

The following account of the anti-war demonstration in Washington recently, written by Cong. Omar Burleson is revealing:

"There among the tulips and Azaleas was the evidence of the anti-war demonstration held here in Washington a few days ago — paper, beer cans, cigarette butts and other unmentionable debris.

This is a beautiful time in Washington. Tulips are at their height and it is one of the best years for azaleas. Lilies perfume the air all around them but they had a pretty hard time competing with other odors around them.

Amid the tumult, it seemed the beauty of things was lost. Dogwood trees in full bloom may have provided a bit of shade for the demonstrators but probably not very many blossoms were appreciated. White and pink blossoms of the dogwood hanging in the air like the fall of gentle snow was meaningless on that occasion.

Remember the president's inaugural address in January of last year in which he suggested the "lowering of voices" as a means of cooling frictions? These words were directed primarily at racial difficulties. The harangues used by the demonstrators were everything except quiet and lowered. At times the audio of television had to be cut off because of vile obscenities. A few showed their demand for freedom by stripping naked.

Shortly before extending the South Vietnamese lines into Cambodia, the build-up of voices all over the country was centered around the unwholesomeness of our environment. An immediate build-up on the environmental issue was an outlet and a vehicle for attack against "the establishment." With increased activity in the war effort, pollution was, in a matter of a week or ten days, relegated to the back burner. Looking at the lawns and tulips following the thousands who congregated on the Washington Ellipse and Monument grounds was proof that the matter of abusing our surroundings by all types of litter was not an important consideration. Apparently it somehow denies that nature is able to carry on its beauty for the benefit of mankind. Just possibly some of the rest of us forget this while we are so preoccupied with taxes, riots, protests and elections.

Maybe we forget the slow turning of the seasons, the swinging of the planets and an appreciation of what it all means. Out of these Demonstrations comes the plan to recess our universities and colleges two weeks before the November election enabling college students to go into the campaigns. Those of us visited by some students during the past week are reminded that unless we support an immediate and complete withdrawal from all of Southeast Asia, they will go to our areas to campaign against us. The papers say some politicians have been jolted.

Incidentally, a student from a congressman's district who arranged for an interview usually brought 15 or 20 others with him. It was surprising that we had several who represented themselves to be from the 17th District but whose accent was hardly "Texican."

The anti-war and anti-anything else groups are reportedly banded together in efforts to support those candidates for Congress who agree with them and to defeat those who do not. In some of their talk it is a little difficult to really understand what they advocate. Some of the extremists apparently have no positive advocacy of anything. Rather it is a tearing down with really nothing positive to take its place. This, of course, is anarchy. It is unjust to be categorical and say that every university student joining in demonstrations and in political efforts are anarchists and have no worthwhile motives. Some are sincere and dedicated. Their demonstrations, however, are used by the radicals, many of whom are not students at all, to further their own aims. Numbers and publicity are important to them.

By the time the November elections occur, leaves will VANDALISM—These views of the Title I, remedial education room at top, and the kitchen of the Rising Star Elementary school lunchroom at bottom show the wreckage done by intruders who broke into the building through shattered windows. Fortunately, according to Supt. Victor Childers and Prin. Weldon Hill, the damage which at first seemed great, will not run more than $1,000 unless two expensive machines cannot be repaired. The damage was discovered by members of the Eighth grade class returning from a picnic Friday afternoon. Two 10-year-old boys were apprehended. Members of the class and their teachers cleared up the mess Saturday and salvaged most of what appeared lost.

Rodeo Prices Raised To Meet Cost Of Popular Series To Begin May 30

The Rising Star Roping Club, rounding out its plans for the 18th annual summer rodeo season, at Rising Star, moved this week to meet inflationary costs which affect such programs as well as ordinary businesses by increasing the admission prices.

The new schedule of prices, unanimously approved by the officers and directors after a discussion of alternate methods of financing the show, sets the general admission prices for adults at $1.00 and 50 cents for children. The new schedule replaces prices which have been in effect since the show was inaugurated in 1953.

