County Commissioners Work on Budget Monday

Declining revenues, higher costs of almost everything, changes in state laws, more demands for county services and requests for Departments for salary increases were items County Commissioners attempted to balance in a budget workshop Monday. The next fiscal year begins Oct. 1.

As various Departments brought their requests County Auditor Ray Pruitt estimated that if all were approved there could be a $200,000 shortfall.

One of the first items to come up was the Emergency Medical Service contracts, which are being drawn up with all four Precincts. The Commissioners indicated they would not sign any contracts which did not put a "cap" on County spending in each precinct. The budgeted amount in each Precinct was said to be $15,000 annually.

Sheriff Ronnie White

brought a budget request for his department. He asked for $488,000 for the next fiscal year, which is $56,000 above the $432,000 budget for 1990-91.

Some of this increase would come in salary raises, which he requested for himself and personnel in his Department. He suggested that his own salary be raised from $21,000 to $40,000.

White said he believes he is worth as much as the District Attorney private investigator David Ward, who is paid $40,000. But White said his chances of getting his requested raise is "almost a joke deal."

The Commissioners said part of Ward's salary comes from State Grant money. Certain types of equipment also come with the grant.

Richard Robinson, Comm. of Pct. 1 said that if the county didn't match the grant it was still no guarantee that the District Attorney would let Ward go.

Robinson defended the Sheriff, saying that his salary was "nowhere near to top, compared to other counties this size."

The Sheriff mentioned several ways he was working on to save money in the operation of law enforcement and the jail. But he also mentioned a special problem for the lawmen right now - a computer which is not working "more than 50 percent of the time." He was not certain of the cause of the problem.

This is the system which is supposed to be tied in with Departments in the Courthouse, as well as law enforcement agencies elsewhere.

The Commissioners were told that Harley Gwyn, computer specialist, will be working on the problem.

White said that 24 inmates were currently in the jail. He is keeping records on all prisoners being held here because of overcrowding in TDC. There is a possibility that he can collect from the state on this, if a court ruling goes in favor of the counties.

After several hours of budget discussions, County Judge Scott Bailey gave his request for a salary increase as County Trial Court Judge.

"I've been listening to you, but I'm going to give

Agnew And Shepard Attend Annual 4-H Water Camp

Ricky Agnew and Brent Shepard attend the First Annual 4-H Water Camp held in Monahans, the Trans-Pecos area of Texas. Twenty-eight people were specially selected based on their educational level, current interest and future career plans.

Youth learned, in a hands-on laboratory environment, to

- analyze water and
- make hydrological maps.

These youth are also spearheading project activities in

- detecting water contamination,
- home landscape water use,
- water management in ranges,
- salinity effect on crops and
- pesticide residue control.

Due to the critical concerns regarding water quality and conservation to the economical and environmental well-being of Texas, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with Chevron, USA, DuPont Corporation, Martin County Underground Water Conservation District, Soil Conservation Service and TU Electric are creating a core of informed youth to nurture interest and commitment in a safe and secure water supply for the future of Participants conducted hands-on experiments and tested water for salt content and plant resistance to water with high salt, toxicity and its impact on fish, efficiency of home lawn sprinkler systems and how to properly adjust such systems for seasonal water usage.

4-Hers used computer designed programs to determine the most effective water systems. Correctly adjusted home sprinklers could save 40% of home owners current water usage.

This one-of-a-kind camp gave youth and industry representatives an opportunity to interact, to trade concerns and to explore alternatives for maintaining a safe water supply. The 4-H members were hosted by Ward County Extension Service at the George and Opal Bentley 4-H Center. Meals, rec-

County Commissioners

you my request anyway," he said. "Right now its three years behind what other courts pay."

He asked that his salary as Trial Court Judge be raised from $25,246 to $42,766. He said the increase, plus his County Judge's salary, would put his pay at about 80 percent of the District Judge's salary.

Robinson said: "My personal opinion is that we don't need to consider any salary increases."

