

Rules Committee Stalls Energy-Plan Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter and House backers of his energy plan are trying to rally support after a parliamentary victory by foes threatened to leave the natural gas pricing section alone and vulnerable as adjournment nears.

The House Rules Committee voted unexpectedly Thursday to reject a plan to have a single vote on the five-part energy package. Backers had hoped for a one-vote finale, feeling support for other sections would carry along the gas-pricing part, which Carter has called the centerpiece of the bill.

But the committee also rejected a plan to have each of the five parts brought up separately, a plan opponents wanted because they feel there is strong enough opposition to kill the gas section on its own.

That left the package in a kind of legislative limbo that House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill and committee members were still trying to sort out one day before the scheduled Saturday adjournment.

The gas-pricing section, part of the Carter energy program first sent to Capitol Hill almost 18 months ago, would lift federal controls on natural gas prices by 1985, while allowing substantial increases over the current federally regulated price in the meantime.

The bill, a compromise worked out by House and Senate negotiators, is opposed by an unusual coalition of conservative Republicans, House members from gas-producing states and Democrats who say it would raise consumer prices unfairly. Both sides say a vote on that section alone would be extremely close.

Until Thursday, the energy proposals appeared headed for approval by the House. Instead, opponents managed to defeat the single-vote idea on an 8-8 Rules Committee vote, the same vote that greeted the proposal to split the package into five parts.

The important of the vote was underscored by heavy administration lobbying, including a last-minute telephone call from Vice President Walter F. Mondale to Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y. She voted against the administration.

Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger joined with House leaders until late Thursday night in new efforts to count votes and plot strategy.

In the Senate, where the natural gas bill has already won approval, the tax portion of the energy package also suffered a setback Thursday when Sen. James Abourezk successfully forced postponement of a vote until Saturday, the last day of the congressional session.

The South Dakota Democrat said he was attempting to frustrate plans to attach the tax bill to the rest of the energy plan awaiting final action in the House.

The bill provides tax credits of up to $300 for home insulation, up to $2,200 for solar heating equipment in homes and a 10 percent investment tax credit for businesses which purchase energy-saving equipment.

Another provision would put a tax of $200 to $550 on 1980 model cars getting less than 15 miles per gallon.

Abourezk waged a one-man filibuster against quick consideration of the tax bill, and in response Senate leaders arranged for a vote cutting off debate on Saturday.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK is Oct. 8-14 this year, and it almost slipped by without us noticing. Inside today's issue you'll find some information concerning the observance, along with a salute to our newspaper carriers. For those who receive their papers from a carrier, we hope you'll keep the list of carriers and routes.

Regarding the observance of National Newspaper Week, we'd like to publish a guest column by Allen H. Neuharth, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association:

In today's busy, boisterous and sometimes mind-boggling world, a good daily newspaper is the best friend a community can have.

The local newspaper can reach out every day in a very special way to help every one in that community have a better day. That means trying to do many things for many readers.

For all readers, that means all the news developments of the day — the good news and the bad, the hard news and the heartwarming, the significant and the statistics, all the happenings that all of us must understand if we are to succeed as a nation of the people, by the people, for the people.

For the concerned reader, that means the watchdog role of the free press, a cornerstone of this free society from the nation's capital to the smallest hamlet, to the most basic elements of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That role of the press is not to cause trouble, but to help correct trouble or, better still, to help avoid trouble before it starts.

For the curious reader, that means the pulsebeat information of the day — acts of government, decisions of courts, results in sports, ups and downs of the stock market, names in the news.

For the active reader, the calendar — where to go, what to do, when to do it, how to get the most from every minute.

For the thinking reader, a diversity of opinion — the editorials, the columnists, the letters, the cross section of views, not to tell the public

Education Board Hears Testimony That Bilingual Ed Not Answer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A bilingual teacher with a Spanish surname asserted Thursday that bilingual education through the 12th grade is not the way to prepare Spanish-speaking students for an English-speaking world.

The views of Maria Gonzales, a first grade teacher in San Angelo, and more than 60 others were presented to a committee of the State Board of Education.

The board is reviewing its proposal to make bilingual education for limited English-speaking children mandatory through the fifth grade, with additional English language training continuing through the final year of high school.

State law now requires schools to provide bilingual programs in kindergarten through the third grade if they have 20 or more children of limited English-speaking ability in any grade.

Ms. Gonzales said forcing schools to teach Spanish beyond the third grade works to the "disadvantage of the children." She said Spanish-speaking parents want their children to learn English.

"After all," she said, "this is an English-speaking world, and when they go out from school they will get everything in English."

"I'd like to ditto everything the young lady had to say," said Superintendent

Gordon Harmon of Abilene. "What's good for Harlingen is not necessarily good for Abilene and wouldn't necessarily work in San Angelo and Lubbock."

"We entered the project bilingual education with an attitude of 'Do it right,'" said Superintendent Roger Gee, of Victoria. "...but you're not asking what our needs are - you're telling us what our needs are."

Elementary school teacher Theresa Black of Goldthwaite said the proposed plan would be "one more step toward the destruction of the American education system."

Such comments were punctuated by applause from a crowd that was so large that many had to sit on the floor or stand in the hearing room.

"We're overwhelmed with the crowd," said committee chairman E.R. Gregg Jr. of Jacksonville, who said he was not bilingual and apologized for his pronunciation of some of the witnesses' names.

Paul Velez of the American GI Forum insisted that the plan "does not go far"

Hance Chili Supper Planned for Monday

A free chili supper in support of Kent Hance's candidacy for U.S. Representative, 19th District, will be sponsored here Monday night by friends of the state senator.

The supper is scheduled in the Hereford High School cafeteria from 6 to 8 p.m., with the general public invited to attend and visit with Sen. Hance and his wife, Carol.

Local Hance supporters announced that contributions for the campaign will be welcomed at the supper.

process through until each party is at peace with all the others." Carter said at an opening White House ceremony.

Alli, the defense minister in Egypt's new "peace" government, pledged to work for a comprehensive settlement "which insure the fulfillment of the legitimate rights of the Palestinian people and enables them to play a constructive role in a peaceful Middle East."

There is no sign so far that Jordan and Palestinian representatives are willing to join second-stage negotiations with Israel and Egypt to determine the future of the west bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

Carter said the alternative to negotiations "is drift, stalemate, continued enmity and perhaps even another war."

The welcoming ceremony reflected the

Houston-Lubbock Interstate Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senate-House conference committee members were optimistic today that a highway and mass transit compromise that includes an interstate link between Houston and Lubbock would be approved by the Congress and President Carter.

The so-called "Port to Plains" roadway would tie Interstate 27 with Interstate 10, which stretches from Houston to El Paso by way of San Antonio.

