Kyle Williams Attends Science Symposium

Teacher Frank Gray, student Kyle Williams of Rising Star High School and Bill Tedder of WTU.

Twenty outstanding students and teachers from the area served by West Texas Utilities Company attended the 19th Annual Energy Science Symposium at the University of Texas at Austin. The Conference got underway Tuesday, June 5th and ended Friday, June 8th.

The Symposium was jointly sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation and the University of Texas. West Texas utilities is one of the sponsoring companies.

The 500 selected high school science students and teachers who attended the session were offered the rare opportunity of hearing lectures by some of the nation's outstanding scientists.

The Foundation was formed for the primary purpose of conducting the world's first and largest privately financed research effort in the field of nuclear energy. Currently, the Foundation and the University are sponsoring a program in nuclear fusion research aimed at controlling thermonuclear reactions for the production of electric power.

The high school students, in addition to attending classes taught by member of the Ut drama faculty, will find on their daily agenda rehearsals and crew work for three plays to be presented at the end of the workshop.

The play include "Ah, Wilderness!" by O'Neill, Eugene "Appointment With Death" by Agatha Christie and a third play, to be announced.

The workshop productions will be staged at 7:30 p.m. on July 6 and 2 p.m. on July 7th in either the B. Payne Theater or the Laboratory Theater.

In addition to the 3 plays the youngsters themselves will put on, about 10 members of the workshop will be cast in the Drama Departments summer production of the musical "The Robber Bridegroom". The musical will be given onJune 29-30 and July 1, 5-8 in the Drama Building Theater Room.

Mr. Murray notes that even though abour 50 per cent of the students who come to the summer workshops return to UT as drama majors, "that's not our major motivation."

He says the intent of the program is extensive teaching, "to give something of the University's resources to the community, and, in this instance, that means increased interest and skills in theater that students and teachers can take home."

Students ticipating in the UT workshop will live in campus dormitories and have special counselors.

June 14 we served seventeen adults and one child at regular Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

DeLana Vandivere gave a demonstration and brought patterns for making flowers from yarn. She was a very good teacher. Each one of us had to complete our flower. We enjoyed DeLana and thank her so much. We especially appreciate one so young sharing time and knowledge with us.

Rising Star To Get Ambulance

The Citizens of Ris-Star will remember the ambulance mishap not too long ago. We now have the opportunity to operate our own ambulance again. The City Council is planning to purchase another amoulance which will be equipped with the old ambulance equipment.

Citizens, we are going to have to work together if this project is to succeed. The ambulance personel will be on a strictly volunteer basis. In order to organize an efficient and worthy staff, a coordinator, secretary-bookkeeper and supply manager will be appointed. The more volunteers we have on call, will lessen the demand of service on everyone.

For The Men Who Succeed

...and for those who will someday suceed them, our suggestions is that they invest part of their earnings in real estate. Wise investments in real properties have yielded fortunes to many people. And those who suceed in this venture never gamble on the title. They buy only quality abstracts or title insurance made or written by those who have themselves invested wisely - in their plant - in their personnel - and in their responsibility to the public.

I once heard a story of a man who moved west searching for silver. He built a small shack and lived many vears on a shoestring, constantly looking for silver. After many years of unsuccessful searching, he died. To everyone's surprise, as men were digging his grave, they discovered a huge vein of silver for which he had looked, and it ran right beneath his shack. What an appropiate application that has for many of us who believe in Jesus Christ. We know that we need the riches that he offers freely to us, but we fail to see that he has already given us all things that pertain unto life and godliness. Or broken down still further, many church members run here and there searching for a church that will bring them ready-made activities. people are not goin g to be reached for Christ if all Christians are running around like chickens with their heads cut off, trying to make things easier for themselves. This world sorely needs a body of believers who are living Godly, humble lives, whose Lord is leading them to do his work right where they are. We invite you to hear our guest speaker, Mr. E.J. Hughes of Brownwood, at our morning service. Mr. Hughes is the District Lay Leader for our district. You will be blessed as he breaks the bread of life. There will be no evening service. May you realize and respond to God's love today, is my prayer. Bill Easley, Pastor

