By B.A.M.

Cecil and Bob Shults, John Lee and myself attended a meeting at De Leon Thursday night of last week when a project for bringing about the development of the Sabanno watershed was discussed. The program would be similar to that completed on Green Creek in the eastern part of the Upper Leon SCD, and to that which is being urged upon the Rush Creek Watershed.

The upshot of the meeting was a decision to ask the directors of the Upper Leon district to name a committee to determine whether or not there is sufficient interest and probable cooperation among the landowners affected to warrant an application to the State Soil Conservation Board for tentative approval of the project. The personnel of this committee is yet to be announced.

That there is a definite interest in the program was assured by the number who attended the dinner—hosted by the De Leon Commercial Club—and by the fact that there were representatives from every part of the watershed area.

The Sabanno watershed is a big area, embracing 190,000 acres and most of the southern part of Eastland county as well as portions of Comanche. It lies between the Rush Creek sector—in which Rising Star is certainly interested and of which our community is actually a physical part—and the Green Creek project just east of Dublin, and if approved it would provide for uniform flood control on most of the upper reaches of the De Leon River, a fact which, as one speaker pointed

Cats Lose to Early; Meet May Friday Night

The Early Longhorns defeated the Rising Star Wildcats in a non-conference game at Rising Star stadium last Friday night by a score of 26 to 0. The Longhorns jumped into a 14-0 lead in the first quarter with a sustained drive from the kick-off and a 35-yard run after recovery of a Wildcat fumble.

The second and third quarters were scoreless with the Wildcats making their nearest bid for a score early in the second half. After an exchange of punts the Longhorns were pushed back to their ten by an aroused Wildcat defense with Kenneth Nunnally, Butch Butler, Charles Carroll, Dwayne Rucker and Covie Weaver doing the heavy duty in the forward wall. Early punted from their end zone to the Rising Star 40 and the Wildcats took over in a drive that carried to the Longhorn ten yard line with Jones going around end to the 15 and Coy Edmiston driving to the ten.

The Longhorns put up a tight aerial defense, with its heavy line putting pressure on Jones, the Rising Star passer, leaving the secondary free to deploy against the receivers and the Wildcats lost five yards in their series of scoring tries.

The third quarter was a nip and tuck affair. Early in the 4th period the Longhorns drove from their 35 to the Rising Star 10 but again the Wildcat defense rose up strongly to push the visitors back and stop the drive with a fumble recovery on the Rising Star 25.

The Cats were unable to gain and Jones recovered a fumbled punt passback and attempted to run for a first down, missing it by only a yard.

Early scored on a 23 yard run in a delayed buck up center. Jones was injured and left the game shortly afterward. The Longhorns started another drive which carried to the Rising Star 15 where Nunnally, Rucker and Morrow broke up three passing attempts. A fourth pass attempt was successful for 20 yards and the final Early score on the last play of the game.

Early made only one successful conversion after touchdown.

Harvest of Peanuts Gets Under Way

Harvesting of the 1960 peanut crop in the Rising Star area was getting well under way this week and was expected to be in full swing by the week end.

Recent rains delayed the harvest for several days but placed the ground in good condition for plowing up the vines.

Effect of the moisture on the crop was debatable, although many farmers said that the benefits from heavier nuts would offset damage from sprouting.

Many growers were leaving their crop in the ground for some time yet in order to take full advantage of what they said was a tendency of the nuts to fill out more.

Feed crops, pastures and new-sown grain were materially benefitted by the rains.

Among the first of the growers to harvest their peanuts was Charles Ballew who had 50 acres in the crop. Mr. Ballew's yield was slightly better than 40 bushels per acre with a grade of 66.

Young Farmers to Host Meeting on Peanut Research

The Rising Star Young Farmers Club will be host to peanut growers of this area at the club's meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 8 p.m. at the high school agriculture building, it was announced.

A delegation from the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association at Gorman, headed by Ross Wilson, manager, will be here along with other visitors, including County Agent J. M. Cooper, for an explanation of the research program which is being undertaken into the causes and cures of peanut diseases, including Southern Blight. The peanut meeting here was originally set for September 24 but ran into the homecoming program of the Rising Star high school and the Young Farmers Club offered its program Tuesday night for the purpose.

