would have been too much of an Horatio Alger story this year. But they did earn the grudging respect of the other teams they played and enthusiastic support of those who watched them. No longer was Hereford a push-over for any team it faced.

The spirit generated by the team was reflected in the harder work put out by the band, by the cheerleaders, by the students and faculty. Major contributions toward a new spirit were made by the White-face Booster Club, whose members attended practice sessions, made up caravans, went to pep rallies and devised endless ways to express their pride for the team.

It's been said that a winning team stresses winning while a losing team concentrates on sportsmanship and character building. But the 1961 team can take pride that it has constantly shown sportsmanship and character while winning.

Win-loss records usually fade with the passing of time. But it will be a long time before anyone can forget the 1961 Hereford football team, a dedicated group of boys who gave a hundred percent effort in everything they did.

Hereford Youth Shows Interest In Farming - Ranching As Profession

Coming into the community spotlight during recent weeks have been a large number of FFA and 4-H students from this area. Meanwhile, the county already boosted the state champion calf and two state contest winners in 4-H.

Although such outstanding achievements are a bit unusual, the general interest and participation of local youth in farm programs is a year-to-year occurrence in Deaf Smith County and Hereford. Nor can we think of more fitting or practical training for our boys and girls, a large percentage of whom are sons and daughters of farmers and ranchers.

This community is basically agriculture and ranching. Despite extensive efforts, industry has not flourished — and even that limited industry which we do have is closely allied to farming and ranching. Because we do have some of the best farm land and ranch country in the nation, it is natural that a large percentage of our youth should look in this direction toward developing new horizons.

Mostly, we are happy to observe this development because it indicates that many of these youngsters are interested in completing their education, then returning to this community to make their homes. Whereas, we have little to offer an architect or a skilled engineer, we do have one of the most productive cattle and farming territories in the United States. Already several of these youngsters are operating farms and ranches here as they follow in the footsteps of their parents.

Emphasis in our schools no doubt helps the situation but, mostly we feel that our young men and young women are intelligent and practical enough to make the best of a good situation. We also like to feel that they appreciate the community, and that they would like to come back here to make their homes and rear families of their own. Certainly, no greater tribute can be paid to any community than such thinking on the part of its youth.

Today, education is just as important in farming and ranching as it is in any other field of achievement. The profession is so highly esteemed that it is currently attracting investment capital from all walks of life and, despite the tremendous changes we can anticipate in future years, the factors of food and clothing are so basic that America is today, the envy of the civilized world.

The Hereford pattern, based on interest of youth in agriculture, is one which spells continued growth and progress. We are proud of each individual award, of course, but most of all we are proud of these fine boys and girls who may well take their places beside us as future citizens of the Golden Triangle.

Americans Are Cleanest People

Regardless of what your enemies may say from time to time, you are probably one of the cleanest people in the world.

A recent Hereford speaker pointed out the tremendous upsurge in use of water on a national scale by comparing the average per-capita consumption of 450 gallons per day 50 years ago with the present 1,500 gallons per capita — and the estimated 2,000 gallons per day, per capita in 2,000 A.D.

Any way you look at it, the daily per capita increase is tremendous. It is due in a large measure to indoor toilets, running hot water, garbage disposals, kitchen sinks, convenient showers and bathtubs, and more abundant lawns. Furthermore, there is no question but that Americans are the cleanest people in the world.

Compare the "toting" of water into the house, heating it on a stove and securing just the right temperature in a galvanized wash tub, and you are bound to agree.

With this cleanliness comes problems, based chiefly on the fast dwindling supplies of water. Hereford, along with thousands of other towns, has faced this problem on the city level. Fortunately, it is not so great with us as in many other areas; nevertheless, it is a problem with which we must ultimately reckon, and it is one for which none of us propose to have a ready answer.

