Chamber Board Urged To Write Frito-Lay

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Banker Jeff Carlile asked Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce directors Thursday to send a letter to Frito-Lay stating the economic importance of a contract between the snack-food corporation and the local Grain Handling Corporation.

Carlile said the situation inspired a meeting of corn growers and bankers Wednesday night in Hart. Frito-Lay has filed a civil suit against Grain Handling and others over an alleged kickback scheme, while a breach of contract suit has also been filed against Frito-Lay in Grain Handling.

"We are making no effort to comment on the facts of the disputes," said Carlile. "We simply don't want to lose that market; we need that contract here and Grain Handling is the only one that can handle it," he told the chamber directors at their regular monthly meeting.

Carlile, vice president of Hereford State Bank, said growers had been willing to grow the more expensive food-grade corn and banks have been willing to extend credit because of "mutual trust." He said area people have been a "deep concern" about the situation think it would also be to Frito's advantage to initiate another contract.

"West Texas has the ability to produce food-grade corn that isn't available in others because of aflatoxin in the corn in Iowa, Indiana and other places. We can grow it here, and the cooking time is less than 45 minutes on West Texas corn. In South Texas, it's nearly twice that," Carlile said.

"The only people that have the facilities to handle the corn is Grain Handling. Others have the storage capacity, but they can't handle the food-grade corn. It can't be stored in concrete elevators for various reasons," he said.

Carlile said that area growers believe Grain Handling executives Wister Clevenger of Hereford and Garland DePrang of Olton—both defendants in the $18 million suit—"have been straight" and "everyone has been happy with the way it's been done."

He said that Grain Handling's contract growers favor "having Grain Handling as the go-between because they have the storage and the expertise."

Chamber president-elect Ken Rogers asked Carlile if a visit to Frito by a local delegation might be effective. "To me, it's just as important to save an industry that's doing a good job as it is to get industry in here," Rogers said.

Carlile said that such a visit probably should be looked into.

"But, right now we're asking you to send a letter. Corn growers have been asked to sign a letter and send it in. And we'd like to get fertilizer dealers and others in agriculture-related businesses to send in letters. The more letterheads (See LETTER, Page 2)

Contract Hearing Set Here

BY JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

A delegation from the Texas House Agriculture Committee will be in Hereford Monday for hearings on agriculture status in West Texas and corn production contracts with Frito-Lay Inc. of Dallas. The hearing is to be held at the Bull Barn at 6 p.m.

A new four year agreement for corn production contracts in the area between Frito-Lay and Grain Handling Corporation of Hereford, Hart, Olton, Springlake and Hard Camp was placed in jeopardy in October when Frito-Lay filed suit against a former executive of the company, five associates and two firms, including Grain Handling, for alleged schemes to defraud $18 million from Frito-Lay.

Grain Handling Corp. then filed a $45 million civil suit against Frito-Lay alleging breach of contract, and claiming that Frito-Lay has no right to repudiate an agreement made to purchase four crop years of corn, beginning next year.

According to a phone interview this morning with Charles Carter, a spokesman for the House Agriculture Committee, a number of committee members are planning to attend Monday's meeting here.

Among those expected to be on hand are House Speaker Bill Clayton of Springlake-Earth; Rep. Joe Hubenak, agriculture committee chairman; Rep. Forrest Green of Corsicana; Rep. Bill Keese of Summerville; Rep. Pete Patterson of Paris; Rep. Bill Coody of Weatherford; and Rep. Betty Denton of Waco.

"Committee members will be in Hereford to hear testimony on the importance of food corn production to the Hereford area, and the economic impact of this production," said Carter.

"We want to find out whether farmers think they are getting a raw deal, or whether they are satisfied with the way they've been treated. We understand that due to lawsuits, corn production contracts are getting hard to come by. We want to find out just what is going on. Committee members are concerned over this situation," Carter stated.

According to Carter, the meeting will also be open for hearing testimony from all interested parties as to the current status of agriculture in the West Texas area.

The contract hearing portion of Monday's meeting arose, in part, due to preliminary investigations by the Texas House Ag Committee, according to Carter.

"We spent some time over the past week conducting research on this matter (See HEARING, Page 2)

Garcia Gets Probation

Juan Jesus Garcia, 34, of Hereford, was given an eight-year probated sentence Thursday by a 222nd District Court jury which had found him guilty of attempted murder.

Garcia was accused of shooting his two nephews—Arnulfo Barrientes, 19, and Robert Barrientes, 17, both of Hereford—on July 3 following a fight at the Tierra Blanca Motel.

The jury deliberated for several hours following the punishment phase of the trial before deciding on probation.

Among those testifying in the trial was Garcia's 12-year-old son, a witness to the shooting.

The older Barrientes was shot in the chest with a .357 magnum, while his brother was shot in the right arm. Testimony indicated the shootings occurred after the Barrientes pair beat up Garcia.

Minor Slowdown Expected In 7 States' Feedlots

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite another increase in total feedlot cattle numbers, some slight slowdown may be in the offing this winter, according to new government figures.

The Agriculture Department said Thursday that, as of Dec. 1, feedlots in seven key states showed inventories of 9.32 million cattle, up nine percent from a year ago.

Further, the report said marketings of cattle last month totaled 1.72 million head, up 15 percent from November of last year.

However, feedlot operators put 1.89 million head in fattening pens last month, an eight percent drop from a year earlier, the report said.

High prices of lightweight "feeder" cattle are one of the factors in a slowdown in new feedlot-placements.

Cattle producers reduced herds sharply the last several years because of low market prices. Cattle numbers are thinned out enough now so that prices have been up substantially this year.

Despite the higher prices, cattle producers have not yet signified a substantial rebuilding of herds and experts say high cattle and beef prices are the outlook for the next few years until the supply can be rebuilt.

Although the supply of "fed" beef is up, fewer cows and other "nonfed" cattle are going to market. Thus, the total beef (See FEEDLOTS, Page 2)

Cleveland on Verge of Bankruptcy Today

CLEVELAND (AP) - Cleveland teetered on the brink of bankruptcy today as its banks and politicians frantically sought an 11th hour agreement to prevent the nation's largest municipal default since Detroit failed to pay its debts in 1933.

Cleveland owes $15.5 million to six local banks - due today. City officials say they haven't got the cash to cover the debt. They have asked the banks to extend credit into 1979.

Cleveland Trust Co., the city's largest bank, said it would seek payment of its $5 million note by the close of business.

If the bank does not relent, and if the city cannot come up with the money,

Cleveland will be in default. The 625,000 people here then would likely face broad cutbacks in services while the city struggles to restore fiscal solvency.

