Through the Editor's Specs

By BAR

Quite a number of Rising Star people last week decided they could do with less traffic and more highway. While it has long been known to those of us who live or do business on College Street — the route of State 36 through the city—that there are unpteen trucks and twice as many cars moving over that street every few minutes, it took a torn up pavement and a detour to make that fact convincingly evident to citizens in some of the quieter residential sections of the city.

The world do move, sometimes in irritating if necessary ways.

Many a housewife along South

Anderson street and other streets through which "36" traffic was temporarily detoured, hung up her broom and put down her dust cloths with a sigh of relief when West College was again opened to traffic Friday. For days while contractors, state highway engineers and city employees struggled with dirt, broken mains and mud, a stream of big trucks, gravel dumpers and cars made a river of noise and dust through the narrow residential thoroughfares in Southwest Rising Star. Even so, the detours missed the biggest of the trucks which normally roar through Rising Star when 36 is in full operation. The biggest part of the truck traffic took other routes.

Rising Star lost nothing in the way of traffic when the railroad was removed a number of years ago. What it lost in that removal has been multiplied many times in the tonnage which daily passes over 36 is about 1,800 units, a great percentage of them trucks which would outweigh many of the old time freight cars. Probability is that when the present work of rebuilding 36 from here to Pioneer is completed—and what a first-class, beautiful and wide pavement it will be—the amount of traffic will increase. The route links two great traffic producing areas, the Houston industrial section and the Panhandle.

Highways are a great blessing, indispensable to our motor economy. They bring the world to our door. But a lot of folks do it as quietly as possible. In Rising Star, would prefer engineers tell me that the section under reconstruction will probably be completed, paved and all incidental inconveniences forgotten come September. It will be something to be proud of.

As you may read in this issue of the Record, a serious danger from rabid foxes and possibly other animals, wild and domestic, has presented itself in this area. It would be well to use care when moving about where there is cover or a any chance that a crazed animal will attack. Children are particularly susceptible to being bitten and, of course, there is always danger that dogs or other house or yard pets will be infected by rabid skunks, foxes, rats, etc.

John Nunnally, Rising Star American Legion post commander and Legion service officer for this precinct, has received a copy of a letter written the County Judge and Commissioners commending in high terms the work of the five service officers in the county. The letter from W. H. McGregor, department commander, declares that these men are "among those individuals whom we feel richly deserve every commendation we can bestow" because "they work for the good they can do. Their reward lies in the happiness they bring to the lives of distressed veterans, and in the smiles on the faces of widows and orphans."

You will be interested to know that the benefits paid by the Veterans Administration to veterans and their dependents in the Rising Star area amount to over $32,000 per month.

Mr. and Mrs. James Isabell and two daughters, Brenda and Janet, from Brady, visited their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lockhart, over the week end.

Rising Star Duchess and Escort Attend Court of Queen at De Leon

Wednesday afternoon and evening were due to be very busy times for Rising Star's duchess to the Court of the Queen of the De Leon Peach and Melon Festival at De Leon. The duchess, Miss Johnnie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Harris of this city, and her escort, James Merrill of Pioneer, were among a court that included duchesses and their escorts from

Two More Performances End Rodeos

This week and one more. Then the summer long series of Friday night rodeos will come to an end, a series that will compare very well with others of which have been held during the nine or so years that the Rising Star Roping Club has been sponsoring the weekly programs.

Crowds have been good, contests have been spirited and there have been few accidents of any consequence.

In the contests last Friday night Sharon Donham and Linda Koonce finished one-two in the girls and boys barrel racing with times of 21.1 and 21.9 seconds respectively. In the girls professional open races Sue Alvin took first money with a time of 19.7 seconds. An unusual three-way tie split second and third money. Cassie Wilhelm, Brenda Foster and Ruth Foster each rode the course in 20.2 seconds.

In the calf roping event Peyton Whitaker of Abilene was first with 11.5 seconds; Miles Sims second with 12.8 and John Burrows third with 12.9 seconds. Randy Johnson carried off first honors in bareback bronc riding with Bob Golson taking second.

John Burrows took the money in goat roping and in bull riding Andy Lindsey and Richard Hand finished first and second respectively.

In the jack pot final event Burrows also took first money in a time of 13 seconds. He was followed by Horace Gibbs and Sonny Phillips with times of 13.3 and 13.7 in order.