The District Attorney's office turned in a request for a Budget increase from last year's $88,391 to $104,088. Salary raises are asked for Assistant District Attorney Bill Dowell and secretaries in the office.

Not all departments asked for increases.

District Court Judge Jim Wright turned in a lower budget request for the next fiscal year than last year. He requested $155,000 for the District Court, compared with $163,000 last year.

Joann Johnson of the County Clerk's office did not request any salary increases for her department. The increase in her operating budget was less than $600.

Another small increase was from the County Auditor's office. Ray Pruitt put in a request for $236 more this year than last year.

L. T. Owen, Comm. of Pct. 3 was in the enviable position of having his budget request for the Precinct ($218,000) less than his projected Road and Bridge income ($318,000).

The other precincts found considerable R & B shortfall between requests and projected income.

It all added up to a long day and some things to iron out. The Commissioners will hear more requests and possibly make some decisions next Monday, Aug. 26. The meeting will be open to the public.

PERSONAL

Fishing Outdoors

by Terry L. Wilson

David Burkman, Isaac Burkman and Brandon Olson

REMEMBERING WHY WE FISH

Fishing had to have first been discovered by children. No other group can demonstrate the sheer enjoyment and excitement of hooking a fish. Big or little, bass or perch, children withdraw the raw beauty derived from "Fishing Outdoors."

This past weekend I was fortunate enough to once again see what fishing really means, companionship, mother nature, harmony and so much more. I was invited to accompany the Corinth Baptist Church of Cisco youth group for a day of fishing. We were invited to cast upon an excellent hole of private water located on the Hagan Estates.

Parents and sponsors treated all to a fine meal of burgers and hot dogs and as usual on outdoors and a special new Berkley XT Solar line. Also winning top awards were to Jay Clark the spearhead of a fine outing.

Recent rains had muddied the waters some but the faces of the young anglers reflected a determination of professional anglers. A quick run at some catfishing with limited results, our young anglers opted for a little black bass fishing. Spinner baits were chosen and the casting began. A number of fish were hooked but shook free before being landed by all. Some really big fish were brought close to shore only to escape.

At the end of the day the big fish of the day went to Isaac Burkman, son of Bo and Tamara Burkman of Cisco had landed a 3 pound even black bass. Isaac was awarded a new Berkley Power Rod, Berkley Power Worms, and a pool of new Berkley XT Solar line. Also winning top awards were David Burkman, also son of Bo and Tamara Burkman. Brandon Olson, son of Dennis and Pat Stovall of Cisco. Both these dedicated anglers were also awarded some fine products sponsored by Berkley and Fishing Outdoors.

In the eleven years of working with our youth across the state I can't remember a better bunch of anglers. I think I must have put around 150 miles on my shoes trying to keep up with these, our future outdoorsmen. Thanks for inviting me guys, I learned alot.

October 5, 1991 the 1st Annual Coca-Cola Bass Classic will be hosted by the Brownwood Bass Club at Lake Brownwood. This event will feature live coverage on KOXE-101.5

F.M. Two big bass of the hour cash awards are guaranteed 1st $40.00 and 2nd $40.00.

Payback based on 200 entries will be 1st $1,200.00, 2nd $890.00, 3rd $505.00, 4th $365.00, 5th $230.00, 6th-10th $160.00 each, 11th-15th $90.00 each, 16th-20th $70.00 each. Entry fee for the open division will be $35.00, ladies division $15.00, and junior division $10.00.

Till next week, let a kid take you back to what fishing is about.

Hilary O'Neil (Julia Roberts) an outgoing, free spirited young woman, falls in love with Victor Geddes (Campbell Scott) a wealthy, sheltered young man who has hired her to take care of him during a terminal illness. This picture will show at Majestic August 23 through August 26.

'Dying Young' To Show At Majestic Theatre

'Dying Young' is another film that is so new it is right out of the cutting room. The stars are also young and creative - the directors fresh and contemporary.