Club officials explained that it costs the club from $8,000 to $12,000 to buy cattle and keep the stadium on East High 36 in repairs, and that unless there is an increase in rates the club will be forced to end the show series this year. It has been steadily going into the red, they pointed out.

The shows are non-profit spectacles provided as a public service by the riding club. Over the past seasons the Rising Star weekly rodeo series has been one of the most successful as well as unique western style open air entertainment events in the southwest.

The contests attract top amateur talent, and there are also events for younger riders

Insect Control To Be Pecan Field Day Topic

Pecan insect control will be the featured topic at the spring pecan field day for the pecan growers of Eastland County Saturday, May 23, in Rising Star.

Anton White, president of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association said the field day would begin at 9:30 a.m. in the American Legion Hall in Rising Star.

County Agent De Gordon said other topics to be discussed would be pecan disease control and fertilizer requirements of pecan trees. These subjects will be discussed by Dr. J. W. Worthington, Extension Service Horticulturist from Stephenville and Tom Denman, Horticulturist at the Texas A&M-Tarleton Experiment Station at Stephenville.

An important business session will be held before lunch. The field day will continue at a nearby pecan orchard after lunch. The insect situation will be examined in the orchard.

White says that everyone interested in pecans is invited to attend the field day.

PECAN SPRAY DATES

Pecan trees in Eastland County should be sprayed during the period of May 26 through June 1 reports County Agent DeMarquis Gordon. The purpose of the spray is to control the pecan nut casebearer, the most destructive insect of the pecan.

Gordon said the development of the casebearer is later this year than usual. Correct timing of the spray application is most important since the insecticide must be on the tree when the young larvae are hatching and before they enter the small pecans.

The county agent said two other factors are very important in the control of the insect—a thorough coverage of the tree with the insecticide solution and the use of the correct insecticide. The recommended insecticides in more complete control of casebearers should spray their trees twice—about May 26 and again about June 8.

cludes Savin, Malathion, Texaphene, Guthion, Nicotine sulfate, Thiodan, and Parathion. Gordon suggests that zinc sulfate be added to the spray solution to control rosette. A fungicide may also be added to control pecan disease.

Private Land Owners Practice Conservation In Public Interest

By John Lee, D.C. SCS More than 60 per cent of the land area of the United States is privately owned. It is operated by 3 million farmers and ranchers who, under a democratic form of government, may do largely as they please with their land. Yet more than 2 million of these private, independent businessmen are voluntarily practicing soil and water conservation not just for their own benefit but in the public interest and without regulation or coercion.

Soil and Water conservation work on the land enhances wildlife habitat. We have more kinds and greater numbers of game birds, game animals, furbearers, and game fish in the United States today than were here at the beginning of this century. To a great extent these increases in wildlife are the result of the widespread use of strip cropping, contour cultivation, conservation irrigation, crop rotations, stubble mulching, grassed waterways, improved

Wildcat Tales

Enthusiastic for students of Rising Star High School Staff — Sponsor, Mrs. C. A. Claborn; Editor, Carol Stroebel; Peoperters: Seniors, Janet Ezzell; Juniors, Sandy Jones; Sophomores, Martha Callaway; Freshmen, Billie Jean White; Girls Sports, Vickie Stewart; Boys Sports, Tommy Bibb; FHA, Barbara Richter; Cheerleaders, Susie Chambers; Band, Jerrilyn Winfrey; Library, Donald Martin; typist, Kava Poynor.

"THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD"

It has been a long nine months, but now it's finally over. The "Wildcat Tales" staff would especially like to thank Mr. Butler for devoting his time and space in the paper for our news and allowing us to bring the public a little closer to the younger generation. His interest, along with all the other townspeople, has made this school paper a success. We hope we have succeeded in lessening the generation gap; our staff hopes that we have changed some opinions and convinced those people that the younger generation is not really so bad as the public's opinion; although we may have long hair, wear short skirts, or look a bit different, we are not all of the hippie class; only 2% get violent; it is not fair to judge the younger generation on the basis of this low percentage. It is unfair to judge people we have never met because they look different or speak a different language. We are all individuals doing our best to go our own way; please help us to find ourselves.