Financial sources said it may be possible for the city to pay Cleveland Trust if the other banks agree to the extension.

To win over the banks, Mayor Dennis Kucinich proposed a complex financial package, including a local income tax increase that must be endorsed today by his adversary, the City Council.

If Kucinich can persuade the banks to go along with his plan, the city would have to pledge revenues from its income

C-C Directors Approve $78,000 Budget for 1979

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce directors, who met Thursday in regular session, approved a $77,850 budget for the 1979 fiscal year.

In other business, the board heard miscellaneous reports from committee chairmen, talked about—but took no action on—changing Hereford Bull presentation guidelines, set the date for the annual officers' installation dinner, agreed to continue the "Follies" for another year and agreed to provide the chamber membership with periodic financial reports.

The $77,850 in projected expenditures includes paying off $6,420 debts acquired by the chamber. It does not include an increase in membership dues, which now stand at $96 a year.

The board increases dues $1 a month when it approved the current year's budget.

Board member Mack Tubb said that periodic financial statements should be provided to members of the chamber through the organization's monthly bulletin, and his fellow directors agreed.

The board agreed to have the "Follies" again. The show, which was directed by a New York company, was successful in its initial stint in Hereford during November, chamber manager Michael Carr said.

No date was set for the next "Follies," although the board seemed to lean towards the fall of next year or the spring of 1980 during the discussion.

Installation of officers will take place at a Jan. 4 dinner, the board decided. New directors and officers will be presented to the public during the annual chamber banquet, scheduled for Jan. 11 in the Bull Barn.

Carr said ticket sales were going strong for the banquet. Tickets are available for $10 apiece at the chamber office and both Hereford banks.

Famed humorist Jerry Clower of Yazoo City, Miss., who was named "Country Com ic of the Year" in 1973-75, will speak at the banquet.

President-elect Ken Rogers brought the board up to date on his search for committee chairmen and recommended that each board member work with a committee "to give the chairmen some backup and to be more involved in committee work."

Committee chairmen for 1979 include Bobby Veigel, agriculture; Doug Manning, Fun Breakfast; Tim Scott, business; Jim Conkright, governmental affairs; Dennis Canon, health and safety; Don Tardy, industrial development; Mike Patrick, membership; Buddy Peeler, publicity; John Fuston, sports; Ron Welty, tourism; Larry Alley, transportation; James Hull, water; and Carrell Ann

Carter To Recommend Larger Increase in Defense Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter says he will ask Congress to increase defense spending 3 percent in the 1980 budget, apparently ending speculation he might opt for a smaller hike.

"I do not intend to go back on my commitment to NATO," he said, referring to his pledge to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to increase defense spending by that amount.

A 3 percent increase in real spending power, plus built-in increases for inflation, will mean a record defense outlay of about $125 billion for fiscal 1980, up from $112 billion in the current 1979 fiscal year.

Such an increase also would mean cutbacks for other programs, since Carter has indicated the budget will not provide an increase in overall federal spending, after discounting for inflation.

Chairman G. William Miller of the Federal Reserve Board was to appear today before the international economics subcommittee of the Joint Economic Committee.

Top Carter economic advisers told the same committee Thursday the president's anti-inflation program risks a possible recession in 1979, although they still don't think it will happen.

Despite Carter's NATO commitment, there has been widespread speculation, including some by administration sources, that Carter might trim the projected increase in defense spending because of complaints it would deny money to social programs.

But when asked in an ABC News interview Thursday if he would ask for the full 3 percent increase, Carter said, "That is correct."

Apparently anticipating renewed opposition from liberals and backers of social programs, Carter said, "The best I think that I can do for the poor and disadvantaged is to keep the social programs at a constant level or perhaps some modification to make them more efficient on the one hand, and control the inflationary burden which falls most heavily on them."

There were these other economic developments Thursday: (See ECONOMY, Page 2)

Pictures of Manager Introduced at Trial

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Jurors in the capital murder trial of David Grijalva have looked at a half dozen gruesome photographs of a Pizza Hut manager's mutilated remains.

Before the capital murder trial of David Grijalva ends, probably sometime next week, they also will be asked to look at 11 snapshots of Grijalva and his ex-wife in various sexual postures.

Grijalva, 26, of Gallup, N.M., is accused of the January 1977 Amarillo slaying of Jeanette Powers. The state's key witness was his attractive former spouse, Kathy Sutton, who admitted talking Grijalva into robbing the place she once worked. But she says the killing was all his idea.

The trial was moved from Amarillo to a change of venue. The prosecution is seeking the death penalty.

The photographs of Jeanette Powers' body - throat slashed, head battered by a 15-pound rolling pin and then shoved into a dough mixer - had been ruled admissible Wednesday by District Judge Tom Cave, but the jury wasn't shown them until Thursday.

Early Thursday afternoon, Cave ruled the 11 photographs of Grijalva and Miss Sutton would not be shown jurors but would be sealed in an envelope and made a part of trial records.

But so much was said in front of the jurors about the set of 11 cheap color prints of Grijalva and Miss Sutton, evidently made a few years ago, that first the defense and then the prosecution withdrew their objections to the panel seeing them.

The pictures are expected to be handed over to the jury after the state rests and the defense takes over.

Persons who saw the photographs said some show Grijalva and Miss Sutton fully clothed, while others show them nude and participating in miscellaneous sexual positions.

The state is expected to rest its case Friday or Saturday, and the defense is expected to wrap up its case in two days.

Jurors reacted predictably when presented the half-dozen black and white and color shots of Mrs. Powers' head; some jurors studied them intently for several seconds and others glanced at them only momentarily before passing them along.

One woman juror covered her mouth with one hand on seeing the pictures. Beside her, a male juror quickly turned them face down on the jury panel box railing after they passed throughout the panel.

In the midst of all the maneuvering, council and banking sources agree that Kucinich, at 32 the nation's youngest big-city mayor, is himself a key issue in today's drama.

One banking source said: "What is really going on here is an attempt by some members of the council to discredit Kucinich, to effectively eliminate him from politics."

The banker are looking for a complete overhaul of the city's financial system. McCall said a key to any accord would be creation of a state agency that would supervise finances in cash-short Ohio cities.

Begin, Cabinet Meet To Endorse Rejection

JERUSALEM (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin met with his cabinet today to get its endorsement of his rejection of Egypt's new peace demands despite U.S. pressure for their acceptance.

Begin and his top aides told Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance Thursday they rejected the modifications in the proposed peace treaty which Vance brought from Cairo. One Israeli official said they were "ridiculous."

