Mrs. Neudy Radcliffe, 6446 Kenwood, had plenty of packing to do before leaving for a year's exchange teaching in Magherafelt, Northern Ireland. Besides the usual luggage, she must take with her answers to countless questions about the American way of life. Mrs. Radcliffe is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Butler of this city. ## Dallas Teacher Leaves for Ireland On August 7th

By MARY BRINKERHOFF
In Dallas News

It's busy the children will be in Magherafelt next fall.

They may be the busiest in all Northern Ireland, what with the teacher from Dallas coming, and her so ignorant they'll have to tell her everything. Not knowing until lately that the eight letter of the alphabet is called "hitch."

At least, though, they'll find her a willing pupil.

"I expect to learn a great deal more than the children do," said Mrs. Neudy Radcliffe, 6446 Kenwood, who will leave Monday for a year's teaching in the little County Londonderry town.

"The temperature ranges between 40 and 70 degrees—never below or above, unless they have a heat wave and it goes to 75. And it rains about forty inches a year."

Consequently, the Emerald Isle stays emerald around the calendar.

As for the people, "I've been told they're the most friendly and jovial in the world, the most cordial to visitors. Everything I could possibly need has been arranged for me."

The hundred American teachers who serve each year in foreign lands are considered unofficial ambassadors. In preparation for this role, Mr. Radcliffe will have a day of orientation before sailing from New York Aug. 7 on the United States.

In London, teachers headed for all parts of the United Kingdom will attend a reception given by

First Baptist Homecoming on Sunday, August 16

Preparations are complete for the home coming to be held at the First Baptist church next Sunday, August 16. The church was organized in 1882 and the congregation moved into the new building May 17, 1951.

Rev. Van O. Martin was pastor at the time of the dedication. He was called to the church in January, 1949 and because of the need of a new building at church conference it was decided to appoint committees and start work with the understanding that no work should begin until $20,000 was pledged.

Committee appointed was Bill Herrington, Clark Crowner, Fred Siekman, (now deceased) George Steel, Oral Davis and Jay Koonce. The building committee was composed of G. E. McDonald, Fred Roberds and Weldon Roach.

Rev. Dewey Horton of Amarillo drew the plans and delivered the dedicatory sermon. Rev. Sam Taylor, a former pastor, laid the corner stone. During the two years that Rev. Martin was pastor of the church 95 persons were added to the church rolls.

A complete program of the day's services will be found on page 4 of this issue.

TEXAS WATER PROBLEM — 1

Plenty of Water Falls in Texas; Our Problem Is Conservation and Drainage Says United States Senator Johnson

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Drought or no drought, Texas has—potentially—plenty of water. Over the long pull, we would have more than enough water to meet all our needs—if we conserved it properly and if we had a system of distributing it to the places where it could be used most profitably.

When I entered the Senate in 1949, I had back of me some experience with water development on the Colorado River. I knew a little something of the water needs of Texas. I knew something of the benefits that result from solution of water problems. I felt a long-range program of water conservation and use was one of our State's fundamental needs.

Appraisal of Problem. One of the first things I did as a Senator was to ask the Department of the Interior to have its Bureau of Reclamation make an appraisal of the Texas water problem.

A report of the Bureau's study shows Texas is using only a relatively small fraction of its potential water resources. That is true despite the fact that we are using water in Texas at a rate two and one-half times as great as our rate of use in 1940.

Believe it or not, water used in Texas amounts to only about 15 per cent of the yearly discharge of streams that border or originate in the State. The remaining 85 per cent makes its way into the Gulf and is lost to Texas.

Texas Drainage Systems. Texas has 15 major drainage basins. They may be divided into three groups: (1) those belonging to the Mississippi River system, including the Canadian and Red Rivers; (2) those rising in Texas and flowing into the Gulf; (3) the Rio Grande and its tributaries.

Texas has within its boundaries more streams of appreciable size than any other state. Texas has wholly within its boundaries a greater part of the streams that touch its surface than any other state.

That is where our surface water comes from. It is more than enough to meet all our foreseeable needs—if we will conserve it for our use.

For some years I have been telling everyone who would listen that water is more important to Texas than oil. We will be needing and using water long after our valuable petroleum resource have been exhausted.

All Texans Affected. The water problem directly and personally affects every Texan.

It affects the mother and the thirsty child—and the weaver with thousands of head of cattle. It affects the man who wants to wash his car on a Sunday afternoon—and the chemical industry on the Gulf Coast using perhaps 100,000,000 gallons of water per day.

