Cecil Shultz To Be Buried Thursday

Pioneer Dies

Cecil Gaines Shultz, 76, long-time Rising Star business and civic leader, died in West Texas Medical Center in Abilene at 8:40 a.m. Tuesday, April 18.

He had suffered a stroke last December and had been confined to hospitals and Twilight Acres Nursing Home in Rising Star since that time.

Monday when his condition worsened he was transferred to the Abilene Medical Center.

Funeral services will be held at the Rising Star Church of Christ at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, April 20 with Minister James Honey officiating. Burial will be in Rising Star Cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mr. Shultz was born Sept. 9, 1895 at Okra, the son of Columbus G. and Ellen Scott Shultz. Except for military service in World War I, he had spent all of his life in Eastland County where he was a successful businessman, rancher and farmer.

He was married to Ruby Lowery whom he met when she came to Rising Star to teach in the public schools, on March 8, 1921. They have one son, Bob Shultz, who was a partner with his father in the Shultz Implement Co. and their ranching interests, six miles north of Rising Star, where both families have their home.

Mr. Shultz began his business career with Higginbotham as manager of the company's Rising Star mortuary department. He later went into the grocery business for himself and for many years, operated a Piggly-Wiggly store here. During that period he laid the foundation for his ranching enterprises. Shortly after World War II, he went into the farm implement sales and services in which he was joined by his son and together they operated one of the largest dealerships of his kind in West Central Texas, a business in which the son continues.

Mr. Shultz' civic career includes terms as president of the chamber of commerce - which honored him last February by dedicating its annual banquet in tribute to him - and leadership in many other community enterprises in which he expressed his deep affection and ambition for the community he loved. Among his most notable contributions were his prominent part in the organization of the Rising Star Community Hospital, the Upper Leon Soil and Water District and the Sabanno Watershed Association. He was a member of the American Expedition Force in World War I.

vote there.

This new party regulation dispenses with the old unit rule under which each precinct is assigned a certain number of votes which may be cast by whatever delegates attend the county convention.

Only delegates named at the precinct convention from actual attendants upon that convention will be eligible as voting members of the county gathering. Furthermore the total precinct vote will be limited to delegates actually attending.

"It is vital, if our precinct can exercise its assigned voice in the county convention, that we have a large precinct attendance," said Dr. Dunn.

WEEK-END RAIN

Over Inch Recorded

Thunderstorms which swept through the Rising Star area last weekend dumped varying amounts of moisture as the first break of any consequence in the long winter and early spring drought.

Four-tenths of an inch was registered early Friday morning and a second front which passed through the area early Saturday added approximately .6 of an inch to bring the total for the year to about 2.6 within the city.

There were reports that north of the town the precipitation totalled as much as two inches. The rain was accompanied by scattered hail.

While the moisture was less than needed to insure a good planting season, it gave a great boost to the spirits of farmers and business men who saw in it an indication of a favorable turn in the weather pattern and a better prospect for rain later on.

March was the driest of the four months, to count one-half of April, according to the records of John W. Lee, official weather observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau. During that month Mr. Lee's gauge registered only .07 of one inch hardly enough to dampen a garment for the hot iron.

During January almost one inch fell, .92 to be exact, while February recorded .61 of an inch.

The rain which fell Friday was the only moisture received during April.

The heaviest rainfall occurred on January 5 when .6 of an inch fell.

Norman rainfall for the period is 4.5 inches.

Record heat for April was recorded Thursday, April 13, when the mercury climbed to 98 degrees.

