Have you noticed that the city is having the weeds and grass cut along the curbs and sidewalks over town--looks much better.

It was good to chat with Mrs. C.D. Griffin the other day. The Griffins, who live in Odessa, are spending their summer vacation on their farm just north of Rising Star where they plan to live after retirement.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Troy Willett as new residents of our community.

The Willetts, who formerly lived in Fort Worth, are certainly not strangers to many of us. Troy is the son of Mrs. Demetria Willett, and is well known in this area.

Thank goodness! We can breathe again, and our customers no longer have to wear clothes pins on their noses--Mayor Carroll and his crew have located the gas leak, have repaired same, and we are grateful!

The energy crisis demonstrated how many things we could run out of that our forefathers never imagined anyone needing.

The Lakewood Ladies Assoc. will meet at the Recreation Center on Friday, July 19, for the regular luncheon meeting.

City Residents Are Asked To Conserve Water

The city of Rising Star this week asked its citizens to conserve water.

"We are still able to supply the demand," said Mayor Mutt Carroll, "but as the drought continues there is the prospect that our wells will pump down to a point where we will be hard-pressed to meet the need."

Rep. Joe Hanna To Receive Award

State Rep. Joe Hanna of Breckenridge, who represents this district, has been selected by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas to receive the State Legislative Award of the Association.

Rep. Hanna will be honored during the Association Awards Program during the In-Service Conference in Houston July 30 in the Main Ballroom of the Shamrock Hilton Hotel.

Wilbert H. Meischen, executive director of the Vocational Teachers Association of Texas announced the award. He noted that the association appreciated the fine leadership and direction Rep. Hanna has given to vocational education as a member of the State Legislature.

Church Of Christ Sets Closing Of VBS For July 18

To mark the end of their 1974 Vacation Bible School, the Rising Star Church of Christ has scheduled a closing program and Open House for Friday, July 18, beginning at 6:45 p.m.

The early time was set to allow any who would like to do so to attend the Rising Star Roping Club Rodeo afterward.

Included in the Closing Program are the awarding of Certificates to all who attended any part of the 1974 VBS, special class skits and demonstrations, special awards presentations, VBS songs, and Open House, with parents and friends being invited to inspect the various classrooms.

Following the Closing Program and Open House, ice cream and cookies will be served to all parents, friends and students.

Owen Aikin, 1974 VBS Director and local minister, reports that the opening day's attendance was 75, with interest and enthusiasm running high. He states that all children, young people and adults are especially invited to attend the last session of the VBS on Friday morning from 9:15 until 11:25 and then return for the Closing Program that evening.

The theme of this year's VBS has been WE PRAISE THE LORD, a study of Christian Worship.

We are asking our customers to conserve water by doing only such watering of lawns, gardens, etc., as is absolutely necessary to sustain them and being very careful in their use of water for other purposes.

"By cutting our use to the minimum we can lessen pressure on our wells and avert a possible and more serious shortage during the dry weather."

"Their cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated. It will help us to manage our water supplies more efficiently, avert a possible shortage and maintain sufficient supplies to guard against fires, which threaten more seriously in the dry hot summer."

The mayor said the city has so far been able to keep the taps flowing but it is not possible to foresee when continued heavy mid-summer demand will lower the pump output and force curtailment.

Economy in water use will at least stretch out the present supply and postpone a shortage he pointed out.

HECE Announces New Program

Mrs. Dorothy Diddle, Home Economics teacher at Rising Star High School, has completed training at a five-day workshop in Austin for Home Economics Cooperative Education (HECE) teachers.

Mrs. Diddle is now qualified to teach in Rising Star High School's new HECE program, Mr. Newberry, superintendent of schools announced.

Superintendent Newberry said the new vocational program will be added to the curriculum of Rising Star High School this fall. It includes in-class instruction and on-the-job training for students who are interested in Home Economics related occupations.

Mr. Newberry said that each student in the program attends classes at school during part of each day and is employed for a minimum of 15 hours each week in a Home Economics related occupation.

In addition to regular school classes, the student receives daily instruction related to the world of work and the occupation in which the student is employed, Mr. Newberry said.

Superintendent Newberry noted that students of junior and senior standing who are 16 years of age or older are eligible to participate in the program.

