

School Board Extends Holder's Contract

Chamber Banquet Full House Expected

The country's best-known country comedian and the announcement of the "Citizen of the Year" will highlight the program for the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Banquet Thursday night in the Bull Barn.

And, a full house of 800 has been assured, according to C of C executive vice president Mike Carr. No tickets will be sold at the door. Only 18 tickets were left Wednesday morning and Carr said the chamber office will start a waiting list for late ticket requests. If cancellations occur, those on the waiting list may receive tickets.

Banquet goers are reminded to enter the Bull Barn through the east door.

Jerry Clower, named four times as country comic of the year and co-host of "Nashville on the Road", a national television show, will be the featured speaker. The banquet begins at 7 p.m. and will include the recognition of new officers and directors.

Ken Rogers, president of Lone Star Agency, succeeds Speedy Nieman as the chamber president. Nieman will serve as master of ceremonies for the event. Dinner music will be provided by Jan Walsler.

New officers and directors were Hereford Independent School District trustees extended the contract of Superintendent Harrell Holder for one year Tuesday night after evaluating his performance in 1978 in closed session.

Action on the extension was taken in open session after trustees met behind closed doors for approximately 1 1/2 hours.

Following the executive session, board president James Gentry commended Dr. Holder for his job performance during the past year and for maintaining a "good relationship" with HISD staff members.

Gentry said the board was unable to raise Dr. Holder's $34,276 salary "because we don't know what the state legislature is going to do as a result of the tax-relief amendment. We've got to play everything safe for now."

The extension gives Dr. Holder, who has been superintendent in Hereford 2 1/2 years, a three-year contract. A one-year extension is either granted or refused in January of each year.

The board, in other business, heard routine monthly reports, awarded a contract for portable buildings to house migrant programs, accepted two resignations and employed three persons and discussed prospects for the April 7 school board election.

The election, at least its voting method, is still up in the air while trustees await word from the U.S. Justice Department on the HISD place system.

The federal government has maintained that Hereford's place system with majority runoff requirement dilutes the voting strength of minorities. The board, in a recent meeting, voted to do away with runoffs and requested that the Justice Department approve the place system.

Absentee voting is scheduled to be held March 19. If word is not received from the federal government by that date, voting in the place-system election will begin, trustees said.

Building contractor, Edwin Bridges submitted the lowest of three bids to construct four portable buildings to use at West Central Elementary, Stanton Junior High, La Plata Junior High and Hereford High School.

The buildings, which will cost a total of $100,321 which includes architect's fees, will be paid for out of federal migrant funds.

Dr. Holder reported that the state legislature has heard a recommendation from the Legislative Budget Board that a 5.1 percent pay raise for teachers be granted. Dr. Holder said he believed the recommendation would be approved.

He added that the school district could lose $565,000 because of the tax-relief amendment passed by voters last November. However, the net loss likely would be around $250,000 because of money appropriated to the school district by the last legislature and a reduction in the local fund assignment, Dr. Holder said.

Dr. Holder also reported that the school district is in "exceptionally good shape" for meeting federal guidelines for handicapped students.

Tax assessor-collector Fred Fox told the board that December current collections totaled $169,745, with delinquent taxes running $8,502 for a monthly total of $178,247. That figure, Fox said, brings the yearly total to $2.3 million, which represents about 80 percent of the tax roll.

Assistant superintendent Larry Wartes reported that cafeteria participation is improved over last year and "financially, things are in better shape than last year at this time."

Wartes added that the school district will be reimbursed by the Governor's Commission on the Aged for preparing meals beginning next Monday for Hereford senior citizens.

The meals will be prepared in a school cafeteria and served at the Senior Citizens Center in the former Central School.

School enrollment as of Tuesday was 5,386, down from the Dec. 12 figure of 5,457, but up from 5,304 students on Jan. 9, 1978, Dr. Holder reported.

High school enrollment Tuesday stood at 1,097; junior high at 1,339 and elementary at 2,446.

Resignations were accepted from Gary Goodin, of the high school, who has accepted the head track coaching job at Wayland Baptist College, and Tony Calkins, a health and physical education teacher at Stanton.

The board hired Jerry Wilbourn to replace Calkins. Trustees also employed Adelina Correa, Northwest Elementary bi-lingual kindergarten teacher, and Donna VanderZee, West Central Elementary migrant reading.

Hereford Classroom Teachers Association president Buddy Fox told the board that Aurora Dominguez is hoping to become a delegate at-large with the state CTA.

All board members were present at the meeting.

Clayton Election Not Unanimous

Briscoe Addresses New Legislature

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Outgoing Gov. Dolph Briscoe tells the new 66th Legislature today what he thinks it needs to do to make Texas voters happy.

Lower taxes by about $1 billion in addition to implementing the $1 billion Tax-Relief Amendment is the advice Briscoe has been giving for several weeks now.

Gov.-elect Bill Clements is expected to say much the same after he takes office Jan. 16 as Texas' first Republican governor in 105 years.

"The budget that I will present to the Legislature will provide for another tax cut of approximately $1 billion," Briscoe said earlier. "In addition the budget will provide for the funding of the essential services, plus the inflationary factor. It also will provide additional funding for the major services of the state. It can be done. It's a matter of attitude...a matter of degree and determination."

Briscoe's speech to a joint session followed opening day ceremonies that were marked by the re-election of Speaker Billy Clayton to an unprecedented third term.

However, the 137-8 election of Clayton was not without its controversies. Clayton said later it might require a "miracle" for the Legislature to accomplish all its tasks in 140 days.

Senators, meanwhile, split 18-13 in adopting rules that for the first time will open to the public their debates on gubernatorial appointees to state jobs.

The speaker was unopposed. There was a move to approve election without a record vote, but Rep. Ronald Coleman, D-El Paso, objected.

"One person at least, myself, will have difficulty voting as I did last time for Mr. Clayton," Coleman said.

Others voting against Clayton were Reps. John Bryant, D-Dallas; Bill Clark, D-Tyler, the son-in-law of former Attorney General John Hill; Luther Jones, D-El Paso; Paul Moreno, D-El Paso; Paul Ragsdale, D-Dallas; John Whitmire, D-Houston; and Buddy Temple, D-Diboll.

Temple tried a speakership campaign last spring but it fizzled after the Democratic primary.

Rep. Bob Close, R-Perryton, tried to elect the speaker by secret ballot.

"This would insure that some members would not be required to vote against their conscience in order to get the committee assignments they want...or to assure their legislation will get through this body," Close said.

"If we have a secret ballot for speaker, why not on school finance?...I represent 75,000 people and I think they have the right to know how I stood on the election of the speaker or on the appropriations bill or anything else," said Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo.

Close's proposal failed, 111-35.

"I know it will take a miracle to accomplish all we need to in 140 days, particularly in light of the general attitude of our citizenry - tax relief on the one hand, additional services on the other," Clayton told the House after his election.

"But you know, I believe in miracles," said Clayton.

Clayton said he hoped to announce his committee selections before the House quits for the weekend, probably on Thursday. He made it clear he planned to give the choicest committee spots to longtime supporters.

In addition to adopting its session rules, the Senate elected Sen. Bill Meier, D-Eules, its assistant presiding officer for the second time.

Under old Senate rules, consideration of gubernatorial appointments was done in private unless the Senate voted to open up. The amendment, by Sen. A.R. Schwartz D-Galveston, switched the emphasis and made such sessions open unless the Senate closes them.

Another rule change to let senators select their own committees failed 25-5 and a move to limit filibusters to 24 hours was defeated 28-3.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby quickly announced committee assignments and awarded chairmanship of the powerful Senate Finance Committee to Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene. The post came open when Sen. A.M. Aikin, D-Paris, chose not to run for re-election in 1978.

Hobby reappointed Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, which will work on one of the session's big issues, school finance.

Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, again will chair the Senate State Affairs Committee, which will deal with tax bills and tax cut measures.

Farmers, Ranchers Earn $209 Million

Deaf Smith County farmers and ranchers received $209,403,000 in marketings and government payments during 1977, the Texas Department of Agriculture announced in a report this week.

The total included $64,330,000 in cash receipts from all crops and $135,081,000 from livestock and livestock products. Government payments made up $9,992,000 of the total.

Across the state, agriculture added $7.1 billion to the economy last year. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service surveys showed, with receipts from all crops almost balancing those from livestock and livestock products. Livestock receipts totaled $3.5 billion, followed by $3.3 billion for crop receipts. Government payments made up $206 million of the total, including over $120 million through drought and flood assistance programs.

"With improved livestock prices this year, particularly cattle, we are optimistic that 1978 cash receipts will be higher," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V.

Brown said.

"These figures only tell half of the story, however. In any discussion including agricultural statistics, the true picture is only presented when you can balance the cash receipts against the actual production costs. During last year, unfortunately, those production costs outstripped most of the profit margin for many farmers and ranchers," Brown said.

Texas maintained its third place national ranking in cash receipts, despite problems throughout the year. Other first place rankings included: number of cattle and calves, 14.5 million head; Upland cotton production, 5.5 million bales; wool production, 21 million pounds; mohair production, 8 million pounds; number of farms and ranches, 197,000; and farm and ranch land, 139.8 million acres.

The state ranked second in the production of grain sorghum, grapefruit, cantaloupes, carrots, rice, green peppers, cabbage, onions, American-pima cotton, pecans, honeydew melons and cucumbers.

Shivering Temps, Snow Return to Hereford Area

Deaf Smith County residents enjoyed an afternoon off from a record-setting freezing spell Tuesday, but any relief was short-lived with the visit of another cold front to the Texas Panhandle.

The front pushed its way into the area Tuesday night, bringing with it cloudy skies and the prospect of light snow and freezing drizzle. The cold air followed a 37-degree high Tuesday which broke an 11-day spell of below-freezing weather in the Hereford area.

The long period of less-than-32-degree temperatures was believed to have set a record in Deaf Smith County.

Snow began to fall in Hereford around 7:30 a.m. today, with accumulations of up to two inches expected through tonight. A traveler's advisory was issued for the Panhandle and South Plains.

Weathermen predicted today's high would be in the mid 20's, with the low tonight near 10. Thursday's high also was forecasted to be in the middle 20's.

A break in the weather is expected on Friday, with slightly warmer temperatures, but scattered rain possibly mixed with snow is likely to happen on Saturday, the National Weather Service predicted.

Personal Income Tax Considered for Texas

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - "Nobody likes taxes," a Senate committee staff concluded Tuesday, but it added that Texans do not dread a personal income tax as they once did.

The staff recommended a broad-based business tax or a personal income tax - or a combination of the two - as the fairest way to replace public school dependence on property taxes.

As its second choice, the staff's 96-page report recommended a 5 percent refinery tax.

"There appears to be no reason to fear any severe economic dislocations as a result of such tax," the report said.

"Other taxes - increased sales tax, new or increased severance taxes - have little to recommend them under present economic conditions," the staff added.

A personal income tax has long been taboo in the Legislature, but the report said, "state income taxes are not so widely despised as might be thought."

It said a 1978 survey by the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations shows that only 11 percent of the people believe such taxes are the "least fair" or "worst taxes."

In contrast, approximately one-third of the people feel local property taxes are the "worst taxes."

Four of a special five-member Senate committee signed the report, but study director Ken Shepardson stressed that they had not accepted the recommendations.

It began snowing this morning as streets and sidewalks once again became slick--and hazardous--prompting U.S. Post Office employee A.L. Greenway to salt the area around postal

USDA Drops Iowa Beef Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) - An administrative complaint against the nation's largest beef packing company, charging that it and a subsidiary were trying to corner the beef market in four northwestern states, has been dropped by the Agriculture Department.