Reasonable conservation should always be practiced, especially in the home — but we doubt if this can cure our ultimate ills. Nationally speaking, the answer appears to rest in scientific research, and in creation of dams and lakes which, for the past 20 years, have been foremost in government conservation efforts.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bradie

Rabindranath Tagore's "confidence of love" built a bridge of understanding between East and West. The great Indian poet believed St. Paul's words, "We are members one of another," and traveled the Orient, England and America to inspire men with a consciousness of their oneness in God.

He brought back an understanding of the "West's strength of reality (and) practical good" to India, and in 1913 the Nobel Prize. Tagore established a university devoted to universal understanding. He believed that the lives of the founders of religions "had the deeper implication of a Being who is Infinite in Man, the Friend, the Lover, whose service must be realized through serving all mankind."

Vladimir's Decision Has Had Far-Reaching Result

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of five articles, presented as a public service, about the threat and challenge of communism. They are the result of study and travel by the author, who spent last summer in the Soviet Union. He was born in Mission, Tex., and received his B. A. degree from the University of Texas, the B. D. degree from Vanderbilt University and did two years of graduate study at Harvard and Boston Universities. His church affiliation is with the Southwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church and he is ordained in The United Church of Christ. He is minister of The Federated Church, Sherborn, Mass., a union of all Protestants in the town.

BY JAMES E. TURNER
It was one of the princes of Kiev calling himself Vladimir, "Ruler of the World," who decided to become a Christian. His decision was to have a far-reaching effect on the course of Russian history.

The Russians of Kiev adopted Christianity in its Eastern Greek orthodox form near the year 1,000. Constantinople, then the seat of the Greek Orthodox Church, was at the height of its power, and indeed was considered the second Rome, the center of the civilized world. At about the same period, the Poles turned to the Pope in Rome and became Roman Catholic. Thus was a rift created between Russia and her fellow Slavic nation, one that has endured right down to our time.

Following the pattern of all state churches, the Russian Orthodox Church became an instrument of the state and a supporter of the status quo. Before the Revolution, the Czars merely used the Church to help the people to be content with their pitiful plight. There was no prophetic voice and the true biblical witness was almost lost in the Church.

It is to the eternal credit of the ruthless Communists that in the 1920's they completely closed the Church and in no way attempted to use it for their own selfish goals. However, since World War II the Church has been "free" (after a fashion) to operate. But many fear that the Orthodox Church is being used in one way or another as an instrument of Soviet power. And any informed Christian recognizes that actual closing is preferable to this situation.

The Russian Orthodox Church is attended almost entirely by elderly women. Thus, it does not take much vision to see that these churches will close of their own accord when these old women die off. And this is exactly what is happening.

For example, in Odessa three years ago, there were 21 churches. Today, only 12 remain operative. The government uses all deliberate speed to accomplish her objective. This is a real challenge to the Church, but there is no indication that the Church in Russia will meet it.

The one possible ray of hope in the situation is in the growth of Protestant sects in the Soviet Union. In Sochi, a factory manager vacationing in this resort town said he knew of several sect groups operating in the Ukraine, including the Seventh Day Adventists.

I talked with the Pastor of the Moscow Baptist Church for over two hours one Sunday after one of his three services. He insisted that he was free to preach as he pleased, without fear of incrimination. He was quick to add that he stuck to the Gospel and the Bible and did not speak on political questions. He insisted that persecution is less now than under the Czars.

The "Baptist" Church in Moscow is in reality not a real Baptist church. Rather, it should be called Evangelical Protestant. The Pastor related that they average about 200 converts and baptisms each year, many of them coming from the Komsomol, the Young Communist leagues, and some from the

