Polio Received 34c From Every Citizen In the Nation

DALLAS, June 24.—Texans contributed more than $2,577,000 to the total of $51,500,000 raised in the 1953 March of Dimes, it was announced today by Basil O'Connor, resident of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Corroborating the Lone Star totals was Robert J. Smith, volunteer chairman of the annual polio fund raising drive in Texas.

This total, based on reports from 3,069 volunteer campaign chairman, represents a new record, being 24% higher than the previous record total raised in 1952, Mr. O'Connor said. Last year, when $41,432,605 was contributed showing a figure of 27½ cents per capita donation for the United States, Texas raised more than $2,100,000 for a per capita showing of slightly higher than 28 cents. The 1953 figure, nationwide, shows an average of 34 cents per person.

Somebody in Authority Ought to Call The People Together and See What Can Be Done About the Water Situation

ANAHUAC, June 20.—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd told water conservationists Saturday that Texas can not wait the four years allotted by the 53rd Legislature for a comprehensive survey of the state's water resources. He urged immediate cooperation of all cities, counties, water districts and agencies to make inventory of needs and speed up a uniform water policy for the state.

Shepperd spoke to some 5,000 members of the Fraternity of the White Heron at a ninth annual fish fry in Anahuac. The group promotes the development of water resources in Texas and the Southwest.

In addition to an immediate statewide water inventory, Shepperd named two other urgent needs. "We must have a clear-cut understanding among the various water authorities as to who is going to do what," he said. "There is too much bickering between Federal and State government, and between various river authorities and water districts. Somebody in authority ought to call them together in the next ten days, lock the door and let them thrash it out."

Second, he pointed out the lack of an agency to act in water emergencies. He expressed the hope that reorganization of the Board of Water Engineers, voted by the last session of the Legislature, will authorize the Board to establish emergency rules on water use.

Pointing out that "every city and county has some kind of constitutional authority to take stock of its needs and deficiencies," the Attorney General called upon all mayors and county judges

Raymond Hardy Kills Wife Bertha, Then Turns Pistol on Self at Bremerton, Wash.

The entire community was saddened and shocked last Monday when news reached Rising Star of the death of Raymond Hardy and his wife, Bertha. The killing occurred at Bremerton, Wash. last Saturday night. According to information received at the Record office, Hardy shot his wife and then turned the gun on himself.

Raymond Hardy was born and reared in the Wolf Valley community and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hardy. Surviving are four children, two boys and two girls; his parents, three sisters, Mrs. Jim Lester of Wolf Valley; Mrs. Myrtle Kelley of Abilene; Mrs. Homer McBride of Fort Worth. One brother, D. Hardy of Wolf Valley and a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives.

Raymond came home last Mar. because of the serious illness of his mother and stayed until Monday week when he departed for the west coast. His mother, Mrs. Hardy is much better at the time and his father, Mr. Sam Hardy is 81 and getting along very well in spite of the heat. These are pioneer people of the area and have many friends who offer sympathy in this time of trouble.

Raymond Hardy was engaged in oil field work and before leaving for Washington he worked in the oil fields here.

His wife, Bertha, was reared at Snyder, and after their marriage 28 years ago, lived in the Wolf Valley community for some time. They had been living on the west coast for nine years. It is said domestic troubles was the cause of the shootings. Hardy was 52 years old.

Funeral arrangements were not complete at press time. It was highly probable said D. Hardy, brother of the slain man, that both bodies would be brought back to Texas.

July 4 Will Be Holiday in Rising Star

It was voted at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday to take the 4th of July as a holiday. The public is reminded to do their shopping Friday the 3rd. This has been the custom over the years it was said. The club also voted to hold the next meeting at the North Main Cafe.

A. D. Jenkins, secretary made a report on his recent visit to Dallas and Fort Worth in regard to securing a turkey processing plant here or for the reopening of the locker plant. While it is going to be hard to get a processing plant said Jenkins we have some contacts that we hope will produce results.

The Fourth of July rodeo will be held if enough help will show up this Friday night to work under the lights said Dr. Bradley. All we need is lots of help and we can still have the show, he said.

A. D. Whisenant of Eastland was a visitor. He was interested in telling the people about the radio station to be opened there soon.

The organization is vitally interested in three projects—the locker plant, check water supply and this will be done soon and completion of the rodeo arena.