Papers filed with the department's hearing clerk disclosed Tuesday that the charges, filed more than a year ago against Iowa Beef Processors Inc. and Columbia Foods Inc., were dismissed at the request of department attorneys.

The papers showed the dismissal request was approved because, "on the basis of the evidence now available, further prosecution of the charges would not serve the public interest."

No official announcement of the dismissal was made by the department but one was expected shortly.

One source, who asked not to be identified, said the complaint was dropped because USDA lawyers decided "it would have been very difficult" to prove the allegations in the original charges.

On Dec. 16, 1977, the department charged that Iowa Beef and Columbia Foods, a subsidiary, "have been and are now engaged in unfair acts and practices, and unfair methods of competition."

The complaint involved a joint venture set up with North West Feeders Inc., of Boise, Idaho, a cattle feedlot cooperative, in which it was alleged Iowa Beef and Columbia would slaughter and process steers and heifers it produced.

Department officials said this arrangement, in effect, would "tend to create a monopoly" in the supply, slaughter and marketing of beef in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

The department also asked a federal district court to grant an injunction to prohibit the joint venture, but last June 8, the U.S. District Court in Boise denied (See BEEF, Page 2)

2nd Smoking Report Due from Califano

WASHINGTON (AP) - Twelve months after HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. launched a war against cigarettes as "Public Health Enemy No. 1," skeptics are saying he has produced a lot of smoke but not much fire.

Califano will try to light a fire Thursday when HEW releases a second Surgeon General's Report on Smoking and Health. The 1,200-page second edition comes on the 15th anniversary of the first surgeon general's report that sent shivers up the spines of millions of American smokers.

But officials at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare say the new report will not include startling new scientific evidence about smoking, nor will it provide any break-through on ways to quit smoking.

Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., castigated Califano Tuesday for not letting Congress see the report in advance.

Few of more than a dozen initiatives against smoking that Califano promised a year ago have produced visible results. No new federal taxes or regulations have been imposed on cigarettes.

19 Democrats Named To Senate Committees

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Senators rejected a weak effort Tuesday to strip Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby of his power to appoint committees, and he then named 19 Democrats - and no Republicans - as chairmen of committees and subcommittees.

Hobby elevated Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene to the chairmanship of the powerful Senate Finance Committee and placed Sen. A.R. Schwartz of Galveston in charge of bills affecting Texas' rich natural resources.

The Republicans' highest appointment was that of Sen. O.H. "Ike" Harris of Dallas as vice chairman of the economic development committee.

With the election of Republican Bill Clements as governor, Hobby has become the top Democratic spokesman in the Legislature, and appointment of the committees was his first chance to display the partisan power of his office.

Jones, 56, was vice chairman of economic development in 1977 and was not even a member of the 13-member finance committee.

Hobby said, however, such a move was not unusual and that any one of several senators would make a good finance chairman.

The post opened up with the retirement of the dean of the Senate, A.M. Aikin of Paris, who had been a senator since 1938.

Soviet Economy Grows Slower Than in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Soviet citizens are getting more cars, televisions, refrigerators and washing machines than ever before, according to the Central Intelligence Agency. But their economy is still growing more slowly than the U.S. economy.

Overall, the Soviets are catching up in some ways and falling behind in others.

Take housing, which has always been woefully short in the Soviet Union. In 1960, the Soviets built about 5.5 square feet of floor space for each citizen. The United States built 8.5 square feet for every American. In 1977, Americans were building about 10.5 square feet and the Soviets were down to 4.5 square feet.

Or food. In 1960, the average Soviet farm worker produced enough to feed five of his fellow-citizens. The average American farmer fed 26 Americans. By 1977, the American farmer had doubled that, feeding 52 fellow citizens. The Soviet farmer, meanwhile, had barely moved and was providing for only eight Soviet citizens.

The 1977 figures, the most recent available, are in a 175-page annual report called "Handbook of Economic Statistics" put out by the CIA. Statistics from Communist countries are put together from a variety of sources, including the CIA's own economic analysts.

Rebuttal Phase Drags On in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) - Prosecutors, trying to shoot holes into defense arguments of a conspiracy against Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis, plan to call at least three more rebuttal witnesses as the kill-for-hire trial moves slowly through its 11th week.

A tentative timetable set by State District Judge Wallace Moore that called for final arguments Thursday and the start of jury deliberations that night appeared to be hopeless.

Moore told newsmen Tuesday afternoon, "I would say that Thursday is shot to hell."

Once the state has rested its case, defense lawyers are expected to call several more witnesses in a final attempt to offset the latest testimony presented to the seven-man, five-woman jury.

A surprise rebuttal witness for the prosecution said Tuesday a chief defense witness had lied about a scheme to kill Davis.

Mary Weir, 27, said her former boyfriend told her shortly after Davis' arrest Aug. 20 he intended to say that FBI informant David McCrory "offered him money" to kill Davis.

Governor Facts Told

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Texas' second governor, George T. Woods, absolutely refused to wear socks, not only to his 1847 inauguration but throughout his term.

His successor, Peter Hansbrough Bell, sported shoulder-length hair to his swearing-in ceremony, but probably received little argument about it - since the former Texas Ranger regularly carried a Bowie knife and two pistols.

Texas' newest governor-elect, Bill Clements, will be inaugurated Jan. 16, but he would have to go to extremes to outdo some of the inaugurations in Texas' colorful past.

Jack Maguire, executive director of the University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures here, has researched Texas governors for several years and turned up these facts:

Sam Houston, opposed to Texas' secession from the Union, protested Texas' entry into the Confederacy by refusing to attend his second-term inauguration in 1861. Lt. Gov. Edward Clark stepped in and Houston returned to his Huntsville home.

In 1903, Gov.-elect S.W.T. Lanham and his family were forced to walk unescorted from the hotel to the ceremonies. It seems that in the excitement of the festivities, the inaugural committee neglected to arrange more fitting transportation.

The first inaugural ceremony at the present Capitol took place in 1889, with well-dressed guests filling the galleries and the House of Representatives chamber - but sitting on the floor. The furniture had not yet been installed.

W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel, the state's 33rd governor, took the oath of office before a crowd of 50,000 in the University of Texas' Memorial Stadium.

He issued mass invitations through the press for his second inauguration in 1941 and invited everybody attending to stay for barbecue on the grounds of the Executive Mansion. They consumed about 19,000 pounds of beef, mutton and buffalo.

The first native son sworn in to office was James Stephen Hogg, who became governor in 1891. The event was marked by fireworks shot from the Capitol Dome, a torch parade, dances and the only inaugural banquet to be served at the Capitol.

When Miriam "Ma" Ferguson became the country's first woman governor in 1925, reporters couldn't resist a thorough description of Mrs. Ferguson's inaugural attire: "Mrs. Ferguson wore a black silk gown trimmed with wide gray fur and gray beads. Her hat was a brown, close-fitting creation with a turned down brim and black goose quills. She wore a black coat. Black satin slippers completed the costume."

Austin's historic Driskill Hotel hosted the inaugural ball of Gov. Lawrence Sullivan Ross in 1887. High society was in attendance and an eager hotel doorman was not about to allow in an unidentified, rough-edged old Indian fighter.

Not to be stopped, the crusty old frontiersman - who happened to be Ross' father, Prince - bellowed from the doorman to stand back or "I'll call my boy, Sul, out of there and we'll wreck the place."

He was admitted.

Taiwan to Maintain Troops, Weapons after Reunification

PEKING (AP) - Taiwan will be allowed to maintain its security forces and weapons after reunification with the mainland, Vice Premier Teng Hsiangping, chief of staff of China's armed forces, said Tuesday.

The offer was made during a two-hour meeting with a Senate task force on Pacific military matters headed by Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., who called it "very important" and said officials of the U.S. Liaison Office told him it was a considerable advance beyond anything said before.

Teng told the senators he already had sent what he described as several reasonable messages to Taiwanese leaders but did not say if he had had a reply. The Peking government offered earlier to negotiate a reunification agreement with Taiwan that would preserve the island's social and economic way of life.

But president Chiang Kung-kuo and other officials of the Nationalist Chinese government on Taiwan rejected the overture, as they have all other overtures from the Communists since Washington established diplomatic relations with Peking Jan. 1 and broke ties with Taiwan.

Teng reaffirmed today China's policy "to seek a peaceful reunification of Taiwan and China," Nunn said. But the possibility of the use of force was not renounced on grounds that it "would reduce the prospects for Taiwan entering into serious negotiations."

Teng said the circumstances where force might be used included an indefinite refusal to enter into negotiations and an attempt by the Soviet Union to interfere in Taiwanese affairs.

Nunn said "this latter possibility was regarded as highly unlikely."

Nunn added that the senators got the impression that China's overriding desire is to settle the Taiwan problem peacefully and that force was something remote to their thinking for some time to come.

Abortion Statute Called Vague

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court, voting 6-3, Tuesday struck down a Pennsylvania law that made it a crime for a doctor to perform an abortion when the fetus "may" have survived outside the womb.

Wording of the state law, enacted a year after the high court's landmark 1973 decision legalizing abortions, is too vague, today's decision said.

"The present statute does not afford broad discretion to the physician," said the majority opinion written by Justice Harry A. Blackmun, author of the 1973 decision.

"Instead, it conditions potential criminal liability on confusing and ambiguous criteria. It therefore presents serious problems of notice, discriminatory application and chilling effect on the exercise of constitutional rights," Blackmun said.

Justice Byron R. White, in a dissenting opinion joined by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice William H. Rehnquist, accused Blackmun of broadening the court's 1973 definition of fetal "viability," but Blackmun denied that.

At issue had been the scope of a state's power to require doctors to make special attempts to preserve fetal life.

Had the court upheld the Pennsylvania law, there could have been a nationwide impact on the availability of mid-pregnancy abortions.

USDA's petition.

Accordingly, officials announced then that the department would proceed with the earlier administrative complaint against Iowa Beef and Columbia Foods, which was aimed at prohibiting the companies from continuing the arrangement with the feedlot cooperative.

Iowa Beef's headquarters are in Dakota City, Neb., and Columbia Foods' in Pasco, Wash.

Taxes

refused to sign the report.

The report noted that the main purpose of the committee's study was to examine the possibility of using a refinery tax to replace property taxes levied and collected by school districts.

Any substitutes for the property tax would have to raise between $1 billion and $2 billion a year.

The staff said a 5 percent refinery tax would generate $1 billion-$1.5 billion a year; a personal income tax - at either a flat 2 percent or on a progressive, graduated basis - the same; and a 2.5 percent value-added tax on all business would produce $1.5 billion-$2 billion a year.

If the state relied entirely on the sales tax to supplant the property tax, the sales tax would have to be raised from 4 percent to 8 percent, making it the highest in the nation.

The report said Texas "should be ashamed of the unfair and inefficient property tax system upon which so much government relies in this state, but it added, "there are at least two good reasons for keeping it - albeit in some sort of reformed version. First, it is a tax that people know and are aware of." Also, "it is perhaps the only tax that can be used effectively and efficiently at a local level."

A personal income tax, the staff said, could be "the fairest tax of all."

Steel Industry Vows Support Of 'Buy America' Legislation

NEW YORK (AP) - Badly hurt by subsidized steel imports, the American steel industry is planning to give strong support to "Buy American" legislation in the 96th Congress.

Plans are already solidified, the justification being that allegedly illegal imports not only deny sales to American corporations but result in lost jobs and tax revenues.

