THE INSTALLATION OF A CLEANER FOR FARMERS STOCK PEANUTS

We are now able to custom clean your peanuts for you before they are graded. Peanuts which are not eligible for loan because of excess foreign material can now be made eligible by cleaning.

Here's the way it works. The peanuts are emptied into an elevator which takes them up to the cleaner. The cleaner will remove most of the sand, rocks, sticks, leaves, etc. They are sampled as they leave the cleaner. Another elevator takes them to an overhead bin which will hold them until the entire load has been cleaned.

The clean peanuts are then loaded into a truck and weighed prior to selling. Your grade and weight are determined on clean peanuts.

The cost of cleaning will be much less than the penalty for excess foreign material. It will pay you to see us before selling your peanuts.

We're back again with some interesting news, the headlines read "Dallas Fair"! Boy, did we have a ball! We went to so many different buildings and rode so many things. I think most of us were sort of green around the gills. Most of us went into the Electric Building and the Women's Building; we really enjoyed them. I've never seen so many people at one place in all my life. I think everyone went to the Midway and everyone had fun; of course, you had to stand in line for the rides so long it wasn't funny. Also, almost everyone went to the Ice Capades; I heard they were very beautiful. I believe there were only two or three that got car sick (I was one). But we all survived and had a real nice time. We were sorry the band members and the Cheerleaders couldn't go! Maybe they can go next year. We want to thank our sponsor, Mrs. Billie Nowlin for making it possible for us to go.

WITH THE JUNIORS

Last week was surely a busy one. We all had our pictures made in every organization in school. Our class pictures took the most, and we were in-and-out of classes for over a half day. I guess the man with the camera had to have his camera overhauled after all the ugly mugs that went before it. I know the annual staff was very relieved to get all the pictures taken. They are going to put out a very good annual this year; so everybody should buy one.

Then to top the week off our football game on Thursday night when we tied the Blanket Tigers. Boy, what a game! It was a hard fight all the way and the Wildcats really did a fine job. The final score was a tie, 14-14. Next week we go to Jim Ned. We are going to be out there fighting for a win. If we all get behind the Wildcats, we can have it, too.

Don't forget to help the FFA boys with their rat campaign.

 I suppose everyone survived the fair, maybe a few dizzy spells and some colds, but everyone really had a time.

This week was picture week here at RSHS. Man, I've never seen the like of all the primping, changing clothes, combing hair and etc. Now everyone is going around with their fingers crossed hoping theirs turned out OK.

Before this is published, we, the girls, will have had our first basketball game of this season. All of us are looking forward to this year. Four sophomore girls got suits on the "A" team. They are Maria Geye, Patty Hardin, Bonnie Turner, Sherry Aaron. This next Tuesday we have a game scheduled with Cisco.

Here's loads of gossip:
 Johnny J.—"Whose book?"
 Kay W.—"Enjoy Mardi Gras?"
 Kathy Witt — "Have fun?" (Sat.)
 Bonnie—"The Breaking Tree?"
 Maria G.—"Who'd you ask?"
 Carol W.—"Sore foot?"
 Patty H.—"I'm in the for love!"
 That's not all, but it is for this week. See you next week?

FISH TALES

The Freshmen had a new experience last week, the Dallas Fair. We had a wonderful time. There were rides of all kinds: roller coaster, ferris wheel, wild mouse, salt and pepper shakers, and many others. Of course, for a few of us it wasn't quite as much fun, was it, D. C.? We left here at 5 o'clock and got back at 9:30 that night. There were exhibits of all kinds. It took us quite a while to find them though—easy to get lost, isn't it? Of all the amusements at the fair, the Ice Capades were the best. About 1:30 we were ready to sit down, too. We felt sorry for the ones who didn't go. We missed you, Sal.

Last week we had the privilege of having Colonel Gaston Alford of the Air Force speak to us about the work of the Air Force.

Thursday, the Wildcats went to Blanket for the Blanket Homecoming. Football season is fast coming to a close and only one home game remains, so back your team by going to the games!

The RSHS girls basketball team opened their season last Tuesday when they played Baird here for their first home game.

