

Family Food Store Is Well Named

Owner of Family Food Store, Ralph Kizer, center, and co-managers, Rick Pittman and Betty Griffin, welcome area residents to Family Food Store, Main Street, Rising Star.

Ralph and Beth Kizer chose a suitable name for their new enterprise, Family Food Store. The Kizers recently purchased the store from Jim Williams and have the aid of myriad family members in the operation of the store. The Kizers daughter, Betty Griffin, and son-in-law, Rick Pittman are co-managers; their son, Mark will lend a hand from time to time when he is in town and Betty's husband, David Griffin, will work in the store whenever his schedule with his regular employment permits. David and his brother, Mark, have already helped stock shelves when large quantities of groceries arrived.

Ralph will continue to operate Kizer Insurance Agency and he will be limited to helping out occasionally in the grocery store. Beth, who is a full time bookkeeper at Bibby's creations, will keep books for the Family Food Store in her home.

Betty and David live in Rising Star and are the parents of two daughters, Robin and Kelly. They are graduates of Rising Star High School and they both attended Tarleton State University.

Jane and Rick Pittman live in the Owens community and have an infant son, Justin. Jane, employed with General Telephone Co. in Brownwood is a graduate of Rising Star High School and Rick was graduated from May High School. They are both graduates of Tarleton State University.

Mark Kizer is a recent graduate of Rising Star High School and is working and attending school in Waco.

Also employed in Family Food Store are Angie Harris, Marilyn King and Donnette Rimer.

An open house is planned for the near future, but the date has not yet been set.

Family Food Store is a member of Affiliated Food Stores and has the use of Affiliated's electronic ordering system equipment, its advertising promotional department and its non-food items service and promotion. Membership with Affiliated Food Stores offers the advantage of bulk grocery purchasing which a small independent store does not have.

FFA & 4-H Livestock Show & Fair Sets March 4 Date

The local FFA & 4-H Livestock Show & Fair will be March 4th. Livestock judge will be Leonard Wood, fair judges have not been finalized. The show will be held 1 block east of Family Food Store, more information later.

School Classes Will Be Held February 23

Superintendent of Rising Star School Gene Williams announced that there will be classes on February 23, to make up for the day missed because of bad weather. School will be dismissed early.

NOTICE

To set the record straight: We, the ex-councilmen of the City of Rising Star, would like to correct an error in the minutes printed in the paper last week. (We were five minutes late, and for that inconvenience, we most humbly apologize.) As to the minutes we, ex-councilmen, voted on the election and the acceptance of our resignations.

As to the gas cut-off proposal, we did not vote on this issue.

R.D. Williams Resigns Pastorate of First Baptist Church

R.D. Williams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rising Star, resigned his position during the business meeting of the church on Wednesday, February 9. His resignation will be effective April 4 and Easter Sunday will be his last day in the pulpit as minister of the church.

The Rev. Williams and his wife, Vi, will be moving to Brownwood where he will be chaplain for Girling Home Health Care. Mrs. Williams retired from a full time nursing career just over a year and a half ago, but continues to work when members of the nursing staff are on vacation or miss work because of illness.

During the nine and a half years of the Rev. Williams' ministry here, the members of the First Baptist Church have added two outstanding projects to their accomplishments. They have built and paid for a new parsonage and have built and paid for an activity center.

The Rev. Williams has gained an admirable reputation for his faithfulness in ministering to the ill during his tenure with First Baptist Church. And in addition to holding the regular services in his church, he also holds services at the Rising Star Nursing Center each Wednesday and every first Sunday. He is the moderator of Cisco Baptist Association.

Adding civic work to his duties as minister, the Rev. Williams accepted the position of vice president of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce last year. He also is a substitute teacher in both the Rising Star and May school systems.

The Williams' found the decision to leave Rising Star a very difficult one to make as they have learned to love the people here. The community, as well as the church members, will feel the loss of this family deeply.

