Jr. Livestock Show & Fair Is February 3

Close on the heels of the holidays will be the Rising Star Junior Livestock Show & Fair. The annual event has been set for Saturday, February 3, at the high school campus.

The livestock show will be located in the parking lot behind the gym and will kick off at 10:30 a.m. Students from the local 4-H Club and FFA Chapter will begin by showing rabbits, then hogs, sheep and cattle. There will be champions chosen from each division and awards for showmanship.

The fair and cake auction will be held in the school gym. Fair superintendents are anticipating a record number of entries due to the comforts and conveniences afforded by the new location.

Fair entries will be taken in the gym on Friday, February 2, from 3 to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 8 to 9 a.m.

The cake auction will start at 12:30 and everyone will have the opportunity to buy and take home blue ribbon cakes, pies, cookies and other baked goodies. Proceeds from the auction support the local youth through buying 4-H and FFA exhibitors' premium animals at the Eastland Co. Jr. Livestock Show & Sale and FFA projects and activities.

Mark February 3 on your calendar and plan to spend your day at the Rising Star Jr. Livestock Show & Fair. While visiting with friends and neighbors you can watch the livestock show, view the fair exhibits, visit the concession stand for lunch and participate in the auction. Come on out and join the fun!

Fires Raze Houses

Lee Home Reduced to Ashes

Area citizens woke to record low temperatures with readings of 8 and 10° below zero Saturday morning. The Lee family of the Williams area woke to a blazing house.

Don and Pat Lee, their daughters and Pat's mother, Johnnie (Mrs. Frank) Madison, escaped the fire with Don and daughter Kim suffering frostbite on their feet and daughter Rhonda avoiding smoke and flames by jumping from the second floor of the house.

The Lees hadn't lived in their new home very long and were building a connected addition for Mrs. Madison, who has lived with the Lees most of the time since her own house burned a couple of years ago. Most of the newer addition, a smaller house, was saved but the primary home burned to the ground.

Mrs. Madison, who has limited mobility with the aid of a walker, slept downstairs and an exploding sound woke her about 6:30 or 7 a.m. She could see the reflection of fire in the windows of the smaller house and yelled to the sleeping family upstairs until she awoke Pat who woke the others.

Thinking they could put the fire out themselves, Don and other members of the family began to carry water to the fire area, only to discover that the fire was already out of control. The family thinks a water heater exploded; this would spread the fire and feed it from the outside.

Rhonda Lee, a student at Tarleton State University, ran upstairs to the bedroom immediately above the water heater to save what items she could throw out the window. When she tried to leave the burning house, smoke and flames prevented her from using the stairs so she went out onto the roof covering part of the first floor and jumped to safety.

Meanwhile other members of the family threw a few of the Christmas packages out the door, then concentrated on getting Mrs. Madison to safety and moving the cars from the reach of the flames.

Fire burned the telephone wires before Pat could tell the operator the location so the fire department could be alerted. Rhonda then drove to the nearby home of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Jewel Lee, and called the fire department. The family is staying with Mrs. Lee since the fire.

The Lees managed to save very little from their home. They did save most of what was in the small house, which was as yet unoccupied.

Don Lee is principal for May Independent School District and Pat Lee is a special education teacher for Rising Star Independent School District. Daughter Kim was home from her coaching job at La Grange, Rhonda was home from TSU and youngest daughter Vicki, 13, is a student at May School.

Don wears size 34-33 or 34-32 pants, 15½-35 shirt and size 10 shoes. Pat wears 16 or 18 pants, 36-38 blouse and 9½ shoes. Kim and Rhonda lost their clothes, makeup and other personal items in the fire too. Kim wears size 5 or 7, Rhonda and Vicki wear size 5, 7 or 9, depending on style and cut and the three sisters wear size 7½ or 8 shoes.

All household furniture and appliances were lost.

The Lee home was located on FM 2940, 4½ miles east of Cross Cut. They plan to rebuild at the same site.

Help may be given to the family through Mrs. Jewel Lee or through Mitch and Brenda Lee of May.

Rivers Home Destroyed

Low humidity, excessively dry grass and weeds and a spark, the ingredients for grass fire, contributed to the loss of two houses and damage to two others in Rising Star Tuesday.

