BURLESON—
knowing about it. Besides, it is reasoned, strategic manned bombers are not worth worrying about in this age of far more formidable nuclear missiles.
True, perhaps. But it is hardly "alarmist" to recall that most of the American people and their leaders were convinced in 1941 that the Japanese either would not or could not carry out an attack on Pearl Harbor.

The glaring gap in our defenses to our southern approaches has gone virtually unnoticed during the long periods of sustained hostility towards the United States by Castro's Community Cuba. During the same time there has been established a Soviet presence in the Caribbean. There are visible efforts by both the Russian and the Chinese communists to gain a foothold in Latin American Governments.

Even if our country was not vulnerable to a manned bomber attack, the Soviet submarine presence off our shores capable of launching missiles half way across our nation should be enough to bring us out of apathy to the possibility.

If this is not enough, there is reason to believe that the Russians will soon have bombers capable of flying over the United States at the speed of sound and back without refueling.

If some of the strategists believe that manned bombers are obsolete, it is obvious that those running the business of military preparedness in the Soviet Union do not.

Under the influence of those both in and out of government who think the manned plane is obsolete and unnecessary the B-1 bomber has not been put into production. Those who believe that it is safe to let down our defenses are gambling with the very future of our nation.

The Russian bear may not be yet 10 feet tall and fully matured, but he is exercising and growing rapidly. The future of our country is too dear to take chances on living only for the moment.

what solely concerns us.

Meanwhile, let's get on with the business of running a good school for our youngsters, and let's give the school authorities, the teachers and the students our support in their efforts.

There are two events scheduled within a week which invite our participation as citizens and patrons -- a junior high district basketball tournament and the coronation of a high school queen. You can help by attending.

Sister of Mrs. Wells Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Betty Jane Perkins, 45, of Dallas were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Victor Allen, pastor officiating.
Burial was in Rising Star Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral

Mrs. Perkins, a native of Rising Star, died at 4:20 p.m. Sunday in Morton Cancer and Research Center at Dallas.

Born Sept. 21, 1926 at Rising Star, she married Harold G. Perkins Dec. 31, 1952 at Dallas. Survivors include her husband; three sons, David Lewis Perkins and Ronald B. Perkins, both of Dallas, and Donald G. Perkins of Longview; one daughter, Mrs. Darline Gregory of Dallas; her mother, Mrs. C. H. Stephens of Rising Star; two sisters, Mrs. Lane Wells of Rising Star and Mrs. Cooter Willson of Tye; and four grandchildren.

CARD OF THANKS
We are deeply grateful for every kindness shown us in the passing of the three-month old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Valdemar Pavon. The food, flowers, gifts and contributions, the kind words of comfort and cards meant so much to all of us. God will surely bless each one of you.
Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tucker

Peters-Jackson Vows Said Dec. 30

Karen Sue Peters and William Lewis Jackson were married December 30, 1971, in the First United Methodist Church in Shreveport, La., with Dr. David Leroy Dykes officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meredith Peters of Shreveport are parents of the bride. Jackson is the son of Lewis Shook Jackson of Abilene, Texas and Mrs. Madell Joyce Jackson of Rising Star.

Mr. Peters gave his daughter in marriage. Mrs. James S. Collins was organist and Dr. Will Andrea soloist.
The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with high Victorian neckline, bishop sleeves and high rise bodice trimmed with pearl embroidered peau d'lace appliques.

Margaret Lynne of Lynchburg, Va., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Tolbert, and Molly Garrison of Beaumont, Texas; Mrs. Walter Johnson of Belton; Miss Susan Downs of Dallas; Julia Thornton and Florence Minton of McKinney and Marilyn Porter of Odessa. Their gowns were of petal pink chiffon with high necklines, bishop sleeves and bands of Burgundy and pink needlepoint ribbon encircling the empire lines.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Groomsmen were John McDearmon and Mike Akard, both of Abilene; Luther Rmsley of Irving; David Richardson of Austin; Vic Brittain of Tyler; Wilbur Echols of Gainesville, and Charles Peters, Jr., brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of All Saints Episcopal School, Vicksburg, Miss., and of Southern Methodist University at Dallas. She was on the dean's list each semester and was vice-president of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority and a member of Alpha Lambda Delta.

Jackson was a graduate of Abilene High School and received a B. A. degree from Southern Methodist University. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and the varsity football team. He was on the dean's list and was selected an all-Southwest Conference tackle.

After a quidding trip to Houston the couple are living in Fort Worth where Jackson is employed by the Ryan Investment Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cad of Fort Worth were here last week to attend funeral services for Mrs. Easter Gray.

Wyoming is nicknamed the "Equality State" because it gave women the right to vote in 1869, one year after it was organized as a territory and 51 years before women could vote generally in the United States.

HOME AND FAMILY HINTS

From Higginbothams

Barbara Williams

Mrs. R. C. of Goldsmith, Texas, writes of a good way to whiten clothes: Soak clothing for 30 minutes in a solution of 1-2 cup Cascade dishwasher detergent, 1-4 cup liquid bleach, and 1 gallon of very hot water. Squeeze out clothing and wash as usual.

Thank you, Mrs. R.C., helpful hints are always appreciated. What newspaper are you receiving way out in West Texas? (Correspondence can be addressed to me at Higginbothams General Offices, P.O. Box 392, Comanche, Texas 76442.)

Speaking of whitening, DO NOT use chlorine bleach on fabrics that contain silk, wool, or spandex fibers, polyurethane foams, or on a fabric with a special finish (such as those used to improve such properties as wrinkle resistance, shrinkage resistance, crispness, or sheen, or to produce durable embossed and sculptured designs) unless the manufacturer states on the label that chlorine bleach is safe.

