School Taxes Considered Monday

The task of the Hereford Board of Education to decipher the ins and outs of the recently passed school finance bill is just beginning.

It has been the topic of numerous meetings in the past, it will be on future agendas for the rest of the summer, if not longer. The board has scheduled a special meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the bill in relation to information expected from the Texas Education Agency.

Bill Phillips, administrative assistant for the school district, said Friday that he is attending a meeting in Amarillo Tuesday to hear interpretations to be presented by representatives of the TEA.

"I'VE READ THE BILL OVER THREE times and I think I'm just beginning to understand what it's about," Phillips said when asked if any recent information had been released by the TEA. "I will add to what I know already at the meeting (in Amarillo)."

The school board, called the special meeting in preparation for the regular meetings in July and August, when the tax rate and the budget are considered for the coming school year. But this isn't an ordinary year and Phillips said he didn't know what the school board would do and when they would do it.

He explained that the problem is not in the information the bill provides as much as it is in how the information is interpreted.

"Rather than depend on correspondence, the TEA is sending out teams across the state to discuss the bill," he said. The TEA is empowered to set the guidelines for implementing the school finance legislation.

PHILLIPS hopes to get back in time for the school board meeting to relay the information from the TEA. He does plan to give the board some figures on which they can base judgements. However, the main purpose of the meeting will be to seek out the opinions and wishes of the board members.

So far, the general consensus is that the bill will hurt the district a bit since more local taxes will have to make up the difference lost through less state aid. The bill raises the amount contributed by the district to the state Minimum Foundation Program. Last year, the district's portion was $582,000, but the new legislation computes the amount to be contributed next year at $1,164,000 or double the earlier figure.

No district contributes more than twice as much as did last year. Actually, no funds go to Austin. They are deducted from the total amount due the district in state aid. An earlier article in The Brand left this point unclear.

EVEN THOUGH more is extracted in foundation contributions, the bill provides increases of about $270,000 in operating and maintenance funds as well as increases in other programs such as the Educationally Disadvantaged and transportation. Possible legislation for the bilingual program could mean even more funds from the state.

These partially offset the negative figures, but Roy Hartman, superintendent, said at the last board meeting a tax increase should be anticipated. When asked, he said in about the 15 to 20 per cent range. The board already raised the percentage for assessed valuation of property from 45 to 60 per cent to allow for higher taxes.

The district is already taxing at maximum rate of $1.50 for operating and maintenance and 50 cents for interest and sinking (bonded indebtedness).

The board also will be furnished the total taxable value of the property in the school district, at Tuesday's meeting. This is expected to affect the tax rate since the figure could be lower than last year due to the sagging cattle market and other factors.

Thunderstorms accompanied by high winds blew their way across Deaf Smith County Thursday and Friday night dumping substantial rainfall and some hail on portions of the county.

Friday night's storm carried winds which gusted in excess of 70 m.p.h. at times. The storm moved into Hereford from the southwest after striking Portales, where it overturned at least two mobile homes.

Hereford received 1.47 inches of rainfall in Friday night's storm, according to KPAN radio. High winds tore limbs from trees in the city and a spokesman for KPAN reported that his fence was blown down, but a check with police Saturday morning failed to disclose any serious damage here.

Hereford received one inch of rain in Thursday's thunderstorm.

Both the Thursday and Friday storms moved in from the southwest, with the Thursday storm moving on a generally northeastward direction.

Apparently the heaviest portion of Friday night's weather struck in Oldham County, where crops in the Adrian community reportedly suffered heavy hail damage.

Reports of golfball to baseball size hail were received from the Summerfield community following Thursday's storm, but a spokesman for Summerfield Fertilizer told the Brand Friday morning that little damage resulted from the hail. He reported .50 inches of rainfall from Thursday's storm, and when contacted Saturday morning, reported an additional

.90 inches of moisture from Friday night's weather with some wind and hail damage. Extent of the damage was not known of presstime.

Heaviest rainfall reports from Thursday's storm came from the Dawn community. Bill Cornett of Dawn Co-op reported 2.50 inches of rain filled drainage ditches on Highway 60 near Dawn and piled up on the highway at some points Thursday night.

"Light hail covered the ground here twice Thursday night, and there may be some hail damage, but not too much. I believe enough rain fell before the hail to toughen up the wheat and prevent serious damage," said Cornett.

Rainfall at Dawn amounted to .20 inches Friday night.

J.E. McCabe reported 2.30 inches of moisture received at his farm east of Dawn Thursday, with a "a gentle shower" Friday night.

The H.L. Hershey farm 13 miles northeast of the city reported marble-sized hail and .70 inches of rainfall from Thursday's thunderstorm, with an additional .90 inches falling Friday night.

"It blew pretty hard Friday night and there was a sprinkling of hail, but no serious damage. Thursday's hail didn't damage the crops like I've seen similar hail do in past years," said Hershey.

Bruce Coleman of the Walcott community told the Brand Saturday morning that the amount of rainfall from Friday night varied in that area, with .25 inches falling at his home.

He reported scattered large hail, which (See THUNDER, Page 2A)

July 4 Activities

Program Officially Launches Bicentennial

The Bicentennial Era in Hereford will officially be kicked off with a program planned for the Courthouse steps in Hereford the morning of July 4, the nation's birthday.

The program will begin at 10:30 a.m. July 4. John Aiken will act as master of ceremonies.

Reverend C.W. Allen will deliver the invocation. The American Legion will present the colors, and the Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls will recite the American Creed and the pledge to the flag.

Sam Morgan will give the welcome and explain the meaning of the bicentennial flag.

The Bill Devers Quartet will present a vocal selection. Cathy Wilson and Lynda Dones will present the one-minute talk on "What's Right About America" which were recently featured in the state finals of the Miss National Teen-Ager competition.

Children from summer classes at the Tierra Blanca school will lead the singing of "God Bless America," and Cindy Smart will do a reading of "God Bless America."

Bob Ware, the featured speaker, will present a brief patriotic talk. Randy Vaughn and high school band students will present an instrumental selection. The program is expected to last approximately 30 minutes.

"We hope this will create interest in the community about the bicentennial," said Bill Johnson, speaking for the Bicentennial Committee.

Johnson said that a big program has been planned for 1976, focusing on the bicentennial theme.

Several activities will be held during the upcoming year, Johnson said, including many patriotic programs to be presented at local civic club meetings.

The Bicentennial Committee will sell Bicentennial Flags during the year.

The purpose of this year's celebration and the entire bicentennial program is to "create interest in the American flag and America as a whole," said Johnson. "If people show up for all these activities, they won't be disappointed," he said.

A fireworks display had originally been planned, but difficulty in obtaining the necessary fireworks resulted in cancellation of this part of the celebration, Johnson also said.

In a related activity, St. Anthony's Catholic Church will usher in the Bicentennial Era with a special High Mass at 8 p.m. July 4. All are welcome.

Obscene Material Sales Halted By CDL Teams

15 Merchants Sign Statements

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The Hereford Citizens for Decency through Law (CDL), formed last summer to fight against obscene materials, has been active again in the last two months getting local merchants to sign statements promising compliance with state obscenity laws. Each of the cooperating merchants also is given a seal of approval from the organization.

The group began a year ago with petitions circulated to seek out the local interest in controlling the sale and distribution of "Lewd or obscene materials." In that drive about 2,000 signatures were obtained. Since then, the organization has been working in five teams of about four or five persons to inspect local establishments and to get the merchants to comply with state statutes.

TOM ALBRACHT, president of the CDL, said Friday that 15 merchants had agreed to sign the statements and another eight were contacted but had not yet signed. Some of chain operations were having time delays due to correspondence with their corporate headquarters seeking approval of the statements.

Establishments cooperating so far include Grand Avenue Grocery, Nif-T Foods, Thriftway, Safeway, Taylor and Sons, Texas Street Grocery, Harold/Close Drug, McDowell Drug, Hereford Meat Market, Ellis Grocery, Penny's Duckwall stores, T.G.&Y. Family Center, Chandler Gift Shop and Christian Book Store.

The statement basically states that the merchants agree to remove from public display all magazines, books, papers and printed matter that depicts nudity, or sexual activity; to forbid the sale or showing of movies or movie films which depict nudity or sexual activity; to make all lewd or obscene material unavailable to minors (those under 18-years-old); and to agree to periodic inspections by the CDL.

If these terms are not fulfilled, then the organization reserved the right to revoke any of seals of approval displayed by the establishments. Concerning the eight who have not agreed to comply with state laws, Albracht said Andy Shuval, criminal district attorney, would visit these establishments this week and consider further action.

THE STATE LAW is Statute 43.24, which states that a person commits an offense if knowing that the material is harmful and that the person he is selling to is a minor, he sells, distributes, exhibits, or possesses for sale, distribution or exhibition to a minor any material considered harmful to that minor.

The only defense allowed under this section is the sale or distribution of obscene material for "scientific, educational, governmental or other similar justification;" or the sale or distribution of such material to a minor accompanied by a consenting parent, guardian or spouse. Any offenses under this section are considered a Class A misdemeanor unless it is committed under subsection (b) (3) dealing with minors being hired to accomplish the sale of obscene materials. Then it is a third degree felony.

Minor is defined by the law as any one under 17-years-old. "Harmful material" is defined as that which "appeals to the prurient, interest of a minor, in sex, nudity, or excretion; is patently offensive to prevailing standards in the adult community as a whole with respect to what is suitable for minors; and is utterly without redeeming social value for minors.

Albracht said, "We have encouraged those who support the CDL effort to speak to their merchants about their views. It all boils down to the basic community standard and what will be accepted."

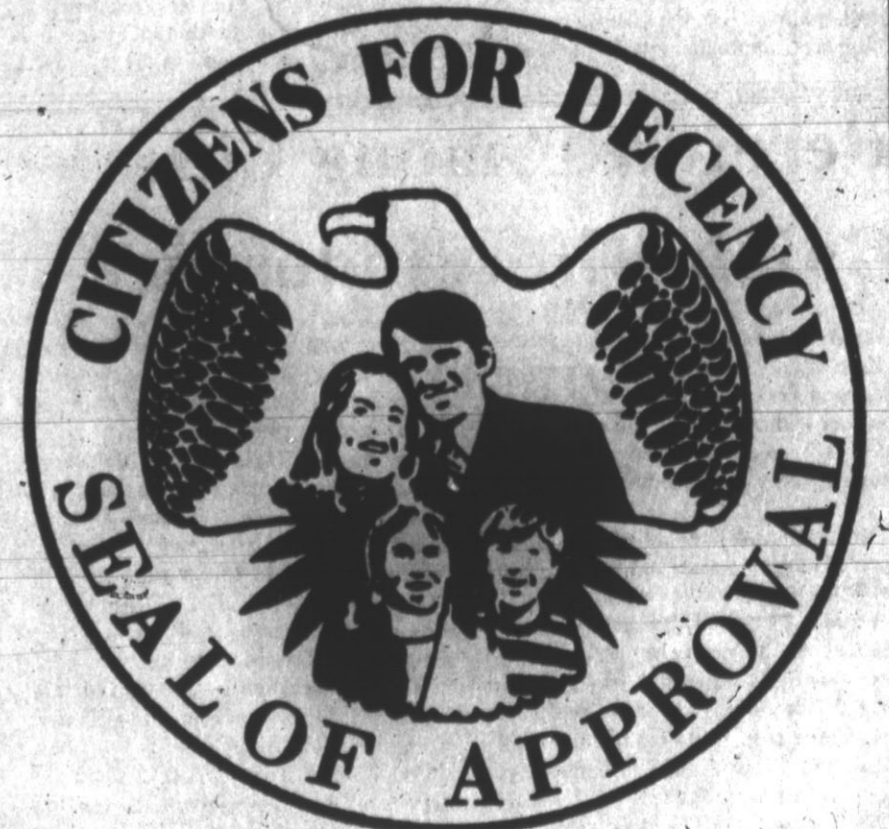

FUTURE PLANS include calling for a referendum locally to determine the precise community feelings and to continue the effort by doing something about limiting the movies shown in the Hereford area. Also, the CDL will followup and inspect the establishments to see compliance is continued.

"Of course, I would hope the stores would abide by the agreement," Albracht said.

He explained that some stores were having to discontinue the sale of any pornographic materials since separating the material from view could involve displaying them in a solitary room. This expense would be prohibitive in most cases.

"I don't think some merchants consider the sales of the material very profitable," Albracht continued.

The CDL doesn't meet on any regular basis, only when the necessity arises.

C of C Directors Consider Hall Of Fame, All-Girl Rodeo Reports

The Deaf Smith County Board of directors did a lot of listening Thursday morning as they heard reports concerning the Cowgirl Hall of Fame, the Chamber "Fun Breakfast," the Hall of Fame All-Girl Rodeo, July 4th activities, and scheduled promotional events.

The directors met in regular session at the C of C Building to hear the committee reports and act on pending business. Terry Caviness, C of C vice president, presided in the absence of Bud Eades, president.

During the meeting, Jim Bowlius, manager of BioCon, presented the board with an appreciation plaque for assistance in promoting the firm's manure processing plant here.

DICK GERIES, chairman of the industrial development committee, explained that donations had gone over the $41,000 mark as of Thursday and that a final report meeting would be held Friday. He said that three loans had been arranged for the Sue Ann Inc. garment plant to be built here.

Construction on the plant is expected to begin in two or three weeks. It will take about four months to complete the plant and associated facilities, once begun. Local contractor Emory Brownlow will donate his work at cost with the sub-contractors following suit. He congratulated foundation president Tom Burdett on doing "a fine job" as well as the other volunteers.

Cowgirl Hall of Fame President Roy Faubion said that Albright had been named the institution's manager and Pete Caviness was designated the fund raising chairman. Presently, two paid employees work at the Hall of Fame located in the basement of the County Library.

Terry Caviness, chairman of the All-Girl Rodeo and Hall of Fame organization committee, said, "We didn't make any money but few rodeos do the first time. We're in the hole about $1,600."

"I WANT TO THANK all the volunteers who helped with the rodeo," he said.

Next year the rodeo has good chance of being televised since all five sports networks will be notified a year in advance of the rodeo dates. The film made of this year's rodeo, on May 16-18, is still in the process of being edited but is expected to be finished soon.

Faubion explained that it will be 27 minutes long and that it "should be fantastic" when completed. Film clips will be used in publicity and in a Hall of Fame display. "I definitely think one of the major networks will be here next year."

Albright said the breakfast was a success with about 240 persons being fed. The breakfast, held last Tuesday in the HHS cafeteria, was the second one arranged by the C of C.

They will be held every other month with the next one being held at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday Aug. 12. The sponsorship was set at $250.

Albright said some persons weren't fed because food ran short. But a better idea of those attending will be gained next time through the sale of tickets or required reservations.

THE JULY 4TH activities will begin at 10:30 a.m. that day on the County Courthouse lawn. See related story in today's issue for specific details.

Two promotional activities were explained to the board including the acquisition of a billboard sized sign to be located near the New Mexico-Texas border on highway 60 and a special bumper sticker day Wednesday. The sign will include a drawing of the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and be funded through local sponsorship. Its purpose will be to attract visitors traveling from the Clovis vicinity.

The bumper sticker day will be held all day Wednesday with volunteers passing out the stickers to motorists passing the C of C building. The stickers recognize the county as No. 1 in agriculture.

Albright reported that the Culture, Agriculture, Religion and Education committee is helping with the Chamber Singers in sponsoring a concert July 1 to raise money for the group's trip to the Texas Choir Director's Association Convention in San Antonio on August 1. They were the only group invited to perform at the convention. Also the singers will perform at the rotunda of the capital and in downtown Austin on July 31.

The committee is sponsoring volunteers to help with tours of the Deaf Smith County Museum as well as helping organize the new teacher banquet in August.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board: --A report from Lavon Nieman chairman of the Women's Division concerning the Summer Youth Program in which almost 300 persons are enrolled. It is a program held at the Community Center to provide instruction and recreation for students during summer.

Also, the division is holding a "good luck party" for Monica Herring who will be leaving for the Miss Texas Pageant July 9-12 in Fort Worth. The party will be held at 8 p.m. June 30 in the Community Center.

--Heard report that speaker of the House Bill Clayton will attend a Lions Club meeting and hold a press conference here on July 9.

--Discussed two films available through the C of C. they include "The Day Business Stood Still" and "The Farm Story."

Damaged In Turnover

This tractor semi-trailer rig and an additional trailer were damaged when the rig turned over early Friday morning on Highway 60 east of Hereford. Dennis Snipes, 35, of Clovis, driver of the truck was uninjured. He reported that he was westbound with a load of 70 head of cattle, headed for Southwest Feed Yards when the accident occurred. Four cattle were killed in the accident and four others were taken to a local packing plant, while cowboys were kept busy Friday morning gathering up the remaining cattle and loading them in another truck.

County, District Courts Experience Light Dockets

A relatively low number of convictions resulted from cases handled by area courts for the week ending June 13, with two convictions for driving while intoxicated in county court, only minor cases handled in justice of the peace court, and two probated sentences handed down in district court, one for aggravated assault and the other for burglary.

Cases handled in County Court include: --William Joseph James; driving while intoxicated; fined $100 plus court costs; 15 days; one year probation.

