
A SALUTE TO PROGRESS...

Lela Weaver Clark

SENIOR CITIZEN OF THE WEEK

Lela Weaver Clark
By Elizabeth Chamberlain

It is a well known fact that there is a certain indefinable quality within the makeup of a native Texas. Ineffable though it may be, that quality is often recognized to be present. So there is "special something" about Lela Clark, who is a native daughter of Texas--and of Rising Star--and proud of it! Her grandparents, from both sides of her family, rode by covered wagons into this area. They became some of the first settlers, here, migrating from Arkansas and Georgia.

Lela's mother passed away when Lela was a child of ten years. From that time, until her marriage, she made her home with two uncles in Paint Rock, Texas, and with grandparents in Rising Star. It was the beginning of the First World War, that Lela Weaver became the bride of Lee Clark. Throughout their years together, he often quipped, teasingly, "Of course, you married me for my money! You knew I had that forty dollars!" In all seriousness, that was, in those days, a goodly sum of money, with which to begin a life of wedded bliss.

They set up house keeping, with their first furniture consisting of a matching davenport and chair, a library table, an iron bedstead, a dresser, a wood-burning cooking range, a kitchen cabinet, and a table. For this housekeeping equipment, they paid the handsome sum of eighty dollars.

Since the young couple was farming, Lee did not have to go into the service of his country, during the war. But, they were required to produce as much food and fiber per acre as possible.

Their main crops were cotton and corn; Lee decided to plant 100 acres of corn. It was Lela's idea for her husband to lay off the rows, then she would plant. He made the rows with a cultivator, drawn by two horses; she followed with a two-row planter, a piece of equipment of which they were extremely proud. Just think! Planting two rows of corn at one time! That year, it rained every Saturday night, but, it then became dry enough to plow on Monday. They produced a bumper crop of corn, and sold it for a dollar a bushel.

Into the family, was one child, Lenell, now Mrs. Glen Henry. The family stayed on the farm until Lenell was old enough to attend school, when they moved to Rising Star, nearer the school house. Soon thereafter, Lee was offered a job with Phillips Petroleum Co., with a salary of $130.00 a month--an offer too good to turn down. They moved to Pioneer, a thriving town of several hundred people. It boasted of having a hotel, a gasoline plant, two carbon black plants, and a number of other business establishments. Many acres were densely covered with oil derricks, reminders of the great boom town it had been, just prior to that time.

By way of description of that boom town: At the time of its "boom", Pioneer was a large city of around 10,000 people. Throughout history, when a discovery is made, in a certain region, of gold, oil, or other minerals of great value, the very discovery acts as a magnet, drawing people from every direction. There was a sudden influx of people; swiftly constructed businesses sprang up, and fortune seekers endured the post primitive of circumstances. They lived in shacks, tents--even underneath a wagon. Each person had the same hope as all the others: to "strike it rich". Most were attracted by the possibility of good paying jobs in the oil fields. Unfortunately, there were others who moved amongst the sea of peoples, to make their own gains, at the expense of others. These unscrupulous persons included some con-artists, gamblers, and pick-pockets--plus those who were outright thieves. This is a word picture of many a boom town; no doubt, that one at Pioneer, Texas, was somewhat similar.

All equipment, supplies and tools were brought in by wagons, drawn through the unpaved streets by teams of four or six plodding horses. Hence, mud and muck was usually ankle-to-knee deep in the streets. Walk ways were provided, at such time, by laying of wide boards across the muddy ruts, thus providing a somewhat better way for milady to cross the streets, with less harm done to her slippers and frock.

Lee and Lela bought their first car in the year 1918--a model T Ford, for which they paid $750.00. Lela learned to drive the day they bought it, and has been driving ever since. She adds, "I have never been as proud of any car as was of that one."

With the approach of the depression, many men lost their jobs, while others were transferred to distant places. Lee could have gone to St. Louis, but their roots were deep in Texas soil. They returned to farming in Rising Star; that was their last move, for Lela still makes her home here.

Lee set forty acres in peach trees, which proved profitable for the family. As time went on, he added the growing of watermelons. By then, tractors had taken the place of the horse-drawn vehicles.

