If you were looking up in the sky Friday afternoon, you probably noticed a rather odd sight. The National Scientific Balloon Facility, located in Palestine, Texas had released an experiment collecting atmospheric balloon system at approximately 10:06 a.m. and the balloon and its information gathering systems dropped to earth at 4:12 p.m. in a pig pen on the property of Claudie Fox, located in the northeast part of town. It narrowly missed a large hole and a number of sows with baby pigs.

A two man crew was on hand immediately at the site, as they had been following the course of the balloon since launching early that morning in Center of Atmospheric Palestine, in a pickup. The apparatus took approximately minutes to descend, which was being held by a parachute. It had reached altitudes of 137,000 feet.

This particular experiment was conducted for Dr. James Anderson of Harvard University. research information will be used for further studies of the atmospheric sciences and measured constituents of the upper atmosphere including studies of the ozone layer. SHAMMARAMARAN ... Rev. 22:17, The Threefold. Invitation: And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. But the Holy Spirit does not close the message without sending forth to all the world the threefold invitation to "take the water of Life freely." The Holy Spirit, the bride, and he who hears the messageeach of these say, "Come." ONLY BY THE QUICKENING POWER OF THE SPIRIT OF GOD can the sinner want the Savior and be born again." It should be the chief delight of the bride to tell forth the glory of the --Bridegroom: and it is the joy of the true Christian to lead lost men and women to the "Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" Every individual who knows the Lord Jesus in His saving, Keeping power is impelled to pass to never-dying souls the "cup of salvation." "Let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." The prayer and apostolic Benediction promise, "Surely I come quickly." The apostle prayed, "Amen. of His salvation. We want to see Him, and be like Him-and be with Him forever. And we want Him to be worshiped and adored by every creature, as Savior and King." Even so, come Lord Jesus. "May the Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen."

TRUST IN DIVINE POWER

Throughout the world everyone trusts in some sort of a power, often really quite undefined. I believe the only safe power to trust in is the one that connects us with our Creator. It is usually things that are done in or against the body that cause one not to recognize who controls the power of their being.

Jesus said, "Without me you can do nothing." This means that it is only through Christ that we can have trust in divine power. All that is required from us is first to ASK. After taking the first step, some sacrifices might have to be made, some indulgences given up, but the results are always healthful.

If life could be reduced to one noble principle, THANKFULNESS would probably be able to generate more divine power from (Rev. 22:20-21) in above than any other. response to the Lord's On the contrary, selfishness would do the least and be of the least value healthwise to benefit our fellow human beings. The only real security man can have today, is to trust in a higher being other than himself. This alone will assure him of a useful life on earth, enjoying the best physical, mental and spiritual health, and also be able to claim the promises given to those who will inherit eternal

The Seventh-Day Adventist Church

In addition to local Elders,

each Church has a Com-

During the past months I have written about many Church groups of Eastland County, and have attempted to contact leaders of several more which have not been Written up. If you wish an article about a Church which has not been covered, please leave word with the Eastland Telegram where a leader of the group can be reached for information. If no further requests are received, this article about the Seventh-day Adventist Church will conclude the series.

I have not depended just upon my own knowledge for these articles, but have read many, many Church publications and have discussed each article with Pastors and lay leaders who have a background in their faith. I have learned a lot from the writing of these articles, and I hope they have furnished much information for the public. Although individual choice may lead to diversity of religion-and it certainly has in Eastland County-I still cherish our heritage of religious freedom.

-Viola M. Payne

One day last April the Convention Center at Dallas was suddenly filled with representatives from as many nations as the United Nations-about 200 countries. For this was a General Conference meeting of Seventhday Adventists, and these delegates-elected from more than 3 million Church members-had come to help plan the work of the Church. But, unlike the United Nations, there was an atmosphere of peace in this medley of languages and national costumes. Elder Neal C. Wilson, General Conference President, was elected for another term, as were most officers.

Noticably missing were the Cuban delegates, who had been waylaid and imprisoned by Castro's police. But there were members from Russia, the Iron Curtain countries, and Communist China. For many there were emotion-packed reunions with old friends from the vast network of medical, educational, evangelistic, disaster relief, publishing, radio, television, and other humanitarian work of the Church.

Between such large meeting, held each five years in different parts of the world, the overall work is directed from the General Conference Headquarters in Washington, D.C. Under this leadership are Divisions, Unions, Conferences, Districts, and Churches, with each congregation a link in the chain.

All Ministers, from the General Conference President to local Pastors, are paid the same modest salary, and do not handle Church finances. Each local group elects a Treasurer who disperses the tithes and offerings which support the remarkable unity of the Adventist movement in its scriptural beliefs has continued until this day.