Lions Club to Sell Light Bulbs On September 12

The Rising Star Lions Club will sell light bulbs on September 12 as a means of raising funds with which to meet its project obligations. It was decided at the meeting of the club at the Elementary School cafeteria Monday evening.

Miss Linda Koonce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Koonce, was elected sweetheart of the club. Miss Koonce will succeed Miss Janis Jones, daughter of Supt. of Schools and Mrs. Sam Jones, who has been sweetheart of the club since its organization. Miss Jones who will make her last appearance with the club as sweetheart at the August 22 meeting, will go to college this fall.

Wildcats Open Grid Season Work Aug. 15

With a squad that includes ten lettermen among eight seniors and nine juniors due to report for the start of the 1960 football season at Rising Star High School next week, Coach Weldon Hill and Homer Putman have what are admitted to be the best prospects for a winning football team at the school in many years.

It is a squad with experience, weight and ability in all departments. "If the boys deliver what they are capable of delivering," said Hill, "we have a good chance of winning the district. They seem to be ready to go."

The Wildcats play their first game with the Melvin Tigers at Melvin on September 2. Both of their next games—with Bangs and Santa Anna—will be played away from home so that it will not be until September 23, when their old rivals, the Class A Cross Plains Buffaloes come here, that home town fans will get a chance to see them on home sod. Thereafter most of the games will be played at home.

Coach Hill has called for the boys to report at the High School gym at 5 p.m. Monday, August 15, for issuance of equipment. Thereafter, organized practice will be held each evening at 5 o'clock until the start of school on August 23.

There are no plans at present for organized morning workouts, he said.

The team will average overall about 165 pounds, an excellent high school average. There will be plenty of weight in the line with several experienced boys weighing in the neighborhood of 200 and 190 pounds. Among these are Tom Hardin, a junior, and Larry Nichols, a senior.

Following are members of the squad as now known, with their probable positions and weights: Seniors—Coy Edmiston, full back, 200; Douglas Atwood, new senior, end, 160; Juniors—Larry Harding, center or end, 150; Skipper Ezzell, guard, 155; Johnny Jones, quarter, 135; Dickie Morrow, half, 135; Butch Butler, center, 190; Franklin Cox, tackle, 150; Joe Edmiston, half, 150; Worley Maynard, end, 140; Larry Nichols, guard or back, 170; Sophs.—Kenneth Nunnally, back, 150; Covie Weaver, lineman, 125; Darvin Cain, lineman, 145; Charles Wade, backfield, 120; Ted Cawley, quarter, 135; Jimmy Wilson, tackle, 160; Kenneth Pittman, end, 140; Mack Harris, back, 130; Two freshmen, Roger Goodwin, lineman, and Jimmy Rutledge, lineman.

Classes Will Begin Monday, August 29th

Registration of students for Rising Star High School for the 1960-61 term will take place on Friday, August 26, according to a schedule announced this week by Supt. Sam Jones.

Mr. Jones said that he anticipates the enrollment in the schools, both high and elementary, will hold about equal with that of last year when there was a daily average attendance of slightly under 330 students. New families moving in have about balanced the number of scholars lost, he said.

Regular classes will begin on Monday, August 29, with a full bus schedule and lunch room service. Lunch room prices to students will be the same as last year, or 25 cents per meal. The school day will begin at 8:15 a.m. and classes will be dismissed at 4 p.m. each day.

First of the opening program will be a general faculty meeting at 9 a.m. on August 26. The registration schedule will be as follows:

Seniors—10 a.m. to 11 a.m.; Juniors—11 a.m. to 12 noon; Sophomores—2 p.m. to 3 p.m.; Freshmen—3 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Monday, September 5, Labor Day, will be observed as a holiday. Other holidays during the year will be:

November 24 and 25—Thanksgiving; December 22 through January 2—Christmas;

March 10—Oil Belt Teachers meeting; March 31 and April 3—Easter.

Due to the early beginning of school the term will close earlier than usual. High school graduation will be held on May 19. Baccalaureate services will take place May 14 and elementary school graduation exercises on May 18.

The faculty is complete. No "unders" will be accepted in the first grade this year, the superintendent said. Students eligible to begin school this year—those six or before September 1—must bring copies of their birth certificates, he said.