While the issue of imports has an importance all its own, it is bound to be caught up in the anti-inflation battle, with supporters of lower-cost imports arguing that restricted markets promote higher prices.

The thrust of recent Buy American sentiment has been to expand existing legislation, which compels the federal government to give preference to American companies in spending federal tax revenues.

The main effect of such legislation would be to over individual states to apply the law to their own purchases if federal government grants or other means of assistance are involved.

While other industries, including electronics, textiles and shoes, have supported such legislation in the past, the massive steel industry has been lobbying relentlessly and to some extent effectively.

Imports last year made up close to 20 percent of all steel used in the United States, and the domestic industry maintains that much of it was sold below production costs because of foreign government subsidies.

"The important point is that a lot of steel was illegally dumped here by countries which wanted to maintain high employment in their steel mills," Bethlehem Steel comments in a quarterly review for employees.

The company didn't mince words. "Those steel imports stole American steelworker jobs," it said.

For every $1,000 of imports, Bethlehem suggested, $552 might have been lost in federal, state and local taxes.

Last February, it said, the Tennessee Highway Department opened bids on a highway bridge to be funded primarily by federal funds. The bridge required 4,000 tons of steel.

The lowest bid was $6 million, with the steel to be rolled and shaped in Japan. The second lowest bid was $6.1 million, but the steel would have been rolled in this country and fabricated in Tennessee.

"Tennessee thought it 'saved' $130,000 - about 2 percent of the total bid. But Tennesseans lost over 200,000 manhours of work and the wages that go with them, at least $1000,000 in taxes, and significant dollars in purchasing power," Bethlehem said.

Death Classes Prove Popular at University

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (AP) - Students who take classes on death and dying and related topics tend to be non-smokers.

This is one startling fact that has surfaced during the past several years from "death" classes taught at Pacific University by Dr. George Evans of the English Faculty.

Since he started teaching classes on the topic of death in 1971, Evans has had more than 200 students. Only 1 percent of these students smoked. In his regular English classes, Evans finds that some 50 percent of the students smoke.

"I can only surmise that the non-smokers are more aware of how fragile life is," says Evans. "They are concerned about their own mortality and care for their health. Their avoidance of tobacco is one example of this."

Evans believes he was one of the first professors in the nation some seven years ago to start teaching about death. He usually teaches such a course once a year and last summer he offered "The Theme of Death in Literature." His classes are generally limited to 20 students, and they fill up quickly.

Guerra Named Hidalgo DA

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) - State judges here have selected Rene Guerra of McAllen to serve as interim Hidalgo County district attorney.

Guerra, an assistant prosecutor, will serve until lawsuits against Hidalgo County District Attorney Oscar McInnis are settled. McInnis - who had been named in a dismissed murder solicitation indictment - is the subject of removal and disbarment suits.

Guerra, 33, replaces Preston Henrichson, who served as interim district attorney since September. Henrichson announced last month that he would resign the post in January.

McInnis has been disqualified from office pending the removal suit filed by the Texas Prosecutors Coordinating Council. A hearing on a motion to dismiss that suit is set for Jan. 26 in Corpus Christi.

McEachern Promoted At Federal Land Bank

Dale McEachern, 33, has been named manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Hereford by the local branch's board of directors.

McEachern replaces Woodrow Wilson, who retired Jan. 1 after spending 19 years as manager of the land bank in Mexico. Prior to a 2½-year stint in that city, he farmed for seven years near Halfway, 60 miles south of Hereford.

McEachern was graduated from Texas Tech in 1968 with a degree in accounting. McEachern, a Rotarian, and his wife Janet have two children—Denise, 10, and Clayton, 6. The McEacherns reside at 219 Fir.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, Jan. 10, the tenth day of 1979. There are 355 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1946, the first General Assembly of the United Nations convened in London.

On this date: In 1886, the American revolutionist, Thomas Paine, published his influential pamphlet, "Common Sense."

In 1889, France established a protectorate over the Ivory Coast in Africa.

In 1920, the League of Nations was established as the Treaty of Versailles went into effect.

In 1928, one of the chief architects of the Soviet Union, Leon Trotsky, was ordered into exile by the Soviet government.

In 1942, the Japanese invaded the Dutch East Indies in World War II.

In 1968, Sweden granted asylum to four American sailors who had deserted in Japan, saying they opposed the Vietnam war.

Ten years ago: Sweden became the first Western European country to announce it would establish full diplomatic relations with North Vietnam.

Five years ago: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger called on all oil-producing and oil-using nations to work for a long-term, multi-national agreement to solve the energy shortage.

One year ago: Two Soviet cosmonauts rocketed into space to join the crew of the orbiting Salyut 6 research station.

Today's birthdays: Opera baritone Sherill Milnes is 44 years old. Actor and dancer Ray Bolger is 75.

Thought for today: Our civilization is still in a middle stage...no longer wholly guided by instinct, not yet wholly guided by reason. - novelist Theodore Dreiser, 1871-1945.

Date Set for 4-H Leaders Retreat

The Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood is the place and Jan. 13 and 14 are the dates for a 4-H Teen Leader and Advisor Retreat," it has been announced by Claudette Mitchell, Deaf Smith County Extension Agent. She added that this weekend training will include fun-filled, action-packed learning activities for 4-H teen and adult leaders who work with younger 4-H members.

Shower Fetes Recent Bride

Mrs. David Carnahan, nee Jo Ann Veigel, was honored Saturday at a post-nuptial shower in the home of Mrs. W.E. Sparks, 506 Westhaven. The couple was married Dec. 23 at Abilene. Receiving guests during the recent bridal courtesy were the honoree, her grandmother, Mrs. Robert Veigel, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Tommy Carnahan, and Mrs. Sparks. The bride's mother, Mrs. Johnny M. Northcutt of Richmond Heights, Mo., was unable to attend. Finger sandwiches and tea cookies were served by the bride's cousin, Miss Holly Veigel, and her sister-in-law, Miss Amy Carnahan. The serving table was centered with a bouquet of blue-tinted daisies and draped with white lace overlaying blue linen. Presiding at the registry was Miss Vicki Veigel, another cousin of Mrs. Carnahan's. Hostesses who assisted Mrs. Sparks were Mmes. John D. Aikin, B.F. Cain, R.W. Eades, Herman Ford, Dean Herring, R.B. Hutson, Dennis Lomas, Elmore Rains, Clyde Rush, Charles Schiabs, Alex Schroeter, Dwaine Walker, Delmo Williams, S.O. Wilson and L.H. Woodford.

Annoyed Wives

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night my husband and I went to an interesting dinner. In the group were two Harvard professors. For some mysterious reason we began to discuss hostility, particularly among married couples. One of the professors said the best indication of true compatibility between a man and wife is HER reaction to HIS snoring. According to this erudite professor, a woman who truly loves her husband is not bothered by his snoring. In fact, it is "music to her ears" because she knows he is getting his rest.

Every now and then you print a letter about compulsive talkers — those non-stop types who refuse to relinquish the floor and manage to monopolize every conversation by connecting every sentence to the next with "and...uh..." Please tell me what to do about my sister-in-law, who fits this description to a T. She's coming to visit in February.

When I say my parents are Greek and Italian, I get those odd looks -- as if I am lying or hiding something.

Please tell me why would anyone care about someone else's ethnic background? I would never ask such a personal question. How should I respond to the jerks? -- An American

The woman talks incessantly plus the fact she is quite deaf. And please don't suggest a hearing aid. She has a drawer full -- says they make her nervous. In the meantime, her monologues drive me up the wall. Any suggestions? -- Bugsville

DEAR BUGS: Nod periodically. Smile a lot. Think about something else.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother is Greek. My father is Italian. My skin is darker than most Caucasians. In the past year I have been asked if I am Puerto Rican, Lebanese, Mexican, Syrian, Indian and Black.

I spoke up, said his theory was nonsense, and asked, "What about HER rest? Isn't that important?" He replied, "His snoring will not interfere with her rest. In fact, it helps her rest better because the sound is comforting."

My husband and I have been married for 23 years. I love him. He is a great teller of jokes -- most of which I have heard at least 20 times. I listen to him plenty during my waking hours. I don't want to listen to him all night, too.

Please print my letter so the professor will see it. I was no match for his facile tongue. In fact, he made me feel like a fool.

Who was it that said, "You can always tell a Harvard man -- but you can't tell him much?" -- Irked in Cambridge

DEAR IRKED: Probably a Yale man. Thanks for writing. DEAR ANN LANDERS:

Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Woodford, 118 Ave. B, entertained their two sons and families here over the Christmas holidays. Visiting in his parents' home was Bill Woodford of Houston, where he is a lawyer associated with one of the three largest law firms in that city. Also visiting here was his brother, Tom Woodford with his wife, Marty, and their three daughters, Karen, Ann and Jean, all from Denver, Colo. Tom Woodford is also a lawyer.

NICHOLSON SHOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Ben Nicholson: 50 Years of His Art" will be on display at the Smithsonian's Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden through Feb. 18, 1979. The museum says it is the first major American retrospective of works by one of Britain's leading abstractionists. It adds, "Nearly 70 paintings and 15 works on paper will reflect Nicholson's ceaseless innovation as an artist throughout his 50-year career, from his early still-lives and native landscapes through his severe all-white abstractions of the 1930s to the textured reliefs of the past decade." The museum said the show had been drawn from more than 50 public and private collections in the United States and abroad and was supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Girlstown Benefits From Club Donation

Members of Summerfield Study Club voted to give $25 to Girlstown at Borger for the purchase of a kiln. The donation was approved Thursday during the club's business meeting in the home of Mrs. Earl Lance Jr. The kiln, which cost $2,800, has been selected as the district project of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs (TFWC) of which Summerfield Study Club is a member. The kiln will be used by the Girlstown residents to make ceramics for sale. In other business, Mrs. Guy Walser reminded members that the Deaf Smith County Women's Forum will convene Jan. 29 at the Community Center. Also, annual committee reports were given for inclusion in the district report of TFWC. Mrs. George Delozier offered the subject for meditation by reading "Twelve Gifts of a Mended Heart." Mrs. Earl

Panhellenic Chapter To Plan Spring Rush

Education Issues Discussed for Club

Important issues in education were discussed by Dr. Harrell Holder, local school superintendent, Tuesday afternoon when he addressed members of Pioneer Study Club at K-Bob's Steak House. Introduced to the clubwomen by Mrs. Ray Johnson, Dr. Holder focused on three main issues in public education: 1) improvement of the reading program, 2) bilingual education and 3) the changing attitudes of taxpayers. Dr. Holder stated that there has been a great improvement in the local reading program since 1973 and that this is a continuing goal. He credited Hereford's stable family life as resulting in a higher quality of education. Concerning bilingual education, the superintendent stated that a large number of local students do not speak English upon enrollment here. It is planned that the local system help the migrant student to learn the English language while continuing his education in other subjects.

order for consideration of business. Annual reports were given by standing committee chairman for compilation into a district report. The Federation Council report was presented by Mrs. R.L. Wilson. Mrs. A. Petersen led the women in the Pledge of Allegiance to the US flag and O.G. Hill Sr. led the salute to the Texas flag. Mrs. J.V. Pickens offered the invocation. A report on King's Manor and Westgate was heard from Mrs. H.E. Miller. Also, Mrs. Johnson discussed the district project, which is Alibates Flint Quarry, Texas' only national monument. The quarry is located near Fritch, 35 miles north of Amarillo. Serving as hostesses at yesterday's meeting were Mmes. Paul Rudd, Tandy Legg and M.L. Simpson. In attendance at the luncheon meeting, in addition to those members already named, were Mmes. Frank Ball, Herman Ford, O.G. Hill Sr., Delmar Sigle, P.B. Sowell and Miss Roberta Campbell.