Vance left Cairo for Washington, his shuttle effort having failed to wrap up an accord by the Dec. 17 target set two months ago at Camp David.

Israeli officials said Begin was confident a treaty would be signed after more negotiation and considered the target date inconsequential.

The proposals from President Anwar Sadat which Begin turned down would transfer Egyptian demands rejected earlier by Israel from the treaty itself to letters attached to the treaty as annexes. The Jerusalem Post reported that the Cabinet was prepared to be flexible on several of the outstanding points although it was unwilling to accept the Egyptian demands as Vance presented them.

The demand most opposed by the Israelis was for a guarantee of Palestinian self-rule in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank of the Jordan River by the end of 1979. The Israelis, while insisting that they will give the Palestinians autonomy, contend that a deadline would give the Egyptians a pretext for voiding the treaty if there were unavoidable delays.

Industry Output Encourages Government

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's industries increased their output by a solid 0.7 percent in November, indicating that the economy is continuing to grow at a strong, steady pace, the government said today.

The Carter administration expects the economy to grow more slowly next year as it tries to bring down the 9.5 percent inflation rate. However, today's report showed that the economy shows no signs yet of slumping.

Industrial production is an important indicator of economic strength because it measures the combined output of factories, mines and utilities. When the unemployment rate rises it is often preceded by a decline in industrial production.

Gains were widespread among nearly all industries in November, the report by the Federal Reserve Board showed. Strong output in the auto industry contributed to a 0.5 percent increase in production of consumer goods.

However, production of home goods declined for the second month in a row because of cuts in the output of appliances and furniture.

The report covered the first month since President Carter announced his anti-inflation program Oct. 24 and his steps to halt the slide of the dollar Nov. 1.

Some private economists predict that moves to tighten credit will lead to a recession next year.

OPEC To Increase Oil Prices Saturday

ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates (AP) - The world oil cartel at its annual winter pricing meeting opening Saturday is going to increase the basis price of crude oil, probably between 5 and 10 percent.

The increase is likely to add half a cent to one cent a gallon to the price American consumers pay for gasoline.

The increase is likely to add half a cent to one cent a gallon to the price Americans pay for gasoline. Oil ministers of the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries say all of them have decided to raise prices to make up for the lost purchasing power of their oil revenue due to inflation and the drop in the value of the dollar, the currency in which oil bills are paid.

The only question remaining for the ministers meeting behind closed doors in this Persian Gulf emirate is how much?

A 5 percent increase in the current base price of $12.70 for a 42-gallon barrel of crude oil would bring about $7 billion a year into the OPEC members' treasuries.

Last December, members of the cartel bowed to the wishes of Saudi Arabia, OPEC's largest exporter, and froze prices for 12 months, primarily because of an oil glut on the world market.

The oil surplus has pretty much evaporated since mid-year, partly because of stockpiling by oil companies anticipating a price increase and partly because of anti-government strikes by oil workers in Iran.

'Silent Night' Okayed By Federal Judge

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) - A federal judge has denied a request to keep Sioux Falls public schools from including religious songs in this season's Christmas programs.

Judge Andrew Bogue's ruling Wednesday came in a request for a temporary injunction to ban songs such as "Silent Night" from school holiday programs.

Bogue said he would wait until after the holidays to decide on a request for a permanent injunction.

The American Civil Liberties Union, on behalf of six Sioux Falls residents, contended in its suit that such religious songs violate constitutional separation of church and state.

In his ruling, Bogue said the ban would not be in the public interest and that the harm of religious music in public schools is "at best, small."

ACLU attorney Steve Pevar said he was disappointed but not discouraged at the ruling.

"All the judge has said is that he is not going to interfere with what is going on right now," said Pevar. "He underscored the fact that his denial of the preliminary injunction is not a decision on the merits of the case though the question as to whether they're doing something unconstitutional or not has not been decided and will not be decided until Judge Bogue makes his final ruling."

Consumer Not Blameless

NEW YORK (AP) - In the final analysis, the consumer isn't always the helpless, hapless victim of inflation. Sometimes he and she must share blame for prolonging the problem of rising prices.

Their power to do so, in fact, can be seen currently in the strength of retail sales, in the amount of credit being extended, in home sales, and in the intentions to buy so-called big ticket items such as cars. Willingness to buy remains strong, no matter what consumers are telling survey-takers. And so, apparently, does the ability to buy, even if to do so means availing oneself of "easy" credit terms.

November retail sales are now believed to have grown 2 percent to $68.6 billion. Earlier, they had grown in August, September and October. And few analysts expect anything but another gain in December.

All this amid a growing concern that the economy cannot maintain such a rapid pace of expansion, and amid forecasts made months ago that the consumer would have been

Couple Dies In Crash Near Adrian

ADRIAN - An elderly Tennessee couple died "instantly," according to Texas Department of Public Safety officers, when their car crashed into a concrete overpass support post Thursday.

The victims were Lincoln D. Nave Jr., 72, and his wife Agnes, 60, of Johnson City, Tenn.

According to DPS troopers, the Naves were westbound on Interstate 40 when their car struck the post.

wary by now and in a mood to cut spending.

For more than a year, in fact, consumers have been telling the well-known surveyers of their lost confidence, that personal finances had to be rebuilt, that they were indignant at rising prices.

But they have bought. They have dug into savings and into lines of credit to do so. Cynically, perhaps, they have adopted the philosophy that if prices are high today they will be higher tomorrow.

There is a second awareness inherent in the attitude - that in repaying loans they will be using cheaper dollars; and that, besides, interest paid is an income tax deductible.

Eventually, say those who claim to know, high prices and high interest rates will slow buying and selling activity. It's inevitable, they say; it's been demonstrated for centuries; it's the economic law.

The law insists you cannot buy what you can't afford; that gradually, as prices rise, the luxuries bigger homes, dining out, travel, then the pleasures the new rug and finally even necessities must go.

While President Carter and G. William Miller, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, expect the downturn to be soft, some private sector economists are convinced a recession is coming late next year.

And consumers will lead that downturn, the economists say, explaining there is a point beyond which buyers cannot continue to buy, when fear, anger or snapping of credit lines forces them from the marketplace.

They go a step further: The downturn, if it comes, will be worsened by the extent to which it is delayed. And one of the primary reasons for the delay, they say, is the consumer's persistence in buying.

Lorey Honored At WTSU

CANYON - Forty-nine students from West Texas State University will be listed in the 1978-79 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Selected from Hereford was Carl Lorey of 455 Paloma Lane. The students will join an elite group of students chosen from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Students are selected by campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory based on their academic achievement, service to their community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

The Abundant Life

NO UTOPIA

BY BOB WEAR

UTOPIA MEANS "NO PLACE". The word is usually defined as a place or condition of ideal perfection in laws, government and social conditions. It is sometimes used to mean an impractical scheme for social improvement. The nearest utopian place on earth was the garden of Eden, but even this situation was not perfect.

