City Delays Action

Motorcycle Riders Ask City Commission For Continued Use of Park

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

A stalemate was scored by the Hereford City Commission at a regular meeting Monday night as they tabled a proposal to outlaw motorized vehicles in the city parks.

Interested in continuing to ride motorcycles in Veterans Park or in preserving the natural surroundings of that area. Approved by the commission were a rezoning request by Marie Griffin for two lots of Block 19 of the Welsh Addition and a contract to hire Marian Ulv Spray Co. of Savannah, Georgia, for control of mosquitoes and other insects. Also discussed were problems existing at the municipal golf course and a rate increase for the Hereford Cablevision Co.

THE REZONING CASE, which had been approved earlier by the Zoning Commission, was from single family residential to restricted or light industrial. It was accepted without much discussion.

However, the commissioners had to parlay broad interchanges between those pro and con about the motorized vehicle proposal. It originated from a volume of complaints the city has received over the last week or so against motorists not respecting the safety of picnickers and not careful of the surrounding vegetation and city property.

While the ruling would apply to all parks, the motorcyclists are primarily interested in the Veteran's Park as it offers the best terrain in Hereford for "dirt bikes" and offers easier accessibility for younger riders.

"THE DIRT BIKES aren't allowed in streets and any other locations are too far for kids to push their bikes in order to ride," said one apparently avid motorcycle rider. Other arguments against the proposal were that the parks provided wind breaks, that the parks existed for the motorists as good family entertainment, and that any damage or disrespect to others was from a small minority of the riders.

Ronnie Wood, a science teacher at Stanton Junior High School, was one of the few present in favor of the proposal as a protector of the natural vegetation in the park.

"It is one of the few places left with such vegetation and it needs to be conserved for future use," he said. This use, as he views it, could be for nature trails for students.

DUDLEY BAYNE, city manager, referred to the complaints received and of the obligation the city has to Veterans of Foreign Wars, from whom the park was bought for a nominal price. Caliche had been dug out of the park and the city bought the park to preserve the terrain.

Mayor Jim Sears asked why the motorists couldn't ride at the caliche pit near the Cavness Packing plant and the riders answered back that, "it smelled too bad."

A decision on the proposal was delayed until the commissioners had a chance to survey the specific area of the park wanted as an area for motorcycle riding.

Concerning the rate increase requested by Hereford Cablevision, Bayne explained that a proposal submitted by the firm contained information contrary to what is usually submitted by other utilities in justification for increases. The request is from $5.45 a month to $6.95 a month on the base residential rate for one outlet.

The city has sent a letter to the cable company detailing the corrections needed to consider the request. These include the interest rates on borrowed money and the depreciation schedules which don't (See MOTORCYCLES, Page 2A)

Appeal Made To Beautify Alleys

Cleanup Week in Hereford has already been held, but the beautification of the town is not complete unless the cleanup is continued especially in the alleys where mountains of shrubbery and trash have been accumulating.

"We have gotten a lot of complaints of residents piling the loose shrubbery in piles in the alleys behind their neighbors' homes," he said. "We ask that they just pile behind their own homes and the city will pick up the piles."

Hereford City Manager Dudley Bayne made a special appeal Tuesday for persons disposing of trash not usually put into the containers in the alleys to just pile the items in the portion of the alleys behind their homes.

Spring mowing and trimming has brought on most of the accumulated trash and the warmer the weather gets, that much more trash is expected. "The city will pick up trash anyway, but it should be deposited near ones own back gate," he said.

The Successful Living Seminar was conducted Monday and Tuesday nights with about 240 persons participating, and the course outlined some goal-setting principles which should be beneficial to a lot of people. While some of those attending said they "expected more out of the course," almost everyone seemed to agree that the fellowship and inter-action involved in the seminar was very enjoyable.

Phones To Ring Off Walls for Mother's Day

When Mother's Day rolls around May 11, Southwestern Bell will be prepared for a record number of calls and a massive traffic load on the long distance network.

"We expect to handle 452 calls in Hereford on Mother's Day," said Mike Patrick, manager. "Extra operators will be on duty to handle the load."

Across Texas, 1,309,377 calls are expected to be placed. This is an increase of 140,290 over last year.

Because new interstate rates went into effect March 4, Patrick said, many out-of-state calls dialed before 5 p.m. Sunday will cost less than ever before.

"A 60 per cent discount now applies on out-of-state calls dialed direct during the weekend rate period—all day Saturday and Sunday until 5 p.m.," the manager said. "If you wait until after 5 p.m., only a 35 per cent discount applies and your call will hit a traffic jam on the network."

The discounts apply to the total charge for customer-dialed, station-to-station calls.

The manager explained that to get the lowest rates and fastest service, the customer should dial the call one-plus direct. If the call isn't completed the first time, wait five minutes before redialing. If no one answers, wait 30 minutes before making a second attempt.

300 Girls To Compete In Hall of Fame Rodeo

More than 300 cowgirls will be competing for a total payoff of more than $25,000 at the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Rodeo May 16-18, richest and largest all-girl rodeo held in the country.

Entries will be accepted between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. on May 14 at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, phone 364-3333. Entry fee is $25.00 per event.

To enter, girls must be Girls Rodeo Association members or permit holders. For information regarding permits, contact the Girls Rodeo Association, 8909 N.W. 25th St., Spencer, Okla. 73084 or call 405-769-5322.

Margaret Clemons, president of the GAR, has announced all seven of the 1974 world champions will be competing here.

"In addition, all of the top winners in GRA barrel racing will be in Hereford," she commented, "which will provide one of the best fields ever for barrel racing."

The rodeo will initiate the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame which will be constructed here. Temporary quarters for the hall are now in the Deaf Smith County Library basement. Proceeds from the rodeo will go into the construction fund.

Ford's Farm Veto No Surprise Locally

Farmers Say Target Prices Too Low

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

President Ford's veto of the farm bill last week came as something less than a surprise to Deaf Smith County and area farmers and although their reactions to the veto differ, local farmers are in agreement that the target prices contained in the farm bill were insufficient in the first place.

The provisions of the legislation would have applied to the 1975 crop only and would have provided increases to the target and loan level prices.

THE TARGET PRICE of wheat would have been raised from the current level of $2.05 per bushel to $3.10 per bushel and the loan level from $1.37 to $2.05 per bushel.

Corn, which currently has a target price of $1.38 per bushel would have been upped to $2.25 per bushel under the new farm bill and the loan level would have increased from $1.10 per bushel to $1.87 per bushel.

Cotton, which has a target price of 38 cents per pound would have been upped to 45 cents per pound and the loan level increased from 34 cents per pound to 38 cents per pound.

Provisions for the dairy price support program would have established a minimum support level of 80 per cent of parity and would have provided for quarterly adjustments. The provisions of the dairy program would have extended to April 1, 1976.

FORD STATED in his veto message that his move would not lower grain prices, but area farmers and officials are taking exception to that statement.

Jerry Roberts, who farms 1,300 acres of land 25 miles northwest of Hereford and raises corn, wheat, milo and beans stated that he felt "mixed emotions" following the President's veto.

"We ought to have some type of floor for our products, but the target price contained in the bill wasn't sufficient. I didn't like the reasons the President gave for vetoing the bill. We needed a farm bill that would come closer to assuring the farmer that he could recover his production expenses and what was proposed didn't do that," Roberts said.

"I don't look for anything suitable to come out of the whole situation, but in the event that some legislation was enacted I would like to see decent target prices and loan levels."

"PERSONALLY, I thought it was a good thing that the President vetoed the farm bill, because it wasn't good anyway," said A.R. Dillard, who farms four sections 20 miles northwest of Hereford.

"The target prices were so low the farmer might as well play the game and see what happens on the open market. Target prices won't work under the conditions we have now, farmers are going to have to learn to price what they produce in such a way as to get reasonable returns," he added.

Frank Bezner who farms 400 acres four miles south of Hereford stated that he felt "the administration doesn't think much of the agriculture industry."

"There's no way the farmer can stay in business selling grain at the price which the officials in Washington expect him to. The government is asking the farmer to take no profit at a time when production costs are at their highest. Those in Washington are just not for agriculture at all, this is a serious thing and the farmer is going to go broke if it isn't corrected," said Bezner.

Carl King of Dimmitt, president of the Texas Corn Growers Association was pessimistic about the chances of Congress overriding the President's veto.

"I don't think the President's veto will be overturned, I would rate the chances at 60-30; however the TCGA has sent wires to numerous congressmen and senators urging them to override the veto of the emergency farm bill. I don't feel that the target prices and loan levels were set at a sufficient figure, due to the current high production costs," King commented.

ELDRED BROWN, who farms in the Bootleg community stated, "We needed that bill. Wheat selling for $2.50 per bushel just won't cut it for a farmer, he can't even meet his expenses at that price. We needed a higher target price, but the farm bill that was vetoed would have beat nothing at all. The President did leave an avenue open for higher loan prices later, but if the crop is not as large as expected this year that might never come about."

Raymond Schlabs of Milo Center expects chaos in the agriculture industry following the veto.

"We'll simply have to live off of someone else's disaster like we did last year in the corn market. A farmer can't make a living under the current prices, he can't even afford to irrigate his crops. If the President thinks farm prices are too high now, I would hate to see where they might end up. When the farmer asks for parity, everyone in Washington freezes up—98 per cent of the people don't even know what it is," he said.

HARLAN VANDERZEE, president of the Hereford State Bank speculated that Congress will not make another attempt to come up with a farm program this year, and joined the others interviewed by the Brand in their belief that the President's veto will stand.

"I think the veto of the farm bill is an extreme case of short-sightedness and test tube economics," said VanderZee. "I can't see keeping the food producers in such sad shape financially. I'm extremely concerned over the likelihood of very low farm prices this year, every day the price of grain is dropping."

"The target prices in the proposed farm bill were inadequate, they would only have given something slightly higher than the old target prices and that wasn't enough to meet the current situation. I think the move has been a poor showing on the part of the administration with too much reliance on the economists," VanderZee said.

"The whole issue of getting the farm message across is just an insurmountable thing, and those representatives who are sincere about aiding agriculture are far too few. The answer to so many of our economic problems doesn't lie in starving the people who produce, but in helping them," he added.

THE LOCAL RESIDENTS were at a loss to guess what the next move on the part of the administration will be if the veto is upheld and stated that the farmer must now play a waiting game.

A telegram sent to the President by Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce only days before the veto of the farm bill summed up the feelings of most area agriculturalists.

The telegram stated, "Admittedly, the farm bill is inadequate in its present form, but a veto of this much assistance to the agriculturalist would have been an undeserved rebuke to your greatest friends and allies."

Water Reclamation Interest Increases Here

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

Deaf Smith County farmers are showing increased interest in the development of water reclamation systems on their land, and figures from recent years indicate that a large number of county farmers have taken steps to reuse their tailwater, according to Randy Underwood, Soil Conservationist.

Underwood reported that interest in tailwater reclaim systems "really perked up" in 1973, following an outstanding crop year for the area. Many farmers finally found themselves with some money to invest and were quick to sink it into improvements for water conservation such as reclaim systems and underground pipeline.

"THE FARMERS really came on strong in their interest in reclaim systems in 1973, and that interest has remained high," said Underwood.

Underwood estimated that some 70-80 reclaim systems or more are installed each year within the county and added that the Soil Conservation Service has assisted with the installation of 23 tailwater systems since June of 1974.

"The SCS doesn't design all of the reclaim systems. Many of the farmers engineer their own, so we don't have an exact figure on the number of systems which go in in a year's time," Underwood explained.

According to Underwood, reclaim pits located on the lower ends of fields are the most popular method of collecting tailwater for reuse locally.

He reported that the SCS uses a formula to figure the size of the reclaim pit needed on a farm and offers assistance to the farmer in design, planning and layout of the facility.

THE SCS ALSO offers a Great Plains Program which features Cost Sharing on the Construction of reclaim systems.

"Quite a few systems have been built under these Great Plains contracts," said Underwood.

Installation of underground irrigation pipe is another proven method of conserving water, and Underwood pointed out that county farmers stayed busy putting in pipe last year.

"Farmers installed over 60 miles of underground irrigation pipe in the county last year under various cost sharing programs, and some additional pipe was put in without the assistance of cost sharing. We had a lot of interest in pipe installation because we had the 1973 REAP program, the 1974 RECP program and the Great Plains Program all going to help the farmers," Underwood commented.

UNDERWOOD EXPLAINED that he expects continued interest in reclaim systems in the part of farmers and added that farmers in need of help in planning and designing systems may contact the local SCS office.

"I think everyone realizes that this country can run out of water and a lot of concerned farmers are taking steps to make sure that they get the most from every drop," Underwood concluded.

Water Saver

This tailwater return system located northwest of Hereford is similar to many which have been installed by Deaf Smith County farmers as a means of utilizing irrigation spilloff. The system shown here features a floating electric pump.

Local farmers have shown increased interest in such return systems during recent years and have also installed large amounts of underground irrigation pipe on their farms.

The Abundant Life

By BOB WEAR
Hereford Pastor

A STRONG POSITIVE ATTITUDE is essential to a realization of the best in our living. This attitude is neither omnipotent nor omniscient, but it is highly desirable. This positive attitude is no guarantee that we can have everything just the way we want it to be. Neither does it mean that we can do everything we would like to do.

IN LIVING, there are some uncertainties. We cannot always know what to expect, and we must learn how to live with this fact of life. "We can do it." There are sufficient certainties to enable us to stabilize our life situation.

Yes, we can live with uncertainties; and can do so in a very acceptable manner. We can do this by attaching our lives to the identifiable and available certainties.

"Happy the man who can endure the highest and the lowest fortune. He who has endured such vicissitudes with equanimity has deprived misfortune of its power." -Seneca.

CHANGES ARE ALWAYS

being made, in some aspects of our living. Some of these will be justified; some will occur because of fallible human judgments; some will be caused by the passing of time; and some changes will be the result of other happenings.

Potentially, we have considerable capacity for making the necessary adjustments to change. Some changes will be of very little concern to us, but others may be traumatic. Some will be easier to cope with than others, but we can cope with them. It helps us to realize that "we can do it."

OUR BEST HELP will be found in believing in, and holding to the things that are unchangeable and unchanging. There are easily recognizable elements of life which are unchangeable. For these, we should be forever grateful. There are specifics and absolutes which are enduring.