Above everything else, we must have water—plenty of water where it is most needed and when it is most needed.

Coordinated Program Needed. Up to now, there has been no coordinated Federal-State water conservation program. We need one—badly. In fact, we must have one if we hope really to solve our water problem.

The Bureau of Reclamation report suggests such a program. This appraisal may not hold all the answers, but it does at least give a basis for action.

It opens a path that can lead to a permanent solution of the recurring problem of water shortages in Texas. That is a path which we in Texas—for the sake of our own future—must follow.

NEW WIFE, 4 CHILDREN

Escaped Murderer, Caught in Montana, Brought Back to Brownwood to Face Charge of Killing Man Over 1st Wife

By JOE SWAN, in Brownwood Bulletin; Friday, August 7.

Yales Harwell, convicted murderer who was brought back to Brownwood Wednesday from Montana to face a 12-year prison term, wept several times in his cell in county jail Thursday as he told of living a "good life" and making an "honest living" in Montana for the past two years.

The 53-year-old man was convicted in 35th District Court in 1950 of the fatal shooting of Luther L. McConnell at a Third Street apartment of his estranged wife, here June 28, 1950.

He was released on $7,500 bond in 1951 while awaiting results of an appeal of his case. He disappeared in May, 1951, after his case was affirmed, and officers had been unable to locate him until his arrest in Billings, July 29.

The bond was forfeited and sureties were ordered to pay the $7,500 in court action here in May.

In his trial here in October 1950, Harwell, an Andrews dirt contractor, testified that he shot McConnell "because he broke up my home and because I loved my wife and baby." His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Harwell, divorced him after the shooting here.

Heads for Montana.
Harwell, who was working at Colorado City when his 12-year sentence was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals, Austin, said he just "went to pieces" when he read of the appeals court's decision in a newspaper.

"I sold my car at Wichita Falls, and bought a bus ticket to Billings, Montana," Harwell said.

"That's the only place I've even been since," he added.

The day after he arrived in Billings in May 1951, Harwell took a job with a contractor there. In a short while he became foreman of a construction crew building and widening roads.

On Jan. 12, 1952, Harwell was married to Mrs. Mary Fox of Billings. Mrs. Fox was a widow with four children, two boys, 13 and 10, and two girls 14 and 12.

"My family grew to love me very much, and I grew to love them all," Harwell said.

Harwell removed his tinted glasses several times to wipe tears from his eyes as he told of his family life in Billings.

"I have something to live for now," Harwell said. "I'm loved by a good family, and am well thought of in Billings.

"I plan to go to Huntsville, do right, and return to Billings when I serve my sentence," he said.

Harwell lived with his family on an 80-acre irrigated farm just outside Billings.

"We have 70 acres of wheat that will make about 60 bushels to the acre," Harwell said. "They should be harvesting it this week."

Officers who checked into Harwell's Montana background found that he was well-liked by his friends and fellow workmen and loved by his wife and step-children.

Family Shaken Up.
Sheriff Ray Masters and Texas Ranger Clarence R. Nordyke, who returned Harwell to Brown County, said that his family said goodbye to him at the Yellowstone County jail in Billings—and that everyone was pretty badly shaken up.

"Those kids wouldn't have cried any more if their real daddy was being taken away from them," Sheriff Masters said.

Harwell had apparently become a well-respected man during his two-year stay in Montana. He was an active member of the Moose Lodge and attended church services regularly with his family at the First German Congregational Church, Billings.

He was repentant Thursday as he spoke of the 1950 shooting here.

"I was wrong, and if I had it to do over I wouldn't do it again," Harwell said.

Harwell was arrested in Billings a week ago while widening First Avenue North, the main street of the city. He said while he had been working on the street he had seen two men from Texas who knew him.

"That's probably how they traced me," Harwell said.

Texas Ranger Nordyke of Brownwood, who supplies Billings officers with information that led to Harwell's arrest, declined to comment on the methods used to trace him.

Harwell will be transferred from Brown County jail to the Texas Penitentiary at Huntsville where he will serve his 12-year sentence unless he is paroled earlier.

Harwell said he had been told that letters from Montana would be sent to Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, telling of his exemplary life in Billings.

TYPICAL EXAMPLE.

The following brief editorial appeared in the Herald and Clipper, Marcus Hook, Pennsylvania: "The Government Accounting Office recently reported that the purchase of two baffle plates for $2.97 by the New York Post Office was listed and documented by nine papers, bearing 24 signatures or initials, and 20 datings, and that the documentation took four months to process.

