Notices Reported Besieging Allied Internment Camp Under Navy Fire

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 1 (AP)—British planes pounded again today at Indonesian artillery outside Ambarawa, while naval guns were reported shelling headquarters of the nationalist forces besieging a big Allied internment camp here.

Meanwhile the British announced discovery of the mutilated naked bodies of four Englishmen and possibly 18 Indian soldiers in a shallow grave at Bekassi, 12 miles west of Batavia. An Indonesian woman said Indonesians had hacked the men to death.

The Dutch news agency Aneta said British warships in Semarang harbor shelled the Indonesian headquarters in the Ambarawa area. The RAF planes bombed gun positions from which the Indonesians had pumped shells into Ambarawa, crowded with rescued civilian internees and former war prisoners.

Aneta said one RAF Mosquito bomber had been shot down or had crashed near Bandoeng, with the bodies of its pilot and navigator found by Japanese troops near the blazing wreckage of a vehicle the plane had been ordered to strafe.

In the southern part of Bandoeng, 75 miles southeast of Batavia, some Indonesians were reported taking reprisals against Europeans and Eurasians, the British said, and while the Indonesians have carried out a partial evacuation of the northern part of the city, some looting continues.

Approximately 1,000 internees were moved to the northern part of the town and 600 were transferred from another danger area north of the railway station.

British troops supported by Indian-manned Japanese tanks, reopened the road between Bandoeng and Soekabomi, encountering slight opposition in which five Indian troops were wounded.

Howard county is sitting in an enviable position on its Victory Bond quota. A mere $41,000 will put us over the top on E bonds. Here's hoping that every penny of that comes from the little fellows. Those able to purchase large amounts have carried the ball nobly thus far, but quota or no quota we will not have done the job unless and until we get the average fellow to invest his surplus in bonds.

Although it is on rather quick notice, a campaign will be pressed this week to raise enough money to add 1,000 volumes to the county library. Certainly those volumes

Howard County E Bond Record In State Tops

One More Good Day Could Overshoot Sales Quota

Howard county, with one of the best records in the state for the past week, had moved Saturday to a point that one more good day would put it over the top on its $830,000 E bond quota.

Sales tabulated to Saturday evening amounted to $28,293.75, bringing the E bond total to $289,117.50, announced Ted O. Groebel, Victory Loan chairman.

The past week turned up $110,000 in E bond sales, and $90,400 of it came Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Another $41,000 would put the county over the top on its E bond quota.

On the last available figures, Howard county was 26th in the state, but Groebel and County Bond Chairman Ira Thurman estimated Saturday that Howard county might now be within the first 10. Howard county's percentage of quota Saturday was 87.6 against about 32 per cent for Texas, which ranks 48th in the lists of states.

Percentage of Victory Loan time elapsed was 83.3, said Groebel. Among larger purchasers Saturday were L. B. (Doc) Cauble, Howard county Hereford breeder, who bought $7,500 in E bonds to get the limit of his family for the year.

Sam Fisherman made a purchase of the same amount. Groebel attributed bulk of the success to the efforts of Thurman in selling bonds. "Of the $28,000 we showed Saturday, the General accounted for $23,868.75," he said.

Most of this went to the credit of the Rotary club, said Groebel, to run the organization's credits to $109,797.50 or $2,111.50 per member. This clinched first place in the inter-club contest. In second place was the Lions club, with $57,516.25 or $701.40 per member, followed by the ABC club with $35,081.25 or $523.60 per member.

Kewanee $14,356.25 or $238.30 per member and the R&W club with $9,822.50 or $235.85 per member.

Humble Oil & Refining announced an allocation of $38,000 to Howard county's over-all quota. Sales in this field totaled $696,529.50 and Groebel said around $225,000 has been pledged but not yet cleared.

Mercedes, Dec. 1 (AP)—Preparations for the 1946 cotton-planting season in the Rio Grande valley get under way with the announcement by the valley farm bureau here that planting permits are expected to be ready for growers by Dec. 5.

Growers will again be required to place $10 per bale in escrow to guarantee they will clear their fields of stalks after the cotton is picked. The farm bureau this year handed more than 1,000,000 in such funds. As the fields were cleared, the money was paid back to the growers.

All cotton regulations in the valley are designed to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm. The British spokesman said the raids constituted a partial application of the Potsdam policy that German militarism and Nazism must be wiped out. Removal of the industrialists "from the world of affairs," he said, is a necessary preliminary to the reconstruction of German society.

Volumes of documents and records of the whole gigantic Ruhr industry, which equipped Hitler's war machine, are in the hands of British and American intelligence experts, the officer said. After study has been completed he indicated some of the steel magnates would be charged as war criminals.

Failure of the labor-management conference to produce concrete machinery for settling industrial strife led to predictions tonight that congress now would act on an anti-strike bill.

Rep. Michener (R-Mich.), a member of the house rules committee which reported the measure to the floor last Wednesday, said he had opposed "action in congress irritating labor or management" during the conference but that he now felt congress should go ahead. Other congressmen had taken a similar stand.

Michener said he thought "a courageous statement" from the president would "obliterate the necessity for anti-strike legislation at the moment." But lacking any signs from the White House, Michener said congress should pass legislation at once to make labor "as responsible for its contracts and acts as management."

Defense Unable To Break Testimony

Goering Is Still Hitler Supporter

By WES GALLAGHER and LOUIS F. LOCHNER (Copyright 1945 by The Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Germany, Dec. 1 (AP)—Rotand Hermann Goering, on trial for his life before the international military tribunal, said flatly today that he was still a Nazi and that if he had a chance to try again he would "again support the fuhrer" as he knew him in 1933.

"As a representative of the system of government inaugurated by Adolf Hitler I stand ready to be judged," the former reichsmarschal said in reply to written questions presented through his attorney, Atto Stahmer, who also transmitted the reply.

"I consider myself a true paladin of my fuhrer. I was a disciple and a follower."

To the question—"Did you have any clashes with Hitler? If so, on what matters and when?"—Goering replied:

"From 1942 on, radicals represented by Himmler and Bormann got the upper hand more and more and I receded into the background. It was not a question of my having any clash, but of losing the place I used to hold."

"If you could start over again," he was asked, "would you support the fuhrer, the fuhrer principle (leadership principle) and national socialism as postulated in Hitler's 25 points?"

He replied: "Naturally, nobody ever stops learning. If I had to do it all over again, naturally, there are some things I would do differently. Fundamentally I would say the leadership principle and national socialism were the only possible solution for Germany at the time."

Goering's present attitude on the tribunal's authority to try him was more mild than when, on the first day of the trial, he attempted to read a statement challenging its authority.

Goering said: "I have the fullest and unreserved confidence in the members of the high tribunal as such. I should have deemed truly international a court in which some neutrals and the loser were represented. It would be more equitable."

In answering another question, Goering claimed he did everything he could to prevent the war. "Naturally I intend to request that certain witnesses be called, but it is too early now to indicate who they are to be. One thing is certain, however, there are witnesses who can testify that I never desired aggressive warfare and, in fact, did everything possible to prevent the outbreak of this war," he insisted.

The last two questions dealt with the showing of horror films on Germany's concentration camps. Goering was asked "What was your reaction to the atrocity film shown in court Thursday?"

He replied: "As every other human being, I was horrified. It is true that I started concentrations. But my purpose was a different one—I wanted to, re-educate political recalcitrants and hold them until they became imbued with the concepts of national socialism. From 1934 on, Himmler ran them. He carefully kept all of us away from them. I can truthfully assert that I had no idea such horrible things were happening there."

Hess Is Judged Fit To Stand Trial

NUERNBERG, Dec. 1 (AP)—Rudolf Hess, self-confessed amnesia faker, was ruled fit to stand trial today, and then listened intently as defense attorneys failed to break down a German spy chieftain's testimony linking some of his co-defendants with the worst horrors of Nazism.

British Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence announced the international military tribunal's decision that Hess was "capable of standing trial," with no further medical examination necessary. Before the court opened, Hess had regaled his fellow defendants with the story of his last-memories hoax.

Attorneys for Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Hermann Goering, and Joachim von Ribbentrop sought in vain to upset the story told by Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahusen, former officer of the German counter-intelligence, and first prosecution witness. Lahusen had not mentioned Hess, and Hess' attorney put no questions to Lahusen today.

But eight other German lawyers for three hours grilled Lahusen, who yesterday declared that Hitler and the entire German High Command were to blame for atrocities on the Eastern Front.

The attorney for Franz von Papen, wily diplomat in the days of Nazi power politics, extracted from Lahusen an expression of belief that von Papen "stayed on in a political capacity in order to exercise a mitigating influence" on Nazi policy.

Keitel's attorney, Otto Nelte, decried Keitel had denied Lahusen's testimony that his client had ordered the assassination in 1940 of the French General, Maxime Weygand, and demanded written proof from Lahusen.

Lahusen replied that the order was given verbally, but that he had been present at a conference where Keitel asked me what happened about it.

The witness said that Keitel's orders to assassinate both Weygand and Gen. Henri Giraud never were carried out by Admiral Wilhelm Canaris, Greek-born head of the German army's counter-intelligence section to which the witness was attached.

Keitel's attorney let slip an admission that orders for branding Soviet war prisoners were the result of a terrible misunderstanding at the fuhrer's headquarters. The attorney asked Lahusen if such was in the case, and Lahusen replied that he did not know.

The petitions, circulated by the Better Government League, charge "inefficiency and incompetency in office."

Orthodox, No Doubt FORT LEWIS, Wash., Dec. 1 (AP)—A second lieutenant walked into the Fort Lewis post finance office and asked to purchase a Victory Loan bond.

"What denomination?" the cashier, T/3 Edythe M. Jones of Pittsburgh, Pa., asked.

"Why, ah, Protestant," the lieutenant stammered.

It is unfortunate indeed that UNRRA, at this critical time, should have to defend itself against an erroneous press report from Europe which, it must be said in credit to the press association which carried it, was immediately corrected.

The original dispatch, for which there was no foundation in fact, said that UNRRA had dismissed, suspended or arrested more than 600 of its workers accused of diverting relief supplies into the black market. The dispatch said further that a majority of the workers involved were Americans and Britons.

"I have investigated the matter thoroughly. The facts are these: General Morgan, chief of our operations in Germany, is now completing a reorganization. Over the last few months the services of 600 UNRRA workers have been terminated for various reasons, including incompetency, illness, lack of adaptability, and other causes. These workers were chiefly European nationals, employed on the scene of operations, and not Americans and Britons.

"The unfortunate news dispatch, through some misunderstanding, linked this reorganization with the UNRRA announcement that one UNRRA worker of Czech nationality was imprisoned for theft and sale to the black market of coffee intended for displaced persons, and that 13 other workers were suspended as the result of an UNRRA investigation into charges of black market operations."

Hurley Will Talk To Several Units Of Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—A proposal that Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley address a special session of Congress emerged today from a furor prompted by his sudden resignation as Ambassador to China.

The suggestion came from Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) as clamor mounted for a full-dress Congressional investigation of the nation's foreign policy.

It was uncertain immediately just where the general will speak on Capitol Hill—but it appeared definite he would do some talking some place there next week.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee appeared to have the inside track for the general's initial testimony. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) has invited him to a Wednesday meeting.

Others bidding for Hurley's testimony include: 1. The House committee investigating un-American activities. Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) said "We want any information he has about Communist or subversive elements in the State Department."

2. The House Military Committee. Chairman May (D-Ky.) said he would meet the general next week to discuss possibilities of his testifying about military problems in China. Six Congressmen have introduced bills calling for immediate removal of American troops from that country.

3. The House Foreign Affairs Committee. Several members told a reported they want Hurley to amplify before their group his remarks about foreign policy.

DETROIT, Dec. 2 (AP)—Striking CIO United Automobile Workers agreed today to relax their strike against General Motors Corp., to permit production of parts for competitors of the giant automotive concern.

A General Motors spokesman said the action might result in partial resumption of work in nearly half the corporation's plants.

The unprecedented agreement to permit some of the striking UAW-CIO members to produce car parts needed by GM rivals came from R. J. Thomas, union president, in response to a proposal by General Motors president C. E. Wilson.

Local Airfield Now On Stand-By Basis For Another Month

Big Spring Bombardier School is now on a "stand-by basis" as of Friday midnight when the field became temporarily inactive after more than three years service.

Fifty-five percent of the buildings at the local field were boarded up and only three offices, Commanding Officer's office, Post Engineer and Supply Office, were still open Saturday.

Ninety percent of the field personnel had already shipped to other fields while the remainder were awaiting orders for separations. Twenty-six key officers will remain here until the field is declared permanently inactive, which in all probability will be Dec. 31.

All other military personnel is scheduled to leave before Dec. 15. Firemen have taken over duty as guards and only a few civilian employees are still employed at the field. The motor pool is still open while awaiting disposition of 125 vehicles. The post theater and post exchange closed last Tuesday.

Chaplain M. B. McMann will hold final services in the Catholic chapel this morning after which the doors will be permanently closed. After Monday night, no more meals will be served at the mess hall. Mail will not be delivered at the field's Post Office after Tuesday.

Only six airplanes remain at the field and the three B-25s, one AT-11, one AT-7 and one AT-9 will be disposed of this week. A few items are left in the salvage department and will be disposed of as soon as possible.

one or two items on which GM production is an essential part of the picture for other manufacturers.

