Rising Star Lions Club members had a barrel of fun if they didn't quite make a barrel of money in their broom sale Wednesday of last week. But they did pretty well financially at that — selling almost $500 worth of brooms, mops and other items furnished by the Lighthouse for the Blind at Fort Worth, and clearing to their share approximately $114.00.

It was a good product they sold and in good cause, for the profits to the Lighthouse go to finance treatment and work in the interest of blind people while the funds derived by the local club will be used to buy glasses for needy children and to do other community social and charitable work which will make the town and even better and more human place and give the club members the satisfaction of doing something worthwhile for their town and fellow citizens.

A lot of credit for the success of the broom sale goes to the work of Roy Holly, president; Bernal Hickman, tailtwister; Doc Bradley; Ed Jackson, Andy Bankhead; A. D. Jenkins, and half a dozen other members who really combed the town and did a swell salesmanship job.

The Wildcats open their 1958 grid season at Chesley field next Friday night, and the manner in which they open it will be determined to a very great extent indeed by the evidence of public support which they receive.

Ray Nunnally, who reached the top of coaching glory back in 1948 and 1949 as mentor of two regional championships (regional was tops then for class B teams) has been giving himself unstintingly to what can best be called indifferent prospects the last two seasons, purely out of love of the game and boys, and loyalty to his school. He has some mighty good assistance from Weldon Hill his season, and given half a chance these two coaches can make a pretty good team out of the material available. But the chance they get depends upon the support they are given.

The Lions Club has agreed to sponsor the Wildcats and other athletic teams of the schools, as a quarterback club this year, and the Lions are capable of doing a good job. But the real support of the team must come from a real public support of the boys and these coaches as they undertake the task of building back from several disastrous seasons.

There is enough good material on the wildcat team to make a winner in the Class B Circuit, but it is not going to be done in a few weeks or in one season. Fortunately most of the boys playing on the squad now will be back for several seasons and in that time it should be possible to build a real team. That process starts this week. It will be helped a lot if the stands are full for the game Friday night.

M. R. Groce Burned When Gas Ignites

M. R. Groce, Rising Star oil man, was recovering from burns about the face and arms sustained when a quantity of gas ignited while he was at work about a well on the Favor lease in the Blake field southwest of Rising Star between 4 and 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

There was fortunately no oil accumulation to catch fire and cause a more serious blaze and the Rising Star Fire Department, responding to a call, extinguished the fire without serious damage to the property.

Mr. Groce was able to walk to the home of Mr. Fleming, a farmer on the land, who brought him to Rising Star hospital for treatment. Dr. Ben Bradley said that his burns were not severe.

Stocker Show And Sale At Ft. Worth On September 4-5

Fort Worth, Aug. — Farmers and ranchers in Texas and the Southwest are torn between the horns of a pleasant dilemma as September approaches and the Fall trading season nears. They would like to hold many of their calves and yearlings on the good pastures, or feed them some of the grain they have made. Or, on the other hand, they would like to sell them at prevailing high prices.

Entries already on hand for the double-header stocker and feeder sale there'll be a variety of good stock and sale at Fort Worth stockyards September 4-5, including and plain ones on hand. Northern and Western stocker buyers are now making hotel reservations for this annual Fall livestock fixture of the Southwest, but will have to outbid many natives of the Southwest for the calves and yearlings.

Rains last week covered wide sections of the Southwest and assured grain planting on a wide scale, and freshened up pasture lands in general. The reaction was immediate as pens and alleys were crowded Monday with buyers, who in most cases were unable to fill their needs.

On the other hand, Monday's trade at northern markets was featured by strong to 50 cents higher on stockers and feeders and this was the first upturn in some weeks in that area.

All of this adds up to strong demand for cattle and calves due in the sales September 4-5.

Also in the seller's favor are the weights. Calves and yearlings are scaling 50 to 100 pounds above normal this year. Prices are currently $4 to $8 above those prevailing a year ago on stockers and feeders, the longer advance on young stocker cows and lightweight calves. Yearlings are $5 above a year ago. Fleishy feeders are about $4 above a year ago.

