Large Turnouts Decide City, School Positions

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Hereford voters turned out in large numbers Saturday for city commission and school district races to re-elect three incumbents, oust another and dash the hopes of a Mexican-American group which rallied for Hispanic candidates outside the Community Center.

The turnout was the largest ever for the city election, as 1,654 persons voted, and the second-largest for the school district, with 2,005 ballots cast, including 88 absentee votes.

Wes Fisher was elected to Place 1 on the city commission, and incumbent Ed Coplen was re-elected to Place 2. Incumbents David Hutchins and Sallie Strain were re-elected to the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees.

Banners and signs containing statements such as "Vote for Mexican-Americans" and supporting John Arnsola and Trini Gamez for the Hereford City Commission and Americo Gamez for the school board were placed on cars more than 100 feet, the state-required distance, from the Community Center.

A table was set up by the group to provide voting information to Mexican-Americans who sought it.

Fisher, a produce company manager, received 956 votes to unseat incumbent school teacher John Matthews, who got 372 votes, as Place 1 commissioner in the City of Hereford election.

Mrs. Gamez, a paralegal for Texas Rural Legal Aid, was third in the Place 1 race with 301 votes.

Place 2 incumbent Coplen, Western Auto owner, received 1,008 votes to easily outdistance opponents John Claypool, 321; and Arnsola, 284. Claypool is a teacher and Arnsola is a department head at Armour Foods. Unopposed Mayor Bartley Dowell picked up 1,407 votes.

Hutchins, a farmer, and Mrs. Strain, a farm wife, received 1,675 and 1,654 votes, respectively, to maintain their seats on the HISD board. Gamez, a draftsman, earned 348 votes in the at-large election for two three-year terms.

Police Lieutenant Paul Ramirez, who ran unopposed for an unexpired one-year term, received 1,554 votes against 40 write-ins.

Election officials gave the racial issue as the reason for the large turnout. Lines were long throughout the day Saturday as some persons waited around an hour before voting.

HISD official Fred Fox said that the school board election line averaged 150 voters an hour, with the peak number around 6:30 p.m.

"We had around 350 hit at 6:30. The line got bogged down on two or three occasions and we're sorry for that. Remedies have been taken to speed that line up quite a bit," Fox said.

"The election judges would like to thank everyone for their understanding," he added.

For the school district, Saturday's was the largest turnout since 1975 when 2,733 persons voted. There were 284 absentee votes in that election.

Almost unnoticed Saturday was the election of three Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors. Elected to two-year terms were Warner Lawson, 1,068 votes, and incumbents Ed Reinauer Jr., 1,135, and Dr. Gerald Payne, 1,193.

There were 1,280 total votes cast in the hospital board election.

At Walcott, Dan Hall received 27 votes and Jerry Teel 24 votes to earn election to the school board in that rural community. Cecil Blasingame was unsuccessful in his bid, receiving 14 votes.

County Asked To Return CETA

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

A Panhandle Community Action official urged Deaf Smith County commissioners Monday to give back the local Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program to his organization.

"Community Action cannot support or encourage individual counties or cities to operate their own programs. Efficiency is lost at this point," said Johnny Raymond, director Community Action's Department of Employment and Training.

The commission last year voted to disjoin the county's CETA program from Community Action, providing for local control of service delivery.

Raymond said joining the "balance of state," those entities which permit Texas

Community Action Seeks Control

Community Action to administer CETA funds, allows counties to operate CETA programs on a cost-share basis.

"Our staff, through a combined effort Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties, could deliver the services on a cost-share basis. We feel that our office's delivery of a system is as good as any in the state," Raymond said.

"Since you, as a county, are responsible for delivering over $300,000 in Department of Labor money, you are liable for that money," he said.

Raymond added that when CETA funds are not used to provide local jobs, they often leave the county "and go to some metropolitan area—the question is do you want to return money to Amarillo or have it shared with Parmer or Castro?"

Raymond said that 21 of the 25 counties affected by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission are in the balance of state.

Commissioners took no action on the proposed resolution to turn over the CETA program.

County CETA coordinator Loretta Kindsfather gave a report on the local program, which he said is providing jobs or training for 70 persons at the present. CETA in Deaf Smith County was allocated $324,438 for its fiscal year which began Oct. 1 and has spent $92,477 and obligated $131,147. The program has $100,813 with which to operate until the end of the fiscal year.

Mrs. Kindsfather said that new federal regulations governing CETA require that the county's program emphasize "prevention of fraud and abuse, CETA training available only to those in economic need in and with serious barriers to employment and moving CETA training from the public sector to the private sector."

County Extension Agent Justin McBride asked for an amendment to the commission's policy governing the county-owned Bull Barn. McBride said

Silage Negotiations Put on Hold

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Area corn ensilage producers made plans to plant corn varieties that can be harvested either for grain or silage, and put further negotiations for 1979 ensilage contracts with area feedlots on hold during a special meeting at the Community Center here last night. After lengthy discussion of production costs and the prospects for considerably higher harvesting and hauling costs this year, due to spiraling fuel prices, the gathering of some 30 local silage producers decided to indefinitely delay any further negotiations on silage contract prices. "Some corn for grain is being contracted right now for $4.75 to $5 per hundredweight, and if these price levels are possible with grain, ensilage should certainly be worth more than the $16.50 per ton currently being offered by local feedyards," one local grower commented.

Last night's meeting here came as an outgrowth of the formation of a special silage subcommittee of the High Plains Farm Bargaining Association, which was involved in negotiations with Frito-Lay Inc. of Dallas over a three-month period concerning contracts for food corn production in the local area.

Weldon Davis of Hart, president of the association and an active member of the committee which helped secure a boost of 50 cents per cwt. in the food-grade yellow corn and $2 per cwt. in white food-grade corn contract offers, commented on the silage subcommittee effort.

"Experience taught us our timing was off a bit in attempts to negotiate a corn contract with Frito-Lay, and that cost us some money. For that reason, I think you might be a little early in halting down a contract price right now, although it's not too early to work toward that end. All the feedlots haven't contracted their silage requirements, and this product belongs to the farmers until they turn it loose," he stated.

Robert Wagner of Hereford, who is chairing the silage subcommittee, reported that one of the obstacles in the path of securing a better contract offer for silage is the fact that different feedyards have a varying view of the feed value of corn ensilage.

"One nutritionist will tell us it's excellent feed, and another will say it's really not that good," said Wagner.