Everyone was very optimistic over all reports made and felt that results would be shown with lots of hard work and patience. Bill Button, president of the club stated the holes at the arena grounds were dug by Kizer Telephone company and the lights will be wired and set up by the West Texas Utilities company. He also stressed the need for help on Friday night so as to have the rodeo on Saturday, July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Green have their daughter, Mrs. Sidney Rosette and daughter, Betty June of Amarillo as this week's visitors.

Editor's Note—Rising Star is vitally interested in water—in fact the Chamber of Commerce is working on a proposition to have a survey made to see just what the water situation in this area is. Every year it is the same old story—no rain—no water—crops burning up and all that. How long, people, are we going to sit and the answer go unsolved? Talk irrigation—get interested in irrigation—let's do something about irrigation. Other communities have made the desert bloom. We can do it here. But not by talking.

Mayor Smith Issues Warning in Regard To Water Supply

The following article by Mayor Smith will give our people some idea of the seriousness of the water situation, not only in Rising Star but over this section. Our people must get together some time in the near future and have a complete water survey made by competent engineers, probably the U. S. Geographical Society or the state board of water engineers. It is important.

Follow the mayor's statement: Due to the continued drought and the severe hot weather the Rising Star water supply is being overtaxed as most of the towns at this time. We are calling on every water consumer to conserve water where possible. The City is drilling more wells but will be several days before they can be put in operation. We are not out of water but we must safeguard our supply so that we will have some fire protection at all times, and we ask your cooperation.

Two Ciscoans Die As Tragedy Ends Vacation Plans

Two Cisco residents lost their lives in an automobile accident early Saturday which tragically ended a vacation trip to New Mexico.

Dead were Mrs. Minnie Boatman and her granddaughter, 12-year-old Elizabeth McGough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McGough.

Eight others, all members of the same family, were in Anson and Hamlin hospitals where their conditions were said to be serious.

The party, consisting of four adults and six children, left Cisco at 4:30 a. m. for a vacation trip to Albuquerque, New Mexico. About half way between Anson and Hamlin the right front tire blew out and the driver lost control of the car. After overturning the car came to rest on an embankment. Several of the passengers were thrown from the vehicle.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McGough and their five children, Mrs. Boatman, mother of Mrs. McGough and Mrs. Lucille Jones and infant, Mrs. Jones is a sister-in-law of Mr. McGough. —Cisco News.

Can You Make Quick Decisions? If Not Stay Off Highways on July 4 Week End

CHICAGO, June 24.—Can you make quick decisions? If you can't you had better stay off the nation's highways and streets over the Fourth of July week end, the National Safety Council said today.

"It has been estimated that the average motorist has to make from 20 to 50 decisions per hour, depending on the traffic," the council said, "and a wrong decision can be fatal. In extremely heavy traffic, like that during holidays a driver is never more than a second away from an accident."

The Council expects more pleasure-seeking motorists to climb into more cars and roll up more miles during this three-day weekend celebration than ever before in the nation's history.

Nearly 40 million motor vehicles are expected to jam the highways, and their speedometers are expected to clock close to four billion miles. The increasing number of new cars on the road and the substantial rise in gasoline consumption, plus the fact that many summer vacationists will use the three-day weekend as the beginning or end of their regular vacation periods, threaten a heavy death toll unless extra care is used, the Council warned.

The Council is coordinating a nationwide campaign to hold down the holiday toll, and 161 national organizations have joined in the united effort. The campaign is designed to increase public awareness of the extra holiday hazards and the extra caution needed to overcome them. It also seeks to help officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to reduce traffic accidents over the Fourth.

Urging public support of the campaign, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, said excessive speed contributes to one out of three fatal traffic acidents. "Speed control is the personal responsibility of every driver," he said. "A heavy foot on the throttle can mean a heavy heart for someone."

Advising an early start for holiday motor trips to reduce the temptation to speed, the Council offered these tips to drivers:

1. Obey common sense as well as legal speed limits.
2. Keep your car under control at all times, so you can stop quickly if circumstances demand.
3. Keep fresh and alert at the wheel. You can't make split-second decisions of you're tired and fuzzy.
4. Keep a safe, clear stopping distance between you and the car ahead. Watch cars behind in your rear-view mirror.
5. Signal for turns well before turning. Avoid abrupt stops.
6. Slow down at sundown, and be sure you can stop within the range of your lights.

