Plans On Inventory Discussed

At the County Commissioners meeting Monday Sheriff-Elect Dee Hogan discussed plans for his inventory of money and property in the present Sheriff's office and the jail. Plans are to have retired County Auditor Emma Morris assist with the audit, Hogan said. She will do this as a public service, with no 4 charge to the County.

Hogan also said he would like to have a good system on holding confiscated property which is being kept for criminal trials. He told of plans for the organization of this material, and said he thought the large walk-in vault in the old Sheriff's office on the first floor of the Courthouse would be a good place to keep it. Commissioners The seemed agreeable to this plan, and also to some changeover requests. Richard Robinson, Commissioner of Pct. 1, said it was hard now to set an exact figure on the cost of transferring the Sheriff's office, but this could be done after Jan. 1.

He said the budget should be amended to cover change-Continued

Eastland County Extension Workers And 4-H Clubs Host Monday Luncheon For County Commissioners

The Eastland County Extension workers and 4-H clubs hosted a noon luncheon Monday in the Reddy Room at which the Eastland County Commissioners and some county officials were honored guests.

After a delicious meal, three outstanding 4-H club members, Toby Long of Rising Star, Natalie Stevens of Eastland, and LaDawn Little of Ranger, presented a program.

Mr. Long explained what 4-H is about, listing the many activities, shows, and contests which 4-H'ers participate in. There are over 400 students in 4-H in Eastland County alone, and there are nine additional clubs and 52 adult leaders, he informed.

Our 4-H leaders are from small communities, he said, and 4-H helps students to develop the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes to become outstanding citizens as adults.

Long pointed out that ac-

Miss Stevens, wno was one of three county students who attended the 4-H Congress last year, told about the Congresses in both '87 and '88. The '87 Congress was a Historical one which was held in Nacogdoches. The students toured a tree seed orchard and to ride an old steam train on a historical railroad line.

In '88 with the legislature not in session, the 4-H Congress moved into the House and Senate in an effort to learn the state's legislative process. Students were required to write and try to pass a bill in the 4-H Congress. To keep the process realistic, three students from each district acted as a lobbists, trying to influence action and votes on bills. our district's lobbists did a good job, Stevens reported, and a few bills passed. Fishing Outdoors By Terry L. Wilson

Chuck Burgess Wins 2nd In Florida Pro-Am Chuck Burgess of Olden, Tex. pulled another rabbit out of his hat, this time in Clewiston, Fla. Chuck was one of 100 anglers across the nation to be drawn in a random drawing to compete in the Florida Pro-Am tournament put on by B.A.S.S. This event pairs 100 touring pro anglers with 100 amateurs.

Chucks first day pro (Wednesday) was Steve Daniels. Steve guided Chuck into some hydrilla beds for a little Florida flipping. At the weigh in Chuck had a 6 fish string which went 11 pounds 10 ounces. This weight was good enough to tic him for second. also this string included a nice 4 pound 14 ounce bass which tied for big bass of the day. The two anglers split $300.00.

The second day of competition Chucks draw looked to be promising with Stan Mitchell past B.A.S.S. classic winner. But Mr. Mitchell was not on fish and therefore Chuck wasn't on them either. Managing only 1 fish for 1 pound 9 ounces this dropped Chuck down to 6th place in the amateur division. But Chuck was a mere 7 pounds behind the leader, which on Lake Ocechobee could be one fish.

Friday Chuck drew the legendary Guy Acker. Mr. Acker has been a consistent contender over the years in the B.A.S.S. classic. And this was evident to Chuck when within the first 2 hours of fishing Guy located a 9 pound 10 ounce lunker, with the help of Chuck doing the hand landing due to nets not being allowed. This day Chuck reported using Rat-L-Traps for a total of 5 pounds 14 ounces. This total held Chuck in a solid 6th place, but moved him to 5^{1} , pounds from the

the front of the pack. Had it $7,000. not been for Thursday's poor showing I'm sure Chuck $6,500 would have won this event. But as I told you in earlier $5,500. articles this event would be decided not so much by the $5,000. amateurs skills but more by their luck in drawing pros who 43-13 $4,500. were on fish. This one day (Thursday) was Chucks only bad draw.

The indictment alleges companies were selling group that from March, 1982, health insurance to churches. The indictment alleges Browning took $1.6 million from these companies. He additionally took a monthly salary plus expenses of $60,000. Browning used this money to buy land in Tennessee, airplanes, expensive cars, home improvements, and to fund other business interests.

Approximately $4 million of claims were not paid as a result of the fraud.