--Altus Boyd Higgins; driving while intoxicated; fined $350 plus court costs; 30 days; two years probation.

Total fines assessed for the week in County Court were $450.00. Total fines assessed for the year are $14,418.00.

Few cases were handled in Justice of the Peace Court during the week. Total fines assessed in 1975 on issuance of bad checks are $722.50.

Cases handled in District Court include:

Ricardo Rodriguez; aggravated assault; fined $500 plus court costs; four years probation.

--Stanley Ray Smith; burglary; fined $50; two years probation.

Local Population Younger Than National Median

The Good Old Days! Just when were they?

For different persons, it could have been in 1944 on D-Day when the Allied forces landed in France after crossing the English Channel. Or in 1927 when Lindbergh made the first non-stop New York to Paris flight across the Atlantic.

Also, the good times might have occurred in 1934 when the first quintuplets, the Dionne sisters, were born in Canada. The younger generation might even consider it just as recently as during the early sixties at the height of the rock'n roll era.

But just how many local citizens can remember these news events in relation to when they spent their best years?

Fewer than 14 per cent of Deaf Smith County's population were on hand in 1918 when Germany surrendered and World War I ended, the Government's latest figures on local age brackets show.

When the 21st Amendment was passed in 1933, doing away with prohibition, no more than 28 per cent in the local area had yet been born.

The formation of the United Nations and the production of the first atomic bomb, both in 1945, could have been witnessed by only 40 per cent of the present local population.

A new generation, to whom many of these happenings are of purely historical interest and not part of their personal memories, has sprung up in Deaf Smith County.

Today, the figures show, there are more of these young people around, in proportion to the total population, than in the past.

The explanation is that in the years just after World War II, when the birth rate zoomed upward, babies were arriving on the scene in record numbers.

As a result, despite the fact that the birth rate has dropped considerably in the last few years, more than half the population of the United States is under age 30 at the present time.

Numerically, those in the 10 to 15 age group comprise the largest five-year segment in the country. About 10 per cent of all Americans are in that bracket.

In Deaf Smith County, the figures show, the median age of the population is 22.5, which means that there are as many local people below that age as there are above it.

Elsewhere in the United States the median age is now 28.1 and, in the State of Texas, approximately 26.4.

Thanks for the Help

Jim Bowlius, left, of BioCon presents Terry Caviness, C of C vice president, with an appreciation award for the assistance given in promoting the company's manure processing plant here. The plant opened up near the Summerfield community on April 8. The presentation was made at the C of C board of directors meeting Thursday at the C of C building. See story page 2A.

Property Tax Adds Heavily To Government Revenues

(Spc)—How much of the money needed for local governmental operations in Deaf Smith County comes from property taxes?

Do these taxes produce a greater or a smaller proportion of locally-raised revenue than they do in other communities?

Property taxes have always been the chief source of such revenue in most sections of the country and they still are. But they no longer carry as large a share of the load as they did in former years.

With cities and counties requiring more money each year to provide necessary public services, which have been growing more expensive because of the rising cost of labor and materials, they have been forced to increase existing taxes and to seek additional revenue from other sources.

As for property taxes, they have reached the point in many communities at which attempts to boost them any higher are meeting with stern resistance.

In Deaf Smith County, according to the latest findings of the Department of Commerce, approximately 64 per cent of the revenue obtained from local sources comes from property taxes.

In other communities across the country, an average of 63.5 per cent is from such sources and, in the State of Texas, 60 per cent.

The relative importance of the property tax has been offset, in many localities, by the newer taxes that have been imposed in the last decade or so, such as the gross sales tax and the local income tax. The yield on these two has increased three-fold in the past 10 years.

As a result, although the property tax is now producing $50.9 billion a year nationally, as against $22.6 billion in 1965, it represents a much smaller proportion of the total collection than it did then.

The Government's report shows that property taxes are considerably higher in some sections of the country than in others.

In Deaf Smith County, the figures indicate, the amount being collected annually through property taxes is equivalent to $171 per local resident.

Elsewhere in the United States it is $205 per capita and, in Texas, $153.

Hereford Among Cities Gaining New Industries

Sue Ann, Inc., which is going to locate in Hereford, is one of 17 new industries locating in Texas during May expected to pump an additional $40 million into the state each year, according to Texas Industrial Commission projections.

The location of Sue Ann, Inc. here is expected to create at least 150 new jobs. The direct output of the firm is expected to exceed $1,800,000, with the total annual economic impact on the Hereford area economy expected to exceed $4,100,000, according to figures released by the Texas Industrial Commission.

Also, the following amounts in new taxes are expected to result: local $16,682; state, $14,579; and federal, $252,739.

Almost 1,500 new jobs will be created directly and indirectly by these new industries across the state and they will generate more than $250,000 in state and local taxed each year.

Locating in Texas during May were Production Automation Systems and Annette Elane, Inc. of San Antonio, Smith Industries, Inc. of Columbus, Phillips Petroleum of Stairtown, I.T.P. Corporation of Dallas, Levi Strauss & Company and Loxem Manufacturing Company of Richardson.

Also, Ivy Steel & Wire and Gulf Metals Industries, Inc. of Houston, Lisco Putter Company of Longview, Petrolite Corporation of La Porte, Jack's Hydraulic Service of McAllen, Styro-Fab, Inc. of Greenville, Couplings, Inc. of Royston City, and Oil States Rubber Company and Willamette Industries, Inc. of Arlington.

Bumper Stickers Coming

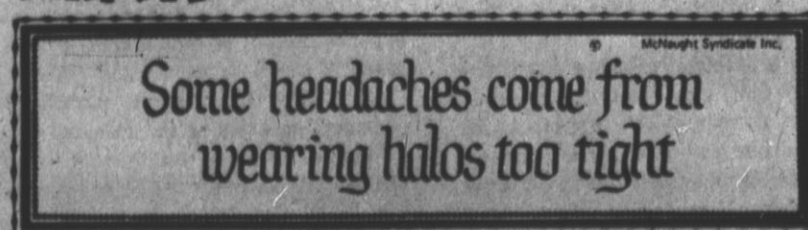

Donna Kendall, Miss Teen Hereford, displays a bumper sticker like the ones to be distributed to motorists Wednesday in front of the Chamber of Commerce building. The project is being arranged through Lynn Brisendine, C of C publicity committee chairman.

Marriage & Happiness

A recent study at the University of Michigan by three psychologists shows that married couples are, on the average, far happier than single people.

In a recent issue of "Psychology Today" one of the researchers of the study reports that today's often sensational grumblings about marriage are, generally speaking, out of time with majority opinion.

SLAPSTIX

Send Your Dollars

Every tender-hearted soul is seriously tempted almost daily by the rash of advertisements and commercials appealing for money (usually to be sent to New York or Washington) to help starving children, starving Asians, homeless babies, flood victims, etc.

Most of the cases are good, but why all this stress on foreign charity? Could it be, at least in some cases, because what happens to the money donated is difficult to determine?

While no editor wishes to depreciate any admirable charity offered, and assuming most of the current money drives are that, readers should remember that charity properly begins at home. One need not look to Washington or New York administrators to find good causes or needy cases. There are plenty of them involving Americans in this community and those inclined to look can find them, and also observe the benefit their generosity produces.

did damage some crops in that area, although severity of the damage was not known.

Easter Grain reported light hail and .40 inches of rainfall from Thursday's weather, with hail damage termed as "not too serious." Friday's storm apparently missed the community.

The Jim Perrin, farm near the northwest corner of the county reported a light shower and high wind Friday night.

"We could see the cloud, but it went southeast of us," said Mrs. Perrin.

The extent of the damage to crops from the two days of storms had not been ascertained at presstime, with wet fields preventing some farmers from checking their crops, but early reports indicate that overall, damage was scattered and of differing severity.

A spokesman for a local produce company reported Saturday morning that a brief survey of crops north of the city revealed that some fields of potatoes, corn and beets were stripped, with some potato vines damaged badly.

The spokesman indicated that more will be learned on the damage as soon as fields are accessible.

Business Good, Local Realtors Told

Three Hereford realtors were greeted with good news recently when they attended the 55th Annual Texas Association of Realtors Convention held in El Paso.

Attending were Melvin G. Jayroe, Lloyd B. Sharp and Don C. Tardy. They represented the local realtors association and are all associated with the Lone Star Agency.

The association's president Julio S. Laguarda of Houston said to the convention's 1,500 attending realtors that real estate broker's business in Texas has been "real good" despite the sagging national economy.

After touring 120 cities in the state, he said construction in the home and rental units was down, but that increased immigration into the state has created higher activity in building single and multi-family units.

The main reason for the better business has been attributed by Laguarda to Texas' importance in energy research and production, prompting oil companies to hire more persons.

He noted that a popular notion by consumers is to delay house purchases, but that it only costs more to wait.

"Today is the time to buy a home," he said. "There is no advantage to be gained by deferring the purchase of a home. It'll cost a person more money by waiting."

The four-day convention was comprised of mini-conferences, which the local realtors attended. Also new state officers were elected.

Something's Burning

Jeff Carlile, a vice president at Hereford State Bank, right, represented the bank in fine style Friday as he takes a hand at burning weeds on the side of the bank. A bit of instruction is provided by C.W. Allen, a bank employee. The pair drew a large audience as persons at the courthouse across the street looked on through windows. Even City Attorney Earnest Langley and County Sheriff Travis McPherson came by to offer their greetings. McPherson jestingly took polaroid shots for possible evidence if needed in further legal actions.

Six Deaf Smith Rural Wrecks Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of May, 1975, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and two persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1975 shows a total of 36 accidents resulting in one person killed and 29 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for May, 1975, shows a total of 524 accidents resulting in 17 persons killed and 310 persons injured as compared to May, 1974, with 406 accidents resulting in 25 persons killed and 218 persons injured. This was 118 more accidents, eight less killed, and 92 more injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

A photograph of Elov Valdez, a talented local tennis player, was incorrectly identified in the Thursday, June 19, issue of the Hereford Brand as a photograph of Rocky Rodriguez, another local player who was not pictured.

The photograph was run in connection with publicity for the Deaf Smith County Tennis Tournament, scheduled for Thursday through Sunday.

BAD LUCK

DENVER—When Tony Salazar, a 35-year-old convict, continued to complain of back pains, he was taken to a hospital for a series of X-rays. Nothing was found wrong, but the X-ray picked up a metallic object in his mouth that proved to be a key to his handcuffs.

It's very difficult for one to do his own work much less some of the work of others.

Consumers are slowly, reluctantly beginning to spend some of their money.

Attitudes are a lot more optimistic than they were six or eight months ago, but the memory of the worst recession in 40 years will linger for some time. It is frightening to go through a slide like those we have just been through, especially if you don't remember the depression days of the 1930's.

Many consumers are still playing it close because the two biggest worries, are still unemployment and inflation. So, some major purchases are being postponed or consumers are "trading down," going from a large car down to a small economy model, easier on the gas bill.

Not everyone is holding back, obviously. Plenty of buyers were out in the retail stores the past two weeks, lured by Father's Day promotions.

Personal income was up 7.2 per cent in the first four months of 1975 and, in April, consumers reduced their debts for the fifth time in six months, reflecting a drop in installment buying of automobiles. Meanwhile, retail sales increased 2 per cent in May over April and 6 per cent over May of 1974.

Before the recession, inflation was the big consumer headache. That was displaced by recession and unemployment fears. Now that the economy is on the move upward, inflation has once again become the chief consumer worry.

Consumers reflect this in the way they are postponing some major purchases and in the way they shop for necessities. The trend is toward factory outlets and discount stores instead of the standard name retailers and catalog stores.

The one industry benefiting from all this is the food and vegetable industry. The move to home gardening finds plenty of justification when you note that lettuce prices in some states have jumped from 25 cents a head last winter to 60 cents a head.

Storm Victim

This 20-year-old Russian olive tree at the Glenn Anderson home at 115 Ave. 1 fell victim to high winds during the storm which lashed Hereford

Friday night. The tree was partially uprooted and toppled over. Winds gusted up to 70 m.p.h. here during the course of the storm.

Drought Hurts Grain, Pasture

AUSTIN--Pastures and dryland grain sorghum suffered but row crops were hardly harmed during the six-month drought in the Lower Rio Grande Valley which was dampened recently by two to five inches of rain.

Most row crops are on irrigated land, but 60 percent of the grain sorghum is dryland.

"Until recently there had been no significant rainfall in the Valley since before the first of they year."

"Ranchers probably suffered the most because of dry pasture conditions."

Texas Job Creation Campaign Develops

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has accepted Governor Dolph Briscoe's invitation to participate in the Governor's Job Creation Campaign to make TEXAS FIRST in economic development, and will serve as one of four regional coordinators across the state.

Stephen F. Smith, Assistant Development Director, has been named regional TEXAS FIRST coordinator. His duties include assisting local chambers of commerce in their efforts to inform area businesses and industries of benefits of the program designed to encourage and assist employers to hire more new workers in permanent and unsubsidized positions.

In addition, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will participate in recognition ceremonies honoring employers whose participation in the TEXAS FIRST program has been outstanding.

Five state agencies, headed by the Texas Industrial Commission, are pooling their resources and experience to help local private enterprise expand their payrolls and production. Other agencies are

Texas Education Agency, Texas Employment Commission, Texas Department of Community Affairs and Governor's Division of Planning Coordination.

"These agencies stand ready to help with such problems as determining expansion needs and feasibility, training of unskilled workers and locating responsible new employees," Smith said.

TEXAS FIRST program goals include placing at least 4,000 new workers in 160 businesses and industries throughout the state. This would mean a $277 million boost annually to the state's economy.

Tour information meetings are scheduled for West Texas to explain the Texas first program to community leaders, July 7, Midland, Commercial Bank and Trust Company Building; July 8, Amarillo, Pioneer Natural Gas Building; July 10, Stephenville, Yarbrough State University; July 11, Wichita Falls, Texas Electric Service Company Building.

Each meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m. and last about one and a half hours.

Materials for conducting a local campaign will be available at these information meetings.

Note to graduates: Life is too short for a complete education. There are no masterminds, regardless of the myths built up.

VA Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them.

Q - The Veterans Administration provides special housing benefits for some veterans who suffer severe service-connected disabilities. What are they?

A - Eligible veterans are provided grants of not more than 50 per cent of cost of specially adapted housing ("wheelchair homes") up to a maximum of $25,000.

Q - I keep hearing about "vet reps" on campuses of major colleges around the country. Who are they, and what do they do?

A - They are, as the name implies, specially-trained Veterans Administration representatives. They assist college-going veterans by expediting educational assistance payments, and in many instances, perform "outreach", motivational counseling and other services.

Q - I worked in a medical laboratory before I was discharged from military service last month. How should I go about getting a similar job with the Veterans Administration?

A - Contact the personnel office of the nearest VA hospital for information on employment opportunities of the agency's hospitals and clinics.

ELECTROGATOR IS SOFT and GENTLE

even on difficult soils

Portniff loam soil is difficult to irrigate because initially, it resists the moisture; however, once wet, it accepts water readily. The Electrogator wide water pattern allows a longer "soak" time than conventional sprinkler patterns - thus eliminating the "runoff" that occurs by applying water too rapidly. It is another reason why Electrogator's wide water pattern irrigates without runoff on a broad number of soils and terrains.

K-Bob's Still Unbeaten In AAA Softball Action

K-Bob's retained its status as the only undefeated team in AAA softball league play last week by edging out Caviness 14-12 with a sixth inning rally.

Today's games have been postponed due to a tournament, but will be made up during the week with play beginning at 7 p.m. each day.

Armour, 4-1; Caviness, 2-3; Pioneer, 2-3; and Arrowhead, 6-5.

Hereford Brand, 4-1; Meads, 3-2; Music Stand, 3-2; Tal Pro, 2-3; and McCracken, 0-5.

Tennis Tourney Deadline Nears

The deadline for entering the Deaf Smith County tennis tournament is Tuesday, according to Coach Steve Thomas, tournament director.

Sports Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Entries are limited to players living within 30 miles of Hereford.

Entry fees are $4 for singles, and $8 a team for doubles events. The cost of entering the tournament includes tickets to the awards picnic, scheduled for June 29.

"I encourage interested players to go ahead and get their entries in," said Coach Thomas.

The tournament begins Thursday, June 26, and continues through Sunday, June 29. The event is sponsored by the

View From The Plains

BY J.D. PEER

TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE DEPT.

Palo Duro park located 13 miles east of Canyon offers a variety of panhandle scenery plus the opportunity to see the musical drama "Texas".

Opening night for Paul Green's "Texas" is June 18th and curtain time is 8:30 p.m. CDST. The production plays every evening except Sunday night through August 23. Theatre patrons are admitted without charge after 6 p.m. daily but many arrive early to drive through the 15,000 acre Panhandle park.

"Most tourists traveling through Texas and even some residents of the Panhandle and South plains have not heard of Palo Duro park or the production "Texas", William Moore, director of the drama said.

"The canyon walls furnish an excellent backdrop as the drama unfolds and a true understanding of the play is assured if the patrons arrive early enough for the first part of the play," Moore continued.

An excellent barbecue dinner is served every evening before the performance from 6:45 to 8 p.m.