Negotiators worked on the differences between a $60.9 billion House bill and the $51.2 billion Senate version. They came up with a figure of $53.8 billion, still a tidy sum more than the $48.5 billion called for in Carter's budget.

Both Texans on the conference committee - Democrat Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney, also a Democrat - predicted the compromise would be to the liking of both the president and Congress.

"The people of West Texas have fought for the 'Port-to-Plains' highway for a long time," said Bentsen, who chaired the Senate conferees. "The highway bill designates it as a demonstration project for a new connector primary highway program I have proposed...intended to fill in some of the gaps left by our interstate system."

A second "connector primary" highway linking Interstate 40 in Amarillo with Interstate 10 in Las Cruces, N.M., was also approved.

The estimated cost of each four-lane, limited access highway was not immediately available because the state must decide the route of the new roads and choose between two types of federal financing.

One plan calls for the federal government to pay for 90 percent of the project if Texas chooses to provide the remaining 10 percent from its primary highway fund. The alternative allows the

Carriers To Be Honored

The Brand salutes its carriers! Saturday is National Newspaper Carrier Day, which focuses attention on boys and girls everywhere who handle one of the newspaper industry's most important areas—delivery. Without carriers, The Brand would find it difficult to exist. Many adults in Hereford will remember their first job experience as that of a newspaper carrier. Values such as business sense, dependability and public relations are learned as a Brand carrier. Mayor Bartley Dowell, listed among numerous prominent businessmen who are ex-Brand carriers, has proclaimed Saturday Hereford Carrier Day. See page 5 for a list of carriers.

A United Way Agency Salvation Army's Services Diversified

Editor's note: The following is one in a series of articles on agencies participating in Deaf Smith County United Way. All United Way agencies urge citizens to support the campaign, which officially kicks off on Oct. 18 and includes a goal of $199,815.

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Salvation Army does a lot of things in Deaf Smith County which are done by other types of agencies in other cities, says local director Vance Crume.

"But there aren't those types of agencies in Hereford. So we do it," Crume said.

Helping transients is probably the single most important service provided by the local Salvation Army unit.

"If a transient comes through here and needs a meal or lodging, we put them up. We'll buy them a room at a motel or meals or whatever. We've even bought shoes," Crume said.

"Sometimes we'll send them to Amarillo or Clovis for food or lodging. Sometimes, they get a job there.

"Salvation Army helps people who really need help. We have actually loaned money to people to buy food stamps. If a person's welfare check wasn't going to come in at the time they needed food stamps, we've loaned them money, and most of them pay us back."

The Salvation Army isn't limited to providing services to indigents or travelers. Unexpected needs of individuals or families also are filled by the United Way agency.

"When the tornado struck here several years ago, Salvation Army had a mobile unit here the next morning. We fed people and did anything we could do," Crume said.

"The Salvation Army Service unit here is well aware of the potential for horrors, and disaster services are one of the main categories of our attention."

Disaster canteens in 14 strategically-located corps cities, including Amarillo, throughout Texas are ready in case of an emergency.

Salvation Army also helps families of prisoners through material aid and counseling.

The local service unit of Salvation Army has been allocated $5,000 by Deaf Smith County United Way.

"The money pays for meals, motel bills, whatever our operating expenses might be," Crume said.

"The service unit here is dependent on United Way funds to continue its work."

Salvation Army members in Deaf Smith County are Crume, Neil Cooper, Lola Faye Veazy, Jewel Smith, J.B. Pool and J.R. Johnson.

Prisoners Testify

About Overcrowding

HOUSTON (AP) - Prisoners have testified for nearly two weeks about overcrowding in the Texas prison system, and now a Harris County judge says witnesses brought here to testify are causing overcrowding in the county jail.

The inmates have filed a federal class-action suit against the Texas Department of Corrections, claiming conditions at the state's prisons are tantamount to cruel and unusual punishment.

Harris County Judge Jon Lindsay Thursday criticized U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice, the presiding magistrate in the suit, for "contributing to the overcrowding problem" at the county rehabilitation center by ordering it to house 33 state prisoners testifying in the trial.

"It really galls me that he ordered them put in the rehabilitation center when they could just as easily have been put in the TDC unit at Sugarland," Lindsay said.

What's worse, he said, as many as 100 more prisoners may be brought here later to testify in the case.

It is a common practice for the county to house federal prisoners, but Lindsay said it was "highly questionable" that one federal judge would order the county to reduce its jail population while another contributed to overcrowding.

Cleveland Teachers

To Return to Work

CLEVELAND (AP) - A 36-day strike by

Cleveland school employees has ended, but the ailing 100,000-pupil system still has plenty of problems.

Six unions representing 10,000 teaching and non-academic employees ratified a new contract Thursday by a 146-vote margin, ending the walkout that had closed schools since Sept. 7.

Non-teaching employees were to report to work today, with teachers returning Monday and most pupils directed to begin the school year on Tuesday.

Student carrying signs reading, "Let us learn," and "Back to school" were on hand as union members voted 2,358 to 2,212 to accept the new contract, reversing an earlier vote to reject it.

"We've been waiting," said Janet Brown, a 16-year-old senior whose mother is an elementary school teacher. "We can't eat and I can't learn."

The end of the strike does not, however, resolve other problems facing the Cleveland school district.

The walkout kept school officials from meeting a deadline for certifying its enrollment to the state, jeopardizing $34.5 million in state aid. Superintendent Peter Carlin said school officials would ask the Ohio General Assembly to free the funds.

Racehorse, Witness

Clash during Pre-Trial

HOUSTON (AP) - The key prosecution witness and the chief defense attorney verbally clashed several times during pretrial testimony in the Cullen Davis case Thursday.

And State District Court Judge Wallace Moore warned, "put in the record these two men don't like each other and I will have no more of this."

David McCrory, an FBI informant, and Richard "Racehorse" Haynes, the defense attorney, warred all day with first one and then the other tossing a verbal spear.

Haynes asked McCrory where he had gone on a day late in August, and the witness answered, "I stopped at a store and bought a six-pack of beer, your favorite brand Mr. Haynes."

The attorney leaped to his feet and said to the judge, "How does he know my favorite brand, if I have one? I resent that answer."

Earlier Haynes told McCrory that if he failed to understand a question "say so and I will rephrase."

Then when Haynes said he didn't understand an answer from the witness, McCrory said, "Mr. Haynes if you fail to understand an answer, say so and I will rephrase it."

Testifying under tight security with U.S. Marshal T.R. Coney of Houston always nearby, McCrory said his life had been threatened, he was afraid of being killed and had asked for federal protection.

Future-Year Cut

Endorsed by Houses

WASHINGTON (AP) - Backers of a plan to slash individual income taxes by an average 25 percent over the next five years are hoping to sell their idea to President Carter after picking up lopsided endorsement from the House and Senate.

