I see by the newspapers that a prominent western educator, the president of a college, has indicted the American educational system for producing too many chiefs and not enough Indians.

"Unless," said he, "far more and better education in the semi-professional, technical and skilled levels is soon made available to greater numbers of citizens, the national economy and social structure will suffer irreparable harm."

According to his indictment our educational system is geared to the 20 per cent of the students who complete college. It places primary emphasis on the greater prestige of a liberal arts program, while it neglects the skills essential to translating ideas into useful things. With job openings for four million skilled workers, we have millions of unemployed.

Well, the linotype machine in the small country newspaper shop has been making a small contribution toward meeting that deficit in the educational system. In these areas of limited industrial opportunities, it has afforded quite a number of boys, and even girls, opportunities, to learn the rudiments of a trade by which they have been able to support themselves and, in quite a number of cases to pay for college and university courses while actually carrying those courses.

In this respect the "old mill" as printers call it with affectionate irreverence has actually been an extension of the local public schools, and a very important extension for those who have utilized it.

It isn't a skill to be easily learned. There are times when it seems that these machines—which are actually type foundries in that they mold type selectively at the will of the operator—are the very devil's fabrication. If there is anything on earth that will test a person's character, prove his religion and plumb his sanity, it is a typesetting machine that is fractionally and mysteriously off in some operation of its anatomy. Not even the human body in all its various interrelationships, is more sympathetically responsive to a malfunction of some remote organ or gland than is a typesetting machine to its unhappiness in its gizzard or degree too little or too much in the temperature of its digestion.

But for all that, it is workhorse and the very heart of a printing plant. It has amazing durability and an even more astonishing capacity to deliver galleys of type to survive its temperament and deliver galleys of type to fill the columns of a newspaper.

Three Teams of Little Leaguers Are Organized

The Rising Star Little League Baseball season got under way Tuesday with organization of three teams following a "battle of Home Runs" between two teams of men, captained by Lee Hughes and H. McDonald. The McDonald crew won a 3 to 2 decision. The game was played and the meeting held at the Little League park.

The first of the Little League games will be played Thursday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. All boys interested in playing in a Little League team were urged to come to the game.

C. M. Carroll was elected manager of the Little League teams at a meeting on May 23, H. L. Geyer, assistant manager, Lee Hughes treasurer and H. McDonald coordinator.

Plans are underway to repair the concession stand. Help of the parents in making the Little League season a success was urged.

Julie Watkins and Linda Koonce In Recital Sunday

Miss Julie Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watkins, was presented in a lovely voice recital at the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

She was accompanied by Miss Linda Koonce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Koonce, who played two piano numbers.

Miss Watkins is a student of Mrs. Sam Jones of Brownwood, and Miss Koonce, a sophomore student at Texas Christian University, is a piano pupil of Keith Nizon.

Many local friends and friends from out of town were present for the recital.

Olan Lee who now lives with her, and a sister of Otis Lee of Rising Star.

Nelda took awards in the International Designer-Craftsman Exhibit, El Paso, sponsored by the El Paso Museum of Art and the American Craftsman Council, and in the Sixth Annual Permian Basin Art Exhibit, sponsored by the Odessa Art Association May 17-22.

At El Paso she placed first in the mixed media division of the exhibit. Her winning entry was a black, white and gray plexiglas "inlaid" cigarette box.

She won two awards in the Odessa show, a first award in the mixed media division with an entry entitled, "Refinery No. 2," and second in sculpture with an entry entitled, "Composition In Metal."

The Odessa American published her picture with the story of her achievement in the El Paso exhibit. The story said in part:

"Miss Lee placed first in the exhibit with a black, white and gray plexiglas 'inlaid' cigarette box. The box was designed by first making a wooden mold and pressing heated plexiglas into the mold.

"The box shape was made and then the lid was formed, after which a design was cut into the lid and filled again with liquid plastic. White liquid was mixed with various amounts of black to produce a gray tone.

"In addition to the International Designer-Craftsman award, Miss Lee has various other honors.

"She studied at Texas Womans University Denton, Tarleton State College, Stephenville, and received her B. A. degree at North Texas State University.

"She is a member of the Texas Art Educators Association, and while at North Texas, was president of the Students Art Educators Association.

