Agreements And Disagreements At County Commissioners Meeting

Eastland County Commissioners Monday made agreements with Precincts 2 (Ranger), 3 (Rising Star, Carbon, Gorman) and 4 (Cisco) to subsidize Emergency Medical Services for the next fiscal year.

Each Precinct will be given $15,000 for the operation. Final details will be worked out, and the contacts with the Precincts are expected to be signed soon.

Ranger was represented by Delbert Cozart, Cisco by City Manager Mike Moore, and Rising Star by Frances Agnew. The subsidy in Pct. 3 will be equally divided between the Rising Star Volunteer Ambulance and the Gorman and Carbon Fire Departments, Pct. 3 Commissioner L. T. Owen said.

No agreements were reached with Pct. 1 however, where an Ambulance Service is operated out of Eastland Memorial Hospital. Heated words were exchanged, and at the end of a long session District Attorney Leslie Vance was requested to negotiate with Hospital Board Chairman Bill Hoffmann and reach a workable solution.

The City of Eastland and the Hospital Board have already approved a contract to ensure that the ambulance service "breaks even." The City has budgeted up to $18,000 for its half of any possible deficit.

Bill Hoffmann made a formal presentation of this contract to the County Commissioners, stating that this was the same contract the Commissioners had previously agreed to. No cap on the subsidy is listed in the contract.

"I made it very clear (July 22) that what we were asking for was a break-even contract," Hoffmann said.

Pct. 4 Commissioner Reggie Pittman replied that each contract should be left at $15,000 - the same for each Precinct.

Comm. Pct. 1 Richard Robinson said that the Commissioners thought they had made it clear that the Court was putting a $15,000 cap on the ambulance contract.

Comm. L. T. Owen asked Hoffmann: "Is your contract an open-ended contract?"

Hoffmann answered that the ambulance budget had been pared to the "bare bone."

Robinson told Hoffmann: "Our legal counsel (District Attorney Leslie Vance) says we're making a mockery of the budget process if we hand you a blank check."

Pct. 2 Commissioner Calvin Ainsworth suggested that Ranger and Cisco Ambulance Services could cover Eastland if a contract isn't signed by Oct. 1.

Doctor Bob Alexander replied that such an arrangement would be "woefully inadequate."

The Commissioners suggested that Eastland Memorial Hospital take the $15,000 budgeted by the County, the $18,000 from the city, and run the service as long as they could with that.

"In an emergency you could always come back and request more funds," several members of the Court said.

"What guarantee do we have that you would be willing to do that?" Hoffmann asked.

Other Hospital and City Representatives stated their feelings on the reliability of the Commissioners Court.

"The City and Hospital works well together, but everything the County does is always negative," the Commissioners were told.

Eastland Mayor C. W. Hoffmann told the Court that the City of Eastland has an attorney and he had no trouble with the contract being presented to the Court.

"This is a money decision, not a legal one," replied District Attorney Leslie Vance. "The $18,000 the City budgeted doesn't mean one thing, with no cap. If it's $400,000 (a deficit) you're liable for it."

Hoffmann told Vance and the Court that what they had essentially done (by not agreeing to the contract) was to require the Hospital to stop the Ambulance Service.

"Well, we catch it no matter what we're doing," Calvin Ainsworth answered.

Richard Robinson said he had "a lot of people jump on me over that proposed tax raise to pay for the $15,000 subsidy."

Both he and Ainsworth stated that people wanted no more taxes, "whether they have an ambulance service or not."

Outside the Court County Auditor Ray Pruitt showed some of his characteristic optimism and perspective.

"I think they (the D.A. and Hoffmann) are going to work something out," he said.

The Rising Star ISD Will Conduct Gifted Student Program

Will Elect Officers Sept. 5

Local Firefighters Aim to Add to Membership, Fix Hydrants and More

President of Rising Star Firefighters Association David Scoville thanks James Ramsay, manager of Rising Star Branch of Peoples State Bank, Clyde for a donation that enabled three firefighters to attend training school in July.

The group will elect officers Sept. 5.

Rising Star Volunteer Firefighters Association, chartered in the spring, has set reducing Rising Star's fire insurance rate as top priority in its goals. As with any volunteer community project, help is needed. Cooperation is vital to changing the unprotected status of the town.

To meet the requirements of the State Board of Insurance, which sets fire insurance rates, several rules must be met.

1. Physical attendance of a required number of persons at meetings must be made on a regular and ongoing basis.

However, membership in this volunteer group need not be limited to those who hook up fire hoses and aim the nozzles:

*Mechanical work on equipment to keep fire trucks operational is one need; already, the pumper has had quite a bit of work done on it to get it going again.

*Workers are needed for updating the fire hydrants; some can be repaired and some must be replaced.

*Paperwork is a necessary evil for fire departments and reports must be filed quarterly with the state; the firefighters appreciate volunteer Shirley Leonard for answering this need.

*Volunteer fire groups need money to operate; committee members to work on fundraising projects are needed.

*National Fire Prevention Week is in October and the group would like to sponsor a poster contest for school students and give a demonstration on fire prevention; committee members to set up these projects and help carry them out are needed.

*Advice from older citizens who have had experience in fire fighting can be an invaluable aid to a group which needs the inexperienced to fill out its membership requirements.

Members to fill these needs and others will not be expected to take part in actual fire fighting.

2. Of course, firefighters are needed and educating the firefighters is needed. Training sessions of members must be held on a regular and ongoing basis. Three members of the group, Donnett Nall, David Scoville and Paul Owen, attended fire training school at Texas A&M University in July and the Rising Star Branch of Peoples State Bank made a donation to fund this and other activities.

Several members of the group are attending a four-night school in Abilene this week. The 12-hour course, sponsored by Texas A&M Extension Service, covers rescue and hazardous materials and provides actual fire fighting experience.

3. The water system must meet state requirements. Work is being done on fire hydrants and funds have been allocated by the City of Rising Star to purchase both parts and new fire hydrants. Some of the current hydrants are 40 years old and no longer work. Some hydrants do not put out enough water to put out a fire.

President of the association David Scoville is completing a survey of the positions and needs of the fire hydrant system. The group will use the survey and map Scoville is updating to set up a pattern for hydrant work.

4. Fire trucks must be certified. As mentioned earlier, work has been done on the pumper; more is needed for it to be certified.

The forms used by the state's inspector list many other items in addition to those named, which are of major importance.

Rising Star Firefighters Association members have pledged their efforts in serving the population of Rising Star and protecting life and property to the best of their ability.

Make plans to join this group and have a part in helping the fire protection program meet state requirements. Meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at City Hall at 7 p.m. and new officers will be elected at the next meeting, September 5.

Members to fill these needs and others will not be expected to take part in actual fire fighting.

Star Pride Update

Last Wednesday a small group of Star Pride members met at Peoples State Bank to finalize plans for the group's fund-raiser.

The fund-raiser was actually two-in-one. The bake sale was held in front of the Ole Store and the car wash was located at the Exxon Station, Hwy 183 N.

Each phase of the Star Pride Fund-raiser was a huge success! Star Pride could not have done it all without lots of help from many people. We would like to thank them at this time: Helen Donham, chair person of the bake sale and her helpers Cora Harrell, Janell Caudle, Polly Price, Anna Barnes, Ruby Murdoch and Pauline Hudson. Thanks so much to the ones who baked goods and donated them to Star Pride to sell.

Criswell, Charlene and Floyd Rider, Ruby Murdoch, Jeremy Schaeffer, Robert Etchinson, Penny Winfrey, Kailani, Zachary and Brett Killion.

