Peanut Crop Is Off To Good Start

The Rising Star country peanut crop, rescued from an unusual winter and spring drought by timely late May and early June rains, was planted and growing this month, its prospects boosted by equally timely showers in late June.

The crop, somewhat later than normal, is in good condition except for infestations of grass and weeds in some spots. Growers were more anxious about the out-look for moisture, however, hopeful of late July and August rains which would insure a good yield of the area's main cash crop.

Rains over the Rising Star section during the past few days have been generally good, although there were complaints of not enough run-off to replenish low supplies of stock water. The fall was mostly gentle and soaking in nature, although there were spots where sudden and heavy downpours did some washing damage. The heaviest fall, and the most damaging was reported a mile or more south of town where 3 1/2 inches was measured in one brief period last week.

Generally, the section received from an inch to an inch and a half in a series of showers during the week.

Engineers Here To Study Utility Program

Two engineers from the National Engineering Co. of Austin arrived Tuesday in Rising Star to make a survey of the city's sewage disposal plant and water system as a basis for planning improvements which will be sought by the city under federal aid.

The outburst of resentment over the Supreme Court's ruling on the question of a prayer offered in New York State schools seems to have settled into a more moderate attitude now that the real features of the decision are becoming recognized.

The ruling, we are told, does not prohibit the offering of prayer in public schools, but the official act of any school authority in prescribing a prayer or directing its offering. There is quite a distinction, fine as it may appear. School officials cannot adopt an official prayer or force anyone to accept its offering as a petition to the Almighty under our constitutional principle of separation of church and state, says the court.

On the other hand, neither can these officials deny anyone the right and opportunity of offering a voluntary petition of his own to the deity of his faith and choice because the constitution of the United States guarantees to us a freedom to worship as we choose.

In other words prayer is a personal matter, and so long as the schools take no action to officially say, directly or indirectly, what prayer is to be offered or when, where or how, a person so inclined may pray the shingles of the roof, as I have heard it said of some ardent petitioners, without any legal prohibition or restriction being laid upon his privilege. So seems to be the ruling of the court's majority as enunciated by Justice Hugo Black.

The question seems to be: Is it an official or a personal act. If the former, it is illegal; if the latter it is inviolate. As a matter of fact, as Dr. Ed S. James editor of the Baptist Standard and a former Cisco pastor, remarks, the prayer prohibited by the Supreme Court was actually no prayer at all. It was a recitation robbed of religious value, attempting to please all sects and faiths, and, as a result, pleasing none.

Such a prayer in its very form and substance, it seems to me, argues the wisdom of the principle that neither the state, nor any of its institutions, has the right to force a people to worship or to dictate what manner, form or verbiage the act of wor-

Swift Run of Rising Star Truck Credited in Control of $44,000 Fire

The Rising Star Fire Department main pumper truck established something of a record in a run to Cross Plains Monday night where it helped a hard-pressed Cross Plains department contain a spectacular service station fire which destroyed the N. M. Dillard Phillips 66 Station on Highway 36.

The truck, driven by Jimmy Wilson, loaded 600 gallons of water and made the run in less than 18 minutes, a remarkable time for equipment so loaded, it was said.

The Rising Star department's quick response is credited with having kept the fire from spreading to an adjoining cafe and residences.

"Our town is certainly grateful to the Rising Star department," said Jack Scott, Cross Plains Review editor. "We want Rising Star to know that the road between us runs both ways if we are ever needed."

The fire erupted from a quantity of gasoline spilled at the rear of the station where large trucks are bulk loaded. Bill Dillard was at the front about 9:45 p.m. servicing a car when the flames suddenly shot up, spread rapidly to grease tanks and other flammable material and threatened to reach a cafe on one side and a residence on the other. There were fears that the West Texas Utilities Co. substation across the highway would be damaged.

The Cross Plains equipment tied into every available fire plug, was hard pressed to keep the fire in bounds when the Rising Star truck, with its own water supply of 600 gallons, arrived and added its hoses to the battle.

Howard Harlow of Brownwood, owner of the station, said he had $32,000 in the building, only partially covered by insurance, and N. M. Dillard, lessee of the station estimated his loss in equipment and stock in excess of $12,000.