Practicing Hard

The joy of competition is reflected on the face of Elov Valdez, a Hereford tennis player practicing for a local tennis tournament, to be held June 26 through 29. Local fans interested in the tournament point out that tennis may well be the fastest growing sport in the country. The tournament will be sponsored by the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce.

Hundreds Expected At Kid's Inc. Banquet

A star infielder known for his steady defensive play and frequently lethal hitting will be the featured speaker at the annual Kids Inc. sports banquet scheduled for Friday night, with at least 1,300 persons expected to attend.

Denis Menke, former infielder for the Atlanta Braves, Houston Astros, and Cincinnati Reds, will be the featured speaker. During his 12 years in the major leagues Menke was a teammate, at one time or another, of such established baseball greats as Johnny Bench, Cesar Cedeno, and Henry Aaron, the all-time home-run king.

Menke was known as a troublesome hitter by such worthy opposing pitchers as Philadelphia's Steve Carlton, San Francisco's Juan Marichal, and especially by the Los Angeles ace, Sandy Koufax.

During his twelve-year career, Menke was also known for good fielding, and was considered to be particularly adept in starting the double play.

David McDonald, spokesman for the Deaf Smith County Kids Inc. program, said that ticket sales for the banquet went "extremely well."

Members of the Bronco leagues, the Pony leagues, and all the girls' softball leagues will be honored at the banquet. Highlights of the banquet will include the naming of coaches of the year, the annual sportsmanship awards, most valuable players, and the All-Star teams. The Hereford Rotary Club will serve a barbecue dinner at the banquet, and the event is sponsored by the Hereford State Bank.

Playoffs in the baseball program will start Monday night in both Bronco and Pony Leagues, with double-elimination play determining the eventual winners.

Softball Tourney Ends

A softball tournament sponsored by K-Bob's Steak House got underway yesterday, and will conclude today at the High School field.

Six local teams had entered, as well as teams from many area towns.

Swine Evaluation Set At Tech Course

Pork producers want to avoid short-bodied short-legged hogs which mature early and finish out light. But how far should they go in selecting from the other extreme in seeking heavier market hogs?

A report will be made on an evaluation of the "Big Kind" vs. the "Little Kind" (of hogs) at the 23rd annual Swine Short Course June 26 and 27 at Texas Tech University.

"Swine breeders currently favor the use of larger-framed animals because of strong interests in marketing hogs at heavier weights," said T.D. Tanksley Jr., professor and Extension Swine Specialist, Texas A&M University. "Supposedly, the truly big kind grow faster to heavier weights and yield a better carcass than medium and little hogs."

Tanksley will report June 26 on a study of the effect of skeleton size on growth rate, feed efficiency and carcass merit in hogs and attempts to correlate specific body measurements with skeletal size.

The study used 34 barrows representing varied skeletal sizes. The hogs were individually penned and received the same management and dietary treatment.

Stymied

This combine parked at the edge of a ripe dryland wheat field east of Hereford, couldn't run Friday morning following heavy rains Thursday night. The turnrow and a portion of the field were standing in water. Rain, high winds and scattered hail pummeled the county Thursday and Friday, resulting in damage to some crops.

Wheat Growers To Fight Hazards

Insects, disease and drought-hazards which are knocking five bushels per acre off the average yield of the Texas wheat crop this harvest are marked for expanded research and demonstration projects with an eye toward reducing future losses and strengthening farmer income through joint efforts of the Texas Agricultural Research and Extension Services and the Texas Wheat Producers Board.

Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President, Texas Wheat Producers Board said that the average yield for wheat in the state this year is projected to be 24 bushels as compared to an average statewide yield of 29 bushels per acre. He said that recognition that much of this loss might be prevented by varieties that were insect, disease or drought resistant prompted the board (TWPB) at its recent quarterly meeting, to earmark over $6,500 for matching-fund research-demonstration grants with these Texas A&M Services for this purpose. Funds for such activities administered by the board are provided by individual producers through a 1/2 cent per bushel self-assessment on all wheat produced.

Dr. Kenneth Porter, Bushland, Texas Agricultural Research Service chief wheat breeder, will direct the expanded "new wheats" test and demonstration plots throughout the state's commercial wheat area. He will implement this program through the area Extension Agronomists: Dr. Frank Petr, Amarillo, for the North Plains; Dr. James R. Supak, Lubbock, for the South Plains; and Dr. Dale A. Lovelace, Vernon, for the Rolling Plains. It is expected that new varieties being developed by any university, research station, or private company throughout the wheat production area nationwide may be included in the Texas project for observation as to yield, disease and insect resistance or other factors which might then be selected for use in the regular Texas breeding program.

The insect demonstration project initiated in the Rolling Plains in cooperation with Extension entomologist at Vernon, Emory Boring in 1972, and being continued, calls for training of local insect scouts for keeping up with insect infestation throughout the production period, the establishment of controlled demonstration plots, and the issuance of regular pest reports. These reports the past three years have alerted producers as to the need for pest control measures when warranted and also prevented many farmers from applying costly control measures when insect numbers were not high enough to require them, according to W.R. Moore, Jr., a Texas Wheat Producers Board member from the Rolling Plains area, of Munday.

The Wheat Streak Mosaic virus project will be designed and directed by Dr. Robert W. Berry, Lubbock, Area Extension pathologist, has involved principally the irrigated wheat areas of the Central and North Plains where severe to total damage from the disease occurred in some fields last year. This project will be expanded with the 1975 project to include "on station" research at Bushland according to the officials.

Nelson said that the initiation and expansion of these research and demonstration activities, along with the continuation of established foreign market development and domestic activities in market information, fuel and fertilizer liaison, transportation and livestock & human nutrition provides Texas wheat producers with a balanced program of work toward solving production and marketing problems and taking advantage of existing income producing opportunities.

Nutritionists To View Feeding

The ability of the United States to provide a steady supply of soybeans for overseas customers will be stressed to members of a team of Austrian animal nutritionists who will visit this country during the latter half of June.

The study trip, arranged by the American Soybean Association (ASA) in cooperation with the USDA Foreign Agricultural Service, will also focus on the improvement of livestock and poultry production through the use of modern soybean meal-based rations, according to Dr. Keith Smith, ASA animal nutritionist.

Smith explained that Austria relied heavily upon soybean imports from the United States prior to the July 1973 export embargo on soybeans, but that the embargo prompted the Austrian government to look elsewhere for the country's oilseed needs.

"We hope to convince these men that the embargo was a mistake our government will not repeat and that the United States can produce an ample supply of soybeans for both domestic and foreign customers," said Smith.

The team includes an official of the Austrian Ministry of Agriculture, a college agriculture professor and two officials of a major mixed feed producing firm.

In the Amarillo, area, they will review cattle feeding on the High Plains and visit Producers Grain Corporation. In the Plainview area, they will visit the Jimmy Dean Sausage Plant, confinement swine operations and the farm of ASA President W.B. Tilson. They will also meet with members of the animal science department at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

In the Fayetteville, Ark., area, the team will visit with researchers at the University of Arkansas and view Tyson livestock and poultry operations and the Cargill turkey processing plant.

Hearing Set On Milk Order

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will hold a public hearing in Washington, on June 26, to consider changing milk classification and fluid milk provisions in 37 federal milk marketing orders. The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Jefferson Auditorium, South Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 14th & Independence Ave., S.W.

Paul W. Halnon, Acting Director of the Dairy Division in USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said the hearing was requested by the National Milk Producers Federation. This is an association of cooperatives whose dairy farmer members serve the various markets involved.

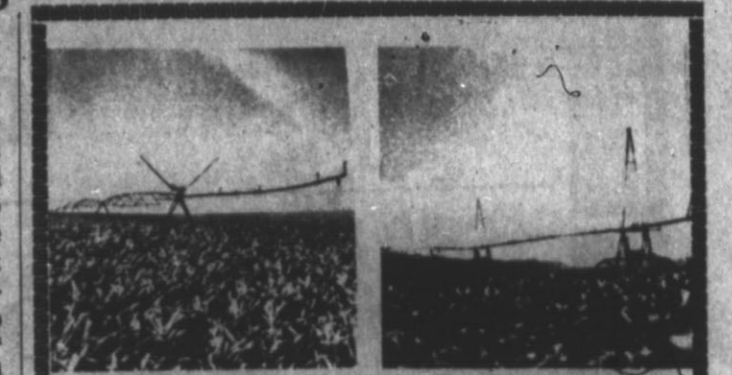

The hearing was prompted by a question raised with respect to the appropriate classification of the new product being marketed as chocolate flavored beverage with more than 20 percent total solids. Under the present provisions this makes the product eligible for Class II classification while other beverage are Class I.

Mr. Halnon said the proposals would assure the higher-valued fluid use (Class I) classification and price for skim milk and butterfat in flavored milk and flavored milk drinks having no less than 6.5 percent of nonfat milk solids by weight. This would apply also to milkshakes and ice milk mixes except those moving to commercial establishments for further processing.

Federal milk marketing orders establish minimum prices to be paid to farmers based on how the milk is used by the handlers who buy and distribute it in the federal milk order areas. In general, Class I applies to milk for fluid use, and is priced above milk for manufacturing uses, Mr. Halnon explained.

The amendments would make the language of the orders more specific.

WE'RE RATHER proud of our special farm section which was printed last Sunday. A lot of time and effort on the part of the Brand staff was involved in getting the section together, but it was worth it.

The local ag pilots may be asking you to spread on a little paint, or place a phone call, but that's not asking for much when a human life could rest in the balance.

I enjoyed the opportunity to meet some new local people and become a bit more familiar with the lay of our county while working on the section.

I put on several miles driving through some of the dryland country in the northwest corner of the county last week, and saw miles of good-looking dryland wheat fields.

From the reports we've received thus far on the dryland wheat harvest, yields are pretty good, ranging anywhere from 15-30 bushels. Another encouraging thing, the dryland wheat is heavy, with test weights of 80 and over.

THERE SEEMS to be more and more optimism in the local cattle feeding industry.

Bill Albright, Terry Caviness and Jim Bowlius were discussing the cattle situation during a picture-taking session at the Chamber of Commerce office Thursday and they remarked that several of the local feedlots are currently full or operating at near capacity.

HEREFORD'S AGRICULTURAL aviation industry suffered two tragedies within a 10-day period with the deaths of cropduster pilots and Aaron Daniel Huddleston June 15, and Charles W. Seale, June 5.

Both pilots died when their aircraft struck utility poles and went down while spraying fields.

Agricultural aviation is a demanding business, especially from the pilot's standpoint. The pilot must be constantly alert to everything that is going on around him, and his reflexes must be unflinching.

Obstructions which the pilot can't see mean trouble.

Neil McNutt, an agricultural pilot with American Dusting Co. of Hereford visited with us the other day and explained that rusty irrigation standpipes and full-length telephone poles which have been left at random where underground cable has been installed are two of the most difficult obstructions for pilots in fast-moving spray planes to spot.

McNutt added that even fence posts may be a hazard at certain times, especially when their color matches that of surrounding fields, but they do not present quite the hazard which the standpipes and telephone poles do.

According to McNutt, a coat of silver paint on those rusty standpipes means a world of difference in visibility, and a call from local folks to West Texas Rural Telephone Co. to disclose the locations of full-length poles will result in the cutting down of those obstructions.

ANOTHER NOTE on the cropdusting industry...

Agricultural aviation plays a very important role in making sure that there are crops left to harvest. Insect pests are a major problem for many crops produced here, and the agricultural aviator has provided one of the most effective means of dealing with the pests.

It's no secret that many insect pests hit during the time in which irrigation is in full tilt. No ground spray rig can get through a freshly-irrigated field, but spray planes have little trouble in moving over them with timely applications of the right chemicals.

When crops grow too tall for ground-rig applications, the agricultural aviation industry comes into the picture again.

The cropdusters are front line troops in the battle against insect pests, and today's agriculture industry would be in real trouble without them.

JAPANESE PURCHASES of U.S. agricultural products have risen from $400 million to over $3 billion since 1960. U.S. exports of feed grains to Japan suffered a 15 per cent decline last year, but experts anticipate an increase in Japanese demand during the 1975 U.S. harvest.

Flooded Field

The lower end of this field east of Hereford was turned into a shallow lake Friday morning following heavy rainfall near the Dawn Community Thursday night. Reports of 2.50 inches of rain were received following the Thursday storm, and drainage ditches along Highway 60 were running full Friday morning.

New Small Grains Solve Old Problems

Barley isn't the same anymore. Neither are wheat oats, or any small grain.

Because of research going on at Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations (TAES) such as the Dallas research center, new lines of small grains, continually being experimented with, are solving problems that occurred in old lines.

At the annual Dallas field day, Dr. James "Bud" Gardenhire, head of small grains research, pointed out several innovative features in new strains of barley, wheat and oats. Experiments also are made on sorghum and triticales.

"High lysine is an important factor in the hog feeding production. In a world collection

The youngster won a beautiful saddle and Indian blanket at last Saturday's competition, in addition to other prizes valued at over $700.

Miss Johnson says she wants to be like rodeo star Sammy Therman, and considering that she won her first horse show when she was four, I'd say she's well on her way.

of barley, sources have found a high lysine content of 4.1 to 4.2 per cent. The average content in barley is about 3.1 per cent," Gardenhire related. "However, when you bring in these new characters to the fields, you start getting shriveled grains and other problems. These problems are possibilities for future research."

Another task facing experimenters is how to produce better quality wheat for flour. Diseases hindering these experiments are powdery mildew and leaf rust.

"Some foreign wheats have been brought in and show a resistance-carrying gene," Gardenhire noted as a possible solution.

"As we produce better oat, wheat and barley lines, they are tested against commercial varieties at this location. We also have test plots in Cullen and Cooke Counties. In general, in the past, around the Valley View area, hard wheat has outyielded the soft. In the McKinney area, soft has outyielded hard wheats," he said.

Gardenhire recommended using Blue Boy 2 and Coker 68-15 when planting a soft wheat. In the oat market, the researcher noted that Coker 234 for North Central Texas and TAM-0-312 for Central Texas are the best yielding varieties.

"These breeds are very good for grazing and well adapted for forage production in Central Texas," he noted.

"Our objective as the Experiment Station is to produce better yielding grain and forage and varieties as well as plants with better agronomic characteristics," Gardenhire concluded.

Crop Reports Are Needed

In early July, about 24,700 Texas farmers will receive an acreage and production questionnaire from Charles Caudill, Agricultural Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, Texas.

Information from this survey will be used to determine harvested acreage and production of early harvested crops for the state of Texas and for each county. Farmers who receive questionnaires are urged to complete and return them by mail. All individual reports are confidential and will be used only for state and county totals.

This survey is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

A Big Year For Planting

H³ HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive VP
Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

Travelers in Texas spent 4.8 billion dollars in 1974-yep, I said 4.8-billion.

This includes both the out of state traveler and the traveling Texan.

For a moment, let's concentrate on the out of state visitor-traveling by auto. The average spent per person was $20 per day and each of those dollars was divided up as follows: food 24 cents; auto, 23 cents; lodging 22 cents; entertainment, 12 cents; and other or miscellaneous, 19 cents.

In addition, more than 235 million dollars was directly contributed to state taxes. (It should be noted here that the Texas Tourist Development agency and The Travel and Information Division of The Texas Highway Department cost taxpayers a combined sum of less than 2 million dollars yet returned $101 for every one dollar spent-just in taxes alone. What a tremendous return on investment. Just think-what they might have done with it if we'd have doubled their budget.)

I think it's obvious that there is a real wealth in the travel business.

But, what's the point of this story? Well, I've had people point out that we don't have any tourist attractions in Hereford or Deaf Smith County.

They usually say-"we don't have any mountains, we don't have a beach, we don't have an amusement park, we don't have..."

My answer is some times rather abrupt - Baloney!

Let's focus on what we do have and believe me, we do have a whole lot more than a lot of people realize. Palo Duro Canyon is less distance from Hereford than most metropolitan residents drive to the airport-and a more startling and beautiful sight is difficult to find.

It's the 'Grand Canyon of Texas' and offers sightseeing, hiking, picnicking, and camping. Of course, there's frosting on the Palo Duro cake and it's a musical production called "Texas". Evening performances from mid-June to mid-August draw visitors from all over the world.

It is a really memorable tourist attraction, and one that no traveler should miss. What's more, it belongs to US.

Coming closer to home-geographically and economically-our unusual agri "culture" is in itself a unique attraction-and not just to visiting farmers and ranchers.

With the ever increasing importance of food production, in this world of ours we have some untapped potentials in tourist interest.

Let's examine a few of them-First of all Deaf Smith County ranks first in all of Texas in cash receipts for agriculture. That simply means that we're number one. Our farming is tremendously diversified with grain crops leading the way. Vegetables also comprise a large share of farm production and if person hasn't witnessed the vast amount of potatoes, onions, carrots, lettuce, and cabbage that is processed through our produce facilities-they are in for a real surprise.

Much of our farming is done on 400,000 acres of irrigated farmland which is a pretty fair size piece of real estate in one's 'book'.

The biggest industry is, of course, commercial cattle feeding. HEREFORD is the very heart of the cattle feeding industry. This is another first-the highest concentration of fed cattle in the world is within a 50 mile radius and naturally this is the area people think of first when they talk about feeding cattle.

