The Rising Star basketball teams - High School teams - will be hosts next week to teams from neighboring schools in a week-long tournament at the local gym. Most of the games will be played at night, and the coaches and players have issued a special invitation to local people to attend. There will be a lot of good basketball played and you can look for some exciting contests.

Down at Houston, Texas a movie producer has built an entire town, complete with livery stable, stage coach station, church and a number of "false-fronted" business buildings, including barber shop, bank and saloon, and named it Rising Star.

Whether the name for the movie set was a happy inspiration on the part of the producer or a case of borrowing the name of a real town - in this case ours - was not stated by the writer in the Houston Post, a copy of whose story was sent to Jay Koonce by a relative of Jay's in Houston. But, whatever the explanation, there can be no argument about the coincidence of the name. "Rising Star" cost the producer about $4,000 to build, says the story.

Except for the fact that a great deal of "redoing" would be necessary to transform modern Rising Star into the character of a western town of 1881, the producer could have saved himself a lot of trouble by using the real thing, as I am sure we would have been glad to permit him to do.

The fictional "Rising Star", built on the grounds of a Houston Country Club, will be the setting for about half of the shooting on a movie, "Five Bold Women," according to the story. It is the first of three movies to be done in a sequence by the Jim Ross Film Productions, Inc. When the first film is completed, the new town won't be torn down or moved. The name will simply be changed to that of a typical Oklahoma town, according to Ross. Its name will then be 'Clover.'

The action of the film, "Five Bold Women" takes place during the transfer of the women from "Rising Star" in West Texas to Houston where they have been sentenced to prison terms. I don't know whether or not to take that as a slur on our community. So far as I know, none of our women have ever been that bold.

Local School Robbed; $122 Cash Taken

Burglars who broke into the Rising Star High School building, by smashing the lock on a rear door, sometime Friday night of last week, wrecked a filing cabinet in the office of Supt. Sam Jones and took $112.52 in school funds it contained.

The intruders also smashed locks on the office of Principal Ray Nunnally and the school library. Contents of the filing cabinet were scattered over the floor but nothing except the money was missing. Of the amount stolen, the greater part was money collected for the band jacket fund. This fund contained over $122, but about $46 was in checks which were not taken. A notebook fund had $21, the Senior class fund, $10 and there were library fees amounting to $5.05. Most of the cash had been collected during the day and placed in the fund for overnight.

School officials and investigating officers surmized that the burglary was the work of professionals, due to the fact that several other schools in the section have been entered recently, including Cross Plains and Bangs. It was the second time in the past few years that the Rising Star school has been burglarized. The first entry was similar, in that a storage cabinet was smashed.

The loss was covered by insurance.

Parental Failure Cited In Juvenile Delinquency

The so-called juvenile delinquency is more often a case of parental delinquency, County Judge W. O. Breedlove of Brown County, told the Rising Star Lions Club Monday night at the Elementary school cafeteria. Judge Breedlove was presented by Denman Burns, program chairman for the evening.

Failure to enforce discipline, neglect of child care through too much interest in making money, getting up in the world, achieving social success and even over-emphasis on church activities, were among the reasons cited by the speaker of the fact that many children have to be brought into juvenile court. The limited means which the court has in dealing with such cases - a choice of committing the youngsters to a correctional institution or returning them to the old environment, makes it essential that parents realize and discharge their responsibilities, he pointed out.

Accompanying Judge Breedlove was George P. Burns, Brownwood, a brother of Denman.

ALLEN TESTONS CELEBRATE 50TH WEDDED YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Teston celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently with a dinner at which the minister who married them, the Rev. W. E. Anderson, and Mrs. Anderson were guests. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Teston and daughter, Mrs. Jim Baum, of Cross Plains.

The Testons were the first couple to be married by Rev. Anderson. The wedding took place at the home of L. I. Cox in Rising Star. The couple received many nice and useful gifts on the occasion.

Cisco Banker Is Named To County School Board

EASTLAND - J. D. Lauderdale, veteran Cisco banker, has been appointed by the Eastland County Board of Education to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. J. R. Burnett, also of Cisco, who resigned recently. Announcement of the board change was made today by H. R. Garrett, County Superintendent.

