May Lodge Gives Community Award to Dorene Burnett

Shriner Dr. H.L. Cravens and his mother-in-law, Dorene Burnett, recipient of the Community Builder award from May Lodge 547.

An award that recognizes outstanding non-Masons has become part of the Masonic lodges' community relations program. The Community Builder Award is given to individuals who have distinguished themselves through service to the community, the local, state or national government, their church or synagogue or to humanity, the same type of services which have been established as precepts, ideals and standards for Masonic behavior.

Lodges are encouraged to seek out men and women who, year in and year out, quietly and without fanfare, show their devotion to their community and its people without the expectation of awards or honors.

May Masonic Lodge 574 recently selected Dorene "Sook" Burnett for the Community Builder Award. The citation notes that the lifetime resident of May was born to a ranching and business family and that she and her husband, Otis, operated May General Store for years. The couple built their home near the store and hooked the Church of Christ to their adjoining utilities.

Sook has taken part in every community activity that aided and advertised May. The Burnetts started May Volunteer Fire Department by latching onto a truck from Brownwood Airport and Sook served as secretary-treasurer until recently. May Community Improvement Club became active in the Texas A&M University Community Development Programs. The group converted Chambers Memorial Hospital into a community center. Sook was later a member of President Marion McDaniel's award-winning team that completed work on the conversion. The team instituted Senior citizens programs, which included grants to complete work on the community center, a van, hot meals from

Public Hearing on County's Parking Ordinance

Eastland County Commissioners, Monday, held a Public Hearing on an Ordinance that would regulate parking around the curbs adjacent to the Courthouse.

Under this Ordinance the public would be allowed 1 hour parking to transact business in the Courthouse, with spaces reserved for law enforcement officers and handicapped persons. There would also be exceptions for persons on jury duty. Violators could be fined

Revival at Calvary Assembly Church

There will be a revival at the Calvary Assembly Church in Rising Star, beginning Friday night, March 6, and will continue through Sunday night, March 8.

The evangelist will be the Reverend Douglas Moore from Fairfield. "Brother Doug" is a dedicated, spirit-filled young man, whose anointed preaching, singing, and playing will touch your heart. He is an accomplished musician; he plays the piano, guitar, steel guitar, and other instruments.

Accompanying him will be Mr. and Mrs. David McGinn and their daughter, Laverne, and granddaughter, Natalie, also Brother Doug's son, Brian. David and Lettie are well known in Rising Star. David is the brother of the late founder and long time pastor of Calvary Assembly, Reverend Vernon McGinn.

They are all good singers and will be assisting

Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture

Awards Banquet Will Be March 17

Contenders for the title of Miss Rising Star, a position sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture, spoke to Chamber members Tuesday evening. All members of the Junior Class, they are, from left, Cecilia Koerner, ward of Linda Webb; current Miss Rising Star, Betty Jo Jones, daughter of Monty and Jewel Jones; Kristi White, daughter of Billy and Kay Scott; Jo Linney, daughter of Bud and JoAnn Linney; and Laura Rankin, daughter of Ron Rankin of Trinidad, Colo. and Shirley Rankin.

The Rising Star Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture's annual awards banquet will be Tuesday, March 17, at 7 p.m. at the Activity Building of First Baptist Church.

Awards will be presented, and students will be honored and Miss Rising Star will be crowned.

The meal will be catered by Cook's Fish Barn and the barbecued brisket and sausages will be served "all you can eat" for the $10 per ticket.

Entertainment will be provided by the Country Ramblers.

Speaker for the event will be Williams "Bill" Sims, state senator representing the 25th Senatorial District.

The Paint Rock native has filled jobs from county agent to executive secretary for agricultural organizations to managing editor of The Ranch Magazine to state senator. He is also a farmer and rancher in Concho County.

Sims sits on senate committees, serves on committees and boards for a number of organizations and has received numerous awards since being elected to public office.

Get your ticket for the banquet right away (advance sales help the planners give a better guess to the caterer) from any Chamber director or from one of the members who is selling.

The annual awards banquet has elements of surprise, elation, good

County Commissioner

L.T. Owen Runs For Re-Election

L.T. Owen announces his candidacy for re-election to be County Commissioner of Precinct 3 of Eastland County. L.T. was born and raised in Eastland County and his wife, Josie, is an Eastland County native; they have three sons, Johnny, Robert and Bill.

L.T. Owen has served as your Commissioner in past years and stands on his record of fairness and service to each citizen in his precinct. As budgeted money and time allowed, he has made every effort to solve problems and work with the taxpayers of his precinct.

County Commissioner concerns much more than maintaining county roads, although this is very important. Decisions to be made and problems to be solved are varied and require sound judgment and clear thinking. Experience has been gained through years of dealing with budgets, grants, government programs and the various paperwork required by county government. At the present time, the County is expecting to receive help from FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) in repairing

Constable

Gene Hicks Will Seek Re-Election

I am a candidate for re-election as your Constable, subject to the will of the voters in the Primary Election on March 10.

I give a pledge of the service if you re-elect me. It is a pledge guaranteed by over 16 years of experience in this and related offices in and near Rising Star.

Law enforcement is my profession; I have studied and practiced it conscientiously, both in military service and in civil life, and I will continue to do so. My record is my bond.

I was reared in Sabanno in this Precinct; this is my home. I have bought a residence in Rising Star, and with your support, I hope to continue living and serving here. I was married this past fall to Nancy Hayes and I have a stepson, Cliff, who is nine years old and attends school in Rising Star. My wife is a computer operator at the Rising Star Nursing Center.

In addition to my work in law enforcement as chief of police and later as constable, I have given my time when permitted, and without pay, in street work and other activities for the improvement of our community.

County Sheriff

R.B. 'Ronnie' White Seeks Re-Election

The March 10th primary election is almost upon us, and we will once again go to the polls casting our votes for the candidates of our choice. There are many names on the ballot including national, state, and county offices. None will be any more important to us than the ones we elect to fill our local offices.

My name is Ronnie (R.B.) White, and I am currently the Sheriff of Eastland County. I am asking for your vote and support in my bid for re-election to this very important office. As you all know from past experience, we need someone

Roads, Bridges Damaged

Rain lashed the area Tuesday evening and in the early hours Wednesday morning, with the brunt of the storm in the Pioneer area. County roads and bridges were heavily damaged as about 5 inches of rain fell on an area with water still standing from the heavy winter rainfall that began in December. Flooding in Pioneer and the Cross Plains area was widespread.

Rising Star got .85 inch of rain last night from a storm that had lots of thunder and lightning. The electricity was off for a brief period of time.

More than 2 inches of rain was reported Monday, February 27, and on Monday night.

City and School Elections

With deadline for filing for a place on the ballots for city council or school trustee is less than a week away, no more candidates have made application.

Chili, Bean Supper Is Tuesday Night

The May Parent Teacher Club is sponsoring a chili and bean supper on Tuesday, March 10, from 5 until 7 p.m. The supper will be held in the May cafeteria, the same night as open house. Adult plates will be $3.50 and children, 10 and under, will $2.00. Please help support the May P.T.C.

Turnout Light On Early Voting

County Clerk JoAnn Johnson reported Monday that the turnout on Early Voting in the March 10 primaries is very poor.

She estimated that only about 200 people had cast ballots in her office, with Early Voting due to close Friday, March 6 at 5 p.m.

This is far below the total during the Early Voting period before the Amendments Election last November, Mrs. Johnson said.

There are about the same number of registered voters as in previous years - 10,231 to date.

JoAnn Johnson encourages any qualified voter to stop by her office from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday and vote early. In this election you must choose between the Democratic and Republican primaries, and will be handed a ballot listing party candidates.

THANK YOU

We wish to express our gratitude to the May and Rising Star communities for their kindness during the passing of our grandmother, Belle Spence. To all who called, expressed their sympathy in person or brought food to our dinner, we thank you from our hearts.

Becky Jones & Susie Davis

Words cannot express our deep appreciation and sympathy extended to us by our friends and loved ones at the loss of our husband and father. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the prayers, beautiful flowers, cards and food.

Norene Pittman & family

We want to thank everyone—our friends, neighbors, and relatives—for all the prayers, cards, phone calls during Clinton's hospital stay in Abilene. Your concern during those weeks means so much to us.