I'm sure most of us know that visitors come to Hereford from all parts of this country and many foreign countries each year to "see how it's done."

If that's not enough-we have one of only two specialized plants in the world here. And it's the newest modern 'edition' of a process that takes feed lot waste and efficiently converts it to a highly usable ingredient for soil conditioning and fertilizing.

And further-in just a few months Deaf Smith County expects to operate its first methane gas plant using feed lot waste as the source of fuel.

Now so far we've just talked about agricultural attractions and the scenic wonders of Palo Duro. We have a couple of other attractions we should be bragging on and advertising.

Ever hear of the "Town without a pothache?" That might seem to be an old attraction, but it's famous and it still applies and many folks who stop in from out of town make reference to it.

One of the finest community museums in this country is located right here in Hereford. The Deaf Smith County Museum is really a "giant" attraction in itself. Folks who stop by ask "why isn't it promoted so that more people know about it?"

It's something that's really worth while and unlike most museums, it's easy and pleasant to tour. Naturally the people there are friendly, hospitable and very knowledgeable. More of our own citizens need to visit so they can tell others.

And finally we come to the newest "unique" attraction. Hereford, Texas is the home of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame. There is no other and this one highlight will eventually draw more visitors to the Panhandle of wonderful West Texas than any other in this area.

"No tourist attractions?" We've got more going for us than most places-how we use what we have is what counts-lets get advertising-lets get Hustlin' for Hereford.

Let's toot our horn and let people know that Hereford, Texas is the center of things to do and see in this area....and if that doesn't seem like quite enough-come on by the Chamber and we'll show'em something else that no other community can boast-lots of Hustle, Hustle, Hustle!

WTSU Honor Roll Lists Area Students

Almost 19 per cent of West Texas State University's 4,058 undergraduate students studied their way to a place on the Dean's Honor Roll.

These 755 students achieved at least a 2.25 grade point average on a three point scale for the spring semester 1975.

"In a university which is described as a community of scholars, the students on the Dean's Honor Roll are our most outstanding honor citizens," said Dr. Ray Malzahn, WTSU vice-president for academic affairs.

The honor students from Hereford are: Michael A. Aven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilrey L. Aven of 230 Ranger, freshman, pre-veterinary medicine major; Judith A. Government May Retain School-work Programs

School-work programs permitting youths under 16 years of age to work during school hours would be continued under a proposal announced by the U.S. Labor Department.

The proposal, published in the Federal Register of June 5, 1975, would establish on a permanent basis the Work Experience and Career Exploration Programs (WECEP), permitting 14- and 15-year-olds to work for academic credit in school-supervised work programs during school hours.

WECEP was established on an experimental basis in 1969 in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to encourage potential dropouts to complete high school.

The proposal would eliminate the current practice of paying some WECEP participants at a subminimum wage rates.

Bernard E. DeLury, assistant secretary of labor for employment standards, said, "A study begun in January 1974 has shown that paying WECEP enrollees the full minimum wage does not limit their employment opportunities."

"The study also showed," DeLury said, "that WECEP has resulted in reduced school absentee and tardiness rates."

The best way to win an argument is to exhibit patience and self control.

★★★★★★★★★ HOROSCOPE ★★★★★★★★★★

FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1975

Aries | Mar. 21 - Apr. 19 | Pluto ☿
 You should take added steps to protect your assets. Certain people look upon you as easy prey and expect something for nothing. Your mate may act without thinking and upset you. Working in double harness is much better than going it alone just now. Speak up but don't offend one who can aid you.

Taurus | Apr. 20 - May 20 | Venus ♀
 It may be extremely difficult to go your own way regardless of others. The whims of immediate companions may irritate you. Just humor them to keep harmony. Romance needs a shot in the arm and this is the week to do it. Don't load your home with junk! Buy only the right things—no substitutes, please.

Gemini | May 21 - June 20 | Mercury ☿
 Competitive factors make themselves felt now. Unless you are careful your rivals are going to step in and steal a march on you. Time should be sacrificed in favor of career interests. Youngsters are willing to give a helping hand, if asked. A person of dynamic and aggressive personality will bring you good luck.

Cancer | June 21 - July 22 | Moon ☾
 You will prove yourself sincere and industrious now. Show others how well you can do things and how little you object to hard work. Friends may want you to go on an unexpected outing. Activities can be overdone. Purposeful pastimes are needed. People will surprise you with nice tokens of affection.

Leo | July 23 - Aug. 22 | Sun ☼
 You need to make a deliberate and conscious effort to be "on the ball" in your handling of money matters. If you have recently made investments, weigh the advisability of cashing in now. Keep careful account of expenditures and of getting receipts. Friendships prosper now. Put a halt to brooding about the past.

Virgo | Aug. 23 - Sept. 22 | Mercury ☿
 This is the week to rid yourself of small things that hold you back. Don't waste time with idlers or let yourself be imposed upon. Keep your eye on the main chance and don't let trivialities divert you. Adjustments in the home area are indicated. Pressing money questions will have to be resolved.

Libra | Sept. 23 - Oct. 22 | Venus ♀

You can look forward to getting rather more fun and enjoyment out of life during this week. It will be entirely due to the decisions and actions of your companions. Activities with a cultural aspect will be enjoyed most. Courtship and social life are under lucky stars. Throw aside false pride.

Scorpio | Oct. 23 - Nov. 21 | Mars ♂

If there are outstanding sums owing to you, press for payment at the end of the week. If important purchases have to be made, have a search this Wednesday or Thursday. Anything which changes your health regime will be successful. Pleasing news involving an influential friend may come.

Sagittarius | Nov. 22 - Dec. 21 | Jupiter ♃

This week's stars turn your thoughts towards travel, towards strange, distant, exotic places. See a reputable travel agent and get a bundle of folders. You'll enjoy yourself more if you travel by water. Your vitality and vivacity will bring a new admirer. Some fond hopes are realized now.

Capricorn | Dec. 22 - Jan. 19 | Saturn ♄

Family interests and relationships are definitely under favorable aspects. This infers that the week will bring a slight upswing in your family fortunes. If interested in politics, make it a point of attending meetings. Also get around socially. You'll meet new, refreshing people and won't regret it.

Aquarius | Jan. 20 - Feb. 18 | Uranus ♅

The stars quite clearly warn of a tendency for you to be held back by old commitments. You may possibly want to terminate a fairly long-term contract or a personal relationship. Romance is under happy aspects. See that you make your feelings known. If dining out, do it in style and forget the expense.

Pisces | Feb. 19 - Mar. 20 | Neptune ♆

A new person in your life may win your devotion enduringly. If single and all is well, go ahead and encourage the new love interest you find now. Be thoughtful and helpful to the very young. Your charm is vivid and your efforts will be appreciated. Keep all lines of communication open.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—When was the last time you met someone who was licensed by the state to "scalp" football tickets?

If your answer is "never," don't feel left out. There never were more than 11 licensed "scalpers" in Texas—and what's left of them are about to become a thing of the past.

The $250 scalpers license fee is one of several antique taxes to be repealed in a bill approved by the Legislature and now waiting for Gov. Dolph Briscoe's signature.

The measure was called the "omnibus tax reduction bill" but it will actually take only $2.7 million worth of taxes off the books during the next two years because much of the bill is directed at such outdated and nonproductive taxes as the scalpers fee.

Department supported the elimination of several of these old taxes because they produced so little money it cost more to administer them than we took in.

Another outdated tax which would be repealed by the bill is the oleomargarine tax—a tax which had never been collected since it was first passed more than 35 years ago.

At the time margarine was brand new to the world and was so much cheaper than real butter it threatened to drive butter out of the grocery store. The tax was aimed at vegetable oils used in margarine and produced outside of Texas as a means of raising the price to protect the homegrown Texas butter industry.

The bill now on the governor's desk would also abolish the sleeping car and dining car tax and something called the "express company" tax.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

THE WIZARD OF OZ is scheduled to be run on CBS next season. That will make the 18th showing of the classic on television. In 1956 CBS paid $225,000 for rights to air the movie. It is reported that the network has recently shelled out four million for the next five showings of the film. The cost of producing the movie was $1.2 million. MGM has received $7.6 million for television rights. The movie was made in 1939.

SPEAKING of the 1930's, ABC is producing a movie entitled "The Night the Martians Landed." It will recreate Orson Welles' famous "War of the Worlds" broadcast of 1938. The program will include a look at the nationwide panic the broadcast engendered.

ACCORDING to a recent report, sixty-six per cent of Americans rely upon television network journalism as their primary source of information and news about national issues and politics.

An assortment of food items is put together for the Meals-on-Wheels program by Mrs. G.A. (Ovis Brown) at the Deaf Smith General Hospital. The meals are prepared there through donations of local clubs, churches and citizens. It was begun in May 1972 by the Church Women United, the sponsoring organization.

Mrs. Juana Cuellar, (sitting) enjoys one of the delicious meals brought to her residence by Mrs. Larry (Eileen) Allen of the Meals-on-Wheels program. Not only does the program offer nutritious meals, but a bit of company for the elderly or invalid participants of the program. Since its inception the program has served 75 residents with 7,958 meals.

Nutritious Lunch Delivered By Meals-On-Wheels

The Hereford Brand

Hereford, Texas, Sunday June 22, 1975

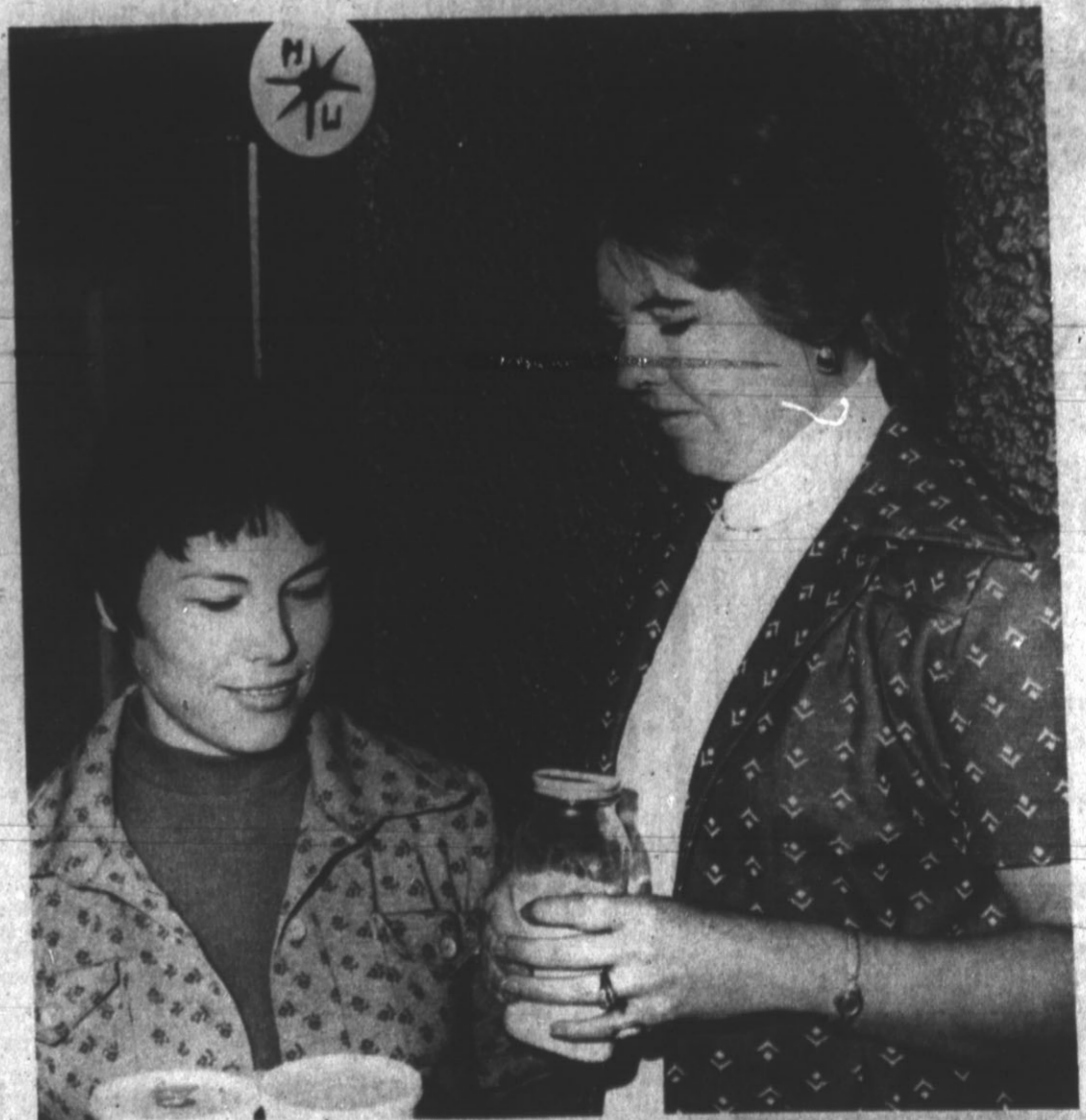

Mrs. O.C. (Loia) Curtsinger, (left), chairman of the Meals-on-Wheels program offers company for one of the recipients, Mrs. Thelma Davis. The meals, served on disposable plates, is designed for those who live alone or are otherwise incapacitated. Meals are served at noon Monday-Friday for $2 each which reimburses the hospital.

Mrs. Ronald (Ann) Rayburn, left, checks routes to be taken in delivery of meals as Mrs. Larry (Eileen) Allen takes a count of the food items needed for the meal recipients. The meals are delivered daily to elderly residents of Hereford.

The Meals-On-Wheels insignia at upper left marks which homes to be visited at the noon hour by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Rayburn. Included in a standard meal might be the following ingredients: serving of meat, two vegetables, dessert, salad, bread and a beverage.

Garden Wedding Unites Miss Stallings, Mickler

White doves soaring in a blue spruce tree formed a natural backdrop for the outdoor marriage ceremony uniting Miss Sandra Lomas Stallings and Jesse Wayne Mickler at dusk Friday. The Rev. Larry Levick, pastor of Westway Baptist Church, performed the double-ring service in the garden of Mrs. Palmer Norton's home, 414 Ave. 1.

Parents of the bride are Jim Stallings of Springer, N.M., and Mrs. J.W. Strickland of Route 1. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mickler, Route 4.

Complementing the silences ring music were recorded selections provided at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over tulle tulle designed with intricate beading around the waist line accented with pearls. The yoke and neckline were of Victorian styling with BEIGE luster sleeves caught at the wrists by deep lace cuffs. Her gathered skirt fell to a lace-trimmed at the back shoulderline. Satin ribbon bows were scattered down the back of the train and at front waistline.

Her elbow-length veil of tulle illusion was edged in matching lace and held to a lace comb at the top. She carried a nosegay of white daisy flowers, English ivy and baby's breath. Small attendants were clad in tiptoe length dresses of lavender organza-checked fabric with beaded blue flowers. Each dress was fashioned with princess waistline, sweetheart neckline and short puff sleeves. A ruffled blouse bordered the skirt's hemline and each accented the natural waistline.

Each bridesmaid carried an old-fashioned bouquet of lavender daisy buds, bunches of blue pansy buds and baby's breath with matching headpiece.

Immediately after the marriage, the couple were feted at a reception, also at the Norton home. Candy hand-made cereals and forget-me-nots were scattered over the white wedding cake which was suspended on a wooden pillar above a flowing fountain surrounded by four heart-shaped cakes. A church holding two wedding bands crowned the cake and matching figurines rested between each of the three tiers. Presiding at the serving table were Misses Jan Lindsey, Ingrid Poma, Kim Morgan and Debbie Dorley.

Miss Kelli Stallings registered wedding guests, who included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark of Midland; the bridegroom's sister Mrs. Gail Beck of Hockley; the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Mickler of Hamble; the bride's cousin, Mark and Becky Clark of Ashurst.

Rice bags were distributed by Krista Stallings and Roy Glenn Stallings.

For a wedding trip to Texas Hill, N.M., the bride wore a promist of apricot and beige material. The couple will be at home at 408 Jewell.

A May graduate of Herford High School, Mrs. Mickler was a member of 4-H, Distributive Education Clubs of America, Future Homemakers of America and Student Council. She is currently employed at Park Avenue Florist.

Mickler, also an alumnus of HHS, is employed at Dorman's Paint and Body Shop.

Home Demonstration Council Meets Monday

The Deaf Smith Home Demonstration Council will have a covered dish luncheon Monday at 12 noon in the Medallion Room of Deaf Smith Rural Electric Cooperative.

All Club members are encouraged to attend. All Club officers for the coming year will be installed. The installing officer will be Mrs. Argen Draper, retired County Extension Agent. Yearbooks for the coming year will be distributed.

Special Film To Observe 4th Of July

Deaf Smith County Library will enhance the impending 4th of July celebration locally by presenting a special film program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Heritage Room.

"Making Revolution," another episode in the "America" series produced and narrated by English historian, Alastair Cook. The simulated film is based on the authentic details of the American Revolution and was presented on the PBS and NBC networks last year.

There will be no charge for this program and the public is urged to attend.

