COST OF TRANSPORTING MAIL.

partment could economize by moving all long-haul first class mail by air. In the light of that, it's interesing o analyze the Department's own cost ascertainment report for the last fiscal year.

It shows that the railroads and other surface carriers moved 17,500,000,000 pieces of non-local first class mail for which they received an average of about one ninth of one cent for transporting each piece. The airlines carried about 1,333,000,000 pieces of air mail for which they received an average of some two and two thirds cents per piece - more than 20 times as much as the railroads.

The railroads also rent to the Department space and facilities for distributing mail en route, a service not provided by airlines. When the money paid the railroads for these facilities is considered, their revenues came to one fourth of one per cent per piece - less than one tenth as much as was paid air carriers for transportation only.

On a ton-mile basis, railroads and other surface carriers (the railroads providing approximately 90 per cent of the service) received an average of a little more than 16 cents for moving one ton of first class mail one mile. The airline's average was $1.33 per ton-mile. And, according to the Department's estimates, 68.8 cents of this was paid for transportation service and the balance was a direct subsidy to airlines.

Taking everything into account, no other form of transportation can approach the efficiency and economy of the railroads for moving the great bulk of our mail.

EXCEPTION TO THE TREND.

Not long ago, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that prices in general had touched a record

There is considerable argument as to whether this prison, and them that sit in barometer or any other can be considered an accurate reflection of the cost of living. However, without arguing that point, it is a notable fact give to another, neither my that one basic budget item has been going against praise to graven images. the general trend so far as price is concerned.

That item is beef. As August ended, the American Meat Institute repored, "Consumers are buying more beef this year than at any time in history — and at low prices — as a result of the bountiful cattle supply. This more than offsets the sharp decline in the kingdom of God, pork supplies which in turn has resulted in seasonal price increases for some pork cuts.

"America suddenly has switched this year from believe the gospel. a 'pork' to a 'beef' eating country. Per capita beef consumption is expected to increase from 61.2 pounds in 1952 to 74 pounds this year, while per capita pork consumption is expected to decrease from 71.6 ish, but have everlasting life. pounds to 60.5."

As of a recent date, retail beef prices were running more than 20 per cent below the levels of the | comparable date last year in the typical Chicago market. This was true in all kind of stores — individually owned chains, cash and carry, and charge and delivery.

It's the old story of supply and demand at work in a free, competitive market. The price tends to go down as the supply goes up. And the consumer, naturally, absorbs more of a desired commodity when his dollar buys more.

CALLING THE TUNE.

A great many people still seem to believe that it is possible to get all kinds of handouts from the federal government and still keep our freedom and independence.

They should ponder this sentence from a 1942 U. S. Supreme Court decision: "It is hardly lack of due process for the government to regulate that which it subsidizes."

The Court simply said, in judicial language, that Claims are being made that the Post Office De- when government pays the bills, it can call the tune to which we must all dance.

for a depth of 1,995-feet. Location is 150 feet from north and east lines of Section 25, Block 2, ETRR Survey.

STATE FAIR TO OPEN ON OCTOBER 10

Big "Tex," the 52-foot cowboy figure symbolic of the great State Fair of Texas, will speak for himself at the 1953 fair, Oct. 10 thru 25.

The giant statue has been eqipped with an electronic voice that will enable him to outtalk anybody, General Manager James H.

Stewart has revealed. It required months of research, over 300 pounds of equipment and weeks of work to make the big man talk. His jaw will waggle in synchronization with his big talk as he announces the daily fair program.

And he'll have plenty to talk about, for the 1953 edition of America's greatest and grandest annual fair looms as the whoppingest one of 'em all.

