On Page Four of this issue of the Record the Kizer Telephone Company is publishing a list of new numbers which have been added to the Kizer system since the appearance of the new directory only 45 days or so ago.

The publication of the list is for the convenience of the company's patrons so that they may bring their directories up to date by clipping the new listings out of the advertisement and pasting them on the directory pages reserved for additional subscribers.

It is interesting to observe that in the brief period since the publication of the new directory, more than 50 additions have been made to the exchanges in Rising Star, May and Cross Plains.

If we are seeking a crop to offset the loss in peanut acreage and to supplement other agricultural income in this area, why not take a long look at the marketing possibilities offered by the heavy truck traffic on Highways 36 and 183?

Much of this traffic goes empty one way and the truckers are alert to opportunities for picking up extra income from melons, fruits and vegetables which can be hauled to markets along their runs or at the end of their routes.

If such produce is gathered into one depot, where the truckers could quickly and easily load it, experience has shown that there will be quite a demand for it. One thing is clear, the truckers are not going to the fields and wait for the produce to be gathered. They have neither the time nor the profit potential to do that. The grower must gather and bring it to the central place where the buyer can deal and load without delay.

Rising Star has an ideal building for just such a depot—the City Market building. Indeed, the building was constructed for just that purpose. It is well situated, roomy enough and capable of admitting large trucks.

All that is lacking is a desire on the part of the growers to capture this business and some initiative in developing an organization that will make it possible.

Now that Highway 36 has been rebuilt through here the amount of traffic, and especially of truck traffic is increasing. We have the potential market rolling by our doors day after day. Our farmers need more income. This area is well adapted to melons, fruits and vegetables.

Why not give some constructive thought to realizing upon the opportunities which these conditions present?

Kittens Defeated 38-6 by Brownwood Juniors Tuesday

The Rising Star Junior High Kittens took on too much power Tuesday night at Brownwood and absorbed their first defeat of the season—a 38-6 shellacking at the hands of the Brownwood Eighth Graders. It was a case of older and more experienced boys against a team of sixth, seventh and eighth graders. The Rising Star kids gave a good account of themselves against heavy odds, however.

Thursday night of last week the Kittens overwhelmed the Cross Plains Juniors at Wildcat field 34 to 0 to maintain an undefeated record in their own league.

Besides the Brownwood defeat, the only mark against their record is an 8-all tie with the Early High team.

EDWIN L. GARDNER

Midland Man to Head March of Dimes Campaign

MIDLAND.—Edwin L. Gardner of Midland will lead Texas volunteers in the New March of Dimes next January.

The appointment to head the state's campaign against birth defects, arthritis, and polio was announced in New York by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation.

"The New March of Dimes has come to symbolize a compassionate way to give help and courage to the stricken and to make the nation a safe and healthy place for our children," O'Connor said.

Gardner has served as chairman of the Midland County Chapter of the National Foundation since 1953, and was selected as Midland's outstanding Young Man of 1955 for his work in the fight against polio. More recently he established Salk vaccination clinics in schools and public buildings in which 95 per cent of all Midland school children and more than 50 per cent of the adult population received two or more shots of Salk vaccine.

The new Texas chairman is a native of Florida and attended the University of Tampa and the University of Florida Law School. An executive on the Midland Area staff of Shell Oil Company, Gardner and his wife, the former Amalene Ratto of Blanket, Texas, have been March of Dimes volunteers since 1952 when their daughter was stricken with paralytic polio.

The 39-year-old oil man is a Mason, a lay leader in the Episcopal Church and is a member of the Midland Rotary Club, which he was instrumental in getting to sponsor the March of Dimes Telethons which have raised thousands of dollars the last seven years.

Baptist Pastor to Get Doctor Degree

Rev. H. K. Neely, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has been in Fort Worth during the last few days, and has completed the requirements at the Southern Baptist Seminary for a Doctor of Theology degree.