MARY RANDO & EARL BACA

July Wedding Planned

Miss Mary Rando of 222 Hickory and Earl A. Baca of Amarillo will be wed Saturday, July 12 at First Baptist Church.

Parents of the betrothed couple are Mr. and Mrs. Santos Rando of Frisco and Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Baca of Amarillo. A former employee of Congressman Bob Price, Miss Rando is currently the curator of National Cowgirl Hall of Fame. A 1969 graduate of Frisco High School, she attended West Texas State University at Canyon and New Mexico State University at Alamogordo, N.M. An employee of Pantex at Amarillo, Baca is a 1965 graduate of Palo Duro High School in that city.

Miss Herring Readies For Pageant

Monica Herring, Miss Herford 1975, will join 58 other beauties from throughout the state to compete for the coveted Miss Texas title and its attendant rewards. For the 14th consecutive year Fort Worth is the home of the Miss Texas Pageant.

She will be accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Herring, and her official chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Albright. Other friends and relatives also plan to attend the pageant.

Sponsored by the Womens Division of Deaf Smith County

Chamber of Commerce, Miss Herring won the Miss Herford Pageant in February to qualify for the Miss Texas Pageant. Other Herford entrants have been Sherry White, Sandy (Caban) Robinson and Susie Hickman.

Final competition begins at 8:30 P.M., July 12, in the Jaycees County Convention center Theatre, following three nights of preliminary competition. Preliminaries are scheduled for July 9-11, beginning each night at 8 P.M. Scholarships and prizes totaling $12,750 will be awarded to the new Miss Texas, the four runners-up, five semi-finalists and two non-finalist talent winners. The new Miss Texas will receive a full one-year scholarship to a D-FW metroplex area college or university, to be determined by the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant officials, a $500 Toni-Kellogg-Campbell fashion award, and official crown and trophy. In addition, she will also go on to participate in the Miss America Pageant, held annually in Atlantic City. Tickets for all four nights of competition are available at the Amusement Ticket Service, in the lobby Rodeway Inn, Fort Worth. Tickets are $3.50 for the Wednesday and Thursday night preliminaries, July 9-10, $4.50 and $4.00 for Friday, July 11, and $6.50 and $5.50 for the coronation night. KTVT will broadcast the finals beginning at 10:30 p.m. on July 12, with Miss America 1973, Terry Meeuwsen, as mistress of ceremonies. The Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant Corporation sponsors the annual event.

Letter to the Editor

Attention to all current senior lifesavers: Each year thousands of people are flocking to already crowded beaches, lakes and pools, seeking a short day of water pleasure.

It seems increasingly more important that people need to be more than just skilled swimmers, but have some knowledge in life saving. The death rate for drowning has considerably decreased in numbers in the last few years. I do believe that this is because we have realized that being able to shake your toes in the water to see how cold it is is not going to get things done.

To make water (sports) safer and more pleasurable for us, the American National Red Cross has introduced a completely new and revised advanced lifesaving course. New water techniques and new safety methods for deep water accidents have been introduced.

Any current senior lifesaver wishing to continue with their water safety work are asked to enroll in an eight-hour update lifesaving course that will enable them to become advanced lifesavers. As of Dec. 31, 1976, the old senior lifesaving course and the corresponding certificates will be outdated.

You need only to take an eight-hour updating course which will be held Monday July 23-July 2 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. at Herford City Pool. The class will be held by Mr. Ronald Sanders.

Any current senior lifesaver who thinks a life is worth saving is urged to attend this class. For more information or to sign up, call Mrs. Richard Zinser, 578-4555.

From July 14-23, Mr. John Gilliland will offer a complete advanced lifesaving course. The age limit is 15 years old and you should have completed the Red Cross Swimmers Course or be able to swim 1/4 mile in good form.

The class will be held from 6:30-7:30 p.m. at the City Pool. To sign up, please call Mrs. Zinser.

Signed, Mrs. Richard Zinser

How much more grievous are the consequences of anger than the causes of it. -Marcus Aurelius.

Nursing Home Residents Asked To Report Address Changes

By MAURINE A. TRAVIS

Any Supplementary Security Income (SSI) recipient who enters a nursing home should report his change of address immediately to social security.

The reason is that his monthly checks may be less if he moves to a nursing home and the state pays for his care.

The SSI law provides that for any month in which a beneficiary is in a nursing home throughout the month and the Medicaid Program pays for over 1/2 his care, the maximum SSI check payable is $25.00.

In addition, if the beneficiary has other income in excess of $25.00, the SSI check is suspended until he leaves the nursing home. Of course, this reduction or suspension applies to full months in a nursing home - is not affected for the month of entry into the home nor the month of departure.

By reporting his change of address immediately the recipient may avoid being overpaid. In Texas, any person receiving SSI checks is automatically entitled to Medicaid-the state program of medical care for people with low income. Any person who does not qualify for SSI checks will have his eligibility for Medicaid determined by the State Department of Public Welfare. Of course, the amount of Medicaid payments made to a nursing home is determined by the State Department of Public Welfare since they administer the Medicaid Program. Social Security only determines the individual's eligibility for SSI.

Masonic Lodge Plans Pin Awards

Masonic Lodge number 908 will conduct 25 year pin awards at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, June 26. The awards will be given by Right Worshipful R. Furman Vinson, now of Waco but originally of Flomont. Vinson, AA Grand Lodge member, is Grand Junior Warden of the Most Grand Lodge of Texas. The meeting is open to the public, and all will be welcome. Light refreshments will be served.

Outdoor Cooking is Flameless and Clean with an Electric Grill

An electric grill eliminates the need for charcoal, flame starters and smoky fires. You enjoy the charred flavor of grilled steaks and hamburgers without the charcoal chores mess.

When you buy an electric grill or its ideal companion, a lightweight portable refrigerator, be sure they're made by a reputable manufacturer and backed by a guarantee. Read instruction books carefully and follow directions. And be sure they carry the Underwriters' Laboratories symbol of safety.

You can buy your electric outdoor grill from Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, plus we can give you suggestions for saving money and electricity. Remember, electricity is too good to waste.

Marriage Vows Spoken In Church Rose Garden

The rose garden of First Baptist Church formed a serene setting for the marriage of Miss Amy Frances Roberson and Michael Herman Schumacher Saturday morning. The Rev. Doug Manning, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Roberson of 219 Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schumacher of 325 Cherokee.

Miss Rachel McGilvary was the single bridal attendant while Tuffy Wood served as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white gown styled with an empire waistline. Imported lace adorned the square neckline and cuffs on her long bishop sleeves.

Sheer folds of bridal illusion formed her elbow-length veil, which was clasped by a lace coil embroidered with pearls. She carried a cascading bridal bouquet of yellow peace roses, white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss McGilvary was attired in a formal length dress of blue fabric with pink and blue floral eyelet overlaying the bodice and forming the sheer, brief sleeves. Designed with an empire waistline, the gown was patterned with a cameo neckline. Her ensemble was completed by a white daisy corsage.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, the newlyweds will be at home at 120-B Centre. A May graduate of Hereford High School, the bride is employed at First National Bank. Her husband, a 1972 alumnus of HHS, works for Gifford-Hill and Company, Inc.

Special guests at the ceremony were the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norwood of Vernon.

Scribbles and Scratches

By Kerrie Wombie
Women's Editor

CONCOCTING A Column is sometimes a breeze when you have journalistic souls such as Leta Kaul or Bessie Patterson contributing bits and snatches of local interest. This week I lucked out and both of these women submitted stories about their recent travels.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson returned last Friday from a month-long vacation trip, including visits with their daughters, Sheryl and Nancy—Mrs. Joe Coldwell of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Roy Ward of Oxford, Ohio.

At Oxford, they attended graduation exercises for seniors of Talawanda High School where their grandson David Alan Ward was valedictorian with a perfect 4.0 grade average. He accepted a scholarship from Stanford University at Palo Alto, Calif. and expects to enroll there in September.

The Pattersons also visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Doug Melendy and daughters at Moberly, Mo.; Mrs. Marie Frederick and Ramona at Mount Vernon, Mo., and Mrs. Bill King and sons at Bedford, Ind., all former Hereford residents. They also stopped to see her brother, Bill Chambers, and family at Clarksville, Ark., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Highers at Ozark, Ark. Highers is a former minister of Central Church of Christ here.

The Pattersons' rest was brief after returning from their extended journey, they struck out for Lubbock Monday to witness the marriage of Kevin Dale Young, a former resident, and Miss Vanessa Gay Simmons of Dalhart. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dale Young, now of Odessa, was salutatorian of the 1971 graduating class of Hereford High School. Other Hereford residents who attended the evening ceremony were Messrs. and Mmes. Jim Hale, Oscar Wiley, and Stan

Knox. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hollingsworth, Kent and Dale; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Roberson, Polly and Mika.

Young will receive a degree in micro-biology from Texas Tech University in December. His new bride just graduated from Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, also at Lubbock.

MRS. KAUL RETURNED from the Hooten family reunion at San Sabe last weekend with several noteworthy items about the Johnny Clark family, who formerly resided here.

Clark, who was superintendent of this school district some years back, had received his doctorate from Colorado State University at Greeley, Colo. His dissertation focused on teaching language arts in sequence.

His daughter, Joy, and her husband Brent Johnson are attending Texas A&M University at College Station. Jimmy Clark, after graduation from Texas Tech, has been accepted into the A&M veterinary school for post-graduate work. Johnny T. Clark, another son, is teaching drama and English Courses at Azona. Mr. and Mrs. Clark now reside at Baytown, where she is employed in the Dean of Women's office at Baytown High School.

Mrs. Kaul reported that several local people have relatives at San Sabe, attending the recent reunion from here were Messrs. and Mmes. Walter Kaul, Dwight Shirley and J.B. Shirley.

FRANK ASHLOCK was pleasantly surprised on Father's Day when his three daughter from California from California came to visit him. Remaining for a week were Delores Salazar, Patay Lippis and Terri Logan.

IT MAY BE A little late to stress The Brand's policies on weddings and engagements, but there have been some problems concerning deadlines. In order to give your marriage the best possible coverage, we have set some guidelines which involve a little planning ahead of time.

An engagement announcement must appear at least one month before the actual wedding. If there is less than four weeks before the ceremony, the bride-elect will have a choice of submitting a photo with the engagement story or one with the wedding article—not both. Just to be safe, it is best to announce the betrothal at least six weeks before the marriage and then both pictures will be published.

Most engagement announcements appear in the Sunday edition, however it is quite alright to run them in Thursday—it is your option. In order to appear Sunday, it is best to bring in the photo and information before Friday; for Thursday's paper, we need the announcement before Tuesday.

Wedding stories are written before the ceremony so that they can appear IMMEDIATELY after the actual marriage. In order to do this, we need the bride's picture and details of the ceremony BEFORE Thursday, if the story is to appear in The Sunday paper. Wedding stories for Thursday should be submitted on Monday, at the latest.

Wedding stories are written from forms which are given to

Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Urbanczyk, Route 5, announce the impending marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Mike Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morrison of 108 Aspen. The couple plan an August 21 ceremony in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. They are both May graduates of Hereford High School and he is currently engaged in farming west of the city.

you when announcing an engagement. These forms are self-explanatory, if you will read directions before filling them out. However, if any questions arise, we are always happy to assist.

If these forms are brought in late, the wedding article will be shortened and the picture will be smaller than current marriages. Old news is not news.

Like all news stories, weddings and engagements are reported free of charge, thus we reserve the right to work each article in a professional journalistic style. We strive to present an accurate detailed picture of this important event in your life and in order to do this, we need your cooperation.

Mrs. Mary Morris of Lead, S.D. is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Waldo Baxter and Family at 120 Aspen.

Guests Cited At HD Club Luncheon

Several guests were recognized by members of North Hereford Extension Club Thursday at a salad luncheon in the A.E. Hodges home.

Visitors included Miss Darlene Flynn of Abilene, Mrs. Craig Fuller and Amy of Dalhart, Mrs. Lynn Brisendine, Becky and Barbie, Mrs. Walter Hodges, Miss Jara Johnson, Miss Toni Campbell and Joyce Shipp, county extension agent.

Members were reminded by club president, Mrs. T.E. Brisendine that officers of all HD clubs will be installed at 12:30 p.m. Monday in Medallion Room of Rural Electric Cooperative.

Roll call was answered by summer projects which members hope to accomplish. Then, Mrs. Bob Campbell led a recreation period, during which games were played. The meeting concluded with a white elephant sale.

Members present were Mmes. Brisendine, W.J. Lueb, J.A. Crofford, John Reid and Miss Roberta Campbell.

A good prayer, though often used, is still fresh and fair in the ears and eyes of Heaven.

Red Cross Volunteers Elect New Officers

Mrs. Sam Morgan was elected chairman of the Deaf Smith County Chapter of Red Cross Volunteers Thursday afternoon in Civic Club Center.

Chosen to assist Mrs. Morgan were Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, vice chairman and Mrs. Emil Dettman, secretary. Mrs. H.H. Miller, executive director, presided over the election.

During a business session, Mmes. Miller, Dettman and H.F. Neely reported details of the area meeting and disaster workshops which were held here May 15.

In conclusion of this fiscal year, Mrs. Miller summarized the progressive steps taken by the local chapter due to contributions from other community organizations. The addition of "Anatomic Ann," a demonstration model, has enhanced the first aid programs taught here, Mrs. Miller stated.

She continued, saying that several films have been acquired locally for multi-media instruction of first aid. Three more multi-media instructors have been initiated, including Charles Watson, who recently conducted a first aid course for Allied Chemicals.

Volunteers discussed plans to be hostesses at the Westgate birthday party in August. Also, 77 hours of community service were totaled since the previous meeting in May.

Volunteer board directors will meet for the first time of the new fiscal year July 8. The next assembly of general membership will be at noon July 17 in Civic Club Center.

Members present at the recent meeting included Mmes. Dettman, Arthur Dettman, Cecil Braly, Neely, O.H. Culpepper, Morgan, Clinton Jackson and Miller.

Book Review Scheduled

"The Nine Lives of Deaf Smith" by Faye Campbell Griffith will be reviewed by Mrs. Ted Panciera at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Heritage Room of Deaf Smith County Library.

The biography describes the adventures and silhouette of this county's namesake, Erastus "Deaf" Smith.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

LEROY THORNBURG AND SUSAN HICKMAN ...To marry in August

Couple At Home After Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. John Fangman are at home in Ford Community on return from a honeymoon trip to Colorado after their recent marriage in immaculate conception Church, Vega.

Jan Ward before the nuptial man, Mrs. Fangman is the daughter of Mrs. Ewell Ward of Vega and the late Mr. Ward. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fangman, Route 4.

The sanctuary was decorated with twin candelabra entwined with greenery and centered with large yellow bows. Flanking the altar were baskets of yellow daisies, babybreath, pale pink pompon chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Peter Di Benedetto of Amarillo.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Hal Ward, the bride's sister-in-law. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Cheryl Fangman and Miss Donna Ann Jill Furryer of Big Spring was flower girl.

Ray Watley of Dalhart appeared as best man while Kenneth Fangman and Ralph Paschal were groomsmen. Ushers were Allen Fangman, the bridegroom's brother, and Dick Robinson of Vega. Ringbearer was Tye Ward. Serving at the nuptial mass were Ronnie Bruman, Fredie Fangman and Bernard Acher of Nazareth.

Mrs. Ed Rohrbach provided organ accompaniment for solo vocalist, Mrs. Karen Wagner.

Given in marriage by her brother, Tim Ward, the bride wore a formal length gown of silk organza designed with a fitted bodice. The natural waistline was overlaid with a band of venice lace daisies over blush pink satin. The skirted yoke was outlined with the same motif, which also formed the stand-up collar.

Fluted ruffles at the yoke shaped the brief cap sleeves. Lace appliques of pink rosebuds and tiny green leaves adorned her skirt which was patterned with side and back fullness and terminated in a circular chapel train.

Her veil of imported illusion was bordered with matching lace and attached to a bridal crown of lace outlined in seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of pink carnations, yellow rosebuds, spider chrysanthemums and babybreath, all clasped with white ribbons.

Of nostalgic significance was a Bible she carried which had been given to her mother on the latter's wedding day.

Bridal attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of yellow silk organza depicting the bride's colors of yellow, deep pink and green. Ruffles formed the short sleeves and trimmed the cameo necklines. Each carried a nosegay of daisies, carnations and babybreath.

The couple were honored at a reception in the parish hall following the ceremony. Mrs. Sharon Puryear registered guests at a table draped with a yellow cloth with white lace overlay. A bouquet of pastel spring flowers decorated the registry and serving table.

Yellow and pink icing flowers embellished the multi-tiered white wedding cake which was served by Dana Ward, Cecilia Floyd and Jo Ward. Presiding at the groom's table were Miss Tina Rhoads of White Deer and Beth Wylie of Vega.

Mrs. Fangman is a May graduate of Vega High School. Her husband is a 1974 alumnus of VHS.

Miss Hickman Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Hickman of 814 Ave. K announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Doe, to Leroy E. Thornburg Jr. of Canyon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Thornburg of Pampa.

The ceremony is scheduled Saturday, August 9, in First Christian Church.