THE UTOPIAN DREAM is just that (a dream). The perfectibility of human society is impossible. The people who seem to think that it is possible are causing themselves and everybody else grievous troubles. Some persons are so resentful in their views of imperfections that they become morbid misfits, and some imagine themselves executioners of that which is malformed. Then, some well-meaning people live a lifetime of frightful frustration, trying to bring about what can never be.

WE MUST BE REALISTS, but this does not force us to discard practical and well-formed ideals. There is a balance, a point at which realism and idealism can be compatible. We might call this sensible blending either "realistic idealism" and "idealistic realism." The human situation is neither all bad nor all good. It is just human.

TRYING TO FORCE A UTOPIAN social order is the most certain way to destroy what good we have attained, and makes further advancement toward better conditions impossible. This becomes, in human behavior, what may very well be the most destructive and undesirable imperfection of all. Nothing is perfect in this life, and nothing is going to be perfect. This fact of life, however, does not lessen the possibility of improvement (continuing improvement).

FINDING FAULT SEEMS to be one of the most popular actions in the present-day pattern of human behavior. These people can see the flaws, but they do not see anything else. Thus, they minimize the strong features, the good, and the desirable aspects of the human scene and maximize the weaknesses, the evil and the undesirable. Thereby, they exert erosive and dissipative influence upon the whole social order.

THERE ARE SOME FAULTS, and some flaws, and some shortcomings in everything that is human; but this is not just cause for despair, or disorder, or destructiveness. Sensible concern is always appropriate; wise efforts to improve and correct are justified and necessary; but impatience, disgust, rejection and disillusionment do not help anybody or anything.

THERE ARE SOME GOOD THINGS; there is some decency; there is some strength; and some things are right. We must make the most of these, protect and preserve them while we work constructively within the established framework to make all of the improvements we can. If we will work together in good order, with patience, intelligent concern and in a spirit of brotherhood, all of us will gain much.

THE UTOPIAN DREAM is too visionary for humanity, because humanity and human experience must be forever imperfect. Imperfect, yes; but let us not make them impossible; but do the very best we can.

Hearing

in the Dallas area, and the meeting was called on rather short notice," Carter admitted.

Food corn production has grown significantly in economic importance to the region in recent years, and local farmers have found their income from corn production is often significantly greater when they are able to secure a contract for the production of food corn.

Concern over the future of food corn production has grown here over the fall months in the wake of the Frito-Lay and Grain Handling lawsuits.

Hereford banker Jeff Carlile reported in a Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce meeting last night that Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Governor-elect Bill Clement have been invited to attend the local agriculture status meeting Monday.

Chamber

Simmons, Hustlers. President Speedy Nieman said that he has heard criticism about Hereford Bull Award presentations.

"Some people feel like we're giving away too many of these things," Nieman said. The award is presented to visiting dignitaries.

Nieman said that 63 bulls have been presented since 1963, the first year of the award. "That's an average four a year, so we haven't really given away too many."

The board agreed to study existing guidelines and postponed additional discussion.

Reports were given on the November Fun Breakfast by Manning, the Hustlers by chairman Bill Johnson, Chamber of Commerce invitational basketball tournaments by sports committee chairman Steve Hodges and a recent agriculture committee meeting by Carr.

Carr said the ag committee planned to study the proposed irrigation taxation by the federal government.

Women's division president Margaret

Formby reported on the planting and decorating of the chamber Christmas tree at the county courthouse and on the upcoming Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the chamber. She said there were 17 residences and nine businesses signed up for the contest.

Carr gave a report on the chamber's Christmas lights and decorations, which were placed around the city's business districts. Carr recommended that the chamber work on the project throughout the year in 1979 to ensure its success.

Economy

Two prominent private economists who have been forecasting a recession for next year, Arthur Okun and George Perry of the Brookings Institution, said they would not silence themselves just because Carter has complained such predictions could "become a self-fulfilling prophecy."

Arthur Burns, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board said if a recession occurs next year it should be fairly moderate and should not cause the administration to abandon anti-inflation policies, which he applauded.

The Business Council, a group of leading corporate executives, said the economy should grow 2 percent to 3 percent next year, thereby avoiding a recession.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board said a new variable-rate payment system for home mortgages should make it possible for about 2.5 million more families to buy homes. Savings and loan associations can begin offering the new mortgages as early as Jan. 1.

Feedlot

supply is down from recent years and is expected to remain so for some time.

Dec. 1 feedlot inventories of cattle in the seven states which produce about 75 percent of the nation's beef were: Arizona, 507,000 head, up 27 percent from a year earlier; Colorado, 1,095,000 up 10 percent; Iowa, 1,540,000, up 1 percent; Kansas, 1,430,000, up 12; Nebraska, 1,820,000, up 9; and Texas, 2,120,000 up 15.

California, at 803,000 head, was down 6 percent from a year ago.

Letter

we send in, the more impact it will have," Carlile said.

The board voted to write Frito-Lay. Grain Handling has sued Frito-Lay for $45 million for alleged breach of contract. That suit seeks $15 million in damages for the value of the present contract allegedly breached by the company and $25 million for "malicious and intentional breach of said agreement" and $5 million in punitive damages.

Karen Master To Testify

HOUSTON (AP) - A shapely Fort Worth blonde may tell a jury today what she knows of an alleged scheme to implicate her millionaire boyfriend Cullen Davis of murder conspiracy.

Karen Master, 30, loomed as a major witness for the defense as testimony in Davis' murder-for-hire trial neared the end of its sixth week.

The green-eyed divorcee was expected to be among the last to testify in behalf of Davis, and defense attorneys said they may rest their case early next week.

Davis, 45, an heir to a worldwide industrial empire, is accused of plotting the contract murder of the presiding judge in his high-stakes divorce case.

It was a murder in theory only. No attempt was made on the judge's life. Davis contends he was framed by his wife, Priscilla; FBI informant David McCrory; and karate instructor Pat Burleson.

The state maintains the counter-conspiracy exists only in the minds of the million dollar defense team which successfully defended Davis on a murder charge last year.

Mrs. Master emerged as perhaps the key witness in that trial. She swore that Davis was at her home in bed at the time of a bloody shooting spree at the secluded Davis mansion.

Mrs. Master was wounded and her lover and daughter killed in the 1976 rampage, and three witnesses identified Davis as the gun-wielding intruder in black.

