Through The Editor's Specs

By BAB

Most of my reading is done in bed and I manage to get in quite a bit of it. I have two foam rubber pillows and I stack these one on top of the other and put a couple of feather pillows on top of these and make a very comfortable and stable sort of back prop which lets me get my bifocals in the proper trajectory.

During the past few weeks some of my most absorbing nocturnal hours have been devoted to a volume borrowed from Judge and Mrs. Elzo Been. It was written about the middle of the 19th century and tells of the adventures of fur hunters in the northwest territory of the United States during the early years of that century. The author is W. A. Ferris, grandfather of Mrs. Been, who came out of New York and spent his later life in Texas after adventures which carried him from Kansas City to the Rockies and many points between.

The volume — there's quite a lot of it — gives a close-up view of the work and battles of that hardy breed of men — French, British and American — who followed the fur trails into the undiscovered wonders of the great American West and who are most responsible for the fact that Oregon and the Northwest are now parts of this nation.

It emphasizes the fact, with out so much as intending it, that nations are formed and grow by economic laws, needs and adventuring. Political motivation merely follows trails beaten by hardy men in search of wealth and good living. A country that produces nothing is of no interest or appeal to people, as Alaska was of no appeal to the Americans of the 1860-70 period who called it Seward's folly. The Klondike, salmon fisheries and our national defense needs have changed that attitude considerably.