Known locally as Miss Teen Hereford in 1972 and Miss Hereford 1974, the bride-elect is a junior student at West Texas State University, where she is majoring in nursing. She is a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School and is currently employed by the Perryton Club at Perryton. A former competitor for the Miss Texas title, she plans to become an anesthetist.

Look Who's New

Mr. and Mrs. Santiago P. Duran, Gen. Del., are the parents of a son, Fidencio, born June 18. He weighed 7 lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Rodriguez Gutierrez, Rt. 4, are the parents of a daughter, Becky, born June 19. She weighed 3 lbs., 7 oz.

SENIOR CITIZENS TO MEET THURSDAY

Hereford Senior Citizens are invited to a covered dish supper at 7 p.m. Thursday in Community Center.

Oklahoma State Honor Roll Includes Local Girl

Cheryl Damato of Hereford, Texas is among 5,668 undergraduates named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Oklahoma State University for the spring semester, Registrar Raymond Girod reports.

Students making at least a 3.0 grade average (B or better) while carrying at least 12 credit hours, making no grade lower than C and completing all courses are listed on the Dean's Honor Roll each semester.

Of the 5,668, 763 made straight A's, which places them on the President's Honor Roll. Miss Damato maintained a straight A average for the spring semester.

INDIA-To help women, who often bring their babies and young children to work sites in this vast country, CARE has built temporary nurseries at a number of self-help projects. A trained social worker cares for the children and a doctor makes periodic health checks while mothers are instructed in proper nutrition for their children.

The prospective bridegroom won a track scholarship to WTSU, where he is a sophomore majoring in pre-architectural engineering. A 1972 graduate of Pampa High School, he has been employed for the past two years by Bell & Bell Construction Company of Amarillo.

Receiving Line At Shower

Mrs. Hugh Clearman, at left, was hostess in her home recently for a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Jeannine Brady. Receiving

Miss Brady Given Bridal Courtesy

Miss Jeannine Brady, who will marry Kenny Risher July 5, was recipient of a bridal shower Tuesday evening in the Hugh Clearman home on Dimmitt Highway.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Bill Brady, her fiance's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Rusher, her grandmother, Mrs. R.G. Blue and Mrs. Clearman.

A bouquet of white and pink carnations centered the serving table where Miss Gayle Gripp and Miss Leesa Sledge presided. Shower guests were met at the registry by the bride-elect's sister, Miss Janet Brady, and Miss Jeanne Hair. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Clearman were Mmes. W.R. Hair, Gid Brown, George Olson, Glen Gripp, Gerald Sledge, Glen Watts, R.G. Layman, William S. Gilbert, Robert Hickman, A. Petersen and Albert Cherry.

Miss Merritt To Attend Ecology Meet

Micki Merritt of Hereford is among twelve youths from the upper Panhandle and South Plains who will leave Tuesday for a four-day ecology conference at the brand new Texas 4-H Center in Brownwood.

The 9th annual 4-H Ecology Conference highlights the natural resource project work of 4-H members. The four days of field trips and recreation will center around environmental quality, forestry, wildlife, rangelands, soil and water, and recreation.

Honors for this year's conference are the Federal Cartridge Corporation and the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Delegates from across Texas will be attending. In all, some 100 youths will participate.

They'll be studying factors that affect the environment, the role of trees in the scheme of nature, use of natural resources for recreation, importance of native vegetation, development and use of soil and water sheds, and the importance of wildlife in the balance of nature.

Receives Degree

A degree in international relations was earned this week at the University of the Americas in Puebla, Mexico, by Miss Carolyn Hernandez. A 1968 graduate of Hereford High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roberto Hernandez of 132 Ave. I and is a former employee of Deaf Smith General Hospital. She also attended West Texas State University for two years.

One tragedy of a college education is that many graduates won't know what to do for a livelihood after commencement.

Choral Camp Includes Hereford Music Students

Over 150 area students will participate in the fifth annual West Texas Choral Music Camp, featuring guest conductor Dr. Lynn Whitten of the University of Colorado. The choral music camp, which is sponsored by West Texas State University in Canyon, opens on June 22 and closes with a camp concert on June 28 at 4 p.m.

Featured conductor is Dr. Lynn Whitten, a nationally-known choral conductor, who has served as choral clinician throughout the United States. He is widely known for his excellent work with junior and senior high students.

Assisting Dr. Whitten will be a number of guest faculty members, including Tom Jennings of Canyon; John Wojcikowski of Pampa; Charles Rives of Roswell; Doug Morris of Hereford; and Amarillo music educators Joel Shackelford, Jeff Ingham, Carolyn Kite and Lewis Unger. Nancy Glen is choral accompanist.

The students from Hereford schools attending the West Texas Choral Music Camp are: Hereford High School; Laura Lomenick, Colleen Rudd, and Susan Schlabs. Stanton Junior High School; Christi Albrecht and Timmy Burns. The student from La Plata Jr. High School is Lana Porter.

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Two Major Conventions

A series of over 100 conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses is scheduled this summer in the United States and Canada.

Filomeno Lopez, presiding minister of the Hereford Spanish congregation said that delegates from his church will represent this area at the sessions set for the County Coliseum in El Paso.

Allen Mayo, presiding minister of another Hereford congregation, said that 40 delegates will represent the area at sessions set for the Civic Center in Amarillo.

4,000 persons each are expected for the respective sessions, according to the two ministers.

"It is clear," Mayo and Lopez said, "that the earthly system is a closewoven fabric. Whether we like it or not, the nations are all inter-dependent. Yet this fact has not brought them into cooperation, even though they see the desperate need for this."

"Why is it that the nations cannot work out their problems by cooperation? In particular, because they are divided in so many ways," they said.

The convention programs will explore problems confronting mankind today and systematically review the ultimate solution.

Both conventions will include daily sessions from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 3-5:30 p.m. Programs will feature Bible dramas, lectures, and general discussion periods.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeet

Encouraged by their gardens, more people will learn to relax and live more quietly and simply.

It is very interesting and inspiring to visit gardens, throughout town. Also have noted that certain something, which shows that gardeners are more relaxed and contented. It is truly an expression which is often seen on the faces of those who have tilled the soil, and are beginning to reap the fruits of their toil.

One of my Garden Club Friends recently called to tell that she had worked all morning in her vegetable garden and had cooked their first bunch of fresh string beans, radishes, greens, onions, and would soon have a large cooking of squash. From the tone of her voice, one knew there was happiness and satisfaction derived from the garden. Others have called and shared the thrill of beautiful flowers and shrubs which they were cultivating and sharing with friends and loved ones.

I visited a garden (not in Hereford) where they had planted vegetables among the shrubs (was a new landscaped garden). I had enjoyment in pulling fresh sweet onions, which had been grown at the base of the gardenias and radishes which had been planted to fill in a background planting for bordering the garden. Also was surprised and delighted when I was working around the new shrubs and found various varieties of peppers growing and producing red, yellow and sweet peppers. Tomatoes were also putting on fruit.

The family was looking forward to their first fresh sliced tomatoes. Yes, there is joy and relaxation in tilling the soil, and working as partner with the Master Gardener. It has been said that, "one can be nearer the Master Gardener while working in his gardens than any other place on earth."

Gardening is definitely one of the keys to security and one author stated that it was one of the great steps towards our survival. We are what we eat and if we want to be healthy, vigorous, enjoy beauty, and happiness from our toil-let us garden.

A SECOND PLANTING of green beans, radishes, onions and other greens can be made now. Prepare the soil carefully, plant, then water, and soon there will be new sprouts peeking through the soil. It is fun to plant and grow. Gardening has been proven to be one of very best methods of therapy that one can work at. I know it has been a blessing for me.

CHECK LAWN: There are many tiny insects which are invading our lawns. I worked in my yard this morning and as I walked across the grass, these enemies made themselves known by hurrying ahead of me and some took time to sting and bite. Malition and Sevin is a water spray will help to control these. There are other recommended sprays on the market. When using either of these or your selection be sure and follow carefully the directions on the container.

HIBISCUS COLOR SPECTACULAR: Hibiscus is an excellent plant to grow in our area as it is very colorful and satisfying. The arrangement at the church altar yesterday of "tropic" flowers and fruits reminded me of many pleasant memories of Hawaii and also caused me to think of what we grow in our gardens here, that causes us to think "tropics"; one of these is the Hibiscus.

Few flowering plants have more spectacular blooms, often up to a foot in diameter. (My friend Ann McCullough has grown some that large and in spectacular colors.) Colors range from whites, pinks, reds, lavender to purple. Colors are dependent on the species.

The hibiscus family is a large one, many of us grow them. Common close relatives include hollyhocks, okra, cotton and our wild-flowering wine cups, which have a beautiful color and form. A hardy variety which does well here is rosemallow, Hibiscus Moscheutos. It is featured in many local gardens.

Plants grown here, reach four to five feet in height and spread, with blooms of up to 12 inches throughout the summer. My plants are now about 5 feet tall, with full foliage which has good color and the flower buds are beginning to form.

The hardy rosemallows, which we grow, die back to the ground at frost, then sprout vigorously the following spring. One of my very favorites is making large growth this year, (it is two years old). They have benefited from sunny locations, shelter from wind, and moist, highly organic soils. They bloom the first year from seed started indoors in January and can be established with plants or rootings. Plant in spring when the soil has reached a growing warmth.

One of my favorite plants is near the back door and this past winter I have saved Banana peels, parings and other leafy bits. With these I made a small compost depository. I layered it with soil and watered it when the sunshine was warm.

This compost was used around the base of the hibiscus plants. Really has aided them and I feel that the blossoms will be larger and richer in color.

Althea, or Rose of Sharon (Hibiscus syriacus) is a hardy shrub-type hibiscus common in our area. It is known for its profusion of flowers and for the range in colors, which are white, lavender, purple, pink, rose, red and one which is very striking is the white ruffled blossom with purple eyes...very eye-catching. A lavender with purple eyes, is pretty. The Hamlets have a beautiful-Althea-lovely background, planting.

If you're thinking of wishing for something big, bold, beautiful and spectacular, grow hibiscus...you will be delighted.

By the way, the Hibiscus is the state flower of Hawaii. Tourists are thrilled with them and they are used as an ornament for the hair.

WE STILL HAVE THRIPS, but the situation is getting better. Many of those who have rose gardens have cut and trimmed the bushes of their buds and damaged foliage, and sprayed. It will take more than one treatment to rid our plants of these tiny enemies. It will take persistence and determination.

GROUND COVERS: Ground covers are becoming more and more popular. Really, they are a gardener's friend. They aid in retaining moisture, keep roots of near-by plants moist and warm and add color and form to landscape design. There are many beautiful and useful ground-covers in flower now in Hereford and soon there will be others which will create a beautiful blanket effect with their dainty and beautiful flowers.

I have six or more ground covers and each year I enjoy them more and more. The acre is the flower now, the Agave has about completed its period of bloom and the vincas are green and glossy. The plantings at Hereford Garden Center are very attractive and each plot from a variety of ground cover is named. Visit the Center and select your favorite. Contact Garden Club members, who will divide with you, if they have them.

HOW ABOUT YOUR Biennial-planting? I know of eight or more who have planted and others are planning. This, if properly carried out, will add attraction to our city and will be something for tourists to see, as well as home folk. Petunias have been used to develop ideas, geraniums, lobelia, larkspur, ground covers etc. have possibilities, as well as annuals and annual phlox. Roses can also be used where space is sufficient.

Last week I planted my red, white and blue project. For the background I used different shaped colored rocks. (Red and white are the chief colors.) These were placed behind a box-wood planting, which I trimmed to give the idea of hills, rocks and rills. The flower materials are red geraniums, white geraniums and lobelia for the blue.

I tried to make the shape typical of a flag flying in the strong winds of West Texas. The planting is located where the driveways come together. Now all I have to do is tend it and hope it will grow, the plants will be healthy and will have lovely blossoms.

Put your thinking cap on and sketch your red, white and blue project. It's fun and a challenge. Glad.

Insurance Agent Returns From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell Jr. have returned from Montreal, Canada, where they were guests of Southwestern Life Insurance Company at the firm's 1975 agency convention. Bell represents Southwestern Life in Hereford and was recognized at the convention as a member of the President's Honor Club, placing him among the top 20 per cent of his company's career agents.

The convention was held June 5-8 at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal and featured workshops on current insurance and financial topics.

The boiling-water-bath method is recommended for canning fruits, fruit juices, tomatoes, tomato juice, rhubarb and pickled vegetables. It is not recommended for any other vegetable. Water bath canners may be purchased; however, any big, clean kettle with a rack and tight-fitting lid will do if it is deep enough to hold the cans or jars upright and permit the water to boil gently 1 or 2 inches over the top of them.

Use either the hot pack, pack raw and steam or the one-step, cold pack method of packing when canning fruits and fruit juices, tomatoes, tomato juice, rhubarb and pickled beets.

Wash all jars and cans in hot, soapy water and rinse well before canning. It is not necessary to sterilize jars and cans when canning.

Make sugar sirup for fruits or rhubarb using the liquid either water or juice extracted from some of the fruit. The proportion of sugar to liquid will depend on the natural sweetness of the fruit and personal taste. Boil the sugar and water or fruit juice together for 5 minutes. Skim if necessary. One cup of sirup usually covers 1 quart of fruit when it is well packed. Sugar helps canned fruit hold its shape, color and flavor, but it is not needed to prevent spoilage. If preferred, fruit may be canned without sweetening in its own juice, in extracted juice or in water. Process unsweetened fruit the same as sweetened. For instructions on using artificial sweeteners in canning, write the manufacturer of the sweetener.

Prevent discoloration of fruits such as peaches, pears, apricots and apples by using one of the following methods:

- Dissolve 1,000 mg. ascorbic acid tablets or 1/2 teaspoon powdered ascorbic acid in 4 cups hot sirup.
- Dissolve 1/4 teaspoon citric acid in 1 quart cold water. As fruit is peeled, drop into citric acid solution and leave 15 to 20 minutes; remove, pack containers and cover with sugar sirup. (A gallon of solution will treat a bushel of fruit.)

Follow manufacturer's directions when using commercial preparations for retaining color.

Mix 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice and 2 tablespoons salt with 1 gallon cold water. Drop the peeled pieces in the solution for no longer than 15 to 20 minutes. Drain and pack in jars immediately. This method is not as effective as the others, but it is less expensive.

Treatment for discoloration may be omitted by packing the fruit as it is peeled and adding the sirup immediately.

Prepare and pack the tomatoes, rhubarb and each fruit according to the directions given for each.

The following steps apply only to the pack raw and steam method. Omit them when packing by the one-step, cold pack or the hot pack method.

Place the filled containers, without lids, on a rack in boiling water in the water bath canner for steaming, allowing the water to come 2 inches below the top of the containers.

Place a pan with extra fruit and sirup on top of the containers. This extra fruit is to be used for refilling containers when fruit has shrunk after steaming.

Place the lid on the water bath canner.

Count steaming time as soon as the water begins to boil. See specific fruit for the length of time to steam.

At the end of the steaming time, remove the lid from the canner. Leave the canner on low heat to keep it hot.

Take out one container at a time. Press the food down and work out air bubbles with a knife. Have the food just covered with the sirup, allowing 1/4-inch headspace from the top of the sirup to the top of the can for all fruits. It may be necessary to remove or to add some food at this time to get the correct fill.

After packing, the fruit is ready to be processed. The following steps for processing in a water bath apply to all packing methods.

Wipe off the sealing surface of the container. Close according to the type of lid being used.

Place the closed containers of food in the water bath canner. For the one-step, cold pack in glass jars, have water in water bath canner hot, but not boiling; for all other packs have water boiling. Add additional boiling water to the water bath canner to cover the containers 1 or 2 inches; do not pour boiling

Underwriters' Lab Will Develop TV Standards

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has accepted an offer from Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) to develop a proposed mandatory safety standard for television receivers.

UL, an independent testing laboratory, will have until October 16, 1975, to develop a recommended safety standard, covering the hazards of fire, shock, implosion of the picture tube and the mechanical/external failures associated with television receivers.

Under the procedures of Section 7 of the Consumer Product Safety Act, the Commission issued a notice in the February 28, 1975, Federal Register, inviting interested parties to offer to develop a safety standard for television sets.

UL will develop the proposed safety specifications with the assistance of consumers, television industry representative, electronics experts and engineers from testing laboratories.

CPSC has agreed to contribute $54,985 to help defray some of the administrative costs as well as the travel expenses and per diem costs of consumer participation.

Normally, the time period for the development of a safety standard under Section 7 of the CPSC is 150 days after the Commission invites offers through a Federal Register notice, which in this case would be July 28, 1975.

However, to insure adequate participation by interested parties and because of the highly complex nature of the product, the Commission extended the standards development period until October 16, 1975.

Copies of UL's offer and the CPSC-UL acceptance agreement are available in the Commission's Office of the Secretary, 1750 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20207.

All persons interested in participating in the development of the standard should contact the UL Standard Project Manager, Mr. S.D. Hoffman, Underwriters' Laboratories, 207 East Ohio Street, Chicago, Illinois, 60611 (telephone: 312-642-6969).

water directly on glass jars.

Place the lid on the water bath canner.

At the end of the processing time, remove the containers from the water bath. Plunge the cans in cold water. Place the jars right side up on a rack far enough apart to cool quickly.

