Eastland County 4-H Camp

Fourteen Rising Star 4-Hers attended Eastland Co. 4-H Camp at the Texas 4-H Center in Brownwood June 12-13.

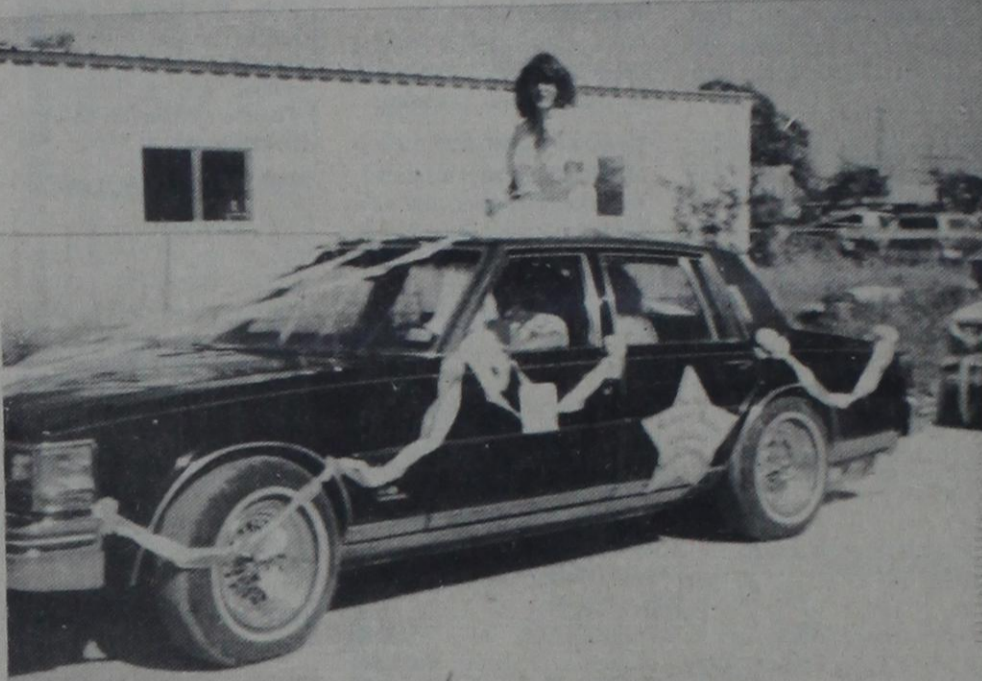

Activities ranged from swimming to workshops to a huge water balloon fight on Friday night.

Friday afternoon the 4-Hers settled in the dorms, swam, and got ready for THE GAMES. They were divided into six teams by numbers then they looked for ribbons (tied all over camp) and did the orange relay, the lifesaver relay, and the wheelbarrow race. They also had a bean race and a tug of war.

Some of the Rising Star group were chosen to play a new game-Pencil in the bottle. This was hilarious as the object was to maneuver a pencil, tied behind the waist by a long string, into a coke bottle. This is where the short folks

Detta Webb Presents Slides at Senior Citizen Meeting

Last Tuesday, June 23rd, fifteen Starbrites entertained at the Baird Nursing Home. The bus left at five and returned before dark so it worked out pretty well for everyone. We thank Clyde Griffin for driving for us. Out other two drivers were busy farming.

Thirty two were present at the regular Thursday meeting. Most of them had their blood pressure checked by Hazel McCollum and Artie Jagger. We all appreciate this check especially those of us who take medication for blood pressure.

Detta Webb showed part of her slides of the Holy Land and gave some comments on her recent trip there. It was very interesting and sounded a little exciting as they were close enough to hear some of the explosions of the war going on near there.

By H.A. Hassell

We were commenting on the Book of Ecclesiastes while eating breakfast, in which Solomon points out that so much endeavor is vanity. All this might frustrate our thinking, without his final admonition, Ec. 12:13-14, in which he says, "Fear God and keep His commandments; for this is the whole duty of man."

Henry Van Dyke points out more thinking along this line:

"To be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love, and to work and to play and to look up at the stars, to be satisfied with your possessions but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them, to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness and to fear nothing except cowardice, to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts, to covet nothing that is your neighbors except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners, to think seldom of your enemies often of your friends, and every day of Christ, and to spend as much time as you can, with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors, these are the little guideposts on the footpath to peace."

This report of guests at Mrs. Ethel Brown's house is a week late. HERE ARE FOUR NEW WAYS YOUR PHONE CAN GET YOU OFF THE HOOK.

