Through The Editor's Specs

By BAE

One species of California wit seems to be emerging from an inferiority complex now that a larger state has elbowed Texas into second place in the matter of size. A columnist in the Los Angeles Times—for whose remarks we are indebted to Chet Switell of that city—cleverly reminds us that distances in Texas once regarded as enormous, have suddenly shrunk immeasurably.

Rising Star, it seems, is just next door to Oklahoma City, Denver and Phoenix, Ariz.

Writes the columnist, Gene Sherman:

"This salmon canner from Sitka, Alaska, visited his daughter, who was living in Rising Star, Texas. A few weeks later he returned to Sitka, where he was buttonholed by the local newspaper editor.

"How'd you like Texas?" the editor asked.

"Fine," said the old boy. "Cept you can hardly take a little after-dinner walk without winding up in Oklahoma City, Denver or Phoenix or someplace."

Thanks to Sadie Brizendine for one of the largest—and most delicious—pears we have seen in years. It was grown on one of her trees at her home east of town, one of a few to survive last spring's late freeze. There are few fruits more delicious than tree-ripened pears. County Agent Cooper once told me that the pear is about the hardiest, cheapest and best fruit to grow—it rarely is affected by freeze, endures comparatively little insect damage and can hang on the tree for long periods after ripening so that the marketing problem is not so critical, so far as time is concerned.

However, there are comparatively few trees here.

Local Telephones Now on Intertoll Network Dialing

Cross Plains and Rising Star patrons of the Kizer Telephone Co. were placed on the Intertoll network Monday, Nov. 15, according to Ralph Kizer.

This means, said Mr. Kizer, that all long distance calls will be dialed directly to each customer's telephone in the two communities by the distant operators. It permits a speed-up of long distance service when a call is received and also provides for faster long distance service when customers are placing a call.

Actual planning for the Intertoll network service began in July, 1958. Installation of the automatic long distance switching equipment got under way five months ago. According to E. O. Kizer, president of the company, "introduction to the Intertoll Network is another forward step toward our goals for the improved service we are eager to give our subscribers. And it is another indication of how well the nation's 4,400 independent telephone companies work with the Bell System and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to provide the most modern and convenient service to customers across the country."

Uses Alfalfa in Crop Rotation

Delma Dean, who operates a farm in the Hilburn community of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District likes to use alfalfa in his conservation crop rotation. Dean planted between five and six acres to alfalfa in October 1958. He has fertilized his alfalfa and watered it during 1959. To date Dean has harvested 976 bales of hay which he values at $1.00 to $1.25 per bale. He has also secured considerable grazing from this area. Root rot has attacked Dean's alfalfa and destroyed his stand. He plans to just move his alfalfa and reseed this fall on another area. Dean feels that this is an economical operation as he expects an increase in the yield of the crops following the alfalfa. Dean also uses sorghum alfalfa in his conservation crop rotation, but he experienced some difficulty in following it with peanuts. He had too much volunteer from hard seed which germinated after the summer rains and required considerable labor to destroy. Dean does not expect to have this problem in following alfalfa with peanuts or maize.

Rising Star Cagers Extend Win Streaks

Rising Star Wildcat basketball team fought back from a 15-2 deficit at the end of the first quarter to defeat the Cross Plains quint 49-48 at Cross Plains Tuesday night and extend their undefeated record to five games this fall—two of the wins at the expense of their Callahan County rivals. The girls, on the same bill, easily overcame the Cross Plains girls, 42 to 26 to remain undefeated in eight games.

Bursting out of the second quarter with a fine exhibition of team work and heads up defense, the Wildcats retired at half-time with a 21-19 advantage. Pat Agnew led the way with 26 points while Johnny Jones contributed 12.

The girls displayed plenty of desire and ability both defensively and offensively to carry their game all the way. Jettie Duggan rattled the boards for 19 points and Bonnie Tyler mashed 13 for the Cats.

The Rising Star teams will play next in the Olden tournament, December 3.

Rising Star High School boys and girls basket ball teams each extended their win streaks without defeat in games with the Putnam High School teams at Rising Star gym Monday night.

The boys defeated the Putnam boys 56 to 41 for their fourth straight win, with Pat Agnew scoring 19 points and Johnny Jones 14.