All who are interested in the peanut crop of this section are invited.

Following the program, there will be a brief business meeting of the club.

This equipment, which was being moved into the building Tuesday and Wednesday, includes one large X-ray machine, one portable X-ray, complete laboratory equipment, two diathermy machines, two oxygen tents, two suction pumps and one electrocardiograph machine.

The equipment was purchased from the Ranger West Texas Clinic and Hospital at Ranger.

Yet to be purchased is the kitchen equipment required to furnish the hospital for serving meals. A program of repairs and redecoration will also be undertaken, to bring the hospital into complete conformity with the state licensing requirements. This will be done over a period of time allowed by the licensing board for completion.

Meanwhile Dr. Allen Dean Schmitt, Ranger physician and surgeon with whom the board signed a contract for operation of the hospital, has begun moving his office into the building and expects to open for practice on or before the tenth of this month.

Response to the announcement of the re-opening of the hospital has been very favorable, said the board. The board said it expects to have the institution opened to bed patients within a very short time.

Harding Bros. Complete Triple Pay in Stephens

Stephens County's new Harding Brothers field 17 miles northwest of Breckenridge had its third pay added Friday with gauging of what is thought to be the first triple oil completion for that West Central Texas county.

Harding Brothers, Dallas, finished No. 1 State, 662-TE&L, third producer for the field, in the Mississippian, upper Caddo and lower Caddo, latter zone being the new pay. The well rated 240 barrels per day through 8-64 inch choke from the lower Caddo at 3,825-33 with gas, oil ratio 610 to 1. Upper Caddo gauge was 90 barrels daily plus 20 per cent water through 12-64 inch choke from 3,536-48 with gas, oil ratio 480 to 1 while the Mississippian rated 353 barrels daily through 10-64 inch choke from 4274-90 with gas, oil ratio 955 to 1.

Location is on a farmout from Eldorado Oil & Gas Company. Harding Brothers finished the pool opener June first and added the second producer in mid-July. Both were dual oilers. Nortex Oil & Gas Company and James O. Jones, both of Dallas, currently are drilling two more holes in the area.

Harding Brothers have operated extensively in the Rising Star and Cross Plains area. Their most recent completion was on the Everett Parker one and a half miles southeast of Rising Star.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

"Have you got that spirit?—Yeah Man!" So goes a yell our cheerleaders use frequently at pep rallies and ball games—one, which taken lightly, has pep and rhythm; but, if seriously considered, has depth and meaning. This meaning is found not only in a ball game but in every phase in life—school, home, and business. Spirit is the very essence of school. Without the elements that compose spirit in our school, we would find ourselves in a very dull atmosphere. Can you imagine a classroom with uninterested, incompetent students? There would be little learned in a classroom without interest or zeal. Interest and enthusiasm work in a chain reaction—quickly spreading through a classroom or entire school. Having courage to face the future and enthusiasm to back your courage helps to build the personality of a successful person.

In Rising Star High School spirit seems to originate in our sports activities. The pep rallies we attend weekly not only entertain but serve as a kind of thermometer to measure the students' interest and spirit. When the spirit is high and everyone is happy, we come away from the pep rally stimulated and inspired to do our very best at all times. This year has started off with a very high spirit in Rising Star High School. Everyone seems to be putting into and getting more out of school this year. The spirit and enthusiasm of the student body is matched by the teachers. And equally shared, too, is the pride our students and teachers take in our school. Rising Star High School is what we make it. Why not let it be something we can always be as proud of as we are now?

SENIOR JIVE

Hi there! If my news seems weary it's because everyone is weary of six weeks tests and glad to be through with them for this first period.

Next week we go to the Dallas Fair and we FHA members are looking forward to it with much excitement and enthusiasm. Everyone who has gone to the Fair before knows that it offers different fantasies each year.

We had basketball practice Monday night and are trying to get into shape for our first game of the year on October 17.

This Saturday night the Wildcats tangled with the Tigers from May. This game is to take place at May Stadium; also this will be their Homecoming Game. Let's go, Cats!

Last, but not least, we have our gossip column to which everyone looks forward—with clubs! Ha!