Thanks to the ones who brought in vehicles for us to wash and clean. These were as follows: Polly Price, Jerry and Celeste Harris, Helan Donham, O.C. Reeves, Peoples State Bank, George and Erwin, Pauline Hudson, and James and Jean Ramsay.

Star Pride would like to thank The Ole Store for the location of the bake sale, Horne Mktg. of Eastland for the car wash location, water and electricity at the Exxon station on Hwy 183 N., the City of Rising Star for the water hook-up and Gerald Myers, Peoples State Bank for furnishing tables for the bake sale, The Rising Star and Carolyn Ratliff for the advertising and poster paper, Al Jones for the extension cord, Debbie Winfrey and Joy Harris for car washing supplies.

Star Pride wants to thank these people for supporting us with their donations at Saturday's fund-raiser: Daisy Erwin, Pauline Hudson, Polly Price, Jerry and Celeste Harris. Helen Donham's donation was in memory of C.A. Claborn.

Thanks so much to everyone who helped in anyway with the car wash/bake sale to make it the success it was.

Star Pride says Thanks!

Thanks for Your Help

The Rising Star Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture would like to say a big "thank you" to the following people for the organization of the concession stand at the country/western musical last Friday. Thanks to The Ole Store, Robert and Nancy Bostick, Dodie Davis, Kelly Owen, Kay Fraley, Teresa Lee, Sue Landess, and James and Jean Ramsay.

Thanks to Sue Landess, Jean Ramsay, Ruby Murdoch and James Ramsay for working the concession stand.

Stock Show Meeting Will Be September 5

There will be a stock show meeting at the High School Agriculture room on Thursday, September 5, at 7:30 p.m. All students who intend to show at either Eastland County or a major livestock show must attend, and bring a parent.

The meeting's purpose is to identify who intends to show and what they are going to show. Also other aspects of the show program such as fund raising will be discussed.

If more information is needed, you may contact Gene Smith at the High School at 643-3521.

County Funds Needed On FM Road Improvements

While discussing the County budget at Commissioners Court Monday Judge Scott Bailey called attention to the financing of improvements on the Farm-to-Market road that goes from Eastland to Lake Leon.

The Judge said the 2 1/2 mile project, approved by the State Highway Department, required approx. $200,000 as the County's part.

Funds from the County would be used for purchasing right-of-ways, doing refencing, and the moving of utility lines out of the right-of-way. The money is to be available by May 1992.

"If we don't do something this year we'll lose our funding," the Judge told the Court.

The Commissioners said they might be able to put some money for right-of-ways and fencing in this year's budget.

The roadway being widened is a particularly dangerous stretch about 5 miles southeast of Eastland. The road all the way to Stephenville is considered dangerous.

Eastland County Retired Teachers To Meet Sept. 9

Low Income Beneficiaries Get Help With Medicare

If you're on Medicare and don't have much income or resources, the Social Security Administration wants to make sure that you know about a program that can save you money. It's called the "Qualified Medicare Beneficiary" program, and it can help pay for your Medicare premiums, deductibles, and coinsurance.

Although a notice was sent to Medicare beneficiaries who are likely to be eligible for this program, recent studies show that a significant number of them have not yet applied and are not receiving the benefit.

If you have not applied for the benefit because you don't have enough information about it, let me explain how you qualify and how the program can benefit you.

First of all, you must be age 65 and older, or disabled, and your income and resources must be low enough for you to get to meet the State requirements for medical assistance or "Medicaid." It is your State Medicaid agency that is required to pay your out-of-pocket Medicaid costs. That agency also must determine if you qualify for the benefit.

The rules may vary from State to State, but in general your total income for calendar year 1991 cannot be higher than the Federal poverty income level of $6,620 for one person and $8,880 for married couple. In addition, you cannot have resources such as bank accounts or stocks and bonds worth more than $4,000 for an individual or $6,000 for a couple.

The $29.90 monthly premium for Medicare medical insurance coverage is taken out of your Social Security check every month. If you qualify, this program will pay that premium for you, as well as some of the other Medicare charges you've been paying up till now.

Money Talk

By Kay Bailey Hutchison

Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison answers questions about personal finance and state government. These questions are compiled from timely issues of concern facing Texas and Texans. Answers, however, are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. A friend of mine who is a rancher told me there is a program called "Linked Deposit" that could help me expand my textile manufacturing business. What is this program? I would like to know more about it and how it might benefit my business.

A: In August 1988, Texas voters approved a constitutional amendment authorizing the so-called "Linked Deposit" program. This program is jointly administered by the Texas State Treasurer and the Texas Department of Agriculture. The Texas Legislature authorized $5 million of State Treasury deposits to be used to encourage banks to lend money below the U.S. Treasury market rate for eligible agricultural diversification projects. The name "Linked Deposit" comes from the transaction between the lending institutions and the State Treasury. Lending institutions issue loans available through this program to qualified borrowers, and then the State Treasury wires the "Linked Deposit" to the lending institution.

Following a loan review process, a "Linked Deposit" application is completed jointly by the borrower and the lender and then submitted to the Texas Department of Agriculture for approval. Once the State Agriculture Department approves a project, the loan application is submitted to the State Treasury for verification of the depository's status and collateral pledged. The State Treasury's deposit is made to the lender at an interest rate two percentage points under the current U.S. Treasury market rate. The lender can charge the borrower up to six percentage points over the U.S. Treasury's interest rate, or up to four percent over the market rate. The maturity date of the "Linked Deposit" cannot extend past the end of the state's current 2-year budget period, but can be reviewed again and renewed.

The benefits of this program are many, but most importantly, it creates jobs and provides loans for diversifying our state's agricultural industry. By providing these loans, the program strengthens our Texas economy overall. There are several other state loan programs aimed at stimulating economic development and expansion.

For more information on loans that are available, contact the Texas State Treasurer, P.O. Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Poem

Someone Loves You
As we gaze across the valley

And see the wild flowers blooming there
The sun setting in the West

As if an answer to our prayers

Each hair on your head is counted

And He sees the sparrow fall

How could we doubt that He knows us

When He loves us one and all

When sorrow and trouble overtakes you
And you have no place to hide

There is one who is always near you

Within His arms you can abide

So don't say that no one loves you

And this world won't even care

Just trust in the Lord each day

For He's no further away than a prayer

Senior Citizens Center

by Marjorie West

Dr. W. S. Conkling, daughter, Kathy, and grandson, Marshall visited his Shults kinfolks in the home of Bill Gray. Dr. Conkling is a pediatrician at Bryan.

We are saddened to hear of the passing of C.A. Claborn. Our sympathy goes out to the family.

The ladies from the Senior Citizens, who were hostesses for the birthday party at the nursing home last Tuesday sent Clara Kidd a refreshment plate. She was so grateful and wishes to thank everyone for remembering her. Lucy Curtis was also sent a plate. She is very grateful to everyone.

Thursday will be birthday party luncheon. We will be celebrating the August birthdays of Lolene Claborn, Norman Claborn, Walter Richberg, Carrie Gaines, Lenell Henry and Inez Elliott.

Marion and Marjorie West attended the city-wide rummage sale in Brownwood Saturday. You cannot imagine how much misc. merchandise was there. They were also selling hot dogs, chili dogs and hamburgers fresh from the grill. All proceeds will go to the Rogers Family who were seriously injured in a car wreck recently.

Please do not put your family trash in the barrel at the Senior Citizens' building. Last week the barrel was filled with parts of old quilts and pieces of blankets.

Thanks to Curtis Hill for donating and installing a second telephone at the center; it will save a lot of steps going to answer the other telephone when we are busy getting everything ready for the meals. He also mowed our lawn. We could not do without Curtis.

The center will be closed Monday, September 2, for Labor Day. We will meet September 5 (Thursday) for our regular meeting and the make up day for Meals on Wheels will be Friday, September 6.