Amity Homecoming Set for Sunday

The annual homecoming and singing at the Amity community—an event which, according to the late T. W. Steel, began 72 years ago, in 1892—will be held at the Amity church Sunday, June 7.

W. F. Henderson, chairman of the arrangements committee, said that everybody is invited. A community basket lunch will be spread at noon. There will be plenty of shade and water, he said.

Mrs. Alynne Sickman, a teacher at Pyote Schools, is visiting her father, M. G. Joyce, her daughter, Mrs. Art Fisher and family, and other relatives in Rising Star.

Disposal Plant Near Completion

Anderson Engineering Company of Abilene this week is installing equipment in the new sewer disposal plant being built for Rising Star a mile north by east of town, with prospect that the plant will be in operation within two or three weeks.

Delivery of the equipment, scheduled for last April, was delayed until last week.

As soon as the installation is completed, expected within a week, the plant will be inspected by a representative of the factory making the equipment, and then offered to the city for its acceptance. If accepted, as it is expected it will be, it will be placed in immediate operation, Mayor Walter Smith said.

The National Engineering Company of Austin designed the plant and supervised its construction.

The plant of the latest design for sewage disposal has attracted considerable interest among neighboring communities faced with sewage disposal problems. It will be odorless and the effluent when released will be pure water, engineers said.

It consists of a large compartmented septic tank, all but a foot or so of its height underground, and two large sludge beds.

The plant represents a total cost of about $80,000, of which $25,000 was in the form of a grant from the federal government through the Texas State Department of Health. The city voted revenue bonds to finance its share of the cost.

Odd Accident Costs Utah Man Finger

A rare accident which occurred only a day after he and his family had arrived for a visit with his mother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lee White, Monday cost Billy Tucker, 31-year-old maintenance engineer with the El Paso Natural Gas Company at Montezuma, Utah, loss of the third finger on his left hand.

Flesh and some of the tendons were stripped from the finger when a steel band ring caught on a small projection of metal at the top of a steel truck ladder after his foot slipped from a lower rung. Mr. Tucker had made the ring himself.

He was taken to Comanche Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker and their three sons had flown to Comyn, Texas, from Utah to visit Mrs. Tucker's mother. From there they had driven to Rising Star Sunday and were preparing for a trip in the White's pick-up to visit other relatives in this section.

Monday morning Mr. White was preparing to haul water to an oil lease, and to help him prime the water pump on the truck, Mr. Tucker climbed the truck ladder and, using a hose filled the pump with water. When he started down the ladder his foot slipped and he fell, catching the ring on a very small bead of metal.

Meeting Called To Organize Youth Center

A meeting of parents, teenagers and others interested in the Youth Center has been called for Monday evening at 7:30 at the Youth Center building — the former post office building on South Main — for the purpose of organizing the center's activities and program.

A work party will also be set up to place the center in operation.

The center, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and located in the building, use of which is being donated by Mrs. D. Breeding, will provide chaperoned activities for teenagers of the community.

It is desired especially that the youngsters be present at the organizational meeting and also that adults who will agree to serve as chaperons be present.

Mrs. Bob Rahmlow of Terrell, Tex., was the Memorial week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. Lucy Boase. Mrs. Rahmlow, a teacher in the Terrell schools, will receive her master's degree from North Texas State University this summer.

Woman Hurt In Car Accident, Recovering

Sarah Mindieta, 23, of Rising Star, who suffered a broken arm in a one-car accident south of Rising Star about noon last Saturday, was in satisfactory condition at Rising Star hospital Wednesday. Bob Rivers, highway patrolman at Brownwood who investigated, said she lost control of the small foreign car she was driving about 1.4 miles south of Rising Star, and the car overturned on a country road. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

The woman's arm was badly cut, hospital reports said.

Mrs. C. M. Cox accompanied her son to Abernathy Monday, June 1, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Florene Forbes, and three children. Her son, the Rev. Robert Cox, left Tuesday for his home in California.

12th Rodeo Series Opener Sets Records

The 12th annual summer rodeo series sponsored by the Rising Star Roping Club got away to an auspicious start Saturday of last week.