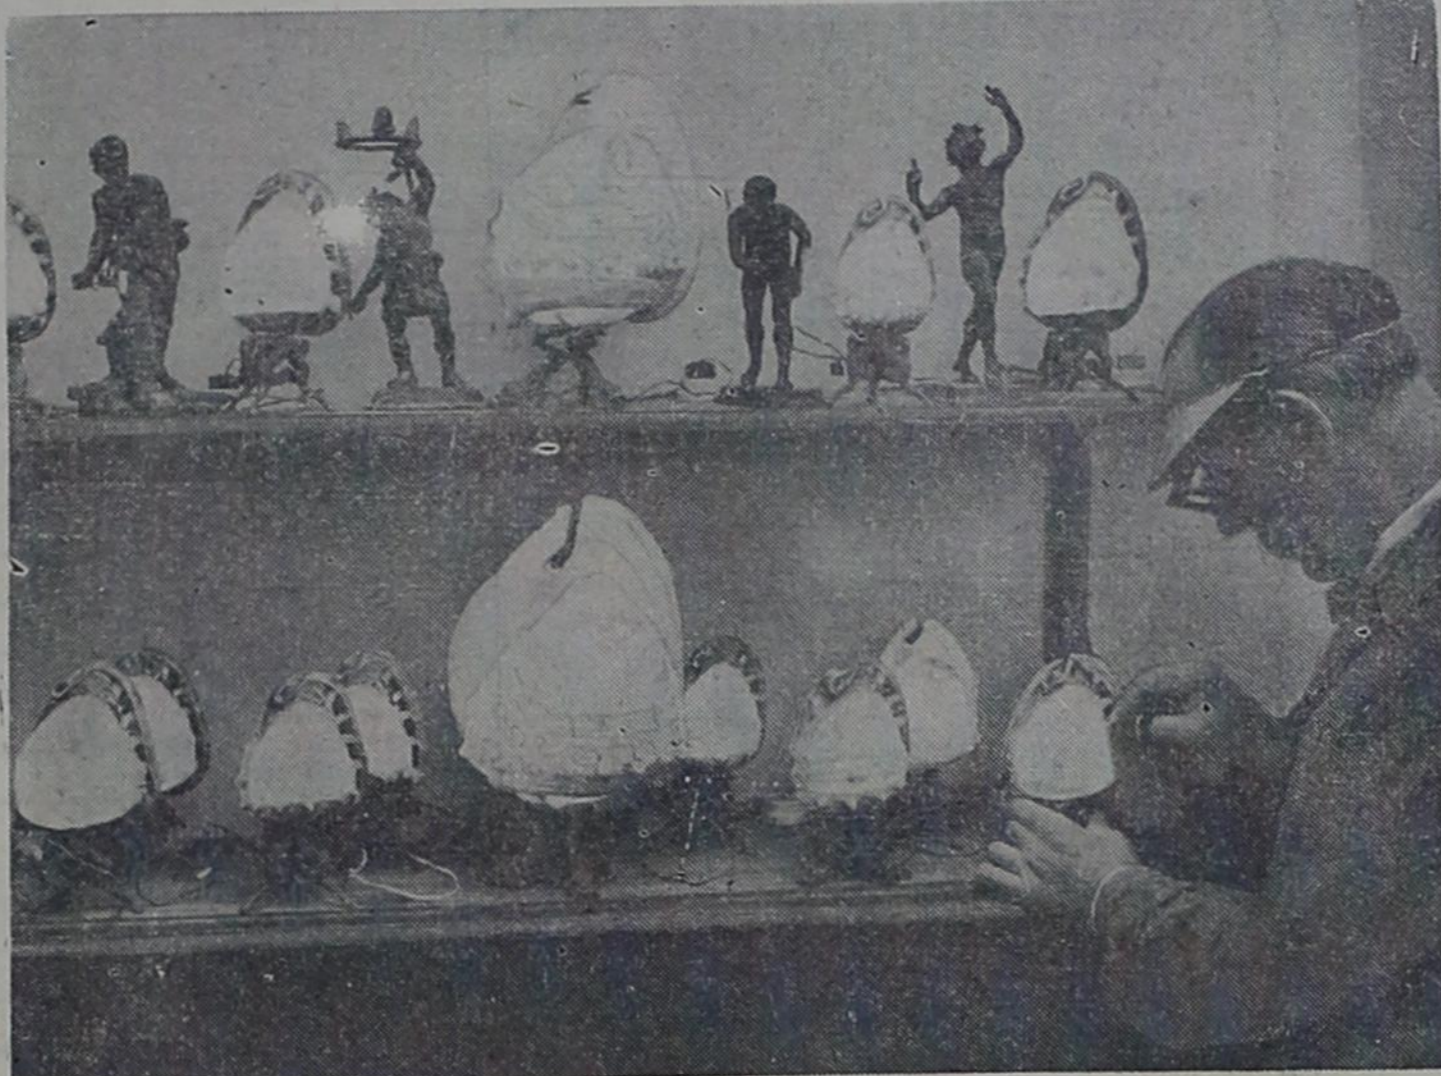

Reading Mr. Ferris' eye-witness and graphic account of the hardships — the Indian massacres, the starvation, the cold and the unremitting, toil endured by those men who helped found the Astor fortune and those of other of our socialite families, one is compelled to admit that the comforts of the civilization they helped give us is a mighty good bargain for all its irritations and problems. Even the foam rubber pillow I rest on — and I hate foam rubber for sleeping — is infinitely preferable to the buffalo robes and hard rocks they slept on in those days. But, there's one thing for sure — those open air rocks bred some sturdy and self-reliant characters. We could do with some of this in place of the complaints we hear so frequently nowadays.

The Wall Street Journal this week printed an editorial which needs repeating, and re-reading by a lot of people. It is entitled "Bad Connection." It could as well have been entitled, "Figures Don't Lie But Liars Can Figure." You've heard that, of course.

What was said about statistics on telephone connections in Russia can be applied to a lot of other figures that come out of Russia and are made impressive and even startling by the clever propaganda twists with which they are presented. It can be applied to the published feats of the Soviet in space adventuring.

Says the Journal: An annual survey of telephone facilities around the world shows that in 1961 Russia, with an increase of 19 percent in phone installations, had the greatest percentage gain among all major countries, the United States included. The Russian gain, indeed, was almost five times the percentage rise of 4.1 percent in new phones reported for the U. S.

Offhand it would appear from these figures that while America's rate of growth in communications is lagging pretty badly, the Soviet is galloping ahead of

First State Bank Deposits Set Record - Near 3 Million

The First State Bank of Rising Star reported record deposits and assets of almost three and a quarter million dollars in response to the call for condition issued by the State Banking Commissioner for December 28, 1962. Deposits of $2,927,688.45, an all-time high, were listed in the bank's report, and total assets stood at $3,224,778.88.

Loans and discounts were $1,054,535.83.

The Rising Star bank stood in first place in the county in point of deposits and Total county deposits of $16,439,254.49 were reported, with the Eastland National Bank in first place and First National of Cisco second.