During his absence on Sunday, Oct. 23, the guest speaker at the church was Rev. Clark Scanlon, who is a returned missionary from Guatemala, where he has served five and one half years under the Foreign Mission Board.

Mrs. Oliver Harelson presided over the meeting of the Nimrod Home Demonstration Club Thursday, October 13, at the Nimrod community house. The group repeated the motto, pledge and prayer in unison and Mrs. Agnes Townsend led the devotional. Members responded to the roll call with "My pet peeve in clothing." There was a discussion of flower bulbs.

Reports were given by several committee chairmen and plans were completed for achievement day.

A Stanley party will be held at the club house on October 27 at 7 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Agnes Townsend, Vernie Allen, Oliver Harelson and Ola Boles.

Mrs. Lois Tucker of Ruidoso, N.M., and her daughter, Mrs. Don Musgrove and children, Verna and Bill, are visiting.

Drizzle Cuts Peanut Harvest Here This Week

A steady, fine drizzle of rain brought on by a cold front early this week put a depressing outlook before the peanut harvest, just getting well under way, and brought predictions from local buyers as gloomy as the weather.

Heavy loss of nuts in the harvesting process was reported. Most of those brought to buyers here were being taken to Gorman for drying. It was estimated that between 150 and 200 tons had been taken by Tuesday.

Grader Bob Jones of Gorman, in charge of the local grading station, said that his office had graded about 200 tons in addition to those taken to the dryer.

A brother of Bob, Norman Jones, is grading at the May station.

Contract Let on Hospital Central Heating System

Contact for the installation of central heating in the Rising Star Hospital was let Tuesday morning to Higginbotham Brothers and Company, low bidder.

The new type of warm air heating will be installed to serve all of the building, with the exception of the operating room, the delivery room and nursery where any type of flame heating is forbidden by state law. Electric panel heating will be installed in these rooms, the hospital board announced.

The installation will require from two to three weeks, and when completed will bring the hospital within the requirements of the state hospital licensing board which requires that all space heating be of the vented type to eliminate any possibility of monoxide gas or other disagreeable and dangerous fumes. There will be no heating stoves in the rooms or other parts of the building.

In addition to the installation of the new type of heating, some redecoration both inside and outside of the building and work on the roof will be done. Some alteration has already been made in the electric installations.

The hospital will not be opened for bed patients until the installations are complete, Dr. Allen Dean Schmitt, who will operate the hospital and who has already established his medical practice in the building, said.

X-ray equipment has already been installed and is operating. Other equipment, purchased from the West Texas Clinic and Hospital in Ranger, including two oxygen machines, diathermy machines, electrocardiograph equipment and laboratory equipment and much other equipment is now in the building.

Joyce Interests To Drill Well On Bond Tract

Joyce Oil Interests of Rising Star have staked location for their sixth well in the Joyce pool one and a half miles southeast of Rising Star.

New location is on the G. C. Bond, half a mile northeast of production on the Agnew and Patterson tracts where the Joyce Interests have five producers. Production is from the Marble Falls. The Bond well will be drilled to that depth.

Lions Club to Sell Brooms November 14

The next meeting of the Rising Star Lions Club will be "broom sale" day, it was announced at the meeting of the club Monday night at the elementary school cafeteria.

The club meets twice monthly, on Monday evenings, and the next date is November 14.

'PARTY LINE' for the nuclear age is this two-way radio, one of four control units in a radio warning network operated by the Henry County, Ind., civil defense organization. There are some 30 other units in the network, which exists primarily to warn the county's remotest rural population of tornadoes or nuclear attack. Residents of towns and cities would get the warning from siren systems. (OCDM Photo)

Wildcats Drop Close Game to Blanket

Playing one of their best games of the season the Rising Star Wildcats were defeated by a good Blanket team 25 to 20 at Wildcat field Friday night of last week.