Gravel Train Smashes Into Freight at Depot

One of the worst wrecks which has ever occurred at Hereford happened here late Friday afternoon. A through freight was standing on the main line cooling off a hot box near the engine. It was a long train and the caboose stood right opposite the freight depot. This train had passed the gravel train a few miles west, and the latter came down the grade across the creek with high speed, the trainmen, no doubt thinking that the train ahead had passed Hereford. As No. 1133 came up the grade toward the yard, the wind directly in line with the train, blew the steam from the "pop-off" right along the track in front of the engine. This cut off the view, but a rift in the steam cloud revealed the rear of the other train a few hundred yards ahead, and No. 1133 was too close to stop the heavy loaded train. The whistle shrieked as if in distress, the engineer worked the reverse lever, and then both he and the fireman left the cab. In a few seconds the big engine plowed into the caboose, jamming it under a car of cement, stripping the caboose to the floor. The cement car telescoped another car, also loaded with cement. The rear of the big engine was lifted into the air and the momentum of the heavy train turned it off the track and it fell broadside at almost right angles to the line. The tender lay along side the helpless monster.

Grading on the direct route from Hereford to Dimmitt will get under way next week, the Deaf Smith county commissioners decided at their regular meeting last Monday. The decision followed word from Castro county officials that their section of the road is to be completed shortly. The county's grader will not be available until some time next week, Commissioner Jack Rose said, but will be placed on the new route as soon as possible. Only a short time will be required to grade the four or five miles between 25 Mile Avenue and the county line, which is the new section of the road in this county.

HARVEST OPERATIONS HALTED

Harvesting came to an abrupt halt in Parmer County and surrounding area Sunday evening as high winds and rain ushered in a cold, wet period. The gusty, cold wind struck north Parmer County at about 5:50 p.m. Sunday and swept across the county leaving from one-quarter to three-quarters inch of rain and some hail in its wake. By Monday, the cotton had begun to string out and droop from the burr. As the soaking wet weather continued Tuesday, several small, white clumps could be seen dropping to the ground as the well-opened Paymaster 54-B soaked up too much moisture for the burr to hold.

PROSPECT BRIGHT FOR RAILROAD

Possibility of a railroad into Denver City — which at one time was thought to be rather remote — was revealed this week by Mrs. R. E. Campsey, acting secretary of the Denver City Chamber of Commerce. The announcement was made following a special meeting Monday afternoon of a committee headed by Jim Shoultz and Shirley Curry, to study the feasibility of securing rail service into Denver City. The committee met after Mrs. Campsey talked by telephone last Thursday with Tilford Bean, vice-president of the Georgetown Railroad, who was recently hired by the Permian Basin Railroad Company as special coordinator. The company was formed several months ago to build a short line railway from Odessa to Andrews to Seminole and Seagraves.

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher discusses Russian education this week. Anything to get the spotlight off his education.

Dear editor:

In between all those test bombs the Russians have been setting off recently there was an interesting piece of news out of Russia that I read in a newspaper an insurance salesman left out here — incidentally, I didn't take any of his insurance, on account of we had a disagreement on what extended coverage included; he said it included such things as hail, windstorms, lightning, etc., and I thought it ought to cover Russian fallout — at any rate, to get on with this particular piece of news.

According to it, the late Stalin's body, which has been kept in a glass tomb in Red Square for Russians to file by in hero worship, has been removed on order of Khrushchev, who is a candidate for the spot himself later on. Furthermore, the Russians have now been informed that Stalin was a bum.

Now I was just thinking, what sort of problem does this present to Russian school kids?

On Friday they took their home work with them, with an assignment to memorize the birth and death dates of Stalin and recite at least ten of his many heroic achievements for the People's Democracy. On Monday they were told to turn in their history books, due to a typographical error the books were wrong about Stalin.

I can hear a good Communist teacher telling her pupils: "I just don't know how such an error could creep in, I should have caught it myself, but everybody knows, if he listened to the radio Sunday that Stalin is no hero and never was. What I said about him Friday when I was bragging on him, you will immediately erase from your minds."

I tell you, teaching school in Russia must be a trying job. If everything you learn is going to be subject to change without notice, you might as well play it safe and stay ignorant. The only people who came out on the long end of this latest Russian switch were the Russian school kids who failed to do their homework on that weekend.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BEAUTIFUL PEST
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The violet and white water hyacinth is one of Florida's most attractive flowers — and the worst pest in its fresh water.