At Cisco College Friday Pecan Grafting School

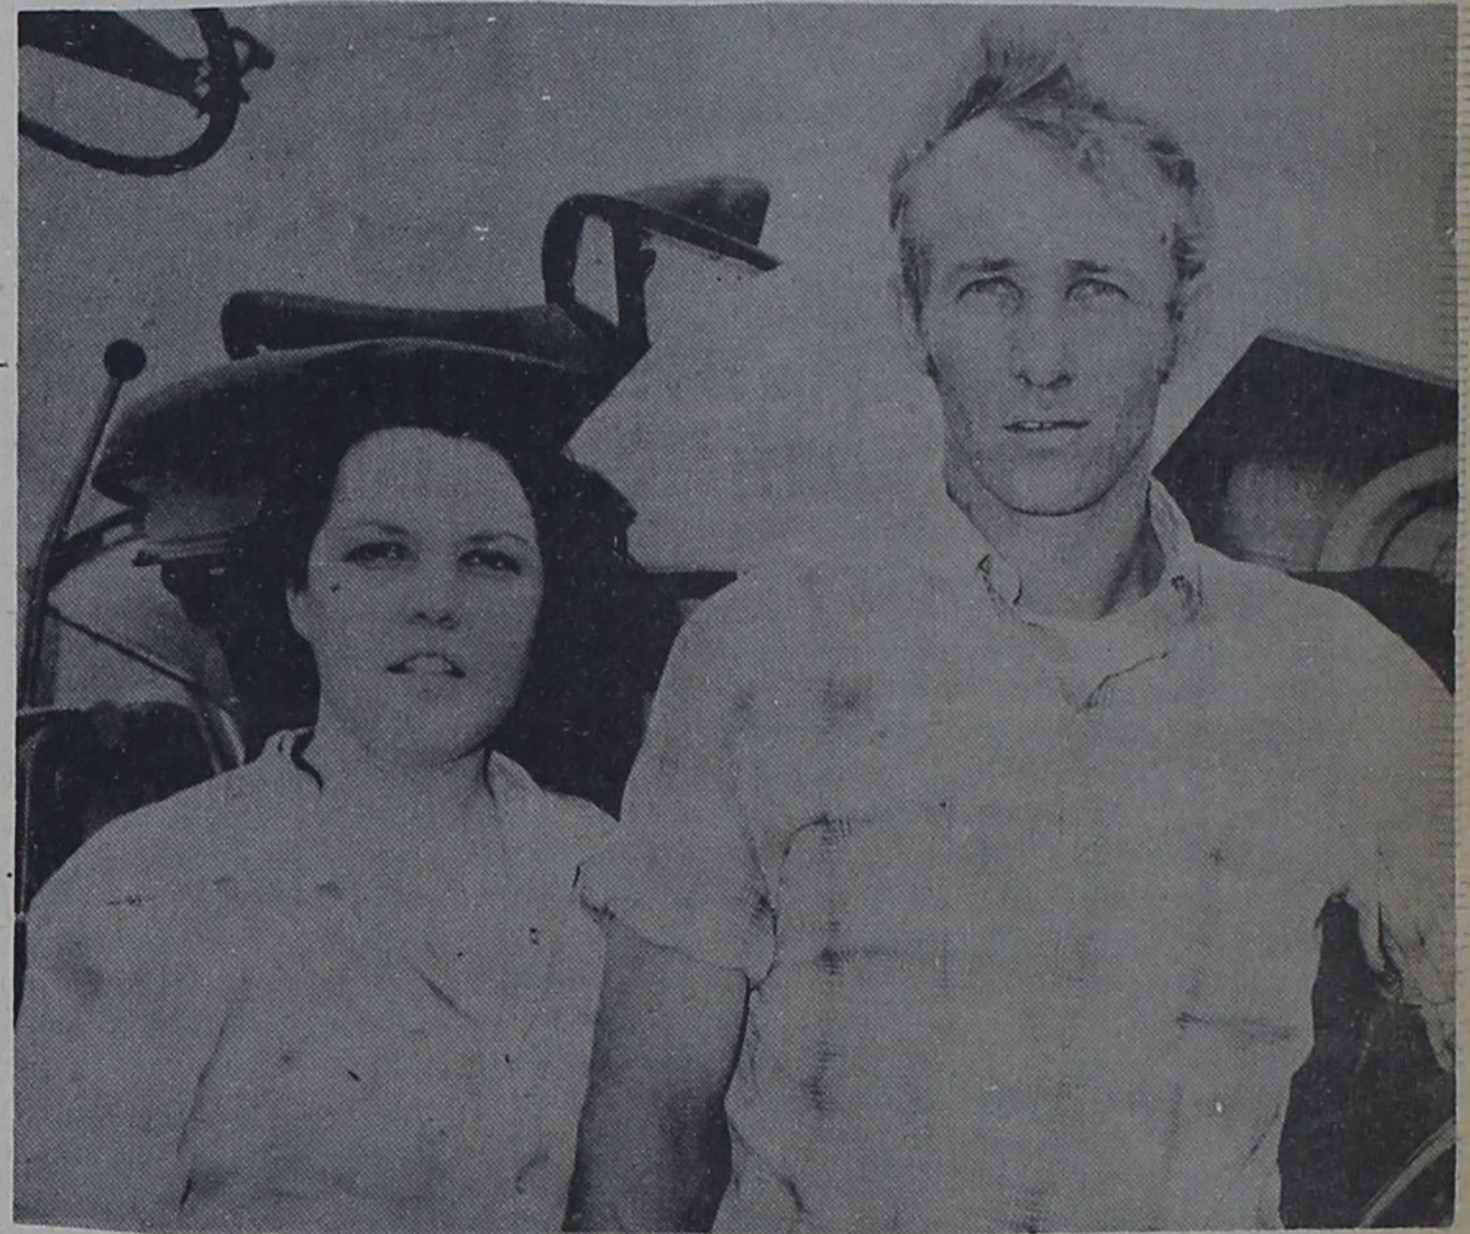

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce invites both women and men from throughout Central and West Texas to the 19th Annual Eastland County Pecan Budding and Grafting School. The school will be held Friday, April 21st in the auditorium of Cisco Junior College.