The stoic defendant did not take the stand in his own behalf at the trial in Amarillo, and prosecutors say they do not expect him to testify here.

However, his attorneys insist that Davis wants to give the jury his version of the tape-recorded conversations with McCrory last August that form the crux of the state's case.

Prosecutors say the FBI tapes, coupled with film taken during the Aug. 20 parking lot rendezvous, provide sufficient evidence to send Davis to prison for life.

The defense launched its case two weeks ago and has produced several witnesses who testified that Davis was the target himself of a contract killing.

A burly, bearded mechanic testified Thursday that W.T. Rufner warned him last summer a "hit man" was headed for Fort Worth to kill millionaire Cullen Davis.

"He said it wasn't going to be clean and fast and they wanted to see the suffer," said Bob Brown, 30, the husband of Rufner's ex-wife.

Red Cross Cites Bainum's Efforts

Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross is pleased to name Craig Bainum as Volunteer of the Month.

Bainum is in all of the activities of the chapter and is especially interested in disaster work. He is currently chairman of the disaster committee and has served as chairman two years and begins his Red Cross work by serving on the disaster committee. While acting as chairman, he has encouraged committee members to be prepared by taking first aid and CPR classes as well as disaster action training.

Bainum's entire family is involved in the disaster committee as his father, Delbert Bainum, is chairman of the survey committee and also serving on the committee is his wife Susie and her mother Vi Lindley as well as Veralee Bainum his step-mother.

Bainum also is serving as Chairman of the Board of Directors, having served on the Board for two years. Growing up in Hereford and attending local schools Bainum also served in the Army. He and his father operate the Red Arrow Freight Lines. Craig and Susie Bainum, who works at Jack's Marine, have two children Chancy and Cami.

A certificate of Appreciation and numerous badges denoting special training were presented to Bainum by Betty Henson, executive secretary of the Red Cross.

Church to Present Musical Service

The music ministry of Temple Baptist Church will present "His Love...Reaching" by Ronn Huff and Gloria Gaitner at 7 p.m. Sunday in the church sanctuary, 700 Ave. K.

The public is urged to attend "this celebration of God's gift to man-His Son," according to the Rev. J.L. Bozeman, pastor.

The program is being presented by the church choir under the direction of Larry Howie, minister of Music at Temple Baptist. Serving as narrators will be Sheldon Alexander, Mark Inmon and Laura Thompson. Soloists will include Elmer White, Nancy Howard, Nicks Fariss, Paula Eubanks and Martha Fillingham. "The Young Musicians," a youth group from the church, will perform three selections during the program.

According to Rev. Bozeman, "His Love...Reaching" is "a joyous, festive celebration of God's reaching into our world through the gift of His Son."

The same program is to be presented by Temple Baptist at 7 p.m. Monday at King's Manor Methodist Home.

Ann Landers Crash Dieting

DEAR ANN: I'm a bachelor who lives near a nice widow. Recently I mentioned that I like lemon meringue pie and since then she has brought one over here every Saturday.

Her pies are lumpy and the lemon filling tastes like soap. The meringue is rubbery and the crust is like cardboard. I've tried to force myself but honestly, I can't swallow it. Even the dog walked away when I put down a piece of that pie last week.

I feel dishonest because I keep thanking the woman and telling her the pies are delicious. Actually, I have thrown every one of them in the garbage pail. This kind soul must spend a lot of time making these pies, and the ingredients must cost her some money.

I hate to offend her, Ann. She just beams when she brings those pies over. What do you think about telling her that I have developed an allergy to lemon? -- Guilty Conscience In Rhode Island

DEAR G.C.: No dice. She would probably switch to chocolate -- and I'll bet her chocolate pies are no better.

Be gracious and continue to feed the garbage pail. The woman must get a great deal of pleasure out of making the pies. Don't deprive her of that. Ease your conscience by taking her out to Sunday dinner once in a while. Or shovel her walk.

DEAR ANN: My wife died in 1974 and left me with two teenage daughters. Last year I started to see a woman I worked with in the bank. We got along well. My daughters liked her and we planned to be married. Suddenly she announced she was marrying another man, 20 years her senior -- and rich.

The woman is now head of a large office in another city. I telephoned and asked if she would give my older daughter a reference for a job in that same city. She hemmed and hawed and finally said, "Sorry, I don't know her THAT well."

I was stunned. Why would a woman be so mean? You know the female mentality. I don't -- Lafayette Question

DEAR L.: That unkind response was a dig at you. She may be unhappy in her marriage and blames you in some perverted way for not "winning out."

People often select as a target for their anger someone directly responsible. (P.S. Sounds like you looked ~~out~~ when she married the other guy.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 15-year-old girl who has something important to say. When I was 11, I weighed 190 pounds. I could die when I look at the old snapshots of myself. I knew I was fat but I didn't realize I looked like THAT.

The kids called me "Hippo" and "Fats". I cried a lot. I also hated athletics because I couldn't do anything but waddle when the other kids ran and jumped.

Six months ago I decided to lose weight. So far I have dropped 42 pounds without a doctor or pills. I still have a way to go but I feel a lot better about myself.

I hope the parents of obese children will not try to push them into dieting by telling them how terrible they look. Believe me, they already know. -- Getting Skinny And Feeling Great

DEAR SKINNY AND GREAT:

Speakers Discuss Holiday Baking

Baked goods which can be prepared in advance were discussed Tuesday evening by members of the local chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas in the home economics room of La Plata Junior High School.

County Extension Agent Joyce Shipp and Marjorie Thomas presented the "Bake Ahead" program and distributed a number of recipes for cooking convenience.

Members answered roll call by listing "the worst gift I've ever received." Linda Goss, YHT president, called the business meeting to order. Members reviewed their recent participation in the Country Christmas Bazaar, as well as other fund-raising projects.

It was agreed that the club's next meeting on the night of Jan. 2 will be a salad supper and tour of the E.B. Black house. All visitors will be welcome to attend.

Members present at the recent meeting were Deana Beames, Brenda Campbell, Shirley Carlson, Marilyn Culpepper, Cara Dearing, Connie Gilbert, Linda Goss, Barbara Weatherford, chapter advisor Mrs. M.T. Burlsmith and chapter Little Sister, Janie Rodriguez.

TRADITION
When you think back over the Christmas past, a tradition usually comes to mind. It might be a scrambled-egg-and oyster breakfast at grandma's house, stringing popcorn for the tree, or perhaps, singing the Christmas songs as you travel about your daily route.

Psychologists tell us that security is found in tradition not only for children, but adults as well.

As adults, we need to carry out these traditions for our own sake as well as the kids!

