The folks did a wonderful job with the Record last week. I thank them — the two Jacks of Cross Plains, Mrs. Ellis, Verita, Jerry Lyon and the Cisco Press — very, very much. This week I am indebted to Jerry Lyon who has taken over almost single-handedly in the shop and did a marvelous job in putting out the edition with the help of my daughter and Mrs. Ellis, who did the street work and the work up front. Jerry was "on loan" from his regular job at the Cisco Press.

I thank the advertisers, too, and those who helped with the news, and I am deeply grateful to those who sent cards, flowers and made inquiries about me while I was in the hospital and confined to my home.

When a person all his life has been accustomed to activity and the unrestraints of good health, it is particularly irksome to be forced to lie in bed or creep about in dressing gown and slippers while waiting for nature to lead in its own good time the sudden results of what was no doubt his own carelessness. Patience was never one of my virtues and a person without that virtue is apt to get very discouraged at times. It can be particularly true when something which you considered merely a flare-up of what you had overcome with a few pills in past times, turns out to be a different and much more serious matter.

But that experience can do something else, too. It can make you accept reality. It can make you realize that the earth turns on its axis, the chemical processes of life flow inexorably in one direction, and that life is strung upon a ribbon of time which, winding, can never be unwound. Once you realize that the human frame imposes certain limits upon the spirit that grow more restricted with the years, and can accept that fact gracefully, you are in a position to get the most out of life. There simply are certain things which you can't do any more, a person you can never be again, despite all the wonder drugs, the toiletries, cosmetics and maskings which modern science can offer to the wounded vanity of later years.

Sometimes we have to have that fact knocked into us, and the sooner it happens, perhaps the better off we are.

We have a lot of things for which to be thankful at this season of Thanksgiving.

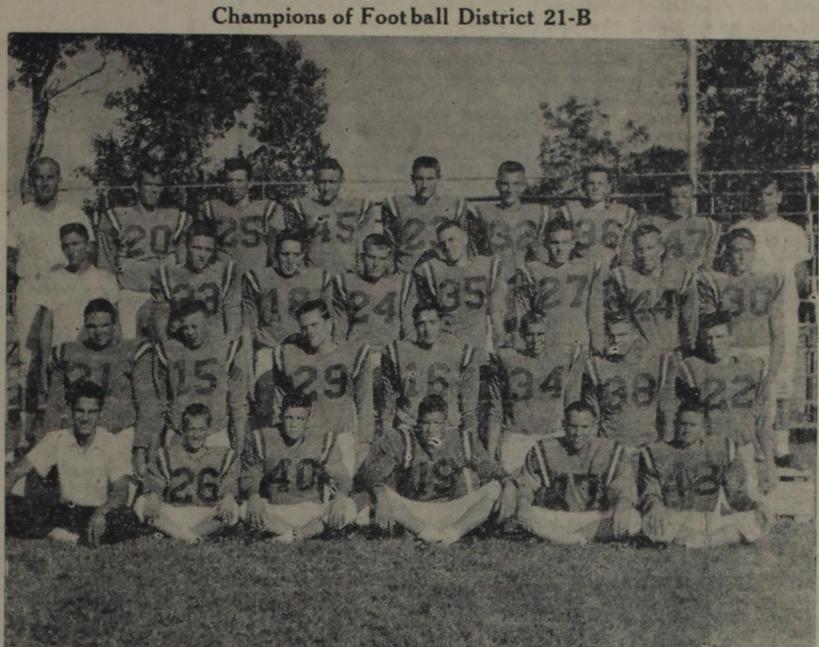

Our farmers are harvesting a fine peanut crop; a new industry has been established in the community and it is meeting a great need and prospering; our Wildcats have won the championship of the football district and Friday they will meet a team from Vice-President Johnson's home town to contest for the bi-district championship. These are just a few of the many that could be mentioned.