Sens. Sam Nunn, D-Ga.; Lawton Chiles, D-Fla.; and Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., chief sponsors of the future-year tax cut, arranged a meeting today with Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal to outline their proposal. And they hoped to meet with Carter to seek his endorsement.

The Republican-backed plan to write tax reductions now for future years threatens to dominate a congressional conference that is attempting to reach a compromise on the bill, which was limited to a 1979 tax cut when it started out.

But differences between the House and Senate over how far to go with tuition tax credits for students in private schools - which Carter opposes - have given the conference another ticklish political problem to deal with as well.

Brand Honored

In connection with the observance of National Newspaper Week, the Whiteface Kiwanis Club Friday morning presented a certificate of appreciation to HERFORD BRAND publisher Speedy Nieman. Program chairman Robert Stewart, right, made the presentation on behalf of the club. Looking on, at left, is president Tommy

The certificate cited the newspaper for its "comprehensive reporting of news, for generous and unremitting support of community activities, and for unrelaxed vigilance in safeguarding the basic liberties of free speech." The Whiteface Club is making plans for an Arts & Crafts Show later this month.

DON'T PANIC

BY BOB WEAR

PANIC IS ONE of the mental and emotional experiences which will disorganize us to the extent of making us helpless, or worse. This feeling can cause us to do undesirable and harmful things which would never have occurred, if we had remained calm.

ALL OF US KNOW what happens when a group of people "panic". We know about the disorder, the destruction, the loss, and the general difficulties produced by the mental and emotional turmoil of "group panic". Nothing of value is accomplished by such lack of group control.

THE ORIGIN OF THE WORD "panic" is both interesting and significant. Pan was a god of Greek mythology who was thought to be half man and half goat. He was said to have caused people to feel sudden fear by his strange appearance, and thus the word "panic" comes from his name.

The point for us to remember is that this god was the figment of human imagination. He was not real. Therefore, the people had no rational, intelligent basis for their fear.

"A PANIC IS a sudden desertion of us, and a going over to the enemy of our imagination." - Bovee.

HERE IS SOME "PANIC": some unreasoning fright. Some people are doing such things as hoarding commodities of various kinds. They are afraid that there will be shortages which will affect them. Of course, if this "panicky" behavior becomes widespread enough; there will be shortages.

Yes, it does appear that there are some real shortages; but this is no time for "panic". This is the most damaging response to the present "energy crisis". Calmness, deliberate clamness is our need.

"Group Panic" is a threat to our well-being, but this is not the only panic which threatens us.

"PERSONAL PANIC" is a real possibility against which we must defend ourselves. Most of us, perhaps all of us, know this feeling; and we know how inept and awkward we are, when "panic" overcomes us.

The consequences of "panic," however, can be much worse than personal ineptness. We can be hurt in a variety of different ways, if we do not remain calm in the midst of unwanted and difficult problems and happenings. Calmness is so much better than "panic" which causes such terrible and costly mistakes, and sometimes death.

Our constant guideline must be, "don't panic". We cannot afford to lose control of our emotions.

"A PANIC is the stampede of our self-possession." - Rivald. WE MUST CONDITION OURSELVES through realistic and adequate understanding coupled with sound, practical viewpoints. Thus, we can apply the self-control which will keep our emotional upsets "below the panic level".

OCCASIONALLY, WE MAY NEED HELP to handle what happens. This help is available, and we must ask for it and accept it. "Don't Panic." THERE WILL BE INSTAN-CES when our poise is disturbed, when we feel some degree of confusion; but we can make sure that these are for the moment. We can handle them as part of our everyday living experience, by being sure that we "don't panic".

Smith Willing

To Attend

Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith told members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Thursday that he is willing to attend an all-parties conference on his country's future and its transition to black majority rule without any pre-conditions.

Smith was quoted by committee members as saying that he is ready to hold free and internationally supervised elections shortly after the first of the year based on the principle of one-man, one-vote.

"I think he's ready to go right now, without any preliminary work," said Sen. Richard Stone, to go.

In public statements in the past, Smith has resisted the all-parties conference concept because such a meeting would include guerrilla leaders whom Smith has said are dedicated to totalitarian Marxism.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., quoted Smith as saying that he would be willing to accept any "reasonable surveillance" of an election by the United States, the United Nations or any other appropriate international body.

Percy quoted Smith as saying that Secretary of State Cyrus Vance poorly briefed Rhodesian leader's positions and did not realize how far he was prepared to go to achieve an orderly transition in Rhodesia.

A meeting between Smith and Vance earlier this week ended with reports that the two had made no progress toward reaching agreement on the proper course to set to reach such a settlement.

Hereford Bull

what to think, but what it needs to know in order to think for itself.

For the lively reader, the light and bright and sometimes weird side of life - the real happenings to real people, the flesh and blood of the community that give warmth and reality to the news columns.

For the uneasy reader, the helpful hints for a better life - a directory for solving problems, for finding answers, for uplifting body and spirit.

For the shopping reader, the details from the marketplace - the daily scoreboard of prices, the special buys and latest styles and newest products, the classified guides to where to find a job or rent a house.

That takes hard work, professional commitment and good business management, as well. A good local newspaper must be successful both as a free press and as a free enterprise. It must fill both roles. It must be strong and independent journalistically and fiscally. It must speak its mind and pay its rent with equal conviction.

That is a very large order and a very necessary one, too, especially in these times when most communities can support only one successful newspaper operation. When a newspaper is the only game in town, it must bring everyone into that game.

A newspaper that delivers total performance to its total community, that reaches out every day in every edition to touch every reader with the news and information and service that will make life a little bit better, will fulfill its obligations and opportunities as a free press, as a free enterprise and as the best friend its readers ever had.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Neuharth also is president and chief executive of Gannett Co., Inc., which consists of 77 daily newspapers serving more than three million readers daily in 30 states and on the U.S. territories of the Virgin Islands in the Atlantic and Guam in the Pacific.)

enough," and Gus Garcia, a former Austin school board member who ran unsuccessfully for the state board, added: "The state board of education should be in the vanguard of bilingual education, but it has taken exactly the opposite position," refusing "to move unless forced by the federal government - and every step that it has taken has been taken begrudgingly."

Velez recommended that the proposed expanded bilingual program be paid for by the state - not the local school districts.

His recommendation that the option of parents to withdraw their children from bilingual programs be eliminated touched off a loud, "Ohhhh" from the crowd in opposition to the recommendation.

Velez maintained that science and mathematics are not optional, and "there is no difference in this case."

Superintendent Jesse Gomez of Harlingen said his district's student enrollment of 13,000 is 75 percent Mexican-American. He presented a school board resolution calling for state financial assistant to teach Spanish "as a second language" through the 12th grade.

"Once you move north of the Nueces River, you're not going to find many school boards who think they need bilingual education," said Superintendent John Briggs of Bay City.

