A minister was approached by a man who expressed a desire to become a member of the congegation. The man said that he was rather busy. "I don't want to be called on for any services as committee work, teaching in the Bible School, or singing in the choir. I would like to be spared from anything that would take my time. Then too, don't expect me for worship too often."

The minister thought for a moment and then replied, "I believe you are at the wrong church. The church you are looking for is three blocks down the street."

The man followed the preacher's directions and soon came to an abandoned, boarded up, closed church building. It was a dead church--gone out of business.

May I ask a question? If every member of the body of believers which you have joined was as active and supportive as you, what kind of church fellowship would you have?

Every pastor is grateful for the members of the assembly of believers who are present in the services, supportive of and concerned for which the Jews did others.

pastors is for the many who have made a vow to God and His Church but never or hardly ever attend. The many who expect the blessings of God without accepting their responsibilities toward God. May I encourage

.each one to commit vourself anew to the fellowship ministry of your assembly of believers whatever its name might be.

This will all of us, strengthen our churches, and be a positive testimony to our community for Christ. R.D. Williams, Pastor

TARAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA

COMMENTARY By Myrtle Owen

For anyone who cared to investigate, there was no lack of evidence to show that Jesus was indeed the long awaited Messiah. Had the people received Him, He would have fulfilled the Kingly prophecies in their day in addition to the ones regarding the suffering Messiah. But when the Jewish nation as a whole rejected Christ, the fulfillment of His Kingship was postponed until the final culmination of world history. This is the subject of the Book of Revelation. Unfortunately, many people today are making the the work of the church, same tragic mistake when they ignored the Our concern as overwhelming evidence of Christ's claims as His first coming. Today we are standing at the threshold of Christ's return as King of Kings and Lord of Lords; yet men in general are totally ignorant of the event or have dismissed it as religious fantasy. When John says and that all the tribes of the earth will mourn over Christ when they see Him coming, he is referring to the prediction in Zachariah 12:10, "And I will pour upon the house of David and upon the inhabitants Jerusalem, the Spirit of grace and of sup-plications; and they will look upon Me whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for Him, as one mourns for his only son, and will be in bitterness for Him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born." In this prophecy, the ancient prophet Zachariah declares that when Christ returns to the earth at the height of the coming war, called Armageddon, the Jewish people will for the first time recognize Him as their longrejected Messiah. They will mourn as they look on the One they rejected nearly two thousand years ago. At any moment that Christ will return for His Church; Even So Come. Lord Jesus, COME! It staggers the imagination to realize that one-fourth of the world's population will be destroyed within a matter of days. According to projected census figures this will amount to nearly one billion people. Since one of these grim reapers of death is Hades, it means that only unbelievers will perish in this phase of the holocaust. When we think about this awful judgment that awaits the Christrejecting world, it gives no satisfaction to our heart; it just fires us up to get out the message that God has provided an alternative in Jesus. Today it isn't just the religious world that's warning us the world is headed for chaos. "Prophets" in the academic, scientific, and political world are telling us the same thing.

Taking a look at the decontrol of Oil

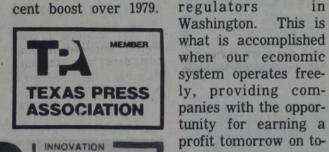

By Michelle Lindsey

One of the most controversial subjects involving our country has been the decontrol of oil.

No matter what the pros or cons are, one thing is certain, the search for energy in the United States has been stepped up. This has become evident in our own area. It will take several years to translate the exploration boom into actual oil production.

At the beginning of 1980, the oil industry was expected to spend some $33 billion for U.S. petroleum exploration and development-an 18 percent boost over 1979.

Musical Chairs In Washington - No Fun For The Oilman

By Viola M. Payne

July was supposed to be "showdown month" in the U.S. Congress on legislation concerning oil producers and royalty owners, and the prediction is turning out to be correct. The 1,000 barrel per day Exemption (Windfall Tax) Bill has been under heated discussion, and some of the results are coming in. But most unpredictable was the changing of sides by a number of Senators in the Finance Committee, creating a situation where Republicans supported a tax voted in by a Democratic Administration while most Democrats on the Committee turned against it. In the final count the Senate Finance Committee rejected the 1,000 Barrel per day Exemption from the Windfall Profit Tax. The proposal, which would apply to all Independent producers and all royalty owners, was defeated 9 to 6 with individual votes as follows: Republicans:

Robert Dole, (KS) Chair-

David L. Boren, (OK) YES Bill Bradley (N.J.) NOT VOTING George Mitchell (ME) NO Senator Bentsen has announced that he still intends to bring the proposal to a floor vote as soon as possible. Citizens in favor of the measure are requested to contact members of the Senate and advise them of support for this Exemption.