There will be some unpleasant things to do, and some unpleasant things to endure; but life is not all unpleasant.

There is much about life that is pleasant, and we are thankful that it is so. We are not justified, however, in expecting just the pleasant.

We will probably be able to keep the unpleasant to a minimum, and this must be our aim. "We can do it." This is not all; we can handle the unpleasant, too.

THERE MAY BE HANDICAPS to bear. Some may be minor, and some may be very severe. If there are handicaps, adjustments must be made according to the nature of the handicap. Knowing that "we can do it" will help strengthen us for the doing.

Of course, the handicap may be so severe that we will need assistance. If so, assistance is available; and we should seek and accept it with the greatest degree of gratitude.

We cannot do everything, but we can usually do more than we think we can.

Good Luck Party To Honor Miss Hereford

The All Girl Rodeo, upcoming meetings, fine arts, and membership constituted the business at the monthly meeting of the executive board of the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce at the Hereford Country Club Tuesday.

The group unanimously agreed that all citizens of Hereford need to take a particular pride in Hereford's beautification and clean up their own lots and surroundings before out of town visitors start coming for the All Girl Rodeo.

The Women's Division sponsored a clean-up drive last month, but many businesses and individuals did not get the weeds removed from their lots and sidewalks around businesses.

The group was also made aware of the needs for more places for visitors and participants to stay during the three day rodeo. It was suggested that if anyone has a bedroom they would like to rent, they are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce office, 364-3333. The rodeo is May 16-18.

Mrs. Melvin Hoover gave a report on public affairs. She reported the tour of the eastern one half of the county last Saturday was termed a success with 29 people making the tour.

She also reported on plans for the upcoming summer youth program with Mrs. Bill Allen serving as chairman. Volunteers are still needed to work in the game room in July and if volunteers aren't acquired, that month will be canceled from the program.

It was also reported that the Kiwanis Club has volunteered to open the Community Center on Friday and Saturday nights during the summer.

Mrs. Joe Henry reported on the success of the recent fine arts festival held in the county library. She said over 400 people registered.

She also revealed plans for the June 30 membership meeting. A "Good Luck" party for Monica Herring, Miss Hereford, before her departure for the Miss Texas Pageant has been planned. Monica will model her competition gown and perform for the talent competition. She plans to play the piano. Donna Kendall, Miss Teen Hereford, has also been invited to sing at the meeting.

Mrs. Earl Yocum will moderate a panel presenting a program on interior decorating. Members of the panel will include Leatrice and Pat Clark, Ann Orr and Ann McCaslin. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

A Career Girl Charm Clinic will be sponsored by the Women's Division Sept. 15. More details will be revealed at a later date.

Membership in the Women's Division has now grown to 202 members, according to chairman Mrs. Joe Railey. Newest member in the organization is Mrs. Jim McDowell.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. O.G. Nieman, president. Others attending were Mmes. Waldox Baxter, Bill Johnson, Rocky Lee, Roy Fabian, Percy Willson, Hoover, Railey, Henry and Bill Albright.

If you'd like to whet your appetite for the big rodeo coming up in Hereford, there'll be a team roping event Saturday and Sunday at the Westway arena, eight miles west of town. A chuck wagon barbecue is set each day and proceeds from the barbecue will go to the Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Hereford. Roping starts at 11 a.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday.

And, a meeting tonight will be of interest to hunters and trap shooters. The Hereford Gun Club is having a meeting at 8 p.m. in the First National Bank's community room with R.J. Cramer as guest speaker. He'll speak on trap shooting and the use of shotguns. The club is also to elect officers.

Trap shooting is conducted by the club on the second and fourth Sunday afternoons at present, and as weather permits they will start having the shoots on the first and third Friday nights.

Taxes were up 26.5 per cent for middle-class America last year, but there are some bright sides, reports Nation's Business. While prices were rising at the rate of 12 percent a year here, the inflation rate was 50 percent in Taiwan, 30 per cent in Brazil, and 23 per cent in Japan. And, in 1974, more Americans—91.1 million—were gainfully employed than at any time in the nation's history.

Add to that that one of the Americans' greatest problems is obesity.

ANNUALLY, THE CITY contracts with a spraying company to spray the city on a given night to rid the area of mosquitoes and other insects.

Two companies bidded on the project but one could not obtain the necessary $1 million insurance. The Marian Uly Co. is the nation's largest sprayer and is the one usually used by the city.

The spraying cost will be 38 1/2 cents an acre. It had been 31 cents an acre. The increase is due to chemical costs.

The golf course problems consisted primarily of alcoholic beverages on the course and in the Pro Shop during a tournament Monday. It was attributed to a lack of signs stating that the beverages were not allowed.

Bayne said he would look into the problem and put up signs if necessary.

The only absent commissioner was Paul Abalos. The next meeting is May 19.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Clay R. Pollan
Note planetary ruler of your birth symbol
FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY, MAY 12, 1975

♈ Aries Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 | ♃ Venus ♀
If your birthday occurs this week... you are, more than most people, ambitious, purposeful, industrious. The planet under which you were born, endows you with energy, initiative, enthusiasm, aggressiveness. With moderation added to your more enterprising qualities, you should win happiness and succeed.

♉ Taurus Apr. 20 - May 20 | ♃ Venus ♀
Your mail will be a happy thing, and the week can go more smoothly, as you reflect on your good fortune and the affection of others. Completion of some important affairs is strongly indicated. Stick to familiar ground; remain close to your home base. The more fruit included in your diet, the better.

♊ Gemini May 21 - June 20 | ♃ Mercury ♀
Money matters are accentuated more than usual. Financial affairs need cautious handling. Forget "impulse buys" for the moment. A change in your system of budgeting will have advantages. Avoid loaning money to youngsters even if unpopularity results. A windfall you haven't anticipated could be a repayment.

♋ Cancer June 21 - July 22 | ♁ Moon ♀
One of your problems is that there will be terrific demands on your leisure time. Your work may become more difficult, which will curtail the time you have available for enjoying life. Favor group activities as against solitary doings. Favor also creative activities connected with music, art, dancing.

♌ Leo July 23 - Aug. 22 | ☼ Sun ☉
You are heading into a phase of life when you need the stimulation of contacts with new people, new surroundings, new ideas. If you cling to the past, you will be doing the wrong thing. Use firmer discipline with youngsters. Favor friends rather than relatives if you entertain.

♍ Virgo Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 | ♃ Mercury ♀
Now's the time to look your best, go after what you want, talk freely and be ambitious. Let your inspiration and energy for a bigger job show. There's no better time than this week for pulling strings, asking favors. Back your intuition in business and legal affairs. Refuse to have any rights taken away.

♎ Libra Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 | ♃ Venus ♀
Let it be known that you are willing to handle a new responsibility. You may be considered for a better position, or may be given a chance to add to your income. You can attract support now for your plans. Set a steady course and keep to it religiously. Contact an individual who is affluent.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 | ♂ Mars ♂
During this week your love life and lifestyle will be under favorable stars. Romance needs a shot in the arm and this is the week for it. See that you make your feelings known. An element of rivalry stimulates you to increased and successful efforts. Social life is well starred. Favor good company.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 | ♃ Jupiter ♃
Give more attention to your well-being and personal enjoyment. Buy little tokens that you've long wanted. In your business dealings, consider your interests as Number One. It's not wise to risk capital on an unknown commodity. Refuse to be rushed, or be cajoled by associates or relatives.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 | ♄ Saturn ♄
Relationships are accentuated. Value friendship and do nothing to disturb the status quo in any relationship. Be a bit more tactful. If bored with anyone, don't show it. Be cheerful. Choose for companions folk who can laugh and be merry. A true friend will be keen to introduce you to influential acquaintances.

♈ Aquarius Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 | ♃ Uranus ♃
A bright, sparkling week. Praise may flow in, love be given you, and all go according to plan. Enjoy this time of sheer joy and well-being. Courtship is under happy stars. Luck, too, if you like a modest gamble. A promise received now will result in a happy partnership. Favor Taurus individuals.

♉ Pisces Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 | ♆ Neptune ♆
There is good news this week and plenty of it. The coming days hold many pleasant surprises and special personal pleasures. Go to the top, see the boss, if you are in difficulties at work. Someone will be doing you a favor without broadcasting the fact. Get off official forms. Visit government departments.

Embarking On Excursion

To Vie For Saddle All-Around Champ

Cowgirls entered in the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Professional All Girl Rodeo, May 16, 17, 18, will get more than just bruises for their efforts.

Besides an estimated $25,000 in prize money, the top money winner in two or more events will win a $600 all-around trophy saddle.

Don Nall, recently hired by Jim Clearich of Walco, Int. to do leather work, has put together a beautiful trophy saddle. "Saddle making is a dying art. It's getting to be an assembly line job and fewer and fewer people can make one from start to finish," said Nall.

in Alpine while a student at Sul Ross University. He was working for George Nix in a saddle shop doing leather work and saddle repairs. After about a year of repair work, Nix handed Nall a saddle tree and told him to make a saddle.

"I guess I did okay because Nix hired a new man to do repairs and I kept building saddles, leggins' and belts. These were all custom made—made to fit," Nall said.

Nall has built a total of 34 saddles. One saddle takes about 40 clock hours to build. This ornate saddle can be viewed at the temporary headquarters of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame in the basement of Deaf Smith County Library during the Rodeo.

Don Nall, local resident, proudly displays his superior craftsmanship in this All Around trophy saddle. The saddle, donated by Walco, International, will be presented to the All Around cowgirl of the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Rodeo to be held here May 16, 17, and 18.

Senior Demonstration Teams To Advance To State Meet

Six senior 4-H demonstration teams from Deaf Smith County earned the right to advance to state competition Saturday at the District 4-H Roundup in Canyon.

Four of the local teams posted first place finishes in the senior division competition while there were two second place senior teams.

Wes Strain and Mark Betzen placed first in community improvement in the senior division and Frankie Wells and Randy Fellers were first in the dairy demonstration.

Taking second in senior family life educational activity were Sandra Stallings, Diane Ward, Elva Esqueda and Terry Barrier.

LeAnne Hughes was first in senior family resource management educational activity and Rhonda Hagar was first in senior foods and nutrition.

Second place honors in senior home environment educational activity went to Stephanie Kelso.

First place winners in the junior division included Brenda Straffus and Judy Flores in clothing educational activity; Regina Bryan and Robin Coleman in a cooperative demonstration; Missy Merritt and Kristy Simons with a dairy demonstration; Will Fellers and Joe Bob Brown in farm and ranch management; Gary Jones in natural resources; Robin Baldwin and Leslie Brush in poultry and Kevin Sanders in public speaking.

Second place honors in the junior division went to Sherry Strain and Gail McCabe in community improvement; Karen Elaine Jones and Debbie McCarley in family life educational activity; Glenna West in foods and nutrition; Carla West in home environment educational activity;

Brenda Glover and DeAnna Stokesberry in horticultural preparation and use; and Gina Inman and Dawna Inman, landscape horticulture.

Third place junior winners were Reecie Willson and Becky Hughes in companion animals; Joycelyn Aven and Linda Walker in horse demonstration; Kelly Scoggins and Julie Chapman in natural resources; JoLana Crump and Sharon Skaggs in safety and emergency preparedness and Valerie Naul in public speaking. Jeff Smith and Ben Flores took fourth place in the junior electric demonstration.

The junior rifle team made up of Bud Hughes, Rodney Miller, Greg Ward and Paul Smith and the junior share the fun team composed of Angela, Lana and Mona Porter also competed. The first and second place winners in the senior division will advance to the state 4-H Roundup June 3-4.

Riders Compete In Playday

Members of the Hereford Riding Club took high point honors in five divisions of the Range II playday held April 27 at the Palo Duro Rangers Arena in Canyon.

Delight Thames compiled a total of 37 points in the pee wee girls' competition and Joel Smith had 40 points in the pee wee boys' division.

Lee Washington had 38 points in competition for junior boys and Tonie Blackwell racked up 32 points in the junior girls' bracket.

Carlton Richardson compiled 34 points in the senior mens' division.

Denise Reed of Kress had 48 points in the intermediate girls' division and Sue Kirkland of Umbarger had 34 points in the senior womens' division.

Events included the keyhole game, poles, barrels, rings, golfette, rescue races, wagon races, baton relay, ribbon races and flag races.

The Bare Facts

A young woman took a job as a governess, then suddenly left it.

Asked why she resigned, she said: "Had to. Backward child, forward father."

Impossible
Mrs. Knagg—"Don't fidget so, Harold. You should sit perfectly still while mother is talking."

Mr. Knagg—"It's cruel to compel a child to sit perfectly still for such a long, indefinite period."

Competition
"I suppose the little wife will win all the arguments in your house?"

"No; she'll only win half of them."

"Oh, you expect to win the other half?"

"No; but my mother-in-law will."

Income Levels Set For School Meals

Income poverty guidelines for determining children's eligibility for free or reduced-price lunches and breakfasts and free milk in schools during the 1975-76 academic year have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) is issuing guidelines now to aid school boards and administrators in advance planning and budgeting.

The USDA guidelines are the minimum eligibility standards which must be used by all schools participating in the National School Lunch, School Breakfast or Special Milk Programs or receiving federally donated foods. Free meals and free milk must be served to all children from families at or below the income levels set by the guidelines.

Using USDA's national guidelines to determine which children are eligible for free or reduced-price meals and free milk in that state's schools. State guidelines cannot be lower than the national levels but can be up to 25 per cent higher for free meals and milk and up to 75 per cent higher for reduced-price meals. These are maximums allowed under present law scheduled to take effect July 1.

The new guidelines are about 11 per cent higher than those for the 1974-75 school year. For example, the income eligibility level for a family of four rises from $4,510 to $5,010. The year-to-year change in the Consumer Price Index is the basis for USDA's guideline adjustment procedure, consistent with the Bureau of Census method for updating its statistics on poverty levels. USDA's income poverty guidelines are higher for Alaska, Hawaii and Guam because of higher living costs in those areas.

