The United States has won what appears a resounding victory in the cold war with Mr. K's announcement that Russian missiles in Cuba will be dismantled and returned to Russia. It is a victory which may have strengthened American prestige, rescued Kennedy from futility, and won us more respect and even admiration abroad.

It is a new experience for America, beset with international blundering and Soviet wiles, and it justifies a criticism which has maintained that a firm policy will pay off.

But anyone who thinks that Mr. K and his communists have abandoned their plans for an ultimate take-over of South and central America and the isolation of the United States is naive indeed. You may be sure that our government isn't so deluded. Before we do too much shouting perhaps we should take a long, long look at the situation which remains.

It is the same as before. It is, as a matter of fact, only more so. The Soviets are still in Cuba and if I read aright Mr. Khrushchev's letter to the President, they have no intention of abandoning Castro, as some commentators hopefully suggest. They are, if anything, a little more secure in their conquest of the island, for the net result of the events of the past week, as critical and fear-inspiring as States in the position of acceding to co-existence with a communist nation in defiance of the Monroe Doctrine. That is, if Mr. K keeps his bargain and doesn't make Castro ris front and cat's paw in making Cuba a missile base despite his own backdown. does not need as offensive weapons against the United States

Removal of missiles which he anyway, is a small price to pay for a confirmed and established beachhead from which to work his further wiles in the faltering South American republics, and by one means or another, extend the "dictatorship of the proletariat" in the western hemisphere.

It looks very much as if the real purpose of the missiles was not to attack the United States, but to give the Soviet a stronger bargaining position—if one can conceive of bargaining with a communist—with respect to the United States and a more frightening position in which to overawe irresolute nations of the Southern Cross and to blackmail a world opinion desperate for peace.

The wily Soviet dictator very probably underestimated the temper and resolution of the American people, but once convinced, he was prepared to make a magnanimous gesture and a shift in tactics. The present reactions of Castro to the missile base issue may indicate what that shift will be.

There is no doubt that he has suffered a significant defeat. He was faced with but two choices: either remove the missiles or lose Cuba and the missiles, too. American military action against Cuba would have left him little room for retreat from an outright war which you may be sure he wants about as much as we want Russian missiles on Cuban soil.

We have gained ground, but not enough. Cuba is still a communist nation tied to the evil Soviet constellation of tyranny. The fiasco of the Bay of Pigs still casts its shadow over the freedoms of the western world. By some means or other the communist menace must be rooted out of Cuba.

Fourteen proposed amendments to the constitution of the State of Texas will be voted upon Tuesday. Most of them are little more than statutory bills with limited provisions, similar to many others which burden our basic law with a hodge-podge of enactments that are (Continued on page two)

Cool, Dry Weather Is Boon to Peanut Harvest

Cool, dry weather following a front which triggered heavy showers here Sunday morning, was greeted by peanut farmers with relief this week. Rain here totaled 2.4 inches. Much of the crop, plowed and windrowed, was on the ground when the rains struck. Aside from damage to the hay, little loss was experienced by the growers, however, and the harvest was picking up speed this week as the ground dried. Local buyers estimated that the harvest was about one-third completed.

Only One Offering of Vaccine II

Type II Sabin oral vaccine will be administered here from 1 to 6 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 11, under the auspices of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce. The program will be carried out at the West Texas Utilities Co. office here by a corps of volunteers under medical supervision. The vaccine is free but contributions of 25c or more per person are asked to help defray the cost.

Type I was administered in two programs here last month during which some 900 persons received the vaccine. There will be only one offering of Type II here, it was made clear.

Stephenville Will Bring Program For Lions Ladies Night

Members of the Stephenville Lions Club will bring the program for the Rising Star Lions Ladies Night event to be held Monday evening, Nov. 2, at the Elementary school cafeteria. Jack McCullough, deputy district governor, will head the Stephenville delegation.

