

Meteorological happenings on Monday, surprising as they were, proved one point at least - the rain making process is still functioning. The moisture that fell, though inadequate, was most welcome, and it is hoped that this, like the robin, is a harbinger of something better, like a three or four inch soaker.

The annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet has tentatively been set for February 24, pending confirmation of the invited speaker. Details will be made available at a later date.

More information on this event will be forthcoming.

"Sound Economic Growth" Reflected In Local Bank Report

BY BEN A BUTLER

Reflecting a sound economic growth for the Rising Star area - inflation's deceptive influence notwithstanding - the First State Bank here in its December 31st statement of condition reported assets that were three-quarters of a million dollars above those reported a year ago.

Most of the increase - $733,177.58, as a matter of fact - represented a growth in customer deposits, including both demand and time and savings accounts. This, in turn, was due largely to an increase in farm and ranch income, the most of it peanut harvest money of which a record $3 million was handled through the bank during the season. At peak last fall the bank's deposits, under this influence, were well above the $10 million mark, but payment of loans, machinery mortgages and other deferred costs of crop-making reduced this figure until by December 31, 1975, they had settled to an amount reported as $9,022,571.99. This compares with deposits of $8,289,394.41 reported twelve months ago.

The climb took place despite the fact that 1975 was not a particularly good peanut season, President James Rutherford pointed out. A summer drought reduced crop volume but extremely good grades and an increase in prices made the harvest just completed a much better one dollar - wise than the excellent

There will be no charge for admission, and the general public has been cordially invited to attend the concert. Seating will be on a first come, first serve basis, Mr. Fry said.

Wednesday Services For Ross Hammett

Wheeler Ross Hammett, 87, a retired Rising Star farmer, died at 4:20 a.m. Tuesday in Eastland Manor Nursing Home after a brief illness.

Services were at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Higginbotham Funeral Home Chapel.

Audie Moore, Church of Christ minister, officiated. Burial was in Rising Star Cemetery.

Born Dec. 31, 1888, in Okra, he married Mary F. Gaddis in 1907 in Rising Star. He was a farmer all of his life.

Survivors include his wife; and a brother, Claude of Borger.

A daughter, a brother and five sisters preceded him in death.

Cagers Win First District Game

KEN HOUNSEL

The Rising Star Wildcat boys won their first District 24B game as they beat Carbon last Thursday, 66 - 53. Mackey Elliott hit 18 of his 26 points in the first half as the Cats lead 42 - 24 at the half. Robert Underwood hit 21 points in the victory cause also.

In the girls game, Pam Hill hit 43 points in leading the girls to a 62 - 57 win. Hill is averaging 32 points per district contest. Laurie Hill added 14 points and Jeanne Housel 15. The girls now stand at 2 - 1 in District. If the girls win the rest of their district games, which they can, and Moran loses to Carbon or Gorman, the Cats will win the District. If Moran doesn't lose and the Cats win the rest, a playoff will decide the district representatives to the playoffs.

yield of 1973 and far better than the return from the spotty harvest of 1974, so much of which was left in the fields to untimely rains.

But for the depressed condition of the livestock market the bank resources would undoubtedly have increased more than quoted. Livestock is the area's basic economic resource. The gradual improvement now taking place in prices for cattle and other livestock is one reason for an optimistic forecast of agricultural prosperity here in 1976, Rutherford said.

However, the farms and ranches of the area are not the only contributors to the good economic picture offered by the bank's year-end figures. A great increase in drilling for oil and gas, spurred by high energy prices, has virtually wiped out unemployment in the Rising Star country and brought in many thousands of continuing dollars, mostly in wages, the banker said. This is having a significant effect upon the bank's assets, and all signs indicate it will do so indefinitely.

These assets, as recited in the December 31 statement just issued, totalled $9,952,238.95. A year ago the corresponding figure was $9,203,203.76, a difference of only slightly less than $750,000.00.

Loans of $5,011,089.49, representing that part of the bank assets actually at work in stimulating local economic activity, were about the same as the total of a year ago, and roughly 53 percent of deposits. This is considered a healthful ratio, Rutherford explained. Earlier in the year and largely due to the disappointing peanut crop yields of a year ago, the ratio was nearer 75 percent. The subsequent liquidation of much of this percentage is another gratifying indicator of the economic well-being of the community.