The girls, with Jettie Duggan leading the scoring with 20 points, easily took the measure of the Putnam girls by a count of 33 to 22 for their seventh straight win.

In a game here last Friday night the girls defeated the Cross Plains girls by a score of 43 to 37. They led throughout the game with Duggan scoring 27 points of her team's score. The Rising Star forward has an average of 20 points per game.

She teams with Bonnie Tyler and Janis Jones in the forward court with Sherry Aaron and

Contract on 36 to Be Let In December

Contract on the reconstruction of the section of State Highway No. 36 between Pioneer and the intersection with U. S. Highway 183 in Rising Star, will be let in December. County Comm'r Bob Carter said he has been informed by the State Highway Department. The letting originally scheduled for November was delayed by some unfinished details of planning, but all paper work and securing of right-of-way have been completed with the exception of some condemnation suits which were necessary because some of those who have interest in land to be purchased for the right-of-way could not be contacted.

These suits, Mr. Carter explained, are what are legally termed "friendly suits" and will not delay the letting of contract.

The new route will eliminate the present curve west of Rising Star where the highway was designed to cross the now extinct Texas Central railroad at right angles. The right-of-way will be widened and a 49-foot slab built in the place of the present pavement from Pioneer to the western limits of Rising Star. From that point the pavement will cover the entire 60-foot street as now existing and the city will pay for curbing and gutter on either side. Under agreement with the Highway Department, which agreed not to take a wider right-of-way inside the city, the city will prohibit parking on the south side of College Street—the route of the highway through the city—in two blocks in the business district.

T. A. (Squab) Weaver Loses Foot In Combine Mishap

T. A. (Squab) Weaver, prominent farmer of the Sine Springs community, was in Hendricks Memorial Hospital, recovering from surgery for the amputation of his right foot after an accident which took place while he and two other men were threshing peanuts on his farm Wednesday afternoon of last week.

While threshing in a field of new ground, Mr. Weaver was standing on the side of the combine throwing stumps and other debris out of the way of the combine when he slipped and fell, his foot catching in the screw. Although Lawrence Merworth, who was driving the combine, stopped it at once, the foot was so badly mutilated that amputation was necessary. Mr. Merworth and Jack Millwee, who was also helping, rushed Mr. Weaver to Rising Star hospital for emergency treatment and a Higginbotham ambulance then took him to Abilene to a specialist. His condition this week was described as fair.

Growers in Eastland and Adjoining Counties Invited to Pecan Show

Growers from Eastland and adjoining counties are being urged to send or bring entries to the Seventh Annual Eastland County Pecan Show to be held in Cisco, December 11th and 12th, according to Oscar Schaefer, Cook Community, president of the county pecan growers association who with the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the annual affair.

"We urge growers in all adjoining counties to bring or send entries to the show" Sam Kimmell, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce said.

A quart of nuts constitutes an entry. Growers are limited to one entry of each pappershell variety but there is no limit to the entries of the native or the seedling varieties.

The pecans will be judged on their size, color, appearance, cracking quality, kernel quality, weight, attractiveness, percentage of meat and other factors.

Mr. B. G. Hancock, Horticulturist of the A&M College Extension Service and Dr. Benfon Story, Secretary-Treasurer of the Texas Pecan Growers Association and Professor in the A&M Horticultural Department will judge the show. Hancock has been one of the judges since the first show.

Although there will be somewhere around a dozen county pecan shows in the state this fall and winter, the one in Eastland County is the oldest in the state according to Schaefer.

Pecan cakes, pies, cookies and candies will be seen at the bake show to be a part of the show with the County Home Demonstration Council in charge. The items in this show will be sold during the last day of the affair.

A pecan queen is to be selected. Plans are being worked out for this contest.

The following are the rules governing the show and the premiums to be offered:

1. Entries accepted from pecan growers in Eastland and adjoining counties.

5. There is no limit on the number of entries of seedling or natives. (Example: John Smith has five different seedling or native pecans. He can enter them all).

6. Nuts must have been grown by the man or woman showing them.

7. All first place entries of nuts will be sent to Texas A&M College to be entered in the State Pecan show and they will not be returned.

8. Nuts must be left on display until 4 o'clock on December 12th.

9. Each entry must consist of enough nuts to fill a quart fruit jar. (The nuts are displayed on a paper plate and a quart fruit jar full makes a plate full of nuts).