"We need to draw the line and tell these people the federal government what we are going to do and what we are not going to do," he said.

Bentzen, however, noted that the Amarillo to Las Cruces highway will "be approximately 480 miles long and will generally follow U.S. highways 60 and 70."

The compromise also continues funding for railroad relocation projects in Brownsville and Greenville.

The Brownsville project calls for moving the Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific railroads from downtown Brownsville to the Port of Brownsville.

More than $1.2 million has already been spent on the project of engineering. The total cost is estimated at $24.4 million.

The Greenville relocation requires construction of an overpass to alleviate the problems at a railroad crossing that blocks access to a hospital. More than $4 million was allocated for the relocation, which has already cost about $200,000.

Compean stressed that he was not saying he endorsed Clements "or any other party other than Raza Unida."

Clements got in some licks of his own, coming out with a statement that hammered at a now-familiar theme. The statement said Hill's "10-year campaign to be governor is composed almost exclusively of a string of promises to vested interest groups. His most recent campaign financial statement alone shows that more than 70 vested interest groups, including out-of-state union contributors, have their hooks in him - to the tune of almost $200,000 - and there's no telling what some of these expect in exchange."

Hill's Happy With Federal Veto Decision

By The Associated Press

Texas political activity focused on the race for governor Thursday, with Democratic hopeful John Hill happy about some new-found power and Republican Bill Clements the recipient of some new-found help.

Hill bragged about winning agreement from the federal government to give Texas what he called veto power over any nuclear waste storage sites.

"This is a significant step in my continuing efforts to make certain our citizens are fully protected from any hazards of nuclear waste disposal," Hill said.

Two Texas sites are now under consideration as nuclear waste disposal sites.

"The Energy Department is investigating sites in Randall County in the Panhandle and in Anderson County in East Texas as possible nuclear waste storage areas, and I'm sure it will be welcome news to residents of those counties that the federal government will not locate a nuclear waste disposal site in their communities without first getting approval of the state of Texas," Hill said.

While Hill's good news came from the federal government, Clements' good news came from an opponent - Raza Unida candidate Mario Compean.

"The goal of the Raza Unida party is to break up the political monopoly that has controlled Mexican-Americans," Compean told a news conference in Austin. "The next best thing would be to vote for

At birth . . .

High school graduation . . .
Your engagement and then marriage . . .
The arrival of your children . . .
Your 25th-50th anniversaries . . .
And finally, death.

Your life is reported step by step in your community newspaper.

There may be, and probably are, many more reports on you through your lifetime. The day you hit three for four in the high school baseball game; the afternoon you won the forensics title for your college; the first prize in the Halloween contest that went to your young daughter; the time you ran for the school board and had your biography in the newspaper; or the letter to the editor you wrote on a current topic.

Yes, you are an important part of your community's newspaper. You and your neighbors continue to create the history of your community through this vehicle.

A considerable share of this history includes the bargains brought by the merchants and the classified ads presented to you through your friends and neighbors who are buying and selling, renting or leasing, losing and finding . . .

Another ingredient - the legal notices presented to you by governmental units or local lawyers. These notices and reports give you a running legal documentation that only your local community newspaper can provide.

All of these services cost so little . . . just pennies an issue. In fact, most of you are so proud of your local community newspaper that you subscribe a year at a time instead of a week at a time.

After you read the newspaper and clip out the items that pertain to you and your family and send an item to Uncle Jake or a picture to Aunt Maud, your newspaper is still valuable for so many reasons. It can start the flame for the fireplace; line the cabinet shelves or drawers or even the cat's litter box; serve as protection against paint drops . . .

Literally thousands of uses are attributed to your community newspaper after its first need is fulfilled.

Or, you can stack it in the garage for the local paper drive, when it's gathered with thousands of others to be recycled and brought to you a second time - again, to teach and entertain.

World of Opera Studied by Club

Dawn Music Club met at Dawn Community Center Tuesday, Oct. 10 with Mrs. Alfred Smith acting as hostess. President Mrs. Ray Stewart, presided at the business session.

The program for the year was reviewed with special events being emphasized.

The first special event will be a chili supper to be held Oct. 31, Halloween night, from 5 to 8 p.m. at Dawn Community Center.

Roll call was answered with each member telling of a musical memory from childhood.

Memories included taking part in school operettas, first solo parts, (one being Queen of the Night with appropriate costume, and getting the costume hung on the stage scenery before leaving the stage). One member musical education was influenced by an Uncle and the family group singing. One prepared for an important role in a school musical, took her costume home and her mother refused to let her wear it because it was too revealing.

Many members remembered families gathered around the old organ to sing hymns and one told of a family band of fiddle, guitar and other instruments of the time who called relatives on the first telephones in Deaf Smith County to broadcast the music to them.

Mrs. Ronnie Johnson and Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger were elected delegate and alternate to the District I Federated Music Club Convention to be held in Borger Nov. 4.

Mrs. Gerald Parker and Mrs. Genevieve Miller were accepted as associate members of the club.

The study book for the year is World of Opera - Once Over Lightly with members performing "Hansel and Gretel" by Engelbert Humperdinck. Narrator and reading the resume of the origin of "Hansel and Gretel" was Mrs. H.V. McCabe accompanied by Mrs. Carl Wimberley.

"Susy, Little Susy" was sung by Mrs. Ronnie Johnson. Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger vocalized "When You're Sad", and "They Dance for Joy" was rendered by Mrs. Bill Caraway. "Little Man" was performed by Mrs. Bill Caraway. "Mister Sandman" was sung by Mrs. Reece Stewart. Voicing "The Prayer" was Mrs. Bill Caraway, and singing "O Magic Castle" was Mrs. Ray Stewart.

Mrs. Ronnie Johnson vocalized "Nibble, Nibble Mousekin", rendering "The Broomstick Dance" was Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger, and "We are Free" was sung by an ensemble of members.

The Hymn of the Month was given in unison.

Others attending were Mmes. J.B. Caraway, Roy G. Manning, and Melissa Caraway.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14, in the home of Mrs. J.B. Caraway. The program will be "Italian Opera".

All in the Hands

Ruth McBride employed a number of gestures Thursday afternoon as she discussed interior decoration for a crowd of spectators at the Community Center. Mrs. McBride's program was one of several presented this week as part of Women's Emphasis Days, which was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, Joan Coupe was chairman of the public affairs committee, which staged the informative programs, films and demonstrations.

Women At Work

Women today make up almost half the work force, United States Department of Labor Statistics show, and over 35 million women hold jobs outside their homes.

One successful working woman is Mrs. Winifred T. Wells, a North Carolina attorney. She has served as county attorney and resident judge and was recently elected, with Dr. Henry Ponder (President of Benedict College, a member of the United Negro Fund) to the Board of Directors of J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc.

