NOTES FROM SALEM

(Received too late for last week.)

We feel very proud of our boys and girls in our community. Cecil Miller won first prize in the best maize contest at the County Fair held in Big Spring last Saturday, sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. While the girls are striving for a higher education the boys are winning prizes in farming. Misses Bertha and Eva Miller left Saturday morning for Abilene where they entered Draughton's Business College. B. F. Miller accompanied them to Abilene and returned Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dunn and family and Kerr Whittenburg of Hamlin were the week end guests of their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Newson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hull were out at Courtney Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Musgrove of Coahoma were pleasant week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hull. Cotton picking in the Salem community is in full swing. Many farmers are very busy to gather the fleecy staple while the sun shines.

Mr. and Mrs. Olsen of Big Spring drove out to S. J. Canada's ranch Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rogers and F. D. and Mrs. W. A. Rogers of Coahoma were Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Newson.

Ford Coates motored out to Midland Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lay are the proud grandparents of a fine boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lay Saturday, Sept. 24 at Coahoma.

W. H. Robinson has purchased a new row-binder and Mrs. Robinson informed him he would have to have some good eats to enable him to run it, so the result was a new Perfection stove.

Grandma Wise has been very sick for quite a while. It is reported she is not improving very fast.

San Angelo, Oct. 8.—There was an active lease play around Henshaw Oil corporation's No. 1 Noelke & Murphey in Crockett County last week as high as $150 an acre having been paid for close-in leases. The wildcat ran structurally high, topping the lime at 1470 feet and, on this account and because of its location about eight to nine miles east of the Eastern Pecos County field and a like distance west of the McCamey pool, the test was looked upon with much favor.

Sulphur water rose 200 feet in the hole at 1575 feet, to 800 feet at 1580 and to 1000 feet at 1585. It was stated at the offices of the Henshaw Oil Corporation here that plugging of the test would start at once.

JOHN GILBERT BACK IN HIS GREAT FILM 'MONTE CRISTO'

John Gilbert, who is featured in modern love dramas, might well be proud of his work in the William Fox production of Alexander Dumas' powerful novel, "Monte Cristo," which has been revived and will be shown Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 17 and 18 at the R. and R. Lyric theater because of popular demand.

That Gilbert has excelled his character creations in the Dumas drama since he left the Fox studio is difficult to conceive. For as Edmond Dantes, the virile first mate of the Clipper Pharaon, boyishly happy in his love for Mercedes, the lovely village maid, and then as the mysterious Count of Monte Cristo, the grim and crafty avenger, the star accomplishes his delineations with thorough artistry.

As transferred to the screen by Emmett J. Flynn, one of the best directors in the business, "Monte Cristo" is as impressive, if not more so because of its realistic living form, as the novel of the French master fictionist. The transition was a tribute not only to the director but to Dumas for his wonderful ability to inject into a novel written one hundred years so many stirring and varied dramatic situations which probably strike a deeper responsive chord in the people of today because of the scarcity of real drama in the work of modern fiction.

A mere conversation on the street about "Monte Cristo" would without doubt indelibly imprint in one's memory thoughts of the horrible fate which the inhuman friends of Edmond Dantes conspired for him. They asked a charge of criminal conspiracy against the government and the youthful sailor was snatched from the arms of Mercedes at the wedding feast and thrown into a dungeon of the dreaded Chateau d'If to rot and die. For twenty years the prisoner languished in the underground cell. For the most of that period he was educated by Abbe Faria, a priest who also was unjustly buried alive. They had worked six years to dig a tunnel from one cell to the other. Scenes of their sufferings are almost unbearable.

Dante had gained his freedom by a clever ruse; he uses the secret of the kindly priest to discover a big fortune, hidden on the Isle of Monte Cristo. Then he sets out to conquer the world and more than anything else to slay the three men who stole his love and youth. The situation involving this murderous quest are vivid and dramatic.

GROWERS HELP PUT MARKET DOWN

Following an advance of $10 a bale, due to a very bearish crop report, the cotton market dropped $14 per bale. Cotton growers joined hands with the gamblers to bring this about. While gamblers, who had purchased heavily of futures, rushed into the market to sell and take their profits, growers were standing around the gins virtually saying, "Here is my cotton, what will you give me for it?" One of the contributing causes for this sharp decline was the heavy offerings of cotton by producers.

Undoubtedly many producers needed a little money. They had waited a long while for it, but by yielding to this temptation they probably lost from $10 to $15 per bale, and the producers of the South several hundred millions of dollars.

Reports have reached Farm and Ranch where landowners have begged their tenants to hold their cotton off the market temporarily, offering to finance them in the undertaking. Banks have offered to delay collection on notes or to renew for a short period of time, but these offers did not stay the grand rush to get rid of cotton at any old price.

Farm and Ranch would not presume to forecast the market or tell any farmer what to do, but merely calls attention to the fact that the total American crop of cotton is estimated at 12,692,000 bales, considerably less than the average yearly consumption. Farm and Ranch also brings attention to the published statement from market experts that the anxiety of producers to sell was one of the controlling factors in the decline in price.

Under conditions of this kind there is no form of legislation that would prove helpful to this class. There is a very old saying to the effect that the Lord helps those that help themselves. It is equally true that farmers must help themselves. No matter how short the crop, it is easy to depress prices by overloading the market. Someone must pay storage and insurance on cotton thus sold until such a time as the mills need it. The cost of the storage and insurance plus a nice profit is taken from the price paid to the producer. Farm and Ranch

BIG SPRING STEERS LOSE GAME WITH LUBBOCK

The Lubbock Westerners proved too much for the Big Spring Steers in the contest last Friday afternoon played on the Lubbock gridiron in a drizzling rain, the final score being 19 to 0 in Lubbock's favor. The Steers held the Westerners to a scoreless tie the first half of the game, the three touchdowns being made in the second half.

Lubbock's team worked like machinery with never a flaw in their drives and passes. The local boys stayed in the fight and held the Westerners to the score of 19 to 0. In this game good football tactics through the efforts of C. E. Johnson at quarter; Red Coats at half; Frank Jones at full and Ferguson at half were presented. In the line work of Griffith and Maxwell stood out. C. E. Johnson was declared the outstanding defensive man on their team.

In spite of the fact that the game was played in the rain the pep and spirits of the Lubbock high school pep squad were not dampened in the colorful uniforms the young people cheered the boys on to victory. Big Spring was poorly represented at the game. None of the town people attended the game and only a few boys from the high school accompanied the team on this trip.

The members of the Steer team going to Lubbock were: Ed Settles, Ed Maxwell, Borden, Malcolm Patterson, Vernon Manuel, Harold Yarbrough (captain), Fields, Johnson, Ferguson, Coats, Jones, Thorp, Griffith and Glover.

Others attending the game were Coach and Mrs. George Harris, Maxwell Stone, Joe Faucett, Weldon Burns, Forrest Johnson, Hugh Potter, Paul Rix, Tommie Neel, Randall Pickle, Joseph Hayden, Dyer Smith, Bill Gordon, Tom Jordan Jr., Curtis Bishop, J. C. Pickle, Burner Barley, Albert Bettle, Jack Flowers, Joe Black, Joe Pickle, Herbert Hatch, and Pert Prichard.

"Watch Big Spring." But do a little boasting while you watch

"The melancholy days have come"; but in the opinion of the majority of our folks the harvest season has become the most delightful season of the year.

Cheap fuel is needed in our city and natural gas is the answer. Our city officials should be on the lookout to make a good deal to have gas piped to Big Spring.

John Hodges made a business trip to Pyote on Thursday of last week. John said that anyone who thought prices of real estate in Big Spring were high should visit Pyote and try to purchase a business lot.

Public utility companies are spending $28,000,000 this year in advertising and they have no reputation for being wasteful of their money. They need business and are spending money to get it.—El Paso Herald.

Quite a few sea gulls were in evidence last Friday morning. These birds are to be seen crossing the continent most every year shortly before cold weather. The bunch noted Friday were headed eastward.

About the meanest man on earth is the one who will slip around after night fall to steal chickens or cotton from honest folks. A horse thief is a gentleman compared with the low down crook who preys on the hen roost and cotton wagon.

One of our political friends contend that his party, the Republican, has a big advantage in Howard County as the adherents work as a unit. He said it is possible to hold a city, county or precinct convention on short notice and on any street corner as there are not more than three who take an active part in politics in this county.

Wildcatters finding oil in West Texas and the Panhandle saved many a big land owner and cattle raiser financially. Every time you think that things are going to the how yows in Texas something develops that fools you. Texas can promise less and give more and give less and promise more than any other state in the union.—Western World.

We wonder if we could interest a dozen or so citizens in forming a company to put in a feed mill if we cannot persuade some individual to risk the investment? It would be an excellent thing for the feed growers to have such a mill here.

If every fellow was as interested in his home town as he can get excited over a prize fight, a world series or a football game, wouldn't it be great. A world of enthusiasm is available if we only knew the right method of arousing it.

In our city we just don't know how to work together. Every fellow seems to think the other fellow has an axe to grind, and consequently he is unable to accord whole-hearted cooperation. If we learned to pull together we could begin to accomplish something.

Big Spring folks are not as difficult to deal with as some folks would have us believe. Just recently a big corporation desired to buy a building site in our city and they were given an opportunity to make a selection from the sixteen sites offered.

A good clean up campaign conducted in our city at this time would mean better health protection for our citizens during the winter. Disease germs find a breeding place in dirt and filth. Destroy such breeding places by giving our city a thorough cleaning.

Good churches, good schools, good water, cheap fuel are mighty magnets to attract a better class of citizens to select our community as a place to make their home, or to locate factories or business. As soon as we secure natural gas we need not ask any odds of any city in Texas.

A man whose word is as good as his bond is a real man. In the good old days he was in the majority in West Texas—today it is otherwise. So many "silkens" are now abroad in the land that you can no longer afford to consider every man honest until he proves to be otherwise.

There are many folks who can tell you how we ought to do this and that to promote the welfare of our city but they cannot see their way clear to donate five cents toward putting their suggested program over. They seem to imagine you can do city building on hot air—they forget it costs money to get work done.

If we could kidnap a bunch of dairy farmers from the northern states and force them to spend one winter in the Big Spring country we would have no difficulty in persuading them to remain here permanently. They would also persuade many of their relatives and friends to locate in the Sunny Southland.

The scenic drive would be a real asset to Big Spring if the roadway be placed in good condition. Most every visitor who is taken for a trip over the mountain in the Federation State Park, just south of the city, pronounce it one of the most beautiful drives in the state.

If you want to help your town—paint up the old house, repair or tear down the fences, cut the weeds around your place and have all rubbish raked up and hauled away. Home builders are attracted by a neat and clean city—they do not choose to buy or build a home in a ramshackle looking burg.

We need to talk good times and to do something to encourage good times. Standing around hoping that something will turn up to enrich us is about as poor a policy as can be followed. Why not put some money into propositions which might help to add to the growth and prosperity of our community.

Legitimate wildcatters may be compared to Christopher Columbus. They are discoverers. There is not a big field in Texas, the southwest, but that was discovered by a wildcatter. Legitimate wildcatters are developers. Mining prospectors may be put in the same class with the wildcatters. The trusts are the collectors and gather the profits that are made for them by the wildcatter and prospector.—Western World.

Since there seems to be no hurry to provide the viaduct across the railroad tracks the citizenship should be given an opportunity to decide whether this viaduct should be built at Main street or Gregg. If left to the decision of the majority we are of the opinion that Main street crossing would be selected as the logical place for the viaduct. Those interested in having the viaduct placed on Main street should lay plans while the viaduct question seems to be dormant.

It's to our interest to work for our home town—especially so if we are property owners. No class of citizens profits more from the growth of a community than does the man who owns property. The increase in property values is profit—real velvet—and in many instances secured without any effort on the part of the owner. Growth brings competition to business interests but real estate has no competition. Remember you are the one who receives the greatest benefit by the growth of our home town and you should lend a hand in promoting the best interests of your town.

Keep the old town clean and sanitary, and we will be able to prevent dread, contagious diseases from making their appearance.

MYSTERIOUS MEXICO

Dean Inge, famous British churchman and writer on international affairs, foresees a day not distant when Latin America will be a mighty power in the world.

Doubtless he is right. If so it is of vast importance to us. Will we be friends or enemies? If enemies, war between these southern republics and the "Colossus of the North" as they call us, will be almost certain. If friends, the exchange of commodities between us will make our prosperity secure for decades to come.

Mexico is the key to Latin America. We will be judged largely by the way we get along with Mexico. In a sense Mexico is the doorway to our future. Certainly she is the doorway to our future so far as Latin America is concerned.—El Paso Post.

A colorful and romantic screen version of the widely read story Dumas' "The County of Monte Cristo." The story tells of the mantic adventures of a young French sailor, who is falsely imprisoned—and later becomes the world's richest man. Capable players act the difficult character roles—and the famous co-stars, John Gilbert and Renee Adoree, in the triumphant presentation of "The Parade" score another big success in "MONTE CRISTO."

Runs the gamut of human emotions—freedom, wealth, love. A romance.

I heard recently, that butter was part of a child's diet? (Mrs. E. M. L., Bay)
Can you cure eczema and can it be cured? (B. C. Hempstead)

ANSWERS
A law regulating barber shops and beauty parlors provides for the registration of such establishments with the state health department; that no person is permitted to work in a shop who is suffering from a contagious disease; that shops must be kept in a clean and sanitary condition at all times; that all razors, clippers, and combs be thoroughly sterilized after use; that head rests be covered with clean new paper or other substance that has not been previously used; and that no person shall be used in an apartment by anyone. Every child should have a clean, well-fitting nightgown, sleep with mouth shut at night. His teeth should be clean and free of cavities. He should not be conscious of any odor about his person. He should be able to hear a fair sized room; be able to hold a glass of water at arm's length, and without wincing; he should be able to stand erect; his face should be free from puffiness under the eyes; and he should have a consistent gain in weight.