The program got underway at 5 p. m. with the Wildcat Band leading the longest parade in the history of the series. Appearing in the parade were nine riding clubs and representatives of several others. Cross Plains Riding Club took first place and the Lone Ranger Riding Club from Ranger was awarded second place. Other clubs in the line of march were the Eastland County Sheriff's Posse, the Shackelford County 4-H Riding Club from Albany, the Gorman Riding Club, the May Riding Club, Byrd's Store Riding Club, the Rising Star Roping

Club and the Rising Star Junior Ropers. In addition there were representatives of the Callahan County Sheriff's Posse of Baird, the De Leon and Cisco Riding Clubs.

Threatening rain during the morning probably caused several other clubs, among them the Brady club, from making the trip. But even so the number of entries was the largest in the history of the rodeo. Both Cross Plains and Ranger clubs had 50 or more horses in the parade.

The winning clubs received their awards after the grand entry at the rodeo arena Saturday night from Jack Jackson, president, and Ed Witt, vice-president of the Rising Star sponsors.

There were 270 horses, the largest number ever, in the spectacular grand entry. A crowd which overflowed the stands and all available spectator space — a crowd estimated at 2,000 persons — witnessed the events.

Before the opening of the contests, officers and directors of the Rising Star Roping Club and others who have helped with staging the rodeo each summer were presented.

Besides Jackson and Witt, president and vice president, respectively, other officers introduced included Frank Hudler, secretary; C. A. Calborn, treasurer; Alma (Mrs. Virgil) Bramlett, who has served nine years as club sweetheart; Harry Frye and Doby Jones, timekeepers, Luke Harrison of El Paso, the only import, the clown; and riding judges, E. G. Roby and Alex Shocklee of Cross Plains.

The contest program was unusually long, due to the large number of entries in each event, and it was midnight before the last contest was completed.

First of the events was the boys and girls barrel races, in which there were 36 entries. Winners were Shirley White of Rising Star, 20.1 seconds; Dick Dickson, Cross Plains and Donna Whitlock, Rising Star, 21 seconds.

In the girls professional barrel races, Sue Miller of Baird and Dean Flenniken of Abilene tied for first with 18.7 seconds and Brenda Foster of Abilene was in second place with 18.9 seconds. (Continued on page six)

It's the Law in Texas

FOLLOW SIMPLE RULES
 IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Vacation time is here. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid: If someone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect the Scene From Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlights beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, highway patrolmen, sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information; Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver — and he must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury or death, or if total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., highway patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. Ralston Heads
 Mary Ann Circle

Mrs. Mable Ralston was elected chairman of the Mary Ann Circle of the First Methodist WMS at a called meeting of the circle at the home of Miss Mary Pearce May 26.

Other officers elected at the time are: Vice - Chairman, Miss Pearce; secretary of social concerns, Mrs. Grover Groce; chairman of finances, Mrs. Vada Arnold, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jay Koonce.

After the election of officers there were discussions of (1) how to raise money for the different projects of the women's division of the church, and (2) how to interest more young women in this important and satisfying work of the church.

After light refreshments and a period of fellowship, the circle adjourned.

AUSTIN—Your eyes are your window to the world. But, even if you are able to read this, your vision may still be defective.

Chances are slightly more than one out of two that something is wrong with your eyes, on the basis of statistics.

Close to 80 million Americans wear glasses. About one million persons are blind. Another 30,000 Americans become blind each year.

Unfortunately, many misconceptions and myths about eyes are still popular today.

Take eye strain, for example. Ophthalmologists — physicians who specialize in eye care — usually agree that there is no such thing as eye strain. Those pains and discomforts that sometimes follow long hours of watching a jumpy television screen are actually due to eye fatigue. Your eyes need to rest, too.

Children do not outgrow crossed eyes, and this condition should be treated as early as possible. Otherwise some loss of sight could result.

Good vision is important to safe driving of an auto, but perfect vision is by no means required. The driver who has a few drinks under his belt is much more dangerous than the nearsighted driver whose defect is reasonably well corrected with glasses.

You've probably heard that eating plenty of carrots is good for your eyes. Eating carrots, however, does not necessarily improve vision. Carrots do contain vitamin A, but only a very small amount of it is needed. And it is found in many of the foods we eat, as well as carrots.