The Homemaking Education staff members and other experts working with the Department of Occupational Education and Technology of the Texas Education Agency conducted the training sessions. The workshop was held at the Joe C. Thompson Conference Center on the University of Texas campus July 8th through 12th, 1974.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Omar Bursleson met with 21 young people from the 17th Congressional District of Texas, who visited Washington with the 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour. They were selected as delegates to the tour because of their participation and accomplishments in 4-H projects. Among those in the group is Debbie Cathey from Rising Star, who is standing in back of Congressman Bursleson. Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cathey.

LITTLE ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

The annual Richardson Family Reunion of the late P.D. Richardsons will be held Sunday, July 28, at the American Legion Hall in Cisco.

All relatives and friends are invited to come and bring lunch.

Eva Richardson Stroebel Secretary

There will be no peanut legislation in the calendar year 1974. This would seem to be a certainty according to developments in Washington on July 8 and 9 according to Ross Wilson, Manager of Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association.

The National Peanut Growers Group Steering Committee met in Washington the morning of July 9 in preparation for hearings later that day on peanut legislation scheduled by the Oilseeds and Rice subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee.

Following several months of negotiations with USDA the national grower group had recently been successful in agreeing on general legislative principles. There was also agreement between the growers and USDA on many points but a few key differences are yet to be dissolved. Under these circumstances a bill embodying principles acceptable to growers was introduced by Congressman Dawson Mathis, Democrat of Georgia, as HR 15757 on July 2. A second bill very similar in many respects was also introduced by Representative Walter Jones, Democrat of North Carolina on July 2. The Mathis bill, HR 15757, referred to as the growers' bill, calls for continuing legislation, provides an assessment concept to stabilize program costs and provides support at not more than $50 per ton penalty for peanuts with a flavus and freeze damage. The Oilseeds and Rice Subcommittee chaired by Rep. Walter Jones had scheduled hearings on both bills for July 9. However, developments that occurred on Monday, July 8, in Washington completely changed the nature and direction of the hearing.

On July 8, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz met with House Agriculture Chairman W.R. Poage and the two officials agreed to defer action on peanut legislation until late this year or early 1975. Mr. Poage reported to the Subcommittee that Secretary Butz indicated that USDA could not unreservedly support either of the peanut bills at this time.

Peanut Congressmen agreed that they could not proceed with any peanut legislation under these circumstances. Mr. Poage reported that he and Secretary Butz discussed the desirability of resuming grower-USDA negotiations this fall in an attempt to have a bill ready early next year. Mr. Poage stated he made it clear to the Secretary that neither the peanut growers nor the Congressional committees were backing up on their earlier commitment to secure legislation.

Statements made by Congressmen at the Subcommittee session without exception were sincere pleas for growers to continue to try to work out satisfactory legislation with USDA. They pointed out the real dangers of losing the entire peanut program and used as an example the episode regarding the Peyser amendment on June 21. They stressed that unless USDA and industry are in total agreement and totally committed to a bill legislation cannot be passed. Without USDA support, they said, we will not only lose Republican votes but will lose city Democrats as well.

It is expected that meetings will be resumed between the National Peanut Growers Group Steering Committee, peanut area Congressmen and USDA within the next few weeks. Mr. Emmett Reynolds, NPGG chairman, stated in answer to questions from Subcommittee members during the July 9 session that growers were completely willing to continue discussions in an effort to arrive at a sufficient degree of compromise to enable the enactment of legislation.

S. S. Disability Program Begins 17th Year

Over 3 1/2 million disabled workers and their families are getting monthly payments as the social security disability program begins its 17th year this month, according to Glyn Hammons, social security district manager in Abilene.

"Only disabled workers between 50 and 65 were eligible when the first social security disability benefits were paid in July 1957," Hammons said.

Hambrick Memorial Fund Established At Baird

A fund has been established at the First National Bank in Baird for the family of Harold Hambrick who died early Sunday morning, July 7, shortly after he witnessed an accident which killed his partner, John David Oldham, as the two highway patrolmen had a car stopped for a routine check on Interstate Highway 20, one mile east of Clyde.

Patrolman Hambrick, who had been a resident of Baird for about six years since his graduation from the DPS Academy, died of a heart attack

"Today, workers of any age under 65 as well as dependent members of their families can have the protection of disability insurance," he said. "Since July of last year, Medicare health insurance has been available to disabled people if they've been entitled to social security disability payments 24 or more consecutive months."

An insured worker becomes eligible for payments if he suffers a severe disability expected to keep him from working a year or longer. Payment begins for the 6th full month of disability.

Generally, a worker who becomes disabled in 1974 must have worked 5 1/2 years in employment covered by social security to be insured. Five years of the work must have been during the 10 year period before the disability began. Young workers, however, may be eligible for disability payments with as little as 1 1/2 years of work, depending on their age and when they become disabled.