Committee member Harold Bob Bennett of Hart emphasized the feed value of silage, commenting on his own

March Building Starts Continue Yearly Slump

Hereford suffered a third consecutive poor month for building starts in March, when 12 permits were issued for a total construction value of $288,800.

Of the total, $204,000 was the value placed on an addition to Barrick Furniture and Appliance, W. Highway 60. Part of the store was destroyed by fire last year, prompting construction of the addition.

The yearly total through March for building starts is $379,125, compared to $1,557,500 for the same three-month period in 1978. There were five permits issued for $12,325 in January of this year and 16 permits for $78,000 in February.

No permits for single-family residences were applied for in either January and March, while one permit for a new house was reported in February.

In March, 1978, total value of the permits was $596,000 and more than half of the building starts were single-family residences.

Local Realtors are pointing to high interest rates and the present tight money situation as reasons for the decline in building starts.

Other permits issued in March were to Don McDonald, addition to residence, $6,000; Reynunda Villalobos, addition to mobile home, $400; Faith Mission, move-in church, $5,000; Besside Williams, move-in wood frame, $10,000; Ernest Green, add-on residence, $7,000; Brady Investment, addition to office, $40,000; C.E. Leasure Jr., addition to storage, $2,500; Santos M. Castillo, move-in mobile home, $3,900; Michael Ferguson, alter and repair store, $2,500; Tom Hall, alter and repair residence, $1,000; and N.D. Kelso, add-on residence, $6,500.

Wartes—Happy To Coach or Administer

By MARC HERRING
Brand Staff Writer

With a philosophy which could be entitled "the secret of happiness is not in doing what one likes but in liking what one has to do," Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent of the Hereford Independent School District, says he is happy wherever he is working.

"My first love is coaching," Wartes said, "but I am just as happy to be in administrative work, especially when I can work with the people I do."

Wartes says he has been fortunate to have always had the opportunity to work with the "best people," starting with his coaching at Stamford, right-up to his present job in Hereford.

"When I was at Stamford, I had the chance to coach under Gordon Wood, the most successful high school coach in the history of organized football," Wartes said. "And now to be able to have worked with men such as Johnny Clark, Roy Hartman and especially Dr. (Harrell) Holder, I've always been surrounded by the best."

Wartes came to Hereford in March, 1967, and since then he has seen a lot of changes in the schools' programs, both in athletics and education.

"When I first came here, there were not any girls sports except for volleyball, and there were about 15 coaches," Wartes said. "Now there are all sorts of programs for the girls and there are over 30 coaches. That's more than doubled in just 12 years."

Despite the concern that critics have of the country's schools, Wartes thinks they are doing a better job than they used to, mainly because of the variety of programs that are offered to the student.

A man used to responsibility, Wartes, as assistant superintendent, is in charge of general administration, purchasing, facilities, insurance, transportation and many other areas that help make a school system operate.

Brought to Hereford as head football coach and athletic director, Wartes left the coaching ranks in 1971 for his present position.

"Even though coaching is all that I've wanted to do all my life, I felt it was time to leave the coaching profession," Wartes said. "I'm sort of glad that I did leave at that time, because I was able to leave as a winner and that's what I

Vietnam Pictures

Lead Oscar Winners

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - It was a fine bit of Hollywood irony - John Wayne and Vietnam. "Duke," the legendary superpatriot, and a war Hollywood had ignored for a decade.

They were the heroes of Monday's 51st Annual Academy Awards presentation, with two Vietnam films winning the big Oscars and Wayne making an emotional first public appearance since cancer surgery Jan. 12.

"Coming Home," a film depicting the physical and emotional wounds of Vietnam, earned best acting Oscars for Jon Voight and Jane Fonda, who portrayed a paraplegic veteran and the officer's wife who falls in love with him. Miss Fonda had won a previous Oscar playing a hooker in the 1971 film "Kluge."

"The Deer Hunter," a violent depiction of the war's effects on three young Pennsylvania mill workers, was picked best picture by the Academy's 3,400 voters and won best director honors for Michael Cimino.

Virtually shutout in the composition was Warren Beatty's comedy-fantasy "Heaven Can Wait," which had nine nominations but won only for art direction.

Committee Approves

$20 Billion Budget

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - With both its Republican members voting "no," the House Appropriations Committee has approved a $20 billion state budget bill that leaves $365 million available for tax cuts or additional spending.

Floor action on the 1980-81 general appropriation bill will start next Tuesday or Wednesday, said Speaker Bill Clayton.

Some $200 million left unspent by the committee's bill results from a rider, inserted at Clayton's insistence, cutting most general revenue items by 2 percent.

The only dissenters in the 16-2 committee vote were Republicans Milton Fox of Houston and Fred Agnich of Dallas.

The amount of money the bill would leave "on the table" falls far short of the $1 billion Gov. Bill Clements wanted available for property tax reductions.

Weather

Scattered showers and thunderstorms moved out of Texas early today, but another round of inclement activity is expected for the state this afternoon and tonight.

The storm system should begin in the west and spread eastward.

Police Investigate $128 Theft

Elizabeth Warren, who lives north of Hereford, reported to police early today that someone stole $128 from a money bag in her van while it was parked at the bowling alley from 6:15 p.m. Monday to 12:15 a.m. today.

Police said money was gained through an unlocked door.

Gaylon Brant, 436 Ave. H, told police someone stole an orange Schwinn 10-speed bicycle from a carport next to his residence sometime Friday. Value of the bicycle was placed at $156.

Police Monday investigated an unfounded report of a lost child, smeared shoe polish on the windows of Nifty Foods, Ave. K, and a stray Doberman pincher in the 200 block of Ave. D.

Child's father filed the missing persons report, while the mother had picked up the child earlier from the family's mobile home.

Police issued 18 speeding citations Monday.

he never criticizes or belittles his fellow workers. He's one of the most outstanding teachers I have had the opportunity to work with," George said in making the presentation.

George quoted from high school scrapbook in which Wood wrote: "I find it hard to separate my life from my teaching."

Superintendent Dr. Harrell Holder installed TSTA and CTA officers.

New TSTA officers include Richburg, president; George Ochs, vice president; Bera Boyd, treasurer; and Dorothy Seydlowski, secretary. Melissa Tubb is president-elect of TSTA.

CTA officers for 1979-80 are Dominguez, president; Nena Veazy, secretary; Patsy Giles, treasurer; and Rosemary Shook, president-elect. Aurora Dominguez will be state correspondence secretary and TCTA director.