BUSY SENIORS

No one except an ex-Senior has any idea how rushed and busy a Senior can be! Term themes, homework, notebooks, basketball practice, football games,—then a little rest! Doubtless, many of you who read the "Wildcat Tales" regularly have noticed that the Senior news has been absent at roll call a couple of times. Well, the above is a tiny excuse. I hope I'm forgiven.

Speaking of term themes, we of the 1960 Senior class have gotten an unexpected kick out of comparing illustrations, covers, and finished products. We got them completed, by hook or crook, didn't we, Wicky?

By the way, Freeman, we girls will teach you to make "rhymes" about us in assembly. Have you learned your lesson?

LaVeda, did something embarrass you in town Monday? Never fear, all's well that ends well!

Basketball is in the air already. Did everyone see our game with Baird Tuesday night? We surely did enjoy getting back in the swing of it all.

Yea, Cats, beat Jim Ned! Hi, Sis, Are you there?

HOME MAKERS VIEWS AND NEWS

Last week at the Eastland Civic League and Garden Club, Mrs. Ed Wende from Cisco, served a delicious pumpkin pie for dessert. Since we are nearing Thanksgiving and Christmas, here is the recipe for those who might like to use it.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie
 1 cup brown sugar
 3 eggs
 1/2 cup evaporated milk
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spices
 1 cup cooked pumpkin
 1/4 cup cold water
 1 envelope plain gelatin
 3 tablespoons sugar
 Soak gelatin in cold water. Cook brown sugar, egg yolks, pumpkin, milk, spices and salt over low heat until thickened. Add gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Chill in refrigerator until it begins to set. Beat egg whites until stiff, add 2 tablespoons sugar. Fold pumpkin mixture into egg whites. Fill a bake pie shell. Chill, serve with whipped cream and toasted coconut.

Thanks to Mrs. Wende for this delicious recipe.

Fresh pork, which is rich in nutritional value, is an especially good buy this fall.

Pork ranks high in thiamine and is a good source of other B vitamins (riboflavin and niacin). Like other meats, it rates for protein and iron.

Fresh pork has a relatively short storage life compared to other meats. This means a few in the refrigerator and from 3 to 6 months in the freezer. To refrigerate pork, wrap loosely and place in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Before freezing, trim excess fat from the meat, and package in moisture and vapor-resistant wrappings. You may want to separate cuts into meal-sized portions before packaging for the freezer. Wrap carefully so packages will be air tight at zero F. or lower and store at zero F. or lower. Cooked pork can be frozen satisfactorily, but it is not as desirable as pork frozen uncooked.

Fresh pork sausage, like most ground meats, is highly perishable and loses quality when kept in the refrigerator for longer than a day or two. However, it will keep in a freezer at zero for a few weeks.

Uncooked cured pork cannot be frozen as successfully as fresh pork but can be kept somewhat longer in a refrigerator. Half hams have the best eating quality if used within 5 days and whole hams are best when eaten within 2 weeks.

High Nitrogen Level Increases Winterkill

COLLEGE STATION. —High nitrogen levels without adequate potash will, over a period of years, increase the hazards of winterkill of Coastal Bermuda-grass and small grains, says John Box, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In tests conducted by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Georgia Agricultural Experiment Station, Box says it was found that winterkill of Coastal was most severe on plots which had received combinations of high nitrogen fertilization and low potassium for the past three years.

As the amounts of nitrogen increased, winterkill caused progressively more damage, especially on plots receiving no potash. High rates of nitrogen stimulate vegetative growth with the subsequent drain of natural phosphorous and potassium even on soils which are relatively high in these nutrients, points out Box.

Potash is effective in hardening the plant material, thus counteracting the effects of the nitrogen and making the crop more hardy. These Georgia tests, says the agronomist, point up the need for keeping plant nutrients in balance. Damage ranged from 35 to 92 percent to Coastal stands in the spring of 1958 following the severe winter in the Georgia area.

Box says that soil tests show that heavy applications of removal of potassium from the soil will result in rapid re-soil and in turn increase the hazards of winterkill.