Another Christmas tradition that we should never let die is doing something for someone else. And I agree with what a young man said the other day. "Let's not carol just for the shut-ins, this time let's do it for our own families, too" Bravo! Many times we're so concerned for others, we forget about our own.

Tradition - a necessity at Christmas and all year around.

Cowboys, Rams Lead NFC All-Pro Team

NEW YORK (AP) - When picking a National Football League all-star team, why not a squad combining the best of the Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams?

That's just about what the National Football Conference will have for the Pro Bowl game Jan. 29 against the American Football Conference.

The Cowboys and Rams will have nine players each on the 40-man roster, the league office announced Thursday. The NFC squad, composed of 20 offensive, 17 defensive players and three specialists, was chosen in balloting among the conference's 14 head coaches and NFL Players Association members on each team.

The American Football Conference team was announced earlier for the all-star game at the Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles.

Running back Tony Dorsett, who helped Dallas win the Eastern Division, will be one of three Cowboy players on the starting offensive unit for the NFC. The others are quarterback Roger Staubach and tight end Billy Joe DuPree.

In addition, the Cowboys will have three players on the starting defensive team - tackle Randy White and safeties Cliff Harris and Charlie Waters. Los Angeles, the Western Division champion, will have three starters on the defense - end Jack Youngblood, tackle Larry Brooks and cornerback Pat Thomas.

The NFC won last year's game 14-13 on Walter Payton's 1-yard touchdown run in the fourth period. Payton, the NFC rushing leader with 1,305 yards heading into this weekend's final regular-season games, is another of the NFC's starting running backs and the only member of the Chicago Bears on the Pro Bowl roster.

Other Cowboys on the NFC roster are wide receiver Tony Hill, linebacker Thomas Henderson and defensive end Harvey Martin.

The other Los Angeles players on the roster are tackle Doug France, guards Dennis Harrah and Tom Mack, cornerback Rod Perry, placekicker Frank Corral and center Rich Saul.

OFFENSE

Wide Receivers - x-Harold Carmichael, Philadelphia; x-Ahmad Rashad, Minnesota; Tony Hill, Dallas; James Lofton, Green Bay.

Tight Ends - x-Billy Joe DuPree, Dallas; David Hill, Detroit.

Tackles - x-Dan Dierdorf, St. Louis; x-Doug France, Los Angeles; Stan Walters, Philadelphia.

Guards - x-Dennis Harrah, Los Angeles; x-Bob Young, St. Louis; Tom Mack, Los Angeles; Centers - x-Tom Banks, St. Louis; Rich Saul, Los Angeles. Quarterbacks - x-Roger Staubach, Dallas; Archie Manning, New Orleans.

DEFENSE

Ends - x-Al Baker, Detroit; x-Jack Youngblood, Los Angeles; Harvey Martin, Dallas.

Tackles - x-Larry Brooks, Los Angeles; x-Randy White, Dallas; Dave Parr, Tampa Bay.

Outside Linebackers - x-Matt Blair, Minnesota; x-Brad Van Pelt, New York Giants; Thomas Henderson, Dallas.

Middle Linebackers - x-Bill Berger, Philadelphia; Harry Carson, New York Giants. Cornerbacks - x-Willie Buchanon, Green Bay; x-Pat Thomas, Los Angeles; Rod Perry, Los Angeles.

Safeties - x-Cliff Harris, Dallas; x-Charlie Waters, Dallas; Ken Houston, Washington.

SPECIALISTS

Punter - Dave Jennings, New York Giants.

Kicker - Frank Corral, Los Angeles.

Kick Returner - Tony Green, Washington.

New Oiler Discoveries Not From Drafting

HOUSTON (AP) - Robert Woods, the Houston Oilers' latest discovery, says the National Football League draft system often overlooks good players.

It wouldn't be hard to overlook Woods--the rookie from Grambling is only 5-7, 165 and if observed at full speed might appear as only a blur.

After being waived by three other NFL teams, Woods showed up in an Oiler uniform last Sunday and used his sprint speed in an 80 yard touchdown dash on a pass-run play that helped Houston defeat New Orleans 17-12 and clinch its first playoff berth in nine years.

Woods will be in the lineup again Sunday when the Oilers, 10-5, close out their regular season against the San Diego Chargers before meeting Miami in the first round of the playoffs.

"There are a lot of everyday people out there walking the streets that could probably play pro football," said Woods, who has been clocked at 9.1 in the 100 yard dash. Woods is just another in a growing list of everyday people the Oilers have discovered walking the streets.

There is defensive end James Young, a Houston fireman three years ago before earning a starting job last year and getting

Watson Wins

NEW YORK (AP) - Tom Watson was named winner of the 1978 Seven Crowns of Sports men's golf award Thursday, breaking Jack Nicklaus' three-year hold on the title.

Watson compiled a Productive Efficiency Rating of 81.77 in the computer-based competition to outdistance the second-place Nicklaus 77.35, who won the award in each of the three years since its inception in 1975.

Lee Trevino placed third with a rating of 66.77, while Hale

Irwin was fourth at 66.04.

Watson won five tour events in 1978 and tied for second in the Masters tournament. He led the Professional Golfers Association in earnings with $362,429. Watson will receive $10,000 and a trophy. The award is sponsored by Seagram Distillers.

La Plata, Stanton In Second Round

The Hereford Junior High Invitational Tournament completed the first round of play Thursday with La Plata's freshmen, Stanton's seventh 'B', eighth and ninth grade teams advancing to the second round in the winners bracket.

Other winners were Plainview Blue, Dimmitt and Levelland in the seventh grade bracket and Levelland, Canyon White and Dimmitt in the eighth. Ninth grade winners were Levelland and Plainview.

The matchups today have Stanton 'B' playing Plainview Blue at La Plata 3:35 in the seventh grade bracket, Dimmitt going against Stanton at Stanton at 2:15 in the eighth, and La Plata freshmen hosting Levelland at 2:15 and Stanton playing at home against Plainview Blue at 3:30. The ninth grade matchup between La Plata and Levelland should prove to be interesting as the team from Levelland has only lost five games since being in junior high, with all of the losses coming at the hands of the La Plata team.

In the consolation bracket La Plata seventh will host Canyon White and Stanton will host Canyon Purple with both games at 4:45. The eighth grade matchups have Plainview Blue and La Plata Red at La Plata and La Plata White vs. Canyon Purple at Stanton. These games will be played at 6 p.m. Freshman consolation games have Dimmitt vs. Canyon Purple at La Plata and Muleshoe vs. Canyon White at Stanton.