Mrs. Burnett submitted her resignation several weeks ago. She had served on the county board for more than 25 years and is a life-long resident of Eastland County. She moved to Cisco at the age of 7 years and has lived there since that time, except for six years when she lived in Eastland while serving as county school superintendent.

In addition to serving on the county school board and as county school supt. Mrs. Burnett has a license to practice law, taught school in Eastland County almost 20 years, has written a book entitled, "Bible Study Made Easy" and has taught a Sunday School class in the First Baptist Church for over 50 years. She graduated from Cisco High School and attended the University of Texas.

Mr. Lauderdale has lived in Cisco since 1920 when he came here from Stephens County where he attended the Harpersville School in Breckenridge. He is married and has one child.

Serving on the County School Board is a new experience for Mr. Lauderdale although he has shouldered other civic duties. He has been president of the Chamber of Commerce and president of the Rotary Club. He is a vice-president of the First National Bank of Cisco.

Other members of the County Board are Jay Koonce, manager of Higginbotham Brothers stores at Rising Star; Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Ranger, and I. C. Inzer of Eastland. The board meets quarterly.

Rising Star Boys Win, Girls Lose To Cross Plains

Rising Star and Cross Plains High Schools boys and girls basketball teams split an exciting bill at the local gym Tuesday night when the Rising Star boys closely fought games by narrow margins and the girls won row scores. It was the reverse of the results of the first meetings between the teams this season when the Rising Star girls won and the local boys lost in games played at Cross Plains.

The scores Tuesday night were: Rising Star boys, 46, Cross Plains, 41, and Cross Plains girls, 31, Rising Star, 29. Pat Agnew was high point man of the boys game with 22. The Wildcats led at half-time 18 to 17.

This was the first game to be won by the Wildcats in two seasons. They lost every contest last year.

The Rising Star girls also led at the half in their game but were outscored in the final half. In contrast to her usual form, Jettie Duggan, Rising Star ace, had an off night, registering only seven points during the evening. Against Cisco recently she made 38. Janis Jones was high for the Rising Star girls with 11. Koenig of Cross Plains made 16.

550 Register for West Texas Utilities Co. Open House Showing New Office

Five hundred and fifty guests registered at the open house last Wednesday, November 19, when the West Texas Utilities Co., formally opened its beautiful new office in Rising Star to the public. The turnout of interested citizens and customers of the company, amazed even the most optimistic of company officials and employees, who saw it as strong public approval of the improvements which not only greatly enhance the appearance of the business district, but enable the company to provide better service for its patrons.

The new building was remodeled especially for the company by D. Breeding, landlord, who joined Bill Button, local manager, Kelsey Starks and Peggy Winfrey, of Rising Star staff, and officials of the company from Cisco and Abilene in hosting the all-day event.

Among visitors to the open house was Carl Young, president of the WTU, Abilene. Other high officials included F. W. Schroeder, operating vice-president; Si Phillips, assistant to the president; Harold Austin, Abilene district manager, in which the Rising Star office is located, E. L.

Growers Invited To Have Exhibits In Pecan Show

RANGER—Pecan growers in both Eastland and adjoining counties are being invited to enter exhibits at the Sixth Annual Eastland County Pecan Show, to be held in Ranger on December 12-13.

Wilson Guest, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, is issuing a special invitation for growers to enter pecans in the show. The two-day affair will be held in the Joseph building on Main Street in Ranger.

A quart of pecans will constitute enough for an entry. People who live intowns are equally welcome to have entries in the show, the same as those in the country.

"We are planning to make this the biggest and best pecan show ever held in the county," T. C. Wylie, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, said in commenting on plans for the show that has attracted attention throughout West Central Texas.

Growers are limited to one entry of each of the improved varieties of nuts. For example they may have one entry of Burketts, one entry of Mahans, etc. There is no limit, however, on the number of entries of native seedlings.