Income poverty guidelines take into account both family size and income before deductions for income taxes, insurance premiums, bonds, etc. In using the guidelines, school food authorities can consider the family's income during the past 12 months and the current rate of income to determine the better indicator of need for free or reduced-price meals or free milk. When judging a family's income level, local administrators can also allow or specified hardship situations such as unusually high medical expenses, housing costs which exceed 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to a child's physical or mental condition, and disaster or casualty losses.

Energy Policy Sought

BY LLOYD BENTSEN
UNITED STATES SENATOR

When the Arab oil embargo abruptly plunged our nation into a severe energy crunch, one point was made disturbingly clear. Until we develop a coordinated and systematic policy of energy self-sufficiency, we will remain at the mercy of a handful of small, oil-producing nations.

To date, government has responded to the crisis with a series of stop-gap emergency measures, but such temporary solutions will not do the job.

This coming week, I will preside over Senate Finance Committee hearings to examine what steps we should take to develop our own domestic energy resources.

In doing this, we must first understand that the recent energy crisis was caused more by a failure to anticipate and prepare for the shortage than by the lack of any energy sources here at home.

There were then and are now adequate supplies of energy in the United States to meet all our requirements for the foreseeable future.

If we adopt coordinated development plans on the one hand and exercise prudent conservation measures on the other, oil and gas can meet our energy needs well up into the next century.

Beyond that, there is the promise of such technologically exotic and still experimental sources as thermal and solar energy, the sort of sources that will come hand-in-hand with our continued growth as a scientifically advanced nation.

And to bridge the gap between our present reliance on oil and gas and such future scientific breakthroughs, our country has a wealth of synthetic energy alternatives waiting to be tapped.

Coal gasification is, one of them. We are the Saudi Arabia of the world when it comes to coal reserves. According to the National Academy of Sciences there are 3.3 trillion tons of coal in proved reserves and undiscovered resources in the United States.

And the technology already exists to convert this coal into a sulfur-free natural gas—into the energy equivalent of 12 trillion barrels of oil.

The big problem is making this process both economically and environmentally feasible.

It takes a tremendous capital outlay to purchase the new equipment for converting coal into gas. Companies are also reluctant to undertake such projects because of the fear the Arab oil-producing countries will begin to undercut them.

Recognizing the control the Arabs currently exercise on the energy market, their reluctance to make these large-scale investments in coal gasification is understandable.

This is where government can and must help, both with such intangibles as the moral support provided by a constant commitment to the development of synthetic fuels, and with more concrete financial backing.

BENTSEN BILL

To this end, I have already introduced legislation establishing an Energy Development Fund to provide loan guarantees for developing synthetic fuels, including gasified coal, oil shale and solid waste conversion.

These loan guarantees would not represent any direct financial outlays by the Federal government, but would simply encourage companies to embark on expensive energy development projects by protecting them against Arab-created price fluctuations.

Besides such selective loan guarantees, government could also make purchase commitments to private industries working through such new avenues to meet our energy needs.

Another promising energy alternative we will be examining next week is the conversion of solid waste to methane and methanol. Although still highly experimental, the Environmental Protection Agency predicts that by 1980 the amount of energy conceivably available by this process could equal several hundred thousand barrels of oil per day. It would also save cities across the country some $2 billion currently spent on municipal waste disposal.

UIL Considering New AAAAA League

A UIL committee is currently considering an old idea, the creation of a new AAAAA league, according to UIL Athletic Director Dr. Bailey Marshall.

Equalizing competition is the major reason behind the idea and travel costs are the major objections to it.

HHS athletic director Fred Upshaw commented on the creation of the new league, telling the Brand that he felt that "the move would be an excellent thing."

"The move would give the schools with a smaller enrollment a better chance to compete," said Upshaw.

The UIL legislative council voted to allow the committee to formulate its proposals. When they are ready, they will be sent to the council, whose vote will decide what is to be done.

June is the target date for the decision. If it is accepted, conference AAAAA would go into effect beginning with the 1976-77 school year.

Principal backers of the proposals are the smaller schools in each district and those that haven't been winning, according to Marshall.

One of the tentative AAAAA districts drawn up included Monterey, Coronado, Tascosa, Palo Duro, Wichita Falls, and Wichita Falls Rider.

The remaining AAAAA district included Caprock, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Hereford, Plainview, Lubbock, Estacado and Snyder.

Marshall felt that some of the district selections of AAAAA could be improved and added that enrollment minimums used in the study were 1950 for AAAAA schools and 1025 for AAAA schools. He pointed out that conference AAAAA would have to have 130-150 schools for it to be balanced for travel.

"Travel would be one of the main problems anyway, and another problem associated with the concept is loss of school time by athletes because of increased travel," said Marshall.

"The main argument for changing is that there would be more opportunities to win. The minimum enrollment for Class AAAAA schools is 1136 and sometimes a school of this size will have to compete against one of 3000 students. Also, some people will argue that this will help equalize the size of school facilities in each conference," he added.

Obituaries

MRS. ONIE WATSON

Services for Mrs. Onie Watson, aunt of Orval Watson of 216 Northwest Dr., were held Tuesday morning in First Church of the Nazarene at Clovis, N.M.

The Rev. Gerald Woods, pastor, officiated. Graveside rites were conducted that afternoon in the Plainview Cemetery. Arrangements were directed by Steed-Todd Funeral home of Clovis.

Mrs. Watson, born near Nashville, Tenn., homesteaded in Oklahoma and moved to Clovis from Kress in 1951. She was the oldest female member of the Nazarene congregation at Clovis.

Watson, nephew of the deceased, was reared in her home.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Betty Cranford of Colorado Springs, Colo. and Mrs. Vesper Brooks on New Franklin, Mo.; five sons, Raymond of Oklahoma City, Furman of Little Rock, Ark., Merle, Eddie and Opie all of Clovis; a brother, Dr. Henry Wallin of Pasadena, Calif.; 14 grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

MISS LUCILLE L. HOFFMAN

Services for Miss Lucille

Lorraine Hoffman, local resident since 1952, were conducted yesterday afternoon at Immanuel Lutheran church. The Rev. Herman Schelter, pastor of a church at Larlot, officiated.

Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home directed burial in Rhea Community Cemetery.

Born July 9, 1922, Miss Hoffman was self-employed.

She was a Lutheran and a former resident of Rhea.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Pauline Hoffman of Hereford and a brother, Carl, of Hereford.

The family requests memorials to the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

HOWARD C. PERRY

Services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Cherokee for Howard C. Perry, father of Mrs. Marjorie Lasiter of Hereford.

Howell-Doran Funeral Home arranged burial at Cherokee. Mr. Perry, a longtime rancher of San Saba County, died Sunday after suffering a stroke.

In addition to Mrs. Lasiter, survivors include the widow, Daisy; two other daughters, Mrs. Dawn Mayers of Taylor and Mrs. Joy Cox of Fort Worth; a son, Charles, of Cherokee; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Lobby Control Act Under Study

The Executive Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution urging the Texas Legislature to amend the Texas Lobby Control Act to eliminate unfair discrimination against Texas citizens employed in the private sector and make the Lobby Control Act applicable to all citizens of Texas equally.

The only exception would be those who achieve their state office by a statewide vote of the people.

Under the Lobby Control Act, passed by the 63rd Legislature, the purpose was stated, "to preserve and maintain the integrity of the legislative process, it is necessary that the identity, expenditures and activities of certain persons who, by direct communications to such officers, engage in efforts to persuade members of the legislative branch or executive branch to take certain actions to publicly and regularly disclosed."

"House Bill 2 in Section 3, paragraph 2, subsection b, excludes the largest lobby in the state, the state agencies, by excluding from this act members of the executive and judiciary branch," says J. Fike Godfrey of Abilene, Executive Vice President, West Texas Chamber of Commerce. "This subsection discriminates against the citizens of Texas not in state administrative positions."

Under the present Lobby Control Act, citizens of Texas not on the State payroll who desire to have any meaningful say about what the Texas State Government is doing, exposes himself to the criminal liabilities of the law and to unreasonably burdensome record-keeping and reporting.

"Since these state employees are free to lobby at any time on taxpayers' time at the taxpayers' expense for more state programs, more state expense and more state taxes, this act should be amended and remove the discrimination against the citizens of the State of Texas employed in the private sector."

Caviness Wins Tourney

Caviness Packing took first place honors over the weekend at the Hereford Amateur Athletic Association's opening softball tournament.

Rudy Gonzalez led a strong hitting attack on the part of Caviness to defeat second place Armour 4-1.

Armour advanced to the finals by beating Mead's Bread 7-5. League play is scheduled to begin May 18 and schedules will be released May 15.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Food is your most urgent daily need. The hunger drive is basic to human existence and survival. Yet the food you eat—and the foods you don't eat—may be a contributing factor to serious health problems now, and in the future. Your eating habits may actually lead to the destruction of your health, according to the State Health Department.

The nation's diet is so poor, in fact, that improper nutrition costs some $30 billion a year in doctor bills and other health care costs, according to a report from the U.S. Senate's Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs.

The committee said that there are three major dietary problems in this country: undernutrition, or not enough food; malnutrition or not enough of the right kinds of food; and overnutrition—too much food, especially too many calories.

Inadequate nutrition has been associated with poor mental development and even with emotional instability. Maternal and infant diseases and deaths, absenteeism among school children and among the work-forces, losses of life due to cardiovascular diseases and hypertension, the expense of dental disease, alcoholism, diabetes, obesity, digestive malfunctioning...all of these potentially crippling and life-threatening conditions can be attributed, at least in part, to poor nutrition.

Most people know that there are some foods which are better than others for helping children grow and keeping adults vigorous and well. Unfortunately, most people don't bother to follow what they know to be good dietary practices. We eat only the things we like, what we're used to eating, or what we think we can easily afford—although, in fact, good nutrition is no more expensive than bad nutrition. Too many people fall for brightly-packaged foods, or foods that can be prepared quickly and eaten on the run, rather than the sensible choice of foods, or foods that can be of foods that provide a nourishing, balanced daily diet.

Nutritional scientists have identified on less than 57 nutrients that are used by the human body and that are necessary for life and well-being. These include 13 vitamins and vitamin groups; 17 minerals; 22 amino acids, the basic building-blocks of protein, several fatty acids and other fat-like substances; sugars; starches; and water. All of these nutrients, in their proper proportions, can be included in the daily diet by choosing wisely from the four major food groups.

Farmers Need To Be Insured Of Fair Returns

Some of the risks must be reduced if farmers are expected to do their best in supplying overseas markets.

That's the view of Director J. C. Williamson, Jr., of North Carolina's Agricultural Experiment Station.

The director says the government needs a better mechanism for insuring fair returns to farmers than the current target price concept.

"It's a fallacy to assume that American agriculture operates in a free market—at least at the international level," Mr. Williamson declared. "In the short run, our level of farm exports is determined mostly by the policies of foreign governments and not necessarily by the law of supply and demand."

Noting that America's farm population has become smaller and more mobile, Williamson said farmers will either get a rate of return comparable to non-farmers or they'll quit farming.

The director expressed general optimism about agriculture's future, however.

Herd Shows Enthusiasm As Spring Drills Begin

A larger group than expected turned out for the first session of Hereford High School's spring football drills Monday afternoon as approximately 95 footballers reported according to Fred Upshaw, HHS athletic director.

"We're pleased with the enthusiasm the kids have shown in the first practice sessions, they've worked hard. It will just take time to situate everyone in the right position," said Upshaw.

Junior high coaches Bobby Anderson, Gary Goodin, Lester Kirkland and David Ashby are also assisting. Upshaw pointed out that the Herd has been concentrating on fundamentals this week in preparation for a scrimmage to be held Saturday at 10 a.m. The freshman will scrimmage tomorrow (Friday) at 3:30.

"We're looking for experience now, currently the defensive line and the linebackers seem to have the most depth. Our quarterbacks, Mike Crim and Kelly Kitchens are throwing the ball well and the linebacking corps is looking good. The defensive line is also doing well. We're especially concerned about experience in the offensive line," Upshaw explained.

He added that the offensive line is slightly larger than last year's but is still far from huge. "We have four lettermen returning to our backfield but the backs are still short on experience overall. We're making a few modifications in our offensive system but no major changes," said Upshaw.

"It's hard to comment on the team and point out weaknesses and strong points after only a few practice sessions. We'll be taking a close look and siting everyone later on, but we don't want to decide on anyone for any certain position until we have taken a good look. We are proud of the attitude the kids are showing in the workouts though. It takes work to learn and the kids are putting out the effort," he added.

Denis Menke To Speak At Kids Inc. Banquet

Denis Menke, former infielder for the Houston Astros will be the featured speaker at the Hereford Kids Inc. sports banquet to be held at the Bull Barn June 27 at 8 p.m. The banquet is sponsored by the Hereford State Bank.

Menke has 12 years of experience in major league baseball including six seasons with the Braves (four at Milwaukee and two at Atlanta), four with Houston and two with Cincinnati. He played with Cincinnati in the 1972 World Series.

He played with the Astros from 1968 through 1971 and hit .304 in 154 games in 1970. He was a member of the National League All-Star team in 1969 and 1970.

According to David McDonald, co-chairman for the event, a crowd of approximately 1500 is expected for the banquet.

Tickets for the event, priced at $2, went on sale Monday. They may be obtained from any Kids Inc. baseball player or at the baseball park concession stands. Ducats will also go on sale at the Hereford State Bank June 9, with ticket sales ending June 13.

The Hereford Rotary Club will cater a barbecue dinner at the banquet.

Youngsters of the Pony Leagues and all girls' softball leagues will be honored and Coach of the Year and Sportsmanship awards will be presented. The Most Valuable Player and All-Star team will also be announced.

"We urge everyone to buy their tickets as soon as possible because there are more people involved this year and we have only a limited number of tickets," said McDonald. Those desiring information on ticket sales may contact David McDonald at 364-4258, Jimmy Bell at 364-0181 or Micky Bishop at 364-3479.

Tickets for the fete are available at both city banks, the high school, the Chamber of Commerce office, KPAN radio, or the Brand.

Tony Mason, head football coach at the University of Cincinnati will be the featured speaker.

Booster Club president Tom Simons reported that the organization will honor approximately 235 high school athletes.

Awards will be presented to the outstanding athletes in each sport.

AL Baseball Program Nixed

Hereford American Legion Post 192 will not sponsor an American Legion baseball team this summer according to Benny Womble, business manager.