Some seven percent of the lawyers and judges in the country and about ten percent of America's physicians and surgeons are women.

National School Lunch Week "Eat to Learn...Learn to Eat" is the theme of National School Lunch Week, October 8-14.

This week is to make students, parents, teachers and other people all across the nation aware of good nutrition and the benefits of eating a well balanced lunch at school.

The American School Food Service Association has prepared what they call a "Universal Menu" which will hopefully be served to many of the 26 million school lunch eating students on October 11. The menu meets the Type A lunch standards set by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) to supply at least a third of the Recommended Dietary Allowances for children. The balanced Four Food Group meal consists of:

Oven Fried Chicken Mashed Potatoes and Country Gravy

Carrot and Celery Sticks Orange Wedges Angel Biscuits and Honey Butter

Oatmeal Raisin Cookie Milk

Thirty-two years ago Congress recognized the need to improve the nutrition and eating habits of school children. They established the School Lunch Program as a laboratory that is done because that's his responsibility. A bribe tells a kid that he should get something for everything he does.

I am continually amazed at how often we bribe our children. In the adult world it would be a GIGANTIC insult.

When a child is expected to do his chores, take a nap, etc, it

I contend that children will produce what's expected of them. Let's expect responsible, cooperative little people who will grow into adults who are likewise.

Uneducated Doctors

DEAR ANN: I agree that "Muffed It In Mass." is probably imagining a lot - but please don't assume that simply because a physician, his X-rays and other tests can't pinpoint a physical ailment, that it doesn't exist.

After six years of complaining, two hospital stays, countless X-rays and gastrointestinal examinations, my "specialists" insisted there was nothing wrong with me. They said at my age 22 the disease "supposedly" had was very rare. The diagnosis was "emotional." I was put on tranquilizers.

One alert doctor suggested a final test - the Meltzer-Lyon Study. It proved that I had an organic problem - gall bladder. Surgery was indicated. The operation was a success and today I'm in excellent health.

Longhorns Lose Tough 22-6 Battle

The Hereford Longhorn JV team lost a tough battle here Friday night in Whiteface Stadium to visiting Amarillo High.

When the dust had settled, the visitors had left, and taken with them a 22-6 victory.

The young Herd team reportedly had five turnovers in the game according to coach Kenny Barnes.

Barnes said the turnovers were especially hard because they occurred inside their own 20-yard line.

Barnes did say the Longhorns played well overall adding, "We need to get a little more consistent on offense."

The 'Horns lone score came from quarterback James Valdez. Amarillo's JV scored on runs of two, six and one.

Hereford JV's face Lubbock High here next week.

The Hereford Sophomores bombed Muleshoe's JV team 25-6 here Thursday afternoon at Whiteface Stadium.

Coach David Ashby reported the Shorthorns played aggressive offense against the Mules and on defense.

Harold Terry scored one TD for Hereford when he rounded left end and ran about 55 yards for paydirt.

Two more Shorthorn touchdowns were produced by Danny Schmucker. The Herd defender intercepted two Mule passes and returned them for 30 and 65 yard touchdowns.

Scott Daniels booted a 27-yard field goal to round out the Shorthorn scoring, although they did secure a Mule safety after Ruben Garnardo blocked a punt.

The Shorthorns are open next week and then play Dimmitt.

The LaPlata 9th grade Mavericks bounced Borger 21-12 in Bulldog Land Thursday.

Coach Joe Spann said the Mavericks played, "really well on offense and defense."

Borger scored the first game touchdown, then the Mavericks came right back with a 20-yard touchdown pass from Alan Wartes to Don Delozier, making it 7-6.

Hereford came right back again with a 12-yard run by Jeff Coupe and then a 37-yard field goal by Aubry Richburg made the halftime score read 15-6.

Coach Spann said neither team scored in the third quarter, but the Mavericks grabbed another TD with just 11 seconds left in the game when Wartes scooted across for paydirt from the three.

The Mavericks play Plainview Blue here Thursday in Whiteface Stadium at 4 p.m. Their record is now 4-0.

The La Plata 8th graders edged the visiting Borger Bulldogs 21-18 here Thursday evening.

Kerry Beard scored a 50-yard touchdown to make the score 7-0, with Raymond Martinez kicked the extra point.

Beard scored two other Maverick TD's on two-yard runs with Martinez running for one conversion and two points.

The Borger defeat was reportedly their first.

Isaac Gamboa, Robbie Christy and Fedincio Garcia played especially well according to coach Asher Isaacs.

He said Garcia removed a fumble and played well defensively.

They play Plainview Blue here next Thursday at 4 p.m.

STANTON TIES
The Stanton 9th grade Dogies played the Bulldogs in Plainview Thursday in a tough and physical battle.

When the game finally concluded, the scoreboard indicated a 22-22 tie.

According to head coach Cuby Kitchens, Ray Harris did all the Dogies' scoring.

Kitchens said the game was really physical. "Plainview had a real large and physical bunch, but we played a respectable game against them."

He said quarterback Matt Collier played well for the Dogies. They play Plainview here next week.

The Stanton 8th grade bombed Plainview's 8th 42-20.

Nuggets File Suit Against Brokers

DENVER (AP) - The owners of the Denver Nuggets have filed a $2 million suit against a Denver brokerage house, claiming the firm backed out of a promise to place 400,000 shares of the National Basketball Association team's stock on the market.

The suit, filed Thursday in Denver District Court against Bosworth, Sullivan & Co., alleges that the firm had agreed to be the principal underwriter and place the stock at $7.50 a share on the market to generate $3 million.

The Nuggets had agreed to pay the NBA some $3 million when the team was granted an NBA franchise in 1976. The Nuggets were members of the now-defunct American Basketball Association.

Whitefaces, Cubs Scheduled Tonight

In last non-district a battle...

By DON INGRAM
Sports Editor

Tonight in Brownfield, the Herd meets the Cubs in Hereford's last non-district tilt before district warfare gets underway in two weeks.

Next week, the Herd schedule is open, then the fireworks really commence Oct. 27 with powerhouse Plainview scheduled to visit here on Homecoming.

Both Brownfield and Hereford are coming off losses last week. Brownfield lost to Andrews 36-7 while Amarillo High just barely slipped past the Herd 21-20.

The Cub loss was the third this season. They have lost to Andrews, Monahans and Levelland, while winning against Denver City and Seminole.

Last week, Brownfield had ten penalties for 110 yards.

BROWNFIELD ATTACK Brownfield reportedly uses quickness as their main asset, along with the Dallas-born 'flex' defense.

Assistant coach Stacy Bixler said this week that the Cubs are quick on defense and offense and like to use the Wish-bone offensively.

In the Harris Ratings, the Cubs are rated 126 out of 142 teams with a power rating of 117.2.