Noting that automobile industry policy is "to have at least two suppliers and preferably more for each part or component," Thomas said he would seek to ascertain the dependence of other manufacturers on GM production, and the size of present stockpiles.

Principal General Motors parts plants, a corporation spokesman said, employed more than 40,000 of the 175,000 workers now on strike in more than 70 factories. How many of these would be affected by any partial resumption of production, he said, was impossible to estimate at present. Approx-

Valley Cotton Season Planting Underway

FAILURE OF LABOR CONFERENCE MAY LEAD TO ANTI-STRIKE BILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Failure of the labor-management conference to produce concrete machinery for settling industrial strife led to predictions tonight that congress now would act on an anti-strike bill.

Rep. Michener (R-Mich.), a member of the house rules committee which reported the measure to the floor last Wednesday, said he had opposed "action in congress irritating labor or management" during the conference but that he now felt congress should go ahead. Other congressmen had taken a similar stand.

Michener said he thought "a courageous statement" from the president would "obliterate the necessity for anti-strike legislation at the moment." But lacking any signs from the White House, Michener said congress should pass legislation at once to make labor "as responsible for its contracts and acts as management."

The press officer of the labor-management conference, Fred C. Smith, predicted that "more strikes, more industrial upheavals of all sorts, strong government and congressional action" were almost certain to ensue.

Smith said in an interview that failure of the conference to produce "anything conclusive" signaled a need for stronger White House leadership to avert a labor crisis.

The meeting might have been saved, he said, had President Truman taken a hand when it bogged down instead of sticking to a decision that there should be no government interference.

British Arrest Industrialists In Secret Raids

ISERLOHN, Germany, Dec. 1 (AP)—British security police, striking secretly last night and early today in simultaneous raids throughout the Ruhr, arrested 76 German industrialists, described by a senior British officer as "leading members of the most dangerous class in Germany."

Hundreds of British troops and special investigators staged the dramatic precision raids. The cars of Germany's multi-billion dollar steel and iron industry, surprised in their luxurious food-stocked mansions, face possible charges as war criminals.

The round-up, which began at 11 p. m. and continued until 3 a. m. in Dortmund, Essen, Duisberg, Dusseldorf and other centers, caught the industrialists in circumstances varying from drinking champagne to taking stomach pills before retiring.

One director of the August Thyssen Steel Works was found in a bedroom with the blonde 24-year-old daughter of a baron.

So well planned were the raids that only seven of the original arrest list escaped. A British intelligence officer said it was only a question of time until these would be arrested and sent to an internment camp with the others for indefinite detention. Among those rounded up were eight directors and advisors of the vast Krupp Works.

The British spokesman said the raids constituted a partial application of the Potsdam policy that German militarism and Nazism must be wiped out. Removal of the industrialists "from the world of affairs," he said, is a necessary preliminary to the reconstruction of German society.

Volumes of documents and records of the whole gigantic Ruhr industry, which equipped Hitler's war machine, are in the hands of British and American intelligence experts, the officer said. After study has been completed he indicated some of the steel magnates would be charged as war criminals.

Lehman Deplores False Statement Of UNRRA Help

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Director General Herbert H. Lehman of UNRRA issued the following statement last night in connection with a story carried by the Associated Press Thursday from Herford, Germany, and subsequently corrected:

"It is unfortunate indeed that UNRRA, at this critical time, should have to defend itself against an erroneous press report from Europe which, it must be said in credit to the press association which carried it, was immediately corrected.

'Kiss And Tell' Is Fare For Adult Enjoyment

"Kiss and Tell," with its heroine Corliss Archer, as magazine stories, stage play and radio program has achieved an almost unprecedented success. However, it appears safe to venture the prediction that Columbia Pictures' screen presentation of "Kiss and Tell" currently showing at the Ritz Theatre, will outdo them all in popularity.

Shirley Temple has come into her own again as the young lady who has successfully outgrown her childhood roles. As Corliss Archer, she lives and breathes the part. She's deft in her comedy deliveries, throat-catching in her more tender moments, and really something to look at.

In the transposition of his play from stage to screen, Hugh Herbert has lost none of its charm or humor. As a matter of fact, it has gained in scope because of the facility of camera movement. The kisses which Shirley, as Corliss, and her friend, Mildred Pringle (Virginia Welles), sell to soldiers and sailors at a USO bazaar, and which are the cause of the feud between the Pringle and Archer families, are shown on the screen, whereas they were just talked about in the play.

Likewise, the camera gives

LOVE AMONG THE YOUNGER SET—Shirley Temple starts the tongues wagging when she's caught kissing Jerome Courtland in this scene from "Kiss and Tell," currently on the screen at the Ritz Theatre.

more freedom for the showing of many other scenes, as for instance the one in which Corliss is seen coming from an obstetrician's office and is accused of prospective motherhood. Of course, it was all a mistake, but for a time the situation is very troublesome for Corliss and highly laughable for the audience.

Others in the cast who give top-notch performances are Walter Abel, Katharine Alexander, Mary Phillips, Tom Tully, Jerome Courtland—who, just about seals top honors below Shirley—Porter

Hall and Edna Holland, Robert Benchley as Uncle George Archer, a Navy Chaplain, is more than his usual amusing self.

Richard Wallace directed cunningly with an eye to the timing of laughs and the human qualities of the characters to make "Kiss and Tell" just about the tops in comedy fare. However, the management reminds parents that this play was written for adult entertainment, a fact which should be remembered when selecting screen material for children.

Man Claiming To Be German Picked Up

HOUSTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—A 26-year-old man arrested for investigation by City Detectives W. C. Doss and C. B. Sheppard yesterday afternoon was turned over to FBI agents today, after it was learned the man, who claimed to be German, had in his possession several drawings which might prove subversive.

When he was arrested the man had $940 on his person as well as drawings of the Brownsville water plant, drawings showing the flow of rivers in the area and drawings of highways and bridges on these roads, it was reported.

In a diary he had in his possession there was a notation that "it would be better to bomb a city of 10,000 population than a larger city," officers said.

Police also said he had a notation in the diary that he had stolen $3,000 from soldiers.

Officers said the man told them he had jumped a German ship in New York in 1940 and at that time he had $10,000. He had roamed over the country since that time, officers said.

Big Rotary Moves Into Albany Series

Albany, Dec. 1. (AP)—Bites Ltd. No. 1-A Merrick, Davis has moved in a big rotary for a 6,000-foot contract in the northeast corner south half section 30, in Blk. 12, T&P RR lands 12 miles west of Albany for test of the ordoevian series.

It is 150 feet west of the same operator's No. 1 that was prematurely junked last summer while attempting to test and make survey of the Ellenburger Oil and Gas showing encountered at 5107 feet.

Eltex, Ltd. of Fort Worth and Abilene, had showing for a commercial well when oil rose 200 feet in an open hole which deepened to 5,110 feet in June, 1945, and subsequent drilling disclosed another saturated section of Ellenburger 5,151 to 5,198 feet. The cable tools hung in the hole and test was never completed on the formations. The well was plugged after moving in rotary derrick for attempted recovery of tools.

Chinese Factions Welcome Marshall

PEIPING, Dec. 1. (AP)—The appointment of General George C. Marshall as special US envoy to China was welcomed by communist, kuomintang (nationalist) and neutral factions in North China, where the presence of American troops, planes and ships have become a major issue in the civil strife.

An unofficial communist spokesman expressed relief that Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley had resigned as US ambassador and re-accepted that Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of American forces in China, had not been removed.

A kuomintang English-language newspaper, the Peiping Chronicle, said editorially, "It may be confidently assumed that General Marshall will prove a worthy successor to General Hurley and that there will be no change in policy of the United States toward China, despite the agitation of a section of well-meaning but misguided sentimentalists."

New Wave Of Strikes Threatens Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 1. (AP)—A wave of strikes affecting steel, threatened today to make idle approximately 300,000 Australian workers.

Alexander Mair, leader of the opposition in the New South Wales legislature assembly, told a liberal party conference that Australia was "teetering on the verge of anarchy and revolution."

The strikes, which involve neither wages nor hours, began with the dismissal of a steelworker who refused to do another man's job.

No Comment Made On Board Set-Up

HOUSTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Officials of the Southern Pacific railroad here had "no comment" to make in regard to creation of an emergency board to investigate a dispute between employees represented by 13 railroad brotherhoods and the Texas & New Orleans Railway company. The board was created by President Truman, according to information received here today.

National mediation board officials said the dispute arose over demands of employees to have more voice in the control of the hospital association of the road which operates in Texas and Louisiana.

The president's order setting up the board said the dispute, which has failed of adjustment under the railway labor act, threatens to interrupt interstate commerce within the two states.

The board has 30 days in which to report. Under the president's order no change can be made in working conditions pending the board's report and 30 days thereafter. Names of board members will be announced later.

fairly simple to make your own Christmas cards.

Art stores can supply you with linoleum blocks and wood-cuts that can be chiseled out to form patterns. These may then be printed at home on your own paper or can be finished at a printing shop. Most of these sets come supplied with directions that are easily followed.

Use Letter Paper.
If you feel artistically inclined you might create your own cards by sketching them yourself. After your sketch is made you can take it to a job shop to be done in offset printing.

It is wise to use standard-size letter paper (11 by 8 1/2 inch size) that may be folded either lengthwise or crosswise. Then your Christmas greetings may be done on either or both sides of the flat sheet, and then folded in booklet form.

The first thing to do is to decide on a theme that will be representative of you or the family.

Work Out Central Idea

There are many ideas that can be worked out. If you are interested in sports — fishing, hunting, skiing or skating — such a theme may be developed and used each year.

Or if you have children, you can center your Christmas greetings about them.

If you use a photograph, cut it out in a circle and trace it on paper which has been folded to the size of the envelope you wish to use. Then draw a pretty holly wreath around, and it is all ready for the printer to reproduce inexpensively.

If the photograph is unusually good, you can have it reproduced directly on your Christmas card from an engraving which a job printer can have made for you.

You should be able to buy envelopes to match the paper supplied by the printer at about a dollar a hundred. After your cards are printed you can have fun coloring them with water colors.

Interpreting The News—

China's Large, Riotous Rivers Present Postwar Flood Problems

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1. — (P)—Through China flow two of the world's largest and most riotous rivers, the Yangtze and the Yellow.

Both rise in the remote central Asian uplands and flow 3,000 miles across China's scarred and troubled land.

Their whims affect the lives of tens of millions of Chinese, often fatally, and the whims largely are uncontrolled.

China has a plan to do something about the Yangtze, but apparently hasn't decided what can be done about the Yellow river, which has changed its course dozens of times in recorded history, flooding vast areas and setting the stage for famine.

For the Yangtze, American and Chinese engineers are working on plans for a dam, to be the first in a series which the Chinese already refer to as the Yangtze Valley Administration.

The long-range goal is to build a system of flood-control and power dams around Ichang where the Yangtze roars down out of the Szechuan Shelf through its famous gorges, just before it spreads out through the flat land of the Hankow area. Special locks and canals would enable steamers as big as Liberty ships to go to Chungking, nearly 1,900 miles from the coast. The project would produce the biggest concentration of hydroelectric power in the world, irrigate 60,000,000 acres of land, and regulate water flow to reduce floods through the 1,000-mile lower valley.

This project has been outlined by John L. Savage of the US Bureau of Reclamation, who drew plans for Grand Coulee, Boulder and Shasta dams in this country.

Latest reports from Chungking say that the first big dam to be started has been scaled down because of cost and the length of time it would take to build it. From a $1,800,000,000 dam taking ten years to build the plans have been slashed to a $300,000,000 dam which can be finished in six years. Within a radius of 300 miles live more people than the entire population of the United States.

The Yangtze is also a great trade artery, which the Yellow river is not. But the Yellow is even more of a flood problem. After it wanders through the Inner Mongolian Plateau and cuts down through the Shaan-Shensi Massif, it has to find its way across a flat plain some 500 miles to the sea.

Slowed down, it dumps its silt and thus builds up its own bed, whereupon it breaks out through man-made dykes and finds a new course periodically.

The Chinese recognize the dire need of "reforestation" of the uplands. They know that if they could cover the bare brown hills of the northwest China with trees and grass the Yellow river would gather less silt and would be less subject to spring flooding.

Right now they are faced with a more immediate problem. This is whether to keep the Yellow river in its present channel, which partially flows into the Yangtze through the Grand Canal, or restore it to its pre-1938 channel farther north. The river left the old channel in 1938 when the Chinese blew up the dykes to stop a Japanese advance.

Smith Ineligible To Speak, Ramey Finds In Rulings

AUSTIN, Dec. 1 (P)—Bon Ramey, member of the executive committee of the Travis County Young Democrats, said today that C. L. Harris of Lubbock, state president, himself was violating the young democrats' constitution if he invited Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith to attend the Fort Worth convention Dec. 6-7.

"He is violating the constitution because Smith is not a democrat," Ramey declared, commenting on the announcement by Harris that the convention's program committee, spurred by members from Austin, had approved a resolution barring the lieutenant governor from appearing at or speaking to the convention.