Glaucoma—the most common of the serious eye diseases—cannot be cured. But it can usually be arrested by treatment, and further loss of vision can be prevented. Regular check-ups for glaucoma are most important, particularly to those past 40.

Children should have their first medical eye examination at the age of three or four, and should be re-examined each year. The small child may have grossly defective vision and not know it.

What can you do to protect your eyes and vision? Make sure that you and everyone in your family, especially the children, have regular eye checkups. Any noticeable change in vision is a definite tip-off that an examination is needed.

Brazil Missions
 Opportunity Studied

"Awakening Brazil — A Challenge to Advance," was the topic of the missionary program by the members of the WMS of the First Baptist Church Monday, June 1.

After a brief business session directed by Mrs. Jimmie Fridge, a call to prayer was observed and the program followed.

Talks on various topics related to the missionary opportunities in Brazil were given by various members of the society, sixteen of whom were present. The program was followed by a prayer period.

When the machine and its operator are in rapport, they make a most satisfying equation.

There are some good operators who learned their trade at the keyboard of the linotype machine in the Record in the forty years since it was installed during the regime of Doc Sellers. For some of them it has opened the door to higher education and to rewards for which they should and no doubt do hold in affectionate regard.

More Than 250
 Boy Scouts Due
 To Attend Camp

More than 250 boy scouts and their adult leaders are expected to attend Camp Billy Gibbons, the summer training camp provided by the Comanche Trail Council Boy Scouts of America. Three weeks of camping will be offered this year, with the first session opening Sunday afternoon, June 7.

As a part of the program services of the Comanche Trail Council, a trained staff of adults and young men is provided in the fields of Scoutcraft, aquatics, and field sports. Of this group, four have completed the intensive training offered by the National Camping School of the Boy Scouts of America.

Members of the 1964 Camp Billy Gibbons staff are camp director, John H. Pounds; program director, Roland McFarland, both members of the council's executive staff; Scoutcraft director Chris Luna of Killeen; assistant Scoutcraft director Mike Andrews of Stephenville; Scoutcraft instructors George Bolt of Gorman and Don Walske of Brownwood. Aquatic director Don Bailey is from Lampasas and will be assisted by Gene Curry of Austin, Jimmy Norris of Comanche, Jody Maness of Brownwood and Len Cedars of Stephenville. Handicraft instructor is Charles Mosley of Eastland, and operating the Trading Post will be "Skip" Anderson of Breckenridge. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Downey will again do the cooking and they will be assisted by Fred McCann of Lampasas and James D. Rogers of Brownwood.

"To a Boy Scout, summer camp is the greatest adventure Scouting holds," said Council Scout Commissioner Rio Cox. "The Scout camp helps a boy to grow-to become physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight-and to develop resourcefulness and self-reliance. He gains new Scoutcraft skills, learns teamwork, and brings out his character traits."

Boy Scout troops from the eight-county area served by the Comanche Trail Council—San Saba, Brown, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Lampasas, Mills, and Stephens — attend Camp Billy Gibbons with their own adult leaders, as part of their home town troops, and the Scout council provides a staff to assist the leaders in carrying out their troop's camping program. There are many opportunities for Scouts to advance in rank, and to learn new and better techniques in Scouting skills and aquatics.

Program equipment for the Scout's use has been expanded since last year by the addition of two more aluminum canoes (a gift of the Brownwood Kiwanis Club), four aluminum rowboats, and steel bullet traps for the rifle range (a gift, too, of Shelton Mfg. Co. and Ross Mfg. Co. of Brownwood).

4,320,100 persons received $262,766,000 in Dec. 1963 monthly benefits as survivors of those insured under social security.

Fire can destroy the Bond...
 but not your savings

All that the owner of this charred U.S. Savings Bond has to do is mail the remains to the Treasury Department, with as much more information as he can give—serial number, and date and place of issue. He'll get a fresh Bond to replace it. No charge.

The Treasury has grown accustomed to providing this sort of service. In the past 20 years it has replaced over 1,300,000 Savings Bonds that have been lost, stolen, burned or mistakenly tossed out with the trash.

