And David Newman

David Newman and Belinda Simpson were crowned King and Queen of the May Halloween Carnival.

The May P.T.C. sponsored the Halloween Carnival and Cornation as their major fund raising project of the year. Each class elected representatives and then raised money through selling chances, bake sales, and other forms of money making projects.

The candidates who raised the most money were crowned as King and Queen. The Grade School Prince and Princess was Michael Pittman and Kim Hardy-the third and fourth grade candi-

Sue Newman and Ted Murphree served as Master's of Ceremony. Janet Nelson provided musical accompaniment. The students of Mrs. Pallett and Mrs. Morton entertained the audience with several songs about Halloween.

Oliver and Belinda West were in charge of the Halloween activities. Helping them with the carnival was Mrs. Wayne Pittman. Sharon Geye, Jewel Harris, and Sally Hutchinson were in charge of decorating for the cornation.

A special thank you is extended to all the people of community who had a part in making this activity possible.

Inflation - Fighting IDEAS

Sticking With It

Since we can't do much to curb inflation as individuals, perhaps the next best thing is to curb our own free-spending ways. One way to reduce personal expenses is by handling minor repair jobs yourself rather than hiring professional handymen.

For example, instead of discarding and then replacing broken items such as china, pottery, jewelry and sneakers, simply mend them yourself. All it takes is a remarkable product called Eastman 910

Within just a few seconds, a drop of Eastman 910 adhesive, followed by fingertip pressure, forms a firm, durable bond between rubber, metals, plastics, hardwoods and ceramics. Eastman 910 can hold up to 5,000 pounds. Another money-saving tip is to buy product kits and assemble them yourself instead of buying pre-assembled

Olney Savings Association Opens Employee Credit Union

Olney, Texas--The first credit union for employees of a savings and loan association in Texas has been organized by Olney

Savings Association. The Olney Savings Credit Union will serve employees of Olney Savings Association in Olney and its branch offices in nine counties, their families and employees of certain affiliated companies, Carmen Bullock, the credit union's chief executive officer, announced Wednesday.

One of the largest savings and loan associations in north central Texas, the $154 million Olney Savings Association has branches in Seymour, Baylor County; Bridgeport, Wise County; Weatherford, Parker County; Jacksboro, Jack County; Nocona, Montague County, and Azle, Tarrant County. In addition, it has divisions in Eastland and Ranger, both in Eastland County, and Electra, Wichita County. Total deposits are listed at $121 million and total loans, $128 million.

Bullock, administrative assistant to the president of Olney Savings Association, said the statechartered credit union was formed to "help our employees with their borrowing and saving.' Under federal conflict of interest regulations, employees are discouraged and, in some cases forbidden, to borrow from the savings and loan where they work, she

"We want our people to have a convenient and professional financial resource available. Starting our own credit union seemed the ideal solution."

The Olney Savings Credit Union plans to offer a full range of financial services including payroll deductions, Ms. Bullock said.

Top management heartily endorses the new credity union. Donald McClatchy, president and managing officer of Olney Savings Association, has been active in the formative stages of the non-profit cooperative...

"We're all pitching in," he said. "It irritates me beyond words to have to send our employees somewhere else to borrow money. Our employees are wonderful--I mean that in a nonpaternalistic way. They work hard and stay with us a long time. To keep good people, you have ot offer a total package of compensation. Along with salary come fringe benefits, and I think our credit union will be an important one."

"To me, it makes a great deal of sense to have a credit union, professionally managed, to meet the borrowing needs and other financial needs of our employees."

McClatchy, active in a number of state and national financial associations, is immediate past president of the National Savings and Loan League, Washington, D. C. He served as president of the Texas Savings and Loan League in 1968-69 and is an ex-officio member of the Federal Savings and Loan Advisory Council.

What will his friends in Texas' other 318 savings and loans think of his association's sponsorship of a credit union?

"They'll be watching closely to see what we do,' McClatchy predicted.