Subscriptions To Rising Star Corp Stock $16,800

The total of subscribed stock of the Rising Star Development Corporation rose this week to $16,800 upon delivery of a check for $500 worth of stock for the West Texas Utilities Co.

Other subscribers previously unreported included Glen Henry $100 and Curtis Alford, $100.

Charter for the corporation was momentarily expected from the Secretary of State at Austin to whom application was made last week.

Total authorized stock is 1,000 shares of $100 par value each, but the charter provides that the corporation is to become active upon issuance of a minimum of $10,000 in par value stock, which has been considerably oversubscribed.

As soon as the corporation is chartered a board of permanent directors will be chosen by the stockholders and the organization will be in business, seeking to promote the economic growth and betterment of Rising Star and its area.

22 Boys and Girls In Barrel Racing Event at Rodeo

Twenty-two youngsters competed in the boys and girls open barrel racing at the Rising Star rodeo Friday night of last week — the largest number of entries in recent memory.

Winner of the crowded event was Dannie Whitlock whose 21.9 seconds bested a closely contested field of riders. Sharon Donham came in second with a time of 22.1 seconds and Donald Jones was third with 22.2 seconds.

Four teenagers took part in the junior calf steer riding contest. They were Bobby Nixon, Eddie Reeves, Travis Ford and Susan Chambers. The kids, with their parents' consent, rode 400-pound calves.

In the calf-roping contest, always a closely timed event with a large field of ropers, Peyton Whitaker took first money in 12.9 seconds; Mike Sims was close for second with 13.5 seconds quickly followed by Horace Gibbs in a time of 13.9 seconds.

The jack-pot roping event — final contest of a spirited night — took the spotlight for fast rope and tie action, however, with Tommy Flinniken turning in a sensational 10.5 second feat. Horace Gibbs and Pete Jones were a neck-and-neck pair in second place with 11.5 seconds each.

In the bronc riding, Bob Golsen was best and Ray Rhodes took second place, and Roy Stone copped bull riding honors with Dwight Squires getting a piece of the money.

Mrs. Hattie Goss has returned from a five day's visit with her son, Pershing Goss, his wife and children, in San Angelo. Her son, Howard Goss of Abilene, is here for a few days visit with his mother.

Former Rising Star Boy Guards The President

A former Rising Star boy, one of the members of the regional championship football team of 14 years ago, is now a member of that select force of Secret Service agents detailed to the duty of guarding the president of the United States and members of his family.

He is Mike Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Howard who lived here in the forties while the father was mortician for Higginbotham Funeral Home.

After graduating from Rising Star High School Mike went to Howard Payne, then into the service where he served as a MP. Following his military service he was made a detective on the Saginaw police force. Saginaw is actually an independently incorporated portion of Fort Worth so intimate with the big town that it cannot be established from the metropolis.

From the Saginaw force young Howard received an appointment to the Secret Service and just recently was assigned to the Presidential detail.

Local Agent Sought For Motor Freight

The Sunset Motor Lines told the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce this week that it is ready to begin daily freight deliveries to Rising Star provided a local agent can be employed and a dock and shelter for freight provided.

The company offers a flat $50 per month salary to a local agent or 18¢ per hundred pounds on freight sent or delivered from Rising Star, President James Rutherford of the Chamber of Commerce said.

Preacher and Builder

H. McDonald, minister of the Rising Star church's new educational building on which he is doing all of the carpentry work.

Rising Star Minister Uses Hands As Well as His Preaching to Build Church

Jesus of Nazareth was a carpenter by trade, and the minister of the Church of Christ in Rising Star is putting the example of his Master to effective use in building a portion of the Kingdom in this community.

Sundays and evenings H. McDonald preaches, teaches and studies in his job as the spiritual leader of his congregation; week days he dons a carpenter's apron and wields hammer and saw in the construction of housing for a growing Sunday School.

He does a thoroughly professional job of carpentering as well as preaching, as anyone with a critical eye for construc-

Cross Action Filed In Suit By City

A suit for damages growing out of the reconstruction of Highway 36 on West College Street the summer of 1960 in Rising Star has been filed against the City of Rising Star in 91st District court at Eastland.