Another fact of interest reflected from the statement of condition is that approximately one-half of the more than $9 million in deposits is money saved by the depositors. Demand, or checking account deposits, were reported as $4,362,510.29, while time and savings accounts and certificates of deposit accrued to $4,660,061.70 distributed in ownership among approximately 500 customers in amounts ranging from $100,000 to $500, a not inconsequential item of community financial stability.

The bank management views the year ahead with an outlook clouded only by a present lack of rainfall. Small grains and spring grasses are suffering for moisture and substantial rains are needed to provide a good bottom season for next fall's peanut crop, said Rutherford.

But the history of the area, weatherwise, suggests that there is still time for hope.

Farmers Losing Control Of Ag Policy

COLLEGE STATION - Farmers are finding it increasingly difficult to be heard in Washington.

"Producer interests in agricultural policy are taking a secondary position to interests of foreign policy, consumerism and labor. Secretary Butz is no longer calling the shots on farm policy. Unless farmers are able to take charge, farm programs may actually be a noose around the producer's neck."

That's the contention of Dr. Ronald Knutson, economist in marketing and policy for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who spoke at an Extension Service Press Day banquet at Texas A&M University yesterday evening, January 13.

"Producers must consolidate if they are to regain a position of control over agricultural policy," emphasized the Texas A&M University System economist.

Knutson listed two critical policy questions on which producers must evaluate their position: (1) in whose interest is agricultural policy going to be made? (2) How much government involvement should there be?

The economist noted that the overriding concern of producers is the question of the conditions under which they will have access to international markets.

"Food has become an integral part of the policy of détente. As such, it may be used either as a carrot or a stick in diplomacy. The carrot policy involves freely exporting to make foreign governments more dependent on the United States as a source of supply. The theory behind this is that a foreign power will not bite the hand that feeds it."

"On the other hand, the stick policy makes access to U.S. grain dependent on support of U.S. policy by the recipient government. If food is used as a stick, the producer is in danger of being denied free market access from time to time."

While food diplomacy receives a lot of attention, organized labor and consumerism stand as even greater threats to producer access to foreign markets, argued Knutson. In both 1973 and 1975, the impact of exports on domestic food prices was the primary reason for export controls. This reflects the fact that President Ford listened to George Meany more than to producers or Secretary Butz. "Target prices, food reserves and the future of commodity programs stand as the major domestic farm policy issues," noted Knutson.

"Farmers feel that in return for full production there must be reasonable assurance that prices will not fall below production costs. They are opposed to reserves because they lower prices. Commodity programs such as those on rice and peanuts appear to be on the way out."

"For agricultural producers to get a fair shake in future farm policies, they must make their voices heard - as one strong body rather than as individual commodity groups. Farmers need a strong right hand in Washington or else they will have to continue catering to the whims of those who desire to use agriculture as a pawn," emphasized the economist.

Church News

Church of Christ

(We feel the following article, entitled: NO MORE HYPOCRITES, by John Gibson, to be worth sharing).

I dare you to show me a hypocrite. You can't do it. In just one generation we have witnessed the death of hypocrisy. It has been wiped out. And much of the credit goes to the young people. They have seen it in their parents, they have detected it in business and have scorned it in government. Their plea has been, "Tell it like it is" and hypocrisy has been slain in the streets.

But somehow I find it more natural to weep at the funeral than to rejoice. I know that hypocrisy is evil. Jesus was constantly denouncing it. In fact, some of the most scathing language of our Lord ever uttered was directed to the hypocrites of his day.

As a people we have revolted against hypocrisy. That's well and good. But in making the 180 degree turn, we have sped past righteousness into the ditch of open sin. Hypocrisy has been said to be the homage that vice pays to virtue. Where there is none, where vice has ceased to shroud or veil itself, a very advanced stage of wickedness has been reached.

Try as I may, I find no consolation in the death of hypocrisy in our society. Women confess their abortions and urge their friends to have one. Homosexuals openly parade their sins on television talk shows. Young people blatantly live in adultery. Profanity has stalked out of the locker room to invade every area of a bluish society.

Pornography is openly available to children. And we sit around and congratulate ourselves on not being hypocrites. Listen to the words of an ancient prophet of Israel: "They proclaim their sin like Sodom, they do not hide it. Woe to them! For they have brought evil upon themselves." (Isaiah 3:9).