Now the end of the year is here, and it is time to say "good bye". In closing I would like to thank our sponsor Mrs. Claborn for correcting, guiding, and transforming our crude groupings of words into sentences that clearly expressed our feelings. She was really patient to help us at all times. We do sincerely appreciate her guidance. I would like to thank Kava Poynor, our typist, who faithfully typed our news from very rough drafts. Thanks to all the other helpers that typed some, too. I would like to thank all the wonderful reporters for diligently writing news and digging up all exciting happenings at R.S.H.S. The staff could always be trusted to come up with exciting news to tell the public. And I would like to thank the entire student body and teachers for just being themselves, which means a lot to us reporters. They always added spicy flavor to our news. Thanks to all the students that allowed us to use their inspiring themes. This has truly been a worth while experience which has taught me many lessons. The memories of being editor of "Wildcat Tales" will always have a special place in my heart.

Goodbye, everyone of you! It's really been great!

I kid you not,

LEADERS OF TOMORROW

With the trip to Galveston behind us, the Srs. of '70 are anxiously awaiting graduation on May 25, at 8:00 in the Baptist Church. We want to invite everyone to come.

We really had a good time at Galveston. Everyone was tired but happy. Frank, why did you want to lock yourself in your room.

This will be the last news from the Srs. of '70. On May 25, we will each go our separate ways to unknown joys and sorrows of the future years.

We really appreciate all the teachers who have helped us to this final step of our high school days: Mr. Houn-sel, teaching figures of math and techniques in basketball; Mr. Carr showing the fundamentals of marching; Mrs. Diddle, showing films and transparencies on consumer buying; Mr. Geye, instructing boys on farming techniques; Mr. Hill, revealing problems of bookkeeping and typing; Mr. Childer's wise guidance and improvements to the school; Nunnally giving timings in typing; Mrs. Claborn's wise guidance and ability to make us want to come to English class; and Mr. Nunnally taking us back in the history of time and reading current events. Finally we come to the seniors' sponsor, Frank. We appreciate his patience and guidance, his ability to find some kind of work for us whether it was washing cars or painting fences and his groovy hairstyles; Thanks for all those happy times from the Senior Class of 1970 to "Fearless Frank" We will always remember R.S.H.S. Good-bye to all from the "Sober Seniors of Seventy."

WILLING TO LEARN

Hi! Well I'm back with the news of the very last week of school. Everyone is studying for final exams and wondering what to do with the three luscious months of vacation. In Biology, we are finishing with the biology of man. We learned how he is nourished; what each food does for him. In Algebra, we are through for three months with factoring triangles, tangents, etc. It's been lovely, Mr. Hounsel. In Home Ec. II, we are finished for the year. Some girls are still getting in Home Experiences, which were due in April; however, we hope that by the time you are reading this bit of news, all will have a credit posted.

In English II, we are finished with clauses, phrases, kinds of sentences, and Grammar. It's really been a fun year — Mrs. C. In World History, we are still up to our ears in wars. World War II is coming around the corner, but we still have faith in peace. It has been a great experience reporting the Soph. news this year. And remember that we are all still "WILLING TO LEARN."
MARTHA

OUT OF THE FISHBOWL
It's over. Our freshman year is now past. We've really had some great times and I've had a wonderful time reporting some of our news to you.

The first thing I want to say in my last freshman news article is thanks to Mr. Butler for being so kind about the space in the paper and to Mrs. Claborn for being so patient with me when I was late in turning in the news. I can't report on classes anymore because all our finals have been given and we await the time until we get out of school. I will go now with a goodbye, and we'll see you next year as Sophomores of '70-'71. Aloha!
BILLIE JEAN

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS
I thought I had written my last report, but it seems as if this will be it. Anyway, the exciting piece of news that all the Home Econ. girls are talking about is—are you ready?! We are all going to redecorate and re-furnish the inside of the Home Econ. cottage. We are going to panel all five rooms, tile or linoleum in four of the rooms, and in the living room we will be treading on a new carpet. Each group is deciding on colors and what all needs to be done; all three groups will evaluate. C. S. I think painting the kitchen a different color would be great. We have a limit cost on it all; but we are all thrilled that we are in a new learning experience one which will be helpful in years to follow—new horizons!
SHELLA