"This is but one of the typical examples of bureaucracy, which closely resembles what old soldiers refer to as Army red tape... The only thing we can do is to point out this one example in the hope that it will disgust the right people as much as it disgusts us."

WE'RE EATING MORE BEEF.

Americans are eating more beef now than at any time in history, according to the president of the American Meat Institute. This is a reflection of current record beef supplies.

The figures are impressive. During the first half of the year, our per capita beef consumption amounted to about 74 pounds on an annual rate basis. This compares with an annual rate of 58 pounds during the same period last year, and is slightly above the record rate reached way back in 1909.

Total meat production for 1953 is forecast at the huge figure of 23,700,000,000 pounds, which includes an 18 per cent increase in beef and veal production over last year along with a 10 per cent decline in pork production. And the outlook is for still further increases in total production for 1954.

This is good news for the consumer — we are a nation of meat eaters, and medical research has proven that a diet with a high meat content has a definite favorable bearing on mental and physical vigor so far as the majority of the people are concerned. The producer, on the other hand, has had to cope with the problem of sharp declines in livestock values. The ultimate solution to this problem lies in increased demand to match increased production, and it is a noteworthy fact that the livestock producers have shown no inclination to ask for government aid. They know that the long-term interests of all are best served by the free market.

NOT SO SIMPLE.

Why do people patronize one store — and pass right by the door of another store?

The head of an association which represents food stores gave a general answer to that question in these words: "People like to do business with people they like. It is almost as simple as that — but the processes by which you get people to like you may not be simple. Public opinion is the combination of many likes and dislikes, many attitudes, many acts. Public opinion determines where people spend their money day after day; public opinion influences what stores will be profitable, what stores will fail."

Different people, obviously, want and seek different kinds of goods, different kinds of services, different attractions of many sorts. Back of all the promotional and public relations activities of the merchant, from advertising to improved employee training, is the desire to attract as many people into his store as possible — in other words, to make people like him. And that will always be true so long as we have a free market and open competition.

HIGH TIME!

According to U. S. News & World Report, "The National Security Council has been given a new job by President Eisenhower — to keep an eye on 'creeping socialism.' The Council is expected to resist all proposals that tend to weaken the country's system of free enterprise."

Every citizen who believes in freedom and representative government, both of which socialism would destroy, will welcome that. And he'll also say, "It's high time!"

Washington

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLISON Congressman 17th District

The closing days of the Congress are always hectic and rushed. The closing of this Congress was no different. If we would think of this situation back in the earlier part of the year, probably we would not talk so many valuable days away.

However, it is our system and remains the best in the world. As everyone knows, the House and Senate do not always pass bills in the same form. The result is that these bills must go to a Conference Committee, composed by members of both the House and Senate. In the Conference Committee, the differences of opinion are reconciled.

After this is done, the representatives of each of the legislative bodies report back on their compromise and the Bill must then be approved or rejected by each House of the Congress.

This practice means that final action on much legislation is necessary in the last week or ten days of the session. The Congress was in session from early morning until late at night during the last days before adjournment. Surh pressure takes its toll in patience, tempers, and sometimes even life itself.

Everyone has his own idea as to whether this First Session of the 83rd Congress has been a success or not. One thing is certain—it is humanly impossible to take up the reins of leadership and responsibility in this huge and complicated government and immediately start doing a perfect job of driving. President Eisenhower and his selected officials have had to learn a lot of things the hard way. The President and most of his top officials admit as much.

Another thing is certain—it is easier to criticize when something goes wrong than to add constructive efforts to see that it doesn't go wrong.

Personally, I know that in this Session of the Congress, as in the past, I have voted and acted on each issue as it was presented, regardless of party or any other influence. I never contend that I do not make mistakes. Sometimes only the future can prove whether proper judgment has been exercised.

President Eisenhower has already laid out a part of the program for the Second Session of the 83rd Congress, which convenes next January 6th. He indicates that he will ask for certain revisions in the Taft-Hartley Act. He will ask for a re-vamping of the tax structure; expansions of Social Security to cover another 10 million people or more; probably changes in the Farm Program; a program for the conservation and development of natural resources, particularly water; and other legislation vitally affecting the lives of all of us. From all indications, the next Congress will be an extremely busy one.

