Ingersoll on Alcohol

I am aware there is a prejudice against the manufacture of alcohol. I believe from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm in the distillery until it empties in the hell of death, that it is demoralizing to everybody that touches it, from the source to where it ends. I do not believe that anybody can contemplate the subject without being prejudiced against the crime. All wrecks on either side of the stream they have to do is to think of the death; of the suicides; of the insanity; of the poverty; of the destruction of little children tugging at the breasts; of weeping and despairing wives, with imaginary serpents produced by this devilish thing. And when you think of the jails; of the almshouses; of the asylums; of the prisoners; of the scaffolds on either bank, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against this vile stuff called alcohol.

Alcohol cuts down youth in its prime; manhood in its strength, and age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart; bereaves the doting mother; extinguishes natural affection; blots out filial attachment; blights parental hope, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sickness, not health; death not life. It makes wives widows; children orphans; fathers fiends; and all of them paupers and beggars.

It feeds rheumatism; nures gout; welcomes epidemics; invites cholera; imports pestilence; and embraces consumption. It covers the land with idleness, poverty, disease, and crime. It fills your jails; supplies almshouses; demands your asylums. It endangers controversies; fosters quarrels; and cherished riots. It crowds your penitentiaries and furnishes victims for your scaffolds. It is the life-blood of the gambler; the prop of the highwayman; and the support of the midnight incendiary. It countenances the liar; respects the thief; and esteems the blasphemer.

It violates obligations; reverences fraud; and honors infamy. It defames benevolence; hates love; scorns virtue; and slanders innocence. It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring; helps the husband to massacre his wife; and aids the child to grind the patrician ax. It burns up man and consumes woman; destests life; and curses God; and despises heaven.

It suborns witnesses; nurses perjury; defiles the jury box; stains

the judicial ermine. It bribes voters; disqualifies votes; corrupts elections; pollutes our institutions; endangers our government. It degrades the citizen; debases the legislator; dishonors the statesman; disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not happiness. And with the malevolence of a fiend it calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and insatiates with havoc poisonous felicity, kills peace, ruins reputation, wipes out our national honor; then curses the world and laughs at its ruin.

It does all that and more. It murders the soul; it is the sum of all villainies; the father of all crime; the mother of all abominations; the curse of curses; the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy.— Clipped from the Amarillo News-Globe, Sunday, July 17.

On Texas Farms

By W. H. Darrow

From a blackberry demonstration acre started three years ago on his Milam county farm, W. F. Luckey of Rockdale sold 500 gallons the second year at 25c per gallon, with the customers coming from near and far to do their own picking. This year he expects to sell about 1,000 gallons.

Burford Reaves of Hamby community, Taylor county, harvested 24.5 bu. of wheat per acre on terraced land according to county agent records, while untraced land in the same community made from 16 to 19 bushels. The demonstration field wheat tested 63 to an average test of 58 to 60 for the other. The extra yield paid the expense of combining.

Green feed and a plentiful supply of mineral will cure rickets in hogs, A. Jantzen, Bexar county demonstrator has found. The hogs got down in the back from a ration of white corn and kitchen slop but recovered on being fed in addition green cane and a tablespoonful per day of concentrated mineral mixture. are 6,783 hens in these flocks and the average production for the month was slightly above 18 eggs per hen. Patronize our advertisers!!