Harris said that the Austin delegation was attempting to foster the candidacy of Dr. Homer P. Rainey, deposed president of the University of Texas, for governor by putting him on the convention program. To this, Ramey said:

"We have no apologies to make for inviting Rainey. He is on the program because the committee of which I am not a member—thought his background qualified him to speak on the subject, 'Youth in Politics.'"

"The invitation does not imply an endorsement of his candidacy, if he is a candidate."

Ramey has never flatly said he would run for governor.

Ramey said he understood the program committee's action in respect to Smith was taken on a 4 to 2 vote.

Effect Of Gordon's Assigning Unknown

DALLAS, Dec. 1 (P)—Dr. W. J. McConnell of Denton, president of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, told the Times Herald by telephone today he was unable to say what effect the proposed re-appointment of Dr. Wendell Gordon to the University of Texas faculty would have on the probationary status imposed by the association on the university.

"I can see no reason why such action would militate against the lifting of the probation, neither can I say whether it would improve the situation," he said in Memphis, Tenn.

The temporary probation of the University of Texas is in the hands of the association's commission on Institutions of higher education headed by Dr. Rufus C. Harris, president of Tulane University, Dr. McConnell said.

This commission has not made its report to the full association, but Dr. McConnell said he believed the report would be forthcoming at the next full meeting of the association.

The test is being drilled by Fred Kiel, drilling contractor of Wichita Falls, Tex. Several feet of pay was taken and oil string is to be set and spudder is being moved in for completion.

Fallon, Bailey Marriage Solemnized Saturday In Walker Bailey Home

In ceremonies performed Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of her brother, Walker Bailey, Winona Bailey, daughter of Mrs. Viola E. Bailey, became the bride of Bertie Fallon.

The double ring ceremony was read before the mantel on which was placed a bowl arrangement of Picardy gladioli, flanked with pale green candles. Vows were read by Rev. James Roy Clark.

The bride wore a tailored suit of misty blue wool designed with a square cardigan neckline. Her veiled hat was of winter white felt of pill box style and embroidered with black sequins in a medallion pattern. She had white gloves and other accessories were black. Her corsage was a white gardenia surrounded with pink roses.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Jewel Reinhardt wore a light blue suit with which she wore a gardenia corsage.

B. C. Davis acted as best man. The mother of the bride wore black with pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Bailey home. The refreshment table was lace covered and centered with an arrangement of Picardy gladioli, duplicating that of the mantel arrangement, flanked on either side by green candles.

Mrs. Ben Carpenter of Stanton presided at the punch service, and after the three tiered wedding cake was cut by the bridal couple it was served by Mrs. Reinhardt.

The bride was graduated from Big Spring high school and at the time of her marriage was employed by the Empire Southern Service company.

Fallon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Fallon, was graduated from Big Spring high school, and received his B.A. degree from Daniel Baker college. He entered the army in 1942 and served with the 15th Airforce in Italy for 21 months with communications and later with special services. He was a captain at the time of his discharge this fall. ### Over 18,000 Bales Already Processed

Well on their way to a 20,000 bale season, county cotton farmers have brought in over 18,000 bales for processing, a survey of gins in the county indicates.

Ginners estimate approximately 85 to 90 per cent of the crop is in, with load becoming increasingly lighter the last two or three weeks.

Cotton is selling for slightly under 20 cents per pound, cotton seed falling to $50 per ton.

President Avila Comacho has issued a decree that every literate in Mexico must teach at least one illiterate to read and write.

The Week

are sorely needed. A little help from a lot of people will make the job easy and the load light.

Junior college trustees begin their initial excursion this afternoon in quest of a suitable site for the new junior college. Selection of a site won't be the easy job a lot of people think. There's a lot to be considered.

Final plans for a campaign in support of the newly organized YMCA here will be developed Monday. One project in mind is a war memorial building, and there are some good possibilities on that.

Based on ginners' estimates, we will reach the 20,000-bale mark on cotton harvest. With around 18,000 bales in, it is figured another 10 per cent is still out. . . . Those who foresaw the possibility of 20,000 bales back in July aren't so foolish after all.

It took a lot of effort for the American Business Club to net $650 out of its Hondo AAF-Southwestern game here last week, but the funds will justify the work when they are applied to the West Side park. Incidentally, did you notice that Hondo held the potent Tulsa team to a two point margin yesterday?

Enrollment in Big Spring schools is now at a peak for this time of year. There is every reason to believe that it will increase instead of diminish as the semester rolls along. We're going to need to pull a rabbit out of the hat to take care of all the children.

Firemen are asking for old toys to repair for Christmas. How about cleaning out attics and closets? It'll give you a fresh post-war toy start and make a merry Christmas for some unfortunate child.

November Postal Receipts Decrease

Postal receipts for November skidded perceptibly from figures for the corresponding period in 1944 but the aggregate for the first eleven months of 1945 all but eclipsed totals for all of last year.

According to a report issued by Postmaster Nat. Shick, receipts for the 30-day period ending last Friday amounted to $9,490.18 as against $11,518.67 for November, 1944.

Shick attributed the drop to the closing of the army post office at the Big Spring Bombardier school. Totals for the year through November rose to $144,011.95, compared to $125,906 for the same eleven months of last year.

Receipts for all of 1944 totaled $144,798.91.

Before the war, the oil industry distributed about 50,000,000 tourist road maps a year.

Christmas Shoppers Already Filling Stores

Big Spring's first peace-time Christmas in five years finds plenty of money in sight but a still spotted supply of precious commodities, even though merchants' stocks are fairly complete.

Business firms are already filling orders for early Christmas shoppers and have been for the past week or two. So far, Saturday was the busiest day, managers said.

Many merchants believe this season will rate the same as last year even though the Big Spring Bombardier school personnel will not be included in this year's shoppers. A few business men prophesy that merchants will have no trouble selling most of their goods before Christmas. One owner said people were looking for commodities that aren't available as yet. There still is a gift item shortage, merchants declare. More persons are buying than looking, a shop manager stated.

Hardware stores are pleased with their stocks even though they do not have available all the appliances they could sell. Clothing establishments have complete lines but none has received an abundant shipment of nylon hose. Jewelry stores do not have as many second gift items but their shelves are filled with other merchandise which will help the Christmas shopper. Drug stores are already selling out of some items and are putting in re-orders.

The variety store merchandise is of much better quality but is with less of an assortment since manufacturers aren't making "victory" goods. Owners are waiting to buy the higher grade stock, therefore, the supply may run out sooner than in other years.

Definite Plans For "Y" Set-Up Due Monday

Definite plans for a YMCA budget are expected to result from a Monday noon meeting of the finance committee of the recently organized institution.

While there have been tentative agreements on the scope of the budget, final action will be taken by the committee Monday. It was considered possible that there might be two funds proposed, one for maintenance and operation of the YMCA and the other for a war memorial building fund.

Commenting on the completion of preliminary steps, Don Newton, Dallas, YMCA regional executive brought here at request of community leaders, observed that "it has been satisfying to see the whole hearted support which the move has from the town's leaders as well as the all-important mass of citizens."

Newton said he was impressed with the "aggressive leaders among the younger adults as well as the older established residents in Big Spring" and said it was more apparent "than in any other town under 50,000, in which I have visited, that they have gone fearlessly about the job of obtaining the services of trained recreational leadership and program which the town needs."

Most cities under 50,000 people would be proud if they had any one of the "three major facilities which Big Spring has and which most towns don't have: An amphitheatre, a municipal auditorium and a large, fine outdoor swimming pool. The six tennis courts could be added to this list as most towns don't have them. All we need in order to use these adequately is trained leadership, I believe."

The idea of a living memorial as a "thank you" to the more than 2,500 men and women who entered the service from Howard county is gaining considerable favor in discussions surrounding the creation of a YMCA. This accounts for the speculation that a double fund set-up may be devised when the finance committee completes its study of the matter.

Concert Scheduled To Precede Annual Treasure Hunting

A 30-minute band concert beginning at 6:15 p. m. is to be presented preceding the annual Christmas treasure hunt Thursday in front of the courthouse.

The program by the Big Spring high school band will include "Star Spangled Banner," march, overture, waltz caprice, "Friends" and Christmas carols, "Noel," "White Christmas," "Bells on Parade" and "Stout Hearted Men." Charlene Tucker will give a cornet solo.

Several men under the direction of H. D. Norris and Matt Harrington will be in charge of the stiles where tickets will be given out at 6:30 p. m.

Santa Claus will make his initial appearance at the band concert and is to give away $100 worth of prizes at 8 p. m. The winner must be present to receive his award.

Seventy-seven merchants will have treasure hunt cards placed in view for those participating in the Christmas activity.

But Not His Fault IN COUNTY JAIL NOT MORGUE

Either S. C. Miscavage's aim or his design is erratic. In either case, Miscavage's temporary address in the county jail. It could have been the morgue.

Miscavage made a pretense of attacking himself with a razor blade when members of the sheriff's office closed in on him Friday night on East Third street. He was to have been questioned on a hot-checking charge.

By the time he was intercepted, the accused had slashed his left wrist. He bled profusely but the wound was superficial. The law took him to the brig to effect repairs and left him there.

Yamashita's Nod Meant Filipinos' Death, Jap Says

MANILA, Dec. 1 (AP)—A pint-sized Japanese colonel with an owl's beak testified at the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita today that the general's nonchalant nod on one occasion sent 600 Filipinos to the firing squad without trial.

Perched on the witness stand with his feet barely touching the floor, diminutive Col. Hideo Nishihara said he headed the Judge advocate general's department of Yamashita's command and one day reported to him there was a large number of suspected guerrillas in custody whom the military police were ready to kill.

Nishihara asserted that Yamashita merely nodded at this, which he took as approval for waiving any hearings or trials and turning the group over to the MP's.

So at least 600 out of the group of about 1,000 suspects then were loaded into trucks, taken to a cemetery and summarily shot, he said.

The colonel's testimony was in sharp contrast with Yamashita's repeated protestations from the witness stand this week that he neither ordered nor condoned nor even knew of any atrocities by Japanese troops of his Philippines command.

First Cattle Auction Promises To Draw Many Cattlemen From All Over Country

For the first time since starting operations 30 years ago, the I. B. Cauble Hereford Farms will have an auction sale Wednesday.

Cauble and his son, Rexie, have drawn 13 bulls and 49 cows of tops or equals from his herd for the event which is due to attract a large crowd of buyers from all over the nation.

Advance reservations and requests for catalogues indicate a big attendance for the sale, said Cauble. Col. Earl Garten and Walter Britten, widely known breeder auctioneers, will handle the sale. A tent with adequate heating and seating facilities has been provided at the Cauble farms in the Elbow community, seven miles southwest of here.

The sale is a unique experience for the Caubles, for only once in his entire operation as an Anxiety 4th breeder has he permitted the topping of any females from his herd. In this instance Cauble repurchased all the animals for his herd.

Another unusual development is the influence of President Mitchell, the nationally famed Cauble sire, on the sale cattle. Old President, who died a year ago, will have 28 daughters, 10 granddaughters, five double granddaughters, four sons and six grandsons in the sale.

Cauble has been actively engaged as a Hereford breeder here since 1915 when he bought top animals from the Gudgeall and Simpson herd, including several animals sired by the historic Anxiety 4th, imported by Gudgeall and Simpson from England.

In two years Cauble enlarged his herd to 330 females and located his sire in 1916, claiming a blue ribbon winner at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show.

Since that time animals from the Cauble herd have won many awards, and ranchers and breeders from a wide-area in the southwest have acquired sires from the herd. Although he has sold to individual buyers, this marks the first time that Cauble had ever had an auction from his herd.

Changes in the constitution and by-laws of the Chamber of Commerce will be submitted at the directors meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Settles hotel.

State Hospital Without Funds

AUSTIN, Dec. 1. (AP) — The State of Texas today had a tuberculosis hospital on its hands without any funds to operate it, because of a muddle over operation of the pay-as-you-go constitutional amendment that went into effect Jan. 1.

The Attorney General ruled that because the Comptroller had not certified there were funds on hand or in sight, a $25,000 appropriation for the hospital approved by the 49th legislature can not be used by the board of control to operate it. The opinion said that the bill did not show it had been passed by the four-fifths majority necessary to enactment without such certification.

Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith differed with this and suggested, in response to a telegram from Webb County Judge Manuel Raymond that a new opinion be sought.

Smith took the position that the amendment "does not operate in the case where emergency and imperative public necessity are found, to exist by both houses." He said the record indicates that such "imperative public necessity" was found to exist by both Houses under the section of the constitution requiring that a bill be read on three separate days.

He said that while the pay-as-you-go amendment requires that appropriations bills minus the comptroller's certification be passed by approval of four-fifths of the total membership of both Houses, the three-day rule may be set aside by four-fifths vote of members present. The Laredo bill received such vote and Smith advised Judge Raymond he felt it should prevail and he should ask the Attorney General to reconsider yesterday's opinion.

Strange Paradox Record Grain Crop Raised; Scarcity Seen

CHICAGO, Dec. 1. (AP) — A strange paradox exists in the grain market: The country raised a record wheat crop and a near record corn harvest, yet both grains are quite scarce.

The wheat shortage is so acute the government has been forced to release some of its stocks. Very little corn is moving to market yet and anything that arrives in the open cash market gets the ceiling price.