Billy—That rodeo ground surely is a good place to a-a talk! From what I could see and hear you and several others weren't talking! Ha!

Jetta—Better do something for that cold of yours—that cough you developed last Thursday night was enough to make me believe that you had the whooping cough!!

Jerry—I'm glad you've finally decided to take my advice and devote a portion of your time to C. M. Don't delay it! I saw you—and guess where?

Crawley—Will you never learn that it's not lady-like to pass notes in English IV? Maybe you and Rucker have something cooking?

Charlie—From the looks of that black eye you carried around last week you can't afford to say that Snail's bark is worse than her bite can you? Better watch that Snail!

Johnnie—You'd better be careful in English IV or you'll find yourself on the front seat. Experience is the best judge—just ask Tucker!

Rex—"Come and trip 'me' as I go"—you kind of got your words mixed up, didn't you? Poetry, you know! Ha!

Shelia—Don't you know you are supposed to go to church on Sunday night—and just think I saw you at the drive-in on Sunday night! Tut! Tut!

That is all for now, but be sure and join us next week for the next episode of Senior Jive. Finney

SOPH CHATTER

Hi there. This week is terrible with six weeks tests every day. These are the first this year and we'll have to learn how to study.

If you see a bunch of Freshmen looking pale or with their clothes on backwards, don't worry because it's just initiation.

To fill you in on some of our activities of this week, here's a kind of a schedule.

Monday—Everybody's draggy after a week end; review for English test.

Tuesday—English test; not so easy. Oh, Mary Alford, is the weather this icy?

Wednesday—Correct papers; no more studying in the library, kids.

Thursday—Freshmen initiation. Joy, look out for the tree!

Friday—Pep rally—news day.

Bve now, Katy

FISH DIARY

Monday—It rained nearly all day. Joe, what do you find so interesting in the eighth grade? Could it be a girl with the initials C. C.?

Tuesday—Six Weeks' Tests in English and World History; some of us didn't do so well on those tests. Roger, are you waiting for the "spirit" to move you? Lovie, what kind of cigass were they?

Wednesday—Carolyn, don't you know that you aren't supposed to listen in on other people's conversations? We got our instructions for initiation tomorrow. Everyone is thinking of how she is going to wear her vegetables.

Thursday—Initiation day for the girls in Homemaking I. If any of you saw some Fish running around with little pigtales all over their heads and a carrot or something hanging around their necks, it was because of initiation. The girls have honestly had a wonderful, wonderful time. Many of us were sentenced to some crazy things, but I know two girls who are very glad of what they have to do. The boys even got into the swing of initiation by having an "F" put on the forehead with lipstick.

Friday—By the time you read this, you will know the outcome of the football game. I only hope we win.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN "WE'RE EARLY"

Really folks, the news this week may be a little old, but since I just write every other week, I will bring you up to date.

As you might know, the band went to Abilene for the West Texas Fair. A couple of weeks before we left, we got a notice that the parade would be at 10 a.m. as always. So we left about to get there in plenty of time. We did too! When we got there, we found that the parade was not until 3 p.m. Being kids that we are, we made the most of it and had a blast!

The band is beginning to really perk up, nearly everyone has started to catch on. HURRAH! And, of course, this being six weeks tests, everyone is carrying books around with him.

I am not going to go into detail on how I have been burning my midnight oil because—well, you see we got electricity a while back, but I sure have been burning my little bulb. That reminds me; I have to close and start studying. Until next week—wishing me luck—J. M.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Life at RSHS seemed rather dull last week, but everything is booming now as we are having six weeks tests. We think we won't make it, but, all of a sudden, we see the light and everything comes out in the wash; then we begin another six weeks with new determination to study harder and do better work.

Speaking for myself, as well as for most of the other Juniors, everyone who missed Worley's party after the Cross Plains game missed fun.

All the Junior girls want to say that we hope the Freshmen are enjoying their punishment that we sentenced them to last Thursday night. A word to our boys—not to let those Freshmen boys get by without scaring them at least.

Cox—you better run; Delilah is on her way!

Bennie, how are those mid-gets?

Carol H., why can't you find anything?

J. B., how do you like your new location in English class? Butler, you better be careful with some of those Cross Plains boys.

