County Commissioners

County Addressing Incomplete

This picturesque bridge on the South Fork of the Leon River is one of the five in the County which Commissioners hope to replace soon. Located on CR 180 in Precinct 4, this structure has been undermined by too much flooding.

Under a Texas Department of Transportation Program, Federal funds will pay 80 percent of the cost of replacing this bridge and four others listed as "high priority."

The Eastland County Commissioners Court Monday heard a report by Precinct 1 Commissioner Richard Robinson on the 9-1-1 system in the County.

Robinson said: "I called Venita Roach (Eastland Postmaster and 9-1-1 P.O. Coordinator) at the Post Office and told her to put the address changing "on hold" until we can get some kind of system worked out on private roads in the County."

Robinson continued: "I've about decided to address the homes in this way - with the first one on each road designated 'Lot One', the next 'Lot 2' and so on.

"I've talked to the telephone company (Southwestern Bell) and they thought they could live with that."

This latest report from Robinson was one of a series detailing some of the problems remaining with the 9-1-1 addressing.

The System actually went 'On Line' at the County Dispatch last May, with residences in all cities, on major roads and most county roads numbered and addressed.

But Robinson and others continued to discover that the Company hired to do the addressing (Jedco Designs Inc.) had apparently overlooked some private roads and other areas.

On Oct. 13 Robinson told the Court that attempts to get Jedco personnel back for more work had failed, since the Company had sold.

Monday's report indicated that Robinson had been able to get more of Lottie Mae Roach was among the local residents who greeted Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-Texas) as he campaigned here last Thursday morning for re-election from the 17th District.

by Wid Keeling
Wildcat Tales Staff

The Wildcats hosted the Baird Bears last Friday night. It was a very intense game throughout.

The Bears scored first in the game to take the lead. Jarod Horton then ran the Cats only touch-down of the game to bring the half time score to 13-6.

The second half the Cats did very well even though they were not able to score again. The game ended in a 23-6 victory for the Bears.

The Cats district record is now 1-2. For a chance of a playoff spot, the Cats will have to win the rest of their games.

The Wildcats will play Cross Plains there Friday night at 7:30. Be sure to come out and show your support.

VOTE November 3

If you are a registered voter in Precinct 7 and did not receive your registration card, you may call Nancy Trout at 1-629-1564 at the Eastland Courthouse and one will be mailed to you. You may also go by her office and pick one up.

It is very important that you have your card in hand when you come in to vote. It will speed things up for you as a voter and help the workers, too.

Friday, October 30, will be the last day for early voting at the Eastland Courthouse. You do not have to have a reason to vote early.

The ballots will be a little different this year. They have to be marked with a special pen which will be provided for each voter. The ballots will be counted by a machine this year in Eastland. A sample ballot was printed in this newspaper in the October 22 edition. Remember to vote!

Jones And Company Opens 2,000th Office

St. Louis-In 1955, the opening of the first Edward D. Jones and Co. office in a second-floor clothes closet above the Mexico, Mo., Woolworth's store marked the beginning of a legacy. When Edward D. "Ted" Jones Jr., son of the firm's founder, opened that first office, little did he know that the company would grow to become the largest in the financial-services industry in terms of number of offices.

The firm that's often referred to as the McDonald's of the financial-services industry is celebrating this growth and the opening of its 2,000th office today, October 16, 1992.

"In 1986, we celebrated the opening of our 1,000th office, and in just six years, our number of locations has doubled," said John Bachmann, managing principal of the firm. "The dedication of our associates, and the support of our friends and customers have all contributed to this milestone, and we're extremely proud of that achievement."

For more than a decade, Edward D. Jones and Co. has led the industry in terms of number of offices - Merrill Lynch has 510 branches. The opening of Edward D. Jones and Co.'s 2,000th office will cement the firm's position as one of the leaders in the brokerage field.

"Jones operates in a niche that's all its own - selling securities in suburban neighborhoods and other areas where investors may not have convenient access to personalized investment services," said Jim M. Bruton, the Eastland representative for the firm.

Bachmann added, "Our investment representatives are members of the communities where they work. For many of our clients, one-on-one, personalized investment information would be difficult, if not impossible, to get if Jones were not there."

At Edward D. Jones and Co., investors don't find high-rise offices staffed by brokers working the phones. Rather, most of the offices are individually staffed with one investment representative and one office administrator.

They are supported by one of the most sophisticated private satellite networks in the country. Each office is equipped with a satellite dish and computer that allows a customer to buy or sell securities and know the price, including commissions, in a little as 20 seconds. "Our service is as fast as, and in some cases, faster than service on Wall Street," Bachmann said.

Another unique aspect of Jones' business is that its brokers don't work the phones; they work face to face. After an extensive training program, new Jones representatives spend their first several months calling on people face to face in the communities where their offices will ultimately be located.

"They make more than 1,000 door-to-door, face-to-face calls before they can even open an office," Bachmann said. "We want our brokers out where the people of the community can take their measure and decide if they are the kind of people they want to do business with."

Until the 1980's, Jones offices were typically in small towns with names like Broken Bow, Neb.; Walla Walla, Wash., and Thief River Falls, Minn. With the arrival of the '80's, the firm began targeting urban and suburban areas with the same one-person-office concept. "We have found that investors who like to do business face-to-face and who appreciate our investment philosophy live in urban areas as in rural communities," Bachmann said. Today, more than 40 percent of the firm's offices are in metropolitan locations.

The Eastland office is located at 107 West Main, (817) 629-3851.

Now Is Best Time To Refinance Home Mortgage

With today's home mortgage interest rates the lowest in more than two decades, a wave of refinancing activity has hit the nation's mortgage companies. The interest rate "limbo stick" currently hovers around 8 percent. Inviting as today's rates are, some homeowners may wonder if they should refinance now or wait for rates to drop further.

"Take the plunge and refinance," says Jack C. Harris, research economist with the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University. "Because interest rates are not predictable, no one is certain where rates will end up even in the short term. By waiting to refinance, you may get a slightly better rate. But because you will be making higher payments while waiting, any savings will be marginal."