A lot of Rising Star supporters will be following the Wildcats to San Saba for the game. I hope that there will be a big crowd of Wildcat fans in the stands that night. The boys deserve it, and it will certainly give them more incentive to do their best. I understand that Johnson City has a fine team, which has lost only one game this year. But the Wildcats have developed into a very good team, too, and if they can "bring home the bacon" Friday night it will mean a long step toward a regional title.

When a team "comes from behind," so to speak, and wins a district title for its school after 13 years, the town can afford to go to a good deal of extra effort to show its appreciation.

New Scout Executive

JOHN H. POUND

Austin Man Is New Head of Comanche Trail Scout Council

John H. Pound, director of camping, activities and special events for the Capitol Area Council at Austin, has accepted the position of Scout Executive of the Comanche Trail Scout Council, according to Firman H. Smith, president.

Prior to joining the Capitol Area Council staff, Mr. Pound served as a district Scout Executive with the Adobe Wells Council, Pampa, from January 1949 to September 1952, and lived in Temple while serving as district Scout Executive for the Heart of Texas Council, Waco from September 1952 to February 1958.

Mr. Pound became a Boy Scout in Houston, Texas at the age of 12 and earned the Life Scout rank. He became a Sea Scout and qualified for the Quartermaster Award — the Sea Scout "Eagle". As an adult volunteer he held the position of mate in Ship 1, Houston, skipper of Ship 43, Houston and advisor of Senior Outfit 50 in Austin.

A graduate of the University of Texas in 1949, Pound had previously attended Rice University and the University of Houston, before and after his service with the U. S. Navy in World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Pound and their three children have been active in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, where Mr. Pound has served as member and secretary of the Board of Deacons, chairman of the adult Sunday School and member of the Christian Education Committee.

Mr. Pound will assume his new position on December 1 and will attend the annual meeting of the Comanche Trail Council which will be held at the Hotel Brownwood on December 6.

REGULAR LUNCHEON

The women of the First Methodist Church will serve their regular monthly luncheon at the church next Monday, Nov. 26. Everyone is invited to attend.

Rising Star to Be Closed On Thanksgiving Day

Rising Star will be closed Thanksgiving day — it being both a legal holiday and one of the five holidays regularly observed by the merchants under a schedule adopted through the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce.

Joint First Baptist and First Methodist service were held at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night in the place of the regular prayer meeting to put a special religious emphasis upon the giving of thanks for blessings which have been received during the past year.

The institution, which has a peculiar American significance from the fact that it originated with the early Plymouth colonists in New England and was later translated into a legal annual holiday by presidential proclamation, will also be a holiday for the public schools which will close Wednesday afternoon to resume work next Monday.

The event will be of more than usual interest to the community and the schools because of the fact that the Rising Star Wildcats, winners of their football district title for the first time in 13 years, will go to San Saba for a bi-district game with the Johnson City District 22-B victors Friday night.

The post office, the First State Bank and practically all businesses in the city will be closed for the day.

Wildcats and Johnson City Play at San Saba Friday

The Rising Star Wildcats, champions of District 21-B, will meet the Johnson City eleven, District 22-B titlists, at San Saba Friday night at 7:30 to determine the bi-district championship.

The neutral site was agreed upon in an afternoon-long conference at Lampasas Sunday afternoon between Supt. Sam Jones, Head Coach Weldon Hill, and assistant coaches Frank Gray and Eddie Joe Henry and the Johnson City officials.

San Saba, 80 miles from Rising Star, is approximately half-way between the two schools, and neither side wished to risk the toss of a coin which, for one of them, would have placed the game at a most prohibitive distance. Rising Star held out for Brownwood and the Johnson City men for Fredericksburg. After three hours, more or less, of discussion the San Saba site was agreed upon.

Johnson City has a 9 and 1 record for the season while Rising Star has a 6-2-1 record, including losses to two Class A teams — Eastland and Bangs. Coach Hill said that the two district winners appear to be about evenly matched.