Lela tells this amusing story of the Depression Days. "So many people were without work, jobs were created, through the government-called W.P.A. The market building, the ball park and the fence were built with W.P.A. funds. A cannery was set up in City Hall, giving a number of women work. Anyone could take whatever they wanted canned, the Cannery furnished the cans and kept 40 percent, giving the grower 60 percent. I decided we should take some corn and have hominy made. Lee didn't approve, at first, but, I talked him into it. We shelled the corn and took it down; when we went back for our hominy, we had 85 cans! We hadn't realized how corn would swell when cooked!"

One of Lela's earliest and fondest memories was of attending Sunday School and worship services with her grandparents, who were charter members of the Rising Star Baptist Church. She always looked forward to the Bible Picture cards given to her each Sunday. One side had a beautiful Bible picture; the other, a Scripture memory verse.

At that time, the Children's Day was a special occasion. All the little girls wore white dresses and marched through town, carrying flags and banners, as they sang. Lela's husband later told her that the first time he saw her, she was wearing a white dress, with a pink sash and a big bow in the back. He told himself, "When she gets older, she's for me!"

Lela has been a faithful member of the Church 65 years; she served as W.M.U. president several different times, was Superintendent of the Junior Department 20 years, a member of the choir, and was secretary of the Cisco Association 5 years, missing only once, because of icy roads. Lela is still devoted her Lord, and faithful in church attendance. Long ago, she dedicated herself to the service of her church, and that still takes first place, before all else.

She is hospitality chairman of the Rising Star Senior Citizens group. A more gracious hostess could not have been chosen. She is known, far and wide, for her warm friendliness, her gentle char, and her infectious smile. Says have never been so dark, the pain so great, that she would lose hope. Her abiding faith, her enduring hope, her constant optimism have fared well for her through many hard days and rough roads.

Lela has a motto which fits her so well. When things go sour, and the burden is heavy, when the paid almost beyond endurance, she says, "Now, Lela, things could be worse!" So, with a lift of her head and a spreading of her lovely smile, she keeps on keeping on.

Rising Star City Revenue Bond Election

Comments By Troy I. Willett

DEFINITIONS:

1. CITY--A community of citizens. An incorporated municipality whose boundaries and powers of self government are defined by a charter from the state in which it is located.

2. CITY HALL--A building which houses the offices of municipal government. The municipal government as represented by the administration in power.

Contrary to the way we have been thinking, the city is US. We the citizens, NOT CITY HALL. We THE CITIZENS determine and are responsible for the conditions in which our water, sewer and street systems are in now, and will be in the future. We all realize that each system needs improvements if we are to continue using them.

We now understand that what we call the city, draws no salary and makes no money as a city. The elected officials must operate the city on what we the CITIZENS pay into the city Treasury. The officials buy the needs for the city on the open market just like we the citizens have to do. We all know the cost.

We now realize that we do not have the money to survive and still improve our water, sewer and street systems at the same time. The question is, where do we get the money and how do we get it? First, we must ask for the money by voting revenue bonds in the amount we need to solve our problems.

Do not become frightened by the word, Bond, and assume your taxes will be raised. The following information was taken from a book for general law cities.

Revenue bond financing is used primarily in the financing of municipal utilities.

These bonds are supported by the revenues the city receives from the utilities or other sources, and have no claim on the tax base of the city. General obligation bonds, time warrants and certificates of obligation do have a claim on the tax base of a city. REPEAT. Revenue bonds do not have a claim on the tax base of a city.

We get the money to solve our problems by selling the bonds voted in to a federal agency that loans money at 5 percent to 6 percent interest to be paid back over a period of 40 years.

Each problem must be evaluated by a qualified engineering firm as to need, cost, materials and installation, prior to letting of contract to perform work.

Contractor to perform work must be bonded. Bonded means an insurance contract by which a bonding agency guarantees payment of a specified sum to an employer (THE CITY) in event of a financial loss caused him by the act of a specified employee (THE CONTRACTOR) or by some contingency over which the Payee (CONTRACTOR) has no control. This means no loss to the city (THE CITIZENS).

The elected officials have moved this program as far as they are allowed by law. They must now receive our help if we are to get what we all agree that we need done. The city acting as a city has very little power. The power to get things done comes only from the citizens within it.

NO VOTE--means we will have no money available to eliminate our problems. The problems will only worsen.

they will not go away.