The morning session will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will be devoted to discussions and demonstrations on budding and grafting. During the afternoon session the group will practice the patch bud and inlay graft in Dr. Bill Cardwell's pecan orchard. Cardwell's orchard is located about two miles west of Cisco on the Old Abilene Highway.

Dr. J.W. Worthington, Texas A&M Extension Service Horticulturist, will serve as instructor. Local pecan growers will assist with the practice session and demonstrations.

County Agent De Gordon and the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association have planned and will conduct the school.

Dan Childress, President of the Association, said pecan budwood and graftwood of some of the better varieties such as Choctaw, Mohawk, Wichita, Sioux, Caddo and Shawnee will be available for those wishing to buy wood. Budding and grafting supplies will also be for sale Childress says.

STATE "YOUNG FARMER" - - Thomas Gregory, named in third place as Texas Young Farmer of the Year, and his wife stand before big tractor he uses to cultivate 500 acres of peanut and pasture land he farms in partnership with his father, J.W. Gregory between May and Sidney. Young Gregory is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. S.C. Gregory of Rising Star.

Grandson of Rising Star Couple Wins State Honor

Thomas Gregory of May, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Gregory of Rising Star, was named in third place as the Texas Young Farmer of the Year for 1972 in a national contest co-sponsored by the United States Jaycees and the Chevrolet Motor Division, Truck Department, of the General Motors Corporation. He was the representative of Brown County.

He holds a bachelor of business administration degree from the University of Texas, earned in 1966. His wife, the former Fleta Wagner of Brownwood, is a licensed vocational nurse who laughingly remarked that she "ended up in the veterinary business", taking care of the treatment of the livestock and other animals in the community. She said she finds this work very interesting.

Young Gregory was honored at a luncheon at Holiday Inn, Brownwood, Friday noon hosted by the Brownwood Jaycees who sponsored him in the state contest. He was presented a plaque in recognition of the honor.

Thomas farms some 500 acres, most of it peanut acreage, in partnership with his father, Joe Wade Gregory, midway between May and Sidney. They live as neighbors.

Bibby's Adds 3 Employees

Three new employees were being added to the work force at Bibby's Creations Plant here this week, bringing the total number to seven.

The plant, established in Rising Star last December, is housed in the former Rising Star Record building on West College Street. It manufactures ladies vinyl handbags and other vinyl wearing apparel and a line of plastic novelties. Its output has been steadily increasing since it began operations.

Owners and operators are Mr. and Mrs. Arley Bibby and son, Jackie. Mrs. Bibby and Jackie were active on the management and production work of the plant.

Mail Time Change April 30 CST

With the arrival of Daylight Saving Time Sunday, April 30 - when the clock will be advanced one hour - mail schedules will observe the new time except on Sunday, the first day. Mrs. Cliffogene Witt, postmaster, said.

The time change will occur at 2 a.m. Sunday.

On Sunday, she emphasized, the mail arrival and departure will conform to Central Standard Time, which in terms of DST will be at 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. respectively.

Monday the schedule will change to the new time.

VISITS HOME - - Richard Crofts, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Crofts, spent Monday, April 10 through Monday, April 17, at his home in recess from treatments for leukemia he is undergoing at Warde Clinic, Morton's Hospital, Dallas. It was his first visit home since he was taken by air ambulance, in extremely critical condition, to the Dallas clinic from Hendrick Memorial Hospital. His response to the special treatments at Dallas has been encouraging. Richard said "Thank you very much" to the many Rising Star area people, and those elsewhere, who responded so generously, financially and otherwise, to his desperate need.

Chuckle For Today

A man ran into a grizzly bear while walking in the woods. In reporting this experience to a friend, he said: "When I saw that bear, my whole life raced before me and I recalled everything I had ever done".

Immediately, his friend inquired: "Say Buddy! When your life whizzed by, did you see anything of that $20.00 I lent you ten years ago?"

Attendance Key to Precinct Voice In County Convention

With the May 6 primary elections only about two weeks away, local democratic political leaders were turning attention not only to efforts to get out the vote but to encourage the largest possible attendance of the party faithful at the precinct conventions as one insurance of having an effective voice in the county convention and subsequent deliberations.

The election for Precinct 7, as the voting precinct centered in Rising Star is known, will be held at the city hall on Saturday, May 6, and the polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Precinct Chairman G.A. Dunn, Jr., will be the election judge and members of his staff will be announced later.

The election will be the first in which 18-year-olds will be allowed to vote and considerable interest centers on what may be the effect of this new and more youthful element in the results of the balloting.