Using the home is entirely safe when a pressure canner is used. Such canners should be bought for home use, are simple in construction and last for a long time. Glass or tin canners should not be used, and beef, pork, soups, etc., can be successfully steam pressure cooked. Also more successful canning of corn, and other vegetables which require a higher degree of heat for sterilization.

Home Demonstration Service is giving valuable service to the home. It should be included in the curriculum of each child at each meal, as it teaches the child to cook and eat healthfully. Lack of this service is a disease of the home. It also contains other information that are beneficial to the home.

As infection of the mouth can best be prevented by cleaning the teeth after each meal, and by dental check-ups each year. Eating fruits and vegetables is also beneficial in keeping the mouth in a health condition. Vitamin C is found in oranges, lemons, and other citrus fruit; in green leafy vegetables which contain calcium, such as cabbage, spinach, and onions. Milk contains this vitamin, and so do other foods, but the vitamin is destroyed by heat.

Another way to the prevention of a really good spring is a forward step if you haven't any. The prospective buyer should direct him to someone who knows just what he de-

THE COMPLEX

A coast and geodetic society survey engineer was making observations in Texas for compass declination. He was at his instruments, and taking copious notes, when a rangy Texan walked up, examined the outfit, and inquired: "Whatyer doin' young felly?" The engineer, new and enthusiastic in the coast and geodetic survey, replied in detail: "I am determining the latitude, longitude and declination of the compass and establishing a permanent survey monument for the benefit of local surveyors. The compass pointing goes through a small change in a period of years and I am determining the exact pointing at this date. I am observing on the sun, and by astronomy I am able to establish a true North and South line. Then I determine the magnetic pointing of the compass, and the angle between the two gives me what I'm looking for—the declination of the compass." But the native wasn't convinced. He spat at the instruments, gave his big hat a vicious tug, and announced: "Ye can't fool me, young felly; ye're looking for oil."—Life.

NEW YORK YANKEES WIN

The New York Yankees won the world's championship last Saturday when they took the fourth straight game from the Pittsburgh Nationals 5 to 4.

Babe Ruth proved to be the hero of the series, knocking out two home runs and being a constant threat to the Pittsburgh pitchers. The Waner brothers of Pittsburgh maintained their reputation of being great batters but they made some costly errors to mar their otherwise fine record.

Pittsburgh players seemed to lack the punch and pep which marked their great fight to win the leadership in the National league.

This is the second time in history of the game that the winners took four games in a row.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

By
West Texas Chamber Commerce

San Saba — Native varieties of pecans will have an even break with improved or cultivated nuts in the prize lists for the first National Pecan Show to be held November 8 and 9 at San Saba, Texas. Premiums range as high as $250 and none less than $25. Pecan growers of eight states are already taking active interest in the exhibition, and a large attendance is expected. The show is planned by pecan experts of A. & M. College and pecan growers of the South, with whom the San Saba Chamber of Commerce is cooperating.

Lamesa — Between 60 and 100 editors who are members of the West Texas Press Association will hold their annual convention at Lamesa October 21 and 22. Secretary Wm. A. Wilson of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and others are completing arrangements for entertainment of delegates. The chamber of commerce is offering a prize of $50 in gold for the best article on Lamesa and Dawson County prepared by an editor of the association visiting the convention.

DeLeon — General headquarters for workmen on the Comanche County highway being hardsurfaced through the section are being maintained here. Work is to be completed by December.

Olton — The star mail route connecting Littlefield and Olton has been granted by the Postal department, and became effective October 10. The new route is twenty and one-fifths miles long and will call for three weekly trips. The route has been sought for two years.

Hamlin — The Farm Bureau Cotton Gin is Hamlin's newest enterprise now open for business. It is a purely local business and operated on a business basis by members of the Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

Crosbyton — Frank Corn of this place recently bought 1200 steers, one-, two- and three-year olds for a consideration of $65,500.

McCamey — Pecos Cavern, situated on the lower bench of a small mesa near McCamey about half a mile off the Glavin road leading into the McCamey-Yates oil field, is being explored by local parties and exploited by them as a rival of the famed Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico. Wonderful stalagmites and stalactites have been reported to exist.

Vernon — A scientific and industrial survey of Vernon and Wilbarger County is being sponsored by the Vernon Chamber of Commerce as a preliminary step toward a program of industrial expansion for this section. The report from the survey, which will cover agriculture, commerce and industry, is expected about the first week of January, 1928.

Lockney — The city of Lockney has employed a water superintendent who began duties October 1 to take care of the pump station, run the water works system, act as fire chief, read water meters, and look after other such related work.

Claude — The Armstrong County Poultry Association is working out a system of branding poultry of its members as a means of apprehending chicken thieves.

Coahoma — The local water works system is undergoing a thorough repair and remodeling job. A new tank of 6250 gallons capacity is a part of the program.

Odessa — Elliott Hotel, Odessa's new $200,000 fire proof hostelry of 70 rooms, is now open to the public.

GASOLINE WAR TO START

Denver, Colo., Oct. 5. — The price of gasoline in Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico may drop to new low levels as a result of a new trade struggle of large proportions for control of the Rocky mountain area.

The Standard oil company of Indiana and the Royal Dutch-Shell oil company, through their subsidiaries are carrying on the fight, the Midwest Refining company, a Standard subsidiary, has just purchased 115 stations in this territory, and both sides have slashed the gasoline price from 18 to 16 cents a gallon.

Miss Mildred King who is attending Draughton's Business College at Abilene, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. King and family in this city the past week end.

Dr. Vernon Powell, after a visit in this city with Dr. Chas. K. Bivings Jr. and family, left Monday morning for his home at Atlanta, Georgia.

PAVEMENT SHOWING CRACKS

Attention is called to the fact that cracks are beginning to show in the pavement which was constructed in our city just about one year ago.

An investigation should be held to determine the cause of the breaks and the firm which had the contract to build the paving should be asked to join in this investigation.

If possible, repairs should be made at once to prevent water entering the breaks and causing greater damage—if it is found the breaks extend thru the concrete base.

We are planning to do some additional paving so it will be wise to find just what is wrong with the paving we have completed so we may avoid the mistakes in the new work.

DON'T BE A SUCKER!

If you receive a postal card from a Clipping Bureau with a notice that they recently saw an important item concerning you in a publication which they would send provided you sent them twenty five cents—don't bite.

Ninety nine chances to one they will send you an item clipped from your home town paper.

Slickers resort to every scheme under the sun to get easy money.

Of course there are some reliable clipping bureaus and then again there are quite a few organized for the sole purpose of "city slicking" the unwary.

WEST TEXAS FAVORED SECTION

It is certainly impossible to estimate the wealth of West Texas. The University lands in Reagan County have already produced $56,000,000 worth of oil. That's more than we paid for a big slice of the United States in the Louisiana purchase with Alaska thrown in for good measure. The Reagan County field is but a few years old. Just suppose this field proves to produce as many years as the Pennsylvania field—which has been producing oil since 1859—you would wear out several pencils trying to estimate the wealth of Reagan County. But Reagan County is only one of a dozen or more of the counties in West Texas which are due to have immense oil fields—our own Howard County being one of the favored. When you consider that oil development has barely started you begin to understand the possibilities. Billions of dollars worth of oil will be secured in West Texas and a billion or more money will be spent in development. West Texas is on the eve of a period of great progress and growth. This activity is due to continue thru a long period of years and this will be best for West Texas.

CARD OF THANKS

With gratitude in our hearts we wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our dear friends and neighbors for the many loving deeds and words of sympathy extended us during our recent bereavement. Especially do we thank you for the beautiful floral offerings. May God richly bless you all is our prayer.

PASSING THE BUCK

There are five to one in almost every organization who are ready to "Let George do it." In society, church, business and everything else the willing horse is worked to death. Sitting on a park bench one morning last summer attention was attracted by an apparently dead object moving in a zig-zag fashion across a bare spot a few feet away. Closer examination revealed the body of a grasshopper being dragged by an ant towards its nest. The remarkable thing was that while the one industrious little fellow was struggling away at his tremendous task, half a dozen others were on top of the carcass having their fill. Isn't that human—riding and feeding.—The Batteryman.

THINK IT OVER

Did it ever occur to you, while participating in or listening to a conversation, to observe how much of the conversation is devoted to criticism? Criticism of the government, criticism of the state authorities, criticism of municipal authorities, criticism of individuals, criticism of everything and everybody? If you have not done so, as an experiment try it a few times. The results will astonish you, and incidentally teach you, possibly, a lesson of incalculable worth to you.—Scurry County Signal (Snyder).

Constructive criticism is always in order. But this continued "yapping" by folks who imagine everything and everybody is rotten except themselves gives an intelligent person a pain.

Smoothest
motor a car ever had

Here's the most startling development in the whole history of 6-cylinder engineering—the Nash 7-BEARING motor.

Take the wheel of this Advanced Six 4-Door Sedan for thirty minutes and then you'll realize how much a 4-bearing CAN'T do that a 7-bearing one DOES.

It's the SMOOTHEST motor that ever powered an automobile—full pressure lubricated to prevent noise and wear.

There's not a hint of vibration all through the full range of power and speed.

Nash balances clutch, flywheel, and crankshaft as a single unit to make that absolutely certain.

Note the rich interior of this model. The luxurious genuine tufted mohair upholstery. The attractive vanity case and smoking set, leather mounted.

Observe that Nash uses genuine walnut for the steering wheel. And the instrument board, as well as the crown panel above, the window moldings and door panels, are done in walnut finish.

FRANCE AND FINANCE

Knox City Herald: The French have found another way of bolstering their tottering finance, outside of the recent high tariff move. The American Legion, by holding its annual session in Paris, has left that city's banks stuffed with greenbacks of our Uncle Samuel's approval. One bank claims to have accumulated $25,000 in $1 and $2 bills, while the Equitable Trust Company at legion headquarters cashed $500,000. The French could pay the war debt they owe the United States in our own coin, but so far they have been unwilling to even pay the interest out of our country's own coin.

The statisticians estimate that Americans spend $300,000,000 a year in France, or that they are spending about that sum this year. Our people are said to spend $750,000,000 in Europe. The French get nearly half of it, on account of having Paris to offer. Paris is a good investment for the Frenchmen. Yet our expenditures in France are not enough to pay the interest on what France owes us. And hearing from our high tariff advocates that high tariffs make this country prosperous, the French have decided to try high tariffs themselves. So they have announced a raise in rates against American goods that will deprive the latter of access to French markets. It is very embarrassing to Mr. Coolidge and his administrators, who have themselves bragged lustily on our tariff. If other European countries should follow the example of France, to the same height, our trade with Europe would be something like it now is with the Fiji Islands. Why shouldn't other countries shut our goods out, if we are made prosperous by shutting theirs out? Certainly there will always be some international trade, regardless of tariff walls, but with all the walls of the present built higher for the future the tariff as a prosperity builder would get its fullest test. That test is what high tariff advocates are afraid of. — State Press in Dallas News.

SENATOR HARRISON WOULD BARE THE PLOT

Senator Pat Harrison scents a plot in the Bureau of Economics, Department of Agriculture. He wants to investigate to see whether there is a scheme on the part of somebody therein to depress the price of cotton. He agrees that Secretary Jardine has no enmity for the cotton farmer. When his investigation is over he is likely to find that the bureau economists are equally free from bad intent. And yet there is abundant reason for investigating the bureau.

Possibly the finding of the investigators will be that the bureau technicians habitually run out of something to do and, in the effort to appear useful, undertake tasks for which they are neither commissioned nor prepared. If somebody wiped out the bureau entirely the country would, of course, survive, although it might relapse a temporary excess of economists and statisticians without visible means of support.

Certainly it would be the swiftest and surest means of correcting the evil if the officious gentlemen were allowed to find employment elsewhere and their desks and typewriters turned over to the excess property custodian. These gentlemen are all right in their way, but they know, in the celebrated phrase too many things which aren't so. — Dallas News.

Warren Babbs of Dallas visited friends in this city the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brooks and baby daughter left Monday evening for Marlin and Glen Rose, where Mr. Brooks will undergo treatment for a stomach disorder, from which he has been troubled for several years.

BASS FARM HOME DESTROYED

The farm home a few miles south-east of town owned by A. C. Bass and occupied by Oscar Bass, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin about nine thirty o'clock Friday night.

Only a very few of their effects were salvaged as the fire had spread too far before it was discovered and the occupants were forced to hustle to save the very few things they did. — Coahoma Citizen.

ELIJAH IN NABOTH'S VINEYARD

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be sure your sin will find you out.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Elijah's Message to a Wicked King.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Wages of Sin.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Rebuke of Wrong.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Opposing Official Corruption.

I. Ahab Covets Naboth's Vineyard (v. 1-6).

1. Location of the vineyard (v. 1). It joined Ahab's summer home in Jezreel. He wanted to transform it into an herb garden and thus round out his property.

2. Ahab's proposal (v. 2). He offered to buy it outright for money, or give in exchange a better one.

3. Naboth's refusal (v. 3). He had a twofold reason: (1) regard for the paternal estate; (2) obedience to God's law (Lev. 25:23-28, cf. Num. 36:7-9). It doubtless would have been profitable to Naboth to have sold his vineyard, but loyalty to God was more important to him than money.