YES VOTE--means money available to eliminate our problems without additional cost to us in taxes. This also means that local talent cannot and will not be dictating the policy of work performed. Before we give a yes vote to the MAYOR and three councilmen to the be elected in April. We must insist that each candidate public in THE RISING STAR paper, that they understand the program we have started and that they will fully support and carry it forward. If they do not wish to do this I for one will vote NO for each candidate not qualifying on this subject.

COMMENTARY

FROM THE SEVENTH DAY IN EDEN TO THE CALL OF ABRAHAM

In the Garden of Eden, as the Lord covered over the nakedness of the man and the woman. He turned to Satan and said, "The seed of this woman, whom you have deceived and through whom you have destroyed the human race, will crush your head. For centuries the old Rabbis pored over that word of Jehovah God to Satan. 'The seed of the woman.' Seed is masculine; seed belongs to the man. A woman does not have seed. The old Rabbis pored over that word and the promise of God that the seed of the woman shall crush Satan's head. We now know that the promise is related to the long conflict and struggle between the hatred of Lucifer and the love of God in Christ Jesus. It speaks of Jesus at Calvary. Jesus suffered. His heel was bruised. But in that bruising, He defeated once and for all the power of that old serpent, the devil. He crushed his head. As the man Adam and his wife Eve made their first home in an earth cursed for their sakes, in the passing of time there were born to them two sons. One was named CAIN and the other ABLE. In jealousy and insane fury, the older brother slew the younger brother. But the seed of God must be preserved. The Lord, therefore, gave to Eve another son named Seth. Seth, was a man of faith as Cain was a man of the world. When the children of Seth, the godly remnant, intermarried with the children of Cain, the seed of the world, the result was a fallen progeny, (or offspring) that filled the earth with violence. Finally, God said: It is enough. One hundred twenty years from now, I am going to destroy this world by a flood. But a member of the line of Seth found grace in the sight of the Lord. His name was Noah. To preserve the righteous seed, God told Noah to build an ark; and into that ark of safety, salvation, and hope, Noah brought his family. After the passing of the awesome judgment of the flood, the earth once again began its story of redemption through the life of this one and man and his three sons. It was not long, however, until the ravages of sin began to waste the select family of God. Instead of carrying out the great commission of the Lord for mankind to inhabit the whole earth, the people drew together into one plain and announced their purpose to build a tower around which they were to center their civilization and their collective, communal unity. When God looked down and saw the pride of men in their hearts, He confused their speech. (Genesis 11:8, 9. So the Lord scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city. Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth. At the tower of Babel is where God started the families of different races.

Death is one thing we all have in common. "There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death." (Ecl. 8:8) Death is no respecter of persons. Babies die. Children die. Youth die. Adults of all ages die. No wonder the Psalmist speaks, "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." (Psalm 90:12) The Christian views life as a trust, a stewardship. Every minute which passes makes our lives in this world that much shorter. Questions come to us, "What am I achieving? What am I becoming?" We all have our own gifts and abilities. Perhaps some are as the servants in the parable which Jesus told in Matthew 25. One servant hid in the ground the money he was to invest as a good steward. His excuse, "I was afraid." The opportunity for him was lost and future privileges were taken from him. Fearful people are losers. So many are afraid to live. The other servants invested their money and doubled it. They were rewarded. Courageous Christians are winners. Knowing the brevity of life every minute is lived with courage, every word is spoken with care, every work is performed with calculation, and every thought is reviewed with caution. We cannot afford to be less than we should, nor to do less than we could. Sunday morning message: "Don't Flip because of your Thinking." Sunday Evening we will have a film on Home Missions and the Pastor will give an introduction to the study of First John.