The only salary increase I have supported in this session of the Congress was for the Chaplain of the House of Representatives. He devotes his full time to the members and employees. From day to day he takes the place of the local minister back home. His salary had been forgotten and he never mentioned it. Several of us, however, happened to find he only being paid $2800 a year, which could only mean a bare living in Washington. We were able to raise his pay to $4200. He was getting less than some of the lowest paid employees.

As this is published, I shall be on my way back home and will soon be visiting over my Congressional District. It is my hope that I shall see many of you for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and twins, Richard and Robert of Plainfield, N. J. were surprise guests in the home of Mrs. W. M. Cawley Sunday. They were visitors in Waco and had told a friend, Mrs. Maurice Ferguson who lives in New Jersey the first time they were in Texas they would drop by for a visit. How glad all were when these people from the Garden State kept their promise.

Mrs. Arno Dupuy and daughter, Margaret from Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wilkerson from Dublin were visitors in the Mrs. J. C. Honea home over the last week end.

Ex-Eastland County Pioneer Celebrates 100th Birthday Aug. 3

James Levi Jones, a former half century resident of Eastland county, blew out 10 candles—one for each decade—atop a three-tiered cake at his 100th birthday observance in Breckenridge Monday.

Two other cakes were brought over by neighbors, three barbecued turkeys were furnished by one of the Jones' son and a basket of fruit from the City of Breckenridge was sent by City Secretary Ernest Maxwell.

Helping to eat the birthday feast were 53 of Jones' descendants. (He has 77 altogether, including nine children, 34 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.)

More than a dozen Breckenridge residents and a delegation of Gold Star mothers dropped in during the celebrate to congratulate the man who is believed to be Stephens County's oldest citizen. A number of others sent gifts.

Jones, who farmed until 1945, lived in Eastland County about 50 years before moving to Stephens County 32 years ago.

FOOTBALL FANS FAIL TO MEET TO ORGANIZE CLUB SUPPORT WILDCAT TEAM

Three fans, maybe one other, dropped in at the American Legion hall Tuesday night to try and organize a quarterback club to back the Wildcat football team in the coming season. If the football boys play like the fans render lip service to an organization Rising Star will certainly be as far down in the percentage column as it is possible to go.

One more try will be made to organize — a postal card will be prepared. The telephone will be used and to all those who are crippled, a car will come and pick them up. It is a crying shame for the fans in Rising Star to let the football team down. Maybe the wrong man is trying to help—Yes, we are sore, all three of us, coming out to back up the team. Where were you? You would be sore if the team refused to play in a conference game.

Monday night, August 17 at the Legion hall at 8. So if you are still for the Wildcats come out and show it.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank each and everyone for everything in the way of help since Mr. F. Markham's accident. We thank you for each and every kind deed that has been done. Mr. Markham has been moved to Ranger hospital. He's doing better, and would like his friends and neighbors to visit him.

EDITOR CHALLENGES RODEO BOSS AND BRINGS IN FINE 60 POUND YELLOW MEATER

Harace Witt, 6 foot 4 cowpoke was hesitant to turn over to one "Whitey" Hicks a 60-pound yellow meated watermelon last week after the editor had convinced Witt that he could ride any wild Brahma bull at the rodeo arena. It would be difficult to explain to the average layman that riding a bull and throwing a bull is the same thing only different. So Witt, after scratching his head and saying that week before last he had fetched in a bigger melon than the one last Saturday, decided it would be easier to charge the expense off to Throwing the bull than actually riding the bull. It was a lucky day for the editor.

Thanks, Mr. Witt for the fine melon—it was a treat and greatly enjoyed by the Record force.

WRITES FROM SOUTH TEXAS — BE HERE AUG. 15

Dear editor and wife, I want to write you to let you know how much I enjoy the home paper. It has been 30 years since I made my home there, but during the time my father, D. F. Smith was there in business and my people lived there, I was back on visits a lot. My mother moved to East Texas and she and I have not been back as often as we would have liked.

I am planning to meet her there August 15th. We plan to attend the Baptist Church Reunion on the 16th. So hope to see our many friends.

We read where you have been enjoying some nice fruit. South Texas was hit by the drouth and so many crops here were plowed under, we are enjoying a few melons and cantaloupes from the lower Rio Grande Valley. We live 122 miles south of San Antonio. We will be by to see you on Saturday 15th. We plan to get reservations at the Maestros for our stay there.

Will come by to see you and bring my mother and two adopted nephews. Charles is 8 and Douglas 5. They are looking forward to visiting there and enjoying the fruit and melons.

