Around Town

People who say, "It's a dog's life" haven't been up in our neighborhood lately. There's a honey-colored cocker spaniel that really has things going his way. He spends most of his time, night and day, lying in the middle of the street. Honking horns and shouting drivers bother him not a bit. He just raises his head a few inches, surveys the situation and goes back to sleep, while the drivers carefully ease around him. People should have it so good!

When these distributors start bidding on school business, they really get down low. But the Brand got one of them too low last week, when it reported that Fresh Bread had bid 10 cents per 1 1/2 pound loaf of sliced bread. Actually, the company bid 20 cents, which was also the bid submitted by the Hereford Bakery.

We hope this doesn't sound too much like sour grapes, but the American Legion tournament in Borger was not the best organized we have seen. It was ridiculous to start a game, involving...

Young Farmers Elect Officers Here Tuesday

The Young Farmers Club will meet Tuesday, July 18, at the Vocational Agriculture Building at the high school. New officers will be elected. Present officers in the Young Farmers Club are Bob Hicks, president; Layton Sawyer, secretary; John Smith, treasurer; Richard Hagar, vice president; Wayne Walker is the sponsor of the organization.

A guest speaker will discuss the current sugar beet legislation outlook.

Special Women's Meeting Tuesday On Town Flower

A special meeting for all women in Hereford and Deaf Smith County to help select the official town flower will be held Tuesday night, July 18.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center, according to Mrs. Don Steele, chairman of the selection committee.

Mrs. Steele said that color slides of the five flowers nominated for consideration would be shown. An accompanying narration will explain the color of the various flowers, how they can be used in landscape settings, growing conditions needed for each of the plants, type of care required, problems which might arise from insects and the hardiness of the plants.

Nominees for the official flower include chrysanthemums, lilies, Peace rose, peonies and iris.

Selection of the official town flower is one of several projects being undertaken by the beautification committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

County Commission Replies To Report From Grand Jury

Redbirds Fall In Legion Tourney

The Hereford Redbirds played top notch baseball for five innings Friday night before committing a handful of errors and losing to the Amarillo Dusters 10-3 in the second round of the District 18 American Legion tournament.

The loss to the Amarillo squad knocked Hereford from the five team tourney which was being played in Borger to determine a champion from this American Legion district.

Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court has released a statement in answer to the publication of a list of recommendations made last week by members of the District Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury statement said that Commissioners' Court needed more efficiency, better records and more cooperation. It also made a six-point recommendation on redistricting, more qualified commissioners, hiring of a county business manager, use of a unit system of purchasing, salaries based upon merit, and open meetings.

Following is the text of the reply made by the Commissioners' Court:

"To the citizens of Deaf Smith County:

"In reply to the article published in The Hereford Brand July 13, the following statements are in order:

"1. The County of Deaf Smith is not bankrupt. The fact that there is a deficit of $69,000 in the General Fund, these circumstances should be shown:

"(a) Taxes to be collected in October, November and December are a part of the income of this year's operation.

"(b) Cities, schools and counties' funds are usually exhausted before these tax funds come in and usually borrow money to carry on their business until this tax money is collected.

"(c) The Commissioners' Court was called upon to spend more money during the final phases of remodeling than had been anticipated. Additional expenditures made that were not anticipated were: financial assistance to the hospital, employment of appraisal firm for equalization of taxes, paving of Moreman Street to the Northwest School, Bull Barn No. 2 for 4-H and vocational clubs' needs in amount of $25,000, courthouse lawn, shrubs and sprinkling system, placing the Sheriff's department on 24-hour service required expenditure of non-budgeted funds for additional employees, paving Labor Camp road from Highway 385 to the Labor Camp, additional expense of acquiring right of way in Highway 69 improvement that could not be foreseen by County and State.

"In view of the above circumstances the Commissioners' Court will anticipate that there would be a greater deficit but that it was and is their plan to meet these expenditures in tax collections this year and next year due to the fact that expenditures outlined above will not be re-occurring.

"If it becomes necessary to issue bonds in the future, Deaf Smith County is in a very favorable position in regard to the assets of the County in proportion to its bonded indebtedness.

"The Commissioners' Court meetings are always open to the public and representatives of the press are in regular attendance and radio representatives are invited. The Commissioners' Court has visitors on occasions and every citizen has always been and will always be welcome."

Harvest Resumes With Return Of Bright Sunshine

After several days of sunshine, the Hereford vegetable harvest is underway again. Reports Saturday, indicated that with the weatherman's cooperation, all the major vegetable sheds in Hereford will be running 100 per cent capacity by Monday.

Although potato harvest is just starting to pick up speed, many growers have estimated that the onion harvest will be complete by the end of the week. Both the potato and onion markets are holding well at the present time.

The onion market is holding very strong, with high quality Hereford onions bringing $2.50 to $2.75. The potato market at press time was strong with some indications of weakening. Potatoes were bringing anywhere from $2.50 to $3.50.

Both potatoes and onions grown in the Hereford area are showing a very high quality. According to one grower, Alabama potatoes are beginning to appear on the market but are not the same quality as the potatoes grown in this area.

At present digging is rather spotty due to the rains which fell during the early part of the week. However fields have been drying rapidly and harvest is progressing better than was expected, shippers reported.

The annual Hereford FFA summer trip will be July 24-29. Robinson and about 20 boys will go to Vallecito Lake, Colo.

Festival Queen Deadline July 19 With 16 In Now

The deadline for entrants in the 1961 Harvest Festival Queen contest has been set at noon Wednesday. Any girl, 14 to 26 years of age, desiring to enter the contest should contact Dale Barkley, president of the Hereford Jaycees, sponsors of the event. The contest will start at 8 p.m. and will be free to the public.

The contest will be held Monday, July 24, in the Hereford High School Auditorium. Out of town judges have been selected, along with Dan True of KFDD-TV, Amarillo, who will be master of ceremonies for the affair.

Contestants will appear in evening wear and also in beach attire. An orchestra will play during the judging and also for the queen's ball which will be held following the contest in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom. The dance which is a new feature of the annual queen contest, will be chaperoned.

The contest is held each year by the Hereford Jaycees and local merchants in conjunction with the annual Harvest Festival which will be held July 24-29. Cherry Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holt and

President Explains Plans For Canyon Drama Project

"There is no reason why talented people from the Panhandle should go to New York and sit on a street corner looking for acting experience. There should be opportunities for them here," Mrs. Ples Harper said Thursday as she explained plans for organizing an outdoor theater in Palo Duro Canyon.

Mrs. Harper of Canyon is a charter member and president of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation. She told the group of local people who met in the Community Room of the First National Bank of the acceptance of Paul Green, famous playwright, to write the history of the Panhandle region.

Green came to Canyon at the invitation of the group who first began considering a symphonic drama project in Canyon. Mrs. Harper explained that Green was impressed with the great possibilities of such a project and made the trip himself instead of sending someone else.

The rugged, plain-spoken North Carolina writer examined the Palo Duro Canyon and also the West Texas State College drama department. He was highly satisfied with both, Mrs. Harper commented.

Green has written 16 plays for outdoor productions and 13 of them have been financial successes. Pete Cowart, manager of Palo Duro State Park, said.

Plans to raise the necessary revenues include a founders week with all people attending being issued founders' membership cards. Admission will range from $12.50 to $100 during the six-day period.

There are 151,000 paid admissions to Palo Duro State Park each year, Cowart said and 21 per cent of the cars have out-of-state license plates.

