Last week the Record published its annual Soil Conservation edition. We appreciate very much the splendid cooperation of our advertisers, the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District and the staff of the Soil Conservation Service which made it possible.

Soil conservation has become a basic credo of our times as for the resources we use and upon which the generations to come will depend. There was a time when this country was new, vast and naturally rich and was rich in natural resources, that we gave little thought to the preservation of the soil. There was so virgin much of it that it seemed it would never be exhausted. The problem was to possess it.

But much of that fertility has been lost, washed down the rivers into the sea from lands so carelessly denuded of cover and mined by exhaustive cropping. Great areas have been preempted by industrial development and the expansion of the cities, an expansion that continues to eat up acreage at an accelerated rate. Over vast areas of the earth starvation broods, nourishing in its dark shadow those revolutionary despairs which threaten the freedoms we have so long enjoyed. A population 'explosion' gives grave warnings of the demands that will certainly be made upon our food and fiber producing capacity — demands which in the not too distant future may wipe out those surpluses that presently plague farmers.

In the light of these facts we have come to heed the prophecies of the far-sighted few who have warned of the obligation we have to conserve this basic resource. It is a responsibility that is even spiritual in its insistence upon stewardship rather than ownership.

One of the men who have had great influence in bringing about this new awareness and the programs of conservation it has inspired is W. B. Starr, agricultural leader of the Dan Horn community, whose name was recently given to a new variety of commercial peanut.

Recently, Mr. Starr published a remarkable little document entitled, "A Statement and an Acknowledgment" to be attached to the abstract of title to the 320 acres which he and Mrs. Starr bought in 1903 and have farmed since. The document has no bearing on the legal title to the land. It stresses the "use affecting the fertility of the soil, so important to our welfare, and to the future operators of this land," and it provides "information as to where the TRUE title to all land rests."

The document details how the Starrs, in their use of the land, in the course of which they raised a large family, sought always to maintain and improve the fertility of the soil and concludes with this illuminative and remarkable creed:

"Many people recognize that the TRUE wisdom we acquire during our lives comes from our Almighty Father, whose plans are infallible. His voice, if we seek it, will guide our steps as we journey through life. Many good farmers soon come to realize that the proper care of their soil constitutes a part of God's wisdom, and through their cooperation with Him in their daily farming practices, they have a valuable partnership, not only to themselves, but to the countless generations of unborn babes who will look to the soil we now till for their livelihood and happiness. We may have a 'legal' title to our farms, but our possession is limited to a very short period of time, and only constitutes a stewardship for which we are strictly responsible to our Creator. The TRUE title to all land rests in the hands of God, Who passes it on from generation to generation.

Cats Open Season At Melvin Fri.

The Rising Star Wildcats, looking sharp after two weeks of practice, including controlled scrimmages with two good Class A squads, will go to Melvin Friday night to open their season in a nonconference scrap with the Melvin Tigers.

Coaches Weldon Hill, Frank Cray and Eddie Joe Henry were well pleased with the spirit and showing their charges in workouts this week.

The squad of 30 boys, full of hustle and will, is one of the largest to be fielded by the Cats in many seasons and affords plenty of competition for most of the places on the team.

Lineup for the game will not be announced until just before the boys take the field Friday night at 8 o'clock, the coaches said.

Only one injury of any consequence has affected the squad so far. Tommy Alford suffered a twisted ankle in practice Monday which will keep him out of the game Friday. He is an end.

Labor Day Week-End Car Crash Here Costs Two Lives

A Labor Day week end crash two miles east of Rising Star on Highway 36 last Saturday afternoon had claimed two lives this week.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Bureson, M. C. 17th Texas Dist.

WASHINGTON, D. D. — All the talk and all that is written about the accomplishments of the Soviets in placing two men in orbit at the same time reminds us that they are more adept at propaganda than any nation in the world. Certainly this includes our own.

The reason is fairly simple. The Soviets need not exercise any compunctions as to what they say or do. It is a part of their system.