1978-79 presidents, who were honored at the banquet by the two teachers' organizations, are Louis Montano of TSTA and Buddy Fox of CTA.

State TSTA delegates in 1979-80 were elected in March and introduced Monday. They are Wood, Ms. Tubb, Ms. Seydlowski, Ruben McGilvary and John Marduck.

District 16 delegates include Margaret Bell, Wood, Ann Cummings, Richard Stanley, Wanda Stanley, McGilvary, Billie Birdwell, Carole McGilvary, Ms. Tubb, Ms. Seydlowski, Ms. Boyd, Jerry Wallis, Norma Gripp, Carolyn Waters and Richburg.

Introduced as new delegates of National Education Association were Mr. and Mrs. McGilvary.

Randy Farr, outgoing TSTA vice president reported on his and Jerry Richburg's trip to Austin in March. Farr presented information on the TSTA-endorsed school finance bill, which provides for salary increases to teachers.

Nancy Grave, a member of the TSTA House of Delegates, said the statewide organization met March 22-24 in Austin to discuss disaffiliation from NEA—a proposal defeated by the delegates—and other subjects.

Providing musical entertainment for the banquet were singers Bob Stice, Joyce Allred and Jan Walser.

wanted to be remembered as."

Warren is remembered as a winner, being elected to the Texas High School Coaches Hall of Fame in 1975, an honor usually reserved for men who have coached for a longer time.

Even though coaching is no longer a part of Warren's official duties, he still enjoys working with kids in the area of sports. "I've always considered sports as an excellent opportunity for a kid to get the chance and the self-confidence he needs," Warren said. "That's all that any educational program is, a self-process in learning."

"I'm a little bit prejudiced about athletics, but any educational program can be approached in the same way, as a tool to help the individual know what he or she is capable of and helping them attain it."

Warren and his wife, Joyce, have three children, Mike, the head coach and athletic director at Muleshoe High School, Susan, and Alan, a freshman at La Plata Junior High.

Silage

cattle feeding experience.

"Silage isn't that good for finishing cattle of 1,000 pounds or so, but it is about the best growing feed you can get for light cattle from 400-800 pounds, so don't be fooled when someone tells you it's not good feed. The feedlots will probably be getting in a lot of lighter cattle, and they are going to need a lot of silage. If you can't get a workable price for silage locally, I'd suggest digging a pit, purchasing some light cattle and feeding them straight silage. I guarantee it will make you money," stated Bennett.

Other producers in the gathering of farmers agreed with the statement, citing their own cattle feeding experience.

Silage committee members cited varying production costs, none of which fell below $220 per acre.

Larry Walterscheid of Hereford reported a $227 per acre production cost on rented land to raise ensilage, based on many of last year's production costs and at last year's contract price of $14.50 per ton with a 20.4 ton per acre average yield.

"That was cutting it myself, and that price just won't reach for this year. I can't make $16.50 per ton work this year either. The only way I'd have a chance is to raise 30 ton silage, and that's 10 tons above the average," he said.

Dick Fellers, who farms near Hereford reported that his production costs on corn planted specifically for silage were $219.28 per acre with harvest at a custom rate, and irrigation costs at a greatly reduced level due to favorable rainfall last summer.

"Fuel was a lot cheaper when this crop was harvested, and costs will have gone up considerably by harvest time this year," said Fellers.

Bill Paetzold of Hereford, a custom ensilage harvester, reported that growers will be looking at harvest costs of a minimum of $1.60 per ton and 10 cents per mile in hauling fees.

Growers originally agreed to seek a contract price of $18 per ton for ensilage this year, but several pointed out that even at that price, growers might have a hard time breaking even with high harvesting and hauling costs.

"If you raise silage as a crop and take care of it, your expenses will be as high as growing grain corn. Everyone farms a little different, and costs will vary slightly, but it is evident growers need a better price than what is being offered here currently," stated Wagner.

After surveying growers present to determine silage contracting activities in their various areas, the producers opted for the dual-purpose planting strategy.

"We urge growers to plant a dual purpose corn, and not sign any contract at this time. Over the past five years, the price at harvest has consistently been higher than the price at which growers contracted," Wagner concluded.

County

that the county should put up the required deposit money when either the extension service or Home Demonstration uses the Bull Barn or Little Bull Barn.

"The extension service is your organization," McBride said. "You support us at the county level. And we're talking about educational meetings with the extension service. It's a volunteer program, and there are no funds."

Five Home Demonstration Club members attended Monday's meeting to make a similar request.

"These ladies have asked to be included in this policy," McBride said. "We work with the Home Demonstration Club, and theirs is a volunteer organization."

"We don't want to be made exceptions, but we are your organizations. And, all we're asking is that you pay the deposit."

Commissioners James Voyles and Austin Rose agreed that the organizations should not be required to put up deposits.

"But we'll just put up $200 for you and not mess with our policy. We don't have to change anything that way," Rose said.

The court approved the request.

Commissioners canvassed the returns of Saturday's Walcott Independent School District election, which resulted in Dan Hall and Jerry Teel winning seats with 27 and 24 votes. Cecil Basingame was unsuccessful with 14 votes.

The court accepted a bid to purchase two sheriff's department cars. Jones Motors submitted the only bid which conformed to electrical specifications of the department.

The total bid was $17,853.12 for two Chryslers. Including trade-ins, the bid was $13,333.58.

Juvenile Probation Officer Roger Bowers recommended to commissioners that the county pay for mileage when a personal vehicle is used by his office.

"There are times when the county car is being used, and someone in our office has to use his car," said Bowers, who added that juvenile placement expenses also should be paid by the county when they exceed his budget.

County youths are often placed in the Emergency Child Shelter and Potter County Detention Center in Amarillo.

"It costs us $16 a day to put kids in the Emergency Child Shelter," Bowers said. The court told Bowers to submit such bills to the county treasurer and agreed that the county should pay mileage when a personal car is used on county business.

22nd District Judge Wes Gulley and Melanie Kinderdine of Panhandle Regional Planning Commission told the court that a federal-state grant is available to pay the salary of a court coordinator.

Gulley said that since he has a person presently working in that capacity, "it might be a savings if we let this grant pay her salary."

Ms. Kinderdine said that most coordinators are paid $12,000, which would be a sizable raise for the woman in Gulley's office.

Gulley said the county would pay 20 percent of her salary next year and 40 percent the following year before assuming the total expense. Commissioners denied the request.