When applying for social security disability payments, a worker submits medical evidence to establish disability. Physicians and other disability experts in The Disability Determination Unit in Austin decide whether the worker is disabled under the social security law.

In selected cases, social security helps pay for vocational rehabilitation services, which can include job training and physical therapy.

Social security disability benefits are paid to over 2 million disabled workers and over 1 1/2 million dependants.

Loafing Through Summer

As every mother knows, this is the season when children run in and out of the house all day every day. Usually their route takes them through the kitchen on a quest for food. Rather than spend your own time being a short order cook, why not teach the children to feed themselves?

excused while the pumpernickel rises a second time. Now let the children place the loaves in the oven.

When the bread comes out to cool, filling the kitchen with its delicious earthy aroma, you can bet the helpers will be clamoring to start making sandwiches with it. Hand them the fixings and stand back. This is the year you loaf through summer.

ing to start making sandwiches with it. Hand them the fixings and stand back. This is the year you loaf through summer.

Pumpernickel Bread
 2 1/2 - 3 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
 3/4 cup cocoa
 1 package active dry yeast
 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons caraway seeds
 12 ounce can beer
 3/4 cup molasses
 2 tablespoons shortening
 2 cups unsifted rye flour
 2 tablespoons cornmeal

Combine 1 cup all-purpose flour, cocoa, yeast, salt and caraway seeds in large bowl. Heat beer, molasses and shortening to very warm (120°-130°F.). Gradually pour into flour mixture while beating at low speed with upright or portable mixer. Scrape bowl. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1 cup all-purpose flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in rye flour and enough all-purpose flour to make soft dough. Turn onto floured board. Knead 10 minutes or until smooth and elastic, kneading in remaining flour as necessary to keep from sticking to board. Place in greased bowl, turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in a warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down. Divide into two equal parts. Shape into balls. Sprinkle large baking sheet with cornmeal. Place dough balls on cornmeal. Cover; let rise in warm place until doubled, about 45 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 to 60 minutes or until done. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack.
 Serve sliced homemade pumpernickel bread with canned ham, turkey or chicken salad sandwich spreads.

FROM OUR CHURCHES

First United Methodist Church Rising Star

IT CAN BE DONE!!
The Church's primary task is to evangelize the world, to preach Christ at home and abroad. But, who is the Church? We are! That is, those of us who have proclaimed belief in God the Father, and in Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour of the world. So it is then our task as Christians, as members of His Church to win all people to this same belief. Basically, we need to take stock, first of our obligations to be a witness unto Him, who is Our Saviour, and secondly our responsibility to save the world for Christ.

Christians need to be realistic. They should heed Our Lord's command: "For thou shalt be His witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard." (Acts 22:15). But, in being realistic, is the task too great? Are the obstacles too numerous? Are we too weak to effect a change against the overwhelming odds?

After Pentecost a handful of men, most of them uneducated went out to preach, and in a very few generations the world was turned upside down for Christ. What did they have that we do not? Why was their witness so effective? They were a tiny minority confronted by the hostility of the Jews and the ridicule of the pagan Gentiles. But, men were converted; the Church was established; and Christians helped bring about tremendous social changes.

We can be just as effective today as were the early Disciples and as also were our forefathers. We have the same assets today as did they! We have the same God and by His Grace do we live and move and have our being. "He does not faint or grow weary. His understanding is unsearchable. He is the God of whom the Psalmist said: "Is from everlasting to everlasting". He is a God of justice, of mercy, of love, and has the answers to all the world's ills. But, only as men seek to follow His leadership and council.

Yes, we can win the World for Christ! With the assets we have from God it can be done! We pray you will join with us in this wonderful endeavor, thus to the glory of God and the salvation of human souls. See you in Church Sunday?

This pastor and his wife sincerely appreciate the wonderful reception given in their honor last Wednesday evening in the Fellowship Hall of Our Church. The turnout was truly an inspiration to all who attended.

The Spirit of God still moves among us bringing His children to worship Him in spirit and truth. Last Sunday, led by the Spirit of God, Mrs. W.E. Gober united in fellowship with Our Church having transferred her letter from the Evangelical Methodist Church in Cross Plains. We extend to her a hearty welcome.

The church world talks much today about the soon coming of our Lord, yet very few take time out from their day to day activities to attend the House of God, to read the Word and pray and serve Him.