First United Methodist Church

One Sunday morning after the worship service a church member made the following statement to me. "Preacher in your prayer you asked God to forgive us of our sins of omission and of commission. I can understand that we need to be forgiven for the sins of omission, but I can't understand why you would ask God to forgive us for sins we have failed to commit." The man was sincere in what he was saying. A preacher from another denomination once asked me why I prayed for forgiveness for sins of omission. He added, "We don't believe in sins of omission." He too was sincere in what he was saying. I referred both men to Matthew 25:31-46. In these verses we find the description Jesus gives of the last judgment, and if we are honest with God we will find ourselves in these verses as well. According to Jesus on that day all will be gathered before him, and to those who have been faithful, he will tell them to enter into the kingdom prepared for them. But to the others, "Then shall he say, also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: For I was hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty and ye gave me no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal." Can you state the seriousness of the sin of omission any clearer than Jesus did? Too often we think of sin as being a violent or dishonest act and if we do not commit violent or dishonest acts, then we have not sinned. Jesus says that to fail to do the good that we know we ought to do is sin. As a Christian how many good things or acts of goodness can you do, and yet you have not? Each one of us can make a long list if we will be honest with God and ourselves. Where will you put list, "I should be in church for each service and worship God with my brothers and sisters in Christ?" You are invited to worship with us at 5:30 p.m. this Wednesday. The message will be, "Jesus Cares for the fragments." The Sunday morning message will be, "Who are You?" The Sunday evening message will be, "Jesus Christ." The message for Wednesday March 7 will be, "Will the circle be unbroken?" It is my prayer that you will worship with your loved ones today and every day.

Sometimes it helps to look at something with a "bird's eye" view to understand it. The Bible is one such book. There are many ways of studying the Bible, but basic to all Bible study is a general knowledge of the whole. How does the Bible fit together? What is the theme or themes? What does it say without any denominational slant?

We have set a film strips that were developed by a man in Houston. These are not denominational. He has picked pictures by many famous artists to illustrate the Bible, story by story. This picture presentation comes in five different lessons therefore it only includes the main events of the Bible. The first one begins with the creation and ends with the Children of Israel being led out of Egypt by Moses. The second one starts there and has the giving of the Ten Commandments and the giving of the Old Testament order of worship. It ends with the story of Jesus, His birth, life and death, burial and resurrection.

The third one begins after his ascension into heaven and gives a brief history of the Christian Age and ends with the thought that Jesus will come back. The fourth one deals with some of the basic teachings of our Lord. The last one deals with church history. It answers the questions about when and how various denominations came into existence. It helps to explain why there are differences in the way people try to please God. These will be shown to anyone who wants to see them at any time you desire them. If you would like a more private study, the same pictures are available in booklets with the words out to the side. A Certificate of Recognition will be given upon completion. Unless you so desire, no one will "help" you. However in the event you desire aid we will be happy to be of assistance. If interested, call 643-6162 or write to us at Box 207, Rising Star, Texas 76471. Come by and visit our services each Lord's day at 10:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. Have a pleasant week.

Scripture Thought

Of The Day

These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbor; execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates; and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbor; and love no false oath; for all these are things that I hate, saith Jehovah. (Zechariah 8:16,17)

"Cradle Roll Class" Demonstration

Concern for youth marked the meeting of the ladies Bible class February 21. The lesson that day was from I Kings 17 about the unselfish widow. When she obeyed the Lord, she received abundantly from God.

Ladies hope to make visual aids for the pre-school children and also they want to make 86 curtains for the Cisco Bible cabin in the church's youth camp. The Rising Star church is refinishing one of the cabins at the large camp near Cisco for a camp for our youth.

The ladies also received a demonstration on the "Cradle Roll Class" with Mackey Doug Elliott and Walter Wiggins and the students. This class is for infants age 0-2 and usually has about five each Sunday morning. The ladies learned how to teach through singing little songs about the creation, God's love and how their parents love them.

Those present were Jackie Le Bleu, Velma Le Bleu, Mable Lee, Opal Hill, Ruth Murphy, La Verne Carroll, Eloise Lipsey, Carolyn Walker, Cindy Wiggins and Jeannine Bailey. All ladies are invited to come each Wednesday morning at 9:30. Cindy Wiggins, Reporter

Youth Group Organized In May

The May First Baptist Church's recently organized Youth Group met for the first time Wednesday at 7 p.m. with 26 seniors present. Each shared a contemporary gospel singing, also the Bible study led by Mrs. Richard Myers.

Refreshments were prepared, donated and served by some of the senior girls.

Following the fellowship and refreshments in the fellowship hall of the church, the group played games of volleyball.

This group will meet each week on Wednesday night in the hall for Bible study, singing and fellowship. The group will be directed by Richard Myers, assisted by the church pastor and his wife, Garie.

All May Senior High School youth are invited to attend these meetings.

Baptist Women Meet For Home Mission Study

Baptist women met February 20th for their Home Mission book study. The introduction was given by Mrs. Carleton.