Womble cited the resignation of Aaron Bourland as coach and lack of interest on the part of players as the principle reasons for the local post's actions.

"Adequate funds had already been set aside and registration fees had been paid by the Legion in expectation of sponsoring a team," said Womble. "Hereford Post 192 regrets not being able to have a baseball program, but feels that the players will lose more as the program was primarily for them to enjoy," he added.

Womble explained that the funds set aside for the baseball program will now be used in other Legion activities.

UIL Considering New AAAAA League

A UIL committee is currently considering an old idea, the creation of a new AAAAA league, according to UIL Athletic Director Dr. Bailey Marshall.

Equalizing competition is the major reason behind the idea and travel costs are the major objections to it.

HHS athletic director Fred Upshaw commented on the creation of the new league, telling the Brand that he felt that "the move would be an excellent thing."

"The move would give the schools with a smaller enrollment a better chance to compete," said Upshaw.

The UIL legislative council voted to allow the committee to formulate its proposals. When they are ready, they will be sent to the council, whose vote will decide what is to be done.

June is the target date for the decision. If it is accepted, conference AAAAA would go into effect beginning with the 1976-77 school year.

Principal backers of the proposals are the smaller schools in each district and those that haven't been winning, according to Marshall.

One of the tentative AAAAA districts drawn up included Monterey, Coronado, Tascosa, Palo Duro, Wichita Falls, and Wichita Falls Rider.

The remaining AAAAA district included Caprock, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Hereford, Plainview, Lubbock, Estacado and Snyder.

Marshall felt that some of the district selections of AAAAA could be improved and added that enrollment minimums used in the study were 1950 for AAAAA schools and 1025 for AAAAA schools. He pointed out that conference AAAAA would have to have 130-150 schools for it to be balanced for travel.

"Travel would be one of the main problems anyway, and another problem associated with the concept is loss of school time by athletes because of increased travel," said Marshall.

"The main argument for changing is that there would be more opportunities to win. The minimum enrollment for Class AAAAA schools is 1136 and sometimes a school of this size will have to compete against one of 3000 students. Also, some people will argue that this will help equalize the size of school facilities in each conference," he added.

Obituaries

MRS. ONIE WATSON

Services for Mrs. Onie Watson, aunt of Orval Watson of 216 Northwest Dr., were held Tuesday morning in First Church of the Nazarene at Clovis, N.M.

The Rev. Gerald Woods, pastor, officiated. Graveside rites were conducted that afternoon in the Pajaview Cemetery. Arrangements were directed by Steed-Todd Funeral home of Clovis.

Mrs. Watson, born near Nashville, Tenn., homesteaded in Oklahoma and moved to Clovis from Kress in 1951. She was the oldest female member of the Nazarene congregation at Clovis.

Watson, nephew of the deceased, was reared in her home.

Lobby Control Act Under Study

The Executive Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution urging the Texas Legislature to amend the Texas Lobby Control Act to eliminate unfair discrimination against Texas citizens employed in the private sector and make the Lobby Control Act applicable to all citizens of Texas equally.

The only exception would be those who achieve their state office by a statewide vote of the people.

Under the Lobby Control Act, passed by the 63rd Legislature, the purpose was stated, "to preserve and maintain the integrity of the legislative process, it is necessary that the identity, expenditures and activities of certain persons who, by direct communications to such officers, engage in efforts to persuade members of the legislative branch or executive branch to take certain actions to publicly and regularly disclosed."

"House Bill 2 in Section 3, paragraph 2, subsection b, excludes the largest lobby in the state, the state agencies, by excluding from this act members of the executive and judiciary branch," says J. Fike Godfrey of Abilene, Executive Vice President, West Texas Chamber of Commerce. "This subsection discriminates against the citizens of Texas not in state administrative positions."

Under the present Lobby Control Act, citizens of Texas not on the State payroll who desire to have any meaningful say about what the Texas State Government is doing, exposes himself to the criminal liabilities of the law and to unreasonably burdensome record-keeping and reporting.

"Since these state employees are free to lobby at any time on taxpayers' time at the taxpayers' expense for more state programs, more state expense and more state taxes, this act should be amended and remove the discrimination against the citizens of the State of Texas employed in the private sector."

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Food is your most urgent daily need. The hunger drive is basic to human existence and survival. Yet the food you eat—may be a contributing factor to serious health problems now, and in the future. Your eating habits may actually lead to the destruction of your health, according to the State Health Department.

The nation's diet is so poor, in fact, that improper nutrition costs some $30 billion a year in doctor bills and other health care costs, according to a report from the U.S. Senate's Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs.

The committee said that there are three major dietary problems in this country: undernutrition, or not enough food; malnutrition or not enough of the right kinds of food; and overnutrition—too much food, especially too many calories.

Inadequate nutrition has been associated with poor mental development and even with emotional instability. Maternal and infant diseases and deaths, absenteeism among school children and among the work-forces, losses of life due to cardiovascular diseases and hypertension, the expense of dental disease, alcoholism, diabetes, obesity, digestive malfunctioning...all of these potentially crippling and life-threatening conditions can be attributed, at least in part, to poor nutrition.

Most people know that there are some foods which are better than others for helping children grow and keeping adults vigorous and well. Unfortunately, most people don't bother to follow what they know to be good dietary practices. We eat only the things we like, what we're used to eating, or what we think we can easily afford—although, in fact, good nutrition is no more expensive than bad nutrition. Too many people fall for brightly-packaged foods, or foods that can be prepared quickly and eaten on the run, rather than the sensible choice of foods, or foods that can be of foods that provide a nourishing, balanced daily diet.

Nutritional scientists have identified on less than 57 nutrients that are used by the human body and that are necessary for life and well-being. These include 13 vitamins and vitamin groups; 17 minerals; 22 amino acids, the basic building-blocks of protein, several fatty acids and other fat-like substances; sugars; starches; and water. All of these nutrients, in their proper proportions, can be included in the daily diet by choosing wisely from the four major food groups.

Farmers Need To Be Insured Of Fair Returns

Some of the risks must be reduced if farmers are expected to do their best in supplying overseas markets.

That's the view of Director J. C. Williamson, Jr., of North Carolina's Agricultural Experiment Station.

The director says the government needs a better mechanism for insuring fair returns to farmers than the current target price concept.

"It's a fallacy to assume that American agriculture operates in a free market—at least at the international level," Mr. Williamson declared. "In the short run, our level of farm exports is determined mostly by the policies of foreign governments and not necessarily by the law of supply and demand."

Noting that America's farm population has become smaller and more mobile, Williamson said farmers will either get a rate of return comparable to non-farmers or they'll quit farming.

The director expressed general optimism about agriculture's future, however.

Herd Shows Enthusiasm As Spring Drills Begin

A larger group than expected turned out for the first session of Hereford High School's spring football drills Monday afternoon as approximately 95 footballers reported according to Fred Upshaw, HHS athletic director.

"We're pleased with the enthusiasm the kids have shown in the first practice sessions, they've worked hard. It will just take time to situate everyone in the right position," said Upshaw.

also assisting. Upshaw pointed out that the Herd has been concentrating on fundamentals this week in preparation for a scrimmage to be held Saturday at 10 a.m. The freshman will scrimmage tomorrow (Friday) at 3:30.

"We're looking for experience now, currently the defensive line and the linebackers seem to have the most depth. Our quarterbacks, Mike Crim and Kelly Kitchens are throwing the ball well and the linebacking corps is looking good. The defensive line is also doing well. We're especially concerned about experience in the offensive line," Upshaw explained.

He added that the offensive line is slightly larger than last year's but is still far from huge.

"We have four lettermen returning to our backfield but the backs are still short on experience overall. We're making a few modifications in our offensive system but no major changes," said Upshaw.

"It's hard to comment on the team and point out weaknesses and strong points after only a few practice sessions. We'll be taking a close look and situating everyone later on, but we don't want to decide on anyone for any certain position until we have taken a good look. We are proud of the attitude the kids are showing in the workouts though. It takes work to learn and the kids are putting out the effort," he added.

Music Week Series Continues

Programs depicting the power of music are being broadcast each afternoon on KPAN Radio as National Music Week concludes.

Presented daily at 4 p.m. through Sunday, the 10-minute segments are sponsored by Music Study Club. National Music Week has been observed in the United States yearly since 1923.

Instrumental and choral programs on tap for the remainder of this week are: Mrs. Allen Canler will sing classical selections today. Friday will feature a recording of "barbershop brass" by trumpeter Roger Blackburn of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Bob McFarland, music minister at First United Methodist Church, will render classical vocal pieces Saturday.

The series will conclude Sunday with a performance by the Hereford Chamber Singers, who are directed by Bill Devers.

Presented earlier this week were musical contributions by Zann Zimmerman, Mrs. Ken Walser, the carol choir from the Methodist Church, cast members of "The Messiah," and an organ solo recording from the Notre Dame Cathedral.

At Long Last
She had begged her husband for months to have his picture taken. At last he decided to go through the agony, but when the proofs arrived, she exclaimed in horror, "Oh, there's only one button on your coat."

"Thank heaven," he said, "You have noticed it at last."

Hair-Philliber Vows Pledged At Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Philliber, who were recently married in a candlelight ceremony at Dallas, are at home in that city.

Spring flowers and candle arches entwined with greenery formed the setting for the April 26 wedding in Royal Lane Baptist Church. Steve Graham, pastor, officiated.

The bride was Miss Christy Hair of Dallas daughter of Mrs. W.R. Hair of 209 Star St. and the late Mr. Hair. Philliber is the son of Mrs. Lawrence Philliber of Killeen and the late Mr. Philliber.

Bridal attendants were Miss Cathy Fallon of Dallas and Miss Jeanne Hair, the bride's sister.

Mark Philliber of Lubbock served his brother as best man and Joe Hunter of Waco was the single groomsman.

Ushering guests to their seats were Terry Rogers, Bruce Prime and Robert Issaca, all of Dallas.

"Walk Through The World With Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" were principal wedding selections sung by Miss Allison Henley of Houston. The vocalist was accompanied by Lee Corbin, organist.

The bride, who wore a floor-length beige gown of alluressa, was given in marriage by her brother, Don Hair of Houston. The figurine bodice was fitted with a jewel neckline and short cap sleeves. Pearl buttons fastened the back of the dress. Her long skirt flowed from a natural waistline into soft, full gathers.

Complimenting her classical attire was a small wreath that formed of white camellia petals. A solitary strand of pearls belonging to her mother and matching earrings were bridal accessories. She also wore a traditional blue garter borrowed from the bridegroom's sister.

Her cascading bouquet was made of white camellias.

Bridal attendants wore similar-style gowns of navy blue alluressa with cap sleeves and full, carpet-length skirts. Oblique sashes accented the natural waistlines. Each carried a bouquet of giant daisies.

Mrs. Kay Smith of Dallas served the daisy-crowned cake at a reception immediately after the ceremony in the church parlor. Punch and coffee were poured by Mrs. Jay Daley of Dallas. Candles nestled in greenery were arranged as the centerpiece on the refreshment table which was covered with a beige and powder blue cloth.

For a short honeymoon trip, Mrs. Philliber wore a powder blue dress with beige accessories.

Out-of-town guests included the couple's mothers; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hair and Brady of Paris, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lewis, Claire and Garrett of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Adams, Jerry and Mike of Carrollton; Mrs. Jerry Davis of Austin; Helen and Amanda Clark of Richardson.

A 1970 graduate of Hereford High School, Mrs. Philliber is assistant buyer at Nieman Marcus in Dallas. She completed studies at the University of Texas at Austin in 1973.

Philliber is employed at Oak Cliff Bank and Trust at Dallas and graduated in 1971 from Baylor University. He graduated from Killeen High School in 1968.

Dear Debbie

Letters to DEBORAH WHITE

DEAR DEBBIE:

I have been living in this country for a long time now, and I hear one complaint always from the men I meet. They say that they cannot find a feminine woman. I believe this is true from what I see here every day. I do not believe it is possible for a man in America to find a truly feminine and completely feminine woman. I believe that a man would have to travel to Paris to find such a woman. It would be worth the expense to him.

DEAR GEE:

Thanks for the tip. Just the same, I couldn't disagree with you more. Don't confuse femininity with self-esteem. A woman could demand equal rights without losing one sou of her feminine charm and allure. We'll keep our men right here if it's all right with you.

Also on the agenda is a musical program to be presented by Aikman fifth grade students.

Ideal Stores Announce Reductions

The lower wholesale price index is resulting in good news for consumers in the form of lower food prices.

Proof of this trend came today when Steve Phillips, vice president and general manager of Ideal Food Stores announced that more than 500 prices had been reduced in Ideal's grocery, dairy, drug, and frozen food departments.

All price reductions will also be in effect at K-Mart Foods in Amarillo, Texas, and Alco Foods in Hays, Kansas, which are operated by the Ideal chain. The reductions take effect Thurs., May 8.

Said Phillips, "We are able to pass along to shoppers substantial price reductions because prices to us and to our suppliers have come down. It has been three or four years since prices on so many major commodities have declined."

"We take this decline in the price index as a hopeful sign that food prices in general are on their way down but it is difficult to predict whether or not prices will remain down."

"Added to this decline are two other positive signs. Right now food supplies are more plentiful than they have been in some time, and prospects for current harvests look better than in recent years."

Phillips said that all items which have been reduced will be marked with bright "new low price" shelf tags. Additional price reductions will be made as more wholesale costs decline.

Ideal operates 34 supermarkets in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico and has headquarters in Liberal, Kansas.

Stanton Linksters Win District Championship

Stanton Junior High's golfers captured the district championship of the Panhandle Junior High Athletic League last week while La Plata's linksters finished in sixth place.

Stanton finished one stroke ahead of Pampa at 1030 while La Plata fired a total of 1112.

Perryton was third, Canyon fourth, Borter fifth and Dumas seventh.

Tommy Weaver of Stanton finished second in the medalist competition with a total of 252. Dusty Hudson of Pampa won the medalist competition with a total of 251.

Individual scores in the final stop on the golf tour for Stanton were Tommy Weaver, 81; Kelly Kitchens, James McDowell and Andy Yocum, 86; Randy Marrs, 88, and Trent Brisendine, 113.