Every U.S. Savings Bond sold is registered in the name of its owner, and a microfilm record made. So the government can check when, where, and in whose name a Bond was purchased—even if there isn't a burned crisp to send them.

This assurance against loss is another of the many reasons why Americans now hold over $47 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds. The money they're saving is providing for their personal security. And it's also helping to build the strength of America at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

U.S. Savings Bonds are a good way to provide for your future. Buy them where you bank or work.

Research shows that the average homemaker uses a knife about 32 times a day.

Unless she is unusual, she is likely to use the same three-inch paring knife to hack up a steak, slice jaggedly through a grapefruit or peel a peach.

Choose a knife designed to do a particular job. It will cut down on work and improves the food product.

A homemaker doesn't need every type of knife that cutlery manufacturers put on the market. A basic selection of kitchen knives that will expedite the various jobs may vary from family to family.

Here are the descriptions of eight basic knife types, along with information about some of the jobs they are designed to do.

Paring knife with a 3-or 3½ inch blade—has many uses, including peeling, paring and scraping small fruits and vegetables.

French chef's knife with an 8-inch blade—for dicing, chopping and mincing raw vegetables, fruits and nuts and carving hot roasts.

Carving knife, 7- to 9- inch blade—for heavier work, such as carving beef, veal, pork roasts and other hot meats.

Boning knife, 5- to 6- inch blade—for cutting around bones of hams, roasts, leg of lamb and other such cuts.

Utility knife or trimmer, 5- to 7-inch blade—for slightly heavier jobs—slicing carrots, potatoes, onions, oranges, green peppers.

Narrow slicer, 8-inch blade—for slicing steak, poultry, cold processed meats, sausage and some cheese.

Ham slicer, 9½- or 10-inch flexible blade—for getting wafer-thin slices of ham, boneless roast, turkey breasts, cold meats and the like.

Butcher knife, 7-inch blade—for dismembering poultry, other heavy-duty jobs.

J. B. Williams
Man for Sheriff

I deeply appreciate the confidence and friendship of those who supported me as a candidate for Sheriff in the first Democratic Primary election.

Since, as an experienced law enforcement officer, I know him to be the best qualified candidate, I am supporting J. B. WILLIAMS for Sheriff in the run-off Primary election on Saturday, June 6.

I respectfully urge my friends to consider his record and his qualifications and to vote for an experienced officer who will capably operate an active, aggressive and efficient Sheriff's department in the best interest of Eastland County and its citizens.

LVN Class Sees Childrens Home On Field Trip

The L. V. N. class of Brownwood with the teacher, Miss Myrtle Gilbreth, has completed its field trips for the pre-clinical period. The class has visited the sewage and waste disposal plant for the city of Brownwood. Here the operator explained the process by which the waste was treated and made safe and sanitary for persons as well as animals and wild life.

The second trip took the class to the water treatment plant where the water from Lake Brownwood, with its 136,000 acre feet runs through the canals to the plant. Due to the elevation of the lake the water does not have to be pumped to the plant but flows down hill the entire nine miles. Throughout the process of treating, the water is laboratory tested each two hours to insure a safe water supply for Brownwood.

The third and last tour took the class to the home for retarded children at Bangs. This home is two miles north of Bangs. It is a lovely and most peaceful place. The building looks like a dwelling not a hospital, and is surrounded by a lovely valley. This home takes care of about 39 children who have different afflictions. Some are deaf and dumb, others are mongoloid, and there are spastics, and one patient who is afflicted as a result of the mother's having German measles when she was six weeks pregnant. The class was told that had this child been developed to three months, his mother's illness would not have affected him. Coming to this home from New York, South America, Abilene, Brownwood, Mississippi, and Louisiana, the children are received with open arms and with loving care they find a world of their own. They are happy there for their needs are understood and supplied. For those who are active there is supervised recreation; for those who are nervous there is a room where they are kept for quiet rest. For those who will never know a world except their beds there, is loving care and nursing around the clock. Each of them had a smile for us as we watched them from the view window at play. They are happy and secure in this world at "Peaceful Valley." Each of us hope that each of us could take came away with a prayer in as much love and special care our hearts for those lovely lit- to our patients as is being giv- tle people and their gracious en daily at this home.—Mrs. supervisor, Mrs. Harris, and a Vernon Walker, Reporter.