Although credit unions for financial institutions are somewhat a novelty, there are 10 for savings and loans and 15 for banks across the McClatchy believes "there is room for all kinds of good financial institutions. I don't see any conflict or problem at all. Any financial institution will prosper and grow in direct proportion to the quality of service it offers to the consumer. There is room for all of us." One of the most appealing features of the credit union, insiders say, will be attractive rates on loans and shares (savings.) Share accounts will be insured to $40,000 similar to savings accounts in savings and Because the organization is a non-profit cooperative and will have minimal overhead expenses, it will be able to pay the on loans. The credit union "office" currently is Ms. Bullock's desk, and she, along with other officers, performs her new tasks around her regular working duties. As the organization grows it will provide a full-time salaried manager.

highest rates allowable on

shares and charge low rates

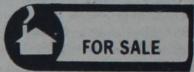

Ms. Bullock joined Olney Savings Association in 1965. She previously worked for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Westinghouse Electric Corporation and Anderson, Clatyon & El Paso and Friberg & Parish in Wichita Falls.

Other credit union officers are Brenda Boydston, OSA executive secretary, vice chairman, and Marlene Lukert, OSA bookkeeper, secretary and treasurer. Alan D. Myers, Jr., Lewis Farmer and Wade Fikes. OSA executive vice presidents, and McClatchy are directors.

Texas 1,425 credit unions rely on a "common bond" of mutual employment residency of association. Under the cooperative concept of the credit union structure, each member has one vote regardless of the size of his share account. Volunteers serve on the board of directors and committees without pay are elected by the credit union membership at its annual meeting. cont'

Membership in Texas credit unions exceeds 2.5 million with assets of $4 billion, according to the Dallas-based Texas Credit Union League.

Born Here - Stayed Here

OLDEST COUNTY NATIVE?

By Viola Payne

There is history in books and history in museums, but the most interesting kind is the living history found with persons such as S.E. (Ernest) Hittson of Cisco. His lifetime reaches from covered wagons and homesteading to jet planes and freeways, and he has participated in more outstanding events of this area than any person living here today. Earnest was born in 1890 in a log house on the family ranch near Big Sandy Creek, seven miles north of Cisco. His father, William Thomas Hittson, had homesteaded on this land ten years earlier. His mother, Adelia Wagley, had been living at Gunsight at the time of their marriage. The Hittsons came from Tennessee after the Civil War, first settling in Ft. Worth, then moving on west in covered wagons. One Uncle, John Hittson, became the first Sheriff of Palo Pinto County. the later went to Colorado and organized the first Cattleman's Association in that state. Other relatives settled on raches near Moran and Breckenridge. The men of the family were strong, and usually above 6 ft. tall; Ernest grew to 6 ft. at maturity, and had the family coloring of gray-blue eyes and brown hair. William Hittson added land to his ranch until it had 2,000 acres. Young Ernest absorbed a love of creeks and hills and valleys of his home place, with a desire to take care of it. His parents believed in hard work, but they brightened his life with religion, music, and a regard for things of lasting quality. Even the fireplaces on their log home were carefully built, and the same strain of fine sorrel quarterhorses is still used on the ranch.

The Hittsons took turns with neighboring ranch families at hauling supplies from Weatherford, which took two weeks by wagon. Ernest remembers some of these trips, as well as friendly Indians who came to the ranch house for food.

S.E. Hittson In 1897 the family moved to Cisco, because of the difficulty of sending the children to school from the ranch. Cisco was a small wooden town clustered along Avenue D, but it appeared exciting to young Ernest. He could stroll around town by the blacksmith shops or wagon yards, or over to watch the daily trains go by. At the time he graduated from High School other young men of his generation were leaving for larger cities, or places like California. But Ernest had a feeling for his home town and the ranch. "I always had a desire." he says, "To make the world a better place for my having been here.'

This became a reason for improving himself, so he attended Haskins Normal College in Gorman, and Brittian Acadamy in Cisco. Then he taught in rural and Bluff Branch. By this time he was also playing the guitar, violin, tuba, and singing with a fine baritone voice.