Scores for La Plata were Mike Hill, 88; Jim Lyles, 90; Jimmy Bodkin, 92; David Watershed, 92; and Bud Warren, 106.

Gun Club To Meet Tonight

Hereford Gun Club invites all members and any other interested individuals to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. today in First National Bank's Community Room.

Discussion will concern trap shooting and use of a shotgun.

Fishing—An uninhabited body of water surrounded by firs in old clothes.

International Champ In Match

Hereford Lions Club brings an outstanding wrestler to the Bull Barn Saturday night in the person of Cyclone Negro, international heavyweight champion. He meets Texas Scott Casey who, like his Venezuelan opponent, now makes his home in the Panhandle.

Cyclone first won the international title in a tournament in Japan involving more than 80 top grapplers. In a final match with Tora Tanaka, after a one-hour draw, the international judges gave Negro the nod. His opponent, Casey, is a youthful former high school athlete well-known in weightlifting circles.

In other matches Saturday night, Bobby Jagers, former Washington lumberjack, meets another former woodsman from Canada—Nick Kozak; Don Fargo, a muscular Bronx, N.Y. product, will test the mettle of popular Salvador Domingues, from San Jose, Calif., and Black Gordman meets Prince Tapu, a newcomer from Samoa.

Cyclone Negro hails from Caracas and was known throughout South America for his fistic ability. He met Floyd Patterson in the Pan American Games, losing to the older man only a split decision. He triumphed in the Bolivian Games, fighting as a middle and light heavyweight.

Negro built himself up with weights, bench-pressing almost 600 pounds in competition and turned to heavyweight wrestling. Cyclone often gives demonstrations by hitting himself on the forehead with a 10-pound sledge hammer, or butting the steel posts of the wrestling ring. At 6-1, 250, he presents a formidable challenge to young Casey, who boasts an outstanding start for a young wrestler. He is 6-0 and weighs 235.

FCA Golf Tourney Is Friday

Hereford's Fellowship of Cristian Athletes golf tournament will be held here Friday with the morning tee off time set for 8:30.

The tournament will be played as a Florida Scramble and the top three finishers will receive prize money totaling $250.

In a Florida Scramble, each golfer hits the ball and the team selects the best shot and each member hits the next shot from that spot. Only a team score is recorded in this method of play. The three-member teams which were matched by tourney director Fred Upshaw are listed below. Eight teams will start at 8:30 a.m. and nine at 1:30 p.m.

8:30 Tee Off

- (1) Roy Hartman, Fred Upshaw, Dave Hopper; (2) Jim Holmes, Herman Ford, Dean Herring; (3) Tom Simons, Don Martin, Elmore Rains; (4) Tom Templeton, N.D. Keiso, Emory Brownlow; (5) Burns Hamilton, James Self, C.P. Wortham; (6) Marsh Pitman, Deug Manning, Dempsey Alexander; (7) Gary Stagner, Roger Owens, Joe Childers; (8) Joe Kerr, Rocky

Lee, Gary Goodin.

1:30 Tee Off

- (1) Mack Tubb, Gene Batterman, Harlan VanderZee; (2) Terry Russell, W.C. Russell, Jerry Richburg; (3) Myron Deez, Charles Duvall, Ray Todd; (4) Frank Casleberry, Roger Huber, J.W. Robinson; (5) A.L. Pruitt, Speedy Nieman, Tommy Bowling; (6) Jerry Payne, Jake Webb, Roy Shipp; (7) Kenny Hagar, Dub Boyd, Ronnie Osborne; (8) Paul Torres, Pat Hughes, Bill Howard; (9) Joe Tubb, Virgil Marsh, Clint Formby.

Pro-Am Meet Held Here

The all-Vegs team of Mrs. Terry Adair, Leon Yell, Tommy Crutchfield, and pro Terry Adair posted a winning 10 under par score of 61 Monday in a professional 1-amateur golf meet held at the Pitman golf course.

Terry LeGate, assistant pro at the Tascosa Country Club in Amarillo captained Dave McCaskill of Amarillo, Joe Leal of Hereford and Warren Hall of Hereford to second place with a score of 62.

Amarillo's Dick Weston was two over-par at 73 to claim low amateur honors and Wilson Swinney of Lubbock was the low pro with 71.

Dude Kinkaid of the Canyon Country Club and Bill Cruce of Amarillo Public Golf Course had a 68 in the pro-pro low ball event.

Monday's event drew 100 amateurs and 21 professionals.

Shower Tea Fetes Miss Becky Owen

Lavender marguerite daisies and pink carnations decorated the home of Mrs. Dean Herring Saturday for a shower tea honoring Miss Becky Owen.

The honoree will marry Aaron Bourland, local high school coach, at First Baptist Church on May 31.

Guests of honor were mothers of the couple and Miss Owen's grandmothers, including Mrs. Perry Bourland of Coleman, Mrs. Bobby Owen, Mrs. G.P. Owen and Mrs. Velma Hodges. Each was presented a flower corsage of pink and lavender, Miss Owen's wedding colors.

Cake squares, nuts, mints and punch were served from silver and crystal appointments by Mrs. Sid Shaw and Mrs. B.J. Gilliland. Babybreath, carnations and daisies formed a large centerpiece on the serving table, which was draped with a white cloth.

Mrs. Roger Owen presided at the guest registry.

In addition to Mrs. Herring, hostesses were Mmes. Benny Womble, Jack McKinster, Steve Hodges, Bill Walden, Ray Todd, John Poindexter, W.E. Sparks, Philip Shook, Herschel Black and Calvin Goodin.

Also, Mmes. Clint Formby, Ray Frye, Lloyd Crume, R.C. Hoelscher, Clinton Massie, James Higgins, R.W. Eades, Howard Gore, Waldo Baxter, Lloyd Sharp, Bartley Dowell and Rex Lee.

Memorable Gift Received

Miss Becky Owen, seated, admires the family heirloom quilt which she received at a bridal shower Saturday. The gift, which was conceived by her grandmothers, was pieced and personalized by members of her family. Honored guests at the tea were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Bobby Owen, and Mrs. Perry Bourland, mother of Miss Owen's fiance, Aaron Bourland.

VA Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them

Q—I'm a service disabled veteran who's eligible for a $25,000 grant from the Veterans Administration to buy a specially adapted home. Can this benefit be used to acquire more than one house?

A—No. The law specifies that this benefit "shall be limited in the case of any veteran to one housing unit, and necessary land therefor."

Q—A friend of mine, who was a veteran with a non-service-connected disability, through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

just died in a private hospital. Will the Veterans Administration pay transportation costs to his place of burial?

A—No. VA is allowed to pay these costs only if the veteran died while being treated in a VA hospital, or while being treated at VA expense.

Q—With economic conditions as bad as they were the past year, how many veterans were able to get GI home loans from the Veterans Administration?

A—According to VA's Annual Report for fiscal year 1974, the agency approved 306,188 home loans during that period—a good year, considering market conditions.

Q—Does the Veterans Administration assist veterans in finding jobs during these times of high unemployment?

A—Yes. Although the Labor Department has primary responsibility, job assistance for veterans is available also through Veterans Assistance Centers in 72 major cities. Suggest unemployed veterans check local telephone directories for locations of these centers after first registering with local state employment offices.

Q—Because I received an honorable discharge from the Army two years ago and have decided to live abroad a friend suggested I check with the Veterans Administration. Why should I?

A—To learn how residence abroad affects veterans benefits. If you have a service-connected disability, for example, you should obtain a statement from the VA office which maintains your medical records. Then should the need arise, the statement and an application for medical benefits could be presented to the American Embassy or consular office in the country of travel or residence.

Q—My husband was killed during military service in Vietnam. I'd like to use my widow's education benefits to attend a university in Paris. Will the Veterans Administration pay my education assistance there?

A—Wives, widows and children of veterans whose deaths or permanent total disabilities were service-connected may receive education benefits while attending approved foreign institutions of higher learning.

REC Welcomes YHT Delegates

Representatives of 23 Young Homemakers of Texas chapters assembled in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room Saturday for an Area 1 Activity Day.

This was the first Activity Day to be held in Hereford. YHT is sponsored by Deaf Smith Rural Electric Co-op.

Prior to a multi-segment program, Steve Louder, Deaf Smith REC sales coordinator, welcomed those in attendance.

Dr. Wilma Bush, professor from West Texas State University, was keynote speaker. Her presentation was followed by Sherry Hoover who outlined Special Organizational Services now offered by Hereford State Bank. Dolls clad in authentic replicas of White House bridal gowns were described by Mrs. Glenn Reeves of Priona to conclude the program.

Numerous door prizes, including an oil painting donated by Mrs. Joe Lyons, were given away. The oil painting was won by Carolyn Curry of Hale Center.

Businesses who donated prizes were:

Rayburn Organic Fertilizer, $25; Harold Close Drug, a purse; Duckwall's, earrings; Anthony's placemats; JC Penny's, a purse; Spangler's, stainless steel salad tongs.

Hereford Nursery, an African violet; the Funny Farm, a hanging basket; Cowan Jewelers, a cigarette case and lighter; Flowers West, a dried arrangement; First National Bank, packet stuffers.

Rutherford's satin bed caddy; Little's perfume; Hereford State Bank, Bicentennial pendant; West Texas Rural Electric, electric knife; Kester's Jewelry, accent pictures; McDowell's Drug Store, placard holders; Boots and Saddles, coffee mugs and caddy.

Gaston's, a purse; A-1 Beauty Supply, bubble bath; Park Ave. Florist, ivy; Hereford Wrecking Company, salad bowl set; Muleshoe YHT chapter, a key chain and necklace.

YHT Door Prize

This scenic oil painting by Mrs. Joe Lyons, right, was given away as a door prize Saturday during the Area 1 Activity Day held by Young Homemakers of Texas. Mrs. Bud Kelley, at left, is first vice president of this area. The painting was won by Carolyn Curry of Hale Center.

May Is Unlucky Month for Marriage

Many people may not know it, but May was formerly considered an unlucky month for marriage. In fact, the way the month of June became the month of marriages is connected with the superstition that May was the month in which young people should not marry. Therefore, when June came around, a backlog of engaged couples had been created, thus producing a two-month crop of marriages for June.

Because June is an accepted month of marriages in the United States, and because so many graduations, both high school and college, occur in late May or early June, June is—for the merchant—a month to sell gifts. We're strongly opposed to this over-commercialization, although wedding gifts are a wonderful thing for the newly-married couple, especially if they have practical value.

At The Library

Two Authors Weave Romantic Intrigue

Gothic suspense written in the style of Victoria Holt and a modern confrontation with marital problems are chronicled this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

"The Witch From The Sea" by Philippa Carr, better known as Victoria Holt, portrays romance in a massive English castle. Bewildered by hints of frightening legends, Linnet Pennlyon rakes up historic embers which still have a strong hold on the inhabitants of Castle Paling.

In "A Good Confession" by Elizabeth Savage, Meg O'Shaughnessy Atherton is confronted by her husband's mistress and must find a way to cope. Reflecting upon her warm upbringing in a happy home the heroine struggles to find strength to mend her broken marriage.

Deaf Smith County library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. weekdays and until noon Saturday.

THE WITCH FROM THE SEA
by Philippa Carr
(known as Victoria Holt)

Linnet Pennlyon inherited her beauty from her mother and her tempestuous nature from her father, the legendary Jake Pennlyon who sailed against the Spanish Armada for England and Good Queen Bess. So it was perhaps not surprising when she caught the eye of the devil-may-care Colum Cavelyn—and found him so irresistible that she jilted her respected, if unexciting, fiancé to wed the arrogant adventurer.

But the home to which Colum took his bride, the forbidding Castle Paling, with its stark gray, austere towers rising high on the rocky cliffs above an angry sea, bespoke the uncertainties into which Linnet had wandered.

For there were mysteries about Castle Paling with its legends of prisoners held for ransom—and of the Casvellyn ancestor who concealed two wives in separate towers for years, until ultimately, tragedy resulted.

There were strange events taking place within and without the castle—unexplained comings and goings on moonless nights and numerous shipwrecks on the treacherous rocks below the castle. Linnet could not divine their portent, save that all were connected with this mysterious man she loved, and had married, yet still did not know.

Then one dark, stormy Halloween night, the sea cast up a beautiful—and very pregnant—stranger onto the shore near Castle Paling, and set the Course of events in Linnet's life inevitably towards tragedy—and murder.

"The Witch From The Sea" is set against a background of the glorious days of the reign of Elizabeth I. It was a time when a few adventurous Englishmen were beginning to reach out to establish trading bases around the world and building the foundation on which centuries of English power and wealth would rest.

But men lived at home in a world of poverty and ignorance in which sorcery and witchcraft were to be recognized and avoided or bloodily suppressed.

Philippa Carr has, once again, skillfully blended elements of Gothic suspense with exciting history to create a worthy successor to "The Miracle at St. Burno's" and "The Lion Triumphant."

A GOOD CONFESSION
by Elizabeth Savage

Dressed in a bathrobe, with "hair spilling and last night's lipstick crusting the corners of her mouth," Meg O'Shaughnessy Atherton opens her door to a beautiful young woman who, with shatterproof poise, declares that she has been the mistress of Meg's husband for four years.

Even more lacerating than this disclosure is the simultaneous news that Meg's adored grandfather is dying in Boston. As she leaves the sterile comfort of her elegant Chicago apartment to head east for the bedside vigil, Meg's memories of childhood grow in momentum and complexity.

Her grandparents, Big Jim and Kate, had been plain-spoken, honest to the marrow, and without a trace of pretension. Brought up by them in a close-knit family.

As Meg reassesses her own marital situation in contrast to the warm, eminently rewarding marriage of Big Jim and Kate, she comes to a deeper understanding of human fallibility and strength. She learns how to face the future, as well as the past, not with regret or trepidation, but rather with courage.

Compassionate, witty and graceful, this portrait of the joys and sorrows of an Irish-American family is that rare event in contemporary fiction—a genuinely affirmative novel.

White Implement Open House Slated

White Implement Co., local John Deere dealer, will hold an open house in its new facilities on North 385 Saturday from 2-5 p.m.