Joe and Evelyn Ward went to Palestine to take a train ride on the Tourist Texas Railway Train.

They really had a nice time. They saw lots of beautiful country, farms everywhere with cotton opening.

Now an outlaw, Robin Hood (Kevin Costner, r) and his friend Azeem (Morgan Freeman) take refuge in the forest in Warner Bros. epic/adventure, "Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves".

'Robin Hood' Begins At Majestic Friday

Robin Hood and his rough, colorful troop have captivated generations with tales of their rugged adventures in England's Sherwood Forest. Now a modern version of this 800-year old legend will show at the Majestic in Eastland.

'Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves', starring Kevin Costner, will begin at the Theatre on Friday, Aug. 30, 7:30 and show each night through Monday, Sept. 2. Tickets will be $3, with the picture rated PG-13.

'Robin Hood' was filmed in England and France, and has the theme of outlaw rebels who stole from the rich and gave to the poor. Fighting to wrest Sherwood Forest and its surrounding lands from the corrupt Sheriff of Nottingham keeps Robin Hood and his loyal band thoroughly occupied.

There are many new and colorful details in this 1991 version of the epic. 'Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves' begins with Robin of Locksley, a young British nobleman who sought adventure abroad in the religious wars of the Crusades, facing death in the dungeon of a foreign land.

Escaping his hideous fate with the help of a Moor named Azeem, he returns to his beloved England to find things in sorry shape.

His father has been murdered and he has lost his land and his family's good name. He seeks out Maid Marian, the sister of a friend who died in the Crusades' dungeons. He remembers her as a child, but she has become a beautiful and very independent young woman.

Robin and Azeem take refuge in the dense cover of Sherwood Forest, and Robin forges an army of dispossessed peasants hiding there. They resolve to help Robin rid England of the Sheriff of Nottingham and his mercenaries.

Lots of action in this picture. There is also a recreation of 12th Century England, with much of the filming done in forests near the legendary site of Robin Hood's hide-out. The result is a feeling of realism which seems to last through the whole picture.

COOK 'IN' AT THE CLASSIC

Ken Cook, a former fisheries biologist for the State of Oklahoma, took top honors in the 1991 BASS Masters Classic in Baltimore this past weekend. Ken's 3 day 5 fish each day limit weighed in at 33 pounds 2 ounces. These fish were taken using a spinner bait around grass. The first place finish netted Ken $50,000, but this is only a small piece of the pie. Winning this the super bowl of bassing pros is said to be worth near $1,000,000 in product endorsements over the next couple of years.

Second place finisher Randall Roming brought in 32 pounds 15 ounces using Berkley's 7 inch Power Worms. This netted the hometown favorite $13,000.

The remaining top ten were 3rd Woo Doves, Pa. 32-5, 4th Zell Rowland, Texas 31-8, 6th Mark Davis, Ark. 29-13, 7th Randy Fite, Texas 29-5, 8th Harold Allen, Texas 28-4, 9th Jerry Wagner, Ark. 24-13, 10th Jim Nolan, Ark. 23-11.

Other Texas pros in the 35 man field included 16th Bo Dowden 21-9, 20th Rick Clunn 18-11, 26th Gary Klein 15-5, 27th Tommy Martin 14-4, 32nd Jim Kirkpatrick 13 lbs. and 34th a tough angler anywhere Jay Yelas 12-3.

Area fields will be full this weekend and the skies will be raining shotgun blasts as dove season opens in the Big Country.

There still seems to be some confusion according to the TPWD about daily bag and possession limits for mourning doves and other species.

Ron George, dove program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said a daily bag limit is defined as, 'the maximum number of the indicated or possessed during the permitted shooting hours in one calendar day.' A possession limit is defined as, 'the maximum number of the indicated species permitted to be possessed by one person when lawfully taken in the United States.'

A person cannot legally shoot a daily bag limit of doves in the morning, then go out in the afternoon and shoot more doves.

Don't forget it is unlawful to shoot and leave birds day to waste.

New Law Changes In Motor Vehicle Registration Sept. 1

In September, the simple matter of registering a motor vehicle in Texas will become a little more complicated.

The change is a result of insurance reform enacted by the 72nd Legislature.

Beginning Sept. 1, the owner of a motor vehicle must submit current proof of financial responsibility with an application for initial registration, renewal of registration or transfer of registration.

Also for the first time, Texans will have to show proof of insurance to receive or renew their driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers. "Many states have found that tying these responsibilities to proof of insurance increases compliance with mandatory liability law," said Arnold Oliver, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "But the Legislature was really responding to public pressure. Insured drivers - that's about 75 percent of us - wanted to tighten enforcement on the other 25 percent."

The most common evidence of financial responsibility is a liability insurance card issued to the policyholder by the insurance company. Examples of other types of acceptable proof include insurance policies and binders, pool coverage documents, certificates of self-insurance, and certificates of bond.

The new law applies to registration handled in person or by mail. The original or a photocopy of the evidence will satisfy the requirement of proof of financial responsibility. All original documentation will be returned.

Questions about proper evidence of financial responsibility for vehicle registration may be directed to your automobile insurance company, your county tax assessor-collector, or to the local Division of Motor Vehicles regional office. For information about driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers, contact the Department of Public Safety.

Study On Hearing Loss

Researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston are comparing the two most common types of hearing assist devices to learn better ways of overcoming age-related hearing loss.

"These devices have been tested in patients as they were developed, but we have no scientific evidence comparing their effectiveness in patients," said Dr. James Jerger of Baylor's Hufington Center on Aging.

Two-hundred-eighty study participants will be tested to determine their hearing loss and evaluated using a conventional hearing aid, an assistive listening device and a combination of the two devices.

The five-year study will give researchers a base of information about which technology is best suited for eliminating, background noise, the hearing problem faced most by older people.

"Background noise is the single most common hearing problem among the elderly," said Jerger, a professor of audiology. "The patient has difficulty picking out conversation from other sounds."

Conventional hearing aids can be programmed to lessen the effects of background noise by enhancing certain sound frequencies. Still, some patients complain that conversation is muddled.

With an assistive listening device, the patient places a microphone at the source of the conversation, making background noise less noticeable.

"Attitudes about hearing aid use will also be discussed during the study. Many older people do not want to wear hearing aids because they see them as a sign of senility, or of growing old," Jerger said.

Half of all people older than 60 experience some hearing loss. By age 80, 90 percent of all people will lose some hearing.

Boy Scout Values Remain Firm Despite Charges

Local and national officials of the boy Scouts of America today called some recent accounts of changes in its organizational values "highly inaccurate."

"Some news stories about our new 'Learning for Life' have implied that Scouting is changing its values," Frank T. Hilton, Comanche Trail Council, BSA Scout Executive said today.

"The traditional values represented in the Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Exploring programs are as relevant for the 1990's as they were when the movement was founded, and will not change," Hilton added.

Confusion about a change in Scouting's traditional values was the result of an announcement made last week by a local United Way chapter in California. United Way of the Bay Area issued a public statement of support for Scouting's new, independent subsidiary program, "Learning for Life".

In the announcement, which came prior to official introduction of the program by officials of the Comanche Trail Council, it was implied that this new, non-traditional program marked the beginning of a changing era for values associated with Scouting.

However, chief Scout Executive Ben Love said that standards for Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers remain unchanged. "Standards for membership in the traditional programs of the Boy Scouts of America continue to be based upon the Scout Oath and Law," said Love. "Eligibility for 'Learning for Life' participants will be based on school enrollment requirements established by school administration," Love added.

"Learning for Life" is a partnership between teachers and Scouting that will be conducted during the school day in classrooms by teachers and other volunteers. Curriculum for the program will emphasize self esteem, ethical behavior, personal and social development, life skills and community service.