Cowart explained that the admission gate will be moved below the entrance to the amphitheatre. (Continued on page 3)

Members of the 14 chapters in the Panhandle and South Plains areas are expected to participate in planning for chapter programs and committee activities for the school year 1961-1962.

Registration will start at 9:30 a.m. and Zeta Zeta Chapter of Amarillo will host a coffee until 10:00 a.m.

Mrs. Alma Perkins of Canyon, president of Zeta Zeta Chapter, will extend a welcome in the opening assembly. Miss Mildred Hulsey of Tulla, immediate past state first vice-president and chairman of the committee on Selective Recruitment, will discuss proposals made by Miss Ola B. Hiller, past international president, at the last international convention in Miami. A strawman proposal is to be ready for the Regional Conference in Phoenix in August, and a final plan to be presented to the 1962 International Convention in Philadelphia.

The members will be divided into four special interest groups. Mrs. Marie Ward of Aspermont, state recording secretary, will be in charge of committees on program, music, legislation and constitution.

Miss Jewel Foster of Dumas, past state chairman of the selective recruitment committee, will lead the group on scholarship and organization and expansion.

Mrs. Faun Welker of Dimmitt past state chairman of the committee on pioneer women, will be the leader for committees on teacher welfare and morale, intercultural relations, pioneer women and publications and publicity.

Mrs. Velma Weaver will meet with the presidents of the participating chapters for planning chapter work.

A luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. will be held with Mrs. Mildred Sullivan of Pampa, past state chairman of the committee on music, as the speaker. Reports will be given by recorders from the four group meetings.

GWENDELL BAINUM, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bainum, 508 Blevins, will be a Harvest Festival Queen contestant. A 5-2, 115 pound freshman in Hereford High School, Gwendell's hobby is water skiing. She is being sponsored by Kenneth Malone, Sealtest Milk Distributor. (Staff Photo)

Miss Higgins is a 16-year old junior at Hereford High School. She lists sewing as one of her hobbies and says that she likes to play the piano.

The winning suit was a wool blend with a roll collar and pocket flaps on the jacket. Miss Higgins wore a blue scarf at the neck of the jacket. Accessories were white gloves and hat with gun metal pumps and purse.

Johnny Willoughby, hit a hot single to start off the eighth, and then stole second and was given a free pass to third after a balk by Amarillo pitcher Luke. Willoughby crossed the plate when Dan McDowell bounced a fast ball off of the left field fence.

McDowell had to hold up with a double, but scored on a sacrifice by Joe Mack Hale. The next Hereford batter was thrown out at first and the inning ended 10-3.

Gary Kendrick, Redbird hurler who has had trouble finding himself all season, struck out the first three Amarillo batters to face him in the bottom of the eighth, but his efforts were to no avail as Hereford could not manage to get any runs across during their last bat.

Cowart and Mrs. Harper commented that the park does not plan to make money from the project but that neighboring industries as motels, restaurants and gas stations will have boosted incomes.

Bill Moore, drama teacher at West Texas, is scheduled to direct the pageant that Green will write. The Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation will finance a trip for Mr. and Mrs. Moore to see similar projects over the United States in August.

"This area has every aspect that Green needs to develop a successful play," Mrs. Harper remarked. "The spectacular beauty, interesting history and appreciative people are all here," she continued.

Mrs. Harper commented on the recent "New York Times" issue which states that "outdoor theater flourishes in the South." The article commends Green's play, "The Lost Colony," which is in its 21 season. The last issue of "Life" magazine discusses outdoor productions and called attention to Green.

Although all performers will be paid professionals, local talent will be used as much as possible. Readings for the play will be conducted in the Panhandle area.

Minks led off with a home run over center field in the Hereford fifth to pad the lead. The score stood 8-0 at the end of five innings of play. The only other Friona hit came in the sixth frame as Rommie Brookfield, first baseman, reached first on a hit to the shortstop. He advanced to second when Cain hit Bob Welch with a pitch. Brookfield stole third base but was stranded as Hereford retired the side.

Ranspot took over mound duties in the seventh and struck out four men during the final two stanzas. Hereford added two runs in their last time at bat as Ranspot led off with a walk and Minks singled. Both runners scored on stolen bases and errors.

Minks was one of the Hereford batting standouts with a single and a homer in three official times at bat. Cain had a single and a double in three official times at bat.

Even the season got off to a late start, because the organization a meeting to divide the district and set schedules wasn't held until after American Legion teams around Lubbock had been playing for two weeks.

Thursday evening we chatted with a Borger man who had brought over the city's entry three years ago when Hereford was host to the Pony League tournament. He was still raving about the wonderful treatment he and his players received here.

Rained out Friday night, the Hereford minor league All-Stars were going to try again Saturday night, making it a double-header with the Little League Mother's game.

It looks like the Harvest Festival is just about ready to go, according to reports from various chairmen. There are 16 girls now entered for the queen contest, with probably another 10 to 14 to sign up this week. The parade now has as many units signed up as were in the parade last year with more expected this week. Any organization wishing to enter a parade float is asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce this week. There is no entry fee. The queen contestants are going to appear on KGNC-TV at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, July 22.

The rains keep coming, and the weeds keep growing, all of which proves that people really are funny. Instead of grass and flowers, they just as well strive to see who could grow the tallest weeds and the most dandelions, which seems to be pretty well what the good Lord intended. Instead, we try to kill out the natural plant life and re-do things in our own fashion. The only reason I can see is because it is harder our way. I have pointed all of these things out to my wife to no avail. Anyway, it is something to think about while operating the lawn mower.

and I notice where the commissioners are beginning to worry about maybe we will have to dig another city well. Sometimes, you just can't win.
N. D. and Mrs. Bartlett are back in town — and I have been running into them at every turn, as often as five or six times a day. N. D. is still quite happy with his Nevada claim, and says they are drilling wells all over the place. He figures they will harvest wheat in August. It is a spring wheat variety and was planted in late April on to June. He also says it is much cheaper to farm in the Nevada country if you will take a detour around Las Vegas and Reno.

The City Commission uses the same type of thinking. Last year we carried stories about poor city finances, because of the heavy rains and slow use of water. This year we are using more water, nice margin last week and is scheduled to reappear July 22 to defend his title. C. J. Lance was another Hereford boy who did quite well for several weeks.

Wallace Cox says that 1961 is a year in which he will have no peaches and no crab apples; maybe a few, but not enough to really count. This means that no one else will have peaches or crab apples, chiefly because Wallace is a champion fruit grower in these parts. When he misses, you can figure everyone else also missed. At least, that is how it usually works out. Oddly enough, when we have a good wheat crop we seldom seem to get much fruit. Wallace could probably analyze the situation in detail, but it might start an argument.

C. P. Wortham is a character I can do without. He sent me a card from Vega, Texas, at Krahn's Cafe and said, "Having a great time. Wish you were here!" The worst part was that he didn't even put a stamp on the card — and it cost me three cents to get it out of Uncle Sam's post office.

Glenn Williams has a clipping from a Dallas paper about what a fine, patriotic town is Hereford. Jack V. Fox, a UPI writer, was travelling through here on Flag Day, and was deeply impressed by the fact that all of the stores had out flags — and more especially because the flags had 50 stars. Credit for this goes to the American Legion boys, who took over the chore a few months back, and who are doing an excellent job. They even bought an old hearse to haul the flags; it works out swell, chiefly because the body is long enough to handle the poles. Ira Ott, Arch Dobbin, Cecil Wilkins and several other Legion work horses figured up the idea and nearly everyone in the organization is helping make it work.