It is hard not to long for the good old days - the days when you could find a hypocrite. (end of quote).

In the Scriptures, God tells us how to overcome both the effects and the practice of sin. Make it a habit to attend Bible classes and meetings where God's Word is respected and taught. Join us for Bible study on Sunday at 9:30, on Wednesday at 7 p.m. and in the assemblies on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Many have been sick with the flu and other respiratory ailments, but most are improving. Pate Goss is still in Brownwood Hospital - Room 524. Bill Lee was scheduled for surgery on Monday for back problems. Vina White's daughter - in-law (Paul's wife) is undergoing treatment in an Odessa hospital. Elmo Mauldin was in the Stephenville Hospital several days for observation. Inez Robertson continues to improve. Alice Harris is up and around some now. Buck Maples seems a little better, but still has a lot of pain. Clifford Hale has had several days of severe breathing difficulty lately. Mrs. Dell King's sister (Mrs. Ruth Bowen) was to undergo serious surgery in Fort Worth Monday.

A good group of young people from Rising Star and Abilene enjoyed an afternoon of activity and devotions last Sunday. Several of the young men conducted the evening Assembly, including the sermon. Jim Dickson and Robert Schulman - Bible majors from Abilene Christian College, will be working each week with our young people. All young people: from Grade Four up, are invited to come and participate in this.

May your week be a good one. Call us if we can serve you in any way, especially to talk with you about Gospel matters.

"Try it. You'll like it." So went the advertising slogan some time ago. A word of caution must be given as illustrated by the story Spurgeon used to tell.

"An American gentleman said to a friend, 'I wish you would come down to my garden, and taste my apples.' He asked him about a dozen times, but the friend did not come, and at last the fruit grower said, 'I suppose you think my apples are good for nothing, so you won't come and try them.' 'Well, to tell you the truth,' said his friend, 'I have tasted them. As I went along the road I picked one up that fell over the wall, and I never tasted anything so sour in all my life; I do not particularly wish to have any more of your fruit.' 'Oh,' said the owner of the garden, 'I thought it must be so. Those apples around the outside are for the special benefit of the boys. I went fifty miles to select the sourest sorts to plant all around the orchard, so the boys might give them up as not worth stealing; but if you will come inside, you will find that we grow very different quality there, sweet as honey.' Those who judge the church by its worst members (the hangers-on around the edge) - those most like the world, make the same mistake."

Are you making the same mistake? Come to the inside fellowship of God's people and "taste and see that the Lord is Good."

Why not be in church this Sunday!

Visiting last Sunday morning was Jonni Hubbard of Rising Star.

The pastor is speaking at the Sunday Morning hour on God's messages to the seven churches of Revelation. This coming Sunday, "THE Church at Pergamum."

Sunday evening service is at 7:00.

COLLEGE STATION -- Fryer chickens and grapefruit take the "bargain spotlight" in many grocery stores across Texas this week, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, reports.

Fryer features include whole birds - as well as parts, she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Of the grapefruit supply, she said its quality is "excellent", while its lower prices are due to the large crop.

Other economical fruit buys include oranges, tangerines, tangelos, and pears. Banana prices are a bit lower, but apple prices vary with variety and size of fruit.

At vegetable counters, sweet potato and broccoli prices are lower - with the same prediction for cabbage and carrots in upcoming weeks.

"Consumers shouldn't overlook rutabagas as a delicate - flavored vegetable dish, either - both supply and quality are excellent," Mrs. Clyatt added.

"Vegetables in the moderate - price range are Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, beets and eggplant."

In meat sections, beef prices are stable, and good values appear on chuck cuts, ground beef, some steaks for broiling, chunk bologna and liver.

"Pork prices show no significant change, but best values are Boston butt and quarter - loin cut into chops. Smoked cuts at lower prices include picnics and roll sausage."

In the egg department, prices vary - with a few instances of price decline.

In the egg department, prices vary - with a few instances of price decline. Generally, large - size eggs are the best value. CONSUMER WATCH WORDS: Dairy features this week include a variety of cheese, low - fat milk, sour cream and yogurt.