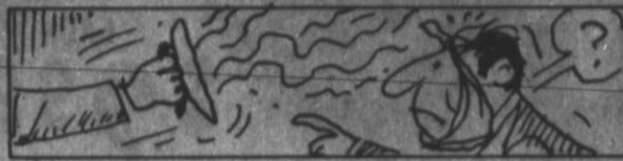

James Evans, Deere territory manager was in Hereford early this week to congratulate R.C. White on the grand opening of the new facility.

Facilities at the new John

Deere dealership include additional warehouse space and paint buildings with some 24,000 square feet of building space.

The firm opened early this year on its 11 acre site.

White extended an invitation to all interested persons to visit the new firm and view the facilities.

In Germany, the fumes from hot iron on which oil has been poured is considered a cure for toothache.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Honors Miss McGahen

Miss Karen Sue McGahen of Pampa was the honoree Saturday afternoon at a bridal shower in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

She is the June 7 bride-elect of Randy Cook of Hereford. The wedding ceremony will take place in Calvary Baptist Church at Pampa.

An arrangement of yellow flowers centered the refreshment table which was covered with a yellow cloth and lace overlay. Cake squares topped with yellow and green flowers of icing were served by Misses Joan Waters, Suzanne Grimsley and Donna Grimsley.

Special visitors were Mrs. Charles W. McGahen of Pampa and Mrs. Holland G. Cook, mothers of the couple. Guests were registered by Miss Linda McGahen.

Hostesses at the shower were Misses Bill Lamm, Vernon Inman, Eddie O'Rand, Floyd Eubanks, Mark Grimsley, Don Waters, Bill Shore, Bill Frazier, Sue Painter and Becky Price.

Do high radio and television towers have a tendency to draw lightning and thereby lessen the danger to lower structures and trees nearby? High metal towers will often draw electrical discharges from clouds passing low overhead. So will especially tall buildings. Since the electrical charges of clouds are attracted by the nearness of high grounds, like transmission towers, these towers often pull the lightning that would otherwise discharge later, elsewhere.

If you live in the vicinity of very tall buildings or high metal towers, these structures will act as the old lightning rods—draw the lightning and ground it harmlessly.

The tendency of these tall towers to attract lightning is recognized to an extent that builders install special lightning devices to carry off the frequent bolts that strike them. In a lightning storm, stay away from such structures, tall trees and any other high objects which might suddenly become a ground for electrical discharge from the clouds.

Shower Recipient

Miss Karen Sue McGahen of Pampa, center, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Charles W. McGahen, left, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Holland G. Cook.

Her children arise up and call her blessed.
-Proverbs 31:28.

A mother is a mother still, The holiest thing alive.
-S.T. Coleridge.

God could not be everywhere, so He made mothers.
-Yiddish Proverb.

BSP Women Vote On State Project

Financial aid to a leukemia victim was suggested by Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority as the state project for this year. Members met Tuesday evening in the club room of Hereford Community Center.

Kappa Iota will submit this suggestion during the state BSP convention at San Antonio June 13-15. If accepted, the funds would benefit Jana Tinsley of San Antonio, daughter of a local sorority sister.

Also connected with the future state assembly is the BSP Council nomination for the Texas Woman of the Year. Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, was named as candidate for this honor from the local council.

Senior Citizen Activities Are This Evening

Several forms of entertainment will be enacted at Community Center this evening for Hereford Senior Citizens.

Activities will begin at 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

Mrs. Cawthon Is Hostess To Rebekahs

Mrs. J.W. Cawthon was hostess Tuesday for members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge who met in IOOF hall.

Mrs. Buck Brownlow, noble grand, presided over the business discussion. Visits to ailing persons numbered 63 and 13 cards were sent.

Sixteen members were present.

NEWS NOTES

HOME FED CALF

FORT WORTH, TEX.—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Adams are raising a new-born calf rejected by his mother in their home. The tiny calf was so weak at birth that he couldn't lift his head or stand.

RUSK ON ISOLATIONISM

ROME, GA.—Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk said recently Americans should resist the wave of isolationism he sees growing out of the Southeast Asia experience.

AND ENTERTAINMENT!

CHARLOTTE, N.C.—The Mecklenburg County library presents a triple-feature program at the food-stamp office to help applicants pass their time while waiting to fill out forms for food stamps.

MAY NATO MEETING

BRUSSELS—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has agreed to transform its regular spring meeting into a full-scale conference attended by President Ford and other government chiefs, a NATO spokesman announced.

TESTING PHONE BILLS

ALBANY, N.Y.—More than half of the telephone bills in the New York City area tested for accuracy by staff members of the State Public Service Commission analyst, contained errors in billing.

TINY WATERBED

SAN DIEGO—A tiny waterbed and a recorded heartbeat are being used by University hospital doctors to simulate a mother's womb in an experiment aimed at reducing the 8,000 premature infant "crib-deaths" reported annually.

Previous and new members of the Council will assemble at 7:30 p.m. Monday to elect officers. The meeting will be in the First National Bank Community Room.

Ways and means projects were discussed by sorority members. It was reported that the garage sale held Saturday reaped successful profits. Also, members are continuing sale of stationary items.

Tentative plans were made for the BSP year-end social which will welcome members' husbands as guests. The party was scheduled May 24.

Members were reminded that a trip to Mexico is being scheduled for interested BSP women immediately after the state convention in June.

Mrs. Chuck Boyd moderated a discussion focusing on "The True," a topic which brought out member's views concerning honesty. Participants concluded that an individual frequently agrees with a popular assumption rather than expressing one's own beliefs. Another subject linked to the philosophical discussion was adoption of illegitimate children.

Mrs. George Muse served refreshments to members present, who were Mmes. Temple Abney, Tom Bullard, Don Childers, James Head, Bobby Jones, Nelson Kendall and Sparky Stephens.

Also, Mmes. Carl Thorell, Tom Carter, Joe Paetzold and Calvin Jones.

Mrs. Tiefel Is Honored On Birthday

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Susie Tiefel honored her Sunday as she observed her 88th birthday with a party in her home, 336 E. 4th.

Marriage Planned

Miss Kara Lee Selman will become the bride of John Clayton Ford on May 31 at Berger.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Selman of Phillips are parents of the bride-elect. The prospective bridegroom, who spent several summers in Hereford, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clayton Ford of Amarillo, former residents. His grandmother is Mrs. Myrtle Ford of 801 S. Schley.

Miss Selman is a magna cum laude graduate of North Texas State University where she was editor of the North Texas Daily Newspaper, president of Sigma Delta Chi and a member of Mortar Board. In 1973 she was selected as the outstanding senior journalism major.

She has also been named to Outstanding Young Women in Journalism and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She is currently employed as an advertising supervisor for Southwestern Bell in St. Louis, Mo.

A graduate of Henderson State University at Arkadelphia, Ark., Ford was a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon, a four-year letterman in football and was the 1973 recipient of the Outstanding College Senior Athlete for the State of Arkansas.

He was also recognized by Who's Who in College Athletics of America and was a 1973 draft choice of the Buffalo Bills. He is now employed as a systems analyst for Compass Computer Services in Dallas.

Gardeners End Club Season

Recently-elected officers of Garden Beautiful Club were installed by Mrs. W.T. Carmichael Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Joe Story, 125 Nueces.

To serve one-year terms are Mrs. Deward Roberson, president; Mrs. N.D. Bartlett, first vice president; Mrs. Carl Springer, second vice president;

Mrs. Ray Cowser, third vice president; Mrs. W.P. Aze, secretary; Mrs. T.J. Carter, treasurer and Mrs. Story, reporter. Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill is the club's new representative to Deaf Smith County Women's Forum.

Following installation ceremonies, it was reported that proceeds from the club's recent tour of homes were used to purchase four trees which have been planted on the grounds of Deaf Smith General Hospital. Three of these are corkscrew willows and one is a golden rain tree.

Following light refreshments, members traveled to Amarillo to tour the Garden Center and various flowers shops and eat lunch.

Twelve members assembled for the meeting and trip which were final activities of the 1974-75 club season.

New HD Club Picks Woman As Delegate

Mrs. Ralph Warren was nominated as a delegate to the Texas Home Demonstration convention by fellow members of Hereford Extension Club Monday in the Jimmy Christie home.

The state assembly will convene this summer at Abilene.

Also during the business session, Mrs. Dan Gorman described details for the club's float which will be entered in the All Girl Rodeo parade here next week.

Aspects of Texas heritage, including the local 75th Diamond Jubilee, composed the program presented by Mrs. Pat Betzen. Her explanation was illustrated by books from the local library.

Recognized as guests were Mrs. Roy Reinart and Mrs. Steve Olson.

The next meeting will be at 3:30 p.m. May 19 in the Warren home. This HD chapter will end the club season in June at a barbecue picnic.

Those members not mentioned who attended were Mrs. Jeff Davenport and Mrs. Joe Wallace.

Bay View Officers Installed Thursday

Bay View Study Club closed this club season Thursday when officers were installed at a luncheon in Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. Ernest Langley placed her fellow members in office by presenting wicker baskets of iris flowers to Mrs. D.N. Garner, president; Mrs. L. Keith Simmer, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Josseland, recording secretary; Mrs. Homer Garrison, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Howard Gault, retiring president.

Matching flowers were arranged in a colorful spring centerpiece.

Hostesses were members of the social committee, including Mmes. Ansel McDowell, Simmer and H.L. Benefield.

Other members present were Mmes. J.R. Allison, Bruce Burney, S.M. Davis, R.W. Eades, John Gilliland, W.J. Gilliland, W.H. Griffin and W.K. Golden.

Also, Mmes. Robert Josseland, W.S. Kerr, Justin McBride, R.B. Miller, Austin C. Rose and Jack Wilcox.

Beef Prices Level At Groceries Now

Overall beef prices are generally about the same with some indication of slight increases, one observer reported this week.

"But this is still an ideal time to put extra cuts into the freezer," according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Pork features are available, but they're scattered, she added. Choices are Boston butt roasts, end chops, rib end roasts and quarter-join cut into chops.

"Good values include smoked picnics, frankfurters and liver."

Mrs. Clyatt termed fryer chicken economical and noted that egg prices have dropped since Easter, making them an "excellent protein value" with Grade A, large size the best buy.

"Frozen items to watch are strawberries and orange juice." Fresh fruits in good supply at economical prices are Navel and Valencia oranges, pears, strawberries and bananas.

Artichokes spotlight the vegetable counter—they're seasonally plentiful.

Other vegetables include potatoes, celery, cabbage, carrots, turnips and dry yellow onions.

Also, dairy products are in good supply, Mrs. Clyatt said.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Look for store specials on processed foods—this is a good time to stock up.

PROGRAMS FOR AGED

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing $2.6 billion for a four-year package of programs designed to help America's elderly.

Chicago-Bound Trio To Depart Tomorrow

Linda Betzen and Denise Wosnitzky, senior students at Hereford High School, will leave tomorrow for the National Office Education Conference in Chicago Ill. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Larry Wartes, director of the HHS vocational office education department.

The local representatives will link up with the Texas delegation who will leave Dallas Friday. The two students earned national berths after winning top honors in typing and accounting contests on the state level at Austin.

Miss Betzen is the daughter of Mrs. A.B. Betzen of 1101 Union and is employed at Plains Insurance. Mrs. and Mrs. Dennis Wosnitzky are the parents of Miss Wosnitzky, who works at Walco, International.

The conference will conclude Wednesday.

Over three thousand from the nation are expected to attend. Through a process of elimination at the regional and state levels, the top office occupations students in the country are declared national winners to climax the year's activities.

OEA provides students the opportunity to develop office occupations competencies through twenty-four competitive events ranging from individual contests in the stenographic, typing, office duplicating, job application and human relations areas to group contests in parliamentary procedures and chapter activities.

First, second and third place awards are presented to the winners of each event at the secondary and post-secondary levels.

The competitive aspect of OEA increases students' subject knowledge, spirit of competition, human relations knowledge and practice, confidence, and rewards fellowship and socialization. The year's chapter activities help students in planning and participating in future civic affairs as responsible citizens of their communities.

CowBelles Update Beef Promotion

Education and promotion of the beef industry were vital topics included on the agenda recently of the Region 1 workshop for Texas CowBelles.

Representing the Hereford chapter were Mmes. Olin Caviness, Willis Duggan, Elmo Hall, Reece Lawson and Rachel Hunter. The local delegation attended clinic discussions focusing on executive procedure, publicity methods and various aspects to help CowBelles function more effectively.

Mrs. Bussy Kaul and Mrs. Lawson recently attended a forum which stressed coordination of beef promotions in this area.

A Beef for Father's Day promotional workshop is scheduled Friday in Amarillo. Attending for Hereford will be Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Jim Perrin.

Any individuals interested in joining the CowBelles are invited to attend their next regular meeting, which will be a luncheon Tuesday in the Country Club. Annual dues costing $12 affiliate a member with local, state and national CowBelles. These dues can be paid at the luncheon Tuesday or mailed to Mrs. Bill Albright, 108 Mimosa.

Goat Tying Is One Of Major Events

Three of the nation's most versatile cowgirls will be competing in the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Rodeo here, May 16-18.

The rodeo, with a purse of $7,000, is kicking off the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame, which will be built here.

The talented trio consists of: Pam Simon of Chandler, Ari.; Sue Pirtle of Weatherford, Okla.; Jimmie Gibbs of Valley Mills.