One thing about Deaf Smith County grand juries, they don't go in for segregation. It is interesting to note the large number of women serving on juries, which makes me wonder if the ladies are not responsible for the affairs on local levels.

Business must be good with the hotels and motels. At least, you see strangers everywhere you turn. J. R. Oglesby, our circulation man, tells me that the cafeteria will re-open soon. He says by some Amarillo people, and plans call for operation on a 24-hour daily basis.

Jim Clark tells me the housing shortage is so acute that people come into the drug store to ask about rooms and houses — just on the off chance that they might run across something.

We had some visitors from La Junta, Colo., and another group from Portales, N. M., recently. Mostly, they came to see our offset printing operation, but they seemed more impressed with our massive bank buildings. Each of the groups specifically mentioned both structures as outstanding. Hereford, in general, seems to have had more face-lifting than most towns in the territory; it compares well with Canyon, Clovis, Dumas, Littlefield, Levell and Delhart.

Upcoming vacations are wonderful to contemplate, but woe is the old boy who has already gone and returned. Thanks to the school board, however, he does have one ray of hope. The way I get it, enrollment begins Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, then skips to Tuesday, Sept. 4. This gives a long Saturday-Sunday-Monday holiday for hundreds of people who, otherwise, would have the time off, but would be tied down because of youngsters. I think the board members and administrative personnel deserve a pat on the back for their thoughtfulness and cooperation.

Borger Pounds Redbirds In Opening Of Legion Tourney

A tough Borger relief pitcher and a flurry of Hereford errors turned a close ballgame into a rout Thursday night as the Borger Drillers rolled over the Hereford Redbirds 13-4 in the first round of the American Legion district play-offs.

Playing on their home field, the Borger nine overcame a 4-1 Hereford lead and then gobbled up three Hereford relief pitchers for a total of 15 hits.

Delayed because of a power failure and a lengthy pre-game ballgame between Amarillo and Tascosa, the Hereford-Borger tilt did not get underway until 10:15 p.m., and by that time lightning flashes were serving notice that the weatherman wasn't planning on allowing the full nine innings.

Billy Wade, the starting Borger hurler, sent two Redbird batters to the dugout swinging and then issued three walks before finding the mark again for a third strike out. After that his luck ran out.

Joe Mack Hale, the number two batter in the second inning, managed a single to left field and advanced to second after Johnny Haney received a base on balls. Ronnie Duncan's single loaded the sacks with one away.

A near perfect bunt by Johnny Willoughby brought in Hale from third and kept the bases loaded as Hereford executed an old squeeze play. At this point the Redbirds, with the help of several walks from the Borger hurler, seemed to catch fire.

When the dust settled, Hereford had a 3-0 lead and Borger had changed pitchers. Jackie Gray, longtime Hereford rival as an athlete for Phillips High School, took over the mound duties for the Drillers.

After allowing Borger one run in the bottom of the second, Hereford raised the score to 4-1 as Gary Smith crossed the plate on Johnny Haney's third inning single. The Redbirds then attempted to protect their lead for the rest of the evening, but in the bottom half of the fifth inning, Borger broke loose.

The Drillers scored four runs on three hits and two Hereford errors to move ahead 5-4 at the close of inning five. At this point play became hampered by a slow rain that seemed to help Borger and hinder Hereford.

Although their play was spotted for the rest of the evening, the Redbirds still managed to pull off three double plays which kept the Borger squad in check for a while. In an attempt to stop the Driller hitting attack, coach Harlan Voyles relieved Johnny Haney on the mound with little Richard Casas.

In the eighth inning, the rain stopped and the roof fell in on the valiant Redbirds. The Borger team collected seven hits as Drew Kershen and Ken Logerwald joined the procession of Hereford pitchers. At the end of the eighth inning the score had been raised to 13-4.

During their last bat, the Hereford squad managed a couple of walks, but this only seemed to speed up the pitches of Gray, the Borger hurler, as he sent two batters down swinging and saw one thrown out at second base.

Potatoes must go rain or no—for potato chips must be made. Anyone seeing the 200 digging with their hands in the mud in a potato field at the Jack Renfro farm Tuesday would have wondered what was going on. Actually the workers, foremen, managers—all of them were digging potatoes by hand and carrying them out of the field so that the potato chip factory could have its order. About 300 sacks were dug in spite of the water standing in some of the rows.

A YOUNGSTER OF 79

Jasper Cockrell Retires From Courthouse Work

BY RICHARD LEGGITT
BRAND STAFF REPORTER
J. E. Cockrell, custodian of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse for the past 30 years, has retired. No more will visitors to the county offices be greeted in the halls by the silver-haired 79-year-old man affectionately known to all as "Jasper."

On January 1, 1930, Cockrell took over duties as custodian of the courthouse, which at that time was already 20 years old. "It was just a part time job until the depression let up," he says. The part time job that lasted 20 years ended last month with Cockrell receiving a commendation from the Commissioners' Court.

Born on March 22, 1882 in McShan, Ala., Cockrell spent his youth in the rough hills of the cotton state. Picking cotton from the time he was five years old, he helped his family farm the tired and worn out Alabama land until he moved with his parents at the age of 17 to Delta County, Texas.

After a five year stay in Delta County, he moved to Hereford and took a job as a cowboy on the W. E. Hicks ranch which was located east of town on the Tierra Blanca creek. Punching cattle and feeding stock was a mighty fine job for a young man in 1905, he reminisces fondly.

The $20 a month Cockrell received for his ranch work was a splendid salary for anyone in the days when there were no graded roads in Deaf Smith County. Cockrell remembers that to travel to Amarillo the traveler had to pass through 13 gates.

A lover of animals, Cockrell liked his ranching days and believes that perhaps ranching was his true calling. However time and circumstances did not let him remain a cowboy long.

A trip to New Mexico so that he might file a claim for some land of his own netted him more than he expected. He returned with a wife. The date was 1909 and his new bride was the former Ella Mae Wyatt. In 1910 on the promise of $75 a month, Cockrell left Deaf Smith County and headed for a sawmill in Oregon. "They were just laying the foundation for the courthouse as we pulled out of Hereford," he remembers. The Cockrells stayed away from Hereford for three years. In 1913 when his love for ranching brought them back, they CHATTANOOGA — When Clem Jackson's claim for disability benefits was denied because a doctor said he could crochet and knit, a federal judge ordered the Social Security Administration to look again.

"This is so ridiculous," said U. S. District Judge Leslie Darr, "it must be assumed that the doctor threw in a little irony."

Jackson, a Negro laborer, claimed the benefits on grounds of obesity, arthritis and high blood pressure, and appealed to the judge when he was turned down.

175 At Progressive Reunion

The Hereford Community Center was the scene for an enjoyable day Sunday, July 9, for approximately 175 friends and neighbors of the Progressive Community. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowman and the W. P. Gregory family acted as hosts. A basket lunch was served at noon.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Bill Bowman, who in turn introduced Virgil Dodson, the master of ceremonies. Dodson recalled several stunts that took place at Progressive in years past. Millard Gregory led the group in singing several songs and this was followed by the Edwards quartet.