To be eligible to vote a person, otherwise qualified, must have registered with the county tax assessor - collector as prescribed by law and at least 30 days prior to the date of the election.

The precinct 7 democratic convention will be held at the American Legion Hall at 2 p.m. and Dr. Dunn will preside as temporary chairman.

The importance of local attendance upon the precinct convention is emphasized by the fact that much more stringent rules govern representation and voting at the county and state conventions, including a formula based upon the population pattern.

Only party members attending the precinct meeting will be eligible to attend the county convention, said Dr. Dunn, and only those delegates actually attending the county meeting will be permitted to

Congressman Burlison

Congressman Omar Burlison has formally announced his candidacy for re-election to Congress, subject to the Democratic Primary on May 6 and the General Election in November. The 17th Congressional District, which he represents, is composed of 31 Counties, covering approximately 30,000 square miles. Within this area live about 468,000 people.

Burlison says, "During my tenure of office I have followed two guiding principles: First to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest degree possible in my actions in the Halls of Congress. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect our District, our State and our Nation.

Burlison termed his approach to Government as one of "common sense," gained through the years of public service. "I have tried to see that the people's tax money is spent as wisely and as judiciously as you would have spent it had you been in my place," he said.

"The record will show that a greater part of the time I have found myself in the minority in opposing the vast spending programs of doubtful value which have been put into effect in recent years. In every Session of the Congress the record will show my votes for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department and far less than actually appropriated by the Congress, except in the field of National Defense," Burlison said. He continued, "Without meaning to appear boastful, if the Congress had followed those of us who have voted consistently over the years for fiscal responsibility, our financial affairs would not be in the shape they are today."

"In areas providing for the defense of our Country, I have always supported those things to make and keep our Nation stronger than any other in the world," he said.

"I have been discerning in separating those activities which the Federal Government was not designed to do, from those which are truly its responsibility," he said.

Burlison stated that activities of State and local governments, in accordance with the Constitution, should not be infringing and encroached upon by the Federal Government.

"The Federal Government does have specific missions," he said. He gave as examples the conservation of our natural resources, the defense of the Country and its general welfare.

"At the same time," he said, "the Federal Government can not and should not try to take care of everything from Washington. The Federal Government has grown to colossal proportions and centralized power in Washington has increased," Burlison pointed out. "To this, I am opposed and my record is clear in this respect."

Burlison is among the senior members of the U.S. House of Representatives in point of service. He was elected to the 80th Congress from the 17th District and has been re-elected to each succeeding Congress. He is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, considered to be the most powerful and prestigious in the Congress.

Burlison is a former County Attorney and County Judge of Jones County. He was appointed an FBI Agent, and served in a number of assignments over the U.S. He resigned from the FBI to join the Navy in World War II, and saw duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Burlison ended his formal announcement by saying, "Although not having opposition in this year's election, it is my hope to visit my constituency as opportunity affords. The Congress being in session at this time and expected to be long after the Primary Election, there will be little time to leave duties in Washington. I expect, however, to get back home at short intervals to do the best I can in seeing my friends and to make new ones. I believe it is incumbent upon a Congressman to know people and that they know him, to have the best representation. This is fundamental to our system."

Around Our Town

Mayor and Mrs. C.M. Carroll visited their son and family Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll and girls at Tolar, over the weekend. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Horace Witt in Roanoke. Mr. Witt is at his home now, following surgery in Saint Josephs Hospital at Fort Worth.

Duby Jones Cites Race Objectives

A.B. (Duby) Jones, long time Eastland County resident, is a candidate for County Commissioner of Precinct 3, having announced his candidacy early in the year.

He is in the race as a democrat in the May 6 primary election.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones reside at 416 West Pioneer. They have two children, Arthur, who lives in Houston, and Rita, a senior at Angelo State University.

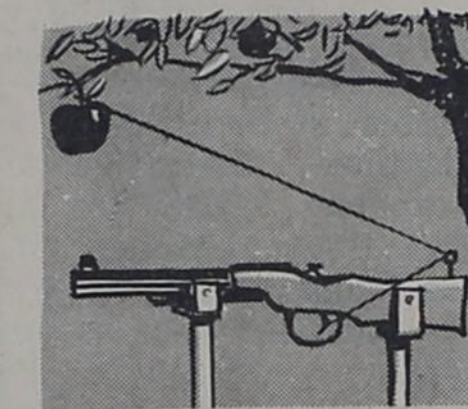

Mr. Jones has lived in the Rising Star community for about 50 years and is presently employed by Eastland County.

Mr. Jones pointed out that his main reasons for entering the race are to promote harmony between Eastland County and the residents of his precinct, to improve the efficiency of the county administration and to accomplish real objectives in road maintenance.

He said that he would appreciate the support of the voters to this end.