Agriculture Viewpoint

by M. Davy Vestal

LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT
WET WINTER CONDITIONS — Many producers are concerned that their cattle look bad even though we have had a relatively mild winter up to this point. Research work on cold stress and its effect on cattle indicates that when considering cattle comfort and nutrient needs for maintenance, a wet hair coat on a 60 day is equivalent to a dry hair coat on a 32

day. If you consider this relationship, it becomes apparent that the wet weather is "taking its toll" on cattle this winter. The wet conditions have also hurt the quality of dormant grass (standing dry forage) that many operations depend on to winter their cattle. Grass quality has been hurt in two ways: (1) by leaching nutrients and (2) by physical deterioration (rot and decay). As grass quality declines, intake is suppressed and cattle have a more difficult time maintaining themselves.

At this point in time it is probably not critical to understand what has happened, but how to best finish the winter. Additional (extra) supplemental feed may or may not help. If you are already feeding an adequate to slight surplus amount of protein, additional feed will probably not help. This is because when protein needs are satisfied, energy is probably the limiting factor if weight loss is a problem. We cannot increase energy intake by feeding supplemental energy when cattle are on forage based diets.

Energy intake is regulated by quality of the forage; therefore, we must increase forage quality to increase energy intake. This can be accomplished by either moving cattle to better grass or changing to hay or other harvested forage that is better in quality. We can also change the cattle to a concentrate based diet (majority of ration supplied from grain, protein sources, etc.); however, this is not an economically feasible alternative in most cases.

Remember that cow condition is important if you want a high breeding percentage. Study your situation and make adjustments that are dictated by your conditions.

Junior Cat Tracks

The Jr. Cats have continued their hard work this week. They have been running, running and running some more. Everyone I have talked to is ready for track season to begin, but they still have a whole week until the Cross Plains track meet on March 13. Eighth grader Michael Perales stated, "I think we are going to do pretty good." This week the Jr. cats will be trying out for relay teams and trying their luck at the field events.

Stuteville's Stats

"Track" is becoming a household word around Rising Star Junior High. I talked to a few of the girls about the spring sport. Tianay Chambers says that even though she doesn't like it as much as basketball, she will still try hard in her events and try to enjoy it more.

Angelia DeLong exclaimed, "I can't wait for track to start! I want to do the long jump, triple jump and the 800, just to name a few." As you can see, they are recovering nicely from basketball. The first track meet will be March 13 at Cross Plains.

Wid's Wide World of Wildcats

The Wildcats traveled to Early to play Huckaby for Bi-District Championship in basketball last Friday. In the first quarter the Cats had a chance for victory. The game was very close until the Cats let the press get to them in the second quarter. Huckaby then proceeded to run up their side of the scoreboard. The rest of the game did not go very well for the Cats; the least said the better. Scoring for the Wildcats were Mackey Elliott, 3; Jeff Medley, 2; Chris Harrelson, 2; Chad Hill, 12; Jarod Horton, 2; Michael Sizemore, 2; Wid Keeling, 4; and Rene Rodriguez, 4. The Wildcats will now start baseball, track, golf and tennis. Be sure to come out and lend your support to the Wildcats.

Lady Cat Athletics

The Lady Cat tracksters are still working hard to get ready for that first track meet in Baird this Saturday, March 7. The team has really grown from the four girls on the team last year, just enough for the relay teams. There are 14 on the team and not all of the new members are freshmen; many are sophomores and juniors who decided to show a little more school spirit and represent RSHS by running track this year. This week in practice the Lady Cats' coach, Robby Stuteville, decided what events each Lady Cat would participate in, especially those who would be members of one of the four-person relay teams. The track team has really put out a lot of effort in practice the past few weeks and hope to do well in Baird this weekend. Please go out and support the team!

Dear Marie

We have a huge proble. We missed our curfew by only 30 minutes, and are now paying for it. We have to walk to school instead of taking the truck. How can we get around this? Oh, we can't accept rides either. Stranded Sisters
All I can say is you made a mistake and now you have to face the consequences. Just make the best of it. Look at it this way: You're getting in shape for track!

Notes Around Campus

I hope everyone has had a prosperous week and that the rain hasn't washed all the good spirits away. Freshmen, sophomores and some juniors and seniors went as guests of Cross Plains to hear a lecture on sex education last Thursday. A few of the topics discussed were AIDS and how you have to swallow two cups of saliva before there's a possibility of contracting this deadly disease from kissing. Also there are 50 different STDs (sexually transmitted diseases) as compared to only two back in the 50s. Another important topic was "safe sex." Certain types of protection must be kept at exactly the right temperature and be used every single time before offering any type of protection. In other words, the only "safe sex" for the 90s is no sex! It was very informative and overall everyone had a nice time. Mrs. Pritchard's sophomore and junior English classes and Mr. Mohundro's Economics class went to Abilene Christian University Library to work on upcoming research papers last Friday. Everyone found all the necessary information and afterwards we all went to eat. It was fun, and it was nice to have a day away from school. Thanks for taking us, Mrs. Pritchard, and for driving, Mr. Stuteville.

Honors Elected

Seniors, elected by their peers, awarded the annual school yearbook honors are: Miss La Estrellita, Betty Jo Jones; Mr. and Miss Rising Star High School, Brandon Geye and Gherda Williams; Most Attractive, Jomy Clark and Chad Hill; Most Friendly, Mechelle Ferbrache and Donnie Horton; Most Likely to Succeed, Brandon Geye and Scotty Wilson; Most Athletic, Chad Hill and Gherda Williams. These students, class favorites and organizational sweethearts and beaux will be presented at the annual coronation Saturday, April 25. Place and time will be announced.

Wacky Awards (Fun Stuff) given to students and elected by the 9-12 student body include: Most Dependable, Brandon Geye and (tie) Andi Ferbrache and Cheryl Robinette; Most Preppy, Chris Harrelson and Laura Rankin; Most Shy, Scott Rutledge and Carol Horrell; Best Dressed, Chad Hill and Laura Rankin; Cutest Couple, Chris Cevolos and Adela Chavez; Most Spirited, Donnie Horton and Gherda Williams; Most Talkative, David Fisher and Andi Ferbrache; Biggest Clowns, Jeff Medley and Gherda Williams; Biggest Flirts, Shane Kerr and Heather Wright; Biggest Complainers, Jeff Medley and Gherda Williams; Biggest Kiss-Ups, Jeff Medley and Larua Rankin; Biggest Gossips, Stephen O'Connor and Cheryl Robinette; Most Studious, Scott Rutledge and Emily Stuteville; Worst Drivers, Michael Sizemore and Carol Horrell; Most Courteous, Brandon Geye and Christy Hughes; Most Helpful, Scotty Wilson and Cheryl Robinette.

Davitorials

Have you ever thought of the value of neighbors? Ever since August I've had a chance to realize good neighbors are important. Good neighbors have the ability to cheer anybody up anytime. But what would happen if we were rude to our good neighbors? They would probably call the police because of my loud stereo at 8 a.m. or never let me borrow sugar or eggs. Do you ever think of your neighbor? Did you give him/her hair or give them labor on Labor Day? Noooo, of course not. You must be the lowest form of life if you don't enjoy your neighbor. But what if your neighbor never mows their yard? Mow it for them! That's why this is National Love-Your-Neighbor Week. Go out there and do something for them!

Go, Cats!

Owen qualified to be your Precinct 3 Commissioner. If re-elected, L.T. pledges to you his cooperation, his continued interest, proven ability and willingness to listen to your problems concerning roads and county government. In making his announcement for reelection to the office of County Commissioner, Precinct 3, Mr. Owen expressed his appreciation for all of the assistance he has received from all agencies of City and County Governments in carrying out the responsible duties of the office of Eastland County Commissioner. Mr. Owen is now the Senior Commissioner of the Eastland County Commissioners' Court and is often called upon to preside at its meetings. Mr. Owen stated, "If you agree with me that honesty, integrity, experience and hard work are important elements in public service, then I will appreciate your vote and active support in the March 10 Democratic Primary, keeping in mind that my only promise is continued economy and fairness in carrying out the duties of this important office." Gene Hicks Will Seek Re-Election

I am a member of the American Legion and served as Post Commander for two terms. I served as President of the Chamber of Commerce for three terms and completed a term as President of Eastland County Law Enforcement Association. I am an honorably discharged veteran of the United States Marine Corps, with 25 years of service, nine of which were in Military Police. During two tours of active duty, I served in Korea, Okinawa, Vietnam, the Philippine Islands, Thailand and Cuba, as well as at bases in the United States. I retired in 1975 as a Master Sergeant with many treasured decorations and citations of excellence. I will be glad to show them to any voter to check into my qualifications. After my discharge I extended my Marine training into civilian law enforcement, most of it in this precinct. I have made and continue to make a serious study, and I have diplomas and certificates awarded by the Abilene Police Department, the West Central Texas Council of Governments, and special schools of the Extension Service of Texas A&M University. I also hold a certificate from the Texas Commission in