Special guests will be District Gov. and Mrs. Pete Shotwell of Abilene. All members of the Rising Star Club are urged to take special note of the event and to bring their ladies for an enjoyable evening.

Meanwhile Lions club teams made a very successful canvass of the community Monday night in the sale of bags of light bulbs on which the club will be used in community projects fostered by the Lions. Roy Holly, chairman of the drive, reported that sales of the bulbs had reached almost $200 Monday night with numbers of team members yet to make their reports.

"We hope to sell all of the bags allotted to the club," said Mr. Holly, "before the end of the week. Workers who have not completed their sales, are requested to do so as soon as possible so we can wrap this thing up by the weekend. "Meanwhile, I want to thank all of the Lions who are taking part. It's a good cause and the funds raised will be devoted to worthy purposes, such as crippled children's work, aid to the blind and glasses for children with defective vision."

County HD To Have Achievement Day

The annual Eastland County Home Demonstration Council's Achievement Day will be held November 7, 1962, in Eastland in the First Christian Church Annex. The event will begin at 8 a. m. with the coffee and bake sale. It will adjourn around 3:30 p. m.

There will be exhibits of all kinds: Educational exhibits, cookies, club scrapbooks, aprons, crafts and needlework. All of the exhibits will be judged and the winners announced after dinner.

Every one is invited to come by and see the exhibits and come over on your coffee break and have coffee and pie and cake.

Guests in the T. A. Weaver home over the weekend were Kenton and Kim Joyce of Jal, N. M., Bud Joyce and children of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Cagle of Comanche, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cagle of Eastland.

Yields were reported good in most cases. Early fall rains in September were beneficial to most of the fields because planting was generally late, and there has been time for a good crop to set and mature. Grades and yield per acre were good in a majority of instances.

Among the better yields was a 35-bushel-per-acre harvest by a 19-year-old farmer, Worley Maynard who farms with his father, Bill Maynard, north of town. Young Maynard harvested that yield from a 5-acre tract. His peanuts graded 69. He has a 27-acre field yet to be harvested, but in view of the rains, he was not too optimistic over the yield from this field.

While the price for peanuts is good, peanut hay is selling at a poor price — around $20.00 a ton.

Since it costs about $12 a ton to process and bale it, the price is causing many growers to return the hay to the fields as humus.

Checking Social Security Account Also Important

B. H. L. Weatherly As the social security representative who comes to Rising Star every month, I want to give you an important reminder.

All of us are interested in our financial standing; therefore, we are always checking on our bank accounts, savings account and on our other assets.

The Social Security Administration would like to remind you of another account — one that should be checked from time to time. This, of course, is your social security account. This is especially important if you have more than one employer in the course of a year.

If you are one of the 9 out of 10 working Americans with a social security card, the Social Security Administration is keeping a record of the earnings reported to your account. Year after year for as long as you work in employment covered by the social security law, regular reports of your earnings are sent to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland, to be added to your own personal social security record. It is personal work history that will be used to figure the amount of social security benefits payable to you and your family in the future.

Have you checked your social security record in recent years? Do you know whether all your earnings have been correctly credited to your social security account? If your answer is "no" to either of these questions, you should take action now.

Your Abilene Social Security office has a post card form with which you can request a statement of the earnings credited to your social security account or you can get one from me on my next visit. You need only fill it out, sign, stamp, and mail it. When you receive the statement, check it carefully.

If your own records, such as payroll slips, forms W-2 do not agree with the amounts shown on your social security earnings statement, you should write or visit your local social security office immediately. The time in which corrections can be made is limited.

I will be at the City Hall on Monday, November 26, at 10:30 o'clock and will be glad to talk with you about your own social security account and its worth to you and your family.

GEORGE GARRETSON

Short Course For Farmer Scheduled For November

A beef cattle short course for adult farmers will be held Nov. 5-8 under the sponsorship of the Rising Star High School Vocational Agriculture department, according to Mr. Sam Jones, superintendent, and H. L. Geyer, teacher of vocational agriculture.