Home Demonstration Council will have a covered dish luncheon, Monday, June 23, at 12 noon at the Deaf Smith Rural Electric Cooperative Medallion Room. All club members are encouraged to attend.

Club officers for the coming year will be installed. Yearbooks for the new year will also be distributed. Please attend as this is our last Council meeting for the '74-75 year.

Federal School Control

The ultimate has come to pass in the nation's public school system. The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (currently Casper Weinberger) stands in front of television microphones and announces that public schools in all the states will hereafter organize their athletic programs on the same basis for boys and girls.

It doesn't matter whether school boards, or the parents of children, prefer something else. That won't be tolerated, Weinberger says. He has federal law to back his decision, he explains.

Generally speaking, the intent of the new order is good. It's to prevent discrimination in the offering of sports programs and facilities to students. But the new order follows the current fad of seeking to make boys and girls exactly the same, to assume what's good for one is good for the other, that we can't have a pattern of different programs for the sexes.

There has long been a lack of athletic training for U.S. girls, and discrimination. Girls should be trained physically—as in Europe—and this training should be mandatory. But different programs and segregated ones are often preferable for many reasons. With the exception of contact sports, HEW is making a strong effort to force boys and girls into the same athletic programs, side by side.

In many cases that's desirable but the federal government can't intelligently decide how much of this is beneficial in every school with blanket orders. And so the exodus into private schools will accelerate again, as a result.

Don't Care To Work

A major daily recently surveyed Americans not working and who didn't intend to start. Most are content to live off food stamps, unemployment compensation, welfare of one kind or another, veterans' benefits, educational allowances, etc.

The attitude of many of these disenfranchised Americans is that they can eke by on benefits available to the non-working; they don't like regular hours, the American rat-race for the dollar, and responsibility.

The burden on the average U.S. taxpayer is already heavy. As high unemployment continues, the national debt increases and inflation gets in its licks, the burden is likely to get heavier.

Though some recoil at the suggestion, welfare and unemployment pay probably shouldn't be extended longer than a brief period for those able to work—and federal and state dispensing bodies should somehow be required to take a hand in finding work for the free-riders. No other system is really fair to the working citizen.

Summer Begins

June gives us the longest days, more total daylight, than any other month of the year. On the 21st summer arrives, to extend into late September.

The freshness of June is special. The new leaves and growth all around are fresher and brighter than at any other time of year. (By August and September the new rich green has begun to yellow or brown.) Because these are the first long, hot, blue-sky days the contrast is greater than later in the summer.

Because it is the first summer month free of school for millions of youngsters, June has a special exhilaration. Because so many are married in this month, it has special hope and idealism.

Also, June offers the first of the new crop of many vegetables and fruits. And so it may not be mere fancy when writers claim nothing is so rare or splendid as a night in June. June nights (and days) come but once a year; go outside and enjoy them!

The Brand Files

1 YEAR AGO

Hereford was formally recognized as a Bicentennial Community in ceremonies at Palo Duro Canyon State Park, and bicentennial plans got underway. Area cattlemen, facing the possibility of heavy losses, were pondering the possibility of attaining government loans. Nine local farmers harvested wheat on a farm owned by Mrs. R.M. Mason, recently widowed. Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce was considering the possibility of levying a tax on local motels to raise revenue. A fire gutted the garage of the Homer Rudd residence, 105 Douglas. The Hereford Brand was awarded a plaque at the Texas Press Association convention for first place for news feature writing.

5 YEARS AGO

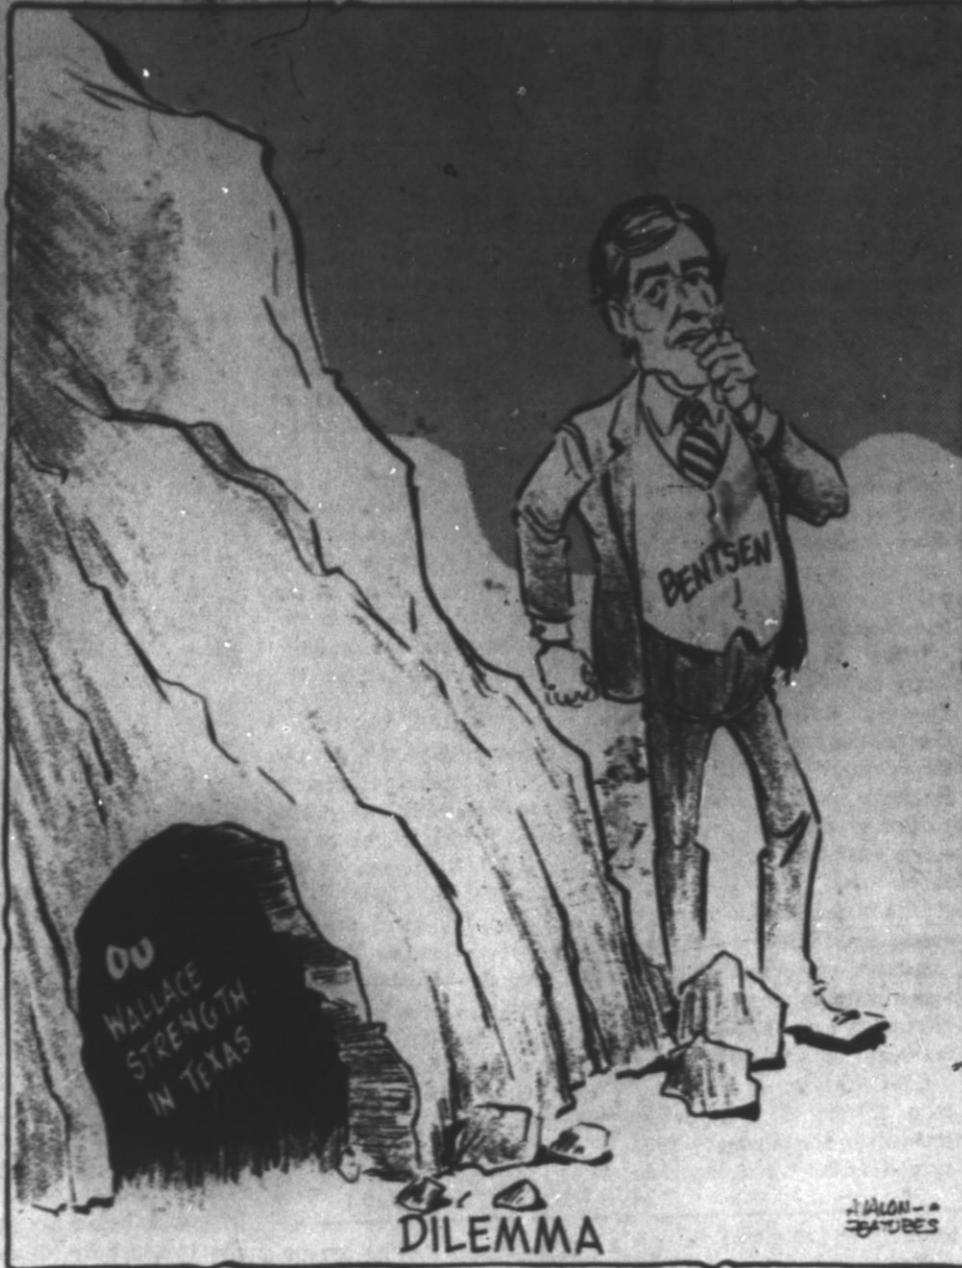

Hereford was facing a housing shortage, with few houses available to accommodate a rapidly increasing population. Houses which were available were rather expensive. Hereford's Pony League Baseball Association was planning to host a sectional baseball tournament, which would include Panhandle teams and squads from the Oklahoma City and Tulsa area. W.J. Schumacher was recognized by KPAN radio as "Father of the Year." Hereford's postoffice received six new trucks, eliminating foot mail routes. An apparent small tornado destroyed a vegetable processing storage shed on Dairy Road on the southeast edge of Hereford. July 4 parade was being planned, with 26 units expected to march in the parade. Hereford received "heartfelt thanks" from Lybbeck for contributions made to that city after a disastrous tornado struck there.

25 YEARS AGO

Plans were made for building Walcott Elementary School, at an estimated cost of $75,000. Wheat harvest got off to a slow start, but it was believed that most area wheat would test high that year. Between 6,000 and 7,000 workers would be needed during the summer crop harvesting season, according to Texas Employment Commission figures. Five teen-agers were arrested in Nevada in connection with burglary of a filling station on the Deaf Smith County side of Glen Rio.

50 YEARS AGO

Two inches of rain fell in Deaf Smith County, breaking a long dry spell. The moisture fell during an all-night rain extending from Miami, Texas on the east to Roswell, N.M. on the west. Red Cross safety expert taught local swimmers the fundamentals of life-saving techniques. A Defense Day program was being arranged for July 4, 1925. Area poultry industry received a boost when H.H. Hawkins closed a contract to purchase a 12,000 egg incubator. And the Extension service of Texas A&M College scheduled a poultry course here for the fall.

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

STRANGE BUSINESS—One of Texas' most unique industries often involves smuggling, poaching and the breaking of other laws in both the U.S. and Mexico. It is the manufacture of wax from the Candellia cactus.

Candellia is the most widely used uncultivated plant grown in North America. The grayish-green, reed-like cactus is ugly and animals won't eat it. But because it is almost pure wax, it is in great demand by makers of chewing gum, cosmetics, adhesives and a dozen other manufacturing processes.

The plant grows only in the five northernmost states of Mexico and in three Texas counties—Presidio, Brewster and Terrell in the Big Bend area. Under Mexican law, all Candellia grown in that country is government property. Residents who make their living by rendering wax from the plant are required to sell it to the government. If they bring it across the Rio Grande and sell it in the U.S., they can be arrested for smuggling and the penalty is severe.

Much of the Candellia processed in Texas also is illegal. This results from the fact that learning to gather the cactus and cook it properly to produce the wax requires long apprenticeship. Because a pound of crude processed wax sells in the U.S. for only 12 cents, Americans aren't willing to learn the art of processing Candellia. Only Mexican peons find the low wages acceptable. Thus most of the processing sites in Texas have to depend on the labor of Mexican aliens who have entered the U.S. illegally.

A half dozen or so "wax factories" operating in Texas produce several million tons of the product each year.

IT TAKES ALL KINDS—Once a month 40 members of the Society for Creative Anachronisms dress as knights and ladies, witches and court jesters, and gather in a clearing north of Dallas.

They spend the weekend approximating as closely as possible life as they believe it was lived in the Middle Ages. Witches stir their cauldrons, ladies roast haunches of venison over spits and the knights fight in tournaments using weapons made of Balsa wood. In the evening, minstrels sing English ballads, chess boards are brought out and, on occasion, druids dance.

The society is a national organization which welcomes anyone to membership. Initiates are required only to have an interest in the Middle Ages, be willing to participate in local jousts and tournaments and who will appear in proper costume. Local chapters are called protectorates, baronies, shires or marches, depending on the size of their membership.

Dallas, with only 40 members, is presently a protectorate. When enough new recruits are added, it will be elevated to a barony.

The Voice of Business

BY RICHARD L. LESHNER, President
United States Chamber of Commerce

I'm sure there's no truth at all to the rumor that Mayor Beame offered to sell Manhattan back to the Indians for $24 (or the equivalent in beads) and the Indians refused. But given the current state of New York City's finances, the story, if true, would be a testament to the good sense of the Indians.

The temptation is great for non-New Yorkers to draw on a glittering cloak of self-righteousness and berate the Big Apple for its many failings—first, because they are in large part self-inflicted, and second, because the citizens of Gotham have never been yielding to that temptation would be very foolish. The problems of New York are not unique. The entire country is making the same mistakes that have led New York to the brink of bankruptcy. The only differences are

Panhandle Living -- Time Consuming, Enjoyable

Time has a way of slipping by faster than one realizes until the clock is just turned back a bit and some of the events of the past are recalled. This is the situation I find myself in when thinking about the length of time spent in the vast plains of the Texas Panhandle.

Actually, it seems like a year or more have been spent in Hereford, but it really has only been about seven months. And even though it has been a shorter time than I sometimes think, it satisfies me to think that I've been here longer.

Coming from the generously vegetated area of Aggie land (Bryan) to the endless flat plains of the Texas Panhandle has indeed been an experience, but one that will always be joyously remembered. The reason for wanting to retain this memory lies not in the terrain for I do miss the trees and differing landscapes of South Central and East Texas. No! The reason originates in the people of the Panhandle and especially Hereford, where one doesn't have to think before saying "hi" to a passerby on the street or wave to a passing motorist on the highway.

My first encounter to the Panhandle was not when I moved here in those early, freezing weeks of December. Having married into the Panhandle, that is marrying a girl from the North plains town of Perryton, I encountered the first plains people about five years ago.

Truthfully, the first Panhandle greeting I got was not a wave or handshake, but a siren and flashing lights in my rear view mirror. That was even back in the days of 70 miles per hour speed limits and I was definitely going too fast. The DPS officer pulled right out of a wheat field and had me dead to rights. Of course I knew the officer wouldn't be satisfied with the explanation that I was new to the Panhandle and that the wide open, empty roads caused my "lead foot" urge on the gas pedal.

It was refreshing though, to see those passing drivers wave almost the whole stretch of the Panhandle since in previous places I've lived, this is not done spontaneously. I don't know whether or not it's the fact that fewer people travel the plains and wave because the loneliness of the highways causes them to seek out a friendly neighbor. But I think it lies in the nature of people up here who have had to strive together to get things done and therefore survive.

It wasn't easy for the early pioneers who had to pull together to form a town and make it work. Of course, not all succeeded, but those who did were able to pass this friendly and togetherness feeling on to other generations. And this continues today as indicative of the local farmers who stand together for the benefit of all to find the needed water sources for their farm and ranch operations.

I'm originally from a totally different environment, (Houston) and I notice that Panhandle residents, especially here are vigorous and get things done. Hustlin' Hospitable Hereford isn't known as that for nothing. While I admit I had to ask exactly where it was when I first heard about it, I remember hearing about this town before.

More things have gone on here in these first seven months than seems imaginable. The spirit here is never damped. It just keeps on flowing just like the Texas oil. At points, it has even tired me out.

Some think there is too much activity, but this is the only way a town can really hope to progress. It can wear people out, but this is usually because they're doing what they don't probably always enjoy. Results are only gained through hard work in different directions.

It's been the busiest seven months of my life and I'm sure the stay here will continue to be. But it's been rewarding and with the friendliness extended my wife and I, we intend to stay awhile.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner examines the economists again this week.

oOo

Dear editor:

Most of the economists, who didn't know the recession was coming, are now saying it's ending, at least if not this quarter then the next quarter or the next one after that, somewhat like the football coach who said he could have won if there'd been five or maybe six quarters in the game.

So now the problem, they say, is inflation which, as one of them said, "everybody knows is caused by too much money chasing too few goods." This of course leaves out one other factor: the greed that causes bigger and bigger mark-ups. With us and the Arabs for example, it's less and less money chasing more and more oil at higher and higher prices. And sometimes I get the feeling some outfits in this country are using the Arab system.

Economists though are in such bad repute I've decided to come to their rescue, and am establishing the J.A. School of Guaranteed Accuracy in Economic Forecasts.

It will be divided into three parts. Viewing the current situation for example, Part A will say things are getting better; Part B will say things are getting worse; Part C will say they're going to stay about the same.

Whichever way things go, you can look back six months from now, pick out one prediction and ignore the other two, and say, you know, he was right about that.

I don't know what economists get paid, but I'll take half what they're getting and consider my salary inflationary.

Changing the subject, I see that our friend New York, the city with lots of brains but not enough sense to manage its money, has re-financed with a big loan and is now able to pay its bills for the next few months at least, for which the mayor has heaved a sigh of relief.

It reminds me of the man who had a note coming due at the bank and couldn't meet it. After spending three sleepless nights before the due date worrying about it he went in and confessed to the banker he simply couldn't pay off. The banker let him sweat a while and then agreed to renew the note.

The man signed quickly, came out of the bank, wiped his brow, and said, "Man, am I glad to get that debt settled."

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

But the upward spiral has a down side, too. When debt has grown in anticipation of future economic growth, and the economic growth doesn't come, things start to go wrong fast. Taxes must be raised and new loans floated to meet payments on old loans.

The higher taxes tend to drive upper income wages earners and profitable business out of a city (on a national scale, they tend to dry up the pool of capital available for investment in the creation of new products and new jobs). As a result, the tax base shrinks and there is still less income to pay the debts.

Prospective lenders become disturbed by the signs of economic stagnation and mismanagement. They calculate that the risk of losing their money is becoming greater and therefore they ask a higher interest rate in compensation. Thus, raising taxes proves counterproductive and refinancing the debt becomes more expensive.

Ultimately, a city or a company reaches a point in such a cycle where there are no lenders willing to risk their money. Then, either defaults on its debts and goes into bankruptcy or it takes whatever drastic, painful economy measures are necessary to restore its good credit rating. New York is at just such a point today.

Comings And Goings At King's Manor

By FAY GAUGGEL
King's Manor Reporter

On Thursday June 12, King's Manorites were recipients of much attention in the celebration of Father's Day.