This case was investigated by the Postal Inspection Service, with assistance by the Texas Board of Insurance. If convicted, Browning faces a maximum of 80 years imprisonment and $3,750,000 fine. District Attorney Emory

Walton reports that he does not know whether anyone in Eastland County was contacted by Browning or his companies.

"If anyone has been affected by this man they should contact me and I will notify the Postal Inspector," Walton says.

over expenses in communication, some printing, painting, etc. The other Commissioners agreed.

On another matter, the Commissioners appointed Cecil Cook to fill the unexpired term of Jesse Brown, Constable of Pct. 2 (Ranger). Brown resigned the office on Nov. 1. Cook on the spring primary and defeated a write-in candidate in November. His full term will start Jan. 1. Richard Robinson, Commissioner of Pct. 1, was sworn in for another term by County Judge Scott Bailey.

One agenda item was the discussion of current and delinquent tax collections, and to request that current tax statements list delinquent and outstanding taxes owed.

Billy Bacon, Comm. of Pct. 4, said that more than one person had complained to him how tax bills were stated. Old bills sometimes lie dormant for years, then are sent to people who don't even know they owe the taxes. He mentioned one person who recently received a bill for taxes owed in 1973.

and had sent out 76 "lien holder" letters. He told Bacon that new owners are responsible for back taxes that are owed on property, and for the woman who had received the 1973 tax bill to check with tax officials. The Commissioners decided to have Pritchard and Abbott, another Tax firm, notified again about putting delinquent tax notices on current statement. They had requested this firm to do so in the past, Commissioners said, but it had not complied.

On another item Comm. Billy Bacon reported that 15 people were currently in the County Jail, and that the facility appeared clean. The land-clearing on the block north of the jail was progressing, he said. There was some mention of utilizing the old jail more for storage space. As to budgetary matters, the Commissioners deferred paying two bills submitted by Attorney Bill Hart until they could have a discussion outlining the projected cost of the Appeal on the Brenda Andrew case. In 1987 Brenda Andrews was convicted in an Organized Crime Trial stemming from the murder of and abduction and murder of Debra Garcia of Cisco. Special prosecutor Hart submitted bills of $2,809 for Oct. 20, 1988 to Nov. 11 and $1,458 for Nov. 15, 1988 through Dec. 8 for preparing briefs in Brenda Andrews Appeal. Bills from her defense Attorney will also reportedly be submitted to the county case, since Andrews has been declared indigent. On other agenda items, the Commissioners voted to request a Proposal for bids on computer service. They also approved 12 Holidays for 1989, a calendar which will be useful in coordinating ac-

Thursday, December 15, 1988 Falling Balcony Kills Student

(Reprinted from Fort Worth Star-Telegram) By R. Robin McDonald

Lynn and Karla White Thomas, formerly of Rising Star, were college roommates for three years.

Lynn McDaniels was walking outside her Stephenville apartment building Friday night when a balcony collapsed and killed her.

An honor student at Tarleton State University, the 21 year-old Eastland County resident died Friday night when a second-floor balcony at the Madrid Apartments where she lived near the university campus gave way as she walked beneath it, burying her in the wreckage. Almost a dozen people were standing on the balcony when it fell. They were celebrating Christmas at a party given by apartment manager Delphia Sharp, said Stephenville Police Chief Douglas Conner. They were standing by two kegs of beer, the cups and ice when the wooden balcony supports gave way and they tumbled to the concrete below.

No one on the halcony was injured, although Conner said eight to 10 students fell when the balcony and part of the building's brick wall collapsed shortly after 8 p.m. At first, no one realized that McDaniels was buried beneath the wreckage, Conner said.

When Stephenville police began sifting through the rubble, they found McDaniels' body, he said. She was still holding her keys in her hand. Conner said no one knows whether McDaniels was leaving the apartment building or returning home.

About 30 people, most of them Stephenville police and volunteer fire-fighters, worked to pull McDaniels' body from the wreckage, Conner said. A Stephenville man who owns a construction equipment business brought a crane which the police chief said was eventually used to knock down loose brick remaining after the collapse.

The apartment complex,' Conner said, is one of three complexes known as Continental Apartments that together are owned by a Duncanville man. The Madrid is within a few blocks of the Tarleton campus and houses mostly students, he said. The two-story building is about 20 years old, he said.

Conner said he and Stephenville Fire Chief Jimmy Mooney have both examined the wall that supported the balcony and intend to notify the city building inspector this week. He said he did not know why the balcony collapsed.