Wakan Ki Lo members present Rhonda Hollowell, Susan Brown, Willa Lawson, Kelly Killough, Deanna Pool, Cristi Crawford, Karen Cox and leaders Paula Eubanks and Glenice Thompson. To Con Da members present Dana Barber, Mary Lou Maldonado and leader Shirley Barber. O Ki Ta Mi members present Sammie Cherry, Dana Ulibarri, Sylvia Soliz and Cristie Valdez.

News From The Lodge

Wakan Ki Lo, O Ki Ta Mi and To Con Da Horizon Clubs met together for a special program that will bring them one step closer to the WoHeLo Medalion. Janice Kelley, interviewer for the Texas Employment Commission, gave a program on how to make an application for a job. First one must have a social security card, three good references, and a work permit if one is under the age of 16. A GATB test is available through the commission that will enable one to find out what area of work for which one is best qualified. Also DE, VOE and ICT are offered in high school to help young people find a job. Mrs. Kelley continued by giving tips when being interviewed by a prospective employer, dress neat, speak up, know something about the business of the company, never telephone about a job -- always go in person. She gave each of us a sample job application. In closing, she explained that a resume is a one page history of one's education, job abilities, and interest.

Kelly Killough presented Mrs. Kelley a Horizon Club Pin as a token of appreciation for giving the special program. The wave of new tax-relief amendments such as Proposition 13 has affected the budgets of school systems throughout the nation, Dr. Holder said, adding that the local school district lost 2 1/2 percent of its income. This amounts to a $565,000 difference locally. In conclusion, Dr. Holder said that, taking an overall view, students are getting a better education than some reports indicate. Mrs. William Wimberley called the club members to

Trouble in Turkey

And now Turkey. As if the chaos in Iran were not enough of a threat to a region in which so much of the world has a stake, religious strife has erupted in the country that had been the Mideast's most stable.

Ankara had to call the troops out to quell sectarian rioting that took more than a hundred lives in a broad region of southern Turkey. With more than a third of the 43 million Turks under martial law, the bloodshed may have been halted but the threat has not been removed.

And that, according to Prime Minister Bulent Ecevit, is nothing less than a challenge to national unity.

There are in the Turkish developments both similarities and marked differences to the upheaval in neighboring Iran. The clashes have involved Shiite Moslems, whose faith is also that of the majority of Iranians. But in Turkey, they have not been directed against the government but at another sect, the Sunnis.

And ethnic hostilities enter in. The trouble areas are heavily populated by Kurds, a people split among Turkey, Iran and Iraq. Kurdish separatists, who have carried on a guerrilla war with the Iraqis off and on for decades, have taken advantage of the disorder to push their own cause.

The most significant difference, however, is that the Iranian revolution is in large part caused by and directed against the government's efforts to modernize the country according to the pattern of the industrial, democratic West.

Turkey has already gone a considerable distance down that road, starting a half century ago with the collapse of the Ottoman Empire. The founder of modern Turkey, Kemal Ataturk, pushed through his modernization program with a determination which, in many respects, makes Iran's Shah look half-hearted in comparison.

Among other innovations, Ataturk fostered the development of political parties. The failure of the Shah to do likewise has been suggested in recent months as one cause of the vehemence of the opposition to his policies. Iran in transition lacks channels for expressing political and social differences other than rioting in the streets.

Not that Turkey has been any democratic paragon. It has seen enough of coups and strong-arm governments in recent decades to be fully familiar with the politics of power at its most basic. But through it all, the multi-party system has survived and an essentially parliamentary form of government has continued to function.

With the special case of pre-civil war Lebanon, a hybrid society that was atypical of the region in many respects, Turkey long has been a heartening example of a functioning (even if imperfectly) democracy in a Moslem society.

Now, it too finds its stability and unity threatened by religious forces. The current Turkish experience — taken into consideration with the instability that has characterized other regimes throughout the Moslem world, often very different in the details but with religion so often a significant or dominant factor — might suggest that there is something incompatible between Islam and the modern, democratic state.

If so, it is bad news not only for Turkey and the Mideast, but the world.

Drug Proposal Could Save

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration Wednesday proposed a model drug-substitution law for the states, which it said could save consumers up to $400 million a year or about 5 percent of the average American's $32 drug bill.

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. said that under the model law, "when a doctor writes a prescription for a high-priced brand-name drug, a licensed pharmacist will be able to select, instead, a lower-cost generic product that the Food and Drug Administration has determined is medically equivalent."

About 40 states already have laws permitting of requiring pharmacists to substitute cheaper generic drugs for brand-name products prescribed by a physician. But advocates of substitution say the laws generally are inadequate, or pharmacists ignore them because they have no incentive to sell cheaper drugs in place of more expensive ones.

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, which represents most of the nation's major drug makers, has opposed listing "equivalent" drugs, contending that possible differences could be important. The administration proposal, drafted by the Federal Trade Commission and the FDA, would give pharmacists the option to substitute but would not require them to do so. The prescribing physician could prevent substitution by writing "medically necessary" or some similar term on the prescription. The measure also would require that the consumer be informed if a substitution is planned and be given the right to insist that the prescription be dispensed as written, even if the physician did not specify that the brand name was medically necessary.

Employees Protected

WASHINGTON (AP) - Public employees who complain to their bosses in private enjoy the same free-speech protections as those who go public with their criticism, the Supreme Court ruled Tuesday.

Justices struck down a lower court's ruling that applied such First Amendment rights to public statements only.

Concorde Said Worthy To Fly In United States

LONDON (AP) - The supersonic Concorde airliner received its certificate of airworthiness from the U.S. Federal Aviation Administration Tuesday. Certificates were delivered to the British and French makers of the SST at separate ceremonies in London and Paris. The FAA's action made it permissible for U.S. airlines to operate Concordes. The first to do so will be Braniff International, the Dallas-based airline, which begins services between Dallas and Washington, D.C., this Friday.

From Washington, Concorde passengers can link up with British Airways or Air France Concordes flights to London or Paris. At the Paris ceremony, Transport Minister Joel Le Theule said France wanted to build a second generation of Concordes with British and American cooperation. Talks on the subject begin in March with British aerospace officials. Concorde was certified air worthy by the civil aviation authorities in Britain and France in 1975 after five million miles of test flights.

Neither the amendment itself nor our decisions indicate that this freedom is lost to the public employee who arranges to communicate privately with his employer rather than to spread his views before the public," Justice William H. Rehnquist wrote for the court. The test case decided today came from Mississippi, where a junior high English teacher, Bessie Givhan, sued a rural school district in Washington and Issaquena counties that fired her in 1971. She was not rehired for the 1971-72 school year. In a letter dated May 1, 1971, school principal James Leach notified the district superintendent that Mrs. Givhan was a competent teacher but had an "insulting and hostile attitude towards me and other administrators."

Teng Might Visit Houston

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston may be one of four or five U.S. cities Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping may visit after conferring with President Carter in Washington late this month. Louie Welch, president of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, said Tuesday the White House had contacted him about the possibility of such a Houston visit. Welch said Ambassador Robert Strauss told him it appears likely Houston will be among the cities. There had been earlier reports Teng had expressed interest in visiting an oil equipment manufacturing plant. Several such Houston firms have announced contracts to supply equipment to China.

instrumental composition. "You Needed Me" earned nominations for Ms. Murry in the record of the year and best pop vocal performance by a female categories. The song's composer, Randy Goodrum, was named in the song of the year category.

Meat Inspector Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department said Tuesday a former meat inspector has been indicted by a federal grand jury in Albuquerque, N.M., for alleged conflicts of interest and other violations of federal law.

The Bee Gee's sound track album from the film "Saturday Night Fever" - the biggest selling album in history with sales of 25 million copies - was nominated for album of the year and best pop vocal performance by a group as the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences announced 301 nominees for Grammys in a record 52 categories. Winners will be announced in a two-hour nationally televised awards ceremony on Feb. 15.

"Baker Street" by Gerry Rafferty and "Just the Way You Are" by Bill Joel filled out the record of the year nominations. Joel and "Just the Way You Are" also hit on the song of the year list. Competing with "Saturday Night Fever" for album of the year honors are "Even Now" by Barry Manilow, "Grease" by John Travolta, Olivia Newton-John and others, "Running on Empty" by Jackson Browne and "Some Girls" by the Rolling Stones. Other song of the year nominations are "Three Times a Lady" by Lionel Richie of the Commodores and "You Don't Bring Me Flowers" by Neil Diamond, Alan Bergman and Marilyn Bergman.

Officials said John W. Ryan of Eastland, Texas, was arrested and charged Jan. 8 by the grand jury with illegally "accepting monies from persons engaged in interstate commerce." The department said Ryan also was charged "with being in conflict of interest in inspecting his own cattle received at Sixty-Six Packing Co., Tucumcari, N.M., where he was assigned." Ryan resigned from his USDA job in April 1978 during the investigation by special agents of the department's Office of Investigation under the direction of Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Baca of the district of New Mexico, officials said.

Capturing four nominations apiece were Chuck Mangione, the bandleader and flugelhorn player, and Canadian pop singer Anne Murray, who have each won a Grammy in previous years. Mangione's "Feelin' So Good" was nominated for record of the year. His album "Children of Sanchez" is up for best pop instrumental category and for best album package, and the single "Consuelo's Love Theme" was nominated for best

Herd Scores 27 points In 4th Quarter

'Faces Comeback Two Points Short

By MARC HERRING
Brand Sports Editor

It seemed as if Hereford's varsity basketball team played two games last night, as it lost an action-packed contest, 75-73, to the Levelland Lobos at La Plata.

One game lasted the first three quarters of the regulation time and by its end the 'Faces' were behind by 15 points. The second game--the fourth quarter--had Hereford two points behind at the buzzer.

In a game that for the first seven minutes had even scoring at both ends of the court, Hereford matched the Lobos until the visitors took an 18-15 lead at the period's end. With numerous opportunities to take the lead due to Levelland mistakes, the Herd had trouble holding on to the ball as turnovers hurt both teams.

Being down by three points at the start of the second stanza, Hereford could not keep pace with the Lobos as they stretched their lead to 10 by the quarter's end. Levelland had jumped to a 28-19 lead midway through the quarter, before the Whitefaces closed the deficit to 32-31 by the 3:04 mark.

Levelland regained control of the tempo and ran off nine unanswered points, leading 45-35 at halftime.

Levelland's domination continued through the third period as it went to its biggest lead, 15, by the completion of the stanza. Failing to handle the Lobos' fast break, Hereford seemed out of the game as Levelland continued to pour in the points.

Trailing 62-46, Hereford suddenly came alive in the final period, and within a two minute span, the 'Faces' scored nine points to close the gap to 62-55. Using team play and the leadership of Jackie Mercer, Hereford put continual pressure on the visitors until tempers flared and a technical was called on a Levelland player.

Mercer sank the free throw to trim the deficit to 64-58.

Continuing the pressure and good team ball the locals pulled to within two on a short jumper and a layup by Mercer.

With 3:30 remaining in the game, Hereford continued its near-miracle finish by pulling to within one, 72-71 at the 1:29 mark after Mercer once again did the honors, this time from the charity stripe.

With 20 seconds left in the game, Hereford's David Mays muscled inside and scored a layup but he was called for charging, nullifying the basket.

With only five seconds remaining on the clock, Ernie Suarez fouled a Lobo player. Levelland made one of the two free throws and, with time running out, Hereford got the rebound, went the length of the court and at the buzzer Robert Graves missed on a layup.