Following are the deposits reported by each bank in the county:

Kizer Company Expanding Cable Capacity Here

The Kizer Telephone Company is enlarging its cable capacity north of Rising Star. Cable with 50 pairs of wires is replacing smaller capacity cable which is being installed in other parts of the system.

The company now has 1759 telephones — as compared with about 850 when the dial system was installed in 1958 — and more connections are being added each month. Enlargement of the facilities has been made necessary by the constant growth in stations and patronage, Ralph Kizer, secretary of the company said. The company covers Rising Star, Cross Plains, May and surrounding territory. Meanwhile engineers for the company are doing staking for a further enlargement of the cable facilities in and around this community.

Member of Early Rising Star Family Dies at Canadian

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberds and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark of Rising Star and Mrs. G. B. Laswell of Brownwood were to leave early Thursday for Canadian, Texas, to attend funeral services for Ernest Clark, 78, word of whose death was received Tuesday night. The services were to be held at 3:30 p. m., Thursday.

Mr. Clark, a brother of Lee Clark and Mrs. Roberds and Mrs. Laswell, was born at Rising Star on March 13, 1884, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark. He graduated with the High School class of 1906 and received his college degree from North Texas State at Denton, where he was an honor student.

He was for 20 years a teacher in Panhandle schools. He married Miss Althea Harbert at McLean where they both taught.

In recent years he had been living on his ranch ten miles south of Canadian.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, five grand-children, two brothers and four sisters.

Mrs. C. W. Butler and two small daughters, Kim and Tam, returned to their home in Odessa Wednesday after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duggan.

CofC Sets Annual Dinner For Tuesday, February 26

The annual dinner of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce — something new in the calendar of the organization, at least in recent years — will be held on Tuesday, February 26.

The date was fixed at the regular meeting of the CofC at the Elite Cafe Tuesday noon of this week. The meeting also honored pecan growers of this area, two of whom won outstanding awards at the State Pecan Show recently held at Texas A&M College.

Pecan men guests were C. E. Smith, whose Wichita pecans took the State Grand Championship; W. V. Fenter, who won first place in the Texas Prolific variety, and Doss Alexander and Bob Barton, both prominent pecan producers.

All are members of the County Pecan Growers Ass'n, and through them the CofC extended an invitation to have next year's pecan show, which the association sponsors, located at Rising Star.

A program and the arrangements for the annual dinner were placed in the hands of two committees named by President James Rutherford. These are:

Program — Charles Rutherford, chairman; B. A. Butler, H. McDonald and A. D. Jenkins; Arrangements — John Pruet, chairman; Bill Dennard, C. M. Carroll and H. K. Neely, Jr.

An awards committee, consisting of George Steel, chairman; Cecil Shults and Floyd Joyce, will choose individuals who have made outstanding contributions to their professions in Rising Star for recognition at the dinner.

It is also planned to install officers for the next fiscal year of the CofC at the dinner and Walter Smith, Elgie Crisp and Bob Shults were designated to nominate a new slate of officers for election at the next regular luncheon.

The meeting Tuesday was one of the best attended in many months.

Local Grower Wins State Best Pecan Title

A Rising Star pecan grower, C. E. Smith, whose irrigated orchard is in the southwest corner of the community, took grand champion honors at the State Pecan Show at Texas A&M wood pecan experiment station.

W. V. Fenter, another Rising Star grower won first place in the Texas Prolific variety with his display of that species of pecan. He was awarded a plaque.

Smith's Wichita variety also won the designation as the best shelling nut in the show. He received a plaque for this also.