Law Enforcement Officers, Standards and Education. In 1990 I received a certificate from Tarrant Junior College for Child Sexual Abuse Intervention and Treatment and another Intermediate Certificate from Texas Commission in Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education. These courses cover in detail various aspects of the law enforcement field as they relate to the duties of the office you have entrusted me with and to which I am asking you to return me for another term. The Texas Law Enforcement Code of Ethics says, in part: "I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities or friendships to influence my decisions. I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately, without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never accepting gratuities." As the little boy said in his prayer to the Lord, "Them's my sentiments." Thank you for your consideration of my candidacy. I appreciate very much the trust you have placed in me and I hope to continue in that trust. But for whomever you vote, please VOTE! Sincerely, Gene Hicks Pd. pol. adv. by Gene Hicks, Rising Star, TX 76471

Red Cross Offers Baby Sitter Course

Does your son or daughter want to baby sit to earn extra money? The American Red Cross is forming a two day certified Baby Sitting Course to be taught at the Chapter House at 1612 N. 2nd, on March 16 and 17, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Boys and girls 11 and up receive training in preventing accidents, providing first aid, handling emergencies, selecting safe toys and games, supervising children, diapering and dressing babies, and the feeding of infants and children. The public schools are not in session on March 16 and 17. This is an opportunity for the children to participate in a quality learning experience. The cost for this course comes to $15.00. For further information and enrollment in the class, please call 677-2622. Sign up early. The class is open to the first 25 students registering.

Update on Construction

The D&D Construction crew was really busy last week. The roof is now completely dried in. All the exterior glass has been installed. Exterior doors were placed on the building and the high school is now being locked at night. The terrazzo floor was being poured. The bricklayers will be finished soon and framing of the interior walls began this week. The painters will begin work soon. All the chalkboards, cabinets, tackboards and lockers will be here on schedule. The job superintendent, Dale Murphy, says, "I feel like there will be no problem with graduation in the new auditorium."

that knows our county and that we know and trust. Since being appointed in January 1991 to fill the unexpired term of the former sheriff we have made some major changes, I feel for the better. I have not done this alone but with the help of a very capable staff, and all the other peace officers in the county and many officers from surrounding counties. Information and knowledge has been shared between the various city, county, and state law enforcement agencies. In the past year there has been an unsurpassed feeling of unity and working together within the network of officers from all towns in our county. This is very important to the job that needs to be done. I am asking you for your vote and support because this is a job that cannot be done alone. If you select me for your sheriff again, I will use all my knowledge of the law and common sense so we can continue to be proud of our law enforcement we have had since January 1991. Thank you. Fishing Outdoors

by Terry L. Wilson

"LEON'S BIGAN'S BITTING"

The big bites, by our area standards are happening folks. Leon this past weekend let loose of a nice 7.6 (digital hand scales). This big female was full of eggs and appeared to be ready to move upon the bed perhaps around the March 18 full moon period. In the same area three nice 2 1/2 pound males and another big fish were turned. Jigs in 3 to 4 feet of water were working best. With black and motor-oil and chartreuse the preferred color. Prior to this catch a few days an unconfined 8.20 lunker was reported. Confirmation of this fish and its disposition were not available. North shorelines seem to still be producing best, maybe because water temperatures are running 2 to 4 degrees warmer. 54 to 56 degrees, verses 50 to 52 in other areas.

Catching appeared slow, we put in four good hours in the Chock-A-Block area with only two bites. But further up river there were some fair reports using live worms.

If you can recall being around Lake Cisco around 1970 you probably recall an almost full lake. Well it's almost there again. Recent rains have raised this normally low level reservoir to within 15 feet of full pool. Wouldn't it be nice if the TP&W could put a few hundred thousand Florida bass in now.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's fisheries and wildlife division is reorganizing to provide faster, more efficient service to the public.

The changes are part of an ongoing department-wide reorganization begun by Executive Director Andrew Sansom in late 1990. The move will transfer more decision-making power from Austin headquarters out to the front lines in the field.

"Staff throughout the division are eager to get started with this. That's especially true for those who have been on the front lines for years, who may not have been as deeply involved as they felt they should have been in wildlife management planning," said Dr. Rudolph Rosen, fisheries and wildlife division director.

Formal goals of the reorganization include decentralization of authority to the front lines, enhanced professional development of staff, greater efficiency, sound biological management, better public lands management, an ecosystem-based management approach, stronger private lands emphasis and more teamwork.

The reorganization also will form a new operational services branch, decentralize hatcheries branch operations, develop nongame and new urban fish and wildlife programs and consolidate two current wildlife branches into one.

The new operational services branch will reduce duplication of administrative support staff previously spread throughout the various branches. The new branch will also handle federal aid, contracts, permitting and regulations.

The reorganization will encourage new research in various ways. For example, the new Ecosystems Analysis and Information Management program will be created under the operational branch. In this program, specialized biologists will act as consultants for the entire division, handling population statistics, data management and ecosystem analysis. This staff consolidation will eliminate duplication and it will facilitate research among staff by reducing their routine workloads.

Decentralization of the hatcheries branch will give more decision-making power to hatchery managers. Current "regional directors," who have been directly supervising hatchery managers, will now focus more on developing new hatcheries and coordinating research. Hatchery managers will now report directly to Hatcheries Branch Chief Gene McCarty.

"We'll be able to respond more quickly to requests from the inland and coastal fisheries branches," McCarty said. "For example, if they wanted us to produce a new or better species for stocking in lakes, we could do that faster."

McCarty also will head the nongame and new urban fish and wildlife programs, which will include new "backyard habitat programs" for small private lands. The goal is to get these programs off the ground with strong funding, good programs and efficient administration. This will be a temporary arrangement to develop the programs and enhance professional experience among the branch chiefs.

Bob Cook, branch chief of wildlife field operations, has been named to head the newly consolidated wildlife management branch. Cook's branch will be responsible for all aspects of wildlife management on behalf of the state of Texas, Rosen said. Under the wildlife management branch, many of the wildlife species programs now housed in Austin will be disbursed to the field staff.

"Biologists in the field will be able to manage wildlife and handle landowner requests without having to route as many inquiries through Austin," said Bob Cook, wildlife branch chief.

Expected to remain at headquarters are the waterfowl program, private lands and hunting program managers and the big game director position. The majority of remaining species program duties will be disbursed to the field.

A new team concept will form teams of biologists to work on specific species and ecosystems, such as pine forest wildlife. The public will be able to turn to each team leader as "chief expert among staff" on specific wildlife and habitat questions. Team leaders may be able to allot part of their time to research, though the bulk of their duties will involve area management, regulatory district work and technical guidance for private landowners.

For the public, the reorganization should mean they'll get more questions answered and more deci-

Calvary Regiment (Memorial) To Host Trial Ride In Albany

On September 25, 1871, Captain Wirt Davis, commander of company F, 4th U. S. Cavalry, departed Fort Griffin with over 120 mounted troopers to bivouac at Old Camp Cooper, a historic pre-civil war military post. It was there he was to meet Col. Ranald S. MacKenzie, commander of the 4th Cavalry Regiment who with another 480 troopers and 100 pack mules from Fort Richardson near Jacksboro, were to begin the first campaign of the famous Red River Indian Wars of 1871-75.

On April 4, 1992, F Company, 4th U. S. Cavalry Regiment (Memorial) reenactment unit will host a public trial ride for Fort Griffin State Park (15 miles north of Albany in Shackelford County) to Old Camp Cooper, 10 miles by trial to the northwest.

Historical Note: Camp Cooper was wisely evacuated by the U.S. Army in 1861 and handed over to a Texas unit of the Confederate Army who had surrounded the camp and demanded its surrender. Had the commander chosen to combat the issue, Camp Cooper and not Fort Sumter, would have been the battle that started the Civil War. Camp Cooper was also renowned, in 1857, to have been under the command of Col. Robert E. Lee, later to become of the Confederate Army of the Potomac.

The re-ride will depart Fort Griffin H.Q. at 10 a.m. on Saturday the 4th of April on the trial that Captain Davis followed in 1871. The group, escorted by the 4th Cavalry troopers will arrive at the site of Old Camp Cooper and be treated to an 1870's army style meal. Following lunch and some cavalry activity, the group will return to Fort Griffin by another route. The ride will be totally on private ranchlands, predominantly that of Watt Mathews and the famous Lambshead ranch. Old Camp Cooper would not be accessible to the public other than on a ride such as this one.