- ★ Don't open refrigerator door unnecessarily. Plan your trips to the refrigerator while cooking. Make sure the children maintain a closed-door policy.
- ★ Buy the size that fits your needs. An over-large refrigerator or freezer wastes space as well as electricity.
- ★ Clean external coils, fins and motor often and keep them free from dust.
- ★ Defrost your refrigerator and freezer before ice deposit exceeds 1/4 inch. Excess ice causes your refrigerator to work harder.

THOUGHTS IN PASSING

Whew! We had just struggled through a harrowing first half of our Senior year. Naturally we thought the second half would be smooth sailing. After all, isn't the first part the hardest? So we arrived at school January 6th. Mrs. B. blitzed us as soon as we sat down in English. The play is Friday, she announced. No arguments would sway her. This time she got her way. We had four days to get a three-act play together and by golly, we did it. Not too badly, either. Then we got into Civics. The trial is next Thursday, she announces. We were ready for that one. What we weren't prepared for was how securely almost twenty seniors had kept a secret for so long without even breathing a word to even another senior. We got that one over pretty well, too. Now we have them to look forward to, two volleyball tournaments, and lord knows what else. Oh, yes, I do know one other thing. Where to go for a senior trip. Maybe all we are struggling through right now will have prepared us for that conflict. Optimistically,

Mahal

ROVER REPORTS

Dear Ms. Editor: Madame, tis my distinct honor to submit to your ready eyes this sweet bit of news from about our cheery institution. DATELINE--Senior class presents the much heralded murder trial of Mr. Danny Mungia. Testimony came from all the members of the Civics class. Witnesses were subjected to the grueling questioning from the two crack-jack (literally) lawyers-Marilyn Clark and Clark Smith. The clash of the Clarks, you might say, with M.C. defending the culprit and C.S. seeking to illuminate his wrongs. The case was presented before a jury consisting of twelve students from the junior and sophomore classes. Although they gave it their best effort, they still found the accused innocent. The Honorable Peggy Mahal Peral Perry presided over the proceedings. All the student body seemed to enjoy the trial, even though it was supposed to be a learning experience. On behalf of the Civics class, we all thank Mr. Fortune for the kind of teacher that encourages us to "learn by doing."

But enough about the trial, matter of fact enough about news.....

READY FOR EVERYTHING

In case anyone missed our play, we just wanted you to know we may put it on again later on and hope you will be able to attend. Tommy Hill is in the hospital this week for knee surgery and would appreciate any visitors. We are now making plans for a volleyball tournament like the one we sponsored last year and are sending out invitations. We have already received four entries. The tournament is Feb. 26, 27, and 28. If you are interested in entering a team please contact one of the seniors.

Till next week, Susan

Today, not tomorrow

The new year finds the Juniors back to work. We have an English term due the 20th of this month. It has to be typed, so if you hear someone pecking along you'll know what they are doing. Class is beginning to get back to normal. It isn't long now until the end of the second quarter. It's hard to believe the year is half over.

That's All, Tricia

IN SEARCH OF THE FUTURE

Last week we lost a true friend "llama" Catherine Bisbee. We will really miss you. She is moving to Clyde. Good Luck!

The Sophomore class got their playbooks. We will present a play in the near future. The girls are 2-1 in district play. The boys play Monday and Thursday. This week went by fairly slow. The Civics class put on a trial last week and it was really interesting. They selected a jury and everything. Everyone enjoyed it.

We really have been getting the homework. I hope they lay off for awhile.

Smile, Jenny

IN THE FISH BOWL

It hurts me to say that we have a murderer loose in the school. Not actually a real murderer, but the victim of the Civics class trial. Danny Mungia was acquitted of the murder charge; but if he didn't kill his fictional wife, who did? Was it the maid or Danny's business partner or the zealous wife? The world may never know, but in the meantime I'm not going to turn my back while a Senior is in the room.

Kim

A YEARBOOK NEVER FORGETS

The annual is coming along fine. Everyone is working hard to meet their deadlines. The annual staff has been invited to tour a publishing company, but nothing has been decided on what we will do. There has been a lot going on here lately-basketball, plays, trials, and all sorts of things. However, we are still trying our best to give our share to the annual.

Have a nice day! Pam

ON THE FARM

The VoAg I boys are studying all about poultry. The different grades and qualities of poultry and eggs are some of the topics they are studying.

The VoAg II boys are learning how to judge livestock are muscular quarters, clean briskets, and clean underlines.

The VoAg III class is studying all about tractor maintenance.