Rabies Found in Fox Killed at Rutledge Home

A fox, killed at the home of Mrs. Roy Rutledge Friday of last week, was found to have rabies, according to a report from the State Health Department at Austin where the fox head was sent by the Brownwood veterinarian. The department advised Mrs. Rutledge to notify her neighbors in order that they might take proper precautions with respect to livestock, pets and other animals which might have become infected.

Mrs. Rutledge told the Record she was watering flowers in her yard when the fox came out of brush on her farm and was immediately chased by her dog. The fox ran under her car and the dog was seized by the lip. Mrs. Rutledge seized a hoe and struck at the fox which ran into the garage with the dog in pursuit. In the garage Mrs. Rutledge was able to hit the animal on the head, stunning it, and the dog was able to kill it quickly.

On the advice of a Brownwood veterinarian whom she called, Mrs. Rutledge sent the fox head to the veterinarian who sent it to Austin. The report of the health department said that the rabies test showed positive.

Mrs. Rutledge is taking all precautions advised by a doctor and the veterinarian with respect to her dog and members of her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harris also reported killing a fox which acted rather strangely at their home last week. They first noticed it when their household cats began worrying something under a shrub in their yard. A young fox, which seemed to have been starving, left the bush and walked through the garden, where it turned around and looked at Mrs. Harris. She called her husband who shot at with a 22 rifle.

None of the cats was bitten, Mrs. Harris said, but she and Mrs. Harris are watching them closely.

WEEK-END FARM MOVEMENT

What is happening in the purchase of farm and ranch lands by city dwellers in Texas has been amply demonstrated in a study made not long ago in Dallas.

It is figured that more than 25,000 Dallas County farmers now own farm and ranch lands adding up to some 3,000,000 acres, and most of this acreage is located outside of Dallas County. The holdings include wheat farms in the Panhandle, irrigated cotton fields out on the South Plains and elsewhere in West Texas, citrus groves in the Rio Grande Valley, pastures and grazing land in all sections of the State.

The vast majority of these landowners are week-end farmers and ranchers, maintaining their homes in Dallas and its suburbs where they make their living. Real estate dealers agree that the growing systems of super-highways and excellent roads out of Dallas have brought about definite changes in the demands of these city-dwelling farmers and ranchers.

It used to be that a radius of about 40 miles outside of the city limits of Dallas was as far as these buyers wanted to go to maintain their rural retreats. But the vast development of the highways system has changed all this. The circle has been greatly expanded, moving out to a 100-mile radius and now spreading out still further to 150 to 200 miles.

One Dallas real estate dealer reported that out of 321 ranch-sales he has completed since 1951, all except two of the buyers lived in Dallas. All but one of the farms and ranches he sold were located outside of the boundaries of Dallas County.

Aside from the facts reported on week-end farming and ranching, the same survey brought out that agribusiness is one of the most vital concerns of the metropolitan existence of Dallas. It was found that 86,000 individuals in Dallas County—out of every four workers in the county—earned their living either directly or indirectly from agribusiness. Their earnings amounted to $410,000,000 in the year under study, with food processing alone accounting for 11,000 workers.

With agriculture turning more and more to machinery and technology in the new decade of the sixties, it can be expected that the flow of agribusiness into Dallas—as well as into the other major centers of Texas—will continue to grow and expand.

Doss Alexander Named on County FHA Committee

Appointment of James Doss Alexander as a member of the Farmers Home Administration county committee was announced this week by H. P. Cole, the agency's county supervisor serving Eastland county.

Mr. Alexander owns and operates a farm and ranch four miles west of Rising Star. Mr. Alexander has been an outstanding farmer in his community for the past 30 years. He has been active in promoting pecan and fruit orchards and the quality of livestock in his community.

Two other members make up the 3-member committee which works with the county supervisor to see that the best possible use is made of the agency's farm credit service program consistent with local farmers' needs. The other two members are Frank H. Park, Carbon, and Duward B. Warren, Gorman. Mr. Warren will serve as committee chairman during the next, or 1961, fiscal year.

Each member is appointed for a 3-year term. Mr. Alexander succeeds Charles D. Ballew whose 3-year term expired this year.

The committee determines eligibility of individual applicants for all types of loans. It also reviews borrowers' progress and aids the county supervisor in adapting the agency's loan policies to conditions faced by farmers in this area. Members are selected and appointed so that, so far as possible, different areas or neighborhoods are represented.