A fire in vacant land between E. Mill and E. Pioneer Streets threatened a home on E. Mill, then as the wind shifted from the north to the southwest, raced across the grass and weeds to destroy two houses, garages and damage two more houses on E. Pioneer.

The home of Bruce Rivers and a vacant house were completely destroyed as firefighters worked to control the rapidly spreading fire as it endangered so many buildings. Rising Star Rural Fire Department volunteers were joined by May Volunteer Fire Department, Sipe Springs Volunteer Fire Department, Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department and Cisco Fire Department in their effort to keep the fire from engulfing even more territory.

Bruce Rivers, one of the volunteer firefighters who worked to save the houses, was helpless against the blaze that destroyed his home even as he and the other volunteers attempted to control the fire. The speed with which fire can destroy a home is still shocking even though firefighters have seen it happen time and again.

Citizens over the entire region are urged to take every caution possible against fire and to refrain from burning anything until it rains or spring returns the vegetation to green. For the third winter in a row, dangerously dry conditions and low humidity are taking a heavy toll in fire damage. Again, caution, preventive measures for welders and others and no burning are the order as long as it remains dry.

Bruce's wife and two young children were visiting in Lubbock at the time of the fire. They have a three-year-old girl and seven-month-old boy. A fund has been set up at First State Bank to aid the family.

Pictures and more details about the Rivers family and the other houses damaged and destroyed are planned for next week's issue of this newspaper.

Renew Subscription

It's time to renew yearly subscriptions for many subscribers to The Rising Star. Hundreds of subscriptions expire January 1, 1990 and I really appreciate those who have already renewed and others who will renew before the deadline.

The response of readers in renewing in November and December for the past few years has helped tremendously in spreading a heavy workload over several weeks' time and is a real boon during such a busy season of the year.

LOCAL RATES: All of Eastland County and towns in a 30-mile radius of Rising Star, $9.00 per year;

ELSEWHERE IN TEXAS: $13 per year; OTHER STATES: $19.00 per year.

Expiration dates are printed on the top line of mailing labels on your newspaper each week.

If your subscription expires soon, you may mail your renewal to The Rising Star, P.O. Box 127, Rising Star, TX 76471 or bring it to the office at 104 N. Main.

The office is open Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. You might want to call first on Thursdays because the person working has to lock up to go to the Post Office, bank, etc.

Have a happy holiday season!

History Books Arrived

The Eastland County History Book is finally in Eastland, and it is being distributed to those who have paid for copies in advance.

Since this huge book, which has taken three years and untold hours of volunteer labor to compile, is being published and distributed by a non-profit organization, pre-publication sales were necessary to pay for the printing.

Unfortunately some mistakes have been made by the volunteers who have worked for weeks at a time on the book and have paid some expenses out of their pockets. Their only reward is to finally see the historic past of this county recorded in a beautiful book.

In their efforts to hold the cost of the History Book as low as possible, they projected the cost of printing the book a little low and sales a little high. The books ended up being bigger, and thus more expensive to print, than anyone estimated, so the books actually are costing more to print than what they have been sold for.

sales tax on the books, but they have since learned that since it is a historical book which is being published and sold by a non-profit group such sales taxes do not have to be paid to the state.

It just happens that the amount of tax collected on each book is equal to the additional printing cost incurred on each book due to its excessively large size. And postage costs on the books are now more than was collected.

The Committee, which has worked for free and hasn't received any profit from the History Book, now needs financial help to make up the difference. Since they also don't have any money for postage to refund the tax, they are asking the book purchasers to allow them to use the money collected for tax to pay the rest of the printing cost for each book.

And if the committee is to break even on this project, they must sell some more History Books. A limited number are available at the after publication price of $72.50 plus $5. for shipping and handling.

Community Christmas Dinner

Santa's "Ho, ho, ho" set the tone for Rising Star's Christmas dinner which is open to the entire community. Santa's cheerful voice and the good will of the volunteers, combined with the deeper meaning of Christmas, made the dinner a happy and memorable one.

A number of volunteers met at the Rainbow Cafe to serve Christmas dinner for members of this fortunate little city. Anyone who wished to join the gathering was welcome.

A total of 157 plates were served, including those volunteers delivered to the homes of those unable to attend.

Donations of food and cash were made by numerous individuals and businesses of the Rising Star area and volunteers served, made deliveries and cleaned up afterwards.