Pre-registration is necessary. Admission to the ride will be $15 per adult and $8 for children up to age 13. Each rider will be given a specially made bandana commemorating their participation on this historic trail. For more information and an application, write F Co., 4th U.S. Cavalry, P.O. Box 1701, Breckenridge, Texas or call Fort Griffin (915) 762-5434.

FIRST SIGN OF SPRING - Painters put the finishing touches on buildings and fixtures in Six Flags Over Texas' Confederate section. Even the 300-foot-tall Oil Derrick observation tower, seen in the background, will be getting a fresh coat of paint. The Arlington theme park started its 1992 season February 29.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

DR. STEPHEN G. BARRY

CHIROPRACTOR

MEDICAL RESEARCH SUPPORTS CHIROPRACTIC

The British Medical Journal reports that Chiropractic treatment of low back pain, which affects 75 million Americans, is superior to the standard regimen administered by medical doctors.

The study, published in the summer of 1990, indicated that chiropractic manipulation can relieve severe back pain quicker and at lower cost than medical treatment. Chiropractic patients experienced less pain and disability and missed fewer days work.

At Barry Chiropractic Clinic we are committed to not only getting you free of back pain but treating those conditions which cause your pain. No symptom can be more depressing than persistent back pain. Don't delay treatment when help is readily available.

While Bullock is not expected to appear before state agencies, public concern comes from the fact that he presides over the Senate which co-writes state agency budgets, and could exert undue influence from that unique position.

The approval rating is the highest ever posted for a Texas governor in at least 14 years, said University of Houston Political scientist Richard Murray, who conducted the poll.

• When Texas Congressman Joe Barton slipped $50,000 into an appropriation bill to provide for drug testing of members of Congress, Oregon Rep. Peter DeFazio countered with an amendment to use the money for congressional IQ tests.

Redistricting Lawsuit

The U.S. Supreme Court refused to speed up its review of new state senate districts, the last chance for Texas Democrats to postpone the primary many predict will gain GOP senate seats. Meanwhile, Attorney General Dan Morales, investigating GOP lawmaker ties to the court-ordered senate map decision, said 36 calls were made from the offices of 12 legislators to Judge James Nowlin, who wrote the plan.

Morales said nine were Republicans, three were Democrats.

But Rep. Alan Schoolcraft, R-San Antonio, one of those targeted by Morales, also from San Antonio, said he had telephone records showing calls to Nowlin made from 11 Democrat legislative offices.

Bullock Joins Law Firm

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock fueled a bit of controversy last week by taking a position with an Austin law firm which has represented several clients before state agencies.

Bullock, who makes $7,200 annually as presiding officer of the Senate, will be "of counsel" to Scott, Douglass & Luton for an undisclosed salary.

The firm is not registered as a lobbyist, but state agencies have come under fire from Morales and the media for hiring lobbyists as lawyers when the legislature is not in session.

Presidential politics dominated the Capitol scene last week, wooing Texans who will vote in next Tuesday's primary:

• President Bush flew in for an international drug war pow-wow held in San Antonio;

• Former KKK leader David Duke, a Republican, and Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton, a Democrat, sparked some white-black flashes of anger, one inadvertently; and

• New Hampshire Democratic primary winner Paul Tsongas, backed by Texas Railroad Commissioner Bob Krueger, opened campaign headquarters in Austin, Houston, San Antonio and Dallas.

A recent poll shows Clinton, who has the support of Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and Democratic Party chairman Bob Slagle, leading Texas with more than 40 percent of Democrats.

The Clinton Flare-up

The Clinton flare-up came after he remarked that black leader Jesse Jackson was double-dealing, underhanded and dishonorable for campaigning for primary opponent Tom Harkin.

Clinton thought he was off-the-air, but his remarks were taped and repeated in media news, causing a brief rift that he and Jackson apparently resolved over the phone.

Meanwhile, Duke's words were deliberate when he said many freedoms that white Texans died for at the Alamo were being threatened by minority takeover.

That prompted appeals court judge Morris Overstreet, the first black elected statewide, to accuse Duke of trying "to incite racism" by invoking the Alamo. This rift was not resolved.

Poll Predictions

Other Texas poll results showed President Bush with 78 percent GOP Support; Duke one percent; and Patrick Buchanan 11 percent. Among Democrats, Tsongas was second with more than 30 percent and clos-

New York psychiatrist Susan Lowenstein (Barbara Streisand) relies on Tom Wingo's (Nick Nolte) memories of his family's past to provide the key that may help ease the torment of Tom's twin sister in "The Prince of Tides," a Columbia Pictures release. This movie will begin at the Majestic in Eastland Friday, March 6, 1992, at 7:30 p.m.

"The Prince Of Tides" To Show At Majestic This Weekend

Leaving a crumbling marriage behind him in South Carolina, Tom Wingo travels to New York to aid his sister's psychiatrist. Susan Lowenstein, as she tries to reconstruct the Wingo family's troubled history. Wounded by the same forces that have destroyed his sister's will to live, Tom begins a painful search for memories that will help Dr. Lowenstein ease Savannah's torment.

As Tom (played by Nick Nolte) delves into his turbulent past he gives Dr. Lowenstein (Barbara Streisand) the courage to resolve her relationship with an arrogant husband. "The Prince of Tides," based on a best-selling novel, is a Columbia Pictures presentation of a film by Barbara Streisand, who directs, produces and stars in it.

The film, Streisand says, explores "the complexity of family relationships. In this case it looks at the effect seriously flawed parents have on the lives of their children."

"At the same time it's a wonderful story about the love between men and women, parents and children and brothers and sisters."

This picture was filmed in the low country of South Carolina and in New York City.

"The Prince of Tides" will show at the Majestic in Eastland from Friday, March 6 through Monday, March 9. Curtain time will be 7:30 each evening, with tickets $3.00. This film is rated R.

Cisco Trade Days Set March 13-15

Starting March 13-15, then each month on the second weekend, the Cisco Community Association Trade Days will be held on I-20 near the Ranch House Restaurant.

"People are expected to come from throughout the area and Texas, not only to set up and sell their goods, but to see Cisco, meet our citizens, visit points of interest, local stores and maybe meet some business people, Chamber members, civic clubs, city leaders," the CCA spokesperson said.

Anyone having a craft, antiques, hobby items, or anything they would like to sell may set up and enjoy the Trade Days. Cost will be $5.00 for three days. Power will cost $3.00 per day extra.

Watch for special announcements concerning the May Trade Days. "Something good and special is in the works! It will be great for Cisco," according to the spokesperson.

Until next time, "Make a friend today, you may find they'll be the best."

National PTA Alcohol And Drugs Awareness Week

Peer pressure to try alcohol and other drugs can begin as early as the fourth grade more than 40 percent of children have used alcohol. But children who have strong bonds with their family and school are far less likely to try alcohol or other drugs. When parents work with their children, the school, and the community in a prevention program, the use of alcohol and other drugs by young people declines sharply.

Texas PTA has joined the National PTA's celebration of National PTA Alcohol and Other Drugs Awareness Week, March 1-7, by informing parents of their vital role in combating their children's involvement with alcohol and other drugs. According to a survey by the National Institute on Drug Abuse, the high-risk years for children's first use of illegal drugs begin at age 12. And approximately 100,000 10- and 11-year-olds reported getting drunk once a week.

The 1990 Texas School Survey of Substance Abuse, conducted by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, reported that only one-third of the Texas secondary students remained drug-free during the 1990 school year; the remaining two-thirds used either alcohol, tobacco, inhalants, and/or an illicit drug.

To help Texas youths

abstain from the use of alcohol and other drugs, parents need to be positive role models. Teens often will tune out lectures, but they watch their parents' every action. Following are suggestions for parents to help combat their children's use of alcohol and other drugs:— Show the value of freedom to think and act independently, that one doesn't have to do something because "everyone is doing it." This helps teens see that negative peer pressure can be rejected.

— Demonstrate a sense of self-respect and self-esteem. For example: taking care of your health through exercise and diet offers a strong model for your child.

— Show respect for your child's concerns by being a good listener.

— Be cautious in using prescription or over-the-counter medicines as a quick fix for pain or stress. Your example can counter or reinforce the media message that any problem can be cured by chemicals.

— Be aware of how personal use of alcohol can influence your teen. Avoid using excuses for drinking, like having a rough day.

— Taking honestly about personal stress or conflict. Children need to know that such struggles are a normal part of life. They have a good model when they see parents coping with problems without relying on alcohol or other drugs.