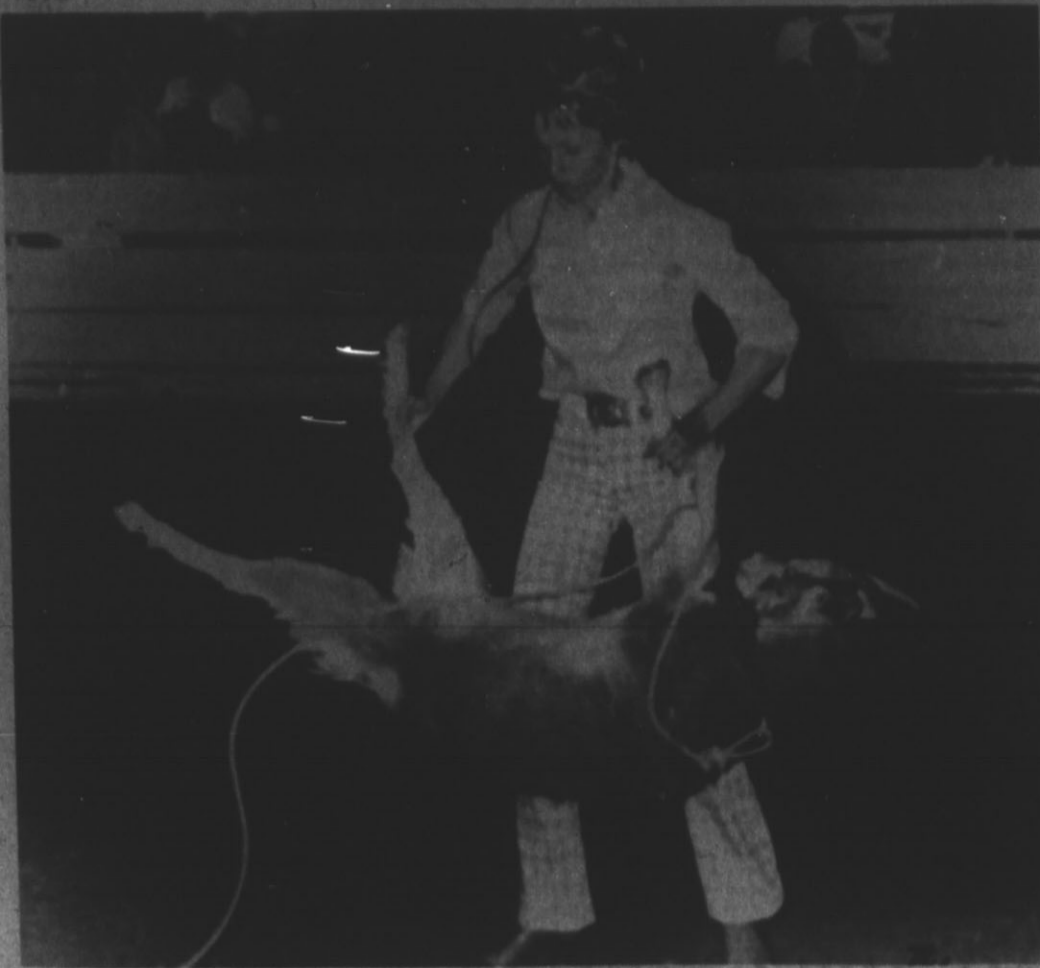

Miss Simon, a member of the rodeo team at Arizona State University, is currently the all-around leader in the national standings of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA). Based on her performance, ASU is the runaway leader in the Western Region of the NIRA.

In addition, she is the national goat tying champion for the Girls' Rodeo Association (GRA).

Miss Pirtle, a senior at Southwestern State University at Weatherford, is the reigning all-around champion for the GRA. She is also in contention for national NIRA all-around honors.

Miss Gibbs won the NIRA all-around championship in 1974 and led Sam Houston State University to the national Championship in. Unlike her two counterparts, Jimmie is one of the top barrel racers in the GRA.

More than 300 girls are expected for the rodeo, which will have a total payoff of more than $25,000 (added money, plus entry fees).

Hustle, Hustle!

Goat tying will be one of the seven events featured at the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame All Girl Rodeo set for May 16-18. The rodeo, with an expected $25,000 in prize money, will kick off the opening of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Make it a Habit

Deaths from uterine cancer could be further reduced if every adult woman had a Pap test with her annual checkup and if postmenopausal women were checked by their doctors for any abnormal bleeding, says the American Cancer Society.

Guidelines for loading a freezer are simple and logical—designed to keep food rotating and the freezer temperature at 0 degree. Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist, said this week. Be careful about adding too much "new" or unfrozen food at one time. The specialist advised that three pounds of food for every cubic foot of storage space is a reasonable addition.

"Another way to determine the amount of food to freeze at one time is to add no more than 1/15 the capacity of the freezer. After this amount is put in, wait 24 hours before adding more," she recommended.

The specialist pointed out that for fast freezing, new food should be placed near the walls or bottom of either chest or upright types of freezers.

"Keep similar foods together in baskets or on shelves. Foods also may be organized in heavy plastic or mesh bags.

"Label all home frozen food with name and date stored. Masking tape makes a good label for this. Also, it's good practice to date-label commercially frozen foods.

"If the freezer is large, keep an inventory. Add each new food to the inventory sheet when it is put into the freezer."

Mrs. Chenoweth suggested keeping one page for each food category—meats, fruits, vegetables, baked goods, and any others.

"As items are used, deduct them from the inventory sheet. This systematic storage helps keep track of foods that should

Aircraft Reporting Requirements Change

U.S. Customs may soon have an additional tool for identifying clandestine aircraft entering the U.S. across the southern border.

Under a proposed change to Customs Regulations (CFR), Part 6 commanders of private aircraft entering the U.S. from south of 33 degrees north latitude and between 95 and 120 degrees west longitude (along the U.S.-Mexican border from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific) will have to notify Customs either thru FAA or directly at least 15 minutes before entering the U.S. air space of their destination and their intended point and time of crossing.

Following radio contact directly with Customs, or indirectly through the Federal Aviation Administration, the planes will be required to land at one of 13 designated airports in the vicinity of the border for Customs inspection.

Daily 24 hour inspection services will be free. Overtime charges for Sunday and holidays will be minimal.

The proposed regulation change would permit owners or pilots to land at other than the designated airports with prior approval.

GSPA Seeks Override Of Ford's Farm Bill Veto

Telegrams to members of Congress from Grain Sorghum Producers Association have requested an override of President Ford's veto on the Emergency Farm Bill.

The president vetoed the farm bill May 1 after its earlier passage by a House vote of 348-166 and a strong voice vote in the Senate.

Elbert Harp, executive director of GSPA, expressed "some optimism" that Congress will override the veto.

GSPA's telegram to the House of Representatives and Senate stated that the Emergency Farm Bill was "imperative for price stability for farmers and consumers." The telegram, signed by Harp, urged Congress to help override the President's veto.

The emergency bill passed by Congress would have increased both target prices and loan rates on feed grains, wheat, cotton and milk for 1975 only, in an attempt to stabilize the agricultural economy.

"Farmers have not been so close to the brink of bankruptcy since the Great Depression," warned Mabry Foreman of Felt, Okla., a GSPA vice president testifying before a Congressional committee in a farm bill hearing.

GSPA has worked for passage of the emergency bill since its introduction through testimony before committees, letters to Congressmen and recently, a letter to the president.

Farmers can not continue to suffer financial losses in production of the nation's food and stay in business, Harp warned the president. "Unless some provision is made to stabilize agricultural markets, many producers will be forced to shut down their farming operations," Harp's letter said.

Harp pointed out that President Ford's veto message carried contradictory statements, saying that cattlemen needed lower grain prices but also claiming that the veto would not lower grain prices.

In expressing optimism toward the possibility of a veto override, Harp pointed out that Congressional passage of the farm bill by a substantial majority indicates that Congress wanted farmers to have the bill's emergency financial protection.

Farmland Official Says More Cooperatives Needed

Texas and the nation are in real need of more cooperative activity, particularly in the beef cattle business, an official of Farmland Industries, Inc., said here Monday (April 28).

Gordon Leith, corporate vice president of the giant cooperative, said 1973 national beef cattle sales by producers amounted to $22.7 billion. Yet, cooperative participation was very limited.

Pointing to Texas, he said the state is now ranked fourth in overall agricultural production in the United States, but only seventh in volume of co-op business.

Texas, he said, needs more co-ops, especially in the production and processing of meats.

Leith said he sees promise for feeder cattle co-ops in dealing more directly with consumers. Producers should set up co-ops along this line but such movements must be well organized and not just little ventures here and there.

Leith was the 10th speaker for a series of 11 spring semester seminars conducted by the Texas A&M University Agricultural Economics Department. The seminars dealt with the theme "Emerging Challenges in Food and Fiber Marketing."

Farmland Industries, one of the largest farmer co-ops in the U.S., had sales of $1.2 billion during the last fiscal year.

Major investments in crude oil production, refineries, fertilizer plants and feed mills. Marketing of red meats is a more recent effort.

Although agriculture is a "bundle of industries and highly complex," the co-op movement is doing well, and there is room to grow Leith said.

He described co-ops as a strong competitive force which serve farmers and ranchers in "this era of tight, high priced supplies."

Farm production costs likely will remain high in the near future, Leith predicted. Producers must get fair price. If they can't then government intervention may become necessary.

"Agriculture has a big capacity to produce in the U.S., but it should not produce itself into poverty," he said.

"Without co-ops, the individual farmer is like a chip floating in the ocean at mercy of wind and waves," Leith said.

ASCS News Reports Must Be Filed By May 15

WHEAT ACREAGE CERTIFICATION FOR 1975: Certification of wheat acres is not a requirement for 1975. However, in order to prove a wheat yield, a report of acres and yield is required for each year of a 5-year period.

The final date for a producer to timely file wheat acreage report, for proven yield purposes, is MAY 15. If you want to be in a position to prove your wheat yield, please measure accurately and certify your wheat acres by May 15.

The above date does not mean that a wheat acreage report cannot be certified after May 15 for disaster payment purposes. However, if it is not timely filed (by May 15), the farm will be ineligible to prove the wheat yield until 1975 is out of the five year base period.

CROP REPORTS FROM FARMERS NEEDED: during the last half of May, a random sample of some 24,000 Texas farmers will receive a crop acreage questionnaire from Charles E. Caudill, Agricultural Statistician in Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, Texas.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for the state of Texas and for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that state totals alone do not provide adequate information on Texas' most basic industry—agriculture. The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketing and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas Agriculture. Farmers who receive questionnaires are urged to complete and return them by mail. All individual reports are confidential and are used only for state and county totals.

Legumes Are Good Nitrogen Source

Legumes offer a good alternative to paying the high price of commercial nitrogen fertilizer, according to research agronomists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. G.W. Evers, with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Angleton, notes that grazing livestock on legume pastures is one way of getting nitrogen back to the soil. Nitrogen is returned to the soil in the form of urine and feces.

Nitrogen is also added through the decomposition of legume roots and nodules in the soil and the decomposition of legume leaves and stems above the soil.

Evers points out that two perennial legumes, alfalfa and white clover, grow successfully in Texas where they are well adapted.

Dr. F.M. Rouquette, at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Overton, advises delaying late summer nitrogen application and removing grass topgrowth, thereby reducing competition from perennial grass to get maximum production from legumes.

When fertilizing legumes, he recommends liming according to a soil test and using low amounts of nitrogen and higher amounts of phosphorous and potash.

Dr. R.W. Weaver, in the Department of Soil and Crop Sciences contends that the success of using legumes for nitrogen fertilization depends on the success of the inoculation program.

To fix nitrogen, legumes must be nodulated by effective bacteria, he points out. The type of bacteria used for inoculation varies with the type of legume and the soil type of the pasture.

Always use a fresh, high quality inoculant prepared for a specific legume. Weaver advises, and keep it stored in a cool place.

increase since January. Though corn planting is slightly behind schedule, most fields are making excellent progress.

Rice acreage allotments have been cut, and Texas farmers have seeded fewer acres in response to this federal decision. March rice intentions were reported at 525,000 acres, a 40,000-acre reduction from 1974.

"This figure is still above the 1975 allotment," White reported, "and many of our producers are taking a small risk with this year's crop." Any acreage planted above the allotment is not eligible for loans.

Acreage intentions for remaining crops remain unchanged from January—oats, 1.3 million acres; barley, 100,000; flaxseed, 100,000; sugarbeets, 35,000; wheat 6.5 million.

'75 Planting Intentions Over 23 Million Acres

AUSTIN—Texas farmers will plant more than 23 million acres in cotton and selected food and feed grains for 1975, according to March planting intentions.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said this represents acreage increases for corn, sorghum and soybeans and decreases for cotton and rice.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimated cotton at 4.3 million acres, a million-acre decrease from 1974 but a four percent increase since January intentions were released.

White said cotton planting is progressing rapidly in South Texas. But a reversal of usual practices has seen farmers planting cotton after sorghum has been seeded.

Influenced by falling grain prices, Texas sorghum acreage dropped 500,000 acres from January intentions. Grain prices had remained strong through 1974 and early 1975, prompting many farmers to convert cotton acreage to sorghum. When grain prices broke in mid-February, however, some acreage was put back into cotton. Nevertheless, sorghum acreage is estimated at 13 percent above 1974 for a total of 8.5 million acres.

Figures indicate corn acreage will jump 22 percent to 1.1 million acres, a slight

Number Of U.S. Farms Seems To Be Stabilizing

The number of farms in the United States appears to be stabilizing.

A recent USDA estimate shows 2,819,000 farms will be operated in the nation this year. That's down only four-tenths of one percent from 1974.

Total land in farms is pegged at 1,088 billion acres, only slightly below the last two years. Average farm size is 385 acres, up one acre from 1974's figure.

Good Grazing System Gives Best Production

"The best grazing system is one that gives optimum vegetation improvement and top livestock performance without sacrificing either plant or animal requirements," says Dr. M.M. Kothmann, associate professor of range science at Texas A&M University and range research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Kothmann says there are basically two categories of grazing systems. One is deferred rotation systems where at least half of the total land is grazed at any given time and grazing time equals or exceeds the rest period.

The other type is short duration grazing systems where animals graze less than half of the total land and the length of time a pasture rests exceeds the length of the grazing period.

"Deferred rotation grazing systems give the best livestock performance, while short duration systems give the most rapid range improvement," Kothmann points out.

"If you're trying to improve the range condition and are willing to sacrifice some livestock production, short duration grazing is the best system. A deferred rotation grazing system is better if you're trying to boost livestock production."

The range scientist lists a few points to consider in selecting the right grazing system.

"Look at the number of pastures available, their carrying capacity, and the type and condition of the vegetation. Also, try to evaluate whether your water facilities, working pens and labor are adequate to handle larger herds of animals."

Two important factors to consider when implementing grazing systems are stocking rate and length of rest period, says Kothmann.

"No grazing system will compensate for overstocking," he emphasizes. "To determine the correct stocking rate when starting a grazing system, calculate the carrying capacity for all pastures and then divide this number into the desired number of herds. If all pastures have the same carrying capacity, the herds should be of equal size."

Kothmann recommends using a conservative stocking rate with a short duration grazing system. Also, make sure the rest period is adequate.