With Love, Doddie

LC'S GOLDFINGERS

Bet you thought I was never going to write the news again-well, folks, just give me time! We are now in District play. At this time we stand 2-1. Pretty good, huh? Looks like we will have to battle Moran for District this year. Their guards are quick but fortunately they only have a one-man or rather woman offense that I'm sure we can beat. Our next game is Thursday-here with Moran. Friday and Saturday we will host a "B" team tourney. Other teams in this tournament are Gorman, Early, and Cross Plains.

See ya at the games, KC

TARC Gets Second Grant

Mrs. Ferris Clements of Brownwood, Chairman of the Texas Advisory Council for Developmental Disabilities has announced that the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens (TARC) has been awarded second year continuation for the TARC -Information and Referral Developmental Disabilities grant project for an 18-county area of Central Texas.

The project will continue an Information and Referral service for persons who are mentally retarded, cerebral palsy, epileptic, or multi-handicapped as well as working with supportive volunteer organizations in each county wishing to help.

"This pilot project is the only one of its kind in Texas with its office located in Brownwood," said Mrs. Clements. "TARC's first year efforts have had a tremendous impact on the lives of developmentally disabled persons in central Texas." Through the Information and Referral Office, requests for assistance are referred to area agencies and service providers who have the responsibility for providing education and rehabilitative services. Mrs. Clements further stated, "Because of this project, problems in rural service delivery systems have been identified, which is the first step to solving the problem of available help in rural areas." "Too often parents and relatives of developmentally disabled persons have few or no place to turn for help, but with the TARC Information and Referral Office, service providers can more readily be brought to bare on the situation and monitored to be sure services are actually being provided."

Those counties included are Bosque, Brown, Burnet, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Coryell, Eastland, Erath, Hamilton, Hill, Lampasas, Llano, Mason, Mills, McCulloch, San Saba, and Stephens Counties.

Any organization wanting to help in their county or anyone needing help or services for a developmentally disabled person should contact the TARC-Information and Referral Office, 318 Citizens National Bank Bldg., Brownwood, Texas, -76801, or call AC 915-643-1432.

ACCORDING TO THE GUINNESS BOOK OF WORLD RECORDS, D.H. 'BOBBY' CLARKE OF SUFFOLK, ENGLAND, HOLDS THE RECORD FOR THE GREATEST NUMBER OF PAID JOBS IN A WORKING LIFE, 110!

DR. CLARKE HAS A LONG WAY TO GO TO EQUAL THE NUMBER OF JOBS AVAILABLE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY. THE ARMY HAS OVER 200 JOB TRAINING COURSES AND MORE JOBS TO FILL THAN ANYONE ELSE. FIRST COME, FIRST SERVE!

The paper money we use today developed from a custom that began in England during the 1600's according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Updating Hem Lengths For Today's Fashion

COLLEGE STATION -- Fashionable shirts and dresses are hanging unworn in many closets -- simply because they're too short for today's styles.

But many of these can be "recycled" at little expense to become useful and enjoyable additions to a wearable wardrobe, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, suggests. She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Spend a few minutes visualizing possibilities on the too - short clothes. Would the hem allowance add enough needed length? If so, check to see if the old hemline would show. If it does, consider whether or not rows of trim or narrow tucks could be used for camouflage and still look as though they were planned as part of an original garment.

"Once the hem allowance is successfully let down, think through ways the hem edge could be finished. Is it best to add a facing, bind the raw edge, or turn under a narrow width and topstitch?" she said.

She suggested some other possibilities if letting down the hem allowance doesn't provide enough needed length.

-- Is the garment design and fabric design suitable for adding a contrasting ruffle or band at the hemline?

"To avoid looking 'tacked on', contrasting fabric or trim added at the hemline often also needs to be positioned higher on the garment -- for example, as pockets, belts, cuffs, trim or applique."

-- For straight or gathered skirts, cut without A - line seams, one or more rows of fabric bands or trim inserted above the hemline may work.

-- Dresses without waistline seams can be successfully lengthened by adding fabric inserts at the waistline for a mock belted look or as a midriff to be worn either belted or unbelted.

-- Long and closed vests, tunics or overblouses are excellent lengthening accessories. Adding a yoke or lightweight fabric to the underneath section of the skirt or dress easily lengthens the hemline.