— Celebrate National PTA Alcohol and Other Drug Awareness Week by talking to your child about alcohol and drug use and its impact on his environments.

Texas PTA is the largest youth advocacy organization in the state with more than 850,000 members. Affiliated with the National PTA of more than 7 million members, Texas PTA works to better the environments of home, school, community and place of workshop for all children and youth.

SMALL BUSINESS Q & A

Original Idea for Free Publicity

From CYNERGETICS

Q I recently started a new business and I'm struggling with what to name it. I'm not even sure where to start. I don't know what factors I should consider.

Perhaps I am sweating the wrong detail? Is it really as simple as hanging up a shingle that says, "Nancy's Dress Shop"?

A It's a shame. Most people starting a new business get lost in the details of leases and licenses. So, they don't devote enough time to coming up with a good name.

This is not a minor detail. A carefully selected name can become your most powerful advertising tool, helping you capture the attention of customers and collect lots of free publicity.

So, invest the time up front. Changing to a better name later will be too costly. Over the years, we've learned that a powerful business name has many of the following characteristics:

- Conveys, in as few words as possible, what you do. For example, "Mini-Mart" and "Audio/Video Store."
 - Quickly communicates why the customer should choose you over your competition. For example, "10-minute Smog Check" and "One-Stop Health Center."
 - Precisely targets customers who would be attracted to your business. For example, "The 99¢ Store" for bargain-hungry shoppers and "Touch of Class Carpets" for discriminating homeowners.
 - Avoids cute names that may be fascinating to the business owner but confusing and inconsequential to the customer. For example, "Dimensions in Sound" and "Hairport."
 - Provides strong promotional opportunities. For example, a copying store in Cleveland, Ohio calls itself, "The Original Copy Store."
- At first glance, "Original" appears to be yet another creative and cute name. But wait till you read this ...

Each week, the staff at "Original" scan their local newspaper to make a list of people in the community who have recently been honored in some way. For example, people being promoted to a new job at their company, or people starting a new business, or salespeople receiving recognition for meeting company goals.

Then, the staff sends a congratulatory letter along with a framed personalized certificate that reads, "I'm an Original" to each individual on the list.

Most recipients proudly display these certificates in their offices, thus providing valuable free publicity to the copy store.

Simple, but stunningly effective. And that's not all. The copy store also sells "I'm an Original" T-shirts and mugs. This company is getting paid by their customers to advertise their name all over town!

It won't cost you a dime extra to come up with a name like, "The Original Copy Store," over a name like, "Nancy's Copy Shop." But, as you can see, a name like "Original" will save you a lot of dimes in the years to come.

As a service to readers of this newspaper, Cynergetics' recent report, "5 fatal mistakes that small business advertisers make ... and how you can avoid them," regularly $8, is being made available FREE.

MORAN NEWS

By Mrs. Luke Huskey

Mrs. M.V. Cates is receiving treatment in the Stephenville hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly Stewart of Fort Worth spent the weekend with relatives in Moran.

The people of Moran and community enjoyed a beautiful weekend. The sun was shining and the wind was calm. People were out in the yard, and the lawn mowers were running. However, rain is predicted for tonight (Monday) and Tuesday. The ground is still saturated and water is still standing in the low places.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kays had a lovely time visiting down in the Hill Country over the weekend.

Mrs. Gaylon Johnson was at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Davis, in Childress over the weekend.

Mildred Smith attended the funeral for Charles Arthur Campbell in Cisco Monday. Mr. Campbell is the grandfather of Dennis Campbell, son-in-law of Mrs. Smith.

Several people from Moran attended the funeral for R.D. Weeks in Cisco Saturday. Mr. Weeks, a well known fiddler, has attended the MORAN Country Musical a number of times.

MORAN SCHOOL NEWS

The students of the Moran School will have spring break March 16-20. The children will be on the move playing, so watch for them.

The 4th six weeks honor roll for the first through sixth grades are reported. The first grade A honor roll is Anna Lisa Ramos and Andy Waller. The A-B honor roll for the first grade is Arlin Birdsall,

Dispatches From The University World

(Editor: Education, Health Care and Science have never been as subject to rapid change as they are today. The colleges and universities of higher learning in the Texas Higher Education System have active roles in the development of all three. As educators and scientists, we are proud to be involved on the cutting edge of another transformation that promises better living for all of us. To help keep you informed of some of these activities, I will be sending you from time to time special reports on developments which I regard as "Dispatches from the University World." - Hans Mark, Chancellor, University of Texas System).

America's Secret Disease

As many as 14 million Americans may have diabetes and not know it.

Researchers at the four University of Texas Health Science institutions estimate that 150,000 people in the U.S. will die from complications of diabetes this year. They warn that everyone with the disease is at risk for a host of debilitating and life-threatening complications.

Diabetes is the leading cause of kidney disease, blindness and non-traumatic limb amputation. Also, diabetics are twice as likely to suffer from heart disease and stroke.

UT physicians say that Hispanics Blacks and Native American Indians lead the high-risk candidates for the disease. Others most likely to develop diabetes are overweight individuals past 30 years of age with a history of diabetes in their families.

Members of these groups can easily determine if they have the disease by asking their physician to administer a simple Diabetes Risk Test.

Trash Man

How garbage, pets, and people are affecting beaches on the Gulf coast and around the world is a concern to scientists at The University of Texas Marine Science Center at Port Aransas.

For 13 years, Tony Amos, one of The University's senior researchers and oceanographers has been trying to find the answer to this problem of environmental pollution by studying trash! His studies indicate that garbage, swimmers, fishermen and a variety of activities all affect marine life.

Originally, Amos' primary interest was studying the birds that flock to the beaches. When he wasn't counting birds with a handheld computer and a pair of binoculars, he began documenting the refuse washed up on a seven-mile stretch of Mustang Island off the Texas coast.

He isn't pleased with his discoveries.

Amos punches his computer keys to total the number of plastic milk jugs, egg cartons, chemical drums, beverage cans and other debris discarded by visitors, industries and ships. His reports of the growing mountains of trash dumped on beaches and into the Gulf has inspired action by environmentalists.

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro says that Amos' studies of the amount of plastics being

Amoco, Exxon, Lead Top Ten State Oil And Gas Producers In 1991

Railroad Commission statistics show Amoco and Exxon to be the top oil and gas producers, respectively, in Texas for 1991, Commission Chairman Lena Guerrero announced today.

Amoco led all oil producers for the period with an average daily production of 147,103 barrels, some 8.33 percent of all oil produced in the state. Exxon Corp. any took second place with an average daily production rate of 125,358 barrels, some 7.09 percent of total state production. Other companies in the top ten included Chevron U.S.A. Inc., 97,073 bpd (barrels per day), third; Shell Western E&P Inc., 84,307 bpd, fourth; Texaco E & P Inc., 82,017 bpd, fifth; Mobil Producing TX. & N.M. Inc., 74,806 bpd, sixth; Marathon Oil Company, 65,186 bpd, seventh; Amerada Hess Corp., 54,557 bpd, eighth; Oryx Energy Company, 47,428 bpd, ninth; and Arco Oil & Gas Company, 45,991 bpd, tenth.

Guerrero said Exxon Corp. was the top Texas gas producer for the period, averaging 688,900 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) per day which represented 5.97 percent of total state production. Mobil Producing TX. & N.M. Inc., was second, averaging 669,708 Mcf per day, or 5.80 percent of all gas produced in the state. Other companies included Transamerican Natural Gas Corp., 542,364 Mcf, third; Shell Western E&P Inc., 451,498 Mcf, fourth; Texaco E & P Inc., 448,742 Mcf, fifth; Chevron U.S.A. Inc., 348,481 Mcf, sixth; Phillips Petroleum Company, 335,894 Mcf, seventh; Enron Oil & Gas Company, 253,714 Mcf, eighth; Pennzoil Exploration & Prod. Company, 247,628 Mcf, ninth; and Amoco Production Company 245,095 Mcf, tenth.

Former Girl Scouts Invited To Participate In 80th Anniversary

March 12, 1992 marks the 80th anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States. In recognition of this event, Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council will hold an 80th Anniversary Celebration on Saturday, February 8th at the Brownwood Coliseum. Girls from the 19 counties which comprise the Council will gather for a day filled with activities focused on the theme of "Girl Scouts Care For the Earth". Activities include making six-pack ring carry-alls, planting herb gardens, making bird feeders from milk cartons, games and a film. All activities will use materials which are being recycled.