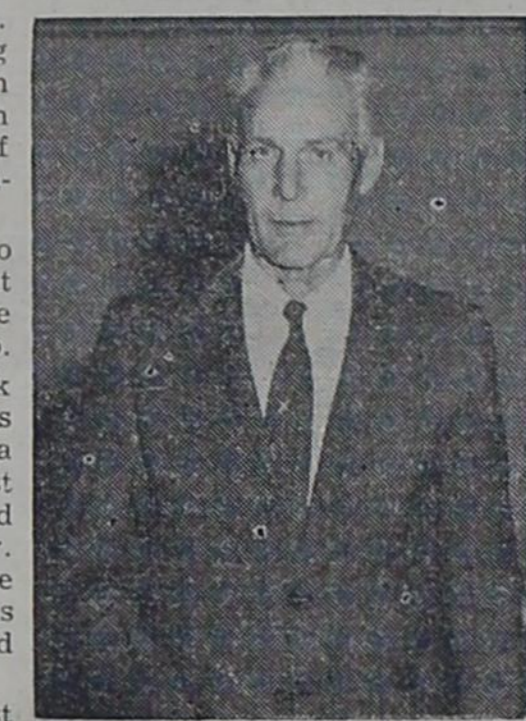

Eastland County, which took first place honors last year, was in fourth place this year with a total of 134 points, as against 330 for San Saba, 225 for Hood county and 154 for Bell county.

The effects of the heavy freeze damaged the 1962 crop in this area particularly were reflected in the ratings.

Although San Saba won first signing, the candidate from that county was ineligible for State Queen because the county was ineligible for State Queen because the county held that honor last year. Instead Miss Gwendolyn Massey of Hood county was named under the association's system of de- the next highest rated county in the event a first place county had the queen the preceding year.

Mr. Smith and other award winners receive engraved wood plaques donated by the National Pecan Shellers and

Other Eastland county growers attending the show were Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Freeman of Ranger who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Smith to College Station.

Way Cleared For Nursing Home Here as Site Is OKed

Golden Heritage Co. officials announced Wednesday that the State Health Department has approved the site for their planned Rising Star facility, and that construction of the home would begin as quickly as the contractor could get away from an Eastland job, which will require several days, Pres. James Rutherford of the Chamber of Commerce told the Record.

Construction of a Golden Heritage home for elderly citizens in Rising Star is awaiting approval of the site by the State Department of Health, it was explained this week.

Jerry Stevens, supervisor of Golden Heritage homes in this area of Texas, said that the building contractor is now in Eastland and will be ready to begin work on the local facility within a few days after a pro- is received.

Mr Stevens emphasized that although the homes of the corporation built or to be built at Dublin, De Leon, Cross Plains, Rising Star and other communities, are owned and operated by the same company, each will be operated as an independent unit.

The home will accommodate 30 residents and employ a staff of 12 persons. It will be modern in all details, attractive in design, and its furnishings and equipment will meet and exceed state specifications for such institutions.

Mr. Stevens said he will shortly open an office here to receive applications for employment and for residence at the home.

6-Year-Olds Wanted In School Census

Parents of six-year-olds eligible for enrollment in the Rising Star schools next year were asked to take care to see that their youngsters are listed in the current school census.

Children who will become six years of age before next September 1 should be enumerated, and their parents are asked to call either Supt. Sam Jones or Prin. Edwards Watkins of the Elementary school who will see that they are included in the census.

Poll Tax Receipts Are Available At CofC

Poll taxes may be paid at the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce this month, a service which the CofC annually provides for local citizens.

So far payment of this tax has lagged over the county. In view of the possibility that there will be some important elections locally and perhaps some county or district balloting, during the year, citizens required to pay this tax as a prerequisite for voting were urged to do so before Feb. 1.

Miss Artie Duggan Buried Here In Services Saturday

Funeral services for Miss Artie Ivy Duggan were held at the Church of Christ in Rising Star Saturday, January 5, at 5 p. m. Minister H. McDonald officiated and burial in Rising Star cemetery was under the direction of the Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Miss Duggan, 71, died at her home on Route 1, north of Rising Star, at 9:45 a. m., Thursday, January 3.

She was a native of Arkansas, born at Emmett, in that state, on Nov. 10, 1891, but had lived in the Rising Star area for 70 years, coming here with her people when a small child.

She is survived by four brothers, W. H. Elbert and Robert of Rising Star, a son, H. E. Duggan of Rising Star, R. E. Duggan of Wichita Falls, and Clifford Duggan of Beaumont, and by four sisters, Miss Nancy Ann Duggan and Mrs. M. C. Proctor of Rising Star, Mrs. J. L. Dill of Fort Worth, and Mrs. T. G. Harris of Kingsville.

Pallbearers were Everette Harris, Chuck Elliott, Rawleigh Long, Clay Cade, U. Z. Aaron and Bob Elliott.