The state has spent thousands of dollars combating this floating plant, which often drifts into packed masses so thick that boat traffic is impossible. It is difficult to rid a stream of water hyacinths because they grow sprout from seeds which will lie dormant for years before bursting into growth.

SHOT NO DUCKS
FARGO, N. D. (AP) — Richard H. Rufer, 26, chalked it up as "my bad day" when he went duck hunting. In rapid order: he got soaked helping his dog which was attacked by a beaver, was stopped for speeding, couldn't find his driver's license in his hunting clothes and was notified he was being recalled to duty with his National Guard unit.

WE GIVE VALUABLE S & H GREEN STAMPS

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

A wonderfully humorous new novel is Give It Back To The Lemongrowers! by Willard Temple.

Sam Gillespie bought some real estate in the sleepy, picturesque town of San Manuel, Cal. Sam was a wheezing, dealing real estate operator and he felt that all the town needed was a little push.

He sent his assistant, Dan Hoskins, to push through a zoning change that would allow Sam to convert lemon groves into 800 houses and a shopping district.

What he didn't take into consideration was that tiny, old Hester Fay controlled the town and what she said was law. She had the vote of two of the zoning commission members to keep San Manuel the way it was. Two businessmen want to see the expansion.

So the key is George Pringle, a young man who had moved from New York City to San Manuel for the easy, unhurried life it offered.

George's wife was ambitious for him to move up and become a wheel.

Dan felt torn between his employer and Mrs. Fay's lovely niece, Diane.

The battle raged, through parties, dinners, tennis and business. The Fay forces had time and money on their side. Gillespie had money. He even bought a building site, leased a large house and took up horseback riding.

As the jacket blurb puts it, the battle was between the 'dozers and the dozers.'

Temple's book is truly a funny book, one that will make you chuckle or even laugh out loud. It is in the Deaf Smith County library.

Another new book in the library is a large non-fiction volume, The Children of Sanchez.

It is the autobiography of a Mexican family, arranged by Oscar Lewis. This is definitely a adult fare.

Lewis is a trained social scientist and has done several case studies in Mexico. But this one utilizes a different technique. Lewis was doing research in Mexico City when he met the Sanchez family.

He decided to study them in depth. This was done through use of a tape recorder, eliminating his own questions and arranging their stories into coherent patterns that had continuity.

But let Lewis tell about it:

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

GIANTS VS. DODGERS!

That headline is making news quite often these days on the West Coast . . . where the transplanted Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants are spirited rivals whenever they meet.