The Rising Star eleven was in good physical condition and high

Cattle Sales Total 1,147 At Eastland

Cattle, 1,147; hogs, 116; sheep and goats, 111. Prices ranged: Butcher bulls, 16.00 to 18.00; butcher cows, 16.00 to 18.20; heifer-like cows, up to 19.00; canners and cutters, 9.00 to 14.00; butcher calves, 23.00 to 25.50; stocker calves, 11.00 to 30.00 to 33.00; stocker calves, hvy, choice, 25.00 to 27.00; pairs of cows and calves, 16.00 to 22.50; butcher hogs, 16.00 to 17.25; cows, 15.00 to 16.25.

spirits for the clash. It is the first time in 13 seasons that the Wildcats have taken a district title in football and the boys eager to prove their right to it, the coaches said.

Coach Hill will start the following lineup: Covie Weaver, center; Gary Duggan and Kenneth Pittman, guards; Frazier Clark and James Cox at tackles; Ted Cawley and Tommy Alford at ends; Terry Geye at quarter; Kenneth Nunnally and Mack Harris or Darwin Cain at halves and Bill Clark at full.

The Wildcats have been without the services of Garry Duggan in the line for most of the season because of injuries but the coaches were hopeful that he will be ready Friday night.

Other Wildcats certain to see service are Jimmy Rutledge, Russell Botts, Larry Duggan and Danny Wooley.

The Wildcats, a team which has grown with its responsibilities from a poor start at the first of the season, put a convincing finish upon its district record last Friday night. Finding the means to match the will which the youngsters have shown most of the season, the 'Cats routed the Blanket Tigers 39-8 at Rising Star and established themselves as the class of their particular loop.

After narrow wins over stub born May and Gorman opposition, they quite destroyed the notion that all four of the district teams were evenly matched by heavily outgunning and outmaneuvering a Blanket team that had thumped Gorman and lost not too badly to an inspired May eleven.

Whether their performance stamps them as respectable competition in interdistrict play will have an answer Friday night when they meet the Johnson City eleven from the hometown of the U. S. Vice-President. But there is certainly no doubt that they have come a long way from their first uncertain and stumbling performance against the lowly Melvin Tigers last September.

The power running of Bill Clark and Kenneth Nunnally and the passing of Terry Geye were among the offensive features of a Wildcat team which blocked and tackled well and otherwise conducted itself in championship fashion all night.

The first quarter of the game was a stand-off, but shortly after the second period opened, Ted Cawley took a 35 yard pass from Geye for six points to start the scoring.

A short time later Nunnally behind superb blocking, broke the game open with the 55-yard return of a Blanket punt to make the score 12-0. Terry Geye scored the third touchdown with a one-yard quarterback sneak. None of the tries for point after the first three touchdowns was successful.

Darwin Cain scored the fourth touchdown of the period on a cross back for 12 yards and Tommy Alford ran over for two extra points on a fake kick to make the score 28 to 0 at half-time.

In the third quarter Mack Harris swept his own left end for 12 yards and six points and Frazier Clark kicked the extra point, running the score to 33-0 before Blanket could summon a scoring punch.

The Tigers accomplished it with a 68-yard pass and run and added two points on a plunge. The final Rising Star score was the result of a beautiful 20 yard pass from Geye to Alford who raced the remaining 55 yards of a 75-yard play to ring up six more points and advance the score to 39-8.

Dying Green of Leaves Lets Other Colors Emerge To Make Fall Beauty

COLLEGE STATION. — While driving through wooded areas or along city streets in Texas during the fall of the year, have you ever wondered why leaves of trees change their color?

According to Bill Smith, extension forester at Texas A&M College, there is a real good reason. He points out that it is a part of the process by which the tree prepares itself for winter.