We're introducing four very helpful services into your area. They're named Custom Calling Services, and they'll put the most up-to-date telephoning advantages right at your fingertips. The monthly cost is surprisingly low, so to take full advantage of all these new services talk to your Continental business office for all the details.

Call Waiting is like having two lines, and here's why: If you're on the phone and someone else is trying to reach you, you'll hear a short tone signal. By briefly depressing the receiver hook, you can have your original call "hold on" while you answer your new call. So you'll never have to worry about missing an important or emergency call because you were on the phone.

Call Forwarding lets you transfer calls automatically to another number. Before leaving home, you just dial a simple code, followed by the number to which you want your calls forwarded. Now you can leave your home without missing any important phone calls.

Three Way Calling allows you to add a third person to a two-way conversation just by dialing the third party's number. It's great when group decisions have to be made, and because Three Way Calling even works when you're calling long distance, it's perfect for holding family reunions.

Speed Calling cuts your dialing time in half. Dial only one or two digits instead of the whole number, and you're automatically in touch with the party you've chosen. Speed Calling is especially helpful if you have small children; they can easily learn to dial one or two digits in case of an emergency. (Custom Calling Services are not available in some areas).

Walter, just before you got here, you had a very important call forwarded - Do you have a client named Darlene?

Err... Yes, Darlene Manufacturing...

Where do I want to eat with you and Ann? I don't know. Where do you want to go?

I don't know. I'll get Ann on the line and we'll ask her.

Anywhere is fine with me. Only this time let's make up our minds before the restaurants close!

Daddy Bobby's locked himself in the closet again.

I'll be right home. Tell him to stay right where he is!

FROM OUR CHURCHES

United Methodist

There are many voices that loudly proclaim the things that are wrong with America today. To be sure there are some things that are wrong, but let us be thankful that there are many things that are right too! I saw a man praised not long ago on national television because he had cared for a wounded hawk. I am thankful that there are still people in America who care and have a tender heart toward those who are wounded and in need. I am thankful that America still leads the way in sending Missionaries, leads the way in giving to needy nations, leads the way in taking in the homeless of the world. I am thankful that I live in a nation that cares. I am thankful that I live in a land where I can travel from state to state without needing a passport. I am thankful that I live in a land where no one is suspicious of my baggage. I am thankful that I live in a land where I am not searched or followed as I enter a public building. I am thankful that I live in a land where few restrictions are placed on where I can go and what I can see. I am thankful that I live in a land where I can express my views in writing or speaking in a responsible way. I am thankful that I can meet openly to worship God with others, without fear of secret police. I am thankful for the precious gift of freedom. I am thankful that I live in a land that has necessary laws and controls for the suppression of evil. I am thankful that if I break one of these laws, I have the right to a fair trial. I am thankful for the precious gift of justice. I am thankful that I live in a land where I can close my door in the evening without the fear of secret police breaking down my door. I am thankful that our children are safe with us, and that we are free to train them according to our convictions. I am thankful that I live in a land where there are no forced communal dwellings that would rob us of close family ties and personal initiative. I am thankful that I live in a land where people are free to go to their jobs, or to establish their own business if they prefer. I am thankful for privacy and personal enterprise. Yes, there are some things wrong in our country, but there is a lot that is right with it. It behoves us all to uphold our country, to pray for our country, and to be loyal to our country, and the best place to start is right here in Rising Star where we live.

COMMENTARY

By Myrtle Owen

AN OPEN DOOR IN HEAVEN (Revelation 4:1). After these things I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice that I heard, like that of a trumpet talking with me, said, "Come up here, and I will show you what must happen after these things." It's important to note that the Church has been the main theme of Revelation until Chapter 4. Starting with this chapter, the Church isn't seen again until Chapter 19, where we suddenly find it returning to earth with Christ as he comes to reign as King of Kings and Lord of Lords. The question is: "Where is the Church during the earthly devastation described in Chapters 6 through 19, and how did it get wherever it is? The Apostle Paul gives us the prophetic answer to the question calling it a secret. When the Word secret is used in the Bible, it usually refers to a secret that no one knows until God chooses to reveal it. Since the Church itself was a secret to the believers of Old Testament days, its final destiny was also unknown. Not until after Jesus' resurrection and the birth of the Church did God choose to reveal His plans for this new body of believers, and Paul was given the opportunity to unveil the secret. In 1 Corinthians 15:51, 52 Paul wrote, "Behold, I show you a mystery: we shall not all die, but we shall all be changed from mortal to immortal, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet..." The mystery revealed here is the promise that a certain group of people wouldn't have to die before going to be with Christ, but would be changed from mortals to immortals without going through physical death. Paul further explains this in 1 Thessalonians 4:15-17: "For this we say unto you by the authority of the Lord that we who are alive and remain until the Lord returns will not be raised up before those who have died. For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet of God; and the dead in Christ will rise first; then we who are alive and remain will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord."

milk totaled $505 million last year, second to beef in Texas' animal industry. Northeast Texas led the state in milk production with Central and North Central Texas closely behind.