The court, also Monday approved construction of a water line in Precinct 1, accepted a $2,987.50 bid from Frank Wester to replace the old steps on the south side of the courthouse and approved a dedication deed for the France Estates six miles west of Hereford and a mile north.

Local Agencies Focus On Teen Problems Here

Twelve various organizations and agencies analyzed the problems of teenagers last week especially in relation to alcoholism during a meeting of 21 persons at the courthouse.

Mike Moon of the Family Services Center called the meeting for the purpose of considering ways of meeting the needs of local teenagers. It was the general consensus of the group that a survey would be helpful in determining the extent of the teenage drinking problem here. The importance of identifying and meeting these needs before the juvenile reaches the courts or a crisis situation was the crux of discussion.

Interest was expressed concerning a 24-hour teen center which could serve as a meeting place for youth as well as parent groups. The proposed teen center could also be instrumental in crisis intervention and referral.

A report on the new Alateen program in Hereford was given by Judy Adkins. Alateen is a fellowship of teenagers who exchange ideas and experiences to better understand alcoholism and so lessen its effect on their lives. Youth who have a family member, relative or friend with a drinking problem are welcome to attend the Alateen meetings each Tuesday from 7-8 p.m. at First Baptist Church Adult V classroom.

It was announced that representatives from several local agencies will go to Amarillo later this month to meet with the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to discuss the possibility of grants to finance teen-oriented projects.

The representatives who are concerned about teenage problems will convene at 9:45 a.m. May 3 at the Courthouse to review information gathered from existing teen centers and other recourse that are available. Individuals, church groups or organizations interested in working toward these goals are invited to attend the meeting on May 3 and share the suggestions. Further information is available at 364-6111.

Agencies represented at the recent meeting included County Welfare, Deaf Smith County Counsel on Alcoholism, Texas Rural Legal Aid, Family Services Center, Alateen Hereford Independent School District, South Plains Health Providers, Department of Human Resources, Deaf Smith Juvenile Probation, Hereford Police Department, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, and Panhandle Home Health.

4-H Firsthand

4-H VET SCIENCE: LAP DOGS TO LIVESTOCK
CHICAGO — When Karen Groverman of Petaluma, Calif., hatched a brood of pink and green baby chicks she wasn't trying to get the jump on the Easter bunny.

The 18-year-old 4-H'er was engaged in a serious scientific project. Karen, a member of the national 4-H veterinary science program, wanted to study feather growth and she figured that injecting each fertilized egg with a harmless food coloring compound might be the best route to the particular scientific observation she wanted to make. It was.

Last year about 60,000 young people 9-19 were enrolled in 4-H veterinary science projects and activities, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and supported by The Upjohn Company. Karen Groverman's efforts won her a $1,000 scholarship as one of six national vet science winners.

Not all 4-H'ers become as skilled as Karen, of course, but they all learn a great deal, often under the supervision of a local veterinarian. Many later go into veterinary medicine themselves.

4-H members learn-by-doing to deliver calves, vaccinate lambs, assist in rabies clinics, or check a sick puppy's temperature, pulse and respiration. The program is geared to city kids as well as farm youth. A child without a pet can "borrow" one.

Young people enrolled in the program can work for awards donated by Upjohn, and arranged by National 4-H Council.

Recognition includes scholarships of $1,000 each for six national winners and expense-paid trips to the 57th National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 26-30 for 24 sectional winners. $50 U.S. savings bonds at the state level and medals of honor at the county level round out the awards schedule.

Winners are chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service. Young people can learn more about the 4-H veterinary science program from their county extension agents.

Ann Landers

Raising Children

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 19-year-old mother who is climbing the walls. Our baby is 15 months old. I need to know how much longer must I wait before I can safely leave the baby with a sitter? I feel like a prisoner.

Would you believe, we have not had a single night out alone since our child was born? Wherever we have gone we've had to take the baby. The reason is my husband thinks parents should stay home with their children until they are of school age, or take them along. May I have your opinion? — Going Nuts.

DEAR GOING: You'll BE nuts if you don't get out of the child's sight before you enroll him in school. An infant one month old can be left for an evening — with a competent person in charge.

A change in scenery is healthy, not only for the parents but for the children. A youngster five years of age who has never been away from his mother will have a terrible time adjusting to strangers. School will be a traumatic experience and he will be in trouble from the word go. You must get your husband to understand that his concepts are wrong — for the child's sake, as well as yours, and his.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I agreed before we married several months ago that we would both quit smoking.

I was a very heavy smoker; Cal smoked perhaps eight cigarettes a day. I knew it would be much more difficult for me to quit than Cal, but I was determined to make the effort. Three weeks ago I just couldn't stand being without a cigarette (I was off them for six days going out of my mind) so I started to smoke behind my husband's back.

Last night when Cal came home from work he smelled smoke in the house and asked, "Have you been smoking?" I told him the TV repairman had been in to fix the set and that he smoked when he worked. He then asked, "When did TV repairmen start to wear lipstick?" I knew I was trapped.

Now Cal says the only way I can square things with him is to stop smoking — and no more lying. I find it impossible to quit. I've made an honest effort and just can't do it. Please help me. — Permanently Hooked

DEAR HOOKED: "CAN'T" never did anything — and it never will. Obviously, you, like thousands of others, are physically addicted to tobacco.

Have you ever heard of SmokEnders? This is an organization for people like you. Their rate of success is excellent. Look in the phone book, and if you do not find their number write to the national headquarters of SmokEnders, Phillipsburg, N.J. 08865. Toll-free number (800) 631-7676. They will send literature about that and hopefully will start you on your way to better health and a longer life.

DEAR ANN: My wife has been accusing me of running around, which is not only crazy but impossible. I come straight home after work and never go anywhere without her. Weekends she has so many errands lined up I couldn't cheat if I wanted to.

If I go to the local police station and ask them to give me a lie detector test, will they do it? I've got to get this woman off my back — Toledo Tom

DEAR TOM: If the police spent their time giving lie tests to all the men whose wives accused them of cheating, they'd be too busy to hunt for criminals.

Dawn Homemakers Club Reviews Future Events

Several upcoming Extension Homemaker events were considered by members of Dawn EH Club Friday morning during a business meeting at Dawn Community Center.

Club president Verelene Worley called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered with "How I Keep the Doors of Communication Open." A poem and reading were presented in the opening exercise by Pam Wilson and Arliss Stewart.

Members were reminded of the PEP Seminar to be held April 26 at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo. Also, it was announced that the County EH Council will convene at 1:30 p.m. April 23, followed by an officers training session at the library.