Both legend and science have reasons for the beautiful red, brown, yellow and orange colors which decorate Texas broad-leaf trees each year. One story has it that Jack Frost paints the multicolors on trees in autumn. Another one is that celestial hunters have slain the great bear in the sky and his blood dripping on the forests change many trees to red. In reality, however, change in coloring is the result of chemical processes which take place in the tree during its preparation for winter.

All during the spring and summer, the leaves have served as food factories. In the autumn, cool weather causes a slowing down of tree growth and the work of the leaf comes to an end. As this happens, the green coloring matter, or chlorophyll, which helps to make food, dies or loses its color. While the chlorophyll is active, it masks out other colored pigments in the leaf such as brown, red or yellow. As it dies, these other colors predominate.

Some of the food, such as sugars, may be trapped in the leaves when this activity ceases. These give rise to additional colors such as reds, purples and blues. This process adds further hues to the leaves bringing about a riot of autumn colors.

Smith points out that the effect of the leaf fall is to prepare the tree for winter sleep or inactivity. Also, the falling leaves make a blanket over the ground. As spring comes the leaves decay and put back into the soil some of the nutrients taken up by the roots during the past growing season. The decayed leaves help to make the soft, spongy soil which rapidly takes up rainfall.

Jack Smith Named To All College Who's Who

Jack Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Smith of Rising Star and a student in Howard Payne College, Brownwood, has been chosen as one of the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges for 1963. It has been announced. "This is," said a letter from Mrs. Grace Eisey, dean of students at the college, "one of the most coveted recognitions that can come to a senior."

"Howard Payne is happy to congratulate you for the fine record Jack has made while a student here," she wrote. "The student body and faculty nominate outstanding seniors. The Student Personnel committee, which is made up of eight faculty or administrative staff and two students, make the final decision. Students are selected on their scholarship, citizenship, participation in extra-curricular activities and their future usefulness."

ABSTRACTS

While driving around a lake, John and Mary saw a "For Sale" sign on a piece of lake property which they thought they could afford to buy.

They made inquiry of the owner and agreed on a price. They inquired about title and the owner assured them that he would give them an "abstract." They took the abstract, which was a fat book of papers, and the deed, filed the deed at the courthouse and thought no more about it, assuming, as many people do, that an "abstract" is an assurance of good title.

Some years later they went to sell to a buyer who was better informed. He insisted that either the abstract be examined and an opinion given by an attorney that the title was good or that the sellers must provide title insurance. When they sought an opinion as to whether the abstract showed good title, they were dismayed to find that the title was not in good order, and that there would have to be a quiet-title lawsuit to dispose of some flaws in the title before the buyer would accept it. Neither would a title insurance company write a policy of insurance for them without legal action to clear up the title.

John and Mary were astounded to learn that they were wrong in assuming that an "abstract" was an assurance of good title. An abstract is merely a record of every document which has ever been filed of record at the courthouse affecting the title to a particular piece of property. It may show good title or bad title, or no title at all. It is only a bundle of papers, as John and Mary discovered, which summarizes the state of the title. Its possession does not in any way assure good title.

Thus while one may be able to get possession and peacefully occupy a property with an unsalable title, difficulties will arise when the property is to be sold or mortgaged. To do so is only to postpone and perhaps increase the trouble and expense of clearing the title. It makes good sense to correct any title defects when you buy a property.

Dairyman's Short Course Set at A&M November 29

COLLEGE STATION — Texas dairymen and others interested in the state's multi-million dollar dairy industry will have an opportunity to hear discussions and to personally speak with nationally known authorities in the dairy field at the annual Dairyman's Short Course.

The conference will be held in the Memorial Student Center on the campus of Texas A&M College, November 29-30. A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist, said the short course speakers will discuss a variety of subjects which are of vital importance to the Texas dairy industry. Dr. Veal R. Smith, head, Department of Dairy Science, University of Arizona, will present late information on practical milking practices and reproductive management in his two appearances on the fast-moving day and a half meeting.