Miss Edith Park of Denver, Colo., was recognized for coming the longest distance to attend the reunion. C. C. Bowman, Ira Ricketts, Mrs. Kate Caldwell and Mrs. H. R. Patterson were the oldest people attending. Former school teachers present were Mrs. Bess Werner, first teacher at Progressive, Mrs. Virgil Dodson and Mrs. Lester Galley.

The audience stood in silence in honor of the deceased who have passed away since last July. The deceased are J. L. Pack, C. P. Caldwell, Mrs. Jasper Cockrell and Glenn Forson.

The Gregory quartet sang and A. S. Higgins of Texline gave a short talk. Ira Ricketts gave the benediction. Virgil Dodson was elected president and Mrs. Cecil Boyer was elected secretary for the coming year.

The reunion will be held each year on the second Sunday of July. Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames J. D. Poarch and family, Albert Ricketts and family, Lewis Smith, C. C. ## Hutchins-Foster Vows Exchanged At Rosedale Rosedale Baptist Church, Rosedale, N. M., was the scene for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Kay Hutchins and Artie Don Foster at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, July 9.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hutchins, Bellview, N.M., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Foster of Clovis.

Vows were exchanged before an elaborate arrangement of Boston fern palm tubs and jade foliage flanked by tall fluted wicker floor stand baskets filled with fan shaped petal pink princess gladioli, white mums, and greenery tied with white satin bows and twin candelabra holding white tapers. In the background numerous seven-branch white candelabra, filled with 42 white cathedral wedding tapers, formed a unique pyramid. A white cloth was laid on the bridal aisle and family pews were marked with white satin bows accented with seed pearls.

Mrs. Clyde Powell of Portales, organist, provided a concert of nuptial selections and accompanied her husband Clyde Powell as he sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer." "Clair de Lune" was played softly as Mrs. Jimmy Page of Portales recited "The Wedding Poem". The traditional wedding marches were used.

Leslie Hutchins of Albuquerque, and Kim Hutchins of Broadview, cousins of the bride, lighted the cathedral tapers preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. Frank Edsel Foster attended as maid of honor and Misses Rosanna Hamilton of Tucumcari and Lynda King of Clovis were bridesmaids. They wore street length dresses of petal pink silk organza over French taffeta designed with basque bodices, rounded necklines and tiny cap sleeves. The softly gathered full skirts were embroidered with sprays of satin sweetheart roses and the dresses were accented with contrasting pink taffeta cummerbunds. The maid of honor carried a long stem white rose and the bridesmaids carried American Beauty roses. They wore bandeaux fashioned of white tulle, forming small leaves decorated with seed pearls, short white gloves and dyed to match pink satin slippers.

Little Miss Martha Reese of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and carried a tiny white straw basket lined with shirred tulle and filled with pink carnations, pompom mums and pink gladioli petals. She was dressed similarly to the honor attendants.

Donald Keith Lofton of Bellview, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer and carried the rings atop a white satin and lace heart shaped pillow.

The bride, wearing a formal gown of silk organza over taffeta, entered the church on the arm of her father. The bodice of the gown was fashioned of delicate French Alencon lace, re-embroidered in iridescent sequins and rhinestones with a scalloped neckline outlined with seed pearls and extending to a point in the center back. Appliques of lace cascading into long points from the bodice trimmed the front of the skirt and the back fell into a chapel train. She wore marching silk organza mitts and a fingertip veil of French illusion edged in Chantilly lace attached to a Queen's crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white butterfly roses centered with a Cattleya orchid.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Frank Edsel Foster, and groomsmen were Tommy Dale Lofton of Clovis and Jimmy Page of Portales. Charles Bennett Stockton of Texico and Leslie and Kim Hutchins served as ushers.

Miss Wall And Gene Moore Wed In Amherst Methodist Church

Miss Delores Wall and Gene Moore exchanged wedding vows on Friday, July 7, at 7:00 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Amherst Methodist Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wall of Littlefield and Mrs. C. F. Moore of Hereford. The Rev. E. R. McGregor, pastor of the Amherst Methodist Church, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with fernery and decorated with tall baskets of white gladioli. Only members of the immediate family and close friends attended.

Miss Tommie Kay Robinson, organist, presented a medley of wedding selections and accompanied Miss Sandra Moore who sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride who was given in marriage by her cousin, Roy Anderson of Littlefield, was attired in a white silk sheath dress and jacket and wore matching accessories. Her head dress was a white feathered hat and she wore a single white orchid.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Wall, wore a pale blue chiffon dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, wore a beige silk dress with beige accessories and agardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with a white organdy cloth and centered with a formal arrangement of yellow flowers. The tiered wedding cake and punch were served from appointments of crystal.

The couple is at home in Canyon for the summer and will live in Sudan this fall where both have accepted teaching positions in the Sudan High School.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scott and Mrs. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, and Misses Tommie Kay Robinson, and Sandra Moore, Mrs. S. E. Burleson, Miss Norma Grace Gray, David Neal Beavers, Joe Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. John Beasley, Mrs. C. F. Moore and Miss Paula Moore, all of Hereford.

Miss Bezner Marries In Formal Ceremony

St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Hereford was the scene Thursday, July 13, for the marriage of Miss Carol Ann Bezner and Teddy L. Bedwell. Father Nathaniel Madden, S. A. assistant pastor, read the double ring vows at five o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bezner of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bedwell of Quitaque.

The ceremony was read before the main altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli flanked by two seven-branch candelabra holding white tapers. The side altars were decorated with urns of orchid asters.

Mrs. Darrell Hershey, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Kenneth Betzen who sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother, At Thy Feet We Kneel." On "The Day" was played with Phillip Scumbato at the organ and Albert Scumbato playing the violin. Mrs. Hershey played the traditional wedding marches.

Miss LaVerne Bezner served as maid of honor and Misses Charlotte Morris of Bovina and Bernadette Bezner of Hereford were bridesmaids. They wore identical street length dresses of orchid crystalline over taffeta with net under skirts. The skirts were gracefully draped in front and pulled to a bustle effect in back with three satin roses tied with satin streamers alternating along the bustle. The fitted bodices were fashioned with cap sleeves and rounded necklines. They were dyed to match satin shoes and their tiny hats were fashioned of shaded orchid flower petals secured with an orchid satin ribbon bow and boasted nose length veils of orchid net.

Bill Mayfield of Quitaque assisted as best man and ushers were W. E. Hawkins, Felix Johnson and Sammy Johnson, all of Quitaque and Jody Bez-ner of Hereford. Pete Rice and Jimmy Marnell, cousin of the bride, were groomsmen.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal gown of white crystalline taffeta. The extremely full skirt of net and satin boasted a draped bustle in the center back and fell into a chapel train. The fitted bodice was tapered to points in the center front and center back with a multitude of tiny buttons up the back. The long tapered sleeves were fastened with tiny covered buttons. The sweetheart neckline was embroidered with beads and pearls and the skirt had panels of rosepoint lace on each side of the front. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a jeweled tiara. She carried a single white orchid surrounded by white freshened carnations and tied with love-knot streamers.

The bride's mother wore a sheath dress of mint green with beige accessories. The groom's mother wore a harmonizing costume and both wore pink feathered carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception and dance was held in St. Anthony's Hall. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and decorated with arrangements of orchid and white flowers, carrying out the bride's chosen colors. Appointments were in crystal and the tiered wedding cake was topped with an arrangement of wedding bells. Serving in the house party were Misses Mary Albracht, Delores Brorman, Ann Rose Dzulik, Elisabeth and Jeanette Isabel.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a beige linen sheath with beige accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Bedwell was graduated from St. Mary of the Plains School in Dodge City, Kan.,

and graduated last February from Amarillo Beauty College. At the time of her marriage she was employed at the Village Beauty Shop in Hereford.