Fumbles at critical moments in the first quarter probably spelled the difference in the score. Rising Star's offensive had a difficult time getting off center and it was not until the middle of the second quarter that the local boys could mount a sustained drive and register even a first down.

This, despite the fact the Wildcats scored first on the fourth play after the initial kick-off, and then added two points for a lead of 8 to 0.

Jones got the Rising Star points in a brilliant 55-yard return of a Blanket punt, taking a hand-off from Rodney Smith and speeding down the west sidelines to cross the goal unopposed. Coy Edmiston rammed right for the two points.

Blanket was forced to punt from its 25-yard line by some alert defensive work in which Maynard, Carroll, Butler and Coy and Jodie Edmiston stood out.

The Blanket team, led by Jim Edgar, 180-pound fullback, and one of the finest players in the Class B league this season, came roaring back to score in a drive from kick-off. The drive was featured by a 38-yard cut-back and run by Switzer, Blanket quarter, Jones tumbling him on the Rising Star 8. Edgar scored from the three but missed the kick for a point.

ALL-WHITE POLECAT KILLED HERE

An all-white polecat, an oddity hereabouts, was killed by Chas. Rutherford in his barn northeast of town last week. The little animal didn't have a black hair in its coat. Charles killed it with a .22 rifle when he discovered it taking up residence on his premises.

Mrs. Ada Holamon was visiting the week end.

Housing Units Here Nearing Completion

Contractor V. B. Likins of Abilene had completed practically all construction and finishing work on the Rising Star low rent housing project on North Main this week and painting was under way on the interiors.

Members of the Housing Authority under which the project will be operated for the City of Rising Star estimated that the project would be open for rentals within the next four to six weeks.

Mrs. A. Louise Weber has been employed to take charge of the renting and management of the project and she will begin her duties as soon as the construction and permanent financing phases of the program have been completed.

Rental of the units and their management will be carried on under terms of a contract between the Public Housing Administration and the local authority under which eligibility for admission and rental rates will be established to maintain the low rent character of the project. The city of Rising Star will not do the renting of the projects nor select the tenants, the Authority pointed out. This will be done strictly on a basis of income, family character and need, and under policies which will be adopted by the Authority to conform to the requirements of the contract with the PHA.

The board has yet to adopt such a policy, setting up income limits, rental rates and so forth. Under the terms of the contract with the PHA no tenant will be admitted who is able to pay for standard private housing, and only those who qualify as family units will be eligible.

Title to the property is vested in the Housing Authority of the City of Rising Star, Texas, an agency of the city government. Under the terms of the contract the government guarantees the bonds issued by the authority to finance the project. When these are paid the contract with the PHA ceases to exist and the project becomes the unencumbered property of the city of Rising Star. The PHA will have no further voice in its operation.

Information concerning rents, admissibility and other management regulations will be published in the Record when available, it was announced.

The project consists of six brick veneer buildings of permanent and attractive construction containing 12 apartments of from one to four bedrooms. Family size and character alone will determine the number of bedrooms to be allotted to a tenant. Rents will not be based on the size of the building but on the income of the tenant.

The grounds will be attractively landscaped and the project itself represents a beautiful and modernistic addition to the residential area of the city.

Mrs. Ima Yocham is the present executive director. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Weber. Members of the Authority are B. A. Butler, chairman; Bill Denard, vice chairman; Elgie Crisp, F. B. Joyce and Alton Roan.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Parental Consent Needed For Child's Medical Care

It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time.

For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy into a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parents' consent.

Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid—but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or baby sitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment.

Even an adult must request treatment and grant consent to medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this.

By going to your doctor you show your willingness and consent to accept his treatment.

Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident you come to a hospital for emergency treatment. If you are unconscious, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get your consent to further treatment.

Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them.

The consent should not be broadly or loosely phrased, but should be as specific as circumstances permit.

The principal reason for having the consent in writing is to avoid later misunderstandings. It is a protection both to the patient and physician.