Three well known Texas dairymen, J. Fred Davis, Haslet; S. R. Donaho, Jr., Floresville; and Bobby J. Traweek, Dublin, will appear on the program as a panel to discuss dairy management pointers.

Two outstanding 4-H Club dairy members from Erath county, Larry Stewart and Miss Nova Wood will speak on the value of records for profitable dairying.

"It Pays to Advertise" will be discussed by J. M. Frye, advertising manager for a large Fort Worth department store.

Other program speakers will be members of the teaching, research and extension staffs of Texas A&M College, Meekma said. He called attention to the banquet speaker Dr. I. W. Rupel, head, Department of Dairy Science at A&M, who will discuss "A Dairyman's Impression of a 'Round-the-World Trip.'" Dr. Rupel is president of the American Dairy Science Association and after attending the International Dairy Congress in Copenhagen, Denmark, he and Mrs. Rupel continued on their world circling trip. The banquet will be held on the evening of November 29.

Meekma said that dairymen and others interested in the dairy industry will get more than a bargain by attending the short course.

HUNTERS URGED TO USE SELF CONTROL FOR SAFE HUNTING

Self-control is often the key to safe hunting, J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today.

"How a hunter handles his emotions in the field can make the difference between whether he walks out of the woods on his own or is carried out," Musick said.

The safety director noted that even the experienced woodsman is often under strong emotional stress.

"A hunter focuses on getting game. All his senses are tuned to locating and bagging game. He is 'up' emotionally for the game," he explained.

"Each rustle of leaves, each snapping twig or the slightest movement may catch the full intensity of his heightened awareness. And, unless he holds himself in check he may shoot at any of these sounds."

Musick said that to be a good hunter and a safe one, the hunter must have complete control of himself. This control comes with practice.

"By handling his gun properly at all times and waiting actually to see the game, he will train himself to habitual control. Once established, these good habits will take over naturally when he is in the grip of excitement at an anticipated shot."

He also emphasized that a hunter should fire only when he has positively identified his target as legal game and has assured himself that no human is in the zone of fire.

He warned hunters that indiscriminate shots in the general direction of the target are dangerous and certainly "mark the novice."

Musick noted that a hunter with good self-control usually is more accurate. He has the accuracy necessary to make clean kills.

"No real sportsman wants to wound game and have it die a lingering death miles away . . . and certainly, no hunter wants to take the life of another hunter or lose his own," he added.

Musick, who reported that 166 Texans died last year in firearm accidents, also advised parties hunting together to plan their hunt carefully.

"It should be agreed beforehand on the area each shooter will cover. This is particularly true of groups hunting birds, rabbits or other small game," he continued.

"Here, again, your self-control is vitally important for everyone's safety."

In hunting larger game, where the party separates over a wide area, equal care should be taken to know where each hunter is going to be. Where shotguns are used in hunting deer, extra care is necessary since it tends to concentrate the deer hunters in an even smaller area.

"The hunter is less likely to mistake a man for a deer under any circumstances when he knows a man is there," Musick said.

He urged hunters to pick their hunting companions with care.

"Know your man — his attitude, habits and ability."

Musick advised hunters to take caution in transporting and storing firearms.

"Guns should be unloaded before being put in a car or a boat and in walking when the footing is very bad. No safe hunter ever runs with a loaded gun, nor does he use his gun to flush or club game," he said.

Musick pointed out the need for storing guns and ammunition when not in use.

"Last year, 73 persons were killed in the home in non-hunting accidents from firearms and during the first seven months of this year another 45 lives were lost in home firearm accidents," he said.

Guns and ammunition should be in locked storage when not in use — and in separate places.

"The principle of safe storage is that it should never be possible for the gun to fire accidentally or for the wrong person to get gun and ammunition at the same time," Musick concluded.

"LA ESTRELLITA"

One of the most important parts of every year is the school annual. This book represents different things to each student, but to all it represents memories.