Other basic concepts of the Church concern the nature of God, described as a personal, loving, all-powerful Being who longs to save everyone on earth whom He possibly can. Church members are taught that the work of religion is a right relationship with God, and the restoration of His image in the life. The highest revelation of God is in His Son, Jesus Christ,

The Church teaches that is is against the nature of God to force the will of man. Mind control is from an evil Being, called Satan or the Devil. God is not to blame for the evil in this world, for the Devil is responsible for all this. (Matt. 13-28). When the time is right, God will destroy the Devil and eradicate evil

At the beginning of history the Devil enticed the human family to join him in his rebellion against God. Since then the Devil and his evil angels have remained here on this earth, continuing to deceive God's creation. The Church teaches there is no "Hell" burning somewhere in the Universe, but that evil will finally be destroyed here on this planet, where it is contained.

God devised a plan to win back humanity. The plan involved the gift of His Son, Christ, to die for the human race. This was necessary not only to redeem humanity, but to refute Satan's false charges that God was unfair and unjust. Much of the charges of Satan involved the moral laws of God-the Universal standard of Righteousness. Known by word of mouth before they were written at Mt. Sinai, the first four Commandments of the Ten Commandments set forth man's duty to God. The last six express what his conduct should be toward his fellow man.

It is understood that the Ten Commandments simply define sin-they cannot give salvation. But "New Testament Christians'', the Adventist Church believes. will have these laws "written in their hearts", out of love to God and what He has done.

The Church believes that when God intervenes in human history to destroy evil, Christ will make a personal return to earth to take His people to Heaven. This group will include the living persons who have accepted Christ, together with the righteous dead-who will be resurrected. The Bible pictures death as a sleep from which all will be resurrected.(1 Thess. 13:18, 1 Cor. 15:51-54.) Then, one thousand years later, God's people will be returned to live on a recreated earth, from which all traces of evil have been eliminated.

The symbol that shows one has chosen God and wants to be a member of that perfect society is baptism, an act of immersion in water, signifying the burial of the old life and resurrection to the new. And while waiting for the perfect society that God shall establish, a person should live an enlightened, unselfish life-for there will be no selfish people in God's Kingdom. There is no better way to spend the time than helping relieve the suffering evil has caused, while at the same time giving the good news that God has an answer to man's problems.

Since no person has the power within himself to live that sort of life, God has a special Helper available in the world-the Holy Spirit-to guide His people. The work of the Holy Spirit is what it has always been-to lead people to follow Christ.

Seventh-day Adventist also believe that God gave the gift of the Sabbath(the 7th day of the week) to man. This is a time of special communion and fellowship with Him-a spiritual rest which links the first Sabbath in Eden to the eternal rest in the Earth Made New. (Heb.

There are only a few Seventh-day Adventist members in Eastland County, and one Church buildingat Rising Star-which is not in regular use. The Rising Star Church was begun in the early 1960's, when a young doctor-Steve Seminuekcame to the town to practice medicine. Medical work is considered very important by the Church, and Dr. Seminuek was apparently a fine example of the Church traing schools. His work made many friends, and the town was shocked when the Doctor became ill with a brain tumor.

in Cisco, was the Rising Star newspaperman at that time, and he learned that the Doctor did not have enough money for the medical care he needed. Mr. Butler wrote an editorial about the situation which was extremely effective, for thousands of dollars poured in from all across the country. Unfortunately the Doctor could not be saved, but this kind act meant much to him before his death.

B.A. Butler, who now lives

Eventually most Church members moved away from Rising Star, and ones presently there attend the Brownwood Church. Others in the County go the the Church in Breckenridge, which has an attractive new building on the corner of Sunset and Elliot Sts. Pastor Bob Elliott, who lives in Mineral Wells, cares for the Breckenridge Church, assisted by Ed Boyd, local Elder and Administrator of the Town Hall Estates Nursing Home. The Breckenridge Church is planning to open an Elementary School in September, adding to a number of similar schools in the Texas Conference.

Visitors are welcomed to the mid-week Bible Studies or Sabbath Services at the Church. Sabbath School begins on Saturday morning, 9:30 a.m., consisting of music, participation by members in programs, and Bible Study. A number of translations are used in the Church, with the King James and Revised Standard Versions usually preferred. The 11:00 a.m. Worship Service consists of more music, and a sermon by the Minister or layperson. Communion, which is held quarterly, is open to all who care to participate. New right hand of the members are accepted into the Church by profession of faith, by transfer, or by baptism. They are encouraged to grow spiritually by Bible study, Church attendace, prayer, and practicing a Christ-like life. Devotion to the family unit is stressed, with unfaithfulness considered the only valid grounds for divorce. Even then it is considered better to restore an erring partner than to abandon him.