Varsity Cagers In Action Tonight

The Hereford Whiteface boys basketball team will attempt to win three in a row as their third straight game it travels to Amarillo to play the Caprock Longhorns tonight at 7:30.

In girls action the feds will host the Amarillo Sandies in a game that starts at 7:30 at the high school gym.

The boys have won two in a row, with both of these wins being against Palo Duro. Leading the Herd attack will be senior David Mays, who had been scoring at 13 point clip over the last four games.

The girls, led by Louise Mays will attempt to win their third game of the season. This will be the third meeting of the two teams with Amarillo High winning the first two contests.

Playoff Picture Puzzling

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

What's that? You don't understand the National Football League playoff picture, even as the teams enter the final week of the 16-game schedule? Shame on you. You obviously haven't been paying attention to the detailed explanations.

If Team A beats Team B this week, then Team C advances, provided, of course, it has a better intra-conference record than Team D, which must play Team E for the . . .

Don't worry about a thing. It will all fall into place Monday night when the regular season ends and the Super Bowl countdown begins. For the Pro Picker, the counting ends this weekend, mercifully. The season's count, including last week's 10-4, is 126-82 for .606.

Redskins 20, Bears 14
Washington needs a win and losses by both Philadelphia and either Green Bay or Minnesota to become an NFC wild card. The 'Skins will do their part but it may not be enough.

Steelers 23, Broncos 7
Playoff preview. In case they meet later, Pittsburgh will want to give Denver something to remember.

Falcons 33, Cards 10
Anxious Atlanta usually plays heart-stoppers. For the playoff clincher, perhaps there's a laugher for them in the Cards' deck.

Colts 17, Bills 13
This game is important only for schedule and draft position. Come to think of it, that's pretty important.

Browns 24, Bengals 17
Would you believe, Cincinnati has a two-game winning streak Cleveland doesn't and will win the Ohio championship, if not the NFL title.

Cowboys 21, Jets 13
Roger Staubach's hurting but he's only one part of the Dallas machine. The whole New York psyche hurts after that tough overtime loss to Cleveland.

Rams 19, Packers 10
On paper Los Angeles should win. On grass . . .
Seahawks 34, Chiefs 14
Rebuilding Kansas City can take heart from the progress Seattle shows after starting from scratch three years ago.

Raiders 14, Vikings 10
In its winter of discontent, Oakland could take satisfaction in taking Minnesota under the tubes, too.

Saints 17, Bucs 10
Pick here is a healthy Archie Manning over a banged-up Doug Williams.

Eagles 21, Giants 17
New York has scored 17 points in seven of its last nine games. That way Philadelphia knows how much it needs on the scoreboard to win.

Oilers 23, Chargers 20
Houston goes for its 11th victory, trying to match a club high set in 1962. It won't be easy against the San Diego seesaw.

Lions 24, 49ers 10
Without national television to show off for, Detroit might be merely mortal against struggling San Francisco.

Dolphins 16, Patriots 13
A Monday night thriller that could be settled by the little old tiemaker, Miami placekicker Garo Yepremian.

BARBS

Phil Pastoret

The bard who sang the charms of the cricket on the hearth never had 'em in the clothes storage closet.

Frustrated writer we know says all he can manage to turn out are best-cellers for the ratings charts.

Fairy tale for grownups: once-upon-a-time there was a citizen who checked his Christmas light strings in time to get replacements before the holidays.

Why doesn't the FCC assign a special channel for the exclusive broadcast of TV interference?

Will the person who gave us the electric knife three Christmases ago please come up with something to use it on, this year?

Is it coincidence that the office music system plays the one about sending in the clowns every time the boss sends for us?

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Breathe slowly

DEAR DR. LAMB - My problem is dizziness, loss of balance. I am a nervous person and my doctor says that I have hyperventilation. Will you explain to me what hyperventilation is and what causes it? How does breathing in a paper bag help this condition?

DEAR READER - The kind of dizziness you are talking about is associated with a sense of faintness. That's different from the dizzy sensation some people describe associated with a false sense of motion. The impending faint is most often associated with inadequate circulation to the brain. Most of us have experienced the more common example of this - when one is lying down and jumps up quickly there may be a momentary swimming and faint sensation.

Hyperventilation causes you to feel faint because it affects your circulation. I can't be certain that you are having hyperventilation as the cause for your faintness. It might be useful for you to have more information about the fainting problem. For that reason, I am sending you The Health Letter number 9-2, Fainting, Loss Of Consciousness Or Syncope. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Most episodes of fainting occur when the person is standing upright and rarely when seated. The problem basically is too much blood in the legs and not enough in the head. This is associated with an excess accumulation of blood in the veins of the legs in most instances. That's why people who are prone to fainting episodes sometimes benefit from support hose or devices that prevent the pooling of blood in the legs.

Bible Scholar Views Mary's Role In Scriptures

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Both Protestants and Roman Catholics always have had a high esteem for Mary, the mother of Jesus, but they've viewed her from different angles, often mutually misunderstood.

Now scholars of both traditions have taken a shared look at her role and come up with what was termed a "striking consensus" about the Scriptural image of her.

The results of the three-year, joint study by 12 Catholic, Lutheran, Episcopal and Reformed scholars have been issued in a new book, "Mary in the New Testament."

They find that the primary portrait that emerges of her is of the model Christian disciple, rejoicing and wondering at her son, sticking with him through the worst, always unwaveringly devoted.

A "disciple part excellence," the joint report says.

Participants in the study say it will be useful in bolstering mutual understandings of Mary and in clarifying both Protestant and Catholic views of her special relationship to Jesus.

The Rev. Karl Donfried of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., one of the Lutheran editors, says that in interdenominational discussions, the material opens "all kinds of ecumenical doors."

The Rev. Joseph Fitzmyer of the Catholic University of America, another of the book's editors, says it will be particularly helpful to Catholics in sharpening awareness of Hyperventilation means over breathing. Everytime you exhale, you blow out carbon dioxide. That carbon dioxide comes from carbonic acid. If you blow off too much carbon dioxide, your body becomes depleted of its normal amount of carbonic acid. The loss of acid causes your body to become too alkaline. Since it is induced through breathing, we call this respiratory alkalosis.

This can shift the acid-alkaline balance in your body which in turn affects the circulation and causes a wide variety of symptoms. Not only can it cause faintness, but it can cause numbness in the face, particularly around the lips. It can even cause spasms in the muscles of the hand and arm. The severity of the symptoms literally depends on how much over breathing a person is doing.

The idea of breathing into a paper bag literally is to conserve carbon dioxide. If you exhale into a paper bag and then inhale the used air, you're getting some of that carbon dioxide back. The use of the paper bag for this purpose has been questioned by some investigators, but it is still used successfully on a clinical basis in some instances.