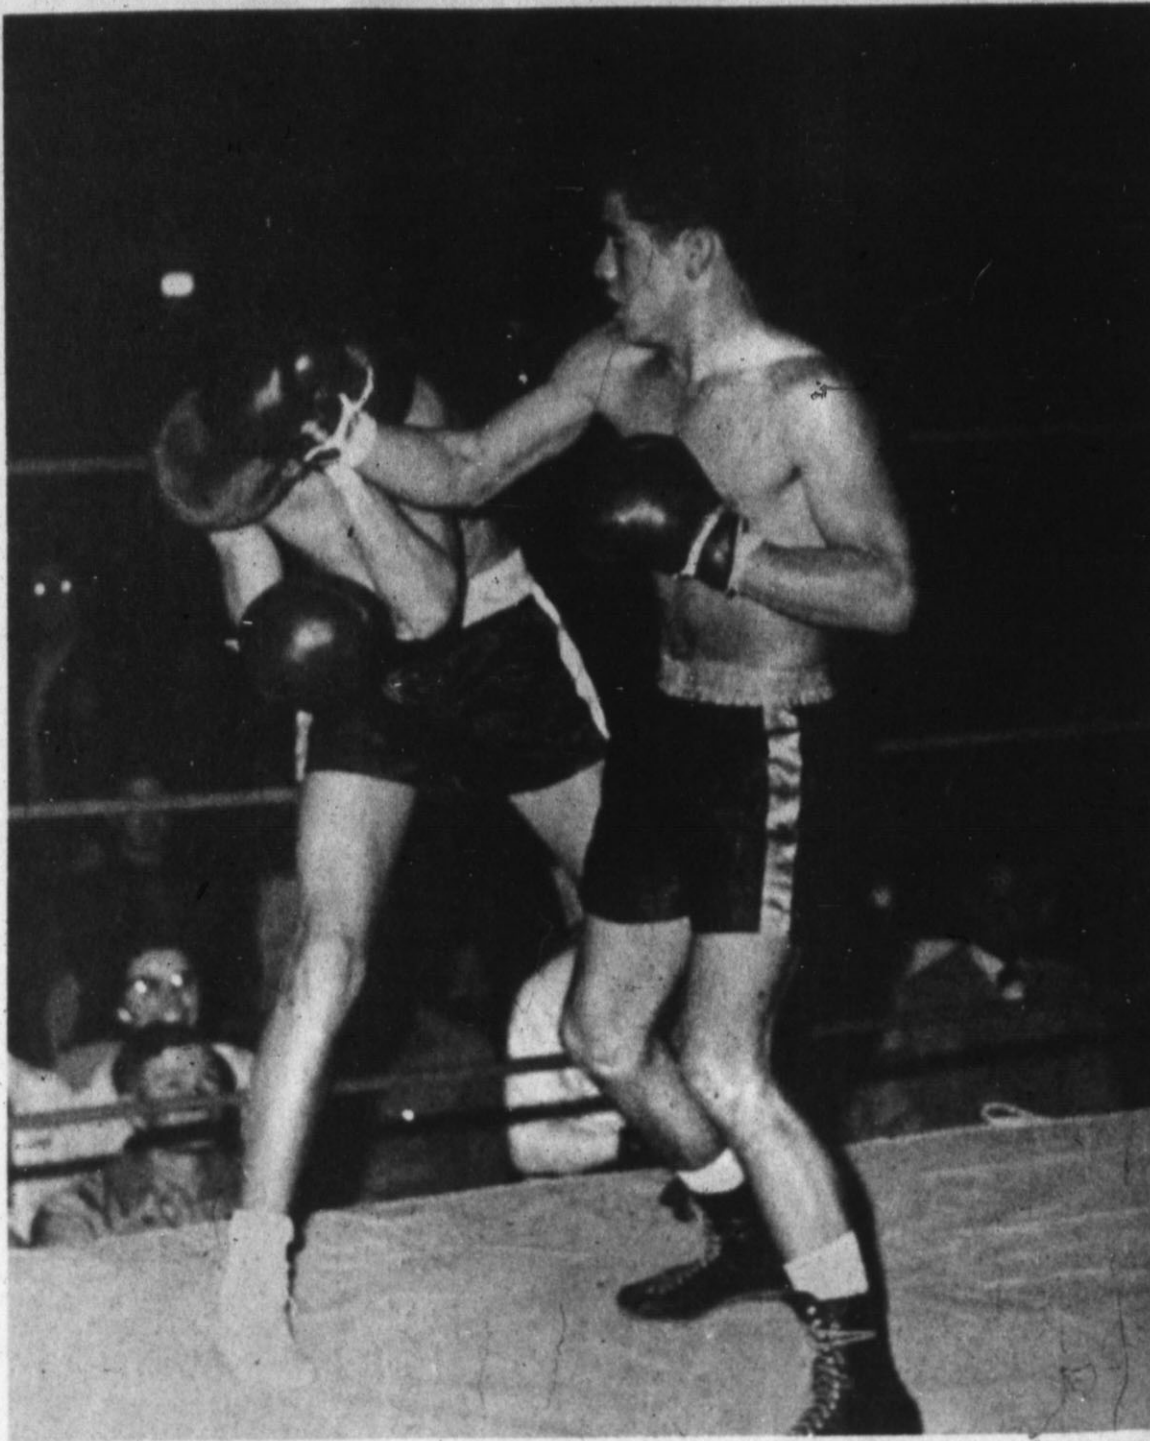

But do you remember the dramatic play-off game between these two teams not so many years ago . . . the game that decided a pennant race?