"These key areas have been identified by educators and other child development experts as critical to the successful development of young people," said Frank T. Hilton, Scout Executive.

"Our goal has always been to assist in the growth of young people in America, and 'Learning for Life' provides yet another way we can play a role in building good citizens for tomorrow," added Hilton.

Registration will be Thursday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. and the first class meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 5.

Arrests should be set for September 21 in Eastland, September 28 in Ranger and finally on October 5 in Gorman. Crime Stoppers have set a goal of having 100 total "warrants" issued and with at least that many arrests.

Details of the investigations and warrants by Crime Stoppers were limited due to the continuing "investigations," but Louise Nelms (aka Judge Ma Buzzard) stated "Crime Stoppers Board Members and Representatives involved in the investigations will be seeking out those witnesses to the crimes and after collecting the required warrant fees (ranging from $10 to $50), the fee and information will be brought before the judge and warrants will then be issued."

Mrs. Nelms told that the warrant fees will vary due to the nature of the crime, as in the difference between misdemeanor and felony crimes. She also added that Crime Stoppers will be contacting businesses where suspects are employed.

"Many of our witnesses will be employees, employers, and just 'old friends' of the suspected parties," Mrs. Nelms stated. "The witnesses that wish to be involved in our cases, may each pay a portion of the warrant 'fee' so that each parties legal fees will be less."

Once the warrants have been signed by the "Judge," Crime Stoppers will contact each suspect and will give a date and time so that they may "turn themselves in" and make the arrests easier.

Crime Stoppers will release more information in the next few days. Also if anyone has a "suspect" that they would like to have "investigated" and a warrant issued, please contact any of the following Crime Stoppers investigating committee members:

Rena Kirk, Louise Nelms, Dan Staggs, G. A. White, Bill & Anita Walton, Joyce Duggan, Tim Hull, Voy Wilks, Terry Edwards, Joe Bennett or any Crime Stopper member.

CRIMESTOPPERS to Issue Warrants

In an announcement made today by the Eastland County Crime Stoppers, Inc., warrants will be issued in the next few weeks for many citizens of Eastland County.

Mrs. Kirk also stated that "the charges will vary and many are of a very serious nature."

CRICKETS ON THE INCREASE IN COUNTY

Moist conditions are contributing to increased cricket populations in many areas. The field crickets are attracted to the lights in search of hiding and hibernation places when natural areas are lost. The recent rain has forced this migration earlier than usual.

While crickets basically live in fields and lawns, they may invade homes and businesses in search of warm hiding places. The rains forced the crickets to leave their natural habitats. This added to the attraction of the outdoor lights has resulted in an invasion of crickets.

These crickets prefer to live and breed outdoors. They may invade homes in search of warm hiding places but will not breed or establish a permanent infestation indoors.

Crickets feed mostly on organic matter, and will eat young seedlings in the garden. They usually cause little damage, but can be a nuisance when they get into dwellings and commercial buildings. They can damage woollens, cotton, silks, synthetic fabrics, furs and carpeting. Clothes with perspiration are particularly attractive.

In the immature stage, crickets don't have wings. In late summer and early fall they develop wings, and are highly attracted to lights. So they often congregate at lighted businesses, street lights and exterior home lighting. Crickets will also move inside buildings due to their attraction to the lights in the building.

Sevin, Diazinon and Dursban are very effective insecticides to use on crickets if they become a nuisance around the outside of the house. Read and follow label instructions. Periodic applications of the insecticide may be needed. Dead crickets that build up on sidewalks or driveways may need to be removed, since they could cause an odor.

Farm and Ranch Safety Week Proclaimed

Eastland County Judge Scott Bailey is proclaimed above while signing a proclamation declaring the week of September 15-21 as farm and ranch safety week for Eastland County. Farm Bureau members look on.

County Judge Scott Bailey has proclaimed September 15-21, 1991 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Eastland County at the request of Charles Walker, Eastland County Farm Bureau President. This year marks the 48th annual observance of National Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture; with the them, 'Safety Protects Agriculture's Greatest Resource... You!'

When you look out your kitchen window and see your land, buildings, machinery and animals, you may smile with justifiable pride. After all, it's your work, determination and management skills that made it possible. But until you look in the mirror, you haven't seen your most important asset by far - YOU! Safety will help protect you, your family and employed workers:

18 label request for Botran for use on peanuts. As of press time, the EPA has not granted a Section 18 label request for Tilt and it is questionable if they will approve the request. This means that both of these products cannot be used on peanuts.

The only fully labeled product for Sclerotinia Blight control is Rovral. Chemicals labeled for control of Southern Blight are Vitavax or Terraclor (PCNB). Read and follow label instructions for rates and applications. Additional information on these diseases and their control with these fungicides is available at the County Extension Office, 629-1093.

*Protect yourself and others by making safety part of every activity on the job, at home, at leisure and on the road. Machines are replaceable if damaged or destroyed in an accident. But that's not true for people!

*Protect by knowing how to prevent farm injuries and illnesses. Read and follow instructions in manuals and on labels. Note safety and health articles in magazines and newspapers. Read booklets on the subject and pay attention to safety reminders on radio/TV. But just knowing isn't enough - you must act on that knowledge to reduce risk of costly injury and illness.

*Protect by inspecting all equipment and facilities for hazards. Then correct them without delay. Learn the proper safety precautions when dealing with hazards that can't be eliminated.

*Protect by always keeping shields and guards in place, and by stopping machines before servicing or dealing with operating problems. When the job dictates, use the appropriate personal protective equipment - gloves, hard hat, safety shoes, respirator, safety goggles, etc. - to reduce risks to your health and safety.

*Protect at harvest time by training workers and operating all equipment 'by the book.' Take breaks to fight fatigue, especially during hot weather. When hauling harvested products or moving equipment on public roads, drive with care and courtesy.

*Protect by being prepared for each activity. Have the right tools, equipment and/or supplies at hand. Know and respect your limitations as well as your strengths.

*Protect by staying fit and seeking care for health problems. Take some time to do things you enjoy to refresh and relax you and add balance to life.

One could get less dealing drugs on high school hill.

This is another example of Medicare's high handedness.

Sincerely,

The real kicker is the last paragraph "If for any reason we are unable to mail the survey by September 1, 1991, we will advise you of the new reporting deadline."

In other words, if I am a day late it is $10,000.00 per day. If they are late for ANY reason they will simply set a new dead-

The Future Homemakers of America have already been in motion this year, beginning with the election of officers. FHA met at 8 a.m. Thursday, August 22, at the home-making cottage for discussion and the election.

Duties of the office of president, filled by Heather Wright, include calling officer meetings, planning regular meetings and generally seeing that things are functioning properly.

The vice president, Laura Rankin, arranges programs and takes the place of the president when she is out.

Filling the office of recreation and community service is Betty Jones, who will plan fun activities in cooperation with the vice president and take charge of monthly meetings.

Reporter Cheryl Robinette will report all of the latest activities to the newspaper so that the people of Rising Star know what the FHA is doing.

Secretary Christy Hughes will fulfill the duties of keeping records of attendance, club plans and activities.

Keeping important records in the scrapbook is the duty of the historian, Rebecca Coleman.

The sergeant-at-arms, Gwen Hollis, will prepare rooms for FHA meetings.

It is the duty of parliamentarian, Donna Reyes, to keep the meetings in order.

Possible activities of the year are: Adopt a Grandparent program, participate in West Texas Fair and hold the annual Dinner Theater.

If it weren't for a few interested people, the Booster Club would have shut its doors this year. It is getting harder and harder to find someone to work in the concession stands. It is the dedication of a few interested ladies that keep the Booster Club alive.