Hereford meanwhile, is rated 168 with a power rating of 132.4. In other words, the Herd is a 5-2 favorite over the 2-AAA Cubs.

In all, Hereford has racked up 902 yards total offense this year and has a game average of 180.4.

The Herd also has several district leaders in overall statistics.

Keith Adams heads up the receiving corps with seven receptions for 66 yards and a 9.4 catch average.

Paul Bell is 4th in rushing, after playing in just three games, with a 5.5 yard average per carry and 309 yards.

Joe Walker has a 3.1 average, accumulating 169 yards while Tony Garcia, who has just played in one game, has 50 yards.

Quarterback Jackie Mercer is 3rd in passing with a 6.9 average, while he leads in punting with a 39.0 average. Leading defenders Glen Yosten, who has an ankle injury according to coach Don Cumpston, and may not see action tonight, Richard Olsen, Steve Sauter, Bud Hughes, Robbie Fish, Terry Huffaker, Adams and Cory Christie.

Defensively, the Herd ranks last, next to Plainview in allowing total team offenses. Hereford has a 4.8 average against the run and a 16.9 against the pass for a combined average of 5.1 per offensive play.

In five games, the Whitefaces have allowed 1,466 yards total offense and have a game average of 293.2 yards.

The district defensive leader is Lubbock Coronado.

They allow an average of 209.6 yards per game and have allowed 1,048 yards total offense against them for a 3.7 average per play.

Dogers Want 3rd Bite Today in the Big Apple

Leading Yanks 2-0 in Series...

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Yankees, down 2-0 and in desperate need of a victory tonight in the third game of the World Series, give the ball to ace Ron Guidry, who won nearly 90 percent of his decisions this season.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, winners of both games at Dodger Stadium, respond with their proven postseason pitcher, Don Sutton. 15-11 in the regular season.

The Yankees have been about to go down for the third time on several occasions during their uphill season, and each time the skinny Guidry's powerful left arm tossed them a life preserver. Fifteen times Guidry has stopped Yankee losing streaks, and he has been the winning pitcher in New York's one-game playoff victory over Boston and its American League pennant-clinching triumph over Kansas City.

Does he like being the net underneath the Yanks' tight-rope act?

"I've learned to live with it," said Guidry, still modest despite the flashiest pitching statistics in recent baseball history.

The lean left-hander from Louisiana finished his remarkable season with a 25-3 record and a 1.73 earned run average, drawing admiration from another respected member of the pitching profession.

"Watching him pitch a couple of times this year I thought he was Sandy Koufax reincarnated," said Sutton. "Accidentally you should lose at least five games. Having seen him, I'm not surprised he is 25-3, just that anybody could be 25-3."

Guidry seems almost embarrassed by the superlatives and comparisons his gaudy record prompts.

"I don't feel like I'm the best pitcher," said the 28-year-old phenom. "When I sit alongside Jim Catfish Hunter, I feel meek. Here's a guy who's won 20 games for 50 years."

"All I've done was win 40 games in two years. Guys like Seaver, Palmer and Cat have 200 wins in eight or nine years. All I can say right now is that I was one of the best pitchers, that I had one helluva year."

"For me to be No. 1 would take a lot of consistent years of winning."

Guidry admits to tiring late in the season, but he was able to make the adjustment from an overpowering thrower to a pitcher who could win when he wasn't at his best. He gives catcher Thurman Munson credit for coaxing late-season wins out of a sleepy arm.

"He knows if I have good stuff, he doesn't worry about location," said Guidry. "When I have that extra foot on my fastball, he just puts down the glove."

"But when I don't have my best stuff, he moves the glove around a lot more."

Guidry says a tip-off for when his fastball isn't overpowering is when the weaker hitters in the lineup, who normally can't handle the outside fastball, continue to foul that pitch off.

With five days rest since his playoff win over Kansas City, Guidry says he feels strong, setting up a classic confrontation between Guidry's power and fastball and the Dodgers' power and fastball hitting.

"They have tremendous talent but I'm a power pitcher and it will be my power versus their power. I just hope to have a little extra to get by."

Dodger power was the difference in the first two games, with Davey Lopes providing a pair of homers in the first-game victory and Ron Cey smacking a three-run blast in Game 2. Five of the Dodger regulars have three hits or more, while starting pitchers Tommy John and Burt Hooton have pitched creditably and relievers Terry Forster and Bob Welch have nailed down the two wins.

Meanwhile, Reggie Jackson has hit the only Yankee homer and has been carrying the offensive load, knocking in half of New York's runs. The other major threats - Thurman Munson, Graig Nettles and Chris Chambliss - each have one hit. Of the six Yankee pitchers used thus far, only relief ace Rich Gossage have been especially effective.

Yankee Manager Bob Lemon says he hopes to have Chambliss and center fielder Mickey Rivers, both sidelined with injuries in Game 2, back in action tonight. The travel day should help the Yanks, who were hobbling and tired after the long haul of rallying from 14 games back, defeating Boston in a dramatic one-game playoff and downing Kansas City in a tense pennant series.

"We've been down all year," said Nettles. "Coming back is nothing new for us."

Playing in Yankee Stadium should be an additional edge for the Yankees because of the unique dimensions of the ballpark and the enthusiasm of their fans.

"Being the type of pitcher I am with breaking balls and pitching up, I have to be concerned about not hanging any pitches inside," said Sutton. "You don't have to hit the ball well down the lines. You have an airport in center field and I hope a lot of balls land there."

Last year, the New York fans gave the Dodgers a dose of eastern inhospitality, throwing bottles from the stands and at least one hard rubber ball, which beamed outfielder Reggie Smith.

"The New York fans are enthusiastic and try to make it tough on you," said Cey. "People are trying to disturb you and get nasty. We have to face up to them."

Match Play Continues

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) - Tom Watson today had the determined look of a man who's going to be the first to bank $400,000 in a single year just for knocking a little ball into a hole.

Thursday he battered Dale Hayes of South Africa to an 11 and 9 defeat in the first round of the World Match Play tournament on the Wentworth Club's 6,969-yard par-73 course. It was the heaviest defeat handed out in the 15-year history of the tournament, it included 11 birdies and an eagle. Midway through the 36-hole match, Watson had fired 10 consecutive holes in a staggering 9-under-par.

Watson said afterwards that those 10 holes - from the 15th in the morning round until the sixth in the afternoon - "were the best I've ever played."

If he wins the four-day tournament, Watson will collect another $60,000.

In today's second round, Australian Graham Marsh, the title-holder, was to play Britain's Nick Faldo, Spaniard Severiano Ballesteros was to play New Zealander Simon Owen.

Japan's Isao Aoki was to meet South African Gary Player. Watson was to go against American Ray Floyd.