The church world also talks much about loving God and loving their neighbor but very few show it. Jesus said, "By this shall all men know that you are my disciples, if ye love one to another". John 13:35. Jesus said in John 13:34: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another as I have loved you". But, where is this love that we read about and talk about? Too many today are so ready to judge and condemn, and yes, crucify-if that were possible.

Once there was a woman taken in the very act of adultery and the Scribes and Pharisees were so anxious to condemn her and stone her, but Jesus just stooped down, and with his finger, wrote on the ground as though he heard them not. And when they kept on asking him what they should do, He lifted himself and said unto them, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her". And again He stooped down and wrote on the ground. And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience went out, one by one, and left Jesus alone, with the accused woman standing by. He said, "Woman, where are thine accusers?" Hath no man condemned thee; go and sin no more."

It would seem that the Scribes and Pharisees had a more active conscience than many of us today. Matt. 7:35: "And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?" Why is it that so many criticize, judge and condemn and cast aside? Let us remember that it is not everyone that says "Lord, Lord" that shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven, but "He that doeth the will of the Father". Who is it that does the "will of the Father"? Those that pray and seek the face of God, attend church when possible, read God's word, and live as "Thus saith the Lord" to the very best of our ability. Keep His Commandments, and the greatest of these is "Love thy neighbor as thyself".

Perhaps if each of us would live by the "Golden Rule": Do unto others as you would have others do unto you", we in the church world might accomplish more for God. Once in our Vacation Bible School, the pastor's wife was coaching a very small girl in learning the "Golden Rule" and finally, it seemed the little girl had learned it perfectly, but on the final night, the little said in her little lisping voice (before a large crowd), "Do unto uvvers as uvvers do unto you". Too many live that way today. But remember, "Jesus came into the world, not to condemn the world, but that through Him the world might be saved." John 3:17. Jesus said, "Take up your cross and follow me." Are you following Him?

We welcome you to come and worship God and study His Word with us.

Church of Christ Rising Star

The very fact that God commands believers to "speak the same thing" and to be of the "same mind and judgment" (1 Corinthians 1:10) makes it essential that every effort be made to realize CHRISTIAN UNITY, short of compromising Scriptural principles. Ephesians 4:4-6 gives the foundation: ONE BODY (the church), ONE SPIRIT (the Holy Spirit), ONE HOPE (redemption), ONE LORD (Jesus Christ), ONE FAITH (the teaching of Jesus and his apostles), ONE BAPTISM (in water, "unto the remission of sins"), and ONE GOD AND FATHER OF ALL. On these points, and all other matters of the Christian Faith, the Scriptures must be rigorously respected, since they are "inspired of God" (2 Timothy 3:16-17) and thus reflect the certain deposit of God's revelation to man and, for the New Testament, the teachings of Jesus. All other sources of direction rob the individual of any sure control over what is truth and what is error.

Any consideration of CHRISTIAN UNITY would be incomplete without at least some notice of structure, or organization.

Again, Ephesians 4 supplies considerable information. In Ephesians 4:11, Christ is said to have given "gifts" to men, "for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto the building up of the body of Christ: til we all attain to the unity of the faith..." (Ephesians 4:12-13). It is evident that the accent here is on the teaching aspect, rather than strictly on organization as such. The "gifts" are explained as being: "apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers"; (Ephesians 4:12-13). It is evident that the accent here is on the teaching aspect, rather than strictly on organization as such. The "gifts" are explained as being "Apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers" (Ephesians 4:11). All these were present in the church of the First Century, although not all of them were found in every place (Acts 15:2; Acts 6:2,6; Acts 13:1; Acts 21:8; Acts 20:17,28).

The apostles were chosen by Jesus, and were given the Holy Spirit, in order to preserve and transmit the teachings of Jesus (John 14:26; 15:26; 16:13 ff), through their preaching and writings. In certain other instances, men called "prophets" were given special segments of revelation to pass on to Christians, such as those in Corinth (1 Corinthians 12:7-11; 12:28-29; 14:29-33).

These were temporary (1 Corinthians 13:8-12). With the completion of the New Testament, the primary work of the apostles and prophets was finished: the Revelation of God was at last in permanent form.