The Farmers Home Administration makes annual or intermediate term loans to farmers who need adequate funds to buy equipment and livestock, and longer term loans to build or repair houses and other essential farm buildings, and to purchase or improve land suitable for family-type farm operations.

It also advances credit to farmers or their non-profit associations to establish and carry out approved soil and water conservation practices, and to install and improve irrigation and farmstead water facilities.

MRS. DAVID BRAUNGARDT

McCullum-Braungardt Nuptials Are Solemnized in Garden Setting July 30

Miss Doris Sue McCullum and Dr. David Braungardt were married at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 30, in a garden wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCullum.

The setting was very beautiful with the bridal aisle formed by hurricane candle light. The prie-dieu of white wrought iron was lighted by 14 votive candles. White glads, stephanotis, roses were used in the floral arrangements.

Rev. A. A. Braungardt of Shawnee, Oklahoma, father of the groom officiated.

The bride was Miss Shirley Mae Koonce of Houston, Texas. She wore a beige lace over and under gown. The bride's maid was Wallace Hunter of Houston, Texas.

Ushers were Don Wilson, Jim Lyles, all of Houston.

Linda J. Koonce was organist, and Julie Watkins sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

Mrs. Mary Ida Brown read the sonnet "How Do I Love Thee?"

marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of peau de soie. The figurine bodice had a Sabrina neckline. The short, crushed sleeves were complemented by long white kid gloves. The back emphasis was of French covered buttons to the waist line, where the bustle effect was caught by a large flat bow, allowing the skirt to extend into a chapel-length train. She wore a diamond pendant, a gift from the groom, and carried a handkerchief, which belonged to the groom's sister, and the gloves which she wore in Miss Texas pageant.

The bride carried a bouquet of white glads and stephanotis, centered by a white rose on a white Bible.

A reception was given in the front garden with Mrs. Mary Brown, Miss Barbara Lutey, Misses Linda Koonce and Julie Watkins serving the punch and wedding cake. Mrs. Dorothy McKinnerney presided at the wedding book.

When the couple left for a trip to Colorado, the bride wore a beige silk sheath with black accessories.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

You've heard it or read it dozens of times...

A young dog or cat is bitten by a dog or cat which promptly disappears. A public appeal is made for help in locating the offending animal, lest the child has to undergo "painful" rabies shots.

State health officials are the first to agree that such public appearances are highly beneficial. But those same officials do not mince words in denouncing the "painful" label as grossly inaccurate.

Why are no more painful than any other immunizing injections, and less so than some shots which are accepted with philosophical cheerfulness.

Ask Dr. B. Rich, director of the State Health Department's veterinary public health division, or Dr. W. Huff, a veterinarian who is in his career of some 30 years has autopsied well over 97,000 animal heads for rabies. Both men can speak with the authority that comes only with first-hand experience.

Once while in private practice, Dr. Rich examined a dog for tonsillitis. The very next day the animal displayed typical signs of rabies. Since he had a scratch on his hand, prudence demanded that Dr. Rich take the shots. He says he found them to be almost painless beyond the initial brief prick of the needle.

Huff echoes the same sentiment. He ought to know—since he has had to take a 21-shot course of treatment on four separate occasions. Anyone who handles his volume of autopsy work—from African Lions to Alaskan wolves—is bound to be exposed on occasion.

Has the "pain" label dissuaded anyone from taking the shots when they should have? There is no way of knowing. But Dr. Rich says he can readily imagine how it could happen. From this point of view, the inaccurate label is dangerous since rabies is endemic over most of Texas—particularly among wildlife, primarily foxes and skunks. A total of 567 positive cases were reported last year, and for the first 6 months of this year 357 positive cases have been diagnosed.

Rabies vaccination carries a slight risk of reaction, so should never be given thoughtlessly. It should always be given in cases of exposure to an apprehended animal known to be rabid, or an unapprehended animal in regions where rabies is known to exist. (A feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Mrs. Annie Bucy Hailey, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. (Mary) W. P. Wilson and Mrs. (Dorothy) H. Glover, all of Dallas, visited Mr. and Mrs.