Herfords, whitefaces and crossbreds sell and show on September 4 while Angus, blacks and crossbreds sell and show on September 5. The shows and sales are jointly presented by the Fort Worth Market Institute, the Texas Hereford Association and the Texas Angus Association.

Special trophies go to the winners in the show. The Herfords will be judged by two nationally known cattle experts, Kirk Edwards of Henrietta and William Bonner of Gainesville.

Angus judges will be Joe Lemley of San Angelo and Jim Warnke, assistant manager of the Essar Ranch, located at San Antonio.

Record prices were established in the July double-header sale at Fort Worth when the champion Angus Steer calves consigned by Harry Deaver of the HD Ranch of Alvord, Texas, sold at $38.75, and the champion steer calves from Herman Carr's Herford herd at Weatherford, Texas, topped at $38.

Heifer calves sold from $35 down in these sales and prices were the highest of the year for the Southwest on comparable numbers of calves and yearlings.

Tuesday, 16th, Next Food Distribution

The next distribution of USDA surplus foods at the Eastland center to persons eligible to receive them will take place Tuesday, September 16, for those in the Rising Star area, it was announced this week by J. J. Porter, Sr., administrator. The distribution was delayed one week because of the opening of school lunchrooms.

PT-A To Meet Tuesday In First Term Session

The first meeting of the Rising Star Parent-Teacher Ass'n for the new school year will take place at the High School Library at 3:15 Tuesday afternoon, September 9. The meeting will take up mostly of business matters. All school patrons, teachers and others interested in the schools are invited.

CofC To Attend Hearing On Rush Creek

Representatives of the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce will go to Comanche Thursday evening to attend a public hearing on the Rush Creek watershed Protection and Flood Prevention project, which, after several years of organization and effort, is believed to be nearing final approval for development under United States Department of Agriculture auspices.

The purpose of the hearing is to determine public attitude within the watershed area toward the proposed development, expense of which is shared 50-50 by the federal government and the landowners, and to elicit any criticisms or suggestions that may be pertinent.

The hearing will be held by the five members of the State Soil Conservation Board at the District Court room in Comanche, after a tour of the watershed area during the afternoon.

The watershed area heads up in Rising Star and extends almost to Comanche, the larger part of the district lying within Comanche County. The watershed program was undertaken under sponsorship of the Amity, Soda Springs and other community clubs along with that of other interested organizations several years ago and most of the preliminary work, including the securing of easements from landowners for the construction of the flood control structures, was done by these clubs and organizations.

At a meeting in Rising Star, sponsored by the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce two years ago, and attended by Cong. Omar Burleson, the necessity of an amendment to the Public Law authorizing such projects, to allow soil conservation construction already done by the landowners to count on the landowners share of the cost was presented to Mr. Burleson who, with Cong. Fisher and other legislators interested in the work, sponsored such an amendment which was enacted. This legislation cleared the way for realizing a project which, at a cost of around half a million dollars, will add many times that value to the area in the form of better soil, more water resources and a greater crop and pasture yields.

There is such a competition for the funds available for this work, it was pointed out, that much of the incentive for approving a project must come from a display of community interest, and a great effort is being made to give the Comanche hearing the stamp of an overwhelming public demand for the Rush Creek program.

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p. m.

September 1 New Auto Inspection Period

September 1 marks the beginning of a new motor vehicle inspection period for more than four million vehicle owners in Texas, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Inspection stations throughout the state will open their doors for the inspection period that runs through April 15, 1959. There are more than 4300 stations in the state which have been authorized to check automobiles and trucks.

In announcing the opening date, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, suggested that Texas residents have their trucks and automobiles inspected at the beginning of the period. This, he said, would save motorists considerable time and inconvenience annually accompanying long waiting lines at the inspection deadline.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morrison and son, Wayne, are new residents of Rising Star and live on West College Street. They are from Paris, Texas. Mr. Morrison was reared in Dallas and is an ex-service man. Wayne Morrison is 14 years of age and is in the eighth grade. He is interested in band and football. We extend to them a warm welcome into our town.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Wright of Austin spent the weekend here with her mother, Mrs. Mollie Landreth.