WITH THE FARMHANDS
In Ag II this week we have been working in the shop; now we are getting ready to go back to the class room and review for our final test; after that there will be nothing else until next year so keep those weeds and insects out this summer. Meet us again in the peanut season.
DICK CLARKE

DO-RE-MI
School is over and there is not much to say except that it has been a great year and I hate to see it go. Before I write another word, I want to thank all the band members that made it possible for me to be reporter. I really appreciate it! The band boosters met and on the same night uniforms were issued for next year. The next year majorettes are Sara Butler, Debbie Nunnally, and Billie White. Mr. Carr has given me the great honor of being Drum major. I thank you so much, Mr. Carr. (I might believe it once I get over the shock!)

Our band trip is coming up fast and everyone can hardly wait!

On May 30, the band will march in the rodeo parade. Ya'll be there!

That about wraps it up except that I hope next year will be as much fun as this year has been.

JERRILYNN

THERE'S ROOM AT THE TOP

The Juniors had a great time at Lake Cisco last Thursday. We want to thank the home room mothers for all their help throughout the year. They have really worked to help us.

Tests will begin on Wednesday; do we dread them? Juniors, we surely are going to have to study.

In American History we have just finished the end of World War II. We will turn in our last unit in Typing I this week. In Bookkeeping Project 3 is due, but very few have been able to complete them.

SANDY JONES

P.S. Remember "There's Room At The Top" of the Senior ladder for each Junior; we hope all twenty-five will be there.

WHAT MAKES AMERICA GREAT?

What makes America great? This is a question that is nearly impossible to answer. There is no special reason or magic formula that has made America the great country that she is today. America has become great through a long history of trials and failures.

When a person says that America is great, he does not mean that America is great; he does not mean that America is perfect. Hippies who protest or riot without a cause; young men who are killed while fighting in a foreign country that means nothing to them; draft dodgers that enjoy all the blessings of freedom which others have died to defend; men and women that do not care enough to take five minutes of their time to vote on election day; politicians that use the powers of their offices for personal gain—all these things are a

GIRL'S SPORTS

This is the last writing of my news this year. All the sports are over, books checked in and lockers cleaned out. It is hard to write news about sports that are all over and nearly forgotten, so I will just dedicate this week's news to the Seniors of '70. They have all been wonderful people and have guided a few of the younger ones in the right direction. We want to wish all of them the best of luck in the course of life they choose.

How can one forget all the memories of his last year in high school? Well, it's not hard to remember when one starts thinking about it. The Srs. '70 have left behind many memories that R.S.H.S. will always remember. One of them happened just the other night. There was a lot of blood and scratches at the boxing match, but everyone was able to laugh about it when it was over, except maybe Danny Hughes, who is living on soup and gravy. We are all proud of our boys who went to Gorman and made a very good showing, and we are also glad that Ray Darnell won a trophy. Congratulations, Ray!

Until next year,

IT HAS BEEN

By Vada Arnold

A dining table 3,000 feet long and three feet in width was built in White Way Park near the Texas Pacific depot at Eastland, where basket lunches were spread by thousands of visitors who came to Eastland for the dedication of the new Eastland County Courthouse, in May 1929.

More than 4,000 cups of coffee, fifteen barrels of lemonade and an abundance of ice water were provided for every one.

The speakers stand for the occasion was erected at the southeast corner of the square. On the stand there was room for some 200 people including the 75 Gold Star Mothers of the county, distinguished visitors, newspaper men; civil war veterans and others.

Loud speakers carried the voices of speakers to the audience.

At 9 a. m. a parade formed at the Prairie Oil and Gas Company building on South Seaman Street. Five bands marched with the parade. Decorated floats of all descriptions. Boy Scouts, Civic Clubs, Riders and Schools from all over the county made up the parade.

Open House was kept throughout the day in the court house so visitors could inspect the beautiful building.