In 1911 Ernest married Brittian Yeager of Cisco. The young couple joined the Presbyterian Church, beginning many years of service for this group. Brittian served as Organist and Choir Director, and Ernest filled the offices of Deacon, Choir Director, Sunday School Teacher and other functions over the years. He filled the pulpit as a lay-speaker, and could also furnish a violin solo, complete with sweet, singing tones. Among the honors from the Presbyterian Church Ernest treasures a special "Honorary Membership" Award given to him in 1976 by the Presbyterian

Women of Cisco. From 1912 to 1918 Hittson was in the grocery business in Cisco, and did some house building. "They are still good houses," he remarks. From 1918 to 1932 he was cashier at the Cisco Banking Company, located in the present Kirk building. During this time the first oil well in Eastland County was drilled-by Texaco, on the Hittson ranch. This well and several

nity projects of this group.

The work of the Boy Scouts

was also very near to his heart. His own two children died in infancy, but he reached out to help all boys who came within his influence. He spent more than forty years in this work,

Until the last few years Mr. Hittson had excellent health. but then he had surgery on a hip socket, and a heart pace-maker implanted. This made his life more confining. But one reward of a long life is to see some results from your work. Like driving out to look over Lake Cisco, and realize that the dam you helped plan still impounds enough water for a growing town. Or to read letters sent to the Comanche Trail Council of Boy Scouts from leaders across the United States, recalling how one S.E. Hittson took restless little boys under his guidance and taught them lifetime values. "His concern for and devotion to young men has been a lifetime work," states one

Or The War Between the Western Wranglers and the Eastern Rangers of Cisco and Ranger Jr. Colleges to be played on the gridiron at Ranger Saturday at 2:30 for their first meeting this year in Eastland County, for county football domination, and for Ranger's homecom-

As both Jr. Colleges are in Eastland County, a rivilry, has existed between them over the years with the two most important subjects on each agenda being to win a bowl berth and to beat the other. This type of attitude often leads to close, hard fought games in which anything can happen.

Ranger has received an invitation to play in the Beef. Empire Classic bowl game in Garden City, Kansas, against Garden City Community College, but an upset of the bowl bound Rangers will be necessary for Cisco to feel that they have had a successful season.

During the half-time cease-fire, the Olney High School band will perform, the homecoming queen will be crowned, and the Distinguished Ex-Student Award will be presented.

CISCO WRANGLERS

According to coach Bill Anderson and assistant Bill Hopson, Ranger has a very good team, but Cisco will play them a good game and the outcome may be decided by who gets the breaks. They say that the boys play their best at the end of the season. especially when they are depending heavily on freshmen, and that a clean game can be expected with Ranger.

Cisco has more depth than experience with 75 or 76 boys playing in each game. whereas Ranger usually plays 26 to 30 regulars, many of them being major college transfers.

Both the offense and defense of Cisco have been inconsistent, partly due to injuries to key people such as QB Barry Babcock, RBs Wade Stanford. Cris Jones. and Arthur Perkins, DE Jaycee Paclik. DT Mike Rena, OT David Taylor, and LB Bobby Burton. The Wranglers have had to play a lot of freshmen, mostly on

There is a little saying that was put up on a sign outside of a church building somewhere that said; "No God-No Peace. Know God-Know peace." Of course, that message is true. We learn also that each child of God is very important to God, "the LORD hath set apart him that is godly for himself". You may feel very unimportant and very few people really care for and love you. To God each of His children are very important to Him. (verse 3).

We further learn that sin in our lives must be dealt with as we stand in the presence of a holy God. God expects us to deal with our own sins and stop what we know is wrong. (verse 4).

And lastly we learn that in worship before God we can trust the Lord for good in our lives; for gladness or joy; and safey. (ver 5-8).

One evidence of freedom from anxiety is to be able to lie down in peace and sleep trusting only the Lord to minister to our every need.

We are able to overcome anxiety for:

God promised that He would, pour out the Spirit of grace and supplication upon all flesh, (Joel 2:28). How much of that Spirit of supplication, is ours? Surely we must get that Spirit at all cost? Yet if we are not willing to spend time in, supplication, God must perforce withhold His Spirit, and we become numbered amongst those who are, resisting the Spirt, and possibly, quenching, the Spirit. Has not our Lord promised the Holy Spirit to them that ask? (Luke 11:13). Are not the very converts from heathendom putting some of us to shame? A few years ago, in India, a missionary had the joy of seeing something of Pandita Ramabai's work. She had a boarding school of 1,500 Hindu girls. One day some of these girls came with their Bibles and asked a lady missionary what St. Luke 12:49, meant- I came to cast fire upon the earth; and what will I, if it is alrady kindled? The missionary tried to put them off with an evasive answer, not being very sure herself what those words meant. But they were not satisfied, so they determined to pray for this fire. And as they prayed-and because they prayed-the very fire of heaven came into their souls. A very Pentecost from above was granted them. No wonder they continued to pray! A party of those girls upon whom God had poured the, Spirit of supplication, came to a mission house to ask if they might stay in that town and pray for missionarys work. The missionary did not entertain the ideal with any great enthusiasm.