George Garretson, beef cattle specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Husbandry at Texas A&M College with headquarters at A&M College, will be the instructor in the course.

Mr. Garretson is a graduate of Texas A&M College, where much of his college work in technical agriculture was in the field of animal husbandry, range management, and agronomy. Mr. Garretson has had a wide and varied experience in training livestock and meats teams for state competition, as well as teaching vocational agriculture at Mason, Texas. He has experience as a commercial beef cattle producer and served as a beef grader for two years while in the Army. He has worked closely with registered men, and vocational students in the field of beef cattle production. Mr. Garretson has had an extensive steer-feeding program under his supervision and has made an impressive record in the show ring.

"Many beef cattle short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Mr. Garretson and all have met with outstanding success," according to J. B. Payne, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Stephenville, Texas. Arrangements for the adult education short course in beef cattle and in other fields are made through Mr. Payne's office.

The short course at Rising Star is scheduled to begin Nov. 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of 4 will be held Nov. 6-7&8. During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Garretson will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Mr. Geyer.

Cattlemen interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, Mr. Jones, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Geyer. An entry fee of $2 will be charged. Beef cattle short course certificates are to be presented to each cattlemen who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Garretson states that the field of beef cattle production must take a close look at efficiency of production in the future. With land prices, feed, and taxes rising, the producer is meeting more and more competition for the consumers' dollar at the meat counter. From the economic view of the beef cattle business, there is every indication that in comparing the producer of yesterday, and the producer of tomorrow, beef must be produced to sell cheaper in order to be a profit-making business. Mr. Garretson indicates that the beef cattle short course will deal with the methods of producing beef at a lower cost and the ways of producing the kind of beef that the housewife wants to buy. He also states that the course will include such important fields as bulls and replacement heifers, proper range use, supplemental winter feeding, and will be altered to meet the wishes and interests of the farmers and ranchers enrolled.

Short courses in beef cattle, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency (Continued on page two)

One County, One State Race Stir Election Interest

Voters of Rising Star, in common with those of traditionally democratic Texas and the rest of the United States, will go to the polls next Tuesday to elect a full slate of State officers, members of congress and district, county and local officers.

Ordinarily the general election in Texas serves merely to formalize the results of the democratic primaries, but over the state at large a contest has occurred between Democrat John Connally and Republican Jack Cox for the governorship, while in Eastland county a contest for county judge exists within the framework of the democratic party.

O. H. Dick, who ran unsuccessfully against John Hart, now deceased for nomination as county judge, is challenging the Funeral services were held for Joseph Samuel Hardy, 89-year-old Brown county pioneer, at the Wolfe Valley Baptist Church at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, October 30, with burial in Wolfe Valley cemetery.

The Rev. Harry Hames of Comanche officiated and Higginbotham Funeral home was in charge.

Mr. Hardy, who had lived in Brown county — his home was on Rt. 1, May — for 81 years, died in Memorial Hospital at Brownwood at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 28. He was a retired farmer, and a native of Atlanta, Georgia, where he was born October 7, 1873. He retired from farming in 1934.

Survivors include his wife, the former Osie Ola Carter, whom he married at May on February 12, 1899; a son, Dee Hardy of May; three daughters, Annie Lester and Ruby Doris McBride of May, and Myrtle Kelly of Abilene; two brothers, Bazar Hardy and John Hardy of May; a sister, Mrs. Mollie Bowden of Rising Star; 12 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren.

130 See Quarter Horse Show At Eastland

EASTLAND — Roger Blackmon, assistant county agent, assisted the Eastland County 4-H Council in presenting a program on quarter horses, Tuesday night, October 24. The program began at 7:30 p. m. in the Eastland High School auditorium.

The welcome was given by Rodney Harrelson, chairman of the county 4-H Council. Mr. Blackmon explained a little about the program. Jimmy Horn, a local 4-H Club leader, explained that the program was given because of the great interest in this part of the county on quarter horses.