One of the best things you can do, if you really know you are over breathing, is to control the breathing itself. Consciously slow your breathing down to eight or less a minute and be careful not to over breathe. Respiration is an involuntary process for most of us but you can't control the rate in depth.

I'd also like to advise against holding your breath. Breath holding after you've been hyperventilating triggers off a lot of powerful reflexes that can even affect how the heart beat works. So, for that reason, if you want to stop hyperventilating, it is better to take shallow breaths and breathe slowly rather than hold your breath.

Image Of British Bobby Tarnished

LONDON (AP) - The image of the British policeman as a kindly copper helping old ladies across the road is gone for good after the Eltham shooting and the siege of Blackstock Road.

Two encounters in three days between policemen and armed bandits in London showed that while the bobby on his beat still walks only with a truncheon, he is backed by an army of trained marksmen and an armory of death-dealing weapons.

In a crowded shopping street in southeast London's Eltham district, a detective sergeant in plain clothes shot a gunman dead on Saturday. On Monday, a huge show of police force in north London's Highbury district forced two young gunmen holed up in Blackstock Road to surrender, 15 hours after they looted a liquor store with a shotgun.

Television and press cameras pictured the seige - the bandits' gun and police arsenal: revolvers, rifles, pump-action shotguns, bullhorns, bullet-proof vests, German shepherd dogs and intensive beam searchlights.

Such scenes might be common in some countries, but in Britain, with its tradition of police without guns, the show was a stunner.

The two events dramatically underlined a recent warning by Scotland Yard's commissioner, Sir David McNece, that no quarter would be given to armed criminals in London and that force would be met with force. It was no secret that a lot of policemen now know how to use guns.

London's armed police had first showed themselves in force in 1975 when they compelled the surrender of a gang robbing a restaurant and a group of Irish terrorists who had seized hostages in an apartment block.

The Yard publicized its stepped-up training in the use of guns, its purchase of the latest weapons from the United States and its creation of special units to protect foreign embassies from terrorists, patrol high risk robbery areas and conduct sieges.

But these special units are under the control of the Yard. Saturday's Eltham shooting showed that neighborhood police at precinct stations are carrying guns. And within 48 hours, the new direction in crime-fighting was demonstrated by the speed and power of the police response to the Highbury robbery.

In Eltham, a car full of detectives scouting possible robbery sites after earlier raids saw a shotgun gang robbing a security truck of receipts from a supermarket. When one of the gunmen swung his sawed-off shotgun toward the officers challenging him, Detective Sgt. Michael Banks, 32, killed him with a single revolver bullet.

It was the first revelation that precinct policemen were going armed on some assignments. Scotland Yard told The Associated Press that the commanders of each of the 26 Metropolitan Police districts have authority to issue guns to their men if they feel it's necessary.

The Yard named the dead gunman as Michael Calvey, 37, from London's tough East End, an unemployed father of two, who served 10 years in prison for armed robberies and who had been released from jail for a day in 1970 to get married.

Calvey's widow, Linda, told a reporter: "He was never a violent man. He told me he was through with crime and going straight. I want a full investigation. The police should have shot to wound and not to kill."

Gun confrontations with the police are uncommon in Britain and are big news when they happen.

Administrator Suspended

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A top Austin school administrator has been suspended pending an investigation of allegations that he pocketed up to $40,000 in consultant fees paid to two apparently non-existent San Marcos graduate students.

Dr. Jack L. Davidson, Austin superintendent, said Dr. Tomas Hinojosa, director of the school system's special-education department, was suspended with pay Dec. 4 pending an investigation by the district attorney's special crimes unit.

No charges have been filed. Hinojosa, who has been head of the special-education department since 1970 at $33,465 a year, declined comment Tuesday.

Steve Capelle, head of the special crimes unit of the district attorney's office, said his office was contacted by the school district two weeks ago.

He said an initial investigation shows that up to $40,000 in state and local funds have been paid out as consultant fees since 1973 in 40 to 50 checks made to Juan Rivera and Robert Reyes. The two were identified by Hinojosa as special-education graduate students at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

The university registrar's office said Tuesday that neither a Juan Rivera nor a Robert Reyes had been enrolled as a graduate or undergraduate student since 1973.

Americans Fed Up With Hospital Costs

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - If you ask the hospital industry whether voluntary cost controls work you will get back an affirmative answer. It claims to have proved its point; it claims it has a lesson to teach others.

Not everyone will agree with the industry's own assessment, because it concedes prices rose 13.6 percent in the 12 months through August. But that, it observes, is better than the year-earlier's 16.5 percent.

And, says Alex McMahon, American Hospital Association president, the improvement will continue. "The word is out," he said: Americans are fed up with rising hospital costs, and the hospitals must respond.

The alternative, McMahon fears, is controls, which are abhorred professionally and personally by many of those who run the nation's 6,000 community nongovernment hospitals.

"There is no stimulus to volunteering like the draft," said an associate as he explained the "VE" or voluntary effort program begun more than a year ago by the AHA and related health groups.

VE set as its major goal a 2 percent annual reduction in the rate of increase of hospital expenditures for 1978 and 1979. Not a decrease in expenses, it should be noted; merely decrease in the increase rate.

The route to the goals was clear: They would seek no net increase in the number of hospital beds, a reduction in new capital investment, a voluntary limit on physician fee increases.

There is nothing very original in such measures, except in relation to the attitude that prevailed before. The "before" attitude was that in health care matters no expense should be spared.

As McMahon tells it, the "before" attitude emanated from the public itself, even though it was the public that later served notice it was fed up. The difference symbolizes the decades: In the 1960s the mood was expansionary; in the 1970s the mood favors conservation.

"No longer are we able to do everything we want to do," said McMahon. "We have to prioritize, just as in education and national defense." This, he said, is the current message to the industry.

FAITH HONORS THE WISDOM AND EXPERIENCE OF AGE

In our current misguided era where young is beautiful, the older segment of our population is largely relegated to the background of our society. There are many factors to blame for this tragic situation, including its wide range of acceptance which prematurely condemns the physically and mentally sound along with the infirm, and thereby attaches the stigma of outworn usefulness to all. When this is combined with the natural self-importance of today's youth, little respect or companionship exists between children and their grandparents, to the detriment of both. Your Church will teach you to appreciate the wisdom of the old, referred to throughout the Bible. Honor your grandparents and listen to them. You may even find them fascinating, if you give them a chance.

Intelligence, and reflection, and judgment, reside in old men.
— Marcus Tullius Cicero

"Cast me not off in the time of old age."