With him were Prin. Ray Nunnally of the high school, Mrs. C. A. Claborn, Mrs. Dorothy Shook and Miss Jay Childress.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Since its beginning on March 1, 1960, 13 Texas cities have passed ordinances under Section 12 of the Texas Meat Inspection Law.

Section 12 pertains to the Municipal-State Cooperative Meat Inspection Program which is gaining popularity in Texas by cities and meat packers alike.

An inspection program must be developed by the municipality as required by the State Department of Health, "Regulations Governing Meat Inspection."

Since the beginning of the cooperative program, Division of Veterinary Public Health meat inspectors have surveyed 100 meat packing plants for approval upon request by the local health officer of the area.

Formal approval or disapproval of the individual plants are then made by the State Health Department.

The thirteen cities that have passed ordinances including the required provisions are: Amarillo, Lubbock, Pecos, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Whitewright, Fort Worth, Dallas, Mount Vernon, Palestine, Waco, Luling and Houston.

Included in the program are all types of meat production including beef, mutton, goat, pork, poultry, rabbit and game birds.

The effectiveness of the program is enhanced by the cooperation of the meat packing industry in Texas.

In addition to the 13 cities approved, 11 more are in the process of drafting the required ordinances.

The advantages of the Municipal-State Cooperative Meat Inspection Program, aside from assuring safe quality meat products, affords greater opportunity for intra-state shipment of meat products.

An approved plant may ship its products anywhere in Texas, however, meat processed by an unapproved plant may not be shipped into a city with the complying ordinance.

Careful Texas shoppers are assured of a safer quality of meat and meat products if they buy meat affixed with the "Texas State Approved" meat label. (A weekly feature from the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.)

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cannon on Sunday, October 2, were Mrs. Joe Johnson and Howell Johnson of Cisco and Mrs. Ola Boles of Nimrod.

1960 State Fair To Honor Senior Citizens Oct. 10

The 1960 State Fair of Texas will pay honor to senior citizens of the state on Monday, Oct. 10, in keeping with the Fair's celebration of its 75th anniversary year.

The day has been designated as Jubilee Day and Golden Age Day at the Diamond Jubilee Exposition.

Jubilee Day will especially honor those individuals who attended one of the first five fairs, 1886-1890.

"Jubilee Day has been designated as a special day to mark the State Fair's 75th anniversary year," said James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager. "We feel that it is appropriate on this day, which we are also designating as Golden Age Day, to pay tribute to our senior citizens in general, and in particular to honor those people who attended one of the great early-day fairs during the first five years of the State Fair's existence, 1886-1890."

There will be a program in the Hall of State Auditorium on the morning of Oct. 10 at which State Fair President and Dallas Mayor R. L. Thornton Sr. and several other prominent senior citizens will speak. Mayor Thornton recently celebrated his 80th birthday. The program will pay special tribute to the visitors to the first five state fairs.

On Golden Age Day, all persons 65 years of age or older will be guests of the Fair and will be admitted free to the fairgrounds.

A special entertainment program featuring a number of Golden Age groups will be presented that afternoon.

The Cotton Bowl will be the scene of a big free show that night, starring Nelson Eddy and Gale Sherwood. Eddy will be remembered as the handsome, blond singing star in numerous movies such as "Naughty Marietta," "New Moon," "Maytime" and "Sweethearts," and others in which he played opposite Jeannette MacDonald. The entertainment part of the program will be followed by fireworks.

The State Fair has requested that the names and addresses of persons who attended one of the first five Fairs 1886-1890 be sent to the Fair so that invitations for Jubilee Day can be extended.

THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!

on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR!
Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

NO WILL? WHO INHERITS PROPERTY?

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide—but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

March of Dimes Support Urged by Mother Who Lost Birth Defects Baby in 49 Days

(Editor's Note: Mary Strous, young Laurelvilla, Ohio, mother, tells in her own words the tragic story of what happens in a family when a child is born with a serious birth defect.)

By MARY STROUS

Our baby Laura was born on Mother's Day seven years ago. We lost Laura seven weeks later on Father's Day.

She gave a soft little sigh as she died in my arms. My husband and I buried her with the rattle to which she had clung tightly during her brief life.