"Week of Prayer" Service Held By Methodist Women

The W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church met this week for their week of prayer and self denial service. One Monday afternoon Mrs. Robert Cook led the program, stressing the purpose and projects. Mrs. Claude Johnson read the scripture. The recipients for this year's offering will be Dulac Indian Center, Dulac, La.; Valley Institute, Pharr, Texas, and to the equipment fund for rural church workers in the United States. Part of the offering will go to Africa to buy literature, to build schools and staff houses and for Christian social centers.

This service is observed by Methodist women throughout the world.

The Quiet Day program was held Tuesday morning with Mrs. Marshall Groce as leader and Mrs. Jay Koonce at the organ. "The Secret of His Presence" was the theme. The first meditation entitled, "He is Friend, Home, Refuge, Shelter" was led by Mrs. Raymond Gray. Mrs. M. S. Sellers spoke on "Identified as the Stranger in Our Midst." Meditation on "The Journey With Jesus" were given by Mrs. Beyrl Heath, Mrs. L. R. Smith and Mrs. Floyd Joyce. Mrs. Marvin West voiced the closing prayer.

New Light Shed on Cattle Bloat Cause

COLLEGE STATION. — One of the causes of chronic bloat in cattle is believed to have been found by researchers at Oregon State College, reports Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. According to their research, he adds, bloat runs in the family.

The researchers kept records on 250 beef calves in the course of the study. Chronic bloat showed up in 7 out of 13 offspring of "bloater" bulls mated to "bloater" cows or to cows closely related to the bulls. Of the regular breeding herd, less than four percent bloated occasionally.

Bloat is caused by a buildup of gas during feed digestion in the large storage reservoir in a network of four stomachs in cattle. Chronic bloating stunts growth and is a major cause of death losses in both beef and dairy cattle.

Patterson also reports that bloat occurs most often when animals are on high quality feed such as good alfalfa hay supplemented with barley. Test animals received a pelleted ration of two parts half-inch cut alfalfa hay to one part grain mix.

Since the tendency to bloat was increased in the tests through selective breeding, Patterson believes that it may be possible to pinpoint chronic bloating families and thus help cattle breeders select against this abnormality.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

During a recent conference devoted to orientation and experience for people in the field of heart disease, some interesting facts were discussed.

The Division of Cancer and Heart Diseases of the Texas State Department of Health revealed figures on the prevalence of the nation's number one killer.

In 1958 there were 25,042 deaths from heart disease per se in Texas. Adding the 11,158 fatalities from vascular lesions (primarily strokes) equals a total of 36,200 deaths attributed to cardiovascular disease.

Last year there were 73,443 deaths in Texas from all causes. This means that 49 per cent of all persons who died did so as a direct result of some cardiovascular condition.

To further dramatize the effect of this condition, subtract from the total deaths the number killed by accidents (5,214).

This leaves us with the cold fact that 52 per cent (well over half) of the persons who died from natural causes did so from cardiovascular disease.

Accurate information concerning the occurrence of the different types of heart disease in the population is not readily available.

It varies in different parts of the world and even in different parts of the United States and in different peoples or ethnic groups.

However, Dr. Paul Dudley White's estimate is perhaps as good as any. (He was one of the specialists attending President Eisenhower.)

He found the occurrence of the different types of heart disease in 3,000 organic cases to be as follows:

Coronary heart disease accounted for 48 per cent; hypertensive heart disease (high blood pressure) claimed 26 per cent; rheumatic heart disease took 23 per cent congenital heart disease made up six per cent; and all the other types caused seven per cent of the deaths from cardiovascular disease.

The State Health Department's role centers around aid to heart disease clinics or centers, a rheumatic heart disease program, clinical and public health nursing consultation, and lay and professional education.

There are 23 cardiac clinics serving 7,000 patients in Texas, each operating with a full staff providing both diagnostic services and treatment. (This is a weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas Health Department.)

Mrs. C. E. Flanagan and Mrs. O. D. Carver are both receiving treatments in the Rising Star Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Joyce visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jackson, in Abilene on Sunday, October 25.