The domestic visible wheat supply in terminal markets has been decreasing quite sharply. It fell 6,107,000 bushels last week to 109,737,000.

The acute boxcar shortage is one reason for the scanty movement. Farmers also are reluctant to sell now because they would rather wait next year's lower income taxes or stay out of a higher bracket by increasing their income now.

All corn futures prices, and the December and May wheat deliveries, and cash prices of both grains, are holding at the ceilings at the Chicago board of trade.

The flow of empty boxcars to the west has increased sharply and Senator Reed (R-Kan.), who has been active in seeking more cars, says the shortage in Kansas may begin to clear up within a few days at the present rate.

The Army and the government are purchasing huge quantities of flour for their needs, export and relief feeding. It also was learned that permission to purchase about 348,000 tons of wheat is sought.

What's So Funny? Hess Has Fun Telling About Fake Amnesia

MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 1. (AP) — Gaunt-faced Rudolf Hess, childishly self-satisfied at getting the spotlight in the international war crimes trial, laid aside his novel times and amused his fellow Nazi defendants with his tale of faking amnesia before the world.

Hess had Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz and Erich Raeder shaking with laughter before the court session opened when he told them how he pretended loss of memory and partial insanity. All other defendants were absent yesterday when Hess made his sensational confession and most of them were convulsed with laughter when they learned of it for the first time today.

Of his mysterious flight to Britain four years ago, he confirmed reports that he had left a note to Hitler telling him he was going to appeal for peace in the hope of what he called saving civilization from Bolshevism. He told Keller he wanted to make a direct appeal to Britain's king.

Mr. Douglas Keller, US Army psychiatrist, said he had not told any correspondent that Hess had planned to take King George back to Germany.

Keller said all Hess told him was that he had hoped to make an appeal to the king of England to help stop the war.

Lakeview Eleven To Play Dallas Team In Steer Stadium Friday

Beaten in a heart-breaking finish by Tyler's polished Bulldogs last week, the Lakeview (colored) football Lions of Big Spring will try their luck against another big-league team Friday night when they tangle with the Booker T. Washington Bulldogs of Dallas at Steer stadium. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

The argument is expected to attract another banner crowd to the Bovine arena. The Dallasites will probably play Tyler later in the season for the state Negro championship.

Frank Miller, Lion coach, said he was completely satisfied with the showing his team made against the Tyler club last week. The Big Springers lost out, 13-6, when the East Texans scored a touchdown in the last two minutes of play.

Team managers who will get awards are George Oldham and 'Punkin' Jones.

Next year's Steer eleven will pack more than its share of experience, what with 16 lettermen returning to the fold. Hardy will be seeking his fourth numeral while Harris, Miller, Barron and Robb all will have had two years of varsity play behind them.

The entire squad will be honored at the Lions club's annual banquet the night of Dec. 11. Dutch Meyer, TCU coach, will serve as principal speaker at the fete.

Vanderbilt Kayoed By Tennessee, 45-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 1 (AP) — With a freshman tailback supplying the fireworks, Tennessee turned on the power today to outclass Vanderbilt 45-0 in a game that might net the Vols an Orange Bowl bid.

A crowd of 15,000 gathered for the homecoming celebration saw Bobby Lund score four touchdowns and pass for two more as the Vols struck almost at will in every quarter.

Vanderbilt made only one serious threat. In the third period Doug Maibarger intercepted a pass on his five and went to the Vols 18 before Stephenson pulled him down. A touchback downed Vandy's hopes.

Tars Recover To Fight Foe Down To Wire

By GAYLE TALBOT PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1 (AP)—Army's star-spangled array struck swiftly for three touchdowns in the opening period and defeated Navy, 32 to 13, as scheduled today, but not without being given a genuine dogfight by the Middies in the final grueling 45 minutes of their annual football struggle.

A crowd of 102,000 in Municipal Stadium, including President Truman, saw the Tars recover from the opening shocks of the Cadets' offensive and not only avert what threatened to become a shambles, but play the vaunted West Pointers on a virtually even terms for the greater part of the contest.

The difference in the final analysis—that which gave the golden-helmeted Cadets their 18th straight victory and their second national football championship—was the ripping, tearing running of those two great all-America backs, Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard.

Blanchard reeled off three touchdowns and Davis the other two through a furiously-fighting Navy defense that, for surprisingly long periods, checked and hamstring what has been called one of the greatest attacks in gridiron history. Navy lost, but it put up a stout battle and steadfastly refused to fall apart before the famous playmen.

The Middies not only scored against Army's first team, but they did it twice and the second time they went right through the middle of the Cadets' hitherto impregnable line.

When Big Joe Bartos, Navy full-back, plunged across from the one-foot line in the fourth period it was the first time in nine games this year that an opponent had gone through the Army's first team forwards to score.

But Army still was the magnificent team. It met its traditional rival, the team that was bound to play over its head, and it proved to its ardent followers that their confidence had not been misplaced. The Cadets struck like shafts of lightning to score their touchdowns, and they won.

Although Army held a safe 20-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and drove arrogantly 56 yards to a touchdown after receiving the opening kickoff, it was destined to become a much better game than that, as the statistics show.

When it all was over Army had notched only 10 first downs to Navy's 11. By all means, rushing and passing, the Cadets piled up 266 yards against Navy's very respectable 226. The Middies, who promised to make it a struggle, gained 106 yards through the air to Army's 7. The Cadets, however, attempted only six passes.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LECESTER

Big Spring football fans who intend converging on Dallas New Year's day to see Peppy Blount and the Texas Longhorns in their Cotton Bowl bout with the Missouri Tigers had best get their ducks early.

The big saucer will probably be hanging out the "Standing Room Only" signs by Christmas.

Peppy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blount, saw action in all but one of the Longhorns' games this fall. He missed the Rice battle, which the Bovines lost, 7-6. Obie Bristow, the former Big Spring coach, was standing within 15 feet of Blount when he scored the touchdown that beat SMU some weeks ago but didn't realize it was a Big Spring boy until he picked up a newspaper the night after the game.

Dr. M. H. Bennett was on hand to see Peppy score the last Steer touch against the Texas Aggies in the game at College Station last Saturday.

The angular Big Spring product intends playing basketball for the university but he can't report to the squad until after New Year's day due to his football commitments.

Booty, the missus and Peppy's sister, Helon, are certain to be among the spectators at the Cotton Bowl game.

The Lions' club had a big hand in helping Frank Miller get the fans out for the Lakeview-Tyler football game here last Thursday night. Most of the members sold tickets.

The attending throng was the largest crowd the Lakeview eleven has played to this year. Gross receipts were in the neighborhood of $875.

N. E. Craft, who serves Toyah school as its superintendent and athletic director, lives in Toyah because he doesn't like cold weather.

A native of Minnesota, he came south to escape the cold winters. He attended Sam Houston Teachers' college but never played college football. He's been coaching the game 17 years; was at Cold Springs in East Texas before migrating to Toyah.

Six of the eight boys in the Toyah high school played football under Craft this fall. The other two were ineligible. The manpower shortage at the Reeves county school is obviously serious. Forty-three girls are enrolled there. Craft will field a basketball team if he can get at least five men out for practice.

Bob Whipkey, the Herald publisher currently in service with the US Navy at San Diego, Calif., has dispatched this corner a (San Diego Union) clipping of a football game involving the San Diego Naval eleven and the city's professional Bombers in which Gus "The Goose" White, former Lamessa great, earned the plaudits of the press and the attending crowd.

In part it read: "Gus (The Goose) White flew high, wide and handsome yesterday but he didn't fly alone, for the Naval Training center's 'serial-minded Bluejackets' took to the air right with him to outbomb the San Diego Bombers, 19 to 0, in the Victory bowl bond game before a mixed crowd of 12,000 servicemen and civilians.

"As the game was played, White was just about the whole show for the victorious Bluejackets, scoring the first touchdown on a 25-yard pass from Don Tierney in the second period and electrifying the crowd late in the third when he took a lateral pass on his own two-yard line and breezed 98 yards with the help of terrific downfield blocking.

"X X X The Training Center scored its first touchdown with less than two minutes remaining in the first half. The opportunity came when Billy Gibson, the Boots' ball-hawking center, intercepted a Bomber pass on the eleven's 25-yard stripe. Tierney fired the payoff pass, to Goose White.

"X X X Banks' long pass intended for Pritchard was intercepted by Gene Dodge (an ETSFC product) on the Training center's two-yard line. Apparently back on their heels, the Boots came out of hot water to score on one super-colossal play.

"Ted Gebhardt dropped back into the end zone for an obvious kick and flipped a lateral to White who flew down field under cover by a host of yellow shirts. Terrific downfield blocking cleared the way of all except Pritchard, who escaped a half-dozen savage blocks and

Owls Defeated By Johnson's Field Goal

Final Standings

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
U. of Texas	5	1	.833
SMU	4	2	.667
A&M	3	3	.500
Rice	3	3	.500
TCU	2	4	.333
Baylor	2	4	.333
Arkansas	1	5	.167

HOUSTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Bull Johnson, 250 pound center from Atlanta, Texas, booted a field goal from the 31-yard line with 15 seconds to play and Baylor's unpredictable Bears won an upset 17-14 victory over the Rice Owls here today before 17,000 fans.

The loss deprived the Owls of a tie for second place in the Southwest conference with Southern Methodist which whipped Texas Christian today.

On the play preceding Johnson's game-winning boot, Bobby Griffin had run back 47 yards with an interception of a Rice pass with Jess Mason, the Owl pitcher, running him out of bounds on the 23 yard line.

Then with George Sims holding the ball, Johnson delivered his wallop that brought Baylor victory and its fifth win against five losses in its first football season since Pearl Harbor.

Baylor jumped in front by scoring twice in the first period. Rice, sluggish at the start, came back strong after the intermission, scored once in the third period and tied the count midway in the final chapter.

The Bears drove 37 yards for the first score with Jack Price sneaking over from the one. They added touchdown No. 2 as Price passed 18 yards to Joe Joiner in the end zone after the Bears got possession on Walmsley's fumble.

After each Baylor touchdown, Louis Leal converted. A 40 yard punt return by George Walmsley gave Rice its momentum for its third period score, putting the ball on the Baylor 30. Huey Keeney raced in to the nine, and two plays later scored from the four. Jack McBride, big Rice end, ran 60 yards with a pass interception for Rice's second tally. And after each Owl score, Tom Murphy, substitute Rice center, got from the bench, went on the field and kicked the points.

DATES FOR 1946 GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNAMENT SET

FORT WORTH, Dec. 1 (AP)—With civilian contestants expected to dominate the field for the first time in four years, Golden Gloves activity in Texas will return to pre-war status in 1946.

Amateur boxers from military posts will compete in district and state Golden Gloves tournaments during January and February, but they won't be as numerous as during the war years.

Dates for the 1946 state tournament in Fort Worth already have been set for February 13 to 18.

Big Spring will be host to the district Golden Gloves boxing tournament here January 25-26 under sponsorship of the Big Spring Athletic association.

Finally fan down White two yards from the goal line but too late to keep White's momentum from carrying him on over the goal line.

Other Texans playing with the Goose include Willie Walls, former TCU standout; Jake Fawcett, one-time SMU tackle; Perry Samuels, interscholastic spring champion from San Antonio; and Rodge.

Whipkey was expecting to sit in on the USC-UCLA grid classic at Los Angeles yesterday.

SMU Clinches 2nd Place In Circuit

Paul Page Sparks Cayuses To 34-0 Win With Three Long Runs, Walker Has TD

FORT WORTH, Dec. 1 (AP)—Southern Methodist turned Paul Page, slender freshman, loose on Texas Christian today and the mid-season graduate from the second team dashed 51, 68 and 55 yards for touchdowns to spark the Mustangs to a 34-0 victory—one of the top-heavy triumphs of 28 yards of rivalry between these bitter football rivals.

Baylor won over Rice 17-14 at Houston today and this, together with SMU's crushing defeat of TCU gave the Methodists second place in the Southwest conference. Texas won the championship with five victories against one loss. SMU won four games and lost two. Page, then use second stringers all the last period. Even then the Methodist missed two chances to score on a penalty and a fumble. Ken Grantham passed to Dick Reinking 40 yards with the latter going across the Frig goal but a holding penalty nullified the score. A little later Grantham ran 39 yards and was in the clear 10 yards from the goal when he dropped the ball.

Twice Kotlarich tried field goals, the first from the TCU 31-yard line and the other from the 30, but one was short and the Frig blocked the other.

SMU added a third touchdown in the second period on a 37-yard pass from Walker to End Gene Wilson and in the third quarter Page made his two other long runs for points. Pete Kotlarich, husky tackle, kicked four conversions out of five attempts.

A crowd of 18,000 saw the Mustangs tame the Horned Frogs easily.

Alabama Tide Routs Mississippi State

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 1 (AP) — Unbeaten Alabama gave an amazing demonstration of speed, power and passing here today to run up an overwhelming 55 to 19 homecoming day victory over a highly regarded Mississippi State eleven.

Today's win, before 22,000 fans, ended another unbeaten regular season for the Rose Bowl bound Crimson Tide.

Harry Gilmer's passing and running were almost entirely responsible for the first three Alabama scores, but the game State eleven fell apart in the final minutes and the Tide scored five more touchdowns in 18 minutes.