Members discussed other upcoming events, the national meeting to be held in July at Albuquerque, and the County Health Fair, slated May 12 in the Bull Barn. The club decided to accept Westway EH Club's invitation to a program on April 19 featuring guest speaker Ann Brown of Canyon.

MayBelle Woodford was the club's nominee for delegate to the upcoming state meeting. Also, Janice Hales was welcomed as a new member. A baby gift was presented to her by the club.

Sharon Johnson presented a program on family communications. As examples of her topic, members played a gossip game, word association and trust walk.

Following adjournment, members honored Pam Wilson and her infant son, Jay, with a layette shower.

Members in attendance included Mmes. Bill Alexander, Jim Fowler, H.D. Fowler, Leroy Johnson, Jim McCabe, H.V. McCabe, Larry Patezold and Richard Paschel.

Baked Beans Salad
Wheat Soy Bread Beverage

WHEAT SOY BREAD
Adapted from "Recipes for a Small Planet," this recipe makes hearty and delicious loaves.

1 package dry yeast
2 1/2 cups warm water
1/4 cup corn oil
1/4 cup honey
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/4 cups soy flour,
available at health-food stores
4 to 5 cups whole wheat flour

Dissolve yeast in water; stir in oil, honey, salt; gradually stir in soy flour. Gradually work in enough of the whole wheat flour (4 cups) to make a manageable dough. Let rest for 15 minutes. On a smooth surface floured with as much of the remaining whole wheat flour as necessary, knead until smooth and elastic — 10 minutes. Let rise in a draft-free 80-degree place until doubled — 1 hour. Shape into 2 loaves and place each in an oiled 8 1/2 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2-inch loaf pan. Let rise as previously for 45 minutes. Bake on the rack below center in a preheated 350-degree oven about 35 minutes. Turn out on rack and cool. Makes 2 loaves.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

Every parent has been through the frustration of trying to get their toddler to talk. The kid slobbers and they shout in excitement. "Did you hear that? He said, 'I love you, Mommy.'" A simple burp turns into, "I love my new curtains with the teddy bears."

I was the same way. I'd stand in front of my son and say, "Ma Ma. Ma Ma. Da Da... watch my lips, darling, Maaama... Daaadaaaaaa."

Finally, one day the child looked me straight in the eyes and uttered his first words — "I'm telling."

It was a curious thing to say for a child alone in a room, but from that day forward that's all I ever heard him utter.

There would be a crash in the bedroom and his voice would emerge loud and clear, "I'm telling."

The dog would yelp and run 50 miles an hour out of the house and a voice would say, "I'm telling."

Sometimes, there would be no sound at all — only a tantalizing threat, "I'm telling!"

There is at least one informer born to every family. A family couldn't take more than one. His talent for seeing what no one else sees is positively uncanny.

Our stoolie was the only one to see his brother humming after I told him to stop... by watching his neck quiver.

He could tell by smelling his brother's breath that he ate the banana I was saving for the fruit salad.

He could look through a closed door and know that they were hiding from him and making faces by seeing their shadows under the door.

He knew by a sixth sense when they were going to raise their hands to hit him — by the draft. He knew when his brother took off his coat on the playground, even though they went to different schools, because his arms were sunburnt.

In my heart, I knew He'd grow up to be an agent for the CIA if his brother permitted him to grow up.

Come to think of it, that's probably what Eve thought the first time she heard her son Abel call from Cain's bedroom, "I'm telling."

Holy Thursday, the commemoration of the Lord's Supper will be at 8 p.m. The adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will then take place until 12 midnight. The parishioners will observe an alphabetical list according to the first letter of their family name.

Good Friday, stations of the cross at 4:30 are followed by the Lord's Passion at 5 p.m.

The Easter Vigil service, "Mass of the Resurrection" begins at 7 p.m. on Holy Saturday. The bells will ring during the Gloria of the mass after their silence since Holy Thursday.

Easter Sunday masses are at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.
The pastor, Father Paul Haefner, will be assisted by Deacon Kenneth Artho and Brother John Mazzei throughout the Holy Week.

Team Sends 5 Individuals, 3 Relay Teams To Regional

★★ Girls Win District Track Title ★★

By MARC HERRING
Brand Sports Editor
PLAINVIEW - The first district championship of the 1978-79 school year went to the girls track team after they scored 128 points to edge Monterey in the district meet held here Saturday.

With the aim of qualifying for the regional meet, the girls more than accomplished that feat by sending five individuals and all three relay teams to the regional meet, scheduled April 20-21 in Lubbock.

The Whitefaces trailed Monterey by 24 points after the field events, but completely dominated the running portion of the meet to win their first ever track title.

The sprint relay team was the first to qualify, taking second place with a time of 49.9. Darlene Sanders, Jennifer Griffin, Beverly Nixon and Lindy Walterscheid teamed to turn in its fastest time of the year for the 440 relay.

Next on the list to earn a berth at the regional meet, Louise Mays set a new district record in the quarter, circling the oval in 58.6. With the time, Mays lowered the standard two seconds from the previous best by any district representative.

Velma Arroyos earned her second trip to the regional meet winning the 880 with a time of 2:24.7, a personal best for the senior this year. Last year Arroyos ran a 2:22.8 half mile, and will get a chance to improve that time in the regional contest.

Darlene Sanders, won the furlong with a time of 25.4, setting a new record in the process. Sanders did not take the record from anyone though, as she had the previous best time a 25.5, set last year.

The other Whiteface individual to qualify in the running events for the regional meet, Beverly Nixon won the 80 yard low hurdles with a time of 10.8. This clocking tied the old record set by Rose Fields of Lubbock High.

The mile relay team continued its assault on breaking the four minute barrier, winning the four lap event with a time of 4:03.6.

The team of Connie Huffaker, Arroyos, Sanders and Mays, the girls knocked two seconds off of their previous best, set last week at the Amarillo Relays.

Theresa Schilling was the lone Whiteface to qualify in the field events, taking a second place in the triple jump with a leap of 33-0.

The 880 relay team, made up of LuAnna Berryman, Huffaker, Mays and Griffin clocked a time of 1:46.3 to gain second place and a trip to Lubbock.

Although some girls did not qualify for the regional meet, they did have an instrumental part in helping the Herd secure the district crown, Shipp said.