Poultry came in third in cash receipts from animal agriculture in Texas last year with a total of almost $500 million. Cash receipts from broilers totaled $254 million, with East Texas leading sales followed by the Coastal Bend and Northeast Texas. Egg sales totaled $165 million, with the Coastal Bend leading in sales followed by East and South Central Texas. Cash receipts from turkeys totaled $57 million, with Central Texas having highest sales followed by the Coastal Bend and South Central Texas.

Cash receipts from hogs are estimated at $108 million, with the South Plains, South central and Central Texas the top producing areas.

Texas leads the nation in sheep, wool, goats and mohair production. Cash receipts from sheep and lamb production totaled $70 million in 1980 while wool added another $18 million. Leading the state in sheep production last year were West, Central and Central Texas.

Cash receipts from goats totaled $6 million and mohair sales reached $31 million, with the top producing areas being Southwest, West Central and Central Texas.

Honey sales also contributed to cash receipts for animal agriculture in Texas last year to the tune of some $5 million. The Upper Coast Southwest Texas and the Coastal Bend were the top honey producing regions in the state.

While cash receipts from animal agriculture were down some last year, net income came under even more pressure due to ever-rising production costs, says Anderson. High interest rates and inflation continued to be major factors in the continuous squeeze between costs and receipts.

Prospects are for some improvement in 1981 agricultural income, adds the economist. Yet, high interest rates, rising production costs and sagging farm prices remain a challenge to producers.

'80 Livestock Receipts Down in Texas

COLLEGE STATION—Total cash receipts from Texas livestock in 1980 totaled about $5.2 billion, down some $800 million from 1979, according to preliminary estimates.

These estimates include cash receipts for meat animals, dairy products, poultry, eggs and livestock products.

The $5.2 billion livestock receipts should have an estimated agribusiness impact of more than $19 billion on the Texas economy.

Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says downward pressure on beef and hog prices and fewer cattle marketings accounted for most of the decline in cash receipts from livestock last year.

Cash receipts from crops totaling about $3.9 billion and $633 million in agriculturally related income pushed the state's estimated agricultural income to the $9.7 billion mark, down somewhat from the $10.5 billion recorded in 1979.

Based on these figures, Texas still ranks third in the nation, behind California and Iowa, in total agricultural production, but leads other states in sales from marketing cattle, sheep, wool, goats and mohair, points out Anderson.

Texas also accounts for 12% of the U.S. cattle and calf herd and 15% of all beef cows.

Cash receipts from cattle and calves totaled about $4 billion in 1980, representing about 40% of the state's total agricultural sales.

During 1980, cattle feeding in Texas represented 18% of the total fed in major cattle feeding states.

Ray Green gave the sermon. There was a large group at the service.

The Rising Star Nursing Center Bible Study Class had as their guests, the teams from the May Tabernacle Crusade For Christ, at our regular meeting time 2 P.M. Friday, the Rev. Curry Juneau and wife of Houston and Bro. Jim Runyon and his wife from Tulsa, Okla., also with us were Bro. Bill Campbell and his wife from First Baptist Church of May. The residents and other visitors from May and Rising Star enjoyed the music, led by Bro. Runyon, the special music brought by different ones of the group and the closing devotion by Rev. Juneau.

Rainfall Efficiently for Top Quality Hay

COLLEGE STATION—Recent rains over much of Texas have greatly improved pasture and hay conditions. Producers can capitalize on these much needed rains by following a few key steps.

Dr. Neal Pratt, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, suggests several practices for producers to improve hay and forage production.

First, harvest excess forage as hay while its quality is still good. Spring and early summer normally are times of greatest rainfall. With excess rains, it's important to conserve forage growth and quality. As grasses mature, quality declines rapidly. Unharvested forage becomes almost worthless later in the season.

Next, remove low quality grass and stubble from pastures. Even if the hay will not be harvested, it's best to mow, shred or otherwise remove stemmy, low quality grass to encourage fresh, leafy, good-quality growth into summer months.

Third, forage producers can apply fertilizer to improve quality and grow hay for harvesting later in the season.

It's also important to get hay tested for quality as soon as possible after harvesting. This enables producers to plan supplemental feeding practices.

County Extension agents and program building committees throughout Texas conduct field demonstration each year to show the advantages of these and other pasture management practices, notes Pratt. Information on county studies is available at the county extension office.