Coahoma Sextet Sacks Toyahans, 38 To 20, To Win Championship

Coahoma's determined Bulldogs defeated the 1944 titlist, the Buffaloes of Toyah high school, 38-20, in a slam-bang game here Friday night to win the bi-district six-man football championship.

The victory climaxed an up-hill fight for John Albers' crew. After losing three games in a row to start the season, the Bulldogs did a complete "about face" to go all the way to the throne room when it came time to scrap for the blue ribbon.

Uclans Bowled Over, 26-15

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1 (AP) — The Southern California Trojans rode into the Rose Bowl today on a wave of power that engulfed the battling Bruins of UCLA 26-15, before the season's top crowd of 103,000 in Memorial Coliseum.

The Trojans, led by the rugged running Ted Tannehill and sharp pitcher Jerry Bowman, thus closed their Pacific Coast conference schedule with five wins against one defeat, earning the undisputed lead and the bid, expected tonight, to represent the west against Alabama's Crimson Tide, Jan. 1.

Flashing the savage strength of previous USC powerhouses, the Trojans ran up a 19-0 lead in the first half, more than enough to win. The fighting Bruins came back to count 13 points in the last half, but the issue was never seriously in doubt.

guilive Wayne DeVaney in Round Three. DeVaney went all the way after intercepting a Toyah aerial.

The Coahomans made a shambles out of the Toyah defense when they went back to work after the intermission, powerhousing their way for two scores before the quarter whistle caught them.

In their last half surge, Everett Self and Larry Borden added touchdowns in addition to DeVaney and Turner.

All the Bison's tallies were manufactured in sensational fashion.

Albert Ramos plowed through the line for the initial counter in second period play, beating the time keeper's signal by seconds.

The Reeves troupe steam-rollered their way down to the Bulldog one-yard stripe by the time the third stanza wound up. Manuel Guebara went over from that point.

Ymasel Bitolas scooped up an enemy boot on his own ten-yard marker and sneaked through 'no-man's land' as the man with the watch was signaling the end of the bout.

The aggregations had five first downs each.

Book Lubbock Malaise Trims Longhorn Cage Squad To 18

Mentor John Malaise trimmed his Big Spring high school basketball squad to 18 men Friday as the Herd completed its initial week of drill.

The Longhorns will probably open their season this week in a practice bout with Sterling City. Malaise has been dickering with the Sterling coach to bring the Wildcats here for a Tuesday night bout on the promise of returning the visit over the weekend.

Lubbock has tentatively been booked for a two-game series. The Steers will invade the Westerners' court for a tilt on Dec. 18 while the Panhandle quint will show here on Jan. 4.

The Big Springers have contracted to enter the McMurry invitational tournament in Abilene December 14-15 and will plunge into District Three competition after their return from the Christmas holidays.

Schedule of the circuit calls for double round-robin play. The games will not count in interscholastic league play. Circuit titlist will be decided in the district tournament Feb. 22-23. Site of the meeting has not yet been determined.

Georgia Hurdles Engineers, 33-0

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 1 (AP) — Half Back Charles Trippi led Georgia to a 33 to 0 victory over Georgia Tech here today, passing for three touchdowns and plunging for another. A capacity crowd of 32,000 looked on.

Tech was never in the ball game and only on two occasions got past the Bulldogs' 30-yard line.

Part of the Bison's inability to arise to the challenge was doubtlessly due to a dearth of substitutes. The Toyahans fielded their all in the starting line-up.

Dennis Turner set the triumphal pattern for the victors by scoring twice. He tallied in the initial period of a line buck originating from three paces out and churned into the end zones again in the third when he gathered in a long pass from Larry Borden and galloped into the clear.

Longest Bulldog Run of the evening was a 75-yard sprint by Trippi kept the crowd on edge with his brilliant running and deadly passing. In the first period he threw a 70-yard scoring pass to Charlie Smith, tossed one to Reid Moseley for 68 yards and a score in the third period and four minutes later passed twice for 78 yards, and another score.

In the latter drive, he hit John Donaldson with one for 36 yards and then John Rauch with a 42-yard payoff pitch.

Late in the fourth period, the ex-Air Forces star drove over from the Tech one for the final touchdown ending a 25-yard drive.

George Jernigan kicked three extra points, one after Floyd Reid intercepted a pass in the second period to run 45 yards for a score, giving Georgia a 13-0 lead at half-time.

Tigers Wallop Tulane, 33-0

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 1 (AP) — The Louisiana State University Tigers turned loose all their valiant power today to trample their traditional foe, Tulane's Green Wave, 33 to 0, before an estimated 55,000 spectators, the South's second largest crowd for a regular season football game.

Two Orange Bowl representatives from Miami watched the Staters take command from the start and win going away. Whether LSU gets a bid for the New Year's battle, however, is a matter which won't be decided until early next week.

State's swift-moving backs scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, were held in check for a few minutes by the scrapping Greenies, then turned on the pressure to make the game a runaway.

Fists flew during the heated skirmish, and officials were kept busy stepping off penalties. State's Jim Cason and Bob Logan, Tulane tackle, were ejected in the third period when they squafed off and almost started a free-for-all. The same thing happened later to Tulane's Joe Chavez and State's Bill Kellum.

No State Highway Patrolman In Town

Big Spring is temporarily without a state highway patrolman. John Wood, assigned here in that capacity for six months, chanced his headquarters to Pecos Saturday.

Roy King Lamesa, will work as far as Big Spring until a successor to Wood can be selected in department of public safety headquarters at Austin.

Lions have been known to jump as far as 20 feet, and also can clear a barrier nine feet high.

Comets Nosed Out, 20 To 18

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 1 (AP) — Coming back from what seemed almost certain football defeat, Tulsa University's Golden Hurricane packed, three touchdowns into a rugged fourth period today to nose out the Hondo Army Air Field Comets 20-18.

Trailing 0-18 at the start of the final period, the Hurricane got underway almost immediately when back J. R. Boone passed to end Jack Mendel, for the first counter. Back Elmer Simmons dodged around end for the second touchdown a few seconds later, and Fullback Camp Wilson plunged over for the third with only a few moments remaining. Hardy Brown kicked goal after two of the touchdowns.

The Comets from Texas scored all three touchdowns on passes, two in the second period and one in the third. All three were completed by one of the most brilliant passing combinations seen here in years — Back Stanley Holmig to End Otto Schiellenberger.

Keglers Begin Play Monday

First round play in the Classic Bowling league gets underway Monday night at the West Texas alleys with six teams competing for the laurels.

The schedule will run through 20 weeks, with each team meeting the others four times during the campaign.

Ward Hall will serve as president of the newly organized Big Spring Bowling association while Luke LeBlanc will act in a like capacity for the Classic league. The two were named to the posts in a special meeting last week.

Other officers of the association are Tom Coffee, vice-president; and G. G. Runyan, secretary. Mills Wood is vice-president of the Classic league while Jack Smith will function as treasurer.

Team captains are C. J. Staples, Jake Douglas, George Sholte, Stanley Wheeler, Pete Howze and Blackie Stagner.

ELIS FLATTEN HARVARD, 28-0

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 1 (AP) — Yale's strong line and Art Fitzgerald made the Harvard football team wish it had remained on an informal basis today.

The Elis totted up a 28-0 score in the 62nd meeting of these Big Three rivals and their first since 1942 and outplayed the Crimson so completely that it hardly looked like a contest to the 35,000 or so die-hard fans who braved cold weather and snowy stands to see the traditional game.

Fitzgerald, who was a third stringer at Notre Dame last season and who came to Yale as a mid-season Navy transfer, scored three of Yale's four touchdowns and was the principal ground gainer of the day.

It was the Yale line, however, that made the real difference. The Elis piled up 19 first downs to Harvard's four, gained 169 yards by rushing and 202 by passing as compared with Harvard's 62 and 46 yards.

Schedule For Redeployment

PARIS, Dec. 1 (AP) — The US 75th and 79th Infantry and 12th Armored Divisions, and part of the 36th Infantry Division were on the high seas today headed home from Europe, while two others were in port areas preparing to leave and another planned to move to a port within a week.

This was the redeployment box-score:

LONG BEACH, Calif., Dec. 1 — Vicky was back aboard the Iowa today, just another sailor trapped by the lush living of a landlubber.

What happened was told by Mrs. C. J. King, as she turned the trim little terrier over to the Shore Patrol. She said she invited him to free chow and he just stayed.

Rewards And Labors

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

A Chicago Daily News foreign service writer has looked in on the Panama Canal Zone and found there a strange breed of Americans—the sons and grandsons of the pioneers who built the canal 40 years ago who have grown up to become part and parcel of CZ life, economics and society, who some day may be "crystallized into a well-defined aristocracy of the canal."

They live in government owned houses, possession of which is carefully regulated by seniority. If an employee's wife goes to the States for a visit and isn't back in four months, the householder loses his certification for family quarters. A ten-year employee rates a better house than a five-year worker.

They "become mollified to the ponderous pattern of the huge canal organization." Their typewritten repair bills come to them through the repair and dry dock division, their newspapers through the division of storage and oil handling—costs religiously deducted from their checks, just as their rent is. Food coupons for purchases at the commissary, car repairs or motor tune-ups—they too are deducted from paychecks at the source. The wage-earner doesn't have to "fume, fret and squint" at bank balances; practically all the trivial details of existence are taken care of by a thoughtful and shock absorbing bureaucracy.

One gathers the impression that life in the Canal Zone is dull and uninspired. The denizen has very little to think of. It is a sanitary oasis in a waste of feverish jungle, and unless one deliberately goes looking for poisonous snakes, malaria-bearing mosquitoes and jungle beasts, one might live a lifetime surrounded by all these without being aware of their presence. A kindly and paternal government has created a paradise of security and care-free existence.

There have been charges that certain do-gooding elements among us would like to turn the entire United States into such a Never-Never Land, where the cares of daily living would be reduced to a minimum, and one had only to answer roll call and keep one's social security number within reach to enjoy all the delights and freedoms of an earthly Nirvana.

But we fear such an existence would be a deadly bore. No future to it. No challenge from adversity to spur a man to outdo himself. No incentive to have just a little better house and garden patch than one's neighbor. No reason to invent a better mousetrap or write a better book, since the rewards for such enterprises would be the same as for doing nothing.

"In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat bread," or words to that effect. But that is only half of the picture. The truth is that relatively few people can enjoy comforts and satisfactions that they have not themselves earned. The rewards of sweat do not rust, nor can thieves break through and steal them. They are of the spirit, imperishable, and how can any government ever devise give them to a man who has not earned them?

The rewards of industry and diligence cannot be transmitted by an order in council, or handed out with the weekly paycheck. Like the beautiful creation of the painter or sculptor, or bridge builder, or architect or dramatist, they must be sought after, courted and sweated for.

The business of government is to see that every man gets an even break by his labors. Beyond that, it can do little. It is an umpire, not an inexhaustible fountain of plenty. It is something supported by the people, not something for the support and nurture of the citizen.

Adios to the Big Spring Bombardier School. It's not all over yet, but Friday was the day the post was temporarily inactivated, and for practical purposes, this probably will stand as the date that the installation ceased official activity. Its training work was completed in September with the graduation of its 42nd class. Since then, it has been moving toward the inevitable closing.

Although it is best that the vast majority of emergency training stations be discontinued, it is not without regret that we see "our school" close.

Big Spring has had, on the whole, a pleasant relationship with the Army Air Forces. It tried to accomplish the impossible in providing housing, and our best efforts fell far short. But most of the officers and enlisted men stationed here understood the situation and made the most of accommodations that were not always up to good standards. With few exceptions, we believe the city avoided the pitfall of assuming that the military was an invader. On the contrary, most of our people were friendly to the men, taking them into their homes and developing friendships which will endure for years to come.

Big Spring people were wise enough to know that their city lacked much of being the best community in the nation, that it had many failings. Servicemen appreciated this attitude and although many of them moaned and groaned about being sentenced to fight the "battle of Big Spring," they have written back warm letters of appreciation for their associations among a kindly people.

Of course, the millions of dollars represented in the post operations were reflected in material gain for many local people, but we do not count this as the greatest benefit.

We are far, far richer as a community because we have been brought in touch with men and women from all over the nation and from other lands. We have seen evidences of so many things done in other sections of the country that we will never be content with our lot before the war.

So adios to the Big Spring Bombardier school and to the men and women who comprised it. To those who did not fancy us, our apologies. To those who did, we hope circumstances will someday let our paths meet again.

Some Local Problems

Membership figures for this time of the year are at an all-time peak for Big Spring schools. Latest tabulations show that 97 teachers are instructing 3,004 students, or an average of 32 pupils per teacher.

In this connection, the per teacher pupil load for each of the city's schools is of interest. High school has a 24-pupil load for its 30 teachers. Others are: Eighth grade 27, Central Ward 35.5, College Heights 36, East Ward 33.6, North Ward 31, South Ward 38.6, Kate Morrison 36.6, West Ward 32. The negro school breaks all records with 44 students per teacher.

While this is a pretty fair basis on which to judge the distribution of the city's children, it is not entirely dependable. The West Ward school shows only 32 students per teacher, yet there is a 519 enrollment in this school, entailing the undesirable double-day session in order to accommodate all the children. In other words, the school is carrying from 100 to 200 more pupils than it was designed to handle, and naturally the program is suffering. This is true to an extent in some other schools.