Why? Because the resin in some of these finishes absorbs and retains chlorine, which weakens and sometimes yellows the fabric. Some fabrics are not weakened or yellowed until they are ironed, but then the damage may be severe. Whether the fabric actually yellows before or after ironing, the ironing weakens the fibers.

Chlorine caused yellow stains on wool and silk cannot be removed. Before ironing, however, you may be able to solve the yellowing problem on some fabrics. Rinse the fabric thoroughly. Then soak it for 30 minutes or longer in a solution containing 1 tsp. sodium thiosulfate to each quart of warm water. Rinse thoroughly. To strengthen treatment, make the sodium thiosulfate solution with water as hot as is safe for the fabric. The chemical can be bought through your pharmacist, though he will likely have to order it for you.

Commercially prepared color removers will also remove chlorine yellowing, but do not use them on any fabric that will fade. Follow the package directions after rinsing your garment thoroughly with plain water.

Remember these things about chlorine bleach, too: White or faded spots caused by chlorine bleach on colored fabrics cannot be restored to the original color, so take care! Don't splash that bleach!

Store bleach upright in a cool place, out of the reach of children. Do not use it with ammonia, bowl cleaners, or other household chemicals, or put it in metal containers. Higginbothams hope you put safety FIRST in all of your homemaking activities. (And after safety on the laundry list, put washday equipment by SPEED QUEEN.

Do you help pave big city streets?

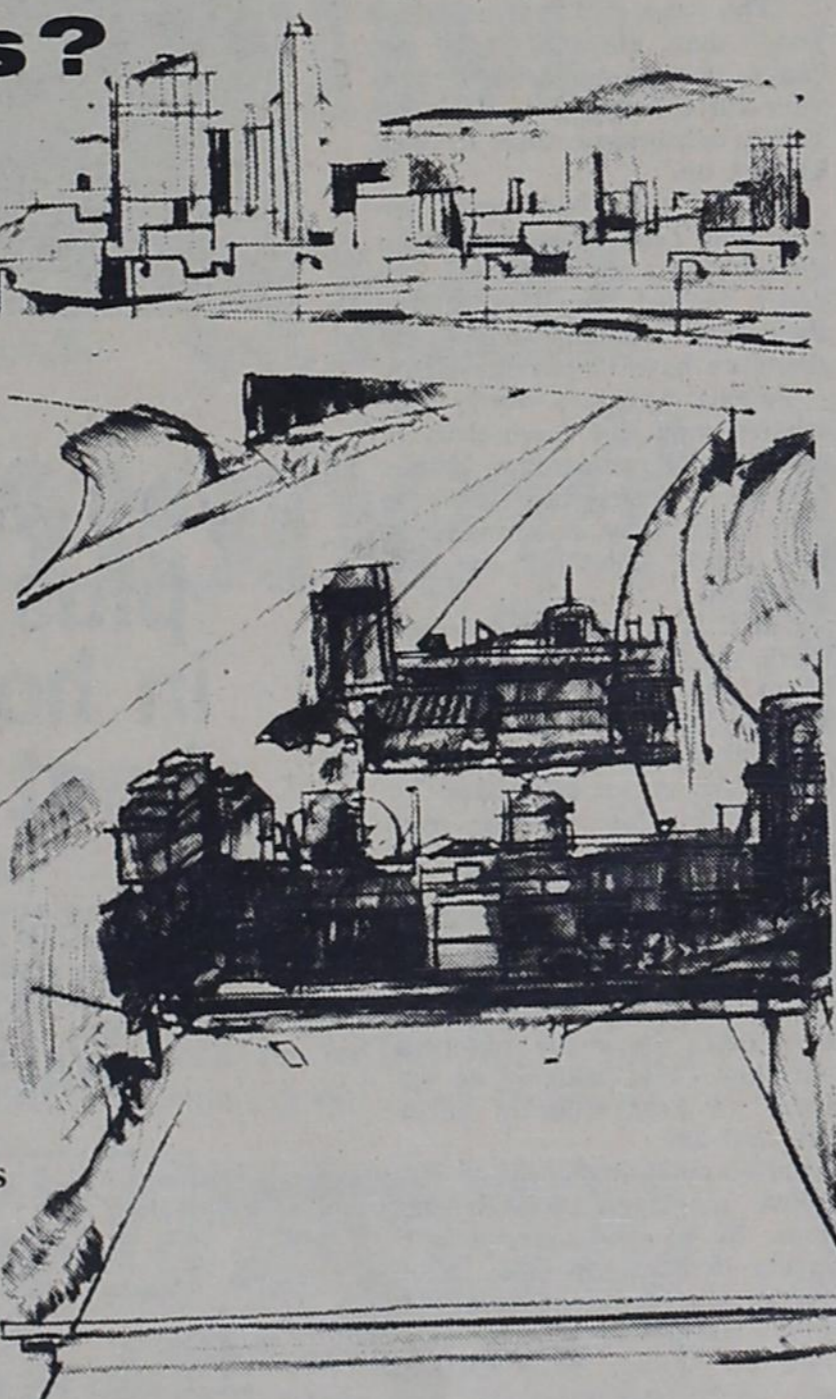

Everytime you make an out-of-town shopping trip you add more concrete and asphalt to big city streets.

And everytime you shop out of town you take away local money needed to make improvements in our community.

Hometown buying has a bounce-back, double-dollar value you can't find anywhere else.

When you have hometown loyalty our business community prospers and our entire community prospers.