A skit portraying the migration of people to California during the thirties was directed by Norma Carpenter. Those having parts were Debra Stuteville, Karen Rhodes, Yvonne McCutchen, Lela Clark, Roby Kornegay and Anna Baker. The Book "California Journey" was reviewed by Mr. Alvis Kinard, Mrs. Evelyn Chick, Roby Kornegay, Anna Baker and Mrs. Adelia Shults. A film strip, "The Call of California", was shown.

Bro. Williams led the closing prayer. Nine members remained for the luncheon.

Regular Wednesday Meetings Resumed

The May Area Youth Group, sponsored by the May First Baptist Church, for boys and girls third through eighth grades, has resumed the regular Wednesday meetings at 3 p.m. at the church, directed by Mrs. James Harris, assisted by Rev. Bill Campbell, church pastor, and his wife. The group has a Bible study, arts and crafts and games. They are working on an Easter program which consists of several arrangements of Easter music.

After this program, plans are made for the group to begin a music theory study. Each group will be given a quarterly study guide. All parents are urged to encourage their children to attend.

Service Manager for Continental Telephone in Baird. The city tax had previously been paid by the Company out of its local service revenues.

In a recent rate order to Continental, the Public Utility Commission of Texas directed that any local franchise or street use tax paid by the Company be broken out from local service charges and passed on to customers receiving service in the taxing jurisdictions. The firm complied with this order in local rate adjustments placed into effect last summer, but held off billing the tax until certain questions were resolved and city councils notified of the change.

The Commission determined that telephone users should be aware of the tax impact on their phone bills. Only customers within a taxing jurisdiction will be liable for the tax. The ruling exempts telephone customers in rural areas and those in cities levying no franchise tax.

"On the brighter side," said Armstrong, "we are pleased that the federal excise tax on both local and long distance service has been reduced from four percent to three percent." For many customers the reduction in federal tax will offset the added local tax. In both cases the telephone company serves only as the tax collector and regularly forwards the tax receipts to the appropriate government body.

Local Telephone Tax Passed On To Customers

Telephone users within the city limits of Cross Plains and Rising Star will see the local two percent franchise tax added to their telephone bills beginning this month, according to Alan Armstrong, Customer

Beef Supplies To Increase, Then Drop

COLLEGE STATION--If the current cattle feeding situation runs true to form, there will be a brief increase in marketings which will boost beef supplies, followed by a slowdown through the middle of the year. The number of cattle on feed is the highest since January 1974, with the exception of last year, points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Also, there were more cattle in the heavier weight classes (900 pounds or more) on Jan. 1, 1979.

In the January-March period of this year, Uvacek expects about 6.9 million head of feedlot cattle to be marketed. Even though this is only a 2 percent increase over last year, it is the highest level of marketing since the third quarter of 1972.

Since slaughter levels have been low during January, the bulk of the fed cattle marketings are still to come. On the basis of marketing intentions plus weight information, Uvacek believes this will take place within the next few weeks.

Lower feeder cattle supplies or their high price levels, discouraged feedlot operators from replacing cattle during the October-December period last year. Since "other disappearance" was up 36 percent, net placements were down even more, Uvacek says. The smaller number of cattle placed on feed should insure light supplies of fed beef in the spring and summer months.

In the April-June period, fed cattle marketings should be close to the six million head level, Uvacek projects. That figure would be down about nine percent from 1978 and just slightly under the '77 level.

The marketing specialist says price weaknesses, from a supply standpoint, may result at first. But he adds that prices for fed cattle will resume their strength during the April-June period. Of course, price gains may be limited by larger pork, broiler and turkey supplies due in the spring. By then, total red meat and poultry production could be as great as a year ago, Uvacek concludes.

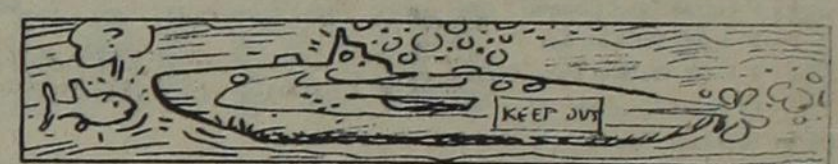

Southern Savings And Loan Association Makes Application In Rising Star

A hearing was held in Austin on Friday, February 23 for the application of Southern Savings and Loan Association of Brownwood, which is trying to locate a branch office in downtown Rising Star. Opposition was brought from the First State Bank of Rising Star. A decision is expected within 60 days.