Two hours of technicolor, sound film followed. The first hour was about "Youth and the Quarter Horse." The second hour showed the quarter horse at roping, cutting, reining, and showing at halter.

"The program was enjoyed by all," according to Mr. Blackmon. About 130 people attended the program. The show was for adults as well as 4-H'ers. No admission was charged and free cokes were served by the girls 4-H clubs after the show.

Blackmon said, "We feel the program was well worth the time of everyone who attended."

the group was challenged by Mr. Dick but the 9th district court overruled the challenge and Bailey's name appears on the ballot.

Dick, who declares that as runner-up candidate to the late Judge Hart, he should have had the nomination, is conducting an aggressive campaign for a write-in democratic vote naming him as county judge.

An equally aggressive campaign is being conducted on behalf of Jack Cox, a Breckenridge man, who is running as the Republican candidate for governor.

Voters of the county were admonished that they must mark out ALL the candidates in a particular race except the one they wish to vote for. They are reminded that there are three slates of candidates on the ballot; offered by the Democratic, the Republican and the Constitution parties. Candidates of both parties for whom they do not wish to vote must be scratched, otherwise their vote will not be counted.

For instance a voter wishing to vote for Jack Cox must mark out names of both Connally and the candidate of the Constitution party, Jack Carswell. Similarly those voting for Connally must take care to scratch Cox and Carswell and those voting for Carswell to scratch Connally and Cox. Where two candidates are left unmarked, the vote for that office will not be counted.

Those wishing to write in a vote in the column provided for it must scratch the names of ALL the candidates printed for that particular position.

In addition to the candidates for office, voters of the state will express themselves for or against proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State. In each case the voter must scratch out either the For or Against proposition to register a vote on that particular issue.

Raymond Gray will be the judge of the election at the Rising Star box. The voting will take place at the City Hall and the polls will open at 8 o'clock a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Boy Scout Finance Campaign Begun Tuesday Morning

Under the leadership of H. McDonald, the annual Boy Scout finance drive got under way Tuesday morning from a 7 o'clock breakfast at the Elite cafe.

Teams of workers met at the cafe for a briefing and the distribution of prospect cards.

Workers were asked to complete their canvases as soon as possible and those approached were asked to be as liberal in their contributions to a good cause as they are able to be.

Receipts will be given for all contributions which are deductible for income tax purposes, it was pointed out.

Reports of the workers should be made to Art Fisher, Scout auditor, at the First State Bank.

Cong. Burlison Visits Here Wednesday

Cong. Omar Burlison was here Wednesday visiting his constituents. Congress has been in session almost continuously and it is increasingly difficult for a member to visit his district as he would like to do, said Mr. Burlison.

He took a cautious view of the Cuban crisis, although he did point out that the results of United States policy so far tended to justify the position of those who had long advocated a firm line. "We are likely to have this problem for a long time," he said.

Mrs. Bill Sergeant, accompanied by Mrs. Ray Lindsey and Mrs. Florence Parsons, visited Mr. and Mrs. Dan Doyle Monday evening Oct. 29. Mrs. Sergeant became ill during the night and a physician was called. She was able to return to her home in Lampasas on Tuesday.

Mrs. Jimmie Fridge is visiting her brother and wife in Albuquerque, N. M.

It's The Law In Texas

SMOKE IN YOUR EYES

It was a clear, crisp fall afternoon, and Pete decided to rake his lawn. He carried the leaves to his back yard and burned them just at the entrance of the alley which ran along the rear of his lot.

The leaves were wet, and Pete found that he had to stir them occasionally in order for proper burning, resulting in a dense cloud of smoke.

Al intended to drive his car into the alley in which Pete was burning the leaves. As he approached the alley, he entered a dense cloud of smoke, so dense in fact that his vision was completely obscured. He nevertheless continued to drive his car into the alley, although he did reduce his speed.