In the running events, Walterscheid and Berryman finished fourth and sixth in the 220 to add five points to the Whiteface total. Also, Walterscheid and Griffin took third and fifth in the 100 for eight more points, and Colleen Keating was sixth in the mile for an additional point for the Herd total. The field events for the Whitefaces, had Teresa High finish sixth in the shot and discus, and Lisa Villegas was fourth in the discus. Also Nixon took a fourth place in the high jump with a leap of 5-0.

Villegas, one of the Herd's hopes to earn a top place in the shot did not have the chance to compete in her specialty as she was grazed by the eight pound ball during the warmups, causing her to have to withdraw from competition.

This week, the girls will be involved in the regional qualifiers meet in Borger.

The Thrill Of Victory

Jubilant is the scene after the Hereford Whitefaces were named the district champions in the track meet in Plainview Saturday. As evidenced by the trophy and the 'we're number one sign' the fems proved to be right, scoring 128 points to edge Monterey for the title. (Brand Photo by Marc Herring)

HHS Tennis Doubles Qualify For Regional

Pudgy Vargas and Jimmy Rameriz won a berth in the regional meet for the tennis team last weekend, taking second in Class A doubles.

Vargas and Rameriz, defeated the Monterey team 6-3, 6-2 in the opening match and then whipped the Plainview representatives 6-3, 6-2 in the semi-finals. The Whiteface duo lost in the championship round to the Coronado duo of McFarlin and Coulter, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Kevin Downing won an alternate spot for the regional meet, defeating Steve Smith of Monterey 6-3, 6-7, 6-3 for third place.

In the B division, the doubles team of Roy Rodriguez and Adolfo Garcia won, defeating Northington and Burt of Coronado 2-6, 6-3, 6-4

China Representatives Invited To Duke Meet

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) - Six athletes from China have been invited to a track meet at Duke University next month, Dr. Leroy Walker said Monday.

If the Chinese participate, it will mark the first U.S. appearance by track and field athletes from China.

Ollan Cassell, director of the Amateur Athletic Union, confirmed in a telephone interview from his office in Indianapolis, Ind., that the Chinese have been invited.

Walker, the 1976 U.S. Olympic coach and meet director for the event, announced the invitation to the Chinese at a news conference called to promote the May 19 meet at Wallace Wade Stadium.

"If two-thirds of these people show up, it would be the greatest collection of track athletes outside the Olympic trials," said Duke track coach Al Buehler.

Walker said in the 100-meter race, Duke expects Hasley Crawford, the 100-meter Olympic champion from Trinidad; Donald Quarrie, the 1976 Olympic 200-meter winner, and Clancy Edwards, the world's top-ranked 200-meter runner in the NCAA and AAU meets last year.

The middle-distance field is so impressive Walker and organizers might "change the 1,500-meter run to the mile and go for the world record."

The top two American milers,

Steve Scott and Steve Lacy, are expected to compete in that race along with several outstanding foreigners. They include Steve Overt ranked No. 1 in the world last year, and world mile record holder John Walker of New Zealand.

Other world record holders expected include Edwin Moses in the 400-meter hurdles and Mike Tully in the pole vault.

American record holder Marty Liquori is expected to compete in the 5,000-meter run and Olympian Charles Foster, the former North Carolina Central star, is the top entry in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Dogies Third At Clovis

Angie White set a new eighth grade record in the high jump, clearing 5-4 in the eighth grade division of the Clovis Junior High Girl's Track Meet Saturday.

Miss White, a student at Stanton Junior High, added two other firsts as the Dogies finished in third place with 66 points.

A new record in the 80 yard low hurdles as well as a win in the '60 yard low hurdles gave White 30 points in individual performances.

The ninth grade for the Dogies also finished third in the Clovis meet, scoring 83 1/2 points.

The only first for the Stanton fems was in the mile as Beatrice Moreno set a new meet record with a clocking of 6:23.47. An illegal baton pass in the 880 yard relay disqualified the Dogie team and kept them from winning their third consecutive relay title.

Boys Sixth At Amarillo

AMARILLO - The Hereford Whiteface boys track team, competing in the Amarillo Relays, scored 30 points in the final day of the meet to finish in sixth place out of 14 teams Saturday.

The top finish for the Whitefaces was a second place by Paul Bell in the 440. Bell, running his best time of the season, 49.2, was nipped at the wire by Estacado's Preston Davis, also timed in 49.2.

Other point producers for the Herd were a third and fourth in the 880, sixths in the 440, 100, and the sprint relay and a fourth in the mile relay.

Juan Flores clocked a 1:59.4 in the 880 to take third and Glenn Yosten finished with a time of 2:01.4 for fourth place.

Mavs Second In Meet

Consistent scoring from the entire team allowed the La Plata Junior High eighth grade girls track team to finish second in the Clovis Junior High Girl's Junior High Track Meet with 102 points last Saturday.

Not winning any firsts, but scoring in nearly every other event, the girls finished 14 points behind Gattis Junior High School.

All three of the relay teams for the eighth graders took second place, and with seconds in the 220, 660, 100 and shot allowed the Mavs to score.

The ninth graders from La Plata finished behind Gattis also, although first place finishes were in abundance throughout the meet.

A first place in each of the relays, and in the 440, 880 and discus provided the fems with 70 points and 50 more points from other finished gave the Mavs a total of 120 points, eight off the winning total of Gattis.

Soviets Say Government Doesn't Subsidize Sports

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) - Recently, the leaders of the U.S. Olympic Committee were entertaining the Soviet Union's top sports officials, Sergei Pavlov, at USOC headquarters in Colorado Springs when the touchy question of government control of sports was broached. "One question I'd like to ask," said Bob Paul, the USOC director of information. "We've always heard that Russian sports were completely financed by the government. Could you tell us how much your Olympic program cost the USSR?" "Nothing," the Russian replied succinctly. "But we always have been given to understand that Russian sports teams were virtually professional because of full government support," the fearless Mr. Paul pressed the issue.

"We have 17 principal labor unions and countless clubs," Pavlov said. "Every club member (most of the USSR 280 million people belong to a labor union) are taxed one percent of their earnings. Every young member of a labor club is assessed kopeks (40 cents) a year." "Forty cents a year?" Don Miller, executive director of the USOC, responded facetiously. "Don't you think that's a little exorbitant?" The anecdote was repeated here Monday when Miller made an Olympic presentation to the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association at the group's annual awards ceremony. Miller sought to ease reservations that Western visitors might have about the 1980 Games in Moscow as a result of rumors of endless red tape, bureaucracy and violations of civil rights in the Russian capital. "I am confident the Russians will make every effort for these Games to be the best organized and most pleasurable ever," Miller said. "They would like to show the world they have the ability to stage a world-wide event." In other words, the Olympics will serve as a great propaganda vehicle for Russian ideology, but Miller sees no likelihood that the Russians will turn the Games into a political coup. "It would be counter-productive," the U.S. Olympic official said, "for them to stage scenes such as in the World University Games in 1973 when police and Soviet spectators harassed Jewish athletes." "The Russians are even welcoming the People's Republic of China. They realize the presence of Mainland China, with its 900 million population, would enhance the Games. They insist, however, there will be no barriers on political, racial and religious considerations."