But Laura, who died of the terrible birth defects known as open spine and too much fluid on the brain, still lives in the hearts of her father Don and myself. When asked by strangers, we always say we have three daughters (instead of really only two), and I want to explain why.

We feel that each of us, including our tiny Laura, is brought into the world to serve a purpose, even if our stay on earth is as tragically short as 49 days.

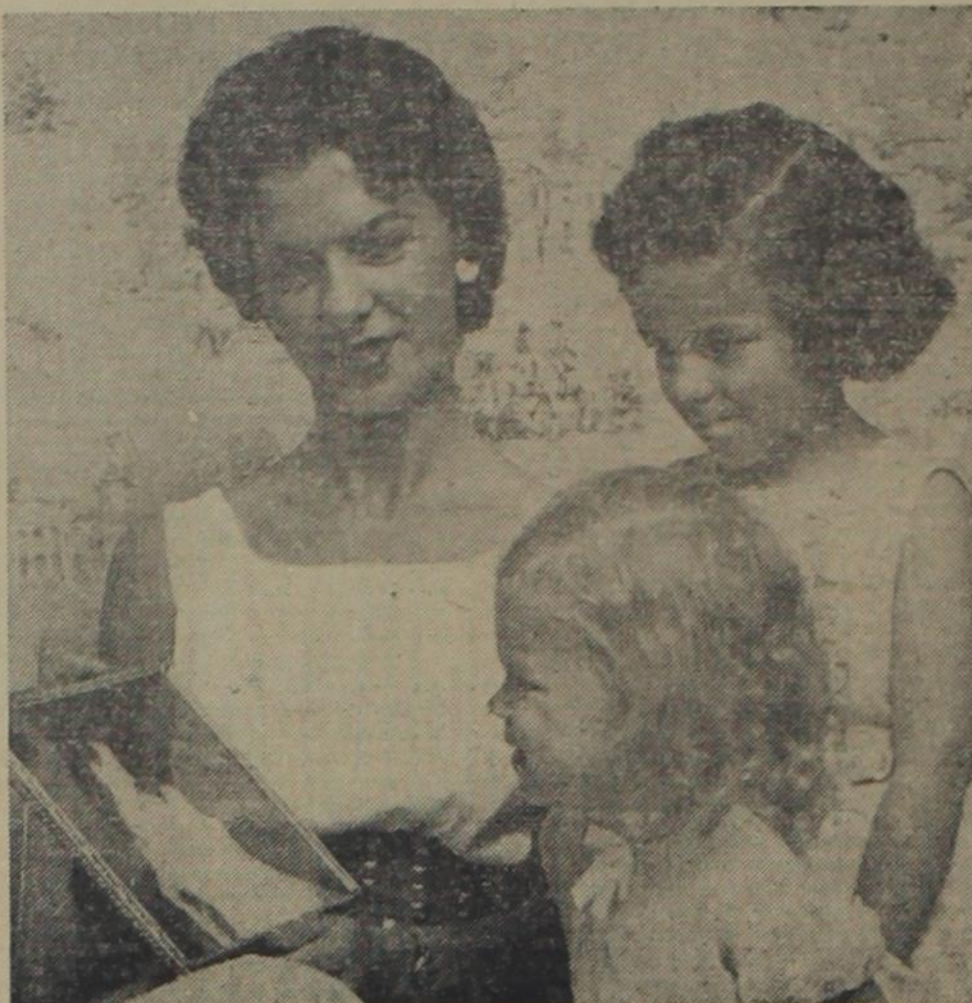

For years we were numbed by our baby's passing. But today we recognize that in being asked by The National Foundation to renew our memories of those despairing seven weeks, my husband and I are somehow fulfilling the purpose of Laura's fleeting visit with us.

That purpose is to repeat as forcefully as we can the lessons we have learned:

1. Scientists insist that parents should not be ashamed over the birth of an infant with a congenital malformation; instead, face the situation bravely and seek professional advice. Feelings of guilt aren't justified.

2. There is no medical evidence that birth defects are always hereditary; and

3. There is no evidence that because a couple have had one defective baby, they are likely to have another. Doctors at Columbus, Ohio, near our farm at Laurelvilla, said our chances of having another malformed baby were something like one in 40,000. (Donna Marguerite, five years old, and Julie Ann, two, who followed Laura after Don and I had reflected deeply and sought advice, could not be healthier or more normal.)