As Al entered the alley Pete was standing next to the curb, completely engulfed by the smoke. Al's car struck Pete. Pete sued Al claiming that he was negligent in driving into the smoke when he could not see. Al, on the other hand, said that Pete was negligent in standing in the alley in such a dense cloud of smoke when he knew that cars were driven in the alley.

Was Al negligent? Can Pete collect from him for his damages? Pete would not win his case, unless the jury found him not negligent in standing in the alley in a cloud of dense smoke. However, the courts have held that a driver must exercise care commensurate with the situation. It has been recognized in a number of cases that more care than normal is required of a driver traveling through smoke which limits his visibility.

It is the duty of the operator of a car to drive it at such a rate of speed that he can bring his car to standstill within the distance that he can plainly see objects or obstructions ahead of him. If he continues to proceed when he is unable to see because his vision is obscured, he is negligent. When the situation on a highway is such that one's vision is completely obscured, it is his duty to slow down or even stop until the cause of such obscured vision is at least in part removed.

For instance, some of the proposals would authorize the formation of hospital districts in specific counties, authorize the State to acquire conservation storage facilities in reservoirs, etc., all or any of which may be beneficial and desirable.

But there is one proposed amendment which would have a direct and disastrous effect upon the administration of public affairs in the state, one which, in my thinking, effectually nullifies the established concept of the separation of government powers in important areas.