Postal Service Will Handle Larger Parcels

The U. S. Postal Service will put simplified parcel mailing regulations into effect February 27, 1983. Under the new regulations, parcels weighing 70 pounds or less and measuring not more than 108 inches in length and girth combined can be mailed from any post office to any destination within the United States. These standards apply regardless of whether the package is shipped by Express Mail, Priority Mail, parcel post or another fourth-class service. Previously, most post offices in the nation's 6,200 largest cities could not accept parcels weighing more than 40 pounds or measuring more than 84 inches. The exceptions to these size and weight limitations are for space available mail (SAM), parcel airlift mail (PAL), parcel to certain APO/FPO addresses and for mail sent via the Department of State to United States government personnel abroad. The Governors of the Postal Service voted to adopt the new regulations at their February 1 meeting in San Francisco, California.

WORD of GOD

Jesus heals two blind men:

And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him; and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straightly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

SOIL INSECT CONTROL

Soon area vegetable gardeners will begin preparing their garden sites for spring planting. The most destructive insects that gardeners will encounter this time of year are soil insects. If they are not controlled they can cause a reduction in vegetable quality and yield. The best time to control the insects is before planting.

Most soil insecticides, in order to be effective, must be applied at least two weeks prior to planting and must be thoroughly mixed into the soil at least 4 to 6 inches. This of course cannot be done if the garden is already planted.

Soil insects that vegetable gardeners are most likely to encounter are wireworms, white grubs, seed corn maggots, cabbage maggots, mole crickets, sowbugs and cutworms. Since soil insects have different feeding habits, some may destroy plant seeds, roots, tubers and underground stem parts, while others may cut off young plants at or near the soil surface.

Garden sites which were previously in grass or weeds are more likely to harbor damaging numbers of soil pests. Vegetable gardeners should inspect their garden site to determine if insecticide treatments are needed. Use a shovel or spade and randomly sample the soil at a depth of 5-6 inches. Remove one square foot section of soil from each location and record the number of soil insect pests present. As a general rule an average of one or more soil insect pest per sampled location suggests the need for treatment.

Most soil insects can be controlled in the home garden with Diazinon 25% liquid concentrate or 5% granular. Granules usually give the best control. Do not use Dursban which is recommended for control of soil insects in lawns. This chemical is not cleared for garden use and may contaminate your produce. Also do not treat lawns for grubs at this time. Treatment is ill advised because adequate levels of insecticide usually cannot get through the thatch to be effective against the large grubs present at this time. White grubs in lawns are best controlled in the late summer after the seasons eggs have hatched and larvae are still small.

Before applying any pesticide always read and follow labeled instruction.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BUREAU BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"A RANSOM FOR ALL"

"For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus; Who gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (1 Tim. 2:5, 6).

Man in his present condition is not fit to stand in the presence of a holy God. If we are honest with ourselves we will feel the need of a mediator, a go-between, who can represent us in the presence of God. Job felt this when, realizing this need, he cried: "Neither is there any daysman betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both" (Job 9:33).

Thank God, a "daysman" or "mediator" has been provided for sinful man—a go-between, who can represent us before a holy God. This Mediator is Christ, Son of God and Son of man.

What a blessing to know that the Son of God became the Son of man so that the sons of men might become the sons of God! Though perfect and sinless, He died in disgrace upon Calvary's cross as a malefactor so that His payment for sin might be credited to our account and we might stand before God without one sin to our charge.

Though Christ's death for sin was credited to all believers, even of past ages, it was not proclaimed until sometime after the cross, when God, in grace, saved Saul of Tarsus, the chief of sinners (1 Tim. 1:15). This is why the Apostle declares that Christ "gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time."

It was when Saul, the chief of sinners, was saved on the road to Damascus, that God began to show to him that Christ had died as "a ransom for all"; and God now sent him forth to proclaim this glorious message. This is why Paul's epistles are so filled with references to salvation through the cross, the death, the blood of Christ. And it is on this basis that the Apostle offers to all salvation by grace through faith in the finished work of Christ, and proclaims to all the simple plan of salvation: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

The Bible. It has a lot to offer.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Sir Michael Costa, the celebrated conductor, was holding a rehearsal. The mighty chorus sang, the huge orchestra played, but the sound of the little piccolo was not heard. The player thought, "It's so small, it won't be missed."

But the great leader stopped the music and cried, "Where's the piccolo?"

The sound of one small instrument was essential to the harmony.