It is recognized that 30 students is about the maximum number any teacher ought to be called upon to teach, for larger numbers rapidly diminish results. Perhaps the average in high school is not too small. It would be a fine thing if we had good teachers carrying no greater loads in our ward schools.

But before this can be brought about, there must be provision for more classroom space. The only alternative is half day (double day) sessions which are unsatisfactory at best. More teachers will be needed also, and although the supply is short at present, the picture should be much improved come next autumn.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

With The AEF: Reporter Thumbs Through Old European Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE AMERICAN NAVY IN THE PACIFIC — (P)—Thumbing through old notebooks of the European campaign:

No one understands French politics any more than anybody really understands the roulette wheel. And on occasion Gallic hospitality is equally difficult for the American mind to grasp. I recall one instance, slightly more than a year ago, in the final days of the battle for France.

The Germans were in the autumn of their power. Their broken, scattered, disorganized units were racing hither-skeiter for the Siegfried line.

As they fled, Frenchmen rose up in sudden arms behind and ahead of their route of march to harass their troubled flight. And once the swift, Yank-armed columns looped in from all directions and destroyed them in brief, bloody battles. It was a glorious thing to be alive in those days and riding in a heavily armed tank in pursuit of the beaten enemy.

Every village was a victory. There were flags flying everywhere and dancing in the streets, and nobody was worrying yet about the lack of winter coal.

Everybody people were crying freedom.

Nobody said anything then about responsibility.

And one day an American armored column rolled into a French village, escorted by cars full of

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Hurley Doesn't Savy Chinese Politics

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — In 1925 this writer was making a laborious trip over the Gobi desert to Urga, capital of Mongolia. Across the horizon, heading down from the Siberian border, came a long caravan of motor cars — Fords, Buicks, Chevrolets of uncertain vintage—all driven by Chinese chauffeurs. Puffing across the plain, they pulled up at the water hole where I was encamped.

On the running board of each car was strapped a long wooden box packed with rifles. Inside each car were smaller boxes of cartridges.

They were being shipped by Soviet Russia to stir up civil war in China. But their recipient was none other than Chiang Kai-Shek, more recently, the ardent opponent of Russia.

Later this writer visited Chiang's stronghold in South China. He was in command of the Shampou Cadets, a Red Chinese army, trained by Soviet officers including the famous Comrade Borodin.

To Britons and Americans at the time, Chiang Kai-Shek and Communism were one and the same thing. Both were equally hated—and for good reason. In Canton, he and his so-called Communists had, clamped down a boycott against Americans, Britons, and all foreigners that was no joke.

The American commander and a group of dusty tankmen were led in triumph into the city hall. In the mayor's office champagne and broken French and English flowed.

On one side of the room stood the old mayor and his fellow officers, and on the other side stood a group of resistance fighters. Both sides said how happy they were to see Americans.

The mayor was an elderly man with uneasy eyes, and after he made a short speech and everybody toasted victory until the bottles were empty the Americans climbed into their steel vehicles.

As they roared past the building they heard shots. Some officers jumped out and ran behind the city hall and there stood several French resistance fighters, and on the ground lay the old mayor. Blood flowed from his chest and ran down from a hole in his head.

One of the Frenchmen said he was sure the old mayor had been a "collaborator" and they all jumped back into their broken-down cars and rode off, waving bottles and rifles, and nobody carried a law-book. The champagne tasted sour then in Americans' mouths and there was nothing to be done and they didn't understand this kind of hospitality anyway, but they knew they wanted to kill young Germans and not just stand there and wonder where warfare ended and murder began.

Ambassador from Oklahoma, threw the full weight of the USA with all its prestige, all its lendlease, all its Far East airplanes — and threw their weight on one side, apparently not realizing that its chief was quite capable of making a new deal with his enemy, the Russians, whenever it was expedient, behind Hurley's back.

All this is why Hurley was so sore at the State Department's Far Eastern experts who tried to warn him what was cooking. Months ago they realized what public reaction would be to American pilots losing their lives for the benefit of Chinese war lords.

Note 1 — Eleven US plane crashes were reported last week in China in one day alone, all of them flown by US pilots for the benefit of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Note 2 — Senator Langer of North Dakota has long demanded that the State Department explain the gift of rare Chinese jewelry valued at $30,000 by the Chiang government to Mrs. Hurley.

No Parachutes In China Additional information is now available regarding the tragic death of Pvt. W. M. Callaway at Beaumont, Texas, on Oct. 7, 1945, in the Himalaya mountains, just after his had other army passenger planes had been ordered not to carry parachutes.

The no-parachute order was issued by the Air Forces in Washington, Sept. 5, and by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commander of the India-Burma theater, on Sept. 20. He was carrying out Washington orders. The order applied to C-54s, or 4-engine transports carrying passengers, including General Tunner's own plane, and specified that they should not carry parachutes.

Hitherto these planes had carried parachutes while flying the "hump" but the Army explains that hump flying has been stopped. Reason for the no-parachute order on 4-motored transport planes carrying passengers is that though the crew could bail out, the passengers can't. They haven't been trained in parachute jumping, and no crew can desert a ship ahead of its passengers.

One reason why US pilots in China are now burned up is that many of them have to carry Chinese troops into the battle area for Chiang Kai-Shek. Imagine the panic if 50 to 60 Chinese troop passengers all tried to bail out.

It should be noted that this situation is not the fault of the Air Transport Command, which, like a railroad, is merely given orders to carry this or that. The ATC, for instance, once had to carry a Cadillac car across the hump for the benefit of Ambassador Hurley. Despite all these handicaps, General Tunner has sharply reduced the India-China accident rate.

Describing the situation, General Tunner informs me: "The men who flew Air Transport Command planes in India and China, unarmed and under constant threat of enemy attack, performed one of the outstanding feats of all American forces in the war. Private Callaway was one of these men. He was one of 910 crew members who gave their lives in crashes of 594 aircraft in the India-China division of ATC while in the service of their country and the loss of every man is regrettable. Private Callaway was one of the 35,000 military personnel in the India-Burma division who made it possible to lift 776,532 tons of war materials to China from Dec. 1, 1942, to Nov. 1, 1945."

Hollywood— Bob Hope Is A Fulltime Gagman

By Gene Handsaker

HOLLYWOOD. — Nearly everything about Bob Hope is a gag. Even the red bicycle he rides from his dressing room to the set carries a sign to warn borrowers: "Drop it, brother! Bob Hope."

The quips tossed off between camera-takes by the guy with the scoop nose and underslung jaw, are as funny as any that get into his pictures.

The director called for quiet, and in the distance a carpenter's foreman sang out melodiously to his crew: "Ho-o-old that hammer!"

"Amazing the jobs that guy Vallee gets," Bob remarked, smacking his gum. He chews it incessantly, tucking it into a corner of his mouth when called upon to act.

Bob is currently making his version of the 1924 Rudolph Valentino starrer, "Monsieur Beaucaire." Clad in purple satin knee breeches and square-cut coat with lace collar, he rushed around an eighteenth-century royal Spanish apartment, frantically concealing beautiful ladies behind chairs, tables, screens.

"Another week of this and I'll be ready to fight Joe Louis!" he cried finally, flopping into a big cloth-covered chair.

"He looked tired. A Victory Bond show had kept him up late the night before, and he had been at the studio since 7:15 in the morning. Around his brown eyes were little lines. In his dark brown hair, matted by the white wig, he had just yanked off, were threads of gray.

He hopes to take his radio troupe on another overseas tour, a combination rest and troop-entertainment sea voyage to Tokyo. He has traveled more than 300,000 miles to entertain servicemen.

"They're wonderful audiences," he said. "It took 15 minutes to warm up this Victory Bond crowd last night, but service guys — why, they're already hot when you walk on the stage; they're parboiled."

A dialogue director interrupted to go over some lines with Hope. Again came the cry for quiet and, in the distance, the voice of the carpenter's foreman warbling: "Ho-o-old that hammer!"

"I don't think it's worth hiring Lawrence Tibbett for just that one bit," Bob observed.

Washington— Unification? What Unification?

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON. — "Off-the-record" stories are those that aren't to be written, but I'm going to write this one.

It comes from a retired admiral who still is serving his country in a most important capacity. We had got on to the subject of unification of the armed forces.

"The admiral snorted. 'Why don't you fellows quit writing all that guff and get down to facts?'" he asked.

What were the facts? "In the first place, Congress isn't going in for unification of the services," he said, and he grinned. "At least I don't think they will."

"But what if they do? We still would have an Army, a Navy and an Air Corps. We would have a general or an admiral would be chief of staff. A unified department of national defense sounds fine. But could it possibly eliminate the fact that we still would have an Army, Navy and Air Corps?"

"Probably out of all this will come an 'autonomous' Air Corps. We already have that. Giving the Air Corps a secretary in the cabinet wouldn't change the picture much, if at all. The fleet and the Army still have to have their air arms. An independent air force would still have to work in the team just as it does now."

"Since I'm a Navy man, I'm supposed to be against unification. But I'm retired. I don't have any personal interest in the question at all. But for the good of the country I can't see for the life of me what difference it would make. Under one head, or two or three, we still will have the Navy, the Army and the Air Corps. The next time you are writing something about it, just remember that."

In all arguments over "unification" there is a lot of political hair-pulling. Just what it adds up to is a little hard to see, but the

An average of five applications for water service are being received daily at the local water department, city officials said Saturday.

City figures show 3,182 water services in Big Spring marking the most served in the history of the town.
During November, 42,324,000

gallons of water were consumed with a daily average of 1,344,000 gallons. Most of the supply came from the lakes which totaled 40-305,000 gallons. Section 17 produced 1,914,000 and 105,000 gallons came from the park for the town's supply.

Lindbergh Colonelcy Asked To Be Restored

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP) —
Senator Wiley (R-Wis) demanded today that the house military committee turn loose his resolution to give the late Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell, prophet of air power, the posthumous rank of major general.

At the same time Rep. Mason
(R-Ill) awaited reaction to his proposal that the rank of colonel in the army air force reserve be restored to Charles A. Lindbergh, whom the Illinoisan calls "the Billy Mitchell of this war."

Wiley said the senate had passed his resolution three times, and
"three times it has been shamelessly bottled-up" by the house committee.

Mason said that unless something is "done voluntarily" to "clear" Colonel Lindbergh he would introduce legislation probably in January, to accomplish the purpose.

Lindbergh resigned his commission in 1941 during a controversy with President Roosevelt over foreign policy.

Early Shoppers Can Really Pick 'Em This Year

By DOROTHY ROE

AP Newfeature Writer

That peacetime Christmas shopping list you've been saving for four years may have a few decorations again this year, but if you're a tireless hunter you may find many things that have been missing since before the war.

Giggle, brightest and most eagerly awaited additions to the 1945 Christmas pack are nylon stockings, already piling up in manufacturers' stock rooms. They are due to appear on dealers' shelves in time to supply at least a part of the Christmas rush. Every woman on your list will consider this the gift supreme—but you'd better edit the list well, as initial sales will probably be limited to one or two pairs per customer.

Household Gifts in Demand

Household gifts, to replace the war-worn equipment of US homes, will be most in demand this Christmas, and no wife will complain in '45 about the gift of a washing machine, a refrigerator, an electric mixer or a vacuum cleaner. All these long-missing items are rolling off assembly lines already, but delivery usually is still on a priority basis—those who have had their names on the list the longest get their orders first.

A few lucky families may even snare a new 1946 model car in time for Christmas—or at least a surplus jeep. And radios are appearing in increasing numbers, though not yet fast enough to supply fully the pent-up demand.

If Sister and Junior are to get those skates, tricycles, metal construction sets and prewar dolls they've been writing to Santa about, you'll have to assist the old geezer with the white whiskers by some early and determined shopping. The toy situation still is tight, says the Toy Manufacturers of America. Even though metal restrictions were relaxed after V-J day, less than 8 per cent of the toys available this Christmas will be metal.

Limit on Steel, Rubber Toys

"There will be only a token showing of wheel toys, electric trains and mechanical toys," says James L. Fri, managing director of the toy association. "The only metal toy lines which will be produced in any volume will be the simplest type of stamped-out metal toys."

Rubber toys also will be scarce, and plastic toys will be available in about the same volume as last year, manufacturers predict. Textile restrictions will continue to limit production of dolls.

The scarcity of toys is further aggravated by the fact that more than five million extra children have been added to the toy age population as a result of the high wartime birthrate, purchasing power is at peak level, and production still has not reached high gear.

Games Are Plentiful

Most plentiful on the toy list will be games—all the old favorites such as Rook, Pit and Flinch as well as newer and fancier word games, and the competitive board games such as monopoly, Camelot and Bonanza. A limited supply of dart games is available, and toylands will start off with some miniature croquet and bowling games.

The 1945 Christmas doll is going to be hard to find, but when you find her she may have movable eyes—once more and say "Mama." She'll have an extensive wardrobe, too, and perhaps hair that can be combed.

Babyette dolls, exact models of a newborn baby, are available with elaborate layettes, with or without bassinets, and in twin, triplet or quadruplet combinations.