Mary Strous, of Ohio, and daughters Julie Ann, two, and Donna Marguerite, five, study photos of youngest child, Laura, who died of birth defects at seven weeks.

But by no means have Don and I forgotten our hopelessness and indeed our self-loathing during those 49 days and nights when we took turns holding Laura in our arms, or sat hour after hour beside her bassinet, watching life drain from her eyes.

We detested ourselves because of torments that something was wrong with us physically, or that a shameful defect had been inherited from our forebears (later proved untrue), and that we were thus responsible for this cruelty to an innocent baby.

Never will we forget the frantic drive, while our baby was dying, to our church so that she might be baptized before she left us. In some way our congregation had learned of the reason for our headlong visit, and the tears of those sorrowing folks flowed with ours.

Our Laura was one of 250,000 babies born each year in our country with significant birth defects; that tragic total is growing with our increasing population. Our baby was one of 34,000 who in addition die annually from these congenital malformations; and that awful figure is also mounting.

At last, something constructive is being done about birth defects. With March of Dimes contributions, The National Foundation is directing a broad study of this devastating puzzle, just as it fought polio and in time found the Salk vaccine to prevent it.

With a donation in January from each of us, in time there will be many fewer Lauras in our land.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

The Internal Revenue Service has 58 fine young Texans going to several tax schools in Dallas. Internal Revenue recruits outstanding young men and women each year, mostly from the graduating college classes in North Texas, to enforce our tax laws. They carefully train new employees to not only understand the complexities of the tax law but how to deal fairly and justly with taxpayers. The tax training program has the theme that it is more important to administer the tax laws fairly and justly than it is to carry out the letter of the law. When these young tax men and women assume their duties of auditing tax returns, collecting tax payments, they will be able to deal with the many tough problems. We can all be thankful that these young tax people will be trained to be fair and just in working with taxpayers. It certainly helps when the people charged with law enforcement try to be human.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Joyce of Fort Worth, were recent visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Swift visited her brother, Earl Hill and his son, Aubrey Hill and wife at Junction, on their ranch.

Descendants of Hardy Parker Meet

Descendants of Hardy Parker gathered Sunday, Sept. 25, in the live oak groves of the Cross Plains park, bringing picnic baskets. Hardy Parker was a successful pioneer of both East and West Texas, having come from Jones County, Miss., before the Civil War with his bride, Melve Emily Devall, to the timbered areas of Texas near Lufkin. It was from this area that he served with the armies of the Confederacy. Here also all of the immediate family were born. In 1875 another quest of new ground drove Hardy Parker west, this time to near Gorman, Texas. One daughter who had married into the Bonner family remained in Lufkin. One additional move became the last, Rising Star, where success covered ventures in orchards, field crops, cattle and stock holdings.

Oldest members present were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McCord, youngest daughter and only surviving child. Youngest member present was Ann Parker, a great grandchild. A number of great grandchildren were present. The family at this time is concentrated in Lufkin, Gorman, Hico, Archer City, Cross Plains, and Rising Star. But various members serving in various capacities are scattered over the continental United States and Canada.

RICHARD M. NIXON, candidate for President, is a Californian, but he thinks the Texas way. Richard Nixon stands for:

- A strong national economy and defense so that America will not have to apologize to Khrushchev for anything;
- A sensible farm program that will attack and solve the present problems.
- Texas retaining its tidelands, and a tax policy favorable to Texas.
- Local control of our schools.

If you will read and compare Nixon's platform to that of his opponent, you will agree that a vote for Nixon is a vote for the best interests of Texas.

Proper Use of Fertilizer Will Help Farmer to Realize More, Says Expert

Today the question about fertilizer is not, "Will it pay?", but "How can I make it pay more?" Answers to a few other questions will help answer the basic one. How can I make fertilizer pay?