Over and over again, whether in small ways or by large efforts, many in our community show by their actions that they have kind and giving hearts and a love for their fellow man. The dinner was an unselfish and loving way to say "Merry Christmas" to the citizens of Rising Star and its surrounding area. These are not just words on Christmas cards, they are part of life in Rising Star.

The volunteers expressed an appreciation to Santa for the extra lift his "Ho, ho, ho" gave to their spirits. On behalf of those who enjoyed the Christmas dinner and the "togetherness" engendered and for the entire citizenry of Rising Star, a heartfelt thanks to everyone who made a donation or helped with our very own Rising Star Community Christmas Dinner.

Breast Cancer Detection Unit To Be In Eastland

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, Texas 'the death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists.' By using modern state of the art x-ray equipment breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has 90%-97% survival rate. However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50% survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a mobile breast cancer detection unit will be made available to local women. On Tuesday, January 2nd, the Mobile Unit will be parked at Eastland Memorial Hospital, 304 South Daughtery, Eastland. Appointments may be made by calling 629-2601. For more information you may call the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's &

Children's Hospital at (915)334-8888/561-9999.

New Pesticide Regs Published; Comment Period Opens

Rules to implement new provisions of the Texas Pesticide Law and to place additional restrictions on sales of five pesticides were published in the Texas Register, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has announced.

Publication of these rules marks the start of an important 30-day period for public comment. We are holding hearings around the state in an effort to make sure that these rules are clear and are understood by everyone who must use them," Hightower said.

Five regional hearings are scheduled in mid-December in El Campo, Lubbock, San Juan, Dallas and Austin. Times and locations are listed below.

"The 1989 Legislature made several significant changes in the way pesticide use in Texas is governed. The rules are the step-by-step procedures for carrying out the intent of the Legislature," Hightower said.

The Texas Department of Agriculture is also proposing to remove five pesticide from the over-the-counter market. Each of the five pesticides has caused a number of complaints over the past few years. "Our main concern is the relatively long duration of the effects of these pesticides," Hightower said. "We recognize a need for their use in certain situations, but we think they should only be used by persons who are trained in correct, safe application methods. Among those proposed for restriction is hexazinone, the active ingredient in the herbicide used to poison Austin's historic Treaty Oak."

The proposal by TDA would limit the use of the five pesticides to persons holding applicator licenses. "These pesticides have a track record of misuse," Hightower said. "A careful study of the files shows that most of the problems are caused when they are used by persons untrained in proper application methods. We want to keep them out of the hands of people who don't know what they are doing."

The pesticides proposed for restriction in addition to hexazinone are triclopyr, bromacil, prometon and diuron.

The proposed regulations also call for significant changes in licensing requirements for private pesticide applicators. Private applicators are persons who use restricted pesticides on their own property in conjunction with production of agricultural commodities.

The old Texas pesticide laws allowed private applicators to be certified for life, with no continuing education requirements. However, the 1989 Legislature made several changes in the private applicator laws. In addition to spelling out proposed requirements for continuing education for private applicators, the rules would also allow the Texas Department of Agriculture to revoke licenses for persons no longer actively involved in agricultural production. The rules also detail new recertification requirements for private applicators.

Private applicators holding certificates dated prior to January 10, 1989, do not have to apply for new licenses at this time. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency may impose additional requirements on these private applicators in the future, but for now, those holding the old certificates may continue to buy and use restricted pesticides.

Other highlights of the proposed rules include:

- A clarification that complaints about possible pesticide misuse may be made orally as well as in writing.
- A guarantee that in most instances, complaints about pesticide misuse may be made anonymously.

- An expansion of current provisions for prior notification of aerial application of pesticides to include airblast and mistblowing equipment.

Hearings are scheduled:

- At 10 a.m., December 18 in room 118 of the Stephen F. Austin Building, 1700 N. Congress Ave., Austin.
- At 9 a.m. December 20, in the Duson Room of the El Campo Civic Center, 2350 N. Mechanic, El Campo.
- At 20 a.m. December 20 in the TDA Lubbock District Office, 4502 Englewood Ave., Lubbock.
- At 10 a.m. December 20, in the TDA San Juan District Office, Expressway 83, two blocks west of Morningside Road, San Juan; and
- At 10 a.m. December 20, in the TDA Dallas District Office, 1801 N. Lamar, Suite 103, Dallas.