The pecans will be judged on size, color, appearance, shell thickness, cracking quality, weight, percentage of meat to shell and other factors. A team of horticulturists from Texas A & M College, headed by B. G. Hancock, of the Agricultural Extension Service, will do the judging on Saturday, Dec. 13, according to Oscar Schaefer, of the Cook Community, president of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association, whose organization, jointly with the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, is sponsoring the show.

The largest papershell division of the show is expected to be in the Burkett entries, it was explained. Over 50 growers entered this variety at the 1957 show held in Cisco.

L. M. Reed of Dallas and Stanley Reed of Roscoe spent the weekend her with their mother, Mrs. Red, and their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Winfrey.

Guy Anderson of Dallas was here Sunday for a visit with his grandfather, Willie Cosper.

Both the volume of receipts and the quality of the peanuts mounted as the bulk of the 1958 peanut crop poured into the Rising Star market last week. Prospects that receipts for the season would far exceed the 2,500-ton estimate increased as the volume of nuts which passed through the local grading station and into storage here, reached toward 1,500 tons over the weekend.

J. D. Rachel, Gorman, USDA grader, said that total receipts through Thursday of last week exceeded 1,000 tons. Friday and Saturday were each big days, with the volume of receipts swelled by tonnage unable to find storage at Cisco and Carbon, both of which stations were closed temporarily at least, because of no further room. Ample storage was available here in the huge City Market Building, and warehouses belonging to Raymond Gray, Jones Brothers and other buyers. Glenn Shults is buying for the Southwestern Peanut Growers here.

Although there were still some batches of peanuts grading as low as 40 points, the bulk of the grade is high enough to make the average around 63 points, said Mr. Rachel.

The average yield per acre in the Rising Star area is also high, running between 25 and 30 bushels per acre, which is unusually good.

All in all, the 1958 peanut crop is turning out to be perhaps the best since the high yield days of the late Forties.

With the price averaging about 9 cents per pound, a crop of 2,500 tons would place upwards of half a million dollars in the pockets of the growers in this area, certainly a welcome addition to the improving farm economy of the area and a distinct change from the conditions of the past seven or eight drought years.

Rising Star Native Stock Show Supt.

County Agent C. T. Parker Jr., a native of Rising Star and now a Ballinger resident, will at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth Jan. 30 through Feb. 8, dent of the Brahman, Santa Gertrudis, Brangus and Red Angus divisions, a position he has held since 1956.

The county agent has been a winning exhibitor and supervisor of major fat stock shows for more than 16 years. He graduated from May High School, where he received the state's highest FFA award, the Lone Star Farmer.

While in school Parker used to buy two registered heifers, the beginning of his career as a Hereford raiser. At one time, he was both a registered Angus and a registered Hereford breeder, and served simultaneously as a director of the Northeast Texas Association of the two groups.

Tarleton students visited home folks this weekend - namely: Jack Shults, Jerry Davis, Fred Pringle, Jerry Don Aaron, and Joe Frank Crisp.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reese of Hereford are expected here to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Reese are teachers in Hereford public schools.

R. I. Lee of California is here for a visit with Mrs. S. L. Rankin and other relatives and friends.

Sabanna Game Preserve Ass'n Views Two Films

People who came out to the Sabanna Valley Game Preserve Association meeting last week let themselves in for a surprise treat that they are not likely to soon forget. Instead of one film as had been expected, two films showed up, brought by two different groups, neither of whom knew the other was to be there and only one of which the membership had any advance knowledge. Both films turned out to be excellent and one was so extraordinarily outstanding that it was the expressed opinion of most everyone present that no finer film of its kind has ever been shown on any screen.

Miss Eudora Hawkins, who represents the Wild Life Conservation Dept. of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, presented a film on Alaska, our 49th state, which was a splendid film and was enjoyed by all present for its excellence of photography and factual portrayal of life and conditions as they exist in Alaska. This film had more to do with Alaskan people, cities and industries than with wild life and it was a revelation to many people.