COMMENTARY By Myrtle Owen

Read Paul's writings, you will notice there are no loopholes in his writings. Everything he said, he proved it concretely, solidly and scripturally. He never said anything carelessly; he said it with a reason. So when he said, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ," he made a tremendous declaration, but it was the result, or rather it simply was a logical conclusion. He had no reason to be ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Before Paul met Jesus, he was proud haughty, high minded, hard-headed man on his way to put everyone in jail because they testified, because they sang, "Such love, such wondrous love," and He displeasere. But on his way to Damascus, he met the Lord, and I can just imagine the Lord saying, "Just when he gets about one-half block farther on I am going to get a good square shot at him, and I'm going to knock him off that horse like he's never been knocked off anything before." And when he got right square in front of the cannon's mouth the thing exploded, the lights went on, and Paul fell to the ground; and from that moment on something happened to him. BEFORE he had been breathing out slaughter against the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ; AFTER that experience he said, "For me to live IS Christ." And after that experience on the road to Damascus he said, "I am the chiefest of sinners. I am the least of the apostles." Myrtle Owen

THE FORT GRIF-FIN FANDANGLE is not only alive and well,

Fort Griffin Fandangle

FLOURISHING!!! The 41st edition of this extravaganza will be presented on the nights of June 21, 22, 23, and 28, 29, and 30th at the PRAIRIE THEATRE in Albany, Tex. Barbecue, prepared by the Texas Trails Chuck Wagon of Albany, will be served on the Courthouse Square beginning at 5:30 P.M. each evening at the theatre.

A special dress rehearsal will be performed for all members of the PRESS on Wednesday, June 20, at 8:00 P.M. This PRESS performance will be in full costume with all rolling stock. We urge and greatly appreciate your attendance at this special presentation.

The FORT GRIFFIN FANDANGLE is the oldest outdoor musical drama in the state of Texas, with its beginning coming in 1938. The highly entertaining portrayal of life in the 1870's and '80's around the birth and demise of the western outpost of Fort Griffin, Texas, offers history—"not as it comes from the history books, but as it comes from the heads of old timers." Onlookers are taken back in time to the Indian folklore, the first settlers, the saloon c haracters, traildrivers, and the so-called "average people" of that day. From the infamous Doc Holliday and Wyatt Earp to the innocent young just reaching the "age of consent," the musical transposes the acre size stage into a mini time capsule that has captivated thousands from all parts of the country for 40 years.

The FANDANGLE,

1979 style, follows the

rocky path of a young lass from her introduction to the perils of the perils of the prairie through her teen years and adulthood....From the onstage barnraising and the subsequent Indian raid and barn burning, the child learns to see the world in its stark reality. Learning not to be afraid was the biggest challenge of the children of that era and it is to those children that the show is dedicated. We sincerely hope you are able to come to our dress rehearsal. Wednesday, June 20, and we are looking forward to seeing you at the FANDANGLE!! We have plenty of tickets available for most nights, and we have PRESS tickets available for you upon request.

Congressional Comments by Charles W. Stenholm

Washington, D.C. - A considerable amount of attention is being given these days to the growing dissatisfaction many citizens are having over high taxes and excessive government spending. People in Washington are finally beginning to reassess the will of the American people. Are the people most concerned about high taxes, excessive government spending, or waste? I believe they are telling us that they are not getting their money's worth for the taxes they pay. When workers get their paychacks every month and see the large income and Social Security tax withheld, they are wondering where and why it all goes -Good question.

One of the areas of greatest concern to the taxpayer is our growing social services programs. Next year the government will spend over $300 billion on these projects. Much of this money goes for worthwhile services such as health care for those truly in need, income maintenance for the disabled, and services for the needy elderly. But a considerable portion of this money goes for programs that do not in any way increase the assets of America or provide gainful employment for those out of work. Often money is given to people who can and are supporting themselves. And one of the most costly side effects is the almost complete destruction of the work incentive for some of the poor on welfare. Why should anyone work if his or her income is already provided for? Government handouts too often stifle a worker's motivation to produce

Last week the Agriculture Committee proposed to lift the spending cap on the Food Stamp Program and thus increase costs by over $1 billion. In 1964 when the Food Stamp Act was adopted there appeared little question that the intent was to assist the legitimately needy of America in meeting their nutritional needs, particularly the children. This goal has grown out of proportion and the working taxpayer is now being asked to support too many people who are either voluntarily unemployed or who can and should be supporting themselves. In 1967 there were 1.5 million recipients, but 18.5 million people are currently enrolled in the program. The food stamp program is now out of control with one out of every four persons eligible for assistance and it is growing by leaps and bounds. The answer is not to spend more money, but to reform the system. We need to eliminate food stamps for strikers and college students. The eligible income levels should be lowered to make sure food stamps go only to those who are truly in need.

Certainly I realize that the government has to provide for those people who are physically unable to care for themselves - we are our brother's keeper. But the state has no obligation to support those individuals who can work, but don't. It is time to put people back to productive labor earning a living and not permit the government to rob a person of his dignity by giving him a handout. Only then will we control inflation and help all of the people.