The groom attended schools in Quitaque and was graduated from Clarendon Junior College in 1959. He will receive his bachelor's degree in education from West Texas State College this summer and has accepted a position as coach for the Flomot schools beginning in September. The couple will live in Quitaque.

On Sunday, July 2, the bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Hostesses were Mesdames Joe Marnell, Mike Betzen, Alvin Bezner, Charlie Vaseak, Johnnie Betzen, Henry Cooper, Ed Dzuk, Airhart, Reinart, Frank Walterschied and Ray Wilhelm.

The table was laid with white over orchid and the punch and cake carried out the bride's chosen colors of orchid and white. Miss Sharon Bezner registered the guests and Mrs. Joe Marnell and Mrs. Walter Paetzold dispensed punch and cake.

Approximately 50 guests were present and several who were unable to attend sent a gift.

Ray Lindsey Builds Racing Boats And Electric Guitars

BY DOT BOWLES
BRAND STAFF REPORTER

Speeding across a mirror-like lake surface while crouched inside his tiny white hydroplane boat is a favorite pastime for Ray Lindsey of Hereford.

The fun begins early for Lindsey though because he uses his spare time during the winter months to make racing boats for summer-time use.

The tall, slender sports enthusiast has made seven racing hulls and owns three at present. He not only constructs the shells but creates them from his own designs. He designs and builds a boat and if it doesn't handle exactly as he wishes in the water, he modifies the design and starts over.

About 125 hours are spent in the actual construction of a racing boat, Lindsey reports, and a basic hull will cost slightly over $50. Such boats would retail for $400 to $450 plus the cost of the motor.

The hulls of Lindsey's boats are constructed of plywood and some are covered with fiber glass on the bottom. His newest racer is made of mahogany plywood with the front covered with linen cloth and six coats of airplane wing dope.

The pilot of the boat kneels in a hollowed section about 18 inches wide and five feet long. The mahogany plywood racer does not have a sealed off driver's position and special plugs are built into the rear of the hull to facilitate drainage after each race.

Lindsey's white hydroplane boat with a big red GS 4 painted on its side is 9 feet, six inches long and weighs 121 pounds. The cockpit is padded with foam rubber for what Lindsey calls "knee ease."

The hydroplane is powered by a 20-cubic inch Mercury motor with the ignition set up and a large carburetor. Lindsey polishes the inside of the engine to run at 8,000 rpm and he makes tuned exhausts which are water cooled.

Pleasure boat motors, usually run at 5,400 rpm and have smaller carburetors than the racing engines. Lindsey has made a special carburetor cover to protect his motor from being drowned out but he is still able to manipulate the carburetor while driving.

It is often necessary to change the setting of the carburetor while racing at full speed, Lindsey explained. One of the most common pitfalls to the racer is having the motor drowned out by water thrown from other boats.

Since factory built racing motors are no longer available, they must be hand built from scrap parts, Lindsey says. The Panhandle Boat & Ski Club, to which Lindsey belongs, uses only regular gasoline as fuel in the racing boats. Some racers use a mixture of alcohol, castor oil and nitromethane in the motors for higher speeds, Lindsey explains. Such a mixture costs about $2 per gallon and a motor uses four times more of it than of the stock class gasoline.

As Lindsey's number, GS 4, might suggest, he once belonged to the Golden Spread Racing Club which united with the Panhandle Boat & Ski Club.

Most of the boats in the hydroplane class A travel at speeds over 50 miles per hour. Safety throttles are used on all boats so that the motor is killed when the driver's hand is not on the throttle.

Such throttles, called full butterfly throttles, can prevent serious accidents, Lindsey reminds. If the driver is thrown from the racer the engine automatically shuts off.

Lindsey has been racing competitively for three years and has won numerous prizes and trophies. Most contests are conducted on one mile oval-shaped courses and five laps are made.

Starting is a big point in boat racing, Lindsey says. A large clock with a second hand is placed at the starting line and the drivers try to hit the line at precisely the moment the hand reaches the starting point.

If a hull is across the line when the gun sounds the boat is disqualified. However a driver can't be too far behind the line when the race begins if he hopes to win, Lindsey comments.

In addition to having a motor drowned out, another big hazard is taking the curves too fast while racing counterclockwise around the oval. All of the drivers emphasize safety, Lindsey remarks.

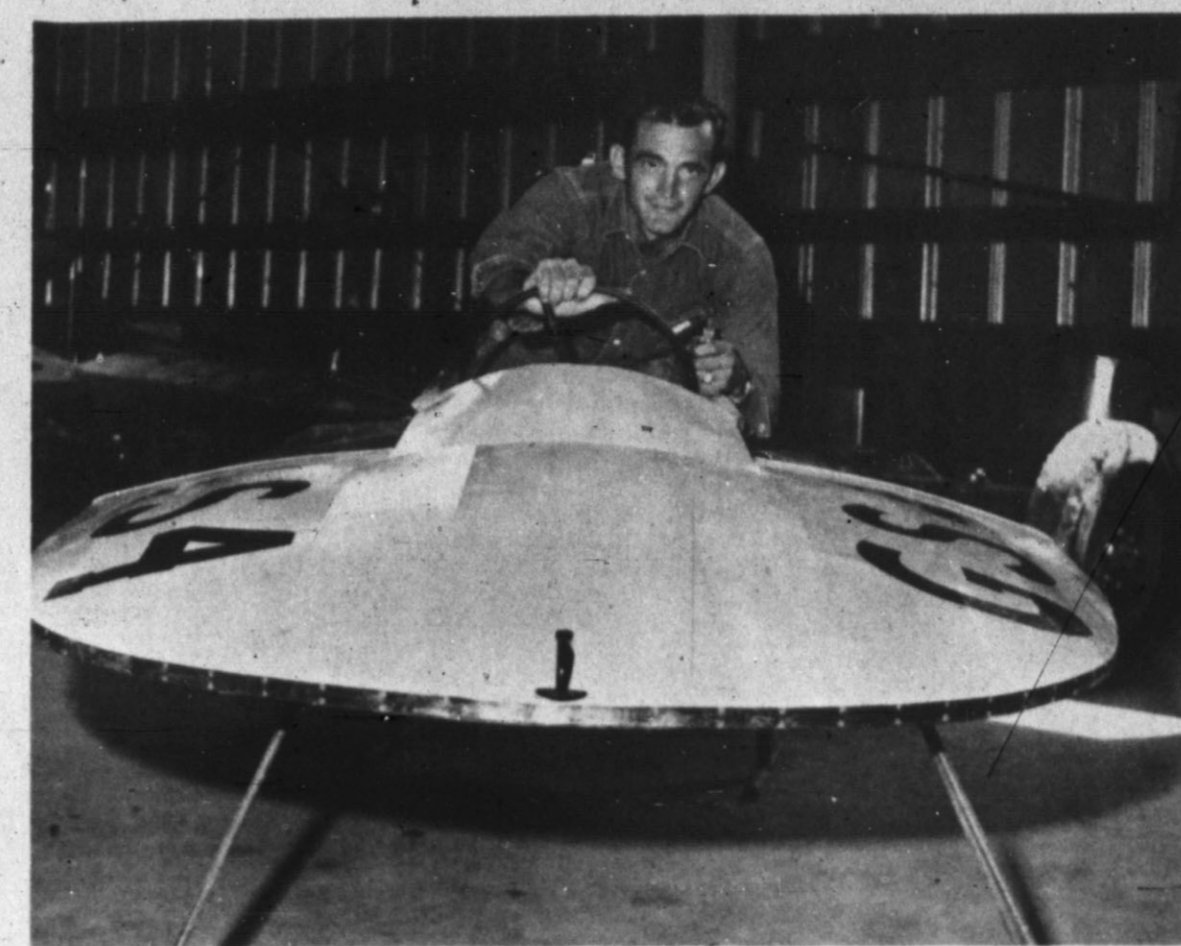

The men all try to look after each other and will not hesitate to pull out of the race to help someone in trouble, Lindsey says. Safety, not victory, takes first place in boat racing in this area, he emphasizes.