Bye for this time and will be home next week.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Gladys Smith Crow
Charlotte Gibson, teacher in Corpus Christi, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Gibson, left Saturday, August 15th. The Corpus Christi workshop for teachers starts the 17th and school begins the 31st.

WORKING WITH A MEDICAL RESEARCH TEAM TO FIND A CURE FOR YELLOW FEVER, DR. JESSE LEZEAR, IN 1900, VOLUNTARILY SUBMITTED TO INOCULATIONS THAT HE KNEW MIGHT KILL HIM — AND, A FEW DAYS LATER, DIED OF THE DISEASE.

IN A WAY, JESSE LEZEAR ILLUSTRATES HOW A DEMOCRACY SO OFTEN CALLS FORTH THE DEVOTION AND EVEN SELF-SACRIFICE OF ITS CITIZENS. HE IS TYPICAL OF THE MANY AMERICANS, INCLUDING EVEN A NUMBER OF PRISONERS, WHO HAVE FREELY OFFERED THEIR OWN LIVES IN MEDICAL EXPERIMENTS FOR THE COMMON GOOD.

PIONEER NEWS

By A. O. (Slim) Harris

Ace Hickman of Baird sends out a correction notice on the date of the Ex-Students Homecoming at Pioneer. The date will be August 20 on Thursday at the Lakeview Club House, with lunch served by the Pioneer ladies club on the grounds at $1.00 per plate.

Rev. Tom Flippin of Andrews a former pastor of the Baptist church brought the morning message Friday in the ten day revival that was closed out last Sunday night. He is in a revival at Rowden this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George received word last Sunday morning of the death of Basil Murphy, a stepbrother who passed away at the Veteran's Hospital in McKinney on Saturday night with heart trouble.

The summer revival at the Baptist church closed Sunday night with fairly good attendance at each service. There were three additions to the church by baptism, the candidates for baptism will be baptized on Sunday, August 16 at 2:30 p.m. following a morning service and dinner on the ground. Everyone is cordially invited to attend on that day and enjoy the fellowship of friends and neighbors.

Mrs. H. A. Chaney, Mrs. Ida Gray are vacationing at Corpus Christi and on coast in the sea breeze. Reports have it that they are going to embark on a sea voyage to Padre Island to enjoy the salt air and possibly a slight tan or sun blister, who knows.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gober have recently moved to the old Marvin Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scott were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Harris last Sunday.

M. and Jean O'Donald of Waxahachie, fiance of Miss Winnie Gibson were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gibson on last Sunday. Miss Winnie and Jean will be united in the bonds of matrimony some time this month it was stated lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Slaughter and children of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cumba of Avoca visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dupriest here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Purcell, Eunice, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Nunn of Abilene, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lige Tate last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Dupree and family of Denver City were here visiting friends en route to Lake Brownwood to attend the Anderson home coming affair there on Sunday.

Ray Plumlee began pouring concrete for the foundation for his new five room home just west of the Pioneer Gasoline Plant, which will be an asset to the Pioneer community. We hope this will never be a ghost town but a growing village that will be a busy little place a long time.

Seeking Information About John Harris, Was In Pioneer in 1920

Aug. 6, 1953
The Rising Star Record

Dear Sirs:
We being oil field people were at a little development not too far from Pioneer and Rising Star, Texas, called as I remember, Clarkridge as that was our address, approximately in 1920-21.

Our good friend, John Harris, together with his wife, Helen, daughter Sybil and son Gene, ran a combination grocery and boarding house. He also was the Law, the exact title I don't know, marshal, constable or something. Later we heard that John had been killed. Am wondering if any of you or your staff might know of them and could give me any information how I could contact them.

Would appreciate any information you might have.
Thanking you, I am very truly yours,
Mrs. Harry G. Yost

Mildew in Summer Can Be Stopped

COLLEGE STATION, August 10.—Mildew is caused by molds that thrive on household products like tablecloths, bathmats, dish towels and articles made of leather and wool.

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says, fortunately, mildew spots are easily removed if you get to them before the mold has a chance to rot the material.

Fresh mildew stains on washable goods can usually be removed by washing at once with soap and water, rinsing well and drying in the sun.

If any stains remain, moisten with lemon juice and salt, spread in the sun to bleach, and then rinse thoroughly and dry. Be careful when you use this treatment on colored material.