Copies of the proposed rule are available for inspection in the December 1 Texas Register, at all TDA District Offices or at the agency's Austin headquarters.

Bullock Report

State Comptroller Bob Bullock says that shoppers in Carbon will begin paying 1 percent in city sales tax on January 1st.

"Voters in Carbon approved the city sales tax last August and we're ready to make the start up as smooth as possible," Bullock said.

The tax increase in Carbon brings the total sales tax rate to 7 percent for area shoppers. The city tax is added to the six percent state sales tax.

Bullock said that all area taxpayers with an active tax permit were sent a notice from the Comptroller's office on December 6 explaining the rate change.

Merchants collect the state and local sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its 6 percent share and sends local governments their portion of the sales tax each month.

The money generated by this tax increase may be used for any legal city spending although most cities put the money in the General Fund and use it for general opera-

Cities first imposed local sales tax in 1968. In that year, 280 cities collected just over $48 million.

Today, there are 1,053 cities that impose local sales taxes and in 1989 sales tax rebates to Texas cities passed Ballet, as much or more universal in language as music, was a real treat. As stated, the Bolshoi was out of the country, so the company, Kerov we saw in Leningrad is considered second best. The concert hall far surpassed Tchaikovsky Hall in Moscow. In fact the school here produces dancers for both. Program for the evening was "Bayadera," which loosely translated could be the "Sorcerers," he has to do with an Indian legend in which a prince is denied marriage to his pauper girl friend, even in spite of the sorcerer's help. It could of course be construed as propaganda, if you choose. After all, so much had been heaped on our heads, a little more wasn't going to hurt. The music is good; by Minsk; and the staging, costuming, and the house itself are a thrill. We photographed much (no restrictions), and a friend recorded the music, so we're going to exchange tapes and films. The native Russian loves the ballet and they excel in the art.

Coming out late we discovered something strange: it was still daylight, at say, 11 or 12 midnight. What gives? we asked, and the guides explained "White nights," wherein there are but 2 hours of darkness this time of year. A month earlier it had been light all night. Leningrad is further north than Anchorage, Alaska. Many people were out and active.

The next morning brought a quick tour of the museum. The Hermitage, which is made up of the 1,057 room Winter Palace, and adjoining buildings, facing the river on one side, and Revolution Square on the other. It is a treat with 300,000,000 relics (guides quote) from the Russian past, dating to Peter the Great, Catherine the Great, Ivan the Terrible, etc. etc. and I'd hate to have to take a test on that history. There was so much dealing and double-dealing among the rulers. The museum is one gold-leafed, satined, crystallized, precious stoned, room after another. Robes, crowns, carriages, thrones and palatial extravaganza extraordinary.

One is given, and can imagine, the reason for the revolution, and you can see to the Russian attitude toward the church, when you realize that it too, was intertwined in corruption with the Czars and Cyarrinas. Such extravaganza you've never seen. Art seen here included some by Leonardo De Vinci, Michelangelo, Rembrandt, Picasso, etc.

I believe it was here that Lidia paid Gay Nell and me, what we later decided, is the supreme Soviet compliment. At one of our bus loadings when other members of our group were tardy, she told us, "You're to be complimented. You're well disciplined."

In the afternoon we went by hydrofoil into the Bay of Finland to the Summer Palace of the Czars, the Petrovets. These sophisticated boats ride on a curtain of air, and holding some 100 passengers, are as smooth as silk, with only the aft part touching the water. We learn that they are built in several models and sold around the world, including the U. S. (There's even a small four-seat model).

The Summer place, like much of Russia, was virtually destroyed during the war and is still under reconstruction. We walked its grounds, photographed its elaborate fountains, and inspected the small cottage that Peter the Great, who succeeded in westernizing Russia, built himself. The Germans occupied the main palace and sacked the treasures. We were bussed back to the hotel and passed may apartment buildings.

The evening program was a visit to a fine Russian restaurant for a feast and ultra-typical musical entertainment: consisting primarily of stringed instruments including the balilikia, three string guitars, models of which our people bought at $7 each in the shops. On top of the caviar, vodka, champagne, wine, offerings included fancy crepes which looked a lot like pancakes to us, onto which they put sour cream and some sweets.