J. T. Hammett Still Knocking 'Em Over

SNYDER, June 9. — J. T. Hammett, once the most featured amateur golfer in West Texas, has settled down. After winning the championship of some 39 Invitation tournaments during his career, Hammett is now content to handle his job as pro at the Snyder Country Club and teach his four daughters the finer points of the game.

From 1935 until he entered the Air Corps in 1941, Hammett won just about every tournament in West Texas. Registering out of Philpeco Country Club at Rising Star, the slender power hitter had his greatest season in 1941 before going into the service, entering 15 tournaments, going to the final 14 times and winning.

Since turning pro Hammett has served at Marshall, Colorado City, Breckenridge and now Snyder. Married, Hammett is the proud father of four daughters, Emma Lou, 8, Linda Sue, 7, Carroll Ann 5, and Jimmie Lynn 4. —Abilene Reporter

Don't Let Independence Day Make You a Dependent!

Unless this forthcoming holiday is different from all that have preceded it, thousands of Americans will become dependents on Independence Day.

They will be the maimed, the widowed, the orphaned. For the rest of their lives some of the maimed will have to depend on others for their physical care and comfort—some of the widowed and orphaned will have to depend on relatives or the state for their financial support.

And the dependency of the maimed, the widowed, the orphaned will be the result of Independence Day accidents.

In addition, several hundred Americans will pay for their celebration with their lives.

All this because of accidents that need not happen. Holidays have become horror days in the United States. In recent years many holidays have brought such a high accident toll that they assume the proportions of a national catastrophe. And this carnage need not occur. Accidents are not acts of God. They are acts of humans who foolishly bet their lives for dubious rewards.

The driver who speeds to get to his destination—what difference does it make whether he arrives 10 or 20 minutes later?

The youth who attempts to swim across the lake—what is gained by trying to show off in front of a crowd?

The father who cannot deny his children the "pleasure" of fireworks—what pleasure will the child derive from sightless eyes?

Motor vehicle accidents lead the list of Fourth of July hazards. According to the National Safety Council, one out of two persons now living in this country has been or will be injured in a motor vehicle accident before he dies, unless our present accident rate is greatly reduced. And many of these accidents occur on holidays, when traffic is especially heavy.

Second high on the Fourth of July list is drowning. Falls, fireworks and firearms, sunstroke and heat exhaustion, food poisoning and miscellaneous accidents also exact their toll.

Independence Day tolls are not inevitable. They can be prevented. Police departments and other officials all over the country will be alert to prevent as many accidents as possible. But as always the size of the toll depends chiefly on the good sense of every American. Take it easy on the Fourth. Don't let Independence Day make you a dependent!

Washington

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURELESON
Congressman
17th District

The Republican Policy Committee met a few days ago and decided on a list of "must" legislation before the Congress adjourns. The are shooting at adjournment on August 1, but it is more of a "hope" than a definite commitment.

The "must" legislation is as follows:

1. Legislation on submerged lands in the outer Continental Shelf.
2. Simplification of customs laws.
3. Appropriations Bills.
4. Extension of the Reciprocal Trades Act.
5. A wheat gift or loan to Pakistan.
6. Legislation to admit 240,000 refugees and European Nationals.
7. Tax legislation.
8. Foreign Aid Bill.
9. Government Reorganization Plans.

From all indications, it does not appear likely that amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act will be brought up. Neither does it appear that the Social Security laws will be revised in this session.

In my opinion, there is certainly a need for overhauling Social Security. There are many inequalities in the present system. The Ways and Means committee which handles these matters has set up a Subcommittee to give a thorough study to and for them to do the proper thing, it will take several months. I hope that the Old Age Insurance laws, and Social Security generally, can be greatly improved.

I have previously discussed my opposition to the Bill admitting 240,000 so-called refugees from Europe into this country. I shall do everything I possibly can to defeat such action.

With reference to the Foreign Aid Bill, I have proposed to the Secretary of State and to the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Congress, to postpone action until sometime in the fall. There is enough money left over from prior years to carry on the Co-operative Defense Preparation in Western Europe and other places for several months. Due to the fact that there are many uncertainties around the world at the present time, I think we should wait until some of them clear up considerably before we throw more good money after some bad. For instance, the situation in France is very shaky at this time, and it is extremely doubtful they are going to join the so-called European Defense Community. The British are in trouble in Egypt; the French in trouble in Indo-China; the entire Middle East is unsettled; and most of all, even with a truce in Korea, the overall situation is a long way from being solved.