Methodist Layman Cited By Baptists For Press Award

DALLAS—(Spl.)—Thomas E. Turner, chief of the Central Texas News Bureau for the Dallas Morning News, has been named winner of the 1960 Texas Baptist Press Award.

Turner, the first Methodist ever to win the annual award sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will receive an engraved watch and plaque during the annual meeting of the state Baptist Convention in Lubbock Nov. 2.

The award cites Turner for outstanding "Christian service in the field of journalism."

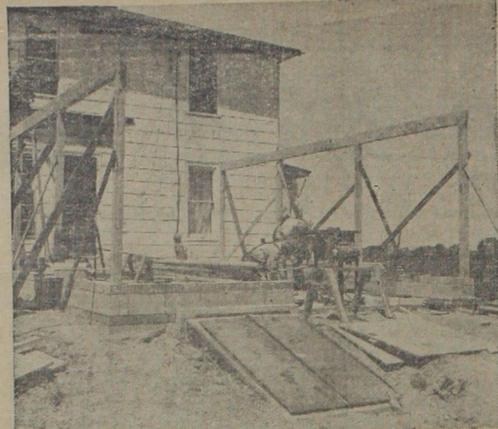

A roving reporter whose main office is in Waco, Turner says that he writes so much news copy about Baptists, especially about Baylor University, that some people assume that he is a Baptist.

He is a Sunday School teacher at Cogdell Memorial Methodist Church where he is a member. A former steward for the church, he has even filled the pulpit on layman's day. He also handles the church's public relations and has held every possible office in the Methodist Sunday School.

The 39-year old newsman covers everything from sports to political news in the 10-county Central Texas area. He got his start in reporting as sports editor of the Hillsboro Mirror, and worked for the Houston Post before joining the Dallas Morning News as a general assignment reporter in 1943.

Turner opened the News' Central Texas Bureau in 1947, and turns out about 4,000 to 5,000 words of copy per week.

The Press Award will be presented by Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, and by Dave Cheavens, Chief of the Associated Press' Austin Bureau and vice-chairman of the Texas Baptist Public Relations Advisory Committee.

DUAL PURPOSE fallout shelter and carport-patio is shown under construction at the farm of John Holden near Hickory Corners, Mich. The shelter, to be used also for food storage, cost $1,200. With the carport and patio now being added, the cost totaled $2,300. Holden's family of three, and eight neighbors, gave the shelter a realistic workout recently when a small tornado struck nearby. Stockmen Warned of Prussic Acid Threat

COLLEGE STATION. — The first frost of the winter should be here before long, and when it comes it could mean trouble for livestock producers. John-som grass and sorghum sometimes develop a high prussic acid content after a frost, and this is very dangerous to livestock.

Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, explains that certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and these changes produce the prussic acid. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it, Dr. Patterson points out.

Frosted Johnson grass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry, warns Patterson. If it is ready to cut before a frost, it may be cut the first day after the frost. Even so, care must be taken to see that it is completely dry before baling.

Silage is another way to use the frosted plants. Generally, enough prussic acid is lost during the ensiling process, and as silage is removed and fed, to make it safe for livestock. Animals shouldn't be allowed to self-feed from a silo filled with frosted sudan or sorghum, however. If there is any doubt about the silage it should be tested. This may be done by a local veterinarian or by feeding the silage to one or two inferior animals.

Livestock Feeding In Corn Belt Area Will Be Studied

COLLEGE STATION. — Many areas of Texas have the ingredients—plenty of grain, livestock and favorable climatic conditions—to make livestock feeding a profitable operation. In order for interested farmers, ranchmen, bankers and agriculturists to get first hand information on how successful livestock feeding operations are carried out in the Corn Belt, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Texas A&M College and Texas Tech College, is sponsoring a tour into the heart of the nation's great feeding area.