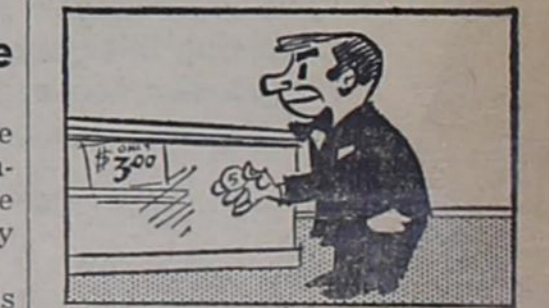

She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holly visited their parents in Oklahoma and at Rule, Texas, during the holidays.

It's the Law in Texas

LEGAL CHECKUP A SAFETY MEASURE

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home-buying, installment buying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often only under prodding, he may have his lawyer prepare a will. But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble?

Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need a draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or refigure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long-term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for "consideration", something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them but with some rights you must take action yourself or them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned documents you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once, or time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

. . . when you are contracting to buy real estate. You are entitled to a good title along with an abstract. There are two kinds of titles, only one of which is very satisfactory. The title that affords only possession rights may be sufficient for the owner who never expects to sell or encumber, but a good record title provides much broader protection and greater usability. Always insist on a good title and an Abstract that proves it.

 the faltering capitalists. Something like that is probably just what Pravda would like to have its readers believe. And if people in other countries are led to believe it too, so much the better for the Russians.
 Things are not, however, always what they seem. The Russians' 19 percent gain is impressive only until you discover that they have 5.1 million telephones and the United States 77.4 million. Thus the whole Soviet Union hasn't many more than the total for New York City, and while the Soviets were adding 800,000 phones, the U.S. 4.1 percent increase represented a gain of 3.1 million.
 It's something to remember when people start tossing around percentage rises in economic growth, usually designed to prove that the whole U.S. economy is behind the Soviet and other national economies. In fact, that's one reason the Soviets themselves are so fond of percentages.
 For as this little survey suggests, the connection between percentages and economic facts can be very bad -- not to say phony.

About Your Health

Despite the fact that an effective diphtheria toxoid has been available to everyone for many years, there is still an undercurrent of diphtheria cases occurring in Texas.
 At the end of September, 1962 there had been seven deaths in Texas attributed to diphtheria. In 1961, because of a series of isolated outbreaks, the death toll from this disease reached 23.
 By the end of the first week in December, 1962, 80 cases had been reported to the State Health Department's Communicable Diseases Division.
 For the same period in 1961, the total was more than doubled -- 201 cases.
 State Health Department authorities speculate that the reason for this undercurrent of diphtheria cases is the fact that victims had not been immunized.
 Most pediatricians suggest as a matter of course that their very young patients receive the diphtheria toxoid in combination with other vaccines and that periodic boosters be administered according to a schedule prescribed by your family doctor.
 Immunity against the disease can be determined with the Schick test -- developed by Dr. Bela Schick, but scheduled boosters are often used in place of Schick testing.
 The disease occurs most frequently among children between the ages of one and 10, but can strike an entire family unprotected with diphtheria toxoid.
 It is spread from sneezing and coughing of a convalescent or other carrier, or less frequently, from contaminated articles. Diphtheria may develop within two to seven days following exposure.
 Common symptoms include a sore throat, fever, drowsiness, headache, and vomiting. If such symptoms occur and there is a chance that the person had been exposed, a physician should be called immediately.

 The disease is not only dangerous and sometimes fatal, but damaging after effects can be serious and long lasting, or even permanent.
 Immediate treatment is necessary to avert possible disaster. Medical care under close supervision of a doctor should be maintained until the patient is pronounced well. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Better Bowling

Cross the spot
Spot bowling is the more scientific of the two bowling methods. Spot bowlers say that it is easier to hit a target closer than 60 feet away.

When spot bowling, pick a spot on the alley anywhere from two feet past the foul line. As you release, reach out for that spot, keeping your eyes on it until the ball has passed over it.

If your ball takes the same path down the alley each time, you will find that spot bowling is a good method for getting strikes. However, to find the best method for yourself, try both pin and spot methods before deciding.

6,002 Inmates Are Received by Texas Prison System

HUNTSVILLE (SPECIAL) — A total of 6,002 inmates were received in the Texas Department of Corrections during 1962, according to a report released this week by J. C. Roberts, Chief of Records for the Department of Corrections.