The suit, brought by Ernest Loyd for himself and for the benefit of the Southwestern Contracting Company, seeks recovery of rental value on idle machinery, wages paid and "profits" for a period of one and a half days during which the plaintiff alleges its construction crews were idled by a broken water main.

The suit is in the nature of a cross action in reply to a suit filed some months ago by the city to recover damages to its sewer and water lines. The city is suing for about $4,000.

The suit filed by the contractor asks $2,700 in lost "rental value" of machinery due Loyd and $3,156 which it is alleged the Southwestern Contracting Company paid out in wages during the period.

The contractor alleges that the City breached its contract with the Texas Highway Department under which "it was obligated to remove or make necessary adjustments" of all utility lines necessary to permit the work to be done. He alleges that the city failed to remove its water mains which were broken by the Southwestern Contracting Company's heavy equipment while performing its contract with the result that the street was flooded and the company's equipment and men were idled for a day and a half.

Mayor Walter Smith said that the City of Rising Star discharged its contract with respect to the disposition of utility lines in accordance with the instructions of State Highway engineers, and that sewer and water mains under the surface were plainly located by flagging or other markings.

The contractor's heavy equipment crushed two blocks of sewer and ruptured water mains because operators of the equipment disregarded markings and were negligent, he said.

He also declared that there was no lost rental time on machinery or wages paid to workers because, he said, "as soon as the big machines broke the mains they were removed from the job and sent to another job, while the crews and other equipment were transferred from the flooded area to another section of the Highway 36 job."

Surviving are her husband; her mother, Mrs. Lola Hamilton of Palestine, Tex.; two sons, Oscar Large of San Antonio and Dean Large of Midland; one daughter, Mrs. Aleta Tyra of Casa Grande, Ariz.; eight grandchildren; five brothers, Ulysses Hamilton of Wichita Falls, Joe Hamilton of Wichita Falls, Jay and Aaron of Cisco, and Jim Hamilton of Provo, Utah; four sisters, Mrs. Anna Shook of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Emma Ray of Fort Stockton, Mrs. Lilly Reed of Tocomo, Wash., and Mrs. Leo Gossett of Palestine, Tex.

Pallbearers were H. H. Lawson, Jack Agnew, Curtis Alford, A. W. Bailey, Robert Feale and Weldon Hill.

Bill Nall is home on leave to visit his wife, Pat, and baby daughter, Donnett. Bill is one of the boys from Fort Polk, La., who is expected to be released from Fort Polk, La., in August.

Short Pecan Crop Seen As Disguised Benefit

A short pecan crop, but a high quality crop, is in prospect for this area, according to local growers.

Last winter's severe, dry freezes and an infestation of case borers and shuck worms are blamed for the shortage.

The probable yield is estimated from 25 to 50 per cent.

But, said C. E. Smith one of the principal pecan producers in the area, the reduced crop will have an indirect benefit. It will offset last year's heavy output of lower quality pecans from which there is a big market carry-over, and should result in a more healthful price situation this fall and next year.

Last year's reduced quality was due to an unseasonable moisture situation when heavy rains at the wrong time were blamed for a large per centage of inferior nuts. Twenty per cent or more of the big crop consisted of pecans poorly filled out, growers said, a condition which exerted depression upon prices.

Smith estimated that he would harvest a crop of about 40 per cent of normal with Halberts his best prospect. This variety of his large irrigated orchard in southwest Rising Star, is expected to yield about 75 per cent of normal. He anticipates about 25 per cent of his normal Burkett production.

There has been an unusually heavy infestation of the case borer, according to growers, and a considerable amount of shuck worm damage. The latter worm normally eats the hull of the nut, but at this time of the year when the shell is soft or has not developed, the pest invades the pecan itself.

Spraying is about the only defense against these destroyers, but in many cases there is not a sufficient crop to make spraying practical.

Pecans are becoming more and more important as a money crop in this area. During the past year several hundred acres of new orchards were set out. A number of the old, long established orchards have been purchased by new owners and much improvement done. In many cases these old orchards are being enlarged.