Kay Leipzig of Keep Brownwood Beautiful will have a display for the girls to visit with handouts from Keep Texas Beautiful. Jean Sparks of the State Department of Highways and Transportation has secured "Don't Mess With Texas" bumper stickers and litter bags for each participant. She has also provided materials and assistance for a display about the "Adopt-A-Highway" program. The 3-112 Battalion of the Texas National Guard is providing a large tent for use as a games area.

Women who have been Girl Scouts in the past are invited to the celebration to observe the activities and be recognized in the closing ceremony at 3:15 PM. Nominations for Women of Distinction have also been made and these women will be honored at this event. Nominees for Women of Distinction are those who have made significant contributions to their communities in some way or are leaders in their communities.

"The major purpose behind this event is to encourage girls and troops to participate in Girl Scouts' 80th Anniversary Service Project," states Kay Hutton, council Program Services Director. "The theme for the celebration says it all—'Girl Scouts Care for the Earth'. Troops are encouraged to develop projects in their own communities which show the country how we care for the earth. These could range from adopting a highway or a park, planting trees, or perhaps working with another community organization on a larger project, such as erosion control along a stream or a wetlands reclamation project."

REMEMBER TO RENEW YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TODAY!!!!

"The day is shaping up to be a fun day for girls of all age levels," says Ms. Hutton. "We have over 500 girls registered for this event. I hope that we will have many former Girl Scouts join us throughout the day and at our closing ceremony. It is really exciting to meet women who grew up in Girl Scouting or have been leaders in the past. When Juliette Low founded Girl Scouting in the United States in 1912, she stated 'I have something for the girls of Savannah and every girl in America'. Mrs. Low certainly founded a movement with a program that has strived to remain contemporary and relevant to the needs of girls throughout the years," Ms. Hutton continued. "Many of our troop leaders grew up in Girl Scouting; a good number in this council. Another aspect of celebrating our 80th Anniversary is to recognize and honor these women for their contributions to the girls of today."

Heart of Texas Council covers 19 counties in central Texas, serving girls in Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Hamilton, Jack, Lampasas, McCulloch, Mills, Palo Pinto, Parker, Runnels, San Saba, Shackelford, Stephens, Throckmorton and Young counties. The membership currently stands at over 2300 girls and 900 adults. The council was chartered in 1949. The council is chartered by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., which is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. Membership is open to girls ages 5 through 17 (kindergarten through grade 12) who subscribe to its ideals as stated in the Girl Scout Promise and Law. National membership currently stands at 2,561,000 girls and 822,000 adults—over 3.3 million members in the United States, including USA Girl Scouts overseas in 60 countries. Overseas members come from U.S. military and civilian families living abroad. It is part of a worldwide family of girls and adults in 118 countries through its membership in the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

From Eastland, Junior Troops 240 and 236 and Brownie Troop 241 will be attending.

Entertainment Galore At Fiesta Texas

Entertainment is the name of the game at Fiesta Texas, the Lone Star State's newest attraction. The 200-acre park is located in San Antonio and offers four distinctly themed areas, each reflecting a part of the state's vast culture through design, food and of course, entertainment.

The musical styles featured at Fiesta Texas echo the theming of each area—Los Festivales, a Hispanic area; Crackaxle Canyon, an early 1910s western area; Spassburg, a German area; and Rockville, the park's 1950s-60s nostalgia area. Guests in each of the miniature villages are treated to an authentic sampling of culture through sights, sounds, smells and tastes. Each themed area has two theaters, except Spassburg, which has one.

Entertainment ranges from street entertainers to fully choreographed Broadway-style performances put on in sumptuous theaters. Guests to the park may sample from a smorgasbord of 60 entertainment performances daily during the summer season, with regularly scheduled shows running at least four times. Each day's entertainment concludes with a spectacular laser and fireworks show, the Lone Star Spectacular, during the park's last hour of operation.

Fiesta Texas "Streetmosphere," or street entertainment, features everything from Sheriff Wyatt White in Crackaxle Canyon to an unexpectedly delightful Frau Spitz Shinen in Spassburg. The Frau is responsible for the cleanliness of Spassburg's pools and fountains, and seeks assistance from passersby since the reflections make it difficult for her to spot dirt. In addition to fun and zany characters, each area has as official hosts and greeters Mayor Maynot and Mrs. Shirley Maynot.

The largest theater in Fiesta Texas is Lone Star Lil's, in Crackaxle Canyon. The theater seats about 4,000, with 1,600 covered seats, and is home for the "They Went Thataway" show. This 45-minute show with 20 singers/dancers and 14 musicians takes the audience back to the 1920s in oil-booming west Texas. The precisely choreographed yet rollicking production has cowboys, dance hall girls, oil men and all the trappings. You'll almost be able to taste the grit and smell the oil!

Crackaxle Canyon's other show, "Music Country Music," is produced at the Sundance Theater. This 45-minute show features 16 singers/dancers in a salute to the style and stars of country music told through song, dance and "down home" humor. The show pays tribute to some of country music's golden stars as well as some of the hottest acts on the charts today. Sundance Theater seats 1,554 persons.

Good German fun and cheer can be found at the Sangerfest Halle in Spassburg, where German "oompah" bands bring a season-long Oktoberfest to life for up to 1,000 guests.

To sample the warmth and pleasure of Hispanic culture, amble into Teatro Fiesta in Los Festivales. This 746-seat theater is home for the show "Festivale Folklorico", whose cast shows off the best of Tex-Mex music. Teatro Fiesta's hermano mas grande (big brother) is El Teatro Zaragoza, which will be the home for an hour-long show with a cast of 24. The production, "Heart of Texas," celebrates the myths and legends of Texas and pays homage to the heritage and people of Texas. Popular music from Broadway to country to rap guarantees every visitor a special experience.

A second production held in the 2,000-seat theater celebrates the musical tradition of Mexico and their contributions to the Texas way of life. The 30-minute show features 16 singers/dancers and 18 musicians.

Visitors can mosey down memory lane by parking for a while at the Rockville High School, home to a 45-minute show "Rockin' at Rockville High." Twelve singers/dancers and nine musicians bring to life those old high school memories, including a pep rally, a sock hop and a top-40 dance show. You'll even hear the old school bell ringing in the memories in the 945-seat theater.

Hard core rockers can loosen their socks at the Loop Drive-In, also in Rockville. This 756-seat theater is filled with the sounds of 1950s and '60s music from eight singers/musicians whose goal is to take you back to the roots of rock as found in Motown.

Lest anyone think Fiesta Texas' theaters are the only place to find musical entertainment, note that other entertainment includes a Mariachi Band and a Marimba in Los Festivales. In Spassburg one can enjoy Die Wurst Players, Fractured Farie Tales, an accordionist and a tuba quartet. Crackaxle Canyon entertainment includes a Western Trio, the Sweet Adelines, a barber-shop quartet and a rain-maker. Additional entertainment in Rockville includes the RHS Doo-Woppers and, naturally, the Pep Band.

The musical summation of all this means that no matter what range of entertainment visitors seek, it will be available, enjoyable and memorable at Fiesta Texas. The variety of performances daily ensures guests the opportunity to satiate their entertainment wishes, and best of all, at the one-time cost of a daily admission to the park. Anyone who finds making a choice of entertainment too taxing can always relax and enjoy an action-packed ride on the Rattler, the world's tallest, fastest wooden roller coaster, or on any of the park's 14 other rides.

RRC Assesses $69,000 In Well Plugging, Pollution Penalties

The Railroad Commission assessed a total of $69,000 in administrative penalties this week to thirteen oil and gas operators for violations under Commission well plugging and pollution rules, according to RRC Chairman Lena Guerrero.

Arrowhead Energy Co. of Fort Worth was ordered to pay a total of $6,000 for two inactive and unplugged Parker County wells: one on the Jackson Ranch lease, the other on the Jackson lease; Macon Drilling Company of Boling was assessed a total of $6,000 for three wells on the Lucy Anderson lease in Wharton County; Plum Oil & Gas of Plum was penalized a total of $6,000 for two Colorado County wells: one on the Pearl H. Wooten lease, the other on the Wooten lease; Southern Energy of Kerrville was ordered to pay a total of $6,000 for two wells on the Scott Benson lease in San Patricio County; R.L. Turner of Gainesville was penalized $3,000 for one well on the G. D. Goff lease in Cooke County; Baensch Oil Company of Dallas was ordered to pay a total of $19,000 for sixteen inactive and unplugged Cooke County wells: thirteen on the F. J. Truenbach lease and three on the J. Wiesman lease. In addition, Baensch was assessed another $2,500 for an oil leak on the F. J. Truenbach lease; Prime Resources of Dallas was penalized $2,000 for two wells on the Houser lease in Comanche County; Hash Oil Co. of Albany was ordered to pay $2,000 for one well on the H. D. Hash lease in Shackelford County; T. D. Oil & Gas, Inc. of Dallas was assessed $4,000 for one well on the Carey-Cook lease in Stephens County; and, Damco Energy Corporation of Midland was ordered to reimburse the state for plugging costs and penalized a combined total of $6,000 for one well on the Clay lease in Dawson County.