To about a fourth of the students of Rising Star High, it will represent work in one degree or another. This year's annual staff — supervised by Mrs. C. A. Claborn, English teacher of RSHS — is working to bring some new features that are sure to please the student body and faculty.

One of these features is colored division sheets, introduced in the "La Estrellita" for the first time. The yearbook arrangement and cover are also sure to meet approval.

The cost of the annual is estimated to be around $1,015 with the cost per student being $3.75; there have been 174 annuals ordered.

There is but one function a year sponsored by the annual staff to raise money to help pay for the annual; this is the Coronation of the Rising Star High School Queen. The event this school year was held on the evening of October 25 with an "Autumn Festival" theme; it was a great success.

The major reason for an annual is to record the members of each class in pictures. On October 16 the photographer who was to make the school pictures came; he will return on November 29 to make the pictures for the various high school honors.

The yearbook this year is requiring much time and work from its supervisor, as well as the staff members. They are all dedicated to making this book of memories, memorable.

"NOT FINISHED, JUST BEGUN"

Hi there,
We Seniors certainly are enjoying our Thanksgiving Holidays; I hope not so much that we'll make ourselves sick.

The Seniors are all still talking about how much they enjoyed the Football Banquet. The Cheerleaders and sponsor did a fine job; a vote of thanks from all the Seniors.

The halls of ole RSHS were hung with banners last week. The student body is very proud of our Wildcats, and we hope that we showed them so. Of course, we think the Junior and Senior displays were the best; that's a matter of opinion, however.

The basketball season is upon us once again. The girls have had two games already and have shown signs of a winning team — with practice, of course. There is only one Senior on the team, Cynthia Brown; however, she and I, as manager, promise to keep the team in line and take care of the — umm, smaller children.

No studies for this week.
Bye for now,
Katy
P. S. Remember, too much turkey is worse than no turkey at all!

UPWARD AND ONWARD

The students here at Rising Star High School have completed their second six weeks of school. I truly hate to see it go so fast, but I am glad we're having a Thanksgiving Holiday. Jimmy, I don't think Mrs. Claborn likes you not bringing a literature book to class; she seems to think you are using this as an excuse to sit and read with Cherry.

Don West is getting to be quite a photographer; you never see him without his camera.

Judy L. make several trips a day to the Post Office; she would shoot me if I told why.

Our bon-fire and football banquet were great fun, which all enjoyed very much.

Roger — we had more "sticks" on the bon-fire than you expected — right — by the way, we poor ole junior girls don't have a chance with Roger any more but the rather "a" sophomore girl does.

S. D., L. P., and H. S. — I don't think T. A., D. M., and J. E. would like your plans for after the banquet!

We were very proud of our basketball girls, they played a good, good game against Cross Plains.

Harriet

"KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS"

We are all certainly enjoying our holidays and that turkey and dressing; I must not forget to mention how much the boys are indulging in deer hunting. Good luck, all you mighty deer hunters!

We completed our six weeks' exams in the three days this week; everyone is so relieved to have these behind us. The only thing left to worry about is report cards, which come out next week.

All the "Sophs" are still talking about what an enjoyable time they had at the football banquet last week. You cheerleaders did a remarkable job; thanks so much from the Sophomore class.

The Sophomore Class is to be congratulated on those term themes; several excellent pieces of work were turned in. Everyone showed great improvement; keep up the good work, and keep improving!

Basketball season is getting underway; the prospects of a good team for both boys and girls are high. Of course, much practice is still needed.

For some news around the lockers:

A. M. — Have a nice trip!
J. C. — Too bad you can't be loyal.

T. G. — Better luck next time.
D. W. — Let's watch that sneaking up to your locker.

M. P. — Two what?
L. B. — What were the "Fish" selling?

D. F. — Elephants? Ne!
J. S. — I know you are waiting for this, so "Congratulations!"

We'll be back next week if all that food doesn't get us down!