4. Ahab's behavior (v. 4). He came into his house, lay down upon his bed and refused to eat. The king was sulking like a spoiled child.

5. Jezebel's inquiry (vv. 5, 6). Apparently she came with the sympathy of a wife, inquiring as to the cause of his behavior. But when she knew of Naboth's refusal she was angry.

II. Ahab Taking Possession of Naboth's Vineyard (vv. 7-16).

1. Jezebel's treachery (vv. 7-15). (1) Her contemptuous question (v. 7). She taunted him for his cowardice. The fear of being thought weak moves a weak man quickly. Scorn is a powerful weapon in the hands of unscrupulous persons.

(2) Her exhortation to Ahab (v. 7). "Arise and eat bread, and let thine heart be merry." A wife has great influence over her husband. Many a man has been saved from discouragement and therefore defeat through his wife's influence. Unfortunately in this case the influence of the wife was bad.

(3) Her promise to Ahab (v. 7). "I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth."

(4) Her wicked scheme (vv. 8-15). She wrote letters in Ahab's name sealed them with his seal, and sent them to the elders and nobles who were dwelling in the city with Naboth, asking them to proclaim a fast as though some great calamity had befallen the nation, and place Naboth before the public as the one who was the cause of it all. They were instructed to find two false witnesses who would testify against Naboth. The charge they brought was blasphemous against God and the king. Naboth's only offense was his refusal to sell his estate. When they had thus stoned Naboth and his sons to death (2 Kings 9:26), they came and told Jezebel, who in turn came to Ahab with the information and directed him to take possession of the vineyard. It was the custom for the property of those who were condemned to death for blasphemy to revert to the king.

2. Ahab goes to Jezreel to take possession of Naboth's vineyard (v. 16). Ahab had not killed Naboth, but he eagerly accepted the prize without inquiring as to how it was secured. Many today are like Ahab, too cowardly to commit wrong themselves but are willing to reap the benefit of the wrongdoing of others.

III. Elijah in Naboth's Vineyard Announcing Doom Upon Ahab (vv. 17-20).

Elijah told him the dogs should lick his blood in the place where they licked the blood of Naboth. It would seem that Naboth's body was thrown out to be devoured by the dogs. Evil was to fall upon Ahab and his posterity, even to wipe out his seed and name. Ahab stood in that vineyard guilty of all the sins which Jezebel had committed, though he had been silent and inactive. God held him responsible for Jezebel's acts, for he was king and head of the nation. The day of reckoning did come to Ahab (1 Kings 22:38). Ahab's question to Elijah when confronted by him in the vineyard showed that his conscience was not wholly dead.

2. Doom upon Jezebel (vv. 23-26). She likewise should be eaten by the dogs by the wall of Jezreel. This was literally fulfilled (2 Kings 9:33-37). "Be sure your sin will find you out." Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

IV. Ahab's Repentance (vv. 27-29). Because of this God promised to withhold judgment during his lifetime.

GOOD FARMERS ARE GETTING BETTER

"Six hundred thousand farmers quit," reads the head lines in the daily papers. Does this mean abandoned acres and bankrupt farmers? Does it mean that agriculture as an industry is at such a low ebb that a man engaged in it can no longer make a living? Just what is the significance of the movement from the farms to the towns and cities?

Various and sundry interpretations have been put upon it by editorial writers. Few, however, have taken time or space to discuss more than those farmers from which sensational conclusions can be drawn. In view of the demand for agricultural legislation, the consensus of opinion seems to center on the idea that farming, as a whole, has become unprofitable.

It is true that depressed farm prices, surplus production in some commodities and crop failures in others, have forced many to leave the farm and seek employment in other industries. Depressed conditions in these industries will again drive these same people back to the farm at some future date. There is now and always has been ebb and flow in the tides of humanity from farm to city and from city to farm.

Land speculation immediately following the war is responsible for more mortgages and final loss of homesteads in States permitting mortgages on homesteads than any other cause. Many who lost their farms moved to the city. Others have become tenants.

Farming, like any other industry, is subject to economic influences. In farming as in any other industry the rule of "the survival of the fittest" is applied. Thousands have left the farm and thousands more will follow who are incapable of adapting themselves to changed conditions. Under old conditions they were able to survive. Under the new they cannot exist. These acres, however, have not all been abandoned. Increased efficiency of farm machinery operated by men capable of understanding it has kept production up to demands in all cases. There are fewer men on the farms, but no general decrease in production.

In these statistics on farm population, which to some spell disaster and National decline, one may easily discover some very encouraging signs. Successful farmers are not going to the city unless they have earned a competence which permits retirement. The inventive genius of man is relieving farmers of much of the drudgery which formerly attended their work. Modern conveniences in the way of lighting, meter systems, power and sanitation has made life on the farm, wherever installed, equally as comfortable as the city home. A better understanding of the needs of the soil; better and more productive livestock; pure seed; better roads and a constantly increasing demand for farm products lend brightness to the future of the industry. And, what is more significant, is the fact that intelligent farmers the country over are at last determined to become masters of their own business. Not only are they making a study of production with a view of lowering the cost, but they are actively engaged in an effort to secure a more direct control of the distribution of their products to the end that they may receive adequate compensation for their time, labor and investment.

Organized farmers do not ask favors of the Government. They ask equality with other industries. They do not want a Government-controlled agriculture, but do ask legislative assistance, which will make possible the operation of their business by themselves and on a basis that will permit its unhampered development.

The farm is no longer a place for an unprogressive, ignorant man. Only those willing and capable of adjusting themselves to a new order of things can succeed. For this class agriculture holds forth promises of a bright and prosperous future.—Farm and Ranch.

Gladys Prichard after a visit in this city with relatives and friends, returned to Fort Worth Tuesday, where she is taking work in the Sellers School of Beauty Culture.

Don't let the weather fool you

Science warns against improper refrigeration. Danger as great in winter as in summer, survey shows

FRIGIDAIRE is rapidly supplanting the old make-shift methods of food storage, formerly so widely practiced between fall and spring. This modern, sanitary, care-free refrigeration is now regarded as essential in cold weather as in warm.

For here is constant, cold storage temperature that guards against the risk of food contamination. In this cold, dry atmosphere, foods stay fresh and wholesome—no matter how hot or cold it is outside.

Visit our salesroom and see the new models—priced as low as $180 f. o. b. Dayton. Under liberal General Motors terms, only a small deposit is required to put Frigidaire in your home.

PERSONAL STATIONERY WITH YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS ON IT IS VERY FASHIONABLE NOW, AND QUITE CONVENIENT AS WELL. DROP IN AND LET US SHOW YOU SOME NICE WORK THAT WE HAVE BEEN DOING IN THIS LINE

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

IN ANOTHER'S PLACE

WHEN in a moment of excitement or envy you incline to assail another's good name, or question his or her acts which seem to you unreasonable, hold your tongue.

A mischievous word hastily spoken is like a little spark, capable of causing a great conflagration, irreparable loss and unspeakable sorrow.

To burst out the first cruel thought that comes to your mind in a burst of sudden heat is a fearful thing to do.

It is an evidence of an inherent weakness in the moral fiber and proves your unfitness for leadership.

At one outburst of temper if you should happen to be seen or overheard by your employers, you shatter your own good record and spoil a perfectly bright future, simply by giving vent to spleen.

When the impulse comes to malign co-workers or speak ill of superiors, however much you may wish to override them, hold your horses and drive carefully.

There is danger ahead. Thousands have gone over the fatal precipice for similar recklessness, when they imagined themselves secure.

Put yourself in the place of the person whom you are seeking to humiliate and overthrow. You know nothing about his or her trials, impediments, deprivations or sorrows, and you have no royal privilege to enter the heart-sanctuary and expose it to a vulgar gaze.

Put yourself in place of an ever-wrought typist who is doing her utmost to support aged parents; put yourself in the place of a troubled employer who lies awake nights from thinking of pressing obligations; put yourself in the place of the man that runs the elevator, the scrub woman with her bent body and gnarled purple hands.

To seek to exalt yourself by contrast with such people, for no other reason than petty pride or jealousy is not only exceedingly discourteous but grossly uncharitable.

Don't hand out sighs and tears while you can scatter smiles and sunshine.

It is an understood thing in the game of life that while the hot-headed and uncharitable are pulling down reputations of others, the person who puts himself in the place of the striving, who is considerate and kindly in words and acts, yet is awake to his own opportunity, is the individual who eventually rises to eminence and remains there.

IRA PRATT DIES AT BAIRD

Ira Pratt died last night (Oct. 6) from an attack of gall stone. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt went to Abilene yesterday and Mr. Pratt became ill on the way home yesterday evening. Dr. Griggs, T. & P. surgeon, met them on the way to Baird, gave him a hypo to ease him.

Dr. Griggs visited him after he arrived at home and Mr. Pratt seemed to be resting well at 12 o'clock last night, and some time about 2 a. m. he died. Mr. Pratt has been subject to these attacks before and Dr. Griggs advised him to go to the T. & P. hospital at Marshall and be operated, but he never went. Up to going to press no report was given The Star as to when the funeral will be held. Ira Pratt was a switchman in the T. & P. yards at Baird.

LATER: Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 8, conducted by Revs. Jos R. Mayes and Cal C. Wright. Burial in Ross Cemetery by Baird Masonic Lodge. — Baird Star.

For many years Mr. Pratt was a fireman for the Texas & Pacific Railway on runs between Big Spring and Baird and was known and esteemed by many Big Spring citizens. The announcement of his death brought sorrow to many friends here.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Glasscock County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon E. R. Stewart, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Glasscock County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Garden City, Texas, on the First Monday in November, 1927, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 379, wherein D. W. Brunson, and Glenn S. Brunson are Plaintiffs, and L. B. Pruitt and E. R. Stewart are Defendants, said petition alleging:

That on May 15, 1926, plaintiffs owned the following land, to-wit: Sections 26, 34, 36, 2, 14, 22, 12, 24, 1, 38, 11, 13, 23, all in Block 36, Township 3 South;

Sections 33, 37, 3, 4, 10, 16, 17, 20, 21, 26, all in Block 36, Township 2 South;

Section 2, Block 36, Township 4 South;

Sections 48, 3, 9, 11, Block 36, Township 2 South;

Sections 6, 7, 10, 30, 19, 42, 8, 5, 15, 35, 32, 34, 38, and the E 1-2 of 5, all in Block 35, Township 3 South;

Said lands situated in Midland and Glasscock Counties, Texas.

That on June 1, 1925, defendants unlawfully dispossessed plaintiffs of said land and still withhold possession thereof to Plaintiffs' damage $5000.00. Further, that on May 22, 1926, defendants caused to be recorded in Vol. 26, page 621, deed records of Glasscock County, Texas, a written instrument wherein one T. J. Barnes purported to have become the agent of plaintiffs and as such agent to have made a contract with defendants giving defendants the right to sell said lands upon certain terms set out in said instrument to said record of which reference is here made for such terms. That such instrument clouds plaintiffs' title to their damage $5000.00. Plaintiffs pray for judgment for the title and possession of said land, for cancellation of said recorded instrument, for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court on said first day of the next term thereof, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness Joe C. Calverley, Clerk of the District Court of Glasscock County, Texas.

It won't take much encouragement on the part of the citizenship to start a forward movement in our city. Conditions are much ahead of what they were in our county at this time last year, all development continues to move forward at a steady pace, and a spirit of optimism should be in evidence.

CHAS. H. SHOLTE KILLED IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT

Charles H. Sholte was instantly killed at 8:15 o'clock at Fort Worth Tuesday night, Oct. 11, when his body was crushed between two freight cars when a car he was riding was derailed in the Frisco Ry. yards.

The remains were brought to Big Spring Thursday morning for interment. Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. C. Hinds, officiating. The Knights of Pythias concluded the services at the graveside in Mt. Olive cemetery.

Mr. Sholte was 33 years of age and had been a resident of Big Spring for twenty years during most of which time he was in the employ of the Texas & Pacific Ry. as a trainman.

He left the service of this road during the forepart of this year.

He was a jolly companion, a loyal friend and was deeply esteemed by those who knew him well. He had a generous disposition and no one in need ever appealed to him in vain. He was a loyal member of the Knights of Pythias, the D.O.K.E.Y. and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and took an active part in the activities of these orders. Many there are who sorrow because of his untimely death.

He is survived by his wife, who was visiting her father at Brownwood at the time Mr. Sholte was killed; a son by a former marriage and a brother F. G. Sholte of this city, his mother Mrs. M. Sholte of Midland, a brother Will Sholte of Midland, two sisters Mrs. Odell of Santa Rita, N. M. and Mrs. Dora Haupton of San Antonio, all of whom were here to attend the services.

Out of town people here to attend the funeral of Mr. Sholte were: Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Brownwood, Miss Lillian Davis of Brownwood, John Boatwright of Fort Worth, Mrs. B. F. Whitefield, Mrs. S. H. Butler, Mrs. F. F. Elkin, Mrs. W. B. Edkin, Mrs. J. S. Cordill and Mrs. B. L. Sowell, all of Midland.

The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community go out to those who mourn for this loved one.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of her sister, Mrs. Loy Smith at 505 Bell street at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, J. D. Boren, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Olive cemetery.