This type of energy helps shape a rather familiar, sad story into a tender and moving picture. So it becomes a film about living rather than dying.

'Dying Young', starring Julia Roberts and Campbell Scott will begin at the Majestic in Eastland on Friday, Aug. 23, and show each evening at 7:30 through Monday, Aug. 26. Tickets will be $3 at the door. This picture is rated R.

The story begins with Hilary O'Neil (Julia Roberts), an outgoing young woman whose existence has been commonplace. She has had few opportunities, little money, and a series of failed relationships. She is looking for a life with purpose.

Victor Geddes (Campbell Scott) is a wealthy, educated intellectual who is trapped by a different set of circumstances. He has a life-threatening illness, an overbearing father and a lonely existence. He longs to escape from a life that offers only sickness and isolation.

And when Hilary is hired to care for Victor, they come to realize that each has something to give the other.

'This film was very compelling from the first time I read it,' says Director Joel Schumacher. 'You have a man whose is imprisoned by wealth, domination, illness and shyness.'

He meets a person who has no education, no money, and in a way - no restrictions. It's a real story with unusual characters.'

The picture is a Fogwood Films Production, and released by Twentieth Century Fox. Producers are Sally Fields and Kevin McCormick. The story is from the book 'Dying Young', written by Marti Leimbach, pub. in 1989.

Senate Approves Benefits Increase For Retired Teachers

Lt. Governor Bob Bullock today applauded Senate approval of a pension increase for Texas' retired teachers, which will be funded from the Teacher Retirement System and not require new money from the state.

The retired teachers will get raises of 1% for each year since they took retirement. A teacher who retired in 1980, for instance, would receive a an 11% increase in benefits. "This legislation will help older, retired teachers who left state service before pension benefits reached a realistic level," Bullock said. "For a retired person, living on a fixed income, that extra money means a world of difference." Bullock cited an example of a teacher who retired in 1970 after 30 years service. Currently, that teacher receives only $650 dollars per month while a teacher who retired in 1985 after the same 30 years of service

Market prices on 1990-crop wheat, barley and oats exceeded the basic loan rates for these crops and no final payments, also known as Findley payments, will be made, according to Jerry Harris, Chairman of the Texas State ASC Committee.

The basic loan rates were $2.44 per bushel for wheat, $1.60 for barley and $1.01 per bushel for oats. The national average prices received by producers from June 1990 through May 1991 were $2.61 per bushel for wheat, $2.14 for barley and $1.14 per bushel of oats. "Because market prices were higher than the basic loan rate, no final payments were earned," Harris said. He explained that the announced loan rate is set lower than basic loan rate in order to maintain domestic and export markets. "Findley" payments are made when the 12-month national weighted average market price is less than the basic loan rate.

USDA's Final Rules for Peanut Program

Final rules of the peanut program for the 1991-1995 crops of peanuts were announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The rules carry out the peanut program provisions of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990.

The interim rules published in the Federal Register on April 19, were adopted with the following changes: "Considered produced" credit will not be granted for a peanut poundage quota that is transferred to another farm under a "fall transfer" provision. The basis for determining quota priority counties in Texas has been changed so that the county's quota comparison for 1989 will be made using basic quota rather than effective quota. As a result, Bailey and Hidalgo Counties have been added to the list of eligible counties. The final rule provides that eligible farms may, if they had a 1990 quota, retain their eligibility after a farm reconstitution if the new farm does not include any part of a farm that did not meet this requirement.

Loan pool profits in either the bright hull pool or the dark hull pool for Valencia peanuts produced in New Mexico will not be used to offset any losses other than losses for New Mexico Valencia peanuts of the same hull category. Also, profits in other loan pools will not be used to offset losses in any loan pool for Valencia peanuts produced in New Mexico.

For contracts between producers and handlers for the purchase of 1991-crop additional peanuts for exporting or crushing, the contract may be filed on a form other than the standard form prescribed by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation. However, in order for the contract to be approved by the county ASC committee, the contract must contain the elements prescribed by the peanut regulations.