"What is in a sack of fertilizer that counts?" The average bag of fertilizer contains from one to three elements of plant food. A complete fertilizer contains nitrogen, phosphorous and potash. Other fertilizers may contain only one or two plant foods. The amounts of these nutrients are designated by large numerals on the sack. For example, the numerals 12-24-12 would designate 12 percent nitrogen, 24 percent phosphoric acid and 12 percent potash. The numbers 15-15-0 would indicate that a 100 pound sack contained 15 pounds of nitrogen, 15 pounds of phosphoric acid and no potash.

"As a farmer or rancher, how can I know which fertilizers are best for my crops?" A soil analysis will furnish the best information about fertilizer needs for specific soils. Also, the local Soil Conservation Service technician or the county agent can make recommendations for specific soil types. These technicians base their suggestions on research and local experience. The information furnished by them is tied to specific soil types through the use of soil surveys. Soil surveys are provided by the local Soil Conservation Service through the Soil Conservation District.

"Where in the ground should I place fertilizer so that my crops can use it most efficiently?" Ideal placement on fertilizer is two or three inches to the side and two or three inches below the seed. This permits feeder roots to get to the plant food rapidly. It enables tap rooted plants to develop the tap root without damage from the fertilizer. Placement three or four inches below the seed is satisfactory if the fertilizer is applied a few weeks prior to planting. Fertilizers can be broadcast and plowed into the soil but placement is better. This is an effective method for drilled crops. Row crops will use broadcast fertilizer, but more slowly than if it is placed close to the seed.

Nitrogen and potash fertilizers are readily soluble in water. They can be used for topdressing crops such as small grain and perennial grasses. Phosphate fertilizer becomes soluble slowly. For this reason it should be put into the soil. Also, phosphate fertilizer will become unavailable to plants in a calcareous soil. When used in calcareous soils, it should be placed in concentrated bands so that it will come into contact with less soil. A soil survey would indicate if soils are calcareous or not.

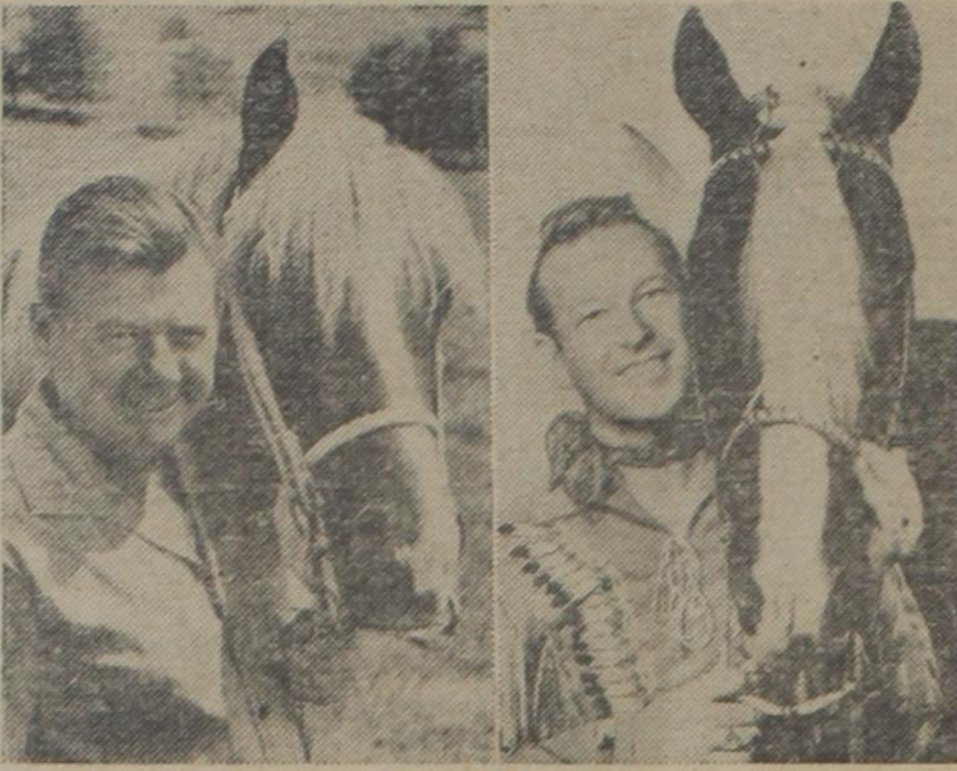

"When and how often should I fertilize?" On deep sands, fertilizer should be applied in small amounts two or three times a year. If all of the fertilizer is applied at planting time, some of it may be leached from the soil and lost. Annual applications are adequate on loamy soils and clay soils. Even on loams and clays it may be desirable to split the application. A small amount of nitrogen and all of the phosphorous could be applied at planting time. Then nitrogen could be topdressed or sidedressed later, if moisture conditions were good.