Mrs. Lindsey enjoys seeing the GS 4 leading the field but admits that she often worries about the safety of her husband when he races. The Lindsey children, Mike, 5, and Raelene, 4, didn't volunteer an opinion about Dad's racing activities.

The successful racers are skilled in shifting their body weight to stabilize their hulls. The driver must always lean far outward when making a fast turn, Lindsey reminds. Lindsey's next race will be Sunday, July 16, at Lake Altus near Altus, Okla. The Lindsey family often has to travel 200 to 300 miles to attend boat races, but they all feel it's more than worth it.

Sunday, August 23, at 1 p.m. Lindsey will participate in a race at Buffalo Lake. The race will be sanctioned by the National Outboard Association, the governing body for boat racing.

Lindsey's boating hobby doesn't take up all of his free time. Somehow he manages to keep a couple of other interesting sidelines going.

Last year he made an electric guitar with a magnetic pick-up instead of a microphone. He shaped the wood and made his own amplifier. The only factory-made parts of the guitar were the strings and keys.

While in the service, Lindsey served as a radar repairman and operator and studied electronics. He has been interested in electronics since his high school days, he reports.

Another hobby for Lindsey is reconditioning old cars. Presently he is working with his father-in-law, Herman Neff, to restore a 1924 model Hispano Suiza, a French car which was hand made.

Lindsey, who lived in Shreveport, La., until moving to Hereford four years ago, used to spend some of his spare time working on hot rods before shifting his attention to speed boat and guitar making.

Merchants Hear 'Hot Check' Talk

"Hot Checks" was the topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the Hereford Retail Merchants Association Thursday morning in the community room of the First National Bank.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp cautioned the merchants about taking checks without requesting proper identification. "Too many merchants would rather take a chance on a check than ask for proper identification," Sharp said. Sharp said that he did not believe that customers would be offended when asked to identify themselves.

All of the merchants present agreed that new legislation is needed to stop the rapidly rising number of bad checks being passed throughout the many bogus check writers' states. Sharp stated that many bogus check writers cannot be touched because of the mild state laws covering bad checks.

HONOR ROLL
Sylvia Wiman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wiman of Hereford, has been named on the dean's honor list for the spring semester at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, N.M.
She had a 3.0 or a "B" average. To be eligible for the dean's list a student must be carrying at least 12 semester hours of study and make "B" or better. Miss Wiman is a sophomore.

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS
This was the siege of Britain. Poised on the opposite side of the channel were the Nazi invaders. The Luftwaffe blackened the skies overhead. Then came the heroic evacuation of Dunkirk.

It was in this year that Winston Churchill became Prime Minister of England... and became the voice of an England determined to fight on in the face of defeat. He promised his countrymen only "Blood, sweat and tears." But he turned his bulldog face toward the continent and promised, "We will fight... on the beaches... in every village, every town, and every city. We will never give up."

In this dark hour, Churchill's words seemed a symbol of Britain's courage, and of the country's defiance of Nazi Germany's power. The great statesman helped to rally his people for what he called "their finest hours."

Remember the year? Honest, courageous words in a time of stress can mean a great deal to nations or individuals. When it comes to buying something as important as a new car, though, a sensible buyer in those days wanted more than words. He looked at the facts and figures.

The year was 1940. It pays to look closely at straight facts when you buy a car any time... especially today. And that's the way we like to deal. ### Obsolete Government Scored As . . .

'Grass Roots' Citizens Review County Affairs

A district court grand jury this week took issue with the Commissioners' Court of Deaf Smith County in what may be determined as an unusual action. The procedure denotes several conclusions, which should be recognized by citizens and tax payers of the community.

In the first place, if members of the grand jury had not considered conditions to be acute, they would not have taken the initiative to investigate and point out their findings. Grand juries are composed of people, and people seldom look for trouble and personal criticism unless they are motivated by exceptional circumstances.

Junior Baseball Is Growing Fad

Baseball has long been recognized as the "Greatest American Game", and during the past decade the slogan has probably been truer than ever before in our nation's history.

In addition to the major leagues and World Series, literally millions of fans and relatives gather in communities, small and large, to observe the small fry of America in action on especially designed baseball diamonds. The custom is ripe from Maine to Hawaii, and from Alaska to Florida. What's more, it is growing in mushroom proportions in all 50 states.

The TV "Hooper Ratings" seem to be the only casualty of spreading fad. Adults and youngsters are swapping stuffy rooms for clean, fresh air, and many of them are coming to actually know their neighbors for the first time. Instead of creating admiration for Billy the Kid and other "bad men" of the early West, our youngsters are learning the rudiments of sportsmanship, competitive play, and how to get along with other youngsters in their own age brackets.

Doubtless the coaches, sponsors, umpires and others who donate their time to the cause of junior baseball become discouraged from time to time, and very few of us fully appreciate the sacrifices they are making. Based on unselfish interests and good will toward one's fellowman, the contribution, on the other hand, may well go down in history as the greatest factor in tomorrow's "Way of Life in America."

To say the least, it is difficult to find much wrong with junior baseball, especially the way it is played and operated in our own community.

Judge Youth Not By The Minority

Recent acid attack on a young Amarillo Air Force enlisted man recalls to many the days of gangsterism in Chicago. To say the least, it is not a pretty picture to those of us who consider the Panhandle free of organized crime.

At the same time, it once again points up a familiar fact in that we have gone for many years with thousands of youngsters who have never in their lives appeared in police courts, much less committed such horrible attacks.

Unfortunately crime is newsworthy, whereas the youngster who tends to his business, tries to make a good citizen, and who seldom ever encounters the law does not attract attention in the press or, for that matter, small talk across the backyard fence. As a result, people all over the country are probably branding Amarillo and the Panhandle as an area of juvenile delinquents.

In view of these things, it seems highly important that we do take time to express a bit of occasional well-earned praise for the boys and girls who too often find themselves branded as delinquents, due to the antics and escapades of a minority. Amarillo, like Hereford, has some wonderful young people — and we are truly proud of the overall record.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Coach Paul Dietzel of Louisiana State University brings faith to the football field. "Before we won a National Championship, we lost six games in a row and it was only through the strength of the Lord that I could face the ensuing game, our squad or our fans," he told me. "During the following 'championship years' I held fast to those dark days and tried my best to remember the One who provided the strength to carry on." Paul lets it be known the type of player he wants: "Is it a sissy to be the first guy on the practice field? . . . to be the most vicious tackler on the squad? . . . to believe in God? . . . If that's being a sissy, then thank God for sissies . . . Because sissies are the timber from which champions are fashioned."