Doss Alexander of Pioneer, another of the big growers in the county, has expanded his well established orchard most of which is located on Highway 36

Other new and long established growers in the area include W. V. Fenter, who has taken over the Dr. Allen 80-acre orchard; Mumfort and Son of Graham, who have purchased the Hughes Estate orchard; John Speck of Plainview, A. B. Foster of Pecos; H. J. (Red) Bishop and his nephew, Adren Bishop who have the George Goss and Bowden orchards in Brown county south of Rising Star; Lynn Daniel of Seagraves; C. T. Barton; Lee Burkhead; G. A. Dunn, Jr.; E. D. Ware, and Mack White.

There are many small, family type orchards of a few trees most of which are produced for home or odd sale production.

School Reunion To Be Held Here July 14-15

The Brooks, Macedonia, Amity and Union Grove schools homecoming will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 14-15, in the American Legion hall in Rising Star. All former students of these old districts, now consolidated with other schools, are urged to be present. There will be programs Saturday night and Sunday and at noon Sunday a basket lunch will be spread in the Legion dining room. Exes are asked to bring well-filled baskets.

Wife of New Minister Has Only a Short-Lived Secret

When Rev. Milton Slayden was appointed to the pulpit of the First Methodist Church of Cisco, his wife admonished him: "Don't you tell."

At the first service by the new pastor, Mrs. Slayden, who, like her husband, is also a singer, sat in the choir. Several members of the church who have lived here since childhood, found something vaguely familiar about the new minister's wife. It came out this week. It is not the first time that she has lived in Rising Star as one of the family of a Methodist minister.

As a little girl she lived in Rising Star for two years while her father, tall distinguished Rev. R. F. Brown, was the Methodist pastor. She attended Rising Star schools with Mina Robertson and Mamie Joyce among others who remember her as a cute little girl in the starched and ruffled skirts and dresses of the day. Her father, who became what is now known as the executive secretary of the Central Texas Conference died suddenly of a heart attack in 1926 at Waco.

Mrs. Slayden met her husband, the present pastor of the church, at Cleburne where both were teachers in the same school. After a career as a teacher, Rev. Slayden entered the Methodist ministry in 1936.

Husband of Lillie Roberds Darnell Dies At Douglas

DOUGLAS, Ariz. — Western pioneer and rancher, Clifton E. Darnell, 84, 1150 Ninth St., died Saturday, June 23, at 10 p.m. in the Douglas Hospital.

Mr. Darnell was born Jan. 29, 1878, in Kansas and came west as a freighter, settling in Silver City, N. M., in 1900. In 1913 he moved to the Rodeo, N.M., area, where he made his home until three years ago when he moved to Douglas.

The family has been prominent in ranching circles in the area nearly 50 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Darnell; three sons, Dan of Phoenix, Clarence of Albuquerque, N. M., Fred of Rodeo; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Button of Reno, Nev., Mrs. Sally Richards of Rodeo; 11 grandchildren, two great grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Dillie York of Santa Rita, N. M.

The funeral was Tuesday at 2 p.m. in First Baptist Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Tom Noland, Joe Glenn, Ben Snure Jr., Jack Glass, Garry Miller, Joe Latta.

Mrs. Darnell, a sister of Fred Roberds of this city, grew up in Rising Star, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Roberds. She graduated with honors from Rising Star High School in 1906, attended Simmons College at Abilene and was a student at Texas University.

She later went to Rodeo, N. Mex., where she taught school and married Cliff E. Darnell. Her three sons and two daughters are all married and comfortably situated. She lives in a beautiful home at 1150, Ninth Street, Douglas, Ariz.

Billy Gibbons Scout Campers Up 40 Per Cent

Nearly 400 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Leaders from 40 Troops and Posts attended Camp Billy Gibbons in June. Each Scouting troop and post was in camp for one week.

"Camp Billy Gibbons has completed its 31st season of Scout training through camping and it appears we have camped 40 per cent more campers than last year and an all-time high attendance over any previous year," according to Lucius M. Stephens of Lometa, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee in the eight-county Comanche Trail Council.

An additional emphasis of "fit for tomorrow" physical fitness program was stressed this year in keeping with the national program of Scouting as suggested by the honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, President John F. Kennedy, who is a former Boy Scout. Also interesting program highlights were aquatics, Indian lore, archery, marksmanship, Scouting skills, nature, council fire programs, advancement and hiking.