Apart from Watson's brilliance, the day was a poor one for the Americans, with Watson and Floyd the only two from the United States to advance. Floyd beat PGA champion John Mahaffey 5 and 4, but U.S. Open champion Andy North, Andy Bean and Lee Elder all lost.

North went down 5 and 4 to Owen, the New Zealander who came a close second to Jack Nicklaus in the British Open last summer; Faldo, the 22-year-old British hope, beat Bean 5 and 4, while Isao Aoki of Japan beat Elder 5 and 3.

Gary Player, the Masters winner, who has won here five times - far more than anyone else - made a storming comeback after being four down against David Graham of Australia.

Player gradually chipped away at Graham's lead, squared the match at the 31st, then picked up two of the final four holes to win 2 and 1.

Marsh had a tough battle against Brian Waites, a British club professional, before winning 2 and 1.

Watson's crushing of Hayes started at the very first hole, with a birdie after his 4 iron landed 10 feet short of the pin. From then on, he scarcely put a foot down wrong. A 50-foot putt on the fifth for a birdie-2 put him 4-up, and throughout the round his putts were rolling in on rails.

Four times he sank from 12 feet, twice from 25 feet, and although Hayes fought a desperate rearguard action in the closing stages with 3 birdies over the last four holes he had to concede on the 27th after Watson sank a 25 footer.

Civitan LPGA Underway

DALLAS (AP) - The 24th edition of the $75,000 Dallas Civitan LPGA tournament begins today, with the field expected to end up chasing hometown favorite Kathy Whitworth.

The tall tour veteran from nearby Richardson has won the Civitan twice before and has banked more than $800,000 over her career.

Whitworth led the pack after Vivian Brownlee's title over the par-71, 6,350-yard Trophy Club golf course she describes as "deceptively hard."

"This course makes you think," she said. "Each hole is unique, so you have to play a lot of different golf shots. If the ladies play the par 3's well, the scores will be good."

Veteran Kathy Cornelius highlighted Thursday's pro-am by scoring a hole-in-one her 82nd LPGA tournament title, which would tie her with Mickey Wright as the all-time championship winner.

Observers ranked Pat Bradley, Sandra Palmer and Jane Blalock as the closest contenders for Whitworth's bid.

Bradley, the third leading money winner in the LPGA this year, was optimistic about her chances.

"I'm having the best year I've ever had," she said.

Brownlee, who took the 1977 tournament played at Dallas' Brookhaven course but hasn't won another tournament since, said the Trophy Club course is "playing long. I'm using all my clubs."

SW Football Sets Records

DALLAS-Southwest Conference football offenses are getting schizophrenic these days, what with trying to decide whether to set rushing or passing records.

Texas set the SWC team rushing mark of 3,745 yards in 1970, but Texas A&M is giving it a strong run with 1,588 yards through the first four games. That Longhorn team averaged 374.5 yards per game and the Aggies are at 397 per game going into their final seven starts.

Then there's passing, where SMU isn't quite up to the record pace by the 1976 Rice team—but closing fast.

The '76 Owls passed for 303.4 yards a game and after a busy day at the firing line in Saturday's 35-35 tie with Ohio State, SMU is gaining at the rate of 280 passing yards a game.

Not only are the Aggies ahead of the best rushing season ever posted in the SWC they're gaining at a rate that would top the total offense record. Arkansas averaged 445.3 yards in 1971, while the Aggies are gaining at 485.7 yards a game.

And individually, an Aggie and a Mustang are challenging the leaders.

Curtis Dickey had another outstanding day in the Aggies' 38-9 victory over Texas Tech to open up a 40-yard per game gap over Houston's Emmett King in individual rushing. Dickey is gaining 148.5 yards per game, eight yards a try and is scoring a touchdown every seventh time he handles the ball.

SMU's Mike Ford grabbed the passing lead with one of the top statistical days in SWC passing history. Ford's 36 completions are the second most ever by a conference passer in a game, being bettered only by another SMU sophomore against another Ohio State team, Chuck Hixson hitting 37 against the Buckeyes in 1968.

Ford's 57 attempts also ties for the fourth most in SWC annals and the 341 passing yards he gained is the 18th best.

Otherwise, A&M held onto the lead in five of the six team offensive and defensive categories. In addition to pacing the conference in total and rushing offense, the Aggies lead in total defense (160.2 yards a game), rushing defense (79.7) and passing defense (80.5 yards). The Aggie defense has yielded one touchdown in 354 plays run by four opponents.

Ford took individual leads in both passing at 20.7 completions per game and in total offense at 280 yards. Steve Smith, Baylor's transfer quarterback, held second in both categories at 16 completions a game and 206 yards.

Texas Tech freshman Maury Buford opened the widest lead in the individual categories, getting off a 75-yard punt and averaging 47 yards on nine kicks. Buford now holds a 46.1 average on 31 kicks while runner-up Russell Erleben of Texas, the 1976 NCAA champion, fell to a 42.4 average.

Tag Team Action Set

In one of the best tag team attractions brought to the Bull Barn by the Hereford Lions Club, it's the Orient against Amarillo this Saturday night.

Ricky Romero, 221 pound Mexican star currently residing in Amarillo, joins Terry Funk, 250 pound ex-world champion and movie star, against Mr. Onomi and Mr. Pogo. The Japanese team is managed by self-styled "Sir" Oliver Humpferdick, who equals in gross weight either one of his proteges. Mr. Pogo is a 270 pound martial arts expert from Tokyo, who has wrestled in Sumo, and holds a yo-dan, or fourth degree black belt, in judo. He is also skilled in karate. Mr. Onomi, trimmed down from 270 to a hard 245, is a former sumo champion trained here in professional wrestling. His contract was bought by Humpferdick.

Rip Hawk, stocky former wrestling coach from North Carolina, now makes his home in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

He meets popular Scott Casey, of Amarillo. The much shorter Hawk holds a four pound advantage at 232. Casey is a former football standout at Pascal High School in Fort Worth, a serious body builder, and a former hairdresser.

Super Destroyer, a 250 pound masked man from Los Angeles, will bring excellent condition and a bruising, grinding style, against 228 pound Bill Ash from Paris, Arkansas. A win against his hooded opponent would be a long step up the ladder of success for young Ash.

One more match will fill out the card. In last week's action, Casey drew with Doug Somers, Hawk's experience was too much for novice Ash, Joyce Grable triumphed over Suzette Feirerra, and Casey and 600 pound Haystack Calhoun won by Disqualification over Kirby and Somers.

Action at the Bull Barn starts at 9:00 p.m.

Daily vitamin pill question

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband and I have been taking a daily vitamin pill for 30 years. We are in very good health. My husband is 86 and I am 72. Our local doctor, as well as many others we know, "poo-poo" vitamin pills. Recently, I have had some gas pains in the early morning hours. I am careful about my diet and have eliminated some roughage foods and cold water. We drink only 2 percent milk and water, but still have gas pains. Could these vitamin pills be the problem? Just what do you say about vitamin pills?