THE BRAZOS RIVER AUTHORITY formally takes possession of its new six-acre building site at the fair grounds in Waco as J. H. Kuitert, the president, turns over a check for $20,000 to Mayor Joe Ward. The B.R.A. bought the land from the city, and hopes to start work on its new headquarters by the first of 1959.

North Star Club Exhibit Becomes Small Scale Fair

What started out to be a display of hobby and household items made by members of the club, grew into a small edition of the Rising Star Free Fall Fair when the North Home Demonstration Club moved its exhibit from the club house north of town to the City Market building and invited other communities and organizations to participate.

Interesting exhibits from Pioneer, Amity and the Rising Star Home 4-H Club girls were added to the large displays of the North Star members and seen by a large number of visitors Friday and Saturday of last week.

Canned fruits and vegetables, sewing paintings, and hobby items of vegetables grown by members of the clubs made up the bulk of the exhibits. Prominently displayed were two gold-plated lamps made of old style dial telephones and entered by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Kizer.

One exhibit that attracted a great deal of interest was taken entered by the 4-H club girls. It consisted principally of sewing done by the girls — dresses, houses, skirts and other needlework that showed an almost professional quality.

The North Star exhibit was crowded with products of the club members. Quilts, comforts and intricate embroidery, weaving and other articles of household arts were admired by the visitors to exhibits. The displays for the most part were placed on tables and shelving erected against the walls, a method which made attractive showings with much less work.

Friday night and Saturday night visitors were treated to home grown watermelon furnished by well-wishers and sliced on tables in the rear of the market building.

"We are well pleased with the results of the display," said Mrs. Clara Burkhead, committee chairman. "We are grateful to the people and organizations who entered exhibits and helped make the displays the success they were," said Mrs. Burkhead.

Dove Season Opens In North Zone September First

AUSTIN—Dove hunters opened the season in the North Zone of Texas Monday, Sept. 1, with one of the best crops of doves in years, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. The South Zone will open one month later, except in the Rio Grande Valley counties where white-winged and mourning doves may be shot on Sept. 14 and 16, from 2 p. m. until sunset.

The director gave a few warnings for shooters:

Be sure you have your new 1958-59 hunting licenses, on sale with wardens, sporting goods stores and county clerks.

Shooting starts at 12 noon and ends at sunset. Be sure to check your time and don't shoot by moonlight.

The limit is 10 doves per day. After the first day you may have 20 mourning doves in your possession. This doesn't mean you can put 20 in the deep freeze and then go out and kill another daily limit.

Be sure to get permission from landowners for hunting on their property. You can be arrested for trespassing.

Don't shoot across roads, highways or public property. Stay off of wildlife refuges.

Your gun must be plugged to hold not more than two shells in the magazine and one in the chamber — three shots in all.

Look before you shoot. A charge of bird shot in a man's ace has a way of irritating him.

Don't shoot from an automobile. Wardens will get you in a hurry. If you are inclined to be careless, check your life insurance policy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Yarbrough of Ysleta, Texas, are visiting Mrs. Yarbrough's brother, Lafayette Turner, and family.

Schools Open With 2 Faculty Changes Tues.

The Rising Star Public Schools opened their 1958-59 term Tuesday with an enrollment little changed from last year's and two changes in the faculty.

The Rising Star Band has a new director, with the resignation of Miss Peggy Tate to accept an offer from Gorman schools, and the election of Lloyd Gonzales, Hardin-Simmons University graduate and now at Fort Hood with the army reserve from which he will be released to report for duty here next Monday.

The elementary school lost one of its most popular and efficient teachers when Mrs. Etta Mae Tyler this week tendered her resignation as second grade teacher for reasons of health. Mrs. Tyler has been with the Rising Star system for the past ten years or more.

"We regret very much to have her go," said Supt. Sam Jones. "She has been one of our most efficient and valuable teachers and she will be missed."

Mrs. H. L. Geyer will replace Mrs. Tyler at least temporarily. Pre-registration at the High School Friday was up from last spring's closing enrollment with 105 students registered compared to an enrollment of 103 at the end of school last spring. A number of additional students was expected with the start of classes.