More than 150 Congressmen and leaders from government, civic and public service groups attended the conference to assess the need for more riding facilities for America's 55 million riders. Dr. White and Secretary Udall urged the congressmen to provide more bike paths, trails and tracks when passing on legislation for road and school construction, urban renewal and park and recreation land development. Dr. White further urged local community leaders not to wait for government programs, but to begin now to provide such facilities on the local level.

In calling for more such facilities, Secretary Udall noted the progress already made by his department, and proposed still further integration of bicycling in future programs initiated by the Department of Interior.

Nine Per Cent Are Never Found Of Stolen Cars

AUSTIN, Texas — The "Mystery of the Missing Vehicles" has been baffling Texas Highway Department and police officials for a long time.

Each year approximately 17,000 automobiles are stolen in Texas. Most are recovered eventually, but a relatively large number — about nine per cent — never are found. They seem to vanish, like the vapor trail of a high-flying jet.

"We don't have even a single clue," says R. W. Townsley, Director of Motor Vehicle Division, Texas Highway Department.

Townsley is a member of the Texas Police Association's Major Crimes Committee. The committees holding seminars around the state to enlist the aid of small-town officials in watching for these and other stolen vehicles.

Police statistics show that an automobile is involved in over 90 per cent of major crimes committed in Texas, and it is through license plate identification that many a car has been traced and criminal apprehended. Hence Townsley's place on the committee.

None of the missing vehicles — in toto or in recognizable part — ever have turned up in Texas or in any surrounding states. It's as if they never had existed.

Usually, stolen vehicles turn up somewhere. Mexico, for instance. But our neighbors South of the Border haven't uncovered even one of the missing cars. Searching of junk yards has proved fruitless, too.

The wrecking yards are checked anyway by Department personnel. It's just policy. Current plates on wrecked automobiles are picked up by THD field men and destroyed on the spot, says Townsley, to prevent reuse of stolen automobiles.

Until 1961, scrapped cars — complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers — could be purchased for $50. To prevent both plates and papers from falling into the hands of auto theft rings, the Texas Legislature passed a law in 1961 requiring each salvage yard operator in Texas to remove immediately the current plates from any vehicle purchased as salvage. The plates and papers then are kept under lock and key until claimed by the Highway Department.

"We pick up an average of 10,000 titles and 3,000 current license plates per month," reveals Townsley.

Meanwhile, officials of the Texas Highway Department and the police seek a clue to the missing vehicles.

Rev. and Mrs. H. K. Neely and 3 children, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rising Star, and her mother, Mrs. Harry Schaefer of Cisco, visited friends here Sunday night.

Misses Miller and Flenniken split first and second money.

There were five entries in the junior steer riding event. No judging is done in this event.

The calf roping contest drew the largest number of entries — 43. Larry Hodges drew first money with a time of 10 seconds flat, and Tommy Bacon and Don Sims were second and third, respectively, with times of 11.2 and 11.8 seconds.

In the bronc riding event which drew eight entries, Bob Golson of Cross Plains was the only contestant to make a ride.

Wayne Stewart of Ranger and Ronnie Graves of Comanche were first and second respectively in the bull riding event which likewise drew eight entries.

In the night-cap event, the jackpot roping, Billy Rippey, Clay McGraw and Tommy Bacon survived a field of 40 entries to take first, second and third place money. Rippey's time was 10 seconds, McGraw roped and tied his calf in 10.9 seconds and Bacon made his tie in 11 seconds.

There will be a rodeo performance Friday night of each week at the arena during the summer.

COOK Electrically WITH PLANNED
FLAMELESS STORED HEAT

If dinner is cooking, and you're running late (to pick up the children at school, hubby at work, or attend a club meeting) flameless electric cooking allows you to leave home earlier.

A flameless electric oven is insulated on SIX sides, and uses current only 15 minutes out of each hour to maintain pre-set temperature. You can turn it off completely, and food will continue to cook at pre-set temperature for 30 minutes. A flameless electric surface unit maintains pre-set temperature 5 minutes after electric energy is turned off.