A borrower also may wonder if applying for an adjustable-rate mortgage (ARM) instead of a fixed-rate mortgage (FRM) is a wise move. Most ARMs are offered with first-year rates from one half to three percentage points lower than FRMs. Thereafter, the interest rate on most ARMs is adjusted annually based on a selected index of prevailing market interest rates. So an ARM's rate may go up—or down.

"Generally, people want to know whether they are making the right decision. That's why investors have devised various strategies to forecast interest rates. Despite extensive research, however, no consistently effective strategy has been developed."

In a recent study, Harris constructed strategies based on selected economic indicators and applied them to hypothetical refinancing decisions involving mortgage interest data from 1968 to 1990. Using indexes such as the stock market, money supply, government securities (T-bonds and T-bills) and business cycle flux, he tested each strategy to see how well it indicated the "correct" financing decision during the 22-year period.

Says Harris, "No strategy was reliable for the entire period, although several strategies worked well some of the time. None were as effective as simply choosing to refinance immediately rather than wait for a lower interest rate."

He adds "Loan refinancing decisions involve more than interest rates. Emphasis should be on projected savings compared to refinancing costs. Because it takes about two to three years to recoup refinancing costs, homeowners first should consider how long they expect to be in their present home."

Harris' study is explained in more detail in his 18-page report Timing a Home Mortgage, available for $1 from the Real Estate Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115. Request publication NR-946 and add $1 handling per order.

The Real Estate Center was created in 1971 by the Texas Legislature to meet the needs of many audiences, including the real estate industry, instructors, researchers and the general public. The Center's comprehensive program of research and education yields publications, audiovisuals and computer software distributed widely under the slogan "Solutions Through Research."

Halloween Double Feature At Majestic This Weekend

The Majestic Theatre in Eastland has planned a Halloween weekend double feature, billing two films appropriate to the season. The first feature on the bill, a 1992 Twentieth Century-Fox release: "Buffy the Vampire Slayer," will be teamed with the 1974 Fox film: "Young Frankenstein." A classic Warner Bros. color cartoon will also be shown.

The decision to book these two films, according to Ed Allcorn, manager of the Majestic, stemmed from the desire to provide appropriate family entertainment for Halloween. "Most of the new Halloween movies are rated 'R' this year and we wanted to give adults and their kids something that all of them could appreciate and enjoy," Allcorn said.

The double feature will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening, beginning Friday, October 30, and will run through Monday, November 2. As always, lower floor tickets for ages 4 and up are $3.50. Balcony tickets may be purchased for $5.00 by adults over age 21.

Fishing Outdoors

by Terry Wilson

A quick recap of our article on the Texas Big Game Award Scorers. These individuals will only be scoring heads which are taken during the current deer season 1992-93.

The Anglers Choice Pro Am held at Lake Lam Rayburn in east Texas showed everyone that fishing can be tough anywhere. The first day pro leaders were Don Taylor of Nacadoches, Tx with 23.06. This included the first day big bass on the pro side of 8.08. Second, Jay Yelas of Jasper 17.16. Third, Bruce Benedict of Forney 16.14. Fourth, Alan Conner of Weatherford 15.11. Fifth, Bill Guillory of Houston 15.07. Sixth, Harold Allen of Milan 14.90.

On the amateur side Albert Collins of San Augustine, Tx led with 17.10. Second, Don Johnson of Katy, Tx 8.77.

Due to the extreme drive I did not get the complete overall, but first day leader was Don Taylor, weighed 12.35 the second day. Second place, first day angler Jay Yelas had 10.47 on day two.

The anglers all contributed most of their catches to Slug O's and slick baits in 2'-8" of hydrilla mate. Don Taylor, the leader, reported using crankbaits on the river channel in the Attoyach Arm. Complete results will be available next week.

Antlerless Deer Permits to be Issued

Following is a list of antlerless deer permit issuance dates and locations where antlerless permits will be issued to landowners who have not already received them by mail. Halloween Safety Tips

Parents need to be certain their children follow a few, simple safety tips this Halloween so that the festive occasion turns out to be a happy and healthy event.

"Supervised Parties at home or school are the safest way for children to enjoy Halloween," said Charles L. Branton, head of the Product Safety Program at the Texas

Department of Health (TDH). --

He warned that if small children go trick-or-treating, they should be accompanied by an adult. The adult should carry a flashlight to show the way and to make the children more visible to motorists.

Branton offered these additional safety tips:

* For clear vision, use make-up, instead of masks.

* When buying a costume, look for the label stating it is fire-resistant. Costumes should be brightly colored, and dark colored ones should have fluorescent or reflective tape on them.

* Teach children not to eat any treats before bringing them home for examination by an adult. Remember, many hospitals offer free X-raying of treats.

* Keep children out of the street and never let them run between parked cars. Parents should control the amount of treats children eat to avoid stomach aches and indigestion.

Branton said that children should stop only at homes with outside lighting and not enter the home of anyone they do not know.

He has some safety tips for homeowners, as well. "Homeowners welcoming trick-or-treaters should turn on their porch lights, restrain their dogs and clear the lawn of objects that a trick-or-treater might trip over," he said. In addition, jack-o-lanterns and other candle-lit devices should be kept away from doorsteps and walkways to prevent igniting a costume.

Anyone wishing more information about Halloween safety can call the TDH Product Safety program at 512/458-7519.

Judge Charles Baird Visits Area

Judicial Candidate seeks re-election

Judge Charles F. (Charlie) Baird, who was elected to the Court of Criminal Appeals in 1990, was in town today to discuss his re-election campaign.

The Court of Criminal Appeals, the State's highest criminal court, hears appeals of criminal cases from the State's fourteen Courts of Appeals, and makes final determinations concerning criminal laws, including death penalty cases. Terms on the Court are normally six years; however Judge Baird is facing re-election in 1992 because he was elected to an unexpired term.

As the election draws near, Judge Baird has continued to travel throughout Texas maintaining contact with the citizens. "Too many judges lose contact," Judge Baird said during his visit. "I believe staying in touch with the people is one of the most important activities a judge can undertake."

The Judge continued, "During my travels, I have learned that Texans are tired of the guilty being on the streets during the appellate process and the innocent having to wait months or even years to get their record cleared. That is why I made speeding up the appellate process my top priority. I have worked very hard to reduce the amount of time a case is on appeal by writing more than 165 opinions in only nineteen months."