But it was the other film, presented by Mr. E. E. McAlister of Eastland and his group of Soil Conservation specialists, that brought the audience to the edge of their seats and kept them there. Many films on wild life have been shown here during the last 3 years and people generally are quite well acquainted with the usually shown film of this type, so no one was expecting anything extra special and Mr. McAlister only said he thought the people would like it. The people did. It made the average wild life film look amateurish by comparison. No one viewing this film could fail to marvel at the infinite care, time and patience required in its filming or to appreciate the pure artistry of it. It is truly a picture that stands out - way out.

The Sabanna Valley Game Preserve Association would like to go on record as endorsing this film wholeheartedly and recommending it to any and all groups interested in the preservation of bird life in general and of the Bob White in particular.

Mrs. Erwin Hull visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carter, in Kansas City, Kan., last week. She also visited relatives in Ft. Worth.

Crump gave some interesting talks on different phases of Indonesian progress, the government and population of Indonesia and Southeast Asia. The tea table was decorated in palm trees, huts, buffaloes and products of the island and food like theirs was served to 35 members of the WMU.

Mrs. Maynard was pianist as mission hymns were sung. Mrs. Oral Davis helped with decorations.

Mrs. Claud Cox Is Worth While Hostess

The Worth While Class of the First Baptist Sunday School had its monthly meeting in the lovely home of Mrs. Claud Cox on Thursday, Nov. 20. Mrs. G. E. McDonald, teacher of the class, gave the devotional on the subject of Thanksgiving. The Scripture was Psalms 100. Mrs. Lee Clark led in prayer. The class signed cards to send to three 'shut-ins'. Each one present told of some outstanding Thanksgiving they remembered.

Mrs. Ethel Barnes gave an interesting Bible quiz.

A delicious turkey salad plate with pecan pie and coffee was served by the hostesses, Mmes. Cox and W. H. Ware, to Mmes. Chas. Carroll, Gratton Adams, Ethel Parker, Bedford Morris, Rufus Pierce, Ella Wells, Easter Gray, Lee Clark, Ethel Barnes, M. G. Joyce, J. D. W. Jones, Mollie Landreth, Josie Murphy, Corinne Hopper and two visitors, Jimmy Forbes and Avelon Wells.

Are You in Orbit Now?

... is another way of asking, "Are you on the right track?" The way we vote reflects our thinking and the way we think reflects our whole character. And by this standard, what a confused and careless people we sometimes appear to be! For example, the person who loses his abstract is careless and the person who buys real estate without an abstract, what about his thinking? The moral is, stay in orbit and out of trouble!

LOOKING BACK AND LOOKING AHEAD

Behind us lies the 1958-59 football season with all its excitement and run, its disappointments and anguish. Now we have only the memories of our games to linger with us through the year. To the Seniors, however, these games will be a lasting remembrance of the good ol' days in RSHS. The Gorman victory, to the Seniors Wildcats, Senior band members, and Senior cheerleaders, is the victory most precious of the year because it sounded a final note of triumph to their last football season.

The backward look on the first two six weeks of school work shows a great deal of study and enjoyment. The students and teachers alike can say we are having a fine school year. The typing students have found their "home keys", the band students have their horns in tune, the math students are still looking for "x", the history students have discovered America, the science students have their specimens to dissect, the homemaking girls have boiled their water, and the English students have slept through Shakespeare.

Looking backward is pleasant; although, looking to the future is more exciting. The school term has just begun, for before us lie so many activities. In sports there is basketball, track, tennis, volleyball, and baseball; in band there is marching contest, playing contest, concerts, and band day; and in interscholastic league work there is declamation, spelling, ready-writing, and the one act play. One thing which is anxious ly awaited by all is the high school annual which records in pictures the events of the year. We would not forget to look at the schedule of events for the classes. The Freshmen and Sophomores are looking toward the future in a big way - preparing to be hailed as "upper classmen". The Juniors are making ready to give the Junior-Senior Banquet. They are also looking ahead to their play and Senior trip. The Seniors look first to the Sweetheart Banquet which is given in their honor, then to the Junior-Senior Banquet, then to the Senior play, and finally to the Senior trip and graduation.

As you can see, in the few months to follow, the students of RSHS are going to be quite busy. When we are older, we may wonder how we were able to do so much and keep such a rapid pace but it's all a part of being in school and being young.