On the other hand, ours is a system built on moral standards of truth which place a restraint on our actions.

At the present time we are training Special Warfare Forces. These are forces especially trained in guerrilla warfare such as is being fought in several parts of the world and with which we will probably be occupied for a considerable time to come. We have been woefully deficient in this type of force. The Soviets, however, accuse us of lighting fuses to set off an unlimited war. The Chinese Communists have parroted this same line. Such an article appeared not long ago in the "Red Star", a publication similar to our armed forces publications.

Even the freedom which we enjoy by criticizing our own Government is used by the Communists against us. They take published criticism as a type of revolt, magnify it all out of proportion and tell other people of the world that this is the prevailing attitude in America. They do not distinguish between an "Administration" and the Government itself. They place no limit or virtue in the fact that our citizens are free to criticize an Administration, whether it be national, state, county or municipal.

Front organizations and sympathizers in the United States are always on the look-out for public statements, letters to the editors, critical articles in magazines and newspapers, as proof that we are not a united people.

Not long ago the Foreign Minister of Communist Vietnam in conferences in Geneva, quoted from a letter written by some "prominent United States citizen" to President Kennedy on the "intervention" of United States forces in South Vietnam, to prove that people not only opposed U. S. policy in that area, but approved of the Communist policy. In the press, on radio, in all places and on all occasions where a forum is available to them, they attack the free world, and particularly the United States.

At the moment, their propaganda is directed against the British as holding in subjugation Gibraltar. Great Britain has recently cut aid to Gibraltar and people there are highly critical of their mother government.

As a result, the demand comes from the people of Gibraltar to be granted their independence.

This, of course, is fuel for the most vicious kind of Communist propaganda to get the British out.

With Communist pressures in Morocco, where Russia is furnishing foreign aid including military equipment, Gibraltar stands as a ripe plum for them, should they get control of this North African territory.

Gibraltar is an important flank of the NATO alliance and the gateway to North Africa and Spain, as well as a vitally important defense area for the seas.

We may not think of the Rock of Gibraltar, as it is called, as being strategic or important. Many other areas of the world, far removed from our immediate interest, are just names.

To the Soviets, it is another place to expand their influence. The fact that we somewhat limit ourselves in our propaganda efforts, together with the fact that we oppose the Russian system and Communism wherever it is, plus the fact that many of our policies are of a timid nature, places the United States in a defensive attitude. This last factor is one we can readily overcome. The first two are tools which we should use better, and better use.

IT'S THE LAW

OPINION TESTIMONY

In court all lawyers ask all witnesses expert witnesses to report their observation, not opinions. It is for the judge and the jury — not the fact witnesses — to make inferences as to guilt or liability from the facts.

On the other hand, only "experts" can give the court their opinions. Aren't most people expert in some things? Most people are qualified to give opinions on such everyday things as speed, time, sound, and the like. Sometimes where impressions are hard to describe, a witness may have to talk in terms of opinions about such things as the force of a blow, distance of a sound, the amount of light, the degree of cold or heat, weight, size, health, temper, fear, and the like.

We can express the opinion that Jones "looks like the man" who did a crime, or that his footfalls or his voice were those of Jones. Courts will admit such evidence. So too, one can testify about his friends' sanity or handwriting and sometimes your own motives.

But most often the court must rely on certain skilled persons like physicians or engineers for "expert opinions" especially in complex technical cases.

Problems in using experts: They may not agree. They may give opinions on the "ultimate" fact which the jury itself must decide (the extent of injuries, who is the father, what caused the explosion.)

Do the experts here invade the jury's province?

As a rule, no. Before a court will let the expert testify he must show his special knowledge, say, in science, art, trade. Even so, the judge and jury decide issues of the trial, not the experts alone.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

The irreplaceable gift of sight is being lost to one American every 20 minutes.

If that figure, estimated by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, holds true for all population segments of the nation, it means four Texans are blinded every day.

September is Sight-saving Month throughout the land.