Mercer led all scorers with 27 points. Dale Moore of Levelland had 16 points. There were 26 fouls called on the Lobos and two of their men fouled out. Hereford collected 17 personals during the game.

In the junior varsity game Hereford could not stay with the hot shooting of the underclassman Lobos as they fell 85-61. Leading the scoring for the local team was Bart Woffard with 18 and Mike Fraser with 10.

Next action for Hereford will be against district foe Coronado, coached by former Hereford mentor Barry Arnwine, on Jan. 16. Game time will be at 6 p.m. for the junior varsity and 7:30 for the varsity contest.

Fans Favor Playoff

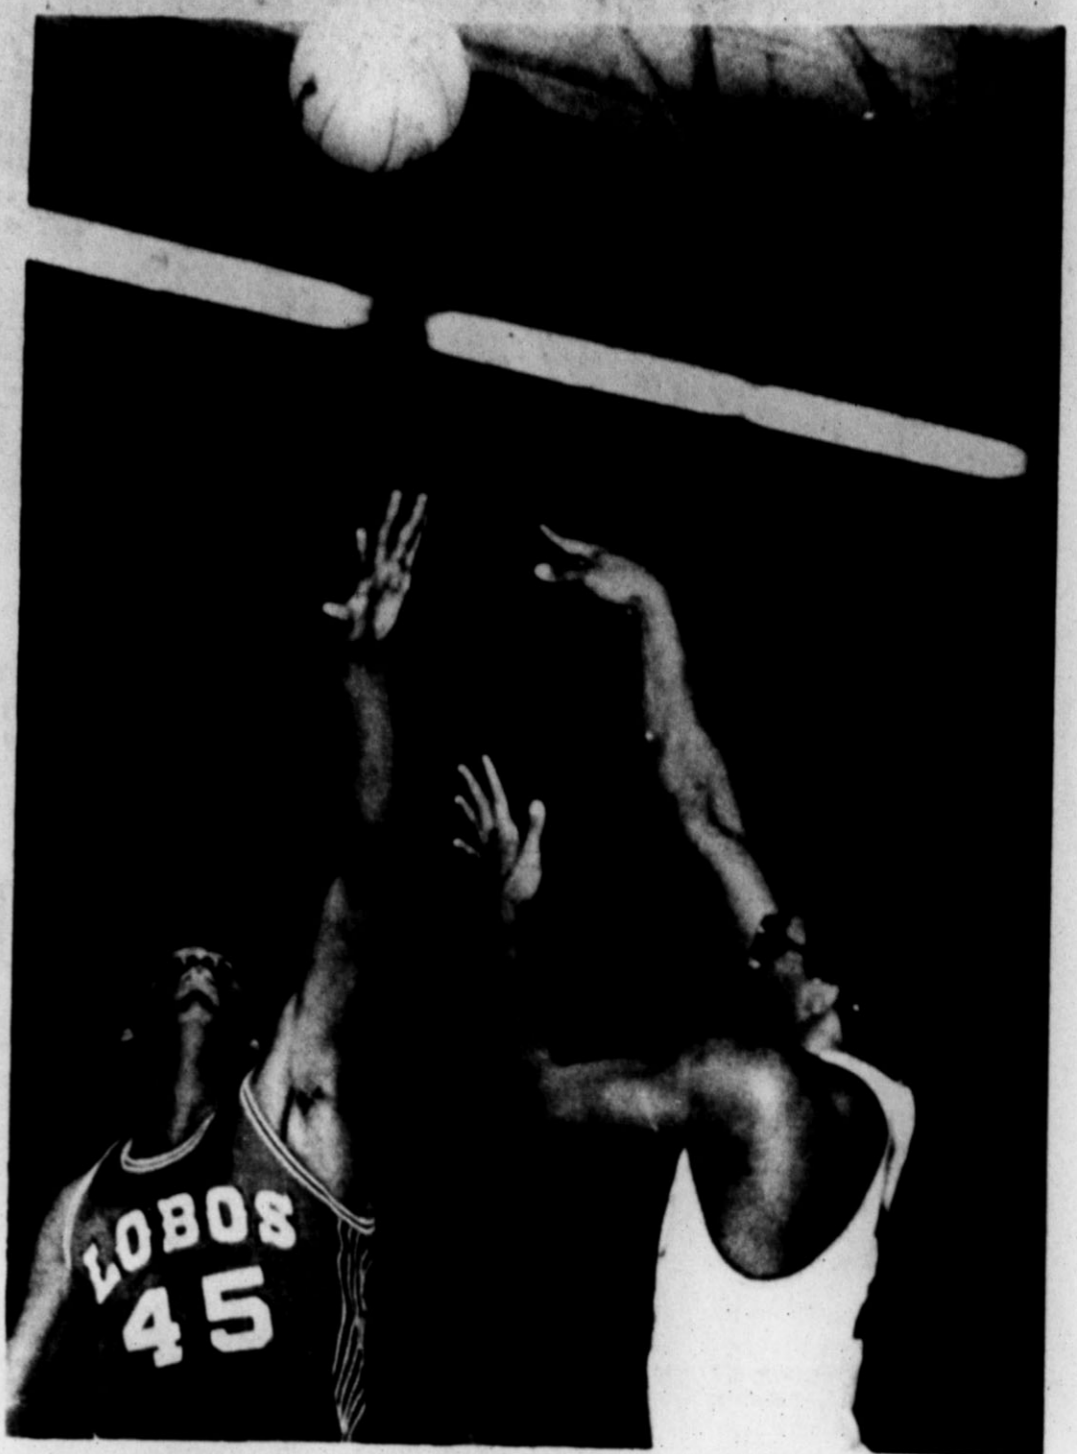

WASHINGTON (AP) - Fans favor a playoff for the national collegiate football championship by roughly a 5-to-2 margin, according to a poll taken by The Washington Star.

The newspaper's survey revealed today an overwhelming vote of 536 to 193 in favor of a playoff system to decide the national champion.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association, currently holding its annual convention in San Francisco, has been presented with a proposal for football playoffs.

The voting in The Star was also one-sided in favor of Alabama as this year's mythical national champion, the readers giving the Crimson Tide the edge over Southern Cal. 495 to 201.

The Star's poll ballot ran one day in the sports section recently after Alabama was voted the national champion in The Associated Press poll.

Two More Points

Jackie Mercer puts up a shot that gave him two of his game leading 27 points. Hereford lost the game despite a strong 4th quarter rally.

Larry Bird Leads ISU

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When Larry Bird is good, he is very, very good. And when he is bad...well, even then he is far from horrid.

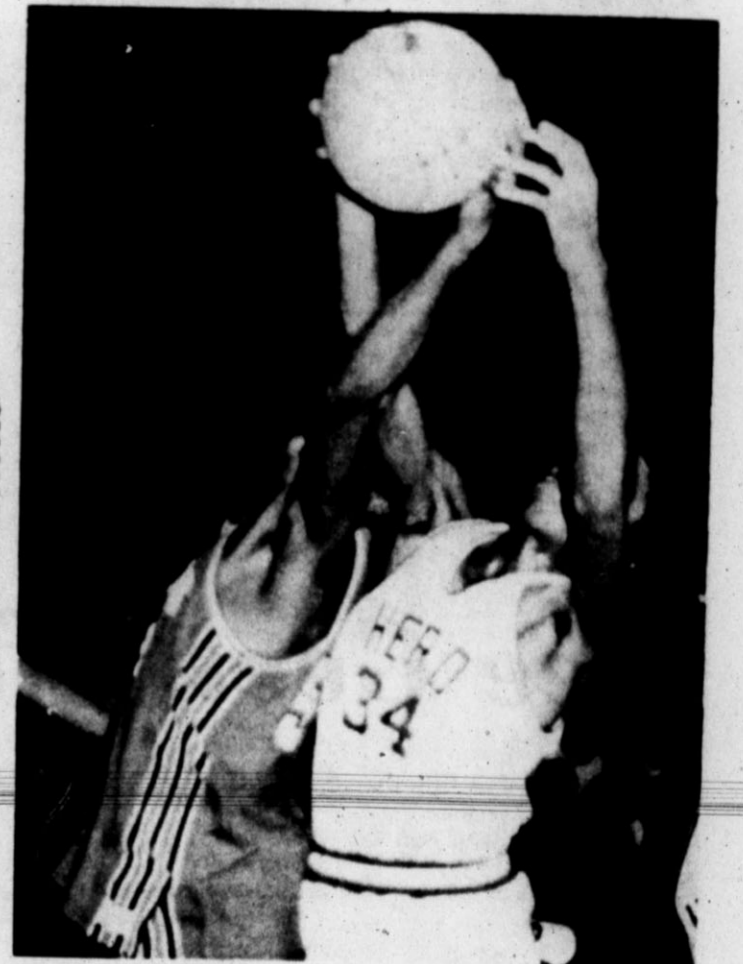

Despite a poor shooting game Tuesday night - 9 for 26 from the floor - the Bird Man of Indiana State still managed to look pretty good with 26 points, 16 rebounds and seven assists.

And those figures added up to an 83-64 college basketball victory for the ninth-ranked Sycamores over North Carolina A&T, their 12th straight of the season.

"Basically, Larry played a good game but he couldn't get the ball in the hole," said Indiana State Coach Bill Hodges.

"But we're very happy to get a victory, and as poorly as we played, it's good to get this one out of our system."

Sides Resigns As Coach

HOUSTON (AP) - Barry Sides, an assistant football coach at the University of Houston since 1966, has resigned.

Sides, 33, a former three years starting center and guard for the Cougars, said "I don't know what I'm going to do. I just felt like I wanted to get out of coaching and I'm at the age where I needed to make a choice now."

Sides, a former Spring Branch High School star, spent 10 years at UH as a full time assistant and three seasons as a student assistant. Sides was a member of the 1966 UH offense that led the nation in total offense.

Jefferson, Williams Receive Votes

Campbell NFL Rookie Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) - Running back Earl Campbell, whose league-leading 1,450 yards led the Houston Oilers into the National Football League playoffs, was named The Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year today by an overwhelming margin.

The Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Texas received 82 1/2 of the 84 ballots cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters, three from each NFL city. John Jefferson, a wide receiver with the San Diego Chargers, received one vote. The other one-half vote went to Tampa Bay Buccaneers quarterback Doug Williams.

Campbell's 1,450 yards surpassed the single-season rookie record of 1,162 set by San Diego's Don Woods in 1974 and broke the all-time Oiler rushing mark of 1,194 yards by Hoyle Granger in 1967. His 302 carries and 13 rushing touchdowns also established club records.

Campbell also became the first rookie to win the NFL rushing title since Jim Brown did it in 1957 and came within one of tying Gale Sayers' record of 14 rushing TDs by a rookie.

The third time he touched the ball as a pro, in Houston's season opener against Atlanta, he raced 73 yards for a touchdown and finished the game with 137 yards. The 5-foot-11, 225-pound native of Tyler, Texas, had six other games of more than 100 yards rushing and wound up the league leader despite sitting out one entire game with a pulled hamstring muscle and missing three-quarters of another with a broken rib.

Jefferson, a bespectacled speedster from Arizona State, tied Campbell for second place in NFL scoring by non-kickers with 13 touchdowns, all receiving. The 6-1, 185-pound native of Dallas with fifth in American Conference receiving with 56 catches and, with 1,001 yards, was one of only four NFL receivers to surpass 1,000 yards.

Williams, a 6-4, 215-pound native of Baton Rouge, La., and a Grambling graduate, won the Buccaneers' starting job early in the season. Despite missing five games with a broken jaw he was instrumental in guiding the Bucs to respectability.