Olney Savings Association of Olney, Texas recently amended its request for a branch office in Rising Star to a branch office in Gorman. That application has been conciliated with an application by Stephenville Savings and Loan Association for a branch office in Gorman. That hearing has been set for 9:30 a.m. March 7th.

Both Southern Savings and Loan and Olney Savings and previously made applications in Cross Plains.

HOW TO READ THE INDEX ON GAS METERS

The upper four dials measure gas consumption. For ease of reading they are labeled, from right to left, 1,000 cu. ft.; 10,000 cu. ft.; 100,000 cu. ft.; and 1 million cu. ft.

In the case of either meter, the face of each dial divides into ten equal divisions. So, the dial labeled 1,000 cu. ft., from 0 to 0, would read as each division being 100 cu. ft. As the index hand travels over a full cycle of a dial an automatic increase of one division is recorded on the dial to the immediate left. Example: 1,000 cu. ft. has passed through the meter, the 1,000 cu. ft. dial would have moved the full cycle from 0 to 0 and the 10,000 cu. ft. dial would move from 0 to 1.

If an index hand is between figures, the lesser figure is taken. If the index hand is very close to a figure, check the next dial to the right . . . if that dial shows its index hand has passed zero, take the higher figure on the dial you were reading. For the purpose of reading either meter, only those dials discussed need be monitored.

Domestic Meter Example

On 1 thousand circle 400 cu. ft.
On 10 thousand circle 6,000 cu. ft.
On 100 thousand circle 50,000 cu. ft.
On 1 million circle 900,000 cu. ft.
Full reading of index 956,400 cu. ft.

Large Capacity Meter Example

The 10,000,000 dial reads 1,000,000
The 1,000,000 dial reads 800,000
The 100,000 dial reads 50,000
The 10,000 dial reads 8,000
The 1,000 dial reads 600
Total 1,858,600

SCHOOL NEWS

An Open Letter To All Parents;

(John 8:32) "Ye Shall Know The Truth And The Truth Shall Make You Free"

Three months ago I sat in a courtroom and heard a judge say: "20 years." He was pronouncing sentence on my 21 year old son. This was his punishment for drinking, gambling, and robbery, which ended in the shooting and near death of a man. The sentence might have been less but my son had a defiant attitude through the whole trial. He ridiculed every peace officer that spoke. But the drawing, shocking climax came when the judge asked, "Do you believe in God?"

He laughed aloud as he said: "God! Who's that?" Every eye in the courtroom turned and looked at me. I went to Sunday School when I was small and had learned about God. After I married, I decided to go again and taken the children, but I could not persuade my husband to go; but the children and I went regularly for about a year. Then I skipped a few times; then I was only going on special days like Christmas and Easter. Soon I joined a recreation team that competed on Sunday afternoon, so I couldn't go to church and still get ready in time to take my place on the team, and sports were so much fun. If only I had those years to live over again.

Night after night I have walked the floor with the words, "God, who's that?" in my ears. When I think of the wasted years instead of meeting God at the appointed place, I am sick with shame. I'm trying to make restitution by urging other people to go.

So many people say they don't believe in making a child go to church if he doesn't want to go, but how many would go to school if they were not made to go? Ask any child that question.

WILDCAT TALES

Soil Improvers III-Lesa Thornton

Soil Improvers IV-John David Lee

THE EDITOR SPEAKS

Well, well, well! Hello! How are things looking for people out there? Things are really getting busy here. Quarter tests are here and with it comes studying, studying, and more studying. It sure is fun! I hope that everyone does well on the test or tests that they take.

This week, in the Wildcat Tales, we will have a new feature. Kim Harris is going to have an article in the paper every week (I think) on different subjects. She will be getting students ideas on these subjects. This will be an article which everyone should like to read.

I have to run now. A test is chasing me, and I need to start studying! Janetta Lawrence

MORNING HAS BROKEN

Last week in our classes it went like this: History, we are doing work sheets; English, we are reading Hamlet (imagine those Senior guys acting like Hamlet!); Algebra II, we are factoring and graphing inequalities; Shorthand, is getting harder and a few are behind; Home and Family Living, we are studying about writing checks, and how to keep books and papers in order. Mrs. Diddle said that the trailer would be in sometime this week.