Elementary school enrollment was about the same as last year. The schools started their program Tuesday with a full schedule of classes for a school day lengthened by one period. There are seven 45-minute periods instead of six. Result, the day started earlier and lasts somewhat longer. Buses made their rounds thirty minutes earlier to compensate.

Tuesday, opening day, enrollment in the schools registered: High School, 109, Elementary school, 229, for a total of 337 students, practically the same enrollment with which the schools closed last year, Supt. Jones said.

of the satin skirt which formed a chapel length train was highlighted by a triangular shaped panel of lace. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls, rhinestones and iridescent sequins. She carried a lace-covered, white Bible, a gift of the groom, topped by tiny white rose buds surrounding a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a tiny tear drop pearl, also a gift of the groom.

The bride's attendants were dressed in street-length dresses of powder blue cotton satin. Shirred puffs of the material outlined the low necklines and the very buffant, gathered skirts were accented in the back by matching chiffon streamers. They wore sky blue picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of assorted white flowers.

The junior bridesmaids wore matching dresses of powder blue cotton satin.

Mrs. Roberts chose a teal blue dress with black accessories. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Erwin wore a beige embroidered taffeta dress with matching accessories. They both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Arla Faye Brooks Bride of Weldon Hill August 15th

The Church of Christ at Leakey was the scene Friday night, August 15, of a double-ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Arla Faye Brooks of Leakey and Weldon Claborn Hill of Rising Star.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Brooks, Leakey, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Hill, Carbon, Texas.

The church building was beautifully decorated by Mr. J. A. Nance, with English ivy, draped from a fern tree, and flanked by three candelabras, entwined with ivy.

Mr. E. R. Simmons, Jr. of San Antonio read the marriage vows. Eugene Helm sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding music was sung by an acappella choir from Church of Christ, Government Hill, San Antonio.

Bridesmaids included Miss Lynn Holmes, who wore yellow cotton satin, and Miss Geraldine Vaughan, whose gown was blue cotton satin. Miss Paula Hill, niece of the groom, served as flower girl, and was dressed in pink nylon, and carried a pink and white basket of rose petals.

Jack Hill assisted his brother as best man. The groomsmen included Max Hughes and Carl Chisum.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Doyle Brooks, her brother, and Ernest Simmons ushered and served as candlelighters.

The bride's handmade ballerina length gown was fashioned of white lace over satin, with long tapering sleeves. The pointed bodice was fashioned with a round neckline, embroidered with imported seed pearls. A tiara of imported seed pearls and rhinestones over satin held the illusion, elbow-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and white feathered carnations.

The mother of the bride wore navy blue rayon gabardine with white accessories and the groom's mother was attired in navy blue also, with white accessories.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lacey. The bride's table was covered with white cut-work cloth. It was graced by a bouquet of white glads and baby mums; at either end of the table were the tiered wedding cake, decorated with miniature bride and groom, especially made for the occasion by Elizabeth (Sug) Reed, and a capital punch bowl of pink punch. The silver cake knife used by the bride and groom to cut the cake was the same used by Mrs. Reed 54 years ago at her wedding.

Serving at the bridal table were Misses Barbara Thompson and Geraldine Vaughan of Leakey, and Miss Lynn Holmes of San Antonio. Mrs. E. J. Brice presided at the brides book.

Mrs. Hill chose for her going-away a suit of blue cotton and silk, black accessories, and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

I think I can...

He'll make it, too—even though his arms feel as if they were going to pull right out of their sockets.

He'll make it all the way through life. He'll do it on faith . . . and the strength faith brings with it.

What he did today he did because of a dare. Ten or twenty years from now his challenges will be more serious. But he'll still be able to face them with confidence.

He'll be able to count on another kind of faith then—deep spiritual faith . . . and the strength and guidance that only strong religious and family backgrounds can give.

The time to start building that faith is now.

Find the strength for your life . . . worship together this week

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSES

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time. Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking a school bus from the rear stopped to receive or to discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when meeting a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the roadway.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change application of the law.)