Mrs. Winn was loved and esteemed by all who knew her. She was a kind and sympathetic mother, a devoted wife, and a true friend, and she will be sadly missed by her loved ones. Surviving is her husband, R. E. Winn and baby son, her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Foresyth of Eastland and eight sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Loy Smith of Big Spring, Mrs. J. A. Thorpe, Ranger; Mrs. A. E. Walker, Lorraine; Mrs. Elmira Long of Brownwood; Mrs. Bell Maxwell of Ranger; and Misses Florence, Modell and Bernice Foresyth of Eastland, and Vinus and Weaver Foresyth of Eastland, all of whom were here to attend the funeral services. Deepest sympathy is extended the loved ones in this sad hour.

To Be Married in Due Time

By QUEENA POLLACK

(Copyright.)

"WHEN will these men learn to ask one in time?" complained Anne Hartley, her blue eyes sparkling, as she hung up the receiver with a gesture of disgust.

"What now, languid Lady from the South?" queried the brisk and businesslike Lillian Foster, who had entered the office in time to hear the question flung in her general direction. "Bless me, child, it's almost Saturday noon. A whole glorious week-end free and I still hear you wailing about the fact that men don't give you time enough to consider whether you wish to accept their invitations."

"It's not that exactly," countered Anne, her southern inheritance of loyalty flashing to the foreground. "It was Jim again. Always ringing me to go to the game with him on the very morning of the day it happens. And—"

"Am I to understand that for the third time this season you've refused to go with Jim because he asked you at the last moment?" the older and more experienced girl interrupted.

"Yes."

"Listen, Lady," Lillian said, reverting to her pet name for the little southern girl she fostered in the office atmosphere. "you're leaving Jim to the mercies of some other girl who doesn't understand him nearly so well as you—"

"No!" cried Anne, impulsively. "I don't believe that's so. I know he'd rather have me than anyone else, and, if he can't take me, he'll probably go alone. It's not that he neglects to ask me intentionally. He's so busy, so engrossed in his work, he just counts on me. And Jim must be taught by your example to give a girl to my way of thinking about engagements."

"He will probably be taught to think of engagements with some one else," Lillian impatiently replied.

Suddenly the telephone jangled. Mechanically, Lillian lifted the hook. "Hello, dear," a pleading voice echoed. "It's Jim, again. I want you to reconsider your refusal, Anne."

"Just a moment, Jim. I'll put Anne on the wire," replied Lillian coldly.

"Oh, Lil, don't freeze me so," he called over the wire, while palpitant silence filled the room. As Lillian swung the telephone over to Anne, their eyes met. Anne looked a little whiter than usual. Determined to show Lillian that she meant what she said in argument a few moments before, she spoke slowly into the mouthpiece.

"I heard you tell Lil what you wanted, Jim. It's no use asking me again. I told you I am unable to go this afternoon. I have so many things to do."

The clock pointed twelve. Already Lillian was ready to leave the office. She slipped into the outer office and mumbled on the telephone.

After a scanty lunch which tasted like paste itself to her, Anne went to her boarding-house home.

While sunbeams beckoned luringly through the windows of her room, Anne set herself to performing a few personal chores she always left for Sunday morning. Finally, when the sun faded into twilight, she went out for dinner. As she was entering the little inn nearby, she caught sight of a happy crowd, presumably coming from the game. She felt wretched, and her misery strengthened when she saw Lillian and Jim, smiling confidently at each other. Anne found herself jealous.

"But that's absurd," she thought. But tantalizing thoughts stabbed at her until she arrived at the office on Monday morning, ready for the next week and ready for Lillian's explanation.

Lillian offered none. "Perhaps she does not know that I saw them together," Anne pondered. The bulk of the mail was already opened and sorted when Jim called Anne. "Ah, perhaps he will try to explain," Anne counseled herself as she answered the call.

"This is Jim Brady, Anne. I want to ask you to come to the game with me on the coming Saturday." Anne gasped internally at the use of his full name and the formality of the invitation. Politely, she accepted, and waited for talk of the previous game, which was not forthcoming. She shot a glance at Lillian, who sat composedly making notations on letters.

For almost a month, a steady stream of invitations given carefully in advance of the event came from Jim. Had Lillian told him of their discussion and warned him in time? Their separate secrecy about the game she did not attend, and which they evidently did, puzzled her.

Curiously, she found herself not enjoying the gatherings of gaiety she attended with Jim. Spontaneity was gone. A wariness about their relationship was lost. The impulsive happiness she used to sense in his presence toned down to routine. Coming from a dance one evening, she was meditating almost bitterly, when Jim looked quietly at her and said: "I want to marry you, Anne."

Her heart stopped its clamorous beating as she cried expertly "When?"

"In due time when I consider and you can prepare."

"Oh, make it now. Tomorrow," she implored breathlessly, as her arm curled about his neck in suppliant caress. "Happiness is a swift stream I want to be caught in every minute with you Jim."

CHEVROLET CARAVAN GIVES PARADE HERE WEDNESDAY

With every aspect of a circus, a steam callopo, colorful balloons, and a parade of decorated cars, the Chevrolet Caravan paraded the down town section in Big Spring Thursday shortly before the noon hour, and attracted much attention. The caravan including over twenty one different style Chevrolet trucks and truck bodies and all new style cars of Chevrolet, was in charge of H. C. Howard, assistant sales manager of the Dallas branch office. The cars were displayed in Big Spring Thursday morning at the King Chevrolet Company on East Third street and were inspected by quite a few Big Spring people. Seventeen different style bodies were displayed, some one-half ton and one ton trucks, all of which were made by the Builders Commercial Equipment Company.

The Caravan arrived in Big Spring Wednesday evening and spent the night in Big Spring. These trucks and cars are sent out from the factory and are making a tour of the state.

The church is doing some wonderful work as the Gospel is being preached in several different communities every Lord's day. On last Lord's day Bro. W. C. Smith preached at Vincent; Brother Little preached at Highway, and Brother Reggie preached at Knott. Brother Boren conducted services at our church. We should feel thankful for the privileges and opportunities we have to offer in spreading the Gospel to our people.

The attendance at Sunday school and church was fine last Lord's day. Let us have just twice as many next Lord's day. A cordial welcomes all.

"COUNTESS MARITZA"

Auditorium, Oct. 8 to 23, State Fair of Texas, 1927

Three different prima donnas were tried out by the Messrs Shubert before one was found who satisfied these very particular producers and the critical Broadway audiences and theatrical writers. The first one lasted one month, the second one, two weeks and then came Gladys Baxter, just about a year before the date at which she will appear in the same role at the State Fair of Texas, when "Countess Maritza" will be presented in the Auditorium for the whole fair period. And she has filled the part ever since to everyone's satisfaction. She is a splendid actress and a fine vocalist, as she must be to sing the part of the Countess. As for her good looks, her portrait above speaks eloquently.

"The Flesh Pots of Egypt"
By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

(Copyright.)

"I DO NOT require impossibilities," Acton said loftily. "Only the girl I marry must be wholly unsophisticated."

Surely she'll be among the loneliest works of God," Elizabeth countered. "Only think how your vast experience will bore her."

"H-m! Does it ever bore you?" Acton demanded, frowning.

She laughed softly, nodding. "More times than I care to remember."

"I shall certainly spare you such annoyance in future," Acton all but snorted, looking down at her.

That made her giggle outright before answering: "Stop frowning, Johnny—you do it so lamely. You know you'll never cease from coming Sunday nights—unless you find somebody that makes better waffles and fried peach pies than I do."

"You will see!" from Acton loudly.

When her caller had almost slammed the door behind him, she lay full length upon the fine old sofa, hands outspread above her face, looking hard at her rosy taper fingers, the while she said to her image in the mantel mirror: "Praise be if the medicine works. You," tapping two fingers, "have really earned the Acton diamond. With malice aforethought—you knew all the time the way to read your title clear to all the Acton emoluments was by the gate of their owner's palate. I wonder how you endured the drudgery two whole years—but not quite as much as I wonder what set you to speaking truth!"

"No mystery at all," a girl's voice said through an opening inner door. "A good-bad reason—it wears trousers, and answers to the name of Curly Dan—and comes without waiting to be called—"

"And owns the loveliest, the most virgin ignorance—listens as if Solomon himself were speaking when you open your mouth—or even me—at a pinch," Elizabeth broke in, sitting up, her eyes dancing, wild roses in her cheeks. "Best of all—he's not even a genteel pauper—it warns your heart to watch him eat—you know he needs Sunday feed to carry him through a week at the parsonage."

"Wonder why he stays there?" May, the new-comer, said reflectively.

"Because of those poor children—they half starve with him helping out—would whole-starve, I do believe, if he left—"

"Who's the phenomenon?" from a slim tall fellow, standing upright in the outer door.

May looked reproach, saying: "Small boys should know better than to ask foolish questions—especially if they answer themselves."

"Lovely singing birds, who's been feeding you pepper?" Curly Dan—otherwise Daniel Maury, Esq.—demanded, holding fast a hand of each girl. "Sit down—and give me the advice I need."

"Then—fire away!" Elizabeth ordered, shaking her fist at him.

"It's—it's only—I've come into money—nothing to speak of really—still—I'm not any more a pauper—with an appetite—it was only in the appetite way I came near your friend Acton—"

"Don't name him! The pig!" Elizabeth ejaculated viciously.

"A nice fat pig," Dan teased. "Met him on my way here—he was swearing hard enough to take his appetite—"

"As if anything could," May murmured.

Curly Dan ran on: "He was crying almost as hard as he was cussin'—about how cruelly he'd been deceived in—one of you. Now—I want to know who's the guilty person—"

"Oh! We went half and half," his listeners said tranquilly.

"Sure?" he asked. "Well! That puts me in a fix sure enough. You see I meant to reward the guilty person with some part of my new wealth—and ask the other to take me—just as I stand plus $5,000."

"Quite a sum! One might easily have less," Elizabeth said primly.

"Willin' to risk it?" from Curly Dan.

"Oh! I might!" she nodded.

May gave her a gentle smack on the right cheek, saying: "Take that for your duplicity, Miss Quincey! You know it took Dan plus the grace of God to save you from becoming Mrs. John Thomas Acton."

"You, of course, want to make sure of the Capital Prize!" Elizabeth lunged back, aggressively.

Thenest Dan laughed uproariously, saying: "Don't fight! Capital a-plenty for all the family! Counting us three equal partners, we're rolling in wealth—rich enough to endow those poor wretched brats, feed, clothe and educate them—and leave us enough in hand to go sailing around the world long enough and strong enough to tie the anchor in bow-knots."

"Let's go! When do we begin cashing in?"

Curly Dan looked mournful. "Not for another month," he said. "A fine poor man's appetite is too precious to be squandered suddenly. Only think how it'll come near spoiling every thing. Nights when I was so hungry I was planning to murder Acton. Now I'm convinced that as a roof of gold the joys of money don't compare with the lack of it."

"Ain't well that ends well," from May, sarcastically.

"So it unanimous," cried Dan, flailing his arms about Elizabeth,

BUICK for 1928

When Buick improves upon Buick—the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-slung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.

GREATER TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR TEXAS

Texas Telephone News

A Journal of Telephone Information Published by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company

Switchboard Important Part of Telephone Equipment

Makes Communication Possible Between All Telephones In the Nation

The invention and development of the switchboard has been the one thing which has made possible a telephone system, whereby each subscriber can talk to any other subscriber. Without the switchboard it would be physically impossible to have a telephone service such as we have today.

The illustration to the left shows the number of telephone tracks which would be necessary in order that any one of six telephones might be connected with any other one. Each telephone would have to have a line to the other five telephones, a total of 15 separate talk tracks. However, by the use of a switchboard only six lines are required, a line from each telephone to the switchboard. Thus the switchboard with only six actual telephone lines affords 15 possible lines of communication.

VOICE TRACKS

In a city with 500 telephones, connected through a switchboard, there are 124,750 lines of communication; in a city with 10,000 telephones there are 49,995,000 lines of communication.

Thus it is evident that the switchboard is a very important essential in the supplying of telephone service.

BARGAIN RATES

Bargain rates for long distance telephone service are in effect every day after 7 in the evening. These rates apply on station-to-station calls, that is, on calls where you agree to talk to anyone who answers at the called telephone.

You will be surprised at the reasonable charge for calls placed during the bargain hours. Between 7 and 8:30 in the evening rates are about 25 per cent less than the day rate, and after 8:30 p. m. the reduction is about 50 per cent of the day rate.