Campbell's multiple ability - a magnificent combination of brute force and breakaway speed - forced defenses to key on him. That opened up the Oilers' passing game. And that in turn helped Houston to reach the playoffs for the first time since the 1969 American Football League season.

And even when the defenses keyed on him, it often did no good. When the short yardage was needed, the Oilers went to Campbell and more often than not he got it.

He carried 57 times in second-down, third-down or fourth-down situations with less than 3 yards to go for a first down - and got it 39 times for a .685 percentage. On third and less than 3 yards to go he averaged 5.3 yards per carry. Campbell had his best games on Monday night national television. On Oct. 23 he scored three touchdowns in a 24-17 victory over Pittsburgh. And on Nov. 20 he tore through the Miami Dolphins for 199 yards and four touchdowns in a 35-30 triumph.

Seahawks Patera Coach Of The Year

SEATTLE (AP) - When the brain trust of the Seattle Seahawks began scouting for a head coach three years ago, they wanted to find "the next Vince Lombardi or Don Shula."

The Seahawks believe they found him when they hired Jack Patera, who was named Tuesday as 1978 National Football League Coach of the Year by The Associated Press.

Under Patera's leadership, the third-year Seahawks just missed the playoffs in 1978, finishing 9-7 and in a three-way tie with Oakland and San Diego for second place in the American Conference West.

The nine victories were the most ever by a third-year team. Patera received 25 of 84 ballots by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, three from each league city.

Walt Michaels, who turned the New York Jets' fortunes around in his second year as their head coach, was a close second with 21 votes, followed by Dick Vermeil of the Philadelphia Eagles with 13 and Bum Phillips of the Houston Oilers with nine.

Others receiving votes were Tom Landry of Dallas, Chuck Noll of Pittsburgh, Leeman Bennett of Atlanta, Don Shula of Miami, Don Coryell of San Diego, Bart Starr of Green Bay and Chuck Fairbanks of New England.

Patera was en route to Mobile, Ala., for Saturday's Senior Bowl game and was not available for comment.

"Individual awards are not as meaningful as winning the Super Bowl, but I'm delighted for Jack," General Manager

Jack Thompson said Tuesday. "It's a plus for the Seahawks whenever one of the players or coaches is honored."

Thompson said coaches in the mold of Lombardi, the late Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskin coach, and Shula, of the Miami Dolphins, are rare.

"There are very few of them," Thompson said. "We truly think down the line he (Patera) will go down as one of the great coaches."

In his pro playing days during 1955-61, Patera never played on a real winner Baltimore Colts, Chicago Cardinals and Dallas Cowboys. But the Former University of Oregon star qualified because as an assistant coach with Minnesota, the Vikings amassed a 76-22 record during his 1969-75 tenure. Before that he was an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants.

"In Jack's case, we wanted someone with practice, somebody that would recognize that we were dealing with young players, someone who would not panic," Thompson said, adding that the Seahawks owners "expected many lean years before we got to the contending level."

The Seahawks won just two of 12 games in their first year, then improved to 5-9 in 1977, the best record ever for a second-year NFL expansion club.

This season, behind quarterback Jim Zorn and an improved defense, the Seahawks emerged as a bona fide NFL power.

Landry Thinks Staubach Best

DALLAS (AP) - Roger Staubach, the No. 1 passer in the National Football League, has missed again on the All-Pro team but Tom Landry says his quarterback at least lost to a worthy foe.

"I can't imagine why Roger wasn't chosen All-Pro," said Landry Tuesday. "There is only one quarterback who could beat Roger - that's Terry Bradshaw."

Bradshaw of the Pittsburgh Steelers was named to The Associated Press All-Pro first team while Seattle's Jim Zorn was quarterback on the No. 2 unit.

The coach of the Dallas Cowboys, who defend their

Super Bowl title against Pittsburgh in Miami Jan. 21, said Staubach "has played at an All-Pro level for three years."

Landry calls the plays for Staubach whereas Bradshaw is his own signal caller.

Asked if he thought the play-calling matter worked against Staubach, Landry said, "If the voters are using that as a measure then they are measuring the wrong thing. It's more difficult for Roger to take the plays from me than to call them on his own. He has less than 30 seconds to remember everything - call the play, set the formations. He doesn't have as much time. And, of course, he can still audible off the play."

Landry said the voters should come on performance. "Roger is just a tremendous leader. He has just been excellent," said Landry.

Landry conceded that Bradshaw has been brilliant. "With just a flick of his wrist he is on target," said Landry. "And he is an excellent runner. We've got to have pressure on Bradshaw to win."

Landry said it was "justified" that the oddsmakers rate the defending Super Bowl champions as three-point underdogs. "Pittsburgh has earned that right because it has played consistently well in the two playoff games," said Landry, who has called the American Conference champion Steelers "the best team in the National Football League" since early in the year.

"Our offense will have to score at least 21 points to win in the Super Bowl. Pittsburgh has demonstrated it can move the ball. Quarterback Terry Bradshaw has never played better."

Landry said it will be a physical Super Bowl. "When you play Pittsburgh it's physical," said Landry. "either one way or two ways - that's the Pittsburgh style. You have to meet 'em on their terms."

The Cowboys will work out today through Saturday and take Sunday off before flying to Ft. Lauderdale Monday, leaving at 2:10 p.m. CST.

Landry said he has not yet decided on the starting fullback for the Super Bowl - either Scott Laidlaw or Robert Newhouse, who has played sparingly in the playoffs because of a leg injury suffered during the regular season.

"Laidlaw has been excellent and Newhouse was having his best year until he got hurt," said Landry. "Newhouse is pretty much recovered."

In Baseball Draft Reds Select Lefthander

By FRED ROTHENBERG AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Bill Bordley and the California Angels wanted each other very badly. The Cincinnati Reds, however, have kept them apart for at least six months, and maybe forever.

Bordley is the 6-foot-4, lefthanded pitcher whom the scouts were calling the star of the draft. Bordley, a strikeout sensation who was 26-2 for the University of Southern California the past two seasons, was raised on the West Coast and dreams of playing major league baseball there. In fact, he loves the West Coast so much he wrote letters to the teams not in California, explaining that he preferred that those clubs not draft him in Tuesday's winter draft of free-agent amateur talent.

In the letter, Bordley said he wanted a certain amount of money and some incentive bonuses. Joe Bowen, vice president in charge of scouting for the Reds, said Tuesday that Bordley's asking price was "substantial" and that one of the incentives was a bonus provided he reached the major leagues within a certain time.

The Angels, who had the No. 4 pick in the secondary phase for players picked before, never received a letter from Bordley.

"He'd sign with us in five minutes," said California President Buzzie Bavasi.

Philadelphia, with the first pick in the secondary phase, listened to Bordley, selecting instead Mark Davis, a lefthanded pitcher who struck out 191 batters in 93 1-3 innings in his senior year at Granada High School in Livermore, Calif. The Phillies announced shortly after picking Davis that they had signed him to a contract.

Toronto, very concerned with Bordley's signability and not wanting to waste a first-round draft choice, picked Nattie George, an outfielder from San Jose, Calif.

Then California and Bordley had to sweat out one more pick, but the California Connection wasn't to be. Cincinnati claimed him.

"We've talked to him, and we knew he preferred to stay on the West Coast," said Bowen. "But in baseball, you don't get to pick the teams, the teams pick you."

"He was the best player available, so we took him. There just wasn't much else. We'll just have to take our chances."

Bordley told The Associated Press late Tuesday: "I'm really disappointed, so now I'm going back to USC...When I talked to the Cincinnati scouts, I explained to them that my dad had open-heart surgery and my brother had a serious accident.

and my other brother is going into the Air Force. I had counted on one of them to relieve me of the burden at home.

Left-handed pitchers seemed to be the prize picks Tuesday, with Davis and Bordley going first and third in the secondary phase and Neal Heaton, a southpaw flamethrower from Lake Ronkonkoma, N.Y., being picked by the New York Mets as the No. 1 selection in the regular phase of the draft. The regular phase is for players never drafted before.

In all, a record high of 307 players were chosen in the 14th annual winter draft.

Goski Out With Broken Foot

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) - Tim Goski, a 6-foot-1 transfer guard from Westfield, N.J. broke his foot in practice Tuesday and will be lost to East Texas State University for three to four weeks.

Goski, who was averaging 18.5 points per game, was named Lone Star Conference Player of the Week last week, and was named to the all-tournament team in the Dallas Baptist College Christmas Classic in December.

Sports Shorts

By The Associated Press SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Butch Buchholz has resigned as commissioner of the troubled World Team Tennis after he declined to move with the league offices from St. Louis to Los Angeles.

Buchholz stepped down Tuesday, said WTT Chairman of the Board David L. Peterson, because he did not want to move his family and business to California.

A successor to Buchholz has not been named.

WTT offices have been located in St. Louis since 1976 but are being moved so that they can coordinate with World Team Tennis' Properties.

Most of the teams playing the 1978 season folded during the fall, with Peterson's Golden Gaters one of the few survivors. Several new franchises are planned and the league says it will play during 1979.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Unseeded Kathy Harter stunned No. 3 Stephanie Tolleson 6-1, 6-1 Tuesday in the first round of a $25,000 women's professional tennis tournament here.

Tolleson was slowed by a circulatory ailment and near-freezing temperatures that slowed her response to Harter's aggressive serves and volleys. The tournament is part of the Avon Futures tour.

Tolleson was the third ranked player knocked out of first-round play. Top-seeded Beth Norton and eighth-seeded Diane Desfor both lost in Monday's matches at the McFarlin Tennis Center.

Lea Antonopolis, sixth-rated, squeaked through the first round in the longest match Tuesday, defeating Nancy Yeargan 7-6 5-2, 6-7 7-5, 6-4. Dana Gilbert, the No. 5 seed, disposed of Val Ziengenfuss 6-4, 6-4.

COAMO, Puerto Rico (AP) - Lasse Viren of Finland, Henry Rono of Kenya and Bill Rodgers of the United States will participate in the San Blas de Illescas marathon next month.

Viren, winner of the 5,000 and 10,000 meter events at the 1976 Montreal Olympics, won the event in 1974 with a time of 1:06:17. Rono won last year in 1:04:46.

Rono, Viren and Rodgers, who won the Boston and New York marathons last year, were invited along with runners from 27 countries for the Feb. 4 marathon on Puerto Rico's south coast.

Walsh Hired By 49ers As Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - "There will be," Eddie DeBartolo Jr. vowed, "no czar."

The young owner of the San Francisco 49ers has had it with one-man rule. After showing that one man, Joe Thomas, to the door, he's now splitting up the power on his football team, beginning with head Coach Bill Walsh.

On Tuesday, Walsh became the 49ers fifth coach since DeBartolo bought the team in 1977. But for the first time in those 22 months, General Manager Thomas did not choose the coach - owner DeBartolo did. And he gave him some of Thomas' power.

"The chemistry is right between us," DeBartolo said in announcing he had given Walsh a four-year contract as coach and director of football operations. "That's important. There was an immediate need for a change in the organization. I was not happy with my image or the image of the team."

"Joe Thomas is a very good football man but he liked to operate alone. I can't operate like that. I own the team and Bill Walsh knows that."

But 47-year-old Walsh, veteran of 10 years as a pro assistant and two as head coach at Stanford, isn't a "yes" man. He had a good thing going in Palo Alto and knew it - coaching some of the smartest athletes in the country on the one of the prettiest campuses, backed by some of the ablest administrators.