J. R. Bucy, Mrs. Cecil Joyce and Miss Mina Roblnson and other relatives here during the past week.

Social Security Has 25th Birthday On August 14, 1960

The Rising Star Record was reminded this week by H. L. Weatherly, field representative from the Abilene Social Security office that August 14 marks the 25th anniversary of the original Social Security Act. For the past quarter of a century social security has been serving American families.

He gave the following sketch of the history of the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance provisions of the Act: 1935 and 1936 were used to plan operations. On Jan. 1, 1937, the Act became effective, with first social security deductions for retirement benefits made from wages and matched by employers. Aug. 1939, Amendments added dependents of wage-earners, retired or deceased. Jan. 1940, first monthly benefits payable, two years earlier than originally planned. August, 1946, first military service credits provided. Jan. 1951, first coverage for any self-employed person (most professional self-employed excluded), for full time farm and household employees, for state and local governments and employees of non-profit organizations (on optional basis). Jan. 1955, coverage began for farmers, for part-time farm and household workers; first disability freeze provision. Jan. 1956, coverage extended to all self-employed persons except doctors of medicine. Nov. 1956, first payment to women age 62 (actuarially reduced for wives and women workers, no reduction for widows). Jan. 1957, first payments to disabled adult children; military coverage on compulsory, contributory basis. July 1957, first disability payments at age 50. Sept. 1958, benefits possible for dependents of disability beneficiaries; insured status requirements for disability somewhat liberalized.

During the past 20 years the number of persons receiving benefits in Eastland county has reached 2,718, with a monthly income of $143,247.00, or over 1/2 million dollars per year.

Mrs. L. E. Hagaman of Okra visited her sister, Mrs. Elgie Sp., Tuesday.

EFFECT OF SAWING ON THE APPEARANCE OF WOOD

The grain appearance of a piece of wood is largely determined by the way in which the log was cut. Cross cutting exposes the end grain. This is the surface seen on meat blocks used by butchers.

Lumber is never manufactured by sawing across the grain. It is always sawn parallel to the grain or lengthwise of the log. However, sawing in this manner can produce two distinctly different types of wood grain. When sawing the outer portion of the log, the cut parallels the annual growth rings of the tree. Lumber of this origin is called plain-sawn or flat-grained. As the sawing approaches the center of the log, the cut crosses the annual growth rings. That type of lumber is called quarter-sawn, edge-grained, or vertical grain-ed.

Only a small amount of lumber is purposely quarter-sawn. For most purposes, lumber with either type of grain is satisfactory. But, for uses requiring heavy wearing qualities, such as for flooring, quarter-sawn lumber is best. Such lumber also shrinks less in width, and splits and twists less than plain sawn lumber. The advantages of using quarter-sawn lumber for flooring and similar specialized uses more than offsets the additional cost required.