These dedicated women include Cindy Elliott, president; Pam Cook, vice president; Wanda Williams, secretary; Susan DeLong, treasurer; and Paula Collins, reporter.

It's people like this who make things happen, instead of sitting back and complaining about things not getting done. If there were more people like this in our community, a lot of problems in the school system and in our town could be solved. These people are volunteers because no one else would. We need people on the students' side because we need support—not opposition.

Have an improved week and we thank you for your support.

Junior Cat Tracks

Yes, it's football time again, and the Jr. Wildcats are already hard at work. They are preparing for what could be a great football season.

Coach Doyle Browning says that the team this year is young and will have to work very hard, but the Jr. Cats are full of hope and spirit. With such a young team, the players will have to learn fast!

Johnny Salazar thinks that Jr. High has a good chance of winning this year, and Josh Constancio agrees. Josh claims, "We're gonna have an awesome team!"

Seventh grader Shawn Harrelson also believes that this year will be good but will require a lot of hard work.

Gary Stone says, "The members of the Jr. Cats' team will try and make this the best year of all," and Cameron Floyd agrees in hoping the team will have a good year.

Eighth grader Michael Perales sums up the team's feelings when he says, "We have confidence that this will be a good year."

As this season begins, excitement is in the air. With hard work and diligent practice, the Jr. Wildcat football team will be a source of pride to all of us in Rising Star.

Wid's Wide World of Wildcats

This year's mighty Wildcats' football team consists of Seniors Brandon Geyer, Jeff Medley, Chad Hill, Jason Bible, Scotty Wilson, Matt Harmon, Ronnie Wilson and Donnie Horton. The Juniors are Rene Rodriguez, Will Ezzel, Terry Ware and Stephen O'Connor. Sophomores include Chris DeLong, David Bronson, Aaron Long, Jarod Horton, Tim Burton, Michael Sizemore, and Lee Robinette. The Freshmen are Chris Harrelson,

Last Friday the mighty Wildcats traveled to Roby to play their first scrimmage against the Lions. The Wildcats were outscored 3-0. Freshman Wildcat Mackey Elliott suffered a sprained ankle in the game.

Come out and support the Wildcats as they take on the Rosco Plowboys here this Friday at 6 p.m.

Fast Talk

by Cheryl Robinette

What Senior (M.H.) picked another Senior's (C.H.) ex-girlfriend from May? Mistake!

Wow! You mean to tell me that a Junior (L.R.) from Cross Plains dares to come to Wildcat Country? She must be really brave! We will see just how brave she really is by the end of the year.

What teacher has a new game show? The people caught shaking the candy machine will get to play "Dipping for Points" with the Seniors.

What two Freshman girls (H.W. and A.F.) went riding around with a guy from Brownwood named Thumper?

What Senior girl (G.W.) got caught riding around with three different guys on the drag? Hope you get well soon!

What Freshman can't figure out who she wants to date?

Well, well, well. Guess what? I hate to disappoint all of the old soreheads downtown, but it seems like the school is going along just great! What a letdown it must be to be proven wrong.

What 7th grader (C.E.) keeps calling Senior (C.H.) and Sophomore (L.R.)? Does her mother know that she's picking on guys way too old for her?

What Senior girl (G.W.) cries over a baby food commercial? It has to be the drugs!

What Sophomore (S.H.) got to be the first one to get dipped in our new game? I guess that will teach him next time!

Is it true that Junior (T.W.) is hitting on Sophomore (C.B.) again?

Wasn't once enough for you?

What two Seniors (C.H. and S.W.) better watch out for another Senior (S.S.) on the tear?

What Freshman girl better watch out before she really upsets a Senior girl?

Let me know anything that the world must know in order to keep everybody on top of school news.

Dear Marie

Dear Marie, I have a problem. I just found out my boyfriend's cheating on me, he's going out with my sister. What should I do?
Signed, Helpless

Dear Helpless
If for some reason your sister doesn't know he's your boyfriend, tell her. Then I suggest you both dump him. Remember, blood is thicker than boyfriend!

Dear Marie, My little brother keeps running in and out of my room, especially when I'm talking on the phone. I've tried to talk to him about it, but he won't listen. My parents don't appreciate me beating him up either. What should I do?
Signed, Aggravated

Dear Aggravated
Sit down with your parents and him, and explain the situation. When your parents hear your story, they might take action. If they don't, don't take matters into your hands unless they tell you to. Remember, he's only a kid.

Elementary's Extras

by Michelle Ferbrache

The 1991-92 school year has finally begun. To start off the new year, here are some interesting facts on grades kindergarten through sixth.

Dixie Hood's kindergarten class is working on manipulating objects for later skills, basic sounds of letters for learning small words and an individual check list of skills.

The children's favorite characters are the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

Sue Janes's first grade class is beginning this year by learning body actions, improving reading levels and other basics. Some of the children have decided what they would like to be when they grow up: Toni Myers, a nurse; Brittany Rogers, a farmer; Adam Constancio, a race car driver; Charlie Canales, a cheerleader; Kailani Killian, a teacher; Christina Butler, a cheerleader; Penny Winfrey, a teacher; and Justin Nall, a farmer.

Pam Cook's second grade is studying in reading groups, friendship, writing a story about an imaginary friend, communities and Social Studies.

The children like to play football. Some of them have decided what they would like to be when they grow up: Nicky, a cheerleader; and Sara, a veterinarian.

Peggy Agnew's third grade is learning about friendship using teddy bears, writing paper headings, honey bees and cooking.

If the students get 30 stickers for good behavior, they will have a party. They can also have them taken away when they do not behave. Some of the children have decided what to be when they grow up: Steven White, a farmer; and Lance Hutchinson, working with tractors.

Shelley Bailey's fourth grade class is studying Health, Social Studies, reading, writing, oral work. Mrs. Bailey is also teaching some of the elementary's P.E. classes, which are graded on cooperation and work.

Her discipline program consists of gaining or losing stickers according to student behavior. Rewards come at the end of each month. They will be taught interest in hobbies, better citizenship, good behavior and responsibility.

Staci Mayo's fifth grade is learning about cells, parts of plants, properties and place grouping in math using book exercises, group activities and individual projects.

Stickers and prizes will be awarded to students who behave.

Christy Dallas's sixth grade class is learning reading and writing, arts and friendship by writing books, observation activities, writing predictions and editing and publishing books.

They are earning candy, stickers and maybe a popcorn party for good behavior.

Tim Riley's Elementary Band is working on a musical for Christmas with the second and third graders. Fourth through sixth graders will review from last year. The students are graded on performance, behavior and participation.

Rising Star Elementary students are going to be learning things from good characteristics to the basic subjects and are definitely the pride of Rising Star.

Showcase

by Stephanie Sizemore

The question of the week is "Why do kids turn their nose's up when you mention the word 'school'?" The kids say it's because the teachers expect them to go to school all the time and they actually have to think and put out an effort at school in order to pass.

The teachers and parents ask "How can we change the kids' point of view on homework, and make them have good study habits?"

I read a book today on how to improve study habits. One suggestion was to start kids out young with homework. They say you need to look at it as if you're building responsibility and success. It should start in first grade by bringing home a worksheet and taking it back completed. This way the students develop good study habits early and can avoid nightly battles.

When the child is older you will have even a bigger battle to correct bad homework habits. The best way to solve this problem is for parents to provide positive support and parental motivation. Insist that the child do well in school and provide incentives.

Next week we will talk about how to teach and motivate your kids to do their homework. We will also ask some of the students what would make them start doing their homework. Until next week, hang in there!

The winners will be announced at the County Awards Banquet on October 5th.