One more week to go until study week! In case some of you don't know it, it is time for quarter tests! Just two more quarters and there will be new faces around here, again. Let's all study hard and pass all of our tests and surprise the teachers.

Let's be serious for awhile. I want to talk with you about self-discipline. Selfdiscipline is a thing that everyone needs to learn. Many people probably don't know what the word means. To me self-discipline means knowing what the word means. To me self-discipline means knowing when to stop playing around when it is time to go to work, or not watching T.V. when you should be studying for that test tomorrow, or getting mad and saying bad words out loud, when you could just take it and smile.

Self-discipline is a very important thing, because where would the world be if no one had any selfdiscipline?

MORNING HAS BROKEN This last week we had to clean up the Halloween Carnival and Spook House. In History we are reading from the newspapers about the Government; in English, we are taking tests on pronouns that are pretty easy; in Algebra, we are working on graphs; In shorthand, we have started taking dictation and it is not that hard; in Annual, nearly all the piclures are in, so its going along pretty easy.

It has not been too hard this past week, and we are hoping that it does not get harder. You Senior reporter Kathy Reed.

WE'VE ONLY JUST

Hi there! Watch out! The Super Soph's are on their way. We are up and going in all the classes. In P.E., we get dressed every morning, and get out in the gym and run laps; in Algebra, we are still working on positive and negative numbers; in English, we are still trying to learn the tenses of a very; in History, we are studying Europeans, but part of the time we have been talking about a class money raising project; in Physical Science, we do an experiment just about every day. Now for the class money raising project we sold chances on twenty-five gallons of gas and Mr. Dutch Shults won it. Thank you for buying a chance. For our next money raising project we are going to have a chili supper. It will be Friday, November 10th, in the lobby of the gym. It will be from 5:30 till 6:45. It will consist of chili, crackers, beans, cake, tea, and coffee. We will be selling tickets on it.

They will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children 12 and under. That is all for this week. See you next week.

Book Review The Witch of Blackbird Pond by Elizabeth George Speare Kit Tyler knew, as she gazed for the first time at the cold, bleak shores of Connecticut Colony, that her new home would never be like the shimmering Caribbean Islands she left behind. She was like a tropical bird which has flown to the wrong part of the world. In the stern, Puritan community of her relatives she soon felt caged as well, and lonely. In the meadows, the only place where she could feel completely free, she meets another lone and mysterious figure, the old woman known as the Witch of Blackbird Pond. But when friendship is discovered, Kit is faced with suspicion, fear, and anger. She herself is accused of witchcraft! The Wise Old Owl.

BIG BRASS

The band preformed at the bonfire last week, which was quite different from what we usually do. We played the school song, fight song, and Brandy for the majorettes to do their twirling routine. By the time we had played, the cheerleaders had lead some yells, and the girls had pinned the boys, it was pretty hot. The band was invited to go on a hay ride with the football players after the bonfire activities, so we all loaded on a trailer and headed out of town.

This week is our last game and we plan to present the band sweetheart and band beau. Try to come see us, this will be our lasting marching show for the year. Kim Harris.

OUT FRONT

Hello everyone! This Friday night will be the Wildcats last game. We will be playing Evant at Rising Star. The game will start at 7:30. Also the pep rally will be a good one. Let's hope Friday won't be a bad night, weather wise because the Wildcats are gonna be ready to go. Hope to see the stands full Friday night. See Ya Friday at the game. Reporter: Vicki Elliott.

CARRYING THE BALL The Cats played their last out of town game Friday night. It was against rival Blanket. They were out for blood this year and striving for the district title. They rompled on the Wildcats 56-0.

