Groundwork Begun on New Fire Dept. Building Laborers, Donations Sought

The volunteer members of the City and Rural Fire Departments met recently and agreed to erect a new building to house the fire trucks of the two departments. Plans were made to have the four-stall building conform with requirements made by the State Board of Insurance, in order to protect the fire insurance rates in the Rising Star area.

The Rural Volunteer Fire Department will meet Monday, November 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the First State Bank community room.

The site selected for the new fire station is on E. Mill Street, just west of Highway 183, on city property.

County workmen have hauled in rocks, caliche and soil to form enough base on which to erect the building. City employees have done some work on the dry creek bed which runs beside the building site.

Pipe, donated from several sources, for building the trusses is on hand and volunteers are needed to begin work. If weather permits, volunteer workmen are asked to meet at the site Saturday, November 12.

Acknowledgement of all those who help build the new fire station is planned upon completion of the building, and the volunteer firemen state that they will try not to leave anyone out.

Donations made to the Rising Star Rural Fire Department are acknowledged with deep appreciation. They are H.L. Evans, $100; Wilburn Caudle, $100; C.N. Huddleston, $10; J.W. Gerhardt, $35; Joe McCollum, $100; Jim Ray Cox, $100; Connie Hightower, $10; George Steel, $50; Frank Gray, $25; and Earl Lee, $100.

Thanks to the following citizens for their donations to the City Fire Department and City Fire Department building fund:

H. Jones Shares Memories Of Early Day Mangum

Harland Jones of Denton, Texas recently shared some old photographs with the Eastland County newspapers, some of these show the early-day town of Mangum.

Mangum was built in the early 1900's at the junction of two railroads about eight miles S.W. of Eastland. Mineral water had been discovered in the area, and a Mr. and Mrs. Switzer decided to establish the settlement as a health resort.

The Mangum Mineral Water was found in 18 wells, and this potent brew was supposed to cure rheumatism, kidney trouble, stomach trouble, skin and blood diseases, and other ailments.

"The Switzers built a three-story hotel, the Don Carlos, about 1908," says Harland Jones. "They operated it as a hotel for people to stay in while taking mineral baths for their health. Train crews also ate in the large dining room."

"Mineral water was bottled by the Switzers and shipped by rail to other places."

"The Don Carlos was the only hotel in Mangum, and it lasted until the late 1930's. Not so much as the hotel, but Mrs. Switzer lived there and operated a cattle ranch until she died about 1950."

Jones mentions that in 1915 Mr. Bob Mangum ran the post office. Mr. Pete Mangum was Depot Agent at the town, and the settlement had two grocery stores and other buildings.

"My father, Wm. Henry Jones, lived and worked at the Don Carlos Hotel," Harland Jones says. "He married Sarah Belknap in 1915, and they stayed on there a short while. Then they moved to a house on the Nimrod-Scranton Rd., where I was born Dec. 16, 1916."

"My parents moved from Eastland County in Jan., 1919, to Denton County, Denton, Texas, when I was only two years old. My father worked at Acme Brick Plant in Denton."

"I finished school in Denton in the spring of 1933. I went to work at the Brick Plant in Oct. 1935 and worked there 43 years.

"During this time I served 3 years in the Army in World War II, and was in action in Italy, France, Germany and Austria."

living in Cisco. She is my Mother's sister. I also have a cousin from my father's side, Gerald Parks, who lives in Cisco."

Harland Jones, as well as others who visit Eastland County, must be amazed at how little remains of Mangum. The elegant Don Carlos is gone, the split log bath house behind it, the passenger station, business buildings and homes. Both railroads have long been abandoned, with grass growing where the tracks once stood. But one active spot is the Mangum Baptist Church building, a friendly place with a growing membership. So you certainly can't say this town is "dead"!

The Don Carlos Hotel, constructed at Mangum in 1908, was considered very modern. It had its own electric light plant.

Reflections

by Jim Ratliff

While doing some cleaning in the back room of The Rising Star, a number of old newspaper clippings and newspapers have come to light. Some of the old news items will be featured in a regular column by Jim Ratliff.

Readers are invited to make suggestions for a name for the column.

The old newspaper editorial featured this first week is not from Rising Star, but from the Sipe Springs Record, a weekly newspaper, dated Thursday, April 1, 1920; the editor was J.A. Kennedy. The newspaper was loaned to us by M.J. Dukes.

An effort has been made to leave spelling and typographical errors intact. Hopefully, we won't add any errors of our own.

Is Sipe Springs a Decent Town.

Some of the newspapers in our neighboring towns are making a strong bid for those interested in Sipe Springs field to make their home in their respective towns, on the theory that Sipe Springs is rough and undesirable as a residence town.

Just what grounds these statements are based upon we are unable to say, for the greater portion of Sipe Springs population, both permanent and transit, are law abiding citizens who will see to it that the laws are not continuously violated. Already, steps have been taken to safeguard the town against flagrant violations of the law, and if unsuccessful other steps will be taken.

When our worthy contemporaries send out reports that Sipe Springs is an unfit place in which to live they not only cast a reflection upon the citizenship of Sipe Springs but Comanche County and its law enforcement officers, which if justified, should be corrected at once. COUNTY PAPERS PLEASE COPY. - Sipe Springs Record.

In urging the claims of De Leon as a clean, wholesome environment in which to live, away from the dirt and congestion and other undesirable conditions created by an oil field - any oil field - Free Press had no thought or desire to reflect upon the good citizenship of Sipe Springs. We believe we are the "culprit" indicated in the foregoing. But really, Mr. Record man, don't you think that when men are murdered in questionable places in your city that our charge has some foundation? Have the law enforcement officers you mention got on the job. Reports coming from out there seem to indicate that they are needed. And by the way, Mr. Record man, is it a fact that you have "gambling houses" in Sipe Springs? We heard it.