Curiosity Leads Minds Into Strange Pathways

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

"Join the Navy and see the girls" is the way one lad of ten put it when asked what he was going to do when he grew up. When you need a fresh viewpoint you can get one from the kids.

It may not always be practical, but it will give one something to think about. "I am going to be a surgeon," said another. "I would like to cut into people." A little girl's idea on the same line was "I would like to be a nurse, because nurses get to see what's inside people."

They say that curiosity killed the cat, but it has caused a lot of people to learn about a lot of things, but curiosity should be about something worthwhile, not just the idle whim of knowing what some one is doing. The word curiosity means the desire to know or inquisitiveness, or a rare thing.

It was the curiosity of many men of medicine that has given us the antibiotics that have conquered many of our deadly diseases.

I am curious now about the patriotism of some of the people living in our country, but who have no appreciation of what went on in days past to give us a free nation to live in, where men are free to work for a better way of life, or free to loaf and sponge off the other fellow as long as possible.

Those who are free to live on the government by stating the untruth, as many have, that they are unable to work and are teaching children that the best way to live is not to work but to let "George do it."

They expect overpayment for what work is done or as one youngster put it, "I want to be a scientist so I can make a dummy to do all the work for me."

Oh yes! Free, even to hide behind the Fifth Amendment, if money has been accepted for doing treason. Free to do anything for money but work. Free as one glib talker put it, to get money in any way possible without being found out.

When this same talker was asked if he were a communist he said, "No, just a practical American who doesn't want his head blown off." Just what is practical about it? Where would we be today if our men and women of yesterday had been "Practical" instead of being unafraid to die for what they believed. They believed in the dignity of man, the dignity of permanence, the right to worship God in his own way. They believed in One who was crucified for what he believed to be true, that one's freedom ends where the other fellow's begins. That the best philosophy is in one's own judgement of himself.

This is expressed in a poem by an unknown author called "The Man in the Glass." I might add a paragraph by George Sikolsky about foolish patriotism. "The phrase, 'foolish patriotic resistance,' is sickening. Who is so wise as not to be willing to defend what is dear to him. In a word, if your country is to be conquered by Russians or Red Chinese or the Congolese, if your homes are to be taken from you and your children put into slavery, 'Patriotic resistance' is foolish. Give up gently and send your wife into a seraglio; make of your daughter a concubine; Anything else is foolish."

Look to the Man in the glass before you let this thought take hold.

When you get what you want in your struggle for self And the world makes you king for a day

cedure denotes several conclusions, which should be recognized by citizens and tax payers of the community.

In the first place, if members of the grand jury had not considered conditions to be acute, they would not have taken the initiative to investigate and point out their findings. Grand juries are composed of people, and people seldom look for trouble and personal criticism unless they are motivated by exceptional circumstances.

It is also interesting to note that no question has arisen concerning the honesty or integrity of any single member of the Commissioners Court. Criticisms were general and, as the report specifies, can be traced to "local interests and concern."

Some of the specific points stressed by the grand jury are points with which the Board agrees, and which we have several times mentioned in the editorial columns of this newspaper. However, let us hasten to add that a county business manager, acting without consent and cooperation of the Commissioners Court, would be a liability and a mistake.

Without good roads, every citizen and tax payer in the community would suffer, and this is especially true of those who live in Precincts 1 and 2, which represent most of the mercantile transactions in the area. Duplications of unnecessary equipment, on the other hand, is foolish and never justified. This particular point was emphasized in the grand jury findings.

The recommendations of a redistricting program was perhaps the most important phase of the grand jury report. We say this, because it appears to be the only logical method by which Deaf Smith County can expect to always maintain "County Commissioners" instead of "Precinct Commissioners" over a long period of time. This is a point which has previously been discussed, and which has drawn heated argument from numerous quarters.

The grand jury seems to have passed over lightly, or found no grounds, on the topic of disagreement and bickering among court members. On the other hand, they may have believed the paragraph on "divided interests" sufficient to cover the question without specific mention.

Unfortunately, Deaf Smith County is part of the "rule", rather than an "exception", when compared with the other 253 counties in our great state. Founded in the days when citizens drove wagons and paid their taxes with personal work on the roads — long before the automobile and modern highways — the entire governmental system of Texas needs a general overhauling. The one big difference in our area, in fact, can be attributed to the fact that we came up with 12 men and women who were sufficiently interested in their community to investigate and to "stick out their necks" in a movement toward what they feel is better government on the grass roots level.

Because the grand jury has only powers to recommend in this field, the final answer will be written in coming elections. In a democracy it is inevitable that the people will select the officials and maintain the type of government they honestly want. Ultimately, it is also possible that similar grass roots thinking may spread over the entire state, resulting in total reforms. Certainly, this need is far greater in most counties than in our own Deaf Smith.

A Bloody Mess

In a letter to the folks back home, Congressman August E. Johansen (R-Mich.) poses this provocative question:

"Would it make sense for a patient to be receiving a blood transfusion and giving a blood donation at the same time?"

It's the Congressman's opinion that such a practice, aside from being extremely dangerous, would be entirely objectionable.

"In a word," says Congressman Johansen, "It would be medical quackery." Then the Michiganander makes his point:

"I wonder whether we are not indulging in something just as ridiculous and perilous in the area of government and economics."

"I refer to the continuously increasing simultaneous policy of Federal taxation and Federal aid — especially when resorted to as a supposed basis for improving economic health."

"Of course this policy provides a wonderful windfall of political power and profit for the Doctors of Big Government and Phony Economics who promote and administer the procedure."

Congressman Johansen couldn't be more correct. It is rugged for the patient — and it sure has the odor of economic and political quackery.

Panhandle Paragraphs

BOND ISSUE PROPOSED

City Councilmen voted Thursday night to proceed with the necessary orders and ordinances to call a bond election not to exceed $130,000 for the construction of a storm sewer system on Highway 84. The proposed bond issue would cover the cost of the sewer on Highway 84 from XIT Drive south east past the intersection of Highway 385, solving the drainage problem on south Phelps from tenth to fourteenth and allow drainage from the intersection of XIT Drive and Highway 54. Action by the Council came as a result of a recommendation from the Board of City Development, which has been studying the drainage problem at the request of the Council. Joe Wilson, chairman of the BCD, told the Council that the BCD "feels that if a bond issue is called the storm sewer should begin at XIT Drive so that water could be drained from as far north as Weidel Street." Wilson said that his group had met with Oscar Crain, district State Highway engineer, and he assured them that the State would do nothing in widening and resurfacing the road until a sewer system was installed. The Council thoroughly discussed the recommendations of the BCD and decided to act on their suggestions and to add the south Phelps drainage solution at the same time. It was pointed out to the Council that if the system isn't installed, the business route from the new highway 84 will not be constructed and through town traffic will be cut to a minimum. All the Councilmen agreed that the water drainage needs to be solved and that to do so requires a bond election.

WATER USED UP IN JUNE

Despite several low usage days due to spring rains, water consumption by Andrews residents during the first June billing period showed a substantial increase over the same period last year. From May 17 to June 17 residents used 91,701,000 gallons or an average of 2,865,000 gallons per day. Last year at this time the daily average usage stood at 2,668,000 gallons while the total for the 30-day billing period was 85,396,000 gallons. The year's total was diminished near the end of the billing period when lengthy cloudiness and rain reduced usage below a million gallons for three straight days. According to City Manager Marshal Pharr, this year's increase in water consumption can be traced for the most part to the fact that the city is servicing about 40 more units than last year. Although residents have been consuming more and more water annually, city officials are not alarmed that the usage will get out of hand anytime soon. With existing facilities, it is estimated that a maximum of six and one-half million gallons per day can be pumped from city wells if the need arises.