HOME AND FAMILY HINTS From Higginbothams

If you are one who enjoys jewelry, I need not tell you how its strategically placed accent can add just the pizzazz you need to finish off your look. You know that jewelry is not intended for its own display but is made to add to the attractiveness of your costume. Unless it does this, you leave it in the dresser drawer and look at it there.

Barbara Williams

You also know that jewelry attracts attention, so you never put it on that part of your body that you would rather went unnoticed. You avoid wearing too many pieces of jewelry at one time, because too many pieces of jewelry, particularly of matched jewelry, detract from your costume.

You also think about the size of the piece. A tall person can wear large pieces of jewelry and a small person small pieces. If you are tall like me, then, a collection of small pins worn imaginatively allows you to use those smaller pieces of your collection whose design you love.

You are creative, too! You place pins in unusual places. On pocket instead of shoulder. Peeking out from the top of a breast pocket or from under a collar. You experiment with them and all of your jewelry for new combinations and for new ways to wear them on the same dress.

And then there's that ole figure! Only one bracelet on plump arms, but many on long, thin arms. If you have a round face, you wear long pearls instead of a choker. Or at least one of the chokers with a pendant on it. You know that a pendant on a small, long chain, and narrow, drop earrings are better for the plump face than round or square ones. Button or cluster earrings and a choker high on the throat are better for a long face. Also, a thin neck is camouflaged with space-filling jewelry. You are aware, also, that for an oversized bust, too long or too bulky a necklace is a no-no.

Being the wise consumer that you are, you carry items that need to be matched with you to Higginbothams when shopping for garments and accessories, and you do a little accessory experimenting right there in the store.

Jewelry is fun? You bet! Play with it a while and see! Come up with some combinations your friends never dreamed of!

Mrs. Williams, Higginbothams Staff Home Economist, may be contacted through your local Higginbothams store or by calling (915) 356-2545. She will be happy to assist individuals or groups with problems in home economics.

The Rising Star Roping Club began organizing for the renewal of its remarkable summer rodeo weekly programs at a meeting April 11 when Jay W. Moore of the Williams Community was named president in a slate of officers that also included: Mack Elliott, vice president; Geraldine Richter, secretary; Ina Yocham, treasurer. Directors for the new season are C.W. Richter, John Schlittler, Jack Hubbard, Delbert Tarver, Rex Long and Gary Hubbard. One of the most important jobs in the rodeo organization was given Jinks Hollis who will direct arena activities during the weekly performances. He will be assisted by Jerry Winfrey. The series will open on Saturday, May 27 with the traditional parade through the business district of Rising Star beginning at 6 p.m. The initial performance will then take place at the rodeo arena on East High 36 at 8 o'clock. All subsequent performances to the number of about 12, will take place on Friday evenings. Work and play nights, when members of the club and others interested gather at the arena to put it in condition for the performances, began Tuesday night, April 18. These will continue to be held on following

Tuesday evenings until the opening of the season. Much remains to be done in conditioning the arena, its chutes, stands, etc., and the club officers appealed to the members of the club and to others to help with the conditioning project. Rodeo stock will also be exercised and conditioned to their roles in the arena. The Parent-Teacher Association will have charge of the concession stands. The club also voted a donation to the high school band in order that it could make a trip to Six Flags as a gesture of appreciation for the part it has played in the rodeo parade and grand openings. The parade will be directed by A.D. Jenkins and Charles Ballew. John Schlittler and Fielding Winchester, T.F. Guthrie, Payton Scott, C.W. Richter and Delbert Tarver, will work the chutes. Membership in the club carries a fee of $1.00 and new members will be welcome.

Support Level For Peanut Crops

A minimum national average support level of $279 per ton for 1972 crop peanuts has been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The new support price represents 75 percent of the peanut parity price for April 1972. The support level for 1971 crop peanuts was $268 per ton.

The announcement said further:

"The agricultural Act of 1949 provides for peanut support at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity depending on the percentage which the total supply of peanuts is in relation to the normal supply at the beginning of the marketing year. Today's announcement is in accordance with 'forward pricing' provisions of legislation providing for such determination in advance of the planting season.

"This national average support level will not be decreased, but may be adjusted upward at the beginning of the marketing year August 1, 1972 if at that time a combination of the parity price and the supply percentage results in a higher legal minimum support level.

"A later announcement will list the support level of 1972 - crop peanuts by type and area, as well as premiums and discounts for various types of kernels, foreign material and other factors.

"Support will be available through loans and purchases. Loans to approved grower associations cooperating in making support available to farmers will mature on demand by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

"A producer needs to comply with his 1972 crop peanut acreage allotment to be eligible for support."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Plain English"

Gerald had the idea and Fred had the money. Over a midnight cup of coffee, they agreed to start manufacturing a new kind of toy. As for profits, they agreed on what they assumed would be a simple formula: a "fifty-fifty" split.