The Dodgers had got way out in front that year, and in August it looked as if they couldn't be headed. Then the Giants began their drive. Leo Durocher's men closed fast in a whirlwind finish . . . and tied the Dodgers on the last day of the season!

Then came the dramatic playoff . . . and that electric moment when young Bobby Thomson became a hero, as he drove one of Ralph Branca's pitches into the lower left field stands at the Polo Grounds for a home run . . . to win the game and the pennant . . . and put the Giants in the World Series!

Remember the year? Savings were important to a car buyer that year, just as they are today. People were enjoying the feeling of being able to shop around for a good deal, for the highest savings.

The year was 1951. Counting up your real savings is the only sensible way to figure your best new car deal. Compare our price on a new '62 Ford . . . compare our higher trade-in allowance . . . our budget terms. The facts count up to a better buy at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co. Inc., W. Hwy. 60 at Miles, Phone EM-4-2727.

RIGHT HAND SWINGING and left hand out of gas in the third, but Torres had cocked, Hereford's Robert Torres forces Sieve Hall of Amarillo to cover up in the second round of their three-round scrap here Saturday evening. Both fighters ran out of gas in the third, but Torres had piled up enough points to win the decision in this 126-pound fight. (Staff Photo)

The book is about a poor family in Mexico City. Jesus Sanchez, the father, age fifty, and his four children: Manuel, age thirty-two; Roberto, twenty-nine; Consuelo, twenty-seven; and Marta, age thirty-two. My purpose is to give the reader an inside view of family life and of what it means to grow up in a one-room home in a slum tenement in the heart of a great Latin American city which is undergoing a process of rapid social and economic change.

Lewis feels that the multiple-autobiography method also tends to reduce the element of investigator bias. The father opens the story with his prologue. Then each child in return tells of his life, and the lives of those around, up to a certain point. This is done three times and Jesus Sanchez attempts to summarize his life and those of his children.

This book is violent, often brutal, occasionally boring. But it brings a real insight to the reader of the attitudes, the hopes, the dreams, the reality of lower class Mexicans. As lusty, as exciting as many novels, it is valuable contribution to understanding and study of the people in our ever-smaller world.

WHITEFIELD, Maine (AP) — In spite of two handicaps — age and loss of a hand — 84-year-old Arthur Merrigold has shingled the side of his woodshed.

With his 75-year-old wife helping — she passed him the shingles — Merrigold nailed with his good hand. The Spanish-American War veteran lost his hand in a sawmill accident in 1908.

THE NATURAL LIFE
HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Space scientist Dr. Werner von Braun, according to a story making the rounds here, was told by an elderly lady that she disapproved of scientists' efforts to go to the moon.

The German-born director of the Marshall Space Flight Center patiently explained why the United States wants to develop rockets for space travel.

The lady was unimpressed. "I think," she said, "that you folks ought to stay at home and watch TV like the Lord intended for people to do."

1961 NATIONAL THRIFT ESSAY CONTEST

For All 4th, 5th and 6th Grade Students

This contest is being sponsored locally by the four businesses below who strongly believe in teaching our young children the importance of thrift. Americans need to return to the philosophy and practice of thrift. Practicing thrift will develop the philosophy of thrift. The things we learn early are the things which usually remain with us for the rest of our lives. Children trained in thrift stand a better chance of being able to wisely manage their resources as they reach maturity.

The purpose of this contest is to encourage American youth to learn about the importance of thrift. To encourage the widest possible research on the subject selected. To use this essay program as one means of encouraging youth to understand and practice thrift personally.