Dean Emeritus W. L. Stangel of Tech's School of Agriculture and chairman of the Chamber's Agriculture and Livestock Committee will serve as tour leader. He extends an invitation to anyone interested to join the group which will leave Texas on November 26 and return on December 1.

Travel will be in Pullman cars with departures from both Lubbock and Fort Worth on the afternoon of November 26. The cars will be put on the same train in Kansas City. The first stop will be in Chicago to attend the world famous International Livestock Exposition where the judging of fat livestock will be observed including carlot champions and the naming of the grand champion fat steer of the Show. Visits will also be made to processing plants to inspect dressed carcasses of fat cattle.

From Chicago, the tour will move to Iowa State University where livestock feeding specialists will take the visitors to farms for observations and discussions with farmer-feeders. Dean Stangel said, "We hope these personal contacts will cause our own farmers and ranchmen to take a closer look at their operations and determine whether or not livestock feeding might offer a new source of income. We believe many will see opportunities for such programs."

In addition to the farm and feeder visits, the tour members will also see the vast research facilities at Iowa State University and hold discussions with national leaders on feeding and management problems.

Most county agents and local chambers of commerce in West Texas can supply detailed information on the tour. It can also be obtained by writing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Texas. Reservations should be made as soon as possible, Dean Stangel said.

La Dean Lindley is on the sick list this week.

OUR LIBRARY

One of the most valuable assets our High School has is our library. It is a great source of information helpful in each subject a student might take. Our collection of books is steadily increasing; thus, information on a greater variety of subjects is available. To get the fullest benefit from our library, a student has to know how to use the information found; and, of course, he must know how to find the book or material for information. All the knowledge contained in the book on the shelves of our library will not help a student unless he can pick out the most important subject of fact in a topic. To be able to put together the information found and compile it into a theme or report is a skill each student should strive for and be proud of when achieved.

Using the library for a source of reading pleasure is perhaps more familiar. Our interests and predilection in books influence our lives. This means we should at all times be careful to select the best materials for reading. To develop an interest in reading can mean many happy interesting hours devoted to reading. Books can be as absorbing as movies, as timely as real life experience—which some books are. Try visiting our library and I am sure you will find the books are not there just to take up space or to be dusted occasionally by our efficient student librarians. They are placed here for your benefit and enjoyment—so take advantage of that wonderful opportunity and read!

I could not conclude this editorial without mentioning our every Wednesday; she has truly been an asset to our school staff.

SENIOR JIVE

After a look at my sun dial I see that it is time once again to write the Senior news. School is beginning to settle down to a quiet steady pace which we Seniors are enduring the thought that this will be our last year at our old High School.

This week our Wildcats take on the Jim Ned Indians at Rising Star Stadium with high hopes and the pictures of a victory in the backs of their minds. Let's don't lose faith in our old "home team". O. K. Let's go, Cats.

We're going into basketball practice full blast now because our first game is coming up shortly. Don't forget that old saying, girls; "Early to bed and early to rise, makes you healthy, wealthy, and wise!" As a matter of fact—it makes Putman feel a little better.

Speaking of health; there are quite a few of those old flu bugs flying around lately. It looks as if Old Man Winter has already taken a stand—and a mite early if you ask me!

Again as I take a peek at my sun dial I see that it is just about time for that "gossip folly". As the old saying goes—

"Johnnie—That little lizard, or "Come what, come may", as you called it—snake, that you saw at the ball game Thursday night caused quite a sensation. I didn't know that you were so good at climbing—as a matter of fact Jerry A. I didn't know that you knew how to make like a tree so well either. Like you know what I mean!!

Jetta—Let's think about living!! Let's think about love!! Better watch that girl, B. W.!!

Charles—Have you been reciting "sonnets of love" to Snail? Kinda makes you (rather us) wonder doesn't it? You dogs!

Elaine—Do you just have to act silly all time? Better calm up, girl. Ha! Bet you can't guess who said that, Elaine. Ha!