The Church believes in total abstinence of alcoholic beverages, but also teaches that true temperance involves choosing what is good, rather than simply avoiding evil things.

Mrs. Viola Payne

Thursday, August 28, 1980

The Church understands that religion should in no way be legislated by the State. Yet the Church owes its religious freedom to this country, and cooperates with it whenever possible. The Church counsels its members against joining Labor Unions or Secret Societies, feeling that these may bind the conscience of Christians.

Seventh-day Adventists have some favorite phrases such as "Balanced Christian Living", "The Blessed Hope" (referring to Christ's return to the earth), and "The Robe of Christ's Righteousness"-which covers human imperfections. membership in this Church is not considered a negative thing-but a life which is educated to choose the best this world or the Universe has to offer. For what could be more challenging than the thought that evil is temporary, but Love is eternal?

First Baptist Church

As a boy, Glen Cunningham was severely burned when a steam boiler exploded in his school. Doctors said he would never walk again without crutches. By sheer determination he did walk. He dreamed of becoming a champion on the track and everything possible to equip himself to run. For many years Glen Cunningham held the world's record for running the mile. Life is a race for all of us. We are never born into this world as a champion runner, a president of a great company, or a winner in the game of life.

To be a winner there are many obstacles to overcome, disciplines to be mastered, and disappointments to be accepted.

Many are fearful and give up before they even try. Others become weary and give out before achiev-

Still others become discouraged and give in before mastering.

And there are the winners who refuse to be a quitter.

The Christian has God's help in becoming a winner. Our example is Christ. "Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the Recption A recption, hosted by the bride's parents, was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth, trimmed in lace over white satin skirt. Hypothesis Of O.A. Mechanism

Overeaters Annonymous is a selfsupporting, public service group, that is primarily concerned with overeating as a disease, the many facts of this disease and how this disease can be arrested.

There are no age

limits, weight limits,

dues, fees, weigh-in or special membership requirements to join An-Overeaters nonymous. All you have to do or have is an earnest desire to STOP overeating compulsively. There are many many things that could be said about O.A. Recently i came across a short article written by a noted physician of obesity. This article said it beautifully "Upon Analyzing Overeaters Annonymous" as a group, I have reached a number of conclusions. There appears to be a deep shift in the individuals emotional tone, the disappearance of one set of feelings, and the emerging of a very different set. The member moves from a negative state of mind to a positive one. This may have the earmarks of a spititual conversion. Be that as it may, it is an effective transformation and essential for a long-term success. By this I do not mean to imply that there are never any slipups. In-

she becomes successful in the O.A. program. This person

once again becomes

When they become a "sponsor" for someone else, their lonelinss is particularly aided. They are needed and accepted at last. This has a very potent, positive influence on weight maintenance, as well

Top Looking-It's All in The WANT ADS

Pioneer News Mrs. A.C. Halsell

by Mrs. A.C. Halsell

The problem of drought is timely. How thankful we would be if rain would come, bringing cooler weather, as well as an end to the drought.

Politics is timely, also. There is so much rhetoric along that line, what I might say would only add to the hodge podge of opinions. To say the least, I was chagrined, annoyed and angered by the last Convention. The only comfort I get, is that it was only a convention. What really happens, at the polls in November, is the important thing.

Rather, in behalf of the art of reading, I will give a brief book review. Paul Horgan's "The Return of the Weed", impressed me as being semi-classic. By that I mean simple enough to keep a high school pupil reading and classic enough to live.

All have observed how the weed soon replaces anything that man may have built, or tended, once he ceases to care for it. That, with man's freedom of choice, with its favorable result, or its unfavorable result, is the theme of all six stories in the book; stories of Southwest, timed in the sixteenth and seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. The first story, "The Mission" is timed, 1650; place New Spain, (Southwest America); Puig-y-Father Castan's thirty year endeavor to bring the Christian religion to Indians; amid the havoc caused by the destructive raids among the Indians; of soldiers; the subconscious fear for his own life, these and other negative forces were overcome by his abiding faith and an undaunted determination to build a church, to work in the fields and to succeed as a missionary among

The church was finished, worship was established. This and his new love for the Indian, all came to naught, when the Indians shot him full of arrows and burned the two-towered chursh. As were the walls of Jerusalem when Nehemiah came to rebuid them, so did it become with the church. The butresses remained only to be covered with the weed.