10. Varieties of nuts with less than 3 entries will be judged and ribbons awarded but no cash premiums will be paid, except that varieties with only one or 2 entries may compete for the grand championship or reserve championship award.

Better Days for Hog Producers May Be Ahead

COLLEGE STATION.—Better days may be ahead for hog producers. Farrowing intentions for December 1959 - February 1960 are down four percent from last year in the 10 Corn Belt States. If intentions are followed this will be the first reduction in two years and may stimulate a price increase.

Farrowing intentions for the period March 1960-May 1960 will be reported in December and if the number of pigs born in this quarter show a decline, then we can assume hog numbers have turned the corner and headed down, according to Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist and John McHaney, extension economist.

In the 10 corn belt states, which accounted for 75 per cent of the total U. S. production in 1958, the number of sows farrowed or intended to farrow this fall (June through November) is five percent larger than during the same months of 1958. This is 23 percent larger than the 1948-57 average.

The hog-corn ratio has reached a level which would normally promote a reduction in hog numbers, noted the specialists. The current ratio of about 11.5 is the lowest during a fall breeding season since 1955 when the fall hog-corn ratio normally has on farrowing intentions and hog numbers may be partially modified by the huge supply of feed grains and lower level of feed grain prices.

Hog slaughter during the first nine months of 1959 has been 14 percent greater than in 1958. Slaughter for the last quarter of 1959 will come largely from the March-May pig crop which was up 9 percent from last year. With the larger fall pig crop in 1959 slaughter can also be expected to continue high during the first half of 1960.

The specialists noted that for every 10 percent increase in the number of hogs marketed there is usually a 25 percent decrease in hog prices. If beef prices are relatively high, an increase in the consumption of pork can be expected. However, this increased consumption will not be enough to do more than keep hog prices from skidding much lower. With marketings expected to increase in 1960 as a whole, the specialists predict hog prices to average close to or a little below those of 1959.

This is not the time to expand your hog production, they added, but it is the time to improve breeding stock, become more efficient and to get ready for better hog prices in some early year following 1960.

Local Pecan Growers Win at Brownwood Show

Eastland County pecan growers won a fair share of honors at the Brown County Pecan Show held at Brownwood last Friday and Saturday by capturing 16 ribbons and the reserve champion plaque according to word from County Agent J. M. Cooper's office.

A total of seven of the 16 were first place honors it was said.

C. E. Smith, Rising Star grower, got a first place with his Success variety, a first place with his Halbert, a second with Delmas and a third place in the unnamed seedling division.

B. B. Freeman, Rt. 1, Ranger, took a first place with his Comanche entry. This went on into the finals and took the reserve championship of the show. This is a fairly new variety, developed by the research folks and is a cross between Success and Success. It looks a lot like a Burkett according to Cooper.

Freeman got a second with his Williamson, a second with his San Saba, a third with his Stuart and Western Schley and a first with his Wichita, also a new variety of pecans.

"I GIVE YOU TEXAS"

By Boyce House

When I attended high school, students—or at least I did—memorized Kipling and Service. I knew by heart "Gunga Din" and "Mandalay"—and can still recall them almost completely; also "The Cremation of Sam McGee" and "Spell of the Yukon" by the bard of the Klondike.

Do students nowadays, I wonder, memorize—voluntarily—poems? Perhaps you will reply that we have no new poets today who, like Kipling and Service in my time, captured the imagination. But I used to memorize Poe, Byron and Burns—and let me assure you that, contrary to what you may think, they wrote before my day.

For that matter, grownups too have quit committing poems to memory. Back in the 1920's the rendition of "The Hermit of Shark-Tooth Shoal" and "Churchyard down at Ranger" enlivened many a friendly session when glasses were raised. I'll bet nobody anywhere this year has memorized, "It was down in the Lehigh Valley."

What is humor? I have written six books of humor which the public has bought in generous fashion and people have told me they laughed at the stories; and I have made hundreds of speeches, which people laughed at; but I can't tell you what humor is—or why something is funny.

Men who have given years of study to the subject—I haven't had time to study it—say that it is hard to draw the line between humor and pathos; the listener laughs and yet feels half-inclined to cry.