"The rest period should be long enough to allow major forage species to regain vigor. In areas of high rainfall, a rest period of about three to four months is adequate. On drier range, the rest period could last for 12 months."

It's not wise, advises Kothmann, to start a grazing system during a dry period or near the end of the normal growing season.

"When starting a system, rest the first unit during the period with the best growing conditions," suggests the researcher.

Potato Growers Meet

Denver—An Idaho potato grower and pilot now heads The Potato Board and will direct the million dollar program which he says is already responsible for bringing American consumers back to potatoes. Gerald K. Ball of Rexburg, Ida., was elected president by representatives of the nation's 18,000 potato growers at the fourth annual meeting April 7-8 in Denver, Colo. The Board has 65 members representing every growing area in the nation.

Several new publicity programs were approved by the Board. Barbara Gibbons, the author of the Board's popular "Potato Lover's Diet Cookbook" soon will be touring the country promoting potatoes. She is the nationally known syndicated newspaper food columnist of "The Slim Gourmet" and author of a diet feature in Family Circle magazine.

The Board's popular film "The Great Potato Story" will be updated to include new aspects of the program. This film has been shown to grower groups throughout the country and a new program is beginning that will take the film to television farm shows.

Considerable expansion is planned for the Board's potato merchandising program now being used by 31 chains that operate more than 13,000 stores across the country. These chains represent 20 percent of all U.S. supermarkets and the objective is to double this percentage figure in the coming year.

A dozen new Board members attended the Denver meeting. All are potato producers nominated from their growing areas and appointed to three-year terms by the Secretary of Agriculture. Each state is entitled to one member plus an additional member for each five million hundredweight of potato production above the first five million hundred weight, based on the average production of the last three years. Ed Wilson Jr. of Hereford is Texas' representative on the board.

Mill Seminar Is Scheduled

Proper mill quality control procedures in producing a uniform product will be this year's theme of the Southwest Mill Managers' Seminar to be held in Amarillo May 14th.

The one day meeting will be held at the Texas Tech University Center at Pantex.

Participants for the day-long session include: Dr. Cal Parrott, area beef cattle specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. M. Lennon, chairman, Animal Science Department, Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

All area feedlot mill managers are invited to attend this annual seminar. In the past, this has been found to be an excellent method to learn new management practices in the effective operation of a feedlot mill.

Early Texans Honored In Registry

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced publication of the first edition of the Texas Family Land Heritage Registry, a history of pioneer families and their land.

The registry contains the names of all honorees and a brief history of their land. A photo album compiled from old family pictures and a history of early land grants are included also.

Honorees will receive one copy of the book. It will also be sent to public libraries, county historical societies, county judges and high school libraries in counties where honorees live.

White said plans for the 1975 program are underway. Persons whose families have worked the same land since 1875 or earlier will be eligible. Those honored last year may not participate again.

Santa Fe To Present College Scholarships

The cost of attending college will be up 6 to 8 per cent in the fall of 1975 says the College Entrance Examination Board in a recent survey of 2,400 schools.

To help students meet higher education bills, nearly 60 private-sector donors like Santa Fe Industries are funding scholarships this year in programs supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

Santa Fe Industries will present $13,500 in college scholarships to 27 qualified 4-H'ers in 1975. The $500 grants will go to young men and women who have completed at least one year of 4-H work.

Scholarships are apportioned to state served by the donor. The Santa Fe Railway System will offer scholarships in the states of Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Scholarships in Indiana and Iowa are awarded through Gulf Central Pipeline Company, a Santa Fe Industries Company.

Winners will be chosen by the Extension Service later this year and announced at the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago.

The Santa Fe Companies also offer 60 educational awards in connection with National 4-H Congress to the previously listed 11 states plus Louisiana and Nebraska. The awards program is designed to encourage leadership ability, character and citizenship development. Information on eligibility requirements and application forms are available from county extension agents and state 4-H leaders.

Certified Seed Book Published

AUSTIN—Seed growers who applied for inspection under the seed certification program are listed in the "1974 Certified Seed Directory."

"The majority of these growers have had several years of experience in the production of seed under the certification program" said Commissioner John C. White.

Growers of grain, feed grains, cotton, soybeans, peanuts, rice, okra, watermelons and grasses are listed.

THE HOME GAME

BY VIRGINIA TRUAX

COOKIE CAPER — Did you know a slice of bread slipped into your cookie jar will keep your homemade cookies from drying out? Change the bread every few days... if the cookies should last that long!

TEA TIME — Tea sandwiches are lovely for spring and summer parties. If you're making the rolled kind, briefly steam the bread slices in a steamer or colander over boiling water so they will roll easily without breaking. After filling and rolling, wrap in wax paper and place on cookie sheet with sandwich resting on last turn of bread. Chill until serving time.

RECYCLED GRASS — Recycle your grass clippings and use them as a liquid fertilizer! Simply fill a bucket with the cut grass and cover it with water. Let it sit for several weeks and presto... your fertilizer is ready.

SHOWERS AHEAD — Hosting a bridal shower? An unusual centerpiece that can double as your gift to the bride might be an arrangement of canned spices in a bread pan or fancy mold. Dress it up with plenty of fresh greens and use gaily colored dish cloths for napkins.

Jon Birdsong Displays Watercolors in Austin

Jon Birdsong of Hereford will display his watercolors at the 25th annual Fiesta of Arts and Crafts at Laguna Gloria Art Museum in Austin.

Paper flowers and butterfly banners will sway to the music of strolling mariachis as an anticipated 40,000 visitors pour into the wooded area that once was the home of Clara Driscoll, "savior of the Alamo." From Noon until midnight Saturday (May 17) and from noon until 9 p.m. Sunday (May 18) artists will present works in all media— weaving, sculpture, oils, acrylics, watercolors, pottery, leather and jewelry.

Down a flight of rustic stairs west of the museum building, a huge yellow and white circus tent houses the art auction. From 2 to 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday, Fiesta-goers can bid on items by Fiesta artists. Patterned after a Texas cattle auction, rowdy ring stewards keep a fast pace going as hundreds of works pass by the auctioneer's gavel.

Sponsored by the Woman's Art Guild of Laguna Gloria, Fiesta funds over half the budget of the museum. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Parking is free at Camp Mabry on West 35th Street. Free shuttle buses run continuously to the Fiesta gates.

On The Cover

Telly Savalas portrays Algiers' infamous jewel thief, Poppi Le Moko, with Carol Burnett as the world's most beautiful woman, in a comedy sketch on "The Carol Burnett Show" Saturday, May 18 (9:00-10:00 p.m.), on the CBS
Television Network. (Rebroadcast.)

"Tony Orlando and Dawn"

Loretta Swift, the sultry Hot Lips of "M-A-S-H" on the Network, appears in a musical production number as an errant housewife who becomes straggler "Gypsy Rose," and Rosey Grier portrays a doctor whose medical bag contains some bizarre surprises, on a rebroadcast of "Tony Orlando and Dawn" Wednesday, May 14 (7:00-8:00 p.m.), on the CBS Television Network. (Originally presented on July 3, 1974).
Grier teams with Orlando and Miss Swift in a poetic tribute to the Fourth of July, "Ode to the Spirit of '76," and then is beguiled by Telma Hopkins and Joyce Vincent Wilson—the show's Dawn—in the musical number, "Cuts."
In other musical numbers, Tony Orlando and Dawn open the show with "Tea a Yellow Ribbon 'Round the Ole Oak Tree," and "I Believe in Music."

"The Blue Knight"

Academy Award winner George
Kennedy stars as shrewd Los Angeles police veteran Bumper Morgan, who is finely attuned to the pulse of the streets and the unpredictable crime on them.
In the world premiere drama "The Blue Knight," which will be seen as a second part (8:30-10:00 p.m.), of a double-feature presentation on "The CBS Friday Night Movies" Friday,
May 9 (7:00-10:00 p.m.), on the CBS
Television Network.

With a positive description of the two suspects, Bumper begins his search in the Los Angeles barrio, netting the name of a flashy sports car driver who Joseph Wambaugh.

John Furla Jr. produced "The Blue
Knight" for Lorimar Productions. J.
Lee Thompson directed from Albert
Ruben's teleplay, based on the book by Joseph Wambaugh.

attempted to sell guns in the area.
Morgan arrests the would-be gun peddler, Edwin Beal, but is frustrated when his superiors regard the evidence against Beal as insufficient to hold him.

"The Bob Crane Show"

Bob Wilcox's (Bob Crane) pleasure at a reunion with an old friend, nationally known architect Charles Lowen (guest star John Astin)—a patient in the University hospital—is short-lived when the man's casual announcement of his activism throws the hospital into turmoil—"A Case of Misdiagnosis," the Thursday, May 8, colorcast of NBC Television Network's comedy series, "The Bob Crane Show" (7:30-8:00 p.m.).
The furor caused by Lowen's revelation of his personal views brings reactions from Bob's friends and co-workers ranging from total acceptance to vindictiveness.
The episode was written by Jim Allen and directed by Richard Klon.

Gang leader threatens to kill hostages on 'Caribe'

Lt. Ben Hogan and Sgt. Mark Walters are alerted when the Calaveras Hotel on the small island of Calaveras is taken over by a gang of armed bandits who hold six hostages in "Caribe," on the ABC Television Network, Monday, May 12 (7:00-10:00 p.m.).

In "Assault on the Calaveras," the Caribe Force is given a message by Jack Morozko, ruthless leader of the band; he will blow up the hostages along with the hotel unless the ransom of $3 million from General Hopkins, owner of the hotel, is received by the time Ben and Mark work out a strategy to circumvent the plans set up by Morozko, with military precision.

Opryland U.S.A.

A circus of American music is the theme of a musical variety special, "Trinx Presents Opryland U.S.A.—1975," which will be telecast on the ABC Television Network, Wednesday, May 14 (9:00-10:00 p.m.). It was announced by Edwin F. Vona, Vice President and National Program Director, ABC Entertainment, and Robert Weitzen, Vice President and Director of Marketing for the Trinx Corporation. This special is sponsored by Trinx through their agency, Warwick, Welsh & Miller, Inc.

Shot entirely on location at Nashville's Opryland Park, the $41 million family entertainment complex which specializes in live musical entertainment, the special show will be hosted by Dennis Weaver, with Sandy Duncan as cohost. Featured guests will be singer-actress Jonnelle Allen, comedian-singer-songwriter Jim Stafford, and 16-year-old country music sensation, Tanya Tucker.

Maude and Walter are having a sleepless night, and the suspense from which they run Walter's annual sale at the resistance store seems to portend, until he has a doctor's advice to have a hysterectomy. (R)

Terry is the target of berserk criminal on 'The Rookies'

A young unwed mother names her newborn son after Terry Webster, causing the infant's father, a cop-hating criminal, to go berserk, and threaten the lives of both Webster and Jill Danzo. In "Prelude to Vengeance," on the ABC Television Network's "The Rookies," Monday, May 12 (7:00-9:00 p.m.). (Retrocast)

Rumsey Laurie Scott, who is pregnant, is abandoned by boyfriend Billy Kempson when police arrive shortly after he has robbed a small store and shot his elderly owner. Amidst the accompanying turmoil, Terry assists in the delivery of Laurie's child. In gratitude, the young mother names the infant after Terry. When the father learns of it he flies into a rage, vowing to kill Webster.

'Karen'

Dena Madison, the office manager of Open America, seeks Karen Angelo's advice when the married man she has been dating asks her to marry him, on the ABC Television Network's "Karen," Thursday, May 9 (7:30-8:00 p.m.).

In "Dena Might," Dena is in a quandary when her admirer of ten years, Barney Clark, comes to Washington to ask for her hand in marriage. Clark also promises to get a quick divorce if Dena's answer is yes. Karen Valentine stars as Karen Angelo, with Charles Lane as Dale Busch, the founder of Open America, and Dena Dierich as Dena Madison, second-in-command at the office. Co-starring are Frank Aletter as Barney Clark, Lam Dunn as Captain Pike, a volunteer at the Open America office; Aildine King as Cissy Peterson, Karen's roommate, and Will Seltzer as Adam Cooperman, a college student working at Open America. S.W.A.T.

Lt. Honda Harrelson leads an operation to rescue a Nobel Prize-winning scientist and several college students being held hostage in a giant chemical plant containing explosives that could blow up half the city in "Omega One," on the ABC Television Network's "S.W.A.T.," Monday, May 12 (8:00-9:00 p.m.).

Dr. Samuel Brunner, world famous for his work in bacterial chemistry, joins university students in a demonstration against alleged wartime chemical plants in Omega One, a vast chemical plant. Posting as student protesters, extortionists use Dr. Brunner to gain access to the plant and then seize him and others as hostages, demanding that the city deliver $1 million in cash and that authorities make no effort to oppose their escape.

'The Smothers Brothers Show'

Florence Henderson and singer David Gates team with Tom and Dick on NBC Television Network's "Smothers Brothers Show," Monday, May 12 (7:00-8:00 p.m.).

Florence sings and dances in "The Entertainer," joins in several of the comedy skits and does the "Blah, Blah Song" with Tom and Dick. David Gates sings his hit, "Part Time Love," and joins the brothers for "Playing on My Guitar." Pat Parone delivers a lecture on sex education, and Father Sanducci (Don Novello) defends America from critics. Bob Einstein, as Officer Judy, arrests a variety of fairly tale characters portrayed by Tom. Kendrick Lasseter recites "The Futurmaker," his poem dedicated to the modern American Indian.

'Promise Him Anything'

A young man has high hopes when the takes out a girl whose computer dating card reads suggestively, "anything goes," but when he finds out that nothing goes he takes her to court for breach of contract. In the comedy, "Promise Him Anything," the ABC Television Network's "Wednesday Movie of the Week," airing May 14 (7:30-9:00 p.m.).

Edward Parone directed and Mitch Brower and Bob Lovenheim produced the screenplay by David Freeman. The movie is an ABC Circle Film.

Paul, shy and reserved, expects his life to be changed, joyfully by his computer date, Marjorie, who has put "anything goes" on her card. On their first date, after exchanging intimate confidences (all lies), Paul takes her to his apartment to test the "anything goes" part of the deal, only to find that his father has moved in, cramping his romantic style.

On later dates, Paul discovers that nothing really "goes" with Marjorie, and when he learns that she is dating an