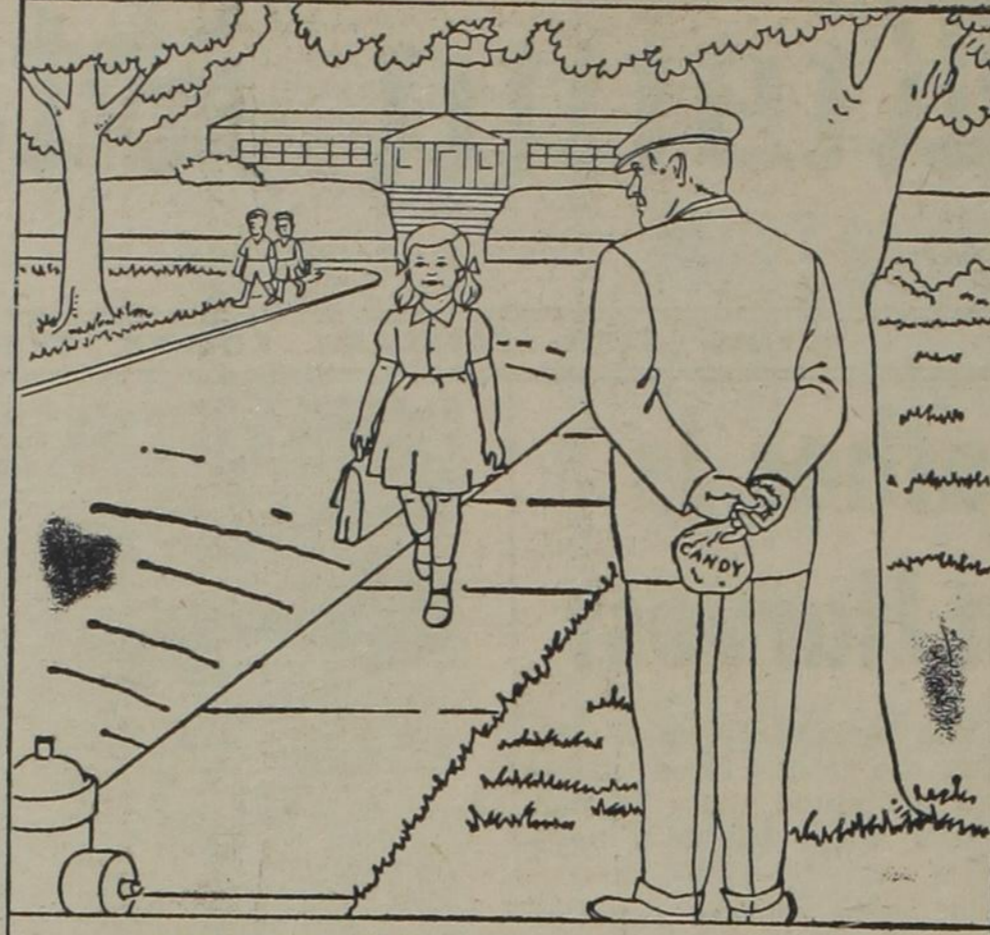

It is Amendment No. 14, and it provides for trials de novo—meaning new trials—on appeals from actions, rulings or decisions of administrative or executive agencies of the government. The effect of this provision would be to make our City councils, our local, district, and State executive bodies and officials subservient to the courts and limit or destroy their authority and ability to discharge the responsibilities to which they are chosen. It would mean making the executive branch of the government to which the proposal applies, not co-equal with, but subordinate to the judicial former would be subject to the approval of the courts.

We already have ample remedies for unjust administrative or legislative procedures and this unwise and destructive provision which tends to a dictatorial concept in government by violating the principle of effective balance.

We would be wise to bury this thing.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Thousands of years ago, the cave dwellers had a simple solution to the sanitation problem — when conditions became unbearable they simply moved to another cave. But, this presented problems. There were only so many caves to go around.

As urban complexes developed, the citizens realized that dumping trash in the streets and hoping that it would rain and wash away soon turned the city into a huge dump.

Today the problem is still with us. Cities pay out a major part of their annual budgets to pick up trash and dispose of it in a sanitary manner.

To better cope with this problem the Texas State Department of Health conducts a series of demonstration short-courses on the proper disposal of refuse.

This year nine such one-day demonstrations are being conducted — one within easy travelling distance of every community in Texas.

Sponsored with the cooperation of refuse equipment manufacturers and the host cities, engineers from the State Health Engineering Division organize and conduct the demonstrations as well as notify everyone in the area who should be interested in refuse disposal procedure.

The list includes nearly everyone associated with municipal sanitation — mayors, city commissioners, City managers, health officers, sanitarians, sanitation superintendents, public works directors, city engineers, county officials, members of civic organizations and citizens interested in community sanitation and public health.

Highlight of the meetings is a demonstration of collection trucks and sanitary landfill equipment and the correct method of for using the equipment.

Sanitary landfill as opposed to other refuse disposal methods in Texas is one method which has considerable potentials in making sanitary refuse-disposal practice economically feasible for many communities.

Basically the method employs three steps — the refuse is dumped in an excavated trench, it is compacted by heavy tractor equipment, and finally covered with compacted earth.

Garbage, rubbish, and ashes are disposed without nuisance, fire or public health hazards.

How about serving coffee cake with breakfast in the morning. Coffee cake is especially good on cooler mornings, or serve it when friends drop by. Here is a real good coffee cake you may want to try:

Cinnamon Buttermilk

Coffee Cake:

- Buttered square pan, 9-inch
- Preheated 325 oven
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
- 1 egg
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon

one third cup sifted flour
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Mix flour and brown sugar. Cut butter in until the mixture resembles coarse meal. Set aside three-fourths cup of this mixture to be used for topping. To remaining flour mixture, add egg, buttermilk, baking soda, cinnamon and the one-third cup sifted flour. Mix only until dry ingredients are well moistened. Pour into buttered pan. Mix sugar mixture that was set aside and chopped nuts; sprinkle over the top. Bake 50-60 minutes. Let cool in pan and cut in rectangles about 1 1/2 X 3 inches.

Try this tip make it easier for yourself: If brown sugar is lumpy, press through course sieve; or heat in slow oven; or crush lumps with rolling pin. Measure it just before you use it.