Our class is having a Volleyball Tournament on March 12, 13, 15, 16, and 17. If anyone of you can get up a team and want to enter please contact the Senior class of R.S.H.S. We would appreciate your entering. We will be giving away trophies. Your Senior Reporter Kathy Reed.

DO YOU KNOW WHERE YOUR GOING?

This has been a fair week at the school for the Junior class. The weather has finally decided to cooperate with us all. In the Junior class we've been fairly busy. In band class, we've been working on our contest music, we're sounding better every week! We've been reading the play, "The Glass Menagerie", in English class. In History, we are very busy, busy, busy. We have been taking notes from the chapter and looking up questions in the book. We have gotten our History reports back. Eighty was the lowest grade that was made. We are getting farther a long with our typing. Everyone is improving!!! We are learning how to keep check books in the correct order in Home and Family Living class. We're still busy in Bookkeeping class. In Algebra II class, we are factoring and doing stated problems. We are preparing for a chapter test. In Chemistry, we are learning about acids and bases. We are getting into Titration of Acids. Well, so long to all of our news readers for this week. Until next week. Reporter, Dena Willett

WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN

Hi everyone! We are back again the super sophs of '79. It has really been messy around school this week. In English class the Sophomore Ag boys brought some cow manure in on their shoes and Mrs. Griffin made them vacuum it up. It was really kinda stinky in there for a while, though. In History and Algebra classes, Mr. Stuteville has really been keeping everyone busy, especially those of us who talk a lot. He makes us write 300 times, "I will not talk in class." Physical Science class we are always busy, busy, busy! Answering questions, questions, questions! Well, I guess that is about it for this week. maybe I'll know more by next week. See you next week. Teresa Underwood.

CROSSING THE BRIDGE TOGETHER

Hi! The Freshmen are getting ready for the third quarter tests.

Our classes. We are reading "Romeo and Juliet" in Literature. Biology, we are starting our dissecting on earthworms. We are starting our garments in Homemaking, which we will model for the P.T.O. Math consists of percents, ratios, interest, and commission. Health has been teaching us first aid.

The One act play tryouts were last Thursday. Our class was fortunate enough to have two classmates tryout. They both were winners. Joanie Hubbard received the role of Princess and Terry Walker got the role of the Jester. Congratulations.

See you, Margaretta Lankford.

BIG BRASS

Last week was very exciting. We were invited to play in Brownwood for the beginning of John Connally's campaign for President of the United States. The even was covered by national news.

Each band there played a march. We played our contest march, Winchester March. Then all of the bands played The Eyes of Texas together. This was really a new experience and we appreciated the opportunity to go. Kim Harris.

STRAIGHT FROM THE CHEF

Things are really shaping up for the Area meeting. The meeting will be held March 10th at the Abilene Civic Center. This is going to be a full day, but a fun day.

In the classes this week, they are working. The Homemaking I class is finishing up their pillows. The pillows are really looking good. The Home and Family Living class is studying about finances. Such things as check books and how to balance them. The Homemaking II class is finishing up on the aprons that they are making for the lunchroom ladies.

I think that is about it. See you next week. Janetta Lawrence

SOIL IMPROVERS IV

Hello all you Ag IV fans. This week in Ag we commended to overhaul a tractor that is in pretty bad shape. We have finished the small car and it is running good. We have just started building barriers for the city; we will probably be working on them for a while. Later John David Lee

SOIL IMPROVERS III

Soil Improvers III are going through their usual schedule this week. At the moment we are building road blocks for the city. Someday, we will complete Mr. Fortune's tool box. It is a dirty job! But we are not afraid to get our hands filthy! Quarter finals are coming up this week and all of our fingers are crossed.

I need to make a correction on last week's fingers are crossed.

I need to make a correction on last week's column. I told you that our Judging team went to Stephenville. Well, they didn't! It turns out that no one could possibly make it that Saturday, so there are no results for me to give you. That is just about all for this week. So long for now! Lesa Thornton Agriculture III

SOIL IMPROVERS II

We have been busy this week. Tuesday, we went out to my daddy's, Mr. Joe Fraley's, and worked.