With all these uncertainties, it seems to me that we should wait a little longer before we appropriate another 5 to 6 billion dollars to help people who may not be doing all they can to help themselves.

It was a pleasure to see in my office this week the following visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Colwick, and niece, Susan Chandler of Stephenville; Mr. B. R. Gambelin, Abilene; Mr. R. D. Collins, Mineral Wells; and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McMahon of Abilene.

A separate news article is being furnished this paper on the final results of my annual Questionnaire. I hope you will find it of interest.

A BARREL OF FUN BY PEANUT PETE

Lots of things are opened by mistake, but nothing more often than one's mouth, says Peanut Pete. Articles from Pete, a noted scribe who lives over on the Leon river in Comanche county, are his own and do not necessarily represent the views of the editor of the Record.

Me and ma and jim, (that is our oldest youngun) and by the way our only one, is a hoping to attend the rodeo when it is held at Rising Star. We been a knowin a lot of folks up thar fer a long time and shore sum of em will ask us to eat while we are thar.

We went to church a Sunday or too ago and the preacher let us have it about the hot place—sez it wuz shore hot down thar but he aint lowed a word about the 120 we had outside the church bilding.

We shore had a hot argumint at our house one night last week when a bunch got together to drink a cup of javver and discuss things of the day. One wuz the way the widder is acting. Aunt Het, one of the older wimmin in the naborhood sez it is shore somethin awful. When granny Brown wanted to know what the trouble wuz lowed that the widder wuz in love wid a certain widderer and can't talk about nothin else. Granny lowed that aint nuthin—I know a lot of married wimmin that is in love wid the same man but they can't do a thing about it. Then ole brother Baily, a piller in the church tries to put some fire on the troubled waters and sez that according to Dorothy Thom-as the New York wumman who knows everthing it aint nun of noboddies bizness. So about that time the preacher drapped in and we kinder slowed up wid the gossip because we knowed he don't go in to much fer that kind of stuff. But after all we had a good time, drank our coffee and everybody went home intandin to meet again when the moon changes. See you nex week.

Dream Becomes a Reality

These young people are making musical history, playing the first all-plastic guitars ever made. Harry Volpe, guitar teacher and virtuoso, is seen with them in his studio in New York City.

Mario Maccaferri, engineer-musician, designer-craftsman, and successful business man, has long dreamed of making quality stringed instruments with modern manufacturing methods available to everyone at reasonable prices which would allow young people musical pre-training and participation in school programs without prohibitive investments on the part of their families. Such instruments would also stimulate adult participation in both community and home musical recreation.

Mario's dream took on substance through a chance meeting with Arthur Godfrey when Arthur expressed a wish that someone would make a good ukulele at a reasonable price, on which young people could learn to play. Mario went to work immediately and a few months after the meeting with Godfrey he produced the all-plastic Islander Ukulele, musically correct, which sells for under $5. Its success is attested by the millions of them now in use. But the ukulele only intensified Mario's dream. Again he went to work, this time on a guitar. Now the musician-designer took over. First, he painstakingly made each of the instrument's 123 parts by hand. Two thousand hours later, after studying plastic materials, testing, re-designing and assembling, the guitar emerged which met Mario's standards of perfection. The two plastics used are Ethocel and Styron, made by The Dow Chemical Company.

Mario's dream is a reality now. Appropriately enough, the first guitars came off the production line in time to celebrate National Music Week. The Maccaferri Guitar, now on its way to music stores throughout the country, is a product of top craftsmanship, in every way a professional instrument. It is extremely easy to play and beautiful to look at, and best of all, it is available at a very reasonable price.

Grain Sorghums Show Yellow

COLLEGE STATION—Work was commenced during the summer of 1951 in Live Oak, Bee and San Patricio Counties to determine the cause of yellowing in grain sorghums and other crops. The spots or areas on which the condition often causes plants to die are commonly called "hot spots."

The work is being directed by members of the department of agronomy of the Texas A&M College System in cooperation with the county agricultural agents and selected farmers in the three counties.

Although the work done has given some hopeful leads, more research and field testing will be required to "pin-down" the cause of the trouble.

Grain sorghums will be planted next month on the field test blocks and research will continue. Included in the tests will be blocks which were fertilized and seeded to Hubam clover in the fall of 1952.