Martha Walker and Leon Jones Wed In Long Branch Rites

Miss Martha Will Walker became the bride of Leon Earl Jones Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the Long Branch Baptist Church in a candle light service with the Rev. Mart Agnew officiating in a double ring ceremony. The bride wore a gown of embroidered metallic net over white satin, made with a tight basque with extended waist line with full gathered skirt. The low scooped neckline and pointed sleeves were outlined in seed pearls. The basque waist closed down the back with small, satin covered buttons, and the sleeves were also closed with such buttons. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held in place by a headpiece of pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of white carnations tied with white ribbon streamers. The Bible, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clark, Jr., was the traditional something new. For something old, she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of a friend, her veil was borrowed of Mrs. Barbara Freeman of Coleman and had been made by Mrs. Freeman's mother, the late Mrs. Buster Watson. For something blue she carried a blue handkerchief under the corsage on her Bible.

Candlelighters were Kay Walker and Shirley Hageman, Flower girls were Marietta and Sara

Beth Street, who wore pink net over taffeta.

The bride's attendants, all of whom wore pastel waltz length dresses and carried bouquets of white carnations tied with aqua satin ribbon, were:

Matron of honor, Mrs. Claud Freeman of Coleman; bridesmaids, Glovonne Kinsey, Patsy Howard and Mary Lois White.

Lavon Wilson of Blanket was best man; groomsmen were Douglas Walker, brother of the bride; Claud Freeman of Coleman and Harold Dudley of Brownwood and the ushers were Jimmy Clay Wilson of Blanket and Gary Maynard of Rising Star.

Preceding the ceremony "Oh, Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," were sung by Janice Jones and Charles Steel. Wedding music was by Miss LaVeda Boggs.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Vernon D. Walker of Rising Star.

The bride is a graduate of Rising Star High School, class of '58, and was outstanding in 4-H club work. She was a Gold Star girl and had attended District Camp at Cisco and Camp Tres Rios at Glen Rose where she took part in the flag raising ceremonies. She has appeared in foods demonstrations over KRBC-TV at Abilene and the radio station at Eastland. She attended short courses in home management at Texas A&M College. She was a cheer leader during her senior year.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Jones of Blanket and after graduating from Blanket entered the armed forces with which he served two years. He later attended Howard Payne College and is now a student in night school at Brownwood Business College. He is employed in the engineering department of the Southwestern States Telephone Co., Brownwood.

The couple will be at home in Brownwood after a short wedding trip to Kerrville and San Antonio. For her going away costume the bride wore a rose beige faille dress with black velvet accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridal bouquet was caught by Miss Glovonne Kinsey.

A reception was held at the bride's home following the wedding with about 100 guests attending to wish the young couple happiness and success. Joanna Ingram served the cake and Mary Reed presided at the punch bowl.

Attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bryan, Billy and Patsy of Abilene; Mrs. Berry and Mary Carolyn of Cisco; Mrs. Bo Elrod of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jones of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Walker and daughters of Lawn; Mrs. Blackie Wilson of Blanket; Mrs. A. A. Hovey and Dick of Abilene; Miss Ival Brizendine of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dutley of Brownwood; and the groom's twin sister, Mrs. David Hevery, and Mr. Hevery of Oklahoma City, Okla.

couple were happy recipients of a miscellaneous shower which included, linens, silver, electrical appliances kitchen utensils and the bride's chosen patterns in china and crystal. The gifts were displayed in the living room and dining room. Guests were served on the spacious lawn, under an arch of white and green, where wedding bells were suspended.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cut work cloth over green. White cake squares and lime punch and green mints were served by the hostess, Mrs. E. B. McCollum and co-hostesses, Mrs. Doris Sue Tyler, Mrs. M. B. Shook, Mrs. Dorothy McKinnerney, Mrs. Clark Crowner, Miss Martha Jay Childress, Miss Pauline Roberts and Mrs. Fred W. Roberts.

Pictures were made by Mrs. Doris Sue Tyler who is a very close friend of the bride.

Appointments of white carnations arranged with fern were used to lend beauty to the home, and were placed at vantage places. A number of relatives and friends registered in the beautiful bride's book. Other relatives and friends sent gifts.

After the shower ended the bride and groom and close relatives went to Lake Brownwood for the week end.

Mary Nell Barnes of Dallas came to Rising Star Friday, bringing home her mother, Mrs. Ethel Barnes, who had been visiting in Dallas for the past two weeks.