It is the first time in a while that Blanket has had a winning season and Rising Star a losing one. Blanket is undefeated in district and will play for the title this week against undefeated Gorman. The Cats will play their final game here, against Evant. See ya at 7:30 Friday. Shelly Gray.

Senator Bentsen Talks About Beef Import Bill

By Marion McDaniel Reprinted by permission from AMERICAN

AGRICULTURE NEWS Dallas--Sen. Loyd Bentsen said Monday that the President would be making a 'tragic mistake if he vetoes the Bentsen Counter-cyclical Beef Imports Bill. Bentsen spoke Monday morning to the annual convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association in

'We produce and consume more beef than any country in the world--and the United States is willing to share its market to a far greater degree than any of our competitors," the Senator

"We import seven per cent of the beef we consume; no other beef-producing country comes even close to this figure.

'One problem, however, has been the way we have managed our beef imports. We have traditionally relied on a pro-cyclical beef import policy: when the cattle cycle is such that the domestic price of beef is low, the gates have been opened to more imports. When the domestic price is high, the formula in the law permits fewer beef imports.

"Now you don't have to be an economic or agricultural genius to understand that such a policy makes no sense. It accentuates the high and low points in beef fluctuations. It operates to the detriment of both the consumer and producer."

"But that's not the whole story. (You tell 'em, Senator. That's certainly not all they are doing wrong in Washington.) Under the previous law. the President had descretionary authority to suspent suspend the beef import quotas and frequently did so when the price was up."

"Earlier this year we got together and decided to do something about this situation. (Can we say thanks to American Agriculture?) We decided to press for a counter -Cyclical import formula. We'd maintain roughly the same level of beef imports-about seven per cent of domestic production--but we would permit them to come in when prices were high and reduce the imports when prices were low. This approach has the obvious advantage of evening out the peaks and troughs in the beef cycle."

"We also decided to exempt live cattle from our bill. There were a lot of people who thought they should be included, but there were also a lot of people--like the Texas Cattle Feeders Association--who understood what an adverse impact this would have on your industry and on the economy of Mexico, our primary foreign supplier of live cattle.

"We went one step farther in this legislation: we took away the President's discretion to waive the quota, except in cases of real emergency.

"It was probably this provision, more than any other aspect of the bill, that brought about the strong Administration opposition we have been fighting for the past six months.

But, despite this opposition, we were able to sell the bill to Congress on its merits. It made sense. We were able to respond to any argument levied against it. We got it through the Senate Finance Committee and passed it on the Senate Floor last May."

Congressman Bob Poage took up the fight on the House side. There were negotations, compromises, some changes. But the bill that emerged from the House was essentially the bill that I got through the Senate; the Bentsen Counter-cyclical Beef Imports Bill. It has the twin attributes of the counter-cyclical approach and limitations on the President's ability to suspend the beef import quota.

"It is no secret that the Administration does not like this legislation. The threat of veto--either an outright veto or a pocket veto--is still a factor to be reckoned with."

"President Carter will be making a very real and tragic mistake if he vetoes the beef bill. There is no good reason for a veto; no economic justification, no political justification, and no inflationary justification. The proposal we offer is a substantial improvement over current procedures,' Bentson said.

"It leaves the President discretion to waive quotas when such a waiver is really warranted. It will help even out fluctuations in the beef market without any marked decrease in imports. It makes good sense for America and for our trading partners. It makes sense both for the consumer and producer," Senator Bentsen

May Senior Citizens To Get Nutrition Program

By Marion McDaniel

Jim Compton, program developer for the Area Agency on Aging of West Central Texas Council of Governments, has called to explain the details of getting a nutrition program for the May Senior Citizens. Program would begin when details have been worked out with the Camp Bowie Senior Citizens program (Nell Lashbrook, director), Virgil Gray (Brownwood city manager), and Area Agency on Aging. May would get 15 meals per day two days per week. Meals would be prepared by the Camp Bowie unit, where government kitchen equipment has already been installed, delivered to May, and the dishes returned to Brownwood for washing in would free the May Van for pickup in the May Community. Matching 10 per cent funds for May would be gudgeted as donated funds for the meals. No charge on the meals is permitted, but means for donations are mandatory. Many donate the cost of such meals, which is less than a dollar. Many donate partial amounts. Visit will be made to Brownwood on Monday to explore the program, and a WCTCOG meeting will be attended in Abilene on Thursday to explore the new Amendments to the Older Americans Act. Part of the Thursday meeting will be devoted to "Nutrition Project site managers' training' and "Nutrition education train-