Not with all humor, but certainly with some of it, this is true.

Referendum on Peanut Marketing Quotas Dec. 15th

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that a referendum on marketing quotas for the 1960, 1961 and 1962 crops of peanuts will be held December 15, 1959.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum favor quotas, they will be in effect in each of the three years. If more than one-third of the voters oppose, quotas will not be in effect for 1960 and another referendum would be held in 1960 for the following three years.

The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall proclaim a national acreage allotment for peanuts each year. A 1960 marketing quota of 934,000 tons and a national allotment of 1,610,000 for picking and threshing were announced Oct. 6.

The national acreage allotment is apportioned to States, and the State allotment is apportioned among individual peanut-producing farms within the State.

If marketing quotas are approved in the referendum growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support at the full announced rate, and marketing penalties will apply to the excess peanuts produced.

If quotas are disapproved in the referendum, quotas and penalties will not be in effect for 1960, but price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to growers who comply with their acreage allotments.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect each year since 1949. The last previous referendum was held in December 1956, when 93.5 per cent of the growers voting approved marketing quotas for 1957, 1958 and 1959.

EDITORIAL

Thanksgiving has been set aside as a time when people give thanks with feasting and prayer for the blessings they may have received during the year.

The first Thanksgiving Days were harvest festivals, or days for thanking God for plentiful crops. For this reason the holiday still takes place late in the fall, after the crops have been gathered. For thousands of years people in many lands have held harvest festivals. The American Thanksgiving Day probably grew out of the harvest-home celebrations of England.

The first Thanksgiving Day was celebrated during the second winter the Plymouth colonists spent in the New World. The first winter in Massachusetts had killed nearly half of the members of the colony. But new hope grew up in the summer of 1621. The corn harvest brought rejoicing. Governor William Bradford decreed that December 13, 1621, be set aside as a day of feasting and prayer, to show the gratitude of the colonists that they were still alive.

Over the years the date has been changed many times, but it has always been celebrated some time during the year. Congress finally ruled that after 1863 the fourth Thursday of November would be observed as Thanksgiving Day and would be a legal holiday.

The American Thanksgiving is usually a family day celebrated with big dinners and joyous reunions with many persons travelling hundreds of miles to spend the day with their loved ones.

As we all are gathered together to spend this holiday, let it be with a spirit of reverence and a prayer of thanksgiving to our Lord who makes all good life possible.

GIRLS SPORTS

Good evening, sports fans, here is an all points bulletin on the girls sports activities which are taking place at the present time.

We are very proud to tell you that our A team girls have won six straight victories. The latest defeat was over Cross Plains, our all time rival, with a final score of 43-37. Our own RSHS queen, Jettie Duggan, was high point with 27. Mr. Bill Gunn, Cross Plains coach, has a good team and his high point girl was Walters with 17.

The B team has not been so fortunate; although they have played three games with no wins, they were hard to beat and gave the opponent a rough time.

After the Thanksgiving holidays play will resume on December 3, in the Olden tournament.

BAND NEWS

If you see the band kids going around with smiles on their faces, don't wonder why. Our band scored highest of all the B class bands at Sweetwater Saturday; we didn't get first place, but neither did any other B bands. We got a 2 plus on inspection and a 2 on marching. The majorettes and drum major did an excellent job also.

It seems as if every perfect day has its troubles. One of the busses had two blowouts before we got even to Abilene, and we had to get to Sweetwater on two tires. We made it only an hour late, but Mr. Gonzales had already pulled all his hair out.

We had a ball, man, like WOW!

SOPH HIGHLIGHTS

"My how the time goes by." I'm sure we've all heard that some time or another. Truly, it has for me; I just can't get ahead. Only yesterday it was "burn that mid-night oil" for six weeks' tests and here it is time again; in fact, it will be over by the time this is published.

I'm sure everyone is glad and will enjoy their first big holidays. It seems by the time Thanksgiving comes around all are ready for relaxation of the brain and a lush Thanksgiving dinner: (Careful, girls, no pecan pie). With all this cranberry publicity going around, I'm wondering if the traditional Thanksgiving dinner will seem right without cranberries or cranberry sauce.