It is pointed out that no specific recommendations can be made at this time on control methods but work with ferti-

From father to son comes the "know-how" of American agriculture. Farmers are impressing upon their sons the importance of farm machinery to the huge farm production job so essential to the welfare of the country. Farm machinery replacement is necessary to the farmer in order to keep the farm plant in full operation. Set up a farm machinery replacement plan by investing regularly in U. S. Defense Bonds. By investing in safe, dependable U. S. Defense Bonds you will have money on hand to replace your valuable farm machinery when it is needed.

zers, sprays and grain sorghum and Hubam clover rotations will be continued. Weather conditions handicapped the field work last year but present soil moistures gives promise of better growing conditions. The agronomists hope to have at least some of the answers to the plant yellowing problems by the end of 1953.

Regular Mowing Big Aid to Pasture Land; Will Control Weeds That Kill Grass

COLLEGE STATION, June 25.—The mowing machine is one of the essential pieces of equipment needed for carrying out a good pasture building and management program provided it is used. That word comes from E. M. Trew, pasture specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mowing at the right time, he explains, practically eliminates weeds, sprouts, bushes, briars and vines from the pasture and favors their replacement by grass. Too, mowing tends to keep grass in a tender, growing condition, making it more palatable and nutritious to the grazing animals.

Mowing to control weeds must commence when the first of the worst weeds begin to bloom and all weeds should be mowed before they have a chance to produce a seed crop, says Trew. Most plants are weak when blooming and are, therefore, more easily killed by mowing at that growth stage. Eastern bitterweed, a common pest in bermuda pastures, requires early and repeated mowings to prevent it from producing some seed. The first mowing should be done with mower set high but successive clippings should be made at lower levels. Fall blooming weeds may be weakened by earlier mowings but to make sure they do not produce seed, Trew recommends a fall mowing.

Mowing alone will not build a good pasture, points out the specialist. The soil on which the pasture crop is growing must be fertile enough to produce good

GRASS FIRES LAST WEEK DO LITTLE DAMAGE

Fire alarms sounded last week were caused by grass fires near the Perry Valliant and Pete Groce places in the city limits. Not much damage was caused. The people are again reminded to be careful with matches, burning of grass and trash and especially fire works. The extreme dry weather with the high winds could cause a serious fire, officials said.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Forbes had her daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Leon Woods and children of Midland as recent visitors.

yields from the grasses and/or legumes either growing naturally or from seedlings, says Trew. He recommends that a fertilization program should be made a part of any pasture building program.

Congressman Burleson has again expressed his satisfaction and gratitude for the response he has received from the people he serves as their Representative in Washington.

As before, the Congressman points out that there are many other issues on which he would have liked to have had the opinions of his constituents but that necessarily it is difficult to present those questions which require qualifications. Rather an attempt is made to submit those which can more nearly be answered by a "Yes" or "No."

"Even by adhering to such methods," Burleson said, "most every issue carries with it some 'ifs' because a measure as introduced can be radically amended, both in the Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and also on the Floor of either Body, to the extent that legislation may be entirely changed by the time it is enacted into law from the purposes and intents it originally had when introduced."

"Be this as it may," Burleson stated, "it is always most gratifying to have my constituents' interest, and I welcome it at all times. It helps me and it is my duty to know what the people think, and I certainly respect those opinions."

Congressman Burleson said that the percentage of returns were above 16%, which means that about 7720 Questionnaires were returned out of some 45,000 sent out to the people.

Cut Turkey Production Costs With Good Range; Means Better Birds and Flocks

COLLEGE STATION. — No phase of turkey production offers greater opportunities for cutting costs, increasing profits and growing better birds than does the proper use of range and succulent feeds. That word comes from W. J. Moore, poultry husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and he adds, the poult should be moved to the range area when they are 8 to 12 weeks of age.

A turkey range should be more than a place where the birds get exercise and sunshine, says Moore. It should furnish plenty of green succulent grazing at all times. Too, the range area should be large enough to permit moving the poult to clean ground every two or three weeks. The ideal range, explains the specialist, is one that is well-drained; tree bordered and completely isolated from any other poultry on the farm. Moore likes to use a three-year rotation on the range for such an arrangement makes possible ranging the birds on soil where no poultry has been for two years.

Shade is absolutely necessary in hot weather and the best is supplied by trees around the edge of the range. If natural shade is not available, range shelters or some type of arbor should be constructed on the range. If sufficient shade is not available, Moore says the birds are likely to crowd and thus may be injured or even killed.