God willing, we shall examine next time the remaining elements in the structure of the church, as Jesus left it and as the New Testament describes it. Because one must be familiar with the Scriptures in order to distinguish truth from error, we urge you to join us in Bible study on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. and on Wednesday at 7 p.m., and for the Assemblies on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

One day remains of our Vacation Bible School this year. Be with us Friday, from 9:15-11:25, for the classes and devotionals. There are classes for all ages: from 3 years on up, including ADULTS. The opening day attendance (Monday) was 75, with interest and enthusiasm running high. The theme this year is: We Praise The Lord, a study of Christian worship.

The Closing Program and Open House is scheduled for Friday, July 19, beginning at 6:45 p.m. The early time is set to allow any who may want to attend the Rodeo to do so. This program will include: the awarding of certificates, skits and demonstrations of class work, VBS songs, visits to the classrooms, and ice cream and cookies for all present afterward. Everyone is invited to this.

Our sick include George Goss who is in the Nursing Home at Cross Plains and who seems to be gaining a little strength. Curtis Alford is back home from a hospital stay and doing fine. Fox Middleton is still in Hendrick Hospital in Abilene (Room A326) at the time of this writing, but is much better. Mrs. Mary Looney is not doing too well and is still in the hospital at Brownwood. The Rex Le Bleu were in San Antonio the first part of the week, with his mother who fell and broke her hip, necessitating very dangerous surgery for her. Buck Maples says he feels some better now.

We are happy to have the Calvin Phillips family (Calvin, Peggy, Roger) with us for approximately five weeks. He is a student at the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock and will be doing special work with the Rising Star Church of Christ during their stay with us, including teaching the teenage class in the VBS.

We also welcome the Jim Howards (Jim, Roma, T.) among us. They live at Cottonwood and Jim travels for a chemical firm and ranches as well.

Have a good week. Call us if we can serve you. Don't forget to be with us Friday evening at 6:45 for the VBS closing program.

God's people are to be a happy people. Happiness comes from being through Christ a new person. Even a Christian can become miserable. How? The following recipe is guaranteed to be infallible.

Think about yourself. Talk about yourself. Use "I" as often as possible. Mirror yourself continually in the opinion of others. Listen greedily to what people say about you. Expect to be appreciated. Be suspicious. Be jealous and envious. Be sensitive to slights. Never forgive a criticism. Trust nobody but yourself. Insist on consideration and respect.

Demand agreement with your own views on everything. Sulk if people are not grateful to you for favors shown them. Be on the look out for a good time for yourself. Shirk your duties if you can. Do as little as possible for others.

Love yourself supremely. Be selfish. To be perfectly happy, read and follow First Corinthians 13.

The Pastor will continue the study of the sermon on the Mount at the Sunday Morning Service. The Message: "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart".

Sunday evening service the message, "The Only Baptist Essential to Salvation", another study in Romans chapter Six.

Wednesday Genesis chapters 13-15 will be studied. Visiting Sunday morning were: Rev. and Mrs. Jimmy Turner, STacy, Patti of Tahoka, Miss Vicki Jordan of Azle, Aliza Zellars of Big Spring, Joe Todd Agnew of Abilene, Merlinda Munguia of Rising Star, Mr. H.E. Davis of Houston.

AUSTIN--The need for insurance is a fact of life for most Texans. You buy it, and then hope you'll never need to use it. And, at some point, most of us worry about whether we're adequately insured.

This worry could make some people easy marks for fraudulent or deceptive insurance sales practices. Fortunately, this sort of thing is rare, not only because most insurance companies are reputable, but also because the industry is regulated by the State Board of Insurance.

The Board of Insurance works with the Attorney General's Insurance, Banking, and Securities Division to see that any licensed insurance companies engaged in illegal activities are stopped.

Prior to passage of the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act in 1973, however, the insurance industry was exempt from regulation for misleading or deceptive trade practices, although individual consumers could sue a company for fraud.

Now, under the new law, the Insurance Board can certify cases of deceptive trade practices in the industry for suit by the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division.

Recently, in the first case to be certified for suit under the new law, our Consumer Protec-

Comments From Austin

By State Representative Joe C. Hanna

The early Constitutional Convention is drawing to a close. Since the early part of January we have been here in Austin working on the revision. This is a very long, tedious and expensive process, but it is also, perhaps, the most important legislation that any governmental body will ever work on. The product that is almost completely set is difficult to determine just how good it is. It is almost impossible to project what application it may have twenty-five, fifty or a hundred years from now.

In discussing the Constitution with members, no one is completely satisfied with the instrument. With such diversity of subject matter as is in the Constitution, it would be most unusual for it to be otherwise. When you have subjects like education, local government, executive, judiciary, voting, finance, just to name a few, to apply to approximately 12 million people in a State as large as Texas, each one is affected in a somewhat different way.