"Even if I do everything right," one may ask, "how can I be sure fertilizing is making me a profit?" An unfertilized area in each field should be left as a check. Also, double applications on a small area should be made in each field to determine effects of heavier application. Then the differences in yield can be measured. Many times a five hundred pound difference in grain sorghum yields, for example, cannot be detected unless the grain is weighed.

To determine merits of fertilizers, apply. Leave check areas. Check the difference in yield. Do a good job of farming the crop. Chances for success are good if every operation is done well.

"I GIVE YOU TEXAS"

By Boyce House

This is the mystery of the disappearing body.

When I began newspaper work, I was assigned to the police run. This was in Memphis many years ago.

The most remarkable member of the police department and one of the grandest men I ever knew was Capt. Mike Kehoe. A big, ruddy-complexioned man he was, with graying hair, kindly and considerate but firm as iron when a serious situation arose, and absolutely void of fear.

One night, a patrolman called in to report that he had seen a man going down an alley, with a sack on his back. At the officer's call to halt, the man began to run and the officer fired low. But the bullet must have ricocheted from the cobblestones for the man fell and when the policeman reached him, he was dead.

As the story was being related, we were walking up the alley and, still looking up, the officer stopped, pointed down and said, "There's the body."

Our gaze followed the direction indicated by his finger—and there was no body there.

The policeman exclaimed, "It was here, I tell you!" Captain Kehoe looked at me and I looked at him, then we both looked at the patrolman who, we now strongly suspected, had been drinking and had imagined the occurrence.

Suddenly, I had a hunch and said, "Follow me," with the brashness of a cub reporter. They did. We walked around to the street and, guessing which was the building that was in line with the spot where the body was supposed to have been, I stopped. The front was in darkness. I pointed to the sign, "Undertaking parlor."

I pounded on the door and a light appeared, then the door opened.

"We're from headquarters and want to see that body that you took from the alley," I said. "Certainly, come in," was the reply.

The patrolman mopped his brow in relief. "Elementary, my dear Watson."

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Looney of Taylor, Texas, visited his mother, Mrs. W. M. Looney, during the week end. Other guests of Mrs. Looney were Mrs. Dora Valliant and her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Poke Valliant, all of Eastland.

Scouters at Eastland Training Courses for

Who owns the electric company?

INVESTORS

own the electric companies. Investors are people who have saved some money and want to invest in some private business. They believe in a free-enterprise type of economy.

We are owned by these INVESTORS. That makes us an independent business—not owned by any city, county or state government, nor by a co-op or any Federal Government agency.

We work at being an INVESTOR OWNED independent business. We hope you understand our position.

Here's a real bargain in electricity!

The average family, served by WTU, can cook a complete meal the flameless electric way for less than 3¢ a meal—and enjoy all the cool, clean, automatic features of an electric range.

Give them a Faith to live by

Worship with them this week

Contributed to the Religion in American Life Program by Naturally you want them to have all the good things in life . . . a happy home . . . a good education . . . plenty of chances to meet other nice young people. But be sure to give them the most precious gift of all . . . Faith.

The wonderful part is that faith is yours to give . . . no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much money you have in the bank.

Faith is the gift you give a little at a time. Every week you worship with the children at your church or synagogue. The youngsters see you . . . the biggest, smartest, most important people in their world . . . asking God for help, thanking Him for blessings. Then it's clear to them . . . here they can always find the strength they need, always find the happiness they want.

Then you've done the best a parent—any parent—can do.

Better Keep This in Mind—

... if you buy real estate without an abstract the chances are good that you will be required to furnish one when you go to sell or borrow money. It is customary for seller to furnish buyer with an abstract as he usually adds cost of same and other necessary expenses to the sale's price. So for many reasons all in your favor get an abstract and have it examined by your attorney when you buy real estate.