Time to Stop Turning Cheek, Says Bureson

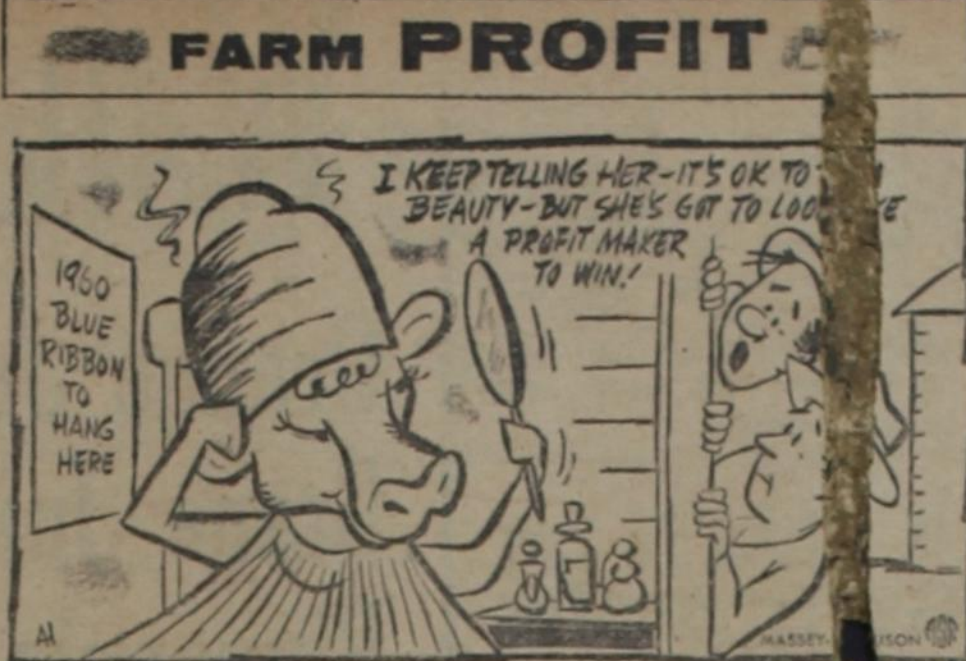

STEPHENVILLE.—It is time for the United States to adopt a policy of not turning the other cheek, Congressman Omar Bureson of Anson declared Friday afternoon in a talk to members of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Assn.

The members of the house foreign affairs committee said the hurry up spirit of Americans does not work in the field of foreign affairs. Americans are concerned greatly about Russia, the speaker said, but Great Britain has had a problem with Russia for more than 100 years. Hind sight is always 20-20, Bureson said. Russia's aims should have been apparent to all in 1877 when the Bolsheviks took over that nation, he continued. Conditions in Russia in 1917 were just like the conditions in Cuba today, he declared.

"When a nation is not friendly with this nation it is time for us to take that nation off the payroll", Bureson said. Congressman Bureson's talk followed a barbecue at the city park for members of the peanut producers association and guests.

Earlier in the day Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco spoke to the peanut growers in the agriculture auditorium on the Tarleton State College campus.

The vice-chairman of the house agriculture committee described the peanut as one of the world's most versatile foods. He said the peanut growers haven't received the recognition in congress they should have received. Every year there is some kind of an effort made in con-

Judges Are Choosing The Profit Maker

This year, at county fairs all over the country, steers which win championships are going to carry less fat and greater weight for their ages, according to reports by leading judges who answered to a poll by a Massey-Ferguson research team.

The judges say they'll look for meatiness and muscling in hogs as they have the past several years. Cows must be lean with large bodies and large body capacities and big, well-attached udders to merit a judge's pat on the rump.

In short, this year judges will emphasize profit-making characteristics more than ever before.

W. J. Largent of Raton, N.M., a judge at the International Livestock Exposition, described the steer he will choose. "The animal that excels in the high price cuts but is not overdone, has a firm, elastic touch and very little waste is the top steer."

"The main difference between judging hogs in 1960 compared with some years ago is that we are putting more emphasis on natural muscling and meatiness and desire only sufficient finish to produce quality pork cuts," says R. G. Plager of John Morrill & Company.

Dr. R. P. Niedermeier of the University of Wisconsin cast his vote in the dairy cattle judging with these words: "The mammary system and body capacity are probably the best indicators of a cow's production."

Freedom from excessive flesh also is usually characteristic of high producers.

If your dairy heifer or gilt or baby beef isn't as beautiful as some of your friends, don't despair. The judges may decide that it'll produce more meat or milk than its beautiful cousin and send you to the state fair after all.

gress to eliminate peanuts from the price support program, Poage said.

Congressman Poage emphasized the need for uniform grading rules across the country. He said he is concerned by the discrimination against Southwestern peanuts because of lack of uniform grading rules.

"The basic problem of agriculture is income", Poage said. The speaker then went on to quote figures showing the importance of income from agriculture to other lines of business. When farm income is increased the income of business increases, the congressman said.

When E. J. Howell, president of Tarleton State College, welcomed the peanut growers to Stephenville and the TSC campus he extended an invitation for them to hold their 1961 annual meeting in Stephenville. The auditorium was full when the general session of the annual meeting, started Friday morning. Included in the audience were a number of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation officials, county agents, and others interested in agriculture.

The annual meeting closed with demonstrations of peanut equipment at the city park and a meeting in the college auditorium to discuss the program of the Southwest Peanut Research Foundation.

Fred Geye, Uncle Of Rising Star Man, Eulogized

The following article concerning the death of Fred Geye, uncle of H. L. Geye, Rising Star high school agriculture teacher, appeared in the Comanche Chief of last week.)

Fred Geye, a long-time resident and prominent citizen of the Carlton Community died at his home in Carlton Saturday afternoon, July 30 at two o'clock. Mr. Geye had been in declining health for over four years, but his condition became very serious the last few weeks prior to his death.