THE VIEW FROM A SENIOR'S HEAD

For centuries man has asked the question - "Who are the happiest people on earth?" Ask no further, for I have an answer that will make that question seem obsolete - "The happiest people on earth are the Seniors of Rising Star High School when they see a passing grade on their six weeks' test paper." (especially Kenneth R.!) As you may have guessed by now, we have just lived through another six weeks. (I think)

I hope you won't think of me as a "persistant, pesky persuader", but I simply WILL NOT let you forget that we Seniors are selling Christmas cards or that we are making a junk-iron drive; and if you think I will - think again!

Is everyone enjoying basketball season? I am 'cause it means no more sitting out in the open air in freezing weather in order to root for our favorite team -- the Wildcats; instead it means we have to sit in a hot, stuffy, smelly gym. (Can I help it if I'm a grouch?)

The following are telegrams between one of our Senior boys and his mother in a nearby town - Senior Boy (in telegram to his mother): Have failed three subjects. Prepare father.

Mother (wires back): Father prepared. Prepare yourself. (Who was the Senior boy? I don't know, but I thought it was kinda cute.)

Until we meet again (if you live over reading this), "Naughty Nellie" is leaving you with a rather corny final view - "Keep smiling! It makes everyone wonder what you've been up to."

CALLING ALL SOPHOMORES

Come gather around all you Sophs and see how some of our classmates are doing.

Say, Elsie did I hear something said that you were seen at the "Graveyard?"

Skinny Linney, let's drive just a little more careful going around the "Cottage!"

Ollie, who is that handsome boy from C. P.? I heard you had an eye on him. The Sophs have really been burning the night oil this six weeks hoping this one will soon roll on.

In English II Mrs. Claborn is giving Brent and Charles trouble. Mr. Putman, I heard you had two Sophs mad at you. Don't think anything of it; it will soon be over and forgotten.

Tom, we surely do miss you here at ol' RSHS. Hurry up and come back so as to brighten things up around this campus.

I want to thank Carolyn Cawley for last week's news. Thanks a load Carolyn.

FISH BOWL

Get hold of yourself and fasten your safety belts; the freshman nuts have arrived: To put it a little plainer the Fish have started planning for their senior trip (it's never too early) by selling Party Mix. It's a 15 oz. can of assorted nuts priced at $1.00 a can. Come one, people, and help the "Fish" out. If you want a can, see any of the Freshmen or Miss Jay Childress. They are going fast, so if you want some for Thanksgiving or Christmas, you'd better hurry.

Now to news! By the time this is read, we will all be enjoying Thanksgiving, visiting with relatives and friends. If you travel this Thanksgiving, DRIVE CARE FULLY. The number predicted each holiday period to lose their lives is far, far too high; don't be one percent.

Now just a little gossip; P. H. & M. A. hope you had fun; I didn't. If K. S. & W. H. are reading this, "Cheers to You!"

So long for this week. HAPPY THANKSGIVING!

JUNIOR LIVE-WIRE

Allo. During every week I see, hear, and witness many things that I vow I'll print in my news. Somehow, by the time I get around to writing it, all the scoops have escaped me. One thing I do know for sure is that the Junior boys are now wallowing in satisfaction. That is, if their football pictures turned out as well as they should have. Personally, I am proud of the way our Jrs. appear in their likenesses. I could be like the boys, though; they waited so long for them, anything would have looked professional to them.

Speaking of pictures, we had a muddle of confusion at RSHS last week. All sorts of people were running around in the gym in all sorts of dress combinations. Did you ever see tennis shoes with a white formal? You might have if you were around last Tuesday. What with the stage band pictures being taken immediately following the basketball pictures a lot of rushing was taking place.

Katie, "Take me to your leader." And another thing, Katie, we'll never forget our Ph. D's, will we? That kind of degree, I'd work forever for.

Why didn't more of you townspeople show up for the Rising Star-Cross Plains basketball game at Cross Plains last Thursday night? That wasn't so far, and I know you would have enjoyed seeing your own young people in action. I know more of you could have come to our game HERE Tuesday night. Try to instill that old game spirit in your neighbors, won't you; and back your own Wildcat and Catettes at the ball games.