By ALEX SACHARE AP Sports Writer Mychal Thompson, at 6 feet 10 and 225 pounds, is basketball's biggest "small" forward. But the Portland rookie will need more than size when he goes up against Phoenix' Walter Davis tonight as the teams open their first-round National Basketball Association playoff series. The 6-6 Davis, the NBA's Rookie of the Year in 1978, averaged 23.6 points per game to rank 10th in the league and was seventh in field goal accuracy at 56.1 percent. He is quick, agile and plays with an infectious enthusiasm. "Walter is one of those players who just loves to play the game," says Phoenix Coach

John MacLeod. "He goes all out and doesn't hold back. If he makes a great play or one of his teammates makes a great play, he just lets his emotions fly." It will be up to Thompson to contain the explosive Davis. Thompson started the year filling in for power forward Maurice Lucas, then spent time on the bench as a backup man at center and forward. Late in the year Portland Coach Jack Ramsay inserted him into the starting lineup at small forward and the Blazers promptly won nine of their next 10 games to clinch a playoff berth. "Mychal has been a big factor for us," said Ramsay. "He's been doing an outstanding job on the opposing forwards. He's developed into one of the best defensive forwards in the game." The Western Conference's other best-of-three first-round series also begins tonight, with the Los Angeles Lakers at the Denver Nuggets. The two East series open Wednesday, with Atlanta at Houston and New Jersey at Philadelphia. While Davis and Thompson go head-to-head, the other forward matchup pairs two of the best power forwards in the business, Lucas of the Blazers and Truck Robinson of the Suns. Neither is in the best of physical condition, however. Lucas has a sore right hand and Robinson is just playing his way back into top shape after missing 13 games because of a mysterious viral infection. Another outstanding power forward, George McGinnis of Denver, will be on the sidelines as the Nuggets open their series against Los Angeles. McGinnis suffered torn ligaments in his left ankle on March 30, and although his teammates picked up the slack in his absence and the club finished strong, the Lakers are happy not to have to deal with Big George. "I feel good about Denver, especially with George McGinnis out of the lineup," said Lakers guard Norm Nixon. "They're not as strong inside. George presented a lot of problems for us. Now I think we match up better against them." That's because the Lakers do not really have an outstanding power forward, relying instead on the center play of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the playmaking of Nixon and the outside shooting of forward Jamaal Wilkes and guard Pon Boone and Lou Hudson. Lakers Coach Jerry West will start Don Ford at forward instead of Adrian Dantley, who missed three games recently because of an ankle injury and did not play well upon his return to the lineup. The Lakers were clobbered by Seattle 113-93 Friday night, but closed out their regular season with solid victories over Phoenix and Portland. "Our guys are very positive flow," said West. "I think we'll play well, and we're capable of beating anyone when we play well."

The Masters, A Test For Nicklaus' Future

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) - It is a time of testing for Jack Nicklaus. It is now, in the Masters, the first of the Big Four events around which he has built his golfing life, that he may determine the direction in which the remainder of his career will go. That career, of course, is unmatched in greatness. He has established himself without equal in the history of the game. He has won everything worth winning. His are the standards against which all else is measured. And the cornerstone of the record he has written into the books is the list of achievements in the majors: a record five Masters titles, four PGA national championships, three victories each in the British and U.S. Opens - a record total of 15 major professional triumphs. He insists he can continue to play at or near that same quality level for several years. But his performance so far this season - perhaps the poorest of his career - has given rise to doubts. His golfing obituary has been written. "Fine," said Nicklaus, with just a hint of annoyance. "It's good for the writers. They write that, then, soon, they'll have something else to write." He needs proof. He knows he needs proof. And he needs it soon. Last winter he took a long break from the game he has dominated for almost two decades. Much was made of his announced reduction in his playing schedule. It was not so much a reduction as a concentration, however. "Actually, I'm playing about the same number of tournaments during the golf season," he said. "It's just that I'm cutting out tournaments not in the golf season, that is in the fall and winter. I will continue to play the majors and the tournaments I feel it's necessary to properly prepare for the majors." So far, it hasn't worked. In five starts this year, he hasn't been in the top 10. In his last 14 rebounds he's broken par once. In his last two rounds he shot a total of 160. He doesn't rank among the top 70 money-winners. His stroke average is 72.67. He's had scores of 294, 294 and 300 in his last three starts. He finished 20 shots behind Larry Nelson at Inverrary and 15 back of Mark McCumber at Doral. As a pro, he never has come into Augusta with such a record. Now it is a test of whether he can reverse it. "Obviously I haven't played as well as I'd like to," he said. "But at times I've hit the ball reasonably well, controlled the ball the way I want. My putting isn't all that bad. I just haven't been able to score, to keep things together." But that was in some regular-season events. This is the Masters. His fellow professionals have little doubt he again will be a major factor in the revered event that starts Thursday on the flowered hills of Augusta National, a course he has played with unmatched success.

Ruess Saves Dodgers, Breaks Astros Streak

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer Question: What former Pittsburgh left-hander strolled out of the Los Angeles bullpen Monday night and saved a game for the Dodgers? Hint: It wasn't Terry Forster. Give up? Would you believe Jerry Ruess? Surely you remember Ruess, winner of 108 major league games. However, only three of those victories came last year when Ruess was the forgotten man on the Pirates' staff, appearing in only 23 contests. In case you missed it, Ruess was traded to Los Angeles over the weekend for pitcher Rick Rhoden. And the Dodgers promptly put him to work. The 6-foot-5 southpaw hurled four scoreless innings, allowing just one hit, to preserve Bob Welch's 2-1 triumph over the Houston Astros.

leaving off the sixth. Reds 9, Braves 4 Seaver got his 10th career home run in the fourth inning. It was his fourth against the Braves, whom he beat for the 27th time in 35 career decisions. Johnny Bench also homered for Cincinnati, while Gary Matthews and Barry Bonnell connected for Atlanta. Seaver allowed seven hits in eight innings. Tigers 7, Royals 3 Ron LeFlore drove in four runs with a two-run double in the seventh inning and a two-run single in the ninth as the Tigers handed the Royals their first setback in four games. Kansas City had taken a 2-1 lead off winner Milt Wilcox in the sixth when Pete LaCock doubled a run home and scored on Frank White's sacrifice fly. Wilcox, who was relieved by John Hiller beginning the seventh, had checked the Royals on three hits until Darrell Porter singles ahead of LaCock's double. Mariners 5, A's 2 Ruppert Jones drove in two runs and scored a third as Seattle handed the winless A's their fourth straight defeat. Jones drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single in the third. In the seventh, he singled with one out, stole second, went to third on a wild throw by catcher Jeff Newman and scored on center fielder Tony Armas' throwing error. Meanwhile, Seattle left-handers Floyd Bannister and Shane Rawley limited the A's to nine hits and one earned run.