It has not been serene in the committees or in the debate on the floor. Tempers have flared and all kinds of fears have been expressed if some part has or has not been adopted. Many have argued that this belongs or doesn't belong in the Constitution. Usually that comes about if you are for the proposition, they said it should be in the Constitution and if against it, they say it should be statute law.

At this moment, I do not know how the vote on the floor will go. With the unrest that prevails in Washington, which has spread nationwide, the timing of the Constitution probably could not have been at a worse time.

Whether this Constitution passes or fails, there has been much hard work in the effort.

RESPONSEability to you and nature

Shortage of moisture is a big concern of farmers and ranchers in Eastland County. Some dry land peanut growers have not been able to plant because of the dry conditions. Unless we get sufficient rain in the next week or two it will be too late to plant peanuts. It takes Spanish peanuts about 110 to 120 days to mature.

About 3,000 head of livestock sold at the Eastland Auction last Tuesday. This unusually large run was due in part to shortages of grass and water. Many stockmen are having to reduce herds.

According to James Dabney, Eastland weather observer, the total rain fall for 1974 is 8.99 inches. Many people in other parts of the county say they have not received that much. The average rainfall for Eastland County through June is 13.85 inches. Last year at this time we had gotten 17.43 inches of rain for the year.

Peanut butter, eggs, and chicken are now among the four cheapest sources of protein. They all rank just higher than non-fat dry milk solids. One year ago pinto beans, dry peas, and black-eye peas were the three cheapest sources of protein. In 1973 peanut butter was the 8th cheapest protein while chicken was 10th and eggs in 12th place.

This information was furnished by Extension Poultry Marketing Specialists from Texas A&M.

According to recent agriculture statistics Eastland County was the 11th largest turkey producing county in 1973 with 284,000 head produced. This is a drop from 1972 when we ranked sixth in the state with 409,000 head of turkeys fed.

COLLEGE STATION—Buying more land is not always the best investment a farmer can make, according to an agricultural economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Instead, renting or leasing additional acres may be the answer to expanding production," says Dr. Wayne Hayenga.

Texas farm land prices increased about 9.5 percent a year from 1966 to 1972. Thus, many investors besides farmers have been attracted to land as a hedge against inflation.

"The inflation hedge is not the only factor for farmers to consider," notes Hayenga. "The farmer is usually interested in controlling more land to increase the size of his business and to generate more income. Higher grain prices and easy credit have induced farmers to buy more land."

Since competition for land has bid up prices well above the land's ability to show agricultural profit, a farmer may be better off to rent the land from a non-farm investor. This way, he can still use his scarce capital for other inputs which may improve the current rate of return.

"If a farmer is in a strong capital situation with an ample cash flow, land ownership can be highly desirable," notes the Texas A&M University specialist. "However, younger or less-established farmers should be very thorough and realistic with their planning before deciding to make a land purchase."

Beware Of Wild Plants

Those long, slender shoots from the oleander plant sure are tempting when you're looking for a skewer for your weinener roast, but using them could be a fatal mistake. The oleander is a deadly poisonous plant. There have been several instances of death to persons who contaminated their food with oleander leaves. It is one of several poisonous plants in Texas which can kill you, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials. Here are just a few plants to watch for: The horsetail, a primitive, rushlike plant found in swamps and stream beds which is also known as the scouring ruche, pipes grass or foxtail. Although this plant is not likely to be eaten by humans, the young shoots have been mistaken for wild asparagus. Fly Poison, a plant which collecostrs. The plant can cause digestive upsets. Bouncing bet, found in waste areas, roadsides and ditches. Its mucilaginous juice, which can be used as a soap substitute because it lathers, causes severe digestive irritation. Poison Hemlock, a potent killer imported from Europe. It is found in waste areas, fields and roadsides. It bears a super ficial resemblance to the parsley family. Water hemlock, found in swamps, streams banks and wet, low ground. A single bit of the roots of this plant can kill a man. Unfortunately, this plant resembles many members of the parsley family to which it belongs. Death Camass, another plant which can be mistaken for the wild onion but which also lacks the smell. This plant can be found all over Texas in sandy pinewoods and bogs, limestone gravels, meadows and prairies. It has a potent alkaloid which causes vomiting, diarrhea and death in many cases. Blue Flag, a wild iris found in meadows, swamps, bottomlands and forest borders. It is sometimes confused with sweet flag, calamus or young cat tail by wild food