In the masculine gift line, many long-missing items will be available in time for Christmas. These include new streamlined fountain pens, watches, sports equipment, bar equipment, pure silk ties and maybe—if you are lucky—white shirts.

And of course, now that shoe rationing is ended, the most popular gift, next to nylons, will be new shoes for all the family.

Texas CIO Planning 'PAC' Committee

TEXAS CIO ... 24 (P)

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 1 (AP)—The newly-organized Congress of Industrial Organizations, Inc., of Texas also plans a "PAC" committee, Phil Hopkins announced here. The San Antonio organizer said it means "Preserve, Americanism Committee."

"The national CIO PAC stands for 'Political Action Committee.' The action followed a statement Wednesday by Carl McPeak of the national CIO that the CIO plans to enter four Texas congressional campaigns next summer.

He named the districts as those now represented by Rep. Hutton W. Summers of Dallas; Rep. J. Mansfield of Columbus; Rep. Fritz G. Lanham of Fort Worth, and Rep. E. Gossett of Wichita Falls.

He said no candidates had been selected, and that the PAC had not decided what stand it will take in Mansfield's case.

Hopkins and associates have obtained a state charter for their own CIO, and claim exclusive and legal right to use the CIO initials in Texas. One suit has been filed against a national CIO unit in Texas, seeking to prohibit them from use of the initials.

Hopkins said the PAC "will, as a patriotic duty and in the interest of continued industrial improvement in the state, inform and educate the people to oppose any and all candidates sponsored or endorsed by the so-called CIO which has intruded into Texas to disrupt the peace of the state and to attempt to win economic and political dominance."

Week In Business

LABOR TROUBLES CAST SHADOW OVER PICTURE OF BUSINESS

By the Associated Press

With more than 1-2 million workers idle because of strikes, labor troubles cast lengthened shadows over business and finance this week.

For the first time in a month, the stock market failed to hit a new peak. Alternate spells of strength and weakness kept volume close to 2,000,000 shares daily.

A flood of extra and year-end dividends and numerous stock split-up proposals was a buoying influence for individual issues.

Bonds and commodities were jittery at times but steadied near the end.

Crude oil production eased to 4,469,300 barrels daily from 4,474,500 in the previous week and 4,736,000 last year.

Bank clearings slipped to $9,870,686,000 from $12,595,297,000 a week earlier and $9,908,171,000 last year.

Dun & Bradstreet said retail sales were 6 to 10 per cent ahead of the 1944 week.

Business failures dropped to 7 from 12 a week earlier and compared with 17 last year.

A 28-cylinder radial engine, described as the world's most powerful aircraft engine, was announced by Pratt & Whitney.

Philco Corp. has received orders for $110,000,000 worth of radios, refrigerators, freezers and air conditioners since the end of the war.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., already a giant of more than $4,000,000,000 will need another $2,000,000,000 in the next 10 years to keep abreast of the times.

Samuel D. Jackson, former U. S. Senator from Indiana was appointed governor of the Nation's Associated Commodity Exchanges for 3 years at 50 C's a year.

20,000 civilians are urgently needed to replace military personnel in Army separation centers. Apply to the War Department.

Today and Tomorrow

Hurley, Wheeler Charges

By WALTER LIPPMANN

By the time this article is published, the Washington correspondents will probably have found out what happened during the late afternoon or early evening on Monday of this week which caused Mr. Hurley to resign and issue his statement. At their interview on Monday afternoon he had given Secretary Byrnes the definite impression that he would return to Chungking this week. Yet a few hours later he pulled the trigger which released the blast that accompanied his resignation. The question is what happened to Mr. Hurley after he left Secretary Byrnes on Monday afternoon. There is nothing in his statement which throws any light on that question.

where we were becoming the head and front of a world-wide anti-Soviet coalition. The conference was rescued by the prompt action of President Truman, who, advised of the danger, sent Mr. Harry Hopkins to Moscow and Mr. Joseph Davies to Lofdon, and succeeded in placing us once again in the position of conciliator and mediator between the Soviet Union and the other great powers.

While this mystery is being cleared up, we may examine his general criticism of our foreign policy. Like Senator Wheeler, who spoke out the same day, Mr. Hurley believes that we are not pursuing an independent policy in Europe and Asia but, are playing a subordinate and auxiliary role to Britain and Russia. But they differ considerably as to what we are doing. Though Mr. Hurley's immediate complaint is against the career men who, he alleges, are "endeavoring to support Communism generally as well as specifically in China," he makes the categorical statement that "in diplomacy today we are permitting ourselves to be sucked into a power bloc on the side of colonial imperialism (i. e. British) against Communist imperialism (i. e. Russian)."

Mr. Wheeler on the other hand sees us "appearing" Russian imperialism, which is rather different from Mr. Hurley's charge that we are being sucked into a British power bloc against Russian imperialism. Nevertheless, both men feel—however incoherently—that in eastern Europe, the Middle East, and in Asia, the basic conflict is between the Soviet Union and the British Empire, and that the United States is being drawn into that conflict instead of playing an independent and constructive role of its own.

"The real issue has been between London and Moscow, and it would be very unfortunate indeed if the United States sacrificed its great influence as the mediator, which President Roosevelt struggled to maintain even in his last days... If it is of special importance that we preserve our more detached role in the Anglo-Soviet difficulties. They extend in a wide arc through the Balkans to the Middle East and Persia."

This was written at a time when the San Francisco conference was in grave danger of breaking up because the chairman of our delegation had drifted into a position

It becomes stalled because in fact the United States has influence but not power in Eastern Europe, in the Balkans, in the Middle East, and in Southern Asia. Power is in the hands, either of the Russians or of the British, and if we are to exercise influence under these conditions, it can only be as the mediator in these conflicts, not as partisan and underwriter of the interests or the claims of either of the two empires.

I do not, of course, sympathize at all with Senator Wheeler's fierce animosity against our great allies, and I have no doubt that just such speeches as his make it infinitely more difficult for the United States to cure the very errors of policy which at bottom he is objecting to. If we are not to be whipsawed between Russian and British imperialism, if we are to pursue an independent course which is that of conciliation, mediation and pacification, we can not promote the policy by Senator Wheeler's violent hatred of virtually all foreign governments.

He seems to think we can overawe them with strong language, and make them follow our lead by commanding them to do so. But he is mistaken. We are not that powerful, and we shall never be that powerful even if Senator Wheeler should change his mind and be willing to maintain and develop American military power instead of being a persistent influence in the Senate in favor of making the United States impotent as a military power. # Camacho Course Of Reform Is Steady And Progressive

By JOHN EVANS
AP Newfeatures

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1. (AP)—Manuel Avila Camacho starts his sixth and last year as president of Mexico today, with one of his most troublesome problems ahead of him.

"He has promised the country 'honest elections' when Mexico votes next July 7, for his successor. But his party, the government party, PRM (Partido Revolucionario Mexicano), last week declared against important election reforms.

Aside from the problem, Avila Camacho has faced and done much with the one of steering Mexico away from too much "revolution" and in doing so he has accumulated much credit for progress.

Probably the war did more than anything else to help the president steer his course. The United States aided his program with exports and money because it was interested in buying Mexican raw materials.

Mexico declared war against Germany, Italy and Japan, June 1, 1942, but for some time before that Mexico was preparing to be a war factory for the United States. She did not send any military units to Europe but many soldiers of Mexican blood were at the front and some won the Congressional Medal of Honor. In the Pacific, Mexico had the 201st Air Squadron which Gen. H. H. Arnold credited with putting 30,000 Japanese out of commission.

Germany bought and sold much here before the war, many Germans lived here and many Mexicans were sympathetic to Germany — so Avila Camacho if given credit by his friends with a certain achievement in putting Mexico frankly into the war on the Allied side.

Two typical accomplishments of the president are his campaign to make every Mexican literate and his fostering of industry.

People speak and usually think of the president as mild, neutral and not strong. They seem surprised when they tabulate the president's remaking of Mexico, still incomplete, but well started. The president is the persuasive type. He usually speaks only when his back-stage work has swung enough people into line.

Since Dec. 1, 1940, Avila Camacho has given the country a broad social security system, nearing its second year; a stronger financial system; one year military service, projected before Mexico entered the war; much basic industrial development; better roads; a stable judiciary; and the United States-Mexico water treaty, ratified last month, which shares the Rio Grande and other border waters for tremendous future irrigation.

As the president unobtrusively guided his country nearer the middle of the road he sought links with other countries.

The United States and Mexico are linked by geography and convenience, but Avila Camacho tried for real ties and less friction. The late resident, Roosevelt and he stamped their seals on such a policy during their meeting at Monterey, April 20, 1943.

Mexico tied herself to the outside world by such agreements as Bretton Woods, the San Francisco United Nations Charter, UNRRA, and other international organizations. She emphasized her part in the Latin-American and hemisphere ideas by her Chapultepec conference for defense of the Americas.

It may be that the president utilizes rather than creates ideas but the nature and the value of his work is exemplified in the Mexican-American commission for economic cooperation, which reported in January, this year, a long-range $383,000,000 program for dams, irrigation, electric power plants, steel, textile, paper, chemical and all sorts of other plants. A good many millions already have gone into this program. It may never be completed but even a good start on it could transform the country.

"Lost Weekend" And Prohibition

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30. (AP)—Now that "The Lost Weekend" is astounding movie customers, folks are speculating how the picture will affect the consumption of alcohol.

The film adaption of the Charles

Jackson novel depicts faithfully (I understand) a weekend binge, complete with D. T.'s and everything. It is one of the two or three important pictures of the year and will cause much comment. I asked its makers, Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder, how it would affect the nation's drinking.

"We certainly hope it doesn't help the prohibition movement," said Wilder, who occasionally drinks Martinis, bourbon or beer.

"I've seen too many X-rays of my friends during the twenties," said Brackett, who has an occasional Bacardi or whiskey sour. Both said they hoped the picture would promote greater understanding of the problem of the alcoholic.

To forestall the prohibitionists, Brackett and Wilder purposely injected a line by the male nurse in the DT ward of the public hospital. The current capacity of the ward is nothing, he says, you should have seen it during the prohibition days.

"Not content with murdering 'Holiday for Strings,' Spike Jones is next going to batter 'Blue Danube.' He'll call it 'Green Danube.' He's also dreaming up something for 'Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair,' which he might call 'Brownie with the Light Blue Jeans.'"

When he finishes "Ladies' Man" at Paramount, Spike thinks he might tour South America and offer his peculiar brand of music to the Latins.

"Of course, the State Department may have its objections."

Agencies Talk Of Strike By Goods Makers

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Government officials are confining themselves to verbal jabs on the ticklish question of whether manufacturers are withholding consumer merchandise to benefit from a Jan. 1 tax cut.

The chiefs of at least two agencies have suggested that there has been some withholding and have deplored it.

One official who asked that his name not be used said the dose of barbs is intended to arouse public indignation to prevent any widespread delivery delays pending elimination of the excess profits tax at the start of the year.

This official said there is no other step the government could take. There is no way to compel delivery of goods, he added.

The latest dig at producers comes from OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, who said in discussing reasons for the clothing shortage:

"I think x x x a most important factor is the tax situation. 'Companies can look forward to a windfall if they withhold shipments now and release them next year when the excess profits tax is out of the picture.'"

Bowles added in a statement that "under the circumstances, the public's need for clothes seems to mean very little to some producers."

Earlier this week reconversion boss John W. Snyder said in a speech that "increasing reports are coming to Washington that some firms are holding up the flow of goods for which the markets are so hungry and which people feed so badly."

Dormitories On Building Plan

AUSTIN, Dec. 1. (AP)—Preliminary plans to build five new dormitories including one for married couples at the University of Texas have been authorized today by the university's board of regents.

The question of housing occupied the board principally on the first day of its monthly session yesterday, but there also was an echo of the controversy between Dr. Homer P. Rainey and the board as constituted a year ago, that led to Rainey's discharge.

"The regents, without comment, referred to Chairman Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., of Dallas, the administration's recommendation that Dr. Wendell C. Gordon be appointed as an assistant professor of economics."

Artyzbasheff Sees Saturn—

And Look What Happens To Art

By ARLENE WOLF
AP, Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK —The people of Saturn are born with ice skates instead of feet.

"All right, so you don't believe it. When you find some evidence to the contrary, let artist Boris Artyzbasheff know about it. Meanwhile, that's how he visualized them, and that's how he's painted them. With ice skates."

The Saturnites, if you please, are really named Gwolphs. They're all on the short side, and look vaguely like a gremlin's forty-second cousin on his mother's side. All the Gwolphs have rings around their heads, exactly like the zodiac sign for Saturn. Even the little baby Gwolphs have little baby rings.

And the reason for the ice-skates, of course, is that Saturn is supposed to be a very cold place.

That's how Russian-born Artyzbasheff has mixed fact and fancy in three canvases on planetary peoples commissioned by the Casco Products Corp. of Bridgeport. He sees Mars, for example, as "a rather red planet." Since civilization is supposed to be far advanced there, he gives his Martians riding around in rocket-shaped automobiles powered by antennae, and smoking cigars directly and efficiently through their noses. Artyzbasheff thinks there's something very funny about noses, anyway.