Another safe bleach for household articles is sodium perborate which can be bought at drug stores or in commercial bleaches at most grocery stores. Sponge the mildew spot with a solution of one tablespoon sodium perborate to a pint of lukewarm water, or sprinkle the powder directly on the stain which has been dampened with hot water. Let stand a minute or two and then rinse well. Test the bleach on a sample of cloth if it is colored.

Merchants Are Making Plans to Decorate City When Free Fall Fair Comes to Town; Dates Are to Be October 1, 2, and 3

Heads Fund Drive

RUSSELL MAGUIRE

Russell Maguire, New York industrialist and Chairman of the Board of the American Mercury, has been named National Chairman of the Glen Eerie Endowment Fund to develop Glen Eerie at Colorado Springs, Colorado, as an evangelistic headquarters for the nation. The property will be used as a retreat house and for research and study by the members of the Billy Graham and other religious youth groups.

Glen Eerie was built by General William J. Palmer, pioneer railroad man of the West and the founder of Colorado Springs, and was completed in 1940.

It comprises a castle and numerous other buildings which lend themselves ideally to the purposes of the evangelistic movement headed by Billy Graham, who is Honorary National Chairman of the fund.

Keep Working Hens On the Job Says Poultry Expert

COLLEGE STATION, July 8.—Poultrymen who are in the egg producing business can keep profits up by following a rigid culling program through the summer months. W. J. Moore, poultry husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says cull the non-layers, keep egg production up and get the advantage of the favorable ratio between the price of eggs and feed.

Hens that go out of production now, he adds, will probably remain out until late fall or early winter and feeding them is a dead loss.

Remove the hens that show a shrunken, dried-up comb, yellow beak, new feathers, yellow shanks and vent. Also hens that lack vigor and spend their time loafing should be given a one-way trip to town. A good egg producer must eat plenty of feed and drink lots of water and she can't do this by loafing. Of course, says Moore, the poultryman must do his part by supplying the essentials needed by the hen.

Producers are reminded that hens, like humans, don't care to spend a lot of time in the hot sunshine hunting for feed and water. When they cut down on consumption, a drop in egg production is sure to follow.

And finally, says Moore, the poultryman who does a good job of culling will be paid well for his trouble and at the same time, will be following one of the important practices of efficiency poultry farm management.

These flags are being purchased this year instead of being rented. And they are being bought for the same price that we have rented them for in the past. The Chamber of Commerce will take these flags down; wrap them in separate packages and label them as to what business place they came from. In the future when we put them up for some occasion, each business will get back the same identical flag he is now paying for. They will be the property of the Chamber of Commerce, said president Bill Button.

Date for the fair will be set just as soon as carnival shows can be arranged. A number have been contacted and are supposed to let the committee know just what date they can be in Rising Star.

Texas Tax Payers Will Save $538,020,000 In Federal Taxes Because of Expense Cut Of Government Says W. Texas C. of C.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has estimated that Texas taxpayers will save $538,020,000 in Federal taxes that they will not have to pay because of the $12.6 billion in appropriations cut by the Administration and Congress from the Truman budget.

Calculating that Texas taxpayers bear 4.27 of all Federal taxes, the Regional Chamber applied this percentage to the $12.6 billion figure to derive its estimate.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce said, "In cutting $12.6 billion of appropriations from the Truman Budget for 1954, the Administration and the Congress paved the way to substantial tax savings in the next few years."

The Chamber added that the cut in appropriations "cannot be expected to produce a similar reduction in Federal expenditures in 1954 from the Truman estimate of $78.6 billion." It explained,

"The main reason for this is the fact that a large part of the appropriations cut from the Truman Budget by the new Administration and the Congress, such as for aircraft and other hard goods, were scheduled for actual expenditure in 1955 and later rather than in 1954. Consequently the savings from these cuts will not appear until 1955 or later."

The WTCC estimated that Federal spending in 1954 would total $72 billion which is $4.5 billion below the Truman estimate.

Willis Claborn, 77, Buried in Rising Star Wednesday Afternoon

Willis J. Claborn, about 77, of Okra, who ran a general merchandise store there for over 50 years, died Monday morning in a Lubbock hospital.

Mr. Claborn owned one of the first general merchandise stores in Eastland County and operated it until January of this year when he sold it to G. A. Earp because of ill health.

He had been in ill health for some time, but became seriously ill while visiting relatives in Lubbock.

Mr. Claborn served as postmaster at Okra until he reached the age of retirement in 1945. He was well known all over that part of the county.