Camp improvements have been installation of electricity, new kitchen facilities and an electric pump at the well. The new kitchen is a memorial to Scoutmasters with names of donors and Scoutmasters being honored placed on permanent plaque in dining hall.

Scout troops and posts not in camp in June are invited to conduct a Troop camp during the week of July 23.

Explorers are invited to attend an Expedition to Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimmaron, New Mexico, July 13-30 and are urged to register now through the Boy Scout Office in Brownwood for the trip.

Bowling News

In bowling this week, there is a three way tie for first place. Tuesday, June 26, results were:

Team no. 2 downed team no. 4 three games to none thus knocking no. 1 from second place to last place and uping no. 2 from last place to first place tie. Edra Butler led team two's charges with a 415 series closely followed by Pully Buchanan's 412. Fred Tunnell was the big gun for no. 1 with a 437 series.

In another contest, team no. 4 downed team no. 3 three games to none thus pushing themselves into a first place tie with no. 3 and no. 2. Lloyd Gonzales led team no. 4's charges with a nice 468 series. Robert Whiteside led team no. 3 with a 440 series followed closely by Glen Henry's 430.

Standings to date are:

	Won	Lost	Ave.
Team no. 3	11	10	.524
Team no. 4	11	10	.524
Team no. 2	11	10	.524
Team no. 1	9	12	.429

As far as team wise is concerned no. 4 broke the magic 700 series this week with a blistering 704 series.

High game honors for men this week goes to Fred Tunnel with a 199. High honors for women goes to Edra Butler with a 158.

This weeks schedule pits no. 4 against no. 1 and no. 3 against no. 2. This should prove to be interesting in that three teams are fighting for first place.

Two Jailbreakers Given Sentences In Gorman Robbery

EASTLAND — Verdicts of guilty were reached last week by two juries in 91st District Court against James Bridges, 27, and Lawrence Paul Davis, 30, who were sentenced to a combined 35 years in the state penitentiary.

Each man was tried separately on charges of armed robbery of the Elison Grocery Store in Gorman.

Bridges received a sentence of 20 years and Davis 15 years.

Jurors of the Bridges case were Mrs. John Leveridge, Harlin E. Denny, Mrs. Joe Brittain, C. W. Graham, Mrs. Arlin Agnew, Mrs. Agnes Hays, Mrs. Everett Plowman, Homer Coleman, Tommy Huckabay, O. D. Phillips, R. H. Dunning and Horace Horton.

Those giving testimony in the Bridges case included Mrs. F. J. Elison, owner and operator of the grocery, Kay Elison, her 17-year old daughter, E. L. Dennis, Gorman Constable, and E. T. Woodward of DeLeon, owner of the pistol used in the robbery.

A 11-man, one-woman jury took less than 30 minutes to find Davis guilty and assess him 15 years in the state penitentiary Monday.

Both men were represented by Dewey Cox, Ranger attorney.

District Attorney Earl Conner Jr., put several witnesses on the stand during the Davis trial, including Sheriff Lee Horn, Dennis, and Mrs. Elison, a widow, who operates the small grocery on the outskirts of Gorman.

During the testimony, the statements which the two men signed, admitting the robbery, were entered as evidence, and the prosecuting attorney examined witnesses to corroborate the statement.

The robbery occurred on Feb. 28, this year, and less than $200 was taken, which was apparently spent for beverages in Strawn and Mingus, where the two were arrested the same night, in the company of their wives.

Jurors in the Davis case were O. E. Hise, Floyd Woods, Vernon Harris, J. A. Brown, H. H. Oliver, E. E. Blackwell, James Boggus, W. L. Barnes, R. H. Donavan, George Ford, J. C. Collins and Mrs. Maybell Oyler.

Davis and Bridges broke out of the Eastland County Jail, where they had been held since May 2nd, about two weeks ago, but were recaptured in DeLeon less than five hours later and returned here.

Indications are that additional charges arising out of the jail break may be forthcoming when a 91st District Court convenes early in July.

Both men had already been tried and given sentences for an armed robbery in Strawn made on the same day as the Gorman robbery.