Turkeys must be comfortable during hot weather if they are to eat well and do well and in addition to shade, this means that plenty of fresh, clean drinking water must be available at all times. Moore says it usually pays to pipe water to the range but that a barrel or barrels equipped with a float valve make a good substitute.

Barrels must be kept filled and clean. Under no circumstances, points out Moore, should turkeys be allowed to get their water from muddy, stagnant ponds, tanks or creeks. Contaminated water sometimes is the source of diseases which can cause mortality among the birds. Elevating the waterers on stands covered with wire is a good sanitation practice, and frequent cleaning is a must, says Moore.

The range feeders should protect the feed from wind, rain, direct sunlight and the droppings. The feeders should be placed on skids for easy moving. Moving is in order, says Moore when the forage around the feeder begins to show signs of overgrazing.

If portable range shelters are used, roosts may be built on their roof top. Roosts are sometimes built under the shelters not only as protection from the sun but from rain. Turkeys like to roost in the open and will usually do so if they have the choice. In sections where predator animals are a problem, Moore says enclosing the roosting area with net wire fencing and leaving a lantern, flare or electric light burning at night near the roost will give the turkeys protection.

And finally, says the specialist, the management program must not only include sanitation and disease control practices but also must provide for keeping the birds comfortable. Comfort includes plenty of shade, water and good feed. Thus a good range properly managed can become a mighty important factor in the production of top quality turkeys.

Announcement is made by the Saturday Club that the attractive new library building just west of the Church of Christ parsonage will be opened with a public reception and program on Friday evening, July 6 at 8.

Probably not in the history of Rising Star has an exhibition been presented on the streets as will be Saturday, July 7, by Henson Chevrolet company when Le Mont, the Mystery Man, will drive a new, bigger and better Chevrolet over the streets blindfolded.

Contractors began work last week on the handsome new veneer home of Dr. and Mrs. Carter just north of the city and on the hill overlooking the Cisco pike.

The following Eastern Star members received certificates at the school of instruction held at Eastland Saturday: Mesdames E. M. Howard, Dave Brandel, Sam Hancock, George Eberhart, Chas. Lee, A. L. McDonald, R. W. Barton, Clara Irby and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bryant.

His many friends here were grieved Monday to learn of the death of Mayor W. D. McCulley, of Brownwood, who was fatally injured in a wreck of the fire truck on which he was riding.

A Texas farmer wrote to his local newspaper asking "What the gam hill is the matter with my chickens?" "Every morning I find one or two keeled over and as cold as a brick." To which the obliging editor replied: "They're dead pardner, they're sure dead."

Farm Bureau Directors Plan Membership Drive

Mrs. Bill Tucker, Reporter
Plans for an early membership campaign were discussed at the regular meeting of the Eastland county Farm Bureau directors on Thursday night, June 11th, in the county courtroom at Eastland with county president, A. Z. Myrick, in the chair.

Guest speaker on the night program was Bob Lilly, TFBF field representative for the 32 counties in district 7. He presented some ideas and suggestions which will prove helpful in the annual membership drive to be staged shortly. Howard Ingram of Nimrod is the county membership chairman.

The Queen Contest committee met also and formulated plans for the choosing of the county queen. The winner will be chosen from entrants from the various communities and will also compete in the district contest, at a later date.

The girls, not less than 16 years of age and not more than 22 by September 1, 1953, who are daughters or sisters of Farm Bureau members, are eligible to participate in the contest. They will be judged on three main points: (1) Poise, (2) personality and (3) appearance. The judges will be appointed by the committee in charge.

Costumes of the contestants will be informal cottons in any desired color or designed in the style which best suits that particular girl. Each girl will receive a beautiful set of costume jewelry. The queen will receive an appointed piece of luggage

it's the Law

JURY SERVICE IS CIVIC DUTY

Jury service is one of the highest attributes of our American citizenry, for by it the citizen participates in the administration of justice between men and man and between government and the individual.

Suppose Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith have a lawsuit. They may be strangers to you, and in a sense you do not care who wins. But as a citizen you do care, and it is very important to you and all the people that there be a way by which disputes can be settled peaceably and justly, because some day you may become involved in a dispute and you would want that settled peaceably and justly.

John Doe may be accused of a crime. He may be a stranger to you and you may never have heard of the offense with which he is charged. Still, it is important to you as a citizen that the laws be so enforced as to punish and discourage crime in order that you may be safe in your person, your property and your rights; and it is equally as important to you that no innocent person should be sent to prison, for if that could happen to another, it could happen to you.