That was fun because we got out of part of English class which is really boring. The rest of the week we have been working on city load signs. Mickie and Glenn are building cages for their hunting dogs to go in their pick-ups. The rest of the time we have been working on little things that need to be repaired. We finally go all of the hurdles finished. We painted them and wrote WILDCATS on all of them. They look real good right now. Well, that is about all for this week. See you later. Mike Fraley

SOIL IMPROVERS I

During Ag I this week, we looked over some slides of cows and steers. Instead of placing them 1,2,3,4, we classified them prime, choice, good, standard, utility. We went to clean the shop Monday and stayed out there the rest of the period. Well, that is about all that has happened this week. More news next week. Terry Walker

RUNNING STARS

Track is well underway at Rising Star High School. We had a triangular or practice meet at Rising Star with Cisco, and Early, and Rising Star competing against each other. This is just to get the track stars ready for our first meet which is at Santa Anna on March 2, 1979, maybe we will all be ready to take first place in everything. 'Till next week. Gwynn Tharp

WISDOM'S CORNER AND GOLF NEWS

Since golf season has started, I'll start switching out each week with library news and golf news. Ok? This year we have six girls going out for the team: Paula New, and Taby Chambers coming back from last year; newcomers are Tana Lewis, Lesa Thornton, Pam Ratliff, and LaJean Rust.

We have already been golfing a couple of times and on the golf course you can hear Mr. Rankin exclaim (Mr. Rankin is our coach) as Pam swings at the ball, "Don't KILL the ball!" As Tana starts to swing, Mr. Rankin yells across the fairway, "Put a little muscle into it!" Because Lesa is wanting to use a tee everytime she hits the ball even on the fairway, the coach is constantly trying to break her of the habit. La Jean is getting into the habit of missing to ball everytime she swings, so the coach has the difficult task of getting her to stay bent over instead of raising up before hitting the ball which is causing her to miss. Everytime Taby messes up you'll hear her explain, "This is just a bad hole." But as we all know, it is just an excuse for a bad hit. As Paula hit only one good tee off for the day, you'll hear Mr. Rankin say with surprise, "Good coaching, good coaching!" Mr. Rankin refuses to give up the bad jokes on Green 4. But really folks, everything is coming a long real good in golf practices. The g girls are now practicing every Tuesday, Saturday, and in their spare time. The Golf Pros

Rising Star Nursing Center

On March 1, 1978, Josie and Danny Hughes became the new owners of the Rising Star Nursing Center. We congratulate them on their first year anniversary. The Hughes are wonderful people to work for and we wish them well.

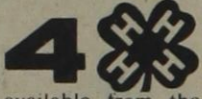

Several of our residents are still sick with colds. Fannie White was taken to the hospital last week and had to have surgery on her hip. She came through the surgery well. Fannie is missed by all. "Hurry back Fannie".

We welcome back from area hospitals several of our residents: Leo Atkinson, John Nelson, Steve Foster and Nancy Matthews.

Maude Hill became our newest resident last week. Everyone is helping to make her welcome.

3 Cheers for

Have you been looking for a way to do something new and different as part of your 4-H project. If so, perhaps you should think about giving a method demonstration. Some benefits of preparing a method demonstration include: (1) you can gain a wide range of information about subjects on which you make presentations, (2) improved public speaking skills, (3) more confidence in yourself, (4) opportunities for going places and taking part in interesting events, and (5) acceptance for more responsible jobs in 4-H, in your community, and in later life. Subjects for 4-H method demonstrations can be chosen from a variety of topics. Topics can range from community improvement, farm and ranch management to family life and landscape horticulture. Publications available from the County Extension Office are a good source of information for method demonstrations.

This year, there will be a County Roundup where all 4-H'ers doing method demonstrations will present their demonstrations. This is tentatively scheduled for April 3rd. (more details later) County Roundup will give 4-H'ers a chance to present their demonstrations before they go on to district Roundup, which will be April 21st in Stephenville.

If you are interested in doing a 4-H method demonstration contact Trudy Bird 629-2222 or Kenneth Waites, 629-1093. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Mrs. Buck Clark donated a large box of yarn to the Home.

Can you believe the weather is getting better? Everyone is looking forward to Spring and warmer weather. Several will be out walking, so come and join us.

Till next week,