Switchboard Mathematics
The heavy lines, numbers 1, 2, and 3, show the talk tracks possible between three segregated pairs of telephones. The dotted lines show the communication lines added when the six telephones are interconnected through a switchboard.

she harbored a hundred and one little brain memories.
It was quite natural, then, when Mary had the pleasure of her first trip to England that she should make a straight journey to the little Sussex village where her parents had courted and wed.
Her parents had rather a sweet romance in the fact that they had no young members of the village circle—each laid a cornerstone in the parish church in which later they were married. Their names carved in the dull red stones were as plain as the day upon which they were cut.
"Laid by Mary Anne Smith, July 9 1897," was on the base of one pillar and "Laid by John Cromer, July 9 1897," was on another. That was the day they had met, and from then on the world for them had been a wonderful place, for love encircled them with its glorious wings.
She stood reading all the names of the people who had, on that day long gone, laid the various stones in the foundation of the church. After a moment she went inside, as England's churches are always ready to welcome the wayfarer.
Mary dropped onto her knees in one of the pews and felt a tremendous wave of emotion spread over her. After her prayers she sat back and could picture how dainty her sweet mother must have looked in her bridal dress standing beside her handsome young husband—there at that lovely altar.
She wondered if there was a chance that the same rector would be in charge. She supposed not.
However, Mary heard the gentle steps of an elderly minister padding along the small corridor and she went out to chat with him.
He beamed at her out of kindly eyes.
"I remember all young lovers whom I have married," he said upon hearing her story, "and I've been here thirty odd years. Come, my dear," he said,
"and I'll show you your parents' names."
They were standing inside the tiny vestry room with their hands close together over the great register when a young fellow bounded in from the fine old rectory grounds.
"Oh Dad," he shouted, then stopped swiftly, "I'm sorry—I didn't know there was anyone with you." He stood half smiling and half wondering, for Mary was indeed a lovely person to discover in close proximity to one's own father.
"This young lady," said the old rector, beaming at his big son, "is Miss Mary Cromer. She has come all the way from America to see the church in which her parents were married.
Miss Cromer, this is my son, Tom Walker."
The young couple shook hands shyly
but apparently very warmly.
"I was wondering," said Mary wistfully, "if there was the slightest little thing I could have from the church—as a memento. If there isn't anything, I will just take a tiny stone from the grave path or a few leaves from one of those lovely trees."
Both men looked at Mary and wondered how they could refuse so simple a request, but did not know, at first a way of granting it.
A moment that might have become awkward was interrupted by the approach of the rector's wife—a sweet, white-haired mother whom Mary loved at once.
"I sent Tom to bring you in to tea but—" she, too, then noticed the stranger. "I'm so sorry—I thought you two were alone."
The rector again went through the ceremony of introducing Mary—this time to his wife, and added, "This young lady is wanting some small memento from the church to take home to her parents, but I don't know what it could be."
"My dear," smiled Mrs. Walker,
"only last night you and Tom were speaking of having new offertory bags.
I'm sure Miss Cromer would love to have one of the old ones—they were in use when her parents attended service together."
"Oh," exclaimed Mary joyfully, "I should simply love it. Is it one of those sweet little bags with handles on each side? We don't have that kind in America—I think they are so quaint."
The big son was silent all this time but his heart leaped joyfully when he heard his mother insisting on Mary coming in to share the tea hour in the old manse drawing room.
"Tom, dear, you take Miss Cromer, and get her one of the old collection bags. We might forget it later."
It took Tom a long while to produce the gift for Mary, but as a matter of fact, Mary didn't mind in the least. When they entered the drawing room for tea the old rector and his wife exchanged happy glances.
When Mary mailed the lovely old memento to her parents she told them all about her visit and how she had been taken right into the family as if she had always known them. And her following letter confirmed this state of affairs. The next was full of joy, for Tom was going to stand beside young Mary at the very same altar at which her parents had taken their holy vows

MRS. JENNIE E. EVERLY DEAD

In the death of Mrs. Jennie E. Everly our city lost one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents and our citizens lost a dearly beloved friend. She passed away at the family home, 405 Runnels street, at 9:30 o'clock Monday night October 10, following an illness of one month.
Mrs. Everly was born May 3, 1848, and was therefore more than 72 years of age when the Master called her Home. She had been a resident of Big Spring for more than forty years and all who had come in contact with this kindly, christian woman loved and esteemed her. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Church and took an active part in all church work. Her's was a heart of gold, and she was happiest when ministering or aiding those who needed aid or in trouble. She faithfully endeavored to make her life one of service to her Master and to those she loved, and many mourn the passing of one who was a true and loyal friend.
Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Rev. W. C. Hinds. The Order of Eastern Star concluded the services at the graveside in Masonic cemetery.
She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Chas. W. Jones of this city and Mrs. Walter Deats of Fort Worth, and to those who mourn for their loved one is extended the heartfelt sympathy of the many old time friends of this community.

WATCH FOR THE STYLE SHOW.
SAVE YOUR PRETTIEST
FLOWERS AND POT PLANTS

Members of the Home Garden Club request every flower grower in Big Spring and Howard County to save their prettiest flowers and pot plants and give them special care so that they may be entered in the big fall flower show that is to be held the early part of next month. Every one who has any kind of flowers is urged to enter them and this year's exhibit should be the prettiest and best.
Don't hold back what you have because you know there will be some finer than those you have. Every little bit helps and all will go to make for a more beautiful display of Big Spring flowers. Don't be one of those who say, "I could have entered flowers or pot plants prettier than those." If you could why not do it? Your cooperation is wanted.
Plan now what you will enter and cultivate it with care from now until the date of the big show. It may be a prize winner!
We all know that we have expert flower growers in Big Spring and Howard County and now is the time for each one to show her talent. Our fertile soil also enables us to have as lovely flowers as can be grown anywhere in Texas. Now help in making the flower show a big success by planning to enter your cut flowers and pot plants.

Dreaded Aches,

Disappeared

"My health had been poor for ten years, before I took Cardui," says Mrs. Anna Cronin, of Rockport, Ind. "I was lifeless and 'no account'. I dragged around day after day, every move an effort, and never feeling the joy of being well.
"At times, I had a dreadful ache across my back, and my sides hurt me. I worried along, sometimes hardly able to leave my bed, but the demands of a growing family had to be attended to; so I would get up, do what was absolutely necessary, and then lie down again.
"One day, someone suggested Cardui to me. I took it for several months, and all the time I was growing stronger, and less nervous. My aches and pains finally disappeared.
"That was two years ago. My improvement has been permanent. The good health, which followed the taking of Cardui, is still with me, so I do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends."

Martha, the Candy Girl

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright)

WHEN Martha was in college she made up her mind that if she ever did have to earn her own living she would do it in some unusual way. She would go into some sort of business that didn't attract other college graduates. Thus she, with her superior education, would compete only with obviously inferior, uneducated people and her financial success would be assured. Martha was the one member of her family who had gone to college—that was doubtless why she held such an exalted idea of the value of the degree for which she was working. Until the end of her senior year there didn't seem to be the shadow of a chance that she ever would have to earn her own living. She had inherited from her father large tracts of farm land—but somehow through an involvement of business that Martha couldn't quite understand, any immediate return from her acres was out of the question.

Martha took stock of her accomplishments. All round the campus she was known as the candy girl. That settled it. If there was one thing she excelled in it was in making candy. Undoubtedly she had a gift—and this gift she would put to good account. She had never heard of a man or woman with a college degree going into the candy business. The vast majority of her competitors in this business would not be blessed with her superior education.

On the last day of college Bertram Ross had proposed to Martha. A few days before another of her class had proposed. Two or three others would have done the same if she had given them an opportunity. But Martha was not especially impressed by this epidemic of proposals. She felt that her popularity was due to no personal charms, but rather to her ability to make candy. So she told Bertram Ross that she didn't want to marry him because she wanted to go into the candy business.

All that summer Martha worked at her scheme. She made a little candy in a little room she had rented in the city and she sold it at the exchanges and at the counters of one or two grocery stores, making enough barely to cover expenses. She couldn't meet much more of a demand until she had set up a larger workroom and hired a girl or two to help with the work, and she couldn't afford to expand her plant in this way unless she was assured of the orders. So Martha went forth with seminars and took orders. She went to the buying agent for a large chain of news stands. He cautiously expressed approval of the candy, but if he took any he would take a great deal. He would want a contract and a guarantee that she would continue to use the same ingredients that she did then. Of course Martha used the best materials. It was because she did that she, a new-comer, was already able to compete with these people with long-established businesses. It was, she thought, because they had not received the advantages of a college education.

Martha looked over the terms of the proposed contract. The price she was to receive for the candy seemed a little too low, but the buying agent said he would not consider the deal at a higher figure and Martha knew he meant it. He wanted to have her sign at once but Martha held back—she would have to do a little figuring first.

Martha went gladly back to her dingy workroom and read the proposed contract over carefully. She had stopped to get wholesale prices on her way home. Some things in the contract she did not quite understand. Then it occurred to her that Bertram Ross was working in a law office, studying law at the same time. He could easily explain the few things she didn't understand in the contract. Martha knew Bertram was in the same city but he had said that since she would not marry him he didn't want to see her. He had seemed so incredulous about her plans that she wanted him to see this contract any way—wanted to show him that within a few months she had won success.

So it was that the next day Bertram Ross called at Martha's candy kitchen to talk over the contract. Martha gave a little gasp as he appeared. She had forgotten how very attractive he really was.

With the contract spread out on one of the work tables and Martha bending over it in hot pink work smock they read it slowly together. Bertram asked her a few questions and did some quick figuring. Then he looked up at Martha.

"It can't be done," he said. "They tried to sew you up with a foolish deal. Either you have got to use less expensive materials or you've got to go more for your candy and if you sign this contract and don't make good you'll be in a pretty fix."

Martha began very faintly to cry. The whole fabric of her dreams seemed to fade away and all she knew or cared about just then was that Bertram was beside her, that he had his arms around her, and that he was telling her that even while he was stalling law he could afford to support her as his wife.

"You know that early marriage—even on a limited income turn out best—you learned that in college," Bertram told her.

"I know I did," agreed Martha happily.

Cooking Chats with 6 Famous Cooks

"CORNERED BEEF AND..."

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of interesting cooking articles by 6 famous cooks running exclusively in this paper.)

If the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, surely one of the easiest ways is to serve him corned beef and cabbage.

That holds true for pretty nearly every man, except, of course, the dyspeptic, who is always hard to suit. Corned beef and cabbage is nowhere more deliciously cooked than in New England, where, with a few additional vegetables, it makes its appearance as the "boiled dinner."

"And the boiled dinner enthusiast will tell you how excellent the blended flavors are," says Miss Lucy G. Allen, head of the Boston School of Cookery. "I delight in the boiled dinner of corned beef with cabbage, beets, turnips, potatoes, and carrots or parsnips. All but the beets I cook in the same kettle."

Allow ample time for cooking the corned beef, Miss Allen cautions. It should be started at least two or three hours before the vegetables are added. If, by chance, it becomes tender before the vegetables, it can be removed from the fire and reheated before serving.

Very often you can get a more tender piece of meat if you buy a fresh beef brisket. Ask the butcher to rub in coarse salt and keep it a day or two. Sometimes the fibers of meat kept too long in brine get hardened.

Use a very large kettle. Put in the meat, cover with boiling water. (If the corned beef has been soaking long in brine, start cooking it in cold water.) Let the meat boil for five minutes, then reduce the heat and let it cook slowly for two or three hours.

Add the vegetables. Add cabbage which has been washed and cut into quarters. Then add peeled turnips, whole if small, sliced if large; and the carrots or parsnips cut into two-inch lengths. Scrub beets thoroughly, and put in separate kettle, covered with boiling water.

Half an hour before serving add peeled potatoes to the large kettle. The success of the dinner depends upon having each article perfectly done, but not overdone.

To Serve. In New England this dinner is usually served by placing the meat in the center of a large platter, and grouping all the vegetables except the cabbage around the meat. The cabbage is so bulky that it is best to serve it in a separate dish.

Truly this is a most delicious meal. A fitting dessert is a custard or a rice pudding, as these are not too hearty to serve with this substantial meal.

Many women have found it a great advantage to use their oil stoves all the year around. The stoves are lighted so quickly that much time is saved. And the long-chimney burner oil stoves cook food so thoroughly, too.

Golden Gate Custard. This is a recipe contributed by Mrs. Belle DeGraf, home economics counsellor, San Francisco.

1 cup sifted bread crumbs
1 cup milk
1 cup orange rind
1 egg separated
1/2 cup sugar

Add the grated rind of one orange to the juice. Use soft bread crumbs. Sift through coarse strainer. Add milk and orange juice. Beat eggs separately. Add sugar to yolks and then add to custard. Mix well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour in a pudding dish. Set dish in pan of hot water, and bake until firm in center. This takes about 30 minutes, in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

Rice Pudding. From Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, director of the household economics department of the Los Angeles Evening Express, comes the recipe for rice pudding and hard sauce.

1/2 cup rice
2 cups water
2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon gelatin
1/2 cup cold water

Add rice slowly to boiling water. Boil until tender, 20 minutes, then drain. Heat milk in double boiler. Add egg yolk, sugar and salt, and cook until thick. Add rice, and the last minute before removing from stove, add the gelatin softened in the cold water. Stir in thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white, and set in a large pan of ice water to cool.

Make the hard sauce by creaming and stirring together 1/2 tablespoons of butter, 1 egg white, 2 tablespoons of lemon juice, 2 1/2 cups of powdered sugar and any desired flavoring.

Try "corned beef and—" soon. It's sure to be welcomed by the men in your family.

There is a splendid strong toaster now on the market which gives excellent satisfaction on gas, oil, and other types of stoves. This blue-glazed toaster makes four pieces of brown toast at a time. Its handle never gets hot. You'll see it displayed at most hardware stores.

MISS HANCOCK TO DIRECT FIRST BAPTIST CHOIR

Miss Lillian Hancock, recently of Jacksonville, Texas, has been secured to direct the choir at the First Baptist Church. Miss Hancock comes with an enviable reputation as a singer. This summer she studied in New York under the distinguished Dudley Buck. In addition to such excellent training Miss Hancock is also an experienced choir directress, having directed the choir at the Temple Baptist Church, Houston for three years, and a choir at Palestine, Texas, for four years. The local Baptist Church is to be congratulated on this stroke of good fortune.