The Lord needs you. You may think your talent is insignificant, but to Him it is significant. You may think your part is unimportant, but to Him it is very important.

You and I do not choose our places, the Lord does; we fill them. If we do not fill our place in the work of our Lord, no one else can. Others have their place and their part. This they must fill. You have your place. Your responsibility is to fill it or there is a loss if you fail.

Do not belittle your place or demean yourself. Your place may not be conspicuous but your part is crucial. Do your best!

Sewing Clothing Saves Money

COLLEGE STATION-- "Saving money is the major reason for increased interest in sewing children's clothing," says Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Children under six years old usually are not too particular about how a garment fits or how it is made. This gives a mother time to learn or to improve sewing skills, Saunders says. Children's clothing is excellent for learning since it requires less fabric and many unused garments can be remade.

stores in the South shows the high cost of children's clothing. Dresses bought in a department store range from $25 to over $50.

hour, Saunders notes. Better quality construction, fabric and style account for the difference between department store and discount store prices, Saunders says. But after comparing the cost of making high quality garments to buying them, more mothers are turning to their sewing machines.

Similar dresses can be made in around three hours for less than $10 if the home sewer used fashion fabric costing from $3 to $7 per yard. Pull-on pants cost about $20 but can be made for just over $5 in about one

The Travelling Frog

Tall Tales From a Big Swamp-The Darien is a large province of the Republic of Panama adjacent to Colombia. It contains 1/3 of the entire country and begins about 100 miles South East of the Panama Canal. A major share of the people in Panama have never visited this area due its inaccessibility and lack of roads. Only the Pan American Highway enters the region and it stops at the Darien Gap which is nothing more than about 60 miles of marshland largely impenetrable except in the dry season. The native indian population move about the swamp in dug out canoes on the numerous rivers and creeks of the zone. They clear an acre or so of land by slashing and burning, plant corn, beans, coconuts and bananas, etc., fish or may have chickens and a hog or two. There are a few avocado trees and those of tropical fruits and cocoa.

One of the things that has impressed me about the region is the constant change in height of the water in the rivers. The total width between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans is only about 100 miles and the tides in the marsh are about 24 feet. This means that if you live near the shore line of the river you had better have your grass hut up on a mound more than 24 feet tall or build it up on stilts. Can you imagine the situation where the water washes your front yard twice a day leaving it a seething mass of icky mud? Well that's just what happens and it's only a tenacious Indian who can live under these circumstances.

The tides cause another problem. One might start out in a boat at high tide with the river a quarter mile wide and after a few hours it has decreased to a trickle only a few feet wide and the boatman has to "pole" you along until the tide begins to rise again. These mighty "rushing waters" really move and only the staunchest vegetation can survive in its pathway.

On the so-called high lands or islands in this muddy sea is where the Pan American Highway would like to put down footings for continuing the road to South America. Core drills of the region indicate that in many places a solid rocky foundation can be found only at depths of about 300 metres making the cost of such a road almost prohibitive. One worker told me that he unloaded a barrel of diesel onto what he thought was a high spot and in about 6 hours it had sunk about half way down in the mire. Bull dozers and other heavy equipment have disappeared if they are parked overnight in these marshy areas.

As I have travelled in this region I notice trees over 100 feet tall, 10 feet wide with no branches except at the very top portion. Most of these are so pithy that they are no good for lumber. Other "Islands" produce good hardwood timber with no knots and impervious to rot or termite damage. This is currently being harvested by chain saws and the people also use chain saws to cut the wood into square blocks and even one inch thick boards for building and construction. It takes a pretty steady hand with the chain saw to do that. Just wish I had a train load of this tough lumber at my ranch to make some corrals.

Along the rivers edges strange viney plants grow among the mangrove forest to 30-40 feet tall. I particularly noticed the common "elephant ears" that I struggled with in Houston when I lived there. In the dry season many, many plants put out the most beautiful flowers you have ever seen. The unusual part is the massiveness of display - 30 - 40 feet tall or even taller. Very few have appreciable odor. Some have sizeable thorns and some have toxic resins which cause you to break out.