To go along with the cooler weather we've been having, people have been fixing waffles, either for breakfast, lunch or supper — they're good anytime. Here are some P's and Q's that might help you in using your waffle baker: The majority of waffle bakers should be preheating while you are mixing the batter. If the waffle baker has no automatic heat control, test by sprinkling a few drops of water on the grids. It is ready for use if water "dances" before evaporating. Pour batter quickly over the grids. Start from center and work out to sides. Do not keep open longer than necessary. When steaming stops or signal goes off (4-5 minutes), lift lid and gently remove waffle with fork. After baking, allow waffle baker to cool with lid up.

HOW TO BEAT COMMUNISM
 Today we find the communist doctrine extended to enslave one third of the world's population. We find a communist stronghold ninety miles from our own United States.
 How and why did this take place? Is it the attractiveness of the communist doctrine? The party line is popular — all people will have things in common, no one will be in poverty; and no one will be so powerfully rich to dictate to others; but in further investigation we find things equally unpopular. Oh, they have elections, but only with one name on the ballot. Everyone has all in common except the party leaders, who live like kings and have untold power. Communism is like a shiny apple; it looks wonderful, but when you bite into it, it is rotten. The communists deny the individual freedom, and every human being has an innate longing for personal freedom. The communists are atheists, and all people also have a capacity for worshipping God. Why do people accept communism then? The best reason is ignorance. A large majority of the countries taken by communism are backward countries, whose people are largely ignorant of the true meanings of communism. They have lived in poverty for years and communism promises to lift them from this to well-being. Few of these people escape from falling into this crevasse of ignorance. The second reason is subversion. Hard-core communists move into a country create a barrage of propaganda undermining its youth and corrupting its government. They create a barrage of propaganda telling people, after all, they are just a liberal political party. They are being liberal, all right — very liberal in destroying the peoples' rights. This strategy is working in the world, as well in our own country.

"UPWARD, AND ONWARD"
 Thanks to our "La Estrellita" annual staff, we had a lovely coronation. The stage was decorated so prettily with all the girls just beautiful and the boys very handsome.
 The Saturday night football game ?? was a big success for some people, and then for the wounded ones it wasn't so successful; we'll all admit it was fun, especially the half-time performance.
 We are ready to face those May Tigers tomorrow night. I guess old Cherry will set under the goal post since she's obligated to both sides. By the way, Cherry and Lovey, does the candy machine give you much trouble?
 J. L.: That was SNAFU, Uh!
 In English we just finished drama; we certainly found some good actresses and actors.
 Randy is back in school after hurting his ankle. Randy, do you like red socks?
 Don, Take-it-easy way.
 And I'd like to know who set a mouse trap in my locker — you certainly won't find any mice in there!
 —Harriet.

How can we combat communism? One thing will beat communism. We in America must gain knowledge about communism ourselves with knowledge, helping the communists by not and we will not fall. Are you knowing these facts?

NOT FINISHED JUST BEGUN
 Hi there,
 Things are certainly calm after coronation. We spent a terrific week decorating for the Coronation, but it was certainly worth it; those Seniors were the "belles of the ball."
 Tomorrow is the day term themes are due; I know all the Seniors will have theirs in on time!
 We have finished "Macbeth" and are now dreading the test.
 We keep trying to foretell the future in Civics. A few of our Seniors decided they might outlast Khrushchev and have their mottoes in the paper — but they would be thinking on it until next week.
 Darwin now has a new name — Darwlyn, the "All-American Girl." He keeps threatening everyone and no one dares call him a sissy — he says if they do he'll hit them with his purse!
 That's it for this time.
 Bye for now,
 Katy

KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS
 Most of the girls are back on their feet again after the rough football game Saturday night. We want to thank all of you that attended; your interest and activeness in school affairs are appreciated and aid greatly to our school.
 Everyone witnessed one of the most beautiful coronations ever given at R.S.H.S. last Thursday. Those who took part in the affair should be congratulated for the effectiveness of the program; the event was sponsored by the "La Estrellita" staff and Mrs. Claborn. We would like also to thank the West Texas Utilities Company