Beuler—Ohh! "She makes me soo mad!" Now we see what red hair does for you, Beuler! Coy, you'd better watch what you say around Beuler if you don't want "A Whole Lot of Shaking Goin' On!" Get what I mean, Beuler? Ha!

Rucker—Just what did you do after that ballgame last Thursday night? Oh, yes, Rucker, the cat is out of that bag now!

Rex—You've been doing well on those vocabulary tests—reckon you'd know anything about that little matter of cheating that is going on? Aw! I won't tell!

Lanette—You would make a swell cheer leader! You and Dug both. How about that, sports fans?

From the look on Mrs. C. A. C.'s face, I see that I'd better let her get this to the editor's desk or it won't be in the paper this week. Until next week, this has been your "roving reporter".

JUNIOR CHATTER

The past two weeks have made us realize that we are going to school for the purpose of learning more about the world in which we live and giving us some idea of the responsibilities that will be placed upon us in time to come.

I am sure all of us can define the word research by mid-term since we have a term project in almost every subject, which requires it. Our term themes are assigned in English, which are to be on American authors.

We have a variety of History and Biology projects that will be on display during Visitation Week.

Oh! Boy! The gossip column. J. E., what is this about B. N. and why are you calling S. H. Ronda?

appreciation for the part-time librarian, Mrs. Steele, who is to Snuffy, why didn't you show up at basketball practice? Was his initials D. P.?

Did T. C. and K. W. have fun at the Kitten game at May? Shirley

SOPH SCHEDULE

Hi there,
 This past week has been a busy one for us Sophs. Here are just a few of the activities that have made it so.

Monday—First day drowsiness. Biology test postponed. Sophomore girls helped with the Superintendents' dinner. Theme on William Shakespeare's life.

Tuesday—Basketball practice. More algebra; worked on term project in Biology.

Wednesday—Nothing remarkable happened. Began study of vertebrates in Biology.

Thursday—Biology test. Completed "Julius Caesar". We decided that: Covie makes a good Lucius; Mack shall henceforth be known as Fleah! And our Richard has been doubting the sanity of William Shakespeare! I saw a number of the Sophomores at the Kitten game. Rather cold, wasn't it, Covie; she offered you her coat!

Friday—Twenty-five lines of poetry taken from "Julius Caesar" is due. Algebra test expected to be a tough one. Pep rally. News day. Everyone is looking forward to the week end.

Bye for now, Katy

FISH DIARY

Monday—Jimmy, you surely are going strong with those Jr. High girls, aren't you? The class only has 23 students now; Sammy Mixson withdrew.

Tuesday—We are saying the poem "A Plea" by Edgar A. Guest in English; we are also going to learn "A Prayer". Everyone is working on an illustrated book report and term theme.

Wednesday—Donna, are you trying to change the style by wearing your coat as a pair of pants? Randy, you are certainly getting tops when it is talking to chairs, aren't you?

Thursday—The girls in Home-making I cooked a breakfast today. We were a little behind schedule in cleaning up though and almost tardy. Some of us haven't learned to cook cereal without its boiling over; have we, Cherry? Judy, you surely did look happy at the Kittens' ball game.

Friday—The band had a wonderful trip to Fort Worth for Band Day at TCU; the football game was wonderful! Linda, did you have fun at the party? See you next week with some more gossip and news. Sharon

V. A. NEWS

I guess everyone lived over the Dallas trip; the only thing anyone was suffering from was a meager pocket book.

Farm budgets, inventions, soil test, how to fully use our time, part time farmers—we did not know farm management was so big. Six weeks and still studying farm management.

The V. A. I class is studying grass identification. Thursday, we went on a field trip which we enjoyed very much.

L. H. is learning when to talk and when to keep quiet. Jimmy

BAND NEWS

Most of us did get back from Fort Worth, the ones that did not are just lost forever I guess; how about that Joy M. and Mary A.?