Things went well. Nevertheless, for personal reasons, they decided after a year to bring the venture to an end.

Dividing the profits should have been merely a matter of arithmetic. But Gerald insisted he was entitled to an extra share as wages, on the ground that he alone had put in regular working hours at the company office.

Fred finally won the argument—but only after a costly trip to court. Two years of bitter litigation was the price the partners had to pay for failing to make clear, right at the start, what they meant by the expression "fifty-fifty."

The case illustrates the danger of assuming that "plain English" is always plain. When money or legal rights are at stake, people have an astonishing capacity for putting different interpretations on what might at first have seemed perfectly clear.

Consider the following words: "fireproof," "cash on hand," "furniture," "unmarried," "immediately," "children." Plain English? But:

Does "fireproof" mean that the article positively can't burn?

Does "cash on hand" include money in the bank?

Does "furniture" include silverware and china?

Does "unmarried" include someone who was married, then divorced?

Does "immediately" allow for a reasonable delay?

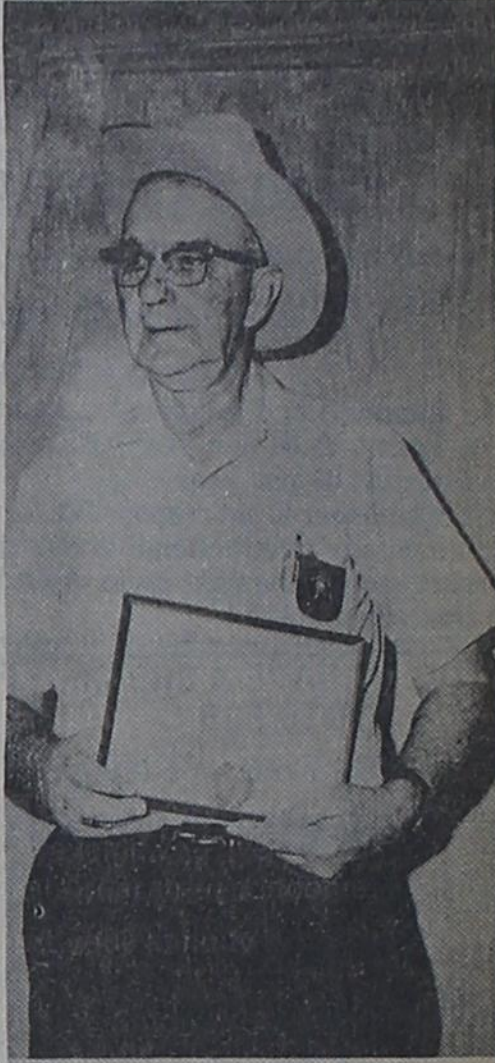

Do "children" include step-children?

Each of these questions has led to litigation. Furthermore, in each instance, courts have given both yes and no answers, depending on the particular circumstances.

Even the lowliest prepositions or conjunctions can be tricky. The United States Supreme Court itself has had to rule on the meaning of "and" (11 times), "from" (four times), and "but" (twice).

The lesson should be obvious. Not everyone who speaks English is able to use it with precision. Making any important legal agreement is definitely a job for an expert.

Social Security Needs

"Persons who become disabled in 1972 may need more than five years of work credit under social security to qualify for disability benefits," R.R.
Tuley, Jr., manager of the Abilene social security office announced.

Tuley explained that anyone who becomes disabled in 1972 and was born before 1930 will have to meet two work requirements. First, as before 1972, most persons must have 20 quarters of coverage during the 40 quarter (or 10 year) period ending when that person becomes disabled. Secondly, and for the first time he must also be fully insured. According to Tuley, this means the person will need a total of at least 21 quarters. "What this means is that in addition to having 20 quarters in the 10 years just before the disability onset a person will also need one more quarter which can be at any time since social security began in 1937," Tuley stressed.

Tuley emphasized that this requirement applied only to people born before 1930 who became disabled in 1972.

"Persons born in 1930 or later will need to have only the 20 quarters during the 10 years before the disability began or, if young enough, even fewer credits than this," Tuley added. "If a person has enough quarters and is unable to work because of a condition that will last at least one year, he can be paid monthly social security benefits for as long as he is disabled." Tuley said that "anyone who has questions about disability benefits should contact their nearest social security office. The Rising Star office is located at the City Hall and is open at 10:00 on April 19.

By Janet Thomas County Home Demonstration Agent

The Young Homemakers Chapter of Rising Star met in the Homemaking Cottage on April 11, 1972, for their monthly meeting. The main feature of the meeting was "Sewing Tips" given by Eastland County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Janet Thomas and Beverly Hopper. They showed "what's in" for this season. Some of these are the Nautical look, which is your reds, whites and blues. Bold stripes, plaids and checks; the pinafore look; two piece look with jackets; and the smoked look. This season is "really" doing your thing.