A trip to St. Isaac's Cathedral proved interesting. Naturally it's a museum, and the most ornate former house of worship you can imagine. When in use, 14,000 could stand (the Russian Orthodox manner for worship) in it. Rich tapestries, the famous Russian icons (religious figures painted on wood), and of course a goodly number of tombs. The church was heavily damaged during the war and is being repaired. It's a favorite visiting place for locals and tourists. There's a lot of gold leaf to be seen.

Last tourist call in Leningrad was the Peter and Paul fortress, an island compound in the river where political prisoners were held prior to the revolution of 1917. Tombs of practically all the Czars and their families are seen in the Cathedral of 1700's here.

The prison is of course, a dreary place, and the small cells are marked to this day by flowers placed in honor of Russia's first freedom fighters. Out from the tyranny of the czars and into that of Soviet. Will history repeat itself?

Leningrad, like Moscow, is metropolitan; heavily industrialized, and as you might guess, polluted. It was interesting to note that guides were careful to point out that much is being done to improve the environments, and it sounded almost like a recording made in the states, when they began to say, "The trees are lungs of the city, and we're adding more green spaces for the enjoyment of our people, and to improve the quality of the air."

Leningrad has 19 active churches. Sixteen Orthodox, one Baptist, one Moslem, and one Synagogue, we were told.

Our Hotel Leningrad overlooked the Neva River. And believe it or not, we didn't have to buy one bottle of water! The water was safe everywhere we stayed, but tasted and smelled fishy in Leningrad.

Food Pantry Needs

Lois Robinson, one of the Directors of the Eastland County Food Pantry, was among those reporting at the Eastland County Resource meeting December 12th. Assistance to the Food Pantry is a special aim of this group.

Mrs. Robinson stated that the Food Pantry is currently well stocked with canned goods, but meat remains in short supply.

She said that if anyone kills a deer they will donate, the Food Pantry group will pay the processing charges in order to have the meat.

You may take the deer to a processing plant and call Johnnie Snapp at 647-3416, or Darlene Cagle at 639-2279 in order to make arrangements.

This meat would really be appreciated by the needy, Mrs. Robinson said. She added that the Pantry could also use some fresh fruit, and always seems to need household supplies such as hand soap, cleaning supplies, etc.

The Food Pantry is an all-county volunteer agency, and supported by local donations. It is located at the Multipurpose Center, 304 N. Lamar in Eastland, and open Monday-Wednesday-Friday from 1 til 5 p.m.

At the December 12th meeting County Resource Director Corrie Cowley reviewed other objectives of the Association. These include the Travel Fund for chronically ill or disabled children of the county.

These children are referred to the Association by the Department of Health, Cowley said. The Association will be reimbursed for these expenditures, making this a revolving fund. Contributors to this fund are assured that their money will be used over and over to assist these children.

Corrie Cowley also told the group that the Association now had a voucher system with various stores where emergency needs of people can be furnished, other types of services are the Travel Fund of the Ministerial Alliance, and expenditures for local utility deposits.

These deposits will be paid when funds are not available from the Department of Human Services or Central Texas Opportunities Inc. Screening for utility deposits will be Peggy Roberts, Director of the Multipurpose Center.

The group at the meeting decided to continue updating the list of churches and various agencies which offer assistance to the people of

Allcorn Given Plaque

Ed Allcorn, Manager of the Majestic Theatre in Eastland, received an early Christmas gift at the Paramount Theatre in Abilene last Saturday night.

He was honored with a beautiful plaque in recognition of his work with the Paramount Theatre. The presentation was made at the theatre by Robert Holladay, President of the Paramount Board. This was during the showing of the classic Christmas file "Miracle on 34th Street."

The large plaque consists of a sketch of the Paramount outlined in bronze, with an inscription below it reading: "Presented to Ed Allcorn for years of extraordinary service to the Paramount Theatre."

Allcorn left the Paramount in November to manage the Majestic in Eastland.

Eastland County-with the hope of having the new list compiled in January.

They discussed the current fund-raising drive, saying that reports on this will be forthcoming in the local newspapers.

Corrie Cowley reminded the group that the next meeting will be Tuesday, January 9th, 12:00 noon, back in the Conference room of Eastland Centennial Memorial Library. All are welcome to attend. If you are involved with an Agency offering assistance to the needy, please bring a report.