ROVING REPORTER

Here I am back again! I will be bringing you bits of juicy gossip about the students of RS HS. Many people have asked why my column has been absent in the "Wildcat Tales." Confidently, I had to flee the country - unannounced. Gossip about students are always fearful that they will wake up some morning - dead!

If you don't understand something in my column, I am certain that the person mentioned would be happy to explain.

By the way, I would like to welcome two assistants to my staff; they are Tom Dooley and Peggy Sue (names have been changed to protect the guilty).

Jerrell B. - I thought you knew a short-cut through Cisco - proved to be a "long-cut", didn't it?

Carolyn H. - You don't know much about machinery do you? Last year you drained the oil out of the tractor instead of the water, and now you think a car is supposed to run without a fan belt.

Gonzales much worry - losing your balance every time you turn around.

Rita H. - You are causing Mr.

Paul F. - What were you doing trying to put an air conditioner in your car in November?

Janis J. - What was in your chair at stage band practice that made you turn so red?

Johnnie H. - Why does Nita keep saying "Beep-Beep" to you? Code or something?

Douglas A. - Do you remember "Fancy Pants?"

Brent U. - Why were you attempting to choke poor little Johnnie?

Barbara L. - Tell Charles that he counts like a stick of wood?

Rita O. - What about your carpet beetle?

Former Joan Goss Honored At Bridal Shower Recently

ANDREWS - The parlor of the community building Saturday evening was the setting for a most delicious bridal shower honoring Mrs. Scott Dean of Midland, the former Miss Joan Goss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Goss of this city, and granddaughter of the late Tom Goss of Rising Star. She is a grandniece of Gen. Goss of Rising Star.

The bride's selected colors of white, gold and orchid were used in floral arrangements over the party room and in corsages presented Mrs. Dean and her mother.

Guests registered in a pretty hand-made guest book made of orchid nylon net and taffeta, a gift from Mrs. J. T. Waldrop. Mrs. Benny Lloyd presided at the registration table which was appointed with a spray of orchid chrysanthemums.

The honoree was the recipient of many nice and useful gifts.

Refreshments of yellow cake squares, iced in white, and ornamented with orchid and purple rosebuds, coffee and hot tea, were served. The refreshment board was covered with white lace over orchid and centered with a low copper candelabra holding five lighted yellow tapers. Yellow mums and greenery were entwined in the branches. White wedding bells used as plate favors, and orchid napkins inscribed in gold, "Scott and Joan" further carried out the selected colors.

Hostesses for the lovely gesture were Mmes. Gaylon Swift, Benny Lloyd, C. E. Horton, J. W. Hall, Ben Loyd, R. A. Riggs, Percy Morrison, and A. L. Rhodes.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving was observed in scattered communities at various times when Mrs. Hale began a campaign in 1848 for nation-wide homage to God for his bounty. Only George Washington had proclaimed a national observance since the first Thanksgiving in 1621.

For 17 years Mrs. Hale - a widow with five children - captivated, badgered, and inspired the country's leaders to establish a national holiday. One by one individual states joined the lady editor in reviving the Pilgrims' humble custom, but the Federal government ignored her pleas until 1863. Then Abraham Lincoln, upon renewed insistence by Mrs. Hale, asked all Americans "to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our Beneficent Father... for singular deliverance and blessings."

Thanksgiving was no longer our "forgotten heritage."

Success was not uncommon to Mrs. Hale. Aside from writing the nursery rhyme "Mary Had a Little Lamb," she put the words "domestic science" into our language and helped elevate house-keeping to a professional level. She founded the first day nur-ery, advocated physical education for women, aided indigent women, and crusaded for public playgrounds, better sanitation, women's property rights, and a score of "radical" causes - now part of everyday life.

In an era when women had few opportunities, Mrs. Hale enriched a generation with her accomplishments. And as succeeding Americans pause each Thanks giving in prayer, she stretches them, too.

UNION CENTER CLUB MEETS