Miss Nowlin has really been working the girls in H.E. II to get their garments ready before the Thanksgiving holidays. Did you know that having Home-making two periods, you really can learn a lot.

Speaking of the black, dark secrets of this week—I want to ask a Soph girl about a certain Fish (?) Kathy Witt and Screech; imagine! And Rosa W.—You say he's a Maynard? Jerrell B.—A love affair from Abilene? Butch B. "We know where you were Thursday night."

So long for now—
Sherry

FISH TALES

The Freshmen are planning their Christmas party. The Christmas cards haven't come in yet, but maybe they'll be here by Christmas. As usual, the Fish are left out again. Everyone has a place for the party except us; but that's the way it goes.

The "B" string girls played

Grade School girls last week and beat them 17-10. A couple of Freshmen played a very good game. Good going, girls!

One of our Freshmen boys had an accident in his family last week. Hope your father gets to feeling better, Covie.

M. F.—How's your A. B.?

P. G.—Not sleepy? Just sluggish!

J. M.—Calls at school? Oh, weather too bad!

K. N.—Better watch it, somebody might be listening next time!

K. P.—Bird? See you next week?

—Bye for now,

BOYS SPORTS

Basketball season has begun at last, and we are very happy. I guess you already know how the last five games have come out. This year we think we have a very good chance of having a good team. We have plenty of height and a lot of hustle in the boys this year. We are all looking forward to our district games and expect to win district this year.

We hope you are enjoying your Thanksgiving holidays this week-end and we want you to be careful and cautious on the highways; let us not forget to be thankful for our many blessings and American heritage and to express this thanks in prayer.

Wool, Mohair Support Prices Are Announced

COLLEGE STATION. — A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound and a mohair support price of 70 cents per pound have been announced for the 1960 marketing year which begins April 1, 1960. These prices are the same as for the first five years of the program running from 1955 through the 1959 marketing years, according to A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Yearly production of shorn wool is moving toward the 300-million pound goal set by the law. Estimated 1959 production is 252 million pounds, the highest since 1946, and compares to 234 million pounds in 1955, the first year of the wool payment program. Stock sheep numbers increased 3 percent during 1957 and 4 percent during 1958, and on Jan. 1, 1959 were the largest since 1948.

ASC offices are completing payments for the 1958 marketing year, the fourth year of the program. The shorn wool payment rate for the 1958 marketing year was 70.3 percent, the percentage required to bring the average price of 36.4 cents per pound of shorn wool, grease basis, up to the 62-cent incentive level. This results in a payment of $70.30 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool.

Wooten noted. The payment rate on unshorn lambs was $1.02 per hundredweight of live lambs marketed.

The payment rates for the 1958 marketing year were higher than anticipated because prices received by growers for wool declined to the lowest since 1941, reflecting the drop in wool prices in the world market of 40 percent from mid-1957 through early 1959.

Through August 31, 1959, payments for the 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958 marketing years were approximately $207.8 million. A small percentage of 1958 payments is yet to be made. From this amount, approximately $11.4 million was deducted for the self-help advertising and sales promotion program for lamb wool being conducted by American Sheep-Product Company, Inc.

JONES-BLAIR HOUSE PAINTS

Rugged as the Southwest... and just as beautiful!

Blistering sun and stinging northerners don't get to first base with Jones-Blair House Paint — it's made with built-in resistance to the Southwestern climate!

The Jones-Blair exclusive formula developed in J-B's own extensive laboratory gives this paint its special qualities — makes it flow on with a tough, uniform film in the correct thickness always to stick tight and weather right. It has amazing resistance to cracking, peeling or blistering — seals out harmful sun rays, seals in beauty and durability for years of bright unfading life. Jones-Blair House Paint has a self-cleaning action — doesn't collect dirt or stains. It goes a long way, too, because it has great hiding qualities. You get all this protection and economy plus superb beauty with Jones-Blair House Paints. They come in 24 colors — soft southwestern tones, and unusual intermixes — colors that are so nice to come home to.

It's That Time of Year Again—
... when harvest time is here and the fall season looks promising. Folks as a rule do more trading in the fall than any other season of the year. Business in real estate usually picks up and that calls for abstracts. Everybody wants an abstract when they buy real estate and you can't blame them. So if you plan selling your farm or your home in town let us get you ready now for some fall trading.