Judge Charles F. (Charlie) Baird
Court of Criminal Appeals

The 1992 session for the Court of Criminal Appeals ended June 24th. "I am especially proud that during this recently concluded session, I wrote more opinions than any other Judge on the Court in spite of my hectic campaign schedule." Judge Baird added, "Those opinions are not just numbers, they represent people's lives. Whether it is speeding up the process to remove criminals from our streets, or insuring every Texan a fair trial, resolving the cases quickly benefits all Texans. This is what I was elected to do and what I will continue to do if re-elected."

"On the average, a case assigned to me is resolved in just forty-five days," Judge Baird continued. "I believe cases can be handled efficiently without affecting the quality of the opinion. Obviously, those reading my opinions agree. Recently I was rated outstanding by 70% of the voting members of the Houston Bar Association."

"I am here to listen to the complaints and take suggestions from the people about how the court system may better serve Texas. While a judge's duty is to apply the Constitution and statutory laws of this State, and that cannot depend on public opinion, I am always open to new ideas on how the Court can respond to the public. Taking criminals off the street by speeding up the appellate process is the best way I can think of for a judge to address the public's concerns," Baird concluded.

4-H teaches good health through Food and Nutrition. (Racheal Bush, Tabitha Barnhart, Brandi Goldston)

Adult Leaders: Peggy Agnew, Shelly Bailey, Kathy Bush, Judi Butler, Paula Collins, Denise Emert, Nanette Goldston, Sue Janes, Dena Knight, Jeanie Schaefer, Von Dene Willett

4-H offers opportunities to acquire knowledge, to develop life skills and to form attitudes toward becoming self-directing, productive and contributing members of society.

Tiffany Savage

I like 4-H because it gives me some education and fun experiences. In every unit you learn a great amount of stuff.

Because of my 4-H experiences, I have learned how to perform in front of an audience, and how to cook certain foods. I also learned how to be a good historian to my club.

The highlight of my 4-H work has been my method demonstration. I placed third in district level in the clothing division.

Toward preparing for my future: I will have some background on public speaking. I will be able to cook for my family. I will know about how to be a historian.

In 4-H you get to learn about stuff you will need to know in life. 4-H is a club that will shape you into being the best you can be. This will help you make it in the world.

Jared Janes

I like 4-H because I get to try new things. I made candy and I never made candy before.

In my 4-H experiences I have learned to work as part of a group.

Getting my first show lamb has been the highlight of my 4-H work.

4-H is teaching me to care about my community before I get older.

Dedria Emert

I like 4-H because I have the chance to be a part in a worthwhile organization and to meet new people and gain new friends while having fun.

Because of my 4-H experiences I have learned the importance of leadership, co-operation and working together for a good cause. Leadership opportunities are the highlight of my 4-H work.

4-H has given me self-confidence and goals for my future that I have set.

Learning experiences, challenges, a chance to take part in things you are interested in, and just finding yourself are some advantages of being in 4-H.

Brandi Goldston

I like 4-H because we show animals and do experiences. We learn new things. With my 4-H experience I learned that it takes a lot of responsibility to be a 4-Her and show animals.

The highlight of my 4-H work was to get picked 3rd vice-president.

Writing record books is teaching me to keep records, which helps prepare me for the future.

Advantages of 4-H are that you learn new things and make new friends.

4-H teaches members to share information. (Judy Ware)

4-H develops community pride through cleanup projects. (Blair Bailey, Holly Butler)

Tabitha Barnhart

I like 4-H because it's fun and a great opportunity to learn a lot.

In 4-H I have learned food, nutrition and to go by safety rules because of how important they are.

My highlight in 4-H has been food and nutrition—I went to workshops and learned.

4-H is preparing me for the future because if I learn the proper way of eating I won't grow up to be overweight.

The advantages of being in 4-H are to know how to grow up and be smart because of all you've learned in 4-H and pass it down to the next generation of kids.

Lacy Knight

I like 4-H because I like to learn new things and take part. It's fun to learn new things.

In 4-H I have learned I can do things I never did before. It is a highlight for me when I win on something I did or made. 4-H is giving me more confidence in myself.

I think 4-H helps you find out things about yourself, like being able to make something or do something you never knew you could do. It makes you feel good.

Justin Janes

I like 4-H because I like to show lambs so I can learn more about them. I also like to do community services for Rising Star.

With my 4-H experiences I have learned to be a better citizen, a better public speaker and a better competitor.

Working with and showing my lambs at the county show in Eastland after the local show in Rising Star have been the highlights of my 4-H work.

4-H teaches me to be more responsible and ready for the life ahead of me.

An advantage of 4-H is that it teaches me about things I might not learn about if I were not in 4-H.

Richard O'Connor

I like 4-H because I can be in a lot of fun and games. My 4-H experience includes how to milk cows.

The highlight of my 4-H work has been selling hog chances and being able to get to go to camp some summers.

In preparing for my future, 4-H shows me how to work on things.

In 4-H you get out and get to do something instead of staying at home.

Even though he's only weeks old, this calf has a lot of power behind him. And a lot of green pastures ahead.

Meeting the electricity needs of Texans today is a real challenge. While maintaining respect for the environment, we must balance cost and reliability without becoming dependent on any one fuel. That's why in the early 1980s, a group of electric cooperatives got together to build a power plant that uses a local fuel resource, lignite coal. Today, this efficient scrubber-equipped plant provides 400 megawatts of low-cost power to homes and businesses served by cooperatives in 91 Texas counties. Keeping our commitment to the environment in mind, we are also making sure that we put things back better than the way we found them. The land reclamation program at this plant's mine is turning what was once a cactus and mesquite patch into a grassy, productive home for livestock and wildlife.

The first after-school basketball practices were on Monday, October 26. The JV and Varsity both worked hard and enjoyed their first day of intense workout. Coaches Dan Goodman and Debbie Bacon have high hopes for the girls and everyone is looking to have a great season.

Catnip

by Christy Hughes

As usual, the Jr. High girls have had a very hectic week. They have been preparing for basketball, and they have been getting ready for the Football Sweetheart game, which will be tonight, as the Jr. Cats host Cross Plains. The Sweetheart pep rally will be this afternoon at 1:00 in the gym.