Even as you read this, some man, woman, or child is standing on the brink of permanent blindness about to join the 392,500 other Americans who are already enduring the bleak enormity of blindness.

What causes blindness? There are two major contributing factors: disease and accidents. Neglect exaggerates both of these.

Blindness brought on through neglect really is no worse than that caused by an accident or disease. But somehow it seems worse. It's so unnecessary.

If all children were given a thorough eye examination prior to entering school for the first time, and if all visual defects were corrected or placed under treatment at that time, a major step in the prevention of blindness in childhood would be taken. One of every four school children are said to need some form of eye care.

But a single examination is not enough. A child grows quickly. His eyes, like every other body organ, are constantly changing. Sometimes the change is for the worse.

At least half of all cases of blindness occurring from year to year could be prevented through use of the sight-saving knowledge at hand. For example, some 300,000 industrial eye injuries occur each year. The mere use of goggles would cut the figure dramatically.

As for disease-caused blindness, modern surgical methods now restore or improve vision in 19 or 20 cases of cataract, the leading cause of blindness in the United States.

When parents or teachers observe a child holding reading matter closer than the normal 14 inches from his face, tilting his head while reading, or constantly blinking, all responsible health and medical authorities agree it should be interpreted as a sign of impending eye trouble.

Other conditions which may indicate eye trouble are crossed eyes, frequent styes and headaches, red-rimmed or encrusted eyelids, or persistent watering of either eye. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Health Department.)

"A Dollar and a Deed ..."

... is all you need," argues the professional salesman, who is anxious to sell a 'shell' house he has propped up on a lot that is usually the cheapest he can find. Amazingly, some people fall for his kind of deal because it's cheap. The hard facts will come out later when the buyer tries to sell, repair or refinance. He will not only have to pay for an abstract, but the tragedy is he may have no title. The moral is, don't do it!

Rising Star Ex Gets Warm Praise As Teacher For 25 Years In Andrews

The following tribute to J. Lee Smith, Rising Star native and former football great, now principal of Andrews high school, appeared in the Andrews paper recently.

Mr. Smith is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Rising Star, a brother of Mrs. Ervin Hull and a nephew of Carl Alford and Mrs. John Joyce.

He was born and reared here, was a football star for Rising Star high school and later at Daniel Baker where he graduated and then went into teaching. He has been at Andrews for 25 years.

"When he stepped forward to take the diamond encrusted pin, we felt that we were one of the few in the big crowd that could fully appreciate just how well he had earned it.

"Twenty-five years is a relatively short length of time when viewed from a historical standpoint but in Andrews it spells a quarter of a century of eternity. "And 25 years is a long, long time when most of that time has been spent in work with teenagers.

"That he was able to step up and receive that pin for a quarter century of service is ample testimony to the success he has enjoyed with young people.

"We can remember that September 25 years ago when he first came to teach in the Andrews schools. It was the first September in three years that school started on time. The previous years, torrential rains had delayed the start of school from two days to 10 days—water kept flooding the high school boiler room.

"He was the same then as he is now . . . friendly, good natured, easy-going, and relaxed on the surface but down deep a core of iron will and the stubbornness of a green mesquite root.

"Then his hair was black, his face full, youthful, and unlined . . . and he was as chunky, as stocky, as many of the youngsters he helped coach in football.

"Now, of course, grey has peppered the temples, the face is lined, but the warm geniality is as apparent as ever. The body is slimmer—much slimmer as it responds to a rigid diet battle that has been waged constantly for 20 of the past 25 years.

"A man cannot stay in the public's eye . . . especially the eye that views education of youngsters . . . for 25 years without making a host of friends and a few serious enemies. He has both.

"But both friend and enemy can vouch for the iron-bound determination that lies deep beneath the surface waves of friendliness, casual calm, and genuine interest.

"We never see the man without recalling that lucid moment years ago when we watched quietly from the wings as he told the hefty youngster to stop shooting goals—the bell had rung five minutes earlier—and get into the classroom.