ISAIAH PROPHESIED

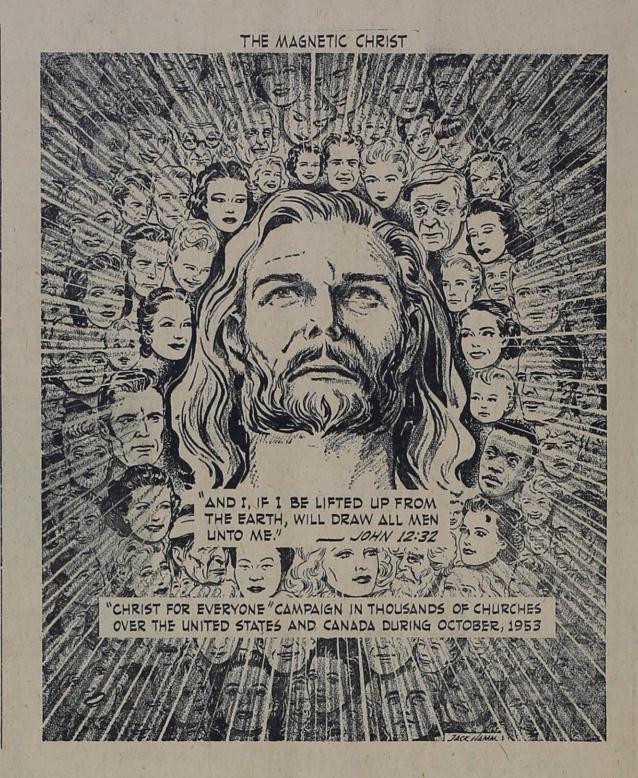

He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; He was despised and we esteemed him not.

Surely he hath born our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: The chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

Laborers Are Needed

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

Then saith he unto his disciples,
The harvest truly is plenteous, but
THE LABORERS ARE FEW.

Pray ye therefore the Lord of harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.

-Mathew 9, 35-38

GERALDINE BUSBEE, OPERATOR OF GERALDINE'S NEWS STAND IN RISING STAR

HANDICAPPED BUSINESS GIRL RECEIVES STATE HELP IN APPLIANCES

By BEULAH KAY HICKS

Geraldine Busbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Busbee, one of Rising Star's most loved personalities, was born a spastic. But this handicap has not kept her from leading a happy, useful life.

Her teacher, Mrs. Lewis Jackson, when she was in 5th, 6th and 7th grades, stated Geraldine had a brilliant mind and a good sense of humor, the ability to make and hold friends. Her greatest attribute was a strong character with a willingness to fight to overcome her handicap. She had then or has now no desire for pity. Neither does she indulge in self-pity.

She graduated from Rising Star High School in 1940. She entered the spastic school in Meridian in 1949. She reviewed her high school work and then studied Latin, typing and speech. Later she took a full time job there. She was there three years.

She loved the school personnell and wants to go back and visit them some time. They made many interesting trips there. Longhorn Cavern, Buchanan Dam, and other places. She had to give up her position there due She had always dreamed of a to illness and come home.

business of her own and kept the dream with a firm determination to launch it.

She opened her news stand in December, 1952. Her friends came in great numbers and bought magazines, cards and Christmas items. Her news stand has grown in leaps and bounds. She now has many interesting items including Dallas, Fort Worth and Abilene papers as well as the home town paper, the Record. She has paper back books of good editions, all kinds of magazines including the funnies, stationery, line of cosmetics and drug store items, school supplies, all kinds of all-occasion cards, candies, cigarettes, cigars and other tobaccos, cold drinks and other items.

She is planning a lending library and will handle books from two Dallas book stores before Christmas. She can order any special boock for anyone from these stores.

4th and is often called "Firecracker", for her quick and brilliant thinking. Her thinking is always kind and considerate of others, laughing with them, not at them.

Her business is rated high enough to receive help in the form of a wondreful cash register which has arrived and a typewriter and record player to come, from the Handicapped Vocational Rehabilitation of the State she said she loved her business and prayed that she would be able to carry it on all her life. She also expressed her deep, heartfelt appreciation for all the kindness from her host of friends who trade with her and speak words of encouragement to her. She expressly wants everyone to