The big idea was said to have originated in the imaginative minds of two CowBelles, Kay Hall and Nance Perrin. Their ideas were approved by CowBelle president Sarah Lawson, and all other CowBelles.

These two managed to see to it that the program we saw on Thursday evening was given to the Westgate group Thursday afternoon.

At 5:30 p.m. about 10 of our King's Manor gentlemen were "wined" and dined at K-Bob's as guests of manager Allen Parson and his employees.

Mr. Parson threw caution to the winds and said "Give 'em 36 steaks or whatever!"

CowBelles assisted in the transportation and Mmes Hall and Perrin even brought the dinners to those fellows of the Manor and Westgate who were not well enough to go downtown. A snappy slogan was offered by little girl, Willa Lawson. It said "Make Pappy Happy" with beef for Father's Day. Napkins were decorated with pictures of the brands used by many ranchers whom we know here.

Then at 7:30, the CowBelles, about 15 in number, represented some 100 members of the entire Hereford Chapter. They started their program explaining the purpose of CowBelles who "Promote the Beef Industry," not only here but to the whole U.S. as these organizations are nation-wide. Those were the words of Mrs. Lawson who then presented slides and narration of cattlemen and their problems such as weather, rising costs, competition, labor disputes, etc. She pointed out their gifts to school lunch programs and to our own King's Manor larder. We knew these things and we applauded our appreciation.

Costumes of the CowBelles were noteworthy. Pantsuits, they were, with snowy white tops on which the work "Hereford" was stitched in black. Underneath that a design combined a cowbell and a steer's head in one and again stitched in black was the word "CowBelles."

A program began with Mrs. Ray Stewart and daughter, Betty, playing piano duets. After a bit, Betty played a violin as Mrs. Stewart accompanied on piano. She executed several familiar tunes of the "Hoe Down" type as she called it. These were repeated with endings of "Shave and a Hair Cut - Six Bits." Grapevine has it that Betty is also a Bach Handel addict. We insisted that she and her mother come again and let us enjoy her versatility.

Next some CowBelles held up a handsome large sign bearing the word "CowBelles." Joe Williams snapped his camera.

This program was interesting, colorful, varied and worthwhile. One little lady wanted it suggested that cattle people take our men out on field trips in order that they may better appreciate this important industry of the Golden Spread.

The CowBelles served punch and cookies with permission for ladies to ask for recipes.

Now, Mr. King K-Bob and CowBelles, we are thoroughly sold on the beef industry, your projects and your public relations policies. We shall always be responsive to your overtures. Moreover you are welcome here at all times.

Mrs. E.O. Stewart attended the wedding of her grandson, Rex Adamson at Turkey, on Friday evening. She will also attend other festivities concerning the marriage.

Our latest new resident at the Manor is Mrs. Hattie Boiling of Odessa, formerly from Farwell. She has taught school for several years in towns in this area where she has endeared herself to many. Now she is following the same pattern amongst us here. A warm welcome to our Hattie. We are fortunate in that she chooses to live with us in room 315.

Mrs. Fay Nagoraki of Honolulu, Hawaii, Edgar Hutton of Anchorage, Alaska and Leroy Hutton from Northwest Hospital of Amarillo, visited their mother, Lonie Hutton at 210 Cottage Drive Friday June 13.

Martha Shirkey is at home after almost a month's visit with her daughter and family in Washington, D.C. and a short visit on her return in Dallas and Denton.

Mrs. Eva Golladay and daughter, Gertrude of Arlington, E.L. Savorie and Daughter, Mildred; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Whitacre and her sister, Mrs.

King; and Mrs. N.L. Tedford of Plainview were recent guests of Emma Jean Smith.

Lt. Commander and Mrs. Clint Coneway, daughter Jennifer and new baby son Chad visited their grandmother Mrs. Freida Coneway, Lt. Commander Coneway and family had been stationed in Idaho Falls, Idaho and was being sent to Port Archer, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunk Reed have had as their guests this week Mrs. Ethel Edwards and her daughter from Post, Mrs. Lois Bishop and her daughter and son-in-law from Eldorado, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. John I. Shaffer of Baton Rouge, La.

Visitors of Mrs. Virgil Toles have been, Mr. and Mrs. John Toles and son Hal of Happy, Mrs. Bob Johnston of Happy and Tanya and Lahab of Tulsa. Mr. and Mrs. Poe Cabe and two children from Henrietta and Mrs. Lena Bell Cabe from Happy.

Henry Cogdell had Mrs. Jane

Bickley and Mr. and Mrs. King Sides of Lubbock.

Mrs. Marie Huntley spent four days in Dumas with Mr. and Mrs. Weiland. A brunch was given in honor of Mrs. Huntley and a large group of friends attended.

Mrs. Dec Brown of Muleshoe visited her father Will Harris this week.

Mrs. Fannie Watts had as her guest this week Mrs. Dorothy Ward and daughter, also Airman First Class Kirk Ward and wife who has been stationed in Turkey. They are on their way to Abilene where he will be stationed.

Mrs. G.I. Clingsmith and her friend of Dimmitt, visited Mrs. Fannie Clingsmith.

PARTIES AT WESTGATE
The afternoon of June 12 began the celebration for the men of Westgate. An ice cream party was given to all the residents as a Father's Day Party. Will Harris was given honorable mention as the oldest father present.

The men residents and their families were served in the dining room, while Mrs. Ray Stewart and Daughter Betty furnished music for the group. Several of the auxiliary ladies helped with the serving.

Then in the evening the CowBelles helped served steak dinners to the men as a fathers day favor. The steaks were furnished by K-Bob's Steak House.

Mrs. Rubye Hewitt, Mrs. Marie Huntley, Mrs. Emma Payne, Mrs. Mildred Ramey attended a coffee Wednesday A.M. at the home of Mrs. Jordan Grooms.

Those who react vigorously to June's warmer weather can enjoy the blessing of home-grown vegetables.

Don't expect everyone to think you are perfect; just be satisfied if you are able to fool a few.

Women Fill Vital Roles In CARE

NEW YORK-Ethel Spore, a spunky 69-year old woman, who began her nursing career at age 40, served several tours of overseas duty with CARE-MEDICO before retiring at 65. Later, following a five-month freighter trip around the world, she returned to CARE-MEDICO to complete another overseas assignment in Amman, Jordan. At present Ms. Spore is awaiting her next adventure.

KENYA-New interests of emerging women were evidenced here recently when a CARE executive inspected a CARE-built school for girls. After holding up signs expressing gratitude for the school and supplies, the girls unveiled a large sign reading, "May we also have a science laboratory?" Last year such CARE self-help projects and CARE-MEDICO health aid benefited more than two million people in developing countries.

NEW YORK-Women in developing countries often bear six or seven babies so that at least two will survive as old age "social security." In many such nations CARE integrates family planning and nutrition education with feeding centers, increased agricultural production products and other self-help programs. This improves health and living standards so families can have fewer children knowing most will survive.

HONDURAS-Auxiliary nurses are being trained by CARE-MEDICO in Honduras where there are only about 200 nurses for the entire country, and one hospital in the southern part of the country serves 330,000 people. Last year close to one-half million patients were reached by similar CARE-MEDICO programs in a number of developing countries.

NEW YORK-While many women plan menus for their families, Mary Ann Anderson, nutritionist at CARE, plans menus for the world's malnourished. Last year the aid agency's supplemental feeding programs reached more than 20 million people with nutritious food in developing countries in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East.

NICARAGUA-A familiar sight in Nueva Guinea is Dr. Diane Trembley, taking off by jeep or muleback to visit patients at a number of outlying clinics. Dr. Trembley is part of a CARE-MEDICO team training Nicaraguan nurses and health workers in various remote areas as well as treating the ill and injured. CARE-MEDICO operates similar programs in a number of developing countries.

NEW YORK-Many women are concerned with transporting a few grocery bags of food home in good shape from the supermarket, but one woman at CARE is responsible for the safe shipment of thousands of tons of food to the far corners of the world. Pearl Lynch is the director of traffic and shipping at the aid and development agency which has massive feeding programs, food-for-work and other projects in 36 developing countries.

Now that the college students are home on vacation, we wonder what they'll do with their time.

The Abundant Life

Don't Throw Mud

By BOB WEAR

We cannot afford the great losses being caused and perpetuated by the multitudinous ways of "throwing mud". This seems to be a game which adults insist upon playing. It is a form of childishness, and is often deliberately evil and dishonest. Some game!

"Throwing mud" is pollution in its worst form, because it strikes at the vital functions of persons and society. It is usually, perhaps always, pernicious. It hides facts and truths, and distorts the perceptions and conclusions of people. It causes discord where there should be harmony; and creates cross purposes where cooperation is needed for the common good.

WE ARE LOSING GROUND when we are throwing mud. This "throwing mud" is the expression used to describe the harmful practice of picking flaws and finding faults. It is a destructive action, because it is done for the purpose of tearing down, damaging reputation, causing distrust, and otherwise "messing everything up".

The motivations of the mud slingers are always perverse, and their actions are their way of contaminating others with the poison which is at work within themselves. "Such is the force of envy and ill-nature, that the fallings of good men are more published to the world than their good deeds. One fault of well-deserving man shall meet with more reproaches than all his virtues will the praise." - N.P. Willis.

These "dirty" detractors are both a burden and a curse to the social order. They take away from the excellencies that are so badly needed in the human experience. They discourage many who are sincerely trying to be useful and helpful. They prevent others from even trying to make the good contributions which would be of value to so many persons.

"Unjustifiable detraction always proves the weakness as well as the meanness of the one who employs it.—To be constantly carping at, and exaggerating petty blemishes in the character of others, and putting unfavorable construction on their language and deeds, betrays the detractors inability to maintain a reputable standing on legitimate and honorable grounds."—E. L. Magoon.

THERE ARE PEOPLE WHO APPRECIATE OTHERS, and are honest and constructive in their feelings about others. These people are sources of great strength, and do much to help preserve the good and valuable aspects of the human scene. Nevertheless, these noble persons do not nearly offset the destructiveness of those who continue "throwing mud". Unfortunately, there is a constant smearing going on. Everybody is being hurt, and every worthy endeavor is being hindered when the "mud" of vilification, defamation, gossip, and carping comment flows freely from so many sources. This unskillful and ruinous activity is not limited to the political realm. It is a faulty stratum which runs through the whole structure of human society. WE CAN SURELY FIND more constructive action in these times of great common need than the continuing self-destructive, "dirty" practice of "throwing mud".

The following events, selected by the Texas Tourist Development Agency, are but a few of the many excellent recreational opportunities offered by communities across the state. A more complete listing of Texas events may be obtained free of charge by writing TDA, Box 1200, Austin, TX 78705.

Teens To Attend Leadership Lab

Nearly 175 young leaders from 4-H clubs in 20 South Plains counties will participate in a district leadership lab July 1-3.
Site of the three-day summer
workshop is Texas State Technical Institute, according to Paul Gross and Mrs. Sue Farris, district Extension agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
A team of 12 older teens will assist with sessions throughout the lab. They'll arrive on campus a day earlier to map plans and develop discussion topics.
The youths, supervised by 4-H adult leaders and agents, will perform a variety of activities ranging from group learning and discussion sessions to game tournaments and special morning and evening ceremonies.

AUSTIN—With the current tight job market, increasing numbers of persons are responding to help wanted advertisements similar to this:
"Earn up to $500 a week as a heavy machinery operator, truck driver, or construction worker. No experience needed. Training will be provided."

to take such a course, get all the salesman's promises in writing.

That may sound good to a job-hunter, but our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers urge that you use caution if you decide to answer this type of help wanted ad.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
 by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — A new program to boost the economy has identified more than 6,090 available jobs in its first month of operation.

Executive Director Jim Harwell of Texas Industrial Commission said the effort represented a 50 per cent increase over projections for the entire year.

Lists of new jobs, starting Monday, were posted on windows of local Texas Employment Commission offices.

Harwell indicated the "Texas First" program may result in identification of more than 15,000 jobs during the year — with an economic impact of more than $1 billion annually.

Texas Education Agency, Texas Employment Commission, Texas Department of Community Affairs and the Governor's Division of Planning Coordination are participating with the Industrial Commission in the program.

Employees lacking skills are offered training through the Texas Start-Up Training Program conducted by the Industrial Commission and through sponsors of manpower training projects.

More than 200 of the top 1,000 Texas industries responded favorably to a questionnaire on expansion needs.

Insurance Call

Companies writing general liability insurance were given a June 15 deadline to make medical malpractice insurance filings in Texas.

State Board of Insurance Chairman Joe Christie said the call is the first for action under emergency legislation permitting the Board to regulate professional medical liability insurance for the first time in 20 years.

The Board's bulletin to insurance companies will require the filing of rules, rates and policy forms presently used in writing medical malpractice coverage in Texas. The Board will act immediately on the statistics, Christie said.

GOP Race On

A hot race is being waged by Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas and Midland Mayor Ernest Angelo for chairmanship of the state Republican party.

Both want to give the party more visibility in state political affairs.

Angelo, although he isn't emphasizing it, favors dumping Vice President Nelson Rockefeller from the GOP's 1976 national ticket.

He is also an admirer of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and wouldn't mind seeing Reagan head the ticket instead of President Ford.

Hutchison says it's too early to get involved in the presidential issue and is basing his campaign on strengthening the state party organization.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court will review for the first time a case raising the issue of an unwed father's paternal rights.

An intermediate court held the state family code did not intend to give an unwed father absolute right to establish a parent-child relationship.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the 90-year sentence of a man convicted in the Hutchison County stabbing death of a woman in 1971. The Court noted the state introduced testimony in the murder trial that the man had raped a woman four days earlier in Odessa. The appellate Court said the alleged rape was unrelated to the murder, and testimony was prejudicial to the defendant's right to fair trial.

Federal suits have been filed to redistrict Waller and Harrison counties (commissioners' precincts) to increase black representation.

AG Opinions

A commissioners court cannot legally purchase supplies from a farmers' cooperative in which a commissioner owns one or more shares, Atty. Gen. John L. Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The county court of Jefferson County has concurrent jurisdiction with county courts at law in probate, lunacy, juvenile and eminent domain matters. Courts at law have exclusive jurisdiction in all other civil criminal matters.

The last known address of persons pardoned of crimes must be disclosed under the open records act.

Appointments

Three members of the new Texas Facilities Commission were named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

They are Melvin Rowland of Uvalde, Renal B. Rosson of Snyder and P. Bolin Mahaffey of Corpus Christi.

Alfredo Cardenas of San Diego is a new special assistant on the Austin staff of U.S. Sen. John Tower.

Short Snorts

Spring weather caused a 5.5 million bushel decline in Texas' winter wheat production this year, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported.

The Governor asked designation of Fayette County and Cameron County as disaster areas — one due to rainfall and windstorms, the other due to year-long drought.

There is convincing evidence of a break in the recession, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen has urged the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development to stop a program designating new 100-year flood plains in Texas until local governments are given more say in designation.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said audits and field examinations by his office found $1.8 million owed the state in back taxes.

Five applications for permits to sell $2.36 million in securities have been filed with the State Securities Board.

Amarillo Hospital District, TSTI Plan Family Therapy Workshop For June 28

A Family Therapy workshop will be offered June 28 in Amarillo by the Amarillo Hospital District and Texas State Technical Institute.

Harold Goolishian, PhD, chief psychologist with the Division of Child Adolescent Psychiatry at the University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston, will direct the workshop.

It will take place at the Psychiatric Pavilion auditorium from 9:00 AM to 12:00 noon, and 1:30 PM to 4:30 PM, sponsored by the Division of Mental Health Services.

The workshop is of particular interest to all professionals in the field of mental health, public school teachers, counselors, and the clergy, says Lloyd H. Carter, director of the department of learning resources for the AHD.

All persons attending the entire program will be awarded 1.0 Continuing Education Unit (CEU) from Texas State Tech. Approval for six Continuing Education Recognition Program (CERP) points is being requested by the Texas Nurses Association for their enrollees.

Registration fee of $15.00 should be made to the Amarillo Hospital District, mailed to Lloyd H. Carter, Director, Department of Learning Resources, Box 1110, Amarillo 79175. Registrants should assume acceptance unless otherwise notified.

Company Gets Award For Patriotic Service

The Southwestern Public Service Company has received an "Award for Patriotic Service" for its participation in the US Savings Bond Program.

At the conclusion of the 1975 campaign, more than 93 per cent of Southwestern's employees were participating through the Payroll Savings Plan.

This is the highest percentage of participation of any company with over 1,000 employees in the public utilities industry for 1975.

1,665 of Southwestern Public Service Company's 1,781 employees are enrolled in the Payroll Savings Plan and during the recently completed campaign, 281 "new" savers were added to the program.

The award was presented to Roy Tolk, chairman and president of SPS by Leonard Cowden, treasury department representative. In accepting the award, Tolk said, "I'm tremendously proud of our employees and their response to the Savings Bond Program. It's typical of Southwesterners to come through as they did again this year."

This is the seventh year that Southwestern Public Service Company employees have earned a Treasury Flag, given for 50 per cent or more participation in the program. One hundred per cent of the employees in the Hereford District are participating in the U.S. Savings Bond Program.

How would you feel if everyone knew how much you put in the collection plate at church last Sunday?