Administration

spokesman David Glickman informed Texas Independent Oilmen at the Convention in Ft. Worth early in June that the President desires a "clean" Tax Bill in order to expedite passage of the Administration's proposal. On Windfall Taxes, President Reagan proposes an annual exemption beginning at $1500 for 1981, scaling down each year for five years.

Finance Committee Republicans apparenty felt duty bound to go along with the President on this proposal. The deciding vote against the 1,000 barrel a day Exemption was cast by Chairman Dole. Secretary of the Treasury Regan, who had been

Oil Rig Training School To Open Soon In Abilene

Reprinted From The Abilene Reported News

By JIM CONLEY Senior Staff Writer

Area drilling contractors are still seeking applications from would-be instructors at the oil rig crew training school that is expected to open in Aiblene in the next few months.

Members of the West-Central Texas Chapter of the International Association of Drilling Contractors (IADC) met Wednesday at Abilene National Bank to consider that and other business.

They received good news from the Industrial Foundation of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce in the form of assurance of a high probability that the foundation will loan the money for a building for the new school. In fact, said Nancy Richards of the Chamber, the foundation may vote favorable for the loan this Thursday.

1,000 barrel Exemption, was Ray Brazzel, chairman of the local IADC chapter, said the instructor the school is seeking should be "one > who's real knowledgeable of the oil field, who's done it themself .. roughnecked, drilled, pushed tools" rather than a teacher of group was told, with sewer and gas creating no problem. The city is also going to allow a 2,500-foot service line into the site, which members agreed would be more than adequate.

Plans for a groundbreaking are in the works also, said Brazzel, with July 29 looking like a potential date. That's the same day the president of the IADC. George J. Matetich, will be in Abilene, along with executive vice president Ed McGhee. The organization is holding a barbecue and membership round-up that evening at the Abilene Civic Center.

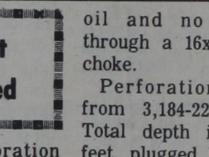

Office space for the beginning shool is being made available through the West Central Texas Council of Governments, 1025 E.N. 10th

The local IADC chapter is now up to 77 members. Reservations, at $15 per person, may be made through the West-Central Texas

County Judge of EASTLAND

To all of whom these presents shall come

I, Soott Bailer, County Judge of Bastland County, do he declare the week of July 25-31, 1981 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Bastland County, for the following reasons County, do hereby

WHEREAS, work, play, travel (traffic) and home accidents involving Texas farm and ranch residents accounted for over 330 fatalities, thousands of painful and disabling injuries costing millions of dollars in 1980; and

WHEREAS, the President has proclaimed National Farm Safety Week and the Govenor has proclaimed the same period as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety week;

WHEREAS, during this week, a statewide farm accident prevention education campaign is being undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and 4-H clubs, Texas Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America, the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers of Texas and the Farthered County Farm Bureau with the theme, "ENJOY LIFE-SAFELY", and

WHEREAS, the latest National Safety Council Preliminary Accident Survey for 1980 indicates a 1% increase in fatal and non-fatal accidents, (an increase from 103,000 to 106,000 fatal injuries and costing $83.5 billion) The latest Agricultural data being 1979, more than 4,200 farm and ranch rtsidents died and 380,000 were disabled in farm, home, public, and highway accidents with 1,900 (less than half) being work related. Of these, 1,150 fatal and 115,000 injury accidents were farm and ranch residents. The total cost of Agricultural accidents to farm and ranch people in 1979, exceeded $5 billion, and

WHEREAS, the 1980 Texas Farm Burcau Accidental Death Program records show that 330 death claims were paid in 133 different counties. County recorded one death claims under the Program. Traffic related incidents caused the most claims statewide, with 212 - (Auto/Truck-182, Motorcycles, Minibikes and Go-carts-20, Bicycles/Big wheels-2, and Pedestrians-8) other ranking causes of death were firearms, falls, drownings aircraft crashes, tractors, machinery, fires δ burns, choked/strangled electrocutions, animal accidents and snake bites.

MONDAY we gathered news inforthe mation for newspaper. Shopping was done for residents in need of supplies. Resident mail was posted at the post of-Afternoon fice. refreshments were served to residents in their rooms.