Here are some tips to follow when serving on a jury: Hold yourself aloof from all persons (except other jurors) in any way connected with the trial of the case. That means that you should not mingle with nor talk to the lawyers, witnesses, parties, nor the judge, even though the discussion is wholly unrelated to the trial.

Do not discuss the case nor permit others to mention it to you or in your presence during the trial. If anyone insists upon talking about the case after you have explained to him that you are a juror and must not lister, report the matter to the judge immediately.

Do not commence your deliberations until you have heard all the evidence from both sides, the argument of the lawyers, and the court's charge. You should not mention the case except in the jury room when all other jurors are present.

Do not become a private investigator. All properly admissible evidence will be brought before you. Do not try to search out additional facts you believe to have been omitted. Do not even guess or speculate about facts not in evidence.

Be attentive to the evidence as it is presented. If you are to properly aid the other jurors in settling the fact questions, it will be necessary to listen carefully to all evidence presented.

Do not guess at the judge's opinion of the facts. You are the judge of the facts. He is not allowed and will not try to invade your province. His rulings on admissibility of evidence reflect no ideas or opinions on any fact question.

You should not mention or discuss your own personal experiences, or any knowledge that you may have of similar transactions. If you should disclose such information to others serving on a jury, the court would have to grant a new trial.

When in doubt ask the judge. If you are in doubt about your rights or duties as a juror, you should not ask anyone but the judge for information.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Dairy Products Are Very Essential to Healthy Diet

COLLEGE STATION, June 25.—June is dairy month, but every day is dairy day. The foods and nutrition specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say milk and other dairy foods have a unique place in present-day diets. These foods furnish three-fourths of the total amount of calcium in the national diet; about one-half the riboflavin; one-fourth the protein, and several other important nutrients as well.

But, American families vary in the amount of milk consumed and according to the specialists, we need to drink more milk or use it and other dairy foods every day.

The specialists say 4-H club members are demonstrating dairy foods this month as they entered county and district meetings preparatory for the state 4-H dairy foods contest to be held at Texas A. and M. College, June 25. Purpose of the contest is to help 4-H club members develop appreciation for the values of dairy products in relation to health; to acquire an understanding of ways to use dairy foods and to develop skill in preparing them; to demonstrate good methods of dairy food preparation; and to gain experience in public speaking, teamwork and sportsmanship.

Each 4-H club member is judged by record on June 24 prior to the individual or team demonstration presented the next day. Specialists say the judges for the state contest are county home demonstration agents.

County Farm Bureau Hears Law Summary

Mrs. Bill Tucker, Reporter
The Texas Farm Bureau Federation carried out its slogan—"Protects and Promotes Agriculture"—during the recent 53rd legislature, was a statement made by A. Z. Myrick, president of the Eastland County Farm Bureau recently.

"One importance of the session, to farmers, was the absence of any real threat to take away the rural road appropriations, the share of the vehicle registration fees or the county road bond assumption monies," Myrick pointed out.

An attempt was made in 1951, to take money from these, plus the farmers refund on tractor gas, for building super highways. This was defeated through the solid efforts of Farm Bureau, late in the session.

This year the bill to take away one fourth of the farmers refund on tractor gas was never considered. Also the one to increase the sales tax on gasoline, from four to five cents. These bills were largely prevented by county organizations over the state, who rose up against them.

The Socialist Party became a national party in 1892.

Herrington, 81-year-old, resident of Ranger since 1918, were held in Ranger at First Baptist Church Saturday morning at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Herrington, a resident of Eastland county for 55 years, was born in Falls County, Tex., on March 5, 1872. She died in a Ranger hospital Thursday afternoon following a short illness. Officiating at the Saturday final rites were the Rev. Ralph Perkins and D. D. Brian, pastors of Ranger's two Baptist churches, the First and Second respectively.

Interment was in Evergreen cemetery with Killingsworth Funeral Home, Ranger, in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Herrington was the widow of the late M. V. Herrington to whom she was wed in 1888 in Falls County. He passed away on Nov. 15, 1948. She was a member of First Baptist Church in Ranger.