SUPERMARKET BUILDING WORK STARTED

Preparation for construction of a new United Supermarket and shopping center on a three-quarter block site on College Avenue between Cherry and Pecan Streets was started Monday by Ray-Lee Construction Company of Lubbock. It will be the first store in Levelland for the chain, which now operates four stores in Lubbock, and one store in Vernon, Burkburnett, Childress, Quanah and Brownfield. The chain also has stores in other states. Ed Lampa of Lubbock, construction superintendent for Ray-Lee said the building store and center will be almost identical to the newest of the stores, completed earlier this year in Brownfield.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses finances this week, personal and national. Dear editor:

There are many things I don't understand about Washington, and I guess this is balanced out by the fact there are many things Washington doesn't understand about me, but when it comes to financial matters, Washington is pretty much in step with the rest of the country.

I know it's customary to complain, if not yell and scream, about the amount of money Washington spends, but when you get right down to it, Washington pretty well reflects the rest of us.

For example, I was trying to scrape up enough money to buy a new picture tube for my television set — I could get along without television, everybody did fifteen years ago, but who does? — and it was straining my budget and to rest my mind and clear my head for a proper decision on this matter I picked up a newspaper and ran across an article that made my decision easy.

According to it, Congress has a permanent debt ceiling for the country. Back in 1954, Congress decided unlimited wild spending had to be curbed, a line had to be drawn, and since then it's been against the law for the national government to get further into debt than 285 billion dollars.

But along about this time every year Congress looks up and discovers a picture tube, so to speak, has blown out and it's going to take some extra money to run the country. So last week, as it has done every year since 1954, Congress temporarily raised the debt limit this time by 13 billion. Understand, the permanent ceiling of 285 still stands, this is just a temporary measure to get by on this year, and it's still against the law, the permanent one, that is, to go beyond the 1954 figure.

This is what I'm talking about. How could me and Congress know that my picture tube was going to burn out or that 15-million-dollar missile was going to fizzle? We've got to be economy-minded if this country, including this bindweed farm, is going to survive, but an emergency is an emergency.

Everybody ought to have a permanent debt ceiling, but if he's going to let it stand in the way of national defense and good television reception, he's out of touch with me and Congress and a good many of the rest of you.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Tierra Blanca Indian Dancers Might Teach Lore To Redmen

BY DOT BOWLES
BRAND STAFF REPORTER
Tinkling bells, shrill whistles and swishing feathers announce the entrance of the Tierra Blanca Indian Dancers, a local group which interprets the symbolic dances of the red men.

As the tempo of the drum increases, the garishly painted figures with bouncing head dresses begin twisting and turning in rhythm to the beat. Soon the spectacle of the ancient American Indians' moods unfolds before the onlookers. The dance group began about a year ago when several boys were working on their merit badges for Indian Lore in Boy Scouts. After attending the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Colorado Springs, the boys, all members of Troop 50, decided to organize and concentrate their studies of Indians.

About three weeks ago the group determined to separate their activities from Scouting so that interested boys from other troops could become members. Since becoming the Tierra Blanca Indian Dance Club, one boy from another troop has joined the dancers.

Members of the group from Troop 50 are Bruce Miller and Jimmy Cooper, Life Scouts; Dan Taylor, Robert Higgins and Gary Don Robertson, Eagle Scouts; Paul Christman, Star. Wayne Lawrence is Scoutmaster for Troop 50. The newest member of the dance group is Alfred Davis, a First Class Scout from Troop 55.

Louis Machuca, district Boy Scout executive from Hereford, has helped the group in its research concerning Indians. Speaking before the Lions Club Wednesday, Machuca described the Indian as "the vanishing American."

The Tierra Blanca Dancers performed at the Lions Club luncheon and Machuca explained that much of the ancient Indian lore is becoming a lost art. Many of the Indians on the reservation have been taught the old Indian customs by white men sent by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

At the rate they are learning about Indians, the Hereford group may be eligible to teach "the vanishing Americans" about their own culture, Machuca commented.

Each of the Indian dances tells a story or legend. The local group reads books and magazines in an effort to learn the stories behind the dances and the proper way to execute them.

Often the title of the dance suggests the meaning of it. Examples are the "Fluffies Dance," the "Medicine Man," the "Chippewa Pipe Dance," the "Happy Warrior's Dance." The group also interprets the "Serpentine," the "War Dance" and the "Ghost Dance."

Presently the group is looking for a sponsor and a permanent place to meet. Bruce Miller Jr., vice president of the group, explained that a sponsor is needed to help with the cost of costumes, which aren't expected to be expensive.

The Tierra Blanca Dancers have designed their own costumes which are made primarily from buckskin cloth. The boys' mothers have aided in the construction of the outfits.

The boys hope to make their own drum as soon as they can get the necessary hides. Now they are using a drum owned by Miller. Officers of the club in addition to Miller are Dan Taylor, president; and Jimmy Cooper, secretary.

The dancers are hoping to learn new Indian dances when they attend the four-day festival at Gallup, N. M., later this summer.

In addition to their scouting and dance club activities all of the boys belong to the Hereford Swimming Team and most of them participate in other sports.

DANCING THE CHIPPEWA-PIPE Indian group are Dan Taylor, Bruce Miller, Jr., Gary Don Robertson, Alfred Davis, Jimmy Indian Dance Club. The boys entertained the Lions Club Wednesday. Members of the ## Curiosity...

(Continued from page 6) at yourself. And see what THAT man has to say. For it isn't your father or mother or wife who judgement upon you must pass; The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life is the one staring back from the glass. Some people may think you a straight shootin' chum. And call you a wonderful guy. But the man in the glass says you're only a bum. If you can't look him straight in the eye. He's the fellow to please, never mind all the rest. For less with you clear up to the end. And you've passed your most dangerous difficult test. If the man in the glass is your friend. You may fool the whole world down the pathway of tears. And get pats on the back as you pass. But your final reward will be heartaches and tears. If you've cheated the man in the glass.

Household Scrapbook

Washing Draperies
Make generous allowances for shrinkage if you are planning to wash draperies. A fabric labeled "Not to exceed two per cent residual shrinkage" should not shrink more than three quarters of an inch per yard.

Cleaning Pans
It is easier to clean pans in which food has hardened or has burned, if the pan is turned upside down and cold water run on the bottom while it is still hot. If necessary, reheat the pan first.

Clothes Care
It is sometimes a good idea to let your dry-cleaner know what caused a particular stain or spot on some of your clothes. Here's a good way to do it: Mark the spot plainly by pinning a piece of paper to it, noting information about the cause of the spot.

Preserve Corsage
If you'd like to preserve a certain, sentimental corsage for a week or more, remove its ribbon, sprinkle the flowers with water, insert into a cellophane bag, and place in the refrigerator.

Fountain Pen
You can perform a fine job of cleaning your fountain pen at home by unscrewing all its parts, allowing them to soak for a while in vinegar, then rinsing them in a bit of lukewarm water.

Meat Pie
Gravy will not soak through the lower crust of a meat pie if the white of an egg is brushed over the crust.

Most chemical elements are metals. Only 20 of the 102 identified elements are definitely nonmetallic.