TUESDAY residents participated in a very active Bingo session. Anne Franke was a lucky winner of five games and we thought we were going to have to purchase her a banana tree to keep her supplied with her favorite fruit. Winners of three games each were Mary Hammett, Maggie Clardy, and Cassie Allen, Emma Christian, Martha Irby, Mary Crisp, Emma West, Ora Clark, and Mary Hord won two games. Estelle Bolding won one game. Cassie Allen, a guest player, donated fresh peaches as prizes. Popcorn was enjoyed by all. Later a game of 42 dominoes was enjoyed by Cassie Allen, Martha Irby, Estelle Bolding and Mary Crisp.

WEDNESDAY the monthly birthday party began at 2 pm. Attending was a large number of residents, volunteers, and guests. Carl Burns, Barbara Chick, Mattie Cosper, Lela Murphy, and Buster Rixford, are the birthday July residents. Each was presented a birthday card and carnation ticipation is permitted by the residents. We welcome anyone willing to share a talent however great or small at the Rising Star Nursing Center. The happy smiling faces and patfrom the Rising Star ting of feet to the music are very rewarding. Our gracious administrator, Mildred Hill, Jean Ogden, Artie Parnell, loves each and every resident and her services beyond her regular duties are so appreciated.

THURSDAY was again shopping day. Mary Cosper received a large stack of birthday greetings to be read to her. She has a loving family. Afternoon refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

FRIDAY BIBLE STUDY at 2 pm, conducted by Olive Odom of the First Baptist Church of May. A large number of residents attended. Mildred Parnell, administrator, sang "He Touched Me'' and Robert Sparkman led the group singing of hymns.

With the study of the 23rd Psalms context completed, Mrs. Odom opened a new series of study of "The Parables of Jesus." Food for thought was Mrs. Odoms statement that a parable is a worldly story with a heavenly meaning. And that a parable can be taken by the individual and applied to soul character. The Bible Study closed with Mildred Parnell leading group singing of, "Wonderful Words of Life." Emma West led closing prayer. Dorothy Harris assisted residents to when we switch over to the new lignite generating plant, utility rates have to increase."

In the early 1970's, the member cooperatives of the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative foresaw continued increasing costs and possible shortages in using natural gas as a primary energy source. In order to guarantee our member/owners the electricity they would need, we began construction of the lignite-fueled San Miguel Plant. Building a lignite-fueled plant is a great deal more expensive than building a natural gas-fueled plant. For example, approximately 30% of the total cost is expended to meet requirements of the Federal Clean Air Act. When we switch to the San Miguel plant as our primary source of electricity later this year, the effect of the high construction costs will make a noticeable increase in your monthly electric bill. But the cost of lignite will increase more slowly than natural gas, making electricity from San Miguel more economical as time goes on. In future years, this plant will help us to slow inevitably rising costs and assure our member/owners of a reliable, available source of your home goes to waste? How many grocery dollars does it stand for? Most consumers throw away more food than they realize in many cases - leftover vegetables, meats, milk that turns sour and bread that goes stale. Throwing these nutritious foods out is the same thing as throwing away pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and even dollars at meal time.

Because we saw the need early and acted on it, we will have more control of future fuel prices affecting the cost of electricity to the member/owners of the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative.

Try some of these tips to conserve food you spend money for real savings depend on your storage and preparation habits, as well as on buying:

BUYING - Buy foods in amounts your family will eat for one meal - or amounts you can set aside in the freezer or refrigerator or later without wasting. Don't get "carried away" buying fresh foods on special if you can't store them properly to prevent spoilage. Fresh peaches at 49 cents a pound are no bargain if you buy four pounds, eat three pounds and throw one pound away.

STORAGE - Wrap leftovers properly for freezer or refrigerator. In the refrigerator, always cover foods with wax paper, foil or plastic wrap - or store them in a plastic bag or a container with a tight-fitting lid. Foods

How much food in stored uncovered lose moisture and can pick up flavors from other foods. Foods for the freezer should be packaged in moisture, vapor-resistant packaging such as plastic containers, foil or freezer paper. Label packages before puting them in the freezer.

Bread needs special storage, too. Store breads in their original container or in an airtight container. It's true that breads keep longer in the refrigerator, but they also can become stale there. For toasting later, this is no problem. But for other uses, freeze bread. Freezing is best for long-term storage.

Keep fresh vegetables in the refrigerator crisper or a plastic bag - all except potatoes and dry onions. Potatoes and dry onions need cool, dry storage.

Keep milk fresh by placing it in the refrigerator IM-MEDIATELY after shopping. Don't leave milk sitting on the counter - even during mealtimes!

Whole-wheat flour becomes rancid rather quickly, so keep it in the refrigerator for long-term storage.

market price. Harvest prices will likely move near the loan rate until this year's crop picture gets a little closer. A large crop could force prices down.