All in all, it was a very pleasant trip; I always did want to be a member of a 2,000 piece band, quite an experience!

I have had some criticism about not having any gossip in my column; the reason for this is that the gossip I hear is so scandalous that it would ruin the printer's ink; really, I am just kidding because that is the kind of stuff I like; here goes.

Joy and Mary—I wonder why Joy and Mary were late!

Gary, Billy, and Harvey seem to have had a close call at Stephenville. Oh! You say you didn't; my error!

Don, you said you tried; well, boys let me tell you—the color is red.

Charles W., if you don't learn to keep your mouth shut when you see an ace in the seat, you are not going to be able to sit with us.

That's all — Let's all back the Wildcats this Friday when we meet Jim Ned.

Until next week. J. M.

Will Take Toys, Old Clothing to Abilene

Bill Button, local West Texas Utilities manager, is carrying used toys and old clothing to Abilene where the Abilene fire department is repairing the toys and the Salvation Army will distribute the clothing among the needy.

Those who have toys or old clothing to dispose of and for which there is no need locally, said Mr. Button, may bring it to the local WTUco office during November and he will take the contributions to the Abilene station, he said.

It shall not be construed a violation of this ordinance to load and unload merchandise in front of any public building, but no longer than fifteen (15) minutes shall be allowed for such loading and unloading.

PENALTY. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum of not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200). In addition to the penalty herein described the city shall have the right to impound such vehicles and charge a reasonable fee therefor as an impounding fee.

If any section, provision, or part of this ordinance shall be adjudged invalid or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction in such adjudication shall not affect the validity of this ordinance as a whole or any section, provision, or part thereof not so adjudged invalid or unconstitutional.

EMERGENCY CLAUSE. The fact that the parking of vehicles on the highways of the City greatly interferes with the flow of traffic and public safety, creates an emergency and imperative public necessity, requiring that this ordinance take effect at once, and it is accordingly ordained that the rules requiring ordinances to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this ordinance take effect from and after the passage, approval, and publication.

PASSED AND APPROVED this 17th day of August, 1959.

Free Instruction Offered in Art Ware Decoration

Lee Ann Ceramics this week is announcing a free class in decorative arts—design, painting, glazing and buffing of plaster artware for gift giving or home decoration.

Free instruction will be given in what many have found to be a very enjoyable and rewarding hobby. The classes will be held at the Lee Ann Ceramics shop on East College beginning at 9 o'clock Monday morning, October 31 and continuing until 5 p.m.

"There will be absolutely no charge," said Mrs. Blanche Callaway, proprietor. "We will be happy to have women and men and teen-agers who would like to learn this interesting art to attend our classes. It will not be necessary for them to bring anything. We will furnish all materials."

Cisco Nursing Home Has New Operators

Announcement was made this week of the operation of the Golden Age Nursing Home, founded at Cisco by Mrs. Witt Springer, under new administration. The new operators are the Pat Pamplin family, formerly of Fort Worth and now living at 1300 Ave. L in Cisco. Mrs. Pamplin, a graduate nurse, has owned and operated a nursing home in Fort Worth since 1958. Licensed in the State of Texas, she held office in 1959-1960 for the Fort Worth Nursing Home Operators Ass'n., and was recognized in 1960 by the Texas Nursing Home Ass'n for outstanding work in the welfare and nursing care of the senior citizens.

This home will be fully staffed by qualified people headed by LBNs around the clock. Mrs. Pamplin said.

Mr. and Mrs. Springer will still maintain an apartment at the home, which is the former Mobbey Hotel in Cisco.

Better Keep This in Mind—

... if you buy real estate without an abstract the chances are good that you will be required to furnish one when you go to sell or borrow money. It is customary for seller to furnish buyer with an abstract as he usually adds cost of same and other necessary expenses to the sale's price. So for many reasons all in your favor get an abstract and have it examined by your attorney when you buy real estate.