This year the girls' basketball coach is Mrs. Debbie Bacon. They claim that she is very strict right now, but they hope that she will slack off once the girls start winning their games. And believe me, these girls do not plan on just playing basketball—they are out to win! This much-prepared-for basketball season opens on November 16, when the girls travel to Lingleville, with the game beginning at 6:30 p.m. Good luck, ladies!

Nonnie's News

The Rising Star Jr. Cats went up against the Baird Bears last week. The score ended up with Baird leading 24-0. I heard from a lot of Jr. Cats that Jason Rutledge did a great job filling in the quarterback position. Good job, keep up the good work, and next week will be better.

Thursday, October 29, will be the RSJH Sweetheart game against Cross Plains. Be there to find out who gets Football Sweetheart and Beau.

Circus excitement was rampant in Rising Star elementary school Monday morning. The children enjoyed a visit by the magician and clown from Allen Bros. Circus, scheduled to perform here Wednesday evening. The pair also visited in May and Cross Plains.

Dear Rutherford

If I was in a locked cage with a hungry lion, would he eat my head or feet first?

Claustrophobic

I think that the lion would start at your head because that's probably where he killed you. I'm not sure about this.

Please answer this question, for it worries me. If I had a chicken bone stuck in my throat, would that classify me as choking?

P.S. Can dogs drink coffee?

Might be choking.

I think you should be classified as choking. As to your question about the dog: No, dogs cannot drink coffee; coffee contains caffeine which is very bad for dogs. It will not kill them but it will make them very sick.

Pioneer Patchwork

On Tuesday the quilters worked on the Improved Nine Patch and the Wedding Ring. Another quilt was put into the frames to work on this week; it appears to be a modified Nine Patch.

The Annual Harvest Supper observance at Pioneer community clubhouse will be at 6:00 p.m. Thursday, October 29.

The past week and this one Jean Fore's guests were Vi Harlow and Paul and Juanita Harlow of Lovington, N.M. They were here for their school reunion in Brownwood Oct. 16 and 17, and they enjoyed a few days' visit in Arlington with Grason and Myrtle Harlow, a nephew and wife. While they were here, Juanita's sister-in-law's mother, Zera Everett, passed away and they attended the funeral in Brownwood.

Interment was in Cross Plains cemetery. Jean and her guests also attended the funeral of Jean's sister-in-law (Pete's sister) Estelle Huntington; she was buried in Pioneer Cemetery. The community was saddened by Estelle's decease and do extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family. Jean and Vi also went to Boerne and visited with Bessie McDaniel, their sister, and with other family members, including Doris Hunter and Buddy and Linda McDaniel. They celebrated Bessie's 92nd birthday while there. Jean went with Paul and Juanita to the Rising Star musical Friday night and to the Echo musical on Saturday night.

Senior Citizens Center

Thursday, October 22, was a lovely, cool morning at the center. A group enjoyed several 42 games.

Mary Carroll was back at the club after visiting her sister, Mrs. Dowell West, in Abilene; Mrs. West has not been well lately.

The October birthday luncheon is Thursday, October 29. Come and enjoy the day with us and help us give birthday wishes to Sula Harris, Ladell Key and Charles Rutherford.

Belinda West had a get together for family members to honor Oliver West (Oct. 19) and Olivia West (Oct. 17). The West and Hutchinson families enjoyed the lovely sandwiches and salads.

Marion and Marjorie West attended the graveside funeral services for Eddie Joe Tischler at May cemetery Sunday afternoon. He was killed in an auto accident; he was a longtime friend of the West family.

Edith Bostick was at the luncheon Thursday after being absent for several months after her heart surgery.

Betty Raybon and Wanda and Ronny Burns spent the weekend with her sons, Robert, Calvin and Garry Evans, in Tomball. Lucille and Weldon Stillwell of Fort Worth spent Wednesday night with Marion and Marjorie West, and had lunch at the center Thursday.

Joe and Evelyn Ward attended a family reunion at Gonzales last weekend. A headstone was installed at Evelyn's brother's grave in McNeil cemetery, then they went on to Zapata to visit her daughter-in-law and children. On the way back they visited family in Kerrville. "We found the country as dry everywhere we went as it is here," Evelyn said.

Gene and Reba Lyon came to the center Thursday in response to a request for information about the ambulance service. The Senior Citizens Center will give a benefit luncheon of chili or stew, dessert and drink on Friday, November 20, with a bake sale being held in conjunction with the meal. We hope a lot of people will buy goodies for Thanksgiving. All proceeds will go to the ambulance fund.

Sallie and Ray Hutchinson spent last weekend in Arlington with their daughter, Priscilla Clark, and family.

GFWC Saturday Club

The Saturday Club met Wednesday, October 21. The clubroom and library were colorfully decorated in fall and Halloween colors. Members of the Fine Arts Committee had arranged a display of items gleaned from the area. Titled "Nature's Best," the produce included peanuts, pecans, vegetables and bottled honey.

Guest Jo Beth Winters of Kerrville and guest artist Frances Taylor of Cross Plains were introduced and welcomed.

Lenell Henry introduced Mrs. Taylor, who has worked professionally designing and executing floral displays. Using the "Nature's Best" theme, Mrs. Taylor brought in an armful of natural and cultivated grains and grasses. She had sprayed the items with a clear acrylic to obtain a gloss and preserve the seeds and leaves.

Explaining each step as she worked, Frances built the tall fronds into a framework to fit a basket made by tying together two grapevine wreaths. She finished the large buffet arrangement by making a focal point of Indian corn, silk flowers and berries. She showed us how to cover holes and unattractive stems with the use of dried moss. Lastly she placed the entire basket in a large flat wicker basket. This arrangement could now be used to serve fresh fruit, cheeses, etc.

Following the interesting demonstration, hostesses Pearl Anderson, Polly Price and Lenell Henry donned witches' hats and served refreshments to members and guests. A Halloween motif was carried out in paper ware and goodies.

Our next meeting will be November 18. WTU Home Economist Linda Caton will be the guest speaker.