Dr. R. G. Head, local dentist, was named Scout master of Troop 115 in Rising Star in October, 1929, after the resignation of Otha Venable. The resignation of Mr. Venable was accepted with reluctance.

Due to pressure of business and other interests it became necessary for him to resign, after serving as Scout master since the troop was organized in 1928, according to Scout Executive G. N. Quirl. Venable had made one of the most efficient scoutmasters in the Oil Belt area for the length of time. He had developed his troop and held it together better than any troop in this section.

Phil Berry was named Assistant scoutmaster. F. A. Lloyd, Fred W. Roberts, E. W. Howard and Fred Tunnell were the Court of Honor. E. T. Dawson and A. L. Martin were added to the Scout committee. The first district field day was held in Rising Star, October 15, 1929. Cisco Boy Scouts nosed out on the local troop by three points. Total for the three competing troops were Cisco 98; Rising Star 93; Pioneer 23.

Individual winners for the Rising Star troop were: H. O. Bostain, James Rutherford, Charles Rutherford and Tillman Bryant. First in water boiling, Fire by friction; Weldon Bryant; Obstacle Race; Erwin Byrley, undressing and redressing. Cisco troops won first in First aid stunt; Rising Star won second with Charles and James Rutherford, Eugene McBride and H. O. Bostain, participating. First place in knot tying went to Charles Rutherford.

After a time of fun came a barbecue supper served at the American Legion Hall, prepared by mothers of the local scouts. The menu was barbecue, beans, pickles, onions, cake and lemonade.

A Big Council Fire on the football field was the center of the evening program. More than 100 Scouts and visitors ranged around the fire.

The Scout cheer was led by Executive Quirl. Three rousing Hows for the American Legion, Scout Mothers and for Rising Star were given.

Interesting talks, stunts and contests were "put on" by the boys around the Council Fire.

A sing-song followed. The meeting was dismissed with everyone standing with a hand on the shoulder of a boy next all around the fire while John Peter Huey of Cisco faintly sounded taps on a cornet.

Twenty members made up the graduation exercises for the Rising Star High School in May 1929.

Dr. M. E. Davis of the faculty of Howard Payne College at Brownwood gave the Commencement address to the graduates and "a large crowd of parents and friends."

Two Key Members Of Hospital Staff Named

Two key members of the staff of the E. L. Graham Memorial Hospital were announced Saturday by Tom R. Humphreys, administrator of the hospital now nearing completion and due to be opened in late summer or early fall. They are:

Mrs. Mary S. Lee, director of nursing, and Roy Gevara, technician.

Mrs. Lee, who lives at Rising Star, has been instructor in vocational nursing at Cisco Junior College for the past two years. Prior to that time she served for ten years as director of nurses at the Eastland Memorial Hospital.

Her resignation from the junior college staff to accept the hospital post was submitted this week and announced by President Leland Willis who praised her contribution.

Bob Shultz Thanked For Judging Show

The Rising Star 4-H Club held a "Dog Show" on May 9th and a write up was submitted, but one interesting bit of news was left out.

As you know a dog show must have a judge. It seems that the ladies responsible for securing a judge ran into problems. No one would "take time to help," until they asked Bob Shultz. Of course Bob doesn't have anything to do at this time of year and was more than happy to assist. No one could have more to do than Bob, with everyone wanting equipment repaired so they could plow, plant, etc. Any way Bob spent three hours with the dogs and children and their mothers and really outdid himself in making the children (and their mothers) happy.

Thank you Bob Shultz, say the ladies and the exhibitors.

to the college education program, Mr. Willis said no replacement has been selected and that applications for the college position are still being received.

Mr. Gevara is the technician at Graham Hospital, a post which he has served for several years.

Active in local community work, he is currently serving as president of the Cisco Jaycees.

Construction on the new hospital is making progress considerably ahead of the architect's schedule, with the prospect that it will be completed by mid-August, more than 30 days ahead of the time set. Herman Bennett Co. of Brownwood is the builder.

Mr. Humphrey, the administrator, comes from Oklahoma where he has had long experience in hospital and nursing home administration. His family will join him here as soon as the school term is ended at Watonga Oklahoma, and Oklahoma City Suburb.