"The student had barely got the words . . . "you can't order me around—my dad is president of the school board" . . . out of his mouth, before the rear seat of his britches was scorching hot after a 70-foot catapult ride across the polished gym floor.

"Many a former student in the local schools can testify to the iron that lies beneath the sand in this man . . . and just as readily and willingly vouch for the inherent fairness that is found within.

"He'll never set the world on fire as an egghead educator, nor as an overpowering history teacher, but as a man . . . a man endowed with honest decency, down-to-earth common sense, and integrity, we'll stack him along with the best.

"Not everyone will agree with us—true. But as he would be the first to say: "That's your privilege!"

"And it is our privilege to say, that from a community standpoint, from an educational standpoint, and above all from a former student's standpoint, we're mighty glad that high school principal J. Lee Smith has been around these past 25 years in Andrews."

Juicy Fruit Plate a la Russe

One way to charm luncheon guests is to serve each a beautiful fruit salad . . . a feast to the eye . . . every bite chilled and juicy and refreshing. Such a salad could well be the tempting fruit and cottage cheese plate suggested here.

And the knowing touch is a dressing that brings out the best nature of the fruit, coaxes it to the utmost in flavor. One happy choice is bottled Russian dressing. It has spiciness. It has a hint of sweetness that complements the flavors of the fruit. And its deep rosininess strikes an added lovely color note. For beverage with the salad . . . iced tea poured from a tall pitcher clinking with ice, with a garnish for each glass of lemon slice and fresh mint sprig.

- 1 fresh pineapple
- 1 honeyball or small honeydew melon
- 4 bananas
- 1 pound bunch grapes
- 1 pint creamed cottage cheese
- Lettuce
- Mint sprigs
- 1 8-oz. bottle Wish-Bone Russian Dressing

Cut pineapple in half lengthwise leaving its share of the core on each piece. Cut each half lengthwise in 4 wedge shaped pieces. With paring knife remove tough core section from inside edge of each piece. Loosen from peel by running knife under the fruit almost the length of each wedge. Make vertical cuts through fruit to skin being careful to retain shape of wedge. Prepare melon by cutting 4 crosswise slices approximately 1 inch wide. Remove peel and cut circles in half then in 3 thin slices. Peel bananas and cut in half lengthwise. Cover each half with Russian Dressing to prevent discoloring. Wash and separate grapes into small bunches.

To Assemble Plates: Place scoops of cottage cheese on lettuce leaves. Garnish with sprig of mint. Fill small cups with Russian Dressing and place on plate. Arrange fruit attractively on plate. Makes 8 servings.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wells and family of Kermit spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Shults and Stanford Horton visited Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Winter in Austin over the Labor Day week-end. Mrs. Winter, the former Jo Beth Horton, is a sister to Mrs. Shults and Mr. Horton.

CJC Resident Student Facilities Will Be Crowded

CISCO — Resident facilities at Cisco Junior College will be filled to capacity when fall enrollment is completed, accommodating approximately 400 students, a record number for the college, President G. C. Hogue announced.

Memorial women's dormitory is already filled to capacity, with 40 room deposits paid. Plans for converting Brittan Hall back to a women's residence hall are presently underway. Once the conversion is complete, accommodations for 16 more women will be available.

Both men's dormitories are filled, with Bevins Hall housing 48 athletes and Wrangler Hall accommodating 57 men. Wrangler, occupied last year for the first time, was completed last August at a cost of over $120,000.

Facilities in Memorial Hall are designed to accommodate three persons in each room, while residents in Bevins Hall share rooms with only one person. Wrangler Hall is designed to accommodate two men in half the rooms, and three in the remaining rooms.

Should reservations continue, approved temporary off-campus housing will be made available until the new air-conditioned dormitory is completed. College officials expect completion of the new building early in October. Once completed, the new dormitory will provide facilities for 70 more students.

All out-of-district students will be required to live on campus unless they plan to live with relatives. A $10 deposit is required to reserve a room.