The good part about this swamp is that it keeps people and animals from moving through it. In the case of animal disease such as Foot and Mouth Disease, now present in Colombia, it keeps the disease from entering Panama and then moving on up the Peninsula to the United States. WE have over 100 Inspectors in this swamp constantly looking for stray domestic animals and sampling the wild animals of the region. This takes a lot of boats and equipment to establish outposts and be even remotely comfortable. We keep in touch by radio. There are several air strips in use for bringing in supplies. I flew in on a "scheduled airline" once and planned to return to my office the next day. My radio said the airline had decided not to fly until the following week so I decided to walk out. Took a dug out canoe for 5 hours to the nearest point to the "highway" walked through the jungle for another 2 hours after radioing another of my Inspectors to meet me there, and then drove in home over fair to medium road for another 5 hours--12 hours in all--as compared to a 40 minute airplane ride. Enjoyed every minute of the trip!

Commentary

by Myrtle Owen

THE PURPOSE OF CIRCUMSTANCES:- God is a God of circumstances. I am so glad that He is, for life is made up of circumstances. Everyone's life is full of circumstances. Many of the circumstances that we face are God ordained and often may be completely independent of who we are and even whether or not we are serving God...he maketh his sun to rise on evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. (Matt: 5:45) Many of the circumstances of our lives are man-made or selfmade and are brought about through our own actions or those of people and events around us. Some of these circumstances have come upon these dear friends through no fault of their own, and some have come because people are reaping the results of bitter seeds that they themselves have sown by past actions. However, many of the circumstances facing people are things that they have allowed to come into their lives and have allowed to disrupt and disturb their lives because of their lack of understanding of what the circumstances of life are all about. Many are good Christian people who love the Lord, and yet have found themselves "between a rock and a hard place" because they do not know how to cope with the circumstances in which they find themselves. In the natural, many of these situations would be crushing burdens, beyond our ability to cope with or to bear. In fact, a reporter was told of the seriousness of some of the burdens and heartaches about which people told about. "I imagine," the reporter said, "that at times there is no answer to give, when you just don't know what to tell them." We are able to say with all truthfulness, "No, there is never a time that we do not have the answer. There is never a time when we do not know what to tell them no matter what the situation might be." Because, you see, Jesus is the Answer and the Ruler of every circumstance of life. Better than that, He has the answer to overcoming every circumstance of life and enabling us to live lives of glorious victory all the time! Not only is God in control of all of life's circumstances...He even uses circumstances. He deliberately and sovereignly allows circumstances so that He can make His power and glory manifest in the midst of seemingly adverse factors. Let me give you some examples:

When Lazarus was sick and at the point of death and Mary and Martha sent for Jesus. Do you remember what Jesus did? He abode where He was for two more days. By the time He arrived at their house, Lazarus was dead and in the tomb. But because of it, Jesus was able to manifest His glory in a greater way than when the circumstances were less formidable. He had already done many miracles of healing. You might say that healing of the sick was almost commonplace to His ministry...but here He used a seemingly more adverse circumstance...and raised the dead...an even more astounding miracle! (John 11:43-44)

Recipes Worth Collecting

I goofed on the recipe last week, you don't add 1/2 of a coconut, its only 1/2 cup of coconut. I made the pies last week and I omitted the coconut all together, and we really did enjoy them. I'll enjoy the Millionaire pie more in the summer time, its will be cool & refreshing.

Our recipe this week is from Felecia Bibby. We will soon be getting squash from our gardens and she has enjoyed this recipe and wanted to share it with us. Felecia was born in Rising Star and has lived here all her life. Their family business is Bibby's Creations.

HER COOKING HINT: Felecia is a diabetic and uses D-zerta puddings and jello. She sometimes likes to change the taste and will add coconut, crumbled choc. chip cookies, bananas, or vanilla wafers to jazz up the flavor.

SQUASH CORN-BREAD
2 pkg. cornbread mix
2 cups cooked squash drained and mashed
2 eggs
1 teas. salt
1 small chopped onion
Add just enough milk to make mixture thin enough to pour in pan. Bake according to cornbread mix directions.

"Probable Cause" — A Court Problem?