Why Does The Texas Farm Bureau Endorse Jane Nelson For State Senate?

Ask Kittie Nelson, she's been a Farm Bureau Member since 1943.

My granddaughter, Jane Nelson, is running for State Senate. She's a mature 41 year old lady who knows firsthand the value of hardwork and common sense. She has farmers on both sides of her family tree.

Jane won the endorsement of the Texas Farm Bureau this past summer at a meeting in Stephenville attended by Farm Bureau representatives from every county in State Senate District 22 except Denton & Tarrant counties. At that meeting, Jane and Mr. Glasgow both interviewed for the Farm Bureau's endorsement. Jane won the endorsement by a 3 to 1 margin.

Jane is also endorsed by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry.

On the other hand, Mr. Glasgow had only a 43% Farm Bureau rating on agricultural issues. (The lowest rating of any rural State Senator.) He missed a lot of votes too, and voted against the working families of District 22 by supporting higher taxes and a state income tax. He is a criminal defense lawyer and was also the only state senator in Texas to vote against life without parole for capital murderers. Last April, Glasgow even defended marijuana growers in Granbury. Glasgow was also refused an endorsement by the NRA because he had voted for gun control legislation in the past.

I've spent my entire working life on a farm, & feel qualified and honored to recommend Jane Nelson to be our next State Senator.

"Value. Their rates are competitive and help you get great value for your money. Your agent can help you plan for the future with a wide range of products. Life Insurance, Annuities, IRA's, Mortgage Cancellation, Disability Income, Whole Life ... you name it. No wonder Americans from every walk of life depend on Farm Bureau Insurance."

the county tied into the system in spite of difficulty on private roads. When the 9-1-1 addressing is complete the Postal Service plans to reassign all rural residences these new addresses.

In more 9-1-1 business, the Court authorized Robinson to purchase a laptop computer to use in his work with the System. It is expected to cost around $900, and money for the purchase will come from the current 9-1-1 budget. Robinson will continue to work on the 9-1-1 system after his term as Commissioner expires Jan. 1.

On another matter, overcrowding at the County Jail seemed to be causing problems. County Judge Scott Bailey reported on a letter received from Sheriff Ronnie White and Dawn Beckett, Jail Administrator.

The letter informed County Officials that because of overcrowding, inmate visitation schedules would change starting Nov. 1.

After that date, visitors will be allowed Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8-10 a.m. and 2-4 p.m. Currently visitors are allowed Monday through Friday.

Inmate meals will be served at 5 a.m., 11 a.m. and 6:15 p.m.

Precinct 4 Commissioner Reggie Pittman reported that 25 prisoners were in the Jail, down from 39 about ten days ago. Of these, 20 are waiting for trial. Three have been held more than 60 days and four more than 90 days.

The Texas Jail Standards Commission has set 24 as the number of inmates allowed.

On another agenda item, the Commissioners discussed the five off-system bridges in the county which they hope to replace soon.

Federal funds will pay for 80 percent of the construction, with the county paying for 20 percent plus engineering costs. Two of these bridges are in Precinct 4, with one each in Precinct 1, 2 and 3.

McCoy's Takes Part in Red Ribbon Week

"Mac," the McCoy cowboy, pins a ribbon on one of a group of kids who know how to "Say No to Drugs." During Red Ribbon Week, McCoy's will distribute free imprinted red ribbons as our community joins America's war on drugs.

Sponsored by the National Federation of Parents, the Red Ribbon Campaign is a project that links via red ribbons millions of Americans who are convinced that the war on drugs is winnable. It is a grassroots effort which is helping to change attitudes about drugs.

The Red Ribbon Campaign originated when Federal Agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The Red Ribbon became the national symbol to reduce the demand for drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages in Iran and the POWs in North Vietnam.

During Red Ribbon Week, October 24 through November 3, communities will participate in activities designed to promote a drug free America. By wearing a red ribbon, individuals can create positive peer pressure about drug-free choices. It is the rallying point for millions of children and adults who share the commitment to live healthy lives unhampered by substance abuse.

As a drug-free company, McCoy's Building Supply Centers are proud to be a part of the Red Ribbon Campaign. Beginning October 26 while quantities last, your nearest McCoy's will distribute free imprinted red ribbons and encourage customers to join the nation in promoting a drug free America.

Robbie Rigsby

Dear Concerned Texan,

How many times have you asked yourself, "Why doesn't somebody do something about the runaway crime in Texas?" As a senior citizen who is afraid to go out at night, who has had my car stolen numerous times, and who lost a family member to a criminal act, I have asked this same question to myself for the past 30 years.

You probably do not know me, but you might remember reading about my daughter, Susan Rigsby, a 21 year old U. T. student who was brutally attacked, raped and strangled by recently released convict James Cross.

I am writing to you because this same cold blooded murderer who killed my daughter and one of her friends, Shirley Stark, was released from prison just two weeks ago with the help of your incumbent State Senator Bob Glasgow.

State Senator Glasgow, who also happens to be a criminal defense lawyer, had previously helped get James Cross out of prison on a furlough and last year on May 3, 1991, Mr. Glasgow stood up on the Senate floor in Austin and said that the double murder/rape committed by James Cross, when Cross was 23 years old, was a trivial crime committed by a "kiddo who made a mistake when he was a youngster."

Why are convicted murder/rapists like James Cross and Kenneth McDuff being released to walk the streets of Texas? It's because politicians like Mr. Glasgow are passing laws against our wishes in Austin to let hardened criminals go free. In fact, thanks to Mr. Glasgow, James Cross will even get back his right to vote!

In fact, Mr. Glasgow voted against capital punishment for child murderers and was the only State Senator in Texas to vote against life without parole for capital murderers.

Why have your newspapers not reported this? How can Mr. Glasgow say with a clear conscience that he is tough on crime in light of his public record and the fact that he defends criminals for a living?

Shocking too, is the fact that Mr. Glasgow is still busy putting murderers back on the streets. In fact, this past September, Mr. Glasgow plea bargained a capital murder case in Granbury and got a man who strangled his girlfriend to death a reduced sentence which could put this murderer back on the streets in 10 years. The victim left behind four children.