By this time, it probably sounds as though there's something funny about Artyzbasheff too. Well, there isn't. He doesn't paint while hanging upside down from the chandelier, and he doesn't get his ideas while drunk, doped or dizzy. He's a quiet, soft-spoken, school-teacherish looking guy, who works a sane nine to six routine in a studio on the top floor of a rather plush New York triplex.

Son of novelist Michael Artyzbasheff, the artist says he'd always done grotesques for his own amusement, even before he got a reputation for imaginative things. Now most of his work—paintings, magazine covers, book illustrations—have the same out-of-this-world quality.

But there's nothing wacky about it, he insists, and to prove it tells the story of a magazine illustration he did on radar. It was a typical Artyzbasheff conception, with noses and things. But it had so much real radar in it that the magazine had a hard job getting it passed by the censor.

"People are always asking me if I have nightmares, or something for inspiration," Artyzbasheff chuckles. "But I don't. I just burlesque things. Burlesque is a good medium for expressing ideas. But I have a sound technical knowledge and reason for everything I do. Now Venus is supposed to be a warm, tropical planet. So I've done it with tropical vegetation. Venus is also the goddess of love. So I've made the people on Venus very jolly and there are hearts and things."

"I think it might be nice to move to Venus right now." It probably would, at that.

Dealt Rare 29 Hand Twice In 45 Years

SOUTH WINDSOR, Me., (AP) George T. Foster's second perfect "29" cribbage hand turned up 45 years after the first, which occurred when he was in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war as a US Army corporal.

Foster, who has played thousands of games since, was dealt the five of clubs, the five of spades, five of hearts, and jack of diamonds, with the five of diamonds turned up on the pack, for his second "29."

Leonardo de Vinci (1452-1519), one of the greatest painters who ever lived, also spent much time attacking great engineering problems. He discerned some of the principles of flying machines and submarines.

Anderson Announces Crop Goals For Year Of Peace

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP) — If farmers follow suggestions of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, they will reduce production of livestock products in 1946 but will produce more sugar, grains and tobacco.

Anderson's tentative 1946 farm production goals would keep total agricultural output near wartime peaks and fill civilian, military and export needs, he said.

The goals include 2 per cent less milk, 15 per cent fewer eggs, 17 per cent fewer chickens, 10 per cent fewer turkeys, 3 per cent fewer beef cattle, the same number of lambs and 1 per cent more spring pigs than were produced this year.

The Secretary suggested 31 per cent more sugar beets and 8 per cent more sugar cane to help meet a sugar shortage likely to continue into 1947.

Because grain reserves were greatly depleted during the war, he urged the production of 3 per cent more corn, 9 per cent more barley, 3 per cent more grain sorghums, the same acreage of wheat and 23 per cent more rye.

With imported supplies of vegetable oils likely to become more plentiful next year, Anderson asked for a 10 per cent reduction in soybeans and 20 per cent in peanuts. These crops were expanded sharply during the war to supplement supplies of fats and oils which were reduced by Japanese conquest of South Pacific sources.

"The end of the war has not brought an end to the almost unlimited need for American food," the secretary said in his announcement last night. "The 1946 goals indicate a pattern of production which provides continued high output of those commodities for which wartime demand is continuing and shifts toward peacetime levels for others."

For all major commodities, the recommended goals would provide, he said, a civilian per capita consumption higher than during war years.

Anderson said the suggested reductions in livestock products reflected sharp cutbacks in military requirements.

Other commodities for which smaller production was recommended:

Potatoes 5 per cent; rice 7; dry peas 10; burley tobacco 10; and truck crops, 1 per cent for the fresh market and 4 per cent for processing.

A 9 per cent increase in cotton was recommended. This year's cotton crop was the smallest in many years, reflecting a small labor supply and a poor growing season. Increases of 10 per cent in flue-cured and 25 per cent in fire-cured tobaccos were suggested.

Anderson said that if the recommended crop averages are planted, 356,244,000 acres would be sown compared with 350,588,000 indicated this year.

MOVE OVER, PENICILLIN

AP Newsfeatures
WASHINGTON, — Streptomycin — new rival to penicillin, in the "wonder drug" class — is being studied by the Army Medical Department as a possible aid to sick and wounded war veterans.

"The new drug shows possibilities which may prove as important to the medical profession as was the discovery of penicillin," says an Army statement.

"Streptomycin is a killer of 'gram-negative' bacteria, such as tuberculosis, cholera, dysentery, typhoid. Penicillin is a killer of 'gram-positive' bacteria, such as pneumococcus (pus-formers), gonococcus and syphilis."

Brigadier General Hugh J. Morgan of the Surgeon General's Office says that while the new drug is still in the laboratory stage, some is being produced and small quantities are being made available to the medical department for experimental purposes.

As was the case with penicillin, production of the drug is slow and tedious, and it will be some time before it is available in any quantity.

Nazi General Killed For GI Executions

AVERSA, Italy, Dec. 1. (AP) — German General Alton Dostler was shot to death by a firing squad today for ordering the execution of 15 American soldiers captured behind the German lines in Italy in March 1944.

Dostler, the first German general to die for war crime participation in Western Europe, was convicted in October by a US court martial, which disregarded his defense plea that in ordering the executions he was carrying out the commands of higher officers.

Holding himself stiffly erect in the prisoner stockade, the German general died without flinching before a firing squad of US soldiers.

Texans Are Wetting Whistles Freely

AUSTIN, Dec. 1. (AP) — Texans are drinking more beer, and liquor and smoking more cigarettes than they were a year ago, if stamp tax figures in the treasurer's office are an index.

Cigarette stamp sales in November were $324,998.88 over stamp sales for the same month a year ago. Liquor stamp sales increased $272,737.23 and beer stamp sales jumped $33,106.53 in the same period.

Nolan County Test Has Oil Showing

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, Dec. 1.—Extension of Ellenburger production in the Keystone district in Winkler county one-quarter mile north and in the triple-pay TXL field in Ector county one-half mile east shared attention in West Texas this week with the staking of locations for five wildcats in four counties, three of them projected to the Ellenburger.

Bidding for production in the Strawn section of the Pennsylvania, Sohio Oil Co. No. 1 Irl Favers; Nolan county wildcat four miles east of Sweetwater, on the border of West Texas and west Central Texas, headed 42 gravity oil and salty water on a drillstem test through 35 perforations between 5,672-77 feet in 7-inch casing. Recovery the last four hours was estimated from one-half barrel to one barrel of fluid hourly.

The water was believed by Sohio to be coming from Canyon sand and cement was squeezed through the perforations for an attempted shutoff. Reperforating the same zone and retesting was scheduled. Seven inch casing was cemented at 5,780 feet and plugs were drilled out to 5,640 following drilling to 5,832 feet and making an electric log survey. The test originally was scheduled to explore the Ellenburger. It is in the C NW NW 50-21-T&P.

Prospective Ellenburger discovery in the Fullerton field in northwestern Andrews county, Fullerton No. 322-A (formerly No. 9-A) H. M. Wilson, C SE NW 16-A32-psl, was in process of completion at 9,945-feet after drilling plugs from 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 9,867.

To denote four possible pays, Fullerton will number its tests to the regular Fullerton (Clear Fork) zone from 1 to 99, those to the Devonian from 100 to 199, and tests to the Ellenburger from 300 up.

The Fullerton field already produces from the San Andres, the Clear Fork and the Devonian.

Keystone Deep Pay
Sinclair Prairie No. 10-A B. Walton, extending Ellenburger production in the Keystone district one-quarter mile north, rated 2,208 barrels of oil for completion through casing perforations between 9,624 and 10,048 feet. It is in the C NE NE 20-77-psl.

Texas Pacific prepared to start a Winkler county test on the east side of the Emperor field that may be drilled to 6,250 feet if it misses pay in the regular 3,000-foot zone or lower levels. The operation will be No. 1 Brown-Altman, Account 4, C SW SW 25-B5-psl, five miles south of Kermit.

Flowing 44 barrels of oil during the last 30 minutes of a drillstem test from 9,464 to 9,600 feet, Texaco No. 1 E. R. Thomas estate marked a half mile east extension to Ellenburger production in the TXL field in Ector county. It drilled ahead. The well early in November became the first test in the pool to show oil in the McKee section of the Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Humble staked No. 1 E. P. Cowden in southwestern Andrews county C NE NW 13-A55-psl, three-eighths mile southeast of Magnolia-Humble No. 1 E. P. Cowden, Devonian discovery and opener of the Dollar Hide pool.

'On Second Thought,' Said The Sergeant

BASEL, Switzerland, (AP) — When Sgt. Rogers Raymond, formerly of Detroit, Mich., stepped into Switzerland from France on furlough, a welcoming committee greeted him.

"You're the ten thousandth American furlougher to pass through Basel," the Swiss informed him. "Let us give you a watch."

"No, thanks," Raymond said absent-mindedly. "I've already got a watch."

For that his buddies called him aside. "How to buy Swiss watch without spending most of your $38 furlough allowance is a universal furlough problem in Switzerland."

"Well," Raymond explained, returning to the committee, "this watch really belongs to the Army. I'd better take it."

He took it.

SALE DECEMBER 5th AT RANCH 8 MILES SOUTHWEST OF BIG SPRING

We especially invite the Cattlemen to be our guest at our first sale, come before if it is convenient and look our cattle over. You will find here the type of Herefords that can and will tie in well in any herd. Our 49 females in the sale are an equal of 100 tops from our herd, both in age and quality. Included in the sale also are 3 used herd bulls, 2 short two-year olds, 1 three-year old, and 10 long yearling herd bull prospects selected from our last year's calf crop for this particular event. Every bull in the sale is a real high class herd bull or herd bull prospect. Some of the original 7 foundation Gudgill & Simpson cows in our herd have a greater number of descendants in the sale only because they were more prolific as to females than bulls. Our former plans called for the breeding of a better herd of cattle than we could buy as a herd and whether or not we have accomplished our undertaking is left to the buyers and judges of the cattle in the sale. We as breeders and our cattle are too well and favorably known for a lengthy local ad.

All of the sale cows are carrying service of our herd bulls to calve later except a few which will have baby calves sales day and the foot-notes of each cow mention which bull sired the calf. Date of birth of calf will be mentioned by auctioneer. While we are not criticizing the foot-notes and explanation of the history of each animal in the catalog, but in preparation for foot-notes of our sales cattle, they are so near alike in quality as well as the same in breeding, we found it was difficult to write lengthy foot-notes without repeating once after another; hence the reason for leaving it out. And the reason for not having pictures of each animal was, due to lack of labor and time but our sales cattle will show their own foot-notes and pictures as they come into the sales ring.

Lunch will be served at 11 A. M. and sale starts promptly at 12:30 P. M. Come and be our guest sales day or even before. Our past and present customers are our best advertisers and since this sale has been extensively advertised through the cattle journals, it is needless to say a lot more about our cattle.

Howdy, Neighbor!

We're the latest firm to migrate to West Texas, and we're not just passing through . . . we've come to stay. Only a little scouting convinced us that this thriving Southwestern District has need of the services and supplies we offer: we like the people - we like the climate - we like the central location we've picked to serve the entire trade area, so here we are, open for business and anxious to have you call on us. If you're ready to build, remodel or repair, come in and see the large stock of building material we've brought you. If you're not ready now, but plan any of these things for the future, come in anyhow; we'll be glad to help you develop your plans. Whether your needs are large or small, drop around in neighborly fashion and get acquainted with the newest and most modern lumber yard in West Texas.

OUR POLICY—

It's a fact that a large sales turnover with a small margin of profit proves more mutually beneficial to both customer and merchant than any other method, so we operate on a strictly cash basis and keep our overhead from mounting. Our motto of "PAY CASH AND SAVE" is worth remembering. Years ago, when we first started our yard at Dallas, we inaugurated this policy, and its value has been fully demonstrated by the steady growth of our business and the hundreds of satisfied customers and friends we've made all over the state. You pay for what you get, not for material someone else bought and couldn't pay for. We gladly figure your estimates without charge, so come in today and see how much more quality and quantity we can furnish you for cash.

OUR STOCKS—

Today we have on hand over HALF A MILLION feet of lumber; soon we will have more. We shall carry one of the largest stocks of lumber and builders' needs in West Texas. While it is true that shortages exist in certain lines, we will have these items for you as quickly as the manufacturers release them. Our connections on the West Coast and in the big timber sections of Louisiana supply us with the finest lumber available, and our planing mill at our yard in Dallas is equipped to run any item to your specifications if you find standard trim, boards, and dimension lumber inadequate. Our complete stock of roofing is offered at amazingly low prices, and nationally advertised CHI-NAMEL PAINTS provide finishes to fill every need.

Hooser To Get Navy Discharge

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hooser received a telegram from their son, Hartman Hooser, PO 1-c, Saturday morning telling them that he had arrived in San Diego that morning, and will receive his discharge within a week. Hooser entered the navy on Dec. 10, 1943 and served as a shipfitter and welder. He and Tommy Gage served in Hawaii at a repair base together for several months. Later he served at a submarine repair base in the Marshalls. He plans to return to Big Spring to be with his wife and his two year old twins, whom he has never seen. He was graduated from Big Spring high school and attended San Angelo junior college. He plans to return to school. The little animal called the fisher is misnamed, for he dislikes water almost as much as a cat does.