"The two times we have played the Levelland team we have outth them, but each time they score the runs when they have to, to beat us," Coach David Ashby said. The Whitefaces baseball team dropped their record to 7-6 with a 9-8 loss to the Lobos in non-district action Saturday. The "Faces" collected nine hits in the game in contrast to the seven hits collected by the host Lobos, but leaving runners stranded on the bases hurt the Herd, Ashby said. "We left six runners on base this game, just too many if we want to win," Ashby said. "Not being able to score when we have the opportunity has really hurt us in our last few games." The Whitefaces will resume district play today with a doubleheader scheduled against Monterey to begin at 2 p.m. The other district teams are marked with records of 2-0 for Coronado, 3-1 for Plainview, 2-2 for the Plainsmen, 1-3 for Lubbock High and a 0-2 ledger for the Whitefaces. Monterey has split its first two doubleheaders they have played this year. In the first, Lubbock High took the opener and then Plainview topped the Plainsmen Saturday in the opener of their game.

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Lou Brock, the St. Louis Cardinals' base-stealing king, says he is retiring from baseball at the end of the season whether or not he reaches another milestone, the 3,000-hit mark. But his boss, Cards owner August A. Busch Jr., told a news conference to announce the retirement plans Monday that records have never been Brock's prime objective. "Earlier this year, when Lou personally informed me of his decision, he made it very clear that while he would love to get 3,000 hits, he was interested only in helping the team become a winner," Busch said. Brock is still 100 hits away from the 3,000-hit club, but he already has the single-season and alltime major league stolen base records locked up. He topped Maury Wills' single-season record of 104 in 1974 with 118 and now has a total of 918 for his career, 26 more than Ty Cobb's record total of 892. Brock, 39, said his decision to retire after 17 years in the major leagues was made last Christmas. He said it was not an easy thing to do.

Modified leg lifts

DEAR DR LAMB — I read your column about using leg lifts to develop a trim belly and fight the pot belly. I have back trouble of a sort so can you send me a simplified version of leg lifts?

DEAR READER — I am sending you The Health Letter number 3-7, Girth Control. Avoiding The Big Middle, because you asked for it. However, I want all of my readers to know that if they have back problems, they should not do leg lift exercises or exercises that involve working the back until they have talked to their doctor about it. Leg lifts, particularly, can cause an excessive load on the muscles in the back and may aggravate back problems.

For those of you who are permitted to do such exercises, a simple way to do leg lifts and not strain the back is to avoid that excess leverage that occurs from lifting the heels straight up off the floor with the legs straight. The way you do this is simply lie down on the bed or on the floor on your back with your knees up and bent. This means the bottoms of your feet will be flat on the floor. Now keeping the knees bent, you can lift the feet off the floor and bring your knees up against your abdomen. Then straighten your legs out, keeping your feet off the floor.

As you do this maneuver be sure and voluntarily tighten your abdominal muscles as much as you can, particularly those in the lower abdominal area. Hold these muscles as tight as you can while you let your heels come back to the floor while your knees are straight. Then you can bend your knees, pulling your feet back up toward your buttocks again and repeat the exercise.

In this manner, you have your belly muscles tightened to help protect the back muscle and you don't produce jerky leverage against back muscles that may not be able to take it.
Other readers who want this issue on methods to control the size of your abdomen can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Last Saturday, I was in Hereford and talked to Gerald McCathern relative to the farmers' problems. We were in agreement on everything except the solution Mr. McCathern believed farmers should be guaranteed parity based on his production costs. Today parity is computed at $5.05 for wheat. Without any controls (and who wants more government interference in our lives?) who could tell what next year's parity price would be?

Imagine, if you can, an economy based on $40 wheat, cotton at $600 a pound and cars at $50,000 each. Tractors would probably sell for $200,000 or better. The average wage for a man to operate in this expensive economy would probably exceed $5,000 per month. I do not believe things would ever reach that state. Our economy would probably blow up in our faces and we would be in total economic anarchy.

Earl Butz, Secretary of Agriculture under Nixon and Ford, told farmers to "Get big or get out!" In dog eat dog situations, I doubt if there would be a half dozen real farmers in the entire nation that could get big enough to survive. But collectively the farmer would be a giant that could deal with the Rockefeller conglomerate on an equal basis. Combined with the consumer he would be unbeatable.

Our highly touted Energy Department has been dragging its feet ever since the energy crisis began. A mixture of 30 gallons of alcohol to 70 gallons of gasoline makes a very efficient fuel for combustion engines. The Golden Spread area should have plants producing at least 200,000 gallons of alcohol daily. This would be enough to produce more than 650,000 gallons of gasoline. Similar productive facilities all over the U.S. could make this nation independent of the OPEC for our fuel.

Other cooperative buying could reduce the cost of production. If the manufacturers of the products we need would not meet the price we could afford to pay, we could simply build our own factory.

Space does not permit further elaboration. But I hope there is a seed is planted that could grow into a solution of this nation's economic problems.

Sincerely yours,
L.J. Phillips

CHEMICAL RECYCLING

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—New recycling processes are expected to help the textile industry curb the flow of chemicals into the nation's streams and the atmosphere.

The chemical-recycling technique shows great promise toward achieving the environmental goal of zero discharge, according to Nick Ince, manager of environmental engineering for J.P. Stevens.

Millions of pounds of polyvinyl alcohol (PVA) are already being recovered annually before it spills into the environment, he said. PVA is an agent used in sizing warp yarns prior to weaving textile products.

Previously, Ince said, chemicals removed from textiles were discarded into the effluent streams, requiring suitable waste treatment plants.