DEAR READER — One of the ordinary daily vitamin pills is not likely to cause harm in any adults. In fact, many older people need some vitamin supplements because they don't always eat as nutritious a diet as they should. Also, there may be some increased requirements in older people.

No, I don't think the daily vitamin pill is causing you to have gas pains. I am more interested in your comments that you have eliminated some roughage foods. Gas pains are often related to less than optimal bowel function. This, in turn, is often related to an inadequate amount of bulk in the diet.

There are some gas-forming foods and it's true that even bran may increase gas at night. If you have been eating relatively the same diet for a number of years, and it contains adequate amounts of bulk in it, I wouldn't tamper too much with it.

Since your basic problem is gas, I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-8, Controlling Gaseousness. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Address your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I once heard a doctor say he would not eat liver because it was a sifter and caught all of the diseases. Can a person catch a disease by eating liver? Is liver good for you even if it is a sifter?

DEAR READER — Doctors are human and make off-hand remarks that they might not make with sober reflection. There is no greater likelihood of getting a disease from eating properly prepared liver than there is from any other properly prepared meat or body organ.

Just to illustrate the point, you are apt to get trichinosis from eating infected, improperly cooked pork as far as any bacteria that might be in the body is concerned, they can be trapped by lymph nodes, they can circulate in the blood, but hopefully not for very long because of the body's defense mechanisms that kill them, and they can spread to almost any part of the body.

In a sense, you can think of the liver as a sifter because all of the foods and items which are absorbed into the venous blood and into the digestive system pass directly to the liver. Perhaps this is because the liver starts to work immediately on the digested food to process it for your body's metabolism.

The liver does detoxify abnormal chemicals. In fact, that's one of its important functions, but these aren't germs.

I don't think that liver offers anything that you can't get from other sources in your diet. Its major drawback is that it is relatively high in cholesterol content. There are about 300 mgs. of cholesterol in a three-and-a-half ounce portion of raw liver. But it is a low-fat food.

In general, liver is all right for people occasionally, if they don't already have a significant problem in controlling their cholesterol levels.

Armstrong Boosts Radar

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Four months after the ouster of TV evangelist Garner Ted Armstrong, the troubled Worldwide Church of God has a new crown prince — a formerly Jewish lawyer-accountant who could inherit the rich religious empire of Armstrong's father.

Stanley Rader, smooth-talking adviser to ailing 86-year-old church patriarch Herbert Armstrong, has emerged as victor in an apparent power struggle that pitted father against son, with Rader in the middle.

The upshot was Garner Ted's "disfellowship" last June. Rader compares the father-son schism of Herbert and Garner Ted to the biblical story of David and Absalom:

"The son wanted to destroy everything the father had built."

Now, the mustachioed 48-year-old Rader occupies Garner Ted's former office, with its views of snowcapped mountains and the church's Ambassador College complex. He travels the world with Herbert and, by his own account, has taken Garner Ted's place in his father's heart.

"Mr. Armstrong has said publicly very often that I am a son in whom he is well pleased," says Rader. "The only thing one he ever said that about was Ted Armstrong."

Rader, a convert, gave up a lucrative law practice in his rise to become general counsel and treasurer of the 75,000-member church.

In a four-hour interview, he lifted the secrecy surrounding the church, speaking of Garner Ted's alleged transgressions, his own conversion, the church's wealth and his role in its future.

He wore a pure white suit and dark glasses. There was only one question he declined to answer — the exact amount of his salary.

"My salary was always a little more than Ted Armstrong's," Rader says. It is known that the son received $85,000 a year plus such perquisites as private planes and trips abroad.

The Worldwide Church's lavish spending on its leaders has been a sore point with its ministers and members. Some have quit in protest.

"We're quite wealthy," Rader says. Last year, the fundamentalist sect grossed $68 million; this year it will be closer to $78 million.

Yet, the church spends more than it gets — last year $1.2 million more — but Rader insists it goes to the church's prime mission, to spread the word of a second coming of Christ.

Most money comes in tithes from members and "co-workers," non-members who contribute, as chess star Bobby Fischer did.

Outsiders are often shocked by the level of tithing — 10 percent of a member's yearly income for the church, 10 percent for religious festivals and another 10th every third year for the church's poor. "Members can join the church without giving any money," says Rader. "But they are taught scripturally it would be a sin not to tithe. It would be stealing from God."

"What we generally find," he adds, "is that when they stop giving they stop believing."

Rader met Herbert Armstrong in 1956 when he came to California from White Plains, N.Y., as a young lawyer and began handling church legal matters. But he did not become a church member for nearly 30 years.

"My background was Jewish, but I was not in any religion," Rader says. "It wasn't something I thought about much."

By the middle 1960s he had become close with Armstrong, he recalls. "My Armstrong asked me to give up all my commitments and devote my talent, energy and time to him. In 1969 I said yes."

At that time Garner Ted was the church's star, a radio and TV evangelist who drew millions in contributions. He had handsome, silken-voiced and the same age as Stanley Rader.

Two years later, there were murmurings of adultery and gambling involving Garner Ted. Rader says Herbert secretly cast his son out of the church in 1971 but then allowed him to return.

The "problems" never went away, however, and by this year excommunication was the only solution, Rader says. "We have never admitted the adultery allegation that was widespread.

Wesley United Methodist Church

As Christians who worship in the Methodist tradition. We believe that where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is the one true Church both Apostolic and universal, whose holy faith we do now declare.

We believe in the one God, maker and ruler of all things. Father of all humanity, the source of all goodness and beauty, all truth and love. We believe in Jesus Christ, God manifest in the flesh, our teacher, example, Redeemer, the Savior of the world.

We believe in the Holy Spirit who is God present with us for guidance, for comfort, and for strength.

We believe in the forgiveness of sins; in the life of love and prayer, and in grace equal to every need.

We believe in the Word of God contained in the Old and New Testaments as the sufficient rule both of faith and of practice.

We believe in the Church as the fellowship for worship and for service of all who are united to the living Lord by the power of his Spirit.

We believe in the Kingdom of God as the divine rule in human society and in the brotherhood of many under the fatherhood, God.

We believe in the final triumph of righteousness, and in the life everlasting.

The church is a community of all true believers under the Lordship of Christ. It is the redeemed and redeeming fellowship in which the word of God is preached by persons divinely called, and the Sacraments are duly administered according to Christ's own appointment.

The United Methodist Church believes today as Methodism has from the first, that the only infallible proof of a true church of Christ is its ability to seek and save the lost, to disseminate the Pentecostal spirit and life, to spread scriptural holiness, and to transform all peoples and nations through the gospel of Christ.