"LIVE AND LEARN"

Well, we've been burning midnight oil again for six-weeks' tests. The freshmen have learned "how to study!"

The cheerleaders and Mrs. Nowlin did a wonderful job with the football banquet. I would like to congratulate them, for the freshmen class, on its being the greatest ever.

The girls have started basketball season by playing Olden and Cross Plains. They did a fine job. We go into our tournament next weekend.

Last week the freshmen took a group of tests required by the state. The boys found one test particularly hard; the one on baking a cake. The girls found one also hard; the one on engineering; but thanks to Mr. Stamey, he made them very interesting.

In Homemaking I, we are making pies. Caroline is especially good at making dough and running into people. Carolyn Stover enjoys mixing names, but sometimes it can prove embarrassing. Becky Nowlin is having trouble with her contact lenses. Susie, remember that the right one goes in the right eye and the left one in the left eye. And how about you, Julia — our newest member in the Contact Club?

The freshmen are selling Christmas mixed nuts; if they come ringing doorbells, please help by buying a can; they are only one dollar and would be so good for any holiday — including Thanksgiving. Until next week.

Marcia

How 45,000 companies help their employees buy security

The average American company is pretty busy tending to its own business. Yet many companies have sandwiched in a valuable service for their employees—the Payroll Savings Plan for U.S. Savings Bonds.

Through this plan, your payroll clerk sets aside a certain amount each payday for Bonds, buys them, and arranges to get them to you. It's completely automatic, and the easiest way in the world to save.

Save as much or as little as you wish

Employees can sign up to save as little as $1.25 a week. The average among the more than 8 million folks on the Plan is $20 a month.

All in all, 45,000 companies help their employees save about $2 billion in Savings Bonds a year—a lot of future homes, vacations, college degrees, and nest eggs for retirement.

The security built into Savings Bonds

U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed by the Government to grow. $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months. In 10 more years, it becomes $36.25. Your Bonds can be cashed in anytime, with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in Peace. What better way to help your government help you enjoy the things you're saving for.

Hats off to American Industry!

"American Industry has given the Savings Bond Program its greatest success," says William H. Neal, National Director of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Program.

"45,000 American companies have sold many billions of dollars in Savings Bonds—at no cost to the taxpayer," says Mr. Neal. "By operating the Payroll Savings Plan, these companies, big and small, are helping to keep our country strong. At the same time, they're helping more than 8 million people save automatically for the things they want. America owes a vote of thanks to these companies for their outstanding contribution to the 20-year success story of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program."

You save more than money with

U.S. Savings Bonds

Buy them where you work or bank

RISING STAR RECORD

For 20 years America's newspapers have published Savings Bonds ads at no cost to the Government. The Treasury Dept. is grateful to the Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

210 NOV '62 Form 6

Thanksgiving is a American institution . It grew out of hard times ... the sufferings of the Plymouth colonists from the bitter cold, the privations and tragic illnesses of their first winter in the American wilderness, and the bloody holocaust of a Civil War that left a young nation struggling slowly back to unity and national health. It expressed, in its first observances, not thanks for abundance of material blessings, but rather a gratitude to God Almighty that the human spirit, by His help, was able to overcome adversity and to preserve for future generations a way of life in which man can achieve his finest expression and highest dignity.

Today, we can be thankful for an abundance of material wealth and the opportunities for good living. But it is only by preserving those God-given freedoms which make it possible for man to work out his own destiny that we can insure these blessings for the future.

This week, as we bow our heads about the festive board, let us be humbly grateful for a way of life in which the Human Spirit, through Faith in God, can rise supreme to all the difficulties that beset it.

And as we face the challenges of those who would deny the freedom and dignity of the individual and reduce the world to slavery and materialism, let us resolve to re-enforce our faith by regular attendance upon church throughout the coming year.