A Teacher's Thoughts of Going to School Without a Building

A building missing? What building? Oh you mean the copy machine place! Well, I've been looking for the copy machine, and I haven't found the hole punch yet. I wondered why one of the English teachers got moved in here but I really hadn't paid much attention. I'm such a slow poke it takes me forever to get ready for school and since there is always something going on around here I just figured Coach had the football boys outside pushing that machinery for weight training, and that Mr. Riley had some really far-out one-note music for the band.

Now that you mention it—I did have to shovel a bunch of yucky red mud because it had my door blocked. That was run-off from the construction site? Oh. Right. Now I remember! We're getting something new, never-before-used in Rising Star, boy, won't that make almost everyone sit up and be proud! I get pretty tired, pretty quick listening to people cut down their own town. Incredible isn't it? You work and work so that the kids will have something; a memory, a skill, whatever, to be proud of and then they leave campus and get told how sorry everything is. Makes a teacher wonder exactly what those people were taught when they were in school? Oh, well, at least my students will have something they are proud of. They'll be able to stand tall and say, "Well, when I was in school, most of the town supported the students." They showed they cared and proved it by giving their best—whether it was working in the concession stand, volunteering around campus or just showing up at school activities.

How's school going? It's only been a week but it has been business as usual as far as I'm concerned. The kids carried around campus maps and class schedules for a couple of days but at least I haven't seen any lost teachers.

What are we doing for classrooms? Oh, man! We've got classrooms all over the place! Believe it or not—the space worked out great! You know there were only five classrooms in the old building. So they just found five spaces somewhere else. Where? Well, one teacher is sharing my room. The band has a small room in one end. The old business room at the end of the gym was cleaned out for another room. Coach put his class on the gym stage: might as well, now he can stay in one place all day! That leaves the Home Ec cottage with two rooms. Worked out great! Well, yeah, the 7th and 8th grades went back down to the old Junior High building in the afternoons for classes. It's OK. It's just temporary. They moved the high school library to the elementary—talk about wall-to-wall books!

The funniest thing though is the principal and school secretary. They are in "walk-in closets" in that new little brick building. We are speaking of corner-to-corner claustrophobia city! They'll have to go outside to give licks—can't swing your arm around far enough in those tiny rooms!

What about the kids? Hey, you forgot we've got some terrific teenagers here. You might not think much of some of them, but remember—it is usually the same three or four that cause problems. Definitely NOT all of them!

Listen, they have really been great—well at least for the first week! I'm hearing a lot of "Well, when we get the new school...." Little stars go off in my head just anticipating getting to move into a building that will have toilets that flush, hot and cold running water, more trophy cases (boy, do we need those!), heat and air all the time instead of just occasionally, no mopping the floor every time it rains and worrying about getting electrocuted, a built-in TV studio, a real darkroom, a room just for computers...Computers? Oh no! It'll take me forever to get all this stuff moved!

Shoo! Go away! Just thinking about that reminds me I've got papers to grade, lesson plans to write, tables to dust, Wildcat Tales to check...

Bells? What bells? To change classes? Who needs them! All of our clocks are set the same and my students know how to tell time. Now I know what Pavlov's dog must have felt like. Who needs a bell? Now will you please go away? It's five o'clock and I've got to get busy. Push up your chair. This is not a barn. And close that door gently. That's the third one in ten years. It's got to last 'till March! Shoo!

A Student's Thoughts of Going to School Without a Building

by Laura Rankin
Driving past the Rising Star High School campus in June, I asked myself, "Where is it?" Where R.S. High used to stand was an empty plot crawling with construction workers and building equipment.

This led me to ask one major question: Where was I going to go to class? Being a new student at Rising Star this year, I was extremely concerned.

Arriving at school that first Friday, I was filled in on the current situation by the high school principal, Robby Stuteville, during assembly. At first I was discouraged about having class in unconventional areas, but the prospect of learning in a new setting soon began to appeal to me.

As I headed for first period, I was a little leery of my class sites for the rest of the day. I attended classes being held in the divided Business Room, and climbed onto the stage for my Geography class. "Great!", I thought, "I'm going to be stuck with wall to wall books, people and teachers. We'll never get any work done."

As it turns out, though, it wasn't that bad. Having classes on the stage turned out to be a lot of fun, sharing classrooms was no problem at all and almost everyone seemed to have an optimistic attitude.

However, without a central building, a few inconveniences are to be expected. For instance, the classes in the gym got a little hot and you had to walk forever to find a restroom. It also tends to get a bit crowded at times. Overall, everyone dealt with the circumstances with smiles on their faces.

Because many of the classrooms are shared, I have to concentrate harder on the subject I'm studying. Being able to focus on the work at hand is an important part of education, so hopefully my grades will reflect the extra efforts this year.

Having classes in the same rooms year after year can tend to get boring, so that's another aspect of this high school I think I'll enjoy. Although I'm having a good time now, I'm really looking forward to the completion of the new high school.

Most of my friends had positive comments to make about the circumstances. When I asked what she thought about the situation, sophomore, Christy Hughes remarked, "It will be great going to a new school, but we're having fun with things like they are now, too!"

Mr. Smith told me, "I'm really looking forward to it!" Sophomore Emily Stuteville replied, "It's exciting to see the future school under construction."

Now that the first weeks of school are over, I'm pleasantly surprised with how smoothly things are going. Rising Star is great and I'm really glad to be attending school here. I'm looking forward to the new high school and I hope the citizens of Rising Star will be as equally excited as I am.

West Texas Travel Guide

Tourism is probably the fastest growing industry in Texas. The Tourism Division of the Texas Department of Commerce spearheads efforts to entice travelers from out-of-state and from other countries to spend their time and money in Texas.

So how are travelers attracted to a particular area or city in Texas? According to the T.D.C. regional promotions are being left up to local entities.

A major effort in West Texas is the WEST TEXAS TRAVEL GUIDE. The first edition of this regional travel guide was distributed in March with the second edition currently being compiled for 1992 distribution. The publication is a free hand-out available at Texas Information Centers along state borders and in all major cities.

Coordinated in Baird, the regional travel guide is the brainchild of Nicki Harle, hostess of Notes of Interest, a public affairs talk show on KRBC-TV in Abilene. "East Texas has had a regional travel guide for many years," Harle explained. "I just thought it was about time for people to find out what West Texas small towns have to offer."

The WEST TEXAS TRAVEL GUIDE focuses on small communities pointing out historical, cultural and recreational highlights in each town. In order to provide a free guide to the traveling public, the publication is financed through a cooperative effort of many small towns working together with local advertisers.

Check with your local Chamber of Commerce to see how your community is involved. For a free copy of the current guide, send $1 for postage and handling to WEST TEXAS TRAVEL GUIDE, P.O. Box 605, Baird, Texas 79504.

Immunization Rules Aimed At Better Disease Prevention

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) reminds all parents and school or day care administrators that immunization rules for Texas children recently have been changed. In efforts to stop recent resurgences of so-called childhood diseases, the Texas Board of Health, in both 1990 and 1991, modified existing immunization requirements.

TDH urges parents to ensure that their children's immunization records comply with those rules. Physicians and local health departments can supply detailed information about the requirements. Low-cost or free back-to-school immunizations are offered throughout the year in many Texas communities.

One of the newest immunization rule changes eases restrictions against persons other than a child's parents who seek vaccinations for children in their care. Now, parents and legal guardians may formally delegate authority for signing immunization consent forms to other adults, such as a child's grandparent.

Other recent rule changes include a mandatory second dose of measles vaccine for all Texas school children by age 12. Also, children who are younger than 5 must be vaccinated against Haemophilus influenza type b (Hib disease), a common cause of meningitis in children, and pertussis (whooping cough).