(ED. NOTE: The term "probable cause" is an engima to citizens and law enforcement officers. So often, citizens read or hear of someone "getting off" because of "probable cause," and the question arises "what's that?" A two-part article in the November and December issues of the FBI Bulletin attempted to answer that question, and the following is a condensation of that article. Copies of the original article are in the office of Criminal District Attorney Emory Walton, and most police chiefs in the county have been furnished copies for the training of their personnel. Questions concerning "probable cause" might be directed by D.A. Walton or Assistant D.A. John Hawkins).

PROBABLE CAUSE
In this country before an arrest or "seizure" of a person, or an entering of a home or "search" of property can be done, an arrest or search warrant must be obtained. This requirement stems from the fourth amendment of the Federal Constitution and further states that "warrants may be issued only upon a showing of probable cause."

Though the Supreme Court has continuously stated that in dealing with "probable cause" we deal with "the factual and practical consideration of everyday life on which reasonable and prudent men not legal technicians act", it is far from a simple concept to fully appreciate. Like all legal principals it is interpreted differently in each changing political and social environment, so that "probable cause" in time of world war may be entirely different than that which is required in peacetime. Nevertheless, this article's purpose is not intended as an exhaustive lesson on what is "probable cause", but merely a layman's handguide as to why probable cause is required and what it generally entails. WHY ALL THE CONCERN?

Perhaps there was no political structure more indicative of the need for probable cause than in Nazi Germany, where the mere suspicion that you were a subversive or Jew was sufficient grounds for you to be arrested and your house entered and searched. The political climate was one of fear: neighbor could turn against neighbor and there was nothing to contain the movements of officials acting in the name of law enforcement.

Consider a neighbors claim to the police that you are harboring illegal aliens. It is based on a true desire to see law enforced or upon personal vendetta or perhaps political motive? Who is to decide? After all, as the Supreme Court noted in a landmark decision, law enforcement is a competitive enterprise: it has no effective means of making neutral judgments. Therefore, before an individuals privacy should be compromised there exists the need for "neutral" or judicial oversight and the standards by which this oversight is governed is "probable cause."

WHO DECIDES WHAT PROBABLE CAUSE IS?

Basically probable cause is a judicial determination. Facts are gathered by law enforcement officials and presented to a judge (frequently a Justice of the Peace) who determines if there is sufficient probable cause to issue a warrant. The determination is a legal one, and the Judge must follow standards laid down throughout the years in countless court decisions.

WHAT IS SUFFICIENT TO SHOW PROBABLE CAUSE?

Attached to an application for a warrant, the police must submit an "affidavit" or "sworn statement of facts". This affidavit states the facts the officer believes to be true and the reasoning behind his beliefs. Obviously the knowledge by an officer that he has personally seen drug trafficking would be preferable, but more often the courts are faced with the problem of an affidavit based on "informants' information" or "hearsay" information. An example of this is an anonymous call to the police saying that there are three people next door who are selling drugs.

For the police to act on this tip alone would be unlawful, for again their only job is to ferret or stamp out crime and not to make a "neutral" judgment as to whether the informant's tip justifies "probable cause." Likewise for the police to state to the judge that they have received an anonymous tip that drugs are at a given address would not be sufficient, since the judge would be in no better position than the police to know what the informant is or what his basis is for suspecting drug trafficking.

What the judge needs to know is the factual basis within the informant's mind; he must be placed in the informants shoes and informed of his knowledge and reason for believing there are drugs at that address.

An informants suspicion that people are drug traffickers based on their dress and hair length is not to be considered a sufficient factual basis for issuance of a warrant; neither is the informants second-hand knowledge that he overheard someone else call them a drug dealer. Generally, an informant must have first hand knowledge of the presence of drugs or illegal activity and must fully convey what his eyes and ears have seen and heard to the officer. Secondly, the information must pertain to immediate occurrences, and not based on yesterday's or last weeks happenings.

As important as knowing the informants "factual basis" the Judge must also be informed of the officer's underlying reasoning for believing the informants tip, or that the informant is a credible person with reliable information. Factors which aid the police officer in the presentation of his warrant application to the Judge in this respect are (1) whether the person has supplied information which on previous occasions have proven correct; (2) whether the officer personally knows the informant is a reliable or credible person within the community; of (3) whether similar information has come to his knowledge which "corroborates" of strengthens the likelihood that the informants tip is reliable.