Mrs. Herrington's survivors: two sons, W. J. Herrington of Rising Star and O. M. (Tom) Herrington of Waco; one daughter, Mrs. Max Ohr of Ranger; three granddaughters, Mrs. Morris Campbell of Ranger, Miss Nina Lynn Herrington of Waco, and Miss Doris Herrington of Austin; three grandsons, Jack Herrington of Washington, D. C., Joe Herrington of San Angelo, and Robert Herrington of Levelland; and five great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Monroe Blackwell, Bob Allen and Onis Littlefield, all of Ranger, John Hart and Turner Collie of Eastland and Charles Craddock of Dallas.

Those attending from Rising Star were Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Joyce, Mrs. F. D. Hicks and Bill Jackson, also Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Elliott, Eva Richardson, and Nina Grisham.

"Father" at Work!

Bob Young, who is the hero of NBC's comedy-drama, "Father Knows Best," is a busy Dad both on and off the set. The little girl sharing the comic strip with him, right, is his radio daughter, "Kathy," played by nine-year-old Helen Strohm—and the four young ladies below are Bob's own pretty collection of real life daughters, Kathleen, Barbara, Carol Anne, and Elizabeth Louise. Sort of looks as if it's always Father's Day for Bob—who is the perfect man to find himself in such a state. His interest in youngsters is very widespread, and expressed particularly in his volunteer work in cooperation with the National Highway Safety Council, toward the cause of safer driving habits among teenagers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Milner of this city spent the past week visiting their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Collins, Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roberts, Lovington, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis and Mrs. R. L. Little were visitors in Lubbock over the last week end. They visited the band clinic there where a number of Rising Star students are taking the course.

Mrs. C. M. Houser of Sipe Springs was transacting business in the city last Monday. She dropped by the Record office to have her paper continued for another year.

MATT WALLACE, 57, IS BURIED NEAR GOLDTHWAITE

Funeral services for Matt Wallace, 57, were held at Goldthwaite last Thursday and interment made in Mullin cemetery near there. Wallace was well known in Rising Star having worked for the Agnew feed store several years ago.

According to information and the justice of the peace report he came to his death by his own hand. The body was found by officers a few miles east of Sipe Springs in Comanche County Wednesday.

He is survived by his widow and sons, one in the army and the other at Goldthwaite.

Another of the home town folk to renew their subscription to the Record is Mrs. James C. Davis of Port Neches, Texas. Thanks for the check, Mrs. Davis.

AT BRECKENRIDGE

Chas. Rutherford received word a day or so ago that he, with all others who are golf players have been invited to play in the Breckenridge Country Club Annual Invitation golf tournament held there on June 26-28. James Rutherford of McCamey will play. Chas. said he would probably go along to see just what was going on. So far as could be learned none of the other Rising Star golfers expected to attend the tournament.

Merle J. Carrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Carrell was at home on Father's Day en route back to Scottsdale, Ariz., where he had flown to Detroit for a new Plymouth car. Merle drove the car back and dropped off here for a day's visit with his

Mastitis in Dairy Herds Cost Cattle Men $100,000,000

AUSTIN, June 24.—Three types of tests will help dairymen guard against mastitis in their herds, William J. Sheffield, University of Texas veterinary-pharmacy expert, says.

The disease is economically the most destructive in the North American dairy industry, costing producers as much as $100,000,000 a year.

A simple tests, which dairymen would do well to adopt as a daily practice, is to milk several streams from each of a cow's udder quarters into a cup with a fine-screen top, Sheffield said. Any quarter in which abnormal milk or clots are found usually signifies mastitis.

Other checks include a blotter test in which a drop of mastitis-infected milk will discolor the blotter, and a chlorine test which can be run by a careful dairyman, with veterinary advice. (Mastitis raise the chlorine content of milk.) The chlorine test should be run simultaneously with one of the other tests for confirmation. Milk from cows in early freshening or late lactation periods likely will give a false reaction in the blotter test.

Sheffield reprints the mastitis tests in the current issue of the Texas Druggist, published by the Texas Pharmaceutical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack G. Gray, Larry and Linda visited with their parents grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gray and Mr. M. L. White over the week end.

sided over the business session. The meeting closed with the society benedictions.

Those present were: Mmes. W. C. Parsons, Marvin West, J. W. Weathermon, Lee Henry, Bob White, Carolyn Burks, Tom Stewart, H. E. Sprayberry, M. S. Sellers, F. Joyce, C. Joyce, Hazel Butler, Raymond Gray and one visitor, Mrs. J. W. Joyce of Fort Worth.

The food sales will continue for a few weeks so those who want to contribute something may have the opportunity. Fresh vegetables, fruits and eggs are acceptable for sale as well as the baked foods.