James Cross smirked and smiled when the jury sentenced him in 1966 to life in prison. Two weeks ago, that same idiot's smile was on his face again when he walked out of the prison doors a free man. Why are we allowing the criminals to laugh at us?

We must do something to stop this revolving prison door. This year we should elect people to office who share this frustration. People who believe in the death penalty for capital murders and who believe in keeping violent criminals in prison and off our streets. People like Jane Nelson.

As you may know, Jane is running for the Texas Senate against Mr. Glasgow. I have spoken with Jane about her views on crime. Jane is a mother who is concerned about her children's safety, the safety of her parents and her grandparents and her own safety in a state where a life sentence could mean as little as 6 years in prison.

Jane is strongly for the death penalty for capital murderers. Jane is strongly for abolishing parole for drug offenses, too. (Mr. Glasgow also voted in 1987 for early parole for most drug crimes.)

Also, Jane Nelson is not a criminal defense lawyer. She is a business woman who believes in victims rights. Jane believes that the State has a responsibility to lock up murderers and keep them from killing and hurting others.

Most importantly, Jane Nelson believes that we can do something about our crime problem. I lost my daughter 27 years ago but despite the pain my family and I have endured, and despite the slap in the face we received when my daughter's murderer was released from prison, I have not and will not give up on believing that we can do something about our crime problem.

You and I must do our part. Help me see that another killer is not turned loose from our prisons. As I mentioned earlier, Mr. Glasgow was the only State Senator to vote against life without parole for capital murderers. If there is only one incumbent State Senator who is not re-elected this fall, please make sure it's Mr. Glasgow.

I sincerely and wholeheartedly recommend Jane Nelson to your for the Texas Senate on November 3rd.

Respectfully yours,
 Robbie Rigsby

Texans Need To Show Social Security Card To Renew Driving Licenses

Beginning November 1, Texans applying for a driver's license and persons renewing their license or seeking a duplicate will need to show their Social Security card, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Social Security numbers already are required for Commercial Driver's Licenses, which the DPS began issuing in September 1990.

"We think this new policy will make it harder for an individual to fraudulently obtain a driver's license," explained DPS Driver's License Inspector John Hall. "This should pay off by reducing crimes where a fake identification is important, like hot check cases. It also should make it much more difficult for a minor to obtain a license with an incorrect year of birth."

Only Social Security cards issued by the federal Social Security Administration will be accepted, Hall said.

"I realize almost everyone knows his Social Security number by heart, but we need to see the actual card issued by the U.S. government, not a commercially-produced metal or 'flea market' card," the inspector said. "If you do not have the government-issued card, income tax documents, W-2 forms, payroll or other employer records may be presented."

Applicants for DPS

Identification Cards also will be asked for a Social Security card, but it is not a requirement for the ID card, Hall said.

The Inspector said Social Security numbers would not be printed on driver's licenses and were for DPS internal use only.

Signs explaining the new policy will be posted in DPS Driver's License offices across the state, he added.

Oil And Gas Statistics

Texas preliminary July crude oil production averaged 1,628 barrels daily, down from the 1,722,795 barrels daily average of July 1991.

The preliminary Texas oil production figure for July is 50,497,691 barrels, down from the 53,424,548 barrels reported in July, 1991.

Texas oil and gas wells produced 488,591,185 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas in July, up 9.02 percent compared to July 1991's gas production total of 448, 448,179,791

Mcf. Texas gas production in July came from 178,758 oil and 45,945 gas wells.

Figures reported from Eastland County for July, 1992 were 808,780 Mcf total gas production and 62,542 barrels of crude oil.

Reported from Callahan County for July were 233,240 Mcf total gas production and 72,052 barrels of crude oil.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
The closer we get to the FINAL COUNTDOWN of this election year, the more important it is that we PRAY earnestly, consistently, and unselfishly for GOD'S HIGHEST WILL to be done! If we are sincere, we do want what is best for all America!

Let me challenge all Christians - actually all who read this letter, if you will, to look up and read the following scriptures, Psalms 33:12 and Proverbs 14:34. Biblical principles are what our great country was founded upon, but we seem to be headed for destruction - unless we heed the admonition and promise contained in II Chronicles 7:14. When will we ever realize or recognize, that the moral and spiritual fiber of our nation is even MORE IMPORTANT than a particular man or party?!! Of course we should be informed, and vote wisely.

Cisco Press - Eastland Telegram - Ranger Times - Risino Star - Star and Quay,

Please remember this: no president, governor, mayor, etc., can do everything he tries to do, because of our "balance of powers" system, without which we could have a dictatorship! So it behooves us to CONTINUE to pray for all those in office, including the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government, as well as for ourselves and each other as citizens. GOD MADE OUR COUNTRY GREAT - LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY." AMERICA SHOULD STILL BE, OR AGAIN BE, AN INSPIRATION TO THE WHOLE WORLD!!!

With all sincerity,
Idelle McDaniel

OFFICIAL BALLOT (BOLETA OFICIAL) SAMPLE ELECTION (ELECCION DE MUESTRA)

INSTRUCTION NOTE: Vote for your choice in each race by completely filling the oval beside the candidate's name. You may vote for a write-in candidate by writing the name of the candidate on the line provided, and filling the oval beside the line.

USE ONLY THE SPECIAL PENCIL PROVIDED BY YOUR ELECTION OFFICIALS.

DO NOT FOLD YOUR BALLOT!

IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS, PLEASE ASK YOUR ELECTION OFFICIALS.

ATTENTION VOTERS: The November 3, 1992 General Election will be a first for Eastland County. The paper ballot is by far the most accepted means by which to vote. It is what our democracy grew up on, so the PROVEN method of voting is not being changed - we're only changing the way the votes are counted. The ballots will be counted at a central counting station instead of at each precinct. The ballots will be counted by AUTOMATIC TABULATING EQUIPMENT. This equipment is certified for use by the Secretary of State of Texas, who is the Chief Election Officer for the State. Voters will use a new type of ballot that is designed for the County's new vote tabulation system that optically scans, or "READS" your vote. To cast your ballot, you simply use the pencil provided at your polling and DARKEN THE OVAL IMMEDIATELY TO THE LEFT OF YOUR VOTING PREFERENCE. REMEMBER TO VOTE IN THIS ELECTION. Each and every vote does count. We in America are so lucky to have the right to vote as we chose, when so many other countries do not have that right. —Joann Johnson, County Clerk.