Communist party. The Church there now has a membership of 4,500, with seven services a week. And if they are all as crowded as the several I attended, they would be considered a success by American standards. There was standing room only.

Reverend Ilya Orlov, one of the seven preachers in this Church, said that there are 545,000 members of this sect with 5,000 churches in the USSR. He recalled that there were only 100,000 members before the Revolution, and there is less oppression now than then.

Things could be better, now, and they have been worse. Sunday School is not allowed. Neither are other group meetings with the Pastor in charge. Street preaching is absolutely prohibited, as it is in many American cities. Youth meetings are forbidden, and a number of other minor restrictions serve to limit the scope of their work. They operate under certain restrictions now, they know what they are, so they make the best of the situation. For instance, several of the seven services include extended teaching sermons, thus fulfilling the role of a traditional church or Sunday School.

Dozens of people told me in Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, and Odessa that one's affiliation with a Christian Church is recorded on his record card. This may impair his chances for promotion and other privileges, particularly if his superior is a zealous Communist. This seems to be the major handicap that a Christian may experience.

In spite of these handicaps, there were many young people at the services and a considerable number of younger couples. The choir was marvelous. Legally, there is freedom of worship in Russia; but to be a Christian, one must pay the price. Advancement in one's job may be seriously impaired, some jobs are closed to Christians, and party as well as government policy, is geared to discriminate against one who calls himself a Christian. Whoever wants badly enough to be a Christian can and survive. Needless to say, there are no opportunists in the church—nobody comes to church because it is a good place to make contacts.

I talked with other persons in Moscow who knew about this church. They claimed that it was extremely aggressive in winning new converts. In fact, one man said that he went there once out of curiosity, and it was months before he could get rid of the follow-up visitors from the church who deluged him with literature and friendliness, hoping to win him into the fellowship.

After listening to three sermons in the Baptist Church, I am convinced that this is a Christian Church. Although a specific social or political emphasis was missing, the seeds for revolution and renewal are certainly in the Biblical message. This they are free to proclaim—perhaps as free as in America, for here we ministers are pressured by certain groups in and out of the Church who would always be happy to make the preacher a non-entity. Although the government is pursuing a policy of closing the Orthodox Church, the government and party are not leaving a vacuum. They are actually replacing the old (dead) Russian Orthodox religion with modern Communism.

Sunday in Russia is a day of planned and unplanned recreation and cultural opportunities. For example, on our Sunday evening in Leningrad, we went to the Ballet and it was a sell-out! Our Sunday evening in Odessa, we attended the Moiseyev Folk Ballet, the same eminent group that recently toured major cities in the USA. In Sochi, one Sunday evening, Van Cliburn played in the public park. Let us realize that we are going in the same direction here. Sunday is no longer a holy day for most people; rather, just another holiday.

We are living in a world where a Christian has to make hard decisions. Behind the Iron Curtain, the Christian Church finds itself collaborating in both atheistic materialism and the reform of the social conditions that the Church supported for centuries. The plain fact is that the Russian Orthodox Church forgot the poor under the Czars—and now the poor have forgotten the Church and sincerely believe in their new messiah, Communism.

We need to ask ourselves if—this professing anti-Christ—is the profane Reformation, bent as determinedly upon accomplishing the alteration of society as the Sacred Reformation accomplished the alteration of the Church? The Old Testament prophets abound in the possibility: "Behold the Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in his hand is mine indignation." Could it be that the failure of the church to be the Church is responsible for Communism? Could it be?

Are we strong enough to take the blame for our failure, or shall we continue in our self-deception? "Judgment begins in the household of God." One thing we do know. Never before have we faced a threat and challenge such as this! And the accompanying dangers are unthinkable! The question for this moment is, how much longer will we sit frozen? When will we arise to answer the challenge and meet the threat? I hope I have opened some insights as to the broad outlines of a possible course of action.