De Leon makes no claims, to being an oil center, but we can offer a live, wide awake business city, with good schools, good churches, good city government, good hotels and a clean, refined, wholesome environment in which to live. Come to De Leon, the best resident city in the oil fields.

-De Leon Free Press.

Nope, Scott, you're not the "culprit" referred to in the above. However, your "tip" that there's been a gambling house in Sipe Springs is evidently based upon good authority. In fact, it is rumored that it has been running wide open for some time, right in the heart of our town. Some people who reside at distant points have heard about it. In fact, Scott, it is rumored that folks as far away as Comanche had heard that there is a gambling house in our town, and it is true that a young man was killed in this place last week, and the man said to have done the killing has been released on a $2,000 bond. However, R.L., we don't know whether the men who have been running the place have been arrested or not. Fact is, Scott, we're like the greater portion of our citizenship - busy looking after our personal interests and have left the enforcement of our laws to those who are paid for its enforcement and are sworn to enforce and we can only say that the good people of Sipe Springs do not approve nor will they long condone such institutions. If local enforcement officers fail to act our people will call in some who will.

Teacher's Assoc. Will Meet Monday

The Eastland County Retired Teachers' Association will have a luncheon meeting at K-Bob's Steak House in Eastland on I-20 East on Monday, November 14, at 12:30 p.m. Rev. Eric McKinney, pastor of Eastland's First United Methodist Church, will bring the program.

All retired teachers of the county are urged to attend the meeting.

Contributions Sought for Foster Kids

Christmas for Foster Children will be made possible by caring citizens again this year.

The Eastland County Welfare Board in a regular meeting this week voted to seek public donations to buy holiday gifts for Eastland County children in foster homes.

Tax-deductible contributions may be mailed to Alic Pritchard, Department of Human Resources, Post Office Box 876, Eastland, Tx 76448. Details and/or further information may be secured by talking with her or Patricia Mahan at the DHR office, 629-1713.

Organizations and individuals throughout the county are being asked to assist, for Christmas gifts for Eastland County youth who are in foster homes.

There is a constant shortage of available foster homes here and a number of the local children are in homes outside this county.

Lifting Up Jesus

Gregg Knight

Borrowing the major thought from Jack Carter in Del Rio, Texas, I now ask the question, "What do you do for fun?" Several years ago a very sweet Christian girl told about an incident with a young man who had been asking her for a date. He was not a Christian and they just did not have anything in common. She had turned him down twice and now she had said "no" to attending a rock concert with him. In a kind of mock exasperation the young man asked her, "What do you do for fun? You don't dance, you don't drink, you don't attend rock concerts... What do you do for fun?" Her reply is a classic message from all Christians with conviction.

To the young man she said, "For fun I get up in the morning without feeling embarrassed, ashamed and guilty about what I did the night before." That girl is now married to a fine Christian man and has a little girl and building an outstanding Christian home. She is having fun every day living without the affliction of deep scars and regrets from the past. It's fun knowing that her husband will be home after work and not stop off at a local bar for a few with the boys. It's fun knowing that while he is away from her, his Christian conduct won't allow infidelity or even flirting. It's fun watching him hold his little girl on his lap with protective arms. It's fun knowing that her little girl will never see her father in a drunken stupor or experimenting with drugs. It's fun knowing that the home will be led by a spiritual leader who will guide each family member toward heaven. It's endless, what do you do for fun?

Commentary

by Myrtle Owen

On July fourth, 1983, the United States of America celebrated her 207th birthday. She has had a glorious, God-blessed past, but as it is readily apparent in the light of current international events and news headlines - now faces the most perilous hour in her history. America, it is time for the God fearing people to return to the only one that can help us in this hour just before the final judgment: The Apostle Paul gives us the prophetic answer to the question, calling it a "mystery." When the word "mystery" is used in the Bible, it usually refers to a secret that no one can know until God chooses to reveal it. Since the Church itself was a mystery to the believers of the Old Testament days, its final destiny was also unknown. Not until after Jesus' resurrection and the birth of the Church did God choose to reveal His plans for this new body of followers, and Paul was given the responsibility of unveiling the secret.

In 1st Corinthians 15:51,52, Paul writes, "Behold, I show you a mystery: we shall not all die, but we shall all be changed from mortal to immortal, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet..." The mystery revealed here is the promise that a certain group of people wouldn't have to die before going to be with the Lord, but could be changed from mortals to immortals without going through physical death. Paul further amplifies this in 1st Thessalonians 4:15-17: "For this we say to you by the authority of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain until the Lord returns will not be raised up before those who have died. For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ will rise first; then we who are alive and remain will be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air, and so will we ever be with the Lord."

Baptist W M U

Women of First Baptist Church met to observe Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer. The theme for the day was "We are family, we are one." In "Recognizing our responsibility to the family" Lela Clark reminded us of our gifts and blessings by living in America. A prayer of confession was quoted in unison by the group. Celestine Carleton told a story of women in Chile, South America. Julia Ross reported on Korea's first World Day of Prayer. The Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi was also quoted in unison. Ruby Kornegay told a beautiful story of an African woman and how her prayers were answered. Marie Hardin reported on "How Jesus heals families" and how we can help our own families, and the blessings of a young mother of small children. Betty Gray reported on New Guinea's World Day of Prayer. Juanita Bentley told of experiences of Lebanese women. Debbie Jones read Psalm 148. The entire program was centered on how we can show our love to our families, our church and our community. Dorris Harrell closed the meeting with prayer.