Some Reflection Upon Fall

By Marion McDaniel

Poet Laureate of Texas The long fall season has made us conscious of the beauty of the fall. I often wondered why poets of old wrote only about the spring. Because I was so moved by the changing color of all, I decided to write my own poem about fall. November 4, 1964. I wrote the following poem, after living on High Plains where the tumble weed and careless weed changed to purple colors and after making frequent trips to Austin in the school business and observing the fall wardrobe of trees: THE FALL HAS COLOR OF ITS OWN

You write about the spring: I'll write about the fall, When threats of winter bring A splendor over all. Upon the tumble weed Alights a purple hue That takes the old indeed And makes something new. That dulls the farmer's hoe

1978 - 79 Fur Season

The poison ivy vine That chokes the evergreen Looks like an eglantine And itches to be seen. All hail the sumac tree With leaves of roman red! Green mistletoe for me On doors above my head! Up to the sculptured peak, As painter's spattered cloak, How red and yellow streak The leaves of Spanish oak! You poets herald spring. The flowery world of green; I'd like to say a thing Of seasons in between. You write of birds that spark With downy feathers tossed: I'll hail the yellow lark The morning after frost. You look for what you want In fields of blue mirage; I'll seek the turkey's haunt Where deer find camoflauge. You write about the spring; I'll write about the fall,

This is a short article to tell all of my old friends and neighbors about the outlook of the 1978-79 Fur Season. According to all of our current fur bulletins prices are expected to be as high if not higher than at the close of last season. They are expected to be 10 percent to 20 percent higher than last year. However, this is only on number one's pelts, the "PRIME" pelt.

The proper handled pelt-CASED OUT! At the close of last season our prices were: Raccoon 123.00, Grey Fox-$30.00, Red Fox 45.00, Robert $65.00, Ringtail $6.50, Coyote $18.00. This should give you an idea of where Fur prices might land this season. According to the New York and Foreign Buyers"long as the U.S. Dollar is worthless, Fur prices will be high, but if it goes up in value the fur prices will go down." How much truth is in this who knows! According to the latest news booklet it would be wise to keep your furs sold and not hold for better furs; you have to be the judge and decide for yourself what road to take sale or hold. Personally were going to keep our furs moving in and out freely. The common feeling is that all furs should be sold and not held, while demand is strong. You, the hunter, can make your choice to hold your furs for higher prices or to sale your furs at the every day's going price. Due to the world's situation the market for Furs could go either way. Where the prices will start Dec. 1, 1978, or where they will end Jan 31, 1979 is anyones guess. However, it's a known fact that Prime skins bring top prices, uprime skins lower prices and that trash is worthless. For those of you who would like more information on furs, traps, bait, trapping methods, etc., we will be open on Nov. 12th for Houndmen Trades Day or after Dec. 1st. "Dear Lord, I love my children but they are driving me to distraction. I have lost my self-control. I need your help. I realize, Dear Lord, that I can never direct them in their young lives if I am disorganized. Help me not to be angry and to not shout at them. Give me a sense of humor, Oh Lord, and help me to know that their restless energy is a sign of vitality and part of their development. Don't let me be tired and upset, but, rather, may I enter joyfully into my relationship with them. Thank you for my children, but Lord, don't let them get me down. In Christ name, Amen."

Junior High Football

JUNIOR HIGH FOOT-BALL-Blanket Kittens-28; Rising Star Kittens-8.

In Wildcat stadium the Blanket Kittens came packing the power up on the line to give the Rising Star Kittens something to remember.

Blanket could move almost anywhere they wanted to but they earned each score they took as the Rising Star team played a clean tight game but were out gunned both on the line and in the air. The Blanket team used a good screene pass with success. To mention one player and not mention each and every one in this game would be wrong, so to the players and their efforts, a good hard played game. This brings the Rising Star Kittens to 6 wins and 3 loss with next game coming up at Evant, Texas. This will be the last game of the