Roberts' report pointed out that 5,508 of the inmates received in 1962 had "new" prison numbers, while 494 were returned to prison as parole violators. During the same period of time, Roberts' office processed discharge releases for 2,842 inmates and issued paroles to 2,357 inmates, for a total release rate figure of 5,119 for 1962.

On New Year's Day 1963 there was a total of 12,165 inmates in the Department of Corrections. This figure tops by 275 the highest previous total for any New Year's Day, and is 853 higher than the New Year's Day figure for 1961.

Dr. George J. Beto, Director of Corrections, is faced with the responsibility of providing housing for the continually increasing prison population. He said, "Construction of the new Ellis Unit will offer some relief, however, we won't be able to use the entire unit until the latter part of 1963."

When completed, the Ellis Unit will offer housing for more than 1500 inmates in maximum. While construction continues on the Ellis Unit other Units of the Texas Department of Corrections are over-crowded. In the Huntsville Walls Unit inmates are sleeping in the auditorium and in buildings originally designed for industrial use.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Morrow, parents of J. R. Morrow, have returned to Rising Star and are improving his mother's home. They plan to make their home here.

253 Local People Checked on Social Security in 1962

253 persons in and around Rising Star took pains in 1962 to find out for sure about their rights and responsibilities under social security, according to Mr. H. L. Weatherly, field representative from the Abilene district office who visits Rising Star regularly. Mr. Weatherly knows the above because he had that many personal interviews on his 1962 visits, with 60 claims applications for retirement, disability, or survivor benefits being filed with him. He suggests that every person past the age of 62 who has not already checked up on potential social security checks, as well as those of any age under 65 who have become so severely disabled that they are unable to do any substantial gainful work, make certain to see him on one of his future visits here. The next such visit will be on January 28, 1963, at 10 o'clock, at the City Hall.

Motorists Urged To Get Stickers For Cars At Once

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged Texas automobile owners to "do their shopping early" this year to reduce the last minute rush for inspection stickers. All vehicles coming under the provisions of the Texas Vehicle Inspection Act must secure the 1963 inspection sticker by April 15, 1963. After that date, vehicles not displaying the new inspection stickers will be operating in violation of the law and the operators of those vehicles will be subject to arrest, Garrison said. He reported that approximately one half of the inspection period has expired and about one fourth of the vehicles in the state have been inspected. Unless the number of inspections is increased appreciably soon, he added, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches. "There are approximately 5,000 authorized inspection stations in the State and they are ready and capable of handling the inspection of all vehicles uninspected vehicles do not wait until the last few days before the deadline," Garrison.

Retail Business In County During 1962 Tops Records for 1961 Period

How well did retail storekeepers in Eastland County make out in the past year? The figures on local business activity, just released as part of a national survey, show that they had a good year. Their sales volume was surprisingly high, notwithstanding the persistent talk of a forthcoming depression, which caused many consumers to cut down on their spending. The survey was made by the Standard Rate and Data Service, utilizing data obtained from national, state and local sources. It covers the 12 months through June 30, 1962. Retail stores in Eastland County, it is shown, had gross sales of $126,034,000, which topped the previous year's $25,760,000. The volume of business was equivalent to .0115 per cent of the national total, which was more than its quota, since the local population is only .0101 per cent of the national. The market strength that was demonstrated locally was in direct contrast to the situation in some sections of the nation where unemployment continues to be a major problem, stifling business. Most types of retail stores in Eastland County benefited, some more than others, however, as consumers shifted the emphasis of their spending during the year. More money was devoted to automobile purchases and to other big ticket items and a smaller proportion than usual to services. What made possible big spending is readily apparent from the figures, which show that the average family had bigger earnings than before. Local income in the year, after allowing for tax deductions, amounted to $27,955,000. This compares with the prior year's $26,814,000. It was at the average rate of $4,087 per household. This is more than was available locally in fiscal 1961, which was $3,761 per household. Most economists have made an about-face in their forecasting. They are now predicting that business will continue rising modestly for the next year and that there will be no depression. They point out that consumers are armed with a large amount of liquid savings and higher person incomes, which will bring them to the market place in force, especially if their leader taxes are cut during the year.