He says he would not have left except to take another job in the Bay Area. When Coach Fred O'Connor was fired along with Thomas, that became possible.

GOLF

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. - Johnny Miller fired a 6-under-par 66 at the Canyon Country Club to win the eighth annual Day with the All-Americans charity golf tournament.

Five pros tied for second at 68: Lee Elder, Jay Haas, Mike McCullough, Mac McLendon and Bob Zender. Craig Stadler and Bob Murphy were next at 69.

Hope Golf Features Seasoned Pros

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The new faces of 1979 — those hopeful youngsters who recently gained their playing rights — are among the missing in the Bob Hope Desert Classic, the event that kicked off the PGA Tour season today. They had no chance to play. None.

The only way they could have made it into the tournament field of 128 pros was through the qualifying round.

And, for the first time in many years, there was no qualifying round.

The entire field was filled with exempt players, those who don't have to qualify. In fact, some players normally eligible for a spot in the field — those who made the cut in the last official event of 1978 — were shut out.

The problems were manifold: the relatively small field; the large number of older players who exercised their options to appear in the prestigious affair; the growing prize money, $275,000 compared with $160,000 three years ago, and the fact that this is the opening event of the season.

Probably the strongest field in the 20-year history of the Hope is on hand for the marathon five-day, 90-hole event that is played over four desert courses.

Heading the list is Jack Nicklaus, making one of his rare appearances in this affair that has each of the pros playing one round on each course, each day with a different set of amateur partners.

"I haven't played here in some time and I thought it might be fun to come back," Nicklaus said. He last played in the Hope in 1973, losing to Arnold Palmer. It was Palmer's fifth Hope triumph, and his last in the United States. He's back again, combining competition with duties as an announcer for NBC, which will telecast portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Nicklaus, still considered the world's premier performer, scored his 15th major professional tournament triumph last year in the British Open, also won the Australian Open for the sixth time and took three American events in an abbreviated schedule. He'll play even less this year, about 12 tournaments.

"There's really nothing left for me to prove in the routine tournament," he said. "I'll concentrate on the majors and play other tournaments only as I need them to prepare for the majors."

His chief challenger for world supremacy — Tom Watson, who has won Player of the Year honors for the past two seasons and last year set a moneywinning record — is skipping this one.

But the field includes defending champion Bill Rogers, PGA king John Mahaffey, U.S. Open title-holder Andy North, Lee Trevino, Jerry Pate, Ben Crenshaw and Dave Stockton.

Former President Gerald Ford, who will play a minimum of nine tour pro-am events this year, tops the amateurs. He's in a team with Hope and actor Clint Eastwood and will play one round each with Rogers, Dr. Gil Morgan, Lee Elder and Hubert Green.

Iceskating Tough For Bradshaw

NEW YORK (AP) — "Man, look at my hands sweating — I'm more nervous than I've ever been in a football game," Terry Bradshaw said as he donned a pair of ice skates at the Rockefeller Center rink. "This is tougher than looking down the throats of Too Tall Jones and Harvey Martin any day."

It was an awkward, uncomfortable moment for the nine-year veteran quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers, named by The Associated Press as the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League. But as is his nature, he took it all in high good humor.

With Super Bowl XIII only 11 days away, here he was — the man designated to beat Roger Staubach and the champion Dallas Cowboys — putting on a pair of razor-sharp blades and preparing to do a whirling dervish number with his wife, JoJo Starbuck, for a pre-bowl television special.

Did old Art Rooney Steeler owner and Coach Chuck Noll know the risk being taken by their million-dollar field general?

"Good gosh, no," he said. "If they knew I was here doing this they would skin my hide. Mr. Rooney would swallow his cigar."

It wasn't all that treacherous, after all. Bradshaw, who as a kid skated on frozen lakes around Shreveport, La., only had to glide arm-in-arm with JoJo toward a camera and then JoJo, a national pairs champion and an Olympic finalist, completed the pirouetting, spinning and leaping routine to a lilting love song — about two minutes of it.

The tape will be part of "Super Bowl Saturday Night," a two-hour special Jan. 20 over NBC 9-11 p.m. EST on the eve of the Dallas-Pittsburgh battle for football's biggest prize.

Terry and JoJo share the stage with such celebrities as Johnny Carson, Bob Hope, Angie Dickinson and Dean Martin.

"I wouldn't mind so much if they'd let me just go out there and skate around," Bradshaw said. "But I have to spin with JoJo, hold her down and things like that. It makes me a little jittery."

They wanted Terry also to sing a song — at least lip sync a record he taped for Mercury a few years ago — but he was given an 11th-hour reprieve.

"We couldn't find the record," the loose, wisecracking quarterback said. "Once I skated and sang 'Happy Birthday' to JoJo in a show at Hershey, Pa. There were 18,000 people in the stands. I was terrified. But take my word for it — I am the best off-key singer in all football."

They are a handsome, charming couple — the Bradshaws, now married 2½ years. Terry is 6-foot-3, 215 pounds with a strong Nordic face, pugnosed as a prize fighter and a cleft chin. JoJo looks like a fragile doll with her slender figure, blue eyes and close-cropped golden hair.

One would think it was a marriage made in heaven — or, at least Hollywood. The story-book football hero and the ice ballerina from the show world, two people who don't have to live the shadow of the other's fame.

Masters Tennis Minus Names

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball has its Yankees and Dodgers, football its Cowboys and Steelers, tennis has Jimmy Connors — but not Bjorn Borg, Vitas Gerulaitis or Guillermo Vilas — and John McEnroe, a possible future champion, plus a string of competent non-champions contesting the Grand Prix Masters title.

The eight-man, round-robin Masters started today at Madison Square Garden, the culmination of the 1978 Grand Prix tour. The field is supposed to include the top points winners from last year, but a few abstentions prevent the Masters from being a pure championship.

On the other hand, the no-shows opened the door to some other hard workers.

Second-seeded Eddie Dibbs met No. 7 Corrado Barrazzutti and No. 6 Brian Gottfried was up against No. 3 Raul Ramirez in today's afternoon matches, while Connors takes on No. 4 Harold Solomon and No. 5 McEnroe plays No. 8 Arthur Ashe tonight.

With only the youngster McEnroe of real star quality, there was a sigh of relief when Connors let organizers know practically at the last moment that he would defend his Masters title. Tournament director Ray Benton was more diplomatic about it.

"It was a great field before. Now it's better," he said.

The Masters, with a kitty of $400,000 in one of the world's biggest, most storied arenas, is the richest event in tennis. Last year, with Connors, Borg and Vilas, it provided some of the best matches of the year — maybe of all time.

And that's probably why a month ago Benton was saying that advance ticket sales almost equalled the entire advance sale for 1978's Masters. That was long before this field was set and well after Borg and Vilas threatened not to play.

Last year, Vilas, after a grueling 1977 tournament schedule, objected to having to play the Masters first thing in the new year. Borg had a similar distaste. Together, whether by design or happenstance, the two threw the schedule of matches into a ditcher and embarrassed officials at Colgate, which sponsors the tournament.

JACK EXPERIMENTS

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the acknowledged King of Golf, admits that he still makes changes in his swing, even in the pressure-cooker of a big tournament.

"I experiment all the time on a golf course," Jack admitted. "I don't care if it's the Masters or the U.S. Open. I won't be satisfied with a bad swing."

BY ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

It took awhile, but the Indiana Pacers have finally tamed the wild, wild West.

Indiana won on the road

Pacers Tame Portland

against a Pacific Division club for the first time in team history Tuesday night, journeying to Portland and coming away with a 112-104 victory over the Trail Blazers.

The Pacers had lost 25 consecutive road games to Pacific Division teams in their three years in the National Basketball Association.

"Usually when we come in here we're blown out by half-time," said Pacers guard Ricky Sobers, who scored 12 of his 20 points in the fourth quarter. "It's very gratifying to win out here, especially because Portland has one of the best home records 16-5 and because this is the first game on our four-game swing."

In other NBA games Tuesday night, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the New York Knicks 106-94, the Denver Nuggets clobbered the Washington Bullets 121-90, the San Antonio Spurs edged the Detroit Pistons 116-114, the San Diego Clippers defeated the New Orleans Jazz 114-107, the Golden State Warriors trimmed the Chicago Bulls 103-101 and the Houston Rockets beat the Kansas City Kings 126-110.

Indiana scored six straight points to take lead for good at 88-85 with 8:18 remaining.

The Blazers, who have lost four of their last five games, lost guard Lionel Hollins, who sprained his right ankle early in the game. Backcourtmate Dave Twardzik led Portland with 33 points.

Portland outscored Indiana 23-2 from the free throw line in the first half and 42-20 for the game, but the Pacers had a 46-31 edge in field goals.

Lakers 106, Knicks 94
Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, wearing No. 50 instead of his usual No. 33 because his mother forgot to return his jersey after doing the laundry, hit 12 of 15 shots and scored 28 points as the Lakers easily beat the Knicks and climbed within one-half game of Seattle and Phoenix in the Pacific Division.

Abdul-Jabbar scored 20 of his points in the second half, when the Lakers moved in front by as many as 20.

Nuggets 121, Bullets 90
Denver scored the first seven points and never trailed, leading Washington by as many as 40 points en route to its third straight victory. David Thompson scored 16 of his game-high 22 points in the first half, when the Nuggets connected on 57 percent of their shots.

Spurs 116, Pistons 114
George Gervin scored 32 points and Larry Kenon had 29 for San Antonio.

Detroit Coach Dick Vitale was called for a technical foul with one second to go when he rushed onto the court after one of his players, Leon Douglas, had fallen down. The free throw by Kenon gave San Antonio a two-point lead.

The Pistons tried an alley-oop play and scored what appeared to be the tying basket at the buzzer, but it was disallowed because of offensive goaltending by Terry Tyler.

Clippers 114, Jazz 107
San Diego led 105-93 with 4:16 remaining but New Orleans scored 10 in a row before a basket by Randy Smith and two free throws by Lloyd Free clinched it for the Clippers. Free scored 34 points for San Diego while Rich Kelley scored 29 points and Spencer Haywood, playing his first game since being acquired from New York on Friday, had 27 points and 10 rebounds in 41 minutes for the Jazz.

Warriors 103, Bulls 101
Phil Smith scored 32 points to lead Golden State, but fouled out with 5:44 remaining. Chicago reeled off eight points in a row to pull to within 101-99, but Warriors center Robert Parish responded with a 20-foot jumper for the eventual winning points.

Rockets 126, Kings 101
Rudy Tomjanovich, wearing a plastic mask to protect a broken nose suffered last month, scored a season-high 31 points in 31 minutes as Houston beat Kansas City. He scored 14 points in the first period as the Rockets opened a 12-point lead and never were caught.

Moses Malone had 26 points and 22 rebounds and Slick Watts handed out 12 assists to help Houston to its 12th victory in the last 17 games.

Death Recommended in Sexual Child Abuse Cases

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A special House committee on child pornography has recommended the death penalty for murderers committed in cases of aggravated sexual abuse.

An aggravated case is one in which the victim is subjected to beatings or other violence beyond the sexual attack itself.

The committee, headed by Rep. Ralph Wallace III, D-Houston, made 39 recommendations to the Legislature, which convened Tuesday. Included were proposals to make it easier to prosecute sexual abuse cases and incest.

"Child pornography should not be the major focus of our concern. It is the brutalization of our children, suffering perverted physical and psychological abuse, that has brought us to this point, and the reading and viewing of materials depicting such acts is but a spinoff of the underlying victimization," the committee said.

"The act of selling these materials is guaranteeing that there will be additional abuse of children."