A funeral service largely attended and a comforting and impressive message conducted by Minister Willingham of Hico and assisted by Reverend Eddie Hickenbaker of Carlton was held in the Carlton Church of Christ a four o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Those who performed the service of pallbearers were: Horace Geye, Otis Ray Helms, Mack Taylor, Geye Taylor, Alston Denman and A. B. Denman, all nephews of Mr. Geye. Burial was in the Carlton cemetery.

Mr. Geye was born October 17, 1878 near Lamkin, Texas. He was the son of Abe Geye and Martha Nix. On August 20, 1911 he was married to Carrie Johnson at Carlton. To this union were born five children, one of which died in infancy. Mr. Geye is survived by his wife and four children. Two sons: Raymond Geye of Lufkin, Noland Geye of Cleburne. Two daughters: Mrs. Paul Warren of Dublin and Mrs. Ruth Self of Carlton, ten grandchildren and a great granddaughter.

Also surviving are one brother, Martin Geye of Lamkin, five sisters, Mrs. Annie Denman, Lamkin, Mrs. A. K. Taylor, Lamkin; Mrs. J. O. Helms, Evant; Mrs. C. M. Stoyl, Aniston, Alabama, and Mrs. Bertha Mehaffey of Gorman. All of whom were present for the funeral except Mrs. Stoyl of Alabama.

Mr. Geye was a charter member of the Church of Christ at Carlton where he served and very faithfully until he became a shut-in. An outstanding characteristic of Mr. Geye's earthly tenure was his staunch and exemplary Christian life, and his loyalty and devotion to his family.

During Mr. Geye's fifty-one years of residing in the Carlton community, most of the early was spent as a Rural Mail Carrier.

Out of town relatives attending the funeral were: Mrs. J. B. Maples, Newburg; William Farrar, Comanche; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Harper, Gorman; Horace Geye, Rising Star; Mr. and Mrs. Vesta Day and children of Comanche; Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Geye and sons, Comanche.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene O'Neal and son, Stephenville; Mrs. Martin Geye and Coman Geye of Lamkin, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Denman of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Alston Denman, A. K. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Sills and son, all of Lamkin.

J. O. Helms and Otis Ray Helms of Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Geye Taylor and Linda of Potts-ville, Mrs. Curtis Trout, Hamilton, Mrs. Dave Goodwin and children of Gorman, and a large host of friends including A. W. Boyd of Stephenville and members of the Highway Department of Erath, Hood, Fort Worth and Johnson Districts all who are friends and co-workers of Mr. Geye, Senior Maintenance Foreman of the Highway Department of Johnson County.

Source of Stock Fish Important, Says Specialist

COLLEGE STATION.—Would a farmer sow a field of oats and then deliberately sow crabgrass in the same field? Of course not—this would be very poor management. Many farmers, who however, have their farm ponds properly stocked, and then add fish from another pond from a river or from the millow bucket. This is also poor management, but Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says this practice is one of the main reasons why many farm ponds are worthless for fishing.

Cooper says that fish obtained from sources other than hatcheries usually contain undesirable species such as shad, cat, suckers, gar, mud-cat, etc. These undesirable species will compete with the game fish for food, they will eat young game species, some will muddy the pond water, and all will be a general nuisance to the fisherman.

Another erroneous practice is to add grown fish to a freshly stocked pond, Cooper continues. This is usually done so that the owner can "catch some big fish while the small ones are growing up." The owner must remember that the grown fish have to eat, and in all probability they will eat the hatchery fingerlings. With this situation, it wouldn't be very long before the farmer had no fish, large or small, in his pond.

Pond owners are usually worried by the fact that the hatchery fish are very small when they arrive, and there doesn't seem to be enough of them. Cooper points out, if the pond is managed properly, these fingerlings will be reproducing the following year, and then the problem will be too many fish rather than not enough.

Hatcheries provide the right kinds and numbers of fish to the pond owner, and any other fish which are added will usually have a detrimental effect. Once a pond is properly stocked, there is no good reason to add more fish, Cooper concludes.

Mrs. Miley Wilson, a vocational nurse, is working in the May Rest Home in the place of Miss Myrtle Brown, who is on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fussell are on vacation this week. Mr. Fussell is employed by the Butler Motor Co.