Trims are very popular this year such as decorative zippers, belts, scarfs, buttons and lace. Different types of material were shown for apparel. The demonstration was interesting for the Young Homemakers.

"TODAY - NOT TOMORROW!"

Hi, again! We Seniors have lived through one more week of school! It seems that summer is really here. New sunbats and blistered arms can be seen as we walk down the hall.

Last week the Coleman Junior High Band came to the gym and played for the student body.

Mrs. Claborn has asked the Seniors to finish the last book reports as soon as possible! In English IV we are busy improving our vocabulary by the study of new words and correct usage of figures of speech.

We are in a new unit in Typing. We are not having so many timings; thus, we are all concentrating on finishing all units.

Bookkeeping finds some of us behind in our workbooks. We are trying to finish our projects.

We have started a new chapter in Civics, getting ready for another test.

That's about all the news for this week, so 'til next week - -

Paula

NOT FINISHED JUST BEGUN

Hello! Things are about the same around here.

We Juniors would like to congratulate the track teams for doing such a great job this year! And "good luck" at Regional!

Try outs for cheerleader are getting closer and closer. Some of us are getting shakey! Right?!

We had a program on Wednesday - Coleman Junior High Band; they were really great!

'Till next week!

Sharon

STRONGER BECAUSE UNITED

Hello! School is really flying by, and it won't be long until May 19th. That's the day school is out and we start our summer vacation; in the meantime, things are still happening around R.S.H.S.

Cheer leader prospects are working.

We are all proud of our track girls; they will be running in the Regional Track Meet April 28, at Abilene. Hope you all get to go to see them.

Lucky Soph. Shirley Benson will be leaving for Fort Worth, the F.H.A. State meeting Thursday; don't have too much fun while you are gone!!

Book reports were due last Friday. You had better be getting them in; the Sophs are noted for being late with reports - this does not work the last six weeks.

Guess that's about it for this week.

C. 'ya,
Judi

IN THE FISHBOWL

Good afternoon! How do all you nice people out there like my introduction? Well, it's just me again. Guess what! We have just finished a very interesting dissection of a fetal pig. Biology I was surely getting to us during those long days of the dissection. We're through now as we just revived the last girl who fainted! Besides Biology, we have the great subject of English I! We're studying for a test on what we have been studying which is uh uh - oh, yeah! verbal phrases and diagramming them. Our boys in Ag. I are through with the feeder troughs. (What about it, J.B.J. (They're studying about oxygen bottles now. In Math we are taking tests, tests, tests. They are not too bad and we are learning. In Homemaking I we are studying about making plans for our dream rooms - first, the bedroom, then a whole house. In track our girls won district and now on to the regional qualifying meet. Well, guess I'd better buzz off.

See 'ya,
De Anna

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

Hi! Ya! People, back again with news from that far out of all horizons. Our sponsor and girls are in Dallas at State Meeting this weekend. Secret Grandmothers will soon be revealed. For our F.H.A. Meeting Mrs. Janet Thomas, a home demonstrator, and her assistant showed us material for the spring and summer, and what the fashions will be. We want to thank them for this program.

In the classes Hm. Ec. I is drawing a scale of bedroom, and then will draw a scale drawing of their dream bedroom. Wow! D.W. that's something else! In Hm. Ec. II reports are being given on budgets; the way that group is going they will need a budget. In Hm. Ec. III we have learned how to handle emergency cases in Home Nursing and how to care for babies.

By, Sheila

WITH THE FARMHANDS

This week we are congratulating the Poultry Team about its success last week.

The team obtained sixth place out of twenty-eight teams with 1090 points out of a possible 1200.

The Ag. I boys are reviewing methods for restraining animals in order to do various things to them.

The Ag. II boys heard a tape on ox-acetylene cutting safety.

The Ag. III boys are welding now, creating devices for who knows what, and having a lot of fun doing so. This Thursday the poultry team goes to Stephenville to participate in the State Judging Contest.

"DO - RE - MI"

Coleman Junior High School Band came to visit us last Wednesday during third period. They were really exceptional (and I'm not just saying that because they got us out of classes) but we were glad to miss classes.

The Freshmen of the Rising Star Band missed out on the fun because they were forced to take their little old eight-hour Achievement Test. That's too bad, huh, J.W. and D.C.? The Coleman Band also had a smaller "rock and roll" band of four members that played guitars (electric, at that), drums, and sang. Surely hope our Sabanna Rain group isn't jealous of those sixth graders. Some of the songs were: King of the Road, Joy to the World, I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing, and Light My Fire. Brings back memories, huh? Rising Star's band concert is this month, the 27th.