Wes Hodgson, epidemiology coordinator for the TDH Immunization Division, said, "The continuing measles outbreaks which began in 1988 underscore the tragic results of incomplete vaccinations. In recent years, some parents failed to protect their children against vaccine preventable diseases, while some school and day care operators failed to keep adequate records so that inadequately immunized children went unnoticed. The result has been a growing number of insufficiently immunized children and young adults - all of whom are now vulnerable to infection."

Hodgson said that state law requires all children entering Texas schools or day care to show proof of immunizations at certain ages against polio, tetanus, measles, rubella (German or three-day measles), mumps and diphtheria. Younger children must also give proof of immunity to whooping cough and Hib disease.

"The law allows for some exceptions to these requirements," Hodgson added, "but each case must be considered individually."

He stressed that since a child's age and medical history are factors in which vaccines and "boosters" the child needs, parents should consult their family physicians about the required immunizations for each child.

Hodgson said that, beginning in 1992, college students enrolled in health related courses, and medical or dental schools will be required to have certain immunizations against rubella, mumps, measles, tetanus, diphtheria and hepatitis B. Veterinary students will need current vaccinations against rabies.

August And September Are Designated As National Pediculosis Prevention Months

Head lice is the most widespread communicable childhood disease, second only to the common cold.

A dermatologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston warns that parents should look for signs of head lice (pediculosis) as the new school year begins.

"School-aged children have a higher incidence of head lice because they come in close contact with each other daily," said Dr. John E. Wolf Jr., professor and chairman of dermatology. "Parents may keep their child clean, however good personal hygiene does not prevent the spread of lice. Also, head lice can appear in anyone regardless of socioeconomic class."

Lice are small, six-legged insects that feed on humans by sucking blood from the scalp. An adult female louse lays up to 10 eggs, or nits, daily. The nits latch onto hairs near the scalp, the back of the head, behind the ears and the eyebrows.

According to the National Pediculosis Association, an estimated 6 to 12 million Americans transmit head lice annually through body contact, infested clothing, combs, hairbrushes and furniture.

Children with head lice suffer intense itching, often leading to inflammation and infection of the skin. Nits can survive for several months depending on the extent of the infestation.

Wolf suggests using pesticide-based shampoos equipped with a special comb to remove dead lice and nits. Although they are generally considered safe, Wolf said infants, children with allergies and scalp infections, pregnant women and nursing mothers should see a doctor before using such products.

Wolf recommends that parents of children with head lice notify the school or childcare center immediately.

"Prevention is impossible once the child has been exposed to lice," he said. "Alerting them immediately may protect other children and save everyone the anxiety."

He offers these steps to avoid lice:

- Watch for signs of head lice, particularly frequent scratching.

- Use natural light and a magnifying glass when examining the child's hair.

- Wash sheets and recently worn clothes in hot water and dry on the hot cycle. Combs and brushes used on lice-infested hair should be soaked in hot water to kill any attached eggs.

- Vacuum beds, rugs, furniture and stuffed animals which may serve as a head lice haven. Do not use insecticidal sprays, which may harm family members and pets.

- Discourage children from sharing hats, clothes and grooming aids.

For more information on head lice, write the National Pediculosis Association, P.O. Box 149, Newton, Mass. 02461 or call (817) 449-NITS.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State workers ardent hopes for a three percent pay raise next month were dashed last week, when the state's chief revenue estimator said funds for the raise will be unavailable when the new budget year begins Sept. 1.

The Texas Legislature approved a three percent raise for state workers for each of the next two years but made the raise contingent upon Comptroller John Sharp certifying that the money will be available.

Scrambling for Money

Tom Plaut, Sharp's chief revenue estimator, said he and others are scrambling to find enough revenue just to certify the $59.1 billion spending bill without the pay raise.

"We're fresh out of money," Plaut said. It would cost about $385 million to give workers a three percent raise for the next fiscal year and $584 million to fund the raise for the next two years.

Reacting to the news, spokesmen for employee groups expressed outrage, but pointed their fingers at the Texas Legislature, not at Sharp.

The comptroller does not write the laws and he doesn't pass the taxes, said Lane Zivley, executive director of the Texas

Public Employees Association.

Judge Nixes Districts

In a move that could further complicate the current special session, a state district judge ruled last week that recently adopted legislative districts and congressional and board of education districts being mapped by the Texas Legislature are invalid because they are based on inadequate federal census figures.

Judge Mario E. Ramirez Jr. of Edinburg issued a temporary injunction that prevents lawmakers from using 1990 census figures to draw political boundaries. He ordered state officials to develop their own census figures and use them to draw new districts by Sept. 30.

Attorneys for several South Texas residents, who filed a suit against the state because they were not counted in the census had asked Ramirez to issue the preliminary injunction to force legislators to create new political boundaries. The lawsuit is set for trial Oct. 1.

Attorney General Dan Morales said he will appeal the decision either to the 13th Court of Appeals in Corpus Christi or the Texas Supreme Court.

That will stay the court's order while the appeal is pending, Morales said.

House Okays Redistricting

Meanwhile, the House last week narrowly passed a congressional redistricting plan, over the objection of most of its Republican members and a handful of white and black Democrats.

The vote of 74-65 differed only slightly from the 72-63 vote by which the House passed a similar plan Aug. 7, during the first special session. That plan died when the Senate failed to act on it before the 30-day session expired on Aug. 13.

As expected, the plan maintains safe districts for Texas' 27 incumbent congressmen while creating three new districts in the Dallas, Houston and San Antonio areas that are predominately minority residents.

Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, chairman of the House Redistricting Committee, said the preservation of incumbents is necessary to maintain Texas' clout in Congress.

But House Republicans blasted the plan which protects Democrats and ignores population growth in GOP strongholds.

"It looks like the birthmark on Mikhail Gorbachev's scalp," said Rep. Randy Pennington, R-Houston. "Really, this is silly because it's going to the courts."

"No" to Ethics on Agenda

Gov. Ann Richards said she is reluctant to add ethics legislation to the special session agenda, even if the bill is a non-controversial one to fix technical glitches.

"We made an agreement

Cooked Whole Wheat Will Stretch Your Budget

Cooked whole wheat isn't just for breakfast! It's not just for health nuts, (with legislative leaders). This is going to be a short session," Richards told reporters.

She said her staff is reviewing mistakes in the much criticized ethics bill passed in May and government reorganization legislation passed in a special session earlier this month.

But she said she is trying to avoid adding anything else to the agenda unless it is absolutely necessary.

"Once you start opening a call to one issue, the list is 200 to 300, and they are all very worthy," Richards said.

$700 Million Balance

Texas will end the 1991 fiscal year on Aug. 31 with a cash balance of about $700 million, Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison reported last week.

"This $700 million cash balance estimate is great news for Texas taxpayers, Hutchison said. She said the surplus is due to steady growth in the state's economy.

Other Highlights

- State Rep. Curtis Soileau, D-Lumberton, announced between special sessions that he won't seek re-election. The Beaumont attorney said too many special sessions keep him away from his family and "I don't want to be a part-time Dad."

- Money Magazine named five Texas cities in its first 20 best cities to live in, and put 24 Texas cities on its list of 300.

The ranking had Bryan-College Station in 3rd place; Lubbock, 5th; Austin, 9th; Galveston-Texas City, 13th; and Waco, 17th.

either. This nutritious grain makes a tasty and thrifty extender in your favorite recipes.

Just cook the wheat ahead of time and store it in the refrigerator. It can then be used as needed in soups, chowders, chili, sloppy joes, spaghetti sauce, pizza, lasagna, meat loaf and hamburgers.