In addition, one operator agreed to pay a penalty without admitting any violation of Commission rules. R. C. Slack of Pecos was ordered to pay $500 for one inactive and unplugged well on the J. M. Williamson lease in Ector County.

Also, Cardinal Well Service, Inc. of Conroe was assessed $4,000 for illegal discharge of drilling mud, oil and saltwater on the Cardinal Well Service Yard in Montgomery County; and, Kelly H. Baxter of Midland was penalized $2,000 for saltwater disposal without a permit involving one well on the P. E. White Act. No. 1 lease in Duval County.

To date in 1992, the Commission has levied $226,796 in well plugging and pollution penalties. Last year, the Commission assessed more than $733,000 in such penalties.

RC&D Changes Direction

A record crowd of more than 400 volunteers and staff from the Southwestern States Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Association held its annual meeting in College Station recently. The business portion of the conference resulted in the election of new officers, approval of resolutions, changes in by-laws, and other business matters.

Also, a variety of speakers presented new and different ideas for projects that can be accomplished in almost any RC&D area and unique ways of organizing and funding these projects. Volunteers, which accounted for more than 75% of the RC&D force, were encouraged to use their varied talents to start grass root projects.

Representatives also passed a resolution to encourage Congress to include at least $50 million in its fiscal year budget for RC&D programs. James Jordan, president of the Southwestern RC&D Association, said, "These funds are needed to expand RC&D areas." Federal dollars are funneled through the USDA Soil Conservation Service, which coordinates the RC&D program.

Currently, there are 12 active RC&D areas in Texas, and five area applications pending. "We are excited about this expansion and what it means to our rural communities in Texas," Wes Oneth, SCS State Conservationist, said.

Featured speaker, Winthrop Rockefeller, member of the President's Council on Rural Development, said, "Rural development has an impact on both urban and rural America. Rural areas are one of our biggest assets. It serves America as its source of farm land, congestion-free living space, and a place of natural beauty that's a major part of our national heritage. To protect these assets, this nation has a special stake in the well-being of the rural economy and lifestyle."

Jordan said "RC&D is a way for local leaders to improve the quality of life where they live, work, and play." He went on to say, "In the past we have focused on soil erosion and other land treatment needs. Now we're looking at community projects that create parks, jobs, health clinics, communication systems, proper waste disposal systems, and adequate rural fire protection."

The RC&D Program believes that rural communities survive and flourish not because of government aid, but because they helped themselves.

Tuberculosis Back With A Venegance In Texas

Despite the widely held assumption that tuberculosis had been eradicated, the disease has returned in rapidly increasing numbers. Fifteen million Americans suffer from tuberculosis (TB), an airborne bacterium which eats away at the lungs and other organs.

In Texas, there was a 17 percent increase in reported cases in 1990 (2,242 cases), and an estimated 10 percent increase in 1991 (2,501 cases). Currently, Texas ranks third in the nation in total reported cases of TB.

The increase is caused by a number of factors, including a lack of attention by the public health community, which considered TB to be nearly wiped out. "Tuberculosis is experiencing a dramatic comeback," said Dr. Jeffrey Starke, director of the children's TB clinic at Baylor College of Medicine and board member of the American Lung Association of Texas (ALAT). "There's no question TB prevention programs have been especially underfunded. We can save a tremendous amount of money by screening for TB instead of paying for medical treatments once the disease becomes active," he added.

Another contributing factor is the high incidence of tuberculosis among persons infected with the HIV/AIDS virus. The homeless, as well, are at high risk to contract TB, and are often difficult to contact for diagnosis and treatment. "Frequently, by the time you get a positive test result, it's no longer possible to locate the patient," says Dr. Joseph H. Bates, an American Lung Association board member.

A major new concern of the American Lung Association is the spread of a multi-drug resistant strain of TB. Tuberculosis patients who do not properly take their medication may develop the drug-resistant strain, in turn passing it on to others. Many of those infected cannot afford treatment, and government funding has proved to be inadequate. Since 1969, government funding of TB control programs has decreased by $11 million. Many authorities warn that an outbreak of multi-drug resistant tuberculosis would cost the government hundreds of millions of dollars.

ALA recommends $91 million appropriation

In his newly unveiled 1993 budget, President Bush has asked for $66 million for the federally funded TB Project Grant program and TB/AIDS programs. The American Lung Association recommends approval of the appropriation plus $15 million to help local cities fight the disease and a minimum of $10 million for TB research. "Increased federal funding is needed now, while there is still time to stop tuberculosis from getting out of control," said Kevin Tuerff, ALAT public affairs director. "We must get additional funds to local Texas cities where the battle is already being waged." Tuerff says drugs have a success rate of 95 percent in curing many individual TB cases; but this success cannot continue without adequate funding.

State TB funding also inadequate ALAT is also concerned about funding levels from the State Legislature. The budget for the TB division of the Texas Department of Health is struggling to keep up with the TB morbidity increases in Texas, according to John Bybee, division director. Furthermore, costs of life-saving drugs continue to increase, thereby depleting funds budgeted for treatment.

Lung disease is the third leading cause of death in the United States and Texas. Founded in 1908 to fight tuberculosis, the American Lung Association of Texas is dedicated to the fight against all lung disease. For more information about tuberculosis or lung disease, call the toll-free lung information hotline in Austin at 1-800-252-LUNG.

Senior Citizens Center Area Dealer Awarded

by Marjorie West

Last Thursday was a pretty day. Everyone was proud of a beautiful, sunny day.

We were sorry to hear that a sister of Joe Ward passed away recently. Our sympathy goes out to the family.

Parker Metcalf of Seagraves passed away last week. A graveside service was held at the Blake Cemetery in Williams Community last Sunday afternoon. He was formerly of Rising Star.

Marjorie West wishes to thank everyone who sent food and those who helped with kitchen chores after the Metcalf funeral. The meal was served at the Senior Citizens Center.

Barbara Nixon and George Salinar were at the Center Thursday. They checked blood pressures for everyone. We appreciate this service.

Berna Lee Chick received a letter from her lifetime friend, Iola (Chambers) Vivden telling of her husband's, J.W. Vivden, passing away after a lengthy illness in Pineville, La.

We send our sympathy to the family of Doby Jones, who lost a brother this week.

We are sorry to hear

Edna Jones is ill in Humana Hospital. We hope she will be well soon.

Joe and Evelyn Ward went to Kermit to attend the funeral of his sister, Lessie. On returning home Evelyn received a phone message that her son, Arthur, was in the hospital at Laredo. He is better but facing surgery again after a short time at home. They had H.B., Joe's brother, and wife visiting this week due to the lake being up to the foundation of their house.

Martha Carouth is home from the hospital and doing a little better.

Cecil and Mamie Joyce were back at the center Thursday. We have been missing you.

Karla Cooke from Abilene was a visitor. She is with the Alcohol and Drug Administration Council.

Artie Jagers had a bad fall at home last week and is now nursing a broken rib.

James Ramsay, our bank manager, was our visitor also. We appreciate our business people visiting us.

Sorry Edra Butler is in the Brownwood hospital. Hope she will be well soon. Have a good week!

Lindsay Manufacturing Company of Lindsay, Nebraska, the world's leading producer of automated irrigation equipment, has named DeLeon Irrigation of DeLeon as recipient of the President's Distinguished Sales award. The presentation was made at Lindsay's Annual Convention held January 17-23, 1992.

The award recognizes that DeLeon Irrigation has made a significant commitment to customer service and satisfaction during the '91 irrigation season.

The convention theme focused on how agriculture related dealerships will need to provide additional service to be successful in the 90s.

The Lindsay dealers were also shown how tomorrow's automated irrigation system will serve the grower as a tool to reduce the time required for irrigation, thereby allowing more time for farm management.

Lindsay Manufacturing Company, located in Lindsay, Nebraska, is a publicly traded company on the N.A.S.D.A.O. exchange. The Zimmatic irrigation product line consists of center pivot systems, corner systems, lateral move systems, and remote monitor and control units. Today, Zimmatic products are operating in 70 countries worldwide.