Child Support In Texas

by Justice Eugene Cook
Supreme Court of Texas

Before joining the Texas Supreme Court in 1988, I practiced family law in Texas for over 20 years. Family law has long been an area that received little public or official attention even though half the lawsuits disposed of in Texas last year by our district courts involved family law.

In my days as an attorney, I was Board Certified as a specialist in both Family Law and Civil Trial Law. This position gave me an excellent perspective about changes, not only in family law, but in our society, as families divided and began legal proceedings against individual members.

When families separate, one parent is generally given custody and the responsibility of raising the children. In fact, in over 90% of divorce cases custody of the children is awarded to the mother. Statistics now show that 35% of all children live apart from their biological fathers. The pain of separation, while undeniably a part of the process for everyone, is predictably more acute for children.

I recently attended a federal government conference on interstate child support in Atlanta, Georgia. The federal government's interest in child support is pecuniary. If child support payments are not made, the parent and children frequently must go on welfare to meet basic needs. It is the ramifications of missed payments, not the pain of neglect felt by families, that primarily concerns federal officials.

Because child custody under our current law now rests primarily with mothers, women are combining sole breadwinner and nurturer roles as never before. The combination puts an emphasis on timeliness and regularity in receiving child support payments. Unfortunately for many, the assistance promised by child support is largely transparent. Over 70% of child support payments mandated in Texas were late or never made. This is hardly a dynamic record or a dependable source of income for beleaguered, single parents with children.

The present enforcement system is weak. Parental child support obligation is mandatory, not optional as many must believe based on their records of payment. For many, the nearest state line does not mean another state; it signals relief from child support obligations because interstate enforcement is difficult at best.

A parent who owes child support, regardless of whether it be the father or the mother, must be made to take the right path from the beginning in a child support case. Failure to meet parental support obligations must bring swift action. A lethargic reaction encourages continued delinquent payment or nonpayment altogether.

Failure to make a child support payment under Texas law may constitute contempt of court. If a recalcitrant parent fails to pay, they should be brought before the court. Unfortunately, many court orders are not being enforced with regularity.

It is my solemn belief that failure to make child support payments is a genuine form of child abuse. It is another contributing factor in the deterioration of an already frayed family unit. One of the primary parental obligations is to support those children whom you bring into this world. Circumstances may change relations between parents, but it never changes blood and all of the associated responsibilities.

We can no longer gloss over staggering statistics that show rampant abuse of our child support system. Texas' legal and moral obligation is to require that support payment be made. This is indeed a situation in which government inter-

THE LEAN & MEAN SMALL BUSINESS

How to Conquer the Paper Monster

From CYNERGETICS

Your recent column on slashing fax bills was a godsend. Now, can you give us your ideas on slashing paper costs? We're buried under a mountain of paper at our company. Computer reports, interoffice memos, letters, copies, copies and more copies, faxes, invoices. You name it, we've got it. By the way, we've tried the usual advice about touching each piece of paper just once — "act on it now, file it now or toss it now" — but it's made hardly a dent.

To conquer the paper monster — and thus, save your company time and money — you must kill the problem at its roots. Nothing less will work.

■ Become extremely selective. Tolerate only three types of interoffice paperwork: 1) Where there's a legal requirement; 2) Important plans and performance measurements; and 3) A large group of people must be informed, but the subject isn't quite important enough to coordinate a meeting.

■ Treat everything else as a waste of company resources.

■ Give them a taste of their own medicine. Whenever any superfluous paper crosses your desk, don't just toss it. Return it with "Don't copy me!" written across it in huge red letters. If a lot of unnecessary memos cross your desk, get a red-ink rubber stamp.

■ Demand brevity. Don't accept memos that are more than a page long. Instead, return them to the originator with "Too long; couldn't find time to read it; please compose a summary" scrawled across it in red ink.

■ Don't respond to any memos. If a memo absolutely requires a response, don't waste time composing, drafting, typing, distributing or filing your response. Simply write your response on the margin of the original memo and return it to the originator.

■ Don't write any memos. Insist on communicating through the phone or better still, face-to-face. If you don't have enough time to communicate personally on all issues, force yourself to prioritize these issues rather than writing memos.

■ "Just Say No" to copies. Copy machines are so convenient nowadays, they are easy to overuse. Each time you overuse one, you incur unnecessary costs for paper, toner, ink, maintenance, capital, postage, distribution, filing, storage space ... not to mention lost time away from the real needs of your business.

Limit your company to just one copier for every 100 people. Fewer than 100 people? Shut the copier down proportionately. For example, if you have 40 people, shut it down for 60% of your workday. Force everyone to prioritize what they'll copy during the available hours.

■ Draw attention. Start a crusade. Recruit champions to help with the crusade. Make your actions visible. For example, ask everyone to empty their old files and pile it in a central location. Then, recycle the heap and use the recycle money to throw a party.

To uncover more ways to make your business lean and mean, send a long S.A.S.E. to Cynergetics, 1308 Broad Street, Dept. R, Suite 45, San Luis Obispo, CA 93401.

Cynergetics is the publisher of "No-Cash Ways of Growing your Business." Inquire at local bookstores, or write directly to the address above.

Pack Rat

Just why do you save all your papers and documents?
... Because the information is potentially valuable?
... Because your boss may need a copy someday?

... To cover your behind?
Are all these reasons worth the time and money spent on filing, organizing and real estate usage?
Barring legal limitations, consider tossing it, rather than storing it.

How much protection do dental sealants offer? In a 15-year study, only 39 percent of sealed teeth got cavities, vs. 94 percent of unsealed ones. Touch-up of worn sealant could cut cavities even more.

"You Can't Take It With You" Begins November 2

Once again, the Cisco Junior College Drama Department has hitched its wagon to another timeless theatrical vehicle. The 1936 Pulitzer Prize winning play "You Can't Take It With You" chronicles the zany Sycamore family and their exploits.