In soup or stew, add cooked wheat to taste, in the same way you would add barley to your soup stock. To make hamburger go further, add a half a cup of cooked wheat to each pound of meat. If you like, use more wheat to stretch the meat even more.

But before you can experiment with adding cooked wheat kernels to your recipes, you need to know how to prepare it correctly. Instructions for five alternate cooking methods were cited in the August 1991 issue of The Ensun magazine, a publication of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

STEAMED WHOLE WHEAT. In a large casserole dish, combine 1 cup of clean whole wheat with 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups water. Place the uncovered dish on a rack in a steamer or a deep kettle and fill the bottom of the kettle with water to within 1 inch of the top of the dish.

Put a tight-fitting lid on the kettle or steamer and bring the water to a full rolling boil, then continue boiling for about 15 minutes. Reduce the heat to its lowest setting and cook the wheat for 10 to 12 hours or overnight. Each cup of wheat yields about 3 cups of cooked wheat.

DOUBLE BOILER METHOD. In the top of a double boiler, combine 2 cups water and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a rolling boil. Add 1 cup of clean whole wheat and stir the mixture until the water comes to a boil again. Cover the pan and place it over the bottom part of a double boiler in which you have poured hot water. Cook over low heat for 4 to 6 hours or until the wheat is tender.

DIRECT HEAT METHOD. In a large saucepan, measure 3 cups water and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a rolling boil and stir in 1 cup clean whole wheat. Cook for 2 or 3 minutes, then turn heat down to the lowest setting. Cover the pan and cook for 25 to 30 minutes or until wheat is tender.

THERMOS METHOD. In a large kettle, combine 3 cups water and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a rolling boil. Stir in 1 cup clean whole wheat. Bring to a boil and boil for 2 or 3 minutes. Pour mixture into a 1-quart thermos, which you have preheated by pouring in warm water. Leave enough space at the top to allow for the wheat to expand. Seal and let stand overnight.

OVERNIGHT METHOD. Bring 2 cups water and 1/4 to 1 teaspoon salt to a rolling boil. Stir in 1 cup wheat and bring to a boil again. Immediately lower heat to its lowest setting, then cover the pan and allow the wheat to soak for at least 8 hours.

If you do not plan to use the cooked wheat immediately, it can be safely stored in a sealed container in the refrigerator for up to one week.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS Beginning Sept. 1 CONTINUE TO WORK ON BUDGET

The Eastland County Commissioners held a called budget workshop Friday to discuss the operating budget for 1991-92. Final decisions must be made and the County Tax Rate in place by Oct. 1.

The Commissioners appeared favorable to a $25 per month car expense raise for Vernon Walker, Justice of the Peace for Pct. 1 Comm. Richard Robinson said Walker needed extra money to cover additional expenses when he was called out to Ranger or Cisco.

The Commissioners were still undecided on continued funding of the District Attorney Investigator David Ward. Commissioner Reggie Pittman said he understood that the Court had approved the position and not necessarily the individual. The Investigator is paid by a State Grant with the county matching with 25 percent.

One Commissioner said he understood that the Investigator was "causing conflict with law officers around Eastland County." Another said he had heard a different report.

L. T. Owen, Comm. of Pct. 3, said he understood that District Attorney Leslie Vance "would bring us a report showing what he (the Investigator) was doing."

An attempt was made to locate the District Attorney so he could discuss the matter. After failing to locate him, the Commissioners decided to wait until the regular meeting Monday to hear a report from him.

They were reminded that a murder trial gets underway Monday, and the District Attorney would probably be very busy.

There was some discussion of a requested raise in the County Judge's salary. Judge Bailey said that a majority of the Court voted last year that the County Trial Judge's salary should be 80 percent of the District Judges salary.

But since no dollar figure was included, the salary raise did not come through.

Reggie Pittman said he didn't see how the Court could vote for any kind of raise this year. Robinson said he had voted for the 80 percent formula last year but due to the economy and general attitude this year he didn't see how the court could give that salary raise. The other Commissioners agreed.

When someone suggested that Judge Bailey might not want to carry on the Trial Court if he didn't get the raise, the Judge replied that he would "work just as hard with or without it."

Automobile Insurance Will Be Required

Beginning September 1, Texans will be required to show proof of financial responsibility before they can get a driver license, renew a license or have their motor vehicle inspected, according to DPS Director Col. Joe E. Milner.

"This may seem like an inconvenience to law-abiding Texans, but in the long run, this new law should help protect all motorists by increasing the number of persons who have the legally-required auto liability insurance," Milner said.

Texas motorists have been required since 1981 to have auto liability insurance, but only about 75 percent of the state's drivers have valid policies in force.

Also effective September 1, the fine for not having liability insurance will be increased from $75 to $175-$350. Repeat offenders will have to pay $350 to $1000 and face the possibility of having their vehicle impounded for 180 days.

"Starting September 1, anyone wishing to renew his driver license, get a license for the first time or needing to get a motor vehicle inspected will be required to show proof of financial responsibility at our Driver License offices or Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations," Milner said. "For most Texans, it will be a simple matter of showing a wallet card issued by their insurance company."

The new law also requires a person to have proof of financial responsibility before obtaining vehicle license plates, which are made available through the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

raises, Attorney Truman Kirk of Cisco spoke in favor of a raise for Sheriff Ronnie White. He said that the Sheriff was honest and capable, and deserved consideration on a salary increase.

Alford Bush, Justice of the Peace for Pct. 2, reminded the Court that J.P.'s had salary problems of their own.

"Eastland's County J.P.'s are paid about half of what other counties pay," he said.

Other highlights of the morning included a report from Calvin Ainsworth, Comm. of Pct. 2, in which he said that an amount should be budgeted each year for the rewiring of the courthouse.

On other matters related to maintenance, Ainsworth said he would like to thank the Eastland Fire Department for work around the Courthouse Square on the painting of stripes of parking spaces thanks also went to City workers who assisted with the painting.

Monday afternoon District Attorney Leslie Vance, who is also the County's legal advisor, brought in a contract between the county, city of Eastland, and Eastland Memorial Hospital.

County Commissioners Discuss Emergency Services Contract

The Eastland County Commissioners Monday, Aug. 19 indicated disapproval of an Emergency Services Contract with the City of Eastland and Eastland Memorial Hospital.

They stated they would not approve any Precinct contract which did not put a "cap" on Emergency Medical spending. The amount the County budgeted was $15,000 annually for each Precinct, or $60,000 for all four.

Monday afternoon District Attorney Leslie Vance, who is also the County's legal advisor, brought in a contract between the county, city of Eastland, and Eastland Memorial Hospital.

The contract did not have any dollar amount listed for subsidies, but guarantees that the hospital-based ambulance service would break even.

The Commissioners called the contract open-ended, and said they would not sign it until the dollar of county subsidy was filled in.

On Monday night, however, Eastland City Commissioners approved this contract. The City has budgeted $18,000 for its part of the ambulance

Star Pride Yard of the Week

Yard work at the home where she grew up is a big undertaking for Mary Jo (McDonald) Lusk. It entails two acres of mowing, a dozen large old pecans, four young pecans, several mesquites, shrubbery and flower beds. A fountain adds the sound of funning water to the scene.

But the yard is only part of the growing plant life to be cared for. Mrs. Lusk also has dozens and dozens of potted plants that she tends. One was grown from cuttings brought from Mississippi about four years ago; even though it has been cut back, the plant (name unknown) has grown to about 10 feet tall. The potted plants are put inside a greenhouse each winter.

Luckily for her yard, Mrs. Lusk enjoys working in it. She also enjoys using the covered patio on the south side of her home, one of the changes made when she and her husband remodeled the house. They moved to Rising Star in 1986. Mrs. Lusk has four children and six grandchildren.