In sum though "probable cause" is not a simple concept to understand it is an important and necessary safeguard to our individual privacy and liberty. It is a legal consideration, and it is

Cotton Insurance Improved by Changes

Major changes have been announced in Crop Insurance policies available to Eastland county cotton growers for 1983, according to Ardell M. Kalmbach, District Director of Federal Crop Insurance. One significant improvement, according to Kalmbach is an increase in the amount of the indemnity paid to policyholders whose cotton crops are damaged or destroyed early in the growing season. Previously, if a loss occurred before the crop had shed its blossoms, the grower was paid as little as 40 percent of the amount the crop was insured for. Under the new provisions, the indemnity payment will be 60 percent of the total insurance amount.

A related change provides for a 100 percent indemnity payment if an insured crop is lost at any time after the blossoms have been shed or 50 or more days after the final planting date for the crop. Still another change, Kalmbach says, will enable cotton growers with a history of above-average yield to obtain increased insurance protection at no additional cost. By providing at least three years of acceptable production records, policyholders can obtain insurance guarantees based on an assumption of then years of higher-than-average yields.

Federal Crop Insurance policies are sold and serviced by private insurance agents who have successfully completed the intensive training and testing program required to obtain FCIC Certification. The policies are written and fully backed by the FCIC which also pays up to 30 percent of the premium cost.

A list of local agents is available by calling 1-800-447-4700.

Social Security News

People in the Big Country area should be aware of the times when they should contact a Social Security office, Glyn Hammons, Social Security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

Knowing when to contact Social Security is important, Hammons said. Sometimes, a delay in applying can mean a permanent loss of benefits. Or, it could mean that checks may be delayed at a time when the income is important.

The first time most people contact Social Security is when they want to apply for a Social Security number. At that time, a person will need proof of age, identity, and citizenship or immigrant status. A person 18 or older must apply in person.

Other times when Social Security should be contacted are:

..When a person becomes disabled, to find out if disability benefits can be paid.

..When a family member dies, to see if survivor benefits can be paid. Also when a widow or widower reaches 60.

..At retirement at 62 or later, to apply for retirement benefits.

..Two or three months before 65 to arrange for Medicare health insurance protection, even if there are no plans for retirement.

..To get the answer to any question about Social Security.

The people at the Abilene Social Security office will be glad to provide all the help a person needs with Social Security. They have many free publications which explain the benefits payable under Social Security.

The Abilene Social Security office is located at 142 S. Pioneer and the telephone number is 698-1360.

Preparing caramel custard by placing the can of sweetened condensed milk in a pan of boiling water is dangerous.

This risky cooking method may cause the can to overheat and explode.

Several popular cook books recently published by clubs and organizations in Texas contain recipes that recommend heating condensed milk in the can.

Numerous inquiries and reported problems have prompted the Extension Service home economists to warn against the use of this method.

To avoid burns as well as spattered stoves and sticky clothes, the Extension Service recommends preparing the caramel custard from sweetened condensed milk as follows:

Preheat oven to 425 degree F. and pour one cup of sweetened milk into an 8-inch glass pie plate. Cover with aluminum foil, place in a shallow pan of hot water and bake for one hour until the milk becomes thick and lightly caramel colored. Remove the foil, cook and use as the recipe recommends.

Most of us are "up" on vitamins, but how about minerals? You may not know, for instance, that you need some minerals in large amounts, and some may be actually harmful.

"Large" amount of a mineral are measured in milligrams, up to one gram (25.8 gms = 1 oz.). These so-called mega-minerals include calcium, phosphorous, sodium, chloride, potassium and magnesium. Where do we get our supply of these mega-vitamins? In foods, naturally!

CALCIUM - (for bones and teeth, plus muscle tone and blood clotting); milk and milk products, green leafy vegetables (except spinach and chard).

PHOSPHOROUS - meat, poultry and whole grain foods - also helps teeth and bones.

SODIUM - table salt (You probably get more than you need!) plus meats, milk, eggs and processed foods - important in body fluids balance.

CHLORIDE - table salt - also a part of the hydrochloric acid found in the gastric juice of the stomach - very important in digestion of food in the stomach.