It's All in Knowing How --
... A lot of things look easy until you try to do them yourself. For example riding a bicycle is easy if you have what it takes to do the exercise. To some degree it's that way with the abstract business. Come January, 1963, we will have completed 40 years of exercise making abstracts for you and many others. Experience and equipment help, but when we realize that Eastland County is rated one of the most difficult title counties in Texas, that means problems. But we like 'em!

Student Drivers Are Urged To Be Cautious

Student drivers enroute to Turkey Day football clashes were urged today by the Texas Safety Association to put courtesy and caution in their driving. "Traffic to and from games and around stadiums on Thanksgiving Day increases the hazards of driving," J. O. Musick, general manager of TSA said. "Extra caution and courtesy are the primary ingredients for a safe and happy holiday trip." The safety director also urged students to check their cars and the weather outlook before starting their journey. "A roadworthy vehicle should be the first order of business. Next, if a check on the long-range weather forecast discloses a possibility of bad weather, extra time should be allowed for reduced speed in driving," Musick said. "Many student drivers will be carrying extra passengers — the driver is obliged to protect his passengers from harm." Musick suggested that even if you are a passenger in someone else's car or if you are traveling with the family during the holiday, you should make sure the driver has taken care of his vehicle and is prepared for holiday driving. "Remember, the life you save, may be your own," he concluded.

Cancer Directors Meet Nov. 15 At Eastland

Directors of the Eastland County Cancer Society met at the Texas Electric Service building in Eastland Thursday night, Nov. 15. President Sam Kimmell, Cisco, presided. After roll call minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The Service committee announced that a new working unit had been organized in Gorman to make dressings and bandages, and the Education committee reported that much progress is being made in showing cancer films to clubs and schools of the county. Mr. Crawford, field representative of Abilene, showed a very interesting film on cancer research. It was stressed that much publicity be given to danger signals pointing to cancer, including: Unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; change in a wart or mole.

Management of Range Topic Of San Angelo Meet

COLLEGE STATION — The Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management will hold its annual meeting at the Townhouse Hotel in San Angelo, December 7-8. President Don Huss, Department of Range and Forestry, Texas A&M College, reports that a program has been planned which should be of great interest to Texas ranch operators and he extends to them a special invitation to attend. He adds that delegations representing the cattle unions of Mexico are also planning to send representatives. The first session is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. on December 7 with Dr. V. M. Harris, director of research, Perry Foundation, Robstown, presiding. In rapid order will come discussions by outstanding speakers on "Seeding Grass in a Living Stand of Small Grain"; "A Lesson in Ecology from Mexico"; "Financing Range Improvements"; "Use of Cost-Return Information in Conservation Ranching"; "Range Seeding in the Trans-Pecos"; and "Ranching With and Without Conservation."

The evening session will be devoted to the annual banquet with W. J. Waldrip, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, serving as master of ceremonies. Miss Mohair of Texas, Miss Nancy Friend, Ozona, will be an honored guest. Awards and entertainment will also be presented.

Friday morning's session will be presided over by Dr. Leo Merrill, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Sonora, with a business meeting set for 8 a.m. The screwworm program will be discussed at 9:15 and will be followed by discussion on "Climatic Cycles and Vegetation"; "New Developments for Control of Hazardous Spray Drift"; and presentations by students from Abilene Christian College, Texas A&M College and Texas Technological College. A style show and coffee has been planned for the ladies at 10 a.m. and will feature Miss Mohair of Texas and her wardrobe.

Mr. W. H. Owen, Treanor Equipment Company, Abilene, will preside over the final afternoon session on December 8. Subjects to be discussed include "1962 Range Camp Report"; "Field Application of Range Trend"; "History of Development of Dense Stands of Brush on the Rio Grande Plains" and "Getting Action on Research." President Huss said, "We believe those attending will find the information presented very valuable since each speaker will emphasize the practical."

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank everyone for the nice things they did for me while I was in the hospital. I appreciated the visits, cards, flowers and gifts very much. I also want to thank Dr. Schmitt and the nurses for their care.