A&M Specialist Suggests Turkey Barbecue As Delicious Treat for Summer Cook-outs

COLLEGE STATION — Few can resist the succulent smell of golden-crisp summer turkey sizzling on the open grill or revolving on the spit. Barbecued turkey meat is excitingly new and tasty, and when cooked right it all but melts in your mouth, explains F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.

Barbecues featuring turkey meat are easy to prepare whether for a small family picnic or a large community gathering, and any size turkey from 4 to 24 pounds can be barbecued, points out the specialist. He does recommend that the larger birds be deboned or disjointed and marinated several hours before barbecuing.

The secret of barbecuing is a slow cooking job. After the charcoal has turned a gray color, you are ready to put the turkey on the grill or spit, says Beanblossom. Place the meat on the grill bone side down, and after about 15 minutes, turn it for the first time. Baste and allow about 10 minutes of cooking time before giving it the second turn. Beanblossom says to make the turns at 5 minute intervals and each time baste the meat

1,500 Bible Teachers For ACC Workshop

ABILENE — More than 1,500 teachers of Bible school classes are expected at the Abilene Christian College 8th annual Bible Teachers Workshop, July 23-26.

More than 800 are expected from towns within 100 miles of Abilene. Workshop Director Dr. Le Moine G. Lewis said almost every congregation of the Church of Christ within this 100-mile area is expected to send representatives to the workshop.

This year's theme is "Tennessee Shares Know How with Texas." More than 50 teachers from the Madison, Tennessee, Church of Christ will have charge of the program.

This congregation has seen its Bible school attendance grow from an average of 489 per week in 1950 to an average of 1,550 in 1961. Elders of the Madison church have set a goal of 3,150 in Bible school by 1971.

The Madison teachers will show their methods and materials to workshop visitors. They have already made plans to distribute some $5,000 worth of teaching materials at the workshop.

Features this year include: three one-hour class sessions daily; three special lectures each day; daily sessions on organizing an art department and producing art materials; "do-it-yourself" demonstrations on bulletin boards, posters, church papers, and slides; classes on every age group in the Bible school; classes for educational directors, elders, preachers, teacher selection and training; commercial exhibits, and the showing of films by film producers and distributors.

First Baptist Youth To Present Program

The Youth of the First Baptist Church will present a youth night program Sunday, July 8, at 8 p.m. The program will be entirely youth led with Jarrell Bishop bringing the message. Jimmy Warfield will lead the singing. The theme will be "Fishers of Men." The goal for the young people and intermediates in attendance is 75.

Mrs. Annie Bucy Haley of Dallas is here for a visit with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bucy and other relatives.

He recommends cooking until the desired golden-crisp color is obtained and cautions against puncturing the skin for such allows the tasty juices of the turkey to escape.

Now for that something special Beanblossom suggests the use of a marinating sauce. He says to immerse the out-up meat in a sauce consisting of 2 parts sauterne wine or lemon-lime fizz water, 1 part soy sauce, and 1 part peanut oil. Add lemon juice to suit the taste and garlic cloves if desired. There should be enough of the sauce to completely cover the meat. The specialist suggests leaving the meat in the marinade for at least two hours.

This same sauce, he adds, can be used in cooking whole turkeys on a spit. Just brush it frequently on the bird while it is cooking, he says.

Mrs. Lou Falls of Cross Plains is in a Fort Worth hospital after surgery following a fall at the home of a daughter, Mrs. E. L. (Katie Lou) Carter, in which she suffered a broken hip and two fractured ribs.

Employment Tax Return Due July 31

Area employers were reminded that July 31, 1962, is an important federal tax date. Arthur E. Fogle, Jr., administrative officer, Internal Revenue Service, Abilene, said that date is the deadline for reporting and paying income and social security taxes withheld for the calendar quarter ended June 30, 1962.

The IRS representative said employers should use Form 941 to report their tax liability for that period and mail it, along with depositary receipts and full payment of due taxes to, "District Director, IRS, 2101 Pacific, Dallas 1, Texas."

Employers needing copies of Circular E, "Employers Tax Guide," may get it from any IRS office. This publication explains employment taxes, together with tables and percentage methods for figuring such taxes.