POTASSIUM - almost all foods, especially high in bananas and orange juice - helps regulate body fluids.

MAGNESIUM - plentiful in most foods (variety in diet important!). Important in converting foods to energy.

But even minerals that the body needs for good health can be harmful if you get too much. For instance, each year many children under five are hospitalized from iron poisoning by accidentally swallowing multiple vitamin supplements - and excess calcium can decrease flexibility of joints. Taking too much of one mineral may upset the balance and function of other minerals in the body.

The harmful minerals, such as lead and mercury, are fortunately not a grave threat to the general population. The adverse effects of these minerals are less with adequate intakes of zinc, iron, copper, calcium and asorbic acid (vitamin C). In other words, a normal diet!

Minerals are important - so eat a variety of foods for a balanced diet and "Feel Nutrific!"

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK:

Mrs. Troy Cross, of Eastland, shared a good recipe for Raised Hot Cakes. Betty stated her family and friends have enjoyed this recipe for years. Betty told me she got this recipe some years ago from her Girl Scout Camping Cookbook.

RAISED HOT CAKES

The night before, mix:
2 packages dry yeast
6 teaspoons sugar
2 cups warm milk
Mix in a bowl. Do not refrigerate.

In the morning, add:
4 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons shortening
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon soda

Cook as you would pancakes. Betty said they are also delicious if you put a slice of ham in skillet and brown on one side, then as you turn the ham over, pour batter on top and finish cooking your hot cakes.

Senior Center News

The Senior Citizens had a "lala-palooza" of a valentine-birthday party, last night. Alva and Dell Bibb were hosts, and were so very gracious. Everyone was in a festive mood, making it one of the top events of the year, thus far.

The center was gayly decorated with a profusion of red valentine hearts, white lace and bows. It is surely an amazing thing how such lovely, lively valentine decorations can take us "older" folks back, in memories to our High School years and our carefree Valentine Sweetheart parties!

In the same vein, a special recognition and word of appreciation shall go to our good friend and "honorary member," Sue Vandiver, for the lovely valentine flowers which she sent to the center. They found the place of honor on the serving table. We are so proud of Sue and grateful for the beautiful things she has done for the Senior Citizens. She is a gracious woman with a gift for creating things of beauty, a gift for loving folks, a gift for demonstrating that love in many warm and joyous ways, actually, Sue has a gift for living and for making others enjoy and appreciate life. She is one in a million and we are so very glad she is part of our home folks in Rising Star.

This afternoon we of the Starbrite Band, are to play for the Rising Star Nursing Home. We are looking forward to seeing our good friends there, and hope they enjoy our musical efforts, too.

That's the news-See you on Thursday. Adios, Amigos-Elizabeth.

P. S. Don't forget, we will draw names Thursday for new Secret Pals. All the pals, for the last 3 months, were revealed at the party. So, if you want to take part, again, be sure to get your name in, Thursday.

Chuck Temple Opens Plumbing Business

Chuck Temple moved to Rising Star from Lubbock about three weeks ago with his wife, Valeria, and their three-year-old son, Christopher. Now that the family is settling in, Chuck is starting a plumbing repair business.

Valeria is the daughter of Ray Green, minister at the local Church of Christ. Chuck has completed two years of study at the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock.

Chuck grew up in the Air Force, moving around the country frequently with his family, as often happens to those with service-related careers. Preachers' families don't usually spend a lifetime in one place either, so Valeria has that background experience in common with her husband.

Ready to settle in one place now, Chuck wants to try to apply to everyday life what he learned at Sunset School of Preaching.

For plumbing repair, he can be reached at 643-3315; the name of his new business is C T Plumbing.

IRS Notes

Taxpayers who become sick or injured on the job and receive sick pay benefits from their employer must include the payments as income on their federal tax return, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The payments are taxable whether they were made directly by the employer or from a welfare fund, a state sickness or disability fund or an insurance company, provided the plan was paid for by the employer.

Benefits received under an accident or health insurance policy for which the employee paid the premiums are not considered taxable by the IRS.

More information on sick pay benefits is contained in the free IRS Publication 525, "Taxable and Nontaxable Income," which can be ordered on the handy order form in the tax package.