In addition to directing the choir Miss Hancock will, at both morning and night services, sing a solo, or furnish some special numbers to be rendered by some of her pupils or by members of the choir. The pastor Rev. D. H. Heard is highly elated over the bright prospect of a splendid choir and says: "Tell the general public, if you will, that the First Baptist Church is glad to give to Big Spring a splendid musical program each Sunday in her services. The church realizes the value of good music in public worship and will be glad to feature this department by giving ample time to it. Both vocal and instrumental numbers will add variety. We know an enlarged attendance is assured because of this new arrangement. Already many new faces are seen in our services and as soon as the news gets out we will see many more."

The choir rehearsal is held each Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church. Miss Hancock conducts a studio at the home of her sister Mrs. P. B. Bittle, 601 Main.

Healthy Live Stock Will Pay You Bigger Profits!

The wise farmer does not take a chance with the health of his stock. He realizes that it is much easier to prevent disease than to cure sick animals.

Therefore, he does everything in his power to eliminate the causes of contagion, and any weakness which will mean loss to him. You can enjoy the same advantages as other prosperous farmers the continuous feeding of Dave's Stock Salt. It allows the health building elements so necessary for proper growth and development of livestock.

You cannot afford to go another day without giving your stock the protection which this wonderful tonic affords.

Protect the Health of Your Livestock

After feeding Dave's Stock Salt, for a few days, you then receive a HEALTH GUARANTEE which protects against loss of Hogs, Cattle, Sheep or Horses by disease. (Note: This is not represented to be livestock insurance and must not be so represented by any agent or representative of the company.)

FARMERS & RANCHERS STOCK SALT CO., Inc. Omaha, Nebraska

Cattle

Dave's Stock Salt tends to promote proper food assimilation, increase weight, and keep up the vigor of steers. It insures proper functioning of the milk making organs of the dairy cow and may be used along with Epsom salts, linseed oil or meal.

Hogs

Dave's Stock Salt is prepared to meet the requirements of an ideal chemico-mineral mixture. The aim is to prevent worms and tone up the whole system, helping to keep the hogs fat and increasing the rapidity of growth. Brood sows should be more productive, and the profits increase.

Sheep

The regular addition of Dave's Stock Salt to the feed of sheep and lambs should protect them and reduce stomach and trouble to a minimum. Dave's Stock Salt helps to properly anchor the feed and insure proper functioning of internal organs.

DAVE'S STOCK SALT

It is no trouble to feed Dave's Stock Salt. You just mix a little with the regular feed. Complete directions accompany each bag—safe, simple and sure instructions which eliminate any chance of going wrong. It should not cost you to feed

Favor Advertising Howard County Big Feed Mill A Possibility

Mass Meeting at Courthouse Thurs- day Night Favor Movement to Show Possibilities of County

Big Spring folks are interested in their home town and anxious to do everything possible to promote the growth and prosperity of the old home town. This was demonstrated on Thursday night of last week when more than one hundred and fifty citizens met in response to a call issued by the real estate men.

This call stated that now was an opportune time to advertise the agricultural possibilities of Howard County and every speaker of the evening agreed with this statement.

The meeting was held in the district court room at 8 p. m. with Fox Stripling as chairman. Mr. Stripling complimented the citizenship on the fine turnout and stated that such a spirit insured success for the plan to put Big Spring on the map. A number of get together meetings are expected to be held and for that reason the present session is to be not long and tiresome and only a limited number of speakers could be heard and each speaker would be accorded but a brief time. He stated that in planning the meeting no set plan or program had been mapped out as it was desired to secure ideas and suggestions from any and everyone who had constructive plans to offer.

Among the speakers who voiced the sentiment that now was the best time in the world to advertise Big Spring and Howard County, and especially put forth the agricultural possibilities of Howard County and who had a number of reasons to give why Howard County was the best place in the world to live were C. T. Watson, Dr. G. T. Hall, W. V. Moutin, B. Reagan, Raymond Lyons, Rev. Frank H. Stedman, A. J. Crawford and I. B. Cauble.

Among the points brought out were the following:

In the trade territory of Big Spring there is 150,000 acres of fertile land which can be converted into fine farms. This land can be sold at a reasonable price to farmers in the frozen north, the flooded district or in sections of Texas where root rot and other drawbacks making farming unprofitable. More than 1500 families can be settled on this land if we put forth the proper effort.

We have the most healthful section in Texas and should let folks know it. San Antonio and other cities secure thousands of health seekers and tourists because they advertise climate, and every citizen knows that Big Spring has just as much to offer in the way of climate as any place under the sun.

The possibilities for dairying, poultry raising, the raising of hogs, sheep and cattle are great. They make a success of these in sections which do not have the equable climate, the cheap feed crops and the splendid markets here available. As one of the speakers remarked, we must publish only the truth in any advertising campaign we promote, and there is plenty of things in our county to advertise without resorting to mis-statements.

Advertising our county among our own people was a suggestion that should be given consideration. Getting out small circulars or folders with the main assets of our city and county printed thereon, and have sufficient printed so that every citizen writing to friends or relatives back east or north could enclose one of these folders was a good suggestion. Advertisements with coupon in farm journals having a circulation in a section from which we desired to secure home-builders to be supplemented with follow-up letters was a worth while plan suggested.

Max Bentley, editor of the Abilene Reporter and the Abilene Morning News was the principal speaker of the evening and his discourse was indeed enjoyed and appreciated.

Mr. Bentley stated he was a dyed in the wool West Texan, was for anything that would promote the development and prosperity of this favored section of the state. In his opinion West Texas had been far too modest and has wasted ten years or more in securing a growth which might have been attained thru advertising. He pointed out that

Secretary of C. of C. Pilots Commit- tee to Lamesa to Ascertain Cost of Such a Mill for Big Spring

Tom Ashley, H. L. Rix, Fred Phillips, Joe Fisher, B. Reagan and Secretary Watson made a trip to Lamesa Tuesday to study the feed mill that is being successfully operated at Lamesa. They desired to secure this information so they could plan on securing a feed mill in Big Spring and thereby double the feeding value of the maize which for sale is contemplated a mixer and other machinery will be needed.

The proprietor of the Lamesa mill showed the committee members every courtesy and gave them all the information sought. He informed them that the farmers of Dawson County appreciated the operation of the mill and gave it their loyal cooperation.

It was estimated that a mill with thresher and grinder for maize and corn could be installed for around $3000. If the manufacture of feed be needed.

The committee were more than ever convinced that a mill is needed in Howard County and if some local citizen cannot be persuaded to establish a mill they may consider forming a stock company.

The Big Spring bunch were the guests of the Luncheon Club of Lamesa at the noon hour.

Millic Harris who is attending Simmons University at Abilene visited relatives and friends in this city the past week end.

West Texas had millions of acres of virgin land, land that was as fertile as that of our wealthier and better known, and upon this foundation a mighty empire could be built. It will be built in time but can be built during our life time if we are willing to put forth the proper advertising campaign. He cited the case of Florida which attempted to build prosperity on moonshine and succeeded in so far as attracting millions to that state, but the bubble soon burst. With land as a foundation there is no such danger to attend the building of West Texas.

He stated that according to some of the speakers we had 150,000 acres of unimproved land in this immediate territory. At a reasonable valuation this land is worth $3,500,000, a pretty large sized property list to sell—and a sizable job for a live bunch of citizens to tackle.

He stated he was always ready and willing to boost West Texas in the columns of the Abilene dailies but he pointed out that if we wanted real results it would be necessary to consider paid advertising. He gave a history of advertising showing how the newspapers and magazines which formerly devoted ten per cent of their space to advertising and ninety per cent to news now devote more than sixty per cent to advertising. He said we had become an advertising minded people. We watched the advertising column as much as we did the news column. Big business had long since found that it paid to advertise. Take Henry Ford for instance—the man who gets more free advertising than any other hundred men in America. Mr. Ford has made an appropriation of $15,000,000 to advertise the Ford car the coming year. Everybody in the world knows the Ford automobile and Henry Ford knows it will pay him to spend $15,000,000 to keep the Ford advertising before the eyes of the buying public.

Mr. Bentley said the citizens of Big Spring were on the right road in planning a comprehensive advertising campaign to tell the world of the agricultural possibilities of Howard County. He advised them to use plenty of paid advertising. Folks have learned to trust advertising. When firms pay for advertising they must tell the truth for it does not pay to advertise an untruth. He stated that he noted a steady and substantial growth in Big Spring and this would be augmented thru an aggressive advertising campaign. He stated it was always a pleasure for him to visit this city and appreciated the cordial hospitality accorded him.

ROYAL SLEEPING UNIT DIS- PLAYED AT PURSER'S STORE

The Royal Sleeping unit, said to be the utmost in comfortable bedding sent out by the Ellison Bedding Company of Fort Worth was on display in this city at the Purser Furniture Co. on Wednesday of this week.

The big white truck was noticed on our streets and many wondered what it contained. The contents of the truck was scientifically constructed bed one to afford absolute rest and relaxation to those of different weights. Consisting of a base, unit and pillows the sleeping unit it is said to afford peaceful slumber, absolute rest, rebuild energy and health.

Quite a few Big Spring folks saw this interesting display at Purser's Wednesday.

TWO NEW STUCCO HOUSES NEARING COMPLETION

The two new houses on Bell street being erected for I. E. Wasson are nearing completion. C. E. Talbot has the contract for both residences one a five room bungalow, the other a three room. Both are modern throughout and have a oriental stucco finish. They will be ready for occupancy within the next week or two.

NEW DISTRICT ATTORNEY APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR

Governor Dan Moody has named George Mahon of Colorado to be District Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, succeeding James T. Brooks, resigned.

Mr. Mahon is county attorney of Mitchell County and while he is quite a young man in years, he is most highly recommended and we feel sure he will fill the office with honor to himself and to those who secured his appointment to this important office. He will be accorded every cooperation by the citizens of Big Spring and Howard County.

MORE SIDEWALKS NEEDED

About one of the first things we should undertake next year is the building of more sidewalks in Big Spring. We must have these if we ever hope to have free delivery service extended—and we should have them for the convenience of our citizens.

In many portions of the city the pedestrians are compelled to use the highways—a dangerous place for a fellow to be afoot with so many crazy drivers making a race track of our streets.

It would be well for the city to establish some grade lines during the winter months so the citizens will not have to wait for this to be done when they get in a humor to build their walks.

Think and talk sidewalks during the next few months. Here we have a new addition going on the market with all the sidewalks to be built before a single home is erected. If they are needed in this new home section how much more are they needed where houses are numerous.

Many miles of sidewalks are needed in Big Spring and everyone who builds walks in front of his property is enhancing the value of the property and boosting Big Spring.

BIG SPRING SINGERS ATTEND SINGING AT CHALK

The Big Spring singers, C. C. Nance, Steve Baker, W. R. Purser, W. A. Prescott, and C. J. Schulz attended the singing at the Chalk school house last Sunday. Owing to a little misunderstanding a large crowd did not attend the singing until after noon. Rev. Richbourg preached an inspiring sermon at the 11 o'clock hour of worship, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Chalk furnished dinner on the ground for all the singers, and a gallon of buttermilk for W. R. Purser.

Beginning at 2 o'clock all of the singers from the surrounding communities including D. C. Riley and a large delegation from Coahoma, which added much in making the singing a success. The Panther Draw B. Y. P. U. also rendered a program which was enjoyed by everyone present.

A singing class was organized with A. J. McDaniel president and Miss Helen Creath secretary. The class bought three dozen new song books and are enjoying some good song practice. You will hear about this class later. Reported.

C of C Directors Hold Meeting

The Directors Have a Number of Propositions Up for Considera- tion — Plan Annual Banquet

President S. R. Weaver presided at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Monday night and quite a few important problems were up for discussion.

The committee appointed to confer with Postmaster J. W. Ward in reference to increasing the facilities of the local office reported they had tendered their services to Mr. Ward and were ready to cooperate in anyway he might suggest. This committee is composed of E. A. Kelley, B. Reagan and A. M. Fisher.

The secretary was directed to issue checks totaling $300.00 to the prize winners in the Howard County fair.

The entertainment committee was authorized to arrange a Luncheon for the delegates to the West Texas district meeting of the State Hardware and Implement Dealers Association which will be held in Big Spring Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Secretary Watson was authorized to have badges printed for the delegates to the Methodist Conference which will be in session in Big Spring from Nov. 9 to 15.

President Weaver was authorized to tender an invitation to the West Texas Lumbermen's Association to hold their 1928 convention in Big Spring. They will meet in Sweetwater this year.

The question of more advertising for Big Spring was discussed and it was unanimously decided that our city was in need of much advertising of the right kind. It was decided to cooperate with the Real Estate Board on a comprehensive advertising campaign.

The proposition of holding an annual banquet was discussed and it was agreed that the date should be decided upon within the coming week. Along about the first week in December was suggested as a favorable time.

A member of the viaduct committee reported that nothing had been done so far and consequently there was no report.

The secretary reported he had inserted advertisements calling for cotton pickers in a number of publications where cotton picking was nearing completion.

A report was made on the number of protests from cattlemen in Howard and adjoining counties on the poor shipping facilities at Big Spring. The difficulty of reaching the pens has discouraged cattlemen from attempting to ship livestock from this point.

The secretary was instructed to get in touch with the Texas Railroad Commission in an effort to afford the cattle raisers of this territory the relief they are entitled to.

T-P OIL AND COAL COMPANY READY FOR BUSINESS

The T-P Oil and Coal Company, under the management of G. H. Byrnes, formerly of Fort Worth, is open and ready for business. This new station is located in the old ball park in the west part of town and several kinds of oil, and gasoline are on sale here. Mr. Byrnes is an experienced man in this line having been in the gas and oil business the past fifteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrnes are at home at the Nat Shick residence on Gregg street.