L.C.'S ROADRUNNERS

The track girls won district for the second straight year. These events qualified for the regional meet: mile relay, sprint relay, 880 relay, 440 yd. dash, 80 yd. low hurdles (Both by Ruthie Wilson), and the shot put. There was a meet at Stephenville last week.

The boys won second in district at their meet last Tuesday. Regional qualifiers are mile relay (Spencer, Polk, Jarvis, Schaeffer); Mile run (Carpenter); 220 yd. dash (Polk); 440 yd. dash (Spencer); 100 yd. dash (Polk).

This year has proven to be a great year for the R.S.H.S. track teams. Both teams are young teams; the girls' team is made up of Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen. The boys' track team has only three seniors - others are Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. So 16B track teams will have to contend with R.S.H.S. a long time.

GUN SAFETY

I have a 10-year-old son, so I knew the question might come up some day. It did...this year. "Dad, when am I going to be permitted to have a gun?"

It was nearly 30 years ago that I'd asked my own father the same question. Fortunately, the decision was a relatively easy one for him. At that time we lived in Tucson, then a town of 30,000 - only one-tenth its present population. Dad taught at the state university, wrote for an outdoor magazine, and was also an incurable gun buff. He had no trouble taking two or three hours off from his jobs several times a month for target practice or to hunt jackrabbits and coyotes, which were plentiful in the nearby desert. And from the time I was "knee-high to an antelope jack," I was allowed to tag along with him. There were fewer people around then. And thus there were fewer hunters.

By and large, those who hunted then did so because the hunting area seldom was more than a few miles from home. The kids hunted primarily because their fathers did, and hunting was considered by almost everyone to be a manly sport. There weren't so many game laws in those days, either, and the science of game management was still in its infancy.

But times change. The Tucson I knew as a child has disappeared. The residential suburbs, supermarkets, hamburger stands, bowling alleys, and industrial parks of the new Tucson sprawl far out into the desert. Houses costing $100,000 and more cling to the rocky foothills of the Santa Catalina Mountains on ground over which I scrambled nearly three decades ago looking for bighorn sheep. And for this reason, the logistics of planning a hunt today in the Tucson area as well as in Seattle where we live now and many other areas - can be enough to stagger the mind of the most seasoned military commander.

And "sighting in" a rifle near a metropolitan area also can require lengthy waits at shooting ranges, especially as hunting season approaches. Good outdoor manners (of which safety is part) are imperative because of the great competition for hunting, fishing, and recreational space. I bring all this up only by way of indicating that the decision as to whether or not to allow your youngster to have his own rifle these days is not as simple as it was years ago.

So what did I tell my son John when he asked when he'd be able to have a gun? I said that I'd sleep on the matter. And I did...for two nights. Then I told him he could have his rifle. I knew just the gun. It was a scope-sighted Winchester .22, none the worse for wear almost 30 years after my dad had given it to me.

When I have been able to dovetail my time off from my job with my son's days off from school, he has accompanied me on a few hunting jaunts. As my own father did for me, I've taken John out into the country, taught him the rudiments of shooting position, breath control, how to squeeze a trigger gently, and the vital importance of gun safety.

State Rep. Joe Hanna Discusses Press Release

State Rep. Joe Hanna of Breckenridge says he is extremely pleased that newsmen have scrutinized House expense allowances, but wishes the reporters had dug a little deeper in the files.

Hanna, discussing an Associated Press release from Austin which stated he had purchased an $82 - six - volume biography of Abraham Lincoln on his expense account, said House records plainly reflect that he has been one of the lightest spending legislators in Austin.

As of Monday morning, Hanna said he had built up a reserve of $8,777.19 in unspent money in his expense account.

"I haven't had an opportunity as yet to check expense account expenditures of all members of the Legislature," Hanna said, "but of the 32 freshmen members of the House only one has spent less money than I have, and he is from Austin and makes local telephone calls while mine are long distance."

Hanna took office in January, 1971. During that period he has had an authorized expense account totalling $13,125, but has spent only $4,375, leaving $8,777 unspent.

Hanna said most of his spending has been for a secretary and telephone expenses. He explained that while representatives are allowed to use a full time secretary and a half-time secretary during legislative sessions, he used only one secretary.

Discussing the purchase of the Abraham Lincoln books, Hanna declared, "I bought them and the record plainly shows that I did. Certainly I wasn't trying to hide the purchase. Since becoming a legislator I have been called on many times to speak. I bought not only the Lincoln books, but several others concerning speech-making and speech writing. They not only have helped me with my duties as a legislator, but they have helped me better communicate with the people who elected me to this job."

Hanna said he had great admiration for Lincoln.

"I think Abraham Lincoln was about the best speech writer who ever lived and I have tried to pattern my speeches after his style. It may not be the professional way to develop oneself as a public speaker, but I feel that it has helped me."