New Chicken-Tokay Dish

Fit for a king — or a queen — "Curry Chicken a la Queen" is a main dish to bedazzle dinner guests. And it's economical enough for a feast just for the family. Diced chicken flavored delicately with curry is served in a creamy celery soup sauce sparkled with peppers and ruby-hued Tokay grapes. Juicy Flame Tokays, the finest of the fall grapes, provide crisp texture and distinctive flavor in numerous entrees, salads, fruit cups and desserts. For lunch boxes and between-meal snacks, they are low in calories yet quite filling.

CURRY CHICKEN A LA QUEEN

- 1 1/2 cups Tokay grapes
- 2 cups diced, cooked chicken
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) cream of celery soup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup sliced green pepper
- 1/2 cup sliced red sweet pepper
- Crisp toast points

Halve and seed Tokays. Sauté chicken in butter and curry powder until golden. Stir in soup, water, salt, pepper and lemon juice. Simmer 10 minutes to blend flavors. Add green and red peppers and Tokays. Simmer 5 minutes longer. Serve on toast points or in flaky patty shells. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Browsing With BEV

By Mrs. Beverly Nicholson County Home Dem. Agent

During the hot days of summer, homemakers look for easy recipes to prepare, so they won't have to spend so much time in a hot kitchen. Here is a cake recipe that will fill this request for something "quick 'n' easy", however, this one is good year round. This cake may be baked in two layers or in an oblong baking pan. If baked in two pans, one layer could be frozen and later served, as it would be ready to serve right from the freezer.

LEMON CAKE

- 1 box yellow cake mix
- 1 3 ounce package of lemon jello

- 4 eggs
- 3/4 cup liquid cooking oil
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice or lemon flavoring

Place the above ingredients in large bowl and mix thoroughly, by hand or mixer; pour in baking pan and bake 30-40 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes two 9 inch layers and is best served as a one layer cake.

Mix powdered sugar and lemon juice until it will spread. You will need about 1/2 cup of this mixture. When cake is done spread this mixture over cake and return to oven (oven should be turned off.) This is the icing for the cake, however the cake is good served without icing.

Here is a tip I picked up from one of the Home Demonstration Club Ladies, Mrs. W. P. Edwards of Olden. Mrs. Edwards makes buttermilk using non fat dry milk solids and 1 cup of commercially prepared buttermilk. She prepares the milk following directions on the package. For each quart of milk she adds 1 cup commercially

Foods List for Summer Has Many Good Items

COLLEGE STATION- Farmers are providing homemakers with a "bonus" list of plentiful foods for August, points out the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The "bonus" comes from the built-in "cool and refreshing" appeal of these foods — that is, their color, their texture and their natural goodness when served chilled.

Fresh peaches and cantaloupes top the August plentiful foods list, based on a survey of foods stocks in this area by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

"Deathless days" in Texas traffic are rare, only about four yearly on the average. 1950 was worst year since World War II, with not a single day free of traffic deaths. Best year was 1960, with nine "Deathless Days." Quietest, smoothest, slickest running shaker ever built—Lilliston's 1100 series Digger-Shaker-Windrower

Another Lilliston breakthrough—the direct result of continuous research and testing to give you the finest possible windrowing performance at the lowest possible price. A few reasons why the 1100 is far and away your best buy:

- the 1100 is wide enough to fit the new 4-row plantings as well as the conventional 2-row crops. Not only does it work well on narrow rows, but it is also particularly effective in both heavy and light vine growth.
- the bars on the rattle chain are closely spaced, a feature especially valuable in light vine conditions where clumps of nuts may sometimes be lost between the bars of more widely spaced rattlers.
- you can raise or lower the rattler assembly on the 1100 to adjust it to ground level and coordinate it with the digger blades without changing the belt tension.
- the 1100 is tough—built to do the job day after day without breakdowns. It will give you the right start to a productive harvest—and keep doing it year after year.