"LIVE AND LEARN"
 Well, boys, this week is finally here. I know you can't wait until tomorrow night. We will be there with you all the way. The good word is "Beat May!"
 I hope all of you went to the "Powdenpuff" football game last Saturday night between the Sophomores and Seniors and the Freshmen and Juniors. Each and everyone of us had a very good time.
 Some of the activities during the days before the game were: The election of boy cheerleaders, the pep rally done by the boys, the crowning of the sweetheart, which was Darwin Cain, and the choosing of suits. We had a lot of fun doing this and a lot of happy memories.
 The Homemaking I girls have prepared their second meal and have started their home experience course.
 Lynn, what happened to your zipper?
 B. B., R. L., D. J. AND K. B., did you enjoy being cheerleaders?
 Until next week, Marcoa.

CHEERLEADER NEWS
 Tomorrow night is the night of our first game after two weeks of rest. This game is with our old rivals, the May Tigers. This is also our first district game.
 We have had lots of fun during these two weeks off, but we cheerleaders are ready to get back into the full spirit of football. I think that our boys are also ready to get back into the game.
 I know that our boys will be out for a victory tomorrow night at May, and we want each Wildcat to know we are backing him all the way. Let's prove this to them by our presence at that big game.
 What's the good word? Beat May!!!
 Deanna.

DO-RA-MI
 Those notes on Thursday night of the Coronation may not mean as much to you as they do to all of us because each and everyone of them have a memory for we who participated.
 "To the rear, March!"
 "Straighten your lines!"
 "Get in step!"
 Familiar words from Mr. Gonzales in working with us for the Interscholastic League marching contest in Abilene on November 17.
 Saturday a few members of our band will participate in the district band meeting at Cross Plains. They will play scales and sight read to be placed in the first or second band. They will practice all afternoon and give a very fine concert in the

 We want to thank everyone for attending the powder-puff football game. We greatly enjoyed it and hope all of you enjoyed the game. We want to express our appreciation to all who came and to our wonderful cheerleaders. You boys did a very good job.
 After that taste of football all the girls are looking forward to our first basketball game, which we will play at Olden.
 We are still taking exercises and doing work for state records; we are really stretching muscles that had been tight since birth.

 Guests in the N. L. Leonard home recently were Mr. and Mrs. George Leonard and children of Brownwood.
 Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mayfield of Andrews are here for a visit with his mother, Mrs. L. W. Mayfield.

Governor Price Daniel, while Attorney General, wrote an opinion on the question of party loyalty in which he said, "The courts of Texas have answered this question by holding that the pledge taken at the time of voting in the primary election DOES NOT create a legal obligation."

Recently Governor Daniel repeated that opinion by saying that the pledge on the primary ballot does not obligate anyone "legally or morally" to vote for the Democratic ticket in the general election.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Frankenburg and children of San Angelo, visited her mother, Mrs. Pearl Valliant, and her sister, Mrs. Chloegene Witt, during the week-end.

The land and improvements thereon are worth little if the owner fails to prove his title. The abstractor, in a sense, is your land title guardian for he keeps the records day by day, as they are made. Use him often. The cost is small; the benefits are large.

THE COUNTY JUDGE

is an important official. The Democratic Party of Eastland County knew this when they selected SCOTT BAILEY for the nomination. We who have known him thru the years and have observed his conduct as a school teacher, soldier and state official know that he has the background, education and judicial temperament that makes him well qualified to serve the people as County Judge. He has worked for the people of this County and will continue to do so when he becomes our next County Judge.

Cards, letters and messages of congratulation have confirmed the fact that Scott Bailey is certainly deserving of the office. He has been applauded by well-wishers from all over Texas and from all stations of life. This brings to mind an old but very true statement, that fits the candidacy of Scott Bailey. It goes like this,

"The Office Seeks the Man"