The federal law provides that taxpayers making timely deposits in local authorized banks, or Federal Reserve Banks, of the taxes due, have an additional ten days, or until August 10, 1962, to file their returns. Depositary receipts must be submitted with the return, he added.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, M. C., 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — All of us know people who do not like the ideas of some other individual, simply because they do not like the individual.

This is true with organizations as well.

The recent handling of the farm bill in the Congress demonstrated that, even though individuals and organizations supposedly were reaching for the same goal, it appeared that if one thought an idea was sound, the other automatically condemned it.

In the course of the debate on the farm bill last week more than 33 amendments were adopted, approximately half of which were adopted without debate in a period of half an hour. This was so because of the Rules of procedure.

As was expressed by numerous members of Congress, no one could possibly have known the total effect of the added amendments to the original Bill when it was time to vote. This, essentially, was the reason why the Bill was sent back to the Agriculture Committee on a motion to recommit.

The matter of trying to find a better answer to farm programs is now back in the hands of the Agriculture Committee.

No one can reasonably hope that a total answer is going to be found in the immediate future, but certainly action is needed in provisions of Law which have order not to revert back to old proved expensive, unworkable and injurious to the farmer. A new measure has already been introduced and will likely be considered at an early date.

Completely removed from the farm issue is another which faces our Nation, but about which comparatively little is being said.

This has to do with public transportation. Public transportation systems in many, if not most of our big cities, are in very poor condition. In those transportation system fairly well cities where leadership and foresight have been exercised, the meets the need, but those in bad shape are now looking to the Federal Government to solve the problem.

Legislation is pending in the Congress for the Federal Government to spend everybody's tax money to bail out a few selected communities. If adopted, this will be the start of the Federal intrusion into local transportation problems at the taxpayers' expense. If legislation of this sort is adopted by the Congress, it will start out with a fairly modest subsidy to rehabilitate municipal transport facilities. There is a plan which calls for $500 million in grants over a three-year period for this purpose, which is no modest sum, but if it is ever started, this first sum will likely appear modest in the future. Estimates have been made that, once such a policy is adopted by the Federal Government, it will take 10 to 15 years to rehabilitate public city transportation systems, at a cost of a billion dollars a year. There have already been billions of dollars spent under the Federal Highway Program to alleviate conditions in and around our great cities. The original intent of the Federal Highway Act was to connect the greatly populated areas by a system of arterial highways across the Country. But, as the super-highways channeled more traffic into the cities, problems already existing were compounded. In other words, just as what goes up must come down, so the traffic which goes in must come out.

It is evident that highways and streets cannot be built fast enough or big enough to keep up with the bumper crop of automobiles. Hence, the importance of public transportation but also it is important that the Federal Government stay out of it.

The School of Veterinary Medicine of Texas A&M College was established in 1916.

Why you save more than money with

U. S. Savings Bonds

A timely message about one of "the best things in life" that isn't free

One of the best things in life—freedom itself—really isn't free at all.

We pay for freedom many ways. With our vigilance as free men. With taxes. With our commitments to millions of other free men everywhere.

And there's another way, a quiet way, we Americans help pay for freedom: That's to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. For Bonds are more than just a way to save money. Bonds are also a way to help Uncle Sam guard your very right to enjoy the money you save.

Let's say you're saving for a home. With U.S. Savings Bonds you also help save a better world to build it in.

Doesn't that sound like a good reason to buy Bonds now? These days more than ever you'll be saving more than money.

Not all the benefits of Bonds are in dollars. Bonds help Uncle Sam pay the price of liberty itself.

This man would say: "Don't buy Bonds". No wonder. The more Bonds we buy, the stronger we grow as individuals and as a nation.

Keep freedom in your future with

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Now why would Martha put laundry in the freezer?

Flameless electric living is a way of life, nowadays.

Sometimes this wonderful way of life in the world of women brings about strange sights—sights that are incomprehensible to the mere man. Often, a man sees things more marvelous, even, than laundry in the freezer.

That's because Martha... and all the Marthas served by West Texas Utilities Company... knows better than anyone (even us) the many ways to live better, electrically.

All right, Mister — why does she put laundry in the freezer? Ask the inventor; she will also show you other ways her family uses flameless electricity for a better life.