TULSA BANKER IMPRESSED WITH OPTY OF BIG SPRING

J. F. Matchett, assistant cashier of the Exchange National Bank of Tulsa, Okla., was a business visitor in Big Spring Tuesday.

Mr. Matchett is making a business survey of that portion of West Texas which is due for oil development.

He was most favorably impressed by conditions in Big Spring and the outlook for this territory.

W. R. Purser, C. J. Schulz, Steve Baker, C. C. Nance and Mrs. Lottia Marchbanks attended a singing at Coahoma Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chessnau have returned to Abilene.

COTTON BAGGING WOULD INCREASE COTTON CONSUMPTION

Increased consumption of 750,000 bales of American cotton through the use of cotton bags to replace bags now made of other materials for the wholesale grocery trade is seen as a possibility by the United States Department of Agriculture cotton specialists who have just concluded a survey of the situation.

It is roughly estimated that 225,000 bales of raw cotton and cotton waste go annually into the manufacture of cotton bags, most of which are used in the grocery trade. The estimated quantity of bags made of materials other than cotton used in one year by wholesale grocers think might be replaced advantageously by cotton, totals nearly 229,000,000 pounds. Pounded for pound, this is equivalent to approximately 787,000 bales of raw cotton.

The survey is one of a series of studies being made in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics to find new uses for American cotton. The estimates are based on questionnaires sent by the American Wholesale Grocers' Association to its members. Copies of the results of the survey may be obtained by addressing the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Farm and Ranch.

OFFICERS WARN ABOUT LIGHTS

Again the officers are warning the local citizens to have their headlights and tail lights fixed in proper condition, capable of passing the state highway tests.

This warning will be followed up by a stronger urge, something on the order of a dollar and costs or more, adding up to ten good cartwheels. Pecos Enterprise.

All trucks must be equipped with rear view mirrors.

We should work on a proposition to secure a cooperative cold storage plant. If folks had a place where eggs, dressed poultry, etc. could be stored until prices were right, it would mean more money for the community. It's hard to persuade people to try poultry raising as the price of eggs is oftentimes very low and this causes a beginner in the poultry business to give up in disgust. Poultry, when properly cared for, will make a good living for a family and a flock of hens should be kept on every farm.

M-G-M's "BEN HUR" $4,000,000 FILM, COMING HERE SOON

"Ben Hur," with its magnificent chariot race pictured in a death-defying contest on a vast circus arena—the knightly Ramon Novarro and the wicked Francis X. Bushman as the opposing heroes—comes to the R. and R. Lyric theater soon.

Theatergoers greatly enjoyed the stage "Ben Hur" and vividly remember Bill Farnum, Bill Hart, Emmett Corrigan, Mary Shaw and others of the old casts. It was the most popular stage spectacle ever produced, touring America for twenty-two seasons. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles B. Dillingham and Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr., have made a new and greater "Ben Hur" in the newer art of the motion picture that out-tops the former achievement even as the wizard-like powers of the Twentieth Century surpass the inventions of our forefathers.

You see the forty eight horses—twelve teams—start abreast in their mad dash over the seven laps of the Antioch race course, and you cannot forbear a cheer as Ben-Hur wrecks Messala and forges to the front! Roman and Pirate navies contend in realistic death-grapples on the Mediterranean. The towers and turrets of Zion rise anew. From the exquisite Madonna to The Last Supper and the Procession of Palms the masterpieces of art are re-enacted, often in color. The beautiful love story of Esther and Ben-Hur, a contemporary of the Saviour, dominates the grand spectacle which is characterized by a fine reverence in the sacred part of the portrayal. Among the leading actors are Ramon Novarro in the title role, Francis X. Bushman as Messala, May McAvoy as Esther, Betty Bronson as the Madonna, Carmel Myers as Iras, Frank J. Currier, Mitchell Lewis, Nigel de Bruiler, Claire McDowell, Kathleen Key, with no less than 150,000 persons in the "support."

R. F. LAWRENCE OF LUTHER MAY BE ON JUDGING TEAM

R. F. Lawrence of Luther, more familiarly known as "Cherry" may be chosen a member of the stock judging team for the National Dairy Show at Memphis, Tenn., October 15 to 22. In the Sunday issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram a picture of five boys of Texas A. & M. College appeared and among the five was the picture of Mr. Lawrence. Three of the five boys in the picture will be chosen as Dairy Judges at the National Show. This will be an honor indeed and Mr. Lawrence's friends in Howard County are hoping that he wins this distinction. He is a member of the senior class at A. & M. college this year.

COTTON THIEVES FINED AND SENTENCED TO JAIL

The county court, in session this week, tried the case of C. V. Warren and F. O. Ebbs, charged with theft of cotton from W. H. Rodgers, who lives north of Big Spring. Both men entered pleas of guilty and each one was fined $25.00 and sentenced to serve 90 days in jail. A confession by Warren revealed that these two men had stolen cotton from three other parties in Howard County.

Claud Erwin was arrested this week on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, and bond was set at $1,000.

Mrs. P. McKee enroute from a visit in St. Louis to her home in El Paso spent Tuesday in this city visiting friends.

ANOTHER "BETTER HOME" TO BE BUILT BY E. H. JOSEY

E. H. Josey, contractor and builder, will start work on another "Better Home" next week, the seventh "Better Home" to be erected by Mr. Josey. These houses are erected on the same floor plan with different finishings and are sold to local people on easy payments. This new home will be built in College Heights addition.

Mr. Josey is completing or still working on five new homes in Big Spring in the College Heights or Fairview additions. Work on the Louis Skalky residence in College Heights is nearing completion. The work on the John R. Chaney residence in College Heights addition will also be completed this week. The Lawrence Simpson residence in College Heights addition is well under construction and will be completed in a short time.

R. V. Tucker this week awarded the contract to Mr. Josey for a new home in Fairview Heights addition near the Swan Jones residence. Mr. Josey also has the contract for the erection of a modern bungalow in Fairview Heights for Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Maxfield.

Quite a few Dawson County farmers have been passing thru the past week on their way south in search of cotton pickers. They report cotton opening rapidly in their county.

ON THE C. I. A. CAMPUS

Special to The Big Spring Herald: Upperclassmen of the College of Industrial Arts welcomed the class of '31 in a colorful celebration Saturday evening, on the south green of the campus. Miss Jeanette Pickle, Junior student in the college, who is the yell leader for this year, led the school yells.

"Lucky Lindy" circled the C.I.A. campus, flew thrice over Denton, dropped his autographed letter and was gone, a silver speck in the low hanging clouds. 1600 girls at the college quitted their classes or their rooms to dot the campus with blue and white. In front of the administration building a large group comprised of students and instructors waved large American flags with much enthusiasm at the most mooted man in the world today. It is best that Lindbergh did not stop. We cannot visualize him except as a part of his silver plane. The Spirit of Saint Louis, and to see him in his element so to speak lent an atmosphere to the scene which otherwise would not have been there.

On the rolls of the College of Industrial Arts are students from an extremely wide range of territory. There are girls from as far east as New York and Massachusetts, and as far west as California. There are others enrolled from the southern states—Virginia, Louisiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee; and the usual number from our neighbors, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas, while Montana, Missouri, Illinois, and Arizona, even, are represented this year, some of them for the first time. Mexico is the only other country represented this session. Two members of the graduating class come from there: Miss Katarina Cowan, business manager of the 1928 Daedalian Annual, and Miss Ina Benway.

C. I. A. is the only college in Texas that includes the taking of pictures in matriculation. This system has been used successfully in some of the larger colleges of the country and although this is the first time it has been tried here, it is expected to be a great help in keeping a permanent record of students. A special machine was used which holds films for 500 exposures. Out of the first 500 pictures made, only 10 had to be retaken.

Sisters attending C. I. A. simultaneously is not an uncommon circumstance, but for three pairs of them to be living in the same hall and on the same floor is an unusual happening—which has occurred in Capps hall and in the basement. There are Dorothy and Gertrude Barnett; Rachel and Marjorie Minton, and Hetty and Leona Cunningham.

One freshman asked if she could sign up for cooking in the Journalism office.

This is the College of Industrial Arts' 25th year of existence.

Luncheon Club Discusses Park

City Federation Asks Club to Aid in Building a Good Highway to City Federation Mountain Park

This week's meeting of the Wednesday Luncheon Club was not the stag party usually staged for one-fourth of the attendance was by ladies, officers and members of the City Federation who had been invited to attend, so plans for making the City Federation Park a real asset to Big Spring could be mapped out.

President J. B. Pickle tendered the visitors a cordial welcome and then turned the meeting over to B. Reagan who was in charge of the program.

Mr. Reagan supplemented the welcome tendered by Mr. Pickle and stated the speech making on this occasion would be left up to the ladies.

Miss Cochran being presented was requested to sing, and the old favorite "Annie Laurie" and encore were indeed enjoyed. James Willson was accompanist for this talented singer.

Mrs. C. W. Cunningham introduced the members of the City Federation delegation and made a brief talk in which she outlined some of the things the City Federation was doing and hoped to do to promote Big Spring as a home city. She requested Mrs. K. S. Beckett to outline the main purpose of the City Federation's plea to the Luncheon Club.

Mrs. Beckett made an especially interesting talk in which she pointed out the scenic beauties of Big Spring and especially of the City Federation Mountain Park, just south of our city. Because of inaccessible roads very few tourists had an opportunity to drive to the top of the mountain and secure a bird's eye view of Big Spring and surrounding territory. Not only are visitors denied the beauties of this spot but hundreds of home-folks have never visited the Federation Park. She stated it was fitting that on this day—the observance of the discovery of America by Columbus—the citizens were meeting to discuss ways and means of making it possible for our own citizens to discover this beautiful park site. She asked that the Luncheon Club join with them in improving the park as to a road so that people could have a good, safe drive-way. Just what steps to take she could not say but it had been suggested that a day be set aside on which the men would work on building a good road and the women would reward them by preparing a fine luncheon. She also suggested signs along the highway telling tourists of the Scenic Drive and urging them to make the trip thru the park.

Mrs. F. F. Gary also added her approval of the plan to do the improvement work by volunteer labor. She added that signs inviting tourists to visit the park should not be put up until the Scenic Drive had been put in first class condition.

W. V. Montin when asked as to the cost of building the road stated it could be placed in fair condition at a cost of around $1,000.

It was moved that a committee be appointed to decide on the best plan to adopt. This committee to be composed of the following: W. Montin, Joe Fisher, C. T. Watson, H. L. Rix and R. L. Price.

B. Reagan read a letter from Governor Dan Moody in reply to one asking for convict labor to improve this park, in which the governor stated that just at present all convict labor was needed in the state cotton farms, but that in the course of the next few months it might be possible to furnish convicts to do this work in the State Park.

Mrs. B. Reagan announced that on Wednesday night, Oct. 19, Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs would deliver an address at the First Baptist Church and everyone was cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Marrs will remain over in our city Thursday, Oct. 21 to conduct a school of instruction for members of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Reagan also stated that the City Federation was eager to secure some property close in to establish small parks. While these parks may not seem a necessity at this time they will be needed as our city continues to grow and now is the proper time to secure suitable sites.

Mrs. C. W. Cunningham thanked the members of the Luncheon Club for the invitation to attend the meeting and for the hearty cooperation promised. She gave warning that the City Federation would try to start other new projects so they might be extended invitations in the future. The big point was the satisfying of their curiosity. Many of the City Federation members were keen to know why husbands were willing to forego good home cooked dinners to attend the Luncheon Club—and they found out when they had the pleasure of enjoying one of the fine home cooked dinners, prepared and served by the ladies of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Reagan requested C. T. Watson to read an important special delivery communication just received from Detroit—and interest was at a white heat when he announced it was the specifications of the new Ford car. These were ordered turned over to J. F. Wolcott and all who wish to see what the new car is to be like should see J. F. and ask for these specifications.

The following were named to be in charge of the next meeting: Rev. L. O. Cunningham, E. A. Kelley, and Geo. W. Wilks.

WHY CATTLE ARE NOT SHIPPED FROM BIG SPRING

Livestock raisers in this territory have pleaded in vain for a way to secure loading pens that would be easy of access so they could ship their livestock from Big Spring. An appeal and a request that the Texas Railway Commission send a representative here to make an investigation is about the only chance the livestock raisers have to secure any relief.

sidiary of the Lone Star Gas Company, appeared before the City Council on Tuesday night and urged the city to call a meeting today noon to consider a franchise to place gas mains within the city of Sny-degg.

City Council has taken the matter under consideration and will report at next week's meeting.
A meeting was held at the Higgins Brothers store, at the corner of Main and Tenth streets, where has been asking, year-long, for gas for many years. Let's hope our city dads put the matter across right now, for it is the advancement for the best city in all West Texas.—

AN OLD HEIRLOOM
W. W. Larmon handed us a hard knot to solve Monday morning. He handed us a big chunk of wood which looked like a gob of taffy candy which had petrified and asked us to tell him what it might be.
And of course we missed it a mile.
It was nothing more nor less than a cedar knot worn smooth as marble by years of handling and kick-ling around as a weight to keep doors from slamming.

Mr. Larmon informed us that he has had this heirloom for the past sixty-two years and it has been in the Larmon family for 176 years.
Mr. Larmon's grandfather cut it off a cedar tree in Kentucky in the year 1751.

NEW COTTON ESTIMATE IS 12,675,000 BALES

The cotton crop was 54.2 per cent of normal on Oct. 1, indicating a production of 12,675,000 bales, compared with 17,977,000 bales last year, the Department of Agriculture announced last Saturday.