The final rule for the 1991 crop says the CCC will not require producers to satisfy the producer's contracts for additional peanuts before making peanuts available for use as buybacks. The rule also maintains the prohibition against the granting of export credit for peanut products made from contract additional peanuts and exported to Canada or Mexico. However, further public comment will be solicited on these provisions for the 1991 through 1995 crops at a later date.

The final rule appeared in the August 13 Federal Register.

Jim and Sue Madison, representatives of Jedco-Design, gave a report on rural addressing to the County Commissioners.

Jedco Personnel Give Progress Report On County Addressing

The husband-and-wife team is working for Jedco on assigning addresses to all occupiable buildings outside the towns of Eastland County. This job requires them to go down all county roads and contact people who live there.

The information on addresses, phone numbers and names of residents needs to be complete before the 9-1-1 Emergency System can go into operation.

The Madisons told the Commissioners they began their work on Tudor Rd., which is located on the east side of the county, Pct. 2. They finished that area, and have since

The Eastland County Commissioners have been informed that personell from Jedco-Design in Clyde are now doing rural addressing in Eastland County.

This is the company previously hired by the Commissioners to number rural roads and now to address rural homes. The addressing is needed before the 9-1-1 Emergency Service can begin in the county.

The Jedco crew will assign a number to every occupiable building that is outside the corporate city limits of the towns. The road numbers will begin with 1- where each rural road originates and go up one digit each .2 of a mile. House numbers will depend on density of homes.

Decals with the number will be placed on meter loops. The term "County Road", and its number will be followed by the number of the building.

When the Jedco people stop at a rural home they will want information, including names and telephone numbers.

They will all wear identification badges and the group will carry a letter from Judge Scott Bailey. They will not be permitted to go inside a home.

If no one is at the home they will go back several times, than leave a packet where information can be mailed to the company.

This information collected by Jedco will go into a data base to be used by the Eastland County Dispatch in relaying 9-1-1 emergency messages. Fire departments, law enforcement officers and ambulances will respond when needed.

The addressing will also be used by the U.S. Postal Service for a new mail address system. In this new system rural routes will be phased out and county road numbers and houses be used to designate buildings.

Citizens are requested to cooperate with Jedco-Design in their work. For 9-1-1 equipment is expected to be installed at the County Dispatch by September 15, with the Service fully operational by January 1, 1992.

There are expected to be over 4,000 households and 6,000 buildings listed in rural Eastland County. City residences number several times that total.

at Eastland Aeronautical Facilities Planning Meeting Aug. 30

A Texas Aeronautical Facilities Plan regional planning meeting will be held at the Conference Room, Eastland Budget Host, Interstate 20 at FM 570 (exit 343), Eastland, Texas, 10 a.m., Friday, on August 30.

Development of airports in Comanche, Eastland and Stephens counties will be discussed. The meeting will be conducted by the Texas Department of Aviation.

Anyone with an interest in air transportation and airport development is invited to attend. Participating in the meeting will be city and county elected officials, airport board members, airport managers, and other citizens.

addressed all the Desdemona area and part of Lake Leon. They are now working in the area of Rd. 534 and 531.

As they address homes with Rd. numbers and house numbers they may also include the names of rural roads in some cases. That is when the names of roads are posted and already familiar to the public.

The Madisons said they are out working from around 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. When they come to a rural home they will show credentials. If no one is at home they will return several times and then leave a questionnaire to be filled out and returned to Jedco-Designs in Clyde.

They hope to finish this work in September.

During the meeting, the airport development needs currently identified in the Texas Aeronautical Facilities Plan for area airports will be reviewed. In addition, the following will be discussed: preservation and development of airport facilities in the area; the availability of state and federal funds for airport development; information on area economic development, community goals and objectives; and other factors that may influence the need for, or timing of, airport development.