Pioneer Patchwork

by Irma Miller

The quilting ladies were unable to get to the building due to the boggy condition of the grounds for parking cars.

Frankie and Oliver Smith and Jean Fore went to the Rising Star Musical Friday night. Saturday in Abilene they watched their grandson, Scott Nance of San Angelo, play baseball. They came back by the musical in Putnam on Saturday night. Oliver and Frankie visited her father in Ranger on Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Hodby of Stephenville visited Jewel Foster on Sunday. They drove around and visited some in the afternoon, including Dorothy Mitchell. Jewel reports that the people who come to Pioneer for games on Thursday evenings donated a right nice sum toward a new carpet for the Pioneer clubhouse. The old carpet got wet under three to four inches of water, recently, and had to be removed, including the padding, down to the cement floor. So the quilting circle appreciates the donation and will be happy when they are able to obtain a new carpet.

Alvin and Wanda Fay Flippin visited Nell and Joe Fleming on Saturday afternoon. Sunday, JoVeda and Bill Watson of Lake Brownwood chauffeured them around near Coleman Lake to see the flooding conditions there.

Novilia Barton's visitor's were her children, Cecil and Mary Barton of Waco.

Visiting Laverne and Cowan Hutton the past weekend were Don and Corene Marcum from Indianahoma, Oklahoma, who spent Sunday night and Monday morning.

On Friday Laverne entertained the Quilting Club ladies whom she had invited to her house for a "show and tell" and refreshments. The food was tasty and nutritious. Everyone was to bring a quilt, old or new. Laverne showed a quilt of her grandmother's which had an interesting story. Each of the twelve guests also related a short account about her quilt and the party was enjoyed by everyone.

Laverne and her mother, Mrs. Ella Dena of Cross Plains, were in Eastland on business Monday.

May Lodge Gives Community Award

Brownwood and a housing project. The team formed an Industrial Foundation which enabled the Improvement Club to get grants through a legal organization.

May Housing Authority, Inc. was formed to get the Allen-McDaniel Apartments. Sook was an incorporator in both corporations and has served as secretary of the Board of Directors since they began. When President McDaniel called for an observance of the centennial, Sook served with him and Preacher Estil Allen on the Planning Committee and took the business assignment in writing the may Community Centennial History. The group completed the necessary planning for the once-proposed May Day program.

After President McDaniel learned how to get a fire truck through A&M Forestry Service, the group worked with May VFD to raise the money to purchase the truck.

Sook has always taken part in the many community activities. Since selling the store, she has had time to embrace the people she loves and become sweetheart of her beloved hometown. She has supported every good cause, cared for every good person who needed her help and stood firm in her belief that May is the finest community in the State of Texas.

Pres. McDaniel, a past Poet Laureate Alternate of Texas, characterized Sook in the following poem as part of a community recognition program.

The Sweetheart of May
Sook Burnett

*Some folks are beautiful in looks
And satisfy what others see.
Some folks are beautiful in depth
And move us with sincerity.*

*When folks are beautiful in looks,
We see the beauty of the face,
When beautiful in character,
We vision them with awe and grace.*

*When folks are beautiful in looks
And also beautiful inside,
We lose the picture of the face
And vision them with human pride.*

Prior to the award program Masons and their wives served a covered dish dinner in the May Home Demonstration Club. Behind Dorene is her daughter, Nicki, who was responsible for helping keep the award a secret and getting her mother to the program. Dorene was caught by complete surprise.

May Lodge 574 Secretary Marion McDaniel reads the Citation as Dr. Craven prepares to make the presentation.

Letter To The Editor

As a native of Eastland County, (where I still maintain my residence), and as the Project Manager for TDCJ-ID in the construction of a new 1,000 bed prison site in Lamesa, I would like to offer the following observations in support of the City of Ranger's proposal to TDCJ for one of the new sites.

1.) At this point in construction, at this site in Lamesa, the general contractor is employing 200 plus people. The contractor has hired almost everyone in the job market at Lamesa, (population 12,500), who is willing to work.

2.) The general contractor is now having to bring in some additional help from the Lubbock and Odessa-Midland areas to supplement the people that he is able to hire in Lamesa.

3.) As a result, the unemployment rate in Dawson County (Lamesa) is at its lowest rate since 1976. Hovering around the 5% level.

4.) Minimum wages for various jobs are set by the TDCJ and are calculated according to the prevailing wage rates in the area.

LEGAL NOTICE
Eastland Independent School District is accepting bids for 100 24" student desks, 65 13" chairs, 100 14" chairs, and 40 16" chairs to be purchased by the school. For specifications contact Keith Watkins, Superintendent, Eastland ISD, 900 W. Plummer, P.O. Box 31, Eastland, TX 76448. (817) 629-8221.

Bids should be mailed to Keith Watkins, Superintendent, Eastland ISD, 900 W. Plummer, P.O. Box 31, Eastland, TX 76448. FAX # (817) 629-3677. Bids should be sealed with the statement "Student Desk Bid Enclosed" clearly visible on the outside of the envelope. Deadline to receive bids is 3:00 p.m., Monday, March 9, 1992.

Bids will be opened for consideration Monday, March 9, 1992, at 3:30 p.m., in the Eastland ISD Administration Office, 900 W. Plummer, Eastland. Eastland ISD reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

(2-23, 2-27, 3-1, 3-4)

5.) The "ripple effect" of this construction activity is quite evident in Lamesa, which is primarily an agriculture center, as grocery stores, service stations, etc. are having to gear up for all the activity brought on by the influx of the construction workers, as well as the local workers, having a little money to spend again.

6.) Most of the available rental property in town is gone, and has been for several months.

7.) Zoning is being established at this time for additional housing developments.

All this and we are only 50% complete. We will be finishing about September 1, 1992. At the completion of the construction phase, the city will begin to see the permanent changes taking place. The prison will be staffed with over 300 persons in various positions. Of this number probably 150 new families will be coming to town. These are persons that will all have undergone rigid background checks in order to be employed by TDCJ, and are class people for neighbors.

In addition, the remaining 150 jobs will probably be filled locally, when qualified applicants are found. It is a misconception that in order to work at a prison you must be a correctional officer (guard). Only approximately 170 of the over 300 employees are involved in security. The remainder are support personnel for a "small city" of 1500 plus population.

I know that my short tenure with TDCJ has given me much insight into the impact that a prison has on the economy of a small county, I hope that the people of Eastland County will support the proposal, by

Tribute To Bob Weeks

He was a man so kind and true, and his friends and neighbors he had not just a few.

God needed a champion fiddle player, for his band up above, so He reached down in his tender Love.

He chose you Bro. Weeks, because you are the very best. Because you stand head and shoulder contacting your publically elected officials.

Economically it is the right thing to do. Do not consider Eastland County as being out of the running. There were approximately 63 proposals returned; there will be 28 new facilities built, giving each proposal nearly a 50-50 chance of being selected. Do not let a second chance get away from lack of support.

Yours truly,
Ron Carroll

above all the rest. Heaven will be sweeter because you are there. In your new home up in Heaven so fair.

We will miss you yes one and all, but with Jesus and the angels you stand so very tall.

I can hear you now as you play a melody so very sweet, as with all the angels, and God's band your chance to meet.

You loved your family and your fiddle too, but to Jesus you were so very true.

A friend,

in each service. Everyone is invited to come and hear this outstanding young minister who has given his life to God's service. There will be lots of good singing, testimonies of God's love and grace, and a warm welcome to all, regardless of denomination. The service will start Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30, Sunday morning at 10, and Sunday night at 6:30. Everyone welcome!

and towed away. County Judge Bailey called for anyone to speak for or against the Ordinance, and no one came forward. Members of the Commissioners Court discussed the regulation with District Attorney Leslie Vance. Vance said before enforcement he needed to do some more checking on who actually owns the land next to the Courthouse curbs. He said the County Surveyor could check with the State on the sides fronting the State Highway. The City of Eastland had reportedly turned over control of parking on their part of the property (South and West sides) some months ago. When asked about the legality of the enforcement, the District Attorney said he felt confident that the County would be able to control the parking, once the land ownership was worked out. The Commissioners discussed "no loading or unloading zone" at the Courthouse, and heard that "A Highway Patrolman gave someone a ticket who was parked at the ramp on the east side of the unloading." They also talked about the possibility of providing a parking lot near the Courthouse for County employees, who sometimes have to bring things in and out of their offices.

4-H News

4-H JR. LEADERS BAKE SALE