Thursday, July 23, 1981

"Currently, peanuts in the South and Southwest are making good progress following rains that caused some planting delays," notes Feagan. "Good moisture conditions point to a better-thanaverage year, with total plantings up about 4 percent over last year."

Most producers remain optimistic about the market for their 1981 crop due to the past year's short peanut supplies, which are 30 percent below 1979. Although peanut imports were increased in mid-April to ease the shortage, these should have little or no effect on the domestic price support program. According to Feagan, the special import will expire before the new crop comes to market.

What have higher peanut prices done to consumption?

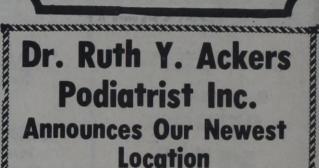

"Edible usage is currently running well below last year's levels and will likely be down 17 to 20 percent by the end of the marketing year (Aug. 31) due to short supplies and high prices," notes Feagan. "Manufacturers are concerned that these high prices will continue to turn consumers away from peanut products."

Bumper Crop

Could Dampen Prices

COLLEGE STATION--While the peanut market looks strong at present, farmers may be facing depressed prices later in the year in the wake of a bumper harvest. So contracting this year's crop could be an important move on the part of producers. Although many shellers have already contracted large supplies of peanuts, contracts are still available that would enable producers to lock in a good price for both quota and additional acreage peanuts," points out Feagan, Johnny economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University

Because most peanut growers have considerable expenses tied up in this year's crop, Feagan advises forward contracting where possible to enable them to reduce some of the risk by assuring a reasonable

Farm & Ranch SAFETY WEEK

Judge Bailey sitting, L to R. Joe Gosch, Agent Manager; Cecil Self, secretary-treasurer and Ernest Reich, President.

County Judge Scott Bailey has proclaimed July 25-31 as Farm and Ranch SAFETY WEEK in Eastland county, at the request of Ernest Reich, Eastland County Farm Bureau President.

This marks the 38th Annual National Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The theme for the 1981 observation of Farm Safety Week is "Enjoy Life-Safely."

In his proclamation, Judge Bailey said "accidents involving farm and ranch residents, employees and guests at work, in the home, at play and on the highways accounted for more than 330 Texas fatalities and more than 3300 disabling injuries, costing millions of dollars in 1980. Time, Planning, and Educational efforts using engineering ingenuity could help prevent much pain, expense and even death. National Safety Council accident surveys indicate that nearly half the accidents were traffic related, with home accidents, recreational accidents and work related accidents following. With 106,000 fatal accidents in the United States in 1980, and with agriculture accounting for more than 4,200, we need to endeavor stronger to "Enjoy Life-Safely".

In concluding his proclamation, the Judge urged all Agricultural producers, their families, employees, and guests to read, take training courses to prepare for a safer life or to administer to those who become involved in an accident. Therefore, we are more fully prepared to "Enjoy $175,000 are taxed at rates that rise as high as 70 percent. To pay that estate tax, many owners of small farms and businesses may be faced with the prospect of selling out-often to larger firms or wealthier individuals. Proposals included in both the Ways and Means Committee version and the Reagan tax package would bring needed changes to estate laws.

The exemption on taxable inheritance would be increased from $175,000 to $600,000 in both proposals. The House Committee version (tentatively approved July 16, but open to change at the last minute) would cut from 70 percent to 50 percent the maximum tax on estates of more than $600,000.

Both proposals would allow a person to leave an estate of any size tax-free to the surviving spouse. Currently, the marital exemption is generally limited to half of the estate.

The bills would also increase to $10,000 the limit of tax-free gifts to one person. For instance, a couple could transfer $20,000 each year to each child without being forced to pay any gift tax.

Although the final form that these proposals will be presented to members of Congress is still unclear, I strongly support this general move away from an inequitable and unfair tax.

Earlier in the year I had co-sponsored H.R. 3882, the "Family Enterprize Estate and Gift tax Equity and Reduction Act" which would allow family farms, ranches and businesses to pass intact from one generation to another. This bill included a provision which has not, as yet, appeared in either Ways or Means Committee or the Administration's proposals. Under this provision, the executor of an estate could elect to value an interest in a closely held business at 50 percent of its fair market value, provided the heirs do not dispose of their interests or merge the firm into a publicly held company within 10 years after the parents' death. Vital improvements in the estate tax laws. however, would seem virtually assured at this point, with all factions apparently realizing the necessity of this move to preserve the continuation of the thousands of small family-operated farms and businesses in this country. That's the only thing we all seem to have agreed on in weeks.