The committee found one of the most common types of child pornography is that made by individuals of their own children or neighborhood children.

"All types of pornography may be used with a child to convince him that the type of conduct shown is acceptable," the committee said.

It followed that conclusion with a recommendation that the Legislature "enact laws against those who use children in pornography and that the Legislature act quickly in passage of a child pornography statute."

The committee said Houston probably is the key distribution center in Texas for child pornography, and one distributor is located in the Rio Grande Valley area.

"In three commercial distribution cases filed in the Valley area, there is every indication to believe that Texas is exporting pornography to Mexico, both adult and child pornography," the report said.

It said information obtained from vice divisions of police and sheriffs' departments "indicates that child pornography has been available in the past in all major cities, including Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo and smaller cities such as Brownsville, McAllen and Killeen."

"These materials have been sold over the counter. At the present time, no city reports having child porn available over the counter," it added.

But officers in major cities believe they could find a source of supply of child pornography if they were determined to purchase it, the report said.

Again and again the report stressed the theme that child pornography cannot be separated from sexual abuse of children.

"Many of the films show children obviously unwilling to participate, as they may be held down or pushed into action by other children or adults.... Much of the materials have clear themes of sado-masochism... The dominant theme is that sexual abuse of children is enjoyable and socially sanctioned by the sexually liberated members of society," the report said.

Recommendations of the committee included:

-Legislation making it a penitentiary offense for doctors and hospitals to fail to report sexual abuse cases.

-Requiring owners of adult bookstores, X-rated movie houses, modeling studios and massage parlors to file affidavits of ownership with the attorney general.

-Allowing building owners to void leases when their property is used for obscene purposes.

-A requirement that persons selling or distributing obscene materials keep confidential records of the names and addresses of persons from whom they obtain their material. The information could be disclosed only to law enforcement officers.

-Passage of a law prohibiting open display of sexually explicit material in commercial establishments generally accessible to minors.

-Addition to the Texas Penal Code of a new felony offense of aggravated incest.

-Prison terms of two to 20 years for persons convicted of incest a second time.

-Establishment of a procedure for making background investigations of previous sex offenses. Employers would be required to use this procedure whenever they hire persons whose jobs will include working with children.

-Special training of police officers and school counselors in dealing with sexual abuse cases, including interrogation and investigation.

-New laws allowing emergency removal of children from their homes by police or Texas Department of Human Resources investigators.

-Legislation providing up to a year in jail for harboring runaways.

-State facilities to provide temporary shelter and care for runaways.

-Court procedures allowing sexually abused juveniles to testify in closed judicial chambers in the presence of only the judge, prosecutor and defense attorneys. The testimony could be videotaped and presented to the jury in closed session.

"The trauma in testifying may be 15 times more than the trauma of the abuse, according to case workers and juvenile officers. ... We need to make changes in our criminal justice system to ensure more sensitive and appropriate handling of intra-family sexual abuse," the report said.

1970s Reveal New Economic Extremes

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market craze gave way to the real estate game, the horse-power race to the miles per gallon crawl, and the vital, spontaneous consumer movement to heavy-handed government regulation.

Which is to say that as Americans in the 1970s sought to modify the extremes of the 1960s, new extremes may have been created.

In the 1960s, nothing in medical care was too expensive.

In the 1970s hospitals are being closed. In the 1960s demand for services led to higher taxes. In the 1970s people demand that taxes be cut.

Twenty years ago it was fashionable to move to the suburbs. Now the inner city retracts some of the same people. In the 1960s, savings were stressed; in the 1970s credit became a way of life.

But if you take the view of business, few changes are more obvious than the growth of government regulations, which now involve almost every decision, and almost bury the decision in a confusion of paper.

Murray Weidenbaum, former assistant treasury secretary and now head of the Center for the Study of American Business at St. Louis' Washington University, lists some of the ways management decisions are affected:

"What lines of business to go into, what products can be produced, which investments can be financed, under what conditions can products be produced, where can they be marketed, what prices can be charged, what profit can be made?"

Weidenbaum isn't through with the numbers. Regulation can have serious indirect effects also, he says, such as the discouragement of new products or because of adverse effects on employment.

"The minimum wage law," he writes, "has priced many teenagers out of labor markets. One increase in the statutory minimum wage, he says, reduced teenage employment by 225,000 jobs below predictions."

One of the major changes in the 1970s-style regulatory activity is that new government agencies are not limited to single industry, such as transportation, but have unlimited jurisdictions.

As examples, he points to The Environmental Protection Agency, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the Consumer Product Safety Commission and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

The activity of such agencies, he writes in the Prudential Magazine, does not fit comfortably the notion of benign and wise officials always making sensible decisions in society's greater interests.

He concedes that any realistic appraisal of government regulation must acknowledge that important and positive benefits have resulted from some agency activities: less pollution, fewer product hazards, reduced job discrimination and other socially desirable goals.

Officer Involved In Icebox Chase

HOUSTON (AP) — Two men found themselves on ice after leading Houston police on a high-speed chase through a trail of smashed refrigerators that almost knocked an officer cold.

Detective J.D. Cullar said he was driving to work Sunday when he saw two pickup trucks loaded with four refrigerators each, followed by a passenger car.

Remembering a cargo theft case that involved stolen refrigerators and freezers, Cullar called for help, but the drivers of the trucks took off when they spotted the patrol car.

Cullar was chasing one truck down the freeway at speeds of 89-90 miles per hour when the load of refrigerators broke loose and flew into the street, forcing him to do some fancy dodging.

The driver of the truck lost control of the vehicle, which crashed, and Cullar captured its driver. The other truck was stopped without incident, the detective said.

Cullar said the refrigerators had been taken from a just-completed apartment complex and the two trucks were listed as stolen.

Charles T. Gunderson, 24, and Jon S. Williams, 23, both of Houston, were charged with burglary and theft.

Most Citrus Producers Covered by Insurance

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Most Rio Grande Valley citrus producers, hard hit by freezing temperatures last week, are covered by the Federal Crop Insurance Program from crop losses, an FCIC spokesman said Tuesday.

"It will be a week or two before we have a full assessment of the damage, but it looks significant at this point," said Ben A. Jordan Jr., director of the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma region of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.

"You can expect damage to the fruit and time the temperature drops to 26 degrees for as long as four hours," he said. "In one major citrus area, the temperature stayed at 21 degrees for 12 hours the night of December 24. That's reason enough to believe the damage will be heavy."

The FCIC currently has two teams of adjusters working in the area as a result of freezing temperatures the 9th and 10th of December. Jordan said additional personnel would be sent to the Valley when the extent of the damage is known. Jordan said the total liability of crops affected in the area could reach $3.3 million.

Rural Crime Increases

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — It's 2:30 a.m. when someone gets into a $29,000 tractor on a dealer's lot and drives it away. A few people notice it going down the rural highway in Champaign County, but no one calls the police.

A farmer near Lake City goes to his unlocked barn to get his soybean herbicide. Seven bags are missing.

These isolated incidents are indicative of what is happening all over the country — crime in the rural areas has been on the upswing this decade.

The rate of serious crimes, known as the crime index, increased 43 percent in rural areas of this country between 1972 and 1976.

"This thing sort of exploded on us," said Ken Cheatham, director of local governmental affairs for the Farm Bureau. "We know that across the nation rural crime is going up 2-to-1 to urban crime." In Illinois for example, there was a 1.1 percent increase in crime in rural areas from 1975 to 1976, while crimes in major cities declined 7.3 percent and in suburban areas they went down 5.7 percent.

"Law enforcement agencies everywhere say it is a rapidly escalating problem, but it's hard to say what the volume is," said Cheatham. "Our best estimate from talks with law enforcement people across the country is about $500 million annually."

One reason rural areas seem to be attracting more thieves is the isolated nature of the area.

"They think they won't be caught," said Sheriff Jim Durst of Woodford County, who is secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Sheriff's Association. "Out in the country, there will be no witnesses who might see something."

People who moved from big cities to rural areas to escape crime may be surprised, said Cheatham. "A farmer who was isolated back on a country road used to be safe, and he didn't worry about crime," he said. "Now, they are being selected by the thief because they are isolated."

Wayne Baughman, executive director of field services for the Farm Bureau, said the interstate highways had made the criminals more mobile.

"They can make a raid on property and be on their way in short order," said Baughman. "You can get $3,000 to $5,000 worth of agriculture chemicals on a pickup without any trouble."

Another factor, cited by many sheriffs, is the attitude of some county people.

"I drove over to my neighbor's place," said Baughman. "The car was gone but the garage was open and the house was totally unlocked. That's commonplace but... that's an open target."

Sheriff Butch Kimmel of Whiteside County said some thieves were heading for rural areas because of stricter law enforcement in the cities.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Historic inauguration ceremonies for Texas' first Republican governor in more than a century top Austin's political and social calendar for next week.

Bill Clements will take the oath of office at noon January 16 on the familiar flag and bunting-draped platform at the south steps of the capitol.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a Democrat launching his third term, will share the inaugural festivities with Clements, but there is no doubt who will be in the spotlight.

Legislators launched their 66th biennial session here January 9; and agendas of both House and Senate already are stacked high.

Clements put the finishing touches on his top level executive staff just before lawmakers began their own preliminary organization, which included re-election of House Speaker Bill Clayton by representatives.

Legislators usually mark time while awaiting recommendations of the incoming governor. They may be listening a little more attentively this time, since the overwhelmingly Democratic House and Senate haven't looked to a Republican in the statehouse before.

Inaugural festivities for Clements will open with GOP fund-raising events Monday at Austin Municipal Auditorium.

A breakfast, prayer service, oath-taking ceremonies, a barbecue on the capitol grounds, parade, Young Texans celebration, inaugural symphony concert and five inaugural balls make up the Tuesday program.

Cuts Ordered

The State Insurance Board ordered cuts in workers compensation rates which may save businessmen $60 million a year.

Reductions effective February 1 average 5.3 per cent statewide. They are the first in a decade for coverage insuring workers against injuries received on the job.

Contractors will receive a 7.6 per cent cut and oil companies 8.8 per cent. The premium decrease for manufacturing firms is only four per cent, however, and other category including commercial firms will average a 4.3 per cent cut.

Shipbuilders and ship repair yards are an exception. Due to accident experience, their rates will jump 25 per cent, the maximum allowed.

Texas Trial Lawyers Association indicated they may appeal the board order, on grounds it allows too much for company expenses and taxes, and too little for claim payment.

White Takes Over
Mark White Jr. took the oath of office as Texas 44th attorney general January 1, promising a tough but open and fair administration.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe was among a large group of officials who turned out for the New Year's Day ceremony. Briscoe predicted White "will make the best attorney general Texas ever had."

Other new officials moving into their offices included Supreme Court Associate Justice Franklin A. Spears and Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Sam Houston Clinton.

White said bulk of the attorney general's legal staff will be retained, although he stirred some unrest by handing dismissal slips to about 30 employees.

Courts Speak

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the involuntary manslaughter conviction of a Houston man although he did not actually kill anyone.

In other cases, the court: —Overturned a Kleberg County marijuana conviction due to insufficient evidence.

—Reversed a Cameron County heroin conviction where a trace of the drug was found in a balloon held in a woman's mouth.

—Upheld three consecutive life sentences given a Dallas man for aggravated robbery and attempted murder.

—Affirmed an 80-year sentence of a Corpus Christi man in a shooting death.

Southeast Texas health care agencies filed suit in Austin to prevent establishment of the first Texas hospital for terminally-ill cancer patients serving Jefferson, Orange, Hardin, Newton and Jasper counties.