A story of vivid characterization, Time 1878; Place, a ranch in New Mexico, owned by one of "The Brothers," rich and growing richer from cattlestealing. That is the second story. With Warren Boyer on a cattle drive to market, the brother, Perce, was challenged for thievery by a newcomer, in a gunbattle assault. Perce was killed. Warren never returned; perhaps living somewhere on his brother's money. The house and grounds became grown over with vines and weeds and was looked upon with suspicion, by people who came neat it. In "The Haciendo", the author's most memorable story, Don Eliazoria reveals his weakness in losing the Haciendo, all other things he had owned, as well as becoming addicted to drink, by dropping a tear, as he said, to a less lovable human failure, "Do you know there is just a little hill there where it was, my house. The old trees are still there.....The house is just dirt , like the ground......When I was ten years old, I was on my birthday, I planted a tree in the patio.' The other stories are "The Mansion", "The Tank", "The Star". You read these stories for the interest you, will find if not to see

The Wildcats went to Irion County Friday, August 22 for a scrimmage. After all the trouble we had getting there, the Wildcats poured on the power and played a super game. Everyone that went to see the first exhibition had a whole new outlook on the team.

We have three new coaches: Head Coach-Dewain Finely, Coach Ron Langford and Coach Tommy Duncan. They are teaching a new line of plays and giving confidence and ingenuity to the entire squad, so we feel that this year will be a winning year.

Second Annual RS 4-H Summary

Last year the end of the year summary was evidentally enjoyed by the readers, so it is being repeated as the beginning of a local tradition.

Several 4-H'ers did not turn in a report. All are special and worthy of mention, but for fear of leaving someone out or getting the facts mixed, only those who submitted information are included in the 1979-80 review.

The outgoing officers are: President--Brad Fortune, Vice-President--Steve Hill, Secretary-Treasurer--Jami Long, Reporter-Travis Parson, Council Delegate--Sam Scott and Refreshment chairman-Jerry Long.

Several monthly meetings were especially popular with the Rising Star members. The favorite was the Game Warden's films and bottled snakes in February. Others that carried high ratings were the Cross Plains Emergency Medical Service and Assistant County Agent Danny Lamberth's livestock judging films.

By far the favorite activity was County Camp at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood, followed in popularity by the Christmas skating party, Rally Day and the local swimming party.

The CLub was represented in almost every contest held during the year, including Food Shows, County, District and State 4-H Round-Ups, Livestock Shows and Fashion Revue.

Members believe in earning the good things that come their way. The Bake Sale helped pay their way to camp and purchase craft projects. Attending training sesions and working hard to prepare for contests gives them a true feeling of accomplishment.

The 4-H'ers learn to be gracious as winners or losers knowing that next year brings another chance, while "learning by doing". Already the Club is planning the coming year "to make the best better".

Rising Star Nursing Center

Mary Harmon, Activity Director UNI This week was so hectic it is hard to know where to start. we gathered the news on monday. I hope we got it all.

Tuesday another wild afternoon of Bingo, Buster called out the numbers. It was Ora Clark and Mary Hords lucky day. Ora won 4 games and Mary won 3. The other winners this week were: linnie Brashear, Martha Irby, Bryant Houston, Emma West, and Mary Crisp.

Wednesday afternoon was the highlight of the week with the Birthday Party. The Birthday people this month were: Leo Atkinson, Ora Clark, Hallie Williams, and Wallace Anderson. The volunteers served cake and punch while the Starbrites band played. Later Bryant Hount and Viola Payne played violins while being accompanied on the piano by Nell Maynard. i would like to thank the volunteers who helped make the party a success, because without them it wouldn't be possible.

Thursday everyone was settling back into their routine. Mary Crisp, Martha Irby and Bryant Houston enjoyed a quiet game of dominoes while Emma West and Lizzie Jacobs matched wits. There is nothing more perfect to end the week than Bible Study. There were about 20 residents that attendwas still the Book of Hebrew.

A special thanks goes out to George Taff for the cantalopes he gave the home. Everyone has enjoyed them so much.

CATS SCRIMMAGE HERE FRIDAY

The 1980 Rising Star Wildcats began the season Friday night with a scrimmage with Irion County. Coach Finley was pleased with the first showing of the team. A few missed assignments kept the offense from long gains but this will improve with experience and practice. The defense shut down the Hornet offense. David Cooper intercepted a quarterback pitch-out to score a touchdown. After holding the Hornets offense to only one first down, Damon Cooper intercepted a pass to stop another drive. Brent Holden scored one TD for the Cats.

All the players showed promise and the coaches are very pleased with their cooperation and attitude. Friday, August 29, at 7:30, the Wildcats will scrimmage Ranger here. COME SEE THE CATS IN ACTION!!!