Lint cotton will yield 149.3 pounds per acre, compared with a harvest of 152.6 pounds in 1926, it was estimated.

The final outturn of the crop will depend upon whether the various influences affecting the crop during the remainder of the season are more or less favorable than usual, it was stated.

Census reports made public simultaneously showed 5,945,167 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, ginned from the crop of 1927, prior to Oct. 1, compared with 5,643,139 for 1926.

Cotton prospects improved substantially in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas during September, where warm and fairly dry weather prevailed, but improved prospects in these States were more than offset by losses from insects and rains in Oklahoma and Texas and by heavy boll weevil damage in the Carolinas, the Agriculture Department announced.

There is general complaint that the weevils have practically prevented the formation of a top crop this season, except along the northern and western edge of the belt, where the boll weevil is not a serious factor in cotton production, the department said in an official statement.

"In the southern portion of the belt, from Georgia to Central Texas, picking and ginning are well advanced for this time of the year and the effect of future weather conditions will be chiefly on the gathering for the late crop.

"The cotton crop now estimated at 12,675,000 bales is 14,000 bales below the forecast of a month ago and about 5,300,000 bales below production of 1926. The condition of the crop, reported at 54.2 per cent of normal is 5 per cent above the ten-year average."

Some folks will believe anything. We have had supposedly intelligent men ask us if the Chamber of Commerce favored lower wages for laboring men. Any person with a grain of sense should realize that higher wages means a greater spending power, and any business man or member of a chamber of commerce who would want men to work for less than they are now receiving is an idiot. Henry Ford has proven that the higher wages you pay the better it is for every line of business. Business would disappear if working men received only enough to keep the body and soul together.

NEW USE FOR WHEAT STRAW

Turning wheat straw—a waste by-product of the farms of the Central West—into insulating "boards" is the latest and most interesting development of the scientific investigation of the possibilities of utilizing waste material of the farms in industrial enterprises and as a source of revenue to the farmer. Wheat straw is of virtually no value to the farmer except as bedding material for his stock. It isn't worth the cost of the time and labor that is required to spread it over the land, because it has no fertilizing value. By turning it under a little humus is added to the soil, but it takes so long to break down its fibrous structure that the straw is more of a nuisance than a benefit, because it interferes for several seasons with the work of putting the land in proper tith for succeeding crops.

Now comes the scientist with the demonstrated fact that wheat straw because of the long tough quality of its fiber, its low moisture content and its resistance to the corroding influence of the elements can be manufactured into insulating "boards" of the highest quality thru the use of vegetable fibers.

When reduced to a pulp and formed into "boards" the product is an ideal non-conductor of heat and cold and is fire resistant to a high degree. These boards are used in the roofs, and as a plaster base in place of lath in the construction of buildings and as insulating material for refrigerators and cold storage warehouses.

AND HE ISN'T FAR WRONG

On any fine issue the majority of the American people is sure to be wrong, in the opinion of Rev. Harry E. Fosdick. "Think of taking a majority vote on the best music," he told his congregation. "Jazz would win over Chopin. Or on the best novel many cheap scribblers would win over Tolstoy. And any day a prize fight will get a bigger crowd, larger gate receipts and wider newspaper publicity than new revelation of goodness, truth or beauty could hope to achieve in a century."

Austin, Oct. 5.—"Taps" were sounded over the nickel punch board by the court of criminal appeals today.

"In the theatre world, Luckies have become almost universal. Stage folks are very cynical—voices must be kept in condition, throat irritation is a handicap. In 'George White's Scandals,' most actors and actresses whose voices are important smoke Luckies both for voice protection and—finer flavor. For these reasons I prefer them, too."

Simpler methods of cotton raising, namely, turning of the soil perhaps three or four inches, listing and planting in the water furrow, throwing the soil back to the plants after they come up, a total of only two or three cultivations to insure some kind of a cotton crop.

The simplest harvesting methods known—use of homemade "sleds," devices with wooden or steel fingers which strip the bolls from the plants wholesale, and gin equipment which breaks the bolls and extracts the lint about as well as the average picker does by hand, cost of this method of "sledding" about $3.50 to $5 a day, being wages for a man and his team and perhaps a boy or hand to help rake the bolls back into a wagon box after the stripper has gathered them. Capacity per day of one "sled" one to two bales at a total cost of $3.50 to $5 compared with $18 to $20 per bale if picked by hand.

Many Acres Per Family

In this new cotton belt of the Southwest one family will farm 100 to 200 acres of cotton a season and raise a "living" besides. The crops usually grown for feed and grain are wheat, grain sorghums (milo, kafir and feterita), redtop cane for forage, oats, alfalfa in the draws or low places, Sudan grass on the prairies and even corn.

Is there any wonder that there has been a great influx of newcomers into the Panhandle and Plains country of Texas during the last five years? They have come largely from the older cotton regions of Texas, from Central and East Texas, where the mounting costs of cotton raising have brought on a sort of cotton slavery and living conditions have become irksome.

These western plains lands are rather cheap, although in recent years the price has climbed steadily and some land around the larger towns like Lubbock, Plainview and other centers may run from $60 to $75 an acre. However, last year's cotton depression also hit West Texas and lands have been far below the above figures, some being offered for $25 to $35 an acre and occasionally lower. A man must know land to buy intelligently, as there is much land which is not strictly cotton land. There is blow sand which is difficult to handle.
There are high winds during the winter and spring which fill the air with dust when these lighter soils are plowed up. They might have been left in grass to better advantage but now that they are in cultivation they will remain under plow.

A Metro Goldwyn Mayer picture

It may be said in passing that several large cotton growing corporations of late have looked over West Texas with a view to locating there and raising cotton in a large way like the Mississippi Delta section of Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. Lower cost of raising cotton will perhaps start another migration of peoples into Northwest and West Texas soon.

Occasional Drouths

There are occasional drouths in Northwest and West Texas, but the last one in 1918 when practically no feed or grain or cotton was grown and there was a wholesale exodus of farmers, only to return with the first rains of fall and start all over.

As to whether climate changes when large bodies of semi-arid land is put into cultivation is not fully established, although some scientists state that cultivated land will hold more moisture than the prairies did and hence there will be more evenly distributed rainfall.
There are not sufficient weather records of long enough standing to warrant such conclusions for West Texas, but on the whole the climate is satisfactory for cotton culture and for general agriculture, taking into consideration the types of particular suited crops which must be grown.

The frost-free period in the region about fifty miles north of Lubbock and extending into Southwestern Oklahoma and into New Mexico in a southwesterly direction is about 180 days, which is more than sufficient to raise cotton.

The nights during the summer may be cool, but that does not effect cotton culture seriously. Cotton is a desert plant, withstanding drouth and cool weather better almost than any other crop. Of course, it grows very short on the high plains of Northwest Texas, being only about eighteen inches tall, which makes possible the method of "sledding" because of its uniformity.

It must be said that "sledding" cotton at present is only a "salvage" method forced upon farmers on account of low prices for lint and high cost for hand picking. The West Texas crop matures about sixty days later than that of the South Texas areas or thirty days later than Central Texas. By that time picking costs have risen and prices have dropped in the value of the lint as they always do, hence some short cut to harvesting cotton was necessary to make any money.

Best results are obtained when the plants have had their leaves stripped off by a freeze. This makes less trash in the stripped cotton and a better sample. Whether "sledding" will be perfected to be used every year remains to be seen, but it is likely that it will spread whenever the season favors it. This method is capable of much development and may transform cotton harvesting systems when inventive genius is directed to solving the problem.—Victor H. Schoffelmayer

A STEADY GROWTH ASSURED

Most every thinking person is pleased to note that Big Spring is making a steady growth rather than going on a boom.

A substantial steady growth is without regrets, whereas there is always a "kickback" to a boom.

Big things are in store for Big Spring but we must not try to force our growth faster than there is need for same.

Oil men and men with money to invest have picked Big Spring to make a substantial and stable city. With everything needed to make such a city we have but to keep pulling together and work for the things which will add to our city's growth and prosperity.

WHAT A BIG DAILY THINKS

The Big Spring (Texas) Herald recently celebrated its 24th birthday anniversary. Give it one more year and it will be a quarter of a century old. The Herald, under the direction of T. E. Jordan, has grown tall, broad and stalwart. It is a weekly and usually appears in 16 pages, often more, and there is always enough advertising to justify the pages. The owners of The Herald have been wise in preferring a hale and hearty weekly to a sickly daily paper.—El Paso Herald.

One of the most exciting wrestling matches which has ever been staged at the Miller skating rink in this city was enjoyed by a large crowd of fans Monday night.

Both wrestlers were in the pink of condition and they put everything they had into their efforts. It was a stem-winding contest with no quarter asked and the crowd was on edge every minute the wrestlers were in action.

Cactus Pete Brown proved he had the stuff and was just too much for the Masked Marvel. The Masked Marvel won the first fall with a short arm scissor in thirty-one minutes. Cactus Pete Brown won the second fall with a body slam in twenty-two and one half minutes. Cactus Pete Brown won the third fall with a reverse flying mare in eleven and one-half minutes.

Rosa Accepted Tony's Offer

By AD SCHUSTER

(Copyright)

"IT IS all right. Some day when I get a raise, be a little boss, then maybe, the big, you will be sorry you will not marry me." Tony drew himself up grandly that he might not show his disappointment. This Rosa thought of nothing but the motion picture and her little job in the store.

"And if I get married, Tony, it will be you. But you understand there are so many things to do, so many good times, that I do not wish to cook the dinner and wash the clothes even for you." She laughed at him and he thought, even in his anguish, that her eyes were like jewels.

"You laugh. It is all right. You see the picture and think you will be the actress. Perhaps not. The camera cannot put the sparkle of your eye on the screen and without the sparkle of your eye you are," Tony shrugged his shoulders, "not so very much."

That was the start of the quarrel. No one could tell Rosa who was earning twenty-two dollars a week and saving a whole dollar of it each Saturday in the bank, she was not so very much. If Tony would be jealous he would not call and then there would be so much more time for the pictures. There were better men, many better men than Tony, on the screen at the Acme theater. She would go there and snap her fingers and laugh.

The next afternoon there stopped in the store a man who took her to one side and explained she was violating a law. In amazement she listened to what he had to say.

"Me, I am twenty years old and you say I have to go to school? Is it that I don't know too much already? Impossible!"

"You are an alien and you are not twenty-one. You will have to go to night school until you reach that age." To make it strong he added, "I have informed your employer and if you do not obey you will lose your job."

When Rosa went to night school she passed the motion picture house and reflected upon her wasted opportunities. It cannot be said she was an apt scholar, for there was a rebellious gleam in her dark eyes and her thoughts were far away from her books.

"It is queer stuff you teach me," she protested, "can I sell gloves any better for knowing so much? You should be ashamed." The others laughed, but Rosa held her head high and considered herself a victim of injustice.

Though she would not learn from the books, the girl found out many things concerning the school, teachers and students. She reckoned the number of months she must attend these classes until she should become twenty-one, and her fine spirits drooped.

If they kept on putting stuff into her head, she decided, they would take the sparkle from her eyes. And Tony had said that without the sparkle she would be nothing. Tony? She would find him. She would see, somehow, that he met her on the street.

When the meeting took place, Tony was dressed in a new suit and stepping high.

"As I said it, I am the little boss. Pretty soon, maybe two years or fifteen, I will be the big boss. Now you are sorry you said you would not marry me."

"Tony, I didn't mean it. It was to make you jealous and propose all over again. I was going to say 'yes' next time you asked me."

Tony looked at her in surprise and again felt victim to the sparkle in her eyes.

"Then right now, I propose again, and what do you say?"

"I say 'yes,' of course," and Rosa took his arm, and as they walked down the street, kept looking up at him lest he be deuced the treat of those eyes.

"These women," said Tony, "they don't fool me. It is because I have the better job, and you say 'yes.' Very well, I am satisfied, but not one bit fooled."

"And these men," thought Rosa, "they are so easy fooled. It is because a married woman does not have to go to school I accept him. But I am satisfied, too."

Before the Days of Steam Fire Engines

The first fire engines introduced in America were received at Boston from England, 248 years ago, January 27, 1679. This early engine was merely a strong cylinder of oak placed upon wheels, and furnished with pump, air chambers and a suction pipe of strong leather. The end for receiving the water was provided with a strainer.

In case the suction pipe could not be used, the water was supplied to the container by buckets passed from hand to hand. The labor of three men was required to work the plunger and direct the nozzle.

Few improvements were made in the method of fire fighting until the middle of the last century, when steam fire engines were introduced the first successful steam fire engine being used in Cincinnati in 1833.

TO EMPLOY PUBLICITY MAN

At a meeting of the Realty Board Tuesday night it was definitely decided to employ a publicity man to better advertise the agricultural possibilities of Howard County and promote the development of Big Spring. It is planned to employ a man for the period of three months—but if the citizenship back up the proposition the services of the publicity man will be continued for a year or longer.

The members of the Realty Board and many citizens believe the time has arrived for Big Spring and Howard County to move ahead, and the right kind of publicity and advertising will promote a healthy growth. They believe the time is ripe for us to advertise the agricultural possibilities of Howard County as our section offers greater opportunity to those who desire to engage in farming than any other section of Texas.

In order that a comprehensive advertising program may be carried out it will be necessary to raise a sizeable advertising fund and this is the first movement that must be carried out.

If you believe in Big Spring and Howard County and want to aid in their growth and prosperity donate generously to this advertising fund.