Martin Vanderhof, played by Bill Swinney of Cisco, the Grandpa of the family, lives in New York City and spends his time collecting snakes, playing darts and going to commencement exercises. He was once a bustling business man, but gave up business 35 years before to relax. His daughter, Penny and her family live with him. Penny (Kathy Toof of Cisco) spends her time at various tasks, such as painting and writing plays. Her husband, Paul, (Buck Miller of Winters) spends most of his time in the basement manufacturing fireworks to sell.

One of Penny's daughters, Alice (Susy Halde- man of Breckenridge) works in the offices of Kirby and Company and appears to be the only sane member of the family. The other daughter, Essie (Amy Reese of Abilene), makes candy and practices ballet to the music played by her husband, Ed (Curtis Lacy of Cisco) on the xylophone. Ed is also fond of printing and making masks. Boris Kholenhov (Lloyd Parrish of Cisco) teaches Essie the proper ballet steps and complains about the Soviet government. Gladys Blotnik (Joanna Mullinax of Eastland) arrived eight years before to take the census and remained to help Mr. Sycamore make fireworks.

During the course of the evening, the Sycamore house is visited by several different people. Winona Henderson (Stephanie Arnold of Cisco) pays a visit to Mr. Vanderhof to inform him that he must pay 22 years back income tax. The Grand Duchess Olga Katrina is invited to their house for dinner and ends up making blintzes for the meal.

All of this is part of the normal Sycamore day. Suddenly, Alice announces that she is bringing home a young man (Keith Stowe of Cisco), who happens to be the boss's son. Arrangements are made to invite the Kirbys (Jessica Smalling of Sonora and Tommy Mann of Brownwood) to dinner only the Kirbys arrive a night early. What transpires includes a visit from federal agents, an appearance by one of Penny's theatre friends, and the antics of the Sycamores' maid and butler.

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU" sounds like fluff but is actually a look at contemporary society through the eyes of the naive Sycamore family. This play, although written in 1936, responds to such issues as scarcity of jobs, the uncertainty of the Soviet government, a disgruntlement with the American tax system and government in general—all of which are issues facing the American citizen today.

This play is a must see because, after all, "You Can't Take It With You." Call 442-2589 for reservations. Show only performances are November 2, 3, 4 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.00. Dinner performances are Nov. 5, 6, 7. Tickets $10.00.

"These balloons are so close to the powder.", Buck Miller and Joanna Mullinax are shown in the CJC Fall Production of You Can't Take It With You. The play will begin November 2, for more information call 442-2589.

Texas Travel Information Centers Provide Fall Foliage Report

Now is the time of year to enjoy leisure drives in the country and the beauty of colorful fall foliage. The Texas Department of Transportation's travel information centers have the latest statewide updates available on fall foliage and events around the state. With the first wave of cooler weather, the trees have begun to burst into a rainbow of colors and the next 30 days hold the most promise for those who enjoy watching the seasonal change.

Reports from Angelina County indicate that the trees in that area have started to change, beginning with scarlet black gums and yellow Chinese tallow. Further north, Daingerfield State Park reports 30 to 40 percent of the change has taken place. Later on the calendar will be the more southern areas such as Vanderpool where Lost Maples State Park is not expecting its peak color until mid-November.

Additional information on fall foliage may be obtained by calling the toll-free travel assistance number, 1-800-452-9292, between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. daily. The service is staffed by professional travel counselors and offers free trip planning assistance, Texas Highways magazine subscriptions and travel literature produced by the Texas Department of Transportation.

Side roads off the major highways east of Dallas offers good color. Visitors to the Henderson area can enjoy the foliage and the Heritage Syrup Festival November 14 in Henderson. A color tour can be combined with an early Christmas shopping trip in Canton at First Monday Trade Days.

The Big Thicket also provides an opportunity to see some brilliant colors through guided and self-directed tours, hikes and canoe trips. Maps and directions are available at the log cabin visitor station seven miles north of Kountze at FM 420 and US 69.

For a trip through yesterday, color enthusiasts can follow Texas 21 east of Crockett as it winds through old farming villages to Nacogdoches, San Augustine and other historic towns, and through the Sabine National Forest to Toledo Bend Reservoir where eagles are known to nest in winter.

Hikers can obtain trail maps at the Texas Forestry Association Museum in Lufkin. The Sawmill Trail on the museum grounds will provide plenty of color and

"The engagement is off, Mr. Kirby", Susy Brown, Keith Stowe and Tommy Mann are shown in the CJC Fall Production of You Can't Take It With You. The play will begin November 2, for more information call 442-2589.

A Fitting Gift

Recently I visited my family for a few days and took the opportunity to go see the addition of land to the Rising Star Heritage Cemetery. I and my family think that it is wonderful and entirely fitting that an Agnew, Edith Ray Agnew Bibb, should have been the one involved in giving the land for the enlargement of the cemetery, since she is a descendant of one of the original seven families who came in the wagon train to settle Rising Star in 1875.

I have a personal, deep feeling about the gift of land to the Rising Star Cemetery because my great-great-grandmother was Mary Ann Agnew Smith (who is buried in the cemetery) and another of my great-great-grandmothers was Sarah Cox Harris (who is also buried in the cemetery). It was Sara Cox Harris' brother, Will Cox, who gave the original land for the cemetery.

My own burial plot is located in the cemetery and my only child, Mark, is buried there. Mark, perhaps, is the first person of any family to represent six generations buried in the Rising Star Cemetery. He, of course, represents the sixth generation of Smiths, as well as a sixth generation descendant of the Agnew family and of the Cox family.

So, you can see that I have a uniquely strong feeling that Edith Ray Agnew Bibb's gift to the Rising Star community was a perfect involvement by a member of an important pioneer family.

Stretches of Highways Get Facelift

Traffic negotiated Texas Highway Department's road work being done on State Highway 36 Monday, with the help of flag men. A stretch of highway from just west of the traffic light to about a block east had the surface cut and removed and new asphalt put down and rolled. Motorists will be pleased the large bumps where the asphalt had been "rearranged" during very hot weather and a depression beneath the traffic light are now gone.

U.S. Highway 183 from the traffic light to about a block north received the same facelift procedure on Tuesday and early Wednesday morning it looked as if work would begin south of the traffic light.
